Members Of Home League Meet In Regular Session

At a meeting of the Home League of the Salvation Army in the Home League hut this week, a quilt was embroidered by the members and plans were made to make tea towels and tea aprons.

Mrs. H. G. Lambrecht dismissed the group with a prayer.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should you use the same conversational tone in writing a friendly letter as you do when you talk?
2. In such a letter, is it better to concentrate on "you" and have little about "I"?
3. If it is necessary to write a note of apology, is it important that it be brief?
4. Is it better form to use newspaper than correspondence card?
5. When drafting a social letter, is the year usually given?

What would you do if—

(a) You have so long delayed answering a letter that you are embarrassed about it. When you finally write would you begin—

(b) I've been so busy that I haven't had time to write—and continue with a lengthy explanation?

(c) Without a mention of the lapse of time?

(d) "Will you forgive my long silence? Many interesting things"

FIRST MEETING OF JUNIOR HIGH P-TA CONDUCTED

A large crowd attended the first meeting of the Junior High Parent-Teacher association in the high school auditorium Thursday afternoon with Mrs. H. H. Boynton, president, presiding. Travis Lively, guest speaker of the afternoon, discussed the theme for the year, "Understanding the Teen Age."

After group singing led by Miss Madge Starns, Ernest Cabe, principal of junior high school, introduced the new teachers, new parents coming from the four ward schools, and those coming from other schools for the first time. B. M. Baker school led the group in having the most new parents attending. Mr. Cabe gave a talk on "The Why of P-T. A." in which he especially urged the fathers to attend.

Christian Group Sponsors Lyceum

PANHANDLE, Sept. 16—The ladies of the Christian church are sponsoring a series of lyceum numbers.

The first number will be "Orendo, the Magician" which will be given in the high school auditorium Sept. 28.

Family tickets can be obtained from any of the ladies of the church at reduced rates.

IF YOU FEEL SUNK Read this and cheer up

Are you so blue that life is no longer worth living? Do you cry easily? Do you feel low, moody, depressed—just absolutely SUNK?

Then here's good news for you in case you need a good general system tonic—just take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and tone up your system, so that it can more easily throw off the "blues" and give more energy to enjoy life.

MILLIONS of women have depended on this Compound and have passed the word along to friends and neighbors, and to their children.

Why not take Pinkham's Compound and go "smiling thru"?

Modern Menus

By MRS. GATNOR MADDOX

Pies for Sunday dinner is a proper thought. From the tested cook book which an electrical-appliance manufacturer sends along, comes this pie lore.

Chocolate Pie (Serves 4 to 6) One baked pie shell, 1 cup sugar, 4 tablespoons corn starch, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 1-2 cups milk, 3 eggs separated, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 cup cocoa or 2 squares unsweetened chocolate.

Buttercrust Pie One baked pie shell, 3 eggs separated, 1 1-2 cups brown sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 5 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 2-3 tablespoons butter.

Meringue Three egg whites, 1-8 teaspoon cream of tartar, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, few grains of salt.

Pie Crust (1 medium-sized double-crust pie) Two cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup shortening, 5 tablespoons water (about).

Three egg whites, 1-8 teaspoon cream of tartar, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, few grains of salt.

Beat together the egg yolks, sugar, flour, salt and milk until smooth. Cook until thick, stirring constantly to prevent lumping.

Beat egg whites, salt, and cream of tartar together until stiff, but not too dry. Gradually add sugar and beat in thoroughly.

For years I have been trying to figure out a way to become famous and get my name in the papers from coast to coast.

And, just to make things still more appealing than the present plans, I'd have the money delivered bright and early Mondays and Fridays by WPA messengers.

HOW CLOSE TO A DICTATOR? He has power—To classify arbitrarily industries and to appoint industry committees.

But, I have at last hit upon the thing that will get the job done. I should get publicity, or at least notoriety, from north to south and side to side of the land.

Cranium Crackers A rather querulous representative of Fleet Street once complained that he would prefer not to be forced to speak of "Downing Street" or "The Oval," but would rather refer outright to the men represented by those terms.

Can Pot Call Kettle Black?

We read a lot about the present policy of the Mexican government in confiscating oil properties and agricultural lands of foreigners, as well as Mexican citizens.

Secretary of State Hull has protested to Mexico against the seizure of investments of U. S. citizens without compensation.

NOT SO GENEROUS It is rather a case of irony to have the President so solicitous about the one-third that are underfed and underprivileged.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY After a win over the Magnolia Petroleum company's nine, Roxana Petroleum company baseball team was officially declared winner of the Industrial League and was to be presented with a cup.

People You Know The other day the LaNora theater people went to Supt. L. E. Sone and asked him if he would like for them to put on a matinee for school equipment.

And yet right here in the U. S. our own national policy of building tax-exempt government power plants to compete with highly taxed private plants owned by hundreds of thousands of U. S. citizens (and foreign investors) is in principle and effect the same as the Mexican policy.

It is in for such to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add his unit of influence to all other units themselves out.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY Ben Gull was elected chairman of the play reading and acting committee of the Little Theater.

Gunfire Kills Chilean Nazi Revolt

Quick action by armed government forces quelled a revolt by Nazis in Santiago, Chile, but during its four-hour life, the uprising resulted in more than 100 dead and countless wounded, and was followed by the resignation of the Chilean cabinet. Pictured above are Federal police, firing at Nazis entrenched in a ten-story skyscraper which they captured. A brief siege by riflemen, machine-guns, artillery and tanks ended the revolt.

Around Hollywood

BY ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Latest George Raft-Paramount squabble sounded like a publicity gag in reverse. . . George walked and was cut off his weekly pittance because he didn't like his role in "St. Louis Blues". . . But it should've been Dorothy Lamour — because Sarong-Sarong is to play a movie star who walks because she doesn't want to be wronged any more. . . Reel walk becomes real, see. . . ?
By this time the formal announcements of the Joan Fontaine-Conrad Nagel hook-up should be in the mail. . . It'll be her first, his second adventure. . . Comfort for the glimmer-less little gals everywhere who have to wear braces on their teeth: the Lane girls, Priscilla and Rosemary, have been wearing 'em, too — but only in private.
Irene Castle McLaughlin isn't going to set herself played by Ginger Rogers in clothes she hasn't selected personally. . . Irene's three-way deal with RKO on the Astaire-Rogers "The Castles" lets her write, advise technically, AND design Ginger's wardrobe. . . Richard Sherman, the nostalgia expert ("To Mary With Love," "Alexander's Ragtime Band") is doing the screen play. . .
Garbo's first on her return will be "Madame Curie," once scheduled by U for Irene Dunne. . . Metro bought it from U same as they did "The Great Ziegfeld". . . And then Garbo does "Ninotchka" — which ought to be good. . . Modern Russian girl, full of the soviet spirit, goes to Paris on a diplomatic mission, falls for a dirty capitalist Count—but don't worry, all the political thorns are going to be taken out.
Memo, impersonal and impertinent to Frances Mercer: The boys and girls on "The Mad Miss Manton" aren't liking the way you're taking the little success you've had — and you so young and nice, too. . . Better come down to earth. . . They gave Alice Faye what they call her first "dramatic non-singing role"—in "By Dawn's Early Light"—and they gave her as director Gregory Ratoff, Hollywood's greatest dialect comedian on and off! (How can a gal look "penisive" when she's told to look "panisive")
Anne Shirley and Joyn Payne schemed a year to get two weeks off—at the same time—for their delayed honeymoon. . . Planned a trip to Coronado. . . They've never had more than a week-end off—at the same time—since they were married last August.
Movie vacations are funny. . . Walter Brennan's never had two weeks between pictures since "Barbery Coast" three years ago—before that he had time—and lots of hunger—on his hands. . .
Ed Lowry, the M. C. and entertainer, is a nice guy but he's the one behind this Make-America-Leugh-Conscious thing. . . It's a gag of comedians. . . Motto: Laugh America. . . It threatens, among other things, to arrange for a National Laugh Week.
"Are you a Drooper or a Whooper?" Ed's letter challenges. . . Put me down, Ed, as a Drooper. I'm agin it, I'm for Unregimented Giggling. I don't want to HAVE to laugh at any of youse guys.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA BART.

Rich night creams, special oils to soothe dry looking eyelids and at the corners of the eyes, soothing hand lotions and special hand creams, new shades of rouge, lipstick and powder with fascinating names—these are the items in which the beauty-minded are interested right now.
This very definitely is the time to take immediate steps to get your hands, elbows and wrists back into the smooth, lily-white condition they were in last summer before you went away for a vacation. And a couple of new preparations, made by a reputable company and sold separately or together, will come in handy for this reconditioning process.
One is a lotion to be used several times a day—always after hand washing, of course. The other is a non-sticky night cream for the hands. You simply massage it in as if you were pulling on a pair of new gloves, then leave it on while you sleep. Incidentally, it's ideal for getting rid of rough patches of dried skin on elbows.
Also new are cleansing pads for the dry skin. Saturated with a slightly oily, soothing liquid cleanser which contains no alcohol or any other drying ingredient, these should be as great a boon to one whose skin is dry. Oily skinned individuals will stick to cleansing pads saturated with a non-oily, slightly astringent liquid, of course.
If your throat and face are abnormally dry from over-exposure to sunshine and wind, you might consider trying a special night oil said to contain plenty of sunshine Vitamin D. You simply pat it on face and throat before you go to bed and leave it on all night.

POLES ISSUE DEMANDS.
WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 16 (AP)—The officially-inspired newspaper, Kurjer Prandy, said today the Polish minority in Czechoslovakia demands for itself whatever the Sudeten Germans get from their conflict with the Czechoslovak government. "The Poles must get the same as the Germans," the pro-government organ said.

Shortly after the arrival of the trains on the sidings of the Santa Fe railroad, hundreds of wagons and cages, drawn by six and eight-horse teams in crested harness, "led" animals and ring horses will be rumbling and clattering along the streets leading to the circus lot at Brown avenue.

More jungle minded than usual, thanks to Frank Buck's appearances in all his performances with his caravan of captive jungle beasts, the big show offers new wild animal features—the world's largest group of performing black-maned lions ever assembled, the famous pygmy elephants and Soudana, world's tallest giraffe.

O'DANIEL SAYS 'PAPERS PRINT UNTRUE THINGS'

PORT WORTH, Sept. 15 (P)—Governor-Nominee W. Lee O'Daniel, in discussing the state Democratic convention in Beaumont this week, launched a tirade against "newspapers that print things that are not true" when he spoke over radio station WBAP at 12:45 p. m. yesterday.

sional politicians and their henchmen.

Refused to Speak. The nominee explained why he attempted to appear before the convention when the old age pension plank was under consideration.

"The chairman was unable to restore order and therefore I refused to speak," O'Daniel said. The delay, he added, was sufficient to permit his friends to put over the plank they wanted.

He charged the "professional politicians and the newspapers which are supported by their advertising are just as bitter against the things the common citizens want as they were during the campaign."

"These enemies," he said, "are aiming their attack on me." He said that some published statements concerning him had been retracted after his attorney had threatened libel action.

FINICKY FISH REPORTED TO BE BITING NOW

By DAVE CHEAVENS, Associated Press Staff.

The cool north wind which is supposed to whip up the appetite of all game fish started blowing over much of Texas Thursday and Friday and anglers were hoping the fall feeding spree was on.

Already from some North Texas lakes came reports that the crappie, king of pan fish, were stimulated. A number of fine strings were reported from Eagle Mountain lake north of Fort Worth, and famed Bridgeport was also turning in fine quotas of this finicky fish.

Bass had already started striking more readily on the large, clear lakes. Experts were advising semi-surface plugs for bait casters, and streamers or spinners for fly ro's.

Wherever there were hatches of a small yellow fly, characteristic of September, the best color was yellow for bass.

At Galveston, the fishing was fair in bays and bayous and poor in the Gulf. The northeast wind Thursday chased the water and mackerel were seen around the piers.

Around Fort Arthur, prospects were excellent especially in the surf where red fish, speckled trout and whiting were biting voraciously. Water at Sabine Light was muddy but clearing.

The northern chilled fishermen Thursday at Corpus Christi and Port Aransas, but conditions improved during the day. Indications were that pike, tarpon, and mackerel would bite during the week-end. Some trout and reds were being taken from Corpus Christi bay and the Laguna Madre.

Legionnaires Begin To Arrive In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16 (AP)—Box cars and drum corps, flivvers and sleek official cars, buck privates and gobs, big wigs and little bands and plain enthusiasts with whistles began making their appearance in increasing numbers in Los Angeles today.

They were the vanguard of 100,000 American Legionnaires. They came by air, train, afoot, in buses, trucks, and trailers.

They launched the city into its frenzy of convention spirit that will rise to new heights Sunday when more than 100,000 men, women and children are bivouacked here for the twentieth annual national convention.

Detroit and Miami 40 at 8 groups brought box cars. Four Miami boys, first of a group of 300 of their kindred, immediately started a noisy one-car parade. C. P. Edwards, who drove the "locomotive" that pulled the box car, stopped at every intersection to make an announcement. Naturally, it was about the weather.

"We shoulda brought our overcoats," he shouted through his loud speaker. "It was 93 in the shade all afternoon."

BOLTED THEIR DOORS WHEN GEOLOGIST CAME

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the early 1800's geologists were unheard of. They were the majority of the inhabitants of the American hinterland. When they saw a robust, grown man tapping at the rocks and breaking off bits of stone to carry away with him they decided he must be a lunatic at large, and treated him accordingly.

On one occasion when William Maclure, "the father of American Geology," approached a remote tavern, seeking a night's lodging, everyone rushed indoors and bolted themselves inside.

SON OUTSHINES HIS DAD RAISING PIGS

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP)—Edward Bullock, 11-year-old negro 4-H club boy, did so well with his club pig this year that his father asked him to take charge of all the pigs on the farm.

The boy's pig gained 196.6 pounds in 122 days while four from the same litter cared for by his father put on an average of only 147 pounds of weight each.

After weighing the pigs and figuring the profits, the elder Bullock decided to let his boy look after all the pigs from now on.

New Commander of Boys in Blue

The fast-thinning ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic will be led during the ensuing year by Robert M. Rownd, 84, of Ripley, N. Y., above, elected national commander at the encampment in Des Moines, Ia. The successor, Dr. Oreston H. Mennel of Los Angeles.

Horror in Hankow as Japs Rain Death and Destruction

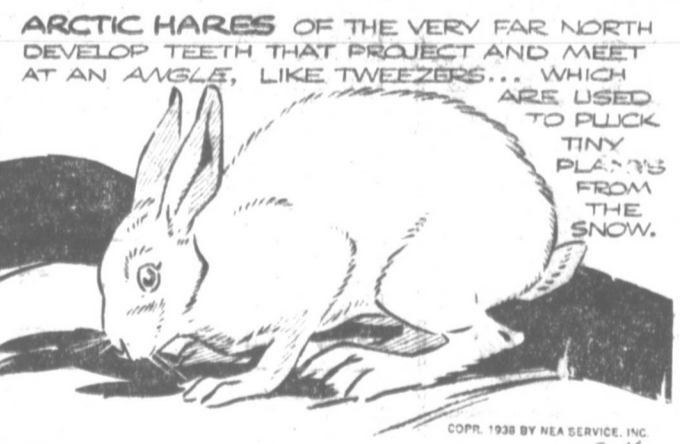

The maimed and the dying must wait their turn in beleaguered Hankow, Chinese provisional capital, as Japanese air raiders drop death from the skies in a desperate drive to capture this key city. The Chinese boy at the left has just been placed on a stretcher while the wounded man in the gutter at the right stoically awaits the next stretcher-bearer. Note the apparent unconcern of passersby, injured to the almost daily bombings.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ARCTIC HARES OF THE VERY FAR NORTH DEVELOP TEETH THAT PROJECT AND MEET AT AN ANGLE, LIKE TWEEZERS... WHICH ARE USED TO PLUCK TINY PLANTS FROM THE SNOW.

IN MISSOURI, THE TOWNS NAPOLEON AND WELLINGTON ARE ONLY FOUR MINUTE BUS RIDES IN OPPOSITE DIRECTIONS FROM WATERLOO.

ANSWER: Caracara. THE ARCTIC hares of the far north have developed special features to help them meet the sterner conditions of life in that country. Mother Nature has given them larger, stronger bodies than the more southerly species, as well as heavier fur, special tooth development, and large claws for digging.

DYNAMITE WENT OFF—BUT NOT ON SCHEDULE. MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Explosive which thieves left in an office safe here after an unsuccessful attempt to open it, went off later and killed a welder trying to cut his way into the safe.

The thieves left a note of warning about the unexploded charge in the keyhole and safe experts were sent for. The charge apparently fell into the door as the welder was at work.

Other workmen were severely injured and the half-ton door to the safe was blown in two and tossed 5 feet.

HENLEIN FLEES FROM ARREST FOR TREASON

By LARRY ALLEN

PRAGUE, Sept. 16 (AP)—Strikes sabotage and bloodshed stalked today among the Sudeten Germans whose leader, Konrad Henlein, had fled before a government decision to arrest him for treason.

Henlein had issued a defiant manifesto demanding the union of Sudetenland with Germany "in this hour of Sudeten German extremity."

This apparently ended all negotiations for peace in the long-standing dispute, and what scant hope remained in this direction seemed killed by the announcement that the British mediator, Viscount Runciman, was going home, and by President Eduard Benes' order adjourning Parliament.

Martial law was extended to 16 German communities. Thousands were fleeing the trouble zone, some to Prague and some to Germany. Troops with gleaming bayonets patrolled streets of the main Sudeten cities. Their instructions were to crush any attempts at further disorders.

At the same time, the regional government of the province of Bohemia ordered a 24-hour time limit in which all residents of 63 provincial political districts must surrender all arms and munitions they may have stored in secret places.

Family Disappears

Henlein could not be found in his home in Asch. His wife and two daughters also had disappeared. It was reported here (and also in Germany) that the Sudeten "Fuehrer" had fled to Munich and was near his mentor, Adolf Hitler.

If caught and convicted, Henlein would face a possible sentence of life imprisonment. The martial law decree provided death within two hours before deciding to submit the evidence to the public prosecutor with directions to institute action under provisions of the treason law.

The manifesto was issued at Eger "Sudeten capital" three miles from the German frontier and made public through the German official news agency and radio stations, so that its contents would be sure to reach the Sudeten Germans.

Henlein charged "to the whole world that the use of machine-guns, armored cars and tanks against defenseless Sudeten Germans has reached the highest point of Czech oppression."

Thereby the Czech people have demonstrated before the whole world that it is definitely impossible for Sudeten Germans and Czechs to live in the same state.

LIONS TO PLAN FALL CARNIVAL SUNDAY AT 3

Work of the Pampa Lions club in preparation for the Lions club carnival to be held Oct. 26, 27, and 28, for the benefit of the Lions club fund for crippled children, will be definitely underway Sunday when members of the club meet at the Culberson-Small Chevrolet Company at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in a special meeting to select committees for the carnival.

Announcement of the special meeting was made at the Lions regular weekly luncheon, held Thursday in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Judge John Honts and Elmer Elliott, Lions from Dalhart, told the Pampa club of the success attained by a carnival given by the Dalhart Lions.

L. H. Johnson, local manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, was in charge of the program. A. O. Thomas of Amarillo, district manager of the telephone company, and Norman Halley of Fort Worth, division commercial supervisor, gave a demonstration of the use of old and new types of telephones and showed how a long distance call was placed to Amsterdam.

Visiting Lions present were Adjutant W. Johnson, of the Salvation Army, Amarillo; Paul Bruce of Alameda, H. G. Walter of Hobbs, N. M., Elmer Elliott and Judge John Honts of Dalhart.

Other guests were Salvation Army Brigadier W. K. Gilks of Dallas, and E. C. Pennington, C. E. McGrew, J. Herman Jones, Fred Cullum, and Dan Gribbin, all of Pampa.

Motorists Arrested In Spanish Morocco

TANGIER, Morocco International Zone, Sept. 16 (AP)—Police today arrested 25 armed occupants of six automobiles speeding from Tangier to Spanish Morocco, where 35 persons were said to have been killed at Tetuan yesterday in rioting inspired by Spaniards opposed to the Insurgent regime.

Leaders of the expedition were said to have been Tangier Spaniards with Spanish government sympathies. Officials did not disclose the purpose of the expedition, but it was believed that the Spanish government sympathizers had intended to seize some Spanish Moroccan town and start a revolt against Insurgent rule.

Police reported that an important arms cache had been discovered just outside Tangier.

Reports from Spanish Morocco said persons in high position were suspected in connection with yesterday's rioting.

CLERKS TO HELP CUSTOMERS IN BUYING

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—The federal and state governments will sponsor a course here this fall to instruct store employees how to teach "scientific buying" to the public.

If the plan is a success the course will be taught in other cities. Clerks will be instructed how to answer intelligently such questions as "How can rayon be distinguished from silk?" "How to tell wool from wool-and-cotton?" "How to tell good soap from bad?"

GIRL WRITES A LETTER—AND GETS EDUCATION

WIELUN, Poland (AP)—A letter to Marshal Emigly Rydz from Mania Susak, 15-year-old Jewish girl, has won her an education. When Mania discovered her parents were too poor to send her to high school, she wrote in despite to the marshal asking whether it would be possible to obtain an education at government expense.

The marshal investigated the case immediately, found she was an outstanding student and arranged for her tuition.

A distinguishing feature of Congressionalism is insistence on the fundamental autonomy of the local church.

WAGE CUT ASSAILED

HOUSTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in annual state convention here today, considered a resolution favoring a stand against the 15 per cent wage cut proposed by major railroad. Pledges that the wage slash would be opposed were made at the opening session yesterday. Joe Steadham, state legislative representative of the Brotherhood, said "we'll fight this wage cut to the finish."

Observe the hurried and harried shopper, her spirits down and her arches following. Right after breakfast this morning, she slipped on another dress, powdered her nose, tucked her handbag under her arm and swung down-town to do the stores.

She has traversed miles of aisles, picking up this, turning over that, not finding precisely what she wanted here, trying again over there. It was warm in the stores, in that winter coat. There were crowds.

She is more tired and discouraged than she might have been. Right there at home was the daily newspaper... a veritable catalog of commodities, telling What, Who, Where and How Much. An hour spent with the advertisements would have saved two or three in town.

Read the ads in this paper before setting out on a shopping trip. It is common sense reduced to its simplest terms.

International Sunday School Lesson

Jonathan: Courageous Friendship
TEXT: 1 Samuel 20:4-17
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

In striking contrast to Saul's jealous pursuit of David and his efforts to destroy the young shepherd is the friendship toward David of Saul's son, Jonathan—a friendship that has become a symbol in history, like the friendship of Damon and Pythias.

Saul, as we have seen, was a man of two characters and two moods. In his noblest character, he was modest with elements of kindness and magnanimity, but when jealous rage seized him, he was filled with hate and violence.

Jonathan seems to have inherited all his father's finest qualities and none of the evil. Jonathan was of course deeply pained by the attitude of his father, Saul, toward David, and he did all in his power to protect David from his father's wrath.

Israel, though in reality he was a man of war and bloodshed. But here in this relation with Jonathan, all that was finest in him came out, and it is the poem of a sweet singer that we have recorded in praise of Jonathan.

"I am distressed for thee, my Brother Jonathan:
Very pleasant hast thou been unto me;
Thy love to me was wonderful—
Passing the love of women."
Life and literature have been greatly enriched by this story of a perfect friendship.

In the portion chosen for our lesson, David is confiding to Jonathan his fear of sitting at the table with the king lest the king's anger should endanger his life. Jonathan undertakes to inform David whether Saul is in a peaceable or a hostile mood. He makes a clear covenant of friendship with David, and the covenant is confirmed by both men.

The verse in our lesson which describes this is quite effective. It tells us how Jonathan causes David to swear to the covenant "for the love that he had for him; for he loved him as he loved his own soul." The friendship surely was creditable to both men.

David might well have feared and hated the son of the man who had sought to take his life. Jonathan might well have shared his father's jealous feeling about the praise that had been showered on David. But David saw in Jonathan all the qualities that he most admired—courage, magnanimity, and loyalty.

The final scene in the story of the friendship comes with the death of Jonathan in battle—in that overwhelming defeat of Israel in which Saul died with his sons.

A most effective passage in the annals of friendship is the story of David's lament over Saul and Jonathan—over Saul as the king of

CATTLE SALES BRISK AS NEW SEASON NEARS

HIGGINS, Sept. 16.—With fall trade opening and an active demand for cattle in evidence, a large supply of cattle was on hand Tuesday at the Higgins Livestock sales pavilion and buyers were numerous with ready bids.

A comparatively small amount of miscellaneous goods was bought in and found a ready market. A load of baled Johnson grass sold at 20 cents a bale.

In the hog division the largest run of the season was sold at good prices. These were sold for slaughtering purposes. Twenty-eight young mixed pigs went through the ring at $3.40 each. One string of gilts weighing around 150 pounds sold from $11.50 to $15. A few bred gilts were sold as high as $20.

Some nice shoats weighing around 65 pounds to 70 pounds brought $7.50 a head. Several head of around 50 pound pigs brought from $5 to $5.50 each. The top on heavy sows weighing from 475 to 530 pounds was $6.05.

No choice fat hogs were offered. Among the consigners in this division were J. M. Brannon and Frank Hayes, Mobeetie; C. P. Persley, Miami; R. W. Brown, W. R. Hext and Wiley McCray of Hemphill county; V. K. Scarth, Bill Scarth and A. V. Fitz of Lipscomb county.

In the cattle yards only a few of the calves offered were of good quality. However, one string of fifty-four good 540 pound whiteface steers were sold at $7.50 per hundred in the ring and were resold later in the day at a nice profit.

About a car of young cows on the trailer order and extra cows were weighed at $5.95 with a bunch of the heavy and older brought $6.20. A bunch of 31 very light whiteface calves brought $21.25 per head. More mixed bred cattle were on hand this week than at any time this season with a good demand and plenty buyers for all.

Jersey heifer calves weighing around 200 pounds sold for $14 to $15 each and the little steers of about the same quality sold for around $8, while just ordinary dog kind sold from $14 to $20 a head.

Most all consigners were well pleased with their sales. After the sustaining basis.

Since isolated cases would be expensive to plan and administer, Fennell said, a policy has been adopted of concentrating the program in areas where the most good can be achieved for farm welfare. Assistance will be limited to those farmers who are not in a position to provide for themselves the complete water facilities needed.

In addition to repaying the cost of installation under liberal terms, the benefitting farmer will be required to contribute, as far as possible, his own labor, materials and equipment to the construction of the facilities. He also will be required to sign an agreement, binding for the duration of the loan, to insure maintenance of the facilities, compliance with a land use plan, and repayments to the government. When the benefitting farmers are tenants, certain additional requirements will be made of the landlord as a protection against exploitation of the tenants.

tures the market on these high kind of cattle should continue to be very good.

J. L. Wooden of Vic, sold a load of Jersey heifers from calves to yearlings that were cashed in from $15 to $21.25 each. Tom Lunsford of Butler, Okla., was also a shipper.

Other consigners covering a large area of the Panhandle included J. P. Mosley, J. H. Meyers, David Stripling, J. M. Bradshaw, G. W. Ayers, Hughes and Stuckey, W. T. Eroyles, R. Farris, Oscar Kennedy, J. M. Brannon, T. M. Maudlin, Jim Laurie, Geo. E. Storms and W. E. Bryant.

Only a few horses were offered but brought very good prices. One smooth mouthed mare and male colt sold for $105. Another colt sold at $35.00, with common stock selling at common prices.

SCS DIRECTOR ANNOUNCES NEW WATER PROGRAM

AMARILLO, Sept. 16. (AP)—H. H. Fennell announces launching of a water facilities program through which farmers and ranchers of the Southern great plains region will be aided in developing such projects as stock ponds, wells and small reservoirs.

Fennell is director of the soil conservation service, which is cooperating with the farm security administration and the bureau of agricultural economics in carrying out the new enterprise.

The first area to be approved for development by the water facilities act is in Washington county, the Rita Blanca drainage basin in New Mexico and Texas. Only applications from residents of the Rita Blanca area will be considered at present, Fennell said. Information regarding filing of applications can be obtained from the soil conservation service projects office in Clayton, N. M., and Dalhart, Texas, or from the farm security administration county supervisor.

The Rita Blanca drainage basin extends from Colfax county in New Mexico to the confluence of the Rita Blanca and Major Long's creeks in Hartley county, Texas. Included are the Rita Blanca, Mustang, Perico and Carrizo creek areas in Union county, New Mexico and Dallam county, Texas.

The purpose of the water facilities development program, Fennell said, is to provide carefully planned water facilities in order to improve the utilization of water resources and to achieve wiser use of land over a period of years, and, through wiser use of land, to promote the welfare of the people who live on it.

The water facilities program, which is to be carried out in the 17 semi-arid western states including Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado, was authorized by the water-facilities act of August 1937, and in the current year $500,000 is available for its administration.

However, the farm security administration has set aside $5,000,000 of its rural rehabilitation funds to be used in helping eligible farmers install such water facilities as are needed to place them on a self-recent rains in this section and with the prospect of early wheat pas-

SERIAL STORY HIT-RUN LOVE BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

Yesterday, Pat recalls her first meeting with her fiance, Larry. She had insisted on taking her...

CHAPTER II

THAT was the first time she had experienced his persuasive manner. She had demurred, even argued, but had he carried out his plan. Soon she was in his car, not one of the great shining ones, but a car that made them two against the world with the snow beating down harder without, and laughter and easy talk within. He had snapped on the radio and talked quickly to break the formality.

He was interested in her work, in the people she met in the court—the attorneys, bondsmen, judges. "It pays to have friends like that," he had said casually. "They can help you out."

Pat nodded slowly. "Yes, I suppose they can. I got my job there because of my father. He knew influential people when he was alive. But I never thought of needing the help of important people for myself. I guess I'd rather get places on my own."

"You shouldn't have much trouble," he had said smiling down at her.

That was the beginning. Five months later they were engaged. And so now her life was full, complete. A few more months preparing for their home, and their marriage. Larry had promised to get the boys jobs during vacation, so that worry was lessened. And the family liked him, liked his easygoing manner, his acquiescent smile with the big city, with those magic names that meant society out in the west end.

Her memories faded. Judge Kelly came back to the bench; the gavel rapped for order. Pat tightened her grip on the pencil and filed another sheet with notes.

The day wore on. Tom Sweeney sat sprawled out in the witness chair, his brown hair with red lights in it tumbled over his broad forehead, his brown eyes friendly as they looked at Pat. Nothing startling about him now, she thought, but those same eyes could be cold, searching when he was questioning people. She spilled back at him. He was new on the job, and not yet at ease in the court. He was well thought of over at police headquarters, she had heard. That was why he had been assigned to the tough traffic job.

He pushed his hair back and leaned down from the chair. "Tough Saturday," he said in that deep voice that had made many boys squirm earlier in the day. "We run overtime, didn't we? Hard on His Honor, too." He nodded his head toward the judge's chamber. "His wife's on the phone, and on the music. He stood her up for lunch."

"Lunch—Pat realized it was indeed late for lunch. She glanced at the clock, and then at the darkness outside. Rain was trickling down the window and the smoke from a freighter heading up river hung low upon the water. "Going to finish all those notes before you head off for a sandwich," his voice came to her. "How about going down to the drug store for something? You won't have to take my words of wisdom down then, you know."

She smiled, but shook her head. "I don't think I'll take time. I have an orange in my desk. I want to get through early. Thanks, though."

"She wanted to finish up, wanted to get away to do some shopping and hurry home to be ready when Larry came—Larry!—the name sang through her heart. The room faded away. Nothing was real except Larry and herself.

"Ought to take time off to relax," Tom's voice came to her again. "Or is all this rush for a special reason? A young man, I suppose." He grinned and turned to answer a question as the desk sergeant came over.

BACK in the little cubbyhole that she used for an office Pat looked at her face in a tiny mirror. She wondered if her happiness could be seen in her eyes as a flag. Soon it wouldn't be a secret. In another month they would announce the engagement. She could imagine the words staring at her from the Sunday papers: "Mrs. Dennis McGraw announces the engagement of her daughter, Patricia Mary, to Laurence Kent."

Until then it was her own. Fiers and Larry's. She went back to her work, her fingers flying over her keys, playing a melody of promise.

Intermittent showers came and went while she hurried through her work. And then out on the street, running to the shop where she had seen the brightly colored breakfast set, gay flowers against a cream background, squat cups, a funny cream and sugar set, tea towels in plaids, and a few odd plates rich in the shades of old Mexico.

Soon they would be in her own home. She wished sometimes that Larry felt the thrill she did in furnishing their home. He left it up to her.

"You'll have to live with them," he had said, "whatever you get will be all right with me. I have enough to do talking colors and fabrics when I'm selling cars."

Yet she knew he liked nice things: rugs, crystal, pictures and clothes. During the winter social season he had told her of some of the big homes in the west end where he had gone on business.

"Young Dottie Barnes got a new convertible yesterday," he had once told her. "A debut present from her old man. I took it out and drove her around for a trial spin. What a house and what a girl. She's young, but she sure knows how to wear clothes. Not bad company either."

For a moment a stab of jealousy had gone through her, and then she had silently laughed it away. It was she whom he loved, she whom he had chosen. With her arms filled with bundles she waited in the shelter of a door for her bus, scrambled on as another rush of rain broke over the city. She slipped into a seat shaking the drops from her collar, wiping the mist from the window to watch the home-zoing traffic snarl and untangle on the greasy pavement.

Lights were flicking on in store windows, headlights of cars made highlights on the wet streets. People ran and scurried at crossings, and cars honked and jockeyed at stop lights.

HER eyes narrowed as she caught a glimpse of a familiar coupe. Then a smile curved her lips. Funny how in all that maze of traffic she could see but one car; should recognize that bumped place on the rear left fender, and the way the license plate hung crookedly down near the bumper. The bus sped up and she caught a glimpse of Larry; his felt hat turned down at the familiar angle, his collar up around his chin. Then the cars separated and he was lost ahead in the rain, cutting in and out with the speed he loved. She hoped he would be careful. So many accidents happened in the rain. Probably she was too traffic conscious, she told herself, from working in an atmosphere of reckless driving, speeding, illegal parking phrases all day.

The bus slowed down with an abruptness that threw her against the window. A scene flashed across her eyes, changed, melted into a new picture, but not before certain things stamped themselves indelibly on her consciousness. The familiar coupe with its bumped fender cutting out dangerously close to the bus, speeding away, other cars slamming on brakes, wheeling out—away from a rain-soaked bundle on the pavement.

The bus driver was already out. Voices came in the door. "She was standing in the safety zone—" "Hit-run driver—" "The woman's done for, but the kid still moves—" Words; words that beat at her like machine-gun bullets.

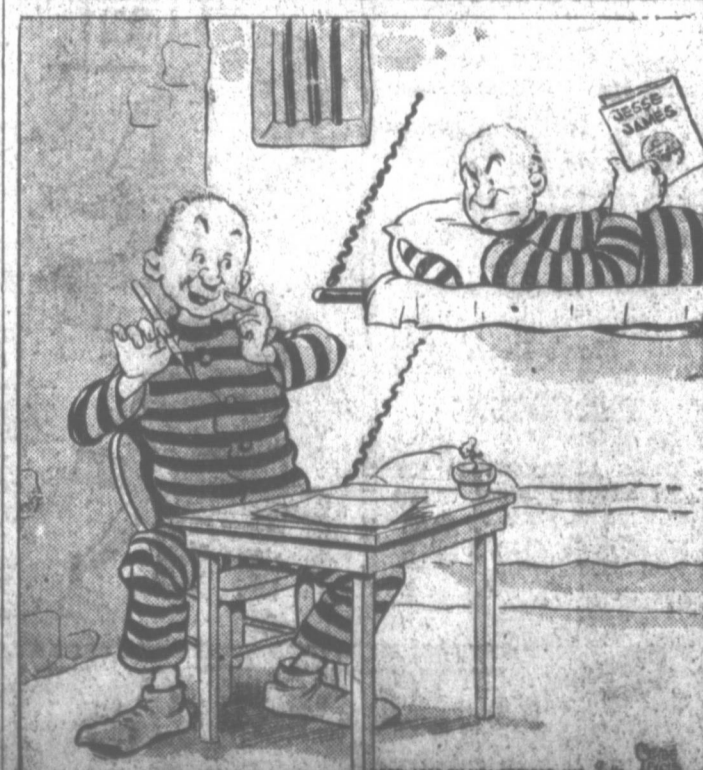

The lights still made bright pools of color in the rain, but the bundle on the street that now evolved into two limp figures, overshadowed all else.

fastest until it has to rest so it can go around again. Unless the dog is tied up it spends its waking hours going around. It starts slowly and picks up speed until it makes 50 revolutions a minute. And it keeps this up for several minutes, then rests and starts again. The only explanation advanced is that the dog has a "mental quirk."

New Federal Court Rules In Effect

WASHINGTON, Sep. 16 (AP)—A new set of federal court rules, hailed by Attorney General Cummings as "the most striking advance in the administration of justice in half a century," went into effect today.

Justice department officials said the changes—80 of them—should speed litigation and money because they eliminate considerable legal red tape and provide shortcuts for settlement of suits.

Drafted by the supreme court with the aid of department experts, these new rules govern civil suits. Most of them are extremely technical, but officials said some of the principal changes include:

A loser in court can not ask for a new trial because of a technical error unless he can show that the error actually affected the outcome of the case.

Less than 12 jurors may hear a case by mutual consent of all parties, thereby saving the litigants time and the government money.

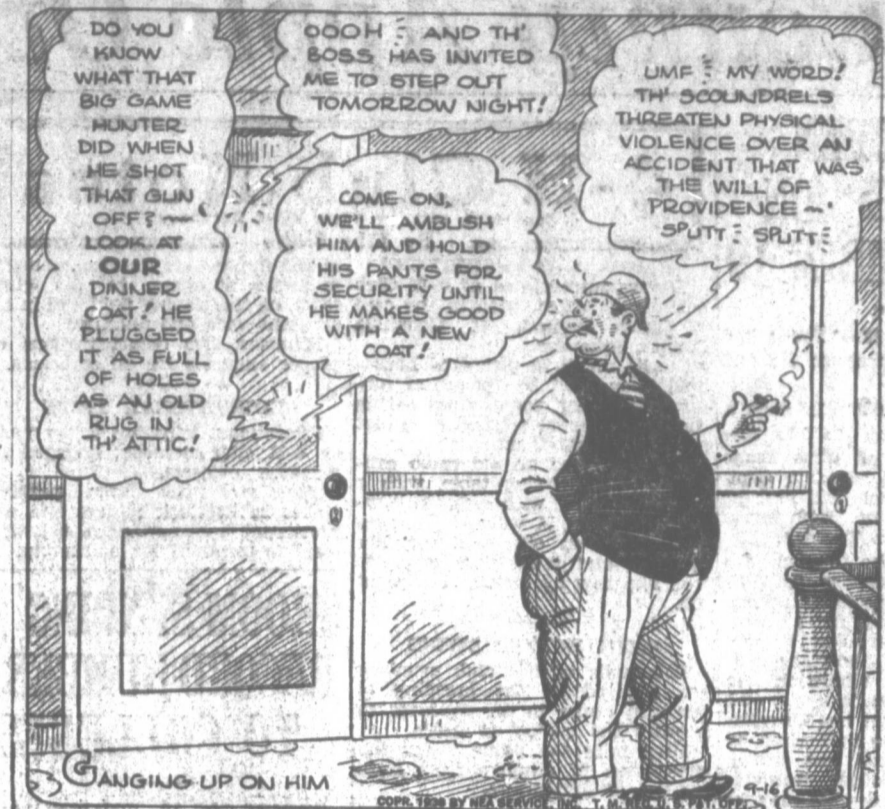

Judges may confer with attorneys for both sides at a "pre-trial." There extraneous testimony can be weeded out, unnecessary witnesses dismissed, and the real facts agreed on before the trial begins.
