

Pansies Pound Each Other's Skulls In Bruising Scrimmages While 'Catfish' And Lilies Spend Entire Time In Indoor Skull Practice

Only two more days until the Pansy-Lily football game. And both the Pampa Pansies and the Phillips-Borger Lilies are training long and hard, but along different lines. Both are featuring "skull" practice, but it also is of a varied nature.

Charges out to the gymnasium and sit around and have skull practice. Then the plays are charted on the gymnasium floor and every player learns his assignment. The Lilies have seven different plays, 'tis reliably reported.

The Berger method is much easier, and according to Coach Smith and Matthews, is more effective than the bruising type of practice used by the Pansies. Coach Spain and Prejean believe that a fellow can learn how to do something from a book but that he has to have actual experience to put it into effect. Captains Elected. The Pansies, composed of members of the three local civic clubs, elected Winston Savage of the Rotary club captain and H. G. "Doc" Waters of the Lions club as co-captain.

cause Dick Hughes came up with a broken bone in his hand following yesterday's scrimmage and Roy Bourland has a pair of charlie horses that have placed him in the sidelines. Ticket sales are becoming more brisk daily as fans realize that the football game is going to be one for blood, and not a burlesque.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART, NEA Service Staff Writer.

If you fully intend to be attractive day in and day out during the months ahead, you ought to:

1. Protect your skin from cold winds during the day and apply a softening cream every night.
2. Refuse second helpings of the rich concoctions that solicitous hostesses are in the habit of including in their dinner menus as the holiday season approaches.

Pork And Apple Sauce Enrich Menus For Winter Months

icy winter winds—rich pork, or crisp, brown sausage—tart, apple sauce. Perhaps this happy association was first discovered by accident. When freezing weather prompted the slaughter of the family pig, a basket of newly-gathered apples stood ready to serve up with the roast. Keen cold-weather appetites announced the combination ideal, and the "pork and apple sauce" custom became fixed.

And the tart of the apple does make a pleasing flavor contrast with the bland richness of the pork, whether the apples are baked, fried, broiled, glazed, or served up in fancy circles, centered with nuts, raisins, or candied cherries.

But modern cooks are no longer bound by the pork-apple tradition for they have learned that many tart fruits will give an excellent flavor "accent" with pork—pine-apple, peaches, cranberries, apples, and dried apricots, to mention but a few.

Two Entertain At Rosebud Revealing Party Friday Night

PHILLIPS, Dec. 6.—Mesdames D. H. Ostrow and D. N. Harlow were co-hostesses at a Rosebud revealing party in the home of the latter Friday evening.

Games suggestive of Christmas were enjoyed throughout the evening and each guest was presented an ornid or yellow chrysanthemum with fern.

The plates contained silver bell with a sprig of mistletoe tied to the bell with a tiny red ribbon. The clapper of the bell was a tiny slip of paper concealing the name of the new rosebud.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames T. S. Smuck, J. C. Murkland, David Wilson, Carl Boylan, W. W. Brooks, Burton Fitzsimmons, J. C. Sledge, Ellsworth Jones, Misses Esther Rudolph, and Jennie Sandy and the hostess.

Too much water makes pie crust tough and also makes it hard to roll out. Add water about a teaspoonful at a time and use as little flour as possible on rolling pin and board.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking away waste and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 5 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with a burning and stinging there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and 800,000 don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. This may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, sitting up nights, swelling, and many other things that are not pleasant.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Jones' Pills and successfully for millions for over 40 years. They give heavy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Jones' Pills.

A shower of handkerchiefs was presented to the honoree. After the gifts were opened, they were pinned on a lighted Christmas tree.

Attending were Mesdames Ben Chilton, Perry O. Gault, Comp Compton, Fred Bowman, C. R. White, C. B. Tillstrom, Chester W. Henry, Earl R. Chase, J. R. Posey, Wiley Day, R. Morgan, L. P. Ward, George Marchant, R. W. Tucker, A. A. Steel, W. C. Wilson, Hugh Ellis, Garnet Reeves, Marvin Lewis, Joe R. Posley, W. R. Ealmarik, Seth Beauchamp, R. E. Gatlin, and Dan Glaxner.

Handkerchiefs were sent by Mesdames Rupert Orr, C. L. Conrod, Joe Niver, and Mable Timms.

Horace Mann P-TA To Honor Fathers Thursday Evening

Fathers will be honored guests at the Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association meeting which will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Mrs. R. B. Allen is to be leader of the program which will include the devotional by Mrs. W. Purviance, vocal selections by the faculty sextette, numbers by the school band, talks by Harry Kelley and the Rev. Robert Eshen.

Convention reports will be read by the seven delegates to the school who attended the state P-T-A convention in Lubbock.

Refreshments are to be served by the three fourth grades.

Wild rice expands about twice its bulk. Over-cooking will darken it as well as decrease the flavor. Wild rice combines nicely with creamed mushrooms; served plain or scalloped.

Do a few limbering and stretching exercises daily. And take a brisk walk every day—even though the temperature outside is too cold to be inviting.

Brush your hair every day. And have a shampoo once a week.

Use a wax base underneath your nail varnish—to protect your nails, keep them from splitting and drying out.

See that your diet includes adequate quantities of vitamin-rich fresh vegetables and salad greens, milk and orange juice. You need these now even more than you did last summer.

Apply hand lotion several times a day. If you don't, your hands are likely to become rough and chapped looking.

See that your makeup harmonizes. Light red nail polish, and purple-red lipstick won't do. If your lips are covered with the latter shade by all means use nail varnish in a harmonizing tone. It can be light or dark, but it must have purplish lights in it.

Wear a foundation garment which makes your waistline seem positively tiny, hips neatly rounded, bosom naturally high.

Find time, then take that time, to learn more about one thing which interests you. It can be music or horses, or stamp collections or needlepoint, and you can call it a hobby if you like. But, hobby or no, you'll be happier and therefore more attractive if you save some small part of each day for yourself.

O'Daniel's Board Endorses Program

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6 (AP)—Gov. O'Daniel's board of advisors, holding its first meeting here yesterday, gave him a full vote of confidence on his program. Thirty-two of the thirty-six men and women appointed by O'Daniel, whose idea was to obtain a cross-section of views on his pension, industrialization and economic platform, voted unanimous endorsement. They suggested that the tax load should be spread out so that it would not prove burdensome to any industry or group of citizens in paying the pensions. They also endorsed economy in government and elimination of useless bureaus and commissions but with the understanding that every consideration be given toward seeing that no worthwhile state service be crippled. O'Daniel said his policy would be to insist that all appropriation bills passed by the legislature be accompanied by a tax levy sufficient to meet the financial requirements. Means of coordinating various efforts being made in the industrialization program were discussed. The althing (parliament) of the kingdom of Iceland is the oldest assembly in Europe. It was convened in 930 and except for the years between 1798 and 1874 has functioned ever since.

Slash In Taxation Advocated By Ford

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—Edsel Ford told the Senate profit-sharing committee today a reduction in federal taxation would be "as good an incentive" to business as anything the government could do. The slender son of Henry Ford testified he believed incentive taxation to encourage plant expansion, purchase of equipment and regularization of employment "might lead to consequences difficult to handle." "You feel, then," said Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), "that incentive taxation might create more problems than we could solve by it?" "I feel that is right," Ford replied quietly. Ford said the Ford Motor company believed in profit-sharing through higher wages. He added he believed the high wage scale had prevented any "serious" labor troubles in the Ford plants. "We try to be more than fair to our employees," Ford said. "We try to pay just as high wages as we can and produce at as low a cost as possible, thus creating volume production." "AS PRODUCTION INCREASES, PRICES TEND TO RISE"

Not understanding the above principle has cost me a "pretty penny" and it has cost millions of other people great losses and done untold injustices. Of course, if this statement is true, which experience under the Federal Reserve system proves it to be, then as production declines, prices tend to fall. It is because of this fact that the Administration has not been able to raise the general price level, in spite of all the credit made available and in spite of changing the value of a dollar in gold by 41 per cent.

Now, how does this apparent paradox come about? It is explained by Walter R. Spahr, in his latest brochure, "An Appraisal of the Monetary Policies of our Federal Government, 1932 to 1938," printed in October of this year. It points out:

"In reasonably normal times, the principal causal factor determining prices, as pointed out briefly at an earlier point, lies on the side of production, not with the monetary supply. AS PRODUCTION INCREASES, PRICES TEND TO RISE. This is because producers in general advance payments to their employees and to those from whom they purchase raw materials before they can sell or deliver their own products. Thus a purchasing power is created in advance of the delivery of the goods which give rise to this purchasing power. The latter is spent for goods in stock; for example, much is spent for consumers' goods already on hand. This enlarged demand, growing out of increased production, causes prices to rise.

"Much of this purchasing power, advanced by producers to their employees and others, grows out of bank loans. As producers expand their operations, they borrow money, bank loans give rise to bank deposits and these are drawn into circulation in the form of checks, drafts and money. In this manner the currency supply is the result and manifestation of business activity, not its cause, as the advocates of monetary manipulation seem to believe. Studies of the experiences of various countries support this observation by showing that the usual thing is for commercial loans to lag behind both the upswing and the downswing of business activity."

"This condition is a result of a banking system that permits banks to make long time loans or buy long time paper. And, as Mr. Spahr said in the same discussion, 'And a currency is sound when it has in it no defective element that will cause it to act as an inflating or deflating agent in affecting prices.' This kind of long time bank credit certainly makes a sound money impossible. It certainly is an important thing for every investor to remember that our present system, 'as production increases, prices tend to rise,' the natural corollary to this is, 'as production decreases, prices tend to fall.

to determine which were basic, and then to make the student aware of them and to provide her with necessary information and technique for her solutions.

So greatly did we feel the importance of education in this field that education now has become a major concern at Stephens.

But back to a basic principle: Man is both a producer and a consumer. He cannot long continue to consume more than he produces. Therefore, he has a right to demand a maximum of satisfaction for himself and family from his income.

He has a right to the same consideration as a consumer, in the formulation of laws, industrial and trade policies, as he is supposed to have been receiving as a producer.

He has a right to be trained for SPENDING his dollars just as he has been trained to EARN his dollars in the first place.

Jobs, Not Doles, Most Important

Again let me point out that American education has persistently emphasized the latter and ignored the former.

Why, then, America's present economic difficulties? Men, women and children are underfed, ill-clad and poorly housed. Causes for this condition are partly personal, partly beyond control of these people. In so far as the latter is true, responsibility for improving these conditions rests upon society.

Learned economists for centuries have been studying laws that affect men, as income producers. There must be some economic laws that can be made to apply with equal force to man as a consumer.

Until these are discovered and applications made, laws, tariffs, producer and labor organizations will continue to improve conditions in the upper brackets at the expense of the lower brackets.

The principle of charity, whether private or public, is wrong.

It is much more important that a man have a job, even though hours are long and pay low, than that he should sit idle and receive the same amount as a public or private dole.

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

A number of letters of protest have come to me in reference to a stand I took some time back on the American Federation of Labor's proposed goal of $4000 a year for every American family.

The projects take the form of lashing out against anyone who thinks a laborer should not try to improve his condition or anyone who opposes labor's efforts to organize to do that. Why, they ask, should not a workman try to earn $4000 a year.

Of course there is no reason why a workman should not want to earn $4000 a year and every reason why he should organize in a union to advance the interests of himself and his fellow workers. No one is more for that than I am!

What I called attention to was the proclaimed goal of the A. F. of L. to establish an income of $4000 a year for every American family. And I did so not because I would not like to see all American families enjoy such good fortune but because American workers who have so many serious and important objectives to achieve are merely diverted from them by these futile objectives.

But there is another reason for calling attention to it. I did so because I thought this announced plan characteristic of what I consider a weakness of the A. F. of L. That weakness is a found in the fact that the A. F. of L., according to my views, is not interested in every American family, but only in the small group of families which belong to the A. F. of L. The only way to get $4000 for American workers now is at the expense of other American workers.

GET GOAL STRAIGHT

As present three out of every four American workers earn less than $2500 and over a third of the workers earn less than $1000. The great goal of labor now

BUSY DAYS FOR NEWS PHOTOGRAPHERS IN EUROPE

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—A preview week without an epic, or four unclassical evenings:

"Out West with the Hardys" takes that lovable, typical Metro family into the current "western cycle" in pictures.

The Arizona ranch of Judge Hardy's old friends, Dora and Bill Northcote, turns out to have plenty of open spaces but comparatively little wildness. In fact, to Judge Hardy's probable disappointment, it has practically all the conveniences of home along with horses to ride and steers to rope. The one convenience lacking, or endangered, is a steady water supply—and the judge and family go west to see what can be done about saving this.

Incidentally, Andy Hardy learns a few tricks from "Jake," the 8-year-old motherless daughter of the ranch foreman; Marian Hardy develops a romantic crush on Jake's daddy, the judge learns that his wife knew all along about that picnic scandal in which he'd been involved with Dora Northcote long years before; and there's a great to-do about old Indian blankets, which in the end serve to save the Northcote ranch and the Hardy family.

Lewis Stone, Mickey Rooney, Cecilia Parker, Pay Holden, Ann Rutherford (Mickey's girl-friend Polly) all are here.

Newest in the series, this one holds up as chunky, close-to-home, above average movie.

"Say It In French" is diverting and pleasant enough if you're not stickler for substantial plot. Directed by Andrew Stone from a Jacques Deval libretto, the picture offers Olympia Brada and Ray Milland as newlyweds involved in deception of the bridegroom's financially harassed family. Olympia, sweet and pretty and improving as an actress, poses as a French maid in Ray's home with farcical complications ensuing. Irene Hervey, Mona Barrie, William Collier Sr., Mary Carlisle have the best scenes in support.

"Peck's Bad Boy With the Circus" brings the mischievous juvenile of another generation up to date. The new Peck offspring, (Tommy Kelly) is but slightly "bad"—although he does find a frog in his soup—and becomes more a typical, enterprising American youth than a problem child.

He attends the circus, gives sleeping pills to the lions, thus crabbing Benita Hume's lion-taming act, later saves the day for the child bareback rider (Ann Gillis) by snubbing for her when the Hume fury has incapacitated her, and finally gets off in time to win the big race at the summer camp from his boy rival.

"Little Tough Guys in Society" is of the buff-bum-boop school of juvenile manners popularized by the Dead End Kids, furthered by the present series from Universal. In this school, toughness is indicated by punctuating all remarks by slapping, pushing or mauling the face of the person addressed, so that the audible effect is of constant machine-gunning. Mischa Auer plays a psychiatrist who imports the tough guys from the East Side to leaven the snobbishness of the A. F. of L. was not interested in the low wage workers.

A LOOK AT RECORD

Samuel Gompers opposed even workmen's compensation for years. Years ago the A. F. of L. fought health insurance along with the Civil Federation and the insurance companies. The A. F. of L. opposed unemployment insurance until 1932. It fought for the minimum wage law and it opposed old age pensions at one time.

Laws like these for years, I believe it was partly because

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

We were walking in the white world of the night with the November moon hanging like a radium disc directly over the head, and because you couldn't see the moon unless you threw back your head, it seemed as if there were indirect lighting, and the boy kept saying, "look at that star—right yonder!" and his eyes were like green ice with pin points of light shining under them. Then the big plane flew over and the boy stopped in his tracks and listened to the far away roar and watched the light-studded shape blot out the stars. "Wonder where it's going," the boy mused. "To Albuquerque, to Flagstaff, I answered but he ignored names of mere towns. 'No,' he said, 'over the mountains—the Rocky mountains, the desert—the Painted Desert, the Grand Canyon—like to fly anywhere!'

Look at it fly. Doesn't seem like it's going very fast, though. Never does... If you don't mind, I think I'll not walk any farther with you. I think I'll go home and work on my airplane motor," and there was the look of the dreamer in his eyes, and you could envision the boy sitting motionless with the plane on his lap, his hands grasping it, and his eyes lost in the vision of himself and in his ears the roar of mighty motors, and this one knew that the magic of wings weaves a spell, a dream, a hope in the head of the young that even moonlight cannot shatter.

Fresh fruits and vegetables out of season were only for the leading citizens, and fadder bears, sow bosom and Arbutus berries, heard considered ample fare for those who made their living the hard way.

Then came the end of the good old days. An inconsiderate government constrained these free-booting gentlemen from the stealing of public lands from patricially sedling our soldiers' plume-laden food stuffs. (Mr. Hollis, in a previous article, belly-ached about the Pure Food and Drug Act.) and from selling bogus stock or watering excessively that stock which wasn't exactly bogus. They even, after the passage of the income tax laws, had to divvy up some of the swag.

Worst of all (see Sharing Comforts) wages rose until some carpenters, painters, plumbers and drillers are receiving the outrageous sum of $10.00 a day. This, mind you, for only 8 hours work!

The writer would not undertake to debate the economic aspect of the situation with so eminent an authority as Mr. Hollis.

Maybe he is right. Maybe if 40 or 50 millions of us common people would forego our automobiles, radios, electric refrigerators and bathtubs, our gluttonous habit of eating T bone steak twice a week and go back to the Good Old Days (at two bucks per G. O. D.) we might reach that state of economic bliss so plausibly desired by Mr. Hollis.

Maybe we could even balance the budget, maybe.

STOKES, Colo. (AP)—Firemen discovered that the fire at City Hall was a "pissant" one. City councilmen reported they merely had decided to have a bonfire at their regular meeting to burn $7,000 worth of defaulted bonds, to cancel city indebtedness.

This being the time of year, I have prepared a report for our three dozen Panhandle customers on ice skating.

My research work consisted of consulting Diana Cummings' new book, "Skating with an A Hobby." I learned quickly that—

(1) Diane is a good-looking brunette.

(2) Skating is safe—"involving only occasional harmless spills." (Skater with boots cost only $10 to $50 a pair, which is cheap enough for some of you.)

(3) Skating is "fairly easy" to learn.

(4) Skaters are a generous lot of people.

(5) And skating has a colorful history, which you will find is useful to know. You'll understand why later.

All you have to do to get started in ice skating is—first, wiggle—to get adequate circulation; second, borrow Garnet Reeves' pants—they make an ideal costume; and third, practice the seven exercises for those "who wish to lumber 'up at home."

A sample exercise: Sit on the floor with feet stretched wide apart, lean down to touch each shoulder to the opposite knee. Bend down, turn, bend down, etc.

After these exercises, you'll be ready to take to the ice. You'll be ready for anything.

The principal thing to practice in your first skating lesson is how to stand still on one skate with the other poised in the air. You take a few steps, you have someone pull you along, and so on.

Don't be embarrassed about that, either. When the new Gray county lake freezes over in the winter of 1939-40, you'll be tickled pink when these skating tips we gave you way back in '38.

While you are learning, you can impress your friends by displaying your knowledge of skating history. Sample facts to use: In 1860, men skated to stiff, starched shirts with high collars and ascots, morning coats, top hats and striped trousers.

Exactly 30 years ago the U. S. had a skating craze. The Hippodrome in New York City featured Charlotte, a European girl, in "skating" acts. She was a sister her daughter will be cutting up ice-skate di-oes on Lake McClellan.

This description occurs in the 1933 New York Skaters' Manual: "A swift skater makes the nearest approach to flying which we denizens of this mundane sphere can achieve with our own organs of motion."

Free competition was strangled. Not by law, as Mr. Hollis now complains, but by the more direct methods of bribery, corruption and financial chicanery beside which the practice of hijacking filling stations would be an innocent pastime.

In 1913, up to which time the well being of the people had been advancing so rapidly, oil well drillers were making $4.00 a day for 12 hours work. Roustabouts for the larger companies were getting $2.50 a month and pipe-layers $2.00 a day. Automobiles were luxury not to be thought of by a working man. Bath tubs and telephones were ditto.

Fresh fruits and vegetables out of season were only for the leading citizens, and fadder bears, sow bosom and Arbutus berries, heard considered ample fare for those who made their living the hard way.

Then came the end of the good old days. An inconsiderate government constrained these free-booting gentlemen from the stealing of public lands from patricially sedling our soldiers' plume-laden food stuffs. (Mr. Hollis, in a previous article, belly-ached about the Pure Food and Drug Act.) and from selling bogus stock or watering excessively that stock which wasn't exactly bogus. They even, after the passage of the income tax laws, had to divvy up some of the swag.

Worst of all (see Sharing Comforts) wages rose until some carpenters, painters, plumbers and drillers are receiving the outrageous sum of $10.00 a day. This, mind you, for only 8 hours work!

The writer would not undertake to debate the economic aspect of the situation with so eminent an authority as Mr. Hollis.

Maybe he is right. Maybe if 40 or 50 millions of us common people would forego our automobiles, radios, electric refrigerators and bathtubs, our gluttonous habit of eating T bone steak twice a week and go back to the Good Old Days (at two bucks per G. O. D.) we might reach that state of economic bliss so plausibly desired by Mr. Hollis.

Maybe we could even balance the budget, maybe.

Worms is one of the biggest pests they are. There's lots of different kinds of worms, like the worm in the apple and the fish worm, but the worm that's always been a sore thumb to us married fellers is the silk worm. The last thing he does is to spin one of them cocoons around himself and that's his finish as a worm and right there is where all the trouble starts up, on account of him leaving the dang cocoon behind to make stock.

So you see, that's the reason why this new Synthetic Fiber that them Du Pont chemists just perfected sounds like such a great discovery. They say it makes stronger, finer and sheerer silk stockings than the real thing, besides being lots cheaper in the long run on account of there not being so many long runs, and that's bound to be a big help to us, besides getting rid of a lot of worms that should have been discovered in the first place. Our worm trouble began way back in 2600 BC, when some Chinaman's wife first found out that the end of a worm was the beginning of a silk stocking, and ever since that time we been in trouble trying to keep our wives in sheer hosiery, on account of them figgering that if a Chinaman's wife could make a worm perduce, they wasn't no excuse for an American wife not doing the same thing.

JUDD.

P. S.—Still speaking about worms, a ruler that purges his country of all its scientists and intellectuals, is just spinning his self a cocoon—J.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GILDSTON, M.D.

EVERYMAN A DOCTOR

In a delightful Persian story a court jester once told his astonished master that among his people there were more doctors than all craftsmen combined.

Unwilling to believe it, the master called the "fool" to prove his contention under the penalty of a lashing.

Undismayed, the jester appeared on the street the following morning with a cloth wrapped about his face. Sure enough, every second he stopped to ask him what his trouble was, and when told it was a toothache, offered his favorite remedy.

Everyman has a bit of the doctor in him. With the advances in medicine during the last half century, he was afforded an ever better chance to pay the doctor for his own benefit.

The saying, of course, is that lie who doctors himself has a fool for a patient and another for a physician. But this does not apply to the practice of preventive medicine, the safeguarding of his own health and of the health of those dependent upon him, the individual must carry a large responsibility.

In the last analysis no one but the individual can take full advantage of the preventive measures that are now available to him through his physician. Many attempts have been made to compel people by legislation to take care of their health, but experience has shown such efforts to be costly and never satisfactory.

The value of sunlight and of fresh air were rediscovered in modern times, largely while treating tuberculosis. The advantages of exercise and of adequate rest were redefined in the light of modern physiology.

All wisdom, of course, was not born with modern medicine. Nor were the ancient physicians all ignorant or fools. On the contrary, the Greek physicians, for example, knew a great deal about "preventive medicine," except of course that those who neglected the prevention of infectious diseases.

But in modern medicine there is an ever increasing opportunity for the individual to care for his own health. The challenge is therefore pertinent: how much of the available common knowledge does the average person have, and how much of it does he apply to safeguarding his health?

Crude Production Off 52,475 Barrels

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 6.—A decline of 52,475 barrels daily in the national production of crude oil was reported today by the Oil and Gas Journal for the week ending Dec. 2. It brought the daily average down to 3,215,519.

Oklahoma fields showed a decline of 29,600 barrels daily, with an average of 51,550. East Texas was up 376 barrels daily to 371,135 and the total State of Texas had an increase of 5,082 barrels daily to 1,272,702.

The output of California dropped 22,150 barrels daily to 941,730. Louisiana increased 1,880 to 269,925 and Kansas was off 7,760 barrels daily for an average of 163,240.

Eastern States including Illinois and Michigan, had a rise of 4,853 barrels daily to 350,283 and the Rocky Mountain section showed a decrease of 2,180 barrels daily to 65,960.

45 Men Attend Scout Leaders Training School

Forty-five men attended the first session of the Boy Scout Adult Leadership Training course last night in the red school building and a larger group is expected to be present tonight. The course will continue nightly during the week.

A guest at last night's meeting was Charles N. Miller of New York, assistant national director, division of operations, who discussed briefly the Scout program and the need of experienced adult leaders.

R. A. Selby acted as chairman of the session. John Sullivan conducted a sing song and then the group divided into two sections, on studying troop operation under direction of Ernest Cade, with 26 present, and the other talking introduction to scouting under Executive Fred Roberts.

Tonight's meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock sharp and those not attending last night may make up the work they missed.

Six men were present from Groom, one from Panhandle and one from Lefors.

themselves the specialization they require.

The NYA-Bilinn College resident training-project at Brenham is a case in point. It was set up definitely as a stenographical and clerical course, designed for thirty girls from Texas coastal counties who knew by previous experience that was what they wanted.

The group at Bilinn is outstanding for its unanimity of interest and aim. All are high school graduates. Of the thirty, nine were valedictorians or salutatorians of their classes. Everyone has had at least six months actual employment in an office or store. Before being accepted for the project all were interviewed personally by Miss Chloé L. Québedeaux, the supervisor, to make doubly certain they understood the purpose of the program and endorsed it.

The project began work September 16 and its program will extend through to June 30, 1939. The girls live on the third floor of the Bilinn dormitory. The college provides room and board, laundry facilities, recreational, social facilities, and equipment, for which the girls pay from their wages. Each girl makes her expenses every month and has about $10 in cash for her own uses.

but what is interesting," and urged that Adobe Walls leaders make scouting attractive and interesting.

"Faith is impressive," Mr. Miller said. "It tallies about a leader."

"In the Boy Scout movement we are not trying to build a character, fundamentally, as most of character building is done in church, home, and school. We are simply supplementing these agencies, impressing upon boys that to give service as citizens they must be physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

"Every year we turn out hundreds of thousands of boys who have the flame of service burning within their hearts, of service to the community. You know there are many who live in a community and do not know it. We want the boys to turn out to have the habit of service to the community, to be good citizens."

"We have heard so much in these times of what is wrong with America that it is time we devoted some attention to the fact that there is a whole lot that is good in America."

Making Movement Interesting

Methods of making scout activities interesting to the boys and of interesting the public in the movement were explained by Mr. Miller. He suggested well-planned programs for scout circuses, merit badge shows, troop excursions of honor, and the medium of the civic good turn, connected with contact with the public and public participation in these events as ways to accomplish this purpose.

Well-organized staffs and more scout leaders were seen by Mr. Miller as two of the primary needs of the Adobe Walls council.

court declared the board had jurisdiction over the labor relations companies like the big New York Utility.

The portion of the decision relating to the contract was the first direct reversal given the labor board in a formal Supreme Court opinion.

Charles Fahy, general counsel for the labor board, contended the section was "decided on an extremely narrow ground, was one of procedure and does not affect the board's right to act on such contracts."

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, asserted the decision would force the board to reverse itself in all cases in which "it has illegally abrogated contracts entered into between employers and AFL unions."

Les Pressman, general counsel of the CIO, said the decision "can give but cold comfort to labor organizations seeking to advance themselves at the cost of workers by obtaining preferential treatment from employers."

By implication, Pressman argued, the Supreme Court said that under proper procedure the labor board "could probably have declared the Consolidated Edison company invalid in its entirety as it attempted to do."

as war machines to fight Spanish Insurgents.

The indictment specifically charged these men: Colonel Fierco, Col. Rafael Moreno, Col. Alfredo Lavama Alvarez and Col. Gustavo Leon of the Mexican army; Fritz Bieler of Geles; Cloyd P. Clevenger, New York aviator; Sixto Del Rio, a Mexican; Carlos P. Paine, a Mexican; and Jose Sainaga, a Mexican, listed as manager of the CIA (company) de Transportes Aereos Pacifico. The company was also indicted.

The indictment was the second handed down by the federal grand jury of the southern district of Texas in two weeks involving alleged neutrality act violations. The first indictment, returned at Corpus Christi, named the Mexican rebel general, Saturnino Cedillo, Clevenger, Howard F. Kilen, New York aviator and three Mexicans. They were charged in an alleged plot to transport American-made planes into Mexico ostensibly for use in a Mexican revolution. Cedillo recently was vanquished in a revolt by aggressive action of President Lázaro Cárdenas.

The indictment today was returned, U. S. District Attorney Douglas McGregor of Houston said, after an exhaustive investigation by federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

The indictment charged the conspiracy to transport planes into Mexico was formulated in Washington, D. C., Brownsville and Mexico City.

The planes, Assistant U. S. District Attorney George John of Houston said, were bought in this country and the majority of them were flown to Brownsville, thence to Mexico City and from there to Vera Cruz, Mexico. From this Mexican port they were shipped to Spanish Loyalist ports, he said.

Dickinson Still Ranks Notre Dame Nation's Best Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 6 (AP)—Notre Dame, despite a 13-9 setback at the hands of Southern California, rated today as the nation's strongest team under the Dickinson system of calculating football power and brilliance.

The system, originated by Dr. Frank G. Dickinson, University of Illinois professor, ranked Tennessee Duke, Texas Christian and Oklahoma—all undefeated and untied—below Notre Dame.

Dr. Dickinson's rating was based on the strength of a team's opponents. He figured the opponents of Notre Dame in its five hardest games were stronger than those faced by the undefeated eleven.

Aviator Draws 18-Month Term In Plane Deal

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 6 (AP)—Cloyd P. Cleverger, aviator, today was sentenced to 18 months in a federal penitentiary on his admission that he transported two airplanes from the United States to Mexico to be used in the Abertorio Cedillo rebellion this year.

of conspiracy to violate the U. S. neutrality law of 1937. The court freed P. Ellen, of New York and Mexico City, of any part in the conspiracy or the actual violation of the act. Klein pleaded innocent to both charges and Assistant United States Attorney George John said the government had established conclusively that Klein withdrew from the transaction to sell and deliver the airplanes to General Saturnino Cedillo when the state department withdrew a license to fly the two planes to San Luis Potosi, Mexico, from the United States. Cleverger, through his plea of guilty to violation of the law, today became the first American citizen to face a federal judge on the Texas-Mexican border for violation of the act and President Franklin D. Roosevelt's May 1, 1937, arms embargo. Federal court attaches said the case today is the first of its kind to be held in Texas since the hectic days of Pancho Villa, who ran rough shod over northern Mexico during the early part of the World War. Several Americans were brought to trial at that time for smuggling guns to Villa and his bandit band.

Highway Policing Halves Death Toll

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—Concentrated policing of Texas' worst highway sectors—those responsible for 242 deaths last year—has more than halved the death toll for 10 months this year. State police today reported 106 fatalities in 13 high accident sectors, a reduction of 136. Comparative records for these "death corridors" for last year and through Nov. 1 this year included: U. S. 87, Highway 87, Georgetown-Troy, 19 and 4. U. S. Highway 81, San Antonio-San Marcos, 23 and 11. U. S. 3, Corrigan-Lurkin, 4 and none. U. S. 67, Greenville-Dallas, 14 and 5. U. Woodrow Wilson Beats Horace Mann 13 to 0

Prejean Boys Win Opener In Round Robin

Woodrow Wilson school opened the ward school football season with a 13 to 0 win over Horace Mann yesterday afternoon at Harvester field. Youngsters of both teams showed a surprising knowledge of football considering they have been practicing only one week.

The boys of Coach J. C. Prejean scored midway in the first quarter when Robert Davison broke loose and raced 30 yards. The try for extra point failed. The Woodrow Wilson youngsters made the game sure on the first play of the fourth quarter when Bill Coy Sheehan went from the five-yard line for a touchdown. Davison swept his end for the extra point.

Elmore Lindsey almost put the Horace Mann youngsters into the scoring column on two occasions but he was overhauled. The Horace Mann youngsters were coached by Jack Davis.

While Davison and Sheehan led the Woodrow Wilson attack behind some nice blocking, Lindsey and a lefthanded passer named Clayton Noblitt were always dangerous for Horace Mann.

The little fellows tackled low and hard and opened holes in the line like veterans. L. J. Crabb, a guard, Lonnie Williams, a tackle, and Jackie Morgan, center were line standouts in a generally strong Woodrow Wilson line. Hugh O'Brien, end, Ray Carpenter and John Shilton, tackle, led the strong line play of the Woodrow Wilson eleven.

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Sam Houston and Baker will play the second game of the round robin series.

Lineups for yesterday's game:

Woodrow Wilson, one team—Glen Dawkins and Joe Cree, ends; Lonnie Williams and Theodore Lindsey, tackles; Raymond Vanderblinder, and L. J. Crabb, guards; John Davis, center; Charles Hatcher, quarter; Bruce Daugherty and Robert Davidson, halves; Billy Coy Sheehan, full. Woodrow Wilson, other team—Bobby Keller and Randall Chey, ends; Jackie Rains and Jackie Dunham, tackles; Troy Hopkins, and Vance Vogle, guards; Jackie Morgan, center; Burwell Southern, quarter; James McTaggart and Deryl Robbins, halves; Donald Gray, full. Kenneth Buzbee, sub.

Horace Mann, one team—Gormen Snyder and Hugh O'Brien, ends; Howard Kelly and Harold Prost, tackles; Pat McMullen and Harold Prost, guards; Rex Christenson, center; Don Bair and Ardell Seeks, halves; Willis Stark, full.

Pitt Adopts New Scholarship Code

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6 (AP)—Alumni and undergraduates pondered today Chancellor John G. Bowman's assertion that Pitt cannot offer athletic scholarships, but that worthy players may receive outside financial aid.

On and off the campus the statement was discussed as a possible means of clearing definitely the situation, clouded since the adoption nearly a year ago of Bowman's code of "strictly amateur" athletics.

The issue came to head several weeks ago when 22 freshmen football players protested receipt of tuition bills of $150 each for a semester. They admitted they had signed notes for the amount, but insisted they thought these only a formality.

Some of them threatened to leave school and alumni stepped in and demanded an investigation of the athletic department.

Dr. Bowman in an address last night at the annual varsity lettermen's club banquet for the varsity and freshmen squads, said Pitt, was "going straight ahead" with football, but under the Bowman code.

The Pampa Harvesters will play their 1939 football schedule with two captains members of the squad voted last night at the annual banquet. Glen Nichols, senior tackle, was elected captain and Grover Lee Heiskell, junior back, was elected co-captain by their teammates. All members of the squad present voted, with Nichols leading the ballot. Then the boys decided to elect a co-captain and Grover Lee Heiskell nosed out Pete Dunaway in the balloting. Nichols was an outstanding tackle until undergoing an operation for appendicitis preceding the third game of the season. Heiskell was a reserve back, working both at fullback and at quarterback, where he probably will be located next season.

We take it all back. The Pansies have turned out to be a gang of full blooming cactus with not a sticker missing. When the football game between the civic club teams of Pampa and Phillips-Borger was announced we were doubtful that there would be much football played but after seeing the Pansies in a scrimmage session that doubt has vanished. They're tough, those Pansies, but there aren't nearly enough of them, only two and a half teams. Borger, 'tis reported, will have at least four full teams to place on the field.

Anyone want good tickets to the Cotton Bowl football game on January 2. If so you can secure them from Malouf Abraham at The Killarney in Canadian. Mr. Abraham has 100 tickets, all for excellent seats. Duclats between the 30 and 40-yard lines cost $4.40. Tickets between the goal line and 30-yard lines cost $3.30. Writing to us, Mr. Abraham says "I am accommodating Texas Tech in handling the tickets for the game. The athletic board sent me 100 of the tickets to be sold in this section." Mr. Abraham is a former student of Texas Tech whose Red Raiders will meet the St. Mary's Gaels of California in the Cotton Bowl game.

Congrats, Harvesters, on your captain for 1939. They are two mighty fine boys. They are the level-headed type of boys who won't let a title go to their heads. They are the type who play the game for their team and not to shine for themselves. Pampa Harvesters teams have always been noted for having that kind of a boy elected captain which shows that boys know leaders when they see them.

There's going to be a football game at Pampa Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and anyone desiring tickets may secure them at Fatheree Drug Store. A limited number of the tickets have been received and they will go to the first to call. The game is doped as one of the outstanding gridiron battles in the Panhandle this year. Panhandle won the regional title from Wellington last year and the Skyrockets are out for revenge this season.

Heard—Coach J. C. "Buck" Prejean, Harvester line coach who is now in charge of the Woodrow Wilson ward school team, announcing that he was going to stick with his winning team. His Woodrow Wilson Pee-wees won 13 to 0 over Horace Mann yesterday afternoon.

Clements And Watkins Win Wild Match

—By HARRY HOARE

Sailor Tex Watkins and Referee Ray "Big Train" Clements remained supreme as a wrestling team after defeating Joe Banaski and Scotty Williams in one of the most riotous wrestling matches in local history last night at the Pampa Athletic arena.

The combination of Banaski and Williams took the first fall in three minutes. The two came out of their corner fast and demanded to look at Watkins' hand. When Clements, the old referee instinct cropping out, leaned over Watkins to look at his hand, he was met with an elbow to the jaw and went down with both Banaski and Williams on top of him. Before the surprised Watkins could pull the pair off, Clements had been counted out. Then Williams and Banaski got Watkins in a split and his shoulders hit the mat.

Not to be outsmarted in the second fall, Clements and Watkins turned rough from the first. They were met with an equal onslaught but Williams proved too light and after Watkins had hurled Banaski from the ring, Clements picked Williams up and dropped him across Watkins' knee. Then the pair roughed Banaski into submission in 13 minutes. Keeping the upper hand and working on Williams' sore back, Watkins and Clements soon had him out in the third fall but the wily Banaski kept the two at bay for nearly 10 minutes by dashing from corner to corner and letting the opponents collide, and by use of his feet. Finally Watkins and Clements got him in a split and he had to give up.

Russ Riley, the boy from Muleshoe, made himself a spot in the Pampa wrestling world when he went to a 30-minute draw with Count Otto von Ludwig Ludwig, and he fouled but Riley kept the upper hand with clean wrestling until goaded into unorthodox and then it was too bad for the German.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—The swing of football power from the east to other sectors, widely reflected in all-American selections, is duplicated in the final Associated Press poll ranking of teams. Texas Christian's mighty forces lead the first ten with two southern, a southwestern and a mid-western team holding the next four places.

There was no doubt about the Christians. Of the 87 sports writers voting, 55 chose them as the top team. The leaders, who look over from Notre Dame, have 888 points to lead second place Tennessee by a wide margin.

The poll was extended for another week because of the select quality of last Saturday's games, three of which had a direct bearing on the ranking. Notre Dame, beaten 13-9 by Southern California, fell from first to fifth. Tennessee moved up from fourth to second after a notable rout of Mississippi and Oklahoma came from fifth to fourth after disposing of Washington State in spectacular fashion.

The first ten: (First place votes in brackets, points scored on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.)

Team	Points
Texas Christian (55)	888
Tennessee (16)	706
Duke (11)	679
Oklahoma	534
Notre Dame (4)	490
Carnegie Tech	412
Southern California (1)	406
Pittsburgh	290
Holy Cross	149
Minnesota	111

Second ten: Texas Tech 42, Cornell 37, Alabama 25, California 20, Fordham 19, Michigan 16, Northwestern 15, Villanova 13, Tulane 11, Dartmouth 10.

Wink To Seek 25th Straight Win Saturday

By The Associated Press

Wink's Wildcats, winners of 24 straight games and holders of this year's high-scoring record in Texas schoolboy football, met Rotan at Odessa Saturday in the season's finale and the regional championship play-off in Class B ranks.

Wink has run up 503 points in 11 games. Hull-Daisetta, which does not compare with Wink in scoring but boasts the outstanding mark in consecutive victories, will be shooting for its thirty-fifth straight over a three-year period when it engages Alvin at Alvin Friday for the region 10 title.

Finalists in all of the 12 regions have been determined and sites and dates for the play-off games set. They are:

Region 1—Wellington at Panhandle; region 2—Rotan vs. Wink at Odessa; region 3—Newcastle at Crowell; region 4—Diamond Hill (Fort Worth) at Will's Point; region 5—Royce City vs. Mt. Vernon at Sulphur Springs; region 6—Crockett at Overton; region 7—Taylor at Brady; region 8—Calvert at McGroger; region 9—La Grange vs. Bellville at Brenham; region 10—Hull-Daisetta at Alvin; region 11—Junction at Cuero; region 12—Alive vs. Greer at Kingsville.

All these games are Friday except the Rotan-Wink tilt, which is set for Saturday. The Overton-Crockett, La Grange-Bellville and Alive-Greer games at night.

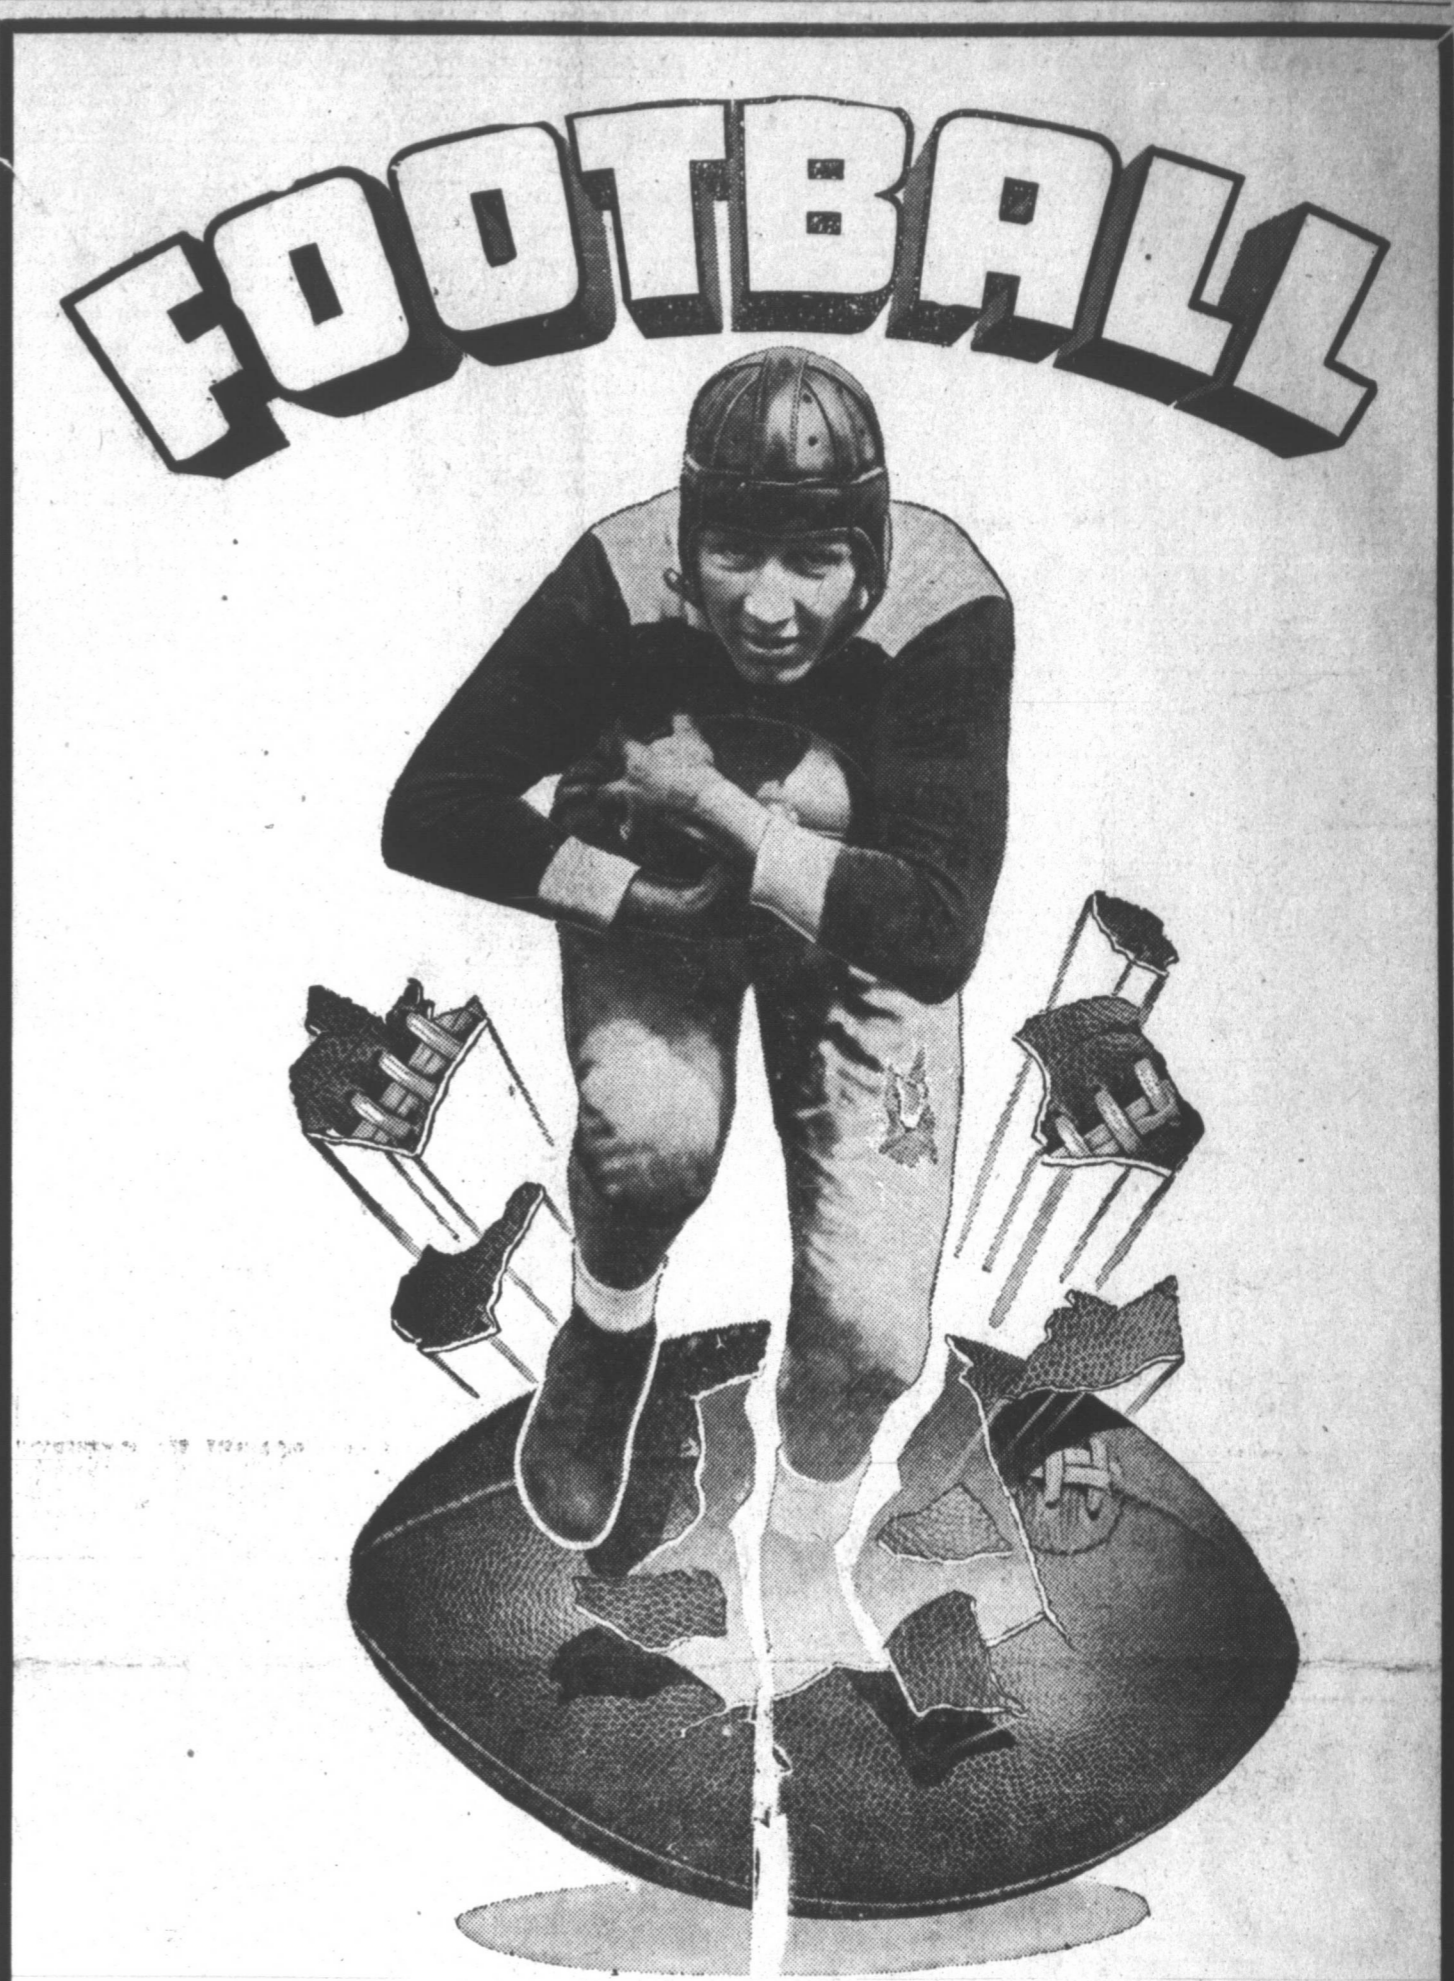

Play in Class B ends with regional championships.

Care of a baby is a full-time job for 5 hours and 41 minutes every day, and a part-time job the rest of the day, it is estimated.

HIS CAR'S BURIED

FOR THE WINTER

BUFFALO, Wyo. (AP) - J. C. Hubbard's car probably will spend the winter in a snow drift. Hubbard had to abandon the machine while driving in a blizzard on Powder River Pass.

He made his way on foot to Caribou camp, 10 miles away, and intended to go back after the car when the storm ceased. Highway officials predict it will be spring before they can reopen the road.

TRAIL, B. C. (AP) - After putting in eight years of labor on a lofty "Italian castle" here, Giovanni Vendramini has decided to live in a small house nearby.

Before he gave up his project, Vendramini had erected a massive wall 55 feet high. Because the builder ran out of funds, the structure still lacks windows and a roof.

TCU Picked To Beat Carnegie Tech Jan. 2

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Service Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6 - Carnegie Tech wasn't caught napping in connection with the Sugar Bowl bid.

The Tartars knew they stood a good chance to land one of the New Year's Day games, but didn't know the identity of their rivals. Players and coaches preferred Texas Christian, which they are to tackle in New Orleans Jan. 2.

Bill Kern dispatched his chief assistant, Dr. Eddie Baker, to scout both Tennessee and the Texas. Baker was an eye witness as the Volunteers galloped over Kentucky on Thanksgiving Day; then flew to Dallas to watch T. C. U. against Southern Methodist.

Dr. Baker saw altogether too much in the cow country ... stutters every time he thinks of Dutch Meyer's remark: "We haven't been tested yet, haven't opened up on any opponent."

Dr. Baker calls the 152-pound Davey O'Brien the most accurate passer he has ever seen.

O'BRIEN PASSES HEAD HIGH. RUNS WELL. QUICK KICKS.

"O'Brien throws the ball head high," says the Skibo's backfield coach. "That his passes are hard to intercept is made evident by the fact that only four of the 167 he tossed during season were intercepted. He pitches them under fire just as he does in practice.

"When he's about to throw a long one, he fades far back. The longer the pass, the better he is. He gets lots of practice.

"The kid also can run with the ball and kick kicks.

"Texas Christian doesn't depend wholly on passes. Not by a long shot. Its running attack is as good as I've seen this year.

"Dutch Meyer has a big team ... very big. The captain, I. B. Hale, a tackle, is listed in the program at 237 pounds. Meyer, left guard, is programmed at 232. Ki Aldrich, who plays plenty of center, goes at 225.

"The ends scale about 195 pounds each, and they certainly can catch that ball.

"O'Brien and Hale came from the same Dallas high school ... have been teammates for eight years.

"Texas Christian uses the double and single wing."

CARNEGIE TECH FOOTBALL IS DEFINITELY ON THE UPBEAT

It will be interesting to see whether Davey O'Brien can maintain his high percentage of completions while being rushed by the hard charging Carnegie Tech line.

If he does, he certainly will be credited to his present place as everybody's All-American.

Carnegie Tech is receiving a guarantee and a percentage for the Texaco Christian engagement. The Tulane University stadium seats 60,000. The Tartars' share should amount to about $50,000.

Lambert Trophy emblem of the eastern championship, Pittsburgh won this trophy in 1936 and '37.

The Skibos were listed behind Notre Dame in one of the more prominent national ratings.

They were first to repel Holy Cross and Pitt, powers which were unbeaten for two years.

Tickets are already going for their engagement with Notre Dame at Pitt Stadium next fall.

Carnegie Tech football definitely is on the upbeat.

SHE STUDIES FINGERPRINTS JUST FOR FUN.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - It's only a hobby with her but Mrs. Lonas Oden, widow, has classified more fingerprints in two years than many police identification bureau hands.

"Just for fun" and has classified more than 5,000 of them.

In spare moments at a department store where she is employed and at social affairs in the evening she searches out stray fingerprints and identifies the person that made them.

Both the temperature and rainfall of Rio de Janeiro average about the same from month to month the year around.

Having resigned as backfield coach at Iowa, Ernie Nevers, above, returns to professional ranks by signing as coach of the Chicago Cardinals.

Pitt Coach Backed by Students

Jock Sutherland, left, University of Pittsburgh football coach, glances through a book containing the signatures of 4500 members of the student body, promising the Panther grid mentor support during the bitter controversy over Pitt's new policy of athletic "Puritanism." Making the presentation is John Downey, president of the student body.

O'Brien Goes To New York After Trophy

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP) - Robert David O'Brien, the little fellow who tonight will receive the Heisman trophy as the 1938 football season's outstanding player, is around town looking at the tall buildings and tossing bouquets at "those ten other guys who made football playing a pleasure."

He arrived last night with a party of 12 that included his mother, Dutch Meyer, the Horned Frogs coach, Ki Aldrich, the all-America center, Insull Hale, a mammoth tackle, and last but far from least, Colonel Amon Carter, the seer of Fort Worth.

Davey, named quarterback on the Associated Press All America this year, is just as little as you think. Albion Booth, of Yale, another celebrated "big little guy" was around and looked like the Washington monument in comparison.

SERIAL STORY

LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE

COST OF CHARACTERS
JUDY ALCOTT—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors. DWIGHT CAMPBELL—ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty. JACK HANLEY—flying sailor. He faced a test of a patient love. MARVEL HASTINGS—navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

Yesterday, Dwight asks Judy to forgive him, to pick up the broken pieces. But she tells him she is engaged to marry Jack!

CHAPTER XXVI

The moment the words left her lips, Judy Alcott lost the triumph that had inspired them. She felt cold, and Dwight's stunned face was not the victory she had thought it would be. It was like a flame that had dwindled quickly to ashes.

He said, "I'm sorry, Judy. Sorry I said those things. Of course I couldn't expect a girl like you to sit around and wait while I—while I came to my senses." His mouth twisted. "We all find out there is no Santa Claus. We all discover we can't undo the mistakes we made. But I wish—God, how I wish—I had seen things clearly. I wish I had married you!"

The violence of his words shook him. And then he was reaching for her, pulling her into his arms. "I love you," he said over and over. "Now that I can't have you, it's too cruel to bear. I want you. I need you."

She should have pushed him away. But she had hungered for his arms so long. To be close against his heart, to feel the rise and fall of his breathing, to have his pleading in her ears like this, was so sharply sweet, that for a moment she remained quiescent, still. But then she put her hands against his chest and stirred. "Don't, Dwight. It's no use."

Why must she deny the fire in her own blood? Why must she torture herself and him? Was it pride, exacting its toll? Pride that must be satisfied, that wouldn't let her yield to him, that wouldn't admit those sobs and those tears he had caused her?

Without her own volition, words were tumbling forth. "You were always ambitious, Dwight. You wanted to marry a rich girl, you thought it would help you get ahead. You knew that my father's influence could help you, but you weighed everything carefully and in the end it seemed to you that Marvel's money could help more. Bigger and better parties. Influence in Washington. She spoke of it! Her uncle's a banker, he has friends on the Naval Affairs Committee. You thought that would be an easier, quicker way than the road of merit. Oh, you were cold about it. You considered it from every angle!"

"That's not true!" he shouted. "Everybody knows it is true. Everybody knows that every single move you ever made, since you came into the navy, has been with the single thought of getting ahead."

"A man's a fool not to want to succeed!"

"Yes, but there are ways. And ways." "I never did anything underhanded. I never used pull—" "You wouldn't have hesitated, if you had had it."

"Pull is an asset. Why shouldn't a man use it if he has it?" "You're a climber, Dwight. You were always. Mother tried to tell me. Jack tried to tell me—but I was blind."

THAT hurt. He cried, "Oh, Hanley told you, did he? Just because he's a hardworking fool who's crazy about some dimwit idea that won't ever amount to a hill of beans. Six and a half million dollars for a dirigible that goes down in any little blow."

"Battleships cost sixty millions," she said. "And dirigibles don't go down in—" "What do you know about it?" he cried, stung. "Only what he's told you."

She said despairingly, "We've come a long way from what we started with. I didn't mean to say what I did. Whether it's true or not, whether you realize it or not, doesn't matter. I'm engaged to Jack Hanley, and—" "You're too proud to take me because I married her first," he said slowly. "That's all it is. You know so little of life, Judy! People all make mistakes. That's how we find out, in the end, what we really want. If you loved Hanley, you'd have married him long before I knew you. He's been hanging around you ever since he got out of the Academy."

"Let's not talk about it any more." She thought that Dwight had none of the sensibility that Jack had. Jack was always so careful in what he said, so considerate of her feelings. But Dwight barged blindly on, saying the things he wanted to say, not caring how they hurt.

SHE turned the key in the ignition. "Shall I drop you anywhere?" she asked.

"I wasn't going any place. I suppose I'll go back to the ship." She couldn't resist asking, "Where is Marvel?"

"On Tennant's yacht, I guess. I don't care."

"But that wasn't true. He did care. She said gently, "You turned to me because it was a salve for your pride, Dwight. I think you're still crazy about her."

"A moment ago you accused me of marrying her for her money." But she knew that though this was true, it did not prevent him from being affected by her beauty and her lure.

"I guess I'll get out here," he said, reaching for the door handle. "Don't. I'll drive you to the pier."

She should have realized that it was better to let him go here. But she had never been one to foresee the sharp eyes, the delighted gasps, of other people. Gossip always caught her unaware.

So when they stopped at the pier, and Dwight got out, she did not notice anyone she knew. Yet the moment she reached home, her mother said to her, "Judy, I've just had a phone call from Mrs. Lane. She says someone on the station saw Dwight getting out of your car a few minutes ago. She says—" "I suppose people are talking already!" Judy snapped. "Can't I even drop him off at the pier without people leaping to the conclusion that he was making love to me?"

"Was he making love to you?" her mother asked, in a quiet voice.

Garner Fans Start Boom For President

CLARKSVILLE, Dec. 6 (AP)—Boys-hood friends of John Nance Garner, who was born in a shanty and rose from a frontier lawyer to vice president of the United States, rounded up the folks of Northeast Texas today for a rally that will formally launch the Garner-for-President movement throughout the nation.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, thousands of the faithful in all ages of life, from the youngsters who aspire to his career of high public service to the oldsters who remember the earnest young lawyer as the best short-stop Red River county ever produced, have been called to meet in the new gymnasium of the Detroit high school to form the first Garner-for-President club.

The meeting place is only a few miles from the mud-chinked log cabin where John Garner was born. Leaders in the movement have invited Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, a life-long friend of Garner's, to be the principal speaker at the rally, but much of the speaking will be contributed by the old-timers themselves, who grew up with "John Nance" until he left for Uvalde, that distant outpost near the Rio Grande, nearly 50 years ago to seek his fame and fortune.

Resolutions now being prepared, which will be submitted to the rally, will stress the frontier American virtues of thrift, self-reliance and hard work exemplified by his life and political career.

Political friends of the Vice President have a ready answer to the question of whether he would accept a presidential nomination if it were forthcoming.

Born On Farm. "Well," as one old-timer put it, "he hasn't said yes—but he hasn't said no."

The Vice President, they point out, has lent no encouragement to the movement. But those who know him best confidently believe that he would accept the responsibilities of that high office if they were placed upon him by the American people.

Garner was born on a farm near Detroit on Nov. 27, 1868, and spent his early boyhood tramping six miles daily to and from his country school, doing a full round of chores on the farm, and riding miles of fence. As he grew older he found time for baseball, organizing a team at Coon Soup Hollow and playing the boys from Pessum Trot, Reed Tank, Blossom Prairie, and other Northeast Texas communities.

He moved into Clarksville when he finished schooling and was admitted to the bar at the age of 22. In his first race for public office, that of city attorney, he was defeated by a small margin, and a short time later he moved to Uvalde to begin a modest law practice. He served in the Texas legislature from 1898 to 1902, and in 1903 was elected to Congress. He served in that body for nearly 30 years, becoming Speaker of the House in 1931 and Vice President of the United States in 1933.

Tunisia Is Ours' Shout Rome Youths

ROME, Dec. 6 (AP)—Several hundred Fascist students, after an unsuccessful attempt to reach the French embassy, demonstrated in the streets of Rome today in support of Italian claims to French-controlled Tunisia. The students deserted classrooms of several Rome schools and trooped through the streets shouting "Tunisia is ours." Their path to the French embassy was blocked by strong police guards, established on the surrounding streets. Turned back, the students marched to the Palazzo Venezia where they called for Premier Mussolini and sang Fascist songs. Il Duce did not appear. The crowd then made a second attempt to approach the French embassy and again ran against the adamant police line. The students next marched to the Palazzo Braschi, Rome headquarters of the Fascist party. Their continued uproar brought the provincial secretary, Andrea Ippolito, to the balcony. Ippolito told the students their demonstration was "more than legitimate" and that they had "done well to show spirit." "Once it was students who led a warlike people forward," the Fascist official continued. "But we have no need of such methods for we have a chief who knows his people are ready for his call." Again when the students raised the cry "Tunisia," Ippolito roared back "there is no need of talking of Tunisia—we will go there." The Italian cruiser Raimondo Montecuccoli, which had been in Adriatic waters for the past 15 months, was called back to the Mediterranean today as the Fascist press intensified its demands for French-controlled territory. The newspaper Il Messaggero asserted the 1935 accord, in which France ceded Italy a strip along the Tunisian frontier, should not be regarded as a final settlement of the territorial question but merely a starting point for new negotiations.

Panhandle Hears Swiss Singers

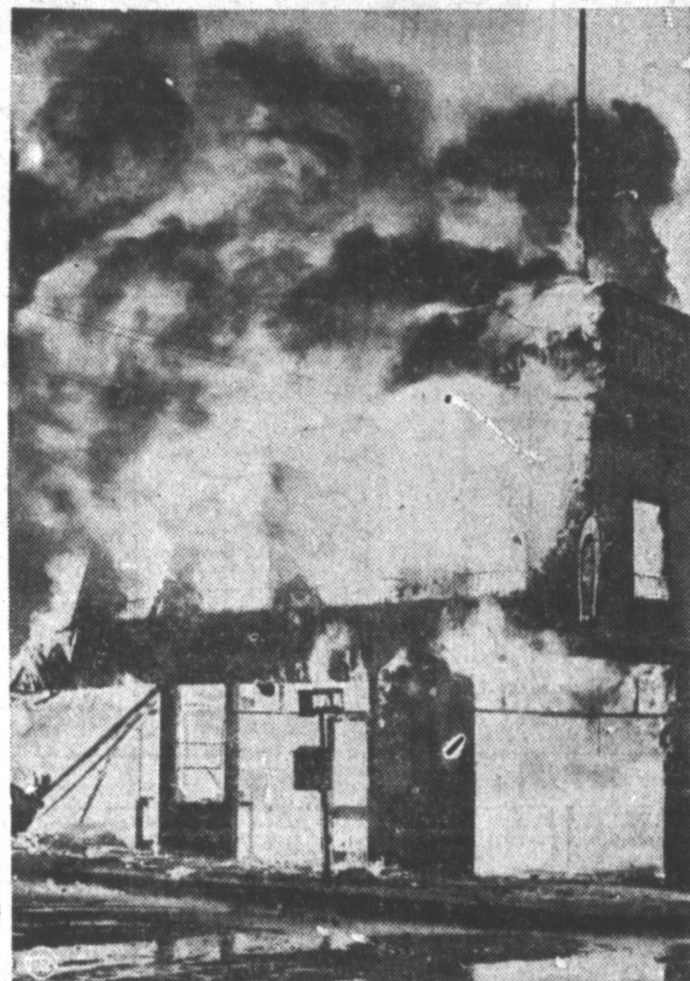

PANHANDLE, Dec. 6.—One of the most outstanding attractions in the series of Lyceum numbers sponsored by the Christian Circle was the appearance of the Studer Brothers Swiss Yodelers, at the high school auditorium this week. The Studer Brothers, Joseph, Louis and Fritz, are natives of Lucerne, Switzerland, and have been in the U. S. only two and one half years. They presented a one hour concert of yodeling, singing and musical numbers, appearing in native costumes, with a background of Alpine scenery, which was painted in Lucerne. Highlights of the program were: The Swiss Yodeling Song, in which colored lights were used portraying the varied shades of twilight from sunset to darkness; a clarinet number, "When you and I Were Young, Maggie," played on two clarinets at the same time in different keys, by Louis Studer; and the native Swiss dances and explanation of Swiss customs.

Legion Sponsoring Aggie Project House

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 5 (AP)—American Legion and A. and M. college officials soon will select a site in the campus section here known as the "Project House Area" for a building to house sons of American Legion members during their collegiate careers. The board of trustees of the American Legion, Department of Texas, recently appropriated and set aside the sum of $20,000 for the purpose of erecting the building, and the A. & M. board of directors at a recent meeting passed a resolution accepting the gift for the purpose mentioned and ordered officials to proceed with the necessary work for carrying out the project, either as a direct contract or to sponsor a Works Progress Administration unit. If the WPA is asked to participate in the project, the $20,000 would be used as 40 per cent of the total cost of the project and an additional $30,000 would be available, making possible erection of a $50,000 structure, it was said. The classmate, a huge prehistoric reptile, swam through the seas of Kansas some millions of years ago.

Carson Club Studies Feeding Of Chickens

PANHANDLE, Dec. 6.—"The first six weeks of a chicken's food has more to do with its laying ability than for the rest of its life, and the first six years of a child's food has more to do with its health than for any other period," said Miss Bernice Westbrook, to members of the Home Makers club Friday afternoon when they met in the home of Mrs. Reid Wigham, food demonstrator. Mrs. Wigham had on display foods for two well balanced meals at a nominal cost. Mrs. Jerry Cavanaugh presided at the business meeting. The women voted to entertain their husbands with a Christmas party Friday evening at Mrs. John Cathey's. An amendment to the constitution and by-laws to change the meeting day was presented, to be voted on at the next business meeting. All members are urged to attend this meeting. Miss Westbrook extended an invitation to all home demonstration club women to attend the tea at the Texan hotel, Saturday afternoon, December 10, from 2:30 to 5. Refreshments of toasted sandwiches and coffee were served to: Mmes. Alf Pemberton, C. L. Sterling, M. D. Eagle, John Cathy, Carl Metcalf, Herman Mowery, E. W. Fondren, Sam Goodner, Eva Weakley, Miss Bernice Westbrook, and the hostess. Flogging as a punishment was discontinued in the United States navy and on merchant vessels in 1850. According to estimates, the average man's beard contains 25,000 hairs, and covers an area of 48 square inches.

Farmers To Vote On Crop Control Next Saturday

By W. B. RAGSDALE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—The South, called by some the nation's economic problem child, holds the power this week of boosting or blasting the administration's farm program. Three separate regional ballots next Saturday will determine whether cotton, rice and tobacco farmers want marketing quotas for those crops next year. Farmers will be asked, in effect: Do you want to go ahead with efforts to get more for what you grow by holding down production? If two-thirds of those voting answer "yes," quotas will be set for the amount of cotton, rice and three types of tobacco to be sold next year. These quotas are figured on the basis of the total crop and are divided first among the states, next among the counties, finally among the farmers. Those who plant or produce more than their quota will be taxed on the amount they sell outside the quota. Certain other benefits, including loans and subsidies to cotton farmers, will be continued. If the producers say "no," they may plant and sell all they wish. The price will be left to take care of itself in a market that is already swaying beneath surpluses. Cotton farmers would get no loans. Benefits would be trimmed for rice and tobacco growers. An adverse vote would jar the whole theory of controlled economics that has been built up by the New Deal. In the eyes of administration thinkers, it would line the South up politically with the Middle West. Most of those who speak frankly agree that at least a share of the Republican gains in the November elections grew out of discontent among the farmers. In the minds of these administration men, a decision by the Southern farmers to retain crop control policies would indicate that new dealers were being batted down in the primaries because of resentment against presidential intervention, not because of a deep-seated opposition to all New Deal works. A campaign but little less intense than that which preceded the November elections is being carried through the cotton, tobacco, and rice growing regions by administration officials. The United States consumes roughly half the world's annual production of rubber, largely because of intensive development of the automotive industry. In a modern turbine steam enters at a temperature hot enough to burn wood and 4,100 of a second later it leaves at temperature too cool for a comfortable bath. —News Want Ads Get Results—

Treasury Urges Spending Policy Be Conservative

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—A usually well-informed person indicated today that the treasury was urging a conservative spending policy on President Roosevelt for next year in opposition to the spending views of Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board. Secretary Morgenthau hinted at this disagreement yesterday when asked about a speech in which Eccles advised against premature reduction of federal expenditures. "Governor Eccles is chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and I am secretary of the treasury," said the tall "gentleman farmer" from New York. A person close to Morgenthau, however, disclosed that the secretary, while not expecting a balanced budget next year in view of the projected national defense program, wants to reduce the deficit which is scheduled to reach $4,000,000,000 this fiscal year. The treasury head and his new tax adviser, Undersecretary John W. Hanes, a recent recruit from a Wall Street brokerage house, are known to believe that steps to wipe out the deficit would help business by heightening "confidence." The soy bean has been a principal crop in the Orient for probably fifty centuries, but it is only just coming into its own in this country. The prickly pear, a form of cactus native to the American southwest, has spread so widely in Australia as to cause widespread concern.

Call a halt on needless NERVE STRAIN

HE'S RESTING HIS NERVES—AND SO IS HE

Swift, graceful, and remarkably wise. Ancient Egyptian and Greek royalty regarded him as a symbol of aristocracy. His distinguished lines and proud bearing appear on Egyptian carvings dating to 3500 B. C. Racing has made this breed popular in the U. S.

IT'S THRILLING to watch the flashing greyhound in full flight. But it's important to note that when the race is over he lets up and rests—as the greyhound above is doing now. Though the dog's high-keyed nervous system closely resembles our own, the dog relaxes instinctively! Life as it is today leads us to ignore fatigued nerves. We're apt to carry on despite increasing tension and strain. Be kind to your nerves if you want them to be kind to you. Pause a while every now and then. LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Let the frequent enjoyment of Camel's mild, ripe tobaccos help you take life more calmly, pleasantly, profitably!

They know how pleasant life can be when they "LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL"

WOMEN'S TRAP-SHOOTING CHAMPION of North America, Mrs. Lela Hall, says: "Holding a shooting title four years straight puts pressure on the nerves. I give my nerves frequent rests. I let up—light up a Camel—often! Camels are so soothing."

"A THOUSANDTH OF AN INCH is important in my work," says Charles Dietrich, lens grinder. "I've got to concentrate. Naturally, my nerves would be on the spot if I didn't pause now and then. I let up—light up a Camel."

A REPORTER'S JOB is noted for beating deadlines, rush duties, excitement, and nervous tension. Naturally, "Let up—light up a Camel" is a smoking rule that's greatly favored by newspaper men. They know!
