Borger Plans To Send Huge Crowd To Game

December 8 will be "Borger Day" in Pampa, it was decided when local business men and representatives of civic clubs gathered yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce board room to discuss plans for the big Flower Bowl football game that afternoon, between teams representing the civic clubs of the two cities. So enthusiastic were the business men that they voted to operate their stores during the game with a skeleton staff so that as many clerks as possible could witness the football game which will be called at 3 o'clock. Pampa will take on a holiday air for the day. The Santa Day street decorations will still be up. Merchants will display flags in front of their stores and wind curtains will welcome the visitors from Hutchinson county who plan to make the trip by special train and by car. Stinson Makes Plea President Reno Stinson of the Board of City Development presided at yesterday's meeting. His organization, assisted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will join with the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs in welcoming the visitors and providing transportation to and from Harvester field where the battle will be staged. "We would like to see every seat at Harvester field filled for the big game," President Stinson said. "It is staid that citizens of two neighboring cities can get together and mix and mingle. The proceeds from the game will be used for worthy causes and I urge everyone to purchase a ticket and be at Harvester field the afternoon of December 8 when the Pampa Pansies and the Borger Lilies meet on the gridiron." The Pansies will be selected from bonafide members of Pampa's three civic clubs—Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary. The Lilies will be chosen from members of the Phillips civic club of Phillips and the Rotary and Lions clubs of Borger. The teams will play four eight-minute quarters of straight, hard football. Both squads are practicing every afternoon, the Pansies under See BORGER, Page 3

St. Nick Gives Promise To Jimmy Joy Santa To Be In Parade Saturday

Santa Claus will be in Pampa Saturday morning. The glad news was received here yesterday afternoon when Jimmy Joy, the Pampa Jaycees mythical orphan adopted by them last week, contacted the Jaycees in a short wave broadcast through station KPND. Jimmy and Dee Graham, piloting a big ship, arrived at the North Pole yesterday morning and immediately contacted Santa and invited him to the big Santa Day celebration to be staged by the Jaycees and Pampa merchants on Saturday. Santa laughed his jolly laugh and said, "Why sure, I'll go to Pampa. I remember the swell time I had last year and you couldn't keep me away." To make sure that Santa got away, Jimmy will broadcast again Friday afternoon at 3:35 o'clock over station KPND. Santa is scheduled to arrive in Pampa about 9:45 o'clock Saturday morning and will be rushed to the starting point of the Toyland Review parade which will begin at 10

W. Lee Names 3 More After Sadler Sally Littlefield Tenant Farmer's Wife Now On Advisory Board

PORT WORTH, Nov. 30 (AP)—Three more names were added to the "citizens' advisory board" by W. Lee O'Daniel today after he had stated that he was not disturbed by criticism voiced by G. A. Sadler, railroad commissioner-elect, and others regarding his appointment of the board. The governor-elect named Mrs. Ethel Fleming, wife of a tenant farmer at Littlefield; Oran Cole of Galveston and Mrs. J. W. Hoppe of Galveston, the committee after receiving letters offering their assistance. "I believe the addition of these three will give us a more representative group," O'Daniel said. He explained that Mrs. Fleming is interested in the problems of tenant farmers, that Cole will represent the blind of the state, and that Mrs. Hoppe will bring information concerning the problems of delinquent children. Spur Solon Sarcastic "I'm not worried by the criticism of professional politicians," the governor-elect said. "I expected it." O'Daniel's answer to criticism was expressed generally without reference to specific charges. However, in answer to Representative Harris of Spur, who suggested that O'Daniel See O'DANIEL, Page 3

Huge Gusher Completed In Fresno Field

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 30 (AP)—The oil business cruised along smoothly in a moderately favorable business atmosphere today as its executives and employees bent to the task of winding up the year's activities. The marketing division offered favorable reports which include an increase in heavy fuel oil consumption and demand in Eastern industrial centers and a good movement of motor fuel in almost every area. Cold weather and storms during Thanksgiving holidays, however, cut down considerably on motoring and consequently the gasoline demand. If the cold weather reduced the demand for gasoline, it was a boon to the market for domestic heating oils. Conditions were unchanged in the production division. It appeared the crude flow was safely in hand for the rest of the year after Texas proration authorities continued their well shut-down policy for December and Oklahoma conservation authorities. WPA Crafts House Nearing Completion

Construction of a crafts building at the city waterworks is due to be completed this week. City Manager W. T. Willensay said today. Work on the 20x24 structure started last week. Two men have been employed in its construction. The building is being made of corrugated iron, taken from the fairgrounds, over a wooden frame. The building will be used for the teaching of crafts on the Pampa WPA project. At the conclusion of the project, the building will be used by the city for its own purposes. McDonald Granted Trial For Sanity

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30 (AP)—California law sent Charles E. McDonald, convicted of assault with a deadly weapon, back to court today to determine his sanity at the moment he shot Mrs. Karl Krueger on Hollywood Boulevard last Aug. 19. It was the lantern-jawed electrician's second trial under the criminal code which permits a double of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. A mixed jury, after 18 hours' deliberation, last night found McDonald guilty on a charge punishable by one to 10 years in prison, for firing three bullets which nearly claimed the life of the wife of the Kansas City philharmonic orchestra conductor.

Stockyard Strike Still Deadlocked

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Opposing forces in the Chicago stockyards strike, apparently no nearer an agreement, today were in the midst of the dispute, marked today pending resumption of peace negotiations next week. C. I. O. livestock handlers who quit work Nov. 21 have sought a checkoff, a written contract, and a closed shop, among other concessions, from the Union Stock Yards & Transit Company. Martin Durkin, a state conciliator, said the handlers' representatives asked for another conference today or tomorrow but that O. T. Henkle, general manager of the yards, had found it impossible to renew peace negotiations until Monday.

Daladier Uses Armed Force To Snap Strike

Classes Will Be Organized Here Tonight

Clifford B. Jones of Spur, above, was elected third president of Texas Technological college at a meeting of the directors in Fort Worth Nov. 26. Mr. Jones, 53, succeeds the late Dr. Bradford Knapp who died last June 11. Mr. Jones has been a member of the Tech directorate since Feb. 19, 1923, when he was appointed by Gov. Pat M. Neff. He has served a chairman of the board since April 18, 1927. Mr. Jones was born at Rico, Colo., April 9, 1885, the son of Chas. A. and Virginia Jones.

Nothing Left Of General Strike Move

PARIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—By a nationwide array of armed force Premier Daladier today quickly broke the 24-hour general strike which constituted organized labor's first big challenge to his government and its economic program. The stocky premier, whose enemies have accused him of "ictatorial ambitions," met the issue head on. Inside of a few hours there was nothing left of the movement, directed by the powerful General Confederation of Labor, except isolated partial strikes in some private industries, "lock workers" strikes in some ports and a few street car strikes. Mobile guards, police and in many cases army units were in abundant evidence to prove the premier's determination to smash the labor demonstration against his decree laws. In cases where active opposition was shown, trouble makers were hustled off to police stations. Approximately 500 arrests were made in the Paris district and several dozen arrests were reported from other points. Members of Parliament branded the day a fiasco for labor and a resounding triumph for Daladier and his government. It was predicted Daladier would have a majority when Parliament meets again next month, with support from the right and his own Radical-Socialist party. The first big break in the strikers' front came at 8 a. m. (2 a. m. CST), four hours after the strike began when the subway workers' union in Paris conceded defeat and revoked its strike order. After some early morning hesitation public service workers in Paris See STRIKE, Page 3

Pair Convicted Of Espionage In New York Trial

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—A federal jury which convicted a man and woman of conspiracy to steal U. S. military secrets for Germany today considered a recommendation of clemency—or perhaps acquittal—for a third alleged Nazi spy. Unaided by the German war ministry officials she was charged with spying, (Gitan-tressed, 29-year-old Fraulein Johanna Hofmann went back to her jail cell weeping to await a possible maximum sentence of 20 years. Convicted with her was Otto Hermann Voss, German-born mechanic who was seized in a strategic Long Island airplane factory last February and indicted with Fraulein Hofmann and 16 others, including four German military officers. Shortly after the jury announced its verdict, following four hours and 25 minutes of deliberation, George C. Dix, attorney for Miss Hofmann, declared: "The Germans threw her down."

Villanova Declines Cotton Bowl Bid

VILLANOVA, Pa., Nov. 30 (AP)—Villanova College today declined, "with many regrets," an invitation for its undefeated football team to play Texas Tech in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas, January 2. After a conference with players, coaches and faculty advisers, the Rev. B. M. Albers, moderator of athletics, said the athletic board "deemed it advisable to decline with many regrets the fine invitation to participate in the Cotton Bowl game." A college spokesman said the action probably meant Villanova, tied three times but not defeated in 20 straight games, would play no post season games. Father Albers said the Cotton Bowl bid was extended over the telephone yesterday. Villanova previously had been invited to play New Mexico, Border Conference champion, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso. This bid also was declined.

Slashings Spread To 4 English Towns

HALIFAX, Eng., Nov. 30 (AP)—The menace of razor slashing from phantom assailants slithering through dark streets in this coffee and carpet-making town had spread to four other English towns today. Descriptions of the slasher in each case were similar to that of the Halifax marauder who has cut 13 persons in the past eight days, but police did not believe he was responsible for incidents in the other towns. They thought rather that he might have an accomplice, or at least an imitator inspired by stories of the Halifax terror.

A DELIGHTFUL SEASON FOR Christmas Shopping

With Santa Day coming up Saturday, the Christmas shopping season shifts into high-gear in Pampa this week. And is there in all the year a more delightful season? Planning and buying Christmas gifts is surely as much fun as giving and receiving them on the great day, and the process lasts longer. The shopping itself is a festival that lasts for a month—a festival of light, color and gaiety that will transform Pampa streets and shop windows and store interiors into bowers of beauty, and amply compensates for any loss of charm in external nature. It will be a pleasanter shopping season, too than most of us could believe a few short weeks ago. Business has been picking up astonishingly this fall, and the gain continues. More people are employed right along. More money is getting into circulation. Prices are not high. People can buy again, and their buying in itself speeds up the recovery. "Both business and the public may reasonably look forward to one of the best, if not the best, Christmas gift-giving seasons in almost a decade," says Lew Hahn, general manager of the National Retail Dry Goods Association.

Senate Told Taxes Twice Net Profits

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Senate profit sharing committee heard today a vigorous defense of business from a witness who said it had been "placed under a cloud" by false propaganda. F. J. Moore, president of the American Sash and Door company, Kansas City, Mo., told the committee that during the period from 1931 to 1936 corporations paid out $18,000,000,000 in taxes while their net profits totaled only $9,000,000,000. "The net result of this," the gray mustached witness charged, "was the confiscation of about $9,000,000,000 in capital. And all of this time business was being lambasted from all sides." Moore said much of the "false propaganda" against business had been spread in appeals to voters. "And I am not criticizing any one political party," he added, "as far as I am concerned, one is as guilty as the other."

CAUSES OF BUSINESS CYCLES
Before we can learn why there are 20,000,000 jobs short, when everyone wants something that is produced by labor, we must come to understand the causes of business cycles of unemployment. I have seen no better presentation of this subject than that summarized in Barron's Weekly by A. L. Jackson. We, therefore, reproduce Mr. Jackson's explanations of people being out of work.

Hitler's Opportunity

Economic experts and military men point out that Hitler's opportunity lies to the east. Pushing his railroads and highways and canals in that direction he may some day hope to make Germany the greatest nation of Europe. That's doubtful. His opportunity landed in New York recently wearing a muberry dress and a gray fur coat trimmed with silver fox. She looked the Statue of Liberty straight in the eye and told reporters there was no romance between she and the German dictator. "I work for the films and must sometimes see Hitler," she said.

There are so many "Bowl" football games being scheduled these days that it's a bit confusing. . . . Probably most confusing is the one scheduled in Pampa on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 8, between the Berger-Phillips Lilies and the Pampa Pansies. . . . Particularly is it confusing to the members of the Pampa team. . . . After their first workout this week it was pretty well agreed from the sideline coaches that the team name, "Pansies," is too ultra-virile and mannish for the squad. . . . But, the tickets have been sold, and it's too late to be changing names now.

Marvin Jones Confers With FDR Tuesday

By D. HAROLD OLIVER.
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt's apparent intention to await developments abroad before deciding on resumption of full diplomatic relations with Germany stood out here today as the most concrete development from the conferences on oppressed minorities in Central Europe. The chief executive told a roadside press conference yesterday that Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson would not return to his Berlin post at present. He added, however, that the career diplomat was right when he objected to terminating his stay in Washington "indefinitely."

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM
Hello, Charlie Erickson, how are you coming along under the quarantine? I missed you at the Court of Honor the other night and the next day heard that somebody at your house had scarlet fever, and that you would be staying at home for about three weeks. Boy, your dad sure had a streak of hard luck, getting his hand cut badly last summer and then this scarlet fever business. Somebody told Dick many that you and Arnold have had it. Well, that's something. Has Allen had it? Mrs. Bruce Parker, your neighbor, says you've fixed up the garage into a carpenter shop and are making everything. . . . I was down to see Dale Harrell Monday night. He was sick in bed with the flu. It was the first time he'd missed school in four years and he was going on his fifth year without being either absent or tardy. He went with his folks over to El Reno on Thanksgiving and he went to a football game and caught cold. Dale was wondering Monday night if you'd come before the Court of Honor for your merit badge. . . . Well, Charlie, don't forget your sense of humor, and if you think that 21 days seems a long time, think of 21 years. Robinson Crusoe—say, Dr. Worrell, the city health officer, warned me not to come to see you, but I'll drive slowly by your house, and as usual will honk four times so you'll know it's me. . . . and by the way, I'm not doing so well, either. Had a tooth pulled yesterday and stayed at home last night—why I wanted four places I had planned to be.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GILDSTON, M.D.
ODD-COLORED SKIN.
A disease called vitiligo may affect the skin. In this condition certain areas of skin (for reasons still unknown) lose their pigment and appear abnormally white or pink. The hands and the face are commonly but not exclusively involved. The patches of vitiligo may be small or large, single or multiple. The areas of blanched skin usually spread at their peripheries, and thus may run into each other to form larger ones. Its spread may be slow or fast. Vitiligo is not curable in the sense that the pigment can be naturally restored. The disease does not remedy itself. The cause is unknown. We do not know of any morbid conditions in constant association with it. Other forms of skin discoloration, at time confounded with vitiligo, are known to be caused by infectious and organic diseases. Thus when abnormal alterations in skin color appear, the sufferer should have himself medically examined. If the medical diagnosis is vitiligo, he must reconcile himself to the fact that now only cosmetic help is available to him. The patches of discolored skin can at times be stained with dyes, or covered with lotions and powders. Talkoing is sometimes resorted to. These negative prospects may appear rather dismal to the vitiligo sufferer. He may, however, find consolation in the following facts. The condition is neither infectious nor communicable. It is not the result—so far as we know—of any underlying serious disease. Practically all who are afflicted with some form of skin blemish are sensitive about it. People generally think less about the blemish than they do about the person himself. Furthermore, since "misery loves company," there are many worse skin conditions than vitiligo; psoriasis, for example, the cause of which is also unknown, and for which there is no specific treatment available.

President Due To Intervene In CIO-AFL Feud

By TOM COMAN.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Administration aides, with an eye on the impending congressional battle over revising the Wagner act, are trying to bring organized labor's warring factions back to the peace conference table this winter. A high official of the Roosevelt administration, who declined to be quoted by name, said today that new negotiations before spring were the goal of current efforts to end the three-year-old strife between the C. I. O. and the American Federation of Labor. One usually well-informed C. I. O. union official predicted presidential intervention before Jan. 1. But an A. F. L. leader expressed the opinion that President Roosevelt would talk with John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. and President William Green of the Federation separately before publicly supporting any proposal to settle the conflict. Many politicians and labor experts believe that labor peace would avert a tug-of-war by union partisans over changes in the Wagner Labor Relations Act. There have been widespread demands in industry and among anti-administration congressmen for its modification and for curtailment of the powers of the National Labor Board. Congress probably will debate the subject early in its 1939 session. The Federation wants the Wagner Act revised to provide greater protection for its craft unions in collective bargaining relations. It contends that the Labor Board has favored the C. I. O. The C. I. O., on the other hand, has declared there is no need for changes in the law. It will oppose the A. F. L. amendments.

New Air Bases At Outposts Of Nation Planned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt's defense program military circle said today may include the establishment of new army air bases at several of the nation's strategic outposts. Officials said the President may ask Congress for funds to build bases in New England, Florida and Alaska. Construction of the projected extension of the army air fleet. Meanwhile, comments by returning members of Congress indicated that national defense will be the subject of lively discussion at the next session. Rep. Engel, Republican, Mich., estimating that a 10,000-plane air force would cost as much each year as either the army or navy, asserted that if Congress was to provide such a fleet "we should go into it with our eyes open as to the cost." $588,000,000 for the current fiscal year, and the army received about $461,000,000. Other members of Congress had defense proposals of their own. Rep. Johnson, Democrat, Texas, declared that construction of a new defense system because the Panama canal could be put out of business too easily.

Blind Woman May See After 16 Years

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 30 (AP)—A surgeon who transplanted the cornea of a blind man's eye to the eye of a woman who had been unable to see for 16 years said today there was "a 50-50 chance" for success. The delicate operation was performed yesterday and Mrs. Mary Lee Bode said she could see in place the cornea from the eye of Tony de Los Santos. The surgeon declined to permit his identity to be made public. He would not term the operation a success immediately, adding that the bandage would remain over the woman's eyes for three days. A few days ago Mr. Thurman Arnold, the assistant attorney general of the United States, let loose an attack on competitive advertising as an economic waste and a breeder of monopoly. Protests have brought a second statement from Mr. Arnold in which he explains his first. This second statement is approximately 1,500 words long. If Mr. Arnold merely wanted to say that he had no intention of attacking or regulating advertising he need not have used so many words. We will undertake to say it in not less than ten.

Let's look at some of the things he does say: . . . let me emphatically repeat . . . that the anti-trust laws do not vest in the Department of Justice any general jurisdiction over advertising. Nor has the department any intention by any means to seek to regulate advertising. Very good, but Mr. Arnold fails to stop there. He says further: Thus, when by voluntary agreement with competitors a trust seeks to set up advertising practices designed to promote maximum consumption, and, at the same time to give smaller competitors fair access to the market, such an effort will be encouraged by the anti-trust division, within the frame work of its consent decree policy, as reasonable and beneficial. This is what we had in mind in our release. Perhaps we can also say this a little more directly than Mr. Arnold has said it. How would this do? "The Department of Justice will use its anti-trust law powers to bring criminal prosecutions. These prosecutions will be used to bring consent decrees from their victims. Provisions of these consent decrees will restrict advertising." The Department of Justice has the duty of enforcing the laws which Congress has written. Protests have brought a second statement from Mr. Arnold in which he explains his first. This second statement is approximately 1,500 words long. If Mr. Arnold merely wanted to say that he had no intention of attacking or regulating advertising he need not have used so many words. We will undertake to say it in not less than ten.

Pampa Will Play Perryton Tomorrow Night

Cage Season To Open Here In 7:30 Game

The 1938-39 basketball season in Pampa will open tomorrow night instead of Friday night with the Perryton Rangers of Coach Otis Furke coming here for a game with Coach Odu Mitchell's Harvesters. Two games will be played beginning at 7:30 o'clock with the spectators on the floor at that hour.

Both Coach Mitchell and Coach Furke want to see Vernon and Lubbock clash Friday night, so they agreed to advance the opening of the season one night.

Four lettermen, two of them regulars, reported to Coach Mitchell for opening practice. Bob Andis, forward, and Pete Dunaway, guard, were the regulars. Grover Heiskel and A. C. Miller were reserves on last year's district championship quintet.

Fifty boys reported for opening practice Monday afternoon and 10 more were on hand yesterday. Coach Mitchell plans an immediate reduction of the squad, separating work-out time. He plans to take most promising boys with two more years of eligibility and put them together as a team.

The Harvesters squad will probably consist of the 10 best prospects and Coach Mitchell hasn't named them as yet. Several newcomers looked exceptionally handy at shooting baskets, dribbling and general handling of themselves and the coach plans to give them plenty of time to show their stuff.

Ward Schools To Play Off Grid Tourney

The football season in Pampa isn't over. The little fellows are now having their finals.

Yesterday afternoon football uniforms were given to 15 boys in each of the four grade schools and they will play a round robin schedule beginning next week. The age limit for boys is 13 years.

The youngsters will be coached by experienced teachers. In Peterson and Wilmer Postma will have charge of the Baker school team. Jack Davis will coach the Horace Mann eleven. J. C. Prejean will be mentor at Woodrow Wilson. C. P. McWright and Dan Price will head the Sam Houston coaching staff.

First game of the series will be played Monday afternoon at Harvester park between Woodrow Wilson and Sam Houston. Game time will be 3:30 o'clock.

At the same hour Tuesday afternoon the Baker and Horace Mann schools will clash.

Most of the boys will be sixth graders and their play will not effect their eligibility for a full four years of Harvester competition.

The little fellows have been yelling for recognition and now they are being given their big chance.

Illinois Trustees Refuse To Demote Coach Bob Zuppke

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Robert C. Zuppke, University of Illinois football coach for 26 years, can start work on his 1939 eleven today with assurance that his critics cannot cause his removal.

That assurance was given the Dean of Western Conference Coaches yesterday by the University trustees who, by a vote of eight to one, smashed an attempt to oust him.

The trustees' veto of the proposal by the University athletic board to give the veteran a leave of absence until retirement age of 65, was viewed as strengthening Zuppke's position at Illinois. Zuppke is 59 years old.

The trustees' verdict was considered a rebuke to the athletic board, which, dissatisfied with the Illinois showing in recent years, had demanded that Zuppke step aside and serve in an advisory capacity at a reduced salary, reputedly $6,000 a year.

Promoter Indicted For Fraud

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—Bernard Topitsky, a promoter of Hollywood, Calif., was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on charges of defrauding Helen Winsor, actress wife of Fred Perry, the tennis star, of approximately $64,000 in a fake annuity insurance scheme.

War Of Words Follows Selection Of Bowl Teams

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Sports Writer

With most of the dates made, the battle of the bowls went on merrily today. Comment on the various selections and guesses on the outcome of the games has given the old blues more cannon fodder than they have had in years.

The better box office draws already have been selected.

The lineup for January 2: Rose Bowl, Pasadena, Calif.—Duke, Southern conference champion, vs. Southern California, tied for the Pacific coast conference title.

Sugar Bowl, New Orleans—Texas Christian, Southwest conference football, vs. Carnegie Tech.

Cotton Bowl, Dallas—Texas Tech vs. Villanova—if Villanova decides to accept.

Orange Bowl, Miami—Tennessee, Southeastern conference champion, vs. Oklahoma, Big Six champion.

Sun Bowl, El Paso—New Mexico has invited Utah. No word from the Utes as yet.

Coal Bowl, Charleston, W. Va.—Unheard of since Carnegie Tech turned down a bid.

Prune Bowl (Don't say you were not warned) San Jose, Calif.—San Jose State vs. Memphis Teachers. This one's set for Dec. 26.

Eastern Bowl, New York—off. See the New York weather report.

Other operations:

East-West all star game, San Francisco and North-South all-star game at Montgomery, Ala.

In the old days they used to just pick 'em and play 'em. Now they pick the selections apart. The Los Angeles sportswriters are panicking Duke's selection and there is mild indignation in Texas that the Christians, the state's pride, will gamble outside the state.

Two Teams Will Wrestle In Main Event On Monday Night

Who says there isn't something new in wrestling? Promoter Cliff B. Chambers, who matches the grunt and groan experts for Pampa, reached in the pot and drew out something new for Monday night.

Chambers will present a team wrestling match. That is where four maulers tangle, two against two. When one is down or out, his mate must battle the other two.

But the best news of the match is that Ray "Big Train" Clements, referee, has been given Sailor Tex Watkins as a partner while Joe Banaski and Scotty Williams will comprise the other team. Third man in the ring will be Dutch Mantell of Amarillo if he is in this section of the country that night.

Banaski, mad clear through at both Watkins and Referee Clements, announced that he would take the two at one time with a decent referee in the ring. However, he selected Williams when informed that he must have a teammate.

Williams has developed into a little wildcat the past few weeks and he should be good enough to keep one of the opponents off Banaski while the cowboy gets even for wrongs inflicted upon him last Monday night.

"I tried to go clean but they wouldn't let me," declared Banaski who was disqualified for roughing Watkins. "When I started wrestling like Watkins that bum of a referee disqualified me. But I'll get him and Watkins both next Monday night and I don't mean maybe."

Other match on the card will be a 30-minute time limit affair between Russ Riley, who made a big hit Monday night, and Otto von Ludwig, returning after a long absence.

'Round The Razzberry Bush

—By HARRY HOARE

The last day of the month is one of the very best days on which to be born, according to our numerologist and to the best local astrologist and star-gazer obtainable. So, that's why this news sports column, 'Round the Razzberry Bush,' picked out today or its birthday.

There's nothing like being born when nobody's looking. This column slipped in while everybody was slumped the various football bowls. After you get through looking at them, you came over here to read this, if you're reading it—and that's how the Razzberry Bush was born.

We hope you'll like the column which will devote to frank discussions of things interesting in the world of sports. And, remember this—the space is just as much yours as it is ours. If you've got something you want to get off your chest, or an unusual sports happening, or a pet gripe you'd like to air—send it along. If you want to hop on us, go ahead and hop. We hope you all have a lot of fun with us 'Round the Razzberry Bush.

Meanwhile—

Have you purchased your tickets to the Flower Bowl game to be played in Pampa the afternoon of December 8 between the Pampa Panics and the Phillips-Borger Lilies? The game is not so much a battle of football but a goodwill gathering between two of the friendliest cities in the state and it is a real chance to see an unusual football game and meet friends from Borger.

And speaking of bowls. Why shouldn't a new columnist stick his head out first thing and pick some winners? It might be a good way to discontinue publication, so here goes: Texas Tech over Villanova, in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas Christian over Carnegie Tech in the Sugar Bowl.

Oklahoma over Tennessee, in the Orange Bowl.

Duke over Southern California, in the Rose Bowl.

Old age over both the Pansies and Lilies in the Flower Bowl.

Promoter Cliff B. Chambers had reached in his thumb and pulled out something in wrestling circles for next Monday night. Instead of having just two maulers and a referee in the ring for the main event, he is going to have four maulers and a referee. One wrestling team will be composed of Joe Banaski and Scotty Williams and the other of Tex Watkins and Referee Big Train Clements. Third man in the ring will be Dutch Mantell if he is available that night.

The 1938-39 basketball season will be ushered in tomorrow night with the Harvesters meeting the Perryton Rangers here. Coach Odu Mitchell would like to see fans three deep in every seat for the opening tussle. Two games will be presented, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Southwest Board Not Disposed To Criticize Frogs

WACO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Telegraphic vote of members of the Southwest conference on Texas Christian University's request to play in the Sugar Bowl will probably be taken today, President Henry Trantham of the conference said.

Trantham declared conference officials had discussed the request from T. C. U. to meet Carnegie Tech at New Orleans Jan. 1 but he did not say what action he thought would likely be taken.

The conference president said T. C. U. officials had co-operated fully with Cotton Bowl authorities and had turned to the Sugar Bowl because a "suitable opponent" wasn't available for the Horned Frogs in the Dallas classic.

Trantham asserted that there is no disposition to criticize T. C. U. and that "the Southwest conference is not obligated to the Cotton Bowl."

Wade might stop off in Knoxville to visit Tennessee, and at Fort Worth for a light workout with T. C. U. on way to Pasadena for Rose Bowl. . . . Then Duke would have 12 wins and still no score against 'em'. . . . Now that Scotty Eriger was whipped by Billy Conn, the two-champion "muddleweight" sit-chee-ashum may be cleared up today. . . . Oklahoma And Iowa Dominate Big Six All-Star Eleven

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 30 (AP)—Oklahoma and Iowa State, which led off the championship, shared a majority of the places on the 1938 all-star Big Six football team, selected for the Associated Press by coaches, sports writers and other critics.

The first team: Ends—Roland Young, Oklahoma, and Charles Holleman, Iowa State. Tackles—Gifford Duggan, Oklahoma, and Clyde Shugart, Iowa State. Guards—Edward Bock, Iowa State, and Ferril Anderson, Kansas. Center—Charles Brock, Nebraska. Halfbacks—Hugh McCullough, Oklahoma, and Paul Christman, Missouri. Fullback—Elmer Hackney, Kansas State.

Fry closed the season last night by scoring a touch-down over St. Edward's of Austin but the visitors won the game 14-7.

Kuzmiz and Whelton scored St. Edward's touchdowns in the first half with Formanus and Reynolds adding the extra points. Fry's touch-down came in the third period. Clarkson covered the blocked conversion try over the goal line for the extra point.

Winner Of Tyler-Lufkin Game May Play In Finals

(By The Associated Press)

They put Lufkin on the spot early in the Texas Interscholastic League football race.

Last year the Panthers met Longview in the first round and were eliminated after quite a battle with the team that went on to win the state championship.

This year Lufkin faces Tyler in the opening round of the play-off and meets in the Lions an aggregation that has been rated around the top ever since the season opened.

Lufkin, as in 1937, won its district title without being defeated or tied. Only once have the Panthers been really pressed. But Tyler boasts a similar record and goes into the game Friday at Tyler a general favorite to win.

Tyler forecast the largest crowd ever to see a game there would jam the stadium to witness a duel between some of the finest backs in Texas schoolboy ranks. Howard Corbett carries the mail for the Panthers and Tyler has Walton Roberts, triple-threat quarterback, and Melvin Jones, crashing fullback, as brilliant cogs in its fine machine.

Many predict that the winner of this game will go to the finals. That's one consolation for Lufkin in being put on the spot early. If the Panthers win they may have hurdled their toughest obstacle.

This game gets the top place in the week's schedule in which the field of contenders for the state title will be cut to eight teams. Rated definite favorites to win are Lubbock over Vernon,reckenridge over Bowie (El Paso), Temple over Kerrville, and Corpus Christi over Pharr-San Juan-Alama. However, looking back over the season, the critics become much more timid about selecting winners. It has been a year of upsets probably unparalleled in Texas schoolboy football.

In the other games, Gainesville gets a weak vote over Highland Park (Dallas), Mansion Home (Ft. Worth) a reluctant nod over Sunset (Dallas), Fort Arthur a dim edge over John Reagan (Houston). They've been picking Sunset to lose all season, however, and the Bisons are one of the five undefeated teams in the race. Masonic Home, on the other hand, lost to Sherman, a team smashed by Gainesville—and Masonic Home defeated Highland Park. There is little with which to compare Fort Arthur and Reagan.

A protest concerning Reagan was cleared up last night with the announcement by R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the Interscholastic League, that the district 13 committee's selection of Reagan over Conroe would stand. Conroe had protested because this team tied Reagan for the championship.

SEE how refreshing it is, the way Your Mileage Merchant—here in the paper and at his Conoco station—backs up his statements about Germ Processed oil. It brings you more than an oil-change, because right after it is pumped up from the crankcase like any oil, it does something any oil cannot do. Energized by the Germ Process—patented—it bonds to every working part and stays up lastingly in the form of OIL-PLATING. Even grindstones can scarcely remove OIL-PLATING, so it certainly cannot drain down while your car stands cold—no matter how long.

Therefore the instant you want to start up, every engine part swiftly and safely slides into action on its ready OIL-PLATING—the lubricant that plainly can't be held back by any cold; that can't hold back your battery. The quick starts tell you there's no grinding wear in your OIL-PLATED engine.

Irish Extremists Blow Up Customs

BELFAST, Nov. 30.-A bomb blasted an Ulster Customs house to bits today, on the border between northern and southern Ireland, as police hunted Republican extremists they blamed for five similar explosions along the frontier last night.

The latest customs house to be blown up was in Clontarf, Fermanagh county. A group of passing cyclists narrowly escaped injury.

In two other customs houses police found suitcases containing time-bombs that had failed to go off. They had been set for midnight.

Belfast seethed with anxious speculation lest the blast usher in a new campaign of violence by the Irish Republican army in Ulster agitating for the union of both parts of the Irish island.

● SERIAL STORY
LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE
COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDY A. L. C. O. F. T.—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.
D. WIGHT CAMPBELL—ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty.
JACK HANLEY—daring sailor. He faced a test of a great love.
MARVEL HASTIN—navy aviator. He faced the test of being a good sailor.

Yesterday's crashing in the news that Bill is dead and that Jack may be injured for life. Judy was sincerely heart-broken.

CHAPTER XXI

IT was only another casualty in the long list of many. The papers carried headlines, "Navy Flyer Crash at Sea." Just as they had run headlines when the Akron went down; just as they flaunted the tragedy of the trapped submarine. But to Judy Alcott, waiting for the Relief to come in, and to Diane Bell, who was left alone with her baby, it was agony to hear of this. Now Judy understood why the wives of the lighter-than-air men, that morning at Lakehurst, had tried to smile. Now she could understand why they had gone on, bravely, taking up their lives where the threads had broken, shrinking from sympathy, wanting nothing but to be left alone. That was all she wanted, now.

The reporters who came, the heartless, businesslike voices on the telephone, revolted her. She shrank from contact with the outside world. She wanted to hide from them all. Tonight—tomorrow at the latest—the hospital ship would come in, and she would know at last the answer to the questions which tormented her. Was Jack going to live? How badly was he hurt? If he didn't pull through, she thought passionately, she wouldn't want to live either.

Then, hearing the baby cry, and Diane's tear-choked voice quieting him, Judy knew that she must put aside her personal problems. Jack was alive. That was enough for now. Alive, with a fighting chance. But Bill was irrevocably gone. There was no hope for Diane, nothing she could cling to and find comfort in. Except the baby. And he was so little, so helpless. Every time she held him in her arms, it must be like a sharp thorn in her flesh. For he was all that was left to her of Bill.

So Judy pulled herself together, and did her best to assuage the stunned, incredulous grief that was making Diane so hollow-eyed, so numb and deaf and unseeing. The next day the Relief dropped anchor in the harbor, and Judy wanted to race down, to take a shore boat, get aboard, see Jack. But her mother snidely, "It would be too narrow a way to perience for Diane, to go there and watch them take Bill's body off. You must stay with her. I—I think it will be better if you wait until Jack is in the Naval Hospital before you—"

"But I must see him!" Judy cried. "I can't stand this. I've counted the hours, the minutes—"

Judy controlled the rebellious words which were on the tip of her tongue. She realized that the experience would be disastrous for Diane. A flag draped body—the homecoming of the man who had kissed her goodbye, who had said "See you Wednesday!" But for herself, meeting Jack would be to find reassurance—to see with her own eyes his face to hear his voice. To be sure, sure that he was alive. No matter how badly he was injured, she told herself, all she asked was to look at him. To see his eyes move, to touch his hair.

A ROMAN holiday, her mother had said. Reporters, photographers. They would make cloying, sentimental copy of her joy at seeing Jack. They would print "ADMIRAL'S DAUGHTER SOBS OVER NAVAL FLYER INJURED IN CRASH AT SEA." They might even take quick, forbidden pictures of her, leaning over the stretcher, being taken down the gangway. She remembered the weeping women waiting at a pier in New London. The papers here in printed columns of their swollen eyes, their twisted, sobbing lips. Oh, no! No! Mother was right. She mustn't go.

So for two hours she and Diane sat side by side on the sofa, a terrible, waiting stillness enveloping them. Now they were carrying Bill's body down. Now they were lifting Jack. Judy prayed inwardly that the men would be gentle with him. She thought of the cold choppy water in which he had been immersed. She thought of him sitting in a cockpit, waiting for the nose to slap into the waves. How had he crawled out? And Bill, flying low, forgetful of his own danger!

Maybe they'd give Bill a medal. A medal! She wanted to laugh, suddenly. They'd pay Diane with a piece of worthless silver or gold for the loss of everything she had held dear. Jack wouldn't have wanted Bill to risk his own life. Jack might have shouted to him, told him to go back... And yet, even as she sat there, she knew that she would never be able to ask Jack anything about those dark hours after his ship crashed. The story of what had happened would be locked in his heart. All the raw pain, all the deep, hidden gratitude. Men didn't talk about moments like those. The men who had been on the Akron with Ward, and who had lived through that storm, never spoke of it now.

AT seven o'clock, her mother came back to the bungalow and said, "I'll stay with Diane. There's a car outside to take you to the hospital."

When the chauffeur opened the door for her, she tumbled out, murmured, "Thank you." There was a wide, empty hall, smelling of antiseptic. A nurse came forward, and said, "Miss Alcott? Commander Sloane said you may go right up."

"Sick Officers' Quarters," said the nurse to the man in the elevator. Judy's heart was beating wildly, and the palms of her hands were damp.

Jack was lying flat on the bed. His face was pale, his eyes were closed. There was a heavy white plaster cast encasing his shoulder, and under the covers it made a lump, as if it extended down his side.

"Jack!" she cried. His eyes flew open. "Judy!" He wasn't unconscious. He wasn't dead. She was so thankful tears came into her eyes. She dropped into the chair beside the bed, "Oh, Jack!" There was nothing else she could say; words wouldn't come. She could only look at him, drinking in his face, the shining eyes, the gladness that glowed from him to her.

"Lieutenant Hanley has had a very tough three hours," said the nurse professionally. "Getting him into a cast, and X-rays first, and he's very tired." She did not say, "You mustn't stay long." But it was there.

Judy asked her, "Exactly what—what are the injuries?" The nurse said, "Commander Sloane will be here and you may ask him. He's on this floor, but he's busy right now."

When she had gone, Judy touched Jack's hand. The one that wasn't bandaged. She said, "Oh, Jack, I—I almost died! I'm so glad you're alive! I'll never, never be such a fool again. Just get well! Get well for me!"

Jack whispered hoarsely, "Do you mean it?" She kissed his fingers. "I love you."

Man And Wife Charged With Robbing Banks

DETROIT, Nov. 30 (AP)—Federal agents placed the "public enemy" mark definitely today upon blonde, 17-year-old Estelle Dickson and Benny Dickson, 27, alleged man-and-wife bank robbing combination. Characterizing the two as "important criminals," John S. Bugas, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office here, claimed "positive evidence" they were the same couple who robbed two South Dakota banks and escaped a police trap in Michigan Monday.

A hunt through the Midwest continued today. Last word had placed the two in the Chicago area. Bugas is directing federal operations in the search from Detroit. He said there was "no question" that Dickson, Missouri and Kansas convict described as a University of California graduate, and the Topeka, Kas. girl were the bank robbers.

When the police ambuscade was foiled shortly after Sunday midnight near the Michigan-Indiana state line, the police car was disabled by gunfire, and the man and woman whom the authorities meant to trap both suffered head wounds. There followed a wild flight during which three men were kidnaped to cover the trail and two automobiles stolen.

Charges that Dickson and the girl robbed a bank were filed yesterday in Brookings, S. D., Bugas said. The Northwest Security National Bank at Brookings was looted of $17,588 last Oct. 31 and the Corn Exchange Bank at Elkton of between $4,000 and 5,000, Aug. 28.

The bakers of New York City were the first employes to go on strike in America. The strike occurred in 1741. In those early days, strikers were treated as conspirators, but convictions seldom were obtained.

'Too Good' Radio Reception Caused Crash Of Big Transport

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30 (AP)—In the churning surf off Point Reyes, the gloomy search was resumed today for the bodies of four men and a young woman who met death yesterday through a strange, new hazard to aviation. Officials gravely studied the queer phenomenon of "too good" radio reception which so confused the pilot of a Seattle-San Francisco United Airlines plane he became lost and had to bring the transport down on the sea when it ran out of gasoline. One said the phenomenon had occurred just three times, and never before had caused an accident.

Added to the grief of the five victims' families was the knowledge that had the plane occupants remained in the cabin instead of scrambling to the top of the fuselage "for safety," they probably would have reached shore without injury. The cabin of the wrecked and battered airliner was dry when it was finally washed ashore. The pilot and one passenger survived. Dispatched to the scene by the Civil Aeronautics Authority in Washington was a board of inquiry headed by Thomas O. Hardin, member of the CAA safety board. Their task, as a United Airlines official expressed it, will be "to make formal finds about what everybody now already knows was the cause of the accident."
