Miss Miriam Wilson Posts $1,500 Bond

Embezzlement Of Funds Over Period Of Year Claimed The second bombshell to be dropped into official circles in the Gray county court house within five weeks fell today when a charge of embezzlement of county funds was filed in justice court against Miss Miriam Wilson, clerk of the 31st judicial court.

Miriam Wilson were at work. The county court room is being used for the work of the auditors. The auditor is in charge of Wailes. In her statement to the county judge Miss Wilson admitted taking sums of money, ranging from $10 cents to $14.70 over a year's period. These sums were replaced, she said. An estimate of the total amount involved was approximately $250. At 6 o'clock Thursday evening in the court of Justice of the Peace E. F. Young, County Attorney Joe Gordon filed a complaint, signed by him, charging Miriam Wilson with having on Oct. 1 fraudulently embezzled, misapplied, and converted to her own use, without the consent of the county, the sum of $4.55, this amount being the cost in a suit styled O. L. Eaton vs. Clois Eaton, and paid to the district clerk as costs therein by F. A. Cary. Bond of $1,500 was posted by Miriam Wilson this forenoon.

Methodist Young People Discuss Future Activities

At the regular monthly business meeting of the officers of the senior young people's department of the First Methodist Church in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Patrick many plans were discussed and various projects were suggested to be presented to the class for voting on the following Sunday.

The Christmas project unanimously voted upon was the providing of a Christmas tree and a gift for the negro school children. Also the program and leaders for the month of December were selected. They are as follows: Pre-Christmas program and piano selection for December 11, John Edwin McConnell; "Christmas the World Over" December 18, Miss Josephine Lane; "Our Brothers," December 25, Miss Mary Douglas.

Widespread interest is being shown upon the part of the young people of Pampa in this Sunday school class of young working men and women between the ages of 18 and 25 years. This is evident by the increased attendance Sunday morning and by the increase in the number on the roll.

The enthusiasm and eager cooperation which each member is contributing for the benefit of the class, proves that before long one of the largest young people's departments in the history of the city will be maintained, the sponsors have pointed out.

Lima Topsy-Turvy As Pan-American Conference Meets

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 9 (AP)—Lima, the city of kings as Pizarro the Conquistador called it, was a topsy-turvy city today.

To the visitor even the uniforms worn everywhere were a confusion. The sailors dressed like the United States navy gob, because there is a United States mission here; the soldiers dress like the French Polli because of the French military mission, and the airmen dress like Italian aviators because of the Italian air mission.

Traffic jams the narrow streets. Above the swarm of pedestrians and vehicles are ancient carved wood balconies, and through the lattices one may glimpse dark Peruvian eyes.

In the center of the city, within a white marble building, is a small, circular, red carpeted hall with three tiers of balconies, like an opera house.

It is Peru's House of Representatives, where the Pan-American conference is being held.

"IT'S BAD FOR Your Health"

How often, against the counsel of others and our own sound judgment, do we do something to impair a naturally healthy constitution. Especially are we prone to neglect or thoughtlessly dismiss small ills. These conditions, unattended, sometimes become chronic and lead to serious complications.

Don't neglect your health! It's the greatest asset you have. At the first indication of "something wrong" go to see your Physician. A timely visit may prevent a long, expensive illness later. And bring his prescription here for prompt, precise compounding.

Speaking at a forum of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, Aubrey Williams, assistant Works Progress Administrator, is quoted as saying that a fundamental reorientation of this country's industrial structure within the democratic form of government was needed, in the course of which he was not sure that the country could escape class warfare.

According to a recent edition of the Matador Tribune, the old, old "curtain" racket has been brought out, dusted off and made to work again. A man representing himself to be a stage curtain painter showed up in Roaring Springs the other day, singled out a well known and thoroughly reputable citizen and told him he was the painter, had received the contract to paint a new curtain for the stage of the school auditorium.

Fred Roberts was a Berger visitor this week. Mrs. D. C. Houk has as her guest her mother of Indiana. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bourland were Amarillo visitors this week.

J. A. Banks Jr. was admitted to Pampa-Jarrett hospital last night. Clarence Kennedy suffered a broken bone in his wrist during yesterday's Pansy-Lily football game.

Mrs. H. H. Heiskell has returned from Olney where she visited with relatives. She was accompanied by Mrs. Doc Purley of Miami.

Gray County Singing class will meet in McLean at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Pentecostal Holiness church. Fred Staggs is the director.

Twenty members attended the regular weekly meeting of the Pampa Credit Grantors association when accounts M, N and O were discussed. Letters P, Q and R will be studied next week. Plans for a credit school during January were discussed.

Three weeks ago the Gray county commissioners passed an order employing Cornell & Co., Amarillo auditors, to make an audit of books in all Gray county offices.

On the other hand, Mr. Roosevelt's veto power gives him the whip-hand over any anti-New Deal legislation which might be enacted. He can always veto at least one-third of the membership in both branches as dyed-in-the-wool New Dealers.

Robert Shaffer, field executive of the Adobe Walls council of the Boy Scouts of America was the principal speaker at the Lions club regular luncheon Thursday, at the First Methodist church.

Dr. H. L. Wilder and Fred Roberts, scout executive, were in charge of the program. Music was provided by Margaret and Marjorie Wilson, and Betty Jo Holt, who formed a clarinet trio; Joann Hawkins, who played a piano solo; Dee Griffin, trombone solo; and Miss Margaret Williams, pianist and music teacher.

Attendance at the luncheon was 60, including two guests, M. C. Johnson, manager of Montgomery Ward & Co., Pampa, and Art Smith, Skelly Oil company, Berger.

clerk comes one month and five days after Buford Reed, a deputy in the sheriff's office since March, 1934, was indicted by a 31st district court grand jury on two separate counts of misappropriation of fees.

Reed was charged with misappropriation of $24.64 on July 1 and with misappropriation of $2 on Sept. 1 of this year.

District Attorney Lewis M. Goodrich said that Reed's admitted offenses had occurred over a period of months and that a possible shortage of around $800 was being investigated.

Reed posted $1,500 bond. His case is to be heard at the next term of district court, which opens Jan. 2.

With the return of the indictment against Reed, the grand jury turned in its final report, in which it criticized the operation of the fee accounting systems used in various offices and recommended that the county auditor make an examination of accounts at least once each quarter; and that a report be made to the next grand jury.

The grand jury claimed that the accounts in several county offices had been kept in a manner that made it difficult for the county auditor to make the reports required by law.

Three weeks ago the Gray county commissioners passed an order employing Cornell & Co., Amarillo auditors, to make an audit of books in all Gray county offices.

On Jan. 1, 1937, Miss Wilson with the other county and city officials was sworn in. In the election held this year, Miss Wilson was unopposed for re-election as district clerk.

Dr. Bunny Behrman, Pansy surgeon, was called onto the field only once to repair injured players. He took along a saw and a mallet. Attired in surgeon's white, he rushed onto the playing field and brought a broken-down Pansy back to life.

Dr. Bunny Behrman, Pansy surgeon, was called onto the field only once to repair injured players. He took along a saw and a mallet. Attired in surgeon's white, he rushed onto the playing field and brought a broken-down Pansy back to life.

Lilies Mow Down Pansies Despite Referee, Spinach And 12 Players

A bouquet of cigar smoking, pop drinking Lilies from Berger and Phillips rolled into Pampa on a special train yesterday...

Nearly 2,500 wild-eyed fans saw the Lilies pass and run to a 14 to 0 victory over a Pansy eleven that couldn't get into high offense...

There was a lot of hard football in that game, more than many fans noticed. There was some sweet blocking, nice tackling and some pretty fair running and passing...

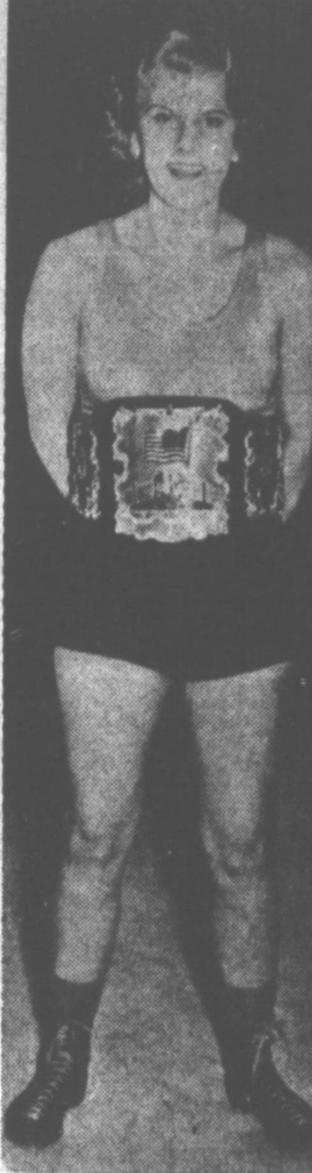

via Hill of White Deer. C. P. McWright and Bill Anderson. The Game Berger received and carried to their 37 and Hooks rolled off to the Pampa 43. Big Train Mathews picked up a first down...

Patterson tried to run the ball out but pulled a Corrgan and was tackled behind his own goal line for safety. Lilies 2; Pansies 0.

Two offside penalties after long runs set the Lilies back and Pansies took over on their 46 after a short punt. Patterson and Pumfrey roared 15 yards on two plays for the first Pansy thrust.

It was football. There was a lot of hard football in that game, more than many fans noticed. There was some sweet blocking, nice tackling and some pretty fair running and passing...

Senator Urges Army, Navy Play All Over U. S.

By ALBERT W. WILSON. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Charges that "radical professors" were behind current moves to de-emphasize college sports were couched today by Senator David L. Walsh...

He suggested the service schools should not play any team two years in a row, except for so-called "practice games" with small schools.

Radical-minded teachers and professors who are antagonistic to the traditional democratic system, the senator said, are plotting to discredit large scale intercollegiate sport...

Minor League Hopes Cheery Czar

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 9 (AP)—William G. Bramham, 85-year-old president of the National Association of Football Baseball Leagues today declared his baseball hope to be in order.

When Bramham, whose annual salary is $20,000, was made czar of the minor leagues in 1932, there were only 11 of them. Now there are 37.

He suggested the service schools should not play any team two years in a row, except for so-called "practice games" with small schools.

50,000 Fans Expected To Watch Football Battles

12 Class B Regional Grid Titles To Be Decided Today

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF. DALLAS, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Class B boys hang up the motokans after this week in the Texas Schoolboy campaign but it will be around Christmas Day before the Class A division calls it quits for the season.

Eight teams, paced by Tyler's undefeated, untied Lions, battle it out in the quarter finals of the Class A division Friday and Saturday.

They did it, that bunch of civic clubmen. They went out on Harvester field yesterday and battled for dear old alma mater, and some of them nearly died for her, too.

'Round The Razzberry Bush

By HARRY HOARE

But it turned out to be those pep squad leaders that stole the show. They were beautiful, they were shaping in their daring sweaters and skirts and silk, cotton and wool stockings were those Civic Clubmen Messrs. Meek, Go'son, Gordon, Hoffman, Teed, Campbell, Wilder, and Curry.

Coach and pupil met on the gridiron yesterday afternoon when Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters, a pappy end, dropped Durwood "Peed" Martindale, former Harvester star but yesterday a Lily ball teler.

(By The Associated Press) Between 50,000 and 55,000 fans are expected to watch quarter-final games of the Texas school boy football race this week with the John Reagan-Corpus Christi clash at Houston topping the attendance.

Today—Region 1, Wellington at Panhandle; region 2, Newcastle at Crowell; region 4, Diamond Hill (Fort Worth) at Wills Park; region 5, Roysie City vs. Mt. Vernon at Sulphur Springs; region 6, Crockett at Overton (night); region 7, Brady at Tyler; region 8, Calvert at McGregor; region 9, La Grange vs. Belville at Brenham (night); region 10, Hull-Daisetta at Alvin; region 11, Junction at Guero; region 12, Alice vs. Freer at Kingsville (night).

Football Players Afraid Of Messy Ears, Says Dumb Dan. has a football-playing record against him. "Maybe he's different," Dan ventured. "So far he doesn't show any signs of this football affliction I'm telling you about, and that short right of his is a beauty. They're crazy, though, if they let him in the ring with Joe Louis inside of two years."

Packers Polish Up For Giants

BY DREW MIDDLETON. NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Green Bay Packers, the large young men who stand between the Giants and the National Professional Football League, started work today to polish their rusted offensive maneuvers for Sunday's battle.

What makes the Green Bays so much tougher than the other two weeks ago, when the Giants downed them 15-3, is the presence of Don Hutson, the end who is the best pass receiver in the business. He was on the sidelines with an injury the last time the Packers were here. He is expected to be out of their line-up until the Wildcat's next Cleburne, from then on Temple mediated like a scythe, cutting down Cleburne, Hillsboro, Waxahatchee and Corsicans in order, then staged the season's big upset by downing Waco, a team that had been picked to reach the state finals.

Dempsy Awarded Edward Neil Medal

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Jack Dempsy, who won many honors in the ring, has won a new distinction. The former heavyweight champion was awarded the first Edward J. Neil memorial medal yesterday at a meeting of the Boxing Writers Association. The medal, to be awarded annually, perpetuates the memory of the Associated Press sports writer and war correspondent who was killed in Spain a year ago and will go to the boxer, past or present, who has meant most to the sport in the current year.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER. NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Jack Dempsy is predicting Joe Louis' downfall—not right away, but not too far off, either. "He'll go back all of a sudden, same as me," says Jack. 39 Groom School Annual Will Represent Entire Groom Section

ROOM, Dec. 9.—The seniors of an high school are working on a idea regarding their annual. The idea is a picture book of the entire groom section of the community instead of just the school. For the past two years the seniors have edited the annual. This year the annual, named "Tiger," since Groom is so common to both the school and the community, it has been a great task for the seniors to raise a large sum from class activities, thus overburdening the class.

No Advertisements.

The plan for the "1939 Tiger" is different in more than one detail. First, the book will be about twice the size of the former book. Second, art work and printed material will be used to a minimum extent; the book will be almost 100 per cent pictures from the 1st page to closing page. Another innovation for the "Tiger" is the lack of advertising. No ads will be sold or used. The other basic change is in the staff. The staff is composed of representatives from the senior class, the Junior class, the faculty, and the business men of the town.

School Uses Half.

The book will contain upwards of 64 pages. Of these pages, about half will be used by the school and half by other community interests, industries, and activities. The space was allotted to each club, business firm and industry by the staff. If one does not use the space another use will be made of it.

Beginning with an aerial view of the town of Groom the book will take up the different activities of the community, as: its government; health units, as doctor and drug store; and transportation and communication, as the post office, telephone company, railroad, trucking company and newspaper. These will be followed by the bank and retail establishments. Space will be used picturing the basic industries in the community. Churches, clubs, and civic organizations have been allowed ample space.

Instead of an art editor, this type book has placed emphasis upon a picture staff. The plan is to show pictures of a business firm with personal pictures of owner and employees. Not only will the picture be used of the employees on duty, but with their families and at home. The aim is to picture the entire community and not just the business part.

Merchants are elated over the decision not to use ads. The finance of the book will be raised from two sources, sale of books and sale of space. The difference between the total cost of the book and the amount raised by selling the books at $1.25 each will be divided by the total number of pages, thus determining the price to the sale of space. This might not be called sale of space, but just the share of each page in the total cost of the book. School classes, like the business firm will pay the per page charge, which will be very small.

Helm Heads Staff.

The staff is headed by Joyce Helm, editor and senior class president. Charles James, 1938 football captain, is business manager. Dorothy Lee Stokes is picture editor. Assistants are all seniors. Bill Collins and Geneva Tillman are representatives from the junior class. Kenneth Kendrick, high school principal and senior sponsor, is the faculty representative. Cecil Culver, cashier of the State National Bank and member of the Business Men's club is the business men's representative.

Work is progressing rapidly on the book. The lay-out has been approved, and James is getting confirmation by business men for their space. Sale of books is also progressing rapidly.

Anson Cowboys' Annual Ball To Last 3 Nights

ANSON, Dec. 9.—For three nights, Dec. 21, 22 and 23, the cowboys of the open ranches nearby will check their pistols for the one time in the year when they attend the annual cowboy's Christmas ball here.

The jingle of spurs, staccato stomp of cowboy boots and the swish of the West in the 80's will harmonize to the strains of the bass viol in the square dances such as were danced at the first cowboys' ball in the old Star Hotel here and immortalized in Larry Chittenden's "The Cowboys' Christmas Ball."

Men and ladies will be attired in fashions of bygone days, music same as the original and the dances—Virginia reel, heel and toe polka, Schottische, and the square—will be danced with the informality of the first ball.

Visitors may re-live Chittenden's emotions when he wrote: "Don't tell me 'bout collitions, or Germans. No sir'ee, That whirl at Anson City just takes the cake with me. I've siked of lazy shufflin's of them I've had my fill; Give me a frontier break-down, backed up by Windy Bill."

The ball has attracted nationwide attention. A group of thirty Anson people have given the old-time dances at Dallas Centennial, the Chicago Folk Festival, and at Washington this year where they were given a picnic by Texas Congressmen and senators and stopped traffic for blocks when they were joined by the Congressmen and Senators in a square dance. Later, with whoops and yells they stampeded crowds with a dance on the capitol lawn.

The ball of today is authentic old time Western cowboy dancing such as the cowboys enjoyed once in a year in early day Anson.

Film Copy Of Early American Newspaper Purchased By T. U.

AUSTIN, Dec. 9.—A film copy of Yale University's microfilm edition on "The Maryland Gazette," early American newspaper noted not only because of its antiquity but because no other library in the United States possesses more than fragmentary copies of it, has been purchased by the library of the University of Texas. It was recently announced by Donald Cony, librarian.

Filming of the copies of the "Gazette" from January 17, 1748 to December 28, 1820 took three thousand feet of 35 mm safety film, suitable for reading on the Argus projector and cost $95, Mr. Cony said.

The Maryland Gazette was established by Jonas Green on January 17, 1748, as a successor to the first paper printed in Maryland under the same name and of which there is no complete file available.

"In 1810 there was only one paper printed in the United States of prior date," Mr. Cony said. "This file, therefore, contains a remarkable continuous record of events, local and national comment, trade conditions, and social history."

The Irish potato is an Indian potato. It was discovered growing in America.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE SIN OF COVETOUSNESS. Text: Exodus 20:17; Luke 12:15-21; I Timothy 6:6-10. By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance. The tenth commandment is against covetousness, and here, as in the former lesson, its teaching is emphasized in a story taken from the New Testament and in a very wise homily by St. Paul in his letter to Timothy. It would seem obvious, in a primitive society where the conditions affecting all were very much alike, that wherever a man sought to grab more than his fellows to get unusual advantage or when he became eager of possessing what others could not have the whole social structure would be very greatly weakened. If we could see our complex society today with clear vision, we would understand that covetousness is just as deep and deadly a sin today as it ever was, and that it is the destroying force beneath much of our social inequalities and injustice. Covetousness is a social sin, but it is equally a personal sin, in its effect upon the man who practices it. It is a social sin because it may have serious results upon one's fellowmen. The man who has an inordinate desire for wealth, or for possessing what other men have, may create all manner of distress and social injustice by his covetousness. What he does not always see is that, even where he gains his ends, he blasts and destroys his own soul.

Larger Attendance Expected By Church

"Bible Teaching About the Origin, Perpetuation, and Destiny of Sin and the Sinner" is the sermon subject to be discussed by the Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor of the First Baptist church, in the morning worship hour at 10:50 o'clock. Five hundred and fifty-seven attended Sunday School last Sunday at the First church and Amarada mission with 235 in B. T. U. At least 500 persons are expected to be in Sunday School Sunday and 100 more are wanted to enlist in B. T. U. by January 1. Arthur Nelson is the new director. Baptismal services at 7:25 o'clock will precede the sermon on "The Trail That Has No Ending," at 7:30 o'clock by the pastor. A musical program by the three choirs and the orchestra led by Arthur Nelson will be presented. Friday night is youth's night and all intermediates and young people of the church and Sunday School and any other young people are invited to attend at 7:30 o'clock. The intermediates and young people will be divided. All of the men in the church and Sunday School and invited guests are expected to attend the annual Brotherhood dinner for men Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. J.

Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church of Amarillo, will be the speaker and Arthur Nelson and Harry Miner, Jr., are to furnish the musical program.

Preserver Of Man Will Be Subject

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday December 11. The Golden Text is: "Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me" (Psalms 40:11). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Lord shall deliver me" from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom" (II Timothy 4:18).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let neither fear nor doubt overshadow your clear senses and calm trust, that the recognition of life harmonious—as Life eternally is—can destroy any painful sense of, or belief in, that which Life is not" (page 495).

SERIAL STORY LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDY ALCOFF—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.

Yesterday, Judy feels guilty talking with Dwight in her car. Taking another automobile approach, it is Marvel's. Marvel leans out, says, "So this is what you're up to?"

CHAPTER XXIX

FOR a moment she could only stare at the girl behind the wheel of the other car. Marvel opened her door with slow deliberateness, then came and stood beside Judy's car, looking at Dwight and Judy with a burning directness.

Even in the darkness, Judy could see that Marvel's face was tired, that her hair was not as beautifully waved as usual. She looked as if she'd been driving a long time, as if she'd been crying, too.

"I went to the ship," Marvel said. "You weren't there. I went home. I saw you hadn't even been there since you got back. I called your house, Judy Alcott. I knew he'd be with you. I've been driving for hours. I felt, somehow, that I'd find you like this."

Judy's voice refused to function. But Dwight, after his first surprise, could only say, "I thought you were still on the yacht."

"The yacht!" Her lips twisted. "Do you think it was any fun, after what you'd said to me? And there's something else. Something I—I didn't know before."

Dwight said, "Marvel, don't jump at conclusions. We—I—Judy and I—" "I suppose you were out here working out some problem in naval engineering!" Marvel said with fine scorn.

NOW Judy's voice returned. She said, "You mustn't get the wrong idea." Her face burned. She tried to explain, but anything she could say would be cheap and untrue, and so she closed her mouth and let Marvel's eyes flick her face. She didn't blame the other girl for being angry. But she wanted passionately for her to understand, and she knew she never would.

Then Marvel said, "I don't intend to stand out here and make a scene. Get in my car, Dwight. Drive to the house. Judy, follow us. I want to speak to you, too."

"Maybe I'd better go home—" Marvel's eyes snapped. "No. You're not going to sneak out of this. You wouldn't want me to broadcast it over the station that I found you two together, would you? That wouldn't do you any good. Better follow us."

She got into her own car, and Dwight silently followed her. When he had started down the drive, Judy put her clutch in and shifted to first. What did Marvel want with her?

In a few minutes the strange procession stopped in the driveway of the white house. Marvel fumbled in her handbag for the key, handed it to Dwight.

Judy looked around the living room. The dust was thick on the glass tables, and curls of it rolled on the bare floors with their bold patterns. The blinds were drawn, there was a closed, choking airlessness about the house. As if no one had lived in it a long time. Since Marvel had left for Bremerton, it had been shut up.

JUDY sat down in one of the low, angled chairs. Marvel lit a cigarette. "Sit down, Dwight," she said.

Then she leaned forward, "We're going to get to the bottom of this thing. I'm not going to do any hysterical accusing, and Dwight, you can just swallow anything you want to say about Cary Tennant. I could have married him long before I ever saw you, and I didn't."

Judy thought, looking at her, that Marvel had never looked so weary. It was as if she were even too tired to put on her usual display of temper. She was simply hard, flint hard. She had a job to do, and she was doing it. For the first time Judy saw the determination of Marvel's jaw, and realized that the businessman who had millions had left his daughter more than money. He had left her an iron will.

Judy thought of Jack, in the white hospital room. What if he could know what was going on here. Jack who was so happy, so steeped in contentment now that she had promised to marry him.

Marvel was saying, "Since I first came to California, Dwight, I knew that you had been carrying on with her. She knew that I knew it, because I told her. I tried to fight it. Maybe I lost. That's what I want to know. Are you going to marry her when I divorce you?"

Judy squirmed at the cold, matter-of-fact question. She cried quickly, "Please, Mrs. Campbell. You don't understand! I'm engaged to Jack Hanley. I—I don't love Dwight. Oh, you're wrong! You're wrong!"

"You're wrong," she pleaded for understanding, her eyes on Marvel's still face. "I'll admit when you first came I was hurt. I—I was foolish. I thought—I thought I cared for Dwight. But now I know better. Oh, I can't begin to tell you, it's all so plain now! There was never anything real between us. It was hard to let go the dream I'd had, don't you see? But that's all it was. A dream."

SUDDENLY, as she watched Marvel's face, from some deep well of intuition inside her, Judy knew that Marvel wasn't as cold as she tried to appear. She was suffering. Her eyes filled with pain, and her hand, holding the cigarette, trembled.

Judy was talking rapidly, trying desperately to explain the nebulous and only half-thought-out emotions which had swamped her. "Dwight didn't ever love me. Even now, he only wanted to see me because he was lonely and hurt. I felt sorry for him. Oh, I could see—I tell you, I could feel—how lost he was. He—he loved you, Mrs. Campbell. It wouldn't have hit him so hard if he didn't. That's the only reason he turned to me. He didn't talk about me—he poured out his woes, and spoke always of you!"

And now Judy was weeping softly, into a handkerchief she had hastily extracted from her bag. "This is too big to pretend about. I know the truth now. Jack Hanley is—he's wonderful, he's been so good to me. I've been a sneaking, sniffing little fool, keeping him waiting, not knowing my own mind." She raised her eyes, looked straight at Marvel. "I don't belong in this. Only you must believe me. I don't love your husband and he doesn't love me."

Marvel stood up. "Dwight!" she said. There was a sound, as if she sobbed once, and then Dwight's arms were around her. Judy averted her eyes. There was such gladness on Marvel's face, such a stunned, incredulous light in Dwight's eyes.

As Judy walked out of the room she heard Marvel saying, "Dwight, I—I wasn't going to tell you. But I came back, I had to come back, because we're going to have a baby."

Reduction Of Freight Rates Sought Today

Concerted action for removal of freight rate discriminations against West Texas will be started by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at a meeting in Amarillo next Monday.

The meeting, to be held in the Herring Hotel at 10 a. m., was announced today by H. S. Hilburn, Plainview, WTCC president, and C. A. Studer, Canadian, WTCC district No. 1 director.

Shippers and producers, local Chamber of Commerce secretaries and presidents, WTCC directors and others have been invited to attend the meeting, D. A. Bairden, WTCC manager said.

Manager Garnet Reeves of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce said that a delegation from the local organization would attend the meeting. Interested persons who would like to attend the meeting are asked to contact Mr. Reeves immediately.

"The reception given the report of our traffic committee on 'Discriminatory Freight Rates in West Texas and the Remedy' has been so widespread that I deem it advisable to launch a move for some concerted action in carrying out the recommendations in that report," Hilburn said in announcing the meeting.

The report contends that West Texas freight rates are an average of 12 per cent higher than rates in Eastern areas of the United States and that this penalty is costing West Texas people $100,000,000 annually.

Nothing short of a legislative mandamus to the Interstate Commerce Commission will remedy the situation, the WTCC traffic board says in recommending complete overhauling of present rate making policies and practices and an amendment to the Interstate Commerce Act to require equality in rates as between zones.

The board also recommends that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and all of its affiliates adopt as a major program for the welfare of West Texas the equalization of freight rates.

Horse "Pitched Vest Off" Rider

DALHART, Dec. 9.—Charlie Gibson, crop loan supervisor with headquarters in Dalhart, was a football player in 1916. After a game in which he acquitted himself with some distinction he was met at the gate by an elderly man.

"Your name Gibson?" he asked. "Yes." "Well, son," the man said, "you can play good football, but you can't play football like your dad can ride. I saw your dad get on a bronc one time and he rode although his vest was pitched off and it was buttoned up."

When young Gibson got home he asked his dad about it. The father knitted his brow. "It must have been," he finally said, "back in 1902. I recollect that fellow being around when I got on that bronc. I did have my vest on and it was buttoned. My bronc pitched away from the fellow and when we were some distance away, the bronc fell to its knees. I fell forward, and my vest hooked over the saddle horn. When I straightened up the buttons held, but my vest ripped right in the back and I shed it off my arms. "Yep, I guess he thought that horse pitched by vest right off of me."

Panhandle Library History Shown In Technicolor Film

By MRS. O. C. WEAKLEY.

PANHANDLE, Dec. 9.—One of the most outstanding projects of the Carson County Library, since the opening is the filming of a technicolor picture showing the history of the library since its beginning, under the sponsorship of the Erudite club, to the present County Library with all of its modern equipment.

The idea of the picture is to show how to obtain a county library, and each step is clearly shown.

The picture begins with Mrs. M. Hill telling the original Erudite club members how to get a petition for a library. Mrs. Hill endowed the original library with many valuable books and it was known as "The Murray Hill Library."

The picture continues with scenes from the present library showing WPA workers mending books and cutting out clippings, the story hour under the direction of Mrs. B. C. Truax is also shown.

The scene then shifts to the new "bookmobile," traveling library, showing all phases of service. The first scene shows ranch service and was taken at the 8086 Ranch, where some cowboys checked out books. Oil field service is shown with scenes from the Cabot plant, then comes the branch service with scenes from the White Deer branch of the library. The film is concluded with school and farm service, with scenes from the Conway school and the Ray Callham farm.

The film will be sent to the Texas State Library for use in the organization of county libraries, and county libraries desiring information on how to obtain a bookmobile certificate.

W. J. Morris is photographer, Ashley Little technician and script by Peyton Reavis. The bookmobile will be on display in Amarillo at the Peoples Library Movement meeting Dec. 17, at the Potter County Library.
