Minor Problems Strike Skylab 2

HOUSTON (UPI) — A short circuit in the sun observatory, several minor problems and a false alarm plagued Skylab 2 astronauts Saturday but the Skylab 2 astronauts went on with their research and photographed an 11,000 miles swath of earth.

Engineers in the Mission Control Center kept a close watch on technical data being radioed down from the big space station, watching for any problems that could force Alan L. Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma to fly home in their crippled Apollo ferry ship.

Flight director Charles Lewis said as it now stands, the Apollo would be used only if there were a major problem aboard Skylab requiring a quick evacuation by the astronauts. A rescue ship being prepared at Cape Kennedy will not be ready for launch until Sept. 10.

The most significant of Saturday's problems was a "large magnitude" short circuit between two major electrical distribution systems in Skylab's sun-watching observatory. Lewis said it knocked out one of two television systems in the observatory but did not affect Skylab's main power system.

Barring further problems in the observatory, it appeared the short would not interfere with the ship's research of the sun. Flight controllers told the astronauts to refrain from turning on the observatory's telescopes until engineers studied the situation.

Lewis said for a while it appeared there was a major new problem in the Apollo, involving a helium leak, but the trouble was traced to nothing more serious than difficulty with instruments on the ground. The Apollo, which earlier lost two of four control rocket units, was all right this time.

"That gave us a real scare with the problems that we've got presently in the command module," Lewis said at a news conference.

The astronauts had a false fire alarm in Skylab in the afternoon. The shrill alarm went off while Lousma was talking to mission control and Bean said the warning came from the ship's wardroom.

Marshall, Douglas Differ Over Rulings On Bombing

BUCKING AWAY — Bobby Hughs of Dallas holds on as the bull he's riding bucks during competition Friday night at the 27th annual Top O' Texas Rodeo. Hughs scored 66 points, the second best for Friday. (Photo by Terry Hanna)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With the backing of his other colleagues, Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall Saturday wiped out a decision by fellow Justice William O. Douglas—and the hopes of antiwar forces—for an immediate halt to U.S. bombing in Cambodia.

A few hours after the vacationing Douglas telephoned from Yakima, Wash., ordering the bombing ended at once, Marshall reversed his action by granting a Justice Department request to block the original bombing halt ordered by a lower court effective July 27.

It was the second time in three days that Marshall had gotten the case challenging the bombing as unconstitutional. And for the second time, Marshall ruled that the case must make its way through the usual appeals process without advance Supreme Court intervention.

Marshall said the July 27 bombing halt was "stayed pending further order by this court." This seemed to indicate the justices fully expected to receive an appeal from the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New York, which now has the case, no matter which way that court decides.

In his five-page opinion, the staunchly liberal Douglas, 74, said he was ordering an immediate bombing halt to avoid further bloodshed in Cambodia.

"This case in its stark realities involves the grim consequences of a capital case," he said, and to deny it "would catapult our airmen as well as Cambodian peasants into the death zone."

But Marshall polled his other fellow justices by telephone and said all agreed on the narrower technical point that they should await the appellate court's decision before they act.

The appeals court has scheduled a hearing on the bombing challenge for Aug. 8—one week before all U.S. combat activity is scheduled to end in Cambodia under orders from Congress.

Marshall cancelled out Douglas' order just as Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., who took the bombing challenge to court in the first place, issued a short-lived statement, rejoicing over Douglas' decision.

"For the first time in 10 years, this country will not be at war," she said. "No more desperately needed tax dollars will go any more to fuel this unconstitutional war."

The Justice Department had told Douglas at a hearing Friday that ending the bombing now would be "extremely disruptive." When he received word of Douglas' decision Saturday morning, Deputy Solicitor General Daniel M. Friedman promptly asked the Supreme Court to stay the original U.S. District Court bombing halt order.

Throughout the day of legal maneuvering, the Pentagon continued its bombing operations in Cambodia without interruption.

A Pentagon spokesman said there would be no interruption of the air raids as long as administration lawyers were seeking to circumvent Douglas' order in the Supreme Court.

The White House had no comment on Douglas' ruling, but Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., called it "a monstrous and arrogant power grab."

The bombing and all other U.S. combat activities in Cambodia were scheduled to end anyway at midnight, Aug. 14, a deadline imposed by Congress and reluctantly accepted by President Nixon.

Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger issued orders to American commanders Friday to cease all operations in Cambodia as of Aug. 15 except for unarmed reconnaissance flights and shipments of $187 million worth of military equipment to the Cambodian army.

New Daily Bought By Freedom Chain

SANTA ANA, Calif. —Purchase of The Kinston (North Carolina) Free Press, a 13,000 circulation afternoon daily, by Freedom Newspapers, Inc. was announced Saturday by C.H. Hoiles, chairman of the board of Freedom.

The sale was negotiated by Freedom Newspapers with agents of the estates of Henry G. Braxton and Theo Pennington Braxton. This brings the 20th daily newspaper into the Freedom Newspapers group. It is the second North Carolina publication to be acquired by the Freedom Newspapers group, which also includes the Gastonia Gazette.

No purchase price was announced.

"We are delighted to become a part of the fine community of Kinston," Hoiles said. "We recognize Kinston as a growing community and we believe we can assist in its growth and development by fulfilling our obligation to be good citizens, helping to keep the people informed."

"We have already enjoyed the welcome hospitality of North Carolina through our experience in Gastonia, and we look forward to a similar beneficial association in Kinston."

Hoiles said no personnel changes are anticipated in the management and production of The Free Press.

Kinston is the county seat of Lenoir County located in southeast North Carolina, approximately 80 miles southeast of Raleigh. The addition of Kinston brings total Freedom Newspaper circulation to more than 553,000 daily.

Freedom Newspapers, with headquarters in Santa Ana, includes:

The Pampa Daily News; Santa Ana, Calif.; Register; Anaheim, Calif.; Bulletin; La Habra, Calif.; Star; Progress; Marysville, Calif.; Appeal Democrat; Turlock, Calif.; Daily Journal; Colorado Springs, Colo.; Gazette-Telegraph; Fort Pierce, Fla.; News Tribune; Fort Walton Beach, Fla.; Playground Daily News; Panama City, Fla.; News Herald.

Mahan Heads Winners Circle For ToT Rodeo

By CLAY LIVELY

The Top O' Texas Rodeo concluded last night at the Fairgrounds east of Pampa with, as might be suspected, Larry Mahan of Dallas taking top honors for the four day affair.

Mahan, five-time winner of the sport's all-around cowboy category, took first place in two events — saddle bronc and bareback riding.

Going into the rodeo this week, Mahan led in the all-around division for 1973 by over $10,000. His total for the year prior to the Top O' Texas was $38,104, compared to $29,015 for Bob Ragsdale of Chowchilla, Calif.

Ragsdale, who was injured recently, did not compete in the Top O' Texas Rodeo.

Rodeo clown Buck LeGrand, member of rodeo's Hall of Fame, narrowly avoided injury in last night's final event, Brahma bull riding.

Of the eight cowboys riding bulls in last night's final round, only three were able to stay on their bulls long enough to qualify for a score.

Richard Andrews of Baton Rouge, La., scored a 70 in last night's ride. That gave him first place for the four-day rodeo in the bull riding event.

Mahan scored a 94 to finish out of the money. Doug Shippe scored a 57 in last night's go-round.

On his ride, LeGrand got tangled up with the bull, Sunny Boy, and was tossed around the arena for a few anxious seconds before finally getting away and over the fence. LeGrand was not injured.

Over-all scores for the rodeo follow:

Calf roping — Barry Burk of

Duncan, Okla., and Jerry Stroud of Portales, N.M., 11.4.

Mike Goad of Briscoe, 11.5.

Steer wrestling — Bob L. Walker, 10.8. Duane Newton and Bill Robinson, 12.3.

Saddle bronc — Larry Mahan, 6.8. David Merrill and John McBeth, 6.7.

Barrel racing — Aridith Bruce, 17.7. Jeana Day, Janice Cook, Dixie Heaton, Linda Sultmeier, Carol O'Rourke and Thay Lewis, 18.1.

Bareback — Mahan, 68-68-136. Jerry Coble, 128. Jay Cannon, 125.

Bull riding — Richard Andrews, 70. Scott Rafferty, 69. Monty Taylor, 68.

Enrollment Procedures Announced For School

Pampa Independent School District has announced enrollment procedures for students entering Pampa schools for the coming year.

Among changes in the procedures will be those affecting Pampa High School and the new middle school at Sam Houston.

PHS students have a new method of registration this year. All students who have pre-enrolled will receive schedules by mail sometime during the coming week, Aug. 6-10.

Since they will receive their schedules by mail, students will not have to report to the school for official enrollment if they pre-enrolled and if there are no problems with schedules.

They will just need to report for the first day of school on Aug. 20 for the first period class at 8:30 a.m.

The change, school officials said, was initiated to conserve time and to provide for a smoother and more efficient beginning of school.

All PHS students who pre-enrolled should receive schedules by Friday, Aug. 10. Anyone not receiving a schedule by that date or having problems with scheduling should contact the school offices as soon as possible to set matters in order before the start of school.

Students new to the system and who have not pre-enrolled should also contact the offices as soon as possible to set a time for enrollment.

Procedures, with dates and times of enrollment, for the other schools are as follows:

Kindergarten — Aug. 16, 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., elementary school nearest to the child's home.

All children aged 5 years, 0 months through 5 years, 11 months, as of Sept. 1 are eligible to attend kindergarten. Participation in the program is wholly voluntary. Birth certificates and vaccine records are required.

Elementary — Aug. 17, 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Report cards and vaccine records required.

Houston middle school — New students must register Aug. 6 through Aug. 10, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Regular enrollment is set for Aug. 17, 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. All students must report to the school cafeteria. Report cards and vaccine records required.

Pampa Junior High — Students in grades 8 and 9 must report Aug. 17 at 8:30 a.m. in the school auditorium. New students must enroll Aug. 6-10 from 9 a.m. to noon.

School buses will run on enrollment day, Aug. 17, from 8:30 to 11 a.m.

Farmers Urged To Use Available Crop Acreage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration plans a campaign to persuade farmers to use every available acre in 1974 to expand supplies of key crops such as wheat and livestock feeds, a top Agriculture Department official said Saturday.

The drive would be built around provisions of a new farm bill that Congress passed late Friday and that President Nixon is expected to sign quickly.

The measure guarantees income protection for producers of feed grains, wheat and cotton in case overproduction sends market prices below new "support target" levels mandated for the four crop years beginning in 1974.

"We're going to put on a campaign to urge farmers to plant every acre they can...the demand for more supplies is there," J. Phil Campbell, undersecretary of Agriculture, said in an interview. "We're very happy to have a new farm bill under which this can be done."

Campbell said domestic and foreign demands for expanding food supplies will give farmers a chance to make more money than they could under older, restricted production programs.

Pony Express Riders Carry Mail Faster

FORT STOCKTON, Tex. (UPI)—The mail went through Alpine to Fort Stockton in far West Texas Saturday, by horseback and 21 hours-ahead of time at that.

"We did it in four hours," said Chamber of Commerce manager Clark Carpenter. "Ordinarily this same mail run takes 25 hours. It ordinarily travels either through El Paso or Midland and those are trips of 300 miles or 600 miles, respectively.

"Since it's only 66 miles from Alpine to Fort Stockton, we thought we could shoot the postal service down rather badly."

The city used 55 riders, members of the sheriff's posse and a local riding club, to make the run. At the same time, a group from Alpine was making a run from Fort Stockton home.

"I do think it'll have its effect," said Carpenter. "I think it'll make postal authorities more aware of what some rural towns go through to receive their mail. It seems a little bit ridiculous."

Lon Nol's Assistant Feared Captured By Insurgent Reds

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian insurgent forces pressing forward on the outskirts of Phnom Penh Saturday may have captured Gen. Chhoum Chhoum, personal assistant to President Lon Nol, the military command said.

Cambodian troops, fighting with the support of U.S. warplanes and their own artillery, battled the insurgents for the second consecutive day along Highway 1 three miles from the southeastern limits of the capital.

In South Vietnam, the Viet Cong issued a formal warning that any attempt by South Vietnamese forces to assist the Lon Nol government by moving into Cambodia could provoke a renewal of fighting in South Vietnam.

The Cambodian military command said Chhoum disappeared from his villa four miles from Phnom Penh off Highway 1 as the large force of insurgents battled government troops in the same area. A command spokesman said there was fear for his safety and that he may have been captured.

Other military sources said, however, that the general narrowly escaped capture by fleeing his home and now possibly was attempting to make contact with the government's front line. Chhoum normally works in Phnom Penh with Lon Nol, who resides in the capital.

The defense of the capital along the southeastern front was hampered by thousands of refugees streaming into the city from suburban villages that have been turned into battle grounds. Cambodian officials cancelled requests for American bombing along the front line of fighting because of the closeness of government troops, rebels and refugees.

Cambodian military officials and police feared that many rebel troops were infiltrating Phnom Penh along with the refugees.

The insurgents advanced 15 miles in two days on the southeastern front before Saturday, when Cambodian troops began using artillery in an attempt to make up for the loss of U.S. air strikes on the fighting line itself. Field reports said there was also close fighting by infantry troops, but there were no details or casualty reports.

Jazz Guitarist Eddie Condon Dies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jazz great Eddie Condon whose driving, Chicago style of guitar playing sparked bands for 40 years from the 1920s to the 1960s, died Saturday of a bone disease at Mt. Sinai Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 68.

Condon, whose guitar was a rarity in basic jazz, helped make New York City a mecca for fans who flocked to his famous club, Eddie Condon's, in Greenwich Village in the post World War II years, and later when he moved it uptown in the days when 52nd Street rang with great jazz bands.

He was born Albert Edwin Condon in Goodland, Ind., Nov. 16, 1904. His family moved to Illinois when he was two because, joked Condon, who was as fast with a quip as he was with his guitar, the Hoosier State "went dry and I couldn't take that."

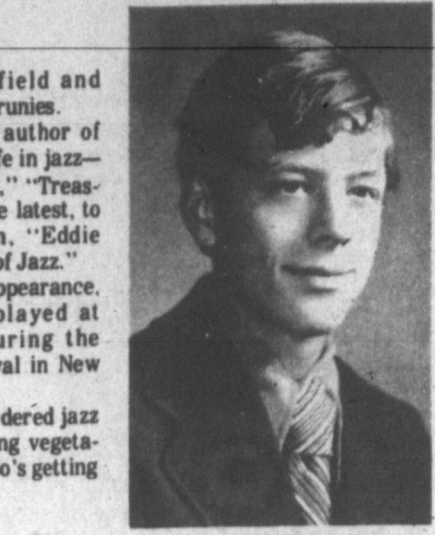

Condon quit school at 15 and headed for Chicago's Roaring Twenties night spots where a new school of jazz—Chicago style—was being nursed into life by such youngsters as Bix Beiderbecke, Gene Krupa, Bud Freeman, and Joe Sullivan.

He joined a Chicago band, Homer Peavey's Jazz Bandits. In 1925 he and Red McKenzie formed the Chicago Rhythm Kings, whose records are now collectors items.

He and McKenzie moved to New York in 1928 and started another band, the Mound City Blue Blowers, consisting of four instruments—the banjo, guitar, comb and leather suitcase, and became the hit of New York cafe society until big band swing came into vogue in the 1930s.

During those years Condon played in Artie Shaw's band, and helped spearhead a rival of Dixieland style jazz in the 1940s, organizing jazz concerts in Carnegie Hall and then setting up his own club.

Condon's sidemen were legion, but many of his best records featured such stars as trumpeters Wild Bill Davison

RANDY ROBERTSON ...in student Who's Who

Robertson Named To Who's Who

Randy Robertson, a senior at Pampa High School, was recently notified that he is to be listed in the 7th annual edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1972-1973, the largest student award publication in the nation.

Robertson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Robertson, east of the city.

In addition to having his biography published in the book, he will be eligible to compete for one of ten $1,000 scholarships funded by the publishers.

He will also be invited to participate in the firm's annual Survey of High Achievers later in the academic year.

Robertson plans to attend college upon graduation in May. Students from over 18,000 public, private and parochial high schools throughout the nation are recognized for leadership and accomplishments in athletics, academics, activities or community service in the book.

Less than two per cent of the junior and senior class students nation-wide are awarded this recognition.

Price, Others Request More Action On MIAs

Congressman Bob Price of Pampa has joined with 48 other House members in co-sponsoring a resolution calling on the United States government to cease "all consideration of aid, trade, diplomatic recognition or any other form of communication, travel or accommodation" with North Vietnam or the Viet Cong unless they begin honoring their agreements to facilitate the search for our men missing in action.

"Agreements of Jan. 27 and June 13, 1973, signed by the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong specifically spell out that they will help us locate graves of our servicemen, exhume and repatriate their bodies, and also pass to us any information they have on those still unaccounted for," Price said.

"Instead they are continuing to act in bad faith. For example, our teams have viewed some graves in the Hanoi area said to be those of American casualties. However, our men were not allowed to exhume or examine even one grave - nor have we been permitted to visit a single crash site in enemy held territory."

Congressman Price concluded that as long as there are more than 1,200 Americans listed as MIAs or possible POW's in Southeast Asia, "we must make every effort to resolve their status, man by man. To do any less would be unwarranted cruelty to the families of those missing."

Sen. John Tower has introduced a similar resolution in the Senate. Price noted.

SPA Directors Slate Seminar

Directors of Canadian Production Credit Association will hear one of the nation's top leaders in the field of director responsibility at a PCA director - manager seminar in Amarillo Friday, Aug. 10.

Area participants include H.H. Keahy, White Deer; Wallace Hamker, Booker; C.B. Henderson, Wheeler; Hugh Parsell and L.F. Etheredge, both of Canadian. Larry Albin of Canadian, PCA president, and George Cook, also of Canadian, PCA vice president, will accompany the group.

Dr. Vernon E. Schneider, Texas A & M University professor and past president of the American Institute of Cooperation, will outline director duties to the more than 60 participants.

The seminar is designed to specifically meet the needs of Association directors, with emphasis on roles, responsibilities, and decision analysis. Albin said.

Television notes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Truman Capote will write an original drama for NBC, "Uncle Sam's Hard Luck Hotel," a 90-minute affair dealing with a "half-way house" for convicts. This past season Capote has monitored a couple of documentaries about prison conditions.

***
Additions to the CBS staff for reporting National Football League games in the fall are former NFL stars Timmy Brown, Tommy Mason, Peter Retzlaff, Bart Starr and Wayne Walker.

***
ABC and host-master of ceremonies Monty Hall have reached a long-term production agreement for daytime, nighttime and late-night television programs. Hall's "Let's Make a Deal," now in its 10th daytime year, is included in the deal.

***
Screen Gems will create a 90-minute video movie based on the life of late Pittsburgh baseball star, Roberto Clemente, idol of Puerto Rico who lost his life in an airplane crash Jan. 1 while on a mercy mission to earthquake-damaged Nicaragua. NBC will carry the show.

***
Barbra Streisand, who hasn't been on television for five years, will have a CBS one-hour special in 1973-74. The singer's last video stint was in 1968.

Kent State Study Renewed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Saying there were "several facts missing" from its original investigation, the Justice Department began a new inquiry Friday into the fatal shooting of four Kent State University students by National Guardsmen during nationwide antiwar protests in 1970.

At a news conference, Pottinger said he had uncovered some new evidence and that in reviewing the record of the case, "we think there were several facts missing."

Kent State President Glenn A. Olds, reached on vacation in Greensboro, Vt., said he welcomed Richardson's decision as "the wisest step to take."

Vietnam War Halt Doesn't Stop Costs

By WARREN L. NELSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although the Indochina War is sputtering to a halt after eight years and $110 billion, the hidden and greater part of the full costs of the war have only just begun.

Those who anticipate war funds will now be available for social welfare uses should note the debt interest and veterans pensions stemming from the Civil War came to more than four times the actual cost of the fighting.

In fact, the books on the Civil War are not closed yet. Although the last veteran, a 117-year-old Confederate, died in 1959, 545 widows and children of both Confederate and Union soldiers are still receiving pensions from the Veterans Administration.

The cost of those pensions is now a heavy sum compared to that of veterans of recent wars, amounting to $618,000 last year, according to the VA.

Books Not Closed
The last veteran of the Vietnam War, however, will undoubtedly still be alive in the 2050s and the last dependent might survive into the 22nd Century if, as in the past, some aged veterans take teen-age brides.

The books on the American Revolution were not closed until the last dependent, Phoebe M. Palmeter of Brookfield, N.Y., died at the age of 90 in 1911—130 years after Lord Cornwallis surrendered his Redcoats to George Washington at Yorktown, Va. The total cost of that war came to $255 million of which 60 per cent was interest on the debt and pensions for veterans.

Of the $14.4 billion total cost of the Civil War (not including sums spent on those ubiquitous monuments) 78 per cent was debt interest and veterans benefits.

The veterans really got organized after the Spanish-

American War. The total cost was $5.9 billion of which only 5 per cent was for the fighting and 1.4 per cent for debt interest, since that 13-week war came cheap and was quickly paid off. But veterans' benefits took up the remainder, or almost 20 times more than the military costs of the war.

Pensions Are Costly
Some 2,000 veterans and 31,000 widows and children of Spanish-American War veterans still draw VA checks at a cost of $35.8 million last year.

The books on the more recent wars are still wide open, of course. To date, World War II veterans benefits and debt interest have cost about $160 billion—less so far than the $315 billion spent to fight the war but considerably more than the $110 billion military cost of the Vietnam War.

Altogether the VA mails pension and compensation checks each month to 5 million persons, or one in every 40 Americans.

Pure Water
Not only is the Amazon River the largest river on earth, but its waters are among the purest. Water tested by hydrologists was found to have a chemical purity nearly equivalent to that of distilled water.

Mark Fein: murderer?

Friends desert a loyal, lonely family

By Helen Hennessy

Second of two related stories

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Last July 19th was her son's birthday. So Elena Fein packed a huge cake, several quick-frozen shell steaks she had cooked the night before and a variety of salads. Her husband, Irving, put them into his car and drove them to Greenhaven prison, where their son, Mark, is serving 30 years-to-life for murder.

Fein has continued to insist he is innocent, ever since he was sentenced nearly 10 years ago. His family believes he is telling the truth.

One day he had been water skiing and came home for breakfast, his stepmother said. "I was making silver dollar pancakes, a favorite of his. He said, 'Take a look at your cat and you won't want to eat anymore than I do.'"

The cat had been in a fight and was bleeding badly. It made Mark sick, she said. "I'll never believe that he could shoot a man."

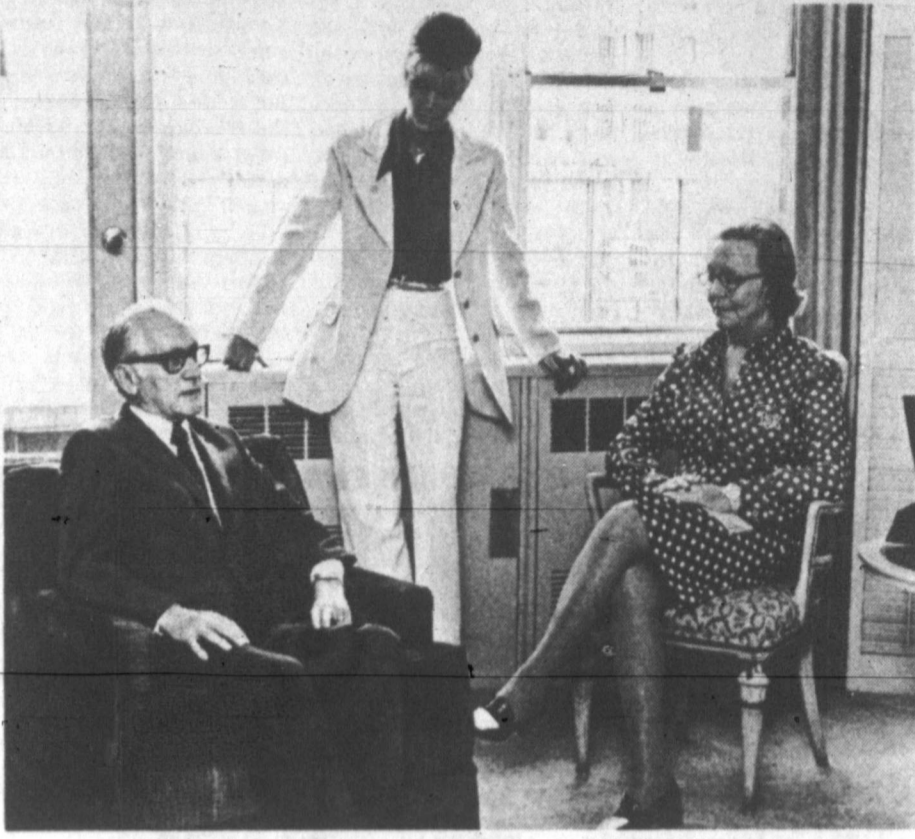

Her daughter, Carolyn Daley, who grew up with her stepbrother — the Feins have been married 25 years — laughed ruefully and added: "And with two guns! It's absurd."

Fein was convicted of killing a bookie to whom he owed $7,000 on a World Series bet — a comparatively small sum since he is a millionaire himself.

What is it like to be the parents of a convicted murderer?

"Mark went to prison nearly 10 years ago," Mrs. Fein said, "and we haven't had a guest at our dinner table since. When I meet old friends on the street they look embarrassed and tell me they would have called, but didn't know what to say."

Just before the trial, Mrs. Fein recalls, "we had a very close friend in Florida who gave us the key to her house when we sold our own." But when Fein was convicted, Mrs. Fein discovered that suddenly she wasn't a friend anymore and we weren't welcome."

Mrs. Fein, a Catholic, says that without her faith and her sense of humor, she would have given up by now. As the years pass, she watches her husband getting thinner and thinner.

Carolyn, who has gone on television and radio with her stepfather to promote public interest in what she feels is a miscarriage of justice, has suffered considerably through her own children.

"I've lived in my building for four years," she said, "and one of my neighbors saw Dad and me on television and now she won't let her little girl play with my daughter."

"During the trial," Carolyn said, "my husband and I would go to the club at Sands Point, L.I., where we lived. There would be laughing, talking and drinking. And when we walked in, it all stopped."

"My children knew they had an Uncle Mark," Carolyn continued, "but when I had to go on television about this, I felt they should be told the whole story. After we told them, my son said, 'Mom, I want to write to Uncle Mark. I'll give him the baseball scores.' I wanted to cry with pride," she added.

Whether Fein is innocent or guilty, the truth is that his family has been badly hurt. It is an unusually close family. Even Fein's natural mother visits him in prison along with his stepmother.

The sole exception is Fein's former wife, who divorced him after his trial. She has changed his children's names and refuses to let their grandparents see them at all.

Monsignor Gustav J.

Schultheiss, once an advisor to the late Cardinal Spellman, has taken a great interest in Mark's case. "The family has great courage but has suffered severely from the desertion of their friends since Mark's conviction," he said.

According to Monsignor Schultheiss, Fein's father was a self-made man who was taught by his own father to make the containers that have made him rich. But he is 71 now and if Fein has to serve the full 30 years he will be 91 when his son is released.

He showed me color photos of himself and his son taken at the prison. He showed them sadly and proudly.

"He looks so gaunt," he said quietly. And all the while he talked, he looked the pictures over and over again.

"Why me?" he asked.

Books

By United Press International
Hazard, by Gerald A. Browne.

(Arbor House, $7.95) Browne has followed his successful suspense novel, 11 Harrowhouse, with a real humdinger of a spy story that makes even the implausible sound plausible.

From page one, the reader is caught up in the plot by Arab extremists to wipe out Israel's population by stealing and releasing cylinders of a death-dealing nerve gas that have been disposed of by the U.S. military in the deepest part of the Mid-Atlantic.

Freelance intelligence agent Norman "Haz" Hazard discovers the plot while trying to avenge the death of his older brother, Carl, a U.S. foreign service officer who had been killed by the extremists.

Naturally, Hazard has a beautiful, brainy blonde mistress, Keven, who helps in the pursuit. She's a health food nut.

Both Hazard and Keven also are participating in a serious study of mental telepathy. This project helps send our man where he wants to be and needs to be to unravel the mystery of his brother's death and, simultaneously, thwart the Arabs.

To tell more of the plot would be unfair. Who wants to spoil the best suspense story in many a long month?

The Great Reversals, by Morris L. Ernst. (Weybright and Talley-McKay, $7.95) By studying the cases, from John Marshall to the Burger court, in which the Supreme Court has reversed lower court rulings in response to a changing society, Ernst shows the U.S. Constitution as more than just words on paper but as a document that grows and therefore lives.

Jason and Medea, by John Gardner. (Knopf, $5.95) The author of The Sunlight Dialogues and Grendel (the Beowulf legend from the monster's point of view) now puts Euripides in modern dress and language to present the story of Jason and Medea (he spells it Medea) as a contemporary allegory that's intriguing but trying for all but a limited audience.

The Villains: Inside the London Underworld, by Peta Fordham. (Harper & Row, $7.95) Mrs. Fordham is a social chronicler of the London underworld, which has its upper and lower orders and snobberies in crime and criminals to match anything found among Burke's Peerage.

Millie, by E. V. Cunningham. (Morrow, $5.95) Al Brody is a fat, balding Los Angeles press agent, scorned by his wife and dropped as an embarrassment by the politician-client whose success he engineered. Then he falls for Millie and they both become involved in a murder-narcotics mess that Brody can barely understand, until the well-crafted ending when he understands too well.

A Dying Fall by Hildegarde Dolson. (Lippincott, $5.95) Murder in a small Connecticut town, enlivened by such characters as an iron hand-velvet glove aging widow, a come-repressed New Englander, a pair of arty homosexuals and a woman not too young but newly blooming.

Floods Tear Through Seven Communities

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N.J. (UPI) — Floods spawned by a day-long downpour tore through seven northern New Jersey communities Thursday, ripping up streets, tumbling walls and floating cars "like rowboats" out of parking lots.

Six persons died as a result of the flooding, five of them in North Plainfield, which sits below a canyon in the Watchung Mountains where the floodwaters built up.

Col. George E. Marshall of the state Civil Defense said 797 persons were evacuated from eight municipalities. Emergencies were declared in seven: North Plainfield, Bound Brook, Maplewood, Middlesex Borough, Dunellen, Manville and Plainfield, he said.

Authorities in North Plainfield estimated damage at $2 million. Middlesex Borough officials said the figure could reach $1 million.

Gov. William T. Cahill was to fly over the region in a helicopter today to determine whether to ask President Nixon to declare it a disaster area.

"Cars went down Somerset Street like rowboats. They were drifting out of the parking lots—brand new cars," said a North Plainfield man.

One of those drowned, Keith Stewart, 21, of North Plainfield, was found in his submerged car. A witness said, "The current was so great you couldn't get to him. It sounded like the Colorado Rapids, that's how bad it was."

Another, Richard Sciarretta, 23, of Bernardsville, was driving in the Watchung hills when he was swept from his truck into a river. Stephen Langhorn, 15, fell off a raft and was swept under a car.

William Clark, 55, of Plainfield, owner of an auto dealership in North Plainfield, suffered an apparent heart attack trying to hold back rising waters.

In Cranford, two policemen in a rescue boat found a boy on a doorstep. He was wearing a life jacket and holding his cat. He put a clothes basket with three kittens and two other cats into the boat and said, "Watch the cats." The policemen rescued the boy, his mother, Mrs. Susan Nagel, a brother and sister — and the cats.

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Rain fell on this southwestern Pennsylvania community Sunday just as it has on July 29 for 82 of the past 95 years.

Rain began falling late Saturday night and continued well into Sunday morning.

The downpour meant another hat for Justice of the Peace John Daly who each year makes a bet with a celebrity that it will rain in Waynesburg on July 29.

In previous years he won hats from Arnold Palmer and Bob Hope. This year he won a hat from Pittsburgh sportscaster Billy Curry of KDKA.

Youth Center Report

Memberships and Participation
Newcomers to Pampa should be interested in this full explanation about our use of the Center.

First of all the Center is a private non-profit organization run for the pleasure of Pampans and persons from surrounding areas. Our operational revenue comes from two sources — Memberships and donations.

Several individuals and businesses and civic clubs donate to the Center each year so that the cost of your membership can be kept at the very minimum of cost.

Memberships are divided into two categories according to use. The limited membership allows you to use the gym, recreation hall and swimming pool along with locker room use. Any activity in these buildings is included in your membership.

For an individual limited membership the cost is only $5 for six months or $8 per year. For a family limited membership the cost is only $12 for six months or $20 a year. This includes all members of the immediate family.

The more elaborate membership called our unlimited membership allows you use of all of the above facilities plus the use of the new health facility.

Our new health facility is one of the most used buildings we have. Housed in it is all our exercise machines, weights, dumbbells, health walkers, incline boards, sit-up boards, bicycles both manual and motorized, jungle pulley machine, multiple press machine, leg and thigh curl machines, leg press machine, beauty bars, sun area, punching bag and many other machines. Also there are two handball and racquetball courts, dressing room, reception room and sauna room.

Hours for the women are from 9 a.m. till 11:45 a.m. each morning Monday through Saturday and also on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7-10 p.m. Men's hours are from 11:45 a.m. till 9:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 11:45 a.m. on Tuesday and Thursdays and 12 noon till 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Membership fees for the unlimited membership for individuals are $65 for six months or $118 a month. We have an installment plan for your convenience. A husband-wife combination costs only $90 for six months or $166 a year.

New Swim Lessons

The summer swim lesson program has been our most successful ever, but now we must turn our minds to new heights for the coming school year.

During the school year our swim lesson programs revert back to the afternoon sessions from 4-5 and 5-6 p.m. This enables all of the school children to be able to enroll in the program without interfering with their school work.

Classes during the school year meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays for 10 meeting days. This gives each child 10 hours of training.

Classes are limited to 15 in polywogs and 25 in each of the other classes. Polywogs classes will last 30 minutes each day because of the attention span of the younger children.

Enrollment is open to the general public and you do not have to be a member to enroll. It is more inexpensive to be a member, because you receive the lessons free of charge.

Enrollment in all the classes is free to members and $4 to non-members. Members may call in to enroll, but non-members must come by and pay the enrollment fee.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Father James is properly shocked by the sex data below. But you dedicated workers in churches can take heart. For the delinquency, criminality and adultery cited in America, as well as Italy and elsewhere, are chiefly among the pagan 50 percent of the population!

CASE X-578: Father James, aged 43, is alarmed.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I recently read the report of a survey of Italian wives.

"Tragically, 25 percent of them reported being unfaithful to their mates!

"And about 35 percent more said they would enter into adulterous affairs if they ever had the opportunity.

"Yet Italy is supposed to be a very religious country!

"For our Roman Catholic faith claims the vast majority of Italians as members.

"So what is wrong with the world nowadays?"

MORAL EROSION

Moral erosion has become unusually evident during the past generation. Why?

Because of the permissive doctrines of child rearing, so ably advocated in America by Dr. Spool.

Plus the dabbling of church leaders in politics!

Many of the former leading pulpits of America are now merely sounding boards used by smart aleck clergymen to attack the "establishment" that has actually furnished them their free seminary education and salaries.

And it isn't fair to ascribe the moral turpitude of those Italian wives to the reduced influence of the Roman Catholic Church.

For most of our church denominations cite large enrollments, yet not 50 percent of them are actually very active or dedicated members!

Indeed, Protestant churches don't command a 25 percent Sunday attendance here in America.

Billy Graham said all church attendance isn't 5 percent in England!

So it would be more scientific to break down such data as those cited regarding Italian wives.

How many of those adulterous females do you think are active, dedicated members of their local churches?

Here in America we claim about 65 percent total church membership of our 210,000,000 men, women and children.

That 65 percent includes Jewish, Catholic and Protestant enrollments.

Which means there are actually almost 75,000,000 pagan Americans!

For they don't even have their names on any church roster!

And of the remaining 135,000,000 "nominal" members of Jewish, Catholic and Protestant faiths, only about 50 percent are what we call active, faithful parishioners.

Which means that the church backbone of America is maintained by less than 75,000,000 out of our total 210,000,000 people!

So our crime cases, as well as those Italian adultery figures, are not likely to be chalked up against these faithful church attendants!

Oh, some of them may backslide occasionally but our zooming crime rate and sexual promiscuity are NOT due to these 75,000,000 faithful churchgoers!

Same is likewise true of adulterous wives in Italy. They may be "nominal" Catholics but don't follow the dictates of their church.

Indeed, surveys show that as high as 50 percent of Catholic wives in America use other methods than the church approved "rhythm theory" for birth control and also approve of abortion.

But they are usually not the hard core, faithful parishioners upon whose shoulders depends the integrity of every nation and all virile churches.

Never grow discouraged, for probably a majority of all people will never enter Heaven! Matthew 10:32, eliminates at least 50 percent!

Business Today

NEW YORK (UPI) — John M. Shaheen, 57, who already has sunk $6 million in a New York afternoon newspaper he'll launch next March, is one of the nation's lesser known multi-millionaires.

Because of that newspaper venture and his growing oil empire, Shaheen apparently has decided to shed some light on a career in which he has made an estimated $200 million to $250 million since the end of World War II.

Shaheen told UPI he shunned publicity in the past entirely for business reasons, not because he has a fetish about privacy like a Howard Hughes or a Dan Ludwig. Most of his fortune has been made in the independent oil refining business, a world in which cards are played close to the vest for both financial and political reasons.

One reason Shaheen got interested in starting a Manhattan newspaper is because he plans to build a newsprint mill adjoining an oil refinery he is building at Come By Chance, Newfoundland. His oil ventures extend from California to Newfoundland and Portugal.

Within the next two years Shaheen expects his oil refining empire to expand greatly.

There will be about $1 billion invested in it by then, much of it put up by British banks and Canadian government sources," he said.

"We are among the world's biggest borrowers," Shaheen said. "We keep equity capital largely in our own hands. I control only one public company, McMillan Ring-Free Oil Co., which specializes in lubricants."

When the occasion justifies it, Shaheen has a flair for the dramatic. He recently chartered the world's biggest ocean liner, Queen Elizabeth II, to take 1,200 persons to Come By Chance, Newfoundland, next October for the dedication of the first of three oil refineries he is building in Canada's maritime provinces.

He said chartering the Queen Elizabeth was a simple solution to a difficult problem. "We have plenty of deep water there to moor the Q-E II," he explained, "but we don't have anywhere near enough luxury shore accommodations for 1,200 guests."

In the oil business Shaheen is known as "a 600,000 barrel a day trader," shrewd and tough with an intricate knowledge of the industry's technical, financial, distribution and political complexities. "I am concentrated in refining and have no desire to buck the major companies by integrated operations," he said.

"We acquire crude under long-term contracts from the Middle East, Southeast Asia and other sources," he explained. "We sell part of our refined products to regular long-term customers, but we also serve as a supplier to major companies and larger independents; a supplier of products which they need but not enough to justify new production facilities. Say a company needs 10,000 more barrels of kerosene a day. It wouldn't pay them to build a plant to make it. We can refine it for them reasonably and make a good profit."

Shaheen is interested in getting into petrochemicals, and he has exploration and drilling investments in the North Sea and Canada's tar sands.

Born in Tampico, Ill., the son of a farmer of Lebanese extraction, he worked his way through the University of Illinois and the University of Chicago and after World War II began his business career by selling pumps to gas stations.

Investment Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — E.F. Hutton & Co. does not believe the July rally in the stock market was a "flash in the pan." The firm says in "terms of the longevity and breath, the rally, unlike its predecessors this year, had definite substance and also succeeded in breaking a six-month downturn which is viewed as a significant technical accomplishment."

Wright Bankers' Service says it would recommend a "cautious and selective" approach in "making new commitments, and continue to accumulate reserves from new deposits and proceeds of sale." The firm says the investor should wait to analyze the economic slowdown.

W.E. Hutton & Co. is encouraged by the diversification of institutions in the market recently, but warns the trend may be only "a cloud the size of a man's hand." The firm says it was gratifying to note the breadth of the July rally "was broad, and that even some of the 'fallen angels' rallied."

"The sudden upturn (in the stock market) has been rather broad, extending into the American Stock Exchange and over-the-counter markets," according to DuPont Walston. The firm said it is encouraged by the breadth, but expects some profit taking.

CONSCIENCE PAYMENT

RENSELAER, Ind. (UPI) — Ralph Fendig, a drug store owner, says a young woman walked up to him and handed him a $10 bill, but "didn't buy a thing."

However, the surprised Fendig accepted the payment after the woman told him, "a couple of years ago, I took four pairs of sunglasses and some cards from your store. I don't know exactly how much it's all worth, but I want to pay you, anyway."

POLLY'S POINTERS 'Old But Forgotten' Way to Change Baby

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I am answering Mrs. B. G. D. who never knows where to put her baby to change his diaper when they are out shopping. An old but forgotten method of diaper changing is to lay baby, stomach down, across your lap and change him back side up. It takes doing this a few times to get used to it, but once mastered, many mothers prefer it to a table when it is available. Baby cannot kick and squirm as much on his stomach and he cannot roll over and fall off if you hold one hand firmly on his back. Baby will certainly like your lap better than a cold hard table. It is probably far more sanitary than a public table. — MRS. W. J. G.

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell Mrs. B. G. D. that I always take my baby shopping in his stroller and when he is wet and needs changing I simply lower the back, lay him down and change him right there. — MRS. J. D. S.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I hope the girls have some suggestions for making napkin rings with the individual names of the family members on them. I thought of using cardboard but that is as far as I have gotten. While our central air conditioning fan is on I spray a disinfectant deodorizer up around the vents and that spreads all over the room making it smell much nicer and clears the air. — GLADYS.

DEAR POLLY — When wrapped gifts must travel a long way in the car trunk, put them in a plastic bag (leave some air in it). You will find this keeps the wrappings pretty and in good shape. My Pet Peeve is with the manufacturers of children's pajamas who put the snaps on the backs. My little daughter likes to dress and undress herself and always has to put her pajama tops on backwards so she can snap them herself. — LOUISE

DEAR POLLY — To save time and energy while sewing I press small seams open by rubbing the opened seams over the light bulb on the sewing machine. The heat from the light will keep those many small seams flat until you have a larger one to press. This enables one to press most seams at one time and saves getting up from the machine to do each one separately. Sew curtain rings to the backs of children's stuffed toys and hang them on the walls of their rooms out of the way. They make a gay, attractive display and can be taken down easily for playtime. — FAY

DEAR POLLY — We live in a damp humid climate. To keep my closets dry and sweet smelling I keep several unwrapped bars of toilet soap in each closet. Some are on the shelves and others on the floor. This keeps our clothes from getting moldy and acquiring mildew spots. — EMMA JO

Miss Peggy Lynn Lynch and Donald Harold Hoggatt were united in marriage at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 4, in the First Free Will Baptist Church of Pampa.

Rev. and Mrs. L.C. Lynch, 821 N. Dwight, are the parents of the bride. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoggatt, 712 Doucette.

THE CEREMONY

The Rev. V.B. True, McLoud, Okla., officiated for the double-ring ceremony, before a background of candelabra decorated with foliage holding yellow tapers flanked by baskets of orange and yellow gladioli. Mrs. Melba Lynch, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Lee Gillis as she sang "More" and "I Love You Truly."

THE BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, wore a formal gown of lace over bridal satin, designed with an empire waistline, long full sleeves accented with wide cuffs, and a chapel length train. The dress had satin accents at the waistline and at the neckline. Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a headpiece of daisies. The veil was enhanced with lace appliques of daisies. The gown was created by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Melba Lynch. She carried a white Bible, borrowed from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Glenda Lynch, Clovis, N.M., with a cascade of white stephanotis and white phalaenopsis orchids.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed, and something blue, and she placed a six pence in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Betty Carter, Buena Park, Calif., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Joann Davis, Pampa, was bridesmaid. Both wore identical formal gowns of orange floral chiffon over polyester. The dresses were designed with princess styling, V-neckline, and long full sheer sleeves with wide cuffs. Their headpieces were of yellow cascading flowers. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow marigolds with accents of mock orange.

Miss Cathy Andis, Pampa, was candle lighter. She wore a formal gown of soft yellow polyester crepe accented with orange ribbon. Her candle was accented with daisies.

Ronnie Moore, Lubbock, served as best man. Groomsman was Ross Strickland of Seminole, and ushers were Lester Lynch, Pampa, and Ronald Lynch, Clovis, N.M., brothers of the bride.

MOTHERS

The bride's mother wore a navy blue and white polyester dress, with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a polyester dress of mint green and beige and matching accessories. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Jones, Memphis, wore a pale blue dress of polyester and matching accessories. Their corsages were white French carnations.

RECEPTION

For the reception held in the church annex, the serving table was covered with a yellow cloth divided cake was decorated with orange and was topped with wedding bells. The bridegroom's table was decorated with a white cloth, chocolate cake, and decorated with yellow flowers. The coffee service completed the table setting.

Serving the wedding cake was Mrs. Glenda Lynch, Clovis. The punch service was attended by Mrs. Billie Jo Jackson and Mrs. Mary Andis both of Pampa. The bridegroom's cake was served by Mrs. Sue Hoggatt, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, of Pampa. The coffee service was attended by Mrs. Bobbie Green, Pampa. Guests were registered by Mrs. Linda Stokes, Pampa.

For the wedding trip to Dallas, the bride traveled in an orange and white dress of nylon with white accessories and the corsage was lifted from her bouquet.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Pampa High School and has been employed with Marie Foundations since graduation. The bridegroom was a 1967 graduate of PHS and attended Clarendon Junior College for two years and West Texas State University where he is working on a bachelor of business administration degree. They will make their home at 312 E. Central, Amarillo.

PRE-NUPITAL EVENTS

The bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower on July 5, at the Flame Room. Hostesses were Meses. Joann Davis, Lee Gillis, Delores Moore, Linda Stokes, Billie Jo Jackson, and Wanda Winegart.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mack Jones, Memphis, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Jones, Randy and Terry, Irvin; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lynch, Kevin and Rhonda, Clovis; Mrs. Betty Carter, James, Desiree, and Denise, Buena Park, Calif.; Mrs. Merle Moore, Ronnie, and Chris, Mrs. Phyllis Lynch, all of Lubbock, Ross Strickland, Seminole, Rev. and Mrs. True, McLoud, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Rawls, Lawton, Okla.; and J.P. Stephens, Liberal Kan.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Paulette Howard, Michael Edgar

The marriage of Miss Mary Paulette Howard and Michael Edgar was solemnized at 7 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 4, 1973, in the First Baptist Church, Pampa, Tex.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Howard, 1800 Dogwood, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dee Edgar, 2100 N. Russell, both of Pampa.

THE CEREMONY
Roy Kornegay officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Miss Kathy Gallman, organist, accompanied Miss Glenna Hudgins, vocalist, as she sang "Twelfth of Never," and the "Wedding Song." Other music selections were the theme from "Romeo and Juliet," "Rainy Days and Mondays," "Superstar," "One Love," "For All We Know," theme from "Summer of '42," and the theme from "Love Story."

The ceremony was performed before a large tree candelabrum with two smaller tree candelabra on either side of two bouquet arrangements of white gladioli and white mums accented by lavender bows. The church rails were decorated with swags of greenery, and the altar was centered with a memory candle on a fern base. For the candle lighting ceremony, a single 18-inch taper was decorated with flowers and greenery. Pews of honor were marked by tall candelabra entwined with greenery.

THE BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride was attired in a formal length wedding gown of angelmist peau de soie and Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta designed with a high neckline, empire waistline, long Gibson-girl sleeves and a semi A-line silhouette skirt. Inserts of Chantilly lace, highlighted with satin ribbon, complemented the bodice, sleeves and skirt of the gown. A detachable chapel-length train accented with a big white bow enhanced the gown design. Her mantilla of imported illusion fell from a white bow coil and she carried a cascade bouquet of lavender cattleya orchids, lavender daisies, yellow roses and carnations, and baby's breath.

For "something old," the bride wore her mother's wedding band, and a diamond cross necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, was "something new." She wore a blue garter and a borrowed white bridal Bible belonging to the bridegroom's mother. Before the ceremony, the bride presented her mother a long-stemmed red rose, and as the couple left the altar, she also presented the bridegroom's mother a long-stemmed red rose.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Becki Peuehouse, Garland, Tex., was matron of honor, and maid of honor was Miss Pam Howard. The maid of honor and Miss Linda Howard, bridesmaid, Pampa, are both sisters of the bride. Miss Rita Howard, Borger, cousin of the bride, and Miss Pam Edgar, Pampa, sister of the bridegroom, were also bridesmaids. Mrs. Peuehouse wore a yellow floor-length gown of mira mist over yellow satin designed with a high collar neckline, empire waistline, and short sleeves. All other attendants were dressed identically to that of the matron of honor, except their gowns were lavender over lavender satin. All wore garden hats with matching ribbon.

Misti Howard, sister of the bride, was flowergirl, and Lisa Howard, sister of the bride, and Jim Hall, were candle lighters. They wore yellow mira mist gowns over satin, and yellow flowers in their hair. The flowergirl carried a white basket of lavender pom-pom daisies and carnations.

Melissa Reeves and Kent McPherson served as ringbearers. Miss Reeves wore a lavender gown of mira mist over satin, designed with an empire waistline, short sleeves, rounded neckline, and was complemented with a ruffle at the hemline. She wore lavender flowers in her hair. Serving as best man was Tim

Jones, and groomsmen were Rick Musgrave, Dale Ammons, Donnie Cain and Randy Stephens. Bob Marx, A.J. Brewer, Bill Simon and Gary Haynes were ushers.

MOTHERS

The bride's mother wore an aqua floor-length formal gown of imported chiffon with dyed-to-match Venice lace covering the bodice which featured a scalloped neckline. A row of lace enhanced the long sleeves. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua floor-length gown of polyester, styled with an empire waistline, long sleeves and round neckline accented by a row of pearls. Both wore white accessories and corsages of lavender daisies and yellow sweetheart roses.

RECEPTION

For the reception at the Pampa Country Club, the bride's table was covered with a floor-length white satin cloth and centered with a gold cherub holding an arrangement of lavender pom-pom mums and yellow roses. The Lady Windemere cake featured four small cakes on a revolving stand, set off by three tiers that soared above the others. Large yellow roses were arranged on each tier with clusters of lavender sweetpeas among the swags and scrolls of snowy white icing. The cake was topped with charismagne, two satin covered bells swinging from graceful Grecian pillars adorned with a froth of ribbon of tulle. Atop the cake was decorated with wedding bells, one tiny love bird and wedding rings. The bridegroom's table was covered with a gold cloth and complemented with silver appointments. A double-heart shaped German chocolate cake was served from this table.

Mrs. LaWayne Soukup served punch from the bride's table and Miss Teresa Heckma, assisted at the coffee service from the bridegroom's table. Serving bridal cake was Miss Teresh Huston, and Mrs. Duane Riffe served the bridegroom's cake. Registering wedding guests was Mrs. Lee Ziegelgruber III. Sharon Alexander and Christy Youngblood passed-out "thank you notes" to the women and rice bags, tied with lavender bows.

The couple traveled to Amarillo for their wedding trip. The couple will reside in Wichita, Kan.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Pampa High School, and will be a junior at Wichita State University in Wichita, Kan. She is an elementary education major. The bridegroom is a 1972 graduate of PHS and will be a sophomore at Wichita State University where he is a member of the Wichita State basketball team. He is a business major.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

The bride was honored July 11, with a bridal shower at the Pampa Country Club hosted by: Mmes. M.L. Hall, Buddy Lamberson, Vic Trammell, Scott Hall, Ralph Milliron, Stewart Youngblood, Deck Woldt, Richard Blain and Lloyd McKnight.

She was also honored with a bridal shower in Central Baptist Church hosted by Mmes. N.R. Lowe, Dean Davis, Ralph Prock, Don Turner, J.B. Minyard, Eddie Levick, Kenneth Ward, Floyd Vaughn, Bill Willis and E.L. Etheridge.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Attending the wedding from out-of-town were Mrs. A.H. Blain, Muskogee, Okla.; Mrs.

DeAnn Hill, Wagoner, Okla.; Mrs. Duane Riffe and Bryan, Tulsa, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Sparky Mullins, Wagoner, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Howard, and Buddy Howard, both of Borger; Mr. and Mrs. W.O. ## Jaycee-Ettes Aid Jaycees In Rodeo Concession Food Booth

The Jaycee-ettes held their regular monthly meeting Thursday evening July 26, at Southwestern Public Service Co. President, Sharen Peoples, presided over the meeting and gave the invocation. Kerrick Horton led the Jaycee-ette creed.

Prior to the business meeting, the Jaycee-ettes enjoyed a salad supper with hostesses Dottie Kimbley and Treca Saltzman serving.

During the business meeting, Linda Sitterly reported that six Jaycee-ettes aided Jaycees at their 4th of July concession stand and that the Jaycee-ettes were asked to aid the Jaycees at their food booth during the rodeo. Dottie Kimbley announced that six Jaycee-ettes put in a total of 23 hours at the Jaycee food booth during the recent flea market at Coronado Center.

Mrs. Kimbley also reported that a good time was had by all that attended the 10th annual salad supper given by the Perryton Jaycee-ettes on Friday, July 13. Kerrick Horton, chairman of Pampa's Sit-In-Hen in July, announced that 41 Jaycee-ettes from eight area clubs attended the spaghetti supper and that Friona won the travel trophy.

Five Jaycee-ettes and one guest attended ladies night at Furr's Cafeteria July 25, and an informative and entertaining slide presentation was given by Jaycee, Milton Saltzman, on his recent trip to Finland.

Margaret Milam, chairman of the candy sales reported that the sales are going well and that the Jaycee-ettes will continue selling candy during the month of August. The Jaycee-ettes voted to have a concession stand at the Jaycees' donkey baseball game at the Optimist Park, Aug. 14, with Treca Saltzman, chairman. The Jaycee-ettes voted to take refreshments to the Satellite School for retarded students once a month with Kerrick Horton, chairman. There will be a work session in September to get the clothes that were donated to the Jaycee-ettes cleaned, pressed and ready to take to the orphans' home in Panhandle with Margaret Milam, chairman.

Dear Abby

Living arrangements are a family decision

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our brother is 21. He just graduated from college, and has a job that pays him $100 a week. Brother wants to live at home with our parents. They think it will teach Brother a sense of responsibility if he pays them $75 a month for his room and board.

Since Brother is the oldest of six children, what goes for him will probably go for the rest of us.

We don't think children should have to pay to live with someone they love.

Our whole family would like to know how you feel about this.

THE OTHER KIDS

DEAR KIDS: How long should an able-bodied, gainfully employed 21-year-old expect to live with Mama and Papa for free? Six months? A year? Forever? Circumstances and opinions differ in all families, however, reasonable people should be able to agree to terms that will satisfy both the lover and the loaves.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 20-year-old girl, living alone. I date a guy who is 20 and lives at home. He called and some relatives had come in from out of town and wanted to stay all night, but they were short of room at his house so he told his mother he would sleep at a friend's house. Well, the "friend" happened to be me.

When he asked if he could sleep here, I said: "Sure," thinking I'd put him up on the sofa. When it became apparent that he thought he was going to share my bed, I said: "Nothing doing."

He said I was "undersexed" and I threw him out of the house. He hasn't called me since.

Am I undersexed?

LINDA

DEAR LINDA: No. He's over optimistic.

DEAR ABBY: A mother wrote that her daughter wanted to be married in the park by a justice of the peace. She said her daughter doesn't believe in anything, and neither does the young man. Your answer was absolutely right. A civil ceremony is the only appropriate one.

What puzzles so many of the clergy today is why so many people completely ignore the church, but when it comes to being married and buried, they want a minister.

I am a retired Episcopal priest and admit that I have officiated at many such weddings and funerals, but I am still not sure whether I was showing Christian charity or moral cowardice by doing so.

EPISCOPALIAN PRIEST

DEAR PRIEST: I would be inclined to say you showed Christian charity.

DEAR ABBY: You had a phrase in your column which fits me to a "T." People who are "terrific in bed, but lousy otherwise."

My husband picked me up on a street corner. I was 18, and looking for adventure. He had just been discharged from the Army after three years in Europe, and was looking for some excitement. We didn't waste much time getting to know each other. I was amazed at his virility, and he was flattered by my honest need for him.

To make a long story short, we were married, but because I was such a pushover from the beginning, he never really trusted me out of his sight.

Thank heavens we could afford domestic help, because I was the world's worst cook. My talent was in the bedroom. After 27 years, it still is.

My husband is afraid if he loses his virility, I'll leave him for a younger man, and I'm afraid when his sexual appetite tapers off, he won't want me anymore because that's all I'm good for.

So, take it from a woman whose only talent is in the bedroom. It's not enough.

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Robbin Otto-Jimmie Henin

Miss Robbin Anne Otto became the bride of Jimmie N. Henin at 8 p.m. Friday, Aug. 3, in the Lamar Full Gospel Assembly Church of Pampa.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Otto of Lafayette, La. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Henin, 1316 E. Francis, Pampa.

THE CEREMONY

The Rev. Gene Allen, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Gene Allen, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Fran McGahan as she sang, "I'm Yours and Your Mine," "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee," and the "Wedding Prayer."

The church was decorated with a myriad of candles arranged in an arched candelabrum. Garlands of salal foliage cascaded from each arrangement, and Grecian urns of white pedestals held arrangements of white gladioli, killian daisies and baby's breath. Pews of honor were noted with satin bows and greenery, and a white aisle cloth covered the bridal path.

THE BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" vowal, the bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta. The fitted bodice was styled with a Sabrina neckline, natural waistline and long, fitted lace sleeves that ended in petal points over the hands. The bouffant, floor-length skirt, featuring rows of ruffles in waterfall fashion, swept into a sanctuary-length train. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a coif, and she carried a bridal bouquet of white phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and pink sweetheart roses. A part of her grandmothers veil was placed into the bouquet.

MRS. JIMMIE N. HENIN...nee Miss Robbin Anne Otto

ATTENDANTS

Barbara Hebert of Lafayette, La., was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Debra Johnson and Glenna Johnson, both of Fort Worth, and Angela Appleton of Pampa. They wore identical dresses of ice pink satin brocade styled with an empire bodice and long sleeves. Their bouquets were fashioned of pink elegance carnations, and long cascades of English ivy.

Connie Sue Dixon, Arkansas, Kan., and Kimberly Kay Barrick, Duncan, Okla., lighted the candles.

Serving as best man was Kenneth H. Johnson of Fort Worth, and groomsmen were Timothy Otto, Lafayette, La., George Hendricks, Pampa, and Larry Jackson of Lefors.

MOTHERS

The bride's mother wore a pastel pink floor-length gown of chiffon over taffeta, and the bridegroom's mother wore an ice blue polyester gown overlaid with chiffon.

RECEPTION

For the reception in fellowship hall of the church, the bridal table was covered with a floor-length pink satin cloth and held a centerpiece of pink roses and carnations arranged in a tall white chandelier.

The three-tiered, bit-of-heaven cake was decorated with ice pink roses and clusters of sweetpeas, and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom under an archway of gardenias. Mrs.

Vernon Dixon, Arkansas City, Kan., assisted at the punch bowl and serving cake was Mrs. Bill Barrick of Duncan, Okla. Registering guests was Mrs. Vernon Dixon.

The couple honeymooned in Amarillo.

The couple will reside in Pampa at 1013 Varon, Pampa.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride is a graduate of Comeaux High School, Lafayette, where she was a member of the speech and drama club, and chorus and French club. The bridegroom is a graduate of Cushing High School and a recent graduate of Central State University, Edmond, Okla., with a BA degree in business. He was a member of the society for the Advancement of Management, the American Marketing Association and the honor society. He served two years with the U.S. Army.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

The bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower recently in the Flamer Room, Pioneer Natural Gas Building, hosted by Angela Appleton and Sharon Hendricks.

On July 8, she was honored at a coffee in Fellowship Hall of Lamar Full Gospel Church, hosted by Mmes. Bob Tigrett and Jimmy Baird.

Wedding guests were registered from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Arkansas.

Low-Down Jewelry

The latest jewelry has taken on longer lengths. The pendants and chain necklaces go from the neck all the way down to the waist.

Financial Targets

"Getting ahead" is possible — even for modest-income families.

Families can set money aside whenever they decide to get started," Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, said.

"Most families start by setting goals and target dates to reach them.

"Money put aside with each pay period brings the goals closer."

The specialist acknowledged that families with modest incomes may have little extra to set aside. Some months it's hard just to "break even," she added.

"These families especially can make the best possible use of their incomes with a plan and by applying good money management habits that will pay off in the future.

"Besides watching savings grow for long-term goals, the family also sees its financial picture improve a bit each month," she added.

"As each goal is reached, the family can set new ones."

According to Mrs. Myers, families making plans should consider their financial life style and their position in it.

By looking ahead — at future money needs — they see the importance of setting money aside for goals no matter where they are in the cycle.

"Although no two families have exactly the same experiences, most follow a familiar pattern.

"For awhile after the honeymoon, young couples tend to treat money rather free and easy. Also during this period the wife may contribute to the income."

"But when the first child enters the picture, expenses suddenly shoot up while income seems to decline.

"Before long, they have several dependents who cost much more than their $750 tax exemption," Mrs. Myers continued.

Meanwhile, there are numerous items to purchase — furniture, car, equipment and clothing — perhaps even a home.

And as children grow, they consume more of everything each year, the specialist pointed out. "As a result, the family money supply gets tighter and tighter."

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

SUNDAY, AUGUST 5
Your birthday today: Finds you confronting your limitations, exerting strength to make life richer in spiritual quality. Originality of thinking becomes crucial to your success. Relationships are under stress for a time, but smooth out. Today's natives are impulsive, take chances, apt to attract publicity.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Don't pay serious attention to story details. It's likely that it's a means of conveying feelings.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: From a formal start you can work out a successful Sunday. Take care to avoid irresponsible behavior.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Everybody you know seems to have his mind set on some expansive scheme—save your resources.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Be a little quieter than usual, filling in the formal amenities as you go, giving others a chance to take center stage.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Today is no time for a spending spree. No matter what your situation, a better use for your resources is coming soon.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Your sense of economy finds full expression now, in terms of social interpretation as well as spending.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: With your prayers and serenity, you may achieve much this intensely stressed Sunday. Let differences be sorted-out by others.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Press forward vigorously with personal projects. You can persuade others to agree with all sorts of plans, ideas.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Strive for common sense solutions. Joining social groups makes high demands on your cash.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: If it seems that someone is making fun of you, think of what you might have done to provoke it.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: The thing to do is apply yourself strictly to spiritual development, leaving business considerations aside.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Being in or near your base of operations offers special advantages this Sunday. Review your situation, plan rearrangements.

MONDAY, AUGUST 6

Your birthday today: Self-assertion becomes a stronger factor as the year wears on, and with it come greater skills in making your meanings clear. Today's natives are adaptable, versatile, have their own ideas of how to live and what to believe, privately practiced.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Now is the time to sit down with your immediate associates, close friends, family and chart a collective course for the future.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: You find yourself speaking for others, more than for yourself. Teamwork comes more easily in later hours.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: The emotional side of life rides high. Career matters run in familiar grooves, needing no great correction. Disregard petty annoyances.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: You have a special advantage today in both money and romance. The more active you are, the better.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Your enthusiasm and will to bridge discrepancies carries the day. Take time for health care and meditation.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Personal correspondence, short trips bring satisfaction. Seek added ways to improve your home.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Gather your resources, recover loaned or misplaced possessions. Survey your wardrobe, plan replacements as your needs indicate.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]:

Pastel Summer

Catch up with the delicate pastels for summer. This goes for clothes, jewelry, make-up and nail polish. Dark colors brighten up when teamed with pastels.

Vigorous action at the outset sets you on a successful week in work and play. Your persuasive powers are at high tide.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Confidential talks produce unusual results, mostly favorable. It is time to change habits to influence good health.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Be open to meet all comers, discuss anything important to you and your work. Claim full credit for your deeds.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Pace yourself so you neither hurry nor delay—there is no short cut to avoid hard work. Don't be tempted to discuss fine points.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Among conflicting interests, it's your responsibility to select and attend those activities which relate to you.

Help Girlstown USA In Borger Reach Christmas Coupon Goal?

The citizens of the Golden Spread have undertaken the project of providing a pick-up truck for Girlstown, USA, Borger. This project is to be accomplished by collecting Betty Crocker coupons.

The citizens of the Golden Spread need approximately 600,000 coupons. Over 300,000 coupons have already been donated, which will allow $3000 on a pickup. February, 1971 is the deadline for acquiring this amount, but an extension may be necessary.

A new dormitory at Girlstown is in the process of being completed and volunteers in Borger have started collecting gift stars, bonus, cigarette coupons and red scissors. Also any kind of stamp books are being donated.

If you can help Girlstown in Borger get their new pickup for Christmas this year, please contact Mrs. Ruby Wylie, 1821 Coffee, Pampa, Tex., 79065 or Girlstown, USA, Box 1, Borger, Tex., 79007.

Many of the businesses of the Golden Spread are allowing drop boxes to be placed in their establishments. These will be collected weekly.

Anyone of the 175 different General Mills product coupons may be used.

Your help in making this dream come true is sincerely solicited, and visitors are always welcome on campus, which is located six miles east of Borger on the Pampa highway.

Textile manufacturers — responding to the "bachelor's lib trend" — now offer sheets, towels and other accessories with definite male motifs, according to Patricia A. Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University.

Caldwell Children Honor Parents On Golden Wedding

The Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn, was the setting Sunday, July 29, for the 50th Wedding Anniversary reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. D.A. Caldwell, 2208 Aspen.

Hosting the event were children of the couple, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest James, Plainview; Judge and Mrs. J. Foy Guin, Jr., Birmingham, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. David Caldwell, Jr., Pampa; and Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Caldwell, Tucson, Ariz.

Granddaughters, Regina James and Jessica James and great-granddaughter, Kathy Garrison, presided at the guest register.

The three-tiered white cake, decorated with wedding bells and flowers, and gold punch were served from a table centered with an arrangement of gold roses, carnations, daisies and baby's breath in a crystal and gold bowl. Mrs. Chipper Garrison, Mrs. Jimmy N. James and Mrs. John SoRelle, granddaughters, served punch and granddaughters-in-law, Mrs. Chris Caldwell and Mrs. David Brent Caldwell, served the cake.

Attending the event from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Sutterfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hill, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Bill SoRelle, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. W.P. Gwinn, Houston; Donnie Clark, Tony Marshall, Plainview, Mr.

and Mrs. David Brent Caldwell and Sean, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Caldwell and Sheena, Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Chipper Garrison and Kathy, Lubbock; Dr. and Mrs. Jimmy N. James, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. John SoRelle, Shreveport, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Manire and Aaron, Tucson, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Crouch, Charles Crouch, Conroe; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Manire, Hot Springs, Ark.; Mrs. Eli Rush, Byers, Tex.; Mrs. Les Stone, Waurika, Okla.; D.W. Watkins, Clovis, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Watkins, Elodi, Calif.; Garner Altom, Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. J.O. Shehon, Odessa; David Gwin, Birmingham, Ala.; Steven Caldwell, Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Sarah Cameron and Candy, Canyon; and Vest and Ken Tubbs, Dumas.

A properly insulated house conserves air conditioning energy. Generally, use six inches of insulation over ceilings, three inches in walls and two inches under floors, notes Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A lunar module orbits the moon in about two hours.

Sofa Collage

Whatever your taste in seating, you'll likely find what you want among the new sofas introduced recently by manufacturers.

For those who like soft comfort, there's the "pouch couch," says Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, county Extension agent.

It's constructed of body-conforming foam covered by Dacron upholstery. Another of the soft sofas features 17 multi-colored pillows for sink-in comfort.

Modular seating pieces include something called a "wedgie." It's an armless wedge chair that can be used in fours as a sectional sofa. Rattan buffets will welcome a new 75-inch sofa in Oriental-contemporary styling. It's available in a number of frame colors, including Oriental red.

Sofas that convert to beds are more stylish this year, too.

One modern-designed piece has no-welt cushions and roll arms, dramatizing the simple line of the sofa.

Another has waterfall-type cushions.

All the dual-purpose sofas open up to queen-size beds, the agent added.

Nail Saver

Nail polish, now fashionable in every imaginable color, can solve the problem of splitting nails. Many manufacturers are issuing special lines of polish with a hardening acrylic base.

Golden Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. FRED GODWIN
...Golden Anniversary

A 50th Anniversary Wedding reception will be held Sunday, Aug. 5, from 1:30 until 4:30 p.m., in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church, for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Godwin, 1628 N. Sumner. Hosting the event, are daughters of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Neef of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Dross, Carrizozo, N.M. The couple also has five grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Godwin were married Aug. 3, 1923 in Mobeetie and were Pampa residents from 1926 until 1936, when they moved to Canyon City, Colo. Upon retiring three years ago, they moved back to Pampa. Friends of the couple are invited to attend the event.

Cleaning Silver And Pewter

Silver and pewter need more than a "lick and a promise."

These metals require special care to preserve desired patina, cleanliness and gloss, Patricia A. Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, said.

"Clean silver with a sponge, warm water and a silver polish. You may choose a commercially prepared product or make the following polish yourself."

"Add one part ammonia or castor oil to three parts whiting to make a paste. Apply with cloth to silver that has been soaking in hot sudsy water. Rinse and dry well."

"Rinse it in clear, warm water and dry with a soft cloth. Buffing of drying silver silver by hand helps maintain a high gloss."

"Fine silver flatware should be washed by hand."

"Tumbling the silver together in a dishwasher, or using a hard-bristled brush on it, will scratch it."

"Also, the extreme heat of a dishwasher will loosen resin that holds knife handles to blades," the specialist cautioned.

She cited one other problem as the use of rubber, which causes corrosion of silver.

To accent the burnished, raised areas of an incised pattern in silver, leave the black, oxidized grooves alone—or to remove it, use polish and an old, soft toothbrush. Miss Bradshaw suggested.

Turning to pewter, she described it as an alloy of tin and lead, tin and copper or tin and other metals.

"For ordinary polishing, use a soft cloth and nonabrasive silver polish or paste made of linseed oil and rottenstone. Place polish or paste on cloth and rub into surface of object. Wash off with soap and water."

"Using gloves helps prevent fingerprints that can tarnish."

"Also, avoid storing pewter in oak—tannic acid of the wood can tarnish it."

Pewter requires polish only once a year, since it seems to hold a glow longer than silver, the specialist added.

Men's underwear makes news. Basic fabric is soft, slinky, knitted nylon and colors range from deep pastels to bold prints, notes Mrs. Vivian Simmons, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

New labels on frankfurters, bologna and knockwurst tell customers at a glance exactly what they're paying for, says Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

DEADLINE FOR WEDDINGS — ENGAGEMENTS — Due to the number of summer weddings, the following deadlines and procedure on wedding stories is being announced. ### Rice From Texas

When you sit down to enjoy a rice dish, you might get the idea that it comes from such faraway places as the far east. Well, chances are it comes from your home state — Texas.

Texas is the nation's leading state in rice production even though less than 10 per cent of the state's counties produce the crop. Those counties are in the coastal bend area of the state — Austin, Bowie, Brazoria, Calhoun, Chambers, Colorado, Fort Bend, Galveston, Hardin, Harris, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Lavaca, Liberty, Matagorda, Newton, Orange, Victoria, Waller, and Wharton.

Together, they accounted for more than 22,000,000 hundred-weight of rice in 1972. Last year, the crop in Texas had a value of more than $150,000,000. This year, the crop could be worth even more.

Perhaps the best rice crop in the history of Texas is now being harvested. More than a half million acres have been planted to rice this year, which is 18 per cent above a year ago.

Last year, rice producers received an average of more than $6 per 100 pounds. Average per acre yield was 4,727 pounds.

A strong market for rice this year is being brought about by the worldwide demand. The United States — thanks mainly to Texas — is about the only country in a position to have any rice available for export. The shortage of rice on a world-wide basis is described as critical.

The leading county in Texas in rice production is Wharton. Other top counties are Jefferson, Matagorda, Colorado, Chambers, Brazoria, Liberty, Jackson, Harris, and Fort Bend.

Texas is followed nationally in rice production by Arkansas (close behind in second place), Louisiana, California, Mississippi, and Missouri.

Planting of the rice crop usually is from March through May, but this year because of weather conditions, some rice reportedly has been planted in July. Harvest of the crop will continue into December.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Giggy, north of city, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia Lynn, to Douglas Ray Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.R. Thompson, Jr., 100 West Nicki. The wedding is being planned for 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 25, in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

You all know the story about the promoter who touted a stock so strongly that eventually he believed his own story and went broke on it along with his gullible customers.

Sir Reginald Nameless, the well-known British master, will long be remembered for this hand he bid and played back in 1960.

His two no-trump call was one of those multipurpose bids. He might keep his opponents out of a spade game and he might actually make three no-trump if his partner took him there.

His partner did that and proceeded to redouble after West doubled.

Sir Reginald kept that British stiff upper lip and stood for the redouble. Things wouldn't have been too bad if spades had been led, but West opened the king of hearts and shifted to a club. East won the jack and led back a heart to West's ace. A second club picked up. North's king whereupon East cashed the last high club and finally led a spade.

Reggie rose with the king. West took the ace; cashed the last two clubs and gave his partner the rest of the tricks with a spade lead to pick up a nice comfortable 3400 points.

Our nameless hero was not fazed. He remarked, "My bid-

Pampa Fine Arts To Sponsor Dinner-Theatre Production

The Heritage Room of M.K. Brown Auditorium will once more become the setting for a delightful dinner-theatre production on Tuesday, Aug. 28. The Pampa Fine Arts Association is sponsoring the Alpha-Omega Players, a nationally acclaimed troupe from Dallas, in one performance of "A Thurber Carnival," by James Thurber. The show is based on a series of sketches based on the noted humorist's wild and wacky stories and cartoons.

The dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. and the performance will follow. Catering the dinner will be Sutphen's Restaurant of Borger.

Letters were mailed to all members of the Pampa Fine Arts Association, and members are urged to get their reservations in promptly.

According to Mrs. Calvin Lacy, chairman of the Theatre Arts Committee, "We are preparing for 350 to 400 people, and if Fine Arts members don't have their reservations by Aug. 21, open sales to the general public will be held. Reservations will not be taken after Aug. 25."

Tickets, which include the dinner and the play, are $6 per person. A reserved table for eight is $48. Only complete tables will be reserved and other individuals may select their seats after 7 p.m. Tickets or table reservations may be made by mailing your check and instructions to Mrs. Calvin Lacy, Box 818 or 2122 Mary Ellen.

Gardeners Are Urged To Join Beautification Foundation

Pampa Garden Club members were urged to join the newly created tax-exempt organization, Pampa Environmental Beautification Foundation, by Mrs. Thelma Bray at their recent covered dish supper.

"The organization will serve as a vehicle for beautifying Pampa and will be one in which any interested Pampa resident can participate," said Mrs. Bray, president pro-tem. Memberships of $6 or more are being taken by Mrs. Wallace Birkes. A five-minute program explaining the purpose of the Foundation to any organization in Pampa can be arranged for by calling Mrs. James Malone, Pampa Garden Club president.

Mrs. Holly Gray presented the artistic floral arrangement schedule for the club flower show, "Fall Floral Time," planned in conjunction with the Pampa Fine Arts Festival at M.K. Brown Auditorium, Oct. 13-14.

Ladybugs for three dollars a half pint are still available by contacting Mrs. Marion Brown, 9-9768.

Rodney Hyatt of the Gray County Soil Conservation office was guest speaker at the family night. He gave an illustrated lecture on lawns, including pointers for rejuvenation of old lawns and planning new ones. Among the types of grasses adaptable to this area are the bermuda varieties, the common Tex-turf 10, and African. The common bermuda is drought resistant, while the Tex-turf 10 will take more wear, the African more care, Mr. Hyatt noted.

In listing the three methods for planting grasses, seed, springs, or sod blocks, the speaker noted that the bermuda types and the buffalo or pasture grass can be planted by all three methods. The rye and Kentucky blue grass can be planted by seed, only. Both latter types, though adaptable to Pampa, are more susceptible to disease than the bermuda. Although the Kentucky blue requires more frequent waterings, it will green earlier in the spring and remain green into the winter.

Hyatt stated that seed bed preparation was most important in planning a new lawn. The soil should be graded from one to two inches below the level of the sidewalk, and for this area, sand should be added for porosity.

To avoid over or under watering, he advised the use of a soil-test auger to determine the moisture content to a depth of six inches. Grass cutting should be frequent to avoid shock to the grass. For weed control the speaker advised 24D for broad leafed weeds and DSMA for trash grass, including crab grass. A good thick stand of turf will choke out weeds, he urged the gardener to fertilize and water well early in the spring to get a better stand.

Hostesses for the supper were Mrs. W.E. Abernathy and Mrs. N.C. Jordan. Table arrangements of yellow, gold, and white were designed by Mrs. Abernathy and Mrs. Marion Brown.

The next meeting will be August 13 in the Flame Room, 9:15 a.m., announced Mrs. Malone, president.

Kitchen carpet needs to be vacuumed frequently. Figure on cleaning it about once a week per family member, says Patricia A. Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

PHS Class Of '48 Holds 25th Reunion

Graduates of the class of 1948 of Pampa High School celebrated their 25th reunion on Saturday, July 28.

Activities included a coffee hour at the Heritage Room of the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium, a family picnic in city park, and a dinner at Jim's Steak House, attended by approximately 120 graduates and guests.

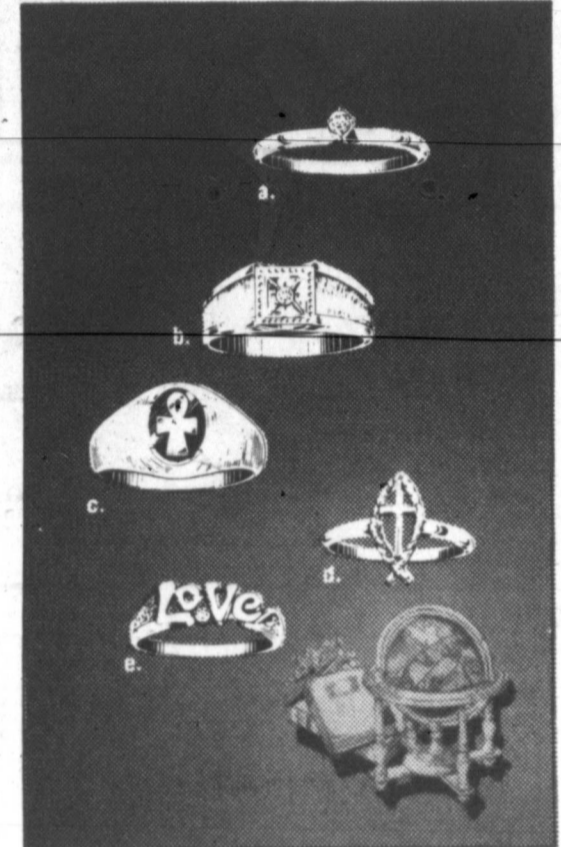

Class members and their families traveled from places as far as California, Wyoming, Virginia, Colorado, Illinois, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas, and many points in Texas. Mrs. Jim Campbell, Pampa, Mrs. E.S. Brainard, Canadian, and Mrs. R.W. Thomas, Buena Park, Calif., comprised the reunion committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelp, White Deer, hosted graduates at their home Saturday evening.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

There IS something new under the sun — flame resistant fabrics in the sleepwear of small children and in mattress pads and mattresses.

Children's sleepwear garments through size 6X must pass the test for flammability if manufactured after July 29. Some mattresses and mattress pads currently being manufactured meet the required standard.

All such items manufactured after June 21 of this year must either meet the standard or be prominently labeled (with a 40 square inch label) to show that they do not pass the flammability test.

This labeling provision is available for a period of not more than six months and is designed to permit plants to complete arrangements for testing facilities.

Arriving at garment standards, as well as procedures for testing various materials, has been a long struggle — one which has taken the cooperation and efforts of fabric manufacturers, clothing manufacturers and government agencies.

Rules and testing procedures to cover all types of fabrics going into children's sleepwear were tried over and over again to produce the most effective ones.

Industry and the government have been aware of deaths and injuries caused by fabric ignition, and new regulation, in effect, are preventive medicine for those most likely to be the victims of burns.

The sleepwear standards are included in the Texas Hazardous Substances Law. In Texas the State Health Department's Bedding and Product Safety Division is charged with enforcement of flammability standards.

The annual toll of fabric ignition fires in this country, says the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, is between 3,000 and 5,000 deaths, along with 150,000 to 250,000 injuries. Directly related financial losses exceed a quarter-billion dollars.

Incident after incident in Texas pointed to the need for flame resistant fabrics — not only in clothing for children but for adults and the elderly. In clothing, it is the quick-ignition fabric which causes the greatest human loss. Usually you'll find this soft, highly-flammable material in children's clothing as well as in nightgowns and robes worn by adults.

Tests have shown that flimsy, night apparel burns faster, for instance, than the body-fitting knit garments when worn. Thus, the sleepwear may become more of a torch than regular clothing when ignited.

And, in many cases, trim on the garments led to quicker ignition than similar garments without trim. In tests, it made a difference whether a garment was tested on a mannequin or a clothes hanger, which varies the amount of oxygen circulating freely around the fabric.

Now that manufacturers must produce flame resistant garments in smaller sleepwear, what comes next?

"Larger sizes in sleepwear," says Harold R. Ray, director of the Health Department's Bedding and Product Safety Division.

A year from now, he says, sleepwear in sizes 7 through 14 must be of flame resistant fabric when manufactured. The Federal Consumer Product Safety Commission sets compliance dates for manufacturers.

Ray says some of the clothing on the market now will carry over items which aren't flame resistant.

"These may take a few months to cycle out, but they will have a label stating they don't comply if manufactured in the past 12 months," said Ray.

How can a person determine if fabrics are flame resistant? Ray says manufacturers may be able to tell by touch, but that the average person can't.

"There may be less frills, but you won't be able to tell by the looks," said Ray.

He suggests that you look at the packaging and labeling since some items already have labels stating they are of flame resistant materials. If still unsure, ask the clerk, he says. In synthetics, flame resistant qualities are built into the fibers. In cotton garments, the fabric may have been treated. In addition, the weave of the fabric along with hemming, stitching and trim affect flammability. Loosely-knit garments, for instance, go up in flames faster.

RIGHT PLACE
BRIGHAM CITY, Utah (UPI) — Highway Patrol Trooper Gerald Peterson was in the right place at the right time.

When an all-points bulletin for two theft suspects came over his patrol car radio, he looked up and saw their car stopped ahead of him at a red light. He arrested them before it turned green.

Burn studies done in Texas and elsewhere attest to the severity of burns when clothing is ignited. Flammable clothing was involved in 61 per cent of the patients treated at the Shriners Burns Institute in Galveston.

The most tragic aspect of this, say Institute officials, is that 75 per cent of these injuries could have been avoided. If flame-retardant clothing had been available, these tragedies might never have occurred.

Something Mysterious Killing Virginia Bees

BERRYVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Arlington Palmer hasn't had much luck since he moved to Berryville six months ago to become the largest, but most disaster-prone beekeeper in the area.

Less than three months after taking over the Old Virginia Honey Company, a then-prospering business, Palmer's bees started dying. The bee kill has continued and has wiped out a third of Palmer's colonies.

The mysterious death of Palmer's bees and those of a number of other beekeepers in the Northern Virginia area is puzzling state experts who say the situation is hopeless unless the cause of death is discovered soon.

About 80 per cent of Palmer's income comes from honey.

"I've just about lost the honey now... it's too late to do anything," said Palmer, estimating his total loss to be near $25,000. The death of the bees also will affect apple orchard owners who rent bees for pollination purposes in the spring of each year. Palmer said the loss of so many colonies is going to force the price of rental bees from $5.50 to $8 or $9.

"Even if the price doubles, it's not going to help me on my loss," he added.

Palmer scoffed at the suggestion of federal subsidies—"it's worth about two cents"—but said that if he doesn't get some sort of indemnity payments he will never make it.

The government pays beekeepers for loss of colonies due to pesticides. If pesticides are not responsible for the kill, then no indemnity payment. In Palmer's case, no one has been able to determine the reason and he can't even begin filing for any reimbursement.

"I don't ask for help unless I need it, but unless I get some sort of help, I'm sunk," said Palmer, a large man with a dark tan from the 50 to 60 hours a week he spends working outside.

Palmer is convinced that the trouble is caused by pesticide spray but the state Department of Agriculture is convinced it is not. H.P. Powers, state apiculturist, has a theory that the ozone factor in the air is causing the deaths.

"I don't think pollution has any part of it," Palmer said. "As far as I'm concerned, it's got to be something in the combs that's killing bees whether they prove it in the lab or not."

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK NEW YORK (UPI) — All you parents out there probably don't realize it, but some among you were brainwashed into parenthood.

That is, you were led to believe that full manhood is achieved only by becoming a Daddy. And full womanhood is achieved only by becoming a Mommy.

Campaigning to keep this sort of thing from happening in the future is the National Organization of Non-Parents (NON).

John Harriman, executive director of NON, said in an interview the pressure leading to parenthood for all is called "pronalism." That's NON's target.

To help focus attention on the problems of the people who elect to be non-parents NON will stage a happening Aug. 1.

Stewart Mott will be crowned King Non-Parent of the Year. A "surprised" woman will be crowned Queen Non-Parent of the Year. Among some prominent non-parents, according to Ms. Harriman, are Gloria Steinem and Ralph Nader. Mott is an heir to part of the GM fortune.

To hear Ms. Harriman tell it, the NON movement sounds like a mini version of the women's liberation movement. It appears to be at the same stage the lib crusade was at four or five years ago.

For example, NON is planning consciousness-raising sessions nationwide and probably in its chapter in London—just established and the first outside the United States. At these sessions leaders will help participants realize how they are discriminated against. The same kind of sessions happened early in the women's movement and fueled it.

Already Ms. Harriman said her group has gone through some family life textbooks for the high schools and found most of the content devoted to families.

The Almanac

Today is Sunday, August 5, the 217th day of 1973 with 148 to follow.

The moon is in its first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Leo. French novelist Guy de Maupassant was born on this date in 1850.

Also on this day in history: In 1861, the U.S. government imposed the first income tax. All incomes over 800 dollars were taxed three per cent.

In 1917, the entire National Guard was drafted into the U.S. Army.

In 1962, actress Marilyn Monroe died of an overdose of barbiturates.

In 1963, the United States, Britain and Russia signed a treaty outlawing nuclear tests in the earth's atmosphere, in space or under the sea.

Onion Pulls Big Upset In Whitney Stakes Race

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (UPI) — Triple Crown winner Secretariat was beaten in the $53,850 Whitney Stakes Saturday in one of the biggest upsets in racing history.

Onion, owned by Hobeau Farm's, finished a length ahead of the heavily favored Secretariat in the 1 1/4-mile race.

Ridden by Jacinto Vasquez, the four-year-old gelding gamely turned back a stretch challenge by Secretariat, the 1-10 favorite.

Rule By Reason finished third with True Knight and West Coast Scout completing the field.

With win betting only, Onion returned $13.20.

Secretariat, meeting older horses for the first time after dominating the three-year-old division all year, appeared to have no excuse for the loss, except just prior to the start he attempted to break through the gate.

Breaking in the middle of the pack, the chestnut son of Bold Ruler—Something Royal was well-placed by jockey Ron Turcotte in the early stages of the race, never more than five lengths back.

On the backstretch Onion still led as Secretariat began cutting into the lead to trail by only a head. But the Meadow Stable colt failed to further respond and Turcotte went to the whip—one of the few occasions he has.

Onion began edging away from his younger rival.

Turcotte was at a loss to explain the disappointing showing of Secretariat, who suffered his second loss this season.

"I really can't explain what happened to him," Turcotte said.

"Maybe the fact that he tried to break through the gate and hit it with his head just before the break affected him... The pace was slow and we were only a head off it, but when I set him down in the stretch he just wasn't the same horse."

Lolich Reacquires Form As Tigers Smash Yanks

By United Press International

Mickey Lolich got untracked and got Detroit rolling on the right track.

The Tigers ran off their ninth win in their last to games Friday night, a 7-2 drubbing of the New York Yankees, who have a little streak of their own going, seven losses in their last eight games.

Lolich pitched a five-hitter and seems to have regained the form that he displayed in a 22-14 season last year. Lolich recognized the change.

"I know I'm doing something different. I'll admit that, but I can't say what it is," he said. "I experimented last game and it worked so I did it again tonight. It has to do with the mechanics of pitching. I felt like I had control of the game."

"I'm back."

Lolich walked none and struck out four in a routine-going performance but still couldn't get out of the game without giving up his 29th home run, one for every start he's made this season. Thurman Munson hit the homer, his 14th, two outs after Bobby Murcer had been hit with a pitch to open the fifth inning.

Detroit banged out 11 hits and scored four runs in the second and three more in the fourth.

Rodriguez's Single Aurelio Rodriguez' run-scoring single highlighted the fourth-inning uprising and Willie Horton doubled home

Detroit's final run to help Lolich improve his record to 11-10.

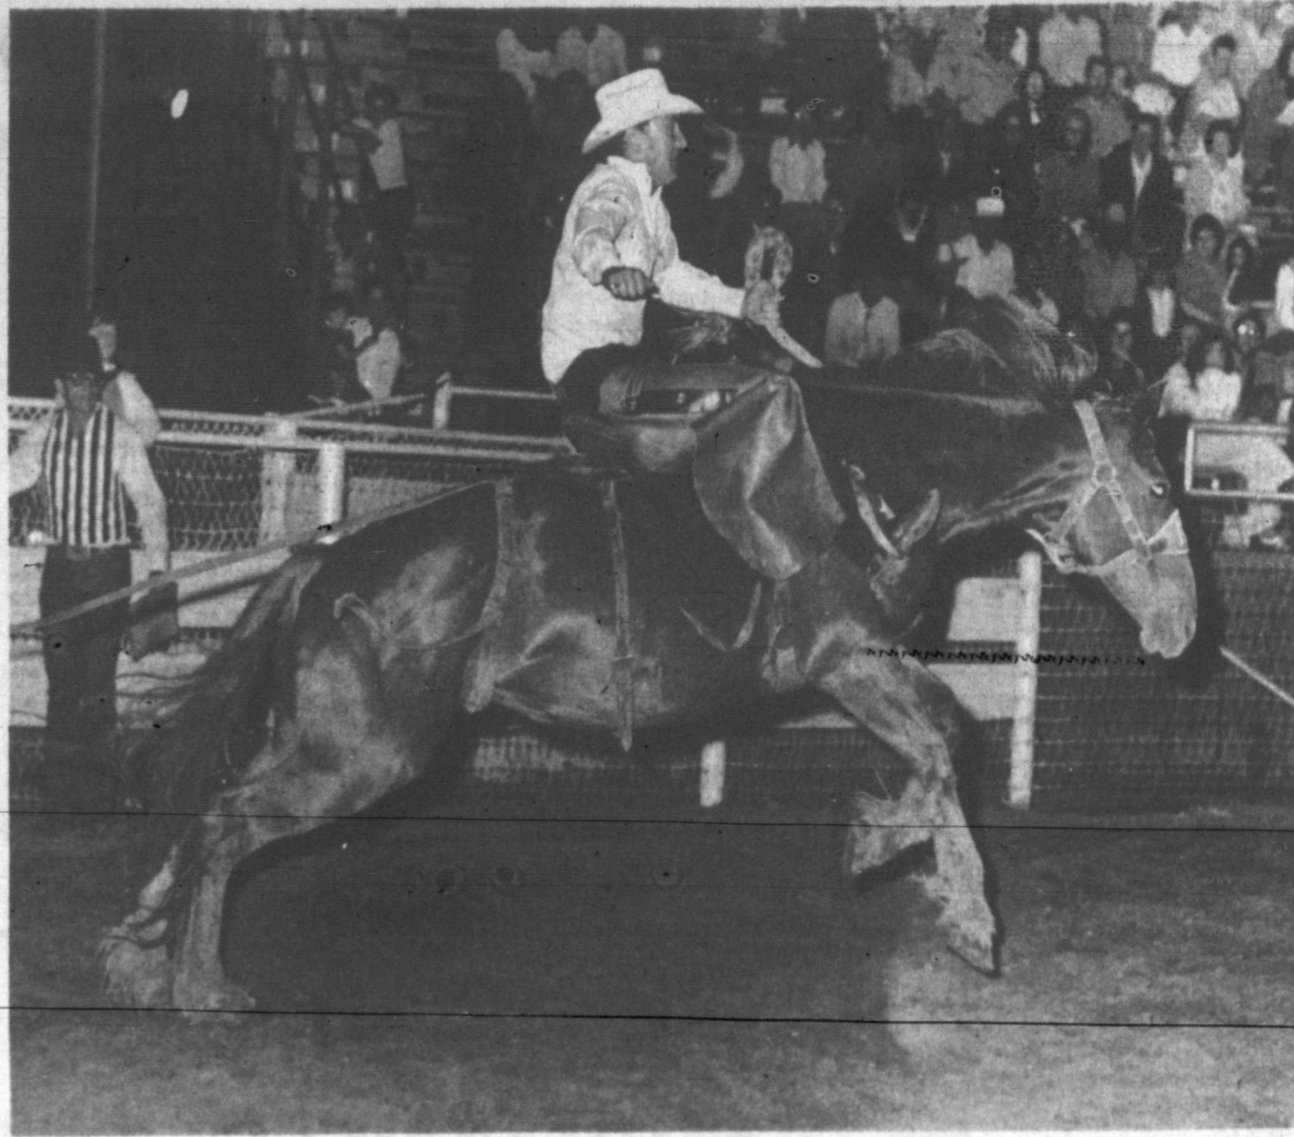

In other American League games, Oakland edged California 2-1 in 11, Chicago downed Texas 5-3, Baltimore beat Boston 8-2 after losing 8-5, Cleveland stopped Milwaukee 9-4 and Kansas City downed Minnesota, 4-2.

In the National League, Houston nipped Cincinnati 1-0 in 10 before the Reds rebounded for an 11-5 win, Pittsburgh stopped Philadelphia 3-1, Chicago blanked Montreal 3-0, New York topped St. Louis 7-3, Atlanta nipped San Diego 5-4 and Los Angeles beat San Francisco 3-0.

California's Bill Singer and Oakland's Vida Blue matched no-hitters—Blue didn't allow a hit until the fifth inning and Singer was perfect till the seventh. Singer struck out 13 in 11 innings and allowed only three hits in a tough loss. Blue spaced five hits for the win but needed relief help from Rolie Fingers.

Bert Campaneris' bloop double in the 11th scored the winning run for Oakland.

Baltimore crept into first place in the AL East and leads Detroit and New York by a half game after its doubleheader split with Boston.

EARNING POINTS — Terry Poovey of Wichita, Kan., rides a horse named Suicide in the saddle-bronc event Friday in the Top O' Texas Rodeo, at Recreation Park as the Kansas cowboy picks up 58 points. A contestant must stay on the horse for eight seconds in order to score. Rodeo action concluded Saturday night. See related story, page one.

'I'll Turn Her Every Way But Loose,' Says Riggs Concerning $100,000 Match

By E. MICHAEL MYERS
HOUSTON (UPI) — Bobby Riggs paid a visit Friday to the site of his upcoming $100,000 to the winner-zero to the loser tennis match against feminist Billie Jean King and got right to the point.

"I'll turn her every way but loose," said Riggs.

Riggs, 55, clobbered Margaret Court Smith in two sets last spring and as a result has lured Ms. King into a nationally televised best-of-five set match Sept. 20 in the Astrodome.

Riggs indicated the decision to stretch the match to the best of five sets actually had put Ms. King one-up as far as gamesmanship goes, but he would rally.

"She pulled the first trick," said Riggs. "She is one up on me. She wants to wear me down. I have no choice but to go along with it. She's 29 and at the peak of her physical powers. Here I am a 55-year-old man with one foot in the grave."

The United States' top female player is fresh from her fifth Wimbledon singles crown.

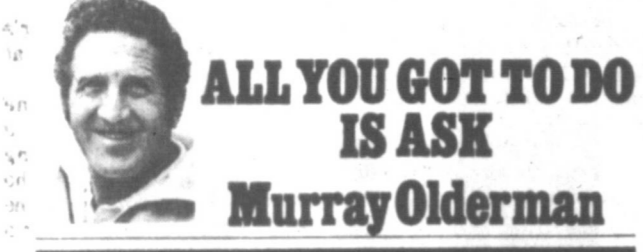

"She says she can't be psyched," said Riggs, "but I already see she is coming apart at the seams. I'll turn her every way but loose."

"She says she likes the tension, the pressure. She says this is the kind of thing she does well. She predicts she will scare me off the court. But I hope she doesn't pull an elfo, a choko."

"But I'm an old ham who loves to perform. And this will be more than a tennis match. She is carrying the banner for the women's libbers. I'm doing this for the guys who are 45 to 55."

This will be the first major tennis match ever played in the Astrodome. A basketball court will be put down on the floor of the stadium, and a tennis surface will be put on top of the court.

The type of surface has yet to be decided.

ALL YOU GOT TO DO IS ASK Murray Olderman

The tipoff: Just about one more blast by Vida Blue on how he's being mistreated by the Oakland A's and you can be sure he'll be using change-of-address cards next winter. Massa Charlie O.

Q — When the St. Louis Browns almost won a pennant in 1922, losing by half a game, they had a pitcher named Hubert Shelby Pruett who "owned" Babe Ruth when he pitched against the Yankees. I heard that he became a doctor. Is it true? — Edward Pinheiro, San Diego, Calif.

A — Dr. Hub Pruett, at 73, has just retired after 41 years as a general practitioner and general surgeon in St. Louis. He retired from baseball after he got his medical degree from St. Louis University in 1932. Although he struck out the Babe 13 times during his rookie season of 1922, Pruett only won seven games, his career high for seven years in the majors. He has little recollection of Ruth. "I never did see much of him," he told me, "except on the field."

Q — I'd like to state that I'm not a women's libber. I want to know why there isn't a bat girl for the Reds. Why do boys get to have all the fun of being bat boys? I'm a girl who'd like to be a bat girl. — Emiley Witt, Cincinnati, Ohio

A — Well, Emiley, I asked Bob Howsam, the general manager of the Reds, and he said, "We don't feel a girl can go into the dressing room of a group of men. There's more to being a bat boy than just picking up a ball. The trainer selects the bat boys. We have a long list of applicants developed over the years." You should know Bob Howsam has children, too — two boys. You should also know that teams like the Oakland A's have curvaceous ball girls stationed down the side lines.

Q — Who do you think is to blame for the Mets' misfortunes this year? Is it Yogi Berra? — Marcia Sanford, Woodbridge, Conn.

A — Only partly, Yogi, who never said all those witticisms ascribed to him when he was a Yankee, is not the most inspiring guy in the world. And it didn't help him much when they traded away Tommie Agee and Nolan Ryan and young kids such as Ken Singleton and Tim Lincecum, besides which Cleon Jones lost his zest for a left field. It's tough for a manager whose future rides on a present-day Willie Mays.

Q — I would like to know why Cincinnati played Johnny Bench in the outfield recently. I didn't notice anything about it in the sports section of the newspapers. Of course, I wouldn't have known about it any other way due to my hearing loss. — Rolland Obert, Fresno, Calif.

A — It's not unusual for Bench to play the outfield, or first, or catch. It just gives him a lift from all that kneeling behind the plate. Best news about Bench is that he has had no effect at all from last winter's surgery, a cut under his right arm to take out a spot in his lung which proved benign. He'll be examined in the fall again.

Q — In my opinion Henry Aaron is the greatest home run hitter that ever lived. As intelligent a sportswriter as you are, do you honestly think the Babe would have hit 714 home runs playing today, batting against such pitchers as Bob Gibson, Tom Seaver, Steve Carlton, etc.? — Rudy Vasquez, Corpus Christi, Tex.

A — It's like comparing Mae West and Raquel Welch. Each to his/her own time. The Babe really was a super athlete — people forget he was a great pitcher for five full seasons before switching to slugging. And he didn't have those whiplash bats they use today. He had a lot more natural power than Hank. Now go ahead — question my intelligence.

Q — I'm a 16-year-old high school junior and play badminton. You'd be surprised how many people look on it as a sexy sport. I think it's rough and grueling and I think I'm pretty good since I've only lost 3 out of over 100 sets. But my problem, sir, is that I can't find any tournaments, amateur or professional, to play in. — Scott Slava, West Homestead, Pa.

A — Your best bet is to write Bea Massman, editor of Badminton USA, 333 Saratoga Road, Buffalo, N.Y. 14226 for a complete list of events. The national championships were held in Pennsylvania a couple of years ago. The sport has flourished most in this country in California. At one time, you didn't build a home in Pasadena without a badminton court and that city produced the Babe Ruth of badminton, Dave Freeman, now a San Diego neurosurgeon.

Q — Are there any Indians playing in the majors, and what do they think of Wounded Knee? — Bud Myer, Norman, Okla.

A — From fabled Louis Sockalexis, the Penobscot who was the first full-blooded red man in the majors, through Jim Thorpe (Sac-and-Fox) and Chief Bender (Chippewa) there have always been Indians in baseball. Johnny Bench is part Indian. And Cubs' relief pitcher Jack Aker, descended from the Potawatami tribe of Oklahoma, is called "Chief." SAYS Aker, "I don't know a whole lot about Wounded Knee but I'm sympathetic to the Indian cause. My father, who was a white man, had an Indian name — Cloud Thrasher."

Parting shot: Not even the munificent persuasion of George Allen will wheedle a full, productive season out of Duane Thomas, who has problems beyond the football field.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Got a tough question about sports and the people who play them? All you got to do is ask Murray Olderman. Write him at (name and address of this newspaper). The most interesting questions will be answered in this column. Olderman regrets that he cannot write personal answers to all questions.

Lance--'When All The Laughter Died In Sorrow'

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Life has been a roller coaster for Lance Rentzel—a series of dizzying highs and disastrous lows.

His life has been the stuff of which novels are made, which is why it's not that surprising that Rentzel is now writing a novel.

Rentzel, the one-time golden boy who's been in more than his share of scrapes the last three years, is in trouble again. Suspended indefinitely from pro football, he'll miss at least the 1973 season unless the NFL Players Association can overturn the suspension in court.

In a terse statement, commissioner Pete Rozelle announced on July 24th that Rentzel was suspended for "conduct detrimental to the National Football League."

Rentzel's "conduct" is literally an open book. He spelled it all out in his poignant autobiography, "When All The Laughter Died In Sorrow." It's probably the only book by a sports celebrity in which the last chapter is written by his psychiatrist.

For the first 27 years, Rentzel's life seemed to be a ride on a merry-go-round. His psychiatrist calls it the "Rentzel legend." He was the son of prosperous parents, a football star in college and the pros and his ballyhooed marriage to Joey Heatherton made both the society pages and the gossip columns.

But the laughs ended in 1970 when he was arrested for exposing himself to a little girl in Dallas. It was revealed that he had previously been arrested in Minneapolis in 1966 on the same charge.

Rentzel pleaded guilty, was put on probation and underwent extensive psychiatric treatment to gain an understanding of his emotional problems. "Exhibitionism is not my whole problem; it is probably the most obvious symptom of it, the tip of the iceberg," he explained in his book as he studied the reasons for his behavior in frank and open terms.

From the wreckage, Rentzel started to build a new life. His marriage broke up and he was traded from the Dallas Cowboys to the Los Angeles Rams, where he has spent the last two seasons.

Last year was a disappointing season on the football field as he caught only 27 passes but he still thinks he has a lot of football left.

"Nobody on the team caught any passes last year," he says. "We just didn't have an effective passing game for a variety of reasons." The major one was that Roman Gabriel had a sore arm. "But with John Hadl in there, things will be different," he adds.

"I'm in better condition than I've ever been in my life," he says. "I felt ready for a great year."

Now, though, Lance Rentzel doesn't know if he'll ever put on a uniform again. But he seems to be philosophical about his fate.

"Life goes on, it isn't a football game. If it doesn't work out, you go on and do other things. You've got to retire some time anyway."

Rentzel, who'll be 30 on Oct. 14, said, "I've learned I can't plan more than three or four months ahead. I don't look to the distant future. I let it take care of itself."

Rentzel's latest troubles began on Jan. 11 when he was arrested on a charge of possession of marijuana and pleaded guilty. He says he pleaded guilty so he could play this season while his case is being appealed—apparently on the grounds that the evidence was obtained illegally.

But while Rentzel has been frank about his problems in the past, he doesn't want to spell out the details of this latest incident. "I can't go into it but when certain facts are presented in the closed hearing, I'm very confident I'll win the appeal. This is, if this latest thing hasn't prejudiced my case."

Since the subject of drugs has been in the headlines lately, Ed

Bentley Wins First In Junior Tourney

Dan Bentley of Amarillo defeated Amarillo's Barry Frost on the second hole of a sudden death playoff Friday to win the 16-17 age division of the Pampa Country Club Junior Tour Golf Tournament.

Bentley fired a 34 - 41 - 75, tying him after 18 holes with Frost, who carded 37 - 38 - 75.

Mark Fritts of Amarillo shot 37 - 40 - 79 to finish one stroke ahead of Pampa's Wiley McIntire in the 14 - 15 division. McIntire led until the final hole, which he three-putted.

McIntire won the North Plains Country Club Junior Tour Tournament June 12 at Dumas, qualifying him for the West Texas Junior Tournament of Champions Aug. 16, 17 at Hillcrest Country Club in Lubbock.

Amarillo's Peter Dallas finished with 41 - 43 - 84, as he won the 12 - 13 division Friday by three strokes over Kenny Garrison, also of Amarillo.

Friday's three winners also qualified for the Tournament of Champions.

The Pampa tourney Friday is the 43rd of 47 West Texas Junior Tour Golf Tournaments. To qualify for the Tournament of Champions, a player must win his division in at least one of the tourneys on the schedule.

doing something" about drugs.

Rentzel, though, will only admit to being "surprised and disappointed" by the suspension. He quickly adds, "I don't want in any way to imply any lack of respect for the commissioner."

But he backs away from any scapegoat charge. "Put yourself in my position," he says. "I've got to refer those kinds of questions to Ed Garvey, I'm grateful the association came to my assistance and I'm letting them handle it."

If Rentzel can't play, he will devote his time to writing. His autobiography, which was written originally as a part of what his psychiatrist calls the "psychotherapeutic process" although he decided to publish it, received critical acclaim. Now Rentzel is turning to fiction.

The book had a positive effect on my life and I was grateful for the reception it received. I wasn't interested in telling how the big game was won. I wanted to write about the psychological aspect."

He's currently working on a fictionalized account of last season. "I'm concerned about what athletes go through and what they're like. No one in the stands can put themselves in the huddle and understand the pressure the athlete faces. When all is said and done, athletes are still people.

"I want to discuss the whole basic makeup of an athlete and the athlete as a human being. They live in a world that most people can't comprehend," he says.

Rentzel doesn't know whether he'll ever join that world again. Unless the lawsuit is successful, he can only wait and apply for re-instatement next year.

Meanwhile, he's keeping in shape and waiting and writing. "Time will tell," he says calmly.

'Pokes Roll Over Rams

By United Press International
It didn't take Otto Stowe long to show how much he learned playing behind Paul Warfield.

Stowe, a backup man to Warfield at Miami last season, was traded to Dallas in the off-season. Friday night he made the Cowboys look like geniuses.

He caught two touchdown passes as Dallas opened its exhibition season with a 24-7 trouncing of the Los Angeles Rams. Charley Waters also had a 54-yard interception return for a touchdown and the Cowboy defense completely throttled veteran John Hadl in his debut as a Ram quarterback.

In the only other pre-season action Friday night, the New York Jets edged Houston 16-13 and Detroit upset Washington 17-14. In action tonight, Baltimore is at Pittsburgh, Buffalo plays Philadelphia at Jacksonville, Fla., Cincinnati is at Miami, New Orleans at Kansas City, the New York Giants at San Diego and Chicago takes on Green Bay at Milwaukee.

Oakland is at New England on Sunday and San Francisco is at Cleveland Monday night.

After a scoreless first period, a crowd of over 75,000 fans watched Roger Staubach throw a 16-yard pass to Stowe for the first score. Toni Fritsch's 20-yard field goal gave Dallas a 10-0 halftime lead and the Cowboys led the game in the third period when Waters made his TD run and Jack Concannon hit Stowe with a 12-yard TD pass.

Harris Boed
James Harris, in relief of Hadl, who was booed soundly, threw 13 yards to Harold Jackson in the last period for the only Rams' score.

The Lions scored a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter and added a fourth quarter field goal by Errol Mann to beat Washington and spoil Duane Thomas' return to pro football.

Greg Landry threw nine yards to Larry Walton for one score and after the Redskins tied the game on a two-yard pass from Bill Kilmer to Jerry Smith, Mel Farr burst 47 yards for a TD and Mann kicked a 10-yard field goal. Rookie Moses Denson ran six yards in the last period for Washington's only TD.

Thomas, who had not played since the January, 1972 Super Bowl when he led Dallas to victory, gained 36 yards on 11 carries and helped set up the Redskins score.

"He looked like the Duane Thomas of old," said Redskins' Coach George Allen. "He's learned our offense but he still has a lot to learn. He's disappointed with his performance."

Players Named Saturday For Faith 7 Classic

SHAWNEE, Okla. (UPI) — Members of the Oklahoma and Texas all-star teams that will meet in the Faith 7 basketball classic Aug. 18 were named Saturday by coaches of the two teams.

Oklahoma coach Clester Harrington said his players would include Darrell Johnson and Jim Woodridge of Putnam City, Myron Wilkins and Clyde Tucker of Fort Towson, Terry Hansen of El Reno, Kenneth Dansby of Sapulpa, Costa Thomas of Altus, John Zakariassen of Del City, Fred Stevenson of Tulsa, Washington and Larry Marshall of Tulsa Cascia Hall.

Two additional players will be selected after the Oklahoma all-state game in Tulsa this week.

Eight players named by Texas coach Ron Butler included Tommy Weilert of Irving, Vernon Lee Freeman Jr. of Waller, Daniel Van Rhenn of Deer Park, Grant Dukes of Levelland, George Campbell of Houston, Steve Dunn of Dallas, Hank Bauerschlag of League City and Keith Kitchens of Hereford.

The eighth annual Faith 7 game will begin at 8 p.m. Aug. 18 in the Shawnee High School fieldhouse.

Gibson Obtains Knee Injury In Met Contest

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob Gibson, ace righthander of the St. Louis Cardinals, suffered an apparently serious injury to his right knee Saturday during a game with the New York Mets.

The injury occurred when Gibson was trying to get back to first base and avoid being doubled up after teammate Ted Sizemore had lined out to third base. Gibson apparently wrenched his right knee and fell to the ground.

mance and I'd appreciate it if you guys (press) wouldn't try to talk to him. We've got a chance to save a guy and a performer and if you don't want to interfere, stay away from him."

Larry Brown III
Running back Larry Brown, the NFC Player of the year last season, did not play for Washington because of a virus infection.

Bobby Howfield's third field goal of the game, a 23-yarder with 1:35 left to play, lifted the Jets over Houston. With the Oilers leading 3-0, Al Woodall came off the bench in the second period to spark a 91-yard drive capped by Mike Adame's six-yard TD run that gave New York the lead.

Howfield boosted it to 10-3 at the half with a 44-yard field goal but a 35-yard TD pass from Dan Pastorini to Clifford McNeil and Skip Butler's 39-yard field goal gave Houston a 13-10 lead. Howfield tied it with a 31-yarder before winning it in the last period.

In action around the camps Friday, Minnesota signed defensive back Jackie Wallace, their No. 2 draft choice from Arizona and dealt linebacker Greg Slough to the Rams. Minnesota and St. Louis meet in a controlled scrimmage tonight.

And in action in the courts, a request by wide receiver Lance Rentzel of the Rams for a temporary injunction against his suspension by Commissioner Pete Rozelle for "conduct detrimental to football" was turned down.

Cincinnati Slips By Astros 7-6

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Joe Morgan's one-out bases-loaded single in the bottom of the 11th inning delivered a 7-6 victory for the Cincinnati Reds over the Houston Astros Saturday.

Cecil Upshaw, Houston's seventh pitcher of the game, walked Denis Menke to open the 11th. Another walk to Crosby followed. After Cesar Geronimo flied to left, Rose grounded to Tommy Helms, but shortstop Roger Metzger muffed a throw for an attempted force play at second as the bases were loaded, setting the stage for Morgan's game-winning hit.

The Reds tied the score 6-6 in the ninth when pinchhitter Larry Stahl walked, Cesar Geronimo singled, Pete Rose was hit by a pitch loading the bases and Joe Morgan walked. Astros third baseman Doug Rader then made a diving stab of Dan Driessen's hard hit grounder to end the threat.

The Reds earlier had taken a 4-1 lead in their half of the first inning, bunting four hits, including a triple by Johnny Bench and a double by Andy Kosco with an error by May and Tony Perez' sacrifice fly.

Lee May's 18th homer of the season, coming after a double by Rader, narrowed the Reds' lead to one run in the fourth inning. The Astros went ahead 5-4 in the sixth when they scored twice off loser Fred Norman on walks to Bob Watson and Rader and singles by May and Tommy Helms.

Cesar Cedeno's homer, his 17th of the season, then gave the Astros a sixth run in the seventh inning.

Golf Tips from the Old Masters

By The Editors of Golf Digest
SNEAD TELLS HOW TO STROKE CHIP SHOTS

Short chip shots from just off the fringe of the green can be great stroke savers to any golfer who wants to take the trouble to learn this shot. Sam Snead explains how to play this score-saving shot.

"I put my hands ahead of the ball at address because it reduces the club's loft slightly and puts 'run' on the ball. A lot of backspin might make the ball pull up short unexpectedly. The chipping stroke is mostly an arm and shoulder movement. The wrists break very little on the backswing and even less, if at all, after contacting the ball. The wrists are not tight, though; this is no time to let stiff wrists induce tension.

"Remember to hit the ball first and take a little grass after impact. You'll get a firmer, straighter rolling shot," Snead advises.

Michigan-OSU To Rival For Big 10 Championship

CHICAGO (UPI) — Michigan and Ohio State again should settle the Big Ten football championship when they meet in the last game of the 1973 season, conference coaches agree.

Every coach in the league, attending the annual conference kickoff luncheon, chose either the Wolverines or the Buckeyes to wind up on top, and Wisconsin's John Jardine said "you can flip a coin to decide which one."

Below the two pace setters, though, every coach expected an improved team, and perhaps a better finish.

"Outside of those two, we're all darkhorses," Minnesota's Cal Stoll said.

Neither Michigan's Bo Schembechler nor Ohio State's Woody Hayes disclaimed the role of the favorite.

"Michigan has good running and a couple of good passers," Hayes said. "We've got pretty good balance and some real good football players, and we can have a real fine team. Michigan should be rated high, but I don't think they should forget us."

"Ohio State is awfully physical," Schembechler said, "and we've got a problem in the offensive line. Our backfield should be in good shape, both on offense and defense, and we've got a real great tight end. But we could use help in the defensive line, at split receiver and linebacker."

Most coaches foresaw a depth problem and planned to use freshmen to build, if possible.

"We've got to create a new image at Indiana," new Coach Lee Corso said, "from the bottom up. After all we've only had three winning seasons in 25 years, and the only reason I took the job was because they said it couldn't be done."

Another new coach, Denny Stolz at Michigan State, planned to use a transfer from North Carolina, Charlie Baggett, at quarterback and will move Mark Niesen into the defensive backfield where, with Bill Simpson, the Spartans should be strong. But neither the offensive nor defensive line has shaped up yet.

Minnesota's Stoll expected a "representative" team headed by all conference fullback John King, who rushed for 1,150 yards last year, but he hoped he could get some help from freshmen, particularly in his defensive backfield, where six of eight are gone from last year.

Jardine planned a changed offense to fit his personnel, but said experience all around should help the Badgers, and Johnny Pont, switching from Indiana to Northwestern, planned to change his defense and to try to "create depth" by playing everybody on the roster.

SMITH WINS
2-Day Match Over In Davis Cup Play

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Stan Smith, growing stronger as he went along, picked up steam and downed Chili's Pat Cornejo Saturday, 7-9, 6-2, 8-6, 6-4, in a match extended over two days to give the United States a 2-0 lead in the American Zone finals of the Davis Cup.

The Smith-Cornejo match was suspended at darkness Friday at one set apiece and 3-3 in the third set after a marathon opening match between Tom Gorman and Jamie Pillot of Chile pushed the second match into twilight.

Gorman went on to win 17-15, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Late afternoon shadows were pushing onto center court when Smith and Cornejo began play Friday.

Cornejo opened with a service as big as Smith's and Smith was having trouble staying in the line. Cornejo broke service finally in the 16th game to surprise Smith in the first set. But Smith came back to take the next set 6-2 and it was 3-3 in the third set when darkness set in.

The two walked onto the court Saturday afternoon and, without warmup, resumed from that point with Cornejo serving.

Each won service into the 13th game with Cornejo again serving and Smith again just missing the sides and baseline in a futile effort to break service.

In the 13th game, Smith went to Cornejo's backhand at the net and won four points off of it to break service at 7-6. The next game he returned to Cornejo's backhand on set point and the Chilean knocked it wide to give Smith an 8-6 victory and put him up two sets to one.

TEE-OFF TID-BITS

By Hart Warren

It's tournament time again. As a matter of fact, it's "tournament month."

Due to the watering system's construction beginning Sept. 4, we are grouping all the remaining tournaments this season into August.

Friday, the Junior Tour Tournament, sponsored by the West Texas chapter of the PGA, was held. Top honors were swept by Amarillo boys, Wiley McIntire of Pampa three-putted the final hole to miss top honors in the 14-15 division by one shot.

Aug. 11-12, the annual club Championship will get underway with an Open and Senior Division. Entry fee will be 10 dollars for one division or 15 dollars for both. David Parker will be back to defend his title.

Sign up now. Make your own group and starting time. Full handicap will be used in both divisions. The course will be closed to all but contestants.

The Club Junior Championship will be held at 8:30 a.m. Aug. 14, with an entry fee of one dollar required of contestants. Contact Mrs. Jim Simpson for information.

Awards for the junior tourney will be given Aug. 24 during Family Night.

Then the ladies have their turn Aug. 16. Ladies Panhandle Day will be held with an anticipated 100-plus from throughout the Panhandle.

The girls would be after me with their rolling pins if I failed to mention that Pampa is defending champion and currently in the lead this season by six strokes. Let's take a commanding lead at home, girls.

It will be Ladies Club Championship time Aug. 18-19. Hopefully we will have better weather than last year. A close championship fight is expected as any of six or seven players could win. But watch out for a dark horse.

And then the big one. The Top O' Texas, known throughout the state and Midwest as one of the best tournaments, will be held Sept. 1-3.

The tournament is one of the best because of the facilities, the manner in which it is run and the friendly people of our city. At the time I am writing this, only 14 openings remain - so enter today.

I couldn't end this column without saying a word about Homer Craig's hole-in-one No. 7. Homer, be careful or you'll lose Peter Gunn and D.V. Biggers. That's supposed to be your bad hole.

A GOOD RULE TO KNOW: Testing surface - during the play of a hole, a player shall not test the surface of the putting green by rolling a ball or roughing or scraping the surface. Penalty: match play - loss of hole, stroke play - two strokes.

BRUCE CRAMPTON, the tour's leading money-winner, was at 136 after a 69.

Lennie Wadkins and Gene Littler headed a group at 137, a stroke ahead of defending champ Jack Nicklaus, who moved into contention when he birdied the last two holes for a 68.

Masters champion Tommy Aaron was at 139, Gary Player, who defends his PGA title next week was at 149 and Arnold Palmer and US Open Champions Johnny Miller were at 141.

Weiskopf, an amazing 84 strokes under par for his last 34 rounds, said at first the woman spectator who took his picture didn't bother him but he sounded as if he didn't believe it.

"It would be one thing if there was a lot of noise all the time," he said. "But when its dead silent and when all of a sudden you hear that click - click - clicking, it's frustrating."

Jeanie Evert To Join Sister As Professional

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Jeanie Evert announced Saturday she would join her older sister, Chris, as a professional on her 18th birthday Oct. 5.

The USLTA recently lowered its age requirement for professionals to 16. Chris Evert had to wait for her 18th birthday last winter before she could turn professional under USLTA rules.

Jeanie has played in several professional tournaments, even

23. Safe Shots in Percentage Tennis

In singles play, you are not only trying to maneuver your opponent; he is also trying to maneuver you. If you try only an outright winner against him, you will undoubtedly lose more than 50 per cent of the points. To play percentage tennis, you must understand the shape of the court and the safe and unsafe angles. Some of them are listed below.

1. Serve every ball deep to the backhand. The wide ball to the forehand is extremely dangerous unless it is used to surprise the opponent.

2. Your regular return-of-serve in the forehand court should be deep to the backhand.

3. When receiving in the backhand court, hit your backhand down the line against a net-rushing server or deep to your opponent's backhand if he chooses to stay back.

4. Never try an ace on second serve.

5. Try your drop shots early in the match either for outright winners or to tire the opponent.

6. When you get a short forehand and want to follow it to the net, always hit it down the line to the opponent's backhand.

7. When you come to net on a forehand down-the-line, stand to the right of the center service line so that you can cut off the backhand down-the-line. He has to have a great backhand crosscourt shot to pass you.

8. When coming in on your backhand to the opponent's forehand, play to the left of the center service line. This enables you to cover the down-the-line and all but the sharpest cross-court.

9. When you are pulled wide and your opponent is at net, the safest shot is a high defensive lob.

10. When you are down 30-40, always get your first serve in. Use more spin and less pace to be sure it goes into court.

11. Play the surface. Take the offense and hit hard on a fast surface. Don't follow your serve to net on a slow surface.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when a man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

The Way To Plenty

The chairman of General Foods Corporation, C.W. Cook, is asking the U.S. government to embargo all food-commodity exports until adequate provision is made to meet domestic requirements. That's a sample of the type of thinking that comes from many men in business today. They tend to propose a remedy that will sound pleasing rather than solve the problem. We have enough of that kind of suggestion coming out of government. If plausible notions were protein, this country could feed the world for 40 years without farming a lick. Now when you put the economic calipers on the embargo idea, there's what you come up with.

First, this country's farmers have steady customers overseas. The embargo to them means, "Stop eating while our government tinkers with the economy for awhile." Do you think any customer will stand for that? He might have to, for the time being, but when and if he finds or develops another source of supply, he won't be so eager to do business with you anymore.

Second, this country's agricultural exports — including food — are the means by which the dollar has been sustained heretofore. That is one of the few industries in which we have beaten all competitors. That is one industry in which we have earned enough foreign purchasing media that U.S. Arabs who sell us oil to fuel our tractors continue to have some confidence in the dollars that we pay them. Cut off those exports, and what recourse will the Arabs have except to hike the price of oil so they won't be losing buying power when they sell to us?

And what will increase in the price of oil do to food production but make it more costly than it was before the proposed embargo will have gone on?

So you see how bad ideas can lead to bad results. To be sure, food exports caused the problem that we are in. The News pointed that out 12 months ahead of any other newspaper that we are aware of. But the food exports that did us damage were the grain shipments to the Red bloc. Those exports hurt us because we did not gain purchasing power by the exchange. In effect we are lending the wheat, corn, barley and soybeans to Red China and the Soviet Union, and the U.S. government expects them to pay off at some future date. To the extent that either the Chinese or the Russians had been able and were willing to pay hard money — gold, silver, chrome or oil — on the barrelhead, we would not have objected.

How ironical that American businessmen were silent when the grain deal that hurt the U.S. position was negotiated 16 months ago, and now have suddenly become vocal when our agricultural industry is developing exports that will HELP the U.S. position.

We need men of credibility, men of prominence, men of knowledge who will speak up from the business point of view. But speaking up carries a staggering responsibility. Shutting off our most successful industry from its most receptive market is not the way to cure a trade deficit. Any farmer will tell you what the cure is. It is this: "Get out of my way with laws. Let me work, and I will see that you have plenty to eat."

Amusing, Confusing

The President was served with subpoenas from a committee of Congress and by an appointee of the executive branch which he, the President, leads.

The stage was thus set for a constitutional showdown. We use the term "stage" after due consideration, because the confrontation came on with such suddenness as to render it somewhat incredible.

In the first place, it seems a bit unnatural that a man who likes security as much as President Nixon is reputed to like it would risk making an electronic record of confidential conversations with his staff.

In the second place, the "rush to crisis" is not the mark of experienced men. Sam Ervin is supposed to be a great constitutional lawyer. Richard Nixon has been able to meet across the bargaining table with the red dictators of China and the Soviet Union. A little strange, I think, that he would be unable to converse with someone who speaks his own language!

Frankly, we would like to believe that no one would be so callous as to start a dogfight on main street in order to amuse the village while the bank was being robbed. Are we being over suspicious of the dramatic conflict between the executive and legislative branches has an operative quality, a taint of contrivance, or have you noticed it, too?

When a dove begins to associate with crows its feathers remain white but its heart grows black.

Puerto Rico Turns Deaf Ear To Snub

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
SAN JUAN, P.R. (NEA) — When President Nixon's representatives come here within days to open talks on establishment of a new ad hoc committee aimed at refining Puerto Rico's unique commonwealth status within the American Union, they'll have some immediate repair work to do.

In the first place, the President delivered the proud islanders a careless snub when he failed to send Vice President Agnew here to represent him at Puerto Rico's 21st anniversary celebration July 25 of the constitution which gave them their special freedoms under commonwealth.

Originally, Attorney General Elliot Richardson was coming, but the President's constitutional difficulties over Watergate kept him home. In his stead was a mere assistant attorney general. It was an act of gross insensitivity, upon which young Gov. Rafael Hernandez Colon nevertheless chose to put the best face possible.

Hernandez is taking the same graceful posture toward the coming of Kenneth Cole and Richard Fairbanks as Mr. Nixon's spokesmen in the status committee talks, though Cole's July 17 letter to the governor on the President's behalf was inexcusably vague.

The letter does indicate the President's agreement with Hernandez' request that an ad hoc committee be set up and proposes that the negotiators settle quickly upon an agenda, a membership formula, and similar necessary detail.

But, in speaking of goals, the language refers fuzzily to "an area of mutual concern" and "an area of exploration." And, on the membership matter, it uses the phrase "broad-based."

According to some Puerto Rican sources, these ambiguities reflect pressure on the President in Washington by the island's defeated statehood forces, with the intent of slowing down if not halting the movement toward a freer but still firmly binding commonwealth status.

In the eyes of the governor and his victorious Popular Democratic party, the fundamentals of the issue are simple. In a 1967 plebiscite, Puerto Ricans voted to keep and further develop the commonwealth status with the United States. They rejected statehood.

Meantime, the Puerto Rican Supreme Court ruled that any ad hoc committees established to further this decreed purpose should be composed only of commonwealth sympathizers — and not include advocates of either statehood or independence. In this context, Cole's use of the expression "broad-based" is seen as unwisely misleading.

Leaning over backward, Hernandez actually is willing to put a member of former Gov. Luis Ferrer's Statehood party on a new committee but only one of known sympathy for the commonwealth idea.

In Hernandez' major July 25 speech here, he made clear what his Popular Democratic government considers fit subject matter for a new committee's agenda: Special application of U.S. environmental regulations which take note of Puerto Rico's water-bound isolation; attention to air and water freight rates which place undue burdens today on the island's huge commerce with the mainland; similar special consideration on application of federal tax laws, minimum wage regulations, radio communications.

Underlying all is a desire here for clearly expressed recognition that Puerto Rico, separated by distance, language and culture, should have as much autonomy as is consistent with "union," and should thus consistently be given special, exceptional treatment.

It is true that "God moves in a mysterious way" but it is also true that He plays His finest tunes on the heart strings of man.

I know that God is the only answer to the problems of mankind. That is why I now am full time in the fight to preserve liberty, for if liberty is not preserved then God cannot be proclaimed the Lord of all.

A minister who serves as pastor of a nice church in Mississippi was questioned by a member about his stand on communism. The minister replied that he didn't like communism but his first and only duty was ministering to the needs of his congregation. The preacher's stock answer to those who sought to activate him against communism was: "Just pray about it." One day the plumbing suddenly went out of order at the parsonage and the frantic minister put in an urgent call to a member who was a plumber. The member listened patiently as the pastor explained the crisis and pleaded for immediate help. The member then explained how he felt about such problems (no doubt he said he was opposed to wet carpets, leaking pipes, etc.) and then said, "Preacher, just pray about it!" He got the message!

There is an every increasing number of people who feel as the minister. I agree that his first duty lies in meeting the needs of his people. Don't they have a need for preserving freedom of worship? He could not be a pastor today unless someone yesterday established the freedom to be a recipient only of this freedom indicates an ungrateful attitude and unconcern for future generations.

It is still true today that "Eternal Vigilance" is the price of liberty. This is a serious thing. Those who fall victim to it are sincere in what they are doing but it has taken some good workers out of the field. Sincerity isn't enough for one can be sincerely wrong. There are those who daily pray, "Lord, you save the country from communism." What we really need is for people to pray, "Here I am Lord, send me."

The scriptures say, "Faith without works is dead." The Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea both are fed by the River of Jordan, but there is a tremendous difference. One is alive while the other is dead. The difference is, one never gives, for it has no outlet. If we only receive liberty

Question: Should We Just Leave It To God?

By DELMAR DENNIS (American Way)

A little lady in a Western State recently said to me, "I've been in the fight against Communism for a long time but I'm quitting." It seems that she has decided to leave it all to God. "Leaving it all to God" is not what He would have us to do. The Scriptures are very clear about this. God's work is done most often with human hands.

I heard of a man whose religious belief taught him to "leave it all to God." When his little boy was sick he wouldn't take him to a doctor. The boy died. He could have been saved by a simple operation but the father "left it all to God."

America and the entire free world is in serious trouble. If we "leave it all to God," freedom will perish. When God was ready to call His people out of the bondage of Egypt and into the Promised Land, he used a man, Moses. When God will that America should become a great nation He used men to establish it. He inspired them. He gave them courage. He gave them a vision of a great nation. He gave them the will to win and they did not dare "leave it all to God." They planned and fought and gave their fortunes and often their lives. A strong faith in God was theirs. Their hearts were attuned to the Spirit of God and their lips moved often in prayer but they didn't "leave it all to God."

When our young men were away in war, the mothers and wives and sweethearts were praying that they would return. Some came back and others did not. They fought with courage to defeat the evil which threatened their homeland. If our generals and the thousands who fought under them had thrown down their weapons and "left it all to God," their children (and yours) would be slaves today.

It is true that "God moves in a mysterious way" but it is also true that He plays His finest tunes on the heart strings of man.

I know that God is the only answer to the problems of mankind. That is why I now am full time in the fight to preserve liberty, for if liberty is not preserved then God cannot be proclaimed the Lord of all.

The member then explained how he felt about such problems (no doubt he said he was opposed to wet carpets, leaking pipes, etc.) and then said, "Preacher, just pray about it!" He got the message!

There is an every increasing number of people who feel as the minister. I agree that his first duty lies in meeting the needs of his people. Don't they have a need for preserving freedom of worship? He could not be a pastor today unless someone yesterday established the freedom to be a recipient only of this freedom indicates an ungrateful attitude and unconcern for future generations.

It is still true today that "Eternal Vigilance" is the price of liberty. This is a serious thing. Those who fall victim to it are sincere in what they are doing but it has taken some good workers out of the field. Sincerity isn't enough for one can be sincerely wrong. There are those who daily pray, "Lord, you save the country from communism." What we really need is for people to pray, "Here I am Lord, send me."

The scriptures say, "Faith without works is dead." The Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea both are fed by the River of Jordan, but there is a tremendous difference. One is alive while the other is dead. The difference is, one never gives, for it has no outlet. If we only receive liberty and the many blessings it offers, and never participate in its preservation, then it will surely die.

I was a pastor for ten years and I'm glad of it, but now that I'm a full time anti-communist, people ask why. The answer is simple. If communism isn't defeated there will be no churches! I am a full-time Christian, too, because being a Christian is always a full time job.

There were 28,583,000 living American veterans as of Dec. 31, 1971, according to the Veterans Administration. The Veterans Administration also reported that 42,889,000 Americans participated in wars — of these, 1,080,000 died in service. The World Almanac notes: Persons who served in more than one war period were counted as participants in each.

Rearview Mirror

By TEX DEWEESE
Editor Of The News

ONE OF the startling revelations of the week just ended was disclosure that the City Hall Cat has been recording telephone conversations of City Hall officials including department heads, secretaries, clerks and sanitation department workers.

The Cat says, under no condition, will he turn the tapes over to city commissioners so they can listen in and get the lowdown on the higher-ups. In fact, he has invoked every provision under the City Charter section covering separation of the men from the boys.

The sanitation department tapes would make your ear drums reverberate, says the Cat, who added that you'd be more than surprised at what is discarded in those alley trash cans — stuff that furnishes conversation pieces all the way to the landfill.

Anyhow, the Cat says he also has invoked executive privilege on School House Kitty and the Court House Cat, the only others who knew the phones were bugged.

So, like the tapes from the Oval Office and E.O.B. in Washington, we'll probably never know what's on them — except one that fell out of a trash can being dumped into a garbage truck in a North Pampa alley. When it was played, all we got was "Tie a Yellow Ribbon 'Round the Old Oak Tree."

Not having a yellow ribbon, that one was a total loss, too.

***

SPEAKING of tapes, a lot of taxpayers are beginning to wonder whether the Watergate inquiry by the Senate Select Committee is worth what it's costing us.

After nine weeks of hearings it's difficult to figure out who's ahead — President Nixon or Chairman Sam.

Just about the time you get ready to put $2 across the board on the chairman, somebody testifies the President has a halo around his head and you pull back your two bucks and sit that one out.

It would seem to a close observer of the witnesses and their conflicting testimony that Washington has too many officials with too little regard for the truth.

Somebody has got to be lying. Mr. Nixon could clear it all up by releasing the relevant tapes. But, he says national security is at stake. Meanwhile, the American people, and members of the Senate Select Committee, looking into the Watergate break-in and the subsequent cover-up, must sit back and try to determine who is kicking the truth in the teeth and who isn't.

As Committee Vice Chairman Senator Baker has said over and over about Watergate — what the American people would like to have cleared up is: What did the President know and WHEN did he know it?

NEXT SUNDAY is Family Reunion Day, suggested by Kiwanis International and Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

It's a day set aside to recognize the family as the basis of the nation's strength and morality. President Paul Simmons of the Pampa Kiwanis Club has issued an appeal to Pampans to observe the day by getting together at family dinners, picnics, outings and such activities as getting the family up-to-date on addresses, birthdays, anniversaries, deaths and significant events.

To help in the local observance of Family Reunion Day it is to be hoped Pampa ministers will find a place for comment on family life and its importance to the community. So, come next Sunday — try to have everybody in the family get together for at least part of the day, worship together and renew contacts with family members in other parts of the state or country by phone or mail.

As Kiwanians point out, strong families are our most valuable asset as we work to improve the quality of life in our community and make it a better place in which to live.

THEY SAY there is nothing new under the sun. We're convinced that is no longer true after receipt a day or two ago of a letter from Aaron E. Coffee, 1188 Durkin St., Camarillo, Calif.

He writes: "A recent KABC radio release revealed that a Gay Union has been formed and official spokesmen for it have 'bragged' that they are financed, for the most part, by Federal grants. The initial grant was for $37,000 advanced by HEW from tax funds."

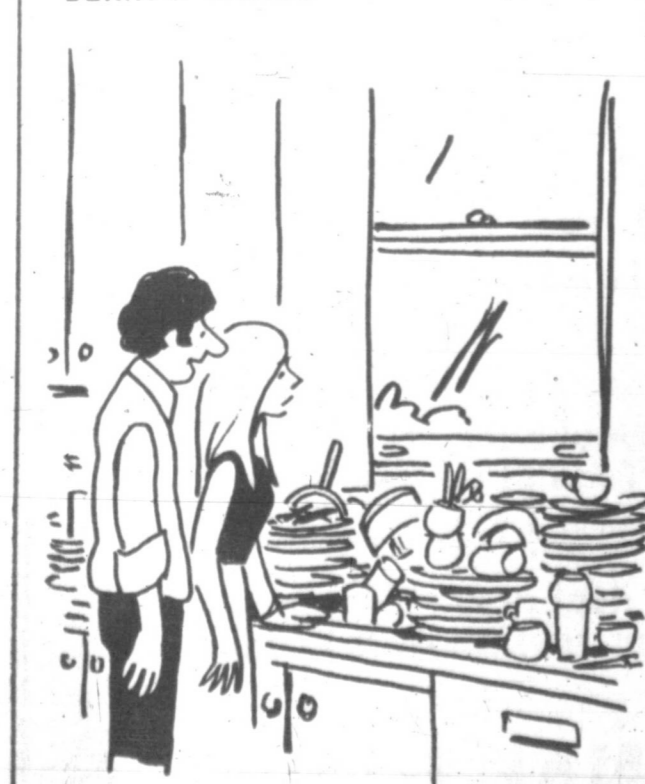

"This is but a small example of the mis-use of tax money to destroy America. A case in point may be found in the two following quotes: "1. No civilization has ever lasted for long after its people began to condone immorality and dishonesty. "2. The deterioration of a government begins almost always by the decay of its principles. "Both immorality and dishonesty exist in the KABC news release and Watergate further makes it wise to realize that America is in its darkest hour."

"President Nixon should not resign but should be investigated and, if criminal acts are proved against him, he is directly responsible for the acts of his administration. "But, a 'Gay' union — that really is something new under the sun and probably something new under the moon.

***

THIS MAY be good news for some and bad news for others. Rearview Mirror will suspend publication for a couple of weeks while the perpetrator of the column goes into hiding at a mountain retreat or some equally quiet spot far removed from the hum and drum, the hurry and scurry and the pell and mell of the daily newsbeat. It will afford a chance to forget about Watergate, the high price and scarcity of beef, the climbing costs of practically everything else — and a chance to worry about that Gay Union movement taking hold in Texas. Rearview Mirror plans to be back Aug. 26.

Agriculturally Speaking

Guess we will have to invite Chief Choctaw back again. We have never had as much comment before about a news article.

Trying to second guess what the Cost of Living Council will do seems to be farmers and ranchers biggest worry. It isn't very difficult to determine what the cattle feeder is going to do.

Call any feedlot manager or talk to any packer buyer. Most of them will tell you they can't get anyone to even price cattle. In less than two weeks the pipeline of beef will be totally cleaned out.

The boycotting housewives are extremely quiet. Surely they know, beyond any shadow of a doubt, that they were chiefly responsible for bringing meat and farm products under price ceiling. And, now it is also very obvious that the price ceiling is what has things in such a chaotic condition.

Last evening (7-31-73) a close friend and cattleman, several hundred miles to the East of here, called me with regard to the cattle price situation. He said runs were down drastically at the Auction Sales in that area.

A withholding action on the part of cow-calf people is even underway. This is what we were talking about last week when we predicted the largest unorganized withholding action ever experienced in this once land of plenty.

The entire chaotic situation has been caused by placing artificial barriers that prevent supply and demand from operating in a normal manner. Most of the farmers and ranchers with whom I've talked are not jubilant as one would expect over the situation.

They are more worried over the general economics of the country. They are worried about that price cliff they could tumble over down the road a Milk Production Declines As Predicted... Broilers, Eggs Also Show Declines... Citrus Tree Plantings Increase... Cattle Feeding Increases.

Milk Production in Texas as well as the nation is following a year-long pattern of declines, which has been predicted by dairy group spokesmen. Texas milk production for June is 5 per cent below the previous month's production, although it is slightly above June of a year ago.

Nationwide, milk producing is 2.5 per cent less than a year earlier. Production during the first half of this year is running 2 per cent under 1972. The number of milk cows, nationwide, also has declined by 2 per cent.

The cost price squeeze in the dairy industry is also dramatized in the milk-feed price ratio. That ratio is down 27 per cent from a year ago. It is also the lowest June ratio since 1955.

EGG production in Texas during June is down 4 per cent from a year ago and 5 per cent under last month. Nationwide, a decrease of 5 per cent is noted from the same month a year ago.

Broiler chick hatch in Texas during June is down 7 per cent from a year ago and 10 per cent under the preceding month.

The turkey poult hatch for Texas during June is up 19 per cent from a year ago, but is 9 per cent under a month ago.

The June hatch of egg-type chicks in Texas is up 34 per cent from a month ago and 3 per cent above a month earlier.

CITRUS tree plantings are on the increase in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Licensed citrus nurserymen and private citrus nurserymen in the Valley reported 230,000 citrus moved from nurseries to groves during the period July 1, 1972 to June 30, 1973.

This is 12 per cent above the previous year when 206,000 trees were set out; these totals reflect new plantings in commercial groves.

Of the total, about 98 per cent are grapefruit; about 2 per cent oranges; less than 1 per cent lemons, limes, tangerines and tangelos.

The number of grapefruit trees planted was up 15 per cent from the previous year. More than half of the 1972-73 plantings were of the Star Ruby variety.

Movement of orange trees to groves continues to decline. Plantings at 4,000 trees were down 50 per cent from the previous season and far below the planting rate of prior years.

CATTLE on feed in Texas and the nation continues to increase. As of July 1, a total of 2,335,000 head of cattle and calves were on feed in Texas. This is 10 per cent above a year ago, 4 per cent above June 1, and 3 per cent above April 1.

Large feedlots—those with 1,000 plus capacity—numbered 234. Steers accounted for 1,613,000 head of the cattle on feed.

Cattle placements on feed in Texas feedlots from April 1 to July 1 were down 11 per cent compared to a year ago.

4-H CLUB NEWS

The Top O' Texas 4-H club enjoyed a watermelon feast July 28 at the local Central Park. Those attending included Yoby Hollis, Dana Smith, Regina Atwood, Sherry Courtney, Lizzy Lawyer, Tammy Carter, Steve Snelgrooves, Don Smith, Greg Terrel, Barry Terrel, Richard Courtney, Keith Courtney, Paula Crosshwaite, Ted Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crosshwaite, Mrs. Mack Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carter and Linda Crosshwaite.

Dana Smith called the meeting to order. Yoby Hollis led the group in the 4-H motto. Greg Terrel stated the pledge and Barry Terrel was responsible for the prayer.

The business meeting included the election of officers for 1973-74. Yoby Hollis was elected president; Phillip Sealy, vice-president; Dana Smith, secretary; Steve Snelgrooves, reporter; Regina Atwood, council delegate.

The next 4-H meeting will be August 18. This will be the third Saturday night of the month instead of the second Saturday night which is the regular meeting schedule.

The program is being rescheduled since it conflicts with the leaders (Mr. and Mrs. Ted Atwood) vacation in Colorado.

If you are interested in being a 4-H member please contact the county extension service. The number is 669-7429.

Record books are due in the county extension office, Monday, August 6. This is the basis for the awards 4-H program. If you have any questions or need help in preparing this project please contact the agents.

Thursday, the county 4-H clubs will be very privileged to have a special program. Bobbie Combs will conduct a tour of The Pampa News as the paper goes through different processes. She will also give guidelines to writing news articles. We're excited!

Friday, the Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club will be presented a program on the 4-H projects in Gray County.

A Teen Leadership Workshop will be held in Amarillo Aug. 14-16. This is leadership training for young people between the ages of 14-19.

Gray County is allowed six junior leaders and four of the quota has already been filled. If you're qualified and want to take the advantage of this opportunity, let the extension agent know immediately.

The County Bake Show will be August 25. Boys and girls are both qualified to participate in the competition this year.

Now is the time to be practicing making plain muffins and cinnamon rolls. The best product can be frozen and judged in the competition.

Grant Seminar Starts Friday

The North Rolling Plains Resource Conservation and Development Project Area is sponsoring a seminar Aug. 10 to discuss grants and planning assistance available for planning, acquisition and development of outdoor recreation areas and facilities.

This seminar will be held at the Agriculture Building (Gray County Courthouse Annex) on Highway 60, east of Pampa. It will start at 10 a.m. and end at 3 p.m.

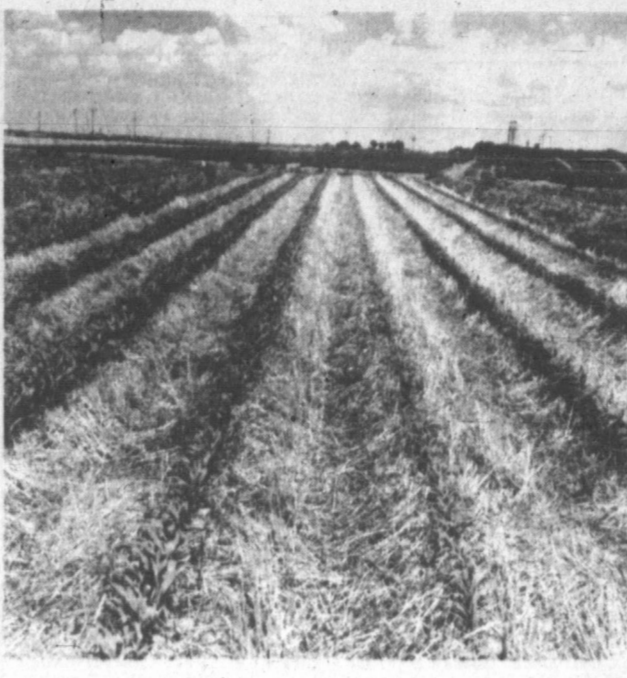

The seminar will be conducted by officials from the Parks and Wildlife Department, Soil Conservation Service and Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

The North Rolling Plains RC&D Project Area includes Briscoe, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Hall, Hemphill, Lipscomb and Wheeler Counties.

Gray County sponsors include Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District, Gray County Commissioners Court and the City of McLean.

All interested officials are invited to attend the seminar.

The term Lent comes from the Old English word "lencen," which meant "springtime."

Continuous Cover Staves Off Erosion

For the protection of cultivated land against wind and water erosion, nothing can take the place of continuous cover, states Rodney Hyatt, soil conservationist. This is true regardless of location, rainfall, soil type, or kind of farming.

Producing annual crops, however makes soil protection a two-sided job, reports Hyatt.

First, the crops grown must yield high amounts of residues. Secondly, the residues must be managed in a way to protect the soil until a new crop can emerge to cover the land.

Burning off or plowing under residues destroys nature's protection; encouraging both wind and water erosion. According to Hyatt, residues alone will not always protect the land, and may need to be supplemented with terraces. When sufficient crop litter is produced it should be managed where it will do the best job — on the soil surface.

Residues left on top of the land reduce compaction and splash erosion by lessening the impact of rain, consequently increasing moisture penetration. Evaporation is also reduced since surface litter keeps the soil at a cooler temperature.

When high residue producing crops are not a part of the cropping system, cover crops or mulches should be used to protect the soil.

Remember, continuous cover is the best protection for the land and plowing the soil buries residue.

Grain Sorghum Harvest Is Showing Good Yields

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Grain sorghum harvesting is becoming active in Central Texas and early yields are good. Harvest operations are continuing in southern and coastal areas. Early rice yields in the Coastal Plains have been good.

Hay harvesting also continued to be a major activity with third cuttings under way in many areas, the Texas Agricultural Extension said today. The abundance of hay plus other conditions have led to a shortage of baling wire in some sections of the state.

Scattered rains during the week boosted dryland crops and ranges in the High Plains and in Far West Texas. However, some ranges still remain parched from the hot summer weather and pose a fire hazard.

The state's cotton crop continues to make good to excellent progress. Fruiting is heavy in the South Plains while harvest operations are beginning in deep South Texas, the Extension Service said.

Vegetable harvesting is active in the High Plains and in parts of North Texas. Onions continue to be harvested in the Van Horn area, and the catalpa harvest remains in full swing around Pecos. Watermelons are available in good supply in central and eastern counties.

Fall vegetable planting is active in the Rio Grande Valley while preparations are being made for fall plantings in East Texas, the Coastal Bend and the Winter Garden. Livestock conditions remain

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

The Texas Water Quality Board is fast becoming one of the most active and better known of the State Boards and Commissions. Many cities have discovered that this state agency has a bite on them and won't let go until its justifiable demands are met.

There has been considerable attention focused on Pampa and its sewage disposal plant. A number of larger cities have already felt the sting of the Texas Water Quality Board.

Last year the City of San Antonio paid a sizable fine for dumping improperly treated sewage into the San Antonio River.

The Texas Water Quality Board has no choice other than that of letting the Federal Environmental Protection Agency take over. Should that happen, we will all regret it.

Earlier this year the Water Quality Board amended its rules and regulations to conform to new laws enacted at the federal and state level. An explanation was also offered on the amendments.

"As presently written, the standards do not contain a statement concerning the policy of the State to protect the quality of those waters whose quality presently exceeds the described standards."

Therefore, in response to a request of the Secretary of the Interior for a statement on this issue, the following are two proposed amendments to the General Statement of the Texas Water Quality Standards. The first amendment is a completely new provision; the second is a revision of an existing policy statement to bring it in line with the new provisions.

AMENDMENT NO. 1
In implementing the foregoing, it is the policy of the Texas Water Quality Board that the interstate and intrastate waters in the State whose existing quality is better than the applicable water-quality standards described herein as of the date when these standards become effective will be maintained at their existing high quality, and none of these waters will be lowered in quality unless and until it has been affirmatively demonstrated to the Texas Water Quality Board that the change is justifiable as a result of desirable economic or social development and will not interfere with or become injurious to the uses of the waters as described in these standards.

It is further the policy of the Texas Water Quality Board to provide the fullest protection possible to the underground waters in the State.

The Board will not authorize or approve any activity which will result in the quality of any of the interstate waters in the State being reduced below standards described herein without complying with the Federal and State laws applicable to the amendment of water quality standards.

Any industrial, public or private project or development which would constitute a new source of pollution or an increased source of pollution to any of the waters in the State, both surface and underground, will be required, as part of the initial project design, to provide the highest and best degree of waste treatment available under existing technology consistent with the best practice in the particular field affected under the conditions applicable to the project or development.

"In the spirit of the Federal

Water Pollution Control Act, the Board will keep the Department of the Interior informed on its activities and will furnish to the Department such reports, in such form and containing such information as the Secretary of the Interior may from time to time reasonably require to carry out his functions under the Act.

"Additionally, the Board will consult and cooperate with the Department of the Interior on all matters affecting the Federal interest."

Amendment No. 2 will be carried in this column next week.

Easing Standards?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said Friday it is proposing to ease a zero-defect egg grading standard which officials said they have been unable to enforce closely in recent years.

A spokesman said the change was necessary to accommodate the grading system to the realities of modern mass-handling methods, and predicted consumers will not be able to tell the difference when the rules are changed.

Under existing rules, eggs graded for mass institutional buyers under "procurement" standards are allowed a tolerance of 0.3 per cent for "leaker" and "loss" eggs. This means three eggs out of every thousand can be leaking or contain meat or blood spots. However, there is no "leaker" or "loss" tolerance at all for eggs packed under "Grade A" or any other consumer-packaging grade.

A department spokesman said that with modern mass handling methods, handling eggs which are marketed faster and fresher than in the past, it is often impossible to detect defects and the zero tolerance for consumer grades has become impractical.

Watch his big smile that says "Thank You"

When the boy comes to collect...

Your newspaperboy makes it his business to collect at a regular time—convenient to you.
That way he comes expected and you can be ready for him.
You can help, too, by having the money there so he won't have to come back. He'll appreciate that.
Because this boy is in business. He depends on the full collection of his route for his full profit. And repeat calls for him mean extra work with no extra profit.

Hence, next time the boy comes by to collect, be ready—and watch his big smile, which says "Thank you."
