Hearst Calls Daughter's Kidnapers 'Cruel People'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Randolph A. Hearst called the Symbionese Liberation Army kidnapers of his daughter "cruel people" Saturday and said he believed she was brainwashed before she announced that she had decided to stay with her captors.

In an interview in the dining room of his home in suburban Hillsborough, Hearst also said he believed Patricia is alive and that it was "idiotic" to think that she was a party to the kidnaping.

Before the kidnaping, she was a liberal but not a radical, he said. He also reiterated that the $4 million placed in escrow for Patricia's safe return will revert to the Hearst Corporation if the kidnapers do not meet the May 3 deadline for releasing her.

Hearst, who is president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, was asked about the theory that Patricia was subjected to a form of brainwashing before she made a tape recorded statement broadcast last Wednesday.

"That's a psychological question, and you should ask someone in that field," Hearst said. "I think she was not that they had her in a tiger cage or anything like that—but I think that after 60 days you can change people. I think she believes some of the things on the tape and not others. The girl I knew 60 days before would never have made the statement she made."

In the tape recording Patricia, who was abducted last Feb. 4, called her father a "corporate liar" and said she had chosen to stay with the terrorist SLA and "fight beside them."

Hearst said the SLA had broken its word.

"I guessed wrong on the SLA all along, and I thought they were going to keep their word and didn't," he said. "I do believe she's unharmed, physically unharmed, but to put out a message one day saying they're going to release her and then a day later put out one saying she's going to stay with them, this is just plain cruelty. I think they're just cruel people, and I think they fundamentally hate this society so much that they think anything's fair."

Only the day before Patricia's broadcast renouncing her former life, a communication from the SLA received by an underground newspaper said the time and place of her release would be disclosed within 72 hours.

Hearst, who was in his shirtsleeves, was calm and composed during the interview although his deep concern for the missing girl was evident.

He said he thinks Patricia is alive and added, "I hope she's well."

Asked if he believed she had any connections with the SLA before the kidnaping, he said:

"No, I do not. We know her very well. She might have known someone who was, but I'm sure she didn't know that they were, and I have doubts that she really knew anybody connected with it. Living in Berkeley, she could know anybody."

Patricia, 20, was a student at the University of California and lived in the apartment near the campus, from which she was abducted.

Hearst said speculation that his daughter might have been involved in the kidnaping "doesn't make much sense."

Both also supported the proposal to increase the membership on the board from five to seven.

The seven-man school board proposal also was approved in resounding fashion, 1606 to 357. Proponents of the proposal increasing the membership held that the larger board would make it more difficult for a clique to control school board decisions.

The seven-man board will become effective at the next school election in April of 1975 when two additional members will be elected.

Arrington and Anderson will fill the seats held by retiring board member Hasse and Mrs. Stowers. She was appointed in January to fill the vacancy left by Sturgeon, who resigned from the board to take a position with a law firm in Amarillo.

Both Anderson and Arrington had called for a change in the current school administration.

Interest in the election this year was emphasized by the large number of absentee ballots cast. A total of 290 Pampans cast their votes in the absentee balloting. With those votes included, the total votes cast was 2,082.

Israeli Planes Strike Syrians

United Press International — Israeli warplanes carried out their first strikes since the October war Saturday, hitting twice at Syrian troops who Tel Aviv said had crossed the cease-fire line in the 26th day of battle on the Golan Heights front. Syria called it "an escalation of the fighting."

The Israeli command said all of its planes returned safely after blunting an attempt by about 40 Syrian infiltrators to capture an unmanned promontory on Mt. Hermon in the 325-square mile bulge of the heights captured by Israel in the 1973 war.

Artillery and tank duels raged along several sectors of the front but neither side reported casualties in the renewal of the daily battles prior to the opening of negotiations to separate forces there and defuse the conflict.

The Syrians said two Israeli planes made two attacks on Mt. Hermon positions in what military sources in Damascus described as an escalation.

The enemy also, as it usually does, opened artillery fire on the houses of unarmed civilians in the villages of Arna and Dirbil and hit one house," the Syrian communique said.

The air strikes came six months to the day from the beginning of the war and marked the beginning of the Jewish Passover holidays.

Israeli military spokesmen said the Syrians employed two groups of infantry "probably not motorized and not more than about 40 men" in the attempt to capture the unspecified Mt. Hermon position.

Anderson And Arrington Elected To School Posts

By CLAY LIVELY

In what was termed by election officials the largest voter turnout for a school board election in 15 years, Pampans Saturday elected Bill Arrington and Sam Anderson as trustees on the school board in a landslide.

Also approved was the proposal on the ballot calling for an increase in board membership from five to seven members.

Arrington received 1,536 votes while Anderson got 1,237. Both far outdistanced the next leading vote-setter candidate for the board, Don Carpenter, who received 498 votes.

Mrs. Dorothy Stowers, who served a two-month appointment to the board to fill the unexpired term of Ben Sturgeon, ran fourth with 470 votes.

Calvin Lacy finished fifth among the five candidates with 267 votes.

At her first board meeting Mrs. Stowers joined with board president Bob Carmichael and board member Warren Hasse in the 3 to 2 vote to renew the contract of school superintendent James F. Malone. Hasse did not seek re-election.

Biologist Urges Better Pesticide Control In Area

Better pesticide controls to protect birdlife in the Texas Panhandle was advocated by Charles Smith, head of the biology department at West Texas State University, as he addressed a Pampa Kiwanians at their luncheon Friday in First United Methodist Church.

Smith's talk was illustrated by colored slides of Panhandle birds as he discussed their habits.

Excessive deaths of area birds are being caused by pesticides, Smith said.

'Up With People' Offers Entertainment

Can you think of any entertainment today that puts 120 young men and women on stage, takes them all over the world, provides them with a fascinating education in the process, and provides audiences everywhere with a two-hour musical experience that entertains, communicates, and just about blows your mind?

That entertainment is "Up With People," coming to the M.K. Brown Auditorium next Friday and Saturday nights under sponsorship of the Pampa Lions Club.

Staff members of the cast are presently in Pampa seeking to arrange housing for the 120 members of the touring show, due to arrive about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday at M.K. Brown Auditorium.

The cast members will be here Wednesday evening through Sunday, when they will leave for their next appearance.

Persons wishing to provide housing for the members may contact 669-2753 (Leslie Hart residence) or 665-5737 (Panhandle Insurance Agency, serving as public relations office for the group).

Those providing housing for the members will be asked to provide breakfast and transportation and, of course, a bed.

Created in the belief that our world's greatest natural resource is its young people — their talents and enthusiasm, their desire to learn, and their commitment to the future — "Up With People" is an independent, nonprofit, educational organization. It is based in Tucson, Ariz., and Brussels, Belgium, but rightly calls the world its home.

From the stage of New York's Carnegie Hall to the Rift Valley of Kenya, from a reception in the Quirinale Palace, Rome, to Eskimo villages near the Arctic Circle, over 500 million people have been captivated by the contagious spirit of "Up With People."

Young men and women chosen to become a part of "Up With People" are selected from thousands of applicants between the ages of 17 and 25 who apply each year worldwide.

While musical ability is a plus for any candidate, the primary basis of selection is not talent but the motivation behind each application and the ability of the individual to communicate and to learn. All-cast members are students, and each pays a fee to defray a portion of the costs of "Up With People's" educational programs.

Obituaries

TILMAN D. JONES Mrs. George Finley, Floydada.

MRS. EDITH HEARNE Mrs. Edith S. Hearne, 86, a patient at Worley Hospital and St. Ann's Nursing Home in Panhandle since Dec. 24, 1973, died at 8:35 a.m. Saturday at Worley Hospital.

Mrs. Hearne was born May 1, 1887 in Sherman and was married to Wayne Hearne in 1908 there. She resided in Sherman prior to making her most recent home in Berkeley, Calif.

Survivors include a brother, William Jerrel Smith, Pampa; three nephews, William Jr., Washington, D.C.; Cecil H. Smith, Los Angeles, Calif.; and Lawrence Smith, Roseburg, Ore.; and one grandniece and one grandnephew, both of Pampa.

Survivors include her husband of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Gene Ballard, and one son, Aaron L. Russell, both of White Deer; and two granddaughters, Gayle Ann Ballard, White Deer, and

In order that this opportunity will be denied no one for financial reasons, the difference between what a student can afford to pay and the cost of his maintenance while on tour is made up through public donations to an ongoing scholarship fund.

The casts find themselves in a unique and stimulating learning environment. Traveling professors and educational directors provide the basis for an accredited secondary school curriculum and a college program operated under contract with The University of Arizona.

In addition to this formal educational program, the students' global tour schedule exposes them to an enormous variety of people, places, and life-styles, each becoming in itself part of the educational process.

A recent visit to Hawaii saw them trekking to the remote leper colony of Molokai. At European Common Market headquarters in Brussels, they were received and briefed by the executive staff. American Indian lore and culture came alive through living with families on New Mexico's Indian Reservations.

The "Up With People" show is an extension of this educational orientation. Utilizing professionals in an advisory capacity only, cast members write and arrange the music, stage each performance (with a 10-ton complement of production equipment), publicize appearances, and handle the complex logistics for each of "Up With People's" three international touring companies.

A typical ten-month tour schedule includes 50,000 miles of travel, the staging of between 200 and 250 performances, and arrangements for housing the cast in approximately 8,000 private homes.

In addition to appearances at the world's most prestigious concert halls, the "Up With People" music and spirit have been heard and seen in schools, hospitals, orphanages, prisons, sports centers, and city streets in some 30 countries on five continents.

In 15 of those countries they have appeared on national television, including a one-hour special on CBS-TV in April, 1973.

And all this is only the beginning. Bookings are now being made many months in advance as the demand for "Up With People" performances continues to grow. It is a nonstop operation that recognizes no barriers, reaching out to communicate, to share, to learn and to entertain.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

MONDAY, APRIL 8

Your birthday today: Hope brightens your personal new year. Your influence in material affairs spreads into further enterprises involving more people than before. Relationships develop with lightning speed into vivid experience; at times drawing you beyond your emotional balance, most of the time positive. Family connections come to be complex and delicately poised. Today's natives are resourceful, intense, often dedicated to religious causes.

Aries (March 21-April 19): See what you can do to enhance the calm of the day. A review of your assets offers encouragement and better judgment on questions coming up soon.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Teamwork on routine matters serves as rehearsal for future crisis. For now just let it be fun getting things settled. A party this evening could be important.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Congenial associates spill whatever secrets have been confided—if you're embarrassed, it's your own doing. Aside from this, not much happens.

Cancer (June 21-July 22):

Let the day and the week be as low-key as conditions permit; you have personal contacts to make which have little to do with career or public image.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Be where you're expected to be, and fill your usual place in the normal scene. This gives you a special opportunity for setting up future programs.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your persistence with details pays off again. There's specific support, backing available from those you haven't seriously considered before.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Clear up your accounts, correspondence. If you must start something new, let it be the least that will suffice, with room for revision later.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Catch up the slack now while you still can. Stay out of experiments involving sizable outlays or investment. The evening is for socializing.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Getting it all together today takes more energy than anticipated. Dispense with the luxuries and extra frills in favor of a direct approach.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Even though routine promises little excitement, it does get you much further toward success. Concentrate on making your home more comfortable.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Febr. 18): Low priority items have been delayed so long that they are now urgent. Stay busy despite the temptation to loaf or play when no one's looking.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Self-improvement is the most promising line of action. Work at jobs which can be accomplished singlehanded; being in a group is not your milieu today.

Youth Center Report

IN PAMPA THURSDAY—Ronnie Kole center, is shown here with the other two members of his trio, Everett Link, left, and Dickie Taylor. They will entertain Pampa concert-goers Thursday night with a program of pop music in the M.K. Brown Auditorium.

FOR CONCERT Ronnie Kole Trio To Appear Here

The Ronnie Kole Trio will bring "New Orleans' Newest Sound" to Pampa next Thursday night in the final attraction of the Pampa Community Concert Association's 1973-74 concert season.

The trio will be on stage at the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday with a program of popular music for all ages.

The group is not unknown to Pampa audiences. It will be recalled that the Ronnie Kole Trio was the last attraction to appear in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium where the concerts had been held for many years.

In the five years since they left the Al-Hirt Club in New Orleans and opened their own club, the trio has become nationally famous through playing concerts, club dates and college shows from coast to coast.

Ronnie Kole, who put the group together, was playing the piano professionally at the age of 14. He has appeared on the Johnny Carson Show and the Mike Douglas Shows.

Dickie Taylor is the trio's percussionist. Taylor had his own rhythm and blues band in 1962. It was that year he met Ronnie Kole and they put together a show group called the Heavyweights.

Farmers around the world often stop plowing to remove rocks. Dutch farmers stop to remove shipwrecks. Recent news reports told how downed aircraft from World War II are surfacing as land is reclaimed from the Zuider Zee.

Student Studies Science Seriously

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Randy Hubbs, an 18-year-old Richland, Wash. high school student, is studying science at the fountainhead.

Randy is one of 18 students enrolled in a class called "An Inquiry into Science and Engineering," whose lab is Westinghouse's Hanford operation currently involved in the nation's nuclear breeder reactor program.

Randy works with the more than 700 scientists, engineers and technicians in the program. Specifically, he assists those technicians who are developing a material which helps control nuclear reactions in breeders.

He runs helium gas release tests, operates a computer, draws designs for the fabrication of experimental equipment and does calculations for research engineers.

Westinghouse, as an Atomic Energy Commission contractor, also is constructing the Fast Flux Test Facility (FTTF), which will be the world's largest facility operated exclusively for irradiation testing of breeder components and materials.

The teenagers, including some who work for Battelle-Northwest Laboratories, are programming minicomputers, helping make nuclear physics calculations for solving fast and thermal reactor design problems, and writing formal reports summarizing their experimental results in exchange for salary.

It is not surprising that young Hubbs thinks this class is the "favorite and most valuable" class. He plans a career in science, but is undecided about a particular field.

"I'm learning about all sciences and how they apply to different jobs," said Randy. "I don't think you can tell if you'd like a science career without seeing scientists at work."

"We'd probably spend two weeks in class learning about something we'd be expected to learn and apply in one day on the job," he said.

That is exactly the kind of learning experience Randy's teacher, Jim Harbour, planned for "An Inquiry into Science and Engineering."

"These students are learning skills we couldn't begin to teach in the classroom," said Harbour.

The Pampa Daily News
A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

A Philosophical Irony

When Lincoln was President, he sometimes went down to the government telegraph office to get the latest dispatches from the war front. The head telegrapher on the other side of the counter was an efficient young Scot named Andrew Carnegie. He had come to Washington at the behest of his employer, the Pennsylvania Railroad, to organize the telegraph service for the operation of military trains.

Carnegie had learned the trade as a messenger boy. He was one of the first to acquire the "knack" of receiving Morse code by ear, short-circuiting the old practice of translating dots and dashes from a strip of paper. Carnegie was quick in other ways as well. At that time he was an eager reader of the New York Weekly Tribune, edited by the noted socialist and abolitionist Horace Greeley. When still a boy, he sometimes wrote letters to the editor. Reflecting on this period many years later, the steel magnate wrote:

"The first time I saw my work in type in the then flaming organ of freedom certainly marked a stage in my career. I kept that Tribune for years. Looking back today one cannot help regretting so high a price as the Civil War had to be paid to free our land from the curse, but it was not slavery alone that needed abolition."

The loose Federal system with State rights so prominent would inevitably have prevented, or at least long delayed, the formation of one solid, all-powerful, central government. The tendency under the Southern idea was centrifugal. Today it is centripetal, all drawn toward the center under the way of the Supreme Court, the decisions of which are, very properly, half the dicta of lawyers and half the work of statesmen. Uniformity in many fields must be secured. Marriage, divorce, bankruptcy, railroad supervision, control of corporations, and some other departments should in some measure be brought under one head. Re-reading this paragraph today, July, 1907, written many years ago, it seems prophetic. These are now burning questions."

To foster his ideas, Carnegie established a great financial foundation to fund programs that contribute to centralization of authority. He arranged monetary incentives for tax-supported libraries to propagate information that would cultivate acceptance of government activity in non-governmental fields. As he had been successful in business, so he was also successful as a social missionary. He was an organizer.

Ironical that Carnegie's earnest and rightful concern for the freedom of Negroes should have launched him into a philosophy that led to the loss of freedom for his fellow countrymen, both Negroes and others!

Beverly Sills And Mr. Nixon

By GARRY WILLS
NEW YORK — In one area, the Nixon Administration's record is fairly spectacular. Tony Randall, the most learned of our entertainers, put the case here yesterday: "No recent Administration has been as generous to the arts as this one." And artists know it. There is a warm feeling toward Nixon's record.

I asked Mr. Randall whether Nixon himself was responsible for this generosity, or his administrators at the National Endowments. "I blame him for Watergate," Randall shrugged back. "So I have to credit him for this. Indeed, if I ever met Mr. Nixon, I know exactly what I would say to him: 'If you want to be remembered with gratitude 200 years from now, you should found a national theater or a national opera company. Some of the most autocratic regimes have gone down in history as benevolent because they cared about the arts.'" When Tony Randall, a natural for the Nixon enemy list, gives friendly advice, the President would do well to listen.

We have to wonder whether Mr. Nixon's supporters, who attack government spending, realize that his Administration has asked for 164 million dollars in next year's national budget to be slated for aid to the arts and the humanities.

And it is possible to ask damaging questions from the Left as well as the Right. Why give money to symphony orchestras that might better go into the ghettos? It struck some people as obscene that Lincoln Center and other New York art foundations should lobby in Albany for a doubled grant to the arts during a year when the state legislature had cut back on funds for the care of retarded children.

But the Lincoln Center people had a secret weapon when they flew into Albany — the irresistible soprano, Beverly Sills, who is almost as good at the podium as she is on the opera stage. Miss Sills (who is also Mrs. Peter Greenough) has a retarded son, and she has been very active in the cause of better care for such children. She is the chairwoman of Mothers' March Against Birth Defects, and she gives a talk about this work in each city where she performs. She has criticized New York's legislature for its cutbacks on care for the retarded.

But she also knows that money allotted to the arts is not stolen from the needy. In her talk to the legislators, she pointed out that even if the grant to the arts were doubled in fiscal 1975, it would not only come to one tenth of one per cent of the total state outlay of money. And expressions of humane concern tend to reinforce each other, instead of competing with each other. It is a bit absurd to spend millions of dollars educating people at the public expense to a capacity for enjoyment of great art, and thought, and literature — and then to let the principal suppliers of these commodities go out of FULLINGIM goes on to say in his letter: "I think a lot about coming back to Pampa for a visit. I would like to see DeLee and Beryl-Vicars of whom I think often and who I love dearly."

"I used to keep in touch with Mickey Ledrick and Ben Guill, but have no idea where they are now or what they are doing."

"I am in pretty good health and have no particular ailments to gripe about."

Fullingim closed his letter by asking us to write him a letter and invite him to come to Pampa.

"After all," he writes, "I spent 13 years on The Pampa News. He had been with the Kountze News for 25 years. The letter and the invitation are in the mail."

WE READ in the Clovis, N.M., News Journal that potato growing is becoming a specialized field.

In other words, the spuds are beginning to be a contract crop which means a company that uses potatoes lets contracts to have them grown.

What do they do with the potatoes? Well, over in Curry and Roosevelt counties in New Mexico they've got about 1,400 acres growing potatoes for a company that makes potato chips.

Maybe this is something Pampa should look into. There is also the possibility of eventually locating a potato chip plant in the area. If they can grow potatoes in New Mexico, certainly they can be grown here. Who knows — maybe some day Pampa could be known as the Potato Chip capital of the Panhandle.

LET'S MOVE along to something more pleasant. For instance there is the man who reported seeing this bumper sticker in Pampa: "Federal Aid, Hell! It's YOUR Money!" And before we forget it — had you noticed that City Manager Mack Wofford was raising a moustache? Question about it. Wofford explained it was at the request of his young son who said he would like to see what his pop would look like with one. The City Hall Cat chimes in with the comment that the disguise won't work. The Cat says he'd recognize him even if he grew long hair and a beard.

FLASH — Latest word is that the embryo hirsute adornment has been shaved off. The city manager reportedly chickened out.

STILL ON the pleasant side, the mails brought a letter from Archer Fullingim of Kountze, Texas. Fullingim, a former city editor on The Pampa News, gained national fame recently by his appearance on NBC's Tomorrow TV show.

Fullingim sold The Kountze News and retired as its editor — publisher last Feb. 28. He was invited to appear on the "Tomorrow" show where he proved to the big-city boys that a small town publisher was equal to his counterparts on the metropolitan newspapers when it comes to commentary on national, international and local affairs.

Commenting about his retirement, Fullingim wrote in his letter: "I have a lot to do before I begin to take it easy, and I probably will never do that."

No Farmers In Capitol

By PAUL HARVEY
There are no farmers in Congress any more.

There are lots of lawyers and some doctors; there are representatives who understand what it's like to be an actor, an athlete, a schoolteacher or a military man. There are some congressmen who own land which is farmed by somebody else. But nowhere on Capitol Hill will you find any dirt — under the fingernails — of — busting farmers any more.

That means that America's farmers — all those men and women across the wide sweep of the nine-tenths of this country that's still country who have been subsidizing the rest of us for 40 years — are suffering government taxation and regulation without representation in government.

You want to know why the White House and the Congress are so all-fired preoccupied with "urban problems"? It's not because the "need" is any greater in the ghetto than it is on some of our leached-out dirt farms — it's purely and simply because of all the votes that are cranked into the big cities.

A handful of congressmen from farm districts tried to close ranks and mount some clout. But the 22 who formed the Congressional Rural Caucus represent 16 states with a combined total constituency of only 10 billion people. We have more people than that in Chicago.

Only 5 percent of America's voters now live on farms.

And most congressional districts have been redrawn in such a way that each is never more than one-third farmers.

Yet those 3 million farmers have been feeding all of us and then some. Further, they have been directly or indirectly prospering 80 percent of our nation's basic industries; and if you consider only the town of less than 10,000 where most farmers do their buying, their efforts are directly responsible for the economic survival of one-third of our nation's total population.

No industry is more important to our nation's

Polomac Fever

By JACK POSNER
Zeigler said Nixon had received "extremely good reaction to his public appearances." They now have plans for him to appear in Washington.

George Meany has as much confidence in détente with Russia as the DAR has with Women's Lib.

Attorney General Saxbe objects to making the Justice Department independent of the presidency. Someone has to decide who is entitled to break the law.

Simon said we avoided compulsory gas rationing. Now we'll only have compulsory gas price increases.

Nixon has eased the pressure on law schools. Graduates hope to face the bar, not stay behind them.

Connally is critical of Nixon's policies and the Democrats. Oil and Watergate don't mix.

If the thousands of pages of Nixon's denials were used for fuel, it would generate enough power to heat the White House.

Vice President Ford says the impeachment panel should get the secret report. Sounds like the new model is backfiring.

ANSWER to yesterday's puzzle.

THE CONSERVATIVE ADVOCATE

Who Got The 50,000 Bucks?

By WILLIAM RUSHER
Did an attaché case containing $50,000 in $100 bills change hands in a limousine at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles in the summer of 1968? And was another $25,000 in cash delivered to the former National Chairman of the party to defray the costs of the presidential primary campaign?

Before the media go tearing off after this one, sheer fairness compels me to warn that for a change, neither Richard Nixon nor any aide or employee of his is involved. The alleged recipient of the $50,000 in cash was then Vice President and now Sen. Hubert Humphrey. The $25,000 is said to have gone to former Democratic National Chairman Larry O'Brien to help pay the campaign debts of the late Robert Kennedy.

Revolutions are notorious for devouring their own children. You can be sure that in the Lord's own sweet time a good many of those who are now busy piling faggots around Richard Nixon will end up adorning pyres of their own. It is just possible that we see, in the episodes referred to, the beginnings of this healthy process.

If so, we will have the noted billionaire Howard Hughes to thank for the opening revelations. Until December 1970 many of Hughes' business affairs, including the management of his extensive holdings in Nevada, were in the hands of one Robert Maheu. When Hughes and Maheu finally came to the parting of the ways, Hughes made various unkind remarks about his former employe, charging among other things that Maheu "stole me blind" during the long years of their association. Maheu promptly sued Hughes for defamation, and during the pre-trial examinations Hughes' attorneys naturally began to explore what Maheu had done with various sums of money he had received from Hughes. It was then that Maheu told of the payments described above.

Of course, Maheu is plainly under considerable pressure to account for the money on some other theory than that he merely pocketed it, so we should be cautious about believing what he says. Sen. Humphrey, moreover, has sworn, in response to written interrogatories, that he never received the attaché case, was never told by any member of his staff about any such thing, and knows nothing about it.

On the other hand, Maheu's attorney has promised the jury that he will produce no less than three witnesses who will confirm Maheu's account and refute Humphrey's denials. One of these has already been identified: Lloyd Hand, who was Lyndon Johnson's chief of protocol and who was a member of Humphrey's staff during the 1968 campaign.

Moreover, there is independent confirmation of another Maheu story involving big amounts of cash, this one having to do with $50,000 that Maheu says was paid to Nixon's close friend Charles G. ("Bebe") Rebozo as a campaign contribution. Rebozo has confirmed that he did indeed receive the $50,000 and another $50,000 in cash from Hughes as well. (This is the famous $100,000 that Rebozo says he kept in a safe deposit box for three years and finally returned to Hughes.)

Much, therefore, will depend upon the credibility of the three witnesses who, we are assured, will back Mr. Maheu up. They should be taking the stand in a matter of days or weeks, and quite a lot of people will be listening.

Miss Whiteley Will Compete In Miami Beach Dance Contest

Sheryl Anne Whiteley, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.M. Whiteley, 1610 N. Russell, will compete in August at Miami Beach, Fla., for the title of "Miss Dance of America, 1974," after winning the "Miss Dance, 1974" competition of Chapter 27.

Dance Masters of America, at Tulsa, Okla.

Miss Whiteley competed against 15 other dancers from four states in attaining her title.

The pageant was comprised of four categories, which were personal interview, leotard, evening gown, and talent competition. For the talent event, Sherry chose classical ballet in poise to an excerpt from "La Bayadere." The dance was especially choreographed for Miss Whiteley by her teacher, Madeline Graves of Pampa.

At Miami Beach, Fla., Miss Whiteley will compete against winners from the 19 other Dance Masters chapters for the title "Miss Dance of America, 1974." First prize in the National pageant is a $1000 college scholarship.

In addition to winning her title at Tulsa, Okla., Miss Whiteley was chosen "Miss Congeniality" by the other contest participants.

A senior at Pampa High School, Miss Whiteley ranks 11th scholastically in her graduating class of 353 students. She is a member of HECE Vocational program, and the National Honor Society.

She will perform her winning dance presentation as a special solo in the 1974 Madeline Graves School of Dance recital.

Miss Whiteley's future plans call for her to enroll at Texas Tech University this fall, where she will further her dance education as well as pursue other vocational possibilities.

Dancing a free-style ballet to the music, "Jeremy," Dana Kent, a ninth-grade student at Pampa Junior High, won the title "Junior Miss Dance 1974" of Dance Masters Chapter No. 27 at competition held recently at Tulsa.

Miss Kent competed against 20 other participants from four states, and won her title performing a dance choreographed by her teacher, Madeline Graves of Pampa.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Kent, 617 Red Deer, Miss Kent has studied dancing for 11 years, taking ballet, tap, jazz and acrobatics.

Second place honors were won by six Pampa students of the Madeline Graves School of Dance for their performance of a group free-style ballet at the annual Dance Masters of America regional "Groups and Lines" competition held recently in Tulsa.

The six girls, Sherry Whiteley, Dana Kent, Kris Richardson, Anne Kadingo, Polly Gowdy and Kim Chisum, danced to the music of "Songs of Joy," performing an original, choreographed routine of Mrs. Graves.

The number will be presented as a special selection at the 1974 Madeline Graves School of Dance recital.

In addition to teaching at her studio, Mrs. Graves travels as a convention teacher for both Dance Caravan Red and Dance Masters of America. Most recently she taught tap and jazz classes for Dance Masters at a convention in Tulsa, Okla.

Gaines-Varnon

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gaines of Stinnett announce the engagement of their daughter, Peggy Jo, to Allen Jay Varnon, son of Mrs. Wesley Varnon of Pampa. The bride-elect is a 1973 graduate of Stinnett High School and is presently attending Frank Phillips College. The prospective bridegroom is a 1972 graduate of White Deer High School and is presently employed with Cabot Corporation. A May 31 wedding in the First Baptist Church of Stinnett is being planned.

Cadetettes Conduct Camporee

Planning rock gardens, preparing flower beds, planting trees, trimming hedges and painting were all a part of the ecology day events at the Cadette Camporee held at Camp Cibola, the Quivira Council Girl Scout camp at Clarendon recently.

More than 90 girls attended the weekend jamboree directed by Mrs. Wayne Jones of Pampa. Mrs. Jones was assisted by field directors Mrs. T.M. Whiteley, Mrs. Jack Duke, and Ms. Celia Fowler, Mrs. Wallace Birkes, program committee chairman, Mrs. Jerry Carter, and troop leaders.

The roster of activities included a film festival on Friday night and a campfire sing with skits on Saturday evening. Hiking, kite making, mural and other craft decorations were also included in the schedule. Troops planned their own snack parties each night and troop 24 presented the Sunday religious service. There were two surprise birthday parties.

Those attending included Mrs. Larry Nash, Borger; Mrs. Carol Head, Mrs. Naomi Green, Miss Evelyn Chamberlain, and Miss Norma Jean Reed, McLean. From Pampa were troops 61 and 87, Mrs. Wayne Jones;

ROOMMATES
Financial resources of most single young people necessitate sharing housing costs with roommates, notes Patricia A. Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

About 35,000 marriages every year in the United States are of persons over 64 years old.

Library Notes

By MARY FATHEREE
National Library Week, April 21-27, will be ushered into Texas by the Governor's Conference on Libraries on April 17 in Austin. Civic leaders throughout the state will explore our library needs and the ways in which those needs can best be met.

Spotlighted at this conference will be the startling fact that Texas ranks 41st in the nation in per capita support for libraries. Latest figures from Katherine Ard of the State Library show that in 1973 Texans contributed only $6.04 per person in state aid to public libraries, despite the announcement in 1971 by the Public Library Association of the ALA that a per capita expenditure of from $7.66 to $8.23 is necessary for adequate library service.

At present there are 21 Texas counties with a 1970 total population of 97,959 who have no public library service of any kind, and an additional 610,210 Texans in other counties who have either no service or only token service.

This brief survey of the present Texas library state funding situation clearly points up the invaluable role that Friends of the Library organizations can play in brightening the future of many of our state's libraries.

Friends, groups, through their yearly membership dues and special fund-raising activities, can help to provide the up-dated equipment and services their local libraries so desperately need.

Pampa is fortunate in having just such an active Friends group. The Friends of the Pampa Library will begin its annual membership drive on the first day of National Library Week, April 21. For as little as $1 per year, Pampa citizens can participate in a program which promises to help maintain our public library as the center of the community's cultural and continuing educational growth. The library belongs to the people of Pampa, and it needs our support.

Word comes from the Book Fair's screening and pricing committee that over 2,000 books and magazines have already been catalogued and priced for the May 4 sale. The following Pampa businesses have volunteered as collection points for donated books: Steele's Art and Frame Shop, Las Pampas Galleries, Hi-Land Fashions, Dunlap's, Gattis Shoe Store and Pampa Hardware.

If you prefer to have your donations picked up by a Friends member, you may contact Mrs. Barbara Cockrell at the library or Mrs. M. McDaniel, 665-3334.

The Book Fair is a wonderful opportunity for picking up some real bargains in reading material of all kinds. You might even run across a collector's item.

START LOSING UNWANTED POUNDS NOW! R-A-F ENERGY DIET WITH VITAMIN "E" & "C" COMBO. SUPPLEMENT

LOS ANGELES (Special) The R-A-F diet has been found to give excellent results in weight loss when followed according to its simple instructions, and reportedly is gaining great popularity across the country with reports of weight loss while still eating most of the foods you are used to. Those who follow the simple diet report a loss of weight without exercise or starvation. Best of all you can still eat regular foods such as steak, chicken, chops, fish, saucers, gravies, breads and eggs and still lose unwanted weight. The Vitamin "E" & "C" Tabs used with the diet plan supply you with the M.D.R. which otherwise may be lost when following the R-A-F Diet Plan.

The use of the new Vitamin "E" & "C" Tabs and foods prescribed in the plan will through natural action, act to help your body keep fit and not suffer from hunger pangs. This is a solid, common sense diet plan — 100% safe — no unpleasant side effects. A study of 900 obese persons confirms the value of the low carbohydrate diet and frequent small meals. Despite organized medicine's insistence that calorie alone are the key to losing weight, the research clearly shows that the source of the calories is equally important. Carbohydrate, says the medical researcher, is the "crucial determinant" regulating the degree of obesity. Supplementing the low carbohydrate diet with polyunsaturated fat (vegetable oil) increases the oxidation of stored fat (palmitate) by 20 to 25% — and that, says the paper, is the way to diminish excess weight.

Crocheting Is Hobby

Surprise...

Introducing Beta Sigma Phi's

Woman Of The Year

CROCHETING IS HOBBY — Louise finds time in her busy schedule to crochet afghans. Recently she completed the one shown in photo, made of several shades of yellows and golds.

SURPRISE...and pleasure are the emotions that usually accompany Beta Sigma Phi's announcement to a Pampa woman that she has been named Woman of the Year. Pictured above calling on Mrs. Sewell earlier this month to inform her of the honor are clockwise, seated, Mrs. Nancy Brogden, Mrs. Ramona Houseman, Mrs. Sewell, and Mrs. Lillian Esson; and standing are Mrs. Valta Trusty, Mrs. Virginia Beard, and Mrs. Janice Snider.

RECEIVING — Mrs. Virginia Beard, Chairman of Beta Sigma Phi's Woman of the Year event, proudly announced to Louise that she had been named BSP's 29th Woman of the Year.

WELCOMING SMILE — Louise is a senior active member of the Altrusa Club and a member of the community service committee. This committee is responsible for the Senior Citizens weekly party held each Thursday at Lovett Memorial Library. While she is not always chairman, she is always there greeting each arriving member with a welcoming smile at the outside door, and calling each by name so that everyone feels special.

RED CROSS — Currently, Louise is chairman of the Red Cross Volunteers, which means she must see that volunteers are at the hospital on their assigned hours. If for any reason, members are unable to be there, and she can not find a substitute, she fills the vacancy herself. She has over 1000 hours of service with this organization.

AT INFORMATION DESK — Highland General Hospital, where Louise serves as a faithful member of the Auxiliary, having served 1227 hours, she informs hospital visitors information. Louise is at her station during all weather conditions. When others stay home ... she is there.

PIZZA PARTY FOR A RAINY DAY.

You'll be surprised at the number of different age groups that will enjoy this one...

Each person will need a greased baking sheet or pie pan. From a central bowl of the rice - cheese - egg mixture, direct each to ladle some onto his individual baking sheet or pan. This mixture can be spread into any number of shapes with a push of a spoon or rubber spatula. As the contestants decide that their design is ready, the crust can be pre-baked and then returned for sauces and topping. Here enters the second area for creativity! Olives, onion rings, green pepper pieces, pepperoni slices, etc. can be placed for eyes, ears, nose, mouth or whatever. Judging comes after final baking.

Yellow Rose Tea Today Will Honor Mrs. Sewell

By BOBBYE COMBS
Women's Editor

BETA SIGMA PHISORORITY has selected Mrs. Louise Sewell, 807-A North Nelson, as its Woman of the Year for 1974.

THE HONOR has been bestowed upon Mrs. Sewell because of her outstanding contributions, both past and present, to her community, church and family.

SHE IS the 29th woman to be so honored by Beta Sigma Phi.

MRS. SEWELL will be formally honored at a Yellow Rose Tea this afternoon at two o'clock in Fellowship Hall of First Christian Church.

WILLINGNESS to contribute to others' regular and faithful church worker, "a devoted mom and grandmother" are some of the qualifications Beta Sigma Phi were asked to consider in Mrs. Sewell's nomination for Woman of the Year.

MRS. SEWELL has been active in local organizations for many years and has been a senior member of the Altrusa Club of Pampa, spending much of the past 10 years at the Senior Citizen's Center, which that organization sponsors, and serving as a member of the community service committee.

CONTINUING with her interests in helping Pampa grow, Louise has served on many committees for Altrusa projects.

SHE IS an ardent worker in the First United Methodist Church, where she is a member, and is a former president of the Friendship Sunday school class. This group serves lunch each Thursday and Friday for the Lion's Club and Kiwanis Club, and Louise has served as chairman of these arrangements for 17 years.

MRS. SEWELL is the mother of a son, R.D. Sewell, of Andrews, and the grandmother of Terry Sewell of Albuquerque, N.M.

LOUISE was one of nine children (six daughters and three sons) born to Mr. and Mrs. Boots Weckesser, pioneer ranchers of Miami.

Her mother's family were the Joe Harrahs of Pampa. Christy Weckesser, Louise's grandfather, owned a small ranch seven miles east of Miami, where she was practically raised on her horse, "Ole Fox."

THE FAMILY moved into Miami when she was six years old and ready for schooling. Later, she recalled many basketball trips to Pampa, being a member of the Miami girls basketball team.

LOUISE is a member of the local Red Cross Hospital Volunteers, known until recently as the Gray Ladies, and is chairman of that group, having served over 1000 hours. She is also a member of the Red Cross Board; Business and Professional Women's Club; vice-president of the Pampa Welfare Index; Las Pampas Chapter Daughter's of the American Revolution, serving as flag chairman for the organization; Knife and Fork Club; and a faithful member of Highland General-Auxiliary, serving 1227 hours to date.

HOBBIES, when time permits, are crocheting afghans for her many friends, reading, baking for many guests as a gift of love, preparing meals for persons who are ill and unable to cook, and playing bridge.

WHETHER she is referred to as Mrs. Sewell, Louise, Senior Center Chairman, churchworker, woman of the year, there is another name that she will answer to. It is a nickname she earned as a small child and retained... yes, this year's woman of the year, will also answer to the name of "Weasy."

SHE WOULD also ride the "caboose" to Pampa for a visit with her dear friend, then and now, Mrs. Katie Vincent.

LOUISE remembers when she was a small child, her English grandmother, Mrs. Louise Mayfield Weckesser, for whom she was named, served tea and cake everyday at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. and "your presence was required."

HER GRANDMOTHER would also travel from Miami to Pampa to visit with Mrs. Lovett and Mrs. Gething, both pioneer women from England.

Spring Fashions Presented At Civic Culture Meeting

Mrs. C.V. Forsman was hostess recently to the Civic Culture Club. Mrs. A.D. Hills, presided over the business session.

Announcements concerning the Art Tea and the Federation of Clubs Convention were made by Mrs. Hills and Mrs. Rife respectively.

Mrs. W.F. Taylor, a new member, was presented by Mrs. Irvin Cole.

After the roll call, Mrs. Rife presented Mrs. A.C. Houchin with her program on Spring Fashions. Mrs. Houchin began her discussion with some quotes from Cleon Lyles' book, "God Knew He Needed Her."

"I have nothing to wear," is a statement difficult for husbands to understand. To the woman it may mean she has nothing suitable for that particular occasion; or that she is tired of what she has, or that she wants the thrill of shopping.

We are interested in what can make a woman more beautiful, and right now we're more interested in the woman than her clothes. I Peter 3:15 reads, "whose adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or putting on of apparel. But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is, in the sight of God, of great price."

In I Timothy, "... that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, not with braided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array; But with good works."

We do not take this to mean it is wrong for a woman to make herself attractive. A woman should never allow her husband to forget the sweetheart with whom he fell in love. Physical beauty alone however, is no more than a faded flower. Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. Proverbs 4:23. So one of the most becoming "dresses" a woman can wear is a pleasant disposition. A woman has her share of trials, but she need not heap life's difficulties and frustrations on others.

Add to pleasantness, Trust. "Love thinketh no evil" (1 Cor. 13:5). The author continues, "No task is too difficult for the man who believes he is loved and appreciated." Without trust, there will be suspicion and jealousy. And these are dresses that are most unbecoming, and leading to much unhappiness, whereas trust contributes to contentment and happiness. Happiness comes from within; it does not depend so much on circumstances, as on what we make out of the circumstances.

Humility, too, is a "dress" that is becoming on all occasions.

Gratitude, thoughtfulness, and quietness are also dresses for all seasons.

Then, good works is about the most beautiful dress a woman can wear. No woman is more beautiful than when she is helping others out of genuine love for others and for God.

Now we'll turn from the inner heart, to the outward appearances for this spring. Mrs. Houchin told us she gave a good all-round picture of the coming season from hats to footwear.

Yes, there will be hats, she said. "Even some large romantic ones, and many types of close-fitting headgear, which the young especially like. There's a wide variety in shoes from flatforms and clunky ones to the more ladylike slippers."

One famous fashion designer said, "Spring is soft fabrics and fluid lines." Length depends on the figure but generally comes below the knee. Colors are strong, clear, and clean - basic by day, more exciting by night. The body is the dictator of the silhouette.

Members present not previously mentioned were: Mrs. E.L. Anderson, A.B. Cross, F.R. Grantham, Carl Patchin, J.J. Rance, Teresa Reed, Carl Smith, H.W. Waters, Chester Williams, and Emmett Gee.

Stolen 'laundry' bag— what's a mother to do?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When our son, John, came home from college for a weekend, he brought his soiled laundry in a new U.S. mail bag. He said a friend had loaned it to him, and asked him to be sure to return it.

I told John that it was stolen property—that I didn't want it in the house, and to please take it to the post office. After several days, the bag was still in the laundry room, so I gave it to our mail carrier.

John was upset. He said he had promised his friend he would return it and I had put him in a very embarrassing spot. My husband agreed with our son and said my first loyalty should have been to John.

We brought this up at a dinner party, and had varied and interesting responses.

What would you have done?
MRS. F.: I would NOT have given it to the mailman. I would have first provided John with a proper laundry bag and then advised him to return the U.S. mail bag to his "friend"—and on the double.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are retired. Our assets amount to approximately one-half million dollars—not too big an estate for some folks these days, but it's a lot for us.

I think it is time I enjoyed some of the pleasures that money can buy. For instance, I can't remember the last time we went on a vacation trip.

We have always bought our clothing at rummage sales, our furniture at garage sales and Goodwill. We have never had a new car. Always bought them second hand. We live in a tiny house, and have skimped and saved on everything. We weren't ashamed, either. We used to brag about how long we'd had something and how little we paid for it.

What's my problem? After having lived this way almost all my life, I told my husband I wanted him to loosen up with the money, but the older he gets the harder he pinches the pennies. After 70, wouldn't you think he'd loosen his grip?

Please, no city or state. Just your answer.
TIED OF SKIMPING

DEAR TIED: It will be hard to teach your old horse new tricks, but it's worth a try. Start out by investigating vacation tours. See America first! Select the most expensive, but settle for the least costly. Insist on a clothing allowance—but ask for twice as much as you really want. Hang in there. Nothing is impossible.

DEAR ABBY: When a friend dies and I pay the family a condolence call, I never know what to say. Should I talk about the one who has died? Or should I try to make the family feel better and cheer them with jokes and humorous stories?

I feel so awkward just sitting there in silence, yet forcing conversation at a time like that seems so artificial.
Please tell me how to act.
BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: How one handles his grief is a personal matter. Let the one who has suffered the loss take the lead. If he feels like talking, encourage him to talk. If he prefers to sit in silence, don't intrude on his silence. Friends should call, bring food, offer to run errands, and do what needs to be done. A hug, a squeeze of the hand, a look which says, "I'm here, if you need me," conveys more than a thousand words.

Most Women Still Cook, Shop

NEW YORK (UPI)—When it comes to those traditional home chores of shopping and cooking, Women's Lib doesn't seem to have changed things much, according to the findings of a new survey.

In interviews with 1,000 young married women aged 18 to 30, the Newspaper Bureau of Advertising said it found that more than seven out of 10, or 71 per cent, believe that food shopping and cooking play the same, or perhaps even bigger, part in their lives as it did in their mothers' lives at the same age.

A lot of husbands help in these duties, the survey found. For example more than half the husbands (56 per cent) help with the cooking and preparation of food. Only one-third of the same group, however, go shopping with their wives.

The bureau in reporting its survey noted that there are 40 million Americans in the 18-30 age group, making up 29 per cent of the population. They also represent the largest single segment of the population.

In 1972, Kentucky rehabilitated 10,534 persons to employment and independence at an average cost of $1,430 per person.

Karpin On Bridge

By FRED KARPIN

This past winter the results of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association questionnaire on the newsprint shortage, and its effect on the membership were reported. Nearly 62 per cent of the newspapers that replied had dropped some news articles. The deletion of features like crossword puzzles, comics, and bridge columns drew the most protests, editors agreed. The newspapers also said that they had learned more about what people want to read. The editor of one of our nation's largest newspapers stated: "We learned that bridge column readers are fanatics."

The fascination of bridge devotees is perhaps due, in the main, to the exhilaration that many deals provide, and to the realization that each new deal can provide that exhilaration. Today's deal is a case point. Our South declarer was Lee Hazen, of New York. Both sides vulnerable. West deals.

the trick as South discarded a diamond. A trump was then led, with the intention of finessing against East's hoped-for king, when suddenly a thought struck Hazen: Why was West leading a second round of hearts when he knew darned well that Hazen had but one heart? (Hazen would not have bid the slam all by himself with two low hearts in the face of an opening heart bid by West).

The only reason, Hazen concluded, was that West wanted him to be in dummy to take the trump finesse. So Hazen went up with his ace of trumps — spurning the finesse — and caught West's singleton king.

It's unfortunate that there could be but one hero on this deal, for West's heart lead at trick two was beautiful. If he had led a diamond or a club instead, Hazen would have won the trick in the South hand. And since he would have been unable to reach dummy, he would have had no choice but to lay down the trump ace. So West made a valiant effort to get declarer to take the trump finesse.

With respect to the bidding, Hazen frankly stated that his six-spade bid was just a stab in the dark, but that he could not figure out any way of discovering whether North had the spade king.

After the heart ace had won the first trick, West continued with another heart, dummy's king taking

Double-Ring Service Unites Kathryn King-Larry G. Farber

The wedding vows of Miss Kathryn Ann King and Larry Gene Farber were exchanged at six o'clock on the evening of April 6 in Paramount Terrace Christian Church of Amarillo.

Miss King is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Turner King of Lake Tanglewood, Amarillo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Farber, 1213 E. Foster.

THE CEREMONY
The Rev. Roy Wheeler, pastor, officiated for the double-ring service in a setting of two seven-branched arched candelabra fixed with jade. The aisles were decorated with candles and garlands of greenery and bows.

Mrs. George Grey, organist, accompanied Pam Grey as she sang "The Wedding Song."

THE BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over bridal taffeta designed with a fitted empire bodice of Alencon lace overlay, a scalloped portrait neckline and long sheer full sleeves caught at the wrists with deep lace cuffs. Her A-line shirt fell to a blush pink organza hemline enlivened by scalloped Alencon lace, and swept to back fullness and cascaded into a full chapel-length train. A bias fold of blush pink encircled the waistline, and seed pearls and crystals were re-embroidered on the lace bodice. Lace appliques complemented the sleeves of the attire.

A bandeau of lace appliques and seed pearls held a waist-length veil of bridal illusion edged with matching lace trim and she carried a cascade bouquet of baby pink roses.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Janet Patterson of Amrillo was matron of honor and Mrs. Christi Eubank of Amarillo was bridesmatron. Serving as bridesmaid was Miss Connie Crowell, Hobbs, N.M. They wore identical floor-length floral gowns of silk and carried wicker baskets filled with spring flowers.

Miss Paige Patterson, niece of the bride was flowergirl.
Craig Snell of Dumas, was best man and Lee Waters of Austin and Phil Little of Lubbock, served as groomsmen. Seating wedding guests were Bruce Currie of Canyon and Larry Patterson, of Amarillo.

RECEPTION
Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church. The bride's table was appointed with a blush pink satin cloth and centered with the three-tiered wedding cake, surrounded by a spring floral arrangement. The cake was decorated with lattice work, a sugar bell ornament and fresh flowers. Silver appointments were used. Mrs. Shirley Bunn, Pampa, and Miss Genevieve HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Kirk Calloway, who made his film debut at age nine, will play the 12-year-old in "Cinderella Liberty" starring James Caan and Marsha Mason.

For a wedding trip to Galveston, the bride wore a baby blue pantsuit.

The couple will make their home at 7865 Canyon Drive No. 21, where the bridegroom will return to college at West Texas State University in June. He recently completed a tour of duty with the US Army.

The bride is a junior nursing student at WTSU and a member of Chi Omega social sorority.

Bedwetting Termed 'Not So Serious' Problem

COLLEGE STATION — Bedwetting usually isn't as serious as some parents think, one authority contends.

She's Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The specialist termed bedwetting "simply inconvenient — unless the family puts undue pressure on the child by making him view it as a problem."

Actually, it's just one part of toilet training and a natural step in a child's development.

"However, it requires more parental help than other developmental processes — and lots of patience and understanding from the entire family."

Most parents just expect too much too soon, Miss Taylor said.

They forget that children aren't little adults. Parents should expect only what children can accomplish.

In general, daytime bladder control comes first — followed by control at night. For most children, this happens by age three, she noted.

"We view bedwetting as a slight problem in a child doesn't accomplish this training by age three. Even so, most children outgrow bedwetting by school age."

Physicians can diagnose and treat organically caused bedwetting. In such cases — although not very numerous — family understanding is a "must," the specialist continued.

"When there's no organic reason for bedwetting, a physician can suggest training methods which usually meet success. However, for these to succeed, parents must be willing to work with the child rather than nag at him."

"In addition, they can de-emphasize — or at least help the child cope with — any emotional factors accompanying bedwetting."

Giving credit when credit's due is one of the best things parents can do, Miss Taylor pointed out.

"A child likes to be praised as his efforts result in small triumphs. As with any other effort, this shows he's making progress — and helps him continue toward eventual success."

She stressed the parental — and family — role in reassuring and supporting the child in his efforts.

"Of course, the opposite also can happen. Criticism or punishment can undo any accomplishments a child has made. Pressuring him for immediate or consistent dryness may only delay the process."

"Dryness results as the child grows and learns his parents' expectations — and his own capabilities," the specialist added.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, APRIL 7

Your birthday today: Is a point of departure—you leave the past and its limitations to move into a rich and complex future of broader potentials. For the young, this is a time of high adventure, experimentation. For the mature, it is a time of ripening wisdom, deeper enjoyment of life. Relationships for all include a few possible breaks or releases, with promise of many more yet to develop. Today's natives are skilled in presenting romantic and emotional concerns.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Sudden incidents divert attention. Don't let upset schedule spoil your good humor. Older people lend a hand, and by evening normal conditions prevail.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Start early so that you have your Sunday routines pretty well done before conditions become complicated. There's work to do, little outside help.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: You thrive on the lively, amusing flips of circumstances which present themselves this Sunday. Be out and on the go, ready for anything.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Beginning with an underlying tense mood, your experience of the day mellows into a rather comfortable adventure, rehearsal of familiar tales, renewal of old ties.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Impatience is to be contained whatever you do now. By evening the situation is greatly improved in nearly all activities. Relax early.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Be sure that you're getting whatever belongs to you. Make no outlays for intangibles, speculative deals, purely self-indulgent activities.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Your associates may see you as erratic, the strategy you follow may prove to be impractical—be willing to change. Financial plans advance swiftly.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Impulsive moves clutter future schedules, create extra tasks. Make notes of your ongoing program, the conditions ahead, plan for contingencies.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Circumstances impede social activity early. Leave your friends in peace to pursue their paths to personal development while you meditate on your own.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: The early part of the day is one experience, the latter half is strictly something else. Be willing to adapt, make two days' happenings into one.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: The message you get has lost much in transit, has another story added. Plans for future moves promise well as you concern yourself with known facts.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: An early expense is unexpected, probably unavoidable, so take care of it and go on. The rest of the day is interesting and comfortable.

Candlemaking Presented At Opti-Mrs. Meeting

Mrs. Kathy McIvers presented the program for the Opti-Mrs. of Pampa recent meeting. The history of candle making and legends surrounding candles and how candles are scented and colored was given with various types of candles displayed.

One of the first candles was the taper candle and eventually these were scented and colored as different candlemakers experimented with berries or crayons. Another type is the pillar candle which if allowed to burn for long periods of time and knowing how can be foliated and become unusual and interesting center pieces. Container candles should only be allowed to burn until the wax puddles, she told. Mrs. McIvers started the candle business by using jelly wax and crayons for color. This is not a safe procedure and eventually she went into the finer details of candlemaking and now operates a full time business in Perryton where they make not only candles but their own dyes and scents.

Refreshments were served by Mildred Scott. The business meeting followed. Loretta Dunnam was named Opti-Mrs. of the Quarter and received a certificate of appreciation for her services in the club.

PTA Expresses Concern For School Health Education Bills

CHICAGO, Ill. (Sp.) — Marshalling its forces across the nation, the National PTA is urging its multi-million membership to actively support comprehensive school health education legislation recently introduced in the U. S. House of Representatives and the Senate. PTA's initial aim is to impress on Congress the urgency of immediate hearings on this vital legislation.

raise the quality of health education in our schools," says Mrs. Grace Baisinger, the National PTA's coordinator of legislative activity. "Comprehensive K-12 health programs are virtually nonexistent in our nation's schools at this time."

If progress is to be made in the area of health, we must rectify these differences, and assure that comprehensive school health education legislation is enacted now. Mrs. Baisinger insists. The legislation (HR 13084 and 13085) was introduced in the House by Congressman Lloyd Meeds of Washington at the request of the National PTA and other education and health organizations.

Consumer Market Report

COLLEGE STATION — Although beef prices may drop a few pennies, consumers this week shouldn't count on any startling changes in meat prices, one observer predicted.

CONSUMER WATCH — WORDS: Sometimes chicken parts make as good a buy as the whole bird, but usually they don't.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said best beef values will appear on round steaks and roasts, arm and blade pot roasts and steaks, ground beef and liver.

"Most stores will feature a number of chuck cuts and some T-bone steaks."

"Pork values generally will be shoulder roasts and steaks, end-cut loin roasts and chops, smoked ham portions and picnics, Boston butt roasts, and quarter loin cut into chops."

Egg prices are down slightly, with large-size eggs offering the best economy, the specialist said.

"At fruit counters, oranges and grapefruit offer good quality at reasonable prices, and bananas are a good value. Apples, strawberries and pineapples are other choices."

Mrs. Clyatt listed cabbage, carrots, celery, bulk turnips and rutabagas as fresh vegetable items in good supply.

Also a corn squash, mustard, collards, turnips and greens.

BORGER WINS DISTRICT, PAMPA 5th

Harvesters To Send Four To Regional Competition

By PAUL SIMS
Gutsy Steve Mathis, competing in anguish because of a pulled hamstring in his left leg, won the open quarter and paced Pampa's mile-relay team to a first-place finish as the Harvesters took fifth in the District 3-AAAA meet, held Saturday at Pampa's Randy Matson Track.

Borger won the meet with 104 points and was followed by Caprock, 94; Tascosa, 85; Amarillo, 79; Pampa, 70; and Palo Duro, 62.

Besides Mathis, regional qualifiers for Pampa were the other members of the mile relay team (Noel Hansen, Howie Lewis and Chuck Quarles). Hansen in the 880 and Lewis in the 330 intermediate hurdles.

The mile-relay team turned in its best time of the season, a 3:25.8. Quarles ran the fastest leg — 51 seconds flat for his best time of the year. Palo Duro placed second with 3:26.0.

Mathis, running with a slight limp due to the hamstring pull sustained a week ago at the Amarillo Relays, won the 440 with a 52.5, edging Palo Duro's Stanley Wright, who ran a 52.9 quarter. After the race, Mathis said, "It (the right leg) hurts pretty bad."

Trainer Sandy Miller attended to the injury and left it up to Mathis if the senior was to compete in the mile relay. Mathis ran his leg of the relay and painfully turned in a 51.2.

Lewis won the 330 intermediates in the closest race of the meet, nipping Borger's Glenn Gray, 40.5 to 40.55. Lewis caught the Bulldog hurdler with less than a hundred yards left in the race and the two stayed neck-and-neck until the finish.

Hansen, who has not lost a race this year, won the 880 with 2:00.9.

Borger's Craig Prewitt set a meet record in the 100 with a 9.5 and tied the 220 mark with a 21.4.

The B-team totals were Palo Duro, 152; Amarillo, 97; Pampa, 80; Caprock, 74; Tascosa, 70; and Borger, 6.

The regional meet will be held April 19-20 at Lubbock. The first- and second-place finishers in the district meet will compete in the regional affair. The state meet is set for May 10-11 at Austin.

Pampa Gets Beaten In 3-AAAA Tennis

AMARILLO — "We got nowhere, I'm really disappointed," said tennis coach Alton Setliff after his Harvesters team lost out in Friday's play of the District 3-AAAA Tennis Tournament at the Amarillo Tennis Center.

In boys singles, Richard Coon of Amarillo High defeated Pampa's Eugene Laycock, 6-0, 6-2, in the quarterfinals. Laycock drew a bye in the first round to earn the quarterfinal spot.

Coon, the tourney's top seed in boys singles, went on to win in the finals.

Despite Coon's efforts, Amarillo High did not win the tournament as Tascosa racked up 45 points to win the district title. Behind the Rebels were Amarillo High, Caprock and Borger, Pampa and Palo Duro did not score.

In another boys singles matches for Pampa, Palo Duro's Russell Moyers defeated Mike Branhan, 6-1, 6-2.

John Berryhill and Kip White of Caprock won the A-team boys doubles title, beating Duke Rousch and Jim Smith, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, in the finals. Rousch and Smith were favored prior to the tournament.

In doubles for Pampa, E.B. Ellis and Jerry Allen lost to Tascosa, 6-1, 6-1.

Top seeded Kim Hood won the girls singles in the "A" division by stopping Amarillo High's Hollis Ann Hands, 6-4, 6-3, in the finals.

Pampa's girls all lost in the first round. Tascosa's Armanda Ham beat Joanne McCausland, 6-0, 6-1, while Palo Duro's Melba Whitlow stopped Cindy Burns, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

In "A" girls doubles, Tascosa's Janet Mason and Janis Harp stopped teammates Lynn Rodgers and Dana Perkins, 6-3, 6-2, in the final match.

The meet closed Pampa's tennis season.

IN 3 GAMES Volleyball Team Loses To Irving

WICHITA FALLS — Pampa ended its finest athletic season in years Friday at Midwestern University here as the Harvesters girls volleyball team lost to defending state champion Irving, 15-9, 16-14, 12-7 in the regional tournament.

Pampa wound up its season with a 19-2 record, including 13 conference wins without a loss. Irving, which had lost only one girl off last year's state championship team, will advance to the state tournament, a Monday in the bi-district match. This was the third year in a row Pampa had captured either the district title or tied for it.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought To You By B.F. Dorman

Did you know that a man can be the winning pitcher in a baseball game even though he never threw a pitch to a batter ... How is this possible? ... This actually happened once in a minor league game ... A relief hurler came into the game with two out in the top of the 9th ... Before throwing a pitch to the plate, he picked the runner off first base retiring the side ... Then, his team scored the winning run in the last of the 9th, and so he was the winning pitcher.

One of the oddest things that ever happened in a major golf tournament happened to pro golfer Tony Jacklin ... He was playing in a tournament some years ago and hit a 300-yard long shot that landed right in a spectator's pocket ... without any injury to the spectator!

Did you ever wonder what was the smallest crowd ever to see a major league baseball game? ... The record low was set back in 1881 in a National League game at Chicago ... Official paid attendance at that game — 12.

I bet you didn't know that people have been asking about MICHELIN 'X' for 25 years. They say a friend sent them. Come in and find out why ... let us introduce you to MICHELIN 'X' ... the leader in steel belt radials.

Edwards Wins 4th Straight As Pampa Stops Dons

By PAUL SIMS
Toddy Black knocked in two runs with a single to leftfield in the bottom of the first inning and those runs proved to be all Pampa needed as the Harvesters hung on to defeat Palo Duro, 2-0, in a District 3-AAAA contest Friday at Optimist Park.

The win keeps Pampa tied with Caprock and Amarillo High, all with 3-1 records, for first place in the initial half of district play. Pampa, 12-6 for the year, will clinch at least a tie for the first half title if the Harvesters can beat Amarillo High Tuesday. Amarillo stopped Tascosa (2-2), 5-2, and Caprock belted Berger (0-4), 12-5, in other district games Friday afternoon.

David Edwards, a surprising sophomore, won his second district game without a loss in getting the shutout. For the year, Edwards is 4-0, including three complete game victories.

Edwards gave up only six hits against the Dons, who are now 0-4 in district play and 3-12 overall. He walked three and struck out 14, which is the most whiffs for a Pampa pitcher in any game this season.

In the first inning, Edwards walked leadoff batter Barry Reynolds, then struck out the next three. In the bottom of the same inning, Rick Smith led off for Pampa by walking. Rick Bigham singled to left and Smith made it to third base.

Hank Benched, May Force Showdown

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Atlanta Braves' manager Eddie Mathews, forcing a certain showdown between the baseball commissioner and himself, brazenly defied Bowie Kuhn Saturday by benching home run slugger Hank Aaron for the final two games with the Cincinnati Reds at Riverfront stadium.

Mathews said, however, the 40-year-old Aaron, who needs only one more home run to break Babe Ruth's lifetime record of 714, would be available for pinch-hitting duty in both contests.

possible substantial fine for disobeying a direct order by Kuhn to the Braves that they start Aaron "the same way they have done in the past" in their three opening games here with the Reds.

Aaron equalled Ruth's record with his 714th homer in his first time up during the first inning of Thursday's opener with the Reds. Aaron departed after seven innings and the Braves lost 7-6 in 11 innings.

presenting the Braves' superstar with a trophy moments after he had tied Ruth's record.

The commissioner, however, left Friday night, but there were indications he had some advance notice of what Mathews intended to do.

baseball's most raging controversy is that the Braves said this past winter they would not start Aaron in any of the three games with the Reds because they preferred he break Ruth's record in Atlanta. The club opens an 11-game home stand this coming Monday.

Jolly was tagged with the loss. He gave up six hits and four walks while striking out five.

We have more quality

From The Channel
by Gil Wuest
Manager, Harvester Lanes

Just the other day I was sitting here in the office reviewing all that has come our way since we have been in Pampa. I decided that one of the greatest things is the fine people we have here in our leagues whom we are glad to call friends.

Staying with this thought we would like to share with you some good news we have received from our boss. That is if we continue to have the wonderful support of our leagues, as well as our other patrons for this coming summer and winter leagues, there will be an expansion program to begin in the summer of 1975. We plan to build a game room and ten more lanes as well as a league room for your meetings.

The present building will be remodeled and the parking lot resurfaced. Our aim always is to do what we can to further help you to enjoy your league bowling and have a good time with your fellow bowlers.

We would like to give you a schedule for the league bowling for this summer so you can be thinking about it and sign up here at the lanes the next time you are out.

MONDAY: 7-9 p.m. — free instruction for couples, men, women and children.
TUESDAY: 9 a.m. — Ladies league, 8 p.m. — Mixed league.
WEDNESDAY: 10 a.m. — Bantam league, 1 p.m. — Ladies league, 8 p.m. — Mens scratch trio league.
THURSDAY: 9 a.m. — Ladies league, 8 p.m. — Ladies trio league and Jr. bowlers.
FRIDAY: 8 p.m. — Mixed league.

These are tentative times for the leagues so if you want a different time make a suggestion on your league sheet. Please consider this schedule and plan to bowl this summer with us and keep in mind that we really are counting on your support to help us help you make your bowling establishment a bigger and better place.

Parks And Wildlife News

By J.D. PEER
Last year, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department revenue totaled $7,485,959.13. This money came from receipts of license, cigarette tax, and etc.

There has always been a controversy as to whether the sportsmen are paying their share of the load for the hunting and fishing activities.

Not only has the hunters and fisher men paid for their sport, reports and records show that some of their fund monies was spent on non-game studies and research such as the red wolf and falcon.

The sale of 2,793,464 licenses for the 1973 fiscal year netted $6,859,386.54. This money along with the sand shell gravel and marl fees from fines and arrest the magazine receipts and money allotted back to Texas from the tax on the sale of firearms and ammunition, will all go into the game and fish fund.

From this game and fish fund comes the money for wildlife administration, game conservation, fish propagation, and enforcement of game and fish laws.

The expenditure of this money in fund nine is designated for fish and game only as prescribed by law.

Money for state parks comes from legislative appropriations.

The allocation of the cigarette tax, entrance and gate fees and other funds, but, not from fish and game programs.

Individuals whether they are hunters and fishermen or not, must remember that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department regulates and administers most of the outdoor activities including lake and water safety, parks and their maintenance, hunter safety and enforcement of laws dealing with each of these activities.

Even with the funds from the increased hunting and fishing licenses coming into the department every day, this additional money cannot be used until September 1975, as the increase was approved after the legislature had already made the appropriations for the department. In fact, many programs underway are operating on the same amount of money as was in the 1972 budget.

Consequently, the department has been affected the same as any other government agency by the higher operating cost and inflation.

The purchase of a Texas hunting and fishing license or a park permit is still the best bargain on the market.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Wants Medicine For Circulation

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 78 and have poor circulation but am very active, and on my feet most of the day, but my ankles are swollen. Is there any medication treatment that would improve my circulation?

—N.K.

Your swollen ankles are, as you say, very likely a sign there is some interference in the circulation to your legs, but the question becomes: Which type? What cause? "Poor circulation" ordinarily means inadequate delivery of blood to the extremities. If this is due to hardening of the arteries, the usual signs are cramps in the leg muscles, coldness, and perhaps discoloration of the feet.

Another cause — and a common one — is varicose veins, in which the problem is not carrying blood to the extremities but in getting it back again through the veins.

Still another is a weakness in the heart muscle. (Kidney trouble also is a possibility to be checked, but I think you would have in that event some additional symptoms.)

For each of these possibilities, there is a different answer. If it is hardening of the arteries, the amount of relief may be limited. If it is a weakness in the heart muscle, medications can be used (as in the case for so many patients) to give the heart action some assistance.

If varicose veins, no medication is going to correct the problem, but the veins can be stripped surgically, or Burger's exercises, plus support hose, should give some relief from the swelling.

But choosing the solution depends on identifying the cause, and I think that swelling of the ankles is a hint that your doctor should do some investigating.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you explain the difference between caffeine in coffee and caffeine in tea? Why am I able to tolerate caffeine in tea and not in coffee?

—S.S.J.

Caffeine is caffeine — but tea very often is brewed fairly briefly, so not as much caffeine is extracted. That could be your answer. And then again it may not, because you could be sensitive to chemicals other than caffeine in your coffee.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband, 59, has an enlargement of the testicle. He went to the doctor who told him to leave it alone, that's its very common at his age. The doctor said it is all water.

Meantime it is getting bigger and bigger and it looks awful and he won't wear a support.

—Mrs. J.F.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would assume from what you tell me that he has a case of hydrocele — an accumulation of fluid in the scrotal sac, but not an enlargement of the testicle itself. Not a dangerous condition, but a nuisance and unsightly.

The fluid can be removed by tapping with a hollow needle — didn't the doctor tell your husband that? There is often a recurrence, but permanent relief is available with surgical treatment and is not very difficult.

What is angina pectoris? Is it dangerous? Is there a cure? If you would like to learn more about angina pectoris, write to Dr. Thosteson, Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120, for a copy of his helpful booklet, "How To Handle Angina Pectoris." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

Danny Celebrates Album's Birth

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "They said, 'Hey, Jake, you can sing!'" Danny Thomas said, holding an unlighted cigar in his hand. "I told them they were crazy and they said, 'We're crazy to the extent of $50,000 for St. Jude's Hospital.'"

Danny, born Amos Joseph Alphonsus Jacobs, is now celebrating the birth of a second album, "I'll Still Be Loving You," and still has his doubts about being a singer. "I'm a story-teller who can carry a tune," he explained. The tall vodka in front of him was undrunk. "I am not a voice so I need a lot of good charts."

"I've introduced several hit songs," he continued. "I introduced 'This Is All I Ask'... Beautiful girls, walk a little slower. Gordon Jenkins had written it. Andy Williams SAW me sing it at the Sands — SAW me — not HEARD me — and said, 'I've sung that song two dozen times and this is the first time I ever understood it.'"

Danny's song-talking started when he undertook to do a Christmas album addressed to his wife Rosemary in 1972. It featured "You're the Best Thing That Ever Happened to Me," written by James Weatherly. The second album has several songs by Weatherly, who is now Jim instead of James, and one of them, addressed to Rosemary, is "Everything Reminds Me of You." There's also "I'll Still Be Loving You," by Steve Goldman and Jim Brown. Danny, speaking just like a singer, said, "We hope it'll land in the top 40."

Some singers, in Danny's opinion, sing too well and too much. "There's an old saying that a cantor told me that some cantors who are supposed to be praying are singing to hear their own voices, they're not praying as much as they're singing."

He introduces Walter Popp, his accompanist, and the leader of a sizeable orchestra at the Sands, saying, "There were times when he was the whole orchestra."

"Jack Kapp, may he rest in peace," he said, referring to the late recording tycoon, "used to beg me to sing but I couldn't stand most of that rock music. I used to close up my ears. This I had to overcome..."

And now he says about rock, "Well, baby, there's a market for it. I think Stevie Wonder is good. I think Tom Jones is good. You can call them 'those crazy rock stars' but they're not crazy to some people. Listen, we had 'Mairzy Doats' and we had the Black Bottom, didn't we? My father used to say, 'What the hell is that noise?' He busted more radios throwing them out windows."

"To them it isn't singing, it's a feeling..."

Danny was on the way to Miami Beach for a St. Jude's benefit — starring Frank Sinatra "stopping off in Memphis to see my hospital, doubling back to Boston to see Mario in 'Thieves,'" but something re-m-inded him of discovering Mary Tyler Moore.

"Sure, I cast her — personally — for the Dick Van Dyke show..."

"I couldn't remember her name. We were looking for a girl for the Van Dyke show and I remembered she had auditioned for my daughter but the physiognomy wasn't right. But for this I thought she'd be right. I said to everybody, 'What was that girl's name, the one with the legs in that private eye series?' Nobody could remember."

"I said, 'Go get the actors' book. It's got to be in the book.' It was."

Danny thought back. "Sometimes it's the actor makes the part, sometimes it's the part makes the actor. Sometimes both work and sometimes neither does. That's why they go out of town and have break-ins."

Farm-facts A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture John C. White, Commissioner

Cotton In West, Sorghum In East... Turkey Income Hits New High... Texas Farm Worker Numbers Decline... Cattle Placements Nose-dive.

Most major crops in Texas will see an increase in acres this year. Only oats, soybeans, and peanut acreages are expected to be under 1973 levels.

Cotton acres in Texas will be up 500,000 acres this year from last year. Grain sorghum acres in the state will be up 100,000 acres this year.

Some interesting figures are revealed in the location of those extra cotton and grain sorghum acres.

Grain sorghum acres this year will decrease in the western part of the state from last year.

For the eastern part of the state - from the Blacklands on east - sorghum acres are expected to total 3,880,000.

Wheat acres will be up 1,000,000 from 1973 throughout the state, yet the crop will be about half that of 1973 because of the drought in west Texas.

Soybean acreage in Texas is down 50,000 acres compared to 1973; oat acreage is down 200,000 acres from last year.

TURKEY income in Texas for 1973 grossed a record $70,500,000. Texas now ranks fifth in the number of turkeys raised.

PLACEMENTS in feedlots in Texas and the major states are down sharply. In Texas, placements are 23 per cent below February and 49 per cent below the previous month.

Texas continues to be the number one cattle feeding state in the nation with 2,318,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter as of March 1.

TOTAL number of farm workers has declined from an annual average of 423,000 in 1960 to an average of 264,000 in 1973.

Hired labor has dropped from 165,000 in 1960 to 80,000 in 1973, a decline of 52 per cent.

The number of Texas farms now totals 209,000. While the number of farms was decreasing, the size of the average farm continues to rise.

In 1960 the average size farm in Texas was 619 acres. In 1974, the average size is 678 acres, an increase of 10 per cent.

Railroad Abandonment Would Cripple Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration proposals to permit easy abandonment of unprofitable rail lines would cripple the nation's food industry at a time when all-out production is needed.

The protest was laid before a House agriculture subcommittee by James Krzyminski, assistant counsel of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

Joseph E. Quin, a National Grange official testifying at the House hearings, added a second warning: with a growing trend toward reduced rural rail service, he said, new emphasis is needed on upgrading rural road so they can handle heavy trucks which may replace freight trains.

"Due to the emphasis on the interstate highway system in recent years, our secondary roads and bridges in rural areas have fallen into disrepair or become outmoded. They will support modern heavy trucks loaded to an efficient degree," Quin said.

Deep-plowing tests have been conducted in the areas around El Paso, Pecos and Tula and producers found that manure nitrogen was more economical than commercial fertilizers, and that potash, phosphorus and other elements in manure were "fringe benefits."

Waste Increases Farmer's Yields COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Waste from feedlots has increased crop yields in West Texas and solved the problem of short supplies of fertilizer for farmers and cattle feeders.

Deep-plowing tests have been conducted in the areas around El Paso, Pecos and Tula and producers found that manure nitrogen was more economical than commercial fertilizers, and that potash, phosphorus and other elements in manure were "fringe benefits."

It's ironic that while the government and the entire nation are urging farmers to produce to their fullest capacity, the DOT would submit a bill designed to deprive farmers of one of their most important tools.

Surely it does no good to produce a crop if you cannot transport it to market, Krzyminski added.

Under the administration's bill, railroads would be allowed to abandon money-losing

Panhandle Water

By FELIX RYALS Leon New, Irrigation Engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, prepared a report for the High Plains Water District, titled "Energy For Irrigation Is Key Factor."

New is well known to irrigation farmers throughout West Texas. Today we are carrying a portion of his special report. "The natural resources that have permitted the Texas High Plains to become one of the world's leading agricultural regions are much less than abundant for the 1974 crop year."

This year's crop will be produced, stretching the diminishing supply of irrigation water over more than 100 days. This year's crop will be produced, stretching the diminishing supply of irrigation water over more than 100 days.

"New wells have been drilled at a fast clip since early winter, perhaps in an effort to provide water to irrigate a portion of the land that in recent years has been set aside as government programs. But connections to fuel lines for power in certain areas are curtailed due to the gradual increase in the number of wells and in fuel use that has over-loaded supply systems."

"Then, there is at least some uncertainty of available fuel for the peak pumping period in the summer. And where is the fertilizer which once supplied adequate plant nutrients and, when combined with irrigation water, boosted crop yields to optimum levels?"

"The demand is keen for fuel resources to pump irrigation water, process anhydrous ammonia, and run tractors. Will there be enough for all? Fuel available for these purposes in 1974 is no longer the low price once enjoyed, so irrigation costs for this year's crop will be more, too."

"Fuel or energy costs to power the estimated 68,000 irrigation wells on the Texas High Plains are likely to average $25,000 to $30,000 hourly. This is indeed a tremendous demand for energy and one which requires intensive planning by energy suppliers. Sixty-five percent of the irrigation wells are powered by natural gas, while 30 percent use electricity and five percent use butane or propane."

"Energy for irrigation is important, though, since irrigated crop yields average two to five times that of dryland yields. There are few crop failures on irrigated farms due to the lack of moisture. Irrigation permits high water use crops such as corn, soybeans, sugar beets, alfalfa, and vegetables to be grown in the area. About 60 percent of the grain sorghum and cotton acreage and 50 percent of the wheat acreage grown in the area is irrigated. Approximately six million acres of cropland are irrigated each year."

"The energy required to pump irrigation water is controlled by (1) the quantity of water each well delivers, (2) the depth from which it must be pumped, (3) the method of irrigation and (4) the pumping plant efficiency. The first three factors are somewhat predetermined. The amount of energy used to deliver irrigation water is influenced and can be controlled by the pumping plant efficiency. Both the power unit and pump must be considered."

"The energy required to operate internal combustion engines is influenced by the engine's mechanical condition. Typical irrigation engines is top running condition will convert 20 to 25 percent of the energy taken in through the carburetor into actual power for pumping. Engines in moderate to poor running condition may use two to three times or even more fuel to develop the same amount of power. Usually, when an engine is in poor mechanical condition, its power declines to the extent that normal pumping rates cannot be maintained, but fuel use does not drop off appreciably. Good engine repair is important especially if the fuel supply should be short."

Hogs Now Fed Mechanically

LUBBOCK—Time was when hog calling and "slopping the hogs" were part of the rural scene, but no more.

Economics, including the decrease of available land, require that mechanical devices replace manpower on the family farm. Hogs are housed in small areas. They are fed mechanically. Balanced nutrition is important for gain.

The problem of hog waste and the disposal of it is one of the economic factors. At Texas Tech University mechanical engineers, medical and animal scientists have formed a team to develop a new idea to dispose of the waste and improve nutrition in one operation.

The research team believes it can recycle the pig's diet, taking the waste, improving it nutritionally, purifying it, and feeding it back to the hogs for marketable gain.

The work should develop a process to serve more than the growing hog industry in West Texas. Dr. P.K. Koh, professor in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, spends his summers in Taiwan as a consultant for the Industrial Technology Research Institute there.

Koh is convinced such a system could alleviate both pollution and economics for Taiwan producers who supply pork for Far East markets.

"A modern hog farm can easily house 100,000 head of pigs at various stages of growth," Koh said. "The challenge for a profitable bioconversion of enormous wastes into supplementary animal feed involves a simultaneous solution of problems of environmental pollution, food conversion and energy shortage."

The pig has a simple monogastric system while cattle have four stomachs. While cattle digest food well, the pig is unable to digest the cellulose component of grain feed and is, overall, less efficient in digestion than are ruminants.

"This suggests," said Koh, "that material of relatively high nutritive value can be recovered from pig waste."

"Treatment of the waste with various micro-organisms may actually increase the useful nutritive value by breaking down the cellulose to usable carbohydrates, conversion of urea and carbohydrates to protein material, and biosynthesis of vitamin factors," he said.

As a mechanical engineer, Koh's principal interest in the investigation is in the mechanical process for converting the waste to feed. Biochemists will assess the value of converted products, and animal scientists will conduct feeding experiments.

The waste will be converted into a sludge which will go through a fermentation and aeration process speeded up by heating the sludge. Then the wastes will be inoculated with selected bacteria for the production of nutritive and disease-free supplementary nitrogen-rich animal feed. For marketing the material would be dried, sterilized and packaged.

The dried sludge retains the maximum possible nutritive values from the initial waste, supplemented by more digestible and added nutrients," Koh said. He emphasized that every effort will be made to conform with the strictest rules in Food and Drug laws in processing, transporting, storing, and using the recycled, bioconverted wastes for the maximum disease-free growth of pigs.

I have promised J.C. Hopkins, chairman, Fertilizer Sales Committee, Kiwanis Club, that I will furnish him with a leaflet I prepared several years ago, telling a person how to apply the fertilizer for different plants. We hope to get this done shortly.

4-H CLUB NEWS

By AUDETTE KINCAID ACEA

County contests were held in the Gray County Courthouse Annex with approximately 120 attending the competitive event. 43 contestants vied for the right to represent Gray County at the district contests which will be held on the West Texas State University campus April 20.

Foster Whaley gave the welcome and Mrs. Jewel Walker was the mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Paul Bowers presented awards to the contestants. Mrs. Paula Whitney, C.V.A.E. homemaking instructor, Mrs. Ed Lehnick, Pampa Junior High speech teacher, and Bill Skaggs, former state 4-H winner, were the judges for the event.

Mrs. Lilah Brainard and Mrs. Marie Eastham served refreshments of Coke and pound cake.

Victorious contestants are now preparing for district competition by meeting in small groups after school and practicing their speeches. The 4-Hers are also wanting to give their 12-minute speeches to civic groups and other audiences. We are especially thankful that Pampa Cable TV, Inc. will be televising the demonstrations and are grateful to Allen Kilgore, Wayne Steddum and PCTV for helping us with this project.

A special word of thanks goes also to Mrs. Paul Bowers and Mrs. Jewel Walker for helping the 4-Hers individually to prepare for these events.

Finally, we would like to thank the contestants themselves, their parents, and the many others who helped to make not only this program - but the 4-H program as a whole - such a success. Last year only eight persons competed in the county contests, and less than 20 persons attended. Thank you for helping us, make the program grow in such a spectacular manner! Now let's win at the district contests April 20!

Horse sense

The horse, brought to the New World by the Spaniards, began to transform life on the southern plains in the late 17th century. By the early 1800's most tribes of the northern plains - including the Cheyennes and the Blackfeet - had turned to a new life of highly efficient horse-back hunting.

Can't Bear It

Hikers on the Great Divide Trail in the Canadian Rockies sometimes tie small bells on their packs so grizzly bears will hear them coming. Most bears avoid humans, and the bell serves as a warning.

The Light Touch by Delbert

Toughest thing about making a living is that you have to get up and do it all over again tomorrow. Actually, there's only a slight difference between keeping your chin up and sticking your neck out - but it's worth knowing.

Wife to neighbor as husband waters garden: "Last year, all that came up was our water bill!"

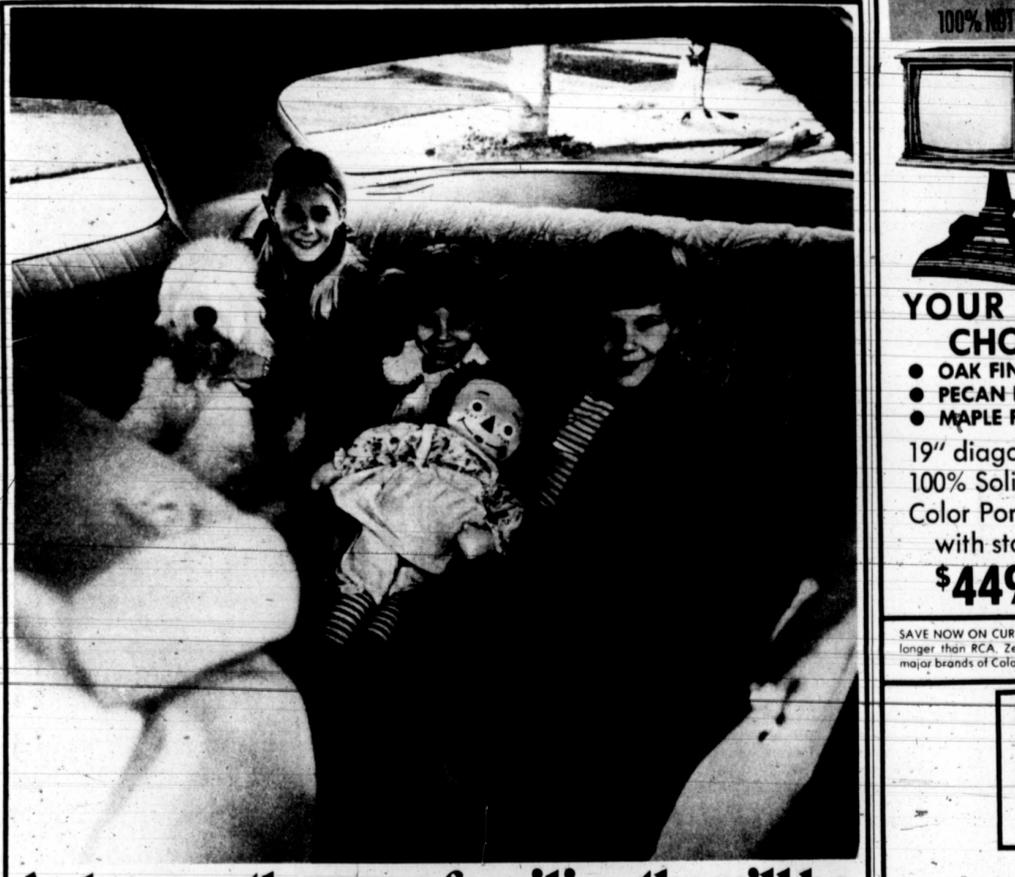

According to doctors, you'll live much longer if you give up everything that makes you want to.

Going to the beach is like going to the attic - you're apt to be surprised at what you find in trunks.

You'll be pleasantly surprised at the savings you'll find on quality furniture at Johnson's.

COUNTRY MUSIC

By PATRICK CARR
The Ryman Auditorium officially closed its doors after its Friday night performance of the Grand Ole Opry on March 15. There was much fanfare attached to that final night in the former church that had housed the Opry since 1941. All the press were there; a few record companies recorded the performance to be released later as albums. But for those closest to the scene — the Opry performers and dyed-in-the-wool country fans who'd grown up listening to the Opry on WSM radio — March 9 really marked the end, for that was the last "Saturday Night Grand Ole Opry." The Friday night Opry was only added six or seven years ago to absorb the overflow from Saturday," said Jeanne Pruett, an Opry regular. "But the Saturday night show is the one that counts. A lot of performers won't even be here for Friday night. They've already booked other dates." She was right. The Opry had to schedule a special Saturday matinee to accommodate all the people who tried to catch the two night shows — both of them sold out. Many were finally acting on life-long plans to see the Opry live. They suddenly realized this was their last chance to see it in its old home. Others viewed it as the end of an era; they just didn't think the sparkling new, fully equipped (and air-conditioned!) auditorium out at the $30 million amusement park, Opryland, U.S.A., would ever be the same. Sitting on hard church pews, maybe shelling out a dollar for a cushion when you started to get too sore, buying little cardboard fans for relief from the sometimes stultifying heat, has been part of the Opry scene. The mood backstage was sentimental, but more the way you might feel about leaving the ramshackled home of one's youth, every inch of it ripe with memories. Yes, this was the stage that Hank Williams had stood on, and Tex Ritter, and all the other greats of the past who would never grace the stage of the new Opry House. And yes, most of the performers probably would like to see the Ryman preserved, but as far as a place to perform well... Minnie Pearl probably summed it up best as she gleefully told the audience about the dressing rooms at the new Opry House. "You wouldn't believe it!

Why, they've got places to sit down," she shrieked; "and mirrors — with lights around them," she added incredulously. But when she became serious, Minnie Pearl looked back on her many years on the Opry, recalling her first appearance. She told the audience how nervous she'd been and what Judge Hay, the announcer, had told her: "Don't you worry, honey," he said. "Just go out there and love them — and they'll love ya right back." And I do love ya," she said. The audience responded with cheers and whistles, gradually rising in a standing ovation. Minnie Pearl broke into tears as she tried to leave the stage, but Roy Acuff called her back to the mike and held onto her arm. "This is a very special night for Minnie," he told the audience. "This is her last show here and there are some pretty wonderful memories." The audience continued cheering and Minnie continued crying. When she finally felt composed, she whispered into the mike, "I'm all right." Besides the regulars that night, there were a lot of special guest performers. Jody Miller appeared on both shows, flying in from her home in Oklahoma just for the night. She brought along a friend from home who'd never been to the Opry. Young Tanya Tucker was in town, too, but she had come just to watch the show. She was offered someone's slot on the program and sang "Delta Dawn," with an encore.

The traditional finale of the Saturday Night Opry came off in style. Marty Robbins, the darling of the Opry crowds — both young and old — came out in a studded burgundy-colored Western outfit, with a Mickey Mouse T-shirt. At-home Opry listeners missed half the fun as Marty charmed the crowd with his antics while he sang. At the end of each number, the audience screamed for more and Marty playfully pleaded with the MC for "just one more song."

The show ran over by about a half hour and even as the curtains were closing, Marty was screaming into the mike, "No! They want more! They want more!" The audience ate it up. A half-hour later, after most everyone had cleared out, Marty was still posing for pictures while his fans waited patiently at the door. Sitting in the empty auditorium, Marty Robbins looked around and reflected for a moment: "Well, well, the last night of the Opry," he said. "I can hardly stop laughing."

SAIGON (UPI) — Much of South Vietnam's hope for the future rests on the belief oil lies under its offshore waters. Three American and one Canadian company have been awarded contracts to search for the black gold, and other contracts are expected to be awarded later this year. Oil experts, however, have predicted it will be at least five years before a drop of petroleum is harvested, if indeed any is found.
