Wind, Hail and Cloudbursts Do Damage in Panhandle Territory

WELLINGTON IS REPAIRING HER LEVELED WIRE

Telephone Communication Interrupted Late Yesterday

MIDLAND OIL TANKS BURNING

Northwest Texas Loses Heavily as Dams Burst

Pampa fortunately escaped the cloudbursts which were reported from various points yesterday. Only 40 of an inch of rain fell here, bringing the total for the last week to six inches.

Miami and Mobeetie report 4 inches of rain in a cloudburst yesterday afternoon and last evening, making a total of eight inches for the last week. St. Francis was hit hard yesterday afternoon by a cloudburst lasting more than an hour.

Clarendon and Wellington suffered the most damage thus far reported.

CHILDRESS, May 17.—(P)—With all communication cut off, Childress today still was without complete information as to the damage at Wellington, last night when a rain, hail and wind storm struck there.

Meager reports were that three buildings had been demolished, and considerable damage done to other buildings. Trees were uprooted and planted fields washed out. Trains were not running at noon, although crews were busy repairing washed out track.

DALLAS, May 17.—(P)—Two widely separated portions of Texas today were beginning salvage work in an effort to minimize loss from a 'ornade and a heavy rain and hail storm which struck respectively in the Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma and North-west Texas and Arkansas.

Damage was expected to prove greatest near Texarkana, where the rain and hail storm was estimated to have caused loss estimated at $300,000. In this section, Daingerfield, apparently was hardest hit, a cloudburst having broken two dams and flooding valuable farm lands with a loss of $150,000. Several highway bridges and one railway bridge on the Louisiana railway and navigation company line were washed out. Many acres of cotton, which must be replanted, and truck crops, which cannot be replanted, were washed out in the vicinity of Horatio, Ark., by waters from normally small creeks.

Telegraph and railroad communications in the Panhandle near Wellington, were being restored today after a general wind, rain, and hail storm which struck in that section. Two houses were reported demolished in Wellington and the roof of the community school at Reed, Okla., was blown off. The Fort Worth and Denver railway between Hedley and Giles today was repairing about 500 feet of track that washed out. Telegraph lines were down at many points.

MIDLAND, May 17.—(P)—Two 8,000 barrel oil storage tanks on the Magnolia Petroleum company tank farm two miles east of here were set afire early today by lightning. About a ten-minute interval elapsed between the first and second tanks were ignited.

Officials of the Magnolia, because of a light wind, believed the fire might be extinguished without spreading to other tanks. A 3-inch cannon was being prepared to shoot holes in the sides of the tanks and drain them of their oil. Both tanks were filled to capacity.

SCOUTING FILLS NEED OF BOYS

Chairman Brabham Tells How Gang Spirit Is Directed

Preliminary to an adult membership drive here, the following statement was issued today by the Rev. Tom W. Brabham, membership chairman:

Sometimes we must think that the Lord is all too good to boys, for if it were not so, there would be many more of us the victims of circumstances than are, and we would be tasting the bitter fruit of cold prison-walls and iron bound windows, instead of being happy and free as we are today.

Judge Ben Lindsey of the Juvenile Court fame says: "Most of these boys who got into trouble are not really bad boys. In fact, I do not believe there is a boy who is really bad at heart. There may be boys whose ideas of right and wrong are perverted of who are mentally incompetent, but I have yet to see a boy who would not respond to the proper treatment and make good." It is significant that of over 40,000 cases of delinquent boys who have appeared before him, only one has developed into a major criminal later.

Do you remember the "old swimming hole" and the old gang with the imitation tobacco, rough stories, and wild hilarity, then how, probably, "run my good sheep run" became a more exciting game when played in someone's grape arbor or melon-patch? Do you remember how the old gang activities probably took turns that were not for the best? Of course you were doing the things that you wanted to do, but there was no mature mind to divert those activities into constructive channels, and the old pirate gang ran riot in lawlessness and vandalism.

Some of the cleverest and best educated men in America may be found behind prison walls. So you know, then, that nineteen out of twenty of them are victims of public indifference, and might have been as creditable citizens as you and I are today, if they had had the proper training and care as boys.

The most helpful and constructive program for boys in America between the ages of twelve and eighteen years is offered by the Boy Scouts of America. Clean, virile men of definite religious convictions are the only eligible leaders for the gangs known as troops; they live a definite code, known as they carry out definite programs; the Scout oath and Law. Most of the scouts in America have become members of Sunday Schools, and churches.

COOLIDGE GETS TWO BIG BILLS FOR SIGNATURE

Fate of Farm Relief Measure Still in Doubt

FEE OBJECTION STILL PRESENT

Shipping Proposal Is Attacked as Being Subsidy

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(P)—The McNary-Haugen farm relief and Jones-White merchant-marine bills, two big pieces of legislation that have been knocking at the doors of Congress for months, passed through those portals yesterday and today were awaiting entry into the White House.

Congressional action on the two controversial measures was completed when the Senate adopted conference reports in which differences between the Senate and House were adjusted.

With this over, speculation was revived as to what kind of a reception they will be accorded by President Coolidge, who will get the bills as soon as Vice-President Dawes and speaker Longworth attach their signatures.

Fee Still Retained Although changed considerably since its veto last year, the farm relief bill setting up a farm board and huge revolving fund to aid farmers in marketing their crops, still carries the much-debated equalization fee, and for this reason there appeared to be little doubt at the capitol that the measure again would fail of executive approval.

This fee, which would be levied against growers of certain commodities to assist in stabilizing market conditions when surpluses exist, has been held unconstitutional by Attorney General Sargent, and while it would not be resorted to in the present bill until other provisions had failed to meet requirements, it still is believed to be unacceptable at the White House. Leading backers of the measure, however, have hoped that because of the alternative provided before application of the fee, the president would sign it as the best obtainable legislation at this time.

Would Aid Shipping The fate of the shipping bill also was in doubt today, although most of the leaders believed the president would approve it. This measure authorizes a big replacement program for the government merchant marine, requires a sale of vessels to private operators, doubles the existing $125,000,000 construction loan fund of the board, and liberalizes the ocean mail contract system.

Waging a final assault on the bill yesterday, Western Republican senators contended changes made by the House had turned it into a "subsidy" measure. Fighting under leadership of Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, the Westerners, who supported the first bill passed by the Senate requiring unanimous consent of the board for ship sales, persisted in their argument, but finally yielded and forced a roll call on the conference report. It was adopted 51 to 20.

Mother of Seven Shot by Man at End of Quarrel

LINCOLN, Ill., May 17.—(P)—Mrs. Victor Malewski, 38, mother of seven children, was shot and killed last night by Stephen Vlahovich, 61, a neighbor, who told police the woman's children had annoyed his wife. Police learned the neighbors had been quarreling frequently for several years. When Mrs. Malewski went into the yard to call her children there was a dispute followed by a shot. She died two hours later. Vlahovich was arrested.

The scene of the killing of Philip F. Clark, in the interior of the First Christian church at Marshall, Pa., is pictured above, with Clark insert in the oval. Below, to the right is Attorney F. J. Tyrrell, Sunday school superintendent, who is accused of firing three bullets into Clark after an argument in which Clark charged the superintendent with breaking up his home. Tyrrell, who was about to begin a Mother's Day sermon when the shooting occurred, was arrested.

I. E. DUNCAN IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF LIONS CLUB

Huge Sand Pile Will Be Moved to Uncover Body Will Succeed H. Otto Studer June 1 as Second Head of Young Club—School Girls Sing Today

CHICAGO, May 17.—(P)—Ten thousand tons of sand were being moved today by volunteer workers to unseat the fate of little John Pyrek, missing since Monday.

Playmates of the eight year old boy after telling varying stories one of which was that John had been locked in a box car which had been later hauled away, finally related late yesterday that he had been buried in a sand slide.

The search was being led by James W. Alder, wealthy president of the sand and gravel company on whose property the boy was believed buried. Movement of the 10,000 tons of sand is no one-day task, but Alder promised that all the sand would be moved, if necessary, to find the boy.

That Pyrek, if buried there, was dead seemed certain. The search, however, was being pushed to relieve the anxiety of the boy's mother who, physicians said, was seriously affected because of uncertainty as to the lad's fate.

The father of the boy led the searchers last night, being finally compelled to stop, through exhaustion. Hundreds of neighbors, men and boys, joined him.

Today, under Alder's direction, the work of moving the sand was turned over to engineers. Steam shovels were called upon, but even with these several days will be required to complete the search.

I. C. C. APPOINTMENT MADE WASHINGTON, May 17.—(P)—Patrick J. Farrell of the District of Columbia was nominated by President Coolidge today to be a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, succeeding John J. Esch of Wisconsin.

BASE GETS ANOTHER NEW YORK, May 17.—(P)—Babe Ruth hit his twelfth home run of the season in the sixth inning here today against the St. Louis Browns giving the Yankees a lead of 3 to 2. Harold Wilton was the pitcher and no one was on base.

U. S. Marines Raise Bulwarks to Protect National Settlement

TOKYO, May 17.—(AP)—The flagship Pittsburgh of the United States fleet in Asiatic waters sailed for Tientsin, China, today after an eight-day visit to Japan. Admiral Mark L. Bristol will board the destroyer Pillsburg at Shimoneseki for Tientsin tonight.

TOKYO, May 17.—(AP)—Official dispatches say looting and plundering are continuing in Tsinan. One hundred shops were raided last night. Japanese and Chinese authorities are cooperating to suppress lawlessness.

TOKYO, May 17.—(AP)—In view of the increasing uneasiness in Peking and Tientsin because of the Nationalist advance, instructions were issued to the Nagoya division today to divert a regiment of infantry and a battery of artillery from Tsingtao to Tientsin.

A squadron of airplanes was ordered to go from Japan to Tientsin to protect Japanese residents.

At the same time, because of fear of disturbances spreading to Manchuria, a brigade of infantry, which was sent to Shantung from Dairen on May 4, was ordered to return. This reduced the force of Japanese available in Shantung by 5,500 men.

Chanute Slayer Demanded $5,000 and Car of Victim

CHANUTE, Kas., May 17.—(P)—Charged with first degree murder, Roy Wilhite, a laborer, was held in jail here today for the killing of Charles P. Baxter, prominent oil man. Wilhite's wife, a waitress, who said she had been intimate with the oil man was also held for investigation.

Baxter was shot yesterday morning after Wilhite had held him at night as a prisoner in the oil company office. Charges of first degree murder were filed at midnight last night. No date was set for arraignment and no request had been made today by the accused man for bail. He refused to amplify his statement made yesterday that he shot Baxter because he had "broken up" his home.

Following the all night vigil, Baxter told employees of the company yesterday morning that Wilhite had demanded $5,000 and an automobile.

Tuesday night Wilhite surprised the oil man as he was leaving the office with Mrs. Wilhite for an automobile ride.

Clever Plot Will Be Unraveled at Comedy Tonight

An interesting plot, such as the setting in a girls' school affords opportunity for development, is combined by local talent with lively choruses and solo numbers to form an entertainment for presentation this evening at the Crescent theatre. The performance will begin at 9 o'clock.

When a young man poses as a janitor to be near the girl he loves, is mistaken for a botany professor, and the botany professor becomes a janitor by force of circumstances, there is trouble enough. A supposed butler, who isn't, furnishes the key to a solution, which will be left for the performance to explain.

Members of the cast include F. C. Conwell, Dick Hughes, Mrs. H. G. Twilford, Marjorie Jewell, P. M. Bailey, Mrs. A. B. Kirby, Mrs. J. D. Sackett and Lewis Hardin. Joe Strother will be at the piano, and a high school chorus will assist.

It is a benefit performance for the Methodist church.

COMPLETES LONG FLIGHT CROYDON, Eng., May 17.—(P)—Lady Heath, formerly Mrs. Elliot Lyons, the first woman to fly from Capetown to Europe, arrived at Croydon in a light airplane from Le Fourget today. She thus completed a 10,000-mile solo flight from Capetown from which point she started on Feb. 12.

SHANGHAI, May 17.—(P)—Northern forces were moving into position today to battle against the Southerners threatening Peking as American and other foreign troops prepared to protect their nationals in Tientsin, fearing it would fall into the hands of the nationalists.

Using Sand Bags Companies of American and British soldiers, who were beginning their summer training at Shanghai and Chinwangtao, were ordered to return to Tientsin, American Marines. (See CHINESE Page 6)

NOT MANY YEARS ago few towns and cities in the Southwest had natural gas, and distribution far from the sources of supply was very limited.

Industrial franchises are being sought now in order to make possible another big gas line from the Pampa field to the larger cities east and north of here.

Such extensive piping is detrimental to this section in a negative way, in that the fuel is being carried to the industries instead of being kept here for home industries.

We have not been jealous of our gas. Piping away for domestic use has not been severely criticised. We have taken the tendency as inevitable and answering a great need.

Recent figures show how South Texas, for instance, has lately shown the outstanding development in use of gas. In less than four years the formerly unserved Gulf coast has stepped from the zero point in gas consumption to the present use of 250,000,000 cubic feet daily.

When our gas stores were first outlined, engineers said it would require 100 years to exhaust them. But these gas men did not foresee the tremendous tapping system which would be developed.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Senator J. Boonboom McWhorter's triumphal appearance before the Senate campaign funds investigating committee proved to be one of the most significant developments of the political season.

It was triumphal because the committee overlooked him, and significant because it was an admission that McWhorter was actually a candidate—something previously admitted by McWhorter alone.

those originally called and won a place in the witness chair only by masterful strategy.

First, the senator surreptitiously tacked up a few "McWhorter for President" signs in the corridors leading to the committee room.

A great buzzing was observed at the committee table and soon afterward Senator McWhorter was asked to step forward.

SENATOR SOUR: What were you doing buying arsenic the other night?

SENATOR McWHORTER: I didn't buy no arsenic.

SENATOR SOUR: What was it, then?

SENATOR McWHORTER: Mouthwash.

SENATOR SOUR: Do you expect to buy any arsenic?

SENATOR McWHORTER: No!

SENATOR SOUR: Very well, you're excused.

SENATOR McWHORTER: Can't you think of some more questions?

SENATOR GOOSEGREASE: Sure, you aren't a candidate, are you?

SENATOR McWHORTER: Yielding to the earnest entreaties of my many friends, modestly sensitive to the rising tide of popular insistence, realizing as I do my unworthiness for that great office, yet persuaded of the crying need of a strong, brave helmsman to guide the ship of state and imbued—

SENATOR GOOSEGREASE: Yes, yes, don't go on! You're sure about that arsenic, are you?

SENATOR McWHORTER: That vile slander has been circulated by mine enemies, desperately convinced that only prison bars can stop me now.

SENATOR GOOSEGREASE: Do you plan a front porch or back porch campaign?

SENATOR McWHORTER: Wherever I can get a hearing.

SENATOR SOUR: Do you accept campaign funds willingly or reluctantly?

SENATOR McWHORTER: Automatically.

SENATOR HOOTCH-HOUND: Where do you stand on companionate marriage?

SENATOR McWHORTER: I'll try anything once!

Whereupon the committee adjourned and Senator McWhorter went out to see if all the photographers had been present.

TWINKLES

Cruelty to politicians through scrutiny of their campaign budgets is positively inhumane. To expect office seekers to ride into office without impressing the populace is a pretty thought, but it doesn't work out that way under our system.

"Twelve good men and dumb" have long been criticized by the eminent Mr. Darrow, but in his old age he has admitted that he can't think of a plan better suited to the bar and society.

It looks like Old Jupe does not "choose" to quit. And by the way, it is about time to ask Mr. Coolidge again what that word really means.

Another reason why we do not wish to get held for ransom in Mexico on our vacation is that we do not like Mexican cooking.

Repetition is a great thing, but overdone it can make the most sublime idea odious. C. I. A. girls, for instance, wince every time a speaker calls them the "future wives and mothers of our land."

If we should rule the world with logic and horse sense, think how many pretty phrases would be lost to posterity.

Readers of the Pampa Daily News are not worried when it rains, but other papers have been failing to reach the city until many hours after publication time. There is no substitute for a local daily.

studying a $500,000,000 Argentina-Chile canal project. Just as if the marines weren't busy enough now.

Students of the English class at Yale, asked to autograph a set of Shakespeare to be given to Gene Tunney, signed such names as Johnny Applesauce, Jack Dempsey, the Duke of Muldoon. The younger generation simply hasn't any reverence any more—even for a prize fighter.

A meteorologist the other day expressed the theory that radio waves may be causing some of the bad weather. Maybe the radio sopranos are taking the wrong kind of ether.

If you don't think lots and lots of the delegates to political conventions are uneducated, wait until you hear their speeches.

A newspaper item tells us that the price of giraffes has doubled since the war. Darn the war, anyway!

A hole-in-one is luck, of course, but, after all, you'll have to admit, according to the player, that he was shooting right for the pin.

NEWS FROM PAMPA SCHOOLS

THE SPOTLIGHT

WRITTEN BY THE STUDENTS

Vocational Work for Year Is Outlined

In making semi-final report from the Vocational Agricultural Department for the school year 1927-28, we would call attention to the following accomplishments:

First, we made more than two hundred useful and ornamental pieces of materials for the home and school.

Second, we vaccinated about five hundred head of hogs against cholera.

Third, we culled eight or ten flock of poultry, selecting the best from each.

Fourth, we sprayed several orchards in this community.

Fifth, we took nine pigs, furnished by the local Rotary club, and have developed them into gilts of which we are proud.

Sixth, we have purchased some (much) standard poultry for our home project work. The flock purchased by Robert May merits special mention. He purchased two males and twenty-four females of the Thompson Ringlet Rocks which are as good as may be had of this particular breed and variety.

Seventh, we have 708 acres of wheat this year as part of our home project work. This wheat with present seasons should easily produce 10,620 bushels.

Eighth, this department assisted in putting on a Gray county exhibit at the Tri-State Fair and Exposition at Amarillo last September, which won seventh place, taking a prize of $100.

Ninth, this department is now assisting in the organization of a fair for Pampa this fall.

Tenth, this department this year has purchased books, tools, etc., to the value of $125.

Eleventh, our motto in this department is service. We desire that the people continue to call upon us when we may be of service to them.

In this connection, we think it not out of place to add that we have assisted many of our farmer friends in solving some of their many local problems. We have assisted many in eradication of smut in wheat, we have furnished information about the eradication of the Blueweed. Also, we have made up poisons and given the recipe for the poisoning of prairie dogs and other rodents.

In conclusion, we desire to thank Supt. Campbell, Principal Fisher, and the other members of the high school faculty for their helpful and sympathetic attitude toward our department.

We also desire to express our appreciation to the school board and the business manager for their sympathy.

TO THE READERS OF THE SPOTLIGHT

Through the co-operation and efforts of Olin E. Hinkle, editor of the Pampa Daily News; and J. D. Sugg, editor of the "Pampa Times," the Pampa Independent district schools have advertised this year. Mr. Hinkle and Mr. Sugg have printed the school news each week free of charge.

In behalf of the faculty and students of the Pampa schools, the Spotlight staff wishes to thank the editors of our local papers for their liberal donations and their sincere interest in the schools.

The "Spotlight" was published this year under financial as well as other difficulties, but like any other new organization (we hope) it is only the beginning of a school newspaper. The Pampa schools are large enough to support a regular school newspaper, and if the citizens want one badly enough next September, the "Spotlight" may become a separate school paper published by the students of our school.

The students who have contributed to the publication of the "Spotlight" this year have enjoyed the work and express their desire for a school paper.

Let everyone boost a separate school newspaper for the year 1928 and '29!

THANKS FROM BAKER

Prof. J. A. Meeks, principal of Baker school, wishes to thank all the parents and teachers for their hearty cooperation in presenting the work of the year. The teachers have showed a wonderful spirit in their school work and in helping raise money for the Baker P. T. A. The teachers have been very faithful in helping the principal promote every school affair which he has undertaken. All these things were highly appreciated; and it is hoped that all teachers will enjoy a pleasant vacation and be ready to start another successful year next fall.

The principal also wishes to thank the central P. T. A. for the nice playground equipment that was given at the beginning of the school year.

Mr. R. B. Fisher, principal of central high, left Wednesday for Cherokee, Oklahoma, where he will deliver the commencement address to the seniors of Cherokee high school. Mr. Fisher was principal of that school before coming to Pampa.

thetic and helpful attitude in making of this department one of the very best in the state.

Foods Class Serves Dinner to Trustees

The Foods II Class of Central high entertained to a six o'clock dinner, Thursday, March 16th, the school board, superintendent, and principal. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Campbell, Miss VeLora Reed, Oscar Dial, and R. B. Fisher.

All details and preparations of the dinner were made by the girls under supervision of Mrs. Harriet Gould, the domestic science teacher.

This was a final test of the progress made during the year, and as expressed by the board, we are quite sure the girls passed the examination.

LAMAR SCHOOL NOTES

Approximately one hundred students of the Seventh-grade will receive their diplomas at the commencement exercises on the night of Friday, May 18. Of these students, Robert Woodward has been selected as valedictorian, having made the highest average grade for the term. Eloise Lane has been chosen salutatorian. Both of these pupils have done exceptionally good work during the year.

The following students have perfect attendance records: Elizabeth Barrett, Margaret Beck, Hildred Broke, Winfred Helskell, Horene Keith, Garnett Polle, Dennis Powell, Wiley Reynolds, and Opal Whitesell.

Medals given by the Sons of the American Revolution, thru the agency of Mr. Hobart, have been awarded to Clyde Ballard and Leslie Stewart. These students have been selected as having shown the highest qualities of citizenship, such as honesty, dependability, truthfulness and leadership.

Mr. Lefors awarded a prize of $2.00 in gold for the best students in penmanship. This prize will be divided between Vita Van Ness, and Marion Bromley, who tied in the contest.

Final examinations are now in progress and will continue thru Thursday. All books must be checked in by Friday, the closing day of school.

JUNIORS PLAN PICNIC

The Junior class has planned to go on a picnic to Lefors Friday, May 18. They plan to leave at 10:00 and spend the day. They plan to make swimming the feature of entertainment. Let every Junior be present!

The Junior class wishes to thank Beth Blythe and Cornelia Barrett for the beautiful Harvester place cards which they painted for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

YOUR VACATION

The iron-barred gates are swung open; hundreds of prisoners go free—for about three months, and a few go on parole for life while a few others will take up their further education in higher institutions.

What shall these prisoners of the past do during their furlough? Shall it be work so as to have the pleasures of the coming year; or shall it be a camping trip hunting, swimming, boating, and fresh air?

To those who choose to work for work ever grow dreary? Remember the good times which are in store for you next year at Pampa high school or at some other institution on the same scale or perhaps more advanced.

To those men who choose happiness and contentment as their cry for the coming summer, remember that you are building your education as is the boy or girl who chooses his or her happiness to be in the winter time after the toll of the hot summer.

Either choice is a good one. Which will you take, now that you are a free man—a man released from a "so called" prison. How are you going to spend your vacation?

Probably at the end of the summer you will say, "My vacation has just begun for school isn't so bad after all." But the question before us is: How are you going to spend your vacation?

"The Harvester," the school annual, will be ready for distribution, Monday evening, May 21, at the Senior class program.

Spotlight Editor Is Valedictorian

Susie Belle Smalling has made the highest average for four years of high school work. She has not only won distinction in scholarship, but she has taken part in several plays during this year.

She was a member of the cast for the one-act play, "Grandma Pulls the Strings," which won second place in the district meet. Susie Belle has been editor of the "Spotlight" the second semester. She is a booster for Pampa high school and a student of whom we are proud.

Opal Johns made the second highest average in the senior class. Opal is a quiet, dependable, accurate student who says little but thinks much. She is also a student of whom we are proud.

ENGLISH NOTEBOOK ON EXHIBIT

At the request of Miss Carrie Belle Sterrett, the state inspector of schools, some of the English notebooks will be sent to Austin next week for the State.

The notebooks that have been selected for the exhibit belong to Lillian Keahey Susie Belle Smalling, Lillie McMillan, Lottie Schafer, Virginia Faulkner, Claudine Pope, Cora Blythe, and Dee Blythe.

All of these students have done outstanding work in English this year. It is a compliment to them that their work is of sufficient character to be placed on a State exhibit.

Virginia smiled up at him, but the smile chilled Nathaniel's hope.

"I can't understand it, Uncle Frederick," she called Mr. Dean that sometimes—"what shall I do?" "That's what I've come to talk to you about, my dear. Naturally you will come to me. And perhaps, when the estate is settled, there will be more for you than we think there is."

"No, I suppose not. He's been a great help." Nathaniel spoke a trifle acidly.

"He and Clarissa both, Niel. She's been an angel, missing things to be here with me."

Nathaniel held his tongue in reply to that. He happened to know that Clarissa Dean had kept some of her engagements. One of them was a dance. But so long as Virginia was happier in the belief that Clarissa had sacrificed her social pleasures altogether during her friend's black days, let her think so.

He did not feel so tolerant of the girl's father, however, for he did not like Mr. Dean. There was something about the man, intangible, indefinable, that made Nathaniel want to refuse to shake hands with him. And he had been one of her father's oldest friends; a man who belonged to the same clubs for which the names of both had been put up at birth.

But still Nathaniel did not like him, and when he appeared in the doorway, wearing a sympathetic smile, Nathaniel nodded curtly, murmured a vague greeting and stood with his hands behind him.

Dean took no notice of him beyond a quick "how'd'ya do."

"I'll come back soon," he said, hoping Dean would take the hint.

Virginia kissed him goodby, but her fingers seemed to cling a little to him as she let him go.

"My dear," Dean began in a sad voice when she was again seated beside him. "I would not have intruded upon you at this moment had I not felt that it might comfort you to know I was your father's confidant and that I am aware of the blow you have suffered today. I promised Richard I would see you through it."

"Is it really as bad as Mr. Gardiner says?" Virginia asked him.

"Richard gave me no understanding that matters were in a very bad state—but of course I do not know what Mr. Gardiner said."

"He said there was nothing left—that even the furniture in this apartment must be sold." Suddenly Virginia's hands were withdrawn from Dean's grasp and were covering her face. Her body shook with the emotion she had until now been gallantly suppressing.

Dean's arms went around her; he drew her head to his shoulder, and if there was a touch of greediness in his movements Virginia was not aware of.

"I wish you hadn't consented to see anyone just now," Nathaniel protested when the maid had gone to admit the caller. "There is something I wanted to talk to you about."

"But Niel, I couldn't send Mr. Dean away."

"No, I suppose not. He's been a great help." Nathaniel spoke a trifle acidly.

Yankees Astounding Though Not Safely Ahead of Athletics

(By The Associated Press.)
With three Indian scalps in their locker, the Athletics were tuned up Thursday for a chase after the flying Yankees in what still may be called the Koyican league race. Babe Ruth and his fellows have been showing signs of again turning this competition into a sort of Australian pursuit, with no pursuers, but they have not yet given the Athletics any great quantity of dust, for all of New York's astounding 501 percentage.
Cornelius McGillicuddy, tall tactician, is concentrating his efforts upon remaining within striking distance of the Yankees until next Thursday, when he hopes to begin tucking a few defeats into the hides of the Manhattan Mauloys. Like the recent closed series with Cleveland, the engagement against New York will extend through five games, including double headers next Thursday and Friday and a single game on Saturday.
The Athletics in the meantime will be stacked up against no more formidable opposition than the Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators, who ought to furnish Conn with a chance to bolster his standing. The Yankees, meanwhile, will feast upon the St. Louis Browns and the Boston Red Sox.
The Red Sox incidentally are becoming no mean proposition. They have won five straight. They trimmed the Tigers by 5 to 4 in eleven innings Wednesday in one of the only two scheduled games in the American league. The Tigers have dropped straight.
The Athletics enjoyed field day against the Indians. Cobb and Hale hit homers for the Athletics after Fosse had driven one over the fence to Cleveland, while Jimmy Fox got two triples and a double. All of this outburst against Miller, Harder, and Brown enabled the Athletics to win by 15 to 2. Rube Walberg won his fifth consecutive game.
All was quiet along the National League front Wednesday. The scheduled games in Pittsburgh and St. Louis, but rain prevented both contests.

Sluggers Gaining on Good Pitching of Texas League

(By The Associated Press.)
Under the stimulus of a hard battle for berths in the first division, hitting in the Texas league shows signs of breaking through the cloud of good pitching that recently has obscured it. While for several days they threatened to break into the vein of slugging, but helped them to a Dixie championship, the Wichita Falls Spudgers Wednesday made good the threat by hammering four Beaumont pitchers or 20 safeties and a 16 to 14 victory.
The Exporters joined willingly in the batting bee, however, and while knocking Kiefer and H. Cobb from the box and making things uncomfortable for Tom Estell who finished the game gathered 17 hits including two home runs.
In a similar duel of swinging bats, empered in spots by the classy hurling of the veteran Paul Wachtel, the Fort Worth Panthers defeated the Houston Buffs, 6 to 5, and dumped them out of first place in the league standing.
The San Antonio Bears drew to sec-

Mandell Is Slight Favorite to Beat McLarnin Tonight

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—The McLarnin-Mandell fight scheduled for tonight at the Polo Grounds was postponed by promoter Tex Rickard until tomorrow because of threatening weather. It was announced at two o'clock this afternoon.

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—Baby Face Jimmy McLarnin—the harp that twanged the cords in Sid Terris' chin just once to become the lightweight sensation of the day—will have his chance tonight to strum knockout music on the jaw of Sammy Mandell, champion of the division.
The boys who wager on fistic combat laid odds of 2 to 1 however, that the clever titleholder from Rockford, Ill., would evade the knockout wallop in McLarnin's right hand. They were less confident that a new champion would not be crowned at the end of the 15 round skirmish in the Polo Grounds, the first major combat of the season. Mandell was a bare 6 to 5 favorite if the fight went the limit.
Mandell, a natural lightweight, expected no difficulty with the scales, while McLarnin, who started his career as a flyweight, was close indeed to the class limit of 135 pounds.
The boys who put their cash on Mandell, despite the alround skill, speed, and ringcraft of the champion, shuddered a bit at the thought of what happened when that other ring flash, Sid Terris, collided with an eight-inch thrust of Jimmy's right fist in the recent indoor season. Although the punch traveled to fast for the eyes of most of the 15,000 gathered in Madison Square Garden, all saw over Terris' twitching form the shadow of a cramp— for that night at least.
More than 60,000 customers are expected to mob the big national league ball park for the first big lightweight title go here since Benny Leonard trounced Lew Tindler before a 4,000, 800 house five years ago. The gate receipts probably will reach $200,000.

John Salo Gains 1 1/2 Hours, Though Payne Is Willing

JAMESON, N. Y., May 17.—(AP)—C. C. Pyle's blistered brigade had to mush down the Liberty highway toward Bradford, Pa., their seventy-fifth control station, 44 miles east of here today. Andrew Payne, the Oklahoma farm hand who has been showing his heels to his rivals with great consistency, led the pack with an elapsed time of 487 hours, 23 minutes and 37 seconds for the 2950.9 miles of hard road from Los Angeles to James-town.
John Salo of Passaic, N. J., holder of second place in the standing, blazed the trail from Erie, Pa., yesterday, covering the 60 miles in 8 hours, 46 minutes and 5 seconds. The leader was content to lose one hour, 32 min-

Pat Flynn, Trained With the Strangler, to Tackle Kopecky

You slap me and I'll slap you, and all the rest of the rough and tumble style of wrestling will be seen here tonight when Irish Pat Flynn, 162 pounds, of Kansas City, and Joe Kopecky, 158 pounds, of Taylor, meet in a finish match, best two falls out of three, at the Pio-Mor auditorium. For a preliminary event, Leo Chase of Roxana and Bull Henry, of all over, will go 30 minutes, one fall.

Pat Flynn is said to be better and more experienced wrestler than the rough artist from Taylor, but whether he can throw him or not will be demonstrated tonight. The Irishman joined with Strangler Lewis for several months and knows many of the champion's tricks, which he plans to use on Kopecky.
There is sure to be fireworks and somebody is scheduled to go thru the ropes. Henry Karhunen or Bull Henry, carries a belt around with him with the bars received in Austin, Sweden, France, and the United States. He will meet Leo Chase, also a veteran at the game, and no baby when it comes to give and take.
The match will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

LAST AMERICAN BEATEN

HUNSTANTON, England, May 17.—(AP)—America's sole surviving representative in the British women's open golf tournament, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, was eliminated three and two by Miss Judith Fowler today.
utes and 52 seconds of his advantage over Salo, finishing in a tie for fourth place for the day. Payne still holds the big advantage of 20 hours, 9 minutes and 35 seconds over the New Jersey Finn, whose elapsed time is 507:33:12.

OPEN LEFORS GARAGE

Vic Wagner and A. Carpenter have opened a Texas garage in LeFors, doing all kinds of general repair work, tire repairing, and handling oils and gas. They have erected a large stucco building on their lot in the townsite.
Mr. Carpenter has also received the agency for Chevrolet cars and trucks and will carry a complete line all the time.

FISHER TO SPEAK

R. B. Fisher, principal of the Pampa high school, left yesterday afternoon for Cherokee, Okla., where he will make the commencement address to the graduating pupils of the Cherokee high school tonight.
Mr. Fisher was formerly principal of that school, and was honored by being asked to make the commencement address at his old school. He will return Saturday.

CARAVANS

What heavy-freighted caravans lumbering with age. Across life's sands, with dreams we lost upon the pilgrimage. The faith, the creeds, the happy hope: the certainties of youth. With its eternal confidence, its salivating truth.

What hosts of little ironies each carrying its pain: (The wounds long since forgotten but the scars remain) Soft words we might have spoken and deeds we might have done. The marvelous achievements that never were begun.

Gray caravans of might-have-been etched sharp against the sky. Whose shadows seem to lengthen and numbers multiply! They slipped away so silently we never saw them start. And yet—thank God!—their wagon tracks remain upon the heart.

—Anna Hamilton Wood.

Entry to the Desert

If I should hasten or cry out, I would not see the aspens whipping on the rim. Of the red butte to the north, I would not hear. The rainy march of the wind that breathes. A deeper shadow on the corn.

So let me no less delicately plant my footsteps on this desert earth. Than the prim quail that leads her grave procession through the sage. Or the gray rabbit, pausing leopards and alert. Scouting the rain.

—James Rorty.

He is gone on the mountain, He is lost to the forest, Like a summer-dried fountain. When our need was the soarest, The font, reappearing. From the raindrops shall borrow. But to us comes no cheering. To Duncan no morrow!

Fleet foot on the corral. Sage counsel in cumber. Red hand in the forsy. How sound is thy slumber! Like the dew on the mountain. Like the foam on the river. Like the bubble on the fountain. Thou art gone, and forever! —Walter Scott; Lines from Coronado from the Lady of the Lake.

Airplane Future Graphically Told at Franklin Institute

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—(AP)—Airplanes swifter, safer and bigger, with living and sleeping apartments for passengers in wings seven feet thick are prophesied by Charles L. Lawrence, inventor of the Wright-Whirlwind motor.

A new fuel lighter than gasoline will be developed, thus increasing the load-carrying capacity of airplanes in the future, in the opinion of Henry Ford. There is little doubt that airplanes will become the principal medium of long distance expensive transportation but the future of aviation and its possibilities cannot be predicted, Orville Wright, father of aviation, believes.

Ford Given Medal

These views on air travel of the future were expressed in addresses and comment here yesterday on the occasion of their visit to the Franklin Institute where Mr. Ford was awarded a gold medal for his achievement in Automobile production and his contributions to the welfare of mankind. A medal was presented to Mr. Lawrence for his invention of the Wright air-cooled motor.

"Airplanes of the future will be bigger, swifter and safer," Mr. Lawrence said. "They will have wings six or seven feet thick, which eventually will accommodate passengers who will be able to walk about in them, eat and sleep in their roomy interiors. The fuselage will then shrink to a mere vestige of its present form.

"The coming planes will be so large that it will be possible for mechanics to work on the engines in flight; in fact they will be able to take down an engine while flying. The airplane of the future will be one of the greatest factors in abolishing war."

Need Light Fuel

Mr. Ford envisioned the discovery of a new fuel in the development of aviation. He said interest in aviation was increasing, and implied that he was interested in efforts to produce a new fuel lighter than gasoline and thus add to the load-carrying capacity of airplanes.

"The transportation of freight by airplane is limited to its weight-lifting capacity," Mr. Wright said. "I do not believe airplanes will supplant steamships as the principal freight-carrying medium for long distances, nor do I believe they will supercede railroads for transporting passengers short distances at moderate prices. This does not mean that I believe the plane has reached its limit of development. There will be greater development, but I am not prepared to discuss its extent. The cost of construction will be greatly decreased in time and in consequence the cost of air travel will become less expensive."

He May Succeed

Lieut. Wilmer Stultz of Paterson, N. J., who was pilot for Charles A. Levine in his Havana flight, and has been designated as chief relief pilot for the Antarctic expedition of Commander Richard E. Byrd, may succeed the late Byrd plane. Stultz was pilot of the Byrd plane. Stultz was pilot of Miss Frances Grayson's plane, Dawn last summer in three unsuccessful starts to cross the Atlantic. He won his rank as a war flyer.

J. E. Ward, and daughter, Mrs. Robert Morris, left Wednesday for Denver, Colo., where they will enjoy an extended visit with Mr. Ward's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Haralson.

Methodist Bishop Found Guilty of Inprudent Conduct

KANSAS CITY, May 17.—(AP)—Bishop Anton East of Copenhagen, Denmark, was found guilty of imprudent and unministerial conduct by an ecclesiastical court of the Methodist Episcopal church which reported its findings to the quadrennial general conference of the church here today.

The court, composed of seventeen ministers, sustained the suspension of the bishop following conviction in Denmark in 1925 on charges involving the alleged misuse of charity funds.

While suspending him permanently from exercising the functions of bishop, the ecclesiastical court continued him in the membership and ministry and recommended provision for his support until the next meeting of his conference, which will be held next spring.

The conference adopted the recommendation of the court that provision be made for his support until the next meeting of his conference, and sent the recommendation to the episcopacy committee.

Medical Student Kills Dancer and Wounds Himself

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—An Argentine medical student whose romance with Maria Montero, Spanish dancer, was broken off when she found he had a wife and four children in Paris, died in city hospital today, a bullet in his brain, after he had shot and killed the dancer and attempted to take his own life.

Ten months ago, Horatio Columbers, 37-year-old son of a wealthy Argentine planter, met Miss Montero, who was 27, and fell in love with her. Last Saturday she learned he had a wife and four children in Paris and ordered him to leave her dancing studio and never come back.

Yesterday afternoon he returned and forced his way into her private apartment at the West 57th street studio. An assistant heard a heated conversation in Spanish and then several shots. The assistant ran into the street and summoned police. They found Miss Montero lying dead on the floor, wrapped in a Spanish shawl which associates said King Alfonso of Spain had presented to her, one hand clutched over religious medals in a pocket of her dress and her pet Spitz whining at her side.

Columbers was lying nearby, a pistol in his hand and a wound in his temple. A policeman bent over him to take the pistol and asked, "did you do this?"

"I shot her because I loved her and she wouldn't have any more to do with me," he said and lapsed into unconsciousness.

Four letters were found in his pocket, one to the police, two to friends and one to the Argentine consul giving directions for the disposal of his body.

Kansas City Man, Large Land Owner in Southwest, Dies

KANSAS CITY, May 17.—(AP)—Luke F. Wilson, 85-year-old capitalist with large ranch and oil holdings in the Southwest, died at his home here shortly before 4 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Wilson had been confined to his bed for some time.

WICHITA FALLS, May 17.—(AP)—Colonel Luke F. Wilson, who died in Kansas City early today, came to this section in 1894, soon after the Wichita Falls townsite was opened and, with associates in Missouri and elsewhere, organized the Wichita Falls Land and Cattle company, which held 150,000 acres of ranch land in Archer and Clay counties. The venture did not prosper and the lands were divided up among the members of the company, "Uncle Luke" getting about 50,000 acres in Archer county as his portion. Mr. Wilson ran cattle on his land which had alternate seasons of prosperity and adversity until 1902.

In that year he sold his land to a syndicate headed by F. H. Fitzgerald of Indianapolis, which undertook to colonize the tract with farmers. A number of farms were sold, and the town of Geraldine came into being. Two successive years of dry weather caused crop failures which forced most of the purchasers to give up their farms and after a time the land reverted to Col. Wilson and the town of Geraldine ceased to exist. The land was used for grazing until 1916 when a group of Wichita Falls oil men discovered oil along Panther creek. Efforts to extend the field were unsuccessful until 1920 when E. Peterson, Wichita Falls oil man brought in a wild cat well near the Geraldine townsite. This was followed by the development of an extensive pool, which at one time yielded at the rate of 25,000 barrels daily and made the cactus and mesquite covered acres immensely valuable. The pool is still one of the most prolific in Northwest Texas, as he expressed it, that he had. Several years ago Col. Wilson decided too much money, and most of his estate was divided among a number of nephews and nieces.

A dispatch to Rengo, a Japanese news agency, from Peking said the Manchurian adherents of the Northern dictator, Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, had decided to launch an offensive against General Feng Yu-Hsiang, Southern (Nationalist) commander. The Northern forces choose the Peiking-Hankow railway as the line of their drive and for this purpose Yang Yu-Ting, chief of staff under Marshal Chang, and Chang Hsueh-hang, the marshal's eldest son, left for Peiking on the 10th miles southwest of Peiking on the Hankow railroad.

C. T. Wang, diplomatic committee man of the Nationalist Government today said that anti-Japanese hostilities and propaganda had ceased and that Chinese troops had been withdrawn from the areas in Shantung mapped out by the Japanese in their demands. He asserted, however, that the Nationalist government had as yet made no official decision in regard to the Japanese demands, which grew out of the fighting at Tsinan.
