MARINES HUNT DOWN SLAYERS OF A COMRADE

American Patrol Isolated in Unexplored Part of Nicaragua

SANDINO FAR INTO INTERIOR

Rebel Blames Coolidge for the "Horrible Situation"

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 18.—(P)—Pushing their way through the jungles of the north, American Marines today were tracking down the rebel slayer of a comrade in arms.

In the most severe combat since February 27, one Marine and one Nicaraguan National Guardsman were killed and the commanding officer of the patrol, Captain Robert S. Hunter of Kansas, and another Marine were wounded.

Sixty to 75 insurgents and 25 Marines and ten guardsmen took part in the clash which occurred near Pasir, 45 miles northeast of Jinotega, and across the Cua river.

Fighting against odds, the Marine killed five rebels and wounded five. The insurgents were Jose Leon Diaz, who has had previous revolutionary experience and is reputed to be a Honduran who has joined the cause of General Augustino Sandino.

The Marine patrol was isolated. Medical and surgical supplies were dropped to them by an airplane squadron under Captain Robert A. Archibald. The names of the enlisted men who were casualties were not learned.

Relief Is Pushed

Two relief columns were pushed from Jinotega toward the region which is thickly forested and has been little explored. These Marines, under Major Kellerpe of Indiana, were to assist the wounded and take up the pursuit of the rebels. The wounded will be sent to Quail and then evacuated to Managua by airplane. Brigade headquarters stated that they believed Captain Hunter's patrol was not in a serious predicament.

Until word of the clash reached Managua, it was not generally known that the Marines had pushed so far eastward from Jinotega. The patrols have been chasing armed and organized outlaws into practically unexplored regions. Brigade headquarters believed that General Sandino has retired to the central part of the department of Jinotega, a region nearly inaccessible. Diaz is known as a daring leader. Last October he attacked a government garrison of thirty men with 15 followers. Recent reports said he had 200 men under his command. Constant pressure by Marines broke up the band, but they were believed to have worked their way back to Jinotega in small groups and formed again.

Have 25 Encounters

Since the clash on February 27, when a supply train was attacked and five Marines killed, Marine patrols have made 25 contacts with rebels. In these there was only one casualty, Captain Francis E. Pierce, who was shot through the foot while acting as an observer in an airplane which was fired upon by rebels.

H. W. Amphlett, manager of La Luz mine in North Eastern Nicaragua, which was recently destroyed by insurgents, returned to Puerto Cabezas with copies of a defiance signed by General Sandino. Amphlett said this had been posted on the property by the insurgents and promised destruction of all American owned property that fell into his hands.

"All that is North American that falls into our hands has arrived at its end," the document read. "The losses which you have sustained in the mine you may collect from the government of the United States, Mr. Calvin Coolidge, who is the only one really responsible for the horrible and disastrous situation through which Nicaragua is passing at the present time.

"The most honorable resolution which your government could adopt with Nicaragua is to retire its forces from our territory, thus permitting us the Nicaraguans, to elect our national government, which is the only means of pacification of the country."

In War Zone

Hiran E. Newbill, American vice consul at Tsingtao, may play an important role in the news from China. He is stationed in an area where troop movements are likely to take place.

ITALIA IS BACK AT KINGS BAY

Data Will Result in Revision of Arctic Geography

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, May 18.—(P)—The dirigible Italia returned to her base here at 9:15 a. m., today from an exploring trip to Lenin land. The weather was fine.

The dirigible had been in flight for almost sixty-eight hours over a course of some 2,000 miles, having left Kings Bay 1:20 p. m., Tuesday.

ROME, May 18.—(P)—News of the return flight of the Italia to her Kings Bay base today was received with rejoicing throughout the Italian press which cites the flight as a splendid achievement.

The success of the dirigible in resisting unfavorable weather conditions was praised by the papers which said that she had gained all her set objectives and from a scientific as well as aeronautical standpoint, amply justified the faith of her supporters.

Popolondi Roma notes that between Spitzbergen and the Franz Josef archipelago, the Italia found no trace of land, showing that the mythical Gillis land as well as Crocker land which Peary thought he saw, did not exist.

Saw Open Sea
"However, the Italia's crew was able to establish the presence of a vast zone of open sea to the northeast of the Franz Josef group at 82 degrees longitude and another space of open water near Nicholas II land," says the paper, declaring that this is enough to constitute a revolution in Arctic geography.

The newspaper says that where Nobie went beyond the Russian exploration of Nicholas II land in 1913 was that he flew over the entire length of the region and should be able to determine whether it is one great island or an archipelago. The precise determination of this was one of the objectives of the Italian expedition.

Satisfaction was expressed that General Nobie was able to pay Venice's tribute to the memory of the explorer Francesco Querino who met death in the region during the Duke of Abruzzi's expedition of 1900 by dropping the flag of the City of Venice with a parchment bearing a message from Podesta Pietro Orsi.

Plans Trip to Pole
Not that Nobie has made two pre-centering on his projected trip over the pole itself when he plans to deposit a large cross blessed by Pope Pius and containing a message from the pontiff.

News from Kings Bay where the Italia landed at 9:15 a. m., today, indicated that everything was in readiness there for refueling and overhauling the Italia for her next voyage. The crew of the Italia is due for an extensive spell of rest and recreation and just when the next flight will be made is not known.

FRENCH WOMAN WINS

HUNSTANTON, England, May 18.—(P)—Manette Le Blain of France won the Womens' golf championship of Great Britain today, defeating Miss Sylvia Marshall, three-up and two to play, in the final 36-hole match.

EXECUTIONER'S HOME BOMBED IN NEW YORK

Sacco-Vanzetti Faction Is Blamed for Attack

ELLIOTT PULLED MANY SWITCHES

Escapes Injury When the Front of House Is Shattered

NEW YORK, May 18.—(P)—The home of Robert Elliott, official executioner for four states and the man who pulled the death switch on Sacco and Vanzetti was bombed early today.

Elliott, his wife and two children were thrown from their beds by the explosion but were uninjured. The house, located in Queens Borough Long Island, was damaged considerably. The front porch was torn away, the front door blown down and every window shattered.

Threats were received by Elliott prior to the Sacco-Vanzetti execution and for a long time a police guard was maintained about his house. After the guard was removed the policeman or that beat had instructions to keep a special watch over the home.

Elliott expressed the belief that the bombing was done by sympathizers of Sacco and Vanzetti, radicals executed at Boston for the slaying of a paymaster. A new police guard was ordered around the home.

Thrown From Beds

Elliott and his wife were asleep in the rear room on the second floor of two story cottage when the bomb exploded. Their daughter, Gertrude, 17, was in an adjoining room while a son, Robert, Jr., 27, and a cousin, Thomas Lang, were in the room immediately over the porch. They were all thrown out of their beds, but suffered only minor injuries.

Windows in houses for two blocks away were shattered, and horses in a station of a milk company several blocks away were thrown into a panic stampeding and overturning several delivery wagons.

Police were unable to find anyone who heard or saw those who placed the bomb. Members of the bomb squad from New York headquarters estimated the bomb had a time fuse and had been placed either on the porch or under it half an hour before the explosion.

Elliott was appointed executioner for New York early in 1926. At the time he was executioner for Massachusetts, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. He is 54 years old.

Had Nervous Collapse

A quiet, gray haired man, he never seemed affected by his death-dealing job until the execution of Mrs. Ruth Snyder, the first woman on whom he had pulled the switch. He suffered a nervous breakdown after the Snyder-Gray execution at Sing-Sing prison in New York and was under the care of a physician for several weeks. He has always avoided publicity and little is known of his past life. Even his neighbors were unaware of his occupation for some time after his appointment as New York's executioner.

Elliott has put to death more than one hundred persons and his income is said to average about $4,000 a year. He received $900 for one day's work in January 1917 for executing three persons.

When the police reserves rushed to his damaged house today they found Elliott in the kitchen calmly discussing the bombing with his wife.

"Are you going to stay here for the rest of the night?" a police captain asked him. "Do you want to be escorted anywhere?"

"No," was the reply. "Our room and bed seem to be all right."

"We are going to remain right here. Nobody is going to drive us away."

"BAD ACCIDENT" REPORTED

A telegram from San Jose, Calif., stating that they had been in an accident, was received here yesterday from Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Cecil. No explanation was made in the message other than that a letter was on the way Mr. and Mrs. Cecil were on their way to Portland, Ore., to visit with Mrs. Cecil's relatives. Mr. Cecil is connected with Kees and Thomas, clothiers here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McAllister and children left Wednesday on an extended vacation trip through Texas and New Mexico.

Frank Lowden, former governor of Illinois and presidential candidate who is making farm relief his issue, is pictured here as he appeared before the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures.

PRINCESS FOR W. T. C. C. NAMED

Miss Bonnie Jo Pool Make Trip to Fort Worth

Pampa's Princess at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Fort Worth June 18, 19, and 20 will be Miss Bonnie Jo Pool. Her escort will be Dr. J. C. McKean, local physician, a Chamber of Commerce committee has announced.

The princess is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Pool of Fort Worth, formerly of Pampa. Miss Pool is prominent in the younger set of the city and is employed with the Gray County State bank. She is a slender brunette.

Pampa also will have a float appropriate to the city and community. The costumes to be worn by the Pampa princess will include an evening gown of pale green trimmed with gold, and with gold slippers, a black and white sport suit with hat to match street dresses, and luncheon gowns.

The local Chamber of Commerce plans to have one of the largest delegations present at the convention.

To Grade Borger Road For Paving

Plans are being made in the office of Engineer A. H. Doucette for the grading and drainage of the Borger road preparing it for highway work in the near future. The work will extend from the city limits west six miles to the Carson county line.

The road right-of-way will be 66 feet with a 26-foot crown, necessary culverts and drainage basins. Bids will be received after the plans have been completed and published.

Heflin's Charges to Be Given Hearing

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(P)—Senator Heflin of Alabama, relentless foe of Governor Alfred E. Smith, is to be called before the Senate campaign funds committee, probably next week for questioning on his charges of a huge slush fund on Smith's behalf.

ITALY BEATS RUMANIA

ROME, May 18.—(P)—Italy further strengthened her position in the Davis cup competition by eliminating Rumania today, the Italian team clinching the series by capturing the double this morning, 6-1, 6-4, 4-6, 3-6, 6-4 after yesterday's two victories in the singles.

NEW NURSING PLAN ADOPTED IN COMMUNITY

Mrs. Downs Is Public Welfare Association Worker

CHARITY UNDER BETTER METHOD

Red Cross Service to Be Discontinued June 1

Mrs. M. P. Downs, now head of the Red Cross chapter here, yesterday afternoon was elected community nurse by the Public Welfare association.

Mrs. Downs will assume her new duties June 1, when the nursing service of the Red Cross will be discontinued on account of lack of funds. The nursing services for the benefit of the schools and for local destitute people will be continued, and in addition Mrs. Downs will take care of charity work under the direction of a board of directors.

In view of the combination of nursing and charity work, the directors voted to adopt the name of "Public Welfare Association." To the board were added Mrs. R. C. Campbell, Methodist church; Mrs. E. A. Medkief, Baptist church; Mrs. Joe Smith, Presbyterian church; and Mrs. A. R. Sawyer, Catholic church. A director from the Christian church is yet to be named.

Pre-school examination of children will be stressed this summer, and the school board will be asked to provide space in one of the cottages for the community worker. Clothing and food obtained through donations will be distributed to the poor of the community. A telephone will be installed, and the nurse will furnish a car to make visits to the homes possible.

Arrangements will be made with local physicians, the undertaker, and the hospitals for the care of unfortunate, and as a result of this more efficient handling of charity, the city is expected to prohibit begging on the streets.

DUTCH DATING IS FAILURE AS GIRLS DEMUR

Co-Eds Do Not Like Idea of Paying Half of Expenses

CHICAGO, May 18.—(P)—Co-ed simply will not upset tradition, it appears, so "Dutch dating" has been doomed at Northwestern university.

The plan of letting co-eds pay their share of the expenses on dates with the men has been given two trials and found wanting. The first was at a dance during the all-University circus whose sponsors admitted it developed into a "flop."

The second trial was at another widely advertised dance but only 30 couples appeared.

So now the idea has been abandoned.

Big Gasser Proves Large Territory

The Empire Gas and Fuel company has completed a 20,000,000-foot gasser a mile south of Kingsmill and proved up a new vast territory. The well was closed in yesterday at a depth of 2,644 feet. The well is in section 179, block 3, on the Holmes lease.

The Empire Gas and Fuel company's No. 1 Dauer in section 236, block B-2 wildcat, is continuing to produce 57 barrels a day from 3,234 feet with 14,900,000 cubic feet of gas.

This test is eight miles from nearest production and has opened up many square miles of territory before thought dry. The well will probably be drilled deeper.

FIGHT POSTPONED AGAIN

NEW YORK, May 18.—(P)—Tex Rickard announced today that Sammy Mandell will defend his lightweight championship against Jimmy McLarin tomorrow night, weather permitting. The promoter was authorized by the boxing commission to again defer the bout on account of rain. Originally scheduled for last night, it was postponed until tonight when clouds gathered in the afternoon. The clouds were followed by a hard rain today.

Houston Family Is Attacked at Lufkin and Husband Killed

Mrs. John Laing and Daughter Not Expected to Live, and Young Son Is Severely Beaten

LUFKIN, May 18.—(AP)—John Laing, 38, Houston carpenter, was killed; his wife and 8-year old daughter were probably fatally injured, and his 5-year-old son was severely beaten here last night. Officers have been unable to uncover a motive for the attack.

Laing, with his wife and children, had come to Lufkin to work on a house that was being renovated. When they arrived here yesterday they went directly to the house, which was vacant, to spend the night.

This morning, carpenters, who also were working on the building, found Laing dead, his wife dying, his daughter unconscious and probably fatally wounded, and his son in a semi-conscious condition in their beds. All had been struck on the head with what undertakers described as a "blunt instrument, probably a hammer."

Officers were unable to offer a motive for the attack as they said the bodies of the dead and injured did not show any signs of robbery.

ROADS BETTER THOUGH ROUGH

Bridge Is Out West of Mobeetie on Creek

Another .11 of an inch of rain fell here last night to make the week's total more than six inches. No damage has been reported in this vicinity.

Roads leading into Pampa are passable with the exception of the Borge road, and the road from Shamrock where the bridge across Sweetwater creek has been washed out. All traffic in that direction is going by way of Pericho, where the roads are reported to be in fair condition.

The Amarillo road is passable but filled with holes and ruts. The bus are making the trip through in less than three hours. The Miami road is also in fair condition and open for motor traffic.

WICHITA FALLS, May 11.—(P)—Train, bus and telephone services were crippled here today as the result of more than two inches rain which fell in Northwest Texas and Southwest; Oklahoma Thursday night.

Over Two Inches
The rain started falling about 9 o'clock and continued at intervals for four hours. The precipitation here measured 2.38 inches.

The north approach of the Red river bridge at Burkburnett was washed out and bus drivers were forced to borrow a ladder from the Wichita Falls fire department before passengers could be carried across the gap and placed in a bus that brought them here.

The Red river bridge of the Wichita Valley railroad at Byers was reported to have washed out Thursday night and all traffic on the road halted. Wires were down Friday morning and dispatchers were unable to ascertain the amount of damage.

The Missouri, Kansas, Texas road bridge between Altus and Hollis, Oklahoma, was reported washed out. Prisco bridges between Altus and Snyder and Altus and Hollis were also reported out.

A 55,000-barrel storage tank of the Texas company, located near Burkburnett, was ignited by lightning about 3 o'clock Thursday night and was still burning early Friday. It was estimated that loss would amount to around $70,000.

Three Deaths Reported

DALLAS, May 17.—(P)—Reports of three deaths, a number of persons seriously injured, and property loss amounting to probably a million dollars filtered in slowly today from scattered sections of North Texas and Southern Oklahoma that have been swept by a general wind, rain and hail storm.

Bruce Coleman was killed when struck by lightning during a heavy rain and electrical storm at Post, Texas; J. C. Brinlee was fatally injured in the collapse of a dance hall near Drumwright, Okla.; and Carl Roach lost his life when his automobile skidded on wet pavement and overturned at Oilton, Okla.

Thackerville, Okla., with a population of about 300, was struck by a tor- (See ROADS, Pg. 8)

WOMAN MAY GET LIFE SENTENCE FOR LIQUOR VIOLATION

CHICAGO, May 18.—(P)—Home brew found in the house of Mrs. Mary Tokarz, Muskegon, Mich., May, like Fred Palm's pint of whiskey, write prohibition history in Michigan.

Mrs. Tokarz, 40 years old and a mother, was arrested here last night for Muskegon authorities. The brew had been found in her home following her daughters' wedding. At liberty under bond, she came to Chicago, where she has been working in a laundry.

Michigan's habitual criminal law provides that three previous felony convictions make a life sentence mandatory. Mrs. Tokarz, Chicago police were old, was found guilty on three former occasions, each case involving a liquor violation, a felony in Michigan. It was fear of the life penalty, she said, that prompted her to flee her bond and come here.

Mrs. Marion Howard and Mrs. O. J. Walters spent the week-end in Amarillo.

THE CONVENTION SPIRIT. It is already permeating the entire West Texas section, optimistically reports the headquarters staff of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

This spirit, it has been noted, is confined to no specific size, or location of town. For instance, there is Graham which will close up, "lock, stock, and barrel", and be there "with bells on."

Pampa, too, will be on the ground to emphasize her position in the oil fields and wheat country of the Panhandle. This city ought to send a big delegation. It may be doubted that such efforts are worth while.

The W. T. C. C. convention represents jubilant, progressive West Texas. It is a reunion of energetic municipalities and typifies the backing of a unified organization whose purpose is too well known to need definition.

The convention spirit, moreover—that of associating in large groups—is needed in a territory such as ours. Sparsely populated, the Panhandle has been cooperating all too little, but the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is busily banding the interest and support of West Texas communities and opening up opportunities that otherwise would lie untouched and unknown.

In the individual communities that same group spirit is needed. That is why every city ought to have an auditorium for public gatherings and indoor athletics. The enthusiasm of the group will put things over, but grouping is impossible during the winter season without proper facilities. The football field gets up a lot of town loyalty, but closer contact is possible around the basketball court.

Easy Wed, Easily Divorced. Companionate marriage, so old that many people mistook it for a new idea, has been condemned from every angle.

Perhaps the divorce laws of Reno, Paris, and Mexico will next be classified along with companionate marriage. Tommy Burns, the pugilist, says his wife is no longer companionable. She and the four children are said to be in London. Tommy went to Mexico "established residence", and filed suit for a divorce. Twenty-five days "residence" is required. But residence is merely on the books. Tommy does not have to stay in the country. His American lawyer will do the rest.

Adolfe Menjou had another knot tied at the Little American Church Around the Corner. If it chafes, he can go back to Paris and have it untied at courts which cater to Americans. Reno is closer home, but not quite so charming and publicity-getting.

Easy divorce, in the sense of prohibiting mockeries of marriages which exist only legally, is defensible. But abuse of the marriage vows by one party constitutes a legal process which should be settled as in any other civil suit—with both parties being heard. This running away to another country is fine for the libertine and professionally married and unmarried, but it is not the procedure of the upright American citizen. Mexico is too near, matrimonially speaking, and if there is any way for her trafficking in divorcees to be frowned upon Uncle Sam should bear down with it.

TWINKLES

Farmers may be in a bad way, but it is getting popular for even college men to hie away to the upturned sod.

The Yale boys sent Tunney a nice set of Shakespeare, but the reporters failed to mention whether there was a snicker in the crowd that mailed the parcel.

The man who put up a sign saying "No Fishing Allowed" may be a genuine angler, and again he may be illiterate and dangerous.

It rains on the just and the unjust, and judging from reports it pours about the same way.

But imagine the chagrin of Springfield, Mo., to whom a rain means expense. They are forbidden to let weeds grow more than 6 inches high on their property.

It won't be long until every big city will take prominent visitors for airplane rides over the scenery. We could use one to show off our field the same way.

Exchange Notes

The Texas Spur of Spur reports the work of topping the highways in Dickens county progressing rapidly. The gravel roads are being given an asphalt topping, and will soon be listed among the smoothest in this part of the state.

The Roscoe Times announces that contract for the paving of Highway No. 7 from Roscoe to the Scurry county line will be let at Austin on May 24. The base will be of caliche with an asphalt topping—the same specifications as apply to a part of the Bankhead project through Nolan county. It is going to be a lot easier to get to the Plains by way of Roscoe and Snyder who nthis stretch of road is filled in.

The Caprock Scenic Highway, a new loop from Snyder to the Plains, was opened with appropriate ceremonies a few days ago, says the Scurry County Times. Citizens of Scurry and Garza county held a joint picnic celebrating the occasion. The new road is said to be one of the prettiest drives in West Texas, and means a new route to the Plains. Fluvanna was official host of the picnic party, attended by more than 1,000.

Mark 12:13-17, 28-34.

13. And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, that they might catch him in talk.

14. And when they came, they say unto him, 'Teacher, we know that thou art true, and carest not for any one; for thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest the way of God: Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?'

15. Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, 'Why make ye trial of me? Bring me a denarius, that I may see it.'

16. And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Caesar's.

17. And Jesus said unto them, Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they marvelled greatly at him.

18. And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, ask him, 'What commandment is the first of all?'

19. Jesus answered, 'The first is Hear O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one.

20. And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength.
21. The second is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

22. And the scribe said unto him, 'Of a truth, Teacher, thou hast well said that he is one; and there is none other than he.'

23. And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbor as himself, is much more than all whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices.

24. And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, 'Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any questions.'

TIME—Tuesday, April 4, A. D. 30, in the week before Christ's crucifixion.
PLACE—The temple of Jerusalem.
GOLDEN TEXT—He taught them as one having authority.—Matt. 7:29.

Christ's triumphal entry into the city, of which we studied in last Sunday's lesson, aroused against him all the ruling classes among the Jews, and as he walked about in the temple, doubtless teaching by conversation, he was assailed by a group of chief priests, scribes, and elders, who asked him by what authority he did such things as entering Jerusalem amid shouts appropriate to a king or to the Messiah and driving the traders from the temple.

The reply given by Jesus was a masterpiece of argument. He asked them whether the act of John the Baptist in baptizing converts had back of it divine or human authority. They dared not say "divine" for they had rejected John; nor human, for they feared the multitude of John's devoted followers. Therefore they declared that they did not know. It was necessary, however, for the Jewish leaders to discredit Jesus with the people, for otherwise they would not dare against him; therefore they continued their questions, but put them forward thru different parties.

THE PHARISEES AND HERODIANS.

The Pharisees together with the Herodians approached Jesus first. Once before this combination had been formed against him (Mark 3:6). It reveals the bitter hatred for Jesus. The Pharisees and Herodians were the extreme wings in the politics of Judea. The Pharisees were the patriotic body, ever anxious and always planning for (See SUNDAY SCHOOL Pg. 6)

When A Girl Loves

© 1928 by NEA Service by RUTH DWY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED
NATHANIEL DANN, struggling artist, gives a party at his studio in honor of his niece, VIRGINIA, beautiful daughter of RICHARD BREWSTER, Wall Street financier.

NIEL's model, CHIRI, is jealous of VIRGINIA and tells him that he will spoil his career if he marries a wealthy girl who cannot appreciate his art.

VIRGINIA's father dies suddenly of heart failure and she is devastated with grief. The doctor advises that death was caused by worry and shock, and it is later revealed that BREWSTER had lost his fortune in speculation. NIEL urges an immediate marriage but his pleading is unheeded by FREDERICK DEAN, an old family friend, who goes to see VIRGINIA and comes and lives with him and his daughter CLARISSA, who is a girlhood chum of hers. He wins her over by saying that to marry NIEL, now that his poor would wreck his career, and be disgraced to her father's memory, NIEL is foolish, when she tells him her decision, for he suspects DEAN's motives.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER IV
VIRGINIA continued to stare at Nathaniel as though he had suddenly changed to an entirely different person right before her eyes. Jealousy was blazing in his eyes and turning his lips to stone. It frightened Virginia to see him so aroused.

"Mr. Dean only said what I already knew was right," she faltered.

"Then you are going to live with him," Nathaniel asked grimly.

"Don't be so hard, Niel."

"Hard! If I dared be as hard as I feel I'd find Dean and wring his confounded neck. What right has he to interfere between us?"

"He's my oldest friend and he promised father..." Virginia's words broke off in a tear-wet handkerchief.

Nathaniel was instantly ashamed of having hurt her.

"Forgive me," he begged; "I'm sorry I lost my temper, but you don't know how much I hate to think of you living in that man's home, seeing him every day, being where he can see you, even touch you."

"Niel, you're not jealous, are you?" The idea seemed to Virginia so unlikely that she smiled over it. "Surely that can't be what you were so wild about just now?"

"Call it jealousy if you like," Nathaniel said a trifle sulkily; "but I don't trust him, and when he gets near you I begin to creep all over."

"I can't think of anything more absurd than for you to be jealous of Uncle Frederick," Virginia replied; then more seriously, "but, of course, you aren't. I think you're blaming him for influencing me more than he did, Niel. That isn't fair. It's very kind of him and ClariSSa to want me with them at this time."

"I might think so if I didn't believe that it will make Uncle Frederick happier than it will you."

"I am not expecting to be happy, Niel," she reminded him quietly, and Nathaniel did not have the heart to offer further objections to the plan.

"When are you going there?" he asked dejectedly.

"I'd like to go at once. There are too many memories in these rooms, Niel."

"Not today."

"No, tomorrow, perhaps."

"Then would you mind if I stay and have dinner with you? If you aren't too tired."

It was in Nathaniel's mind that they would have little time alone together once she had entered the Dean menage.

"I'd like you to, Niel dear, but you've been so devoted all through everything—you must be dreadfully weary. Are you sure you wouldn't rather go home?"

Nathaniel was sure.

They were not to have an uninterrupted evening, however. All day Virginia had been burning away condoling friends, but before the dinner hour ClariSSa arrived and insisted upon staying.

"Dad tells me you've promised to berth at our place until the clouds blow over," she chirped to Virginia, palpably seeking to create an air of cheerfulness, however false. Grief was not sacred to ClariSSa.

Nathaniel frowned as he saw Virginia wince.

"Are you sure you won't mind?" she returned doubtfully.

"Why should I?" ClariSSa's tone indicated as plain as day that no other person's troubles could interfere with her life.

Nathaniel thought she might at least have made some effort to assure Virginia of a welcome.

"Of course you will have to put up with a lot of noise," ClariSSa went on unfeelingly; "Russell and I are about to shout our love from the housetops."

Virginia looked at her inquiringly. Nathaniel continued to scowl.

"I wanted to drop down to the courthouse and get it over with quickly, but Russell, you know, is a Wainwright through-and-through. Wants the whole thing, engagement and wedding, done up with candle and bell and handed to the reading public with all the thrills that are printable."

"Good for him," Nathaniel contributed with feeling.

ClariSSa surveyed him coolly. "I understood you were an artist—or something," she said insolently. "Surprised to hear anyone of that sort admitting a taste for conventionality."

"I admire his sticking to his guns," Nathaniel retorted.

ClariSSa looked from him to Virginia and smiled knowingly. She said nothing. She had been exposed to politeness during her bringing up, and there were times when the contact bore fruit.

"Oh, naturally you would agree with him, being a male yourself," she laughed, and began to talk of something else.

Nathaniel was utterly weary of her before the evening was over but she ignored his several hints that he would like to be alone with Virginia. To pay him off for taking sides with her fiance, he decided. A petty spirit. It troubled him to think of Virginia at the mercy of her shallowness and his walk home was filled with plans for getting Virginia into a home that he would make for her.

When he opened the door of his studio he saw that his reading light was turned on. A cup and saucer stood beside a smoky coffee pot on the teakwood table.

He looked around and saw no one. It occurred to him that one of his friends who knew where he kept his door key had been in, entertained himself with coffee and gone out, leaving the light burning.

Nathaniel had eaten practically nothing at dinner, unable to enjoy food, while Virginia left her's untouched. The sight of the coffee pot stirred an appetite for a cup of the stimulating beverage. He carried the pot to the cubby-hole that the real estate agent called a kitchen, put fresh water to boil and went into his bedroom for his lounging robe.

He snapped on the light, dug his robe from the closet and turned around to remove his coat. Then, for the first time, he saw that his visitor had not departed.

"I might have known it was you," he scolded, shaking the sleeping girl by the shoulder. She put up a feeble hand, brushed futilely at his fingers, turned her head on the pillow and relaxed into slumber.

Nathaniel noticed that the bed was made, the extra blanket folded neatly at the foot. He glanced back at Chiri. There was a smudge on her unrouged cheek—now and then she eschewed makeup completely just to show her friends that she was human, she said—and on the arm that she had thrown up over her dark, hit and miss bob.

Nathaniel felt a moment of softness for her. "Poor little donkey," he murmured. He stood and looked at her sleeping for a while, then turned, reached for the blanket and threw it over her feet. The studio was a bit chilly as the weather had turned unexpectedly cold for late Spring.

Next Fight for Tunney Will Be Thursday, July 26

NEW YORK, May 18.—(P)—The official pronouncement may not be forthcoming until Tex Rickard has a few other details out of the way but it can be put down now that the big heavyweight shot of the year, involving the well known scholar and the honest blamsmith from New Zealand, will take place on schedule and on the night of Thursday, July, 26, at the Yankee Stadium.

Ever since the fight between Gene Tunney and Tom Heeney was signed and sealed and delivered there has been an air of skepticism around it. This atmosphere has come thicker since the knock out of Jack Delaney by Jack Sharkey and the occasional reports that Jack Dempsey was about to reconsider his decision to retire.

Rickard, the boys point out, has been up against probably the most unusual situation of his heavyweight promoting career with a Tunney-Heeney title scrap on his hands despite the fact that a Sharkey-Tunney fight probably would be a much bigger drawing card and a return Dempsey-Tunney tilt the biggest shot of all.

But there will be no change in the program, nor is there likely to be a second heavyweight fight in September, featuring a Dempsey come-back or a bout between Sharkey and the winner of the Tunney-Heeney contest. The one big-shot-a-year program of Rickards till holds and it will take some unusual development to change it.

Tilden Needs Five Sets to Dispose of Steady Wray Brown

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—(P)—William T. Tilden, Philadelphia, had to extend himself for five sets to defeat Wray Brown, St. Louis player in the Davis Cup tennis trials here yesterday.

The scores were 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

George Lott, Chicago, won from Wilmer Allison, Fort Worth, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1, 9-7. John Hennessey, Indianapolis, won by default from Arnold Jones, Providence, R. I., when Jones sprained his ankle.

Brown was matched against Allison today for the opener. Lott faced Hennessey and Wilbur F. Coen, Kansas City, was slated to meet Tilden for the final fray this afternoon.

Bunion Derby to End May 26 at New York City

BRADFORD, Pa., May 18.—(P)—C. C. Pyle's bunions paved the 53-mile trip to Wellsville, N. Y., today with equanimity born of the fact that the trek brings them that much closer to the final goal, New York. The race will end at Marison Square Garden, Saturday, May 26.

Holding a lead of 20 hours, eight minutes and 29 seconds over his nearest opponent, Andrew Payne of Claremore, Oklahoma, was conceded better than an even chance to win first prize money of $25,000.

A. Richman, who led thru the 442 miles from Jamestown, N. Y., yesterday, said he would conserve his strength for a final dash into New York, his home city.

McLarnin Benefits From Delays to Lightweight Tilt

NEW YORK, May 28.—(P)—Weather permitting Jimmy McLarnin, Pacific Coast slugger, will get his delayed "shot" at Sammy Mandell's lightweight title at the Polo Grounds tonight.

For the second time in a year, Tex Rickard's proverbial luck with the elements failed him and he was forced to postpone the 15-round titular battle until tonight. Rain forced to call off a bout between Jimmy Maloney and Jack Sharkey a year ago.

The promoter decided to call off the lightweight struggle yesterday afternoon when the skies held more than a hint of rain.

McLarnin was a half pound under the class limit but the titleholder was forced to get through a brisk workout at the offices of the New York State Commission in order to get in under the wire. Mandell was a quarter pound over 135 pounds when he first stepped on the scales but managed just to make the grade after some vigorous calisthenics.

If either fighter derived any benefit from the 24-hour delay in answering the opening bell, boxing experts believed it would be McLarnin. If the weather permits the bout to be held tonight, the principals will not be required to weigh in again. This means that McLarnin probably will enter the ring weighing close to 140 pounds.

Rickard's hope that 60,000 persons would pay to see New York's first lightweight championship battle in five years would not have been realized had he staged the battle last night. The clouds, carrying their threat of a general downpour, held the customers off and at the time of the postponement the advance sale was no better than $125,000.

Horned Frog Net Men Win Three of Five Contests

PORT WORTH, May 18.—(P)—The Texas Christian University tennis team will soon leave for a three-day trip to Houston, where the annual Southwest Conference tennis meet will be held this year.

The Horned Frog netters have a fairly successful season, winning three out of their five meets. The Denton Eagles, Texas Tech and A. and M. all fell before the purple recquetters, but the frogs were forced to bow to the Mustangs and Rice Owls.

As usual, the Texas netters are the favorites at the conference meet, and national championship looms. How with Berkeley Bell leading them, another ever, S. M. U. and Rice will be strong competition for the powerful Longhorn squad.

It is the first year that Rice has been host to the conference netters, according to Appel, Rice captain, the new Owl courts will be in perfect condition for the tourney.

The Frog team will be chosen from five men. Thaler, William Ewell, Colorado; J. D. Tomlinson, Hillsboro; W. P. Atkinson, Carthage; Weir McDiarmid and George Rozelle, both of Fort Worth.

Experts Fail to Account for Ruth's Home-Run Gait

NEW YORK, May 18.—(P)—The gentlemen who refused to believe that man could fly or that radio would work or that a hole could be halved in one are in the same position as those trying to account for Babe Ruth's home run hitting spree.

It didn't seem possible that the Babe could break his old record of 59 homers for a single season. But he did it last year, that, the boys concluded, must be close to the limit, but this spring the Babe is off at a faster clip than ever.

Baseball and physical laws apparently do not apply to Ruth. At a time when most players are on the downgrade, the Yankee star is hitting harder than ever, with a dozen homers already under his belt. Just to figure it from another angle, he has collected 18 per cent of the record crop he harvested last year with only 18 per cent of the season completed.

The consensus now is that the shrewd owner of the Yankees, Col. Jacob Ruppert, made no mistake a year ago when he signed Ruth to a three-year contract at $70,000 per season. The Babe probably could have commanded at least $100,000 this spring if he had negotiated a one-year contract in 1927.

Robert Morris, an employe of the Kansas and Texas Pipeline company here, who has been seriously ill with blood poison, left for Wichita Falls yesterday.

Kopecy Kicks Way to Victory Over Mystery Man

To an unknown, announced from the ring as the Mystery man, goes the honor of throwing the rough-and-tumble wrestling artist, Joe Kopecy. It took the Mystery man 20 minutes to throw the Bohemian with a body slam after headlocks last night at the Plamor auditorium. Kopecy took the last two falls after he had fouled the outsider by jumping into his stomach off the ropes.

Following the battle, the man who threw Kopecy told The News that he was Charlie Neff of Denver Colorado. He is one of the best wrestlers in that part of the country and should have won from the Bohemian.

The preliminary bout was between Bull Henry (or Karhensaari) and Elmer Guthrie, who replaced Leo Chase. These two heavyweights mauled one another, pulled ears, went out of the ring and stood and berated one another for fifteen minutes. Henry got excited and chased Sam Fenberg, referee extraordinary, around the ring, but the fast stepping jeweler evaded him until Guthrie entered the race and grab the big fellow.

A body slam, preceded by headlocks, proved the downfall of the great Kopecy, who had started roughing things from the opening of hostilities. Neff specialized in headlocks and scissors that had Kopecy tied up the majority of the time and the end came after 20 minutes of hard wrestling.

Kopecy came back strong and determined to either win or lose in a hurry. Slugging commenced at the beginning and everything else known in rough and tumble wrestling, for several minutes, when Neff had the Bohemian groggy from head locks. As Neff came in to finish the match Kopecy left the ropes and pushed his feet in Neff's stomach. The Mystery Man went down and then, Kopecy style the Bohemian jumped on him like a wildcat.

Neff came back but was unable to do anything and Kopecy took the last fall in two minutes with a headlock. Fighting clean, Neff is a better man than Kopecy, but fighting the Bohemian's style is no equal.

Preceding the main wrestling events, a battle royal was staged with a thrilling finish. The local boys also wrestled ten minutes without a fall and the two midgets, Larry and Jerry McTigue, entertained with a match, the youngster winning the fall. The two kids are clever and experienced, yet are only four and six years old.

Cats Jump From Fourth to First in Single Game

(By The Associated Press.)
To the Fort Worth Panthers goes the record of the biggest jump in one day in the percentage column of the Texas league this year. As a result of their 5 to 1 victory over Houston Thursday while Wichita Falls and San Antonio sustained reverses, the Cats moved from fourth to first place and ousted the Spudders from leadership.

The victory was Fort Worth's second straight over Houston and was marked by the good pitching of Griffin, who allowed four hits, and Carleton, former Panther bat boy, who yielded but three safeties, all of which were registered by Andy Harrington.

Good pitching also featured the Wichita Falls-Beaumont contest which he later won, 4 to 3, as Hubbell and Evengros tangled in a great hurling duel. Hubbell fanned eight of the Dixie champions and was in danger only in the sixth when the Spudders scored three runs. After the first and third innings, when the Exporters got all their runs, Evengros had the Beaumont players guessing.

After three straight defeats, the Dallas Steers assumed winning ways and rounded the San Antonio Bears, 6 to 5, although out hit, 11 to 14.

The scheduled game at Waco between the Cubs and Shreveport Sports was postponed on account of the Texas University-Baylor university tilt for Southwest Conference honors.

Brunk's Comedians to Arrive Monday

Brunk's comedians, under the personal management of Fred Brunk, will be here Monday to open a week's engagement under the auspices of the department and the American Legion. The large new tent of the play will be set on the lot always used for their shows across from the Schafel hotel on West Foster avenue. This is the 12th appearance of the Brunk players in Pampa and this year's show is larger and better. The tent will seat more than 2,000 persons and a new set of scenery has been purchased. Entirely new plays will be presented during the week here with the exception of request performances.

SERMON SUBJECT SELECTED

The American Citizen will be the subject of the Rev. W. L. Evans' sermon Sunday night at the Presbyterian church. Services will commence at 8 o'clock. Musical numbers will be rendered by Mrs. Robert Chafin and reading "No Sect in Heaven" will be given by Mrs. Carson Loftus.

Sunday School Lesson

The overture of the Roman power, the Herodians supported the Roman power and got their name because of their efforts to place upon the throne David a descendant of Herod. These Herod political enemies joined hands in order that they might catch Jesus in a trap. The spokesman of the Herodians opened the interview with subtlety. "We know that thou art the Christ, the Son of God," said Matthew adds, "and teachest the people of God in truth."

CAESAR THE ROMAN EMPEROR

"Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?" "Caesar" was the title of the Roman Emperor, "Kaiser" and "Czar" being modern forms of the word. Augustus Caesar, the first Roman Emperor, ruled at the time of Christ's birth; the Caesar at this time is Tiberius, the second Emperor, the adopted son of Augustus. "Tribute" here is an equivalent to "taxes." TO GIVE TRIBUTE, OR NOT? v. 14-15 "Shall we give, or shall we not give?" The repeated question indicates their eagerness, and perhaps also that the query was put forward separately by the Pharisees and Herodians, the former, as the popular party, being opposed to the payment, and the latter as the court party, favoring it. If Christ sided with the Herodians and declared in favor of paying the tax, he would be proclaimed as disloyal to the cause of the common people and the nation, a traitor and no patriot. If he sided with the Pharisees and asserted that the tax should not be paid, he would at once be charged before Pilate, the Roman governor, as guilty of sedition.

THE REPLY, v. 17.

"And Jesus said unto them, Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." Christ meant that, in return for the form of taxes, and that such payment, it was right to make payment in the worldly blessings conferred by Rome, allegiance to God in return for the heavenly blessings which God conferred. "It is not the whole life to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," ones must also render unto God the things that are God's." The enemies of Jesus suggested a conflict of duties; he showed that there was perfect harmony. The true allegiance can be taken as a substitute for loyalty to him.

THE FIRST COMMANDMENT v. 20-26

"Jesus answered, The first is, Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one." "It is a very weighty saying. First, it asserts that Jehovah, the Covenant God of Israel, is deity absolute; the self-existent, eternal, unchangeable, spiritual, omnipresent, omniscient, omnipotent, holy, just, true, gracious, perfect, infinite God. Secondly, it asserts that this infinite Jehovah is absolutely one, being himself an infinite unity, all his infinite perfections being in infinite equilibrium. God's very blessedness consists in this infinite equipoise of himself. Thirdly, it asserts that there is only one true God—namely, Jehovah, Covenant God of Israel. This sublime annunciation marks a colossal onward stride in the history of religion; for monotheism, or the doctrine that there is but one God, is the basal stone of Christian worship." "And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." "Heart" signifies the emotions and affections, "soul" the will and the personality, "mind" is the intellect, and "strength" the bodily powers. In short, man's whole being is to be employed in loving service of his heavenly Father. No corner of his nature is to be reserved for any other use. THE SECOND COMMANDMENT, v. 31 "The second is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Christ quotes from Lev. 19:18. His second commandment is like unto the first (Matt 23:89) of a piece with it, its natural corollary, since no one can love God with all his being without loving God's children.

Our Lord's first commandment corresponds to the first table of the Decalogue, our duties towards God, duties towards men. Our neighbor, as Christ made clear in his parable of the good samaritan, is not merely the person living near us, but includes any one, near or far, who may need us. THE SCRIBE—"ALMOST A CHRISTIAN," v. 34. "And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly he said unto him,

"Thou art not far from the kingdom of God." The scribe was almost a Christian, but not quite. He was near the bridegroom's house like the virgins in the parable, but he might be shut out. "Almost—but lost." SPECIAL LESSON Every Christian is a citizen of two countries. Paul says, "Our citizenship is in Heaven" (Phil. 3:20). At the same time the Christian is a citizen on earth, and so Paul says in another place (Rom. 13:1), "Let every soul be subject to higher powers." A man therefore has two sets of duties, one to his country, one to his God. Indeed, he can be the right kind of citizen of heaven, render to God the things that are God's, only as he is the right kind of citizen in his own land, for "the powers that be are ordained of God," and Jesus distinctly commands that we render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's.

A MIGHTY CLOUDBURST!

Sheets of water flooded the country over! Noah with his Ark had weathered the same storm thousands of years before---

There was blinding rain pouring from the heavy sky. Everything was wet and wretched. "How long, oh, how long would it last? This was the low-sobbed cry of those who looked for the blue of the sky and saw only the dark and scumby clouds over head. "Give us a prophet, send us a sign" was the prayerful murmur of all as the rain descended and the storm went on and on in its fury. Helpless and suppliant we all are in a desperate situation like this. But give us dry shoes, sunshine and green trees and we think not of the time when Heavens for us looked bleak and forbidding. Rain and storm come not always in down pouring rain.

Once in Pampa and again for many times there was felt the suffocating atmosphere of high prices as the storm of HIGH PRICE STORES sucked in the money for big profits. In the clutch of the storm, in the fierce driving for more and larger profits the people of Pampa called for succor, asked that a way be found for lower prices in food products. Then came sunshine, hope and a clear day for those who had wished for lower prices for clean merchandise. Since we came, lower prices have been the every-day style in Pampa.

Musical Comedy Very Enjoyable

Much enjoyment was furnished last night by the presentation of "Marrying Marion," a musical comedy, at the Crescent theatre for the benefit of the Methodist church.
The setting was in a girls' seminary. Mrs. A. B. Kirby was a charming student, admired by Dick Hughes a life guard who tried to obtain a position as janitor at the school but was mistaken for a botany professor and forced to act the part for a day. F. C. Conwell as the real botany professor, who was mistaken for the janitor and rushed to the mops by the rough mannered school head, was well cast and played his part well. Equally well suited were P. M. Bailey for the seminary head and Lewis Hardin as the supposed butler. Mrs. J. D. Sackett made a good teacher and Mrs. H. G. Twiford supported Mr. Bailey well as the motherly wife of the president Maricler Jewell was charming as the roommate of Mrs. Kirby.
The strained relations in the seminary were eased happily when, after nearly had discovered the deception, the botany-professor-by-necessity caught the butler stealing the silver and became a hero.
Themes of the comedy were, caught up by the chorus in song at frequent intervals. The chorus Don Zimmerman, Russell Kennedy, Elmer Hardin, Angela Ballew, Nellie Hardin, Thelma Qualls, Kate Archer, Louise Showers, and Martha Bradford.
Specialties by members of the cast were presented by Lewis Hardin, Martha Bradford, Nellie Hardin, and Mrs. Kirby, as solos, and there were several duets. Miss Lila Hutchins delighted the audience with her whistling solos. Joe Strother was at the piano.

RUNNING CONCRETE NOW

The second last run of concrete on the disposal plant proper was completed last night at 8 o'clock. Owing to inclement weather the work has been delayed, but now only one run of concrete is needed to finish that part of the work.
After the last run has been made, the fittings will have to be placed including pipes, valves, screens cyphons and other necessary material.

G. H. Parish Is Out for Constable

G. H. Parish, at present employed as a city officer, is seeking the office of constable of precinct 2, subject to the Democratic primary July 28. Mr. Parish has been a resident of Pampa and vicinity for the last seven years. He has been a city officer since February.
His experience as an officer includes four years as deputy sheriff and seven years, police officer. He was four years with the Joyce Land and Cattle company and also served with the Southwestern Public Service company.

ROADS---

nado last night and meagre report were that nearly every house there was blown from foundations. A Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs, who live near Thackerville were seriously injured when their home was demolished, many persons were less seriously hurt, but loss of life was prevented by recourse to storm cellars.
An aviator, Ray Sifflet, who flew over the storm area of southern Oklahoma, reported that several families were marooned on a small island in the Salt Fork branch of the Red river which at places was five miles wide. Plans were laid to send food to them by airplane because of the swift current of the stream which made succor by boats dangerous.

GAINESVILLE, May 18.—(P)—One woman is dead, two persons were injured and much property damage was done by a tornado which swept the Walnut Bend and Rock Creek communities, 16 and 7 miles, respectively, northeast of here, last night. Due to interrupted telephone service and bad roads, only meagre reports had been obtained.
Mrs. Ester Mondigo, 19, died of injuries received when the twister wrecked her home in the Walnut Bend community. Her husband and week-old baby were seriously hurt.

Mrs. Florence O. Wilson returned to Claude yesterday after a visit with her daughter Mrs. J. M. Dodson.
