

Fighting Mars Easter Sunday

Christians celebrated Easter across the world Sunday with hope for man's salvation, but soldiers still fought each other for inches of territory and unforgiving enemies settled old political scores.

Julian, instead of resurrection as church bells rang.

Among the world's millions attending Easter sunrise services were between 1,500 and 2,000 Americans worshipping by an 111-foot 'Cross of Peace' on top of Bald Knob mountain in the southern Illinois Ozarks.

As pilgrims marched in Jerusalem to the traditional site of Jesus' tomb, Israeli and Syrian soldiers battled hand-to-hand on Mt. Hermon in the heaviest outbreak of fighting on the Golan Heights since last October's Middle East war.

President Nixon observed Easter in Key Biscayne, Fla., by attending services at Community Church. A friendly youngster gave him a purple egg inscribed with the words "Happy Easter."

In Greece, the country's military rulers toured army camps and cracked eggs with soldiers and visitors, eating roasted lamb and toasting with wine.

Flares and firecrackers in Athens, although prohibited by martial law, lit the skies to welcome the day of the resurrection.

Dear Abby

Teacher lists benefits of controversial books

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: As a teacher of 11th grade English, may I respond to the irate parent who objected to the "trashy" books his child was required to read in school? That letter could have been directed at me personally because I have recommended such widely accepted literary classics as "The Grapes of Wrath," "Brave New World," and the ever-controversial "Catcher In The Rye."

First of all, I respect the wishes of any parent who does not want his child to read certain books, and if the parent has the courage to let me know directly (and not through an anonymous phone call to my principal), I will gladly suggest some alternatives.

Second, I, like you, Abby, am also "turned off" by certain vulgar four-letter words, mainly because of my own straight-laced upbringing. However, I suggest that no one can judge a book by selecting isolated passages from it. For instance, both "Grapes of Wrath" and "Catcher In The Rye" deal with the importance of feeling a sense of concern and responsibility for one's fellowman.

I realize that this letter is probably much too long for your column, but I feel so strongly about the value of presenting modern, readable and relevant books to our teenagers that I wish to air my views. As a teen-ager I never was nearly as excited about books as I am today, and I attribute my lack of enthusiasm to the dull, "safe," un-controversial books which were the typical fare for high school English classes back in the '30s.

I want more than anything else to create in my students a genuine desire to read, and that can be accomplished only by exposing them to thought-provoking books that speak directly to them in modern language which, unfortunately, often includes a few words which happen to be offensive to me.

A TEACHER (I HOPE)

DEAR TEACHER: Well put. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: What do you say to a mother-in-law who insists on naming our unborn SON? (If it's a daughter—no problem.)

Doesn't she know that the baby's name should be chosen by the baby's mother and father?

This is our first child and we are hoping for a boy, but this situation is making me secretly want a girl! Hurry your answer. I hope it gets here before the baby does.

MOM-IN-WAITING

DEAR MOM: No one can name your baby without your consent. When the baby arrives, don't "say" anything, do your own naming, and don't apologize.

DEAR ABBY: Why should the parents of the bride pay for the wedding? I know the book of etiquette says they should—but that's not a good enough reason.

My father made it clear to his daughters that he would double mortgage his home to give us all college educations, but as for weddings—he'd buy us a ladder. I didn't take the college education, and when it came time for me to marry, my fiance and I decided to have a big wedding at our own expense.

Working together for a common goal taught us about the responsibilities we were going to have to face as husband and wife. After a year of scrimping and saving, we had a beautiful formal wedding with all the trimmings. We were so proud of ourselves!

Six years later, we are in our own home, with baby number two on the way. Everything we have we both worked for together, and we don't have to thank anyone but God for it. I want to say a big thank you to my father for making that decision and sticking to it. That was the best gift he ever gave me.

HAPPY IN N. J.

DEAR HAPPY: Three cheers for Dad. And hooray for you and your husband. Young lovers, take note!

KARPIN ON BRIDGE By FRED KARPIN

If one were to look at all four hands in the diagram, he would perceive that it is impossible for declarer to fulfill his contract by legitimate means: he must lose two trump tricks. But, in the actual play, he did make his contract, and it is difficult to censure the defenders for having permitted him to have done so.

Both sides vulnerable. South deals. Both sides vulnerable. NORTH ♠ K 9 7 ♥ Q 9 2 ♦ Q 8 3 ♣ K Q J 9 WEST ♠ A 10 5 ♥ 8 3 ♦ J 10 7 2 ♣ 10 6 4 3 EAST ♠ J 3 ♥ 7 5 4 ♦ K 9 6 5 ♣ 8 7 5 SOUTH ♠ Q 8 6 4 2 ♥ A K J 10 6 ♦ A ♣ A 2

The bidding: South West North East 1 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass 3 ♥ Pass 4 ♣ Pass 6 ♣ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♠. North's rebid of four spades, on his aceless hand, is an overbid. He should have contented himself with a preference bid of three spades. South's leap to six spades cannot be criticized, for he assumed that North had good quality spades. In addition, South figured to have a solid heart suit, since North's original leap to two notrump showed a heart stopper. And with South's holding in this suit, North just had to have the queen of hearts.

As was stated, declarer must lose two trump tricks if the opponents defend properly. If South leads a low trump out of his hand, West follows with the five-spot as dummy's king wins. West's doubleton A-10 behind South's queen will then eventually win two tricks. Or, if South gets to dummy and leads the seven of spades originally, his queen will be captured by West's ace. With the jack and guarded ten still remaining in the defenders' hands, declarer must lose another trick in this suit. But our actual declarer, through the creation of a mirage, brought home his contract. On West's opening lead of the diamond jack, he

He was accompanied by his wife, Paula. Ruffin is a former vice president of Gulf and Western Corporation, and has been preparing for eight years to run as a candidate for Congress. He has traveled over 82,000 miles in the year campaigning.

His platform is based on issues and needs of the District. His speech was on a question and answer basis. Some of the issues discussed were Senior Citizens, Education, Crime Prevention, Equality, Equal Opportunity for All, Helping Our Own People in the United States, and Social Security.

Ruffin concluded that he was not preparing additional taxes to implement new bills which he plan to introduce in Congress. He proposes to put national priorities in proper perspective. He said, "We must turn our attention to the American people before we can be the big brother to the world."

The chapter meeting was held in the Quivira Room at Coronado Inn Tuesday, April 9 and was called to order by the president, Mrs. Homer McNeil. The president announced that May is scholarship month and a recipient was presented to the group for approval by Mrs. Eugene Franklin, Educational

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Strive towards individual perfection today; let others do likewise. A good job of listening can save endless rounds of discussion, misunderstanding later. AT TEXAS RELAYS

Baylor, Texas Southern Tie In Mile-Relay Race Saturday

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Baylor's Tim Son and Texas Southern's Ron Jenkins lunged into the tape in identical strides Saturday and Texas Relays officials declared a tie in a four-team footrace that shattered a six-year-old meet record.

Both teams clocked identical 3:06.64 finishes. Officials first awarded the victory to Baylor, but later ruled Son and Jenkins finished neck-and-neck.

The old record of 3:07.00 was set by Texas in 1968. Next were Texas and Florida, both with 3:06.90 clockings. Texas officially placed third.

World record holder Al Feuerbach of the Pacific Coast Track Club tossed the shot put 70-feet, 1 1/4-inches in the Open Division to claim another meet record.

Feuerbach's teammate, George Woods, scratched on three attempts.

Mike Slack, winner of the 1,500-meter run at the United States-Soviet Union indoor meet earlier this year, ran the first sub-four minute mile in the history of Memorial Stadium earlier Saturday.

Slack's 3:59.7 surpassed the 4:00.5 record set in 1955 by Kansas' Wes Santee. Southern California's Dean Owens broke meet and stadium high jump marks in the open division, clearing 7-feet, 2-inches on his first try.

The photo-finish mile relay brought the 10,500 spectators at the two-day track and field carnival to their feet. It was Baylor's 10th consecutive victory this season and set a new school record for the Wacoans.

Texas' Don Sturgal burst from third place to take the lead away from Son in the backstretch of the anchor lap, but wearied in the homestretch as Son and Jenkins strained for the tape.

Florida's Beauford Brown finished fourth, hair behind Sturgal.

Slack's record in the overshadowed Brigham Young's fine 4:00.5 clocking, which was also under the old meet record.

Yankees, Indians Split Doubleheader Sunday

United Press International — Who says Cleveland isn't a nice place to visit?

So what if it doesn't have the glamor of New York, the sophistication of San Francisco or the charm of New Orleans. It has something better than all three if you happen to be a major league ballplayer.

It's got a "Little League" fence at Municipal Stadium. At the beginning of last season the Indians' officials reduced the distance to the fence in the power alleys at the old ballpark by 20 feet, cutting the measurements from 385 feet to 365 feet, in an effort to increase home run production.

The results were staggering. There were 192 home runs hit at Municipal Stadium last year, more than in any major league park except Atlanta. That marked an increase of 54 homers from the previous season when the fence was in its old position. Thus, what was once one of the toughest parks in the American League in which to hit home runs became the easiest.

York's Graig Nettles, who belted two homers in each game and finished the day with seven runs batted in, Nettles, an ex-Indian, has hit six homers this season.

New York's Bobby Murcer, who did not hit a home run all of spring training, joined in the derby with a homer in each game and Thurman Munson, Ron Blomberg and Mike Hegan all hit homers in the first game for the Yankees.

Charlie Spikes also had a first game homer for Cleveland.

Home runs also played prominent roles in the other AL games as Boston nipped Detroit, 7-5; California downed Chicago, 6-3; Minnesota blanked Kansas City, 8-0, and Texas routed Oakland, 10-2, in the nightcap of a doubleheader after losing the opener, 4-2. Baltimore at Milwaukee was rained out.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — The odds-makers think they know everything.

Actually they do, and that's why it's so rare that they get fooled.

Gary Player fooled them a little here by winning his second Masters' golf championship Sunday and apart from that $35,000 first-place money he's going back home with. Player also has the finest possible bonus of all—pure unadulterated satisfaction.

Before the Masters began last Thursday, the name everybody here was throwing around was Jack Nicklaus.

Why not? He's a four-time winner here and has taken over the lease on the place from Arnold Palmer.

Ledbrooke's, the London bookmakers, liked Jack Nicklaus, too.

They made him the 3-1 favorite.

Johnny Miller was pegged at 4-1 right behind Nicklaus, and in back of him were Tom Weiskopf and Ben Crenshaw, both 12-1 shots.

Gary Player? Oh him! Was 20-1 favorite.

Yeah, he was in this thing also, but he wasn't figured any better than 20-1.

They didn't reckon on Gary Player too much in this one.

Somebody up there in Ledbrooke's might've overlooked one seemingly unimportant item though.

Gary Player had five of his six children with him, Jennifer, 15, Mark 13, Wayne 12, Michele 10, and Theresa, 9. They'd never been to the Masters' before.

It should've occurred to the odds-makers that any man who turned over his entire purse to charity, as Gary Player did, when he won the U.S. Open in 1965, might be moved similarly to win a big one especially so his kids could see him do it.

If the idea didn't occur to the odds-makers, it certainly occurred to Gary Player.

"Are you going to win, daddy?" one of his kids asked him after he charged into a second-place tie with Jim Colbert, only a stroke behind Dave Stockton, the leader, in Saturday's round.

"I'm sure going to try," Player replied.

Gary Player trying is the same as Secretariat running—very hard to beat.

"Just Top Much."

Player took the lead from Stockton on the ninth hole Sunday playing him head-and-head and never gave it back.

"He was just too much," Stockton said. "I had an eagle putt on the 13th that stopped four inches short, which still gave me a birdie, but he made a 12-footer for a birdie on his own right on top of me. What can you possibly do about something like that?"

He's proud of his ability, his accomplishments and the fact that as a little man, he really is so much better than so many other big men.

"I keep reading in the papers I'm 5-9 and 160," he said, swimming in the Masters' traditional green jacket which looked as if it belonged to Jack Nicklaus.

"I'm 5-6 and 150."

Gary Player also is proud of his kids.

Naturally, he wants them to be proud of their father as well, and what better opportunity for them to manifest their feelings than for them to be right there when he wins a big one.

The Masters winner had an overall unspectacular 70 in Sunday's final round. But his 10-under total of 278 was his best ever at the Augusta National.

It was good enough to beat third-round leader Dave Stockton and Tom Weiskopf who finished at 280 and good enough to beat pre-tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus, first-round leader Jim Colbert and Hale Irwin, all at 281.

"I've won seven major championships, but I played far superior (from tee to green) in this tournament than in any of the others," Player said. "However, I putted like a dub and that was a little frustrating."

Player, 37, also has won two PGAs, two British Open and one U.S. Open titles. Sunday's victory tied him with Harry Vardon, the pre-World War I British star, for most major victories by a foreign golfer.

The $35,000 he earned Sunday made him the first foreigner to win more than $1 million in U.S. golf play.

That statistic did not impress Player.

"I passed $1 million in golf earnings three years ago," he said, referring to the additional money he has earned in tournaments elsewhere. "They're not counting that, but, friends, it spends just the same."

Arnold Palmer had a 67 Sunday, his best Masters round in 12 years, and tied at 284 with Bruce Cramton, Jerry Heard and Dave Hill. And Sam Snead, the almost 62-year-old wonder, was par or better all four days and had a 286.

Priests in ancient Egypt had their entire bodies shaved every third day.

Rice Plays Crosstown Rival Houston In Conference Tilts

United Press International — The Rice Owls are the busiest baseball team in the Southwest Conference this week.

The Owls open conference play earlier than usual today with a game against crosstown rival Houston followed by a doubleheader Tuesday.

Then they go to College Station at week's end with an extremely important three-game series with Texas A&M.

The Aggies were once leading the league and looked almost invincible as the Texas Longhorns, the preseason favorite, dropped games everyone thought they should win handily.

But then the Aggies came up with a glaring deficiency in pitching depth and it has proved their undoing. A&M (14-4) dropped two games of a three-game series against Texas Tech this past weekend to fall one full game behind the Longhorns (15-3).

Texas plays TCU (11-7) this week at Fort Worth. The Horned Frogs, four games out of first, still meet in a three-game series in the final weekend.

Perry Arthur may have solved some of A&M's pitching problems Sunday with a five-hit 5-3 victory in the second game of a doubleheader against Texas Tech. Tech won the opener 4-1 in Sunday's only contests and the Red Raiders also took the opener of the series Friday, 15-13.

Pirates Finish 3rd

GOODWELL, Okla. — The Lefors Pirate regional qualifiers captured only one first place, the long jump, but racked up 82 points and finished third in the Panhandle State regional qualifiers meet Saturday evening here.

Robert Gifford won the long jump with a 20-8 leap. Sunray, a double-A Texas Panhandle school, won the meet with 135 1/2 points and Laverne, Okla., placed second with 128.

Other Pirate point-getters were the 440-relay team, second place, 46.4; Gifford in the 220, second, 24.2; 800-yard relay, third; Dwight Keith in the 120 high hurdles, fourth, 15.8; Larry Wallis in the shot put, second, 48-7; Carl Cady in the shot put, fifth, 44-0 1/4; Wallis in the discus, second, 135-3, and Cady in the discus, third, 134-1 1/4.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH Ectopic Pregnancy And Fertility

By G.C. THOSTESON, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Thosteson: About five years ago I had an ectopic pregnancy (three normal deliveries before that). After surgery the doctors assured me that both ovaries and the other tube were healthy, and to take precautions as I could become pregnant again. I haven't had any female trouble since and my periods are regular. Now I would like another baby but another doctor told me that after an ectopic pregnancy many women can no longer conceive. Is there any way I can tell if I am fertile? I have been trying the temperature cycle but I can't see that it varies any. I am in good health.

—Mrs. L.E.R.

An ectopic pregnancy is one in which the fetus attaches itself to the wrong place, the Fallopian tube. It is true that many women, after an ectopic pregnancy, cannot conceive again — but many can. The question is what caused the fertilized egg to stop in the tube instead of continuing on to the uterus. Sometimes this is because infection has scarred the whether you are fertile. Really the only "test" you can do without your doctor's help is to become pregnant!

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A friend asked me recently about abdominal epilepsy. Can you be of any help?

—J.G.

It's not the easiest thing to explain, but there is a group of nervous disorders featured by convulsive features. Epilepsy is one of them. But there are different manifestations within the group, known as epileptic equivalents. One is featured by abdominal pain and is called abdominal epilepsy. The pain is severe, but it is not associated with the seizures we commonly think of in epilepsy. However, an electroencephalogram (brain wave) shows a tracing suggestive of disordered rhythm in the brain. Attacks of abdominal epilepsy yield to anti-convulsant drugs, the same type of drugs used with epilepsy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have varicose veins. Is it possible to have the water taken out of the veins so I won't have these big bumps on my legs?

—Mrs. G.

That isn't "water." That's blood — which veins are supposed to contain. But the valves in the veins of the legs are losing their ability to prevent a backflow, and the veins swell — become varicose. The answer is to remove the veins (lengthwise, so there will be a minimum amount of scarring). Troubled with varicose veins? To make sure you are doing all you can to relieve the problem, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120, requesting the booklet, "How To Deal With Varicose Veins," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible. Copyright 1974 Field Enterprises, Inc.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT Karl Malden Enjoys Recognition

By EARL WILSON
 NEW YORK — Karl Malden strolled into the Sherry — Netherland restaurant at 11:50 a.m. The maitre d' said they weren't serving yet.

"But for you," the maitre d' said, recognizing him, "we will make an exception."

Flattered, Malden said it was due to the success of his ABC TV series (he's Detective Lt. Michael Stone on "The Streets of San Francisco").

He was a happy soul, back in New York for a few days. "If your show lasts two years you're a hit. We're going into our third. It's like a documentary, we're right on the streets of San Francisco. I live there seven months of the year. My wife and I eat in Chinatown and walk back. One night a police car stopped and a cop said, 'Get in, we'll drive you back...'"

Malden, though winner of a Best Supporting Oscar for "Streetcar" and acclaimed for his Omar Bradley role in "Patton," said over some muffins and Sanka that TV's brought him the greatest attention. He was on the A.M. show with Milton Berle. ("I think he's a great man, I love him.") He saw "Clarence Darrow." He explained, "I'm a fan of Hank Fonda's and I'm an admirer of Darrow."

Malden likes to tell how he was a steel worker in Gary, Ind., a laborer, when he got into acting. He used to go back to the steel mills between shows. His 88-year-old father is a retired milkman who was supposed to go to San Francisco when he came here as a Yugoslav immigrant as a boy. There was a delay. If he'd gone, he might have been killed in the earthquake.

"My father refuses to go to San Francisco now," Malden said. "He says it's fate."

"Do you think the maitre d' recognized you from TV?" I asked him.

"Certainly! You don't think he recognized me from over 40 movies and 22 plays I did in this town, do you?"

So we asked the maitre d' "From the film 'Patton,' the maitre d' said.

"Omar Bradley," Malden smiled.

Under Twenty

By KURT LASSEN
 How do you bridge the gap between a young (very young) motion picture star, and the time when the young roles have worn off and you're taken seriously as an adult, mature performer?

Few artists have mastered the problem. Handsome James Darren wasn't programmed to sit around and wait. He's kept the years in between filled with success and a feeling of accomplishment.

Jimmy, as a raw kid, was spotted by Joyce Selznick at Columbia Pictures.

"After a few very undistinguished parts," Jimmy told us, "I got into 'Gidget' opposite Sandra Dee and Cliff Robertson. That led to the sequel, 'Gidget Goes Hawaiian' and 'Gidget Goes to Rome.' It was really the beginning of films geared for the teen audience."

"Well, in the motion picture business you tend to get yourself pegged in one type of part and how many 'Gidgets' could anybody make? It wasn't that I didn't have any more to offer, it was just that my label was there. What was I going to do, retire at 20?"

One has to know Jimmy and his background to know that giving up isn't his action. He grew up in South Philadelphia which has a history of producing talented performers and tough, rugged kids. There were such names as Jack Klugman, Mario Lanza, Al Martino, Frankie Avalon, Eddie Fisher, Bobby Rydell, Fabian, Buddy Greco and many more.

"At 15," Jimmy told us, "I was singing at local weddings and clubs in South Philly. I quit school to work in a jewelry store to get acting lessons with Stella Adler in New York. It was then I changed my name from James Ercolani."

At this point Jimmy's philosophy of life comes in. He believes in getting things done in the most direct, honest manner possible with the least amount of hassling. He's one of the most pleasant characters you can meet, yet beneath you sense strength and determination.

He says, "If you do your thing well, you are successful, with time to enjoy life. There are no established routes. There is no 'can't'..."

Okay, movies were out for them. Jimmy went back to singing making a second career. Today he's one of the top entertainers on the big club and personal appearance circuit. When we talked, he had just opened with Buddy Hackett at the 3,000 seat Nanuet Theatre. James opens with songs and Buddy follows.

"Buddy has been great to me and now we're thinking about my going off on my own. I'm looking around for a young comic to open my act and it's getting tougher. The only problem I have now is that I'm so busy with the personal appearances that I don't have time for pictures. When the right time and thing comes along, though, I'll be ready."

Here's the kind of thing Jimmy does. When he was still making pictures and reinstating his singing career, he had to sing in Las Vegas at night and be on a movie set in the morning.

"I hired an ambulance to drive me back and forth. When I finished the show I'd go to sleep in the ambulance and sleep on the way back to Los Angeles. I'd work on the film and then hop back in the ambulance and sleep on the way to Las Vegas. There's always a way to figure things out."

This is the kind of mind behind that handsome, youthful face. It is the kind of approach that has made Jimmy a young showman's showman. It's the kind of drive, done in an easy, non-bragging manner that guarantees that however the ball bounces Jimmy is going to be doing what he wants to do.

Look for Jimmy. He may pop up in the most diverse places: television, movies, singing before live audiences and, quite dear to him now, a new recording career.
