McNARY-HAUGEN BILL VETOED TODAY

Motion to Instruct Against Smith Is Defeated in Convention

O. B. COLQUITT MADE MOTION AND LOST IT

Platform Expresses For Prohibition and Dry Nominee

MOVE TO BAR "WETS" LOSES

Major Fight Looms on Selection of K. C. Delegates

BEAUMONT, May 23.—(P)—Radical anti-Smith forces of Texas were defeated 511 to 263 at the state Democratic convention Wednesday on a proposal to instruct the Texas national delegation against Governor Smith for president.

The proposal was in an amendment by former Gov. O. B. Colquitt, to the majority platform, which declared only for prohibition and presidential candidates in harmony with it.

The convention defeated an amendment by Cone Johnson, old Democratic war horse, to instruct against all "wet" candidates. The convention had not yet reached the dispute over the method of choosing the national delegates. Smith leaders are fighting to permit each congressional district to choose its own delegates for a "true test" of the popular will.

BEAUMONT, May 23.—(P)—A platform containing the prohibition principle promulgated by Governor Moody's harmony Democrats was reported to the state Democratic convention Wednesday by the platform and resolutions committee, headed by R. S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the state highway commission.

Minority reports were prepared by highway commissioner Cone Johnson, who deserted the Tom Love ultra-dry camp yesterday for the victorious Moody group, and by former Gov. O. B. Colquitt.

No action had been taken on the reports. Mr. Johnson's report recommended that the "constitutional" or Love Democrats stand on prohibition be adopted in preference to the Moody principles.

Report Against Smith Mr. Colquitt's report contained a resolution seeking to instruct the Texas delegation to the national convention against Gov. Smith for president.

BEAUMONT, May 23.—(P)—Arguments over minor matters delayed the state Democratic convention here today and forced temporary postponement of the vital questions of platform and the methods of selecting delegates to the national convention.

Meantime the convention made its temporary organization permanent assuring the "harmony" faction of the party whatever control the permanent organization gives it.

Wrangle Over Delegates Most of the morning was spent in wrangling over the proportioning of delegates to the national convention. It was decided to elect 12 men and 12 women delegates at large, each of them to have one-sixth of a vote.

R. A. Johnson of Burnet county declared "yesterday we shook off some of the shackles welded upon us by Tom Love. This is just another move on his part to gain control of the Democracy of Texas."

Cat calls from the crowd broke the remainder of his speech and drove out again as often as order was restored and Johnson resumed his seat.

'LIVE MUCH', SENIORS TOLD

Harvesting Scene in Oil Presented School by Miss LaVaca Moore, a Student

Before a crowd of parents, classmates, and friends which the small Central high school auditorium could not come near accommodating comfortably, 43 graduating seniors of the Class of 1928 filed in collegiate solemnity across the stage last night and received their diplomas.

Led by their president, Ed Herlach, the seniors moved into the auditorium slowly to the processional, "Hearts and Flowers," played by Joe Strother. Unaccustomed to the caps and gowns, the young people appeared with the usual awkward gestures, partly inspired by the emotions of the occasion, but as they neared their reserved section their shyness vanished and furtive smiles answered those of admiring friends. It was a typical commencement occasion, with its mingled joy of graduation and sorrows of parting.

On the Stage On the platform were the Rev. D. H. Truhitt, Baptist pastor; the Rev. W. A. Hancock, evangelist at the Baptist revival, who delivered the baccalaureate sermon Sunday; the Rev. Tom W. Brabham, Methodist minister; Supt. R. C. Campbell; Principal R. B. Fisher; and Prof. Harrison Platter, head of the commercial department.

The invocation was given by Rev. Brabham. Mrs. A. H. Doucette gave a beautiful rendering of "Life's Perfect Promise," by William Stickles, accompanied by Joe Strother. In introducing Rev. Stuckey, the commencement speaker, Supt. Campbell recalled that he was principal of the Bonham schools at the time Rev. Stuckey was graduated there in 1910. Before making his thoughtful address, the speaker confirmed this statement and praised Mr. Campbell's school service.

Miss Mitchell Plays After the address, Miss Ruth Ann Mitchell delighted the audience with an excellently rendered piano solo, "Polonaise in B," by Paderewski.

Then Prof. Fisher presented the Class of '28 to Supt. Campbell for diplomas, first commending the group as "proficient and honorable." In accepting the class, Supt. Campbell called attention to the school progress which has been made in the three years of his incumbency. Three years ago there were 22 teachers and 574 pupils; now there are 60 teachers and 1,800 pupils. The cottages, Baker school and the central ward annex have been built and overfilled, and even with the addition of the proposed two ward schools next fall the cottages will still be in demand, so rapidly are the schools expanding.

Well Affiliated The high school will soon have 33 affiliated credits. It has membership on the All-Southern list of affiliated schools by reason of its progressive trustees, skilled faculty, capable students, and faithful patrons. Supt. Campbell also praised Prof. Fisher for his good work this year, especially in organization and discipline.

"And it is as important to hold our position as to gain it," said the superintendent in speaking of affiliation and the need for more buildings. He especially thanked the P. T. A.'s ministers, and local newspapers for their work in behalf of the schools. After pointing out the expenditures of millions for hospital care, he declared that health programs and gymnasium work for all pupils would result.

Runs Again

NEA Cleveland Bureau

Speculation whether Judge Florence E. Allen of the Ohio supreme court Senate or the Ohio bench this year would run for the United States was set a rest by her announcement in Cleveland the other day that she would be a candidate again for the judgeship. Judge Allen is the first woman to serve as a supreme court justice.

SCHOOL GIVEN HALF CREDIT

Shorthand Instruction Recognized by State Department

Word was received here this morning from A. M. Blackman, chief superintendent of high schools in Texas, that the Pampa high school has been granted an additional half-credit in shorthand. The credit given was based on evidence of satisfaction in the report of Miss Carrie Bell Sterret, of the national Association of visito schools.

The school is asking for an additional half-credit in typewriting, a half-credit in bookkeeping, a half-credit in commercial law, and one credit in chemistry.

Moody Cannot Come to Legion's Rodeo

Word was received this morning by Commander R. A. Webb, of the Keweenaw post of the American Legion, from Governor Dan Moody stating that because of a previous engagement he would be unable to attend the American Legion rodeo to be held here June 1, 2, and 3. The rodeo is expected to be the largest ever held in the Panhandle, and plans are under way to handle the largest crowd that has ever been in the city. It will be at the Grays baseball park on the Miami road north of here.

Elements in Building Great Lives Outlined by the Rev. Lewis N. Stuckey for Class

"Methuselah lived 969 years and died, and that is all the Bible says about it—it is not for short living nor long life that I plead; not how long, but how MUCH—" Stuckey.

"Much Living," a packed subject, was thoughtfully developed by the Rev. Lewis N. Stuckey, pastor of the Polk Street Methodist church of Amarillo, in his commencement address at Central high school last night.

The speaker called attention to Samuel J. Mills, who before he was 30 founder American Missions, established the nation of Liberia, and founded the American Bible Society, any one of which would have won him undying fame.

Had World Vision "He had a great vision and went forth to live mightily," asserted Mr. Stuckey, who also mentioned the Apostle Paul, John Wesley, Martin Luther, and Jesus.

"Many people fail to live much in this life because they have no fixed purpose," it was pointed out. "Lindbergh, the Lone Eagle, had such a purpose. We should honor him not so much that he went across the ocean as many said could not be done, but that with that glory we have a genuine, true man who, though young, has lived much. Well may the youth of America emulate him. You can read the history of this world as told by the purposes of great men."

Depth Before Height "And depth—you can't build a skyscraper on a bungalow foundation. If this is true of a skyscraper building, it is true of a skyscraper life. One reason why so many people are failing to live much is lack of depth, of willingness to lay the foundation for a successful life."

"Not only must there be depth, but breadth. There are some people who think to be broad is to be loose in thought. I mean a sweep of ideas taking in the possibilities of man and the glories of God."

"And a life to be great must have length, ability to reach out far enough to serve the world. The man who thinks only of self will never be great; Others must be included. How different would be this world if every person were to live as it were to be his or her last day on earth."

A Human Tragedy "Moreover, much living necessitates height. One of the greatest tragedies is that of a man of skyscraper caliber building a bungalow, having no wings of soul and no lifting power. You must use your talents. Be honorable, honest in whatever you do, and climb as high as you can. Your talents will grow."

"Many fail to live because they forget the spiritual. The trouble today is that we are coming to the place where we have no God. No man can be at his full powers unless his soul grows with his mind and body."

Creation Proves Creator "Never get the idea that you are to take the world pleasures as they are often found—with hideous sin. You will come to a day of reckoning when you will meet again every day you have lived. The creation proves the Creator, he is here."

"Having a purpose to carry you thru. Get a foundation while you are young. Get the spirit of Him who lived more than anyone else has lived, and who died at 33 years of age." Apt illustrations enriched the message.

MORE MINERS LOSE LIVES IN THREE CITIES

Thirteen Die, Four Are Missing at Bluefield W. Virginia

CAVE-IN KILLS FOUR OTHERS

Explosion in Kentucky Likely to Claim Sixteen

(By The Associated Press) Indications were today that 236 workers had lost their lives in four mine accidents since Saturday, as follows:

Mather, Pa.—Coal mine explosion; 156 known dead; 42 missing.

Yukon, W. Va.—Coal mine explosion; 13 known dead; 4 missing.

Harlan, Ky.—Coal mine explosion; two dead; 16 missing.

Kimberly, Nev.—Copper mine cave-in; four dead.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., May 23.—(P)—Thirteen miners were known to have been killed and four were missing today following a blast in the No. 1 mine of the Yukon-Pocharas coal company at Yukon, McDowell county last night.

Seventeen in Mine The bodies of the thirteen workers had been brought to the surface. The exact number of the men in the mine at the time of the explosion was unknown, but company officers said the did not think there were more than seventeen.

The cause of the explosion was undetermined, but its source was thought to have been gas.

ELKO, Nev., May 23.—(P)—Four miners were killed in the Old Alpha shaft of the Consolidated Copper mines at Kimberly, near here yesterday by a cave-in of material which had been blocking the shaft for years. The men were engaged in clearing the shaft at the time of the accident, and were working about 650 feet underground.

Expect 16 Deaths HARLAN, Ky., May 23.—(P)—Two miners had been killed and fourteen were missing in an explosion that wrecked a mine of the Black Mountain coal corporation near here last night. None of those trapped was expected to survive.

Two bodies, badly mangled, were recovered immediately after the blast between the mine entrance and the scene of the explosion which occurred deep in the mines.

After the night force went to work an explosion wrecked the level leading to the lateral on which the men were working. Cars were wrecked ventilating fans stopped and tracks leading back to the shaft opening were torn up.

Fans Are Acquired Early today the fans were repaired and efforts to reach the entombed miners were renewed.

Approximately 75 men were in the mine at the time of the explosion which, according to officials, was caused by coal dust. Those trapped were at work about three-fourths of a mile from the entrance.

Neither Cal Nor Al

No, this isn't President Calvin Coolidge—it's Al Smith. But you're wrong again—this Al Smith isn't the governor of New York. He's editor of the Christian Advocate, of Nashville, Tenn., and will go to the Democratic convention at Houston to fight for a prohibition platform and dry nominee.

FIVE KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Italian Consulate at Buenos Aires Is Target

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, May 23.—(P)—Five persons were killed and 40 injured in the explosion of a bomb in the Italian consulate building today.

The bomb exploded a few minutes before noon, throwing the staff of the consulate and scores of persons in the building into a panic.

A general strike of taxi-drivers and the fact that other means of transportation were tied up impeded the authorities somewhat in reaching the scene of the explosion, which is believed to have been inspired by an anti-fascist organization.

The bomb exploded in the waiting room where many persons were waiting their turn to see the Italian consul and the crowd was thrown into a panic when the windows were shattered and the walls swayed under the force of the explosion which was felt also in neighboring buildings.

While hospitals gave the number of dead as five, the newspaper Critica said that eight persons had been killed.

Fine Is Imposed in County Court

Only one case has been heard in county court since it convened with Judge T. M. Wolfe presiding. The case was one of issuing a worthless check. The defendant was assessed a fine of $28. Several more cases will be heard today and tomorrow.

The court adjourned yesterday while Judge Wolfe and County Attorney John Studer conferred with county commissioners and Thomas Y. Pickett of Dallas, county auditor.

DANGERS SEEN BY PRESIDENT IN SUBSIDIES

Writes 12-page Booklet on Measure-Constitution Also Barrier

SECOND TIME RELIEF FAILS

Congress Likely Cannot Override Action by Heavy Vote

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(P)—President Coolidge today vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Thus for the second time in as many years Mr. Coolidge has disapproved a farm plan embodying the equalization fee machinery for surplus crop control.

Whether there will be any farm relief enacted this season now is up to Congress. The House and Senate have a choice of repassing the bill without the equalization fee, in the hope of winning presidential favor, or of attempting enactment of the measure as it stands by over-riding Mr. Coolidge's veto.

There is much doubt that the latter course would prove successful.

Reasons Are Given The president vetoed the bill on the grounds of constitutionality and because the "so-called equalization fee and other features of the old measure are still prejudicial in my opinion to sound public policy and to agriculture."

The veto draws the issue between the president and the farm group in Congress more tightly than it ever has been and, unless some further action is taken at the capitol, will place the agricultural question before the coming presidential conventions as an outstanding controversy.

Frank C. Lowden is one of Bill's most outspoken champions. Vice-president Dawes favors it and Senator Curtis of Kansas and Senator Watson of Indiana have voted for it. Secretary Hoover has been regarded as standing with the president on farm relief.

Overriding Doubtful The Senate would have to muster a two-thirds vote to pass the bill over Mr. Coolidge's veto. This session the Senate passed it by a vote of 53 to 23, or slightly more than the necessary two-thirds. In the House the measure was approved 204 to 121, or slightly less than two-thirds.

Its consideration in both Houses was enlivened by a discussion of its possible effect on the forthcoming presidential campaign, the names of Lowden and Vice-President Dawes who favored it, frequently being injected into the debate.

Mr. Coolidge said in his veto message that this year's McNary-Haugen bill is in some respects an improvement over the one he vetoed last year, but nevertheless contained "new and highly objectionable provisions."

The bill, he said, "essentially consisted of stimulation of the price of agriculture commodities and products thereof by artificially controlling the surplus so that there will be an apparent scarcity on the market."

The veto ended with an expression of hope that farm legislation "along the lines suggested in my last annual message, with which many of the pro-

Indiana Girl Spells K-N-A-C-K to Win U. S. Title

But Even the Winner Missed a Word, Which Happened to Be "Campanile"

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(P)—Two knacks combined today had won for 13-year-old Betty Robinson of South Bend, Ind., the title of national champion speller of the graded schools and one thousand dollars in gold. One was the knack of spelling and other, by a coincidence, the word, "Knack." Betty represented the South Bend News-

Times in the spelling bee here yesterday.

Pauline Gray, 13, West Salem, Ohio, representing the Akron Beacon-Journal, did a lot of thinking over the word, but she had been taking her time on others. She finally slowly spelled "N-a-c-k." It meant the difference between the $1,000 first prize and the $500 second prize.

Bessie Dool, 11, of Detroit, representing the Detroit News, fell out of the race when she spelled "Bacillus" with two "C's." She took third place and won $250.

Winner Missed One Just before the word that decided the championship, the winner missed "Campanile." She thought it should be "Campanile." Those of the crowd who knew what had happened, shifted their feet, and the others scuffed their feet when the judges passed the word to Pauline Gray. It was the crisis. Probably even Pauline does not know why she also spelled it "C-a-m-p-a-n-i-l-e."

but she did, and the battle went on.

There were 23 grade school students from as many different cities entered. All did well for a time. Anna Murphy of New Britain, Conn., sitting down first when she put a "J" in "Maggie." Emma Malaric of Youngstown, Ohio stumbled over "occurred." Edith Halverson of Milwaukee fell before "Admiring" and Aram Belanger, the first of the six boys to join the audience spelled "Middy" with "ie." He was red-faced as he sought his seat, and the girls giggled.

The judges assumed the solemn look that presaged "Jaw-breakers." These on their feet bent forward as words that might be spelled in two or three different ways, or strange words that seemed to have no place in the English language, were pronounced. Eva M. Nash of Worcester, Mass. left the ranks. Marie Waltz of Lan-

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NRA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, chairman of the Senate judiciary committee, was the only man found in a day's search of Capitol Hill who was willing to talk about presidential campaign issues.

"I don't know what the campaign issues will be," he said, "but I can tell you what they ought to be."

The senator's political creed isn't popular with many people, but he is commonly regarded here as the biggest man in the Senate today, so here goes:

"Everything depends on what happens at the conventions," he began. "The Republicans can't evade the biggest issues if the Democrats take them up."

"Monopoly ought to be the main issue. We ought to have a candidate who would be willing to tackle the trusts, particularly the water power trust."

"Punishment of those who have violated the law, who have bribed and debauched the government, ought to be somewhat of an issue, it seems to me."

"And railroad freight rates. The assumption of power by the executive has become a vitally important issue. Appointments of men to positions of public trust in which they are supposed to serve the people as a whole ought not to come from the fellows who believe implicitly that big business can do no wrong."

"I don't see how our foreign policy can help becoming an issue, after the war in Nicaragua during which we have killed so many natives."

"The parties and candidates ought either to endorse or condemn the lame duck amendment."

"That issue ought to be brought up in the campaign of every senator and representative who voted against it. Those who favor it ought to stress it in every campaign and the voters ought to demand how their representatives in becomes doubtful whether U. S. protection should be extended to that degree. There is no end of the matter in sight.

Congress voted on it—and why!

"There is another serious issue in the fact that the House of Representatives is controlled by an oligarchy of five or six men. The reason is that it is so large that power has to be concentrated in the hands of a few to make the machine work."

"I don't see how both parties can avoid prohibition enforcement as an issue. One can't if the other doesn't."

"The people ought to demand that the prohibition law be enforced in good faith. It never has been."

TWINKLES

Perhaps it is fortunate that there is no Congressional Record of the party conventions.

The good old A. P. will have more than 50 men at the Houston meeting, so some of them ought to be able to get good sense out of chaos.

Greatness has its recompense after all—Babe Ruth escaped a fine because the judge thought him "the greatest baseball player in the world, and he's a friend of mine."

A preacher at last gives the reason for marathons, but we differ. Anyhow, here it is: "For the pure love of what we are doing and love of getting the best we can out of it."

Al Smith has union cards as a pressman, bricklayer, stone mason, and steam shovel operator, and he is trying to make the grade as a steam roller manipulator.

Americans are better than we thought. Ninety per cent of them drink to Old Heidelberg with lemonade—on the spot.

Jazz is louder than an airplane, but it hasn't yet fallen so low nor risen so high.

Aviation is young, but red tape of the law is fast enveloping it. There are 2,000 statutes extant on the subject.

A lot of people are at the head of their class only because they don't like the people at the foot, which is reason enough.

Athletic Club Is 11 to 1 Winner Over Cabot Nine

The Pampa Athletic and Amusement club nine came through with an 11 to 1 victory over the Cabot Co. team last night at the Magnolia field. Lead by the veteran Ed Gober, the Athletics, last entrants in the Industrial league, outhit and outfielded the fast Cabot nine all through the game.

Casper pitched in mid-season form for the Athletics to win over Morriss and Llewellyn. Gober, Dial, and Penberg led the Athletics' offensive with two hits apiece in three times up, while the veteran Johnnie Weeks took everything that came near short. He was closely followed in fielding honors by Boland, ex-Philadelphia second baseman, out for the first time in five years.

Hornor at the short for Cabots was the best man on the team. He is a fast heavy player and should rank with the best in the league. Smith in left field pulled the best catch of the day to rob Penberg of a sure home run. He was also the best man at bat.

The teams in the Industrial league are playing snappy baseball for early in the season and large crowds are attending the games, which commenced at 6 o'clock sharp.

The next game will be tomorrow night between the Oilers and the Empire Gas and Fuel company's nine.

Line-up for yesterday's game: Athletics—Weeks, Dial, Boland, Gober, Penberg, Cahill, Jensen, Hoar, Casper, and Cox.

Cabot Co.—Hornor, Sutton, Fearless, DeVert, Smith, McGill, Furnice, Duke, Morris, Llewellyn, and Gurtin.

Payne's Lead Cut to 15 Hours in Marathon Race

LIBERTY, N. Y., May 23.—(AP)—A comparatively short jaunt of 37 miles to Middletown, N. Y., was before the C. C. Pyle union men today.

With only four more days of running, Andy Payne of Claremore, Okla., has a lead of 15 hours over his nearest rival, John Salo of Passaic, N. J. Salo finished second yesterday in the lay from Deposit, N. Y., and Payne was fourth.

Babe Ruth Now Eight Games Ahead of 1927 Gait

NEW YORK, May 23.—(AP)—Babe Ruth, the Sultan of Swat, is coasting along eight games ahead of the pace he set last year to establish a new home run record of 60 for a season.

The Bambino blasted his thirteenth homer of the current campaign yesterday as the Yankees crushed the Red Sox under a 14-4 score. Ruth's smash traveled into the left field grandstands, a spot usually safe from the Babe's prodigious drives. Homer No. 13 came in Ruth's 31st game. Last year he hit his 13th in his 30th game, on May 29.

Lou Gehrig, off to a slow start this year, matched Ruth's home, with one of his own—his seventh of the season. "Columbia Lou" had nine to his credit at this time last year.

GIRL FRUSTRATES ROBBERY

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., May 23.—(AP)—A twenty-three-year-old girl, Margaret Rappa, today frustrated the efforts of a negro to loot the Twin City Loan company here when she fired a pin at him as he attacked her father, John Rappa, 68. Although carrying a pistol, the negro fled before the girl's attack.

Flyweights Will Clash Tonight in Brooklyn Match

NEW YORK, May 23.—(AP)—With recognition as bantamweight champion awaiting the winner, Bushy Graham, ex-Edward Uica, N. Y., battler and Tex Schwartz, state flyweight titleholder, clash over the 15-round route at Ebbets field, Brooklyn tonight. Held in a decisive edge physically, Graham was an odds-on favorite to better his tiny rival into defeat and win recognition as king of the 118-pounders from the National Boxing association and the New York State athletic commission.

Much smaller in every way, Schwartz is further handicapped in his quest for a double-title by the fact that under the commission rules he must make his flyweight class limit of 112 pounds. Graham probably will scale close to the bantam limit.

Ernie Edick and Cy Rieger of Amarillo were business visitors here yesterday.

The Public Library

I like the Public Library With its cloistral hushed repose. I like to browse among the books In varicolored rows. To mingle with those loyal friends And have them speak to me In captivating English prose Or whispered melody.

The magic lines of Shakespeare And Milton's organ phrase Bring golden recollections Of scented summer days: So Bacon, Lamb and Coleridge, Macaulay, Keats, Carlyle, And Chesterfield of courtly grace, They cheer me and beguile.

The wondrous words of Wordsworth, Harmonious and pure, And many another poet Whose name will long endure; The rippling verse of Tennyson, Ambrosial to the lips, The stately lines of Newman, Like graceful moving ships.

With Byron, Browning, Eliot, And dear old Dickens, too; With Thackeray and Stevenson I while an hour or two: With Irving, Lowell, Emerson, Masters of perfumed prose, With Bryant, Hawthorne, Whittier, All redolent of the rose.

'Twere easy to extend the list Of much beloved names, From learned Aristotle To brilliant Henry James. I like the Public Library Its books bring peace and rest, Of all those friends I cannot say Which one I love best. —Greenville Kleiser.

LUNCHEON—Cream of asparagus soup, croissants, raw vegetable salad, rhubarb and strawberry pie, milk, tea. DINNER—Planked fish with stuffed tomatoes, new potatoes in cream sauce, jellied cucumber salad, ludge cake, milk, coffee.

Line an eight-inch pie dish with pastry and brush over with white of egg. Mix and sift flour and sugar in a good sized mixing bowl. Democrats--

J. H. Sharp of Childress charged that proponents of the Blalock motion to limit districts to two delegates and two alternates were afraid that "too many women" would be elected.

Roll Call Necessary Blalock denied this and moved to table the Love amendment. The vote on tabling was so close that the chairman could not rule on the question. The chairman charged that many people not delegates, in the galleries, had voted, and threatened to clear the galleries.

Shouts of "roll call" and "rising vote" came from the convention and an attempt was made to have a rising vote. Some one else charged that many delegations had more delegates than they had votes on the floor so a roll call was finally started to settle the question of tabling the Love amendment.

After much argument and confusion the motion to table prevailed, 441 to 312 and the original Blalock motion was adopted by acclamation.

BEAUMONT, May 23.—(P)—Fencing over the method of naming delegates to the national convention delayed the state Democratic convention here this morning. The resolution by Col. Tom Ball of Houston to put the naming of delegates in the hands of an appointed committee was withdrawn by the committee on permanent organization for further consideration. The resolution was rejected by the committee last night and a substitute by John Boyle of San Antonio recommended for passage. The Smith men are fighting the ball resolution as they assert it would prevent Smith delegates being named in many delegations where a majority of the state delegates favor him.

The convention stood at ease until the committee meets to reconsider the motions reported.

Women Drys Active Leaders of women's dry organizations issued an appeal that the dry and ultra drys stand in a solid phalanx to the end that the Texas delegation work only for a dry candidate and a dry platform.

Mrs. Larry Mills, Dallas, president of the Democratic women's association of Texas, and Mrs. Claude Van de Watts, Austin, state president of the state W. T. U., made this appeal.

Congressman Tom Connally of Marlin, candidate for United States Senator, was called to the platform to speak during the interim. He said the Democrats now have the best national campaign issues in 49 years.

"Clear Out Rascals" "Sweep the rascals out of office, he enjoined, and restore the government to the hands of the people.

"Let us tell the Democrats of the nation that Texas will support the nominee of the party and not desert the party general on the field of battle."

As the convention hall filled slowly, another circular campaign against Governor Alfred E. Smith was started on the floor. A cartoon dodger depicting the New York executive as striking the eighteenth amendment was distributed.

A boy's band from Orange, attended by Luther Stark, a member of the Orange delegation, entertained the national Democratic convention to vote as a unit at all times and upon all questions and for candidates for president and vice-president who each favor and support the foregoing plank.

"We believe that an absolute obligation of party loyalty arises from participation in party affairs and we appeal to Democrats to recognize this principle and remain loyal to the party and unite to sweep corruption out of the national capital at Washington."

For Strict Construction "Committed to a strict construction of federal constitution, and the supremacy alike of the national and state governments within their proper spheres, the Democratic party has been known throughout its history as the party of the constitution in all its integrity and supremacy, and demand the enforcement of every provision of that great charter of freedom in letter and in spirit, by every agency of the government. The extraordinary growth of federal powers and the consequent diminution of the rights and powers of the several states are alarming and the multiplication of bureaucrats which result in governmental extravagance and engenders corruption is building up under the fostering care of the Republican party a highly centralized tyranny at the seat of government. We demand a return to the simple faith of our fathers, to the end that a government of the people for the people and by the people may no longer be denied.

"Party of Classes" "The Republican party throughout its whole history has been a party for the classes and not for the masses. High tariffs, inequitably imposed, high taxes, governmental extravagance have resulted in corruption in high places. Administration after administration by the Republican party has demonstrated that it is the inevitable result of its control of the government. Permeating every department of the administration and reaching even the department of justice and high cabinet positions, this corruption, the logical result of Republican principles and political practices, has reached its highest tide in the present and preceding administrations, until such corruption and maladministration have become the shame of the nation. Safety, decency and a due regard for the respect of mankind demand that the reins of government be taken from the hands of the party responsible for this condition of corruption in high places, to reason to the state.

The Prohibition Plank "We favor a plank in the national Democratic platform to be adopted at Houston, unequivocally endorsing prohibition as written into the constitution of the United States and declaring, relentless opposition to any attempt to repeal it or destroy this prohibition law. Demanding the faithful, strict and efficient enforcement by the national government of this and all laws including the eighteenth amendment and advocating adequate means of enforcement; we instruct our delegates to vote for resolutions favoring such a plank.

visions of this bill are in harmony, may be enacted."

Called Unconstitutional Mr. Coolidge wrote a twelve-page printed pamphlet outlining his objections to the bill and included with it another pamphlet of equal size giving the views of Attorney-General Cargent on the legal phases of the measure.

The objections of the president were summarized by him under these six headings: "First, its attempted price-fixing policy.

"Second, the tax characteristics of the equalization fee.

"Third, the widespread bureaucracy which it would set up.

"Fourth, its encouragement to profiteering and wasteful distribution by middlemen.

"Fifth, its stimulation of over-production.

"Sixth, its aid to our foreign agricultural competitors."

In addition, he declared that "these topics by no means exhaust the list of fallacious and, indeed, dangerous aspects of the bill, but they afford ample grounds for its emphatic rejection."

Dangerous as Precedent

"In conclusion," Mr. Coolidge declared, "if the measure is enacted, it would be led to wonder how long it would be before producers in other lines would clamor for similar equalizing subsidies from the public coffers. The lobbies of Congress would be filled with emissaries from every manufacturing industry demanding relief of a burdensome surplus at the expense of the treasury. Once we plunge into the futile sophistries of such a system of wholesome commercial doles for special groups of middlemen and distributors at the expense of farmers and other producers, it is difficult to see what the end might be. I have believed at all times that the only sound basis for further federal government action in behalf of agriculture would be to encourage its ad-quate organization in building up marketing agencies and facilities in the control of the farmers themselves. I want to see them undertake, under their own management, the marketing of their products under such conditions as will enable them to bring about greater stability in prices and less waste in marketing, but entirely within unalterable economic laws.

Protective Tariff Helps

"Such a program supported by a strong protected tariff on farm products, is the best method of effecting a permanent cure of existing agricultural ills. Such a program is in accordance with the American tradition and the American idea of reliance on the Maintenance of private initiative and individual responsibility, and the duty of the government is discharged when it has provided conditions under which individuals can achieve success.

"I am still hopeful that legislation along the lines suggested in my last annual message, with which many of the provisions of this bill are in harmony, may be enacted, but this bill embodies substantially all of the objectionable features, which I said in that message to congress, I could not endorse."
