BATTIN' AROUND

Is Consumer Protection Needed?

By C.R. BATTEN

It wasn't so very long ago, back on the farm, that our home was lit by kerosene lamps.

Corn cobs soaked in a can of kerosene served as kindling to light the wood fire in the kitchen stove every morning. We slept on straw-filled ticks between quilts we had made ourselves, filled with natural cotton batting.

In those days, we didn't have "consumer protection agencies" at almost every level of government to look after us and to tell us how dangerous were the lives we were leading.

We knew that kerosene poured into a stove would likely explode if it hit a live coal, so we never poured kerosene into a stove. We

Hobby Opposes Port's Funding

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Lt. Gov. William P. Hobby believes it is a mistake to provide for state funding of a deepwater offshore terminal in the new state constitution.

"Our time-honored system of prohibitions against public financing for private purposes is also in keeping with the free enterprise system and I think the port authority proposal is a bad one," Hobby said.

The Constitutional Convention General Provisions Committee approved the public financing port proposal in opposition to a senate development committee's recommendation for private funding. Sen. Tom Creighton, D-Mineral Wells, said he was surprised the convention committee wanted to obligate state credit to fund the deepwater port.

knew that straw is highly flammable, so we never brought a match or a kerosene lamp into contact with a straw tick.

When we were children, we learned how to use matches for the purposes for which they were intended—we were never tempted to play with them. We were warned by our parents never to hide out in the barn with any of our friends to sneak a smoke—because of the danger of burning down the barn.

Because we knew the possible consequences of irresponsible acts—including the certainty that our backsides would be tanned so thoroughly that we could not sit down for a week—if we were caught around the barn with matches in our pockets—it was exceedingly easy to overcome any temptations that may have come upon us.

We knew the hazards of living in our time, and we acted accordingly.

Today, we have federal and state agencies telling us what we can and cannot do on the job in minute detail; others telling our doctors what medicines they can and cannot prescribe for us; yet others telling us how many and what kinds of vitamins we can take each day, and what kind of toys we can give our children.

If something is not yet regulated, our friendly consumer protection agencies are telling us through the broadcast media that "there oughta be a law."

A local consumer protection agency official was shown on television touching a lighted match to a mattress in a plastic crib in an abandoned house. The house was soon engulfed in flames and destroyed. The point of the story was that the federal government "doesn't have a law" setting flammability standards for mattresses and cribs.

Another person described large, over-sized eyeglasses, and the alleged danger of harm to the eyes caused by them. "There is no law" prohibiting the sale of those glasses, she said.

An advertiser says that his particular product contains the daily minimum intake of every vitamin and mineral "required by the federal government."

It all makes one wonder how on earth we survived back on the farm, without all these agencies to protect us—and how man ever managed to survive for a million or so years without Big Brother to tell him what he should and should not do for his own good.

Such stories and commercials are selling us the belief that government can and should look after every detail of our lives. They are creating a false sense of security—a belief that anything we buy must be safe and well made, because Big Brother has passed a law that says so.

They are spreading the belief that we are not responsible for our own actions; that Big Brother is responsible for our entire environment (both physical and social), and for what we do.

By creating greater dependence on Big Brother, they are killing the initiative of the individual to determine the probable consequences of his plans before he acts. They are creating a race of mindless men, to be herded like sheep.

Is this the kind of world you want?

Cities Facing Shortages Of Chlorine For Water

United Press International

Add one more woe to the burden of American cities—the possibility of not enough chlorine.

A United Press International survey shows the shortages have eased somewhat in some places since a recent gloomy report on the subject by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), but some cities may have to get by with less of the chemical used to treat water and sewage.

The shortage is blamed on a combination of heavy demands for electricity, vital for the manufacture of chlorine, and the growing use of chlorine in industry and transportation problems.

The EPA survey of 74 cities for the eight months ending Jan. 31 showed 22 ran out completely and 26 others were short during the period.

In the UPI survey, a spokesman for Chicago's water filtration plant said that although the situation was tight last August, there were no shortages at present for water and sewage treatment. However, he said, public swimming pools may have to delay opening or remain closed if shortages worsen.

Houston was forced to reduce its use of chlorine at the city's two largest sewage plants. There were several occasions when they ran out entirely, but supplies were delivered within a few hours. Amounts used at smaller plants were not reduced.

A brighter note came from Boston, and Albany, N.Y., where the states' chlorine supplies are ordered. Neither had any shortages.

Philadelphia has been getting along since the fall of 1973 with partial shipments from its supplier and the cost has risen about 20 per cent. Most of the city's private and public pools use sodium hydrochloride, so they may not have the same problem.

John Egan, director of the New York City Department of Water Resources, said the overall situation was satisfactory, but the city's suppliers warned there could be a potential shortage in the future. Nearby Westchester and Nassau counties reported difficulty in obtaining chlorine and said orders had to be placed far in advance to keep up with the demand.

Engineer Gives Warning On Use Of Oil Supplies

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Although oil and gas represent only 6 per cent of the nation's energy reserves, they are used to provide 75 per cent of the nation's energy needs, according to a Texas utilities engineer.

In an address to the opening session of the 21st annual Southwestern Petroleum Short Course, E.D. Dorchester, division engineer with Texas Electric Service Co. of Midland, said this misalignment of domestic energy sources in one of the reasons for the energy shortage.

"Our energy reserves are made up of natural gas, oil, coal and nuclear energy type of materials—the basic reserve sources," he said. "Oil and gas represent only 6 per cent of that reserve, yet they are now carrying 75 per cent of the total energy load in the United States."

Dorchester said no quick solution to the energy problem is possible.

"The energy problem is a long term, built-in one which will take time to work out of," he said. "By present projections, the use of energy in this country will almost double by 1990, and certainly by the year 2000."

Three hundred engineers and other industry personnel signed up for the two-day seminar, consisting of technical presentations relating to oil production.

Socialism In Denmark

Socialism, noted Ayn Rand, the famous philosopher-novelist, is intellectually, morally and pragmatically bankrupt. Having lost the capacity to capture the minds of people, she continued, socialism is now reduced to the use of raw force.

candidate for office, belonging to the brand new Danish Progressive Party, stirred up quite a bit of excitement and support when he went on television waving his income tax return, explaining that he paid zero tax thanks to clever avoidance techniques.

Doing Too Much

People are not inclined to vote for a do-nothing congressman. Too bad. Think of it this way. Practically every successful candidate thinks he has to do something to justify the confidence that some of the voters reposed in him.

But that is not all. You have 100 individuals in the upper house of Congress mostly doing the same. You have Texas legislators striving mightily to demonstrate that they can get rid of your dollars better than you can.

Still another source of resentment is the growing numbers and high rates of pay of government bureaucrats, "the public popes at their desks," as one Dane interviewed referred to them.

'Cost Of Living' Index Debate

However, the CPI, now used as a union weapon for higher wages, "measures changes in prices, which are the most important cause of changes in the cost of living, but it doesn't indicate how much families actually spend to defray their living expense," one high labor official wrote recently.

Rearview Mirror

By TEX DEWEESE Editor Of The News

NOW IS the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party, says one of the typewriter practice lines. To bring it up to date it should read "all good men and women."

The governor's luncheon is scheduled for 12 noon in the Villa Inn and at 4 p.m. the scene will switch to Borger where the one-day governor will dedicate a historical marker.

The congressional candidates are burrowing through the boondocks like mad. So are the candidates for governor. Sissy, Bob, Jack and Dr. Louis all have been "touring" the Panhandle.

WITH THE May 4 primary only two weeks away, it may be well to print a reminder about a recent decision of the U.S. Supreme Court having to do with registration and absentee voting of persons who may be in the pokey and can't get out to vote like the rest of us.

It has been taken for granted the vice president will be more effective in Bob's behalf than the President was for that Michigan GOP congressman. The vice president hasn't been subpoenaed and it is reported none of his tapes have any gaps.

So, if you are in jail and want to vote absentee file your request with the police chief or sheriff and have him authorize the county clerk to mail you a ballot.

Thus, it really doesn't measure the cost of living of low-income families who don't take taxis or buy new cars, or bottles of bourbon or new homes or outboard motors, or consult psychiatrists or have their laundry flatironed, put in washing machines and clothes dryers.

PROBABLY THE happening of the past few days that tops the category of melancholy news was the San Francisco bank robbery in which Patricia Hearst was one of the participants.

Certainly prices have gone up — especially for some foods. But we're not exactly prisoners of starvation. Nor chained to cold water, walkup apartments. The CPI reflects mighty good living. And that costs money.

Nothing in the whole affair has been more disgraceful, one writer has pointed out, than the willingness of thousands of persons to accept food packages that were distributed for ransom.

Gov. Sherman will be sworn in at 9:30 a.m. on the steps of the Mary E. Bivins Memorial Library by State Supreme Court Justice James G. Denton.

At 10:30 a.m. everybody will watch the Greater Southwest Music Festival Parade in downtown Amarillo and Gov. Sherman will hold a news conference at 11 a.m. in Amarillo City Hall.

HOW TO DRIVE FOR MONEY

By J. SHUTTLEWORTH
Whether you're young or old, male or female, a city resident or live in the country ... I'll almost bet that I know one of your fondest dreams: you'd like to be mistress or master of a pleasant part-time self-employment enterprise that pays reasonably well and which you can more or less work at when you choose.

Right? Right! It's a dream that most of us hold very dear.
Most of us, that is ... but not a few fortunate souls like Don Dexter. Don, you see, is for extra-passengers. Two or more individuals traveling together, then, can save a great deal of money by hiring Mr. Dexter for a trip instead of taking a cab.

What does this translate to in business? Well, folks must like the service that Don provides; he's generally booked as much as four months ahead!
From the financial angle, Mr. Dexter certainly isn't getting rich (he clears $40-$60 a week), but he feels that he's not doing too badly for a past-retirement-age duffer who can pick and already living such a vision almost to a T ... despite the fact that he's past the age when our "modern" society usually declares its citizens to be more or less "worthless."

Well, quite a few of the folks who live in Mr. Dexter's hometown of Bloomington, Ill., consider him anything but worthless. As a matter of fact, they value a service he provides so much that they're willing to pay him $2.50 or more an hour for the performance of what he considers to be a rather pleasant task.
To understand what a "natural" his enterprise is for his area (and for a thousand other regions of the country) and just how easily you might duplicate his success, you have only to spend a moment studying Don's hometown.
Bloomington is located on I-55, halfway between St. Louis and Chicago. And, although at least one airline carries passengers from the city to Chicago's O'Hare International Airport and to Lambert Field at St. Louis on a twice-daily basis, neither schedule offers exactly where Don comes in.

Don Dexter will drive anyone who desires the service to either the Chicago or the St. Louis airport. He'll also take one or more individuals to any downtown office building in the two cities ... or even to a resident address in either town.
After delivering his client or clients to their destination, Mr. Dexter will help them handle their baggage (if any) and he'll then wait for them to conduct their business or — if they're catching a plane to another destination — make arrangements to meet them later if they so desire. Don, in other words, is more or less a free-lance chauffeur.
Our semi-retired entrepreneur never drives his own vehicle on these assignments. He always uses his clients' automobiles, which gives him two important advantages: (1) he does not jeopardize his personal insurance when he drives for hire and (2) he's not required — at least in Illinois — to have any operator's license other than the ordinary permit that a private citizen needs to drive a car for personal or pleasure use.
Mr. Dexter realizes at least one other major advantage by limiting his chauffeuring to the operation of vehicles furnished by his customers.
His clients bear all the expense of gasoline, wear and tear on the car, tolls, etc. — all monies that Don receives for his service are his to pocket ... and pay taxes on!
The only direct expense that he must handle is a very personal one: the occasional lunch that Don buys when an assignment keeps him away from home longer than he had anticipated.
Don limits his work to four trips a week (so that he's never too tired to drive safely) and he charges $2.50 an hour for his services.
That's a flat charge, by the way: there's no increase choose exactly when he wants to work. (I assume that Don has some pension and social security income and uses his chauffeur payments mainly as pin money.)

Judging from what Roy French says about Don Dexter, there's even a good probability that the Bloomington entrepreneur figures that his little business pays him in far more than cash.
Mr. Dexter seems to thoroughly enjoy the new friends he makes while performing his duties and he also seems to get a great deal of satisfaction from the knowledge that he contributes a valuable service to his community.
So, Male or female, young or old, if you have a valid driver's license, operate a motor vehicle with some care and are looking for a neat little "home" business of your own ... Don Dexter may have just the idea for you.
For more details about Don Dexter's self-employment enterprise and mini-course in setting up and operating a home-based steno service, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed long envelope to The Mother Earth News, in care The Register and Tribune Syndicate, Des Moines, Iowa 50304. DPS Releases Accident Totals

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated ten accidents on rural highways in Gray County during the month of March, 1974, according to Sergeant D.E. Womack, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.
These crashes resulted in one person killed and one person injured.
The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first three months of 1974 shows a total of 39 accidents resulting in one person killed and 13 persons injured.
The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for March, 1974, shows a total of 395 accidents resulting in 23 persons killed and 172 persons injured — as compared to March, 1973, with 468 accidents resulting in 19 persons killed and 263 persons injured.
This was 73 less accidents, four more killed, and 91 less injured in 1974 at the same period of time.
The 23 traffic deaths for the month of March, 1974, occurred in the following counties: five in Lubbock; four in Hale; two each in Parker and Wichita; and one each in Deaf Smith, Foard, Gray, Hutchinson, Randall, Wheeler, Bailey, Palo Pinto, Terry and Young counties.

Lifting Pro Football TV Blackouts Had Little Effect On Tickets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) says last year's lifting of television blackouts on pro football games had little impact on ticket sales.
But the FCC criticized the National Football League for failing to provide full information on the number of "no-shows," fans who had bought tickets but did not attend games that were shown on local television.

"The anti-blackout law appears to have had minimal impact on the 26 member teams of the National Football League in its first season of operation," the FCC concluded in a report.

"It is unlikely that season ticket sales will be adversely affected by the law because there seems to be an excess demand for tickets."
"In fact, 1973 was the best season ever for the NFL, and early reports on ticket sales for the 1974 season indicate a strong demand for available tickets."

The report said attendance fell less than half of one per cent, and that the only major harm was done to radio broadcasts of football games.

Sawdust Spills Dreaded
NEWPORT, Ore. (UPI) — For oyster growers along the Yaquina River, which empties into the ocean near here, there is something they dread more than an oil spill. It is a sawdust spill.
They say that when wood chips or sawdust from pulp and paper plants get into the river, the oysters generally die trying to ingest the wood residue.

Unemployed Baker Calls A Cardboard Box Home

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Harvey Smith would like to build himself a little hut out of wood with a cardboard roof.

But until he can manage that, he believes he makes out fine in his present home, a cardboard box about the size of a sleeping bag.

Smith, 67, an unemployed baker, sleeps in the box in a heavily wooded vacant lot not too far from downtown Tallahassee.

He does his cooking on a camp stove, but at another vacant lot where there is a water faucet. He says he eats mostly grits, potatoes and oatmeal.

The box, an old appliance container made of two layers of corrugated cardboard, and a sheet of clear plastic, is the only home he can afford on his Social Security income of $136.90 a month.

D&D To Have Program On Soviet Exhibit

The Pampa Desk and Derrick Club will host Jack Reeve, director of Engineering and Development for Cabot Corp's Machinery Division, Monday night a Jim's Steak House.

The meeting will begin with dinner at 7 p.m., followed by a presentation by the guest on his trip to the Soviet Union in October, 1973, where he attended an oil and gas show in Moscow.

His presentation will include slides taken at the Niftagaz (Oil and Gas Show). He was among 10 Cabot officials—who displayed Cabot equipment at the show.

Reeve received a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Oklahoma State University and a master's degree in mechanical engineering from California Technological Institute.

He has been employed with Cabot Corp. for the past 22 years.

Smith is an alias. He has six children and doesn't want to use his real name. He says he hasn't seen his children for quite a while, including a daughter who lives in a "beautiful home" near Atlanta.

He has spinal arthritis and wears an orthopedic brace. He said he was sick recently and had to go to the hospital. Medicare didn't cover all of the treatment, and he's paying off the bill a little bit at a time.

"I had one nickel left in my bank balance last month," he said. "I was cutting it pretty close."

Smith wants to build a little hut out of wood with a cardboard cover and asbestos building paper or plywood to keep out the cold.

The hut may not come for a while and the cardboard box will continue to be home.

"The Lord will take care of me," he says.

Design Studies

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission has entered into contracts totaling about $12.8 million for design work and engineering studies to expand uranium enrichment capacity here and elsewhere.

The AEC has gaseous diffusion plants at Oak Ridge, Paducah, Ky., and Portsmouth, Ohio, which will be modified to boost capacity for preparing fuel for nuclear power plants which are being built or are planned for the future.

The famous Mormon Tabernacle choir has 300 singers.

SENIOR PARTY — Mrs. Byron Kirby, left, and Mrs. Robert Finney are on the local Pampa Panhellenic planning committee, which is sponsoring a casual Coke party for college-bound senior girls. The event will be held today at 2 p.m. at 2101 Christine, and is designed to answer some of the questions students may have about sorority life. Pantsuits or short outfits are appropriate for the occasion, and all interested girls are invited to attend.

TO PHASE OUT ALLOWANCE

Mahon Expecting Congress To Pass Bill On Oil Taxes

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI) — Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., said he expects Congress to pass a compromise oil tax bill, which would eventually phase out the oil depletion allowance.

"The final outcome is not predictable, but without a doubt, a majority vote can be mustered in Congress to eliminate or phase out the oil depletion allowance and to impose some sort of windfall profits tax," Mahon said.

Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, spoke to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which heard Gov. Dolph Briscoe Friday. Mahon said Congress is debating a number of oil-related issues, including a House Ways and Means Committee proposal which he said would reduce the income of the oil industry by $16 billion over the next six years.

He said the proposal would phase out the oil depletion allowance, tax windfall profits and raise taxes on U.S. companies drilling overseas.

Mahon said several senior members of the Senate are sponsoring a measure to establish a federal oil and gas corporation, which, he said, would "put the government in the oil and gas business and he said, would "put the government in the oil and gas business and would appear to be the first step toward nationalization."

"We must block this measure at all costs and we think we can," he said. Mahon described the atmosphere in Washington as "dark" toward the oil and gas industry, but is changing because of the energy crisis.

"Everyone is trying to blame everyone else for the crisis," he said, "and in reality there's probably enough blame for everyone to have at least a little. But no amount of blame produces any additional energy."

Woman Major Contender In Elections Of Colombia

BOGOTA (UPI) — Colombians choose a new leader today in the first presidential election in the Americas, featuring a woman as a major contender.

ALAT Reports Large Increase For TB Cases

American Lung Association of Texas today reported that statistics on reported cases of tuberculosis throughout the state are making a definite climb, with 85 cases of the disease reported in Texas for the first week of April.

Gray County representative on the Top of Texas area program board of ALAT is Miss Vermell Meador, R.N.

"For awhile, the five year median was stabilized at about fifty cases of tuberculosis per week," Miss Meador said. "Because of the increase in reported cases, that median has now climbed to 68 cases."

The Lung Association's medical division, the American Thoracic Society, has advocated that physicians include the Mantoux tuberculin test as a part of the standard physical examination, that positive reactors be x-rayed for signs of lung disease, and that individuals considered to be at high risk of developing TB be treated preventively with daily doses of INH for a year.

"A lot of people have been under the false impression that TB is a thing of the past," the Christmas Seal spokesman said. "This unfortunately just isn't so. I am reminded of that period in our history when we thought we had VD whipped, too."

The vote, marked by the end of a 16-year-old power-sharing agreement between the two major parties, was the most wide-open Colombian presidential election in decades.

The traditional Liberal and Conservative parties, which governed in a coalition since 1958, ended their National Front this year to campaign separately. The move was expected to give other contenders a better chance.

By far the most dynamic of the third party challengers was Maria Eugenia Rojas, the 42-year old daughter of former dictator Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla and mother of two teenage sons.

Known throughout the country simply as "Maria Eugenia," she was heading a coalition movement called the Popular Alliance, which has promised steps to aid the poor.

Most political commentators, however, have named Liberal candidate Alfonso Lopez Michelsen, a 60-year-old lawyer, as the favorite, with Conservative Alvaro Gomez Hurtado, 34, a close second.

Both are both sons of former presidents. Polls gave little chance to the Communist-backed candidate, Hernando Echeverri Mejia, 53, or to Christian Democrat Hermes Duarte Arias, a 34-year-old engineer.

Campaigning by Colombian standards was relatively peaceful until Thursday, when one student was killed in a riot between rival factions of rockthrowing students at the National University in Bogota. The Defense Ministry said the 18-year-old victim was killed accidentally by a police rubber riot bullet that struck his chest and caused internal bleeding.

The electoral abstention rate, running between 60 to 70 per cent in recent years, was expected to be less than usual Sunday among Colombia's 8,549,830 eligible voters because of the variety of candidates.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

Maureen Interested In 'Awards'

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — This being the Award Season, chums of Maureen Stapleton are pushing for an Emmy nomination for her for the recent "Tell Me Where It Hurts" T.V. but I found her more interested in announcing the "Maureen Awards" which we made up quickly sitting at a table in a restaurant which wouldn't be serving for a couple of hours.
"This place is so chic it hasn't opened yet," Maureen said. "That's what you think of me. You invite me to a place that's closed!"
Maureen is like that — instead of proclaiming the greatness of the TV show, she said she wished somebody else would explain it.
"It's what they used to call 'slice-of-life,'" she said. "Middle-aged ladies recovering from their problems — their kids are grown up and don't need them, their husbands don't need them. One of them goes back to college. Her husband says, 'You'll be 50 when you graduate.' She says, 'Well, I'll be 50 anyway.'"
"CBS decided to rerun it," a gal press agent informed Maureen.
"Not so soon?" Maureen said, then shrugged.
When I asked Maureen whom she would give awards to, who were her favorite performers, she said, "I've got 30 at least."
"Kim Stanley" was the first name out of her mouth. "Julie Harris, Ann Bancroft, Colleen Dewhurst, Katherine Cornell... People I'd run across the street in a blizzard to see... Buddy shoes or grow beards to be eccentric but he's REALLY eccentric. He really hears a different drum...

Maureen said she should have had Helen Hayes up top, also Nicol Williamson, Ricardo Montalban, and Ed Flanders... "he acts fast... and fast acting is good acting. If you're good and you go fast, you're better."
"No," I said, though I shouldn't have. "Henry Fonda is a slow actor."
"No," Maureen retorted. "It just seems slow. He ain't slow."
Maureen said she had a lot more. "The trouble with this is you leave out so many. I've got a million of them..."
"You said you'd do 30," I mentioned. "Well, you've got over 40 now..."
"BOYER!" she howled at me.
"Are there any phony actors?"
"Anybody's a real phony, the word gets around. One of the greats is Colleen Dewhurst. I'm not a great O'Neill devotee but she speaks his lines so great, like she's saying, 'Would you give me a cup of coffee?'"
"THE WEEKEND WINDUP"
— Vivian Blaine, back from a 73-night tour in "Twigs," says she's writing a cookbook: "The Hot Plate Circuit and How to Survive It" ... Shelby Friedman's waiting for Dyan Cannon to marry Moshe Dayan — so she'll be Dyan Dayan ... Ann Wedgeworth of "Thieves" will play Carroll O'Connor's wife in the "Law and Order" film.
When Dr. Garrett O'Connor is asked if he approves of his wife, actress Fionnuala Flanagan, appearing nude in "Ulysses in Nighttown," he says, "I do. One of my principles is never to interfere with an act of courage." ... Joan Byron, who swings naked from a chandelier in Tom Stoppard's play "Jumpers," was once a trapeze performer with the Ringling Bros. circus.

If you see an "M. Philip" on a hotel register, that may be Mick Jagger. ("Philip" is his middle name) ... Van Rapoport, shipping his horse to Greece for several shows, tried to give his home town a better image — changed the animal's name from Spindletop 'Sin City to Spindletop Fun City.
I'D RATHER BE LIGHT
Today's Best Laugh: Max Morath saw "The Great Gatsby" and says it made him nostalgic, all right — for the days of $2 admission tickets.
Wish I'd Said That — Bob Orben's description of a bore: "He has all the impact of a streaker in a nudist camp."
Remembered Quote: "There must be a lot of good left in some people, because none of it ever gets out."
— L.S. McCandless
Earl's Pearls: Argentinean singer Alberto Arcochi explained why he never aspired to a government post: "In South America singers last longer than politicians."
The season's begun again, and Mike Vogel says he heard a woman ask a perfume counter clerk, "What do you have that'll compete with three hours of baseball on TV?"
That's earl, brother.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Care Needed For Ear Infections

By G.C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes ear infection and what is a simple remedy to make one more comfortable until you can get to a doctor?
I have two small boys who get such infections. The doctor tells us to bring them in, but they do plenty of suffering before they get there.
— Mrs. R.F.
It can be as painful to watch a child suffer as it is for the child. I think...
I won't pin ear infections down to any single cause, because there can be different ones, but the most common source is infection originating in the throat or nasopharynx (back of the throat). This quite commonly means infections in enlarged tonsils or adenoids.
The infection reaches the ear through the small Eustachian tube which runs from the throat to the middle ear. In turn, the infection can cause fluid formation in the middle ear (called serous otitis). There may be pus formation in the ear.
Pressure builds up and the ear drum is red and bulging, and that is when the pain comes. And stays.
Quite aside from the pain, this condition can damage hearing permanently, so it should be treated at the earliest possible moment.

In some instances, not treated, the ear drum may burst or puncture, and while this will relieve the pressure and the pain, damage to the hearing is the long-term risk.
For home treatment until you can get the youngster to the doctor, there isn't a great deal you can do. Applying heat to the ear is about all, other than giving aspirin or its equivalent, which should be done.
Heat can be applied either with a hot water bottle or by warm drops in the ear canal. Sweet oil or a preparation called Aurigan can be warmed in a teaspoon and several drops put into the ear canal with the youngster lying on his side. Warm — but naturally not hot enough to burn.
The pain of serous otitis is relieved promptly when the doctor lances the ear drum — a process which of course should never be attempted at home.
Following that, a sulfa preparation or an antibiotic is necessary if there has been pus formation.

The Woman's View

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Don't belittle the plots of soap operas. They're a mirror of what's going on. And one of the things going on is the woman's liberation movement, definitely reflected in the daytime serials.
Ask Mary Stuart, who's played one leading lady role for 23 years in the "soaps" — Joanne Tate in "Search for Tomorrow" — about how Lib has affected story lines and she answers:
"I think that over-all the series reflect what's going on today. Wives reflect it. We're freer, we're having more fun. Our show has one liberationist character. She's married, she had an abortion before her marriage, she has her career as a lawyer."
"The woman I play used to be a matronly old frump at age 22. She never went any place. Now she has moved out into the world, has a position as a personnel director. She's having fun. She used to wear house dresses. Now she wears Halstons."
Ms. Stuart has played the Joanne Tate role since the CBS-TV series went on the air in 1951, a first in the then-new medium.
As the show has grown with the years, so has Mary Stuart grown in her outlook. "I feel different about myself," she said. "I've stopped playing roles in my own life. I've stopped being nervous about things. I listen. When I talk to young people about acting, I tell them, 'Listen. Listen.'"
"When I was married, I used to turn my paycheck over to my husband, then ask him for a dollar for lunch."
"Dumb! A man's ego doesn't need that."
Ms. Stuart's marriage broke up 10 years ago and the divorce started her on a second career in music.
Her children, Cynthia, now 18, and Jeffrey, 17, had given her a guitar for Christmas.
"I needed company," she said, "and a guitar is a lot of company."
She also turned to singing and composing. Now, Bell Records has issued her first album, with the actress singing many of her own compositions. She also books an occasional benefit concert and a recent one at Catawba College in North Carolina was a sellout.

Likewise some folks brew saffras tea.
And — does your daughter know this? — root beer is made from saffras root.
Saffras may be mildly laxative, but I don't know of any harm healthwise.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: I take vitamin E and can buy synthetic for about half the cost of natural vitamin E. The man who sold me natural vitamins told me the synthetic is like using a "fake product" without the main ingredients. Please don't give me a middle of the road answer.
— M.L.
Vitamins are definite chemical substances, and how they are derived doesn't matter. As you've noted, the price is quite different, but the vitamin is not.
"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's newly revised booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to him in care of Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.
Dr. Thosteson is happy to receive readers' questions and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, he regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

TOMA Upset With Review

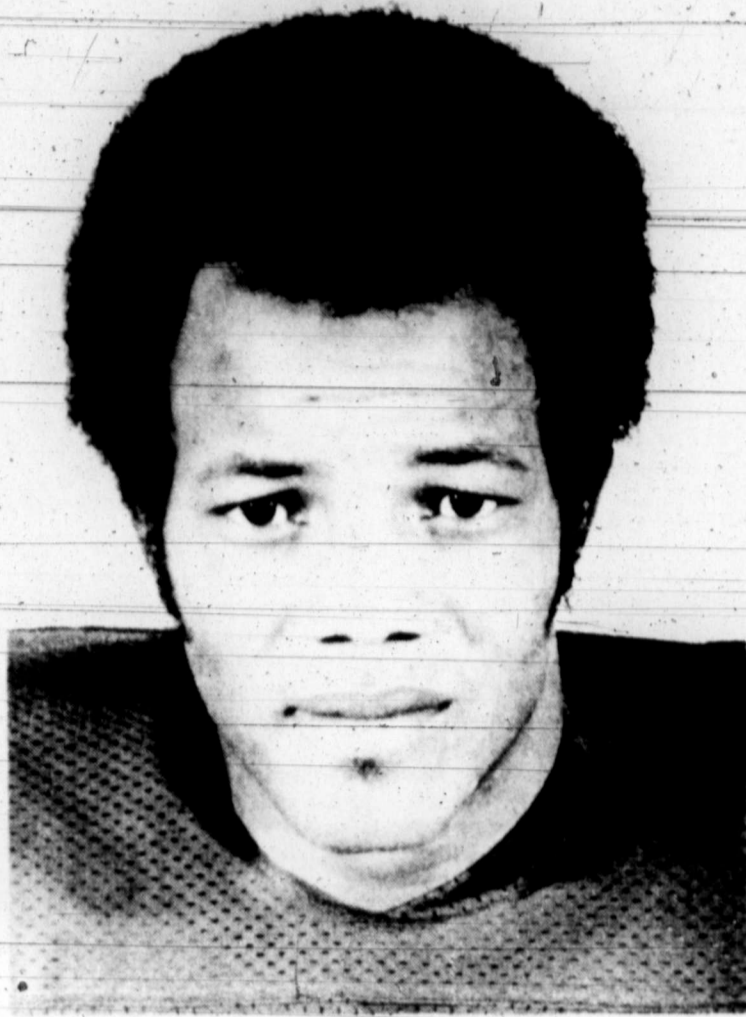

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — The outgoing president of the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association is upset with a federal government review of confidential medical records.
Dr. John H. Boyd of Silverton said the study started Jan. 1 by the Professional Standards Review Organization (PSRO).
"We are told that his wholesale invasion of confidential records by HEW's unselected army of bureaucrats is necessary for HEW to establish and computerize norms of health care based on typical patterns of health care," Boyd said in a statement Wednesday.
Boyd said the review will waste millions of rollards and hurt the quality of medical practice. He said the Texas medical industry has offered a plan to streamline the PSRO program that will be more acceptable to state doctors.

The Pros Are Coming April 29

Professional athletes, all football players, along with a few of the top businessmen in the country and a couple of touted amateur athletes will be in the Panhandle April 29-May 5.

The week has been designated Athletes in Action Week in Amarillo, according to Charles Sturges, who is in charge of public relations for Athletes in Action (AIA) in the area.

AIA is the athletic ministry of Campus Crusade for Christ International, an interdenominational Christian movement of students and laymen who have united to help change the world in this generation through introducing others to the message of Jesus Christ.

Top sports figures, both pro and amateur athletes, have been made available to high school and college assemblies, men's clubs, youth groups, church services and banquets through the AIA speaking program.

"It looks like we will send one pro athlete, one amateur athlete and one businessman to Pampa," said Sturges.

Sturges anticipates, although it is not yet decided, the three-man group will be in Pampa May 3. The group will speak at the high school, junior high and Kiwanis Club noon luncheon.

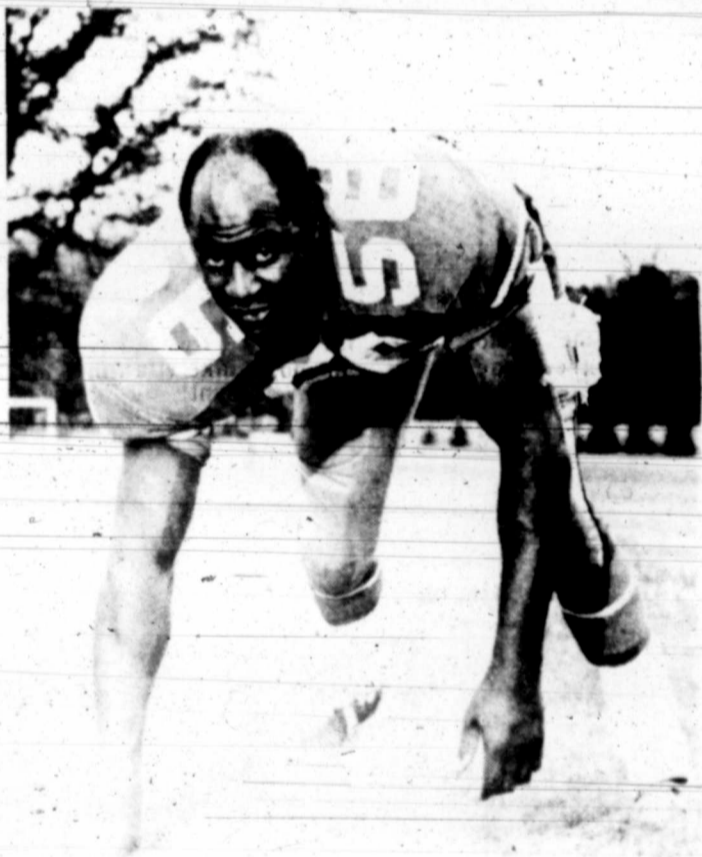

"We might go ahead and send two pros, nothing has been decided about that yet either," Sturges said.

The pro football players who will be in the Amarillo area are Greg Brezina, Atlanta Falcon linebacker; Don Bunce, Vancouver, B.C. (CFL) quarterback (retired); Norm Evans, Miami Dolphin offensive tackle; Kenny Houston, Washington Redskin safety; Greg Marx, Atlanta Falcon defensive tackle; Mike McCoy, Green Bay Packer defensive tackle; Ed Mooney, Washington Redskin linebacker; Dennis Pete, Denver Bronco defensive back (retired with Broncos and will now play with the WFL Florida Sharks); Al Randolph, Minnesota Viking defensive back; Jim Sullivan, Los Angeles (WFL) defensive end; and Mike Wilson, Vancouver (CFL) defensive back.

Weightlifter Dan Hollis of the University of Idaho will be the top amateur athlete coming to the Panhandle.

The pro football players will play the West Texas State All Stars, who will be coached by Buffalo coach Gene Mayfield, in a flag football game at 7:30 p.m. May 4 in Kimbrough Memorial Stadium at Canyon. The All Stars will probably be Buffalo football players but the names have not been released.

Tickets will be sold for $2.00 to adults and $1.00 to students. Children under six will be admitted free.

Long Birdie Putt On 18 Keeps Oosterhuis Ahead

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI) — England's Peter Oosterhuis rammed home a 25-foot birdie putt on the last hole Saturday to finish one stroke ahead of Californian Al Geiberger and save his lead in the third round of the Monsanto Open.

Geiberger, never a winner since capturing the PGA Championship eight years ago, appeared to have caught frontrunner Oosterhuis when he fired a 5-under-par 66 into the teeth of a brisk breeze over the tricky little Pensacola Country Club course.

But Oosterhuis, who began the third round with a three-stroke lead over then runnerup Lee Elder, was able to stay in front despite a 1-over-par round, with a three-day total of 8-under-par 205.

Elder, complaining that the greens were so hard that he didn't dare take any chances, shot an even-par 71 Saturday and settled for third place at 207, a stroke behind Geiberger. Geiberger also complained about the hard greens. But the 36-year-old tour veteran, ran off a string of four straight birdies by placing a series of approach shots close to the pin.

Defense Shines At A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — The No. 1 defense continued to shine as Texas A&M went through its third spring football scrimmage Saturday.

Led by end Don Long and linebacker Ed Simonini, the defensive unit allowed the No. 2 offense only one first down in nine possessions. Long recovered three fumbles and Simonini intercepted a pass.

The No. 1 offense scored four times in nine possessions with running backs Skip Walker and Ronnie Hubby scoring two touchdowns each.

Red Raiders Have A Way To Go Yet

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — Sophomore quarterback Don Roberts of Seminole completed six of 10 passes and scored two touchdowns Saturday while leading the Texas Tech Red Raiders football team in a controlled scrimmage.

Roberts carried the No. 1 unit to two touchdowns in four drives and rushed for 49 yards on nine carries. He scored on runs of nine and two yards.

Sophomore Greg Frazier of Iowa Park ran the No. 2 unit and hit six of 13 passes for 49 yards. He ran for 56 yards on eight carries.

Marc Pace of Fort Worth carried eight times for 41 yards and an 11-yard touchdown. Sophomore Jimmy Williams of Garland carried four times for 23 yards.

"We still have lots to accomplish, but I was especially pleased with Roberts," said Coach Jim Harlin. "He was the bright spot today for us."

Sox 5, Indians 1

BOSTON (UPI) — Bernie Carbo and Doug Griffin both delivered run-producing doubles in a three-run first inning Saturday as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians, 5-1.

Luis Tiant, who won 20 games for Boston last season, picked up his first this year against a loss, going the distance, allowing nine hits and striking out nine.

Pampa Ninth Triumphs In N. Zone Track Meet

Pampa Junior High's ninth grade track team garnered 172 1/2 points to take first place in the North Zone Junior High Track Meet held yesterday at Randy Matson Track.

Finishing second in the ninth grade division of the meet was Perryton with 154 points, followed by Dumas with 118 1/2 and Berger with 35.

Perryton took the eighth grade team championship with 171 points, followed by Berger South 108, Berger North 104, Dumas 62 and Pampa 52.

In the seventh grade division in which Pampa does not compete, Perryton won with 157 1/2 points, followed by Dumas 134, Berger South 102 and Berger North 80.

Pampa tracksters rolled up six first in winning the ninth grade title. Benny Fallon won the long jump with a leap of 19'7 1/2". The sprint relay team of Brian Caldwell, Eddie Brown, David Caldwell and Ricky Moore won in a time of 47.3 and Ricky Vanhooser won the 100 yard dash in 14.3. Phil Caldwell won the shot put with 53.4.

Meet results follow, with first places and Pampa approach shots close to the pin. "When you get it going, it just seems to start happening," said Geiberger. "When you don't, making four straight putts seems impossible. It's been so long since I've won. I've just got to go out Sunday and play as hard as I can and hope the other guys make the mistakes. I'm not a gambler and I can't afford to be too bold. I have to try to keep control of myself."

Oosterhuis, who will return to England next week if he doesn't win here and earn a berth in the Tournament of Champions, noted that the course was playing much more difficult Saturday than in the first two rounds.

"I'm obviously disappointed," he said. "But, I'm still in the lead and that's better than not being in the lead."

Mathis Hurt, Tracksters Don't Qualify

LUBBOCK — Pampa quartermiler Steve Mathis once again pulled a hamstring muscle during the running of the open quarter here Saturday to shatter his hopes and those of the mile relay team to go to the state meet in Austin.

Mathis was coming out of the first curve during the running of the 440-yard dash when he pulled the muscle. He went ahead and finished the race, coach Scott Dunnam said, but he was out of the mile relay where he was to run Pampa's anchor leg.

Juniors Noel Hansen and Howie Lewis ran career bests in their individual specialties but did not qualify for the state meet.

Hansen ran a 1:57.2 to finish fourth in the 880-yard dash while Lewis was fifth in the 330-intermediate hurdles race in 40.2.

Sophomore Barry Lemmons was subbed on the mile relay team with Chuck Quarles, Lewis and Hansen. They finished in sixth place with a time of 3:29.0. El Paso Borges won the mile relay with a time of 3:20.9.

Dunnam said he felt that Mathis and the mile relay team had a good chance to qualify for the state meet before the Harvester quartermiler suffered the recurrence of the crippling leg injury which had hampered him most of the year.

The four-man Pampa contingent to the regional meet and Dunnam returned to Pampa last night.

UTEP Loses 2

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — The New Mexico Lobos, behind some solid clutch pitching, stopped University of Texas-El Paso 3-2 and 9-4 in a Western Athletic Conference doubleheader Saturday.

Ron Adair went all the way to win the opener, limiting the Miners to seven hits. The Lobos scored all their runs in the second inning after spotting UTEP a 2-0 lead.

New Mexico, trailing 1-0 in the nightcap, exploded for five runs in the bottom of the fourth then added three more in the eighth inning to wrap up the win.

Base Record Set

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) — Ricky Brockway broke the national record for stolen bases, stealing his 60th of the season in 64 tries to help Pan American defeat Hardin-Simmons 13-0 Saturday.

Brockway became the first NCAA major college player ever to steal 60 bases in one season. The old record was 59 by Bobby Waits of Washington State in 1971.

Pan American now is 46-8 for the season.

Texan Sandra Haynie Leads Tourney By 1

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Texan Sandra Haynie, winless since undergoing hand surgery last October, fired a three-under-par 69 Saturday for a 54-hole total of 215 and a one shot lead in the $200,000 Colgate-Dinah Shore Winners Circle golf tournament.

The 30-year-old veteran from Dallas, taking dead aim on the $32,000 first prize here, carded four birdies and had only one bogey over the par 72, 6,382-yard Mission Hills Country Club course.

"I'm not back at full strength yet," said a happy Miss Haynie, "but the pain is all gone. My hand feels good. It really does."

Miss Haynie, who started the day four shots behind co-leaders Judy Rankin and Jo Ann Prentice, said it would take "at least a 70" to win the third annual tournament, the richest in Ladies Professional Golf Association history.

"Of course," she added quickly, "that's if the weather stays nice. As you know, the weather is very unpredictable at Palm Springs this time of the year."

"When we started the day it was blowing and cold today and it turned out to be gorgeous."

One shot back of the bespectacled leader were three players, including the 31-year-old Miss Prentice, who had a two-over 74.

Longhorns Beat Froggies Twice

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Texas overcame a three-run deficit in the first game Saturday to drop Texas Christian 10-4, then added an 8-2 nightcap win to sweep the Horned Frogs.

Longhorn pitcher Jim Gideon broke a Southwest Conference record for most victories, picking up his tenth SWC win and his fifteenth overall against no losses, when he hurled the first game Horn win.

Richard Wortham, who also had four hits as a designated hitter, won the second game with a three-hitter.

Texas is now 18-3 in SWC play and 40-3 for the year, while TCU is 11-10 and 28-17.

A&M And Rice Split Series In Baseball

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Texas A&M and Rice split a waterlogged doubleheader Saturday afternoon with the Owls taking the opener 6-4 and A&M winning the nightcap 7-4. There were three rain delays during the twinbill.

Home runs by Joe Zyka and Mike Macha and the pitching of Mike Pettit keyed the first game win for the Owls. Macha's solo shot off A&M reliever Jim Wallace in the fifth inning broke a 4-4 tie. Pettit needed relief help from Tommy Smart to pick up his ninth win of the season against three defeats.

Catcher Tommy Hawthorne and leftfielder Paul Miller each drove in a pair of runs for A&M in the second game as David Lockett gained the win in relief of starter Jackie Binks.

Caprock Blitzes Pampa High In 3-AAAA Loop Action, 17-10

Pampa High School's diamond grew used three pitchers against Caprock Friday in District 3-AAAA baseball action, but the Longhorns whipped out 15 hits off the trio enroute to a 17-10 victory.

Both teams committed numerous errors in the game which was stopped four times because of weather conditions. The game was delayed three times by rain and once by hail.

The Longhorns made five fielding bobbles while the host Harvesters committed three. The win kept the Caprock bunch atop of the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm for the loop title. The loss dropped Pampa to 3-3 mark in league play.

Caprock's biggest inning came in the second when they got nine runs off Pampa starter David Edwards, who entered the game with a 1.30 earned run average. Eight of those second inning runs were earned. The Harvesters other hurlers were Tommy Washington and Dennis Edmondson.

Pampa scored twice in the second on a home run by Joe Watkins and a tally by Washington who was knocked in on a single by shortstop Toddy Black.

Consecutive home runs by Steve Marcum and Gerald Nipp in the third gave Caprock an 11-2 lead. The Harvesters then came back to score three runs in the bottom of that frame to trail by only six.

The Pampa squad drew to within one run of the visitors in the last of the fifth with a five-run scoring surge highlighted by Black's three-run homer to straightaway centerfield.

Caprock came back from the one-run, 11-10 lead to cop three runs in the sixth and three more in the seventh to close out the scoring. Several players hit well for the Longhorns. Marcum was 3-for-5 with four RBIs. Pat Ledbetter went 2-for-4 with three runs batted in and Bobby Stewart went 3-for-3 at the plate.

Black led the Harvesters Political Coach TORONTO (UPI) — Red Kelly, current coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs, served as a member of the Canadian Parliament from 1962-65.

Tennis' Mr. Methodical Laver Moves Into Finals

HOUSTON (UPI) — Methodical Rod Laver quickly disposed of Onny Parun 6-3, 6-1 Saturday with pinpoint passing shots and young Swede Bjorn Borg walloped Eddie Dibbs 6-3, 6-1 to set up Sunday's finals of the $50,000 River Oaks-American General Tennis Tournament.

Laver needed only 45 minutes to knock off Parun and take his 14th straight World Championship Tennis match.

Laver, already assured of a spot in the WCT finals in Dallas, continually blasted shots past the over-aggressive Parun when the New Zealander charged the net. He broke Parun's service twice in the first set and four times in the second set.

"It was good to get some feel back," Laver said. "I've been playing most of the year without having any feel as to where the ball was going. I was hitting the ball quite well, not good."

In the second semifinals match, Borg, 17, stayed back and forced Dibbs into making mistakes at the baseline. The Floridian couldn't keep up with Borg's long-reaching crosscourt shots.

In Sunday's finals, Borg will take his two-fisted backhand against the man who was his hero as a child. "Laver's playing well. We're both playing well," the lanky blond said. "I hope it's going to be a good match. When I first started playing tennis, he was my idol. I always talked about him."

Laver, 35, the winner of three previous River Oaks titles, has met Borg twice this season. They split those matches.

KC Ends Its Loss Streak

CHICAGO (UPI) — The pitching of Paul Spittorf and Lindy McDaniel plus Cookie Rojas' three-run homer helped Kansas City end its four-game losing streak Saturday as the Royals bombed the Chicago White Sox, 7-3.

The Royals, collecting only seven hits, sent southpaw Wilbur Wood to his fourth loss of the year against one victory thanks to a four-run fifth inning.

The Royals scored a run in the third inning on a single by Vada Pinson and Fernando Gonzalez' double off the centerfield fence.

Then in the fourth, the Royals made a leadoff single by Jim Wohlford blossom into a run. Wohlford stole second, took third on a long fly and scored on Hal McRae's sacrifice fly.

The Royals scored four times in the fifth inning after Pinson drew Wood's only walk. Singles by Gonzalez and Al Cowens scored one run and then Rojas drove his first homer of the year into the leftfield bleachers to send Wood to the showers.

The Sox scored their three runs in the fifth on a single by Chuck Brinkman, Buddy Bradford's third homer of the year and Dick Allen's third homer of the year.

Spittorf pitched the first 6-2-3 innings to receive credit for his first win of the year against one loss.

Los Angeles Drops San Francisco, 4-2

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Joe Ferguson and Bill Russell smashed back-to-back homers to lead off the fifth inning Saturday as the Los Angeles Dodgers helped lefthander Tommy John to his fourth victory of the season with a 4-2 triumph over San Francisco Giants in a Nationally Televised Game.

John went the first seven innings to become the first major league hurler to win four games this season. The Dodger southpaw has now captured his last nine decisions in a row dating back to a loss last August 10th against Philadelphia. John yielded 10 hits and struck out eight before giving way to Mike Marshall.

The first home runs of the season by both Ferguson and Russell came on consecutive pitches by righthander Jim Willoughby to snap a 1-1 tie.

Los Angeles added an insurance run off Elias Sosa in the seventh inning. First baseman Dave Kingman's costly throwing error on a relay throw from the outfield allowed Ferguson to score from third, after a single by pinch-hitter Many Mota.

The Giants had utilized bloop singles by their first three batters in the first inning for a quick 1-0 lead. But San Francisco lost a run in the third inning when Garry Maddox missed touching third base after apparently scoring on a single by Steve Ontiveros. Maddox had doubled with two outs but the alert Ron Cey saved the Dodgers a run.

Cey's double was the key to a Los Angeles run in the bottom of the fourth inning. His twobagger down the leftfield line came after a walk to Jim Wynn.

Last Minute Touchdown Puts Steaks On Tables

IRVING, Tex. (UPI) — SMU Football Coach Dave Smith had to double his beef order Saturday as the Reds and the Whites battled to a 28-28 tie in the steak and bean bowl at Texas Stadium.

The winners of the game were to feast on steaks while the losers ate beans, but a two-yard run by Danny Browning as time ran out and an extra point by Clint Hackney gave the Reds a tie and the opportunity to share in the steak dinner.

"This was the most enthusiasm and best hitting of any college squad I've ever been associated with," said a pleased Smith after the scrimmage. "Everybody is going to eat steak now."

Browning's run tied the game and the Reds were attempting a two-point play and an outright win when they were signaled for delay of game. They had to settle for the extra point and a tie.

David Bostick paced the days' rushers for the Whites with 122 yards on 20 carries. Halfback Rex Garner gained 94 for the Whites. Paul Sturdivant picked up 68. Bill Ball had 60, and Ricky Wesson gained 58 on only seven carries.

Jabbar And Bucks Roll To 3-0 Lead

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and the Milwaukee Bucks, aided by a temper tantrum by Chicago Bulls Coach Dick Motta, rolled over the Bulls 113-90 Saturday to take a 3-0 lead in their best of seven National Basketball Association Western Conference playoff series.

It was the fifth straight playoff win for the Bucks — now only one win away from a berth in the final playoff series.

Milwaukee led almost the entire game, but the outcome still was in doubt until late in the third quarter when the Bulls' Chet Walker pulled down a rebound and started up court but ran into Jabbar.

Charging was called on Walker and Motta was called for a technical when he stepped out on the court to protest Oscar Robertson made a free throw and Motta continued to complain.

Motta finally took off his coat and threw it at referee Earl Strom, drawing a second technical and Robertson made the shot again.

Strom threw the coat back at Motta. Motta threw it back and pushed Strom before heading to the Bulls' locker room. As he left, the Bulls' mascot, Bennie the Bull, rushed out onto the floor and started complaining to Strom.

Strom then threw him out of the game. The mascot left under police guard and the protest continued from the Bulls' bench.

Slightly more than a minute later, Jerry Sloan was ousted after complaining loudly to Strom about the call. Sloan, who was out with an injury, did not suit up for the game.

Cliff Drysdale Powers His Way To Tennis Semis

JOHANNESBURG (UPI) — South Africa's Cliff Drysdale Saturday powered his way into the semi-finals of the World Championship Tennis (WCT) tournament at Ellis Park by trouncing South Africa's Deon Joubert, 6-0, 6-1.

Drysdale bullied the youngster, only 19, with his powerful serve and two-fisted backhand, showing no mercy for the aspirant who always had modeled himself on the experienced Drysdale.

"I knew exactly where to place my shots for his backhand," said Drysdale, who then invited the teenager to play in the United States.

Drysdale told reporters he is nervous about meeting Rhodesia's Andrew Pattison in the semi-finals. Pattison earlier this month defeated Romania's Ilie Nastase in the final of the Monte Carlo WCT contest.

Pampa's Girl Linksters Finish Sixth In District

TASCOSA'S girls golf team captured the District 3-AAAA crown for the second year in a row Friday in the final round of league play at Amarillo's Ross Rogers Municipal Course. The Rebel girls ended the four-round district schedule with 1,499 strokes.

Amarillo High B team was second with 1,536 strokes followed by the Sandie A team in third with 1,595.

Other finishing places were Palo Duro 1,635; Borger 1,694; Pampa 1,741; Tascosa B 1,785; Palo Duro B 1,848; Caprock 1,850 and Borger B 1,891.

Tascosa had the low round on the final day with 375. They were followed by Amarillo High B 376, Amarillo High 388, Palo Duro 410, Borger 429, Caprock 437, Palo Duro B 439, Tascosa B 439, Pampa 445 and Borger B 476.

Amarillo High's Kim Snook, who played for Tascosa last year and was a top golfer that season, was district medalist for the season at 351. She had Friday's low round with an 86.

Next for the season were Patty Loehr, Tascosa, 357, and Donna Avery, Tascosa, 374.

Tascosa and the AHS B team qualified for the regional tournament in Abilene, April 25-26, as did Misses Snook and Loehr.

Pampa's totals in Friday play were Debbie Thompson 100, Gail Simon 105, Serena Shearer 109 and Gerilyn Hills 131. In singles play Sharon White had a 124.

Pampa's Paula Simpson and Giselle Hudson both had to withdraw from play Friday because of illness.

Pampa coach Tom Lindsey said three of the girls on this year's team will return and six freshman girls have signed up for golf next year.

How would you like to be recognized for that big fish that you might catch this year?

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. has two different award programs underway. One award issued by the department is a certificate of state record. If you catch a fish weighing more than the present state record and you follow the instructions for submitting information about this fish, you will receive a document stating that you hold the present state record for that species.

A standard "Form for Submitting Record Fish" is available from most waterfront businesses or the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. Information that must be filled in includes: name of angler; permanent address; phone number; location of scales; type and capacity of scales; Texas Dept. of Agriculture certification number and date; weighmaster's name and signature; names, signatures and address of two disinterested witnesses to weighing.

Notarized signed statement by angler that the fish described was hooked, fought and landed by him without assistance and that all other information submitted is true and correct, and a clear photograph showing full length of fish in relation to angler or other recognizable object.

All species submitted for freshwater and saltwater divisions must be taken on rod and reel only.

McPhillips' Bird Sets Club Record In ToT Competition

R.W. McPhillips had the two fastest pigeons in the "B" race and the fastest pigeon in the "A" race Saturday in the Top O' Texas Pigeon Club Clovis, N.M. to Pampa race.

McPhillips' winner in the "B" race, a Blue Bar Cock, set a new club record with a 2:08.36 yards per minute, clocking. That was well above the clocking of his winning bird in the "A" race, a Blue Check Cock, which clocked 2:07.79 yards per minute.

The "A" pigeons were released at 8 o'clock and the winning bird reached its coop in Pampa at 10:06 a.m.

The "B" pigeons were set free at 9 o'clock and the winning bird reached its coop at 11:05 a.m.

The next club race will be next Saturday from Roswell, N.M. to Pampa.

Here's a great tip for all you golfers... The immortal Walter Hagen, who was one of the top golfers of all-time, once said that the one piece of philosophy that helped him more than anything else was this thought which he always kept in mind: The thought is this — "There's no such thing as a perfect round of golf. It's normal to make some bad shots. When you make a bad shot, force yourself to forget it and go on to the next shot." Hagen said surprisingly few people do this, but if you adopt this philosophy, you'll automatically be a better golfer.

Statistics say that the odds against picking the exact finish of all 24 teams in both major leagues of baseball are more than 13-Trillion to One!

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL Executive Secretary ARC

Another $25 came into our office for the disaster caused by the tornadoes in the Midwestern states which brings our total to $201 from Gray County. We wish to thank all of the people who gave to this terrible catastrophe.

The Water Safety class, taught by Jack Chisum, continues each Tuesday evening from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. Chisum has eight persons in his class and they have two more lessons. Thanks to all of you who are taking the course and to the instructor who teaches the class.

The 1974 National Aquatic School will begin June 2-9 at Southwestern State College at Weatherford, Okla., with a fee of $65 for the seven-day period. Persons who are qualified and who are interested in taking First Aid and Water Safety Instructor work should come to the Red Cross office and fill out an application to go to this camp.

All of the schools will be held in June this year except one Aug. 19-29 at Camp Nicolet, Eagle River, Wis., for handicapped swimming.

We have received an invitation to the Greater Amarillo Chapter American Red Cross to their annual dinner meeting on Monday, April 29, at the Hilton Inn, 1-40 East, with Bill Butler, co-ordinator of defense and disaster relief as the guest speaker. Time - 7 p.m., with plate dinner for $4.75.

Please make your reservations through our office by April 25.

Mrs. Jean Duke, who works in the Girls Scout office and lives in Borger, was good enough to take 10 water safety and Life Saving textbooks back to the Hutchinson Co. Chapter for us. Thanks, Jean, for helping us.

Zeb's crime may intrigue your diagnostic skill. In the courtroom, a "crime of passion" is often used to mitigate a husband's slaying of his wife's lover. And "temporary insanity" is a common plea. Is Zeb a "temporary psychopath?"

CASE A-612: Zeb J., aged 47, has been a church treasurer for 15 years.

"Dr. Crane," one of his church associates informed me, "Zeb has been a pillar of our church. He has even taught a Bible Class for the past 8 years."

"But we have started a building fund for our new church, to be erected in the suburbs."

"And suddenly we find a shortage of $23,000 between Zeb's books and the actual amount in the bank."

"Zeb makes no attempt to explain this discrepancy and seems to be totally indifferent to the fact he must be guilty."

"What could make a man suddenly go haywire regarding his former moral behavior?"

TEMPORARY INSANITY—You readers are quite familiar with the plea of "temporary insanity" cited in defense of homicide.

If a moral husband comes home to find his wife having an affair with an intruder, he may kill the strange man.

And this is often excused in part on the grounds of a "crime of passion."

"I was temporarily insane," he may argue.

And such "crimes of passion" are regarded more leniently than long premeditated or cold-blooded murder.

So this idea of temporary insanity can be useful when viewing a man like Zeb.

Indeed, some clergymen have even run away with a song leader or other attractive wife who may have been coming to them for counseling.

Indeed, I have had 2 such cases of runaway clergymen just in the past month.

But these husbands usually are in the 40-age bracket, when men are often victims of the climacteric.

MAY BE 'MABEL'

Opulent Railway Car Discovered

TERRELL, Tex. (UPI) — Col. Edward Holland Robinson-Green's mother, the "Witch of Wall Street," bought him a railroad in 1893.

The recent discovery of what may have been the colonel's opulent palace car reminded members of the Terrell Heritage Society of the story behind the naming—then the renaming—of the $100,000 house on rails.

Hetty Green, the colonel's mother, started with a modest estate and in the latter part of the 19th Century built a $100,000,000 fortune in the stock market. But her clothes were so slovenly she often was mistaken for a pauper.

In spite of his mother's wealth, Green lived in extreme poverty. His mother's outmoded, ragged, dirty clothes were matched on him and his sister Sylvia. Their home invariably was only temporary, for they moved from one cheap boarding house to another to evade tax assessors.

When Green injured his leg in a childhood accident, his mother carried him in her arms to various charity clinics, dressing him in even greater poverty to mislead the doctors. When her subterfuge would be exposed, she would walk out without paying the price demanded and without getting the treatment needed. Eventually, Green's leg was amputated.

Green learned to be a little freer with his money after his mother named him to manage the Texas Midland Railroad, a small North Texas operation.

Early one spring morning, the Lone Star Special, best of the Midland trains, pulled into Terrell and unhooked the new private car. On the side were the numerals 999 and below, in foot-high letters, was the name "Mabel." Mabel was Mabel Harlow, whom Green called his housekeeper. Few people in Terrell believed housekeeping was one of her duties.

The name on the private car, used by the colonel to take his parties to New Orleans, St. Louis and New York, was too much for Terrell folks to take. A delegation including city marshal Joe Keller, the Rev. Wilfred Mutch of the Shiloh Baptist Church and another minister confronted Green.

Tom B. Griffith recalled that meeting in Arthur H. Lewis' book, "The Day They Shook the Plum Tree."

"The marshal was about three times Ned's age," Griffith said. "And even though they were lodge brothers and Green was president of the railroad he didn't hesitate to let him have it."

He told him the people of Terrell were offended by his open squiring of a whore—and that's exactly what he called Miss Harlow—and that she'd have to get out of town. Otherwise, Joe warned Ned, he'd be forced to place the 'housekeeper' under arrest. "We figured this woman was taking Ned—and the sooner the affair was broken up the better it would be for everybody concerned."

The next week Mabel moved to Dallas and 999 had a new name—"The Lone Star."

Green, who was Republican state chairman for eight years and was given the title of colonel by Democratic Gov. O. B. Colquitt, later married Mabel.

Joe Nelson, a business leader in Terrell, and Ruby Worthen, Rossie Sullins and Irene Wester of the Terrell Heritage Society, visited the Roy Glaspy Sand Lake Ranch near Ennis recently to look at what they believe is the colonel's old railroad car.

Mabel, if the society is correct in its identification, has rested the past 25 to 30 years on a sandy prairie 200 yards from the old Texas Midland right-of-way she once traversed.

Only a trace of the elegance remains. A tin roof has been added and sheets of tin hide the underside. The observation deck is boarded up and some of the windows are broken.

The interior mahogany is virtually intact, although the finish is cracked and marred. Silver fixtures still grace most of the doors and some of the carpeting and original window shades remain.

Glaspy purchased the old rail car at an auction held by Southern Pacific which had acquired the old Midland equipment. He used it for a while as a ranch headquarters, but for years it sat empty.

The chances of making a gold strike in California today are estimated at less than a thousand in one.

Navy Decides To Delay Project Sanguine Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy's Project Sanguine, battered by controversy for a decade and rejected by two states, has run out of money and come to at least a temporary halt.

The Navy said last week it would stop all activity on the sprawling radio communications system and place the test site at Clam Lake, Wis., on a caretaker basis until the end of the fiscal year June 30.

The Navy wants Sanguine to communicate with nuclear missile submarines sailing at great depths. Now the subs can receive radio messages only if they come near the surface.

But to build Sanguine would require digging hundreds of miles of trenches in which to bury cable and convert several thousand square miles of land into a reflector for bouncing radio waves up to the ionosphere.

Originally scheduled for Wisconsin, the project came under fire from environmentalists who feared damage from the trench digging, and from others who worried that man and beast who would go on living above it would be harmed by the high voltage.

Melvin R. Laird, in one of his final acts as Defense secretary a year ago, banned Sanguine from Wisconsin, his home state, and pointed the Navy toward Texas. That turned out to be a total disaster for the Navy, since Texas had a more powerful congressional delegation than Wisconsin.

When Texans began to fear for their health and land, the complaint was soon heard by Texas Rep. George H. Mahon, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who cut off all funds last year although he previously had supported the program. Only Senate support kept Sanguine going.

The Navy more recently looked at the Upper Peninsula of Michigan as a possible site, worrying more citizens and offending more members of Congress. The program is now in "geographic suspension," officials said.

The Navy said it wants to resume Project Sanguine next July 1 when the new fiscal year begins and is asking Congress for $13.2 million to carry on.

The Senate Appropriations Committee takes up Sanguine this week. If it doesn't clear that hurdle the project likely will die because the House Appropriations Committee strongly opposed Sanguine last year.

Almost $74 million has been spent in a decade of research.

Last Week In Wall Street

Congress has decided to get into the middle of the controversial no-fault auto insurance issue.

The Democratic side of both the Senate and the House is sponsoring legislation, already approved by the Senate Commerce Committee, to establish federal no-fault insurance standards and to make those standards mandatory in states which do not have no-fault insurance laws or which have no-fault laws which do not meet the federal standards.

The proposed legislation would eliminate fault-finding in just about all automobile accidents which occur and it would require direct payments by insurance companies to policyholders for all medical, hospital and rehabilitation costs as well as for lost wages.

Clearance is still needed on the question of whether the proposed federal legislation encroaches on the traditional right of the states to regulate the insurance activities within their borders.

The insurance industry is pretty much in agreement over the need for no-fault insurance but it is badly divided over whether the states or Congress should be responsible for the legislation creating it.

A major factor sparking the current federal legislation is the snail-like pace of the states in passing no-fault bills. Only 12 states have no-fault insurance and another six or eight states are expected to pass it this year. The governors of Illinois, New Hampshire and New Mexico vetoed no-fault legislation.

Arkansas, Oregon and Texas have passed no-fault bills but have not taken away the right of the injured party to sue.

However, none of the states have passed no-fault legislation that meets the proposed federal standards. In Massachusetts, the pioneer promoter of no-fault insurance, and in Florida where no-fault limits for bodily injury are held to a maximum of $1,000, significant reductions in premiums for bodily injury insurance have resulted.

The primary opposition to the whole concept of no-fault insurance comes mostly from the trial lawyers, who would lose income from any plan which would reduce the number of lawsuits arising from auto accidents.

Friends Of The Pampa Library Opens Membership Drive

OUTREACH COMMITTEE — Sixth grade students at Horace Mann going on a Friends of the Library - sponsored and arranged trip to the library. These trips have been made available to all sixth grade students and will continue throughout National Library Week. Mrs. Helen Carter is chairman of the Outreach committee.

By MARY FATHEREE
In the spring of 1973, a group of Pampa citizens led by Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Bonner, Jr., met with one goal in view: to make the community aware of the opportunities for cultural growth, research and continuing education afforded by the Pampa public library. The result of this meeting was the Friends of the Pampa Library, an organization which in the twelve months since its conception has already attracted a membership of 139 individuals and businesses, and hopes to substantially increase that number this week.
Throughout the past year, the Friends of the Pampa Library has widened the scope of library activities by encouraging donations of much - needed equipment, by sponsoring an open house, book review and coffee, and by giving Pampa students an opportunity to hear Loula Grace Erdman, noted Southwest author of books for young people.
National Library Week, April 21 through 27, provides the fitting background for the first anniversary of the Friends and a preview of future events whose aim is to bring the library to you, the people of Pampa.

BOOK REPORT — On Tuesday, at 9:30 a.m., Mrs. James Malone will review Celestine Sibley's "Sweet Apple Gardening," in the main conference room of the library. The book is the humorous account of the author's experiences and adventures as she tries to create a garden around her cabin home in Georgia.

BOOK FAIR — Members of the book screening and pricing committee getting books ready for the Book Fair, Saturday, May 4 in the main conference room at the library are from left, Mrs. Joe Donaldson, chairman, and Mrs. Ross Buzzard. Proceeds from the sale of second-hand books and magazines will be used to buy essential library equipment.

PROJECTOR DONATION — Mrs. M. McDaniel, left, president of the local Friends of the Library, and Mrs. Winifred Crinklaw, assistant librarian, are shown in photo examining the 8 mm movie projector, which was donated to the Friends, for use at Lovett Memorial Library.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE — Mrs. Jerry Bond, right, a Friends volunteer, looks on as Mrs. Ed Williams fills out an application for membership in the Friends for 1974-75. Membership tables will be set up throughout drive week at the First National and Citizens' Banks and at Montgomery Ward. Cost of joining the Friends is $1 (or more) annually for individuals, $10 (or more) annually for business and industry, and $100 (or more) for life memberships.

STORY HOUR — Friends will sponsor a story hour this fall for four and five year olds who are not attending kindergarten, once a week at the library. Mrs. Walter Colwell, shown in photo, will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. Cranz Nichols. Others shown are Anne Colwell, Charlie Nichols and Kathleen Dunigan.

AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP — Miss Sheryl Anne Whiteley, 17, is the recipient of the Pampa Fine Arts Association scholarship and will be honored at the annual banquet Saturday, April 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the Pampa Country Club. Making the presentation is Ted Gikas, a member of the committee for the association.

PFAA Will Reveal Awards At Annual Banquet, April 27

The Annual Banquet of the Pampa Fine Arts Association will be held at the Pampa Country Club Saturday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are priced at $5 each.

This is the closing event of the 1973-74 year and anyone who is not a member of the association may join at this time and attend the banquet. This membership will run through the 1974-75 year.

Dinner music will be presented by a string quartet from Canyon, followed by a brief business meeting to elect the new trustees and to introduce the winner of the Artist of the Year and announce the Art Patron of the Year.

Sheryl Whiteley, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.M. Whiteley, 1610 N. Russell, will be awarded the PFAA scholarship for outstanding artist achievement for dance and ballet.

Miss Whiteley ranked 11th in her class scholastic in Pampa High School, where she took all accelerated courses, open only to honor students.

She has worked and paid for all lesson and dance costumes.

Miss Whiteley recently was named "Miss Dance, 1974," by the Dance Masters of America in Tulsa, Okla. She will compete in August at Miami Beach, Fla., for the title of "Miss Dance of America, 2974."

This fall, she plans to attend Texas Tech, where she will major in dance.

Alternate chosen was Kathleen Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip McCarley, 1600 N. Russell.

Special guest for the evening will be Maurice Coats, Executive Director of the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities in Austin.

Coats was recently awarded, from the Kansas Title III, Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 Advisory Council, for outstanding service to the children of Kansas through his efforts on behalf of Title III. He was formerly the executive director of the Kansas Cultural Arts Commission.

Refunds On Hazardous Items

COLLEGE STATION — Consumers can get refunds on hazardous products they've already purchased, the Consumer Product Safety Commission ruled recently.

This involves all products banned by the Federal Hazardous Substance Act — including toys for children and other articles. Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted.

As a result of the ruling, dealers must post signs which read, "Banned Articles or Substances List and Repurchase Procedures." The signs must inform customers — which products have been banned, on or after March 6, including model number or other distinguishing characteristics,

— name and address of manufacturer,

— dates notice was received from manufacturer or distributor (a manufacturer must notify wholesalers and/or retailers whenever one of his products is banned),

— nature of hazard involved, and — how they can get a full refund.

Signs listing banned products and telling consumers how to get refunds must remain posted for 120 days.

Mrs. Myers said

consumers can be reimbursed for "reasonable and necessary transportation charges that include actual costs of returning the article by mail or car."

SUNDAY, APRIL 21
Your birthday today: Is a point of departure in a fresh and vigorous growth cycle. The main action of your year is to get all of your current affairs and situations clearly understood and broken down into basic terms. Once you recognize and accomplish this, you are much more free to move and redirect your energy. Today's natives pursue serious interests, are pleasant, almost always generous people.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Where you have differences, settle them in quiet discussion. Whatever amount you spend on yourself and your own is well invested.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Personal projects can be advanced swiftly today. Visits and agreements with relatives, distant or seldom seen social contacts are favored.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: There's more diligence than dallying in this Sunday for you. Give thought to what you will do in the coming week of sparkling opportunity.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: It's a happy Sunday despite the sensitive moods that show up among your loved ones. Setting up a common-sense health program is a must now.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Be prompt and effective in carrying your share of the community's weekend customs—expressions of faith. Avoid haste or impulsive changes.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Your day is crowded with opportunity and pleasant experience. Get out and make the round of visits you've been postponing, renew good contacts.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Relax, let someone else in your crowd pick the activities for a change. Your role is to be agreeable, help make it a lively, sociable Sunday.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: The care and protection of your health is essential. It's a great day for symbolic expression of your deeper feelings for people you love.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Unexpected turns of circumstance may be misunderstood. Give your friends full benefit of any doubt before reacting. Group activity is lively.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Your home is your main real interest now. Invite selected people in to enjoy its comforts and your warm hospitality. Share favorite pastimes, good talk.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: If you give in to the impulse to rush about first to one thing then another, you bewilder others needlessly and create a disturbing situation.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Be up early to do what your community expects of you in the way of Sunday formalities. Then make the rounds to catch up on the local news.

The prospective bridegroom is presently employed by Coronado Conoco Service Station.

Shelving-----A Decorative Storage Idea

COLLEGE STATION — Shelves can transform meaningless corners and over-sized, empty walls into useful, attractive areas, one authority says.

"Besides serving as versatile storage and display units, shelving works as a decorating aid," Anna Marie Gottschalk, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted.

Used properly, shelves provide unity of space and shape, she said.

"For example, to unify a room, match shelf color to that of the room."

"To accent shelving, cover the wall behind it with contrast — using colorful cloth, paper or paint."

"Another possibility involves papering shelves and wall with a dynamic print."

For shelving, the specialist advised consumers to keep personal needs in mind — but remember that flexibility results in long-lasting use. Also, plan shelves in relation to the room and surrounding spaces.

"Available either unfinished or finished — in wood stains or bright enamel paints — individual shelves are sold in many different lengths and widths."

"To install them, use brackets or standards especially designed for flexibility."

"Or, stack shelves from the floor, using sturdy vertical supports — such as bricks or building blocks."

Overall interest increases through use of different shelf lengths — and varying space between shelves, Miss Gottschalk added.

Guest Presents Musical Program

The April meeting of the Pampa Music Teachers Association was held in the studio of Mrs. Harold Starbuck. The Piano Teacher's Prayer was led by Mrs. Starbuck and a short business meeting was led by Mrs. Darville Orr.

The program was presented by Red Florence, Scottsdale, Ariz., on song evangelism. He explained how different types of recorded background music is used in church services. The recording studios make separate tapes of each instrument, guitar, strings, piano, then put them together on the final tape.

Florence sang some of the song he uses with this background music and also demonstrated how he uses this music with youth and adult choirs.

Florence led the group in singing several songs by Bill and Gloria and Ron Ruff with taped background music. The songs were "Something Beautiful," "Let's Just Praise the Lord," "Get All Excited," and "Because He Lives."

Background music is used in churches to stimulate interest in music and to show different ways church music may be presented, he concluded.

Guests present were Red Florence and Mrs. Larry Cross. Members attending were Mmes. Calvin Whatley, Lois Fagan, Harold Starbuck and Darville Orr.

Shelling out
 SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — California will pay out about $640 million this year in unemployment benefits, an average of $60 a week for each unemployed worker, the Department of Health and Welfare reports.

Consumer Market Report

COLLEGE STATION — With larger beef supplies this week, consumers can expect "budget-saving values," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt predicted.

The consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, said "good values" are available on chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef, sirloin steak, rib steak and beef liver.

"Pork prices are a bit more moderate," she added.

"Generally, bacon is down in price some, as are canned hams. Boston butt roasts, end chops, quarter loins cut into chops, loin-end roasts, frankfurters and roll sausage also are being featured."

At produce counters asparagus is more readily available, and cabbage, carrots, celery and head lettuce are wearing attractive price tags.

Mustard, collards and turnip greens are other good choices, the specialist said.

"Enjoy grapefruit while they last," she advised, adding that oranges will continue "plentiful with very good quality."

At poultry counters, egg prices are slightly less, with grade A, large-size eggs offering the best combination of quality and economy.

In addition to eggs, Mrs. Clyatt also cited cottage cheese, Cheddar cheese, dry beans and peas, peanut butter and fish as nutritious and economical choices for traditional "meatless" meals prior to Easter.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Steak eaters, this is your week to buy.

If you want to eat steak but cannot afford the finest cuts, buy arm or blade steak, chuck steak, round steak or flank steak. Sprinkle the surface with tenderizer or marinade. Let the meat stand half an hour for each one-half inch thickness of meat before cooking.

Contraband Color
 CARACAS (UPI) — J. M. Rodriguez, head of customs at Maiquetia International Airport, has offered special measures to guard against contraband color television sets now that Venezuela is on the verge of converting to color television.

Rodriguez says that the color sets are smuggled in from Miami and the neighboring Dutch island of Curacao.

MONDAY, APRIL 22

Your birthday today: Thriving personal evolution toward a higher self marks the entire year, beginning with changes deep within which eventually are reflected in new habits, re-orientation of life style. Those born this year very early in the day have before them a steep upspiral path of spiritual growth; those born later in the day concentrate on social expansion, fulfillment in relationships. Today's natives all have courage.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: A burst of enthusiasm is readily channeled into productive efforts. Home and property increase in value as previously inconspicuous facts emerge.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Promote personal matters diligently, in some definitely planned sequence. If you have your own self in order, you can change things around you.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Those with whom you deal may not want broad public attention to what they're doing. Any transaction goes swiftly now, for better or for worse.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Contacts made now promise fresh opportunity in directions you hadn't thought of. Be alert for suggested changes, willing to revise plans without complaint.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Action comes easy in both career moves and personal projects. Powerful individuals are likely to be of assistance to you, on a confidential basis.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: A deal may look extremely attractive but you may not be the one to make it—spoken qualifications are probable. For ordinary business, it's a great day.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Affairs of parents, older people, senior partners and the like are favored, as any collective move today works better than singlehanded strivings.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Make an attempt to reveal your true beliefs quietly and create a basis for teamwork. Get something done beyond the usual routine chores.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Increased drive is bound to show results now, perhaps in a raise in pay, certainly in higher skills and a better job done a little quicker.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Use every minute of this golden day for all you can coax out of it. Creative efforts move along smartly, tiny variations turn out to be significant.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Improve your home environment to match the growing advance within yourself. When you work for another, do as much as you would for yourself.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Daily routines must shift a little to take into account today's challenges and opportunities. Family concerns claim quite a bit of time.

Local Piano Recital Today

Phyllis Jayne Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Reynolds Jr., Pampa, will present a piano recital today at 2:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Christian Church, 18th and Nelson.

Phyllis, 15, studies under Mrs. Lois Fagan of Pampa. She plans to play in the National Piano Guild Auditions this spring for her first time and is also going to participate in the Greater Southwest Music Festival in Amarillo.

Phyllis is in the ninth grade and is very active in the band playing an oboe. She is a member of the National Junior Honor Society.

The program will include Waltz in C and Valse Noble by Schubert; Moonlight Sonata; First Movement by Beethoven; Invention No. 8

by Bach; and Exodus by God.

Assisting in the recital will be Elizabeth and Kathy Stephenson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Stephenson of Amarillo. Kathy will present Sonata No. 1 by Clementi; Dancing Leaves; and Morning by Agay. Elizabeth will play Concertina by Kerchler on the Violin. They are the daughters of the former Phoebe Osborne and granddaughters of Mrs. J.P. Osborne.

Let's Ask the Cook

by Nan Wiley

Dear Nan: Here is a friend's recipe for sugarless health cookies. My husband and I think they are delicious. I keep them in the refrigerator and they stay nice and fresh.

You will need 1 cup raisins, 1/2 cup chopped dates, 1/2 cup chopped apples, 3/4 cup chopped nuts, 1 cut water, 1/2 cup vegetable shortening, 2 well-beaten eggs, 3 teaspoons liquid sweetener, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 teaspoon soda and 1 cup flour.

Boil raisins, dates and apple in water for 3 minutes. Add shortening to melt, then cool. Add rest of ingredients with the nuts last.

Mix well and refrigerate until well chilled. Drop by teaspoons onto cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees 10 to 12 minutes. Refrigerate in an airtight container.

—Mrs. J.C.N. Boonville, Ind.

Dear Nan: A book titled "A Cookbook For Diabetics" is available by sending one dollar to the American Diabetic Association Inc., 18 East 48th St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

My husband's condition is controlled by diet and the book has his favorite cookie recipe. I have changed ingredient amounts to make a large batch at one time as they freeze well for several months. I love them myself. I also use a lot of the low-calorie brand puddings and pie fillings and 1 grate my own coconut to freeze.

For the cookies you will need 1 cup oil, 8 eggs, 2 boxes dates, 2 cups seedless raisins, 2 cans (4 1/2 ounces each) English walnuts, 16 (1/4 grain) saccharin tablets, 2 teaspoons soda and 2 cups whole wheat or all-purpose white flour.

Chop dates and nuts and place raisins in hot water to soften. Drain. Mix and sift dry ingredients, add nuts and fruits to mixture. Beat eggs until fluffy and add saccharin tablets dissolved in a little water. Beat in the oil.

Add the floured fruit mixture in thirds, stirring just enough to combine.

Drop by spoonsful onto cookie sheets sprayed with a dry-fry product. Bake at 375 degrees for about 12 to 15 minutes or until brown and toothpick comes out clean. Diabetics may substitute two cookies for one fruit exchange and 1 fat exchange; 51 calories per cookie.

Sometimes I have to stir in a little extra flour at the end of mixing as the mixture should be like fruit cake batter.

Not only was learning to cook a new way after 35 years a challenge, but it has also helped my waistline. Hope this helps Margaret Gerstner and other diabetics as well.

—Mrs. James F. Metcalf Clarksville, Tenn.

Tell matchmaker you've got a full book

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For the last year, a co-worker in my office has been nagging me to go out with her son, Richard. I am 30 and her Richard is 35. I've learned from past experience that whenever a mother is overly anxious to date her son up—beware!

I have turned down this woman's offer to be fixed up with her Richard in as many polite ways as I know how, but she refuses to give up.

I'm fairly attractive, and I'm not hard up for dates. Maybe I'm foolish, but I don't care much for this co-worker, and I doubt if any son of hers could have anything to offer me.

How can I get this persistent woman off my back once and for all?
IRRITATED IN N. Y.

DEAR IRRITATED: Richard's mother is making all the overtures, right? What do you hear from Richard? [He's probably as turned off by his mother's eagerness to arrange dates for him as you are by her persistence.] Tell your co-worker that you're permanently booked. Period.

DEAR ABBY: I've never seen a problem like mine in your column. I'm almost 26, and I'm still unmarried. I'm worried that I might end up an old maid. Sometimes I wonder if maybe it wouldn't be better to just get married to any guy even if it ends in divorce so I could say I've been married. When a gal says she's 26 and never been married people start to wonder what's wrong with her.

Maybe I'm too picky, but I don't believe in shacking up with a guy before marriage. I have lost more guys with that attitude, but I can't help it.

Aren't there any decent guys left in the world? I'm not repulsive and I'm not dumb and I know I have a nice personality. So why can't I get a guy?
WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Every girl can get a guy if she sets her standards low enough. Continue to be picky. It's not true that it's better to be a divorcee than an unclaimed treasure! Ask any divorcee.

DEAR ABBY: My fellow workers and I would like to know the proper name for a niece's husband.

Some say he should be called a "nephew." I feel he should be called a nephew only to be polite.

Webster's dictionary defines nephew as "a son of one's brother or sister," or loosely, as "the son of one's brother-in-law or sister-in-law."

This backs me up, but my friends still introduce the above mentioned as their nephew. Who is correct?
ROAD-RUNNER

DEAR ROAD-RUNNER: Strictly or loosely? Take your pick.

DEAR ABBY: Is it considered proper to wear jewelry with uniforms? When I worked at a supermarket we all wore uniforms and were told that the only jewelry we could wear was a wrist watch and our wedding ring—if we had one. No earrings, bracelets or pins. We were also told not to wear extreme hairdos and no gum chewing while on duty!

I know a waitress who breaks all the above rules. When I mentioned this to her, she said rules were made to be broken. Please print your answer. This dame thinks she knows everything.
BLANKETY BLANK

DEAR BLANK: Each place of business employing uniformed personnel sets up its own rules. Unfunctional jewelry is considered inappropriate with uniforms. Same for far out hairdos, and that goes double for gum.

WEDDING-ENGAGEMENT DEADLINE

The following deadlines and procedure on wedding stories will be as follows: For a wedding story to appear in a Sunday edition, information and picture must be turned in to the women's editor by 5 p.m. on the Monday BEFORE the wedding. All wedding stories submitted after that time will appear during the week. Engagement announcements must be submitted by 12 noon—Wednesday to appear in Sunday's edition.

Holm-Harris

Miss Carla Jean Holm and Roy Lee Harris will wed June 8, in the Church of the Brethren, Pampa. Making the announcement are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holm, 2709 Navajo Rd. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Frances Harris, Cheyenne, Okla. The bride-elect is a special education instructional aide at Wichita, Kan. Unified School-District. She also attended West Texas State University where she majored in special education. Her fiancé is a tool and dye maker at Cessna Aircraft Company in Wichita.

Mrs. Grantham Hosts Culture Club In Groom

Members of the Civic Culture Club traveled to Groom recently to meet with Mrs. Frank Grantham, Mrs. A.D. Hills, president, opened the business session by leading the Pledge to the Flags of the United States and Texas.

After the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, Mrs. Hills announced the competition in designing the Gray County commemorative medal for the upcoming Bicentennial.

Mmes. D.A. Rife, A.B. Cross, and Teresa Reed gave reports of their day attending the 14th annual convention of the Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, held recently in Borger.

After the roll call, Mrs. Rife, program chairman, introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. E.L. Anderson, whose subject was, "Women of the Bible."

Mrs. Anderson pointed out the difficulty of choosing from 50 women in the foreground and 100, more or less, in the background of Biblical history. Her choice finally rested on Eve, Sarah, Rachel and Mary, mother of Jesus.

Eve means life, she said. God created her from Adam's rib and brought her womanly nature into being. God never gave man dominion until she was placed at his side—the oneness of man and woman in true marriage comes to its fullest meaning in Gen. 2:22.

Sarah and her husband, Abraham, called Father of the Faithful, were the founders of the house of Israel.

Rachel, the mother of the twins, Esau and Jacob.

Rachel and Jacob suffered loss over their jealous and willful mistakes.

Then Mary, who has been honored and revered as no other woman in the entire history of the world. Mary, mother of Jesus, is the embodiment of one of the greatest and still unexplained miracles of the Bible — "The Virgin Birth."

So was her son unique, who brought Salvation to mankind. After these first and identifying remarks, Mrs. Anderson discussed her subjects fully.

Thoroughly enjoying the afternoon were the following members, not previously mentioned: Mmes. Irvin Cole, A.C. Houchin, George Neef, Carl Pachin, Carl Smith, Chester Williams, W.F. Taylor and Emmett Gee.

The largest site in the national park system is Glacier Bay National Monument in Alaska covering 2,803,840 acres.

HOMEMAKERS NEWS

Have you noticed the large supply of onions available in the supermarkets. In contrast to last year's shortage, a large supply of spring onions is now available at supermarkets everywhere.

Onions can be used to add extra flavor to a wide range of meat and vegetable dishes. They may be boiled, baked, or roasted and used in soups, stews, and with roasts. Remember, too, onions are low in calories.

When buying fresh onions, homemakers should look for a firm, dry product. The individual onion should be covered with a papery outer scale and be reasonably free from green sunburn spots and blemishes. Onions with wet or soft necks should be bypassed because they are immature or decayed. Other warning signs are thick, hollow or woody centers in the neck, and fresh green sprouts on the onion.

Onions impart their mouth-watering goodness to entrees, salads, sandwiches, and soups alike in people-pleasing style. Sprinkle your menu with your onion favorites and try these hints:

—Creamed onions with finely chopped, salted peanuts added to the cream sauce, and generously sprinkled on top.

—Chopped onions and potatoes, lightly scrambled with eggs in butter.

—Steaming onion soup garnished with a buttered toast round topped with Parmesan Cheese.

—Add thin onion slices to fresh vegetable salad and top with your favorite salad dressing.

STARS
Here are a few quick tips to the busy homemaker.

—When buying frozen strawberries, select hard-frozen packages. Avoid stained packages—they've probably defrosted some during marketing.

—Packaging of the future may include more convenient forms of produce. Forecasts include ready-to-serve grapefruit halves and peeled oranges.

—Losses of vitamins A and C occur when vegetable tissues are bruised. To prevent this, use a sharp blade when trimming, cutting or shredding fresh vegetables.

The Will Rogers Story Told To Culture Club

The Twentieth Century Culture Club met Tuesday, April 9, in the home of Mrs. B.R. Nunn, 1719 Grape, with Mrs. Fred Brook, co-hostess. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Ross Buzzard, president.

Mrs. J.M. Stallings introduced the speaker, Mrs. A.E. Berry, whose subject was "The Cowboy Philosopher." She told a very entertaining story of the life of Will Rogers, who has been called prince of wit and wisdom, cowboy philosopher, trick roper, humanitarian, ambassador of good will, and many other appellations; he has filled them all with distinction. Because of his inimitable personality and his ability to project it to all types and classes of people, he was the most beloved man of his time, Mrs. Berry said.

Will Rogers was born Nov. 4, 1879 in Indian Territory near what is now Claremore, Okla. to Clement Van and Mary America Rogers. Both parents were part-Cherokee Indian, a matter of pride to Will in later years. Besides Indian, he had Irish and Scotch blood, and he drew upon all three strains to fashion the character that was beloved by the world; from the Irish came his roguish sense of humor and his great generous heart, the Scotch added a keen sense of business and forthrightness, and from the Indian came the dignity and reserve that prevented him, as the nation's jester, from descending to the level of a merry-andrew.

His father was a well-to-do rancher, and was a member of the convention that drafted the Oklahoma state constitution; the county which they lived was named for him. Will's mother made the ranch a warm and inviting place that people enjoyed visiting; she was gay and light hearted and often asked entire families to spend the night and enjoy music and dancing. Will said of his mother, "What little humor I have come from her; but more than her humor, I remember her love and understanding of me."

Will's best break came when he got into the Ziegfield Follies, starring in both the Follies and the Midnight Frolics; Florenz Ziegfield soon recognized him as a great entertainer.

In 1919 Samuel Goldwyn persuaded him to quit Broadway and enter the silent movies; so he went to California; his pictures were not too successful, as the silent movies could not reproduce the inimitable drawl he had. When sound projection proved successful, he signed with Fox Films and his first picture was a smash hit and established Rogers as a leading box office attraction. He made many pictures, but "Steamboat Round the Bend" was hailed as his best and was released about the time of his death.

In 1935 Will began to show signs of weariness, and he began a much-needed six-month rest. Then he and Post planned a plane trip; their plans were vague, but they had pontoons put on the plane instead of wheels when they got to Seattle. On Aug. 6, 1935 they took off for Point Barrow, Alaska, hopping to Juneau, Anchorage and the Matanuska Valley, and at every stop, Will joked with the colonists.

On Aug. 15 they took off on the tragic flight to the north and crashed just ten minutes from their destination. The whole world grieved the passing of Rogers. He was buried at Forest Lawn Cemetery, and memorial services were held in many places.

Members present besides Mrs. Nunn, Brook, Buzzard, Stallings and Berry were Meses, Milo Carlson, J.L. Chase, R.L. Cooke, J.R. Donaldson, M.K. Griffith, E.W. Hogan, Rufe Jordan, Wyatt Lemons, Myron A. Marx, Jr., Doyle Osborne, James A. Poole, E.E. Shelhamer, N.D. Steele, Paul Turner and L.J. Zachry.

Church News

FIRST BAPTIST WOMEN
The Betty Law Bible study group met Wednesday, April 17, in the home of Mrs. Cecil Lunsford, 2104 Zimmers.

The meeting was opened with the "Call to Prayer" by Mrs. D.B. Jameson and prayer by Mrs. Lee Moore. Mrs. Jameson then gave a report on her recent mission trip to the Rio Grande and the work that she and other members of the church were involved in during their stay.

Mark 4:18-30 was the Bible scripture used as basis for the Bible study taught by Mrs. E.L. Tarrant.

The next meeting of this group will be in the home of Mrs. D.W. Osborne on May 15, at 2144 Beech.

Members gave an offering to assist in an KEG for a Pampa child. This is the April mission action project.

The closing prayer was voiced by Mrs. Earl Murphy. Members attending were Meses, Corine Wheeler, J.A. Hopkins, J.P. Heath, W.G. Harvey, Moore, Jameson, Osborne, Tarrant, Murphy and Lunsford.

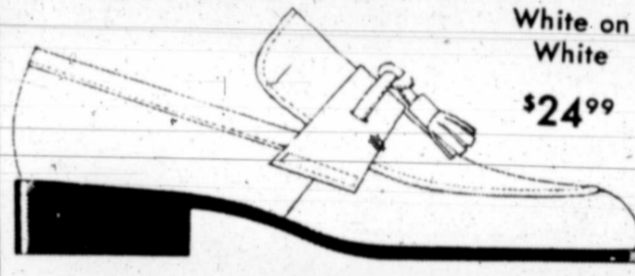

Jet airliner service across the Atlantic was started on Oct. 4, 1958, by the British Overseas Airways Corp.

Bali

has the new fashion
lowdown on bra-beauty:

the new
BALI-LO
Strapless!

Strapless bras are back, making baring, daring news for all the latest body-celebrating clothes, from daytime halters to backless evening dresses. And Bali makes the best of the strapless bra, because Bali knows what a body needs for revealing clothes: a bare-minimum bra that still gives you just the right amount of support!

Here's the lowdown on the new Bali-Lo: it's light, it's lacy, it's ultra-feminine, it's underwired (each cup individually) for a lithe and lovely lift. What's more, to give Nature the subtlest bit of boost, it's fiber-filled to round-out your own shape. With an open-weave spandex back to move with you. There never was a bra more beautiful, more openly seductive, yet more comfortable than the new Bali-Lo. And a Bali-Lo never lets you down!

"AT WIT'S END"

By ERMA BOMBECK

As I observed my son the other night hanging on the phone (watching his fingernails grow), it occurred to me how the telephone had altered our lives.

What a different boy he might have been without the magic of instant communication. He might have talked to his parents, been able to count higher than "operator" and know that physical fitness is more than having your fingers walk through the yellow pages.

He would have known fresh air, the thrill of seeing who he is talking to, and maybe just maybe might have been able to make some pretty important decisions on his own, such as what color shirt to wear, what time to leave for school and how much money to take to the game.

Few people realize what an impact the phone has on our lives and our personalities until we consider how it might have altered literary history.

I mean, can you visualize Louisa May Alcott's account of "Little Women" with four teenagers on the phone? Her tale of a wonderfully close, warm family of girls and their devotion to their mother would have been torn apart with Meg setting up a car pool to a Weight Watchers meeting, Jo trying to get tickets for a rock concert, Beth calling in an order to the butcher and Amy playing an entire album over the phone. Poor Marmee couldn't have gotten through to Dial-A-Prayer.

Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn would never arrive late for their own funeral. They would have phoned their aunt from a truck stop to tell her they were alive and well. The Bridge of San Luis Rey would never have been. Surely one of the five travellers would have phoned the Automobile Association and would have been repaired around Peru.

And poor Robinson Crusoe. How long do you think he could have survived a monk's existence with a phone? He would have been badgered by salesmen for storm doors, patio covers, driveway sealers, landscaping, insurance, septic tank cleaners, brick siding, roofers and pest control.

Through the miracle of electronics, Miles Standish could have done his own courting of Priscilla if he had to call and breathe heavily into the phone each night.

Yes, the phone has taken all the romance out of our lives and (RIIING!). Excuse me, it could be Robert Redford.

Porcupine Problem

KARPIN ON BRIDGE
By FRED KARPIN

In those national tournament events which are open to all bridge players, the expert has a tremendous advantage over the non-expert, for the simple reason that, as an expert, he has greater proficiency in both bidding and play. On occasion, however, the expert is unlucky, and falls victim to incorrect bidding or play by this non-expert adversaries.

The latter was the case in today's deal, which arose in the 1974 National Championships. Sitting in the West seat was one of our nation's top-ranking players, Alan Truscott, of New York City.

On the previous deal, against the same opponents, Truscott, the bridge editor of The New York Times, had fulfilled an "unmakable" four-spade contract because of the defenders had made a glaring error. At the conclusion of the next deal, presented below, in which Truscott was the unlucky victim, he commented: "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away."

Both sides vulnerable. South deals.

NORTH
♠ 9 7 5 1 2
♥ 8 6 3
♦ 7 5 2
♣ K 6

WEST EAST
♠ 8 3 ♠ 6
♥ Q 10 4 ♥ 9 7 5 2

♣ 9 7 5 ♣ 8 4 3 2

SOUTH
♠ A K Q J 10

♦ A
♣ A Q J 10

The bidding:
South West North East
2♠ Pass 3♠ Pass
4NT Pass 5♣ Pass
5NT Pass 6♦ Pass
7♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠.

As can be observed, the play of the grand slam contract was routine. After winning the opening diamond lead with his ace, declarer picked up the outstanding trumps in two leads. Then came a club to the king, after which two more clubs were cashed, a heart being discarded from dummy on the third club lead.

Next came the ace and king of hearts, followed by the ruffing of the jack of hearts. Declarer then claimed his contract.

South's bid of seven spades was a pure gamble. He knew that his partner had one king, but he hadn't the slightest idea as to whether it was the club king or the diamond king. If it had been the diamond king, then declarer couldn't even reach dummy to cash it, unless dummy accidentally happened to have the heart queen. And even in the latter case, declarer would still have to lose a club, in all probability.

But luck favored declarer — his partner had the CLUB king. And, for the record, a few North-South pairs arrived at an unmarkable seven no trump contract. So Truscott got the worst East-West score.

India's Bengal tigers have dwindled to an estimated 2,000, compared with 40,000 in 1930.

Retired Teachers Meet

The Pampa Retired Teachers met Monday, April 15, at 2 p.m. in the Flame Room, Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Miss Anna Pierce and Mrs. Lonnie Hood were leaders. Miss Pierce introduced Mrs. Rochell Lacy, director of the one act play presented. Sharon Hubbard, Jimmy Kille, Glenna Wilkins and Greg Wilkins gave the play and sketches.

Mrs. Hood introduced Miss Inez Clubb who gave a reading "Cushville Hop." Ila Pool's dash of spice was "People As Hobbies."

After the program, B.R. Nuckols, president, announced a Defensive Drivers Course to be held April 24, 25 sponsored by AARP. McHenry Lane reported on NRTA insurance.

There were 46 members present and five guests.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Riley, Mrs. D.V. Biggers, Mrs. Rue S. Hestand, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Skewes and Mrs. Margaret Martin.

Sales on Rise
CHICAGO (UPI) — The Illinois Retail Merchants Association says retail sales in Illinois this year could top those of 1973 by 10 to 15 per cent, depending on the impact of fuel and product shortages.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Aura Of Charm Elusive;
Often Must Be Acquired

I have a letter before me which says:

"Dear Josephine Lowman,

"You can tell from this tattered clipping that I have cherished this column of yours for a long time. Please reprint it. It is the best description of charm I have ever read anywhere."

Thanks, and here it is:

Why is it that one woman is remembered forever while another is forgotten almost immediately? It is probably because she has that indefinable quality called charm, that aura which lingers on long after she has gone.

It would be as impossible to concoct a sure-fire formula for a magnetic personality as it would be to formulate one for happiness. Charm consists of many characteristics and attitudes and also an elusive something which escapes the pen and the typewriter.

Charm is actually a way of life. It is not just saying the right thing at the right time or doing the right thing at the right time. Charm rises from the deep wells of the spirit and the heart and the infinite variety of the mind.

Some people are born charming, while others must work to acquire this blessing. I suppose the best way to analyze charm in order to discover a few hints for ourselves is to consider objectively those we think of as charming. What makes them different? Why do they stand out from others?

We are always happy to see them. They give us a lift. They encourage our every effort and make us feel attractive and worthwhile because of their interest in what we say and what we are doing. Their appreciative sense of humor makes us feel witty.

Their positive attitudes and thoughts save us temporarily from any negative ones we may have. Life is comfortable when they are near and it is also exciting. Those charming folks lift life out of the ordinary and bring out the best in us.

Charming people are enthusiastic people. They can be enthusiastic about everything, whether it be a special soup they had at lunch or something more important. The woman who is enthusiastic leaves a bit of radiance behind her.

The charmer is full of variety. A woman becomes humdrum and makes life humdrum for others if she doesn't have a change of pace in her makeup. She is a gay companion at one time, the solicitous friend, wife, mother or sister at another. She is an understanding listener, a student and a jazz band all rolled into one.

The charming woman is sincerely appreciative and expresses her appreciation readily. She is keenly aware of the people and the world about her, and therefore derives pleasure and stimulation from the small happenings in daily life as well as the big ones.

Mrs. Lowman's leaflet, "Grace and Charm," provides you with guidelines for developing these attributes. For your copy, send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of The Register and Tribune Syndicate, Des Moines, Iowa 50304.

All Joking Aside, Trucking Is Important Business

United Press International
The jokes are many and varied, and bitter, about that semi-tractor trailer plugging up the hill in front of a line of passenger cars. "I may be slow, but I'm ahead of you," taunts one fictitious sign which mythically sends auto drivers dashing dangerously into the passing lane.

"This vehicle pays more than $3,020 per year in road user taxes." "Yeah, and does $10,000 worth of road damage," is another.

Jokes aside—though they will never be put aside—trucking ranks with taxes and television commercials. It exists, and as long as the Texas economy is based on one man producing an item and selling it to another man across town, across the state or across the nation, trucking will continue to exist.

The truck boycott in February focused on the problems that the industry faces, and what can happen with even a fractional strike by truckers. The boycott ended, but the economic pressures which created it did not end.

In Texas, the trucking industry earns $6,095,779,000 based on 1972 figures, the latest available. The Texas Motor Transportation Association says the truck and bus industry employs 677,000 Texans and 54.9 percent of the intercity tonnage of food, clothing, furniture, fixtures, pulp and paper, chemicals, petroleum, coal, rubber, stone, clay, glass, metals, machinery, transportation equipment and other miscellaneous material.

Trucks are the only shipping service for 1,738 cities and towns in Texas, and that includes 49 county seats and 21 entire counties. Many communities which have railroad service depend on trucks for less-than-carload services.

It was primarily the independent truckers who started and continued the February boycott, but both independents and companies face many of the same economic difficulties. Despite the ending of the boycott, the problems must still be cured.

The gross produced by a trucker is high, but the amount he takes home is low.

Youth Center Wrap-Up

Youth Center Memberships
Participation in the activities of the Center are through a membership plan or a daily fee. The most economical plan is to purchase a membership for the whole family. The cost is really fantastic with all the benefits you receive.

The limited membership plan sold to individuals or families entitles you to use of the gym, recreation hall, swimming pool and dressing rooms as well as free swim lessons.

The cost of this plan for an individual is $5 for six months or $8 a year. For a family the cost is only $12 for six months or $20 a year.

The unlimited membership plan adds to the above plan the use of the new health facility. This facility houses all the exercise machines, handball and racquetball courts and sauna.

If you are interested in lost weight and inches, the health club membership is your best plan. We have all types of machines including the bicycles, barrell rollers, vibrator belts, rowing machines, jungle pulley universal machine, hips away, sit-up boards and all types of weight lifting equipment.

The unlimited plan costs only $10.50 per month for an individual or for a husband and wife the cost is only $13.87 per month after your initial sign-up. For further details come through the club and look around, use it free on your first visit and then make up your mind.

Women's hours are during the mornings from 9-11:45 and also Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7-10 p.m. Men come from 11:45 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and until 7 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday.

Summer Swim Class Enrollment
That big day when the Center signs up all the children for summer swim lessons has now been set. Enrollment day will be on May 9 at 1 p.m.

Enrollment is open to all people whether member or non-member. The cost is $4 for non-members and free to Center members. Memberships are always available.

Swim lesson sessions are scheduled for June 3-14, June 17-28, July 1-12, July 15-26, July 29 through Aug. 9. Classes offered are polywogs, beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates, swimmers, Junior and Senior Lifesaving and adult classes.

New Game Room
The Center has added a new look to the recreation hall. We are in the process of turning this room into a game-type room. We have added two foosball machines, a missile game, pin ball machine and are adding other machines in the near future.

All young people are invited to come by and play these machines or enjoy the two-pool tables.

Calico Capers Square Dancers
For you adults who like square dancing or would like to learn, the Calico Capers Square Dance Club is for you. This is an adult square dance group that meets at the Center on Saturday nights from 8-11 p.m. They dance to an out-of-town caller and really enjoy themselves.

The current president of the club is Gerald McCabe and he would invite any interested couples to drop by the Center and meet the Capers. He will explain how you may become a member.

Swim Lessons
There are a few vacancies in the swim lessons offered May 6-23 from 4 to 6 p.m. Classes offered are polywogs from 4-4:30 and 4:30 to 5 p.m. and advanced beginners from 5-6 p.m.

These are the last classes to be taught during the school year. The next classes will be the summer swim classes.

These classes are taught by Ruth Carter, our WSI from the Red Cross. Classes meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for 10 meeting dates. Enrollment is free to Youth Center members or $4 to non-members. Memberships are always available at the front desk.

who drives for another man says he clears $175 to $200 a week.

"The gross is way up there, but you break it down," he said. "You blow out one of these tires and there's a week's profit shot to hell. Insurance on one of these rigs costs $16,000 a year."

Charles Mooney of Lufkin, who owns and drives his own rig, said in a 10-day period in early February he made $9,000 in fees.

"That's a lotta money, right?" Mooney asked. "Sure, but where's the money the next week? Who pays the overtime? Who pays the insurance? Who pays $800 a month for that truck? Who pays 50 cents for a gallon of diesel? Me. Sure."

The key to the future, at least as far as truckers are concerned, is to increase the rates charged shippers for moving products. Those rates are called tariffs, and are governed on interstate shipments by the Texas Railroad Commission and on interstate shipments by the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC).

In direct answer to the truckers' boycott, the Railroad Commission in mid-February approved a 2 per cent tariff increase to last until early summer. The ICC also consider tariff increases, and will approve them on individual cases.

Mooney said the rate situations was largely produced by independent truckers undercutting each others' prices to get more business. The undercutting apparently occurred over a number of years, and became disastrous when fuel, insurance, maintenance and operating costs rose dramatically.

"Now the truckers are down there complaining about it," Mooney said. "Well, it's the same rate he used to cut me out of some business."

Truckers will apply for more and more rate increases, and those will simply be passed along to the consumer by the shipper or retailer. But the squeeze will have shifted.

Terry Townsend, executive director of the Texas Motor Transportation Association in Austin, provided an example.

"Say I figure I'm going to make $1,000 if I go to Chicago and I bargain directly with the shipper," Townsend said. "So I think I need to have $1,000 and the shipper says, 'No, I won't give you but $900,' and we finally agree on $900.

In going up there, though, I find that instead it costs me $1,050. But the other problem is the shipper is under regulation, and the tariff says you can charge only X amount for X amount of freight. So he's caught in a squeeze, and his income is squeezed out to where the trucker is actually losing money."

Oswald, ticking off what's wrong with the industry, said, "It's bound to get better." But he stopped himself.

"I been saying that for 10 years and it hasn't got better yet," he corrected. "In three weeks time I'd say I been home less than 24 hours, trying to make a living for my family. I don't live comfortable. I don't try to live to get by and have a little freedom. As to putting something in the bank, forget it."

Apple Producers
OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI) — Washington was the nation's leading apple producing state in 1973, with a record crop of 42.8 million boxes. The State Agriculture Department said New York ranked second and Michigan third in apple production last year.

United Press International
Today is Sunday, April 21, the 111th day of 1974 with 254 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Taurus.

Former U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson was born April 21, 1893.

On this day in history:
In 753 B.C., Rome was founded by Romulus.

In 1954, U.S. Air Force planes began flying French troops to Indochina to reinforce the besieged bastion of Dien Bien Phu. It subsequently fell to the Vietnam Communists.

In 1967, the Greek army took over control of the government.

In 1972, Britons John Fairfax and Sylvia Cook landed in Australia after rowing across the Pacific Ocean from San Francisco.

A thought for the day: British statesman Sir Winston Churchill said, "If we open a quarrel between the past and the present, we shall find that we have lost the future."
