Quorum Lapses When Muscle Shoals Talk Drones On

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—Weathering the most stubbornly contested filibuster of the session, the Norris-Morin Muscle Shoals bill was given final Congressional approval today when the House agreed to the conference report on the measure.

After the senate had agreed to the report after an all-night session during which its opponents exhausted themselves physically, the House took it up today and under the clock-like machinery of that branch of Congress, it went through in quick order to be sent to the White House. The vote was 211 to 116.

The measure would provide for government operation of the property for production on nitrate and powder.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—The light of dawn filtering through the capitol windows today found the Senate still engaged in protracted discussion over the muscle shoals conference agreement and about 30 sleepy-eyed members gaping through a torrent of words from the opposition.

The Senate had been in continuous session since 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The Muscle Shoals controversy which has occupied the attention of Congress for the last seven years, was rendered early yesterday afternoon after passage of the second deficiency bill, and developed a real filibuster as the Senate went into its first all night meeting of this session.

Older Members Excused

As this morning dragged on, Senators who had spent the night comfortably in bed began to appear on the floor, fresh and brisk, bathed and shaved, and cheerfully ready for the day's business. They were old timers, for the most part, excused by common consent from the battle of physical endurance waged through the night.

None of them brought re-enforcements to the group opposing the bill at issue and got no greeting from McKellar, droning on and on.

Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, started the drive against the conference report by serving notice that he would oppose it so long as he was physically able, unless the authorization for a power dam at Cove Creek, in his state, was stricken out.

Others Also Speak

Upon completion of his impassioned speech, he was followed in turn by Bleasie, Democrat, South Carolina; Tyson, Democrat, Tennessee; Bruce, Democrat, Maryland; Sackett, Republican Kentucky; and Tydings, Democrat Maryland.

Bleasie regained the floor to continue at 2 a. m. and spoke until a quorum call necessitated the sending out of the sergeant-at-arms to round up sleeping Senators from their homes at daybreak.

The several hours previous to this action had been occupied by Bleasie with a discussion of the Civil War and reconstruction periods. He read a lengthy article defending the secessionist movement, which said that "it was Lincoln who committed treason

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS—Tonight and Saturday partly cloudy; cooler in north portion tonight.

Mother Held

Mrs. Lorene Ford (above) who told police her two-year-old daughter, Betty Jean, was kidnaped and drowned by four men, was indicted for murder at Shawnee, Okla., after it was discovered the child died from a blow on the head before the body was thrown into a nearby river. Her twice-divorced husband, Douglas Ford, whom she accused as one of the kidnapers was also indicted.

M. O. DAUCIGER SERIOUSLY LOW

Complications Develop as Oil Man Suffers From Burns

M. O. Danciger, president of the Danciger Oil and Gas company, large operators in Gray county, is lying in the Pampa hospital in a critical condition. He is under the care of three physicians, who state that his condition is serious, but at noon today he seemed to show slight signs of improvement.

Mr. Danciger was severely burned last Friday when gas exploded while he was visiting the Danciger Oil and Gas company's No. 1 Crank, in section 163, four miles northeast of here. He was rushed to the hospital but infection followed and he has been in a critical condition for several days.

It was the Danciger interest in the McGee pool that commenced drilling in with rotary tools by the oil system. The company is also active in the West Texas oil field.

Funeral for Local Woman Being Held This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. J. W. Alexander, 37 years old, who died at her home on South Cuyler street Wednesday morning, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock services at the Malone Funeral Home and at the grave by the Rev. Tom W. Brabham pastor of the First Methodist church.

Besides her husband, J. W. Alexander, now residing in Heber Springs, Ark., she is survived by one brother Fred Patterson of Hampton, Ark.

Oil Worker Badly Hurt by Cable

Homer A. Campbell, an employee of the Operators Oil company, is in the Pampa hospital in a serious condition. While at work on a cable late yesterday afternoon a heavy wrench he was using slipped, crushing him on the head. He was brought to Pampa for treatment and up to press time today had not regained consciousness.

BABE GETS FIFTEENTH

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—(AP)—Babe Ruth hit his fifteenth home run of the season in the first inning of the second Yankee-Athletic game here today. Two men were on base and Rube Walberg was pitching.

Mrs. Ivy Duncan is visiting relatives in Spearman today.

JONES BOOM HAS APPEARED VERY CLEARLY

Action Logically Based Attitude of Recent Convention

IS COMMENDED TO DEMOCRACY

Name Will Be Given Houston Meeting for Consideration

DALLAS, May 24.—(AP)—A boom for Jesse Jones of Houston, national treasurer of the Democratic party and millionaire publisher and business man for the Democratic nomination for president, has appeared in the wake of the state convention at Beaumont.

The convention in resolutions overwhelmingly adopted declared that while it was not present Mr. Jones as a candidate, it commended him to the "democracy of the nation as suitable in every way for the highest office in the gift of the people," and endorsed him as "the choice of the Texas Democracy for the presidency."

Impetus to the movement was added later by a statement of W. L. Dean of Huntsville, chairman of the convention, author of the state prohibition enforcement statute and veteran politician, who declared the publisher's name would be presented by the Texas delegation to the Houston convention as a candidate for president.

Mr. Dean described Mr. Jones as a prohibition supporter, a successful business principles into the government without putting the government into business and a man who has served the party nationally for years and is known throughout the nation.

Rotary Banquet For Lions One of Much Merriment

Rotarians and Lions and their aides filled the dining room of the New Schneider hotel last night at a banquet and ladies' night program given for the Lions.

The occasion started with a singing led by DeLea Vicars of the Rotary club with Joe Strother, a Lion, at the piano. Marvin Lewis gave the invocation.

It was one of the merriest events in the history of the local civic clubs. Chas Cook, Rotary president, welcomed the guests and H. Otto, alias "Hooper Hoople" Stader responded as president of the Lions club. J. M. Dodson, Rotarian, spoke briefly on the need for fellowship and friendship in community relations. Vocal duets by Mrs. A. H. Doucette and Prof. R. B. Fisher were much enjoyed.

Miss VeLora Reed of the high school faculty presented a senior cast in a one-act playlet, "Not Quite Such a Goose." Members of the talented cast were Bob Kahl, Mildred Fahy, Frances Campbell, Lewis Fogleman, and Susie Bell Smalling.

Frank Keim, past president of the Rotary club at Wichita Falls, gave appreciated remarks on "The Idea of Club Organization."

Vocal numbers were rendered by a trio composed of Mrs. T. E. Rose, Mrs. Lynn Boyd, and Mrs. J. M. Dodson. The last number was a short talk by Olin E. Hinkle on the school bond election to be held May 31.

Mrs. S. J. Owen of Hereford returned Wednesday to her home after visiting for some time in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Harrah.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harrah are the proud parents of an eight pound boy born Wednesday, May 23.

Mrs. W. E. Voss of Pampa is on an extended visit with relatives in Oklahoma City.

Andy Gump?

Here are two pictures of David A. Hoag of Canadagua, N. Y., who says he is the original Andy Gump of the Sidney Smith comic strip and has filed suits against several papers to enjoin the publication of the comic on the grounds that it ridicules his facial deformity. Hoag says that part of his lower jaw was removed during an operation about 12 years ago and that shortly thereafter the comic character, Andy Gump, closely resembling him, appeared. Smith says that the character is purely a product of his imagination. Hoag asks damages of $1,000,000.

TAX REDUCTION TO BE RUSHED

Biggest Slice Would Go to Corporations of Nation

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—Unwilling to take any chances on squeezing out the compromise $222,495,000 tax reduction bill in the closing hour jam, Senate leaders circulated a closure petition during the Muscle Shoals filibuster today with a view to restricting debate when they get the measure before the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—A tax cut of $222,495,000, with the biggest slice going to corporations, was awaiting final action by Congress after a compromise reached in conference.

Patching up their differences after two days of steady confinement over the Senate $205,000,000 bill and the House $290,000,000 measure, the conferees late yesterday put the revenue curtaining legislation in shape for a quick vote by the House. The Senate will act and the bill made ready for President Coolidge.

Speed must be the watchword if the measure is to become law at this session for attempts are now being made to adjourn Congress next Tuesday.

Although well beyond the $200,000,000 limitation set by President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon, the measure is so far under the reduction voted by the House that executive approval is regarded as almost certain.

Floyd Tougan has returned from Wichita, Kans., where he was called on account of the illness and death of his brother, Joseph M. Tougan.

E. D. McIver, organization executive of the new Boy Scout council, was here yesterday.

CHINESE NOW FIGHTING ALONG 1,000 MILES

Two Important Railroads Crossed by Soldiers

JAPAN HALTS SOME TROOPS

Nationalists Repulsed by Flank Attack Near Peking

HONG KONG, May 25.—(AP)—Along a line of some 1,000 miles cutting across two vital railroads, 100 miles to the south of Peking, the Northern and Southern (Nationalist) armies were in contact today.

The front extended from Tingchow on the Peking-Hankow railroad, eastward through Hokenfu to Tsangchow on the Tientsin-Pukow railroad.

The Japanese sent an ample force of troops including an infantry regiment and an artillery brigade to Chin-chowfu, Manchuria, to protect the entrance to that province in which Japan has announced the Northerners and Southerners shall not carry on their hostilities.

Other troops were diverted from Tientsin to Tientsin about 60 miles north of the line of battle.

TOKYO, May 25.—(AP)—Advices from Peking today reported heavy fighting along the Peking-Hankow railway vital line of communication with the south.

The Nationalists attacked the Northerners but were repulsed by a counter attack after forcing back the right wing of the Mukdenites, troops of the Northern Alliance.

TIENTSIN, May 24.—(AP)—Eight hundred Japanese troops of the third division arrived last night. The arrival of 3,000 more was expected today. This will bring the Japanese forces in Tientsin to 4,500, equipped with 12 field guns and nine airplanes.

125 Shrine Club Members at Amarillo Ceremonial

One hundred and twenty-five strong the Pampa Shrine club is in Amarillo today attending the Khiva ceremonial. Bedecked in fezzes, and wearing arm bands, white trousers with blue coats, and carrying novel canes with banners attached, the local delegation expects to be first in appearance and in numbers for visiting delegations.

One of their number, Al Johnson prominent manager of the Wilcox Oil and Gas company, is a candidate for the diamond ring, emblematic of the most popular novice. There will be 50 novices to cross the hot sands of Khiva's desert today.

A monster parade was scheduled for 11:30 this morning and was to be followed by a free "feed." The ceremonial was to commence at 2:30 this afternoon and continue late into the night. Pampa is expecting to bring home the diamond ring.

HABITUAL THIEF CAUGHT ROBBING A CHURCH BOX

MILWAUKEE, May 25.—(AP)—George Fox, who says that he has spent all but 23 of his 76 years in jails throughout the country, faces another stretch as the result of attempting to rob the poor box at St. Augustine's church here.

An ingenious alarm arranged by the pastor led to his apprehension yesterday.

Fox said he never took a drink of liquor in his life, but that horse races have taken several fortunes from him.

Body of Doctor Is Found on Trail of 4 Fleeing Robbers

Dead Body of Kidnaped Teller of Lamar, Colo., Bank Found North of Scott City, Kans.

DIGHTON, Kas., May 25.—(AP)—The body of E. A. Kessinger, missing assistant cashier of the First National bank of Lamar, Colo., was found near the road north of Scott City today, apparently murdered by the bandits who raided the bank.

The bandits are known to be between Leoti and Scott City, trying to escape in the table lands of that vicinity, and their capture is expected within an hour.

DODGE CITY, Kas., May 25.—(AP)—The sheriff's office here this afternoon was informed by Sheriff L. E. Alderman of Lamar that the body of Dr. W. W. Wineinger of Dighton, who was reported kidnaped by the bandits who raided the First National Bank of Lamar Wednesday, was found by the road 25 miles south of Oakley, Logan county today.

Sheriff Alderman reported the bandits apparently are heading for the northwest corner of the state, probably en route to western Nebraska or Denver.

The bandits, who killed two bank officers at Lamar, are being pursued by a posse of 200 men and two airplanes. The car in which the fugitives are leading the chase was first sighted from one of the planes.

Dr. Wineinger's car had been driven off a cliff and the physician, shot through the head, apparently had been thrown after it. The body when found about 8 o'clock today was still warm, indicating he was killed today.

Dr. Wineinger, who was about 40 years of age, is survived by his widow and two small children. He has been living in Dighton for six years.

Scout Committee of Chamber Will Meet Tonight

The local Boy Scout committee, with Tom W. Brabham as chairman, will meet tonight in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 8 o'clock. Plans for a membership campaign in Pampa will be discussed at the meeting and the chairman is anxious that all the members of the committee be present.

Since the new Panhandle council has been formed Pampa has become the center of activities in Boy Scout work and rapid progress is being made, not only here but in the other cities in the area.

E. D. McIver is area executive of the new council and Scott Baccus organization executive.

Engineer and Fireman Killed When Train Strikes Milk Truck

DYER, Ind., May 25.—(AP)—The engineer and fireman of Monon train number 36, en route from Indianapolis to Chicago, were killed today when the train struck the trailer of a milk truck at St. Johns, five miles from here, overturning the engine and derailing five coaches.

William Ballengar, engineer, Indianapolis, was pinned under his engine and Floyd E. Crowder, fireman, also of Indianapolis, was scalded to death. Passengers were shaken up but unhurt, the Monon station agent here reported. The milk truck was driven by a negro who jumped from his truck and fled as the engine smashed into the trailer.

TWO NEW RESIDENCES

Two more large residences are under construction in the residential part of the city. J. M. Dodson, vice-president of the Gray county State bank is having a $4,000 residence erected by the North addition. The contract has been awarded to John T. Glover, local building contractor.

The Cabot Co. is erecting a $3,000 home in the West End addition. The company contractor will be in charge of construction.

PROBABLY EVERY CITY

passes through the bungalow stage of architecture. Standardization of style in architecture has become alarming, according to directors of the American Institute of Architect, who declare that "character in design seems somewhat lost sight of in the general run of work that one sees throughout the land. Local characteristics are fast disappearing in this era of common thought and mechanical advancement. Communities are coming to look more and more like peas of one pod, and a certain commercialism is making itself more and more evident in architecture universally employed throughout the country."

Individuality in residence design has been especially lacking in pioneer West Texas, but in recent years there has been a strong trend to the contrary. With restriction of subdivisions has come cleverness in design and a variety in selection of materials. One can go to the larger cities and find scores of different types, both good and bad.

It is probably true, however, as the Institute says, that the local architects are neglecting the civic planning idea, with its possibilities for developing distinction in city building. Moreover, public architecture, of city halls, auditoriums, and schools is being confined too much to a set form, and the only originality discernible is in the interior arrangements.

Architecture is a creative profession, and the city planning architect as a branch member of that profession has a field with limitless possibilities. The craft as a whole should cooperate in creating a demand for better and more varied designs.

Essentials in Diplomacy

What is diplomacy? Our school boy recollections of the subject are chiefly concerned with dominating personalities, deception, and innuendo. It has long been said that in the art of diplomatic discussion Americans rank very low.

Now comes Count Chambrun, French ambassador, with the statement that "diplomacy is by no means the art of ambiguity and subtlety. It requires above all good faith. The diplomat, in the words of Talleyrand, must be endowed with instinct, talent, he must appear frank and yet be impenetrable. His conversation must be simple. But to all these attributes that of good faith must be added. If ever good faith is needed it is in political transactions, since good faith alone inspires trust."

In this age of democracy, social and business conditions have changed. Traditions have been broken down. Historical knowledge ranks along with knowledge of modern conditions throughout a broadened universe, not above. The press with its frankness and instantaneous transmission of news and views is in vivid contrast to the age of sails and couriers. The League of Nations has its basis in the new diplomacy.

It can be said without fear of contradiction that in the new Democracy America and Americans are prepared for leadership. Frankness and sincerity is our code.

TWINKLES

With seventy broadcasting stations prepared to tell the world, the national conventions are going to be well aired, and if there are scandals they will be national, too.

Many a radio listener will listen in vain for the voice of the favorite son in the convention, but he probably will hear enough.

Alanreed News

Wednesday night an interesting program was presented by the primary and intermediate grades.

Graduation of the seventh grade into high school followed on Thursday night with a good audience. The principal address was delivered by attorney Charles Dean of Clarendon.

The address to the Alanreed high school graduates was delivered by Rev. E. Gaston Foote of White Deer. He admonished the class to forget the mistakes of the past, to specialize, to concentrate the energies, to have a high aim, and to then attain the goal.

The Senior-Junior play has been postponed until Thursday night of this week.

Mrs. W. E. Ream and daughter are at the bedside of the former's mother in Erick, Okla.

Ray and Massie Chapman Well Is Best of Latest

Gray county, which during the last few months has been the one bright spot in the Panhandle, was again th-county with the most important developments. Ray and Massie, who opened prolific production in section 51, block 25, central Gray county, got another good well in that territory at the end of the week.

Their No. 2 Chapman in the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 51, block 25, topped the granite wash at 2,790 feet and penetrated it ten feet. The well flowed 900 barrels of high grade oil the first eight-teen hours and latest reports state the well is flowing about 2,000 barrels a day.

Their No. 1 Chapman in the same section was a much better well initially, but it was one of the most seriously affected wells in the Panhandle, having paraffin trouble. The results was production of the well was cut into sharply and frequent clean-outs were necessary.

Northeast of that territory the Mc-

Iroy Oil company's No. 1 M. B. Davis in section 12, block 1, is standing at 3,340 feet with a show of oil and salt water breaking in from above. First show was picked up at 2,900 feet.

About two miles south of production in the McGee pool the Spartan Oil company's No. 1 Hopkins in section 85 block B-2, had granite wash pay at 3,000 to 3,011 feet and 1,800 feet of oil rose in the hole. The well was put on the swab and was good for about 200 barrels in top pay, when about 1,000 feet of gas broke in. The well is shut down setting new casing.

AS HE SIGNED HIMSELF!

Not Many Words, But Their Meaning Was Deep and Musical.

"Your Son", were the closing words to his letter. Not in all the languages are there words that will tell the same message. From College perhaps, or from a land far away perhaps, announcing his home coming, came this message to Mother and to Dad. No jeweled manuscript—no golden pen could have told the same story.

Your Son! What simplicity—what worlds of emotion in those words. YOUR SON!—is there a heart so worn—or a brain so tired that will fail of a thrill in reading a letter signed: Your Son? Whate'er that son may be—whate'er may be the Mother or the Dad there is Divinity present in such a message that will tie three souls together for good or ill.

Three Vetoes by Coolidge Overriden by Both Houses

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—Lines were drawn today for a resumption of the executive-legislative battle over vetoed bills.

With three measures returned unopposed by President Coolidge already enacted into law over the president's objections, the house set out today to put another one on the statute books that was rejected at the White House, while a Senate committee considered taking still another to the floor for action.

The Odzie bill providing $10,500,000 to be spent in the next three years for construction of post roads in eleven western states faced an attempt in the House today to override one of Mr. Coolidge's thirteen vetoes handed down as this session. The measure was passed over executive disapproval by the Senate yesterday, 67 to 22, the Democrats being among those backing up the president. Only four votes above the two-thirds required were obtained.

The Senate had its vetoed bill slate clear today, except for the McNary-Haugen farm relief measure. The Senate agriculture committee had called another meeting to decide whether it would be brought out to face the test of mustering enough support to pass it again.

Besides the Odzie bill, the Senate passed in rapid succession yesterday three other measures which the president had turned down and came within seven votes of defeating the executive on a fifth.

Two of the three were postal bills previously repassed by the House. They thus became law. One provides for increased salaries to postal night workers and the other allows fourth class postmasters the expense of rent, fuel, light, and equipment.

The fourth bill repassed was the Tyson-Fitzgerald measure providing for retirement pay for disabled emergency officers. This was passed over the veto, 66 to 14, and two hours later the House completed enactment of the measure by repassing it, 245 to 161.

The president scored his single victory on the Bingham bill creating the rank of bandmaster in the army, the vote for overriding being 44 to 32, seven sixths of the necessary two-thirds.

POST OFFICE NOT POPULAR GAME TODAY

Kiss With Special Delivery Letter Bring Rebuffs and Police

CHICAGO, May 25.—(AP)—A kiss with every special delivery letter was the formula Willie Carago, 18, followed yesterday until police put a stop to it.

Entering the bell telephone company offices, he swept toward Miss Edith Tyrona, a clerk.

"Special delivery, lady," he announced, plunking a kiss on the cheek before she could defend herself. Recovering quickly, she slammed him with a phone directory, and he left.

The next stop was the office of the U. S. Hoffman company where he offered osculations in rapid succession to the Misses Leah Dakele, Hedwig Shandey, Josephine Zaccala, and Genevieve Hitchcock, each time meeting rebuff. By this time police arrived.

Young Carago told officers he guessed the good old game of "Postoffice" was not as popular with the girls as it used to be.

Deputy Jim Sullivan of McLean has been a visitor here for a few days.

Today Is Twentieth Anniversary of the First National Bank

Today is the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the First National bank of Pampa.

The institution was organized as the First State bank in June of 1908, but because of a national break in 1903, J. R. P. Sewell served as president until his death in 1909. He was succeeded by R. H. Collier, now chief national ### bank examiner for this Federal Reserve district, who served until January 13, 1915. In that year T. D. Hobart became the third president, remaining in office until January 13, 1920. B. E. Finley succeeded Mr. Hobart and is still in that position. One of the oldest members of the staff in point of service is H. E. Vickers, a vice-president, who joined the institution in its second year, while he was yet a lad.

The bank was first located in the southwestern part of the building which the present K. C. store is occupying. Later it was in the Clayman grocery location, and its third move was to the present quarters, which were completely remodeled last year.

TWINS BORN TODAY

Dr. C. D. Hunter reports the arrival of a 6-pound boy and a 7-pound girl to Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Griffin this morning. The mother and twins are doing nicely. Mr. Griffin is a section foreman here.

New Pay Possible in Mel Davis Test

Geologists are waiting for further drilling operations before deciding whether a new oil pay has been discovered in the LeFors district. The McIlroy Oil company's No. 1 Mel B. Davis in the northeast corner of the south 240 acres of the east half of section 12, block 1 A. C. H. and B. survey four miles southeast of LeFors, encountered pay Tuesday at 3,383 feet.

Oil at that depth is 521 feet below sea level and is the first show at that depth in the southeastern part of the county. Drilling has ceased while salt water is being bailed out. The salt water was encountered and is leaking thru the casing.

The show was picked up in a red rock formation of sand with no granite wash encountered. The well is making considerable gas.

The LeFors Petroleum company's No. 1

J. M. Shaw in the northwest corner of T. Leach survey, picked up the first show of oil at 2,660 feet and is setting casing. The well is making 43,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

This location is looking more promising than the company's No. 1 in the same survey, which was completed for a 60,000,000-foot gasser.

Two Locations Made on McLarty Lease

The Herogan Oil company of Amarillo has made two locations to drill wells in the LeFors area of Gray county. Both locations are in the east half of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 1, block 1, A. C. H. and B. survey, on the McLarty lease.

These locations are in the same section as the Navillus oil company's well and south of the Texas company's No. 1 Saunders in section 3, block 5.

Post Office Height Requirement Uniform

Receipt of applications to take civil service examinations in Pampa will close June 1 according to a statement received here from the secretary of this district. Up to this time fourteen men and eleven women have filed applications at the local office.

An amendment of that portion of the paragraph entitled "Physical requirements and examinations" which refers to female applications, reads: "the height requirement for women applicants for the postoffice service will be the same as that for men, namely 5 feet 4 inches."

and not the states."

Cites States Rights
Describing the pamphlet as "the greatest argument I've ever read," the South Carolinian said it applied "to what we are discussing here this morning." He explained his reference was to states' rights, and characterized the Cove Creek dam provision of the resolution as "common plain stealing" of Tennessee land by the government.

Blease criticized Senator Heflin Democrat, Alabama, for supporting the resolution as reported by the conference. The Alabamian, who was covered by an army blanket on a divan in the rear of the chamber opened his eye and smiled.

Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas was stretched out and likewise blanketed on a nearby divan, which had been surrendered not long before by McKellar. With his arm, the Texan shielded the light of 1,000 electric bulbs from his eyes.

McKellar had taken a seat nearby; Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona who was waiting to deliver a tirade against the Boulder Dam bill. Only three other Senators were on the floor.

Mrs. E. T. White Deer underwent a serious operation in the Pampa hospital this morning.

at that time, LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin; Norris, Republican, Nebraska, and Shipstead, Farmer-labor, Minnesota. They sat side by side directly in front of the vice-president's rostrum, which was occupied by Senator Dale, Republican, Vermont. Norris was leading the fight for a vote on the conference report.

Before concluding, Blease declared he could prove "that we killed more Yankees than we had confederate soldiers," and then lashed the Senate verbally.

"The corporations have got control of this Senate, and have got 'em hog-tied," he shouted.

Blease Speaks 6 Hours
Blease's second speech during the day and night session combined to make his total speaking time on the report six hours. He followed Tydings who had paced up and down the chamber for three hours on Tuesday while denouncing the agreement as "Communistic."

A freshman member of the Senate Tydings had captured his attention at the conference report and refused repeatedly to yield except for specific questions. He expressed the opinion that President Coolidge would veto the bill if given the opportunity, which brought Senator Reed, Republican Pennsylvania, to his feet with a suggestion to "stop filibustering" so that a vote might be taken.

"The Marylander said he would yield for consideration of other business," if I were sure at this moment that the president would live until he got the joint resolution and would veto it," adding:

"But he may die even between this date and the time the joint resolution reached the White House."

Quorum Is Restored
The Senate finally was able to resume discussion of the Shoals conference report when a quorum was obtained at 7:20 a. m.

While thirty senators answered the quorum call around 2 A. M. the attendance fell off quickly when, one by one, the more tired of the membership began stragling out to the couches and other lounging devices of the cloak-rooms.

Promptly after the quorum had been announced, McKellar gave notice of his intention to file two amendments to the report and Norris challenged that he would move to throw them out because they would be out of order.

After McKellar had declared his intention there was a lull while Senators tried to map out a procedure.

Forty-six needed to transact business, but at 6:30 a. m. only nine senators were on the floor, not counting Dale in the vice-president's chair.

With enough senators present to do business, McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, jumped into the verbal fray again to resume the filibuster he is directing against the report.

"WHAT OF IT? ... Even if Dunlop has had the longest experience in tire-building, does that affect my car?"

No. Not the mere fact of 40 years' experience. That might mean nothing. But, there is big meaning to you in the success of Dunlop's 40 years.

Such sustained success shows that Dunlop knows how to build maximum value into tires. The 26 million Dunlop tires now running form a world-wide evidence of Dunlop's superiority.

For 40 years . . . year after year . . . old friends have been sticking to Dunlop and new friends have been turning to Dunlop. These millions of motorists must be right. They have had experience in using Dunlops. They know.

As soon as you try a set, you, too, will know. You will find that Dunlop's successful experience means extra value to you.
