MEMORIAL DAY AT GETTYSBURG IS STIRRING

Executive Sees Some Progress by Use of Treaties

LEGION DIRECTS PAMPA PROGRAM

Patriotic Observance Under Way This Afternoon

Veterans of the last war very fittingly planned the Memorial Day program which is being carried out here this afternoon.

The American Legion, Legion Auxiliary, and 40 and 8 group arranged the patriotic observance and brought E. E. Nelson, Amarillo attorney, here to speak this afternoon.

Members of the three organizations were to assemble at the Legion hall and march to the Presbyterian church for the main program. The Rev. W. L. Evans, chaplain of the Legion, was to open the program, then Mr. Nelson was to make the patriotic address.

A musical program also was arranged.

Exercises at the cemetery were to include placing of wreaths upon the graves of Bill Reid and Albert Crossman, who lose their lives in the service.

Poppies are being sold by members of the Auxiliary. The Stars and Stripes were floating in front of business houses today, ruffled by a rising breeze.

Business houses were closing for the afternoon. The Pampa Business Men's association requested its members to close from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., instead of from noon to 4 p. m. as erroneously published yesterday. The latter time was decided upon by the Clothing Merchants' bureau.

GETTYSBURG Pa., May 30.—(P)—Speaking from the rostrum on the Gettysburg battlefield near the spot where Lincoln delivered his immortal address, President Coolidge today voiced a plea for the abolishment of war as the fittest tribute to war dead of America.

At the same time he demanded less indifference to crime in the United States and described what was described as a tendency of the legislatures to exceed the powers granted them by the Constitution. These, he said, tended to weaken the regime of law and order and breed turbulent populations prone to war.

Raps Legislatures
Although not mentioning any specific legislation, one portion of the President's speech was regarded as a reference of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill which he recently vetoed. Legislatures, he said could not evade responsibilities for exceeding their constitutional authority by "the weak plea" to let a law be passed and have its validity passed upon by the courts.

Declaring the "one thing we want above all else for ourselves and for other nations is a continuance of peace," Mr. Coolidge reviewed negotiations by the State department for treaties against war and for arbitration treaties.

The Briand proposal that the United States and France sign a treaty to renounce war was described by the President as having developed into "one of the most impressive peace movements with very favorable reception."

Favorable Reception
Secretary Kellogg's submission to the powers of a draft treaty to this effect, events that the world has ever known," he said.

LIKED "RUTH" TWICE AS MUCH AS HIS WIFE

So Collar Manufacturer Is Sued for Divorce and Alimony

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 30.—(P)—Although Wm. Proctor Manning was Heusen, a member of the wealthy collar manufacturing company, liked his wife very well, she complained in her divorce suit on file here today, he liked a certain "Ruth" twice as well.

"I'd give my life for Irene, but would give two lives for Ruth," the wife, Mrs. Irene Frazier van Heusen, quoted him as saying.

She also accused him of being found in the company of a dressmaker, the latter being only partly clothed at the time.

Declaring her husband has an income of $1,500 a month, Mrs. Van Heusen asked alimony and custody of the three children.

Police Reserves Halt Yale Riot and Arrest Five

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 30.—(P)—Two hundred Yale students, hurling bricks and fruit, stormed police headquarters early today in an effort to rescue five of their comrades who had been arrested, but were unable to break thru the ranks of 50 policemen massed before the entrance.

Bricks were thrown thru the windows of the office of the chief of police in one of the worst student riots known in this city.

More than 500 students participated in the two-hour riot. Police Captain James J. White called reserves from the outlying districts to whom he issued the order "send them to bed, or to the hospital, or bring them here."

The students arrested were: Gordon B. Tweedy, son of Prof. H. H. Tweedy of the Yale Divinity school; Herbert Stanley Connell, New York City; Daniel T. Moore, New Haven; Daniel Goth, Middletown, Conn.; and Holland B. Williams of New York City.

The trouble started when a sewer machine, working in the street, disturbed the slumbers of students in Fayerweather and Wright halls. Some one hurled a bottle which crashed against the machine and the next minute students from nearly every window laid down a barrage of glass ware. A rush for the campus then started and soon 500 men lined the streets.

A flying squad was sent from police headquarters and Dean Clarence Men-dell appeared in an attempt to pacify the riot leaders and send them to their rooms. As a street car passed, some one pulled the trolley pole from the wire; a patrolman grabbed a student and started him towards headquarters and the riot was on.

The students closed in on the police in an attempt to rescue the student and another of their number was arrested during the ensuing battle. The students armed themselves with bricks from a nearby street construction job and stormed headquarters in a last desperate attempt to release their comrades. But the police reserves had arrived and during the melee in front of headquarters, two more students were arrested.

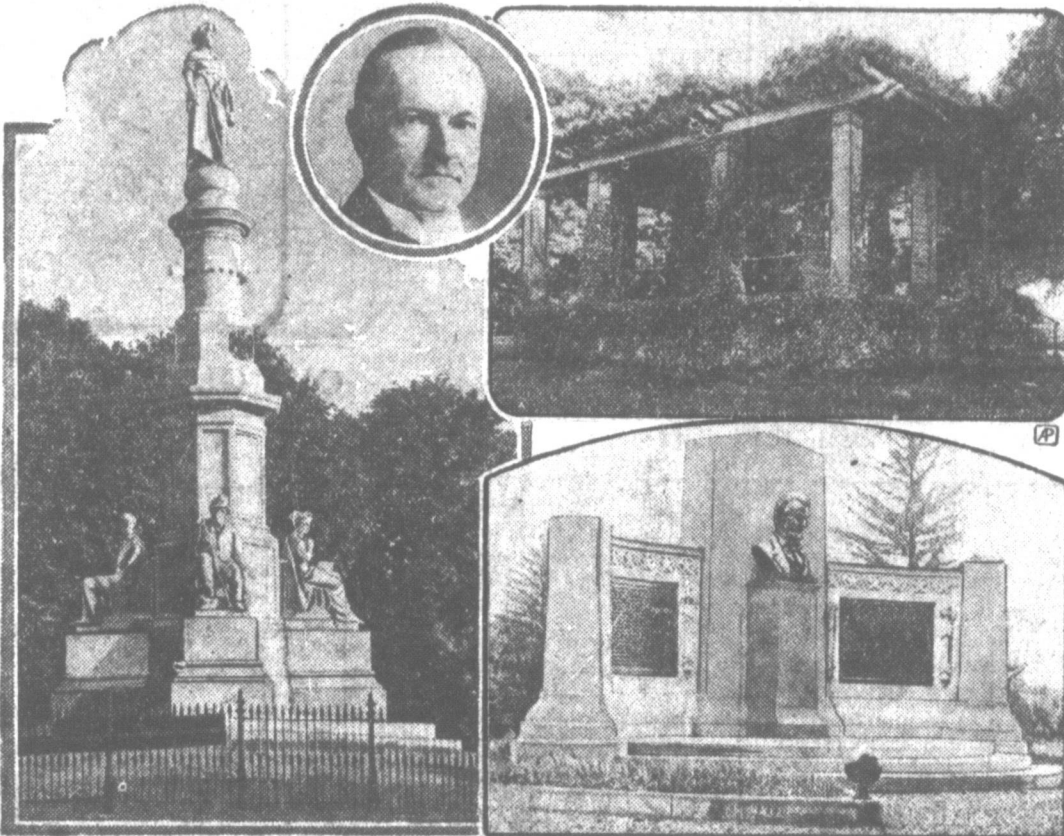

The police were pelted with old fruit and eggs. Bricks were hurled thru the windows of the office of the chief of police before the officers got the upper hand and started a march to the campus. The students were herded thru the campus gates which were then locked.

GRAIN BUILDING BURNS

HOUSTON, May 30.—(P)—A spectacular fire which brought out all the equipment of the city before it was subdued after a two-hour fight, destroyed the sheet iron building, covering half a block, of the Saint Grain company, Inc., Tuesday night. Loss was estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000.

A new location was made yesterday by the Texas Company in Sec. 50, Block 25, H. & G. N., N. E. corner N. W. 1-4.

President Is to Visit Gettysburg As Nation Obsever Memorial Day

FISHER SEES GOOD YIELDS

Believes Some Fields to Reach 35 Bushels of Wheat

Prof. R. B. Fisher, principal of Central high school, is working now as adjuster for the Planters' Hail Insurance company.

Mr. Fisher's territory includes the counties of Gray, Carson, and Roberts. Since last Wednesday he has been averaging about 2,000 acres daily. He estimates the wheat he has seen at from 10 to 35 bushels per acre, as liberal figures.

He is finding the hail damage light, ranging from 2 to 5 per cent. One field showed 78 per cent damage in one corner and no damage in another. The average inspected so far shows about 2 per cent.

McLean Attorney Is Suing Commissioners

L. V. Lonsdale, McLean attorney, has entered suit against the commissioners court in an effort to obtain $1,250 he says is due him for legal services.

Statements presented to the court for settlement were rejected on the grounds that the work was unauthorized. The services were in connection with notices and other legal proceedings in district 4.

This and That

"The grounds out at the ball park would make a very fine place for a municipal play ground. There is another plot, too, out near the water wells, that would do fairly well"—P. P. Reid.

A. Gordon: "Business was dull yesterday."

"That prospects for a good summer business are unusually encouraging at present was the statement made by W. C. Mitchell.

"What Pampa and Gray county need most of all at present are more any better county roads and the completion of the present paving program for the city," says T. A. Perkins.

WASHINGTON (P)—Renewal of a nation's vow that "these dead shall not have died in vain" will be made in solemn public observances of Memorial Day all over the country May 30.

Gettysburg, Pa., where 65 years ago Lincoln's immortal words called a war-torn nation to its duty of carrying on, will be the scene of the chief ceremony this year.

President Coolidge as spokesman for the people of the United States, will make the principal address at a simple service on the scene of the national soldiers' burial ground.

The president is making his first trip to Gettysburg to deliver a Memorial Day address, having gone to Arlington national cemetery heretofore. The vine-covered brick rostrum from which the president will speak is directly in front of the monument erected over the spot where a rough wooden platform was built for President Lincoln when he went to Gettysburg, November 19, 1863, to dedicate the cemetery.

Lincoln's Gettysburg address, the first memorial speech ever delivered on the battlefield where 43,000 Union and Confederate soldiers were killed and wounded, will be read by Dr. A. E. Wagner, of the Christ Lutheran church of Gettysburg. The Rev. James Henry Darlington, Episcopal bishop of Harrisburg will give the invocation, and Representative Franklin Menges, of Pennsylvania, will introduce the president.

At Arlington national cemetery patriotic organizations under the direction of Albert F. Vaughn, the new chaplain at Fort Myer, will send special representatives to lay flowers and wreaths upon the blocks of marble that mark the graves of the nation's heroes.

Chaplain John T. Axton, chief chaplain of the War department, and members of his staff will take part in the tributes to be paid there. May 30 was first declared the official Memorial day in a proclamation by Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., in 1868, making it the official day of observance for the Civil war veterans.

LINDY STOPS IN AMARILLO

AMARILLO, May 30.—(P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, making a survey of the proposed train-plane passenger route from coast to coast, landed at Bivins field here shortly after 8 a. m., for fuel. He took off half an hour later, presumably for Clovis, N. M.

LEGION RODEO READY TO GO

Wild Cattle Will Be Received Today for Events

"Everything is in readiness and anxiously waiting for the opening day," stated Lon Blanset, general manager of the American Legion rodeo to be staged here May 1, 2, 3.

Some of the best bucking horses from the Roy Morse and John Guinier bucking strain have been secured and are on the grounds ready for action. The cattle that will be used in the various contests is to arrive this afternoon to assure plenty of material for the boys to work on. Blanset assures the rodeo fans that nothing has been left undone toward securing the best in every detail of the three-day entertainment.

To add to the already strong lineup of contestants and entertainers, three more performers arrived yesterday. Chick Harmon, widely known steer and bronc rider and bull-dogger, hit town yesterday for the affair and is ready to "do his stuff."

Jay Snively of Pahaska, Okla., and Ike Rude of Mangum, Okla., arrived yesterday. These contestants are ropers of note, and promise the best in the way of calf roping.

Miami Masons to Play Pampa Lodge

Miami Masonic Lodge No. 805, while not claiming special baseball ability for its members, believes it can defeat the members of Pampa Lodge No. 966.

The challenge has been accepted by the local lodge, and the result will be determined in a game to be played Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the rodeo grounds.

"We may not show any astounding talent," but we are going to have lots of fun," declares J. A. Pearson of the local lodge.

"HOME BREW" IS POWERFUL STUFF POLICE LEARN

Analysis of 19 Raids Shows Range of 4 1/2 to 10 1/2 Per Cent

Maybe the man had a shot of "home brew" when he said he would walk the crack as soon as it came around again. At least "home brew" which was seized by members of the police department and sent to Wheeler for chemical analysis shows a kick strong enough to cause such results.

A range from 4 1-2 per cent to 10 1-2 was revealed by the chemist when 19 bottles, each containing a sample of each raid made, were sent for analysis last week. Nineteen raids were made by members of the police and sheriff's departments during the past few weeks and a sample of each raid was sent in a small bottle to a chemist at Wheeler for analysis.

Lou Meyer Wins Speed Classic and Moore Is Second

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—(P)—Lou Meyer, a 24-year-old novice driver of Los Angeles, won the 500-mile auto mobile race at Indianapolis motor speedway today, thrilling a record crowd of 150,000.

Lou Moore of Hollywood, Calif., was second.

Gleason went back into the lead at 452 miles by cutting looser with a terrific burst of speed.

Lou Moore of Hollywood, Calif., the lead at 467 miles, with Gleason dropping back into second place. As the finish neared it appeared to be anybody's race.

DURAY WAS FAVORITE

Leon Duray of Los Angeles, a veteran of the racing world, remained favorite with the crowd, with Cliff Woodberry of Chicago, Cliff Bergere of Los Angeles, and Anthony Gullatto, sharing the spotlight. Peter de Paolo nephew of the famous Ralph de Palma watched the race from a stretcher in the Judges' stand. De Paolo, always a contender in recent races, was smashed last week while trying to qualify his car.

As the races heeled off their first lap, the attendance was nearing the 125,000 record of a year ago, with indications that it might be surpassed.

Duray set the pace at the start, clipping off the first lap at the rate of 113 miles an hour. His time for the first two and a half miles was 1:19:45.

Gullatto Starts Well
Duray with a huge No. 4 painted on the hood and tail of his little black car, led the first fifty miles. He reeled it off in 28:01:02, an average of 107.078 miles an hour. Gullatto was second with "Babe" Stapp third. Louis Schneider was fourth.

Cliff Bergere of Los Angeles, one of the favorites, was forced out with a distributor shaft before 50 miles finished. He was piloting a front-drive machine. Russell Snowberger of Philadelphia withdrew because of a broken supercharger.

The pace setting Duray, leading at 100 miles, knocked off the distance in 36:30:04, an average of 106.193 miles an hour. Gullatto was second, about 11 seconds behind Duray with Stapp third and Jimmy Gleason fourth.

Car Hits Wall
Benny Shoaf of Mattoon, Ill., a young driver, smashed into a retaining wall on the north end of the track while making the turn at terrific speed, but escaped serious injury. His car was wrecked. He was on his 82nd mile at the time.

HUNDRED MEN WORKING HARD FOR CONTROL

Oil Flows When the Control Head Is Removed

BIT WAS OUT FOR SHARPENING

Big Pay Is Believed Found at 2,683 Feet

(P) shot over the derrick at the LeFors Petroleum company's No. 2 Townsite at 11:15 a. m., today, and at press time the flow had not been brought under control.

The flow was unexpected, and came when the control head was removed to replace a bit which had been removed for dressing. Liquid gush shot over the crown block and a steady flow, of unestimated proportions, continued from a depth of 2,583 feet.

According to George Clardy of LeFors, more than 100 men are frantically at work trying to bring the well under control and throw up storage. Pipeline connections are being made as rapidly as material can be obtained. Tanks are being rushed.

The LeFors Petroleum company, financed largely by local sale of stock, now has its second commercial well, the No. 1, drilled after the rig was skidded once having been completed as a gasser.

TOMORROW

(An Editorial)
Pampa will make another big decision tomorrow. That decision will be in favor of her schools, of course. But how much interest will Pampa citizens show in their school children? How many will go to the polls at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium Thursday, AND VOTE?

In the old days a school house was simple—a matter of four walls, a few desks, a black-board, and a bundle of saplings.

Today it is otherwise. Conditions make it necessary for the schools to look more closely to the health and physical development of the children. The gymnasium is used long after other classes are dismissed. Woodpiles are scarce, but skilled gymnasts build agile bodies to form the basis for alert minds. The auditorium is not limited to one thing, such as the old fashioned literary society. It is alternately a studio, a theatre, a lecture hall, a place for pep meetings, and a practice room for forensic contests.

Pampa's greatest school need is that of a gymnasium-auditorium. A health program in connection with girls' athletics is impossible without such a building.

More grade schools are absolutely imperative. Pampa schools have done marvels without spending any more money than Panhandle, Shamrock, Canadian, or other towns. But Pampa's needs and Pampa's valuations are much greater. The bond election of tomorrow is entirely justified. It will not raise taxes.

Be able to tell Pampa's children, eager to learn the results, "Yes, I voted for you."

HOW ILL ADVISED are some of the criticisms which people concoct in all sincerity!

Criticism is the snap judgment of a variable mind; the thing criticized is a non-variant. But it is even worse to change the mind and hypocritically retain the judgment in the interest of consistency.

Getting worthwhile pleasure or profit out of real art is not easy. It requires effort to "tune in" on the worthwhile, and anything that requires this effort is apt to be labeled "dumb". It is easy to perceive, however, wherein the dumbness lies.

Those who are fond of reading should, as an experiment if not as a regular practice mark passages which especially appeal to them at the moment. Later, repeat the process, and note the different reactions that will occur to the same stimuli. The reader perhaps will ask himself why he marked this or that passage, and what he saw in something which at the last perusal has no appeal.

No man can criticize better than he knows, but that which he dislikes may be someone's pleasure. Out of such circumstances do disagreements, creeds, and factions arise. The sun that grows the delicate flower stimulates the rag weed. The weeds and flowers are variables, like human beings, but the sun is the same forever.

To change the mind is an indication of growth, showing that the thought processes are being refined and the vision broadened. Or it can be that to the contrary—that the mind is closing and becoming no longer capable of new ideas.

When a noted author dies, critics hasten to evaluate his work and predict the life of his compositions. This has its value, but it is nonconclusive. The rise and fall of the fortunes of the written word should warn us against accepting contemporary judgments as final. The transcripts, whether of lasting worth or mediocrity, will be scanned by persons with different interests. Works which die at our hands will be born again when "posterity" sees them from that more distant perspective. Creations which we accept will be cast into the musty storerooms, unread.

Much literature is being produced now that will live. Its life will rest upon its faithfulness in depicting this age. It may be from the pen of Lardner, Ferber, Will Rogers, or others variously accepted. Faithfulness in mirroring an age is important for the future, while tendencies to break away from the present may get future recognition only in the sense of introducing another cycle.

Furthermore, in the weeding out process which is inevitable in any period, the place of the so-called masters will be shared by later literati. Just as surely as Addison, Pope, Shakespeare, Burke, and that school moved over to accommodate Eliot, Scott, Dickens, and Thackeray, will the latter make way for the modern array.

We may criticize an age, yet we cannot logically condemn to death the literature typical of that time. It is better so.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The west which has bragged so these last few years about her supremacy over the east in football, also is able to talk about the decadence of eastern politicians.

It is to that, primarily, that Herbert Hoover owes his excellent chance of being nominated for president. Mr. Hoover, of course, was born in Iowa and made his home in California.

The decadence of eastern politicians who ought to be dominating the party, or at least the successors of those politicians who always have dominated it and the representatives of the influences which are the party's backbone, have failed rather miserably this year in the attempt.

One refers, of course, to such giants as National Chairman William M. Butler of Massachusetts, Vice Chairman Charlie Hilles of New York and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon of Pennsylvania.

Apparently they haven't the strength or cunning of the old fellows like Penrose, Quay and Murray Crane. None of them wanted Hoover for the party candidate, though Mellon at least now realizes that they may have to take him.

But at that they could have stopped Hoover if there hadn't been such a frightful dearth of stopping material in the eastern states. It was their inability to find a man who could hold New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, which really allowed Hoover to slip into his commanding lead.

The time-honored trick, of course, would have been to let an eastern candidate corral the eastern delegates, let Lowder round up the middle west and Hoover the Pacific coast and whatever else he could find en route. If this scheme had worked Hoover could have been held to some 300 delegates, the convention would have deadlocked and the bosses could have had their own man, who would have been none other than President Coolidge.

Coolidge refused to stoop to such trickery. Then they hurried for Charles Evans Hughes, who was not quite so impressive owing to his 1916 defeat. Hughes, realizing that he was weak in the west and that he apparently was in line for a job as a mere hitching post, ducked out. And then there wasn't anybody to the east of Senator Frank Willis in Ohio. The old rule that "you can't beat somebody with nobody" worked inexorably.

Except for Coolidge, New England was barren of presidential possibilities. None of her senators would do; Governor Fuller of Massachusetts was out because of the Sacco-Vanzetti case and the fact that it wasn't smart politics to nominate two Massachusetts governors in succession.

All the leading New York Republicans but Hughes had been beaten by Al Smith or some other Democrat and none had shown an ability to hold his own state. No Pennsylvanian was available for various reasons, especially owing to the unsavory reputation of the state's politics.

It was a very sad situation indeed, and while the bosses were wringing their hands Hoover walked in and grabbed up a lot of delegates.

Al Smith is the one big exception to the fact that the outstanding political personalities of this nation come from the west. Coolidge, of course, became president by accident. The parties just naturally don't pick their candidates from New England.

SCHOOLBOY

My path led up the hill and past
The neighbor's house, and then
Slipped through deep and leafy woods
To find the road again;
It climbed a friendly little knoll,
Dropped down to cross a cool
Grass-tufted stream, and then it found
A one-room country school.

Wait, schoolboy, wait I'll show you where
The hoot-owl had his nest
And where I saw a timber wolf,
And where wild grapes grew best.
I'll show you where the rabbits hid,
And where wild strawberries grew.
And—ah! he's gone, just running free—
The way I used to do.

Oh, schoolboys of the yesteryears,
Come walk a way with me,
The happy paths are plowed away.
But maybe we shall see,
The Johnny-jump-ups underneath
Some tree where schoolboys play
Today as happy as we played
In our own schoolboy day.

French Orphans Decorate Graves of American Soldiers

PARIS, May 30.—(AP)—America rendered homage today to those of her sons who fell in the great war. Eloquent voices extolled their courage and sacrifice while the youthful hands of French war orphans decorated their graves.

Whether grouped together in beautiful cemeteries with artistic little marble slabs marking their resting place or sleeping their last sleep in valley or upon the hills where they fell and only a faded wooden cross above them there was a word of remembrance for all. There 29,915 buried in American cemeteries; there are a little over 100 "undisturbed" graves of American soldiers in France. At the Suresnes cemetery on the slopes of Mont Valerien near Paris, and at the Meuse-Argonne necropolis at Romagne-Sous-Moufflon, the services were heart-felt and touching manifestations.

Ambassador Myron T. Herrick and the most prominent of American colony in Paris, from the professional, religious, diplomatic and business centers, helped to make the day at Suresnes a memorable one.

French war orphans, in somber little dresses and garments, decorated every grave of the 507 at Suresnes. In single file they passed a flower bowl and were handed each a small bouquet, the center of which was a poppy.

Ambassador Herrick, speaking at Suresnes, said that at no time since 1918 had the value of the sacrifices of the war been so keenly realized. There had been times when people had begun to wonder if the result was worth the sacrifice, but at present suspicion had diminished and hope had replaced pessimism.

At Touaigue cemetery there lies a full division of infantry—14,167 men. Ceremonies were held at Belleau Woods—the Aisne-Marne cemetery 2988 graves; the Somme cemetery at Seny—2481 graves; the Oise-Aisne burial grounds at Seringet-et-Neules—6992 graves; and the St. Mihiel sector cemetery at Thiaucourt where the 4150 graves were decorated by Mayor B. H. Conner and members of the Legion from Paris (Post No. 4); General John J. Pershing spoke there.

Scattered along the former battle front, are about 100 "undisturbed graves" where American soldiers lie where they fell. A special party arranged that they should not be overlooked.

Pershing Says War Can Be Outlawed by Big Nations

THIAUCOURT, France, May 30.—(AP)—Millions of graves cry out against war and the big nations must show the way to durable peace, General John J. Pershing told an assemblage of French and Americans at St. Mihiel cemetery today after school children had strewn flowers on the graves of American war dead.

The war that threatened civilization came, he said, because of the "fallacious theory that war is an essential element in the national policy of a government and an erroneous belief that nations become great through aggressive undertakings carried on regardless of right and justice. Against such views, the reasoning of cabinets and the creation of ententes too often have shown themselves powerless."

General Pershing asserted that history disproves that the expansion of a modern civilized nation at the expense of another can be permanent and "nations that attempt in the future to achieve greatness through unjust aggression are certain to incur the active hostility of all other nations."

Making what was regarded as a reference to Secretary Kellogg's proposal of a treaty to outlaw war, General Pershing said: "In order to make lasting peace still more probable there would appear to be no longer any reason why the leading civilized powers should not agree among themselves to the general principle of the elimination of war as an avowed instrument of national policy. Such an agreement would certainly meet universal approval among the peoples themselves. It need not interfere with the necessities of reasonable armament or the fulfillment of consistent obligations."

J. I. Downs, chief of Police, returned yesterday from Elk City with his family.

In a raid made by members of the Police department May 24, 131 bottles of beer were seized. One arrest was made.

Answers Made to Attacks on General Club Federation

SAN ANTONIO, May 30.—(AP)—A flat denial of charges that commercialism has actuated any of the work of the General Federation of Women clubs was made in the report of the president, Mrs. John D. Sherman, presented to the biennial convention of the organization here today.

The report characterized the Federation as the largest organization of practical homemakers in the world, and those who have attacked several of its policies as "the barnacles that all ways cling to any great ship."

A SUMMER SHOE to wear with sport clothes is of white kid and suede. A wide strap across the instep gives support.

Establishment of a permanent endowment fund was urged as well as legal action against newspapers and other publications printing libelous attacks on the Federation, continuator of the effort to elevate the American home, further efforts to insure "peace with security," increased attention to law enforcement, and an effort to get every voter to the polls next November.

The report first took up attacks of the club which sought to convince the public that the membership was shrinking. Quoting the membership report, it declared that the Federation now contains approximately 14,000 clubs. Enemies have circulated reports that clubs are withdrawing by the hundreds, it said, without mentioning the fact that other clubs are joining by the thousands.

ARTHUR BRISBANE ON INVESTMENT

BUY the right thing in America, keep it and you grow rich. For instance, $6,000 invested in National City Bank stock 20 years ago is worth $27,000 now. And that is a comparatively small increase.

FIFTY DOLLARS invested in General Motors during the war, when Otto H. Kahn, advised friends to buy it, is worth $5,000 now.

All depends on management, that is to say, on men. Investment in a good man and a good organization is the safest.

INCREASING prosperity increases the number of American investors. In 15 years they have grown more than 3,000 per cent. Fifteen million Americans bought securities in 1927. Fifteen years ago only 500,000 Americans bought securities.

COURTS TO DECIDE IF HANGING PAYS CRIMINAL'S DEBT IN FULL

DO RULE ON WHETHER SCIENCE CAN USE CONVICT'S BODY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—When a criminal dies on the gallows, ought his body to be sold to the highest bidder? Or has society the right to take from his dead body and transplant them in the living body of some man who seeks rejuvenation in the interest of scientific progress?

These questions are raised by one of the most amazing lawsuits ever filed in the Pacific coast—a suit for $50,000 brought against Dr. L. L. Stanley, San Quentin prison physician and five other persons, by Mrs. Catherine Kelly, whose 29-year-old son, Clarence, was recently hanged at San Quentin for murder.

When Kelly's body was delivered to an undertaker after the execution, the undertaker noticed that certain important glands had been removed. He notified Mrs. Kelly. She consulted her attorneys and the standing lawsuit was filed.

Warden James E. Holahan of San Quentin says that Dr. Stanley ordered an autopsy after the execution—the customary procedure. With Dr. Stanley when the autopsy was performed were several other physicians.

After the autopsy, it is reported, the glands were taken to a local hospital and transplanted in the body of a living patient there.

Acting Dean L. C. Schmidt of the University of California Medical College is the only one who has offered any explanation which might go to substantiate this rumor.

On the day of the hanging, Dr. Schmidt says, a rejuvenation operation was performed on a charity patient in the university hospital.

"Whatever was done was done in the interests of science," he says. "There was nothing whatever commercial in the case. The patient upon whom the operation was performed is a rare example of natural deficiency. The present operation was undertaken purely in the interests of science."

The case has caused a furore on the west coast. Governor C. G. Young has announced that he intends to ask the prison board at its next meeting to formulate a policy regarding dissected prisoners.

Hospital authorities, who did not wish to be quoted directly, intimated that they performed the operation on the assumption that Mrs. Kelly's permission had been given.

It is recalled that Dr. Stanley has obtained considerable prominence through the rejuvenation of aged persons by the transplantation of glands.

Attorneys here believe that the case is not covered by existing statutes.

Rotary Object Is Discussed as It Relates to Peace

The sixth object of Rotary organization is world peace through better understanding," stated Cliff Hrawley in a speech before the rotary club today on the place of the Rotary clubs in Memorial Day observation.

Hrawley stressed the fact that every Rotary club should take active part in observing Memorial Day, saying that "thoughts that come to us in a ceremony commemorating the death of the soldiers of the United States bring more forcibly to us the necessity of greater that understanding between nations and individuals in order that the flower of our manhood in each generation shall not be crushed under the heel of the god of war."

Visiting Rotarians were C. H. McClellan, Wichita Falls; Earl O'Keefe, Panhandle; E. C. Nelson, Amarillo; and Cliff Hrawley, Dalhart. Pampa guests were Dr. R. A. Webb and W. J. Smith.

Chrysler Now Is Second Only to Ford, G. M. C.

NEW YORK, May 30.—(AP)—A new colossus of the automobile industry, second only to the Ford company and General Motors, has been formed with the merger of Dodge Brothers, Inc., and the Chrysler corporation.

The new combination has a present market valuation of $450,000,000, aggregates assets of more than $235,000,000 and a production capacity of about 700,000 automobiles annually.

The acquisition of the Dodge Company is only a step in the expansion program of the Chrysler corporation, Wall street understands. Active negotiations are said to be going forward for the inclusion of other units.

The deal is another milestone in the sensational rise of Walter P. Chrysler. From a common laborer he has risen to the place where he ranks with Ford and John J. Raskob of General Motors as the titans of the industry.

The announcement of the Chrysler-Mr. Chrysler and Mr. Dillon, engagement came as a surprise.

Mr. Chrysler and Lawrence Dillon head of Dillon, Read and company, which purchased the Dodge Motor Car company from the widows of its founders in May, 1925, met two weeks ago at an informal luncheon. They agreed that each company had something the other needed.

Engineers were sent into the two plants for a survey. These engineers and accountants met last week in Detroit and exchanged notes.

Mr. Chrysler and Mr. Dillon, engaging adjoining hotel suits Friday, remained locked in their rooms until Monday night, carrying on their conferences.

The merger plans were submitted to the directors of the two companies yesterday and adopted.

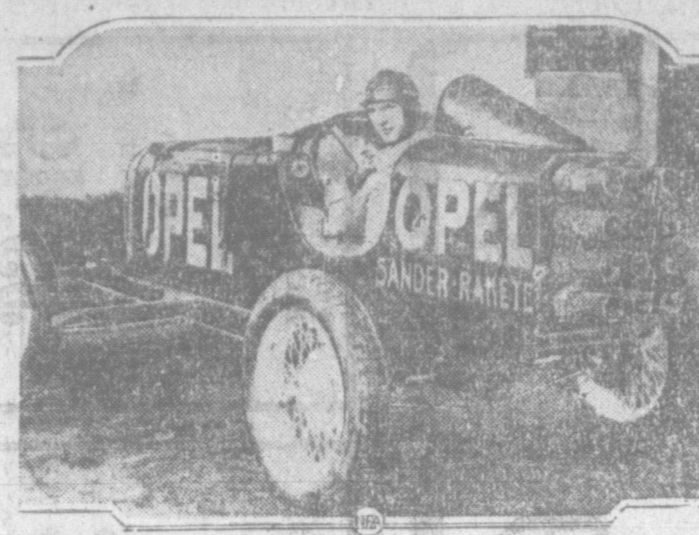

A new organization is to be formed with 4,233,484 shares of no par capital stock. The new company will have a bonded debt of $57,276,000 of debenture bonds and $2,750,000 of notes which were issued in connection with the acquisition of the Graham Brothers truck company.

Neither organization is to lose its physical identity. Dodge Brothers, Inc., will retain its plants, distribution forces and other elements of organization.

When A Girl Loves

by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED

NATHANIEL DANN is engaged to VIRGINIA BREWSTER, whose father dies suddenly after losing his fortune. NIEL begs her to marry him and go west, but she refuses to let him sacrifice his art which is later needed.

HOPEING to get NIEL out of the way, DEAN has a company he controls offer him a high-salaried commercial position in San Francisco. NIEL begs VIRGINIA to marry him and go west, but she refuses to let him sacrifice his art.

CLARISSA becomes furious when she discovers her fiancé, RESEBEL, WAINWOLD, making love to VIRGINIA, and accuses her of trying to marry for money. VIRGINIA resolves to leave the house immediately, but when she goes to say farewell to her best friend, DEAN tries to get her to stay and asks her to marry him. She refuses, and he tells her she had better reconsider "in order to redeem your father's honor."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV
VIRGINIA wheeled in a flash and stared at Dean as though he had aimed an arrow at her head. He stood, hands in pockets, and returned her wordless gaze with an air of victory that tortured her.

"What do you mean?" she managed finally to gasp from lips grown lifeless.

Dean motioned to her chair. "Sit down," he directed with a quiet note of command in his voice. Virginia found herself reluctantly obeying him. Her need for support was imperative. Reaction from the shock of his thunderbolt was turning her body to fluid, it seemed to her.

From the depths of the Sleepy Hollow chair she continued to stare at him, gripped with fear of a nameless evil.

"If you weren't such a romantic little fool I could have spared you this," Dean snapped impatiently, turning away from her stricken expression. Virginia did not answer him. She could not. Her throat was constricted until she felt she would choke if she could not soon draw a free breath.

Dean waited. "You remember, do you not," he said at last, "that your father's lawyer told you he could not account for the money that was raised on your Glen Cove estate?"

Virginia nodded.

"Well, I can tell you what became of it," he went on, talking fast. "Your father lost it in a bootlegging deal."

At this amazing statement something seemed to break through the thrall in which Virginia was held. "That's not true!" she exclaimed fervently. "My father wouldn't have had anything to do with bootlegging."

"Bootlegging is not so bad, my dear," he said pleasantly. "In fact, it's a thrilling business. I know, because I was in it with your father—at his invitation, I might add."

"Do you expect me to believe that?" Virginia challenged.

"I shall prove it to you. But it isn't merely to tell you that your father engaged in a rum-running venture that I asked you to listen to me."

Virginia pulled herself erect in the big chair. "If you intend holding such a ridiculous charge as that over my head to make me listen to your insulting proposals you are making a mistake," she stormed hotly. "No one would believe you any more than I do!"

"I do not imagine we will have occasion to test the faith of the world at large," Dean remarked soberly. "I expect your loyalty to your father to save his memory from slander."

"Virginia's lips curled in contempt. "Say what you like. Father's friends will never believe you."

"That is not the point, I myself, should not care to advertise my little adventure to the public, but the fact that your father cheated me is another matter."

"Oh," Virginia cried, sharply, "how can you say such a thing about the man who was your closest friend?"

"Because it happens to be true; and the fact that he was, as you say, my closest friend, is what makes it all the more bitter to me."

Virginia made a move to get out of the chair. "I won't listen to you any longer," she declared through trembling lips.

"In that case I shall have to admit that I've underestimated your loyalty," Dean assured her. "I thought you would prefer to clear your father's name. You can do that by consenting to become my wife," he added abruptly.

"But I don't believe what you say; you're just trying to trap me!" Dean turned to his desk. "Wait," he said curtly, and opened a drawer from which he quickly drew out two envelopes. One he handed to Virginia.

"She drew a folded sheet from the envelope and spread it open. The handwriting was her father's. "Read it," he ordered.

Virginia wet her lips with the tip of her tongue and began to read:

Barefooted Mat Man to Wrestle Mysterious Gent

Since one of the ear twisters may be termed "the barefooted wrestler" and the other carries the title of "Mystery Man," the Pampa wrestling fan may well expect something different and exciting in the double star-cared at the Pla-Mor auditorium Thursday night.

Joe Parelli and the Mystery Man are about equally matched in weight and glitz, and there is not much to be judged the outcome. The management of the Pla-Mor is responsible for statement this morning that the match would begin at 8:30 and end maybe sometime Friday morning.

DROWNING IS INVESTIGATED

TEXARKANA, May 30.—(P)—Benton county officers were questioning Earl Higginbotham, 19, today regarding the drowning of his bride three months ago last night. An inquest is to be held today.

ALBATROSS UP AGAIN

SANTA Ana, Cal., May 30.—(P)—The massive Zenith monoplane Albatross, carrying two pilots and a mechanic, and weighted down with 120 gallons of gasoline, took off from an airport near here at 7 a. m. today for another world's flight duration record.

Loughran Has Little to Fear in Pete Latzo

NEW YORK, May 30.—(P)—Tommy Loughran, who will risk his fight heavyweight title on any or no provocation at all, takes on Pete Latzo, Scranton, Pa., coal miner, in a 15-round championship fight at Ebbett Field tonight.

Loughran's friends are content to give almost any sort of odds so confident are they that the fast-stepping champion has nothing to fear. Odds-on favorites have failed before but there appears little likelihood that the former welterweight champion of the world can do more than give Loughran a few uneasy moments at the best. Since he grew, more or less overnight, from a welterweight to a light heavyweight, Latzo has demonstrated nothing beyond the fact that he can give and take. He will need more than that against the sharp-shooting champion who took counts of nine in the first round of a bout with Leo Lomdi and then got up to dangle the "Aberdeen assassin" with his speed and skill the rest of the way.

Battle for First Place Brings Out Great Pitching

(By The Associated Press)
Good pitching has cropped out in the Texas league again under the stimulus of a great fight for first place. It played a big part Tuesday in putting the Houston Buffs back at the top of the percentage column.

For nine innings Houston and Fort Worth fought an even terms with neither scoring much, but in the tenth the Buffs scored three runs and defeated the Panthers, 6 to 3. It was the second time in two days that ten innings were needed to settle the issue between the clubs.

Hallahan and Walkup were in great form, the former allowing seven hits and the latter ten. Hallahan struck out five while Walkup fanned four. Oscar Estrada pitched one of the best games of his career as he let Waco down with five safeties and led Shreveport to a 4 to 1 victory. Caldwell also hurled magnificent ball, holding the Sports to six hits, but he was handicapped by a wobbly start.

Carpenters Lost to Oilers Tuesday, 10-3

Pampa Carpenters of the Industrial League had an off-day yesterday, losing to the Oilers by the score of 10 to 3. It was by far their worst exhibition of the season, and they expect to show better form in their next game.

the last hour of the session, but the Muscle Shoals government operating measure was put among them. Unless this bill is signed by midnight, June 4 when the ten days allowed for veto expire, it will receive a pocket veto.

Before going to the capital, Mr. Coolidge signed another batch of measures, including the tax reduction, second deficiency and postal rates revision bills. One of those signed at the capital was the Denison bill treating the capitalization of the inland waterways corporation and extending the facilities of the government barge lines.

The session thus brought to a close saw the enactment of approximately one thousand new laws covering everything from bridges and insignificant pensions to one of the greatest engineering problems ever to be placed before the nation's builders for solution—the controlling of the great Mississippi river. It was a legislative record unequalled in a decade.

Except for Boulder Canyon dam bill which was left for the short session to worry about after a filibuster prevented it reaching a vote, Congress disposed of almost every bill on its calendar of any importance.

President Coolidge, sitting at a desk in his room in the Senate wing, affixed his signature to 22 bills during the session.

He's a Manager Again

A National League manager for the second time, Roger Hornsby is pictured here as he is granted a welcome to his new job, leading the Boston Braves. His trade from the New York Giants was followed by the resignation of Jack Slatery as chief of the Braves. Hornsby seems glad to get the extra duty along with his second base berth—the same combination in which he once led the St. Louis Cardinals to a world championship.

Babe Ruth Is Well Ahead of 1927 Schedule

NEW YORK, May 30.—(P)—Babe Ruth has had the best April and May home run campaign of his career.

Two drives in the grandstands of the Yankee stadium yesterday brought his 1928 total to 18, two more than he ever exemplified during the first two months of the season. At the end of May last year he had 16 home runs, just as he had at the end of the same month in 1927. Before that his best April and May came in 1924 when he had 15.

He is nine days and eight games ahead of his record-making pace of 1927. His 18th home run, last season came on June 7 in his 40th game. The second battle of the Yankees' double-leader yesterday was his 40th contest of the year.

Tom Gehrig's ninth and tenth home runs yesterday brought him to within one of the pace he set last year so far as the calendar goes. He hit his 10th career drive last year on May 23; his seventh four days later and waited until May 31 for his 12th.

Texas Middleweight Wins in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 30.—(P)—Jack Willis, Texas middleweight, won the decision, an unpopular one so far as the newspaper experts were concerned, over Joe Anderson of Covington, Ky., in their 10-round bout here last night.

Willis tried hard for a knockout in the eighth but his punches were short. In the ninth a hard right nearly knocked Anderson through the ropes, but the Kentucky fighter outboxed his opponent throughout the remainder of the round.

The tenth saw Willis round without doubt the hard hitting Texan knocking his opponent down for a count of four early in the round and keeping him virtually out on his feet throughout the remainder of the session.

HOUSTON, May 30.—(P)—The man whose body was found in a lake 14 miles from Humble Tuesday was J. Harvey Mathas, 51, formerly of Memphis, Tenn., according to Tice Williams and Kirk Irvin, city detectives, who worked for several weeks trying to find the man when he disappeared in February. A tax receipt in the dead man's pockets established his identity.

lateral treaty for here and abroad but the government themselves have approached the matter with an interest and sympathy which is most encouraging," he continued.

"It is my earnest hope that success may crown the negotiations now in progress, and that the ideals which have inspired the French Minister of Foreign Affairs and the Secretary of State of the United States in their joint efforts to find a solution of the problem of peace may find a practical realization in the early making of a multilateral treaty limiting future resort to war."

Mr. Coolidge also praised the conclusion of arbitration treaties and the resolution approved at the Havana Pan-American conference calling for a Pan-American compulsory arbitration covenant.

Every Step Helps

"The peace of the world cannot of course, be obtained by any one single act," he said, "but every treaty of arbitration and conciliation and every agreement against resorting to war adds another barrier against those conflicts which from time to time have recurred in the history of nations."

Declaring that the peaceful spirit of a nation must originate by the fire-side, the president added that "while whole are peaceful and law-abiding to the people of the United States as a remarkable degree, it cannot be denied that we have had sporadic outbreaks of crime, especially those of violence, which are exceedingly disturbing."

"Such conditions will indicate, if continued, a loosening of the moral fiber of the nation. It is very easy to cast the blame upon the police authorities, the prosecuting officers, and the courts. But if a criminal continues to prevail the blame goes beyond these officials. We live under a system of popular government. Our officers reflect to a very large degree public opinion."

"If the people themselves show that they are determined to have crime stamped out, there will be no lack of vigilance on the part of prosecuting attorneys, and no lack of adequate penalty on the part of the courts."

Stick to Authority

To insure the maintenance of a "government of law and not of man" Mr. Coolidge said, it was essential that all officers and all executive, judicial and legislative bodies should adhere strictly to the authority with which they might have been clothed.

"The chief temptation to go beyond the bounds which the people have set, arises in legislatures," he declared. "In their desire to take some action which they conceive to be the public interest, they oftentimes manifest a disposition to exceed their constitutional authority. Such action is larceny of power. Responsibility for it cannot be evaded by the weak plea to let the law be passed and the courts can decide its constitutionality."

The same necessity for being law-abiding developed upon Americans even when they lived abroad, Mr. Coolidge continued.

Duty Abroad Outlined

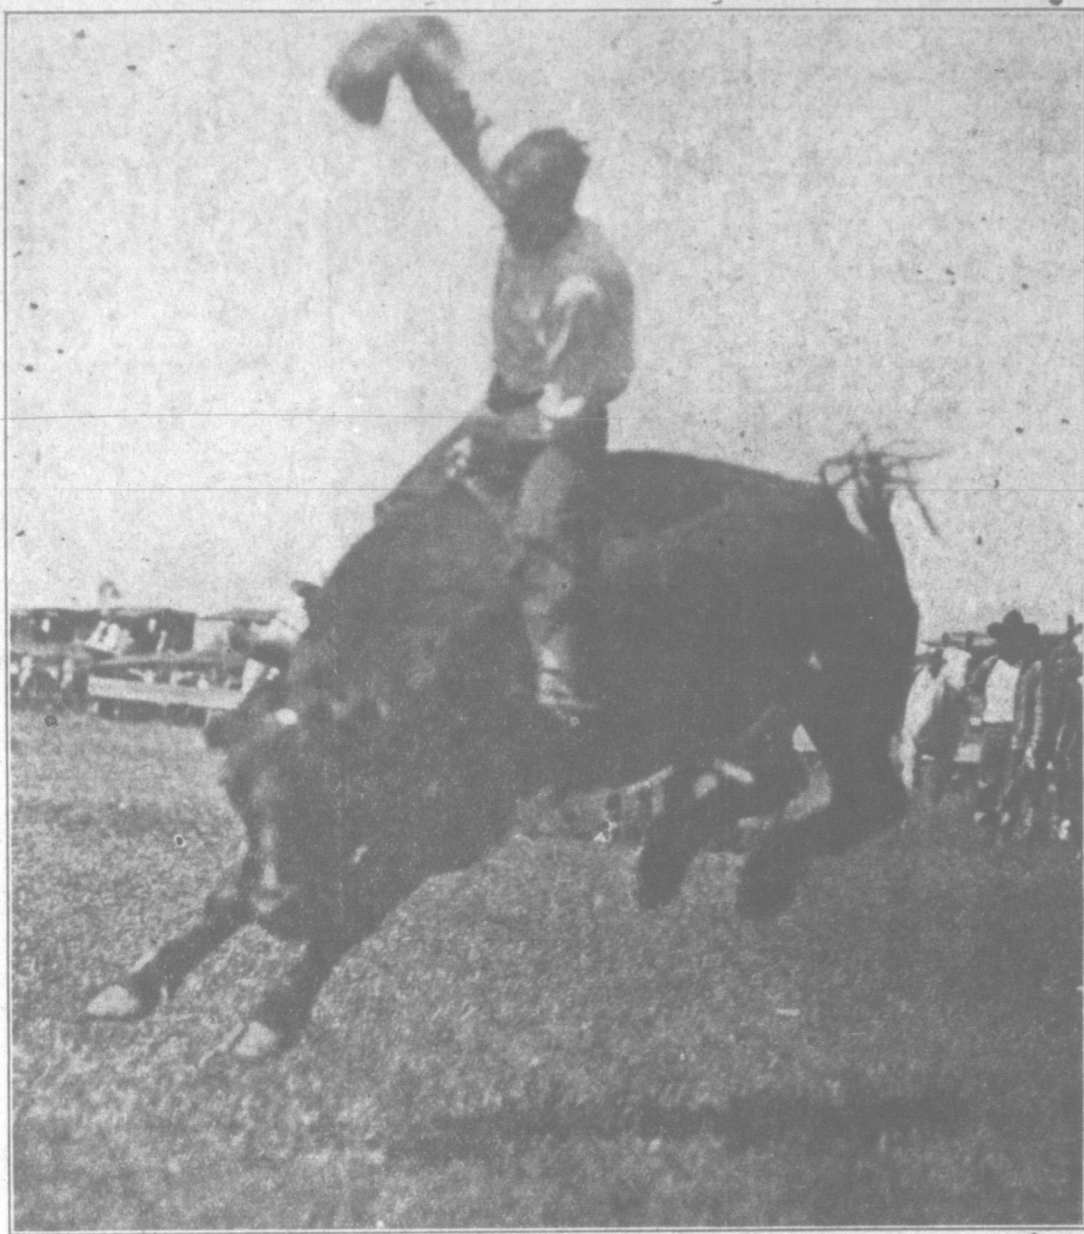

"When once they have set foot in foreign land, it is their duty to render obedience to the domestic and international law which is applicable to their proposed actions," he said. "Our government necessarily has rights over its citizens and their property in whatever country they may be."

"While we do not and cannot undertake to interfere in the application of domestic law to our nationals, unless it contravenes the rights of our government and people under international law, nevertheless the carelessness of some of our citizens abroad in violating domestic law in assuming an arrogant attitude towards the local inhabitants tends to bring our country into dispute and endangers the continuance of friendly relations."

President Coolidge reviewed his speech, the enormous sums in pensions and gratuities which the American Government has paid to its war veterans. Civil war pensions alone, he said, had mounted to over $6,000,000,000, while the world war compensations have totaled already almost $5,000,000,000, thus showing that the United States indicates its respect for its service men "by something more substantial than lip service."

President Coolidge declaring that although greater sums are being spent now than ever before upon the maintenance of an adequate American military establishment, this is "exceedingly moderate" and purely defensive in character.

Railway Fronts Scene of Heavy Fighting in China

TOKYO, May 30.—(AP)—Advices from Tientsin today said heavy fighting was in progress along the Peking-Hankow railway between Northern troops and Shansi province troops, allied with the Nationalists.

The battle, which began last Saturday, was reported to have taken a toll of 6,000 lives.

The Shansi army was attempting to draw the main force of the Mukdenites (Northerners) into the province of Shansi to the west in order to weaken the position of the Northern allies on other fronts. The movement was intended to allow troops under General Peng Yu-Hsiang, Nationalist ally, to break through to the east of the railroad at the strategic center of Hoken-fu, about 70 miles southwest of Tientsin.

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, May 30.—(AP)—The base ship Citta di Milano arrived at Kings Bay at midnight, unsuccessful in her efforts to obtain even a faint trace of the missing dirigible Italia and her crew of eighteen men.

The sturdy ship which was buffeted by heavy winds and ice floes in the polar sea off the northernmost part of Spitzbergen will go north again to renew the search when the sealer Hob arrives from Norway carrying Lieutenant Leutzow and a hydro-airplane in which the Norwegian fliers will reconnoitre the region in which the Italia may have come down.

Negro Slayer Is Lynched by Mob at Marshall, Mo.

MARSHALL, Mo., May 30.—(AP)—Ocie Wilson, negro, who slew Romeo Logan, another negro, in a gambling game at Slater yesterday, was taken from Saline county officers on the highway between here and Slater early today and lynched. His body was found hanging from a tree beside the highway, three miles south of Slater.

The negro was alleged to have shot and killed Romeo Logan another negro by city Marshall Balew of Slater and day afternoon and was ordered held by the coroner, Dr. B. M. Spotts.

Wilson, a stranger in Slater, was being brought to the county jail here by City Marshall Balew of Slater and Constable Price Thompson, when a large touring car, without a license drive in front of the officer's car and forced them to stop.

The officers believed the masked men were negroes, but were not positive.

Wilson had been in Slater about three days, and little was known of him.

Officers believed negro friends of Logan, a shop worker composed the mob of twelve masked men who took Wilson from Edgar Hallow, city marshal, and Price Thompson, constable who were bringing him to the county jail here.

The fact that Logan was highly respected by negroes in Slater led to the belief that Wilson was lynched by members of his own race.

New Data Points to Chauffeur As Slayer of Child

TOLEDO, O., May 30.—(AP)—New evidence, the nature of which police declined to reveal, aided attempts today to fasten the blame for the abduction and slaying of Dorothy Sielagowski, 7, upon a 26-year old chauffeur, arrested last night. His name was withheld.

Dr. Edmund A. Pallinski, a dentist, determined from an examination of the victim's body that the slayer had a missing front tooth, coroner Frank G. Krefl said. A chart of the man's teeth was made and turned over to inspector of detectives Jerry Buck.

The child was abducted from her home early yesterday criminally assaulted and 20 minutes later her body was thrown upon a porch across the street from her parent's home.

Farmers' Revolt Has Supporters—Also Its Critics

KANSAS CITY, May 30.—(AP)—Proposals to send a large delegation of farmers to the Republican national convention here in the interests of the farmer, today found three factions in the field—one for, one against and one receptive.

Organizers of the movement continued to contend that failure of the McNary-Haugen bill furnished a concrete basis on which to mobilize the farmers and that many would come here in June Those opposed generally believed the "dirt farmers" lacked definite opinions on relief measures Kansas citizens, including convention arrangement committeemen, favored the movement or any other project that would bring more visitors here.

From Indiana, Illinois and other mid-western states came reports of organized efforts to recruit farmers for the convention trek. On the heels of an announcement by Ralph Snyder, president of the Kansas Farm Federation that he would send out letters urging representatives for his organization at Kansas City came an option from John Vesecky, head of the cooperative wheat growers marketing organization of that state, that the farmers here would not take the movement seriously.

Former Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas, A. L. Nichols, Topeka, magazine editor of the Cappers farm publications, Carl Williams, editor of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, aligned themselves with Vesecky.
