Transcripts Leave GOP Leaders Deeply Divided

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Watergate transcripts left Republican leaders deeply divided over President Nixon's future and what it means for the party.

There were those who said Nixon is innocent of any wrongdoing; those who called for his resignation or impeachment, and those who remained silent.

But, according to a UPI poll of GOP leaders, almost all of them were dismayed by what they read in the transcripts of Nixon's Watergate conversations and many were struggling with problem of how their candidates should deal with Watergate in the November election.

At least one of them confided that the demands for Nixon's resignation were motivated by fears about what may happen to the GOP at the polls.

Gov. Otis Bowen of Indiana summed up their quandary, saying that after reading the transcripts "it is pretty hard to decide which side to get on."

The calls for Nixon's resignation were centered in Washington. Five GOP senators suggested the President should step down and two House Republican leaders said they thought it might be a good idea. Many more congressmen added that impeachment probably was inevitable.

In Tennessee, GOP party chairman S.L. Koplak said Nixon should not resign, but undergo the impeachment process. "And I don't think it will tear the country up to have an impeachment process," he said. "We survived it before."

country said they found nothing in the transcripts to support impeachment. They included California Gov. Ronald Reagan, Alabama national committeeman Perry Hooper, Oklahoma chairman Clarence Warner, Oregon national committeewoman Collis Moore, Florida chairman L.E. "Tommy" Thomas, Pennsylvania Senate minority whip Stanley Stroup and former Nixon cabinet member Winton M. Blount.

Mississippi party chairman Clark Reed went one step further in Nixon's defense, saying that "impeachment would be strictly partisan."

"If the transcripts is not going to satisfy the Nixon haters, the conservative hater and the impeachment lobby, but I certainly think it is a clarion call to the silent majority to stand up and be counted," Reed said.

But Bill Barnstead, a conservative and GOP chairman in Massachusetts, insisted that Nixon's defenders are dwindling rapidly.

Most of those who refused to comment said they had not read the transcripts.

CORPS PLANS OPEN HOUSE

Salvation Army Concerned About Welfare Of Children

A youngster riding in the car with his mother noticed that the speedometer was broken. "Look, Mother, it's broken! Now we can go as fast as we like," he shouted.

A well-known psychologist stated that a society shapes its children after its own image, and consequently we have just the kind of young people that we deserve.

The Salvation Army is well aware that youngsters imitate their elders. What adults do is more important than what they say.

Is it all right to exceed the speed limit if there is no accusing speedometer to "catch" you? Is a little Saturday shoplifting a harmless pastime? After all, Mom and Dad sometimes cheat in money matters.

How about drugs? If the adults like a cocktail, why can't the kids have a joint, a pill or a shot?

The Salvation Army cares for children from babyhood until the day their cast their first vote. Some children are born in Salvation Army hospitals. Many are enrolled at an early age in a Salvation Army day care center.

Thousands go to summer camp, learn to play a musical instrument, spend their after-school hours in the Army's gym or crafts center, or join a Scout troop — under Salvation Army auspices.

In all of these activities, the Salvation Army is as concerned about the moral climate it provides for children, as it is about the physical facilities, quality of instruction, and relevance of the program. The Army's soundly based programs offer help for today and hope for tomorrow, local commander Lt. Phil Murphy said.

Here in Pampa, the Salvation Army offers many programs for youngsters and teenagers.

During National Salvation Army Week, May 13-19, it's "open house" at the Salvation Army Corps, 701 S. Cuyler. Parents and youngsters are invited to pay a visit, and see what the Army has to offer.

In addition to the skills and fun, the youngsters will be in the care of adults who know that the youngsters will be influenced by what they do — far more than by what they say.

Nixon Delivers Address To Graduating Students

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI) — President Nixon journeyed here Saturday to deliver a university commencement address as spreading demands for his resignation prompted the White House and even his family to reiterate that he will not quit.

The President flew from Washington to speak to the graduating class of Oklahoma State University in the school's 50,000-seat stadium about 9 p.m. EDT in his first venture to a college campus in six months.

The Nixon trip closed out a week that saw some key GOP members of Congress call for his departure from office, and the initial presentation of evidence to the House Judiciary Committee in its impeachment inquiry.

A helicopter awaited Nixon at Vance AFB in Enid, Okla., for the trip to Stillwater. On hand to greet him on arrival at the airbase jetliner was Sen. Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., and a crowd of perhaps several thousand well-wishers.

Oklahoma's other Republican Senator, Dewey F. Bartlett, and two Oklahoma Congressmen flew from Washington with the President.

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Nixon and some advisers, looked for a warm welcome during his few hours in Oklahoma. He carried the state easily in all three of his presidential campaigns and the school's emphasis on agricultural study gives it a relatively conservative reputation.

As a precaution, however, university officials imposed a ban on demonstrations and protest signs inside the stadium.

Leaders of some dissident student groups announced plans to stage a "non-disruptive" demonstration during Nixon's visit and predicted it would draw as many as 3,000 participants including some from Norman, Lawton and other surrounding Oklahoma cities.

Before Nixon left Washington, his daughter, Julie, and her husband, David Eisenhower, held a highly unusual joint news conference outside the White House and said Nixon "absolutely" intended to stay in office unless and until he is impeached.

"He said he would take this constitutionally down the wire," Julie told reporters in recalling her father's remarks.

"He said would go to the Senate and he said if there were one senator that believed in him, that's the way it would be... he believes it is a constitutional process, he believes that this is best way to handle the situation."

Kissinger Receives Proposal

JERUSALEM (UPI) — The Israeli cabinet gave Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger its "complete" proposals Saturday night for a military disengagement with Syria on the war-ravaged Golan Heights.

Kissinger received the plans in a two-hour meeting with Israeli ministers after sending his two top aides to inspect the Golan Heights city of Quneitra and its neighboring hills—the key to agreement on a cease-fire line.

"I now have the full range of Israeli considerations. I will take them to Damascus tomorrow and report back tomorrow evening to the Israeli cabinet," Kissinger told reporters after the meeting.

Kissinger said that both sides were beginning to move "toward a serious examination of each other's positions" but that there were still very tough hurdles to be cleared before agreement is reached.

Israeli Information Minister Shimon Peres, in answer to a question, told reporters that Kissinger now had the "complete Israeli position."

Peres added: "The Israeli proposals were the fullest given until now in a compromise on every possible aspect of an agreement."

CONDEMN PRICE'S LEADERSHIP

County Demos Endorse Hightower's Election Bid

Gray County Democrats strongly endorsed Jack Hightower and condemned incumbent U.S. Congressman Bob Price for ineffectual representation at their county convention yesterday afternoon at the Gray County Courthouse.

The resolution supporting Hightower's nomination as the Democratic candidate for U.S. representative from the 13th Congressional district of Texas, which was passed unanimously by delegates, reads:

Whereas, the Democratic nominee for Congress from the 13th District of Texas, Jack Hightower, has demonstrated leadership and ability at the state level, of the highest quality. And whereas, by training, experience and ability he is eminently qualified to bring us the type of representation we need and have needed. And, whereas, our district has not been influential in the national Congress in the past several years, as demonstrated by the fact that proposed legislation by the present incumbent has not been enacted except only in instances when leadership was taken by other congressmen. Now, therefore, be it resolved that we do strongly urge the election of Jack Hightower as Congressman from the 13th District of Texas.

Other resolutions adopted at the county Democratic convention included:

A commendation for Dolph Briscoe for his service as governor and an endorsement for his reelection.

A commitment by the local Democratic party against extremism on both sides of the political spectrum.

To elect candidates and make a party platform more in keeping with the views of Texans.

To give the powers of the Texas Air Quality Control and Texas Water Control Boards and other such boards to local governmental bodies such as county commissioners and local water districts.

To adopt Mountain Standard Time for Texas.

To commend Bob Baker for his 23 years service as county party secretary.

To commend Ruth Osborne for her work as district committee woman and urge her to seek that office at the state convention in September.

The keynote address for the convention was delivered by Pampa attorney Ross Buzzard. He said the country lacks the moral leadership to take care of pressing national problems.

Delegates elected to the state convention, to be conducted in Austin in September, were:

Rex McAnelly, John Warner, Ott Shewmaker, Mrs. Ruth Osborne, Mrs. Betty Schaffer, Sam Haynes, Harold Comer, Don Cain, J.E. Thompson, Fred Vanderburg, Jr.

Comer was elected permanent chairman of the county Democratic party and Peggy Baker was elected permanent secretary, both by acclamation.

FROM REPUBLICANS

Price Renounces Resignation Plea

Rep. Bob Price of Pampa said at a news conference Friday afternoon in Amarillo he does not agree with Republican senators and representatives who are calling for President Nixon's resignation.

The 13th congressional district congressman said he feels House GOP minority leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona "of all people should have remained steadfast in support of the President."

He added that "many congressmen do not agree with Rhodes' opinion, and I am one of them. A lot of people are making comments to save their own political careers."

The Pampa congressman stated an opinion he has expressed previously that the people of the Texas Panhandle "are tired of Watergate."

In that respect, Price said:

"Most people in our part of the country are looking at it differently than people back East." He said, "Easterners are beginning to believe the daily barrage by the liberal media such as the New York Times and Washington Post."

"I think the American people are sick and tired of it."

Continuing, Price said, "None of us have agreed that the Presidential papers and tapes were of a nature we could be proud of, and we have said many times Watergate was handled badly."

"But no one charge of an impeachable offense has been brought yet, although there have been many interpretations on this matter."

Congressman Price said he was "disappointed in some of the contents of the transcripts" turned over by the President. "We cannot be proud of the language used," he said. "But he pointed out the tapes never were intended for public scrutiny. Most corporations couldn't stand similar scrutiny of some conversations," he said.

Price said he believes "We are now on the road to the destruction of the office of the President of the United States." He said the ability of a committee to subpoena a President's papers and "conversations made in confidentiality" is striking at the separation of powers and the office itself, not just the present occupant.

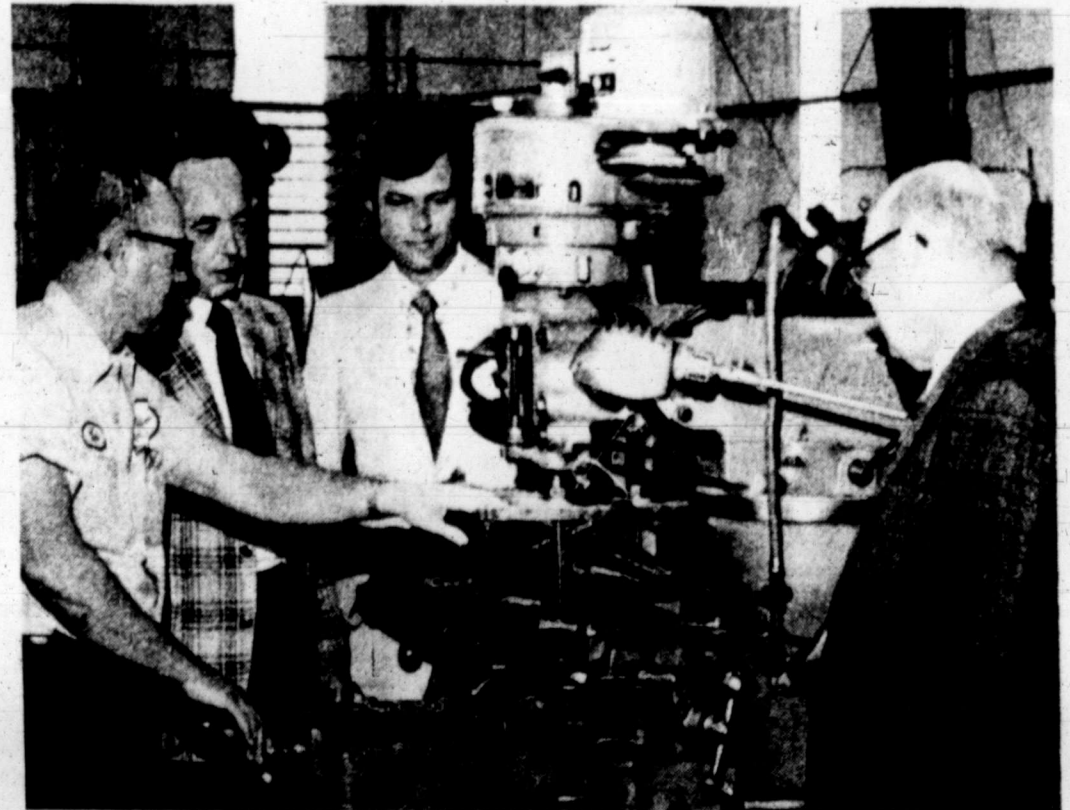

The Pampa congressman, who addressed the Gray County Republican precinct convention here in Pampa last night, said he intends to stand on his own record during his re-election campaign.

"My record as a rancher and businessman speaks for itself," Price said, "and this is experience my opponent has not had."

He will be opposed in the November general election by State Senator Jack Hightower, Democrat from Vernon.

Local TEC Office Opening Youth Summer Job Program

The local office of the Texas Employment Commission is now operating its Youth Employment Service as time nears for students to begin seeking summer employment.

The extent of the YES program depends upon the availability of the students, according to TEC manager Bill Ragsdale.

Many students have already been turning in their applications, with many others expected to turn them in within the next few weeks.

As in past years, about 400 to 500 students will apply for jobs, Ragsdale said, but only 200 to 300 will be employed.

"There's always more kids than jobs," Ragsdale said.

The YES program is sponsored locally by the Top o' Texas Kiwanis Club and the Pampa Key Club in cooperation with TEC.

A special file is kept separately at TEC on youths available for summer employment.

Students can be available for fulltime or part-time employment during the summer months under the program or on a day-to-day basis, depending upon the type of work needed by the employer.

There are many jobs which youth can do. Students from 15 and up can do many jobs, while others are limited by law to persons 18 or older.

Boys can usually find jobs more easily than girls. At times the availability of boys in the file has run out, but there are always more girls than jobs, Ragsdale said.

"Most of the girls are very capable of doing a responsible job," he said. "As are the boys."

Among the positions girls can fill are typist, general office clerk, sales clerk and occasionally a stenographer.

Among the general jobs available for youths are lawn mowing, yard work, clean up jobs, fence painting, repair work, baby sitting, car washing and polishing, farm work, cowboying, fence rising, delivery service and care of pets.

Householders and other potential employers wanting to hire youth can call the YES program at 669-3385.

Soviets Close Off Square In Tourist Season

MOSCOW (UPI) — Without warning or apology, Soviet authorities sealed off Red Square Saturday, depriving visitors of Moscow's most famous view for the entire tourist season.

A new Kremlin wall, built of solid wooden fencing, prevented tourists from getting a glimpse of one of the world's best-known public squares.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda said the square and the Lenin mausoleum within it, communism's most hallowed shrine, will remain closed until Nov. 1. It will be reopened just in time for the annual Nov. 7 parade celebrating the 1917 Bolshevik revolution.

Pravda offered no explanation for the closure beyond saying it is connected with unspecified "repairing and rebuilding work."

By climbing the mound where czars had their opponents beheaded, a determined rubbernecker would see the tops of trucks and excavating machinery, together with a number of heavy cranes.

Not even peering through cracks in the fence was allowed. Police kept everyone at a distance from the nine-foot-high structure.

Hundreds of foreign tourists turned away disappointed and angry.

"It's hardly worth coming to Moscow if you won't let us into the square," a French-speaking woman told a policeman.

Authorities placed no signs apologizing to tourists for the inconvenience or giving any explanation.

The fences went up during a national holiday Friday night when traffic was barred from the area.

Police Studying Church Break-In

Police are investigating a break-in at the Church of the Brethren, 600 N. Frost, in which arson was attempted, apparently by youngsters.

Whoever entered the building through an unlocked back door attempted to set fire to carpet with kitchen matches.

Food taken from a refrigerator in the church had been strewn about.

Traffic Signal Knocked Down

A traffic signal pole at the southwest corner of Atchison and Cuyler Sts. was knocked down by an unknown vehicle Friday night.

A passing motorist notified Pampa police about the incident. Investigation into the matter is continuing. Damage was estimated at $300.

CRISIS PREDICTED Italians Consider Divorce Changes

ROME (UPI) — The stormy campaign for the referendum on whether to repeal Italy's divorce law ended Saturday with politicians predicting a government crisis no matter what the voters decide.

Politicians handed out the final leaflets and made their last speeches at midnight, giving nearly 37.5 million voters a day's respite before deciding whether to repeal the three-year-old divorce law.

Police reported no new violence following a series of six separate bombings on the final day of campaigning.

The two days of voting begin Sunday, Mother's Day, on the first national referendum since Italians voted out the monarchy in 1946.

Political leaders on both sides predicted a close vote with a slight edge going to the "no" camp who are against repeal of the law. They forecast a government crisis following the referendum whichever side wins, with a swing to the right or left in any new government depending on the outcome.

The dominant Christian Democrats, the Vatican and the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement allied in the effort to repeal the nation's first divorce law since Napoleon. All other parties opposed the attempt to abolish divorce.

A defeat on divorce would represent the first election loss of the Christian Democrats in the party's history. Some politicians said party leader Amintore Fanfani might turn to the Communists in an attempt to reach some stability of government after such a defeat.

Also at stake is the Roman Catholic church's influence in Italian political matters.

The church hierarchy joined the campaign for repealing divorce only to find a large number of dissenters within its ranks. Two prelates were suspended from the right to say mass and hear confession for publicly supporting divorce.

Perryton Boy Wins Prize In Photo Contest

PERRYTON — Terry Shafer, a freshman at Perryton Junior High School, has won national honors in the 1974 Scholastic Photographic Contest.

Notification came from M.R. Robinson, board chairman of Scholastic Magazines, Inc. The award winner has received a certificate of merit for his photo and a check for $20.

Also a recipient of two Kodak Medallions for Excellence for his photographs, the work was on display in Amarillo for several weeks this spring.

Shafer, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clel Shafer, started studying photography last year and has been taking pictures of school functions as well as photos of his family and friends.

His photography instructor at the junior high school is Mrs. Ariel Pruitt.

TO SUPPORT NIXON Julie And David Hold Conference

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Julie and David Eisenhower declared today that President Nixon will rest his fate on impeachment through the constitutional process and said he would not resign under any circumstances.

In an extraordinary joint news press conference in the Jacqueline Kennedy garden of the White House the President's daughter and his son-in-law stressed that Nixon is not even considering resigning "and he's stronger than ever" in his determination to stay on in the Presidency.

David and Julie had cruised with the President aboard his yacht on the Potomac last evening.

Asked today if there were any circumstances in which Nixon would consider resigning David gave a flat "no" which he described as "categorical."

In an extraordinary joint news press conference in the Jacqueline Kennedy garden of the White House the President's daughter and his son-in-law stressed that Nixon is not even considering resigning "and he's stronger than ever" in his determination to stay on in the Presidency.

"I feel very strongly it would be a bad precedent for a President to resign under these circumstances in which there have been no criminal violations," Julie told reporters with obviously deep emotion.

A flood of resignation rumors swept Washington this weekend and the President was under heavy pressure even from members of his own party to lay aside his post.

But the White House was adamant in denying all rumors. Nixon's spokesman, Gerald L. Warren, described the President as forward looking and positive in dealing with the problems of the nation.

National Hospital Week Local Activities Planned

Residents of Pampa will have an opportunity to become better informed about the services, activities and future goals of Highland General Hospital during National Hospital Week, May 12-18.

Highland General Hospital is joining 7,000 hospitals throughout the country in observation of the annual event with the national slogan, "Get to know us before you need us."

On announcing the observance to the media,

Robert Monogue, administrator, said, "In this era of vast social and economic change, people are concerned about how hospitals are meeting growing health care needs, both inside and outside their walls."

"They have a rightful interest in how effectively and efficiently hospitals are fulfilling their responsibilities, and about the rising costs of health care services."

The objectives of National Hospital Week 1974 activities are to encourage the people of this community, as well as those closely involved with the institution, to "get to know us," Monogue said.

"As they get to know us, we hope the public will then better understand that we need their involvement and support in order to meet our obligations to the community," he added.

National Hospital Week, sponsored by the American Hospital Association, was begun in 1920 when leaders in the health field established a National Hospital Day to mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, the woman credited with establishing the modern profession of nursing.

In 1953, National Hospital Day was extended to the week-long event now observed.

Reports concerning the status of Pampa's application for a federal aid grant on the city's sewage treatment plant, recommendations from the City Traffic Commission, and a report concerning workmen's compensation insurance for city employes.

A public hearing also is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Tuesday on the proposed removal of 18 abandoned buildings.

Medical Requirements DENVER (UPI) — Minimum requirements at all Sports Car Club of America auto races call for two doctors, a fully equipped ambulance, at least one fully equipped fire engine, a wrecker with driver extraction equipment and a 10-pound dry chemical fire extinguisher in the working pits for every 50 feet of pit length.

The first American President to receive a patent was Abraham Lincoln, who invented a device for lifting ships over shoals by means of inflated cylinders.

FBC Youth Choir Sets Jesus Play

A musical drama celebrating the life of Jesus Christ will be presented by the youth choir of the First Baptist Church at 7 p.m. today in the Fellowship Hall.

The musical will encompass the entire life of Christ from His advent to His ascension.

Principal characters are Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, who will be portrayed by Eugene Laycock, Pat Prichard, Jody Taylor and Rick Carpenter.

Other characters in the drama include Joseph and Mary, played by Jim and Jan Stroud; a woman healed, by Mary Lee Van Kluyve; Jarius' daughter, Teresa Glover, and Jesus, portrayed by Richard Van Kluyve.

John Glover, choir director, and Rev. Claude Cone, pastor, have invited the public to attend the free performance.

CABOT PRESIDENT — Dr. Robert Charpie, president of Cabot Corporation, addresses the Annual Machinery Division awards banquet held in the Heritage Room of the M. K. Brown Auditorium.

Cabot Employees Receive Annual Service Awards

The Machinery Division of Cabot Corporation held its annual service awards banquet recently in the Heritage Room of the M. K. Brown Auditorium.

Over 300 employees and their wives attended the annual event to recognize employees who have reached certain anniversaries with the Machinery Division.

Dr. Robert Charpie, president of Cabot Corporation, was introduced as special guest speaker by Vic Raymond, general manager of the Machinery Division.

In his address, Dr. Charpie pointed to the growth of the Machinery Division over the years and toward the potential the division has within its reach.

Dr. Charpie directed attention to the low rate of employee turnover the corporation has and the good working relationship employees find with management. Because of this, Dr. Charpie concluded, the corporation is especially proud of the awards that recognize the employee for length of service to Cabot.

Following the address by Dr. Charpie, the administrative manager of the Machinery Division, Ray Rodgers, Jr., presided over the presentation of the service awards.

Allan Wise was presented with a service award for 35 years. Awards for 30 years of service went to L.V. (Buster) Burney, Carl Ammons, Louis Sears and Don Forsha.

Those receiving 25-year awards were Jim Clifton, Maynard Johnson, John Cunningham, Elvis Duck, Jeff Gray, Jim Morrow and Laven Greer.

Twenty-year awards went to Billy Stephens, Sam Bradley, Ray Laycock and Floyd Lynch. Those receiving 15-year awards were Ralph Berner, Bill Seuhs, Rad Colson, Welton Moore, Kenneth Richardson, Ralph Esson and Earl McDowell.

Ten-year awards were given to Harold Lewis, Tom Etheredge, James Lee, Howard Musgrave and Jerry Peurifoy.

Additionally, 29 employees were recognized for five years of service to the Machinery Division. Those receiving five year awards in the Open Die Forge Plant were Wayne Burton, Gary Campbell, Bobby Orrick, Adolf Bressler, Dwight Thompson and Bill Cole.

In the Manufacturing area, those receiving five-year awards were Bobby Dorsey, David Parker, Charley Sissom, Charlie Lang, Alfred Green, Jr., Kenneth Holt, Leo Rhoten, Gary Starnes, Junior Minnick, Eugene Shorter, Douglas Clark, Granvil Roland, Harold Adkiss, Floyd McMinn, Randall Bybee, Darrell Lain, Earl Jewett, Richard Moore, Luke Garvin and Bill Roye.

Ralph Holm and Maxine Liggins from the Engineering Department and Ruthie Baird of the Accounting Department were given awards for five years of service.

Special guests recognized by Rodgers at the banquet were retired employees of the Machinery Division.

Mrs. Imel Elected To WTSU Board

MRS. ROBERT E. IMEL
...Fine Arts patron

Mrs. Robert E. Imel, 1800 Charles, was elected unanimously last week to the West Texas State University's board of Fine Arts.

Retiring from the WTSU board after an active three-year term is Mrs. R.A. Johnson of Pampa.

Others elected to the board at the recent meeting are Ray C. Johnson, Jr., S. Wayne O'Keefe and Mrs. David Rasco, all of Amarillo; Mrs. H.R. Fulton, Jr., and Dr. David E. Miller, Canyon, and Mrs. Allen Cansler, Hereford.

Mrs. Imel attended several schools and holds a bachelor of science degree in journalism and home economics. She has taught in the elementary and junior high school system in Texas and Arkansas.

Membership in the Pampa Fine Arts Association gave her the chairmanship for the reception for Van Cliburn when he opened the art season for that group in the M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium.

Mrs. Imel has been active in Junior Service League, Chi Omega social sorority, Pampa City Panhellenic, Pampa Little Theater, Pampa Community Concert and the Pampa Chamber of Commerce membership drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Imel are patrons of the Amarillo Symphony and she is an active member of the Amarillo Symphony Guild.

Investment Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — "In spite of recent attempts to rally, the overall technical picture remains negative with the majority of issues in a vulnerable position," says Merkin & Co. If the Dow Jones Industrial Average does not hold at the 800-810 mark, the market could bottom out in June, it continues. "The list is trying to establish a major base which could lead to the next bull market," the firm adds, advising investors to remain on the sidelines in the interim.

The uncertain economic future and an even further erosion of confidence in the administration after the release of the tapes have been dogging the market, according to W.E. Hutton & Co. "Stocks have not been going down except where the news is extremely adverse, but neither are they going up," it notes. The firm says the situation is "stagnant" and does not promise to improve even after soaring interest rates turn down.

The apparently high inflationary expectations of some corporations and their resulting willingness to sell bonds with coupons as high as 10 per cent has pushed available rates up and bond prices down," says Reynolds Securities, Inc. In recent weeks, corporations have begun to back away from committing themselves to the high cost of borrowed money, and the long term bond calendar has shrunk, the firm notes. "Interest rates and bond prices are probably close to turn-around territory," it adds.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Barbarians Among Us

Our modern vandals are giving the original Vandals a bad name.

The tribes who sacked Rome in the fifth century presumably didn't know any better when they destroyed so much of that city's art and literature and monuments. What exercise is there for those whose dismal handiwork is found in every city, in every public park, in every historical place that is not constantly guarded? Even here in Pampa.

In New York, the Bronx Society of Arts and Sciences has asked the city's park department to bar the public from the cottage in which Edgar Allan Poe lived in the 1840s and where he wrote some of his memorable poems. The cottage has been a continual target of vandals, who have not only stolen numerous Poe mementoes but have tried to set the building on fire from time to time.

South of the Bronx, in New York's Central Park, it's said there is not a statue or monument that has not been covered with spray-painted graffiti.

The problem is hardly unique to New York. At a high school in Lakewood, Ohio, the other day, the famed Cleveland orchestra was forced to cut short a concert because it was bombarded with slingshot-fired paper clips from the student audience. It was the second time this has happened, and each time it was a case of the ignorant, undisciplined few spoiling something for the many — as it is everywhere vandals strike.

Society today is not only being held hostage by the political terrorists who kidnap and bomb and extort. More and more, the great mass of decent, law-abiding citizens, along with the cultural artifacts that are the visible heritage of civilization, are at the mercy of the barbarians among us who deface, destroy, wreck and ruin.

Very Strange Disease

In 1785, Dr. Benjamin Rush published the notion that alcoholism is a disease.

Rush was the Surgeon General of the Continental Army and a signer of the Declaration of Independence. His paper was titled "Inquiry Into The Effects Of Ardent Spirits On The Human Body And Mind."

Short years later, in 1804, an Edinburgh physician, Thomas Trotter, wrote "I consider drunkenness, strictly speaking, to be a disease, produced by a remote cause giving birth to actions in a living body that disorder the functions of health."

Today the disease theory of alcoholism is widely accepted. It provides the sanction of science to the imbibers' claim that inebriety is no more his fault than if he were afflicted by the common cold.

If alcoholism truly is a disease, it is the only physical ailment we know of that is contracted by carefully preserving the germs in a bottle so that they can be voluntarily ingested whenever the unfortunate victim feels the need to get sick.

"I was thinking all those horrible thoughts about my parents when it suddenly hit me," said one teenager, "if they are all that bad, how come I am so wonderful?"

As we have said, we know of no way to make any tax fair. However, recent proposals to eliminate virtually all tax exemptions and to levy a flat percentage tax on all incomes would make the income tax far less inequitable. William S. Buckley has been advocating giving each person a substantial personal living exemption, larger than the present $750, and then taxing all other income at the same flat rate. The rate would be less than the present minimum tax, and would raise more money than the present graduated tax. All persons would be paying the same percentage, but the total amounts paid would be graduated according to the amount of income received.

We do not advocate taxation, as our readers know. However, we believe this suggestion would come closer to being fair and equitable than the present system. It also would have the advantage of making tax figuring and paying a great deal less complicated.

Question Box

QUESTION: U.S. Sen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota says the so-called "minimum tax" on wealthy persons still leaves a lot of rich people getting by with very little tax to pay on their incomes. He claims there were 33,632 individuals with average income of $152,463, with an average tax of $6,151, or 4.03 percent. Wasn't that "minimum tax" supposed to eliminate the large number of high-income people getting by with little or no taxes? How can the income tax be made fair and equitable?

ANSWER: We doubt if the income tax law can ever be made equitable, until the politicians like Mondale wake up to the fact that the graduated income tax, with its myriad exemptions and credits, should be eliminated. As for fairness, it has long been a truism that there is no such thing as a fair tax. Freedom Newspapers have been pointing out that fact for many years. Yet individuals in and out of political office have been claiming they seek "a fair tax."

The graduated income tax is an effort by politicians to take more money from the wealthy so that it can be distributed to the less wealthy. However, the politicians know that if they were to collect everything on a graduated scale, there soon would be no high earners. They would just quit.

The politicians follow the observation of J.B. Colbert: "The art of taxation consists in so plucking the goose as to obtain the largest amount of feathers with the least amount of hissing."

It is to reduce the amount of "hissing" that various exemptions have been granted through the years. Tax exemptions and credits also have been allowed in order for the politicians to direct private spending in the way the politicians think best.

Recently, the middle income people have discovered that they are paying nearly the entire cost of government, and they have started "hissing." The result: the so-called "minimum tax" so that some folks who had their money in tax-empt investments or who were able to take advantage of other exemptions and credits, would be required to pay some taxes.

As we have said, we know of no way to make any tax fair. However, recent proposals to eliminate virtually all tax exemptions and to levy a flat percentage tax on all incomes would make the income tax far less inequitable. William S. Buckley has been advocating giving each person a substantial personal living exemption, larger than the present $750, and then taxing all other income at the same flat rate. The rate would be less than the present minimum tax, and would raise more money than the present graduated tax. All persons would be paying the same percentage, but the total amounts paid would be graduated according to the amount of income received.

We do not advocate taxation, as our readers know. However, we believe this suggestion would come closer to being fair and equitable than the present system. It also would have the advantage of making tax figuring and paying a great deal less complicated.

Truth About Taxes

The truth about who really pays for federal spending was revealed by the National Association of Manufacturers: "Fifty-one percent of the revenue derived from individual income tax returns in 1970 came from only 13 percent of the taxpayers — those earning $15,000 and over."

"A man should always consider how much he has more than he wants, and how much more unhappy he might be than he really is."

—Joseph Addison

Nixon Tapes And Alger Hiss

By GARRY WILLS

It is sometimes said that Richard Nixon's critics dwell obsessively on his past, on events of 10, 20 or even 30 years ago — e.g., his California races against Helen Douglas or Jerry Voorhis. But the transcripts of the White House tapes released by the President show that he returns again and again to an event that took place a quarter-century back in time — the Congressional investigation of Alger Hiss.

The Hiss case keeps popping up in President Nixon's conversation, in the most unlikely contexts, in ways that seem self-contradicting, in a mode that would puzzle less obsequious auditors than a Dean or an Ehrlichman.

Besides, we already knew from Egil Krogh's statement at his sentencing that Nixon had urged on him the study of the Hiss chapter in "Six Crises." Nixon's point, then, seemed to be that Krogh should show the bulldog determination by which Nixon battered down Truman's resistance to Congress in the forties. He meant this to be an inspiration to Mr. Krogh in his pursuit of Daniel Ellsberg.

It is odd, therefore, that on page 78 of the partial transcript now released, Nixon says he had also instructed Richard Kleindienst to read that chapter, to show how a committee can be blocked from all access to the executive branch. With one hand he blesses Krogh's illegal activity against Ellsberg, and with the other he offers up his former enemy Truman as a model for the Attorney General in blocking all legal inquiry by a Senate committee.

Things get even more puzzling by page 96, where Nixon wonders if an FBI informer on President Johnson can be used by his Administration — he claims that Whittaker Chambers was destroyed when he informed on Hiss. Yet, through all these mental wanderings, he hopes that the FBI man in question (William Sullivan) will become just such an informer.

By page 106, he is urging Dean to urge Kleindienst to urge Baker to hold the Ervin committee to the rules of evidence, as if a committee were a court — and he claims "that is the way Nixon ran the Hiss case" (a gross distortion of history).

On page 306, he tells Dean to get Senator Ervin and flatter him into acquiescence with rules imposed by the White House. Dean is to play on Ervin's sense of being "a great part" of history, by reminding Ervin of the Hiss case. That is, while Kleindienst is playing a victorious Truman, Ervin is to think of himself as a new Nixon overcoming this Truman.

On page 349, Nixon uses Chambers' fate again, but this time as a cautionary tale to detest J. Edgar Hoover from becoming an informer.

What weird recurrent applications he makes of that case. At one time it shows that one must make one's own rules in an investigation. Later it shows that no rules should bind the executive. Later it shows that many rules should bind Congress. At times it argues against informers, and another time it shows that history can go to an investigator's head.

Hiss and Nixon have been linked together by a chain of enmity, teeter-tottering, as one's fate sinks, the other's rises. Nixon climbed to the vice presidency after Hiss went to jail, yet Hiss was on TV to pronounce a judgment over Nixon as he came apart in 1962. And now Hiss tours the campuses, vindicated in many people's eyes, getting the last laugh, though he is too well-bred to mock.

I remain unconvinced that the courts that tried the Hiss case and reviewed it were in error. I regret the "revisionist" aim to use Watergate as a way of settling old scores like that.

But I was interested in the Hiss reaction to all these odd uses of his case in the new transcripts, and so I read them to Mr. Hiss for his comment. (Surprisingly few journalists have sought him out for this so far.)

On certain things he had a field day, such as the inane boast that Nixon did not use leaks, showmanship, or rumor in the Hiss investigation. Both Nixon and Chambers boasted of the artful way they used these in their respective books. Hiss, gracious and articulate as ever, had his own hobbyhorse to ride. When Nixon boasts to Dean that the FBI found the Hiss typewriter — a claim he had made in "Six Crises" and then withdrawn — Hiss tried to find evidence here for the "forged typewriter" theory that Herbert Packer has resoundingly confuted. (Besides, Hiss admits Nixon was telling self-serving lies in the same passage of the transcript. Why would he indulge in a self-wounding truth?)

But an odd thing struck me as I talked to Hiss, so courteous in his equanimity, so little envenomed by the tragedy of history (as Chambers called it) that engulfed him once. He seems, after defeat, a much less damaged person than the man who won that early victory. Nixon, twisting and nursing his tale, putting it to all kinds of dark uses, has wounded himself with his very accomplishment — as he did with his landslide election in 1972. A Hiss may lose to Nixon, as McGovern did. But somehow Nixon will contrive to make himself less for this political victory, and turn it to personal loss.

By TEX DEWEESE
Editor Of The News

TODAY'S COLUMN will be devoted exclusively to what is generally known as "civic duty" and "public service."

Those two categories are concerned with promotion of something that makes your community a better place in which to live.

This subject matter discussed in this space today most certainly aims in that direction. It is something that contributes to the betterment of Pampa.

There will be no prurging from the City Hall Cat today — not a single meow from Schoolhouse Kitty. Nothing about politics. Nary a word that hints of scandal or underground rumblings.

THE AIR is pure and clean. The one and only objective today is to tell the story of the annual Chamber of Commerce Membership Round-Up which kicks off tomorrow and runs through May 24.

The community's lifeblood flows through the Chamber of Commerce. Your support by becoming a member is important to Pampa.

As you know, the local chamber is privately supported by Pampa businesses and individual citizens. No tax money or government subsidy of any kind goes into its community-wide functions.

While many businesses contribute much larger sums for their membership support, the minimum membership business fee is $36. For an individual member who is not in business, the minimum is $25.

IN KEEPING with the promise of sticking to the Chamber Round-Up, we invited Melvin Kunkel, who is spear-heading the membership drive as the chamber's finance director, to take it from here and give you some of the important information about the Chamber of Commerce and what it means to you and Pampa. So, for the remainder of the column, here is Mr. Kunkel:

By MELVIN KUNKEL

LET'S START out by telling you what the Chamber of Commerce is. It is a voluntary organization of citizens who are investing their time and money in a community development program — working together to improve the economic, civic and cultural well-being of the area.

It provides a medium through which people can take effective action for community progress. It helps create job opportunities through stimulation of commercial and industrial growth. It seeks improvement of community facilities such as streets, highways, parks, schools and marketing.

It brings conventions, sales meetings and other gatherings to the city and works toward developing an agriculture and agribusiness of the area.

What does it do?

It provides a medium through which people can take effective action for community progress. It helps create job opportunities through stimulation of commercial and industrial growth. It seeks improvement of community facilities such as streets, highways, parks, schools and marketing.

What does it do?

It provides a medium through which people can take effective action for community progress. It helps create job opportunities through stimulation of commercial and industrial growth. It seeks improvement of community facilities such as streets, highways, parks, schools and marketing.

It brings conventions, sales meetings and other gatherings to the city and works toward developing an agriculture and agribusiness of the area.

It serves as a partner in all these functions with every business and every professional person in the community.

HOW DOES it function? The Chamber of Commerce functions through working committees. Money, planning, inspiration and guidance are useless unless the members work vigorously on the committees of their choice.

Careful study is made of community needs and an action blueprint, a work program, is designed. The goal of that program is always to create more dollars for more people and to improve Pampa's economic climate.

Every member has a voice in determining policies and projects and every member is needed to get the job done.

WHO BENEFITS from the chamber's program? Here is a list of some of the people and organizations helped by the Chamber of Commerce:

The retail merchants, service establishments, manufacturers, construction firms, real estate dealers, investment and insurance firms, professional people, farmers and ranchers, hotel, motel and restaurant operators, home and property owners and every single individual who makes his home in the community.

TO SUM it all up — the goal of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce is to promote the commercial, industrial, civic, cultural and general interest of Pampa and surrounding area.

To accomplish this, action committees explore every possible avenue and possibility. These committees work in the areas of industrial development, agriculture, aviation, athletics, conventions, membership, citizenship, traffic and transportation, area and urban development, highways, civic affairs, retail promotion and water resources.

Every individual, firm and profession derives direct benefits in a growing and stable economy — an economy that is the result of efforts by your Chamber of Commerce.

THANK YOU, Mr. Kunkel.

Now then, if you are already a member, be sure to renew your membership. If you are not a member, why not join during the next week and become a working partner in the job of making Pampa a better place in which to live?

LIKE WE said — strictly public service today. Nothing about Watergate or the Oval Office best-seller transcripts. Not an X-rated expletive or comment in the entire column. Just the Flag, Mother and Apple Pie on this Mother's Day.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Exercise Courses Could Prove Popular, Exciting

Recently I ran into a very interesting project. In fact I ran on it. No, I walked on it.

I was visiting Jekyll Island, one of the "Golden Islands" off the coast of Georgia, when I noticed and inquired about it. I report it because I think it would be a very popular and valuable production for any YWCA, church, school or community to attempt. The only problem is the land and it requires very little.

This is an exercise course. It is about a mile long (one-half mile each way) and you can either walk or run on it.

depending on your wish and condition.

The novel thing about it is that you perform exercises which are described on posts at 18 places along the way. You can do those you feel able to do and pass up the others. They start with very easy exercises and become a bit more strenuous as you progress.

Heaven knows, it is difficult enough to get people off of their backsides and onto their feet even though they know how important exercise is, but this is appealing because it has no set hours but is available at any time.

It is free. You can choose your own pace, walk as fast or slowly as you wish, do the exercises you want to do and gradually work up to the more difficult ones if you wish.

People of all ages can enjoy this exercise course and you see those of all ages on it. One of my companions (age 13) and I had great rapport! I did some of the exercises but I passed a few. I was afraid to try to chin myself for fear I might hang myself instead. He did all of them expertly.

It is really great! Even if you just want to walk, it is not boring. There are always others coming and going, and you can watch them try the exercises even if you don't. Everyone says "hello" to everyone else.

I wish there were such a course where I live. I would walk three or four miles a day on it.

The course on Jekyll Island is the first one ever built in the U.S. and as far as I know, it is the only one. Horace Caldwell, retired director of Vita Life Insurance Company in Switzerland, became interested in the company's exercise courses and arranged to have one built on Jekyll.

The first Vita-course was built in Switzerland in 1968. Since then another 50 courses were inaugurated in that country in 1973, with many more in the offing.

Why not stir up some interest in your part of the country about an exercise course?

ceiling — and three to four inches in walls.

To insulate a ceiling that's under an unfloored, well-ventilated attic, simply place batts on the ceiling or spread loose insulation over it, she suggested.

"In case of a floored attic, raise and loosen a few boards — then rake or blow insulation in."

"Walls are easy to insulate during construction of a house," Miss Bradshaw pointed out.

"But to insulate an existing building, get professional advice and assistance. Side wall insulation added to some existing buildings can cause moisture to condense in walls."

Homeowners also can insulate ducts that circulate hot and cold air to cut operating costs, the specialist added.

"For best results, use at least one-and-one-half inches of good fibrous insulation or its thermal equivalent on these ducts."

Cotillion Officers Named

The Twentieth Century Cotillion Study Club met at the home of Mrs. J.W. Campbell, May 7, for its annual spring luncheon. Mrs. Don Morrison assisted the hostess.

After a salad luncheon, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Jim Hughes.

Mrs. Jay Boettner installed the following officers for the 1974-75 year: Mrs. Glenn Fleming, president; Mrs. Jerry Kotara, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Simmons, secretary; Mrs. Al Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Sam Isaac, public relations; and Mrs. Jim Hughes, parliamentary.

The chairman for the annual antique show to be held in the spring, will be Mrs. Dan Puckett with Mrs. C.E. Kirby, co-chairman.

Mrs. Hughes turned the meeting over to the new president, Mrs. Fleming, who named the standing committees for the coming year.

The 18 members present chose as the topic for study for the coming year, "The American Bi-Centennial."

Mrs. Green Gives Talk On 'Friends'

The Pampa Top O' Texas Republican Women's Club met recently in the home of the President, Mrs. Jones Seitz.

Mrs. M.F. Roche led the group in the Lord's Prayer and the pledge of allegiance was repeated in unison.

Mrs. Seitz presided during the business session. She introduced the new members and guests. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

A report on the proceeds from the bake sale and the choppers was given. Mrs. Teresa Reed, treasurer, reported there are 31 members.

Mrs. Scott Nisbet, program chairman, introduced Mrs. E.L. Green Jr. who spoke on the Friends of the Library. This organization is one year old and has a membership of 140. The Friends of the Library set a goal to make the community aware of the opportunities for cultured growth, research and education afforded by the library.

organization has helped repair books; has held book reviews; and purchased equipment. There is a children's story hour once a week for four and five year olds.

She said, your library card is good in any library in the Panhandle. There is a machine for the blind, and there are large print books for people who need them. Reference questions can be answered on request. There is an art department and also a film service. Memorials may be given to purchase books. Membership is $1 per member, and $10 for clubs and businesses.

The Republican Women took a club membership as well as individual memberships.

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRÉD KARPIN

An inexperienced player was partnered with the club expert during one round of the club's individual tournament each player plays one round with each other as a partner. On the first deal he got the expert into a sound game contract, but the expert mishandled it and suffered a one-trick set.

"I'm sorry," the inexperienced player said. "It was my fault."

"YOUR fault?" the expert asked with surprise. "There were a dozen right-ways to play that contract and I found the only one to get set."

"I know," replied the inexperienced player. "I was trying to use telepathy on you — and you took the line of play I concentrated on."

Today's deal, which came up in a top-level game, serves as another illustration of "telepathy" at work.

However, in this case, the receiver did not get the message. As a result, declarer fulfilled a contract which could have been defeated.

Bridesmaids dresses should not be so fussy that they detract from the bride's gown.

The backs of bridesmaids dresses should be interesting, as the backs will be seen most during the ceremony, the bridesmaids facing the altar.

Fabrics and color preferences for wedding parties change with the seasons. Pastels in peau-de-soie, voile, or organza are favored in warm months. Darker shades in satins and velvet are preferred for the winter.

"AT WIT'S END"

By ERMA BOMBEC

There is an old American myth that people in the hospital want to be cheered up.

Greeting card companies have based a six-billion dollar business on it. Florists have little men with wings on their feet on every street corner ready to deliver a pot that nags. "Water me!" And visiting hours in most hospitals have been expanded.

Once, I too was a believer in the myth. A reader wrote me she had read my book just after surgery and tore three stitches out laughing. I was so delighted with her misery that I sent a copy of her letter to my publisher with a note attached. "Is there a market for heart patients?"

All that has changed. Last week I was a surgical patient — and if I laugh anymore I'll never stop bleeding.

Immediately preceding my operation my boss called to say, "Cheer up. If things don't turn out we have a very funny housewife from Houston who can fill in for you at a moment's notice." They tell me I was so amused I tried to tie two hospital gowns together and strangle myself.

In keeping the atmosphere light the doctors said during surgery, "Hey, Fred, did you bring your March issue of Reader's Digest? There's something I have to check." There were tears of hysteria in my eyes as I rolled off the table.

A nurse who was trying out her Las Vegas act lifted my spirits considerably by saying, "Our hospital food is so bad, patients ask for seconds on their IVs." This convulsed me and the needle fell out of my arm.

A phone call brought another well-wisher who said, "I hear you now have new towels monogrammed 'His and Herma.'" "Oh, please," I giggled, "no more."

An aide came by and put a button in my hand and said, "Press this one if you need a nurse," and impishly put another button in my other hand and nudged. "This one is for Oral Roberts."

In my heart, I knew that another dose of cheer would kill me, when my husband came in and thrust a pot of flowers under my nose.

I was right. My nose wrinkled and my breath began coming in short gasps. My toes dug into the mattress and weakly I grasped the sides of the bed for what I knew was coming. MY FIRST SNEEZE AFTER SURGERY. As my body throbbed with shooting pains, I knew I would never get well and I said weakly, "Please do not bring anymore sunshine into my life. Just let me lie here and wallow in Watergate, self-pity, my cracked heels, bad breath, greasy hair, nausea and neglect. But mostly... neglect."

WORTHWHILE CLUB

The Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club met May 3 with Mrs. Janice Carter. Mrs. Maggie Smith called the meeting to order with the club prayer and roll call was answered with something about themselves and a low calorie food.

Mrs. Carter gave the council report and new officers were elected for the new year starting the July 1.

She also reported that Gray County was well represented at 4-H competition. There were 38 in attendance and 22 won, with 22 counties competing.

The Worthwhile Club voted to help the Lefors 4-H Club with their flea market this summer.

Mrs. Cora Lee Robertson was elected THDA delegate to the state meeting in Amarillo Sept. 17-19, along with Mrs. Gladys Stone. The names will be presented at the next council meeting, May 20.

Mrs. Elaine Houston reported a Sew Fair will be held in Borger, July 26.

Mrs. Houston gave a program on eat more low calorie foods and exercise more.

The next meeting will be held May 17 at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Mina Benham, 1132 E. Browning. Darel Seahorn will present the program.

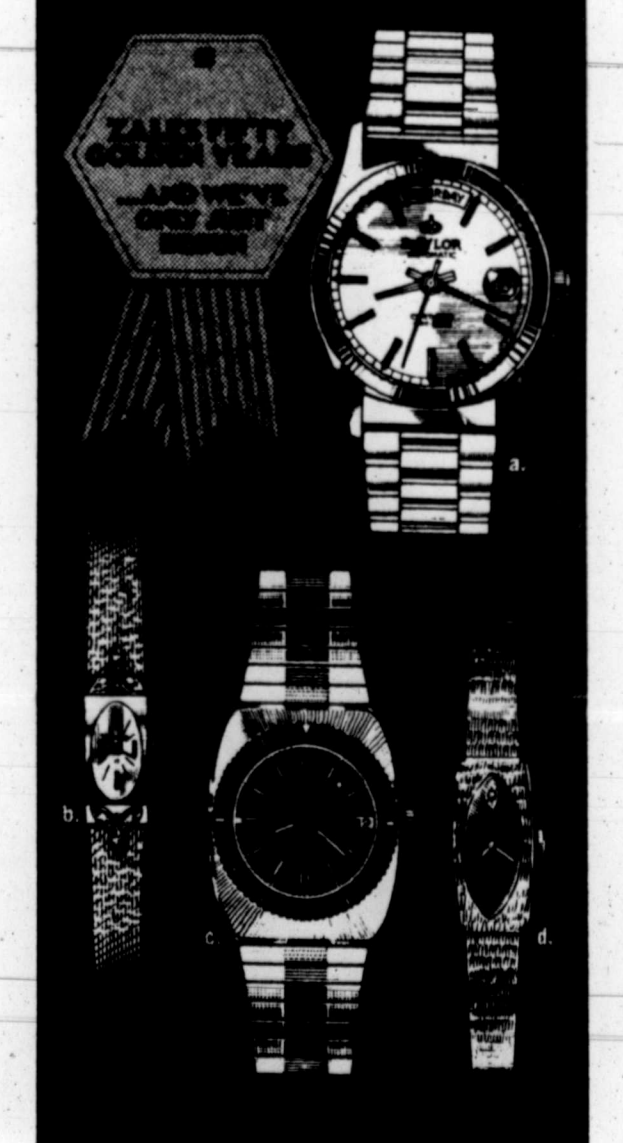

Members present were Mes. Donna Lee Brown.

Haynes-Brantley

Mr. and Mrs. H.N. Haynes announce the engagement of their daughter, Shelley, to Louis Brantley, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Brantley, 605 Jupiter. The wedding will be solemnized May 18 in the bride-elect's home. Miss Haynes is a 1973 graduate of Pampa High School and is employed by Marie Foundations. Her fiancé graduated from PHS in 1970. He is employed at Pampa Grouting Service.

Members of Las Pampas Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution met recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Williams for a salad luncheon. A bouquet of yellow and white daisies centered each table.

Mrs. Williams, chaplain, gave the invocation quoting Matt. 5:16 — Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in Heaven. In closing she said, "We are God's windows through which His light may shine upon others."

The Pledge to the Flag and the American's Creed was led by Mrs. J.B. White, regent and Mrs. P.R. Britton, vice-regent gave the President General, Mrs. Donald Spicer's final message to the Chapters.

She reviewed the accomplishments of her three-year regime. Among them were "A Gift to the Nation," which was the furnishing and opening two rooms on the second floor of Independence Hall which had been used as the Governor's Council Chamber and the Assembly Committee Room during the writing of the Constitution. The money and gifts to do this came from Chapters and interested individuals. During her first six months in office, architectural lighting had been placed around National Headquarters, the largest group of buildings owned and maintained by women. This was done to comply with the President's program to make Washington City safer and a more beautiful city.

At the 82nd Continental Congress, the American Association of Museums presented its official accreditation to the DAR Museum. The museum has been established as an organized and permanent non-profit installation, essentially educational, with a professional staff.

Mrs. Spicer also said that during this Continental Congress, Memorial Continental Hall, the first building erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution, and one of the oldest and most historic in that part of the city, because of its great significance is the site of the 1921 Conference on the Limitation of Armaments, etc., the National Park Service designated it as a Registered Historic landmark

In April the 83rd Continental Congress was held in Constitution Hall in Washington, D.C. and Mrs. White and Mrs. L.A. Barns attended. Mrs. White, in giving her report, said that the opening ceremonies were very impressive. A beautiful large American flag was lowered from the ceiling as a part of the opening ceremonies of each session. Mrs. Barns, Defense chairman, attended the National Defense luncheon.

Mrs. White mentioned that the National Marine Band offered a tribute to Mrs. Spicer, outgoing President General. The U.S. Air Force Band furnished music for several sessions.

The highlight of the week's activities was the speech given before 4500 members in Constitution Hall by President Nixon. During his speech, he said that the great strength of the American Revolution was that it was "a continuing revolution throughout the 200-year history of our Nation," and that America has a sense of great mission. "The United States," he said, "stood for something more than material strength and wealth and must continue that responsibility." He invited the group to visit the White House and grounds.

One of the activities of the week was the assembling of the group in Arlington Cemetery where they placed a wreath on the tomb of the "Unknown Soldier" and then went to Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, where they also placed a wreath.

Mrs. White told the group that Las Pampas Chapter was among those receiving the Gold award for Chapter activities. Mrs. Henry Stewart Jones, of the Marshfield Chapter, Marshfield, Wis., was elected President General for a three-year term.

Miss Oleta Marlin, guest speaker, was introduced by Mrs. Britton. Miss Marlin gave a summary of the "Biographical Sketch of Dr. Bodo Otto," a colonial physician. She said that Dr. Bodo Otto who was born in 1709 or 1711 in Hanover, Germany, began his apprenticeship at the age of 13 and after 12 years was able to give baths and do bleeding, cupping, leeching, give enemas and extract teeth. It was customary for an apprentice to live with the doctor's family while studying under him, and to do odd jobs around the place. He built fires, swept and cleaned the office and aided in mixing medicine.

This last task was not an easy one and occupied a great deal of his time for he had to use an iron pestle and mortar to pound a large pill mass and after it had been pounded sufficiently, it was placed on the pill cutter, cut in squares and rolled by hand into pills. She said that a good student was measured by the ache in his arms. Drugs were measured in bulk and dispensed in powders wrapped carefully in small squares of paper. Most doctors kept a small herb garden and made tinctures, infusions, elixirs by extracting ingredients from flowers and leaves or both. Salves and plasters were prepared by the doctors and often he operated an apothecary shop.

In conclusion she told the group that he eventually returned to Reading, Pa., and died in June, 1787 at the age of 79 and was buried in the Trinity Lutheran Church burial grounds. Dr. Otto's name is not mentioned in history even though as a senior surgeon he cared for the sick, wounded and dying soldiers. He rendered service equal to any other man in the great cause of the Revolution.

Mrs. Emmett Osborne was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. R.A. Keagy was also a guest.

The best time for the newlyweds to leave the reception is when the revelry is at its height. Change to traveling clothes, say goodbyes to parents. Shake hands with attendants. And then dash for car, cycle or whatever.

Lamar PTA Names Officers

The Lamar PTA met recently in the school gym with Mrs. Robert Walker presiding. The spiritual devotions were presented by Mrs. Lacy Lee, Chairman of the nominating committee. Dan Johnson, presented the following slate of officers for election: President, Mrs. E.R. Sikes, Jr.; Vice President, Mrs. Thomas Grays; Secretary, Mrs. Joe Castagnetta; Treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth Steward; Parliamentarian, Mrs. Robert Walker; Historian, Mrs. Lester Lynch; and City Council Delegates, Mrs. Bill Gillis and Mar Cochran. These officers were elected by acclamation. Mrs. Walker appointed a Life Membership Committee, Mrs. Mike Russell and Mrs. Kenneth Raulston, and an Auditing Committee, Mrs. Tom Dunn and Mrs. Kenneth Steward. A report was given on District 19 Spring Conference, held recently in Spearman, by Mrs. Sikes. Lamar received two Superior and one Excellent award. Five representatives from Lamar attended. The program was presented by the Lamar Band. They played several selections, directed by Sam Watson. Room count was won by Miss Sue Durham's second grade. The door prize was furnished by Mrs. Carl Cotham and was won by Miss Durham.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

MONDAY, MAY 13
Your birthday today: Is the harbinger of a good year of normal experience, in which what you are deep down inside rises to the surface. Most of the time you are given the chance to express yourself freely and fluently. Your career and life and the relationships touching on them thrive, generally. Today's natives frequently have a marvelous talent for inspiring other people far beyond the extent of their own achievements.

Aries (March 21-April 19): This is as quiet a Monday as you could expect. Friends are important in your activities; however, stay clear of their special projects. Be prepared for criticism later.
Taurus (April 20-May 20): Today's influences aren't too unusual, but aren't easy on you either. Business and career matters are delicate, may not follow plans very closely.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Neither expect nor grant any favors today. Get down to brass tacks early. If you can take the afternoon off, by all means do so.

Cancer (June 21-July 21): Let today be as lightly scheduled as you can manage. Display the greatest of tact in dealing with influential people. Take it easy, socially speaking.

Leo (July 22-Aug. 22): Business plans are uncertain today. Give associates a chance to readjust their views while you continue routines for the coming week.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Attend to budgets, practice thrift as you go. Get the main job through, make corrections tomorrow. There's no need to quibble over details.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your regular job isn't so demanding today, but you shouldn't neglect it in later hours. Keep an eye on personal budget. See that loved ones get some special little surprise.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Place the emphasis on usual assignments; postpone major changes. The step-by-step approach with brief pauses for reflection gets more and better results.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Impulse buying can be very successful only in small, unusual objects. Travel probably isn't as urgent as it seemed earlier. Stick with social plans.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Financial moves should be conservative. Your work is the center of attention—be prepared to show its merits. Be gentle with loved ones.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): There's a very poor market for your suggestions today. Better information eventually shows you why. Concentrate on external affairs.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Leave experiments aside as you pursue your customary chores. The needs of younger people come to general notice.

Brumley-Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Brumley, 1315 Christine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda, to Jay Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Johnson, 2123 N. Russell. Dear Abby

Housekeeper's lover suddenly turns cold

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I was the housekeeper for a man and his wife for four years. His wife died rather suddenly, so he asked me to stay on, which I did gladly. A few months later, he asked me to eat dinner with him. Then we started watching television together, and finally he came to my bedroom and I had an affair with him.

This continued for about three months, and I was very happy about it, but suddenly he stopped being friendly and started to act like nothing ever happened between us.

I couldn't bear it any longer, so I asked him why he didn't make love to me anymore, and he said he didn't love me—that no bells rang, and it never should have happened in the first place, and would I please forget it?

Abby, how can I forget it? I am 40 years old and never was married. He is nearly 60, and I think I am in love with him. Now what?

NO TOWN, PLEASE

DEAR NO: Now you should wise up and tell the gentleman to find another housekeeper. [Maybe the next one will be a bell-ringer.] Don't remain in his employ. There is nothing ahead for you there but unhappiness and regret.

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law has a job as good as the one I have, but she doesn't budget her money, so consequently she is always in debt and she never has anything to show for her money.

I am just the opposite. I shop around and spend my money wisely, and I have a very nice wardrobe. My sister-in-law is my size, so every time she sees me wearing something new she says: "When you're through with that, throw it my way."

It makes me feel like I should give it to her after I've worn it a season, but I like to keep my clothes from one season to the next, and I really don't want to "throw" anything her way or anybody else's way.

How should I handle it? If I say: "I'll keep you in mind," then I'm committed to give it to her. If I don't say anything, she can assume she'll get it eventually.

I have given her a few things in the past, but I don't like to be rushed. Any suggestions?

LIKES TO DRESS

DEAR LIKES: I disagree. Silence doesn't necessarily imply agreement. But to avoid a misunderstanding, say: "I'm glad you like it, but I'm not making any promises."

DEAR ABBY: I was faithfully married for 18 years to a man I can only describe as a kind and considerate husband. He doesn't chase and is a good provider and a good father. Bed hasn't been very exciting for me for many years, but I put on an act for the benefit of his ego. He had no idea he wasn't the greatest lover, but I didn't know how bad he was until I ran into Jimmy, which is why I have this problem.

Jimmy was my high school boyfriend who just happened to be in town [he travels on business]. It's a long story, but let me just say Jimmy and I have been meeting at a motel a few afternoons a month for the last five months. We're not "in love" [he's married, too] and nobody is going to leave anybody over this. We're just filling a need in the lives of one another. [His wife is a prude.] I never knew a 40-year-old woman, married for 18 years, could come to life the way I did.

The problem is that the "act" has become harder and harder to keep up at home. Comparisons in techniques and results leave me a wreck! Now I'm in a trap of my own making. It was all right as long as I didn't know what I was missing.

There is no way to approach this with my husband. I'd be apt to get one rap for complaining, and another for knowing the difference. At 40, I'm not ready to give up sex, and at 50, my husband isn't going to get any better in bed. Where do I go from here?

"TRAPPED" IN MANKATO, MINN.

DEAR TRAPPED: Go to the Medical School of your university and inquire about its course in Human Sexuality. [Minn. U. has one.] Trained teams are available for private counseling. Quit trying to kid your husband and suggest that the two of you take it together. When enlightenment replaces ignorance and inhibitions are broken down, miracles occur. But this is possible only when both parties sincerely want improvement. So if you want a more satisfactory love life with your husband, spend the energy. It will probably take far less than all the cloak-and-dagger chasing around for a clandestine affair, and it's far more rewarding.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

FASHIONETTES

United Press International
The big flash on the wedding horizon is color in clothes for the men in the wedding party. From soft pastels to more vivid shades in a variety of fabrics, patterns and textures.

After Six, maker of formal wear for men and specialist in rentals, offers color in tuxedos, dinner jackets, formal separates and furnishings. For the wedding, the result is total coordination, from a fellow's tie to his toes.

Frilly shirts are putting up a great front for contemporary formal wear for men. Today's man can take his choice from a selection of pastel-trimmed whites as well as a full spectrum of soft colors, shown to best advantage with a coordinated bow-tie, the oversized tear-drop being the favorite shape.

Beauty - You Express It Best In A Dress!

A projection of you, your Dress! Your feeling for beauty - you express it best in the Dress you select.

FIRST BAPTIST WOMEN

Mrs. Owen Johnson, chairman, was in charge of the meeting when the Mission Prayer Group met at the church Wednesday, May 8, at 10 a.m.

The prayer to open the meeting was given by Mrs. D.B. Jameson.

Mrs. Johnson informed the group that the May mission action activity will be donations to assist in getting Spanish Bibles and other literature for the Spanish Baptist Mission which meets in the Calvary Baptist Church. She also announced that a "Prayer Retreat" will be Friday, May 17. All members are invited to leave the church at 9 a.m., on the church bus, and travel to Lake McClellan. Each one is asked to bring a sack lunch and the drinks will be provided. A nursery will also be provided at the church. The bus will return before 2:40 p.m. in order for mothers to pick up school children who are dismissed at this time.

The "Call to Prayer" was given by Mrs. Ed Langford and Mrs. S.E. Waters voiced the prayer for missionaries having birthdays on this date.

Mrs. Johnson presented a study of the country of Peru. She used Psalms 121 for scripture and the entire group assisted by giving facts and information about the country.

Parsley-Phillips

Miss Kathy Ann Parsley and James Randy Phillips will wed July 12 in the First Christian Church of Pampa. Making the announcement are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Parsley, 621 S. Tignor. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Phillips, Amarillo. The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Pampa High School and is presently employed by the First National Bank of Amarillo. Her fiancé is a 1973 graduate of Amarillo High School and is employed by REA Express.

A good way to use leftover Easter eggs (hard-cooked, of course) and at the same time get calcium into the family's diet is to make your regular egg salad but use cottage cheese and sour cream to hold it together. For each three eggs, use one-half cup of cottage cheese with one tablespoon of dairy sour cream.

PTA City Council Names In-Coming Officers

Officers were installed for Pampa City Council PTA, by Mrs. Tommy Hill, president, at the meeting, May 7.

Mrs. Lacy Lee gave the Devotional, "Sobering Thoughts for Parents" and the prayer was led by Sam Begert.

Mrs. Hill introduced the principals, local presidents, and new council representatives. Presidents for the coming year are: Austin, Mrs. Lou Ann Blakemore; Baker, Mrs. Linda Bowers; Lamar, Mrs. Joe Sikes; Mann, Mrs. Charles Miller; Travis, Mrs. Janet Hutto; and Wilson, Mrs. Linda King.

Pampa will host the District Workshop next fall.

Thirteen Pampa members received certificates for completing the PFLE course in January. The Parliamentary Procedure and Leadership Procedure courses will be conducted by Mrs. C.L. Farmer on May 16 at Carver Center. All local and council officers must take these courses if they have not had them in the past three years.

D.V. Biggers thanked the PTA members for their help while he was principal. Biggers retired this year.

Mr. Walker, Pampa High School principal, was in charge of the program, "Assessment of Our School Year." In recalling the accomplishments of Pampa High School last year, Walker spoke of the numerous individual awards and honors received by the students, organizations, and newspaper. He spoke of the changes made and the new sports programs. Walker said, "We hope to continue in Pampa as a strong independent school district. We want to have the schools the people want. The schools belong to the people."

The officers were installed by Mrs. Frances Wall, with the theme, "Baseball." Installed were: Mrs. Tommy Hill, president; Mrs. Robert Walker, vice president; Mrs. Rowdy Bowers, secretary; Mrs. Bill King, treasurer; Mrs. Floyd Baxter, historian; and Mrs. C.L. Farmer, parliamentary. Mrs. Wall read the "Beatitudes of Parenthood."

WEDDING-ENGAGEMENT DEADLINE

The following deadlines and procedure on wedding stories will be as follows: For a wedding story to appear in a Sunday edition, information and picture must be turned in to the women's editor by 5 p.m. on the Monday BEFORE the wedding. All wedding stories submitted after that time will appear during the week. Engagement announcements must be submitted by 12 noon Wednesday to appear in Sunday's edition.

Mrs. Hogan Is Goodwill Hostess

Mrs. G.B. Hogan, 914 N. Somerville, hosted the Goodwill Home Demonstration Club Tuesday and served a salad luncheon.

During the business session, members were encouraged to attend a training meeting on "Chicken in the Menu," May 20 at 12:45 p.m. at the Courthouse Annex by the new county extension agent, Mrs. Elaine Houston.

Lettie Smith, secretary, called the roll with members giving the town and state where they were born.

Mrs. Paul Johnson, president, conducted the brief business session and gave the Council report.

The "White Elephant" gift was won by Mrs. Lee Jakcosn.

Members presented Mrs. Johnson with a gift as outgoing president.

The group made red velvet roses, instructed by Mrs. Hogan.

Club officers were then installed for 1974-75 year. Mrs. A.P. Coombes, president; Mrs. Laura Kilgore, vice-president; Lettie Smith, secretary; Lee Jackson, treasurer; and Cecil Barnett, council delegate.

In installing the officers, Mrs. Hogan compared the growing of a flower garden to the duties of each office. She quoted, "each plant requires special care and attention, just as each office does. You will reap rewards of early planning. The wise officer, just like the wise gardener, keeps an up-to-date notebook at all seasons. The spring and summer work eases up and we have a more steady pull toward the fall chores."

She presented each officer with a small potted plant. In concluding, "we can't have a beautiful garden without work," she told.

Mrs. Cecil Barnett will give a demonstration at the next meeting May 21 at 9:30 a.m. on the "Art of Glass Cutting," with Mrs. Ray Frazier, 512 Doyle, as hostess.

Homemakers News

MRS. ELAINE HOUSTON
County Extension Agent

The Home Demonstration Clubs have elected officers and are planning their programs for the next year. During June each club will be installing officers and filling out the new yearbooks. We have a lot of interesting programs planned for the next year in Gray County. Right now would be a good time to join a club or even get one organized in your area.

During May I am giving a program on "Low-Calorie Foods." This is a timely subject in which all adults are interested. Many foods can be low-calorie or high in calories depending on how you prepare them. There are many low-calorie substitutes on the market to be used in place of the high-calorie ones such as granulated sugar and brown sugar. Also, there are canned fruits packed in their own juice and water packed canned meats. Washing a tuna canned in vegetable oil will eliminate calories. Try the skimmed evaporated milk for less calories.

Be sure the read the labels on the foods you purchase. Know what you're paying for. If a fruit or vegetable is labeled "diet" manufacturers tend to charge more. You might be able to buy the same thing for a less price by checking the labels. For instance, fruit packed in its own juice or in water is cheaper than the same product with a diet label. Read the labels, compare prices and know what you're eating.

Did you know that ice cream is one of the few food products on the market that does not have to give a list of ingredients. If you're eating an imitation ice cream more than likely you are eating chemicals produced to look, taste and feel like ice cream. It is up to the consumers to read and know what they're eating.

A fuel saving tip for farmers: tractors run at rated engine speed provide better fuel efficiency at near full loads than at light loads.

Mrs. Williams New Theta Delta Prexy

Miss Marjorie Ewing, Panhandle, was installed as president of Theta Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma for the next biennium, Saturday, in the Heritage Room of the First National Bank, Panhandle.

Also installed were Mrs. Jack C. Williams, first vice-president; Mrs. Charles Burk, second vice-president; Mrs. Lem Greene, recording secretary; Mrs. L.R. Copeland, corresponding secretary; Miss Thelma Holman, treasurer; and Mrs. Calvin Murray, parliamentary.

Mrs. John Vantine, outgoing president, will represent the chapter at the State convention in McAllen, June 20-23.

graduation exercises in her school.

Mrs. Kelly also repeated a tribute to Miss Claudia Everly which had been read the previous day at an initiation service of the National Honor Society of White Deer High School, when the chapter was named in her honor.

Mrs. Vantine presented a gift from the chapter to Miss Mary Ewing, music teacher in Panhandle Elementary Schools; who is retiring this year.

Mrs. Vantine expressed her appreciation of the work of the chapter during her term of office, and Miss Marjorie Ewing presented her with a past president's pin.

Mrs. Jack C. Williams, chairman of the Professional Affairs committee, announced that the recipient of the Theta Delta grant-in-aid of $100 per year had been selected, but her name is being withheld until the

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, MAY 12
Your birthday today: Opens a sparkling year of lively growth and healthy adjustments. The chance to expand requires only realization of potentials on your part. Set priorities, decide which opportunities you will pursue and in what order; then get busy! Relationships become intricate, subtle, difficult for others to judge, hence are likely to be the basis for comment. Today's natives are confirmed idealists, forever ready to examine a new concept.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Let nature take its course now. Be ready and available promptly, willing to meet all comers. Sentimental diversions are promised. Incidentally, it's Mother's Day, and a great one!

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Get out and make the rounds, pay your respects early, stay on the move. Many significant details settle into their logical places today. Important people are accessible, generally.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Find yourself a moment of solitude for meditation. Inspiration then guides you thru the day's many-sided activities. A number of close associates can be organized into a working team.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Get your mind off the work week and its traces. Go out into a larger world with a consciously naive eye, see the beauty of things as they are and can be. Keep communications open.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: The unexpected is the normal order of the day. Be alert to social attraction, willing to participate reasonably. Romance can be advanced for many, yourself among the first.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: This should be an especially happy Sunday; relax and enjoy it! Social developments are interesting, productive. A path into a better future is marked and you can begin exploring.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Go along with the wave of normal expression today. Forgive those who have upset you, offer apologies where you are at fault. Social doings are successful within their appointed times.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Happenings at home and among family tend to be pleasant. Distribute your time and attention among those you cherish—reserving some space and hours for your own pet hobbies.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Take the initiative now. Put on your favorite outfit, feel self-assured, enjoy the experience of meeting others who share your interests. Make it a long day of several changes of scene.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Whatever you plan, it's going to be an eventful day in your life. Social contacts promise much for the present, even more for the future. Arrange a mild celebration this evening.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Lay aside business and concentrate on the human side of family and neighborhood development. Your opinion is valuable but should wait until you're asked and you're sure you have an audience.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Be yourself now—focus all energies on fitting into the social scene—you're important! There's a memorable quality in today's events. A prayer of thanks is appropriate.

GS Troop Nine Holds Awards Court

Last week Girl Scout Troop No. 9 held their annual Court of Awards. Their theme was The Old West and the Troop turned Pam Cel into a scene of prairie schooners, log cabins, Indians and horses for this major event of their scouting year.

Parents were greeted at the door with strings of Indian beads made from baking soda and salt.

While scouts made finishing touches on the "chuck wagon," parents observed crafts and pictures of the many activities throughout the year.

A meal of Bar-b-que chicken, baked beans, salads and desserts, was served.

After dinner Diane Grooters, troop leader, welcomed guests and turned the program over to Alicia Fleming who led the troop in a series of western songs. Cay Luedecke, Diane Higgins, Gina Aufleger, and Casey Carter were the lonesome cowboys in "Maria" Glenna Wilkins sang "Wandering Star."

Joy Hampton assisted in presenting the badges and awards including the Ecology badge which was devised by the troop and designed by Laura Johnson. Camperships were awarded to Casey Carter, Dawn Carter, Diane Higgins, and Janine Van Kluyve.

The award for most cookies sold went to Diane Higgins.

Best Camper went to award went to Gina Aufleger and Best Scout award went to Diane Higgins.

Certificates of appreciation were given to Joy Hampton and Mary Lee Van Kluyve. Friendship pins given for outstanding work in all fields were presented to Julie and Cay Luedecke.

Danger of Deficiency
 While some people may have the capacity to adapt to lower calcium intakes, even moderate deficiencies in calcium over a period of time may contribute to the occurrence of osteoporosis and periodontal disease in later years.

Drinking two glasses of milk per day, as is recommended for adults, is moderate indeed in terms of calories — 159 per 8-ounce glass — when you think of all the good nutrition that comes with it. You really cannot get most of your nutrients more cheaply through any other foods. So milk also offers prime economy for your food budget. And guess what? It is the original convenience food, too.

Upsilon Presents Slate Of Officers

Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met recently in the City Club Room for their regular meeting. An affirmation ceremony was held for Mrs. Perry Moose and Mrs. Calvin Lacy, following one year of membership.

Outgoing president, Mrs. Harold Taylor installed the following new officers: President, Mrs. Perry Moose; Vice President, Mrs. Harold Taylor; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Jewell Snider; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. John Radcliff; Treasurer, Mrs. E.B. Telford; and Extension Officer, Mrs. Bob Burgoon.

Gifts were given to Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Telford and the following outgoing officers: Mmes Calvin McConnell, Danny Strawn, Dennis Wyatt, and Dwight Chase. Standing committees were also appointed by Mrs. Moose.

Following the business meeting, the program on "Painting and Sculpture" was presented by Mrs. Calvin Lacy. Mrs. Lacy discussed various types of prints, painting materials, styles of painting, and types of sculpture.

She also displayed paintings, prints, and sculpture by various artists, including Robin Gantz and Marion George of Pampa.

Other members attending the meeting were Mmes. Bill Martin, Danny Hoggatt, Wilbur Walls, John Osborne, and John Fields.

Mrs. Larry Clifton was welcomed as a new transfer into the chapter and Mrs.

Delbert Barker attended as a guest.

Takes Lessons From Waitress

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Something new in movie realism is being achieved right here in New York in the filming of "Grand Street." Actress Ann Wedgeworth is taking lessons in being a Brooklyn waitress from a Brooklyn waitress.

Carroll O'Connor alias Archie Bunker, is playing Ann's husband and a cabdriver. O'Connor is taking lessons in being a cabdriver from the Brooklyn waitress' husband who is a cabdriver.

Don't let that confuse you. And don't be confused by the fact that Grand Street is not in Brooklyn but in Manhattan. That's the unreality part.

"It's very simple about the Brooklyn couple that's coaching us," Ann Wedgeworth said while we were sitting in the Blueprint restaurant in Manhattan (where they will shoot some of the picture). "We just happened to get the right one."

We were served by the waitress teaching Ann Wedgeworth, Ann Kotkin.

"Hi, Boobie, I read your column all the time" was her greeting to me.

"Boobie" I always wondered what that meant, I said.

"Boobala, sweetie cutie," the waitress said. "Or 'Ketsella' — that's a kitten."

"What does a waitress say when she brings the food?" Ann Wedgeworth asked.

"What a beautiful salad!" (Makes the customer appreciate it more.)

"And do you say 'Enjoy?'"

"Sometimes, but sometimes, 'Bon appetit.' Brooklyn's changed. Brooklyn's very high class."

Ann Wedgeworth, one-time wife of Rip Torn, now the wife of actor-director Ernest Martin, said while absorbing all this coaching that she once worked as a waitress in her home town, Dallas, but got fired quickly.

"Somebody asked me for iced coffee, and I served it in a cup," Ann added. "Was I tired? My feet hurt!"

Waitress Ann Kotkin was impressed serving Ann Wedgeworth because she got high praise for her roles in "Scarecrow" and "Bang the Drum Slowly" and is "simply marvelous," according to one critic, in the Mario Thomas stage show, "Thieves."

"And your husband is coaching Carroll O'Connor?" we said when Ann Kotkin brought coffee.

"Oh yeah, my husband is William Kotkin. He's intelligent and fat and gorgeous. He is an owner-driver... That's a $28,000 difference. Willie would like privately to give up his cab."

He wants to open a hero sandwich restaurant. He likes the cab, though, if he gets intelligent passengers. He speaks through his mirror to people. Willie would like to escape to bigger things."

I asked a delicate question. "Are there secret tricks you have to milk customers for bigger tips?"

"I never had to do that!" Ann Kotkin looked very surprised as such an absurd question.

"How much do you think people should tip?"

"Twenty percent is a nice tip, but if your check is $100, maybe 15 percent is enough. But remember," Mrs. Willie Kotkin emphasized, "you don't gotta tip anything."

(I waited till she was out of sight to say, "Oh, yeah?")

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

Some Good Advice From A.A.

By G.C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: You had a question from a wife concerning her husband and periodic binges. I would like to thank you for your honest, informative answer.

Yes, we Alcoholics Anonymous are familiar with the periodic drinker. Unfortunately for him, his alcoholic problem is more difficult to detect and therefore harder to accept than the daily drinker.

You mentioned Al-Anon to the wife, and again I thank you. Sometimes we can't "get through" to the alcoholic but if we can relieve the suffering of the spouse or any relatives involved, we feel we have accomplished part of our mission.

Actually I am very grateful to Al-Anon for my own sobriety, at least partially. Through Al-Anon my husband learned that he was perpetuating my drinking by trying to live my life for me.

When we both fully comprehended the slogans, "Live and let live," and "One day at a time," our thinking, and consequently our lives, began to change.

Maybe one day all doctors will understand alcoholism to the extent you do. We certainly appreciate your recognition of the problem and the resulting advice. How right you are: each alcoholic is only one drink away. It's that first drink we have to avoid.

—A.M. member of A.A.

Thank you for your kind words to me; thank you for the information in your letter that perhaps will let some poor soul understand a little better what AA is doing and what Al-Anon is for. To those who ask where to get in touch with either group, just lookin the phone book of virtually any city in the country.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My period came on when I was 13 but now I'm going on 16 and I haven't seen it in three years.

Do you think there's something wrong with my Fallopian tubes? Could they be closed? Should I see a doctor? Most people said that my period might skip from month to month in the beginning. I'd like to know what you think.

—L.M.C.

Some skipping is very common among young teen-agers, but not having a menstrual period for three years is not normal and should be investigated.

The Fallopian tubes — even if closed — would not account for it. More likely it is something in the

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary ARC
The annual meeting of the American Red Cross for 1974 was a fine success. We want to thank the officers and directors who worked with us for the past three years.

Also we are grateful for the wives of the directors who attended our breakfast, and so many young people! The tables were lovely and the food was so good.

Let us look forward to next year and make a special effort to attend the meeting.

Registration for the City Pool swim program begins May 15, 16 and 17 in the Red Cross office at 1 p.m. Use of the pool fee is $1 and classes begin at 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. June 17 to 28 and continues through July. We register on a first come first serve basis also.

We will register 50 children in the beginner class and 20 in the advanced beginner class and we will register 20 intermediates at 9 a.m. At 10 a.m. we will register 50 beginners, 20 advanced beginners and 20 swimmers for each session.

We will also teach a Junior and Senior Life Saving class the last two weeks in July. Nell Carter, WSI is in charge of the program at the City Pool.

Randol Nichols Multimedia First Aid Instructor class will teach a class of Boy Scouts at the Armory Saturday morning of this week and also complete the work next Saturday morning.

Mrs. Mike Roche, Hospital Volunteer, with Mrs. Ruth Tarpley will work at the Highland General Hospital Monday; Mrs. Fred Ammeter, Tuesday; Lora Dunn and Ruth Moseley will work Wednesday; Mrs. Ruth Tarpley will work Thursday; and Miss Lelia Clifford and Miss Cloe Darden will serve juice and deliver flowers and cards Friday.

glandular system — pituitary, ovaries, thyroid. Faulty nutrition is a possibility; so might be a severe emotional problem. Yes, you should see doctor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My granddaughter will be 19 years old and has never menstruated. She seems to be healthy and I have heard girls can live normal married lives without menstruation.

—Mrs. B.A.

This young lady should have a thorough workup by an endocrinologist. Any undue delay in menstruation such as she has can be the result of glandular disorders.

The doctor would also examine the pelvic area to determine any possible abnormality there.

While she may seem to be healthy, failure to menstruate at her age is not normal, and the absence can raise the question of sterility or perhaps of some pituitary disorder, or disorders of the ovaries or the thyroid.

You are right, menstruation is not necessary to live a normal life, but it would be very wise to find out the reasons behind her condition.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet, "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson, Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Farmers Facing Disaster Need ASCS's Appraisal

By EVELYN MASON
Executive Director
Gray County ASCS
Producers participating in the upland cotton, feed grain and wheat programs who plan to abandon crops planted on allotment acreage and damaged by natural disaster should have the crops appraised before putting the land to other use.

Under the Agriculture and Consumer protection act of 1973 (which is the program now in force) a producer may qualify for a special feed grain, cotton or wheat payment when a natural disaster caused crop damage.

When crops are struck by disaster, these steps should be followed:

- Report the disaster damage to the ASCS office.
- Before putting the crop or land to another use, have an ASCS official or his designated representative appraise the damage.
- After the appraiser has completed the acreage will be released by ASCS for other uses.
- If the producer should decide to harvest the damaged crop after it is appraised, he must report the harvested production to the county ASCS office. If after appraisal he grazes and then harvests the crop, eligibility for payment will be determined on the basis of the higher of the appraised production or the actual harvested production.

About 115 farms in Gray County have already reported damage to wheat and appraisals have been made on these. Still more are being reported each day.

Arson Big Problem

MENLO PARK, Calif. (UPI) — Stanford Research Institute study into "Violence Problems Affecting Fire Departments" asserts that arson should be by far the major concern of fire fighters.

"Arson losses... account for at least 10 per cent, and possibly 30 per cent or more, of all building fire losses — greater than all the other costs of violence combined," the report says.

It adds that arson rates are rising faster than other types of fire and faster than other types of crime.

Polo, the oldest game played with stick and ball, derives its name from pulu — the Tibetan word for ball.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Drouth Hurts Northern Wheat... Rainfall Spotty...
Milk Makes Good News... Feedlots Plan Marketing...
Auction Business Down

THERE IS a lot going on on Texas farms now that will have a big effect on how Americans live in the coming months. Planting is underway over much of the State, and the weather is having its usual effect. In the northern part of the State, dryland wheat farmers have marked up an unsuccessful year because of drouth. Most of their wheat crops have been grazed out, plowed up, or abandoned. Irrigated wheat is doing well, as is wheat in the southern half of the State where one field was reported already harvested last week. About 22 per cent of the cotton was reported planted over the State, compared to nine per cent at the same time last year. Replanting of cotton, corn and sorghum in the southern half of the State is complete. Sorghum planting is almost over from the Blacklands southward, and planting for the entire State is about 45 per cent complete. Rice planting is almost complete, and peanut planting is about 10 per cent complete.

AS ALWAYS, rainfall has been spotty during the first three weeks of April, with Mercedes in the Valley reporting the most rain, 4.14 inches. Rainfall at various other places over the State during the same time will give you a picture of planting problems: Laredo 0, Corpus Christi .05, Victoria .85, College Station 1.41, Longview 1.47, Seymour .58, Wichita Falls 2.80, Amarillo .04, Big Spring .15, Waco 2.67, San Antonio 1.16.

MILK HAS been in the political news, and it is making good news on the agricultural front. Texas farmers got $266 million gross income during 1973 for dairy products. That's 12 per cent above 1972. The price of milk averaged $8.18 per 100 pounds which was 1.01 more than a year earlier, but the annual average number of milk cows was down one per cent from last year, to 355. Total production of milk in Texas was 3,256 million pounds, a drop of three per cent from 1972.

FEEDLOT operators plan to market 1,200,000 head of cattle between April 1 and June 30 this year, which is 54 per cent of the total on feed April 1 and six per cent more than were marketed in Texas during the same quarter of 1972. There were 2,219,000 head being fed for slaughter, April 1 which is two per cent below a year earlier, four per cent below the number on feed March 1 and one per cent above the 2,205,000 January 1. Feedlots have been having their troubles as cattle prices declined, but there were 225 of them operating in the state in April. (That includes those feeding 1,000 or more head.) However, 41 of the feedlots were reported empty and the other 184 reported they had 2,172,000 head of cattle, about 71 per cent capacity of the 225 total.

LIVESTOCK AUCTION markets showed a drop in business during March. There were 328,000 head sold through auctions during that month, 48 per cent below a year ago, and 23 per cent below the previous month. Hogs sold in auction rings during March totaled 41,000 head, 18 per cent below a year ago, and three per cent above February sales.

THE U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced that about 50,000 sterile Mexican fruit flies will be released in Dimmit County each Wednesday for the next nine to 12 weeks to combat infestations of the Mexican fruit flies. The number of sterile flies released eventually will reach 100,000 per week. This will be the first time this method of attack has been used against the Mexican fruit flies in Texas, but it has been used twice before in Mexico.

COUNTRY MUSIC

By PATRICK CARR
It's getting close to that time of year when a walking host of pop-eyed, giggling, shutter-snapping, flash-bulb-freaking country music lovers, with entire families in tow, descend on Nashville for Music City's annual five-day public relations' orgy. Called Fan Fair, the event, or events, are without parallel in the history of show business. Where else but in country music could record companies round up their entire roster of artists, and stage a week's worth of concerts — plus face-to-face meetings between artists and public? It's worth going just to see the expressions on fans' faces when they meet their favorite stars. This year's Fan Fair will be held at the brand new Opryland complex located amidst Nashville's rolling suburban hills. While past Fan Fairs (there have been three so far) have featured currently popular artists, this year's get-together will also feature performers from the past, many of whom are still active in the music business. Sponsored by the Grand Ole Opry and the Country Music Association, Fan Fair allows country fans to meet their favorite stars and vice versa. It also allows record companies to reach hard-core country fans with new acts. For a country music lover, Fan Fair is like five days in hillbilly heaven. This year's Fan Fair kicks off June 12 with a bluegrass concert at the new Opry

House, featuring Lester Flatt and the Nashville Grass, Bill Monroe, the Country Gentlemen, Mac Wiseman, Jim and Jesse, and others. On succeeding days and nights, major record companies in Nashville parade artists, new and old, across the same stage. The list of performers is staggering. It represents the top country artists in the nation. Last year over 100 top names appeared. A reunion show Saturday afternoon will bring old, familiar faces before the public. An Old Time Fiddlin' contest has attracted considerable interest already among Nashville personalities not known primarily as fiddlers. People like Chet Atkins, Porter Wagoner, Dolly Parton, Roy Acuff, George Jones and wife Tammy Wynette are all expected to take part in that event. Fan Fair tickets are $25 each, but you're treated to a musical feast that seemingly goes on forever. You have the opportunity to lunch with the stars, shake their hands, pose with them, tour Opryland, the Country Music Hall of Fame, the Ryman Auditorium, and stroll through a series of booths in Nashville's Municipal Auditorium. Fan clubs and individual artists have set up booths to hawk albums, souvenirs, pictures, posters, music books, magazines and tapes or, in the case of Charlie McCoy's booth last year, a hospitality center staffed by the artist and his family. Some recording studios hold open house receptions for fans during the week also. Wembley Festival The sixth annual Wembley Festival, organized by British impresario Mervyn Conn (the man who brought George Hamilton IV to Moscow), and held outside of London, broke European attendance records this year for an indoor musical event. More than 25,000 country fans from the British Isles, Europe and the Scandinavian countries flocked to Wembley Stadium to hear Bill Anderson, Mac Wiseman, Bill Monroe, Kitty Wells, Johnny Wright, Narvel Felts, Jeanne Pruett, Terry Stafford, the Oak Ridge Boys, Wanda Jackson, Johnny Rodriguez, Tompall Glaser and others perform in two concerts over two days. What's more remarkable is the amount of home grown talent that exists abroad. Ireland, I think we've noted here before, has one of the most enthusiastic country music audiences. About 50 per cent of the pop music heard in Eire is country-oriented. Irishmen Larry Cunningham (who records here on Nashville's Cinnamon Label) won top honors as best single artist from the British Isles. American performers who received awards this year at Wembley included Dottie West and Slim Whitman, voted best male and female performers. The selection was an indication of how audience tastes differ.

DR. RALPH BORSODI HAS A KEY TO THE FUTURE

"The dissatisfaction with 'modern' society that the survey takers now talk about is nothing new. We've had it again and again — especially during and after great depressions — since the nation was founded. The unrest usually spawns a 'back to the land' movement that catches fire for a while... then times get better and we repeat the cycle all over again."

packed sardine boxes of our largest cities. "Well, there's all the evidence in the world that the building of cities is one of the worst mistakes that mankind has ever made. But we are gregarious animals. "We really should live in communities of some kind. Communities that are not too large and not too small. Places where, when you of their food and otherwise raise their standard of living. "Perhaps there's a lesson in these experiments for all of us. Especially now, when millions of people are looking for something to believe in... some security... some guarantee that their children and grandchildren will be able to live satisfying lives. Like many others, Ralph Borsodi views the future with concern. "The warning flags are up all around us. The energy crisis, you see, is interesting to me for this very reason, because, for the first time, the public is getting a faint glimmer of the fact that we're living in the twilight of industrialism. The crunch is beginning. "In another 20, 30, or 40 years, all the oil will be gone at the rate we're using it. And that's not all, of course. There are other shortages. Nearly all the industries are experiencing shortages of minerals and materials. "Our highly industrialized network of factories and distribution systems, you see, can last only as long as our irreplaceable resources are cheap and available. Well, those resources are never going to be cheap again and they're going to become increasingly unavailable. "What can we do about this rapidly deteriorating state of affairs? "We must change every social and economic institution in the country," says Borsodi. "Switch from a technology of centralization, mass production and money to a technology of decentralization, self-sufficiency and good living. We must learn to supply our energy requirements with windplants and solar collectors instead of petroleum. Raise our food in our own backyards instead of buying it in cans. I would also introduce a rational system of land tenure that would favor individuals over speculators... and a rational system of money that couldn't be inflated at the whim of politicians. "This all sounds like rather big medicine... but, then again, there does now seem to be a large sickness gnawing away at the core of life in this country. Dr. Borsodi's "back to basics" approach has worked before. Maybe it's time to try his ideas on a truly massive scale. For an extensive interview with Dr. Borsodi — in which he describes his self-sufficiency ideas in much greater detail — send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope to The Mother Earth News, in care of The Register and Tribune Syndicate, Des Moines, Iowa 50304. Ask for the free Reprint No. 186, "Dr. Ralph Borsodi." (Released by The Register and Tribune Syndicate, 1974)

DR. RALPH BORSODI

The man who recently made that statement is Dr. Ralph Borsodi and he knows what he's talking about. Borsodi has been one of the world's leading spokesmen for "decentralist" and "self-sufficient" lifestyles since he himself left New York City for the country. That was in 1908. Today — 66 years later — Ralph Borsodi is still one of the foremost champions of this movement. The decentralist trend that Dr. Borsodi has in mind, however, reaches far beyond the bare-bones subsistence farming practiced by some contemporary "dropouts." If Borsodi has his way, we'll (1) upgrade those subsistence farms into prosperous family enterprises and (2) bind them together into a network of small villages that are deeply satisfying places in which to live. "We've gone from one extreme to the other in this country," says Borsodi. "From the splendidly isolated 160-acre family farms made possible by the U.S. government's original Homestead Act to the walk down the road, everyone says, 'Good morning'... because everyone knows you. I call such a place a community of 'optimum size.' "OK. That sounds good. I'm sure that lots of people have had the same idea. The only difference between 'lots of people' and Ralph Borsodi, though, is that Borsodi has spent a large portion of his life successfully turning his dream into reality. "I first proved that an individual could live a healthier, more satisfying life on a self-sufficient homestead during the depression of 1921. While millions were tramping the streets of our cities looking for work, my family had plenty of eggs, meat, milk, fruit and vegetables to eat. "I was a city boy but I learned to milk a cow, churn butter and otherwise operate a largely self-sufficient seven-acre farm. I even learned to construct stone houses and weave my own suits during that period. "This activity led me to think about reorganizing society so that thousands of other families could share the independence that my family enjoyed. I wrote some books — the most popular were 'This Ugly Civilization' and 'Flight From the City' — about our experiences and eventually founded two model communities near Suffern, New York. This was in the 30's, during the Great Depression. "We proved that my ideas would work. By putting them into action, families that had been barely scraping by in New York City were able to purchase a piece of land, build a modern home, produce most

Panhandle Water

By FELIX RYALS
As a nation we have set aside certain days of the year. On these days, we celebrate historic events of our past that we are proud of. We celebrate these special days also to impress them on the minds of the young in such a way that they too look forward to them and in turn will pass them on to each succeeding generation. August 5, 1969 is a day that we West Texans may look back on and hang our heads. On that date the voters had the privilege of going to the polls to vote on a bond issue to implement the "importation portion" of the Texas Water Plan. A West Texas organization had been formed in 1967 to back the importation of water from some source outside the State of Texas. The organization was named Water, Inc. from the phrase "Water Association to Expand Resources." A constitution and by-laws were drawn up and a charter to operate was obtained from the state of Texas. The organization arbitrarily set up a board of directors that was dominated by the Lubbock area. This was made possible by the intense interest of the leaders of the Lubbock area and the lack of interest by the Amarillo area of the Panhandle.

The bond issue to implement the importation of water received a favorable vote from most of the counties of West Texas. The voter turn-out was pitiful. The Lubbock area and the Amarillo area "went fishing and camping" and failed to vote absentee. The Houston area scuttled the bond issue with a heavy no vote.

vehicle through which the Governor can articulate the goals for his administration. The Water Task Force recommends the following goals for Texas relating to the conservation and development of water resources for orderly economic growth and to meet the needs of the people:

- Develop all the water resources of the state, both ground and surface, to their maximum potential as an investment in the State's future.
- Establish and implement an efficient program of conservation, development, management and use of available ground and surface water resources.
- Provide adequate quantities of clean and potable water for domestic and municipal needs.
- Realize the State's potential for irrigated agriculture, industrialization and energy production.
- Provide desired water-oriented recreation.
- Maintain a healthful environment.
- Alleviate flood damage through flood plain management and other non-structural measures as well as through structural means, such as flood control and flood retaining structures, drainage and channelization.
- Maintain marine and wildlife productivity levels of the State's bays and estuaries to the maximum extent feasible consistent with human needs.
- Improve and maintain water quality as required in the public interest.

The road back on the "water needs" has been a long one. Gov. Dolph Briscoe in November of 1973 appointed a Task Force on Water and Natural Resources to come up with a "Statewide Program For Conservation and Development of Texas Water Resources." The recommended program was presented to the Governor on April 15, 1974. For several weeks we have carried the address made by the Governor on accepting the proposed program. Today we are carrying the first portion of the "Statewide Program For Conservation and Development of Texas Water Resources." Each week we will carry portions until the entire proposal is carried.

Statewide Goals A program aimed at the conservation and development of Texas water resources must have at its inception a concise set of goals. It is the function of the Governor of Texas to formulate the goals his administration perceives as critical to the long-term well-being of the State and its citizens. The Division of Planning Coordination in the Governor's Office is the ### Crop Outlook Brightened?

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — The rains of a week ago brightened the outlook of many Texas farmers, and they are again busy with the task of spring planting. The rains brought valuable planting moisture to much of the western half of the state although some counties still need additional moisture for dryland production. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported planting of cotton and sorghum is becoming active in the south and Rolling Plains and in West Central Texas. Most of the cotton crop has been planted in Far West Texas (Fort Stockton). In North Central Texas cotton planting is at the halfway mark. In contrast, cotton is blooming in some parts of deep South Texas and sorghum is beginning to head. Peanut planting is active in South Central and Central Texas, and planting is increasing in the West Cross Timbers where planting moisture was received.

If you make good grades at school

You're the one we want (especially if you plan to go to college)

We've noticed it. Our best carriers all seem to be above-average students. Perhaps it's because in the daily management of their routes, they apply the lessons they learn in the classroom. Like arithmetic in making change and in keeping a record of their profits. Or, maybe it's because newspaper route management is just one of those things a good student can do well. In any case, if your grades are A's and B's and you plan to go to college, we want to hear from you. We can show you how to build a savings account that can be a help when you get there. Why not get started today... by calling us. There may be a route available in your neighborhood.

Oro Grain Sorghum the shape of a winner.

Here's what you can expect from Oro. Expect and get... because Oro is the grain sorghum that performs. Yellow endosperm hybrid. Wide adaption. Medium maturity. Adapted for both dry land or irrigated conditions. One of the top yielders in actual field trials. Double row or narrow row plantings. Responds to high rates of fertilization and irrigation. Excellent standability. High test weight. Resistant to head smut, MDMV, anthracnose. Plants... 38-48 inches tall with wide leaves. Head Exsertion... 4 to 7 inches. Blooms... in 60 to 70 days. Ready to harvest... in 100-125 days.

Gold, White Teams Fight To Deadlock In Workout

By PAUL SIMS
I think we showed quite a bit of improvement over last Friday," said Pampa head coach John Welborn after Friday's second spring football scrimmage, which ended in a two-touchdown apiece tie for the Gold and White teams.

The scrimmage was played as Welborn predicted — much closer than May 10's practice game when the White team blanked the Gold, 4-0. In that first scrimmage several players on the Gold team were not in attendance due to baseball and injury.

Friday (this past Friday), both teams executed well offensively and defensively, exemplified in the fact neither team was able to dominate play.

The Gold's scores came on a fullback dive by Coy Free and a 40-yard pass from quarterback John Agan to Kelly Baker. The White scored on a 12-yard pass play from Chuck Quarles to Howie Lewis and then on a four-yard run by Tim Thornburg.

"I feel like everybody had a good scrimmage," said Welborn. "The hitting was good; everybody hustled real well. We had real good enthusiasm."

Quarles and Agan both executed real well on the option and threw the ball well.

Welborn cannot find much difference in the way Pampa is playing now than Shawnee, Okla., did in its spring workouts prior to winning the Oklahoma AAA state championship.

"We don't have as much size as Shawnee did, but that won't make much difference. Quickness is much more important than size. Our linemen are moving off the ball quick and our backs are hitting real quick," said the head coach.

The third and final week of spring football begins Monday and concludes Saturday night with the annual spring game, the largest and most important spring scrimmage.

In that game, which begins at 7:30 p.m., the Gold team will don green jerseys while the White team will wear Gold.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Heavy-footed A.J. Foyt, hoping to match his three Indianapolis "500" victories by winning the pole position for the third time, was the fastest of 15 qualifiers Saturday for the May 26 million dollar auto race.

Eighteen spots remain to be filled after a thunderstorm closed the two and one-half mile oval.

The only other scheduled day to fill the field is next Saturday.

Approximately 4 1/2 hours of qualifying time were lost by rain, but a crowd estimated by police at more than 150,000 was entertained by dozens of streakers after the initial rainfall early in the afternoon.

One of the streakers climbed the new tower at the starting line in full view of thousands of spectators.

Foyt, qualifying for his 17th straight race at Indianapolis, averaged 191.632 miles per hour — well off the record of nearly 198.5 by Johnny Rutherford last year — but none of his rivals came close to his four-lap speed.

Unless such veterans as Mario Andretti, Gordon

Johncock or Mike Hiss can eclipse Foyt's speed, the Houston flier will sit on the pole for the 58th annual classic.

The first qualifiers averaged 184.252 miles an hour, more than eight miles slower than the same number last year. Because of safety considerations and the energy crisis of last winter, rule changes reduced engine power.

Newcombe And Borg In Final Match

Smith Third In Tourney

DALLAS (UPI) — Stan Smith, who last year captured the top prize of $50,000 in the World Championship of Tennis tournament, Saturday won his third-place match with Jan Kodes, and-$10,000, 6-4, 7-6.

Kodes settled for $6,000 and fourth place in the eight-man tournament which climaxes the WCT winter and spring tour. John Newcombe, Australia and 17-year-old Bjorn Borg will meet in Sunday's championship match.

Kodes, of Czechoslovakia, was beaten by Borg in Friday night's semifinals and Smith was defeated by Newcombe for the fourth time in five meetings this year.

After losing the first set Saturday Kodes broke Smith's service twice in the second set to assume a 5-1 lead. But Smith reeled off four straight games to tie the set and then won the tiebreaker, 7-5.

DALLAS (UPI) — will have hauled in more than $160,000 since the WCT tour began in January.

In Saturday's third place match, Smith defeated Jan Kodes, 6-4, 7-6 to win $10,000 which was the same prize offered for first place in each of the WCT four stops. Kodes received $6,000.

At issue simply will be whether Borg, with so much confidence and playing loosely since there is little pressure on him to win, can whip perhaps the best player in the world today.

Newcombe, naturally, is the overwhelming favorite, but he contends this role does not bother him.

"I've been in this position a lot of times before," Newcombe said. "It doesn't bother me. I'd rather be the favorite when I go into the match than the underdog."

Newcombe came into this $100,000 tournament as the top seed since he accumulated the most points on this year's tour, but the play of Borg, who on successive nights defeated last year's finalist Arthur Ashe and then Czechoslovakia's Jan Kodes, has been stunning.

Still many feel Borg will have massive trouble with Newcombe. Kodes, who last year gave Newcombe plenty of difficulty before losing in the finals at Forest Hills, feels that way.

After losing to Borg Friday night, Kodes sat side-by-side with the Swede and assessed his chances. "It is very difficult to talk in front of Bjorn like this," said Kodes. "I don't want to say he will lose. But it will be very, very difficult for him to win. John is very strong physically and very strong mentally."

"He can be down two sets and he doesn't give up. Bjorn might be able to

New York ABA Champs

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (UPI) — Julius "Dr. J." Erving said he felt "sky high" when the New York Nets were closing in for the kill against the Utah Stars for their first American Basketball Association championship Friday night but his wife, Turquoise, said she was even more excited watching at court-side.

Luckily, Turk, as Dr. J. calls her, held her composure while Erving and his teammates broke open the game with 11 straight points in the final minutes to win 111-100.

"Mrs. J." as some of the fans call her, was worrying Willie Sojourner's wife. Both ladies are pregnant and Jean Sojourner said, "I'm due in July but she's expecting any minute. She was getting so excited I was afraid she was going to give birth tonight."

But Willie was never worried. He was concentrating on the game. "I knew we were going to win," he said. "I saw it in Doc's eyes and Kenon's eyes. They had it under control. I wasn't even thinking about the babies. The ladies'll take care of that."

Erving, 23, and other young Nets, like 22-year old Larry Kenon, 21-year old

John Williamson and 24-year old Brian Taylor, are the real young Turks of the ABA.

It is difficult to talk of a Net dynasty in the ABA because the future of the league seems still uncertain. Some rumors say the league is headed for a merger or consolidation with the National Basketball Association, others say the league may fold altogether. Perhaps it will just limp on as it has for the first seven years.

But barring serious injuries, if the Nets remain together no matter where they play they undoubtedly are going to be a tremendous force in professional basketball for a long time.

"It's just the beginning," said Taylor. "We want to win again and again. We're just going to keep getting better."

"We've got a lot more championships to win," said Williamson, who was brash enough to predict a sweep in each of the three playoff series after opening game victories. He was almost right, too, as the Nets beat Virginia in five games, Kentucky in four and Utah in five—14 altogether and one less than Indiana's previous record 15-game championship drive in 1970.

Celtics, Bucks In Showdown

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — It's fitting that two such great basketball teams as the Boston Celtics and Milwaukee Bucks stretch their NBA championship series down to one, final game.

The six previous games in the series have brought the excitement to a fever pitch and resulted in difficulties with the large crowd that gathered Saturday to buy tickets for Sunday afternoon's showdown.

Milwaukee police were out in force and ticket sales had to be halted at the Bucks downtown ticket office and moved out to the more expansive confines of Milwaukee County Stadium.

It's doubtful if any game can match the excitement of the sixth game—a double overtime affair that the Bucks won 102-101 on a hook shot by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar with three seconds left in the second extra period.

"I can't remember a playoff game like this," Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello said. "It was a real thriller."

The series has been a strange one, with the home court advantage fading into myth as each team has won twice on the other team's home court.

And Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn hit on one reason the series has been so exciting.

John Havlicek, who admitted the sixth game was just a blur in his mind, talked about the attitude of both clubs, and about that same professionalism.

Bufs To Compete At MVC Spring Track Championships

CANYON — West Texas State University's track team, with its heavy load of undergrads, hope to improve their 1973 fifth place finish in the Missouri Valley Conference spring championships Sunday and Monday, May 19-20, at Denton.

Coach Bob Kitchens' Buffalo squad has 11 freshmen, two sophomores, three juniors and only two seniors among its 18 members.

The young Buffaloes will contend with defending champion and host North Texas State, Wichita and Drake for most of the honors. Bradley will also be a strong entry North Texas will be a strong favorite to capture team honors for the second year in a row.

The Buff freshmen are sprinters Alvis Wright, Wayne Cure and Rick McGuire, quarter-miler Larry Marlar, half-miler Dave Karila, miler Jay Jones, hurdler-high jumper Terry Penn, intermediate hurdler Steve Nieman, javelin thrower Jeff Nunn and vaulters Pete Moody and Tommy Humphries.

The sophomores are weightmen Marvin Self and Charles Haddad. The juniors are high jumper Gary Six, jumper-sprinter George Fuller and vaulter Mike Walker, while weightmen Dennis Briggs and Mike Dejaney are seniors.

Briggs, who was the high point individual in last year's MVC meet, will head the Bufs' field event people. He placed first in the shot put last spring and was second in both the discus and javelin. He has a school record 54-11 mark in the shot this spring and broke his own school record in the javelin with a 198-3 toss. His best mark in the discus this spring is 178-4.

Self, a stocky Silverton athlete, has thrown the discus 170-4, the javelin 190-3 and the shot 51-6. Delaney, who is out for track on his own after playing football at West Texas for two years, has a best in the shot of 49-4 and in the discus of 137-6. Sophomore Charles Haddad has thrown the shot 50-10.

Nunn, a freshman from Tucumcari, N.M., is a varsity football player who went through spring drills as a defensive end. Prior to the start of spring football practice, he threw the javelin 190-0. That was the same best mark he had last spring as a schoolboy when he won the New Mexico state championship.

Fuller, the leadoff man on the Buffalo sprint relay team, has long jumped 22-4 and has a best of 44-4 in the triple jump. Penn, who has run 14.2 in the 120-yard high hurdles, has high jumped 6-6. Veteran Six, who is from Hart, has been injured much of the season, but has a best of 6-4.

Walker, a junior college transfer from Seminole, has a school record vault of 16-0 this season. Humphries, from Odessa, has cleared 15-6 and Moody has gone 14-0.

Wright, from Paducah, has run a wind-aided 9.3 in the 100-yard dash and has another wind-aided time of 9.4. Cure has run 9.6 in that event. In the 220, McGuire has run 21.8. Wright 21.8 and Cure 21.9.

Marlar, who is from Pampa, has run 49.5 in the open quarter. Karila, who won the Canadian junior championship in the 800 meters last summer, lowered his best in the 800 by more than two seconds in his last meet when he was clocked in 1:54.9.

Jones has a 4:22 best in the mile run and Nieman, who came to WTSU as a quarter-miler, has a best of 58.6 in the intermediate hurdles.

Fuller, Cure, McGuire and Wright have combined for a 41.6 time in the 440-yard relay. The mile relay team of Nieman, Cure, Karila and Marlar has run 3:21.5.

Texas Parks & Wildlife Department
Panhandle Plains District Office

The Texas Parks and Wildlife commissioners set important hunting, trapping and freshwater regulations in their April 29-30 meeting in Austin last week.

There are several dates that the sportsman should mark on the calendar for this fall. In fact, now is a good time to plan your vacation.

The 1974 deer season gets underway Nov. 16 in most of the state and ends Jan. 1, 1975.

Quail hunters will have an extra weekend this year as the bird season starts Nov. 16 and ends Feb. 16, 1975, over most of Texas.

Javelina hunters will have a uniform season which has been set from Oct. 1, 1974 - Jan. 1, 1975. These dates are for Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, McCulloch, San Saba, Llano, Blanco, Hays, Caldwell, Gonzales, DeWitt, Victoria, Calhoun and all counties under Texas Parks and Wildlife Department regulatory authority to the South and West of these counties.

Panhandle and South Plains hunters may want to hunt the elusive aoudad sheep in Armstrong, Briscoe, Donley, Floyd, Hall, Motley, Randall, Swisher. This season runs from Nov. 16-22.

When you buy your hunting license this year, you will notice three additional turkey tags attached. Hunters will have to tag their turkey just as they have tagged deer in the past. This tag will also give the game warden better control over the turkey hunt.

Game warden will also enforce a new ruling which makes each game bird, animal, fur-bearer and fish taken illegally, a separate offense.

For those fishermen waiting on the Coho, Kamloops trout, rainbow and brown trout to be put in Mackenzie Reservoir, the limit has been set at five in the aggregate per day and ten in the aggregate after the second day.

Net Coach Announces Resignation, Takes Job At Lubbock Monterey

Alton Setliff, Pampa High's tennis coach since August, 1972, resigned his position Friday and accepted the job of head tennis coach at Lubbock Monterey High School.

The Lubbock position differs from that in Pampa because Setliff will be a head coach, meaning he will be in charge of Monterey's tennis program and the programs of the three junior high schools feeding Monterey.

Setliff, 25, will report for work Aug. 13 but he is undecided on when his family will move to Lubbock. "It will depend on the job situation for Becky (his wife). When the spring semester is over I'll quit my teaching job here."

Setliff is a physical education instructor at Travis Elementary School.

"They (the Lubbock athletic director and Monterey tennis coach Bob McKenna) called me a couple of weeks ago and asked me to apply for the job.

"It's a better overall tennis program; Lubbock has one of the best tennis programs in the state. They have an excellent junior high program with full-time coaches and courts at each junior high," Setliff said.

Concerning Pampa, the coach said, "I've really enjoyed coaching over here the past two years. I've enjoyed working with the student athletes I've had and the administrators and supporters of the Pampa tennis program.

"And I'd like to extend my sincere best wishes to the continued growth of tennis in Pampa. If Pampa's going to do good in district next season, it will depend on how many players play in summer tennis," he added.

Returnees on the Pampa team will be E.B. Ellis, Jerry Allen, Eugene Laycock, Jack Scott, Doug Hughes, Steve Knox, Stacy Douglas, Cindy Burns, JoAnn McCausland, Donna Coufal, Karen Hampton and Dana Maloney.

No coach has been named to replace Setliff yet.

NAIA District 1 Elite Announced

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — A pitcher with a .125 ERA and an outfielder with a .551 batting average lead the all-District 1 NAIA baseball team announced Saturday by NAIA officials.

All-district players by positions were:

Catcher — Jim Thomas, Texas Wesleyan; Ed Mansfield, University of Dallas.

Infielders — Steve Henderson, Prairie View A&M; Rodney Gardner, Lubbock Christian, and Bart Hernandez, Lubbock Christian.

Outfielders — Mason Chapman, Jarvis Christian; Jesse Benavides, Lubbock Christian; Willie Wright, Wiley College, and Larry Hogue, Dallas Baptist.

Nets Take ABA Crown Friday By Stopping Utah

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (UPI) — The New York Nets, whose poised, mature play brought them their first American Basketball Association championship Friday, discarded that maturity after their 111-100 victory over the Utah Stars in a riotous display of champagne spraying youthful exuberance.

After fighting their way through a frenzied mob which shattered a backboard in its quest for a souvenir, the youngest team in pro basketball popped the cork on champagne and sanity.

"This is the happiest moment I've ever had in my basketball career," screamed the Nets' rookie head coach, Kevin Loughery, as he was being carted off to the showers.

The victory in five games capped an incredible coup for a team whose average age was 23 and which relied on a pair of young guards.

Only the Nets' mammoth center, Billy Paultz, at 25 the oldest starter, was subdued, sitting as unobtrusively as possible in front of his locker.

"I'm just the tiredest," he explained. "I'm more excited than any of those guys. I can remember... it is a long way from Island Garden, 3,000 people and just trying to stay alive. I'm just sitting, soaking it all in."

security guards into the showers.

And Julius Erving was as elusive as he is on the court, playing doorman to the shower room.

"I'm just going to rest and party awhile," said Erving, whose wife is about to give birth.

Erving won the playoffs' Most Valuable Player Award, while the Nets will share a $100,000 payoff.

MIKE HUNNICUTT (46) awaits a pass from quarterback Chuck Quarles as Coy Gambin, left, moves in to break up the play. Free was successful as Hunnicutt dropped the pass. Eventually, Friday's scrimmage ended in a 2-2 tie. Spring practice will continue Monday and culminate Saturday with the Green and Gold game.

PAMPA IS now without a tennis coach since Alton Setliff resigned Friday to accept the position of tennis coach at Lubbock Monterey High School. Of Monterey, Setliff said, "It has one of the best tennis programs in the state." Of Pampa, he said, "I've enjoyed working with the student athletes that I've had, the administrators and the supporters of the Pampa tennis program."

Milwaukee, Boston End Series Today

BOSTON (UPI) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar raised his long arms over his head and shouted triumphantly, "They ain't going to be drinking no champagne tonight."

"They" were the Boston Celtics and Abdul-Jabbar, with the emotionless performance of a surgeon, personally sliced up the Boston attack Friday night to lead his team to a 102-101 win in double overtime that evened the NBA championship series at three games apiece.

The seventh and deciding game will be played today in Milwaukee.

Abdul-Jabbar ignored the nearly hysterical Boston Garden crowd as it edged closer to the court, calmly dumping a 12-foot hook shot with three seconds left.

"I just put it up and hoped it would go in. I didn't have time to think about it," he said matter-of-factly.

The big center's 34 points gave the Bucks their second overtime victory of the series. The first came in the second game, which the Bucks won 105-96 in Milwaukee.

"It was a great all game," said Boston coach Tom Heinsohn. "It was a one-point ball game in double overtime—what more could you ask for."

Abdul-Jabbar made himself felt in the second period after Boston's Dave Cowens went to the bench with three personal fouls.

Screening 1 Method To Stop Athlete Drug Abuse Says Dr.

HOUSTON (UPI) — The most effective way to stop drug abuse in sports is through careful screening of the athletes before acceptance, a specialist said Friday.

Dr. Timothy J. D. Sharma, director of drug abuse programs at the Texas Research Institute of Mental Science and a professor of Neurology at Baylor College of Medicine, said most of the athletes who used improper drugs could be effectively screened out.

Sharma, speaking to the 107th annual meeting of the Texas Medical Association, said the most common problem with athletes is sleeping.

"You might ask him if he takes pills or gorges himself with food or alcohol to get to sleep," Sharma said. "That's an early warning."

"One should focus on the mental health of the individual, which is too often neglected. You should find out if he's been experimental with drugs and how he has handled crises in his life."

Sharma said if the athlete has used pills or alcohol to get past the critical periods, then he would be a likely candidate for repeated abuse.

"Feelings of inadequacy often drives them to it," he said. "Watch for the one who wants to get fame without effort. Very often a person who uses drugs to increase their performance has an infantile perspective."

Sharma said that athletes who use marijuana, heroin or barbiturates are more likely to drop out of sports than those using amphetamines. He said the euphoric drugs cause the person to lose interest in the team fast, rapid loss of self-esteem and pride.

Skill, Patience Needed To Boat At Meredith

Launching or recovering a boat at Lake Meredith takes more than skill, it takes patience as well. This is especially true if you are one of the thousands of Sunday boaters at the Texas Panhandle's largest lake.

National Park Service Rangers report that when weather conditions are favorable, launching ramps are continuously busy from noon until sunset on Sundays. The rangers say boaters could help prevent unnecessary delays at the launching ramps by following these simple hints:

First, when possible, gear should be stowed in the boat before it is launched. By utilizing auxiliary parking lots as loading areas, actual time at the ramp can be greatly decreased. Recovered boats should also be removed from the ramps before securing gear.

Second, know how to handle a boat trailer. An improperly backed trailer can block ramp space for others attempting to launch or recover. A vehicle and trailer weaving across the ramp can be a traffic hazard.

Third, avoid the rush by launching or recovering early. The hours of 1 to 3 p.m. are busiest for launching, and an hour before sunset is the start of the recovery rush. In case of bad weather, consider the alternative of waiting out the storm in a sheltered cove instead of using the ramps.

To facilitate visitor use of the ramps, the National Park Service requires boat trailers to be parked in the upper parking lots on weekends and holidays. This policy saves boaters the long walk up to the caprock from the water's edge. Trailer parking areas are located at Blue West, Sanford - Yake, Cedar Canyon, and Fritch Fortress.

Pampa's Debbie Bray Qualifies For WCTFC

CANYON — Coach Mary Hill of West Texas State University has entered 10 of her athletes in the National Women's Collegiate Track and Field Championships, which will be held Friday and Saturday, May 17-18 at Denton.

The WTSU athletes qualified by either placing among the top three finishers in the state meet here two weeks ago, or by meeting a qualifying standard.

Leading the list of entries is Stinnett, freshman Billie McClellan in the mile and two-mile runs. She qualified in the 880, but won't run that event at national. In addition, she set a state record of 5:24 in the mile run. Pampa senior Debbie Bray is another two-mile run entry.

Other individual entries are Dumas freshman Trena Burgess in the 880-yard run, Jerre Russell, Nazareth senior, in the high jump, and Amherst freshman Verna Stagner in the 440-meter hurdles. Miss Burgess had a best of 2:33 in her event, while Mrs. Russell jumped 5'2 and Miss Stagner ran 70.0.

The Buffaloes also qualified for national in three relay events — the 880-yard medley, the 440-yard relay and the mile relay. Runners on the 880-yard relay are Mrs. Russell, Barbara Lofton, New Deal freshman; Dathy Schumacker, Hereford junior, and Mary Elliott, Haskell freshman. Their best time is 1:56.

The mile relay time, with a best time of 4:16, is made up of Miss Elliott, Miss Stagner, Kathy Brockman, Nazareth freshman, and Mrs. Russell. The 440-yard relay team is composed of Miss Lofton, Miss Schumacker, Dumas sophomore Ann Lust and Miss Elliott. Their top time is 5:15.

Preliminaries start at 9 a.m. Friday and finals are slated to start at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Mark Trails Outdoor Tips

WHEN STREAM-FISHING AREAS THAT YOU ARE UNFAMILIAR WITH IT'S A GOOD PRACTICE TO USE A WADING STAFF. (A SKI POLE MAKES A GOOD STAFF, HOWEVER, A STURDY STICK IS SUFFICIENT).

PLANT THE STAFF FIRST, THEN MOVE THE UPSTREAM FOOT AND FINALLY THE DOWNSTREAM FOOT.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought To You By B.F. Dorman

How's this for an oddity about the most famous double play combination in baseball history, Tinker - Evers - Chance? Baseball fans have been hearing about them for years... Yet the fact is that this combination actually made very few double plays! ... When Franklin P. Adams wrote his famous poem about them in 1908, they made only eight double plays all year! ... The year before they had made only seven... And, in 13 World Series games in which they played in 1906-07-08, this combination made no double plays at all!

Has there ever been anybody in big league baseball history who played in over 100 games in a season and NEVER struck out? ... It's never happened. The closest anyone ever came to that was infielder Joe Sewell, who in 1925, played in 153 games, had 608 at bats, and struck out only four times all year.

Here's an interesting fact about golf that shows more than anything else, how this game has grown... In 1934, the leading money winner in pro golf, Paul Runyan, won a total of just over $6,000 all year - and he was the LEADING money winner, which means everybody else made less... Today's leading money winners make almost 40 times more than that, or over $200,000 a year!

I bet you didn't know that people have been asking about MICHELIN 'X' for 25 years. They say a friend sent them. Come in and find out why... let us introduce you to MICHELIN 'X'... the leader in steel belt radials.

TO BE THOUGHTFUL of our Mothers on her day each year can be expressed in so many different ways while she still lives and she appreciates every indication of our love and affection shown throughout the year.

ONE OF THE MOST TANGIBLE WAYS for doing so is to provide her with a more comfortable home to occupy during her final or latter years of her life - large enough to accommodate her family at home and the children with their families when they return periodically to visit.

IT IS OUR NORMAL FUNCTION, as ethical Realtors, in this area to match up Sellers and Buyers needs to accomplish your desire as quickly as possible.

WE HAVE A VARIETY of homes to offer - although, not nearly enough in some categories at times. CALL US - if we do not have it NOW, we may know where one can be made available to match your budget.

Youth Center Wrap-Up

Summer Swim Lessons
Although the initial day of enrollment for the summer swim classes was May 9, you may still enroll your children. There are some vacancies in some of the classes and you may check the schedule below and inquire at the Center front office to see if there is still a vacancy.

All of the summer classes are taught during the morning hours, so that the swimming pool can be opened in the afternoons to all ages swimming. Classes meet on a one-hour time limit except the junior and senior lifesaving class. This lifesaving class meets for 2 hours each morning.

All classes are taught by qualified Red Cross Water Safety instructors. These instructors are coordinated by our resident instructor, Ruth Carter.

Cost of the lessons is $4 for non-members or free to Youth Center members. Memberships are available to the public at all times. You get a full six-month or year's membership no matter what day of the month you join.

Summer Activities Schedule
During the summer months our schedule changes and we are open most all the time. We will open on a limited schedule on May 28 for one week and then on June 3 our full summer schedule will come into force.

On June 3 the swim lessons will start from 8-12. Lunch will be observed from 12-1 p.m. At 1 we will reopen with swimming and all games open until 3 p.m. Supper will be observed from 5-7 p.m. We will then reopen from 7-10 p.m. Saturday we will open from 1-5 p.m. and close Sundays. Twirling lessons will start on June 3 and meet at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday for six weeks.

Volleyball Results
Herb's Auto repair took over first place in the women's league by defeating Pampa Glass and Paint. In other action Blink's Bike Barn and Linda G's were victorious. In the men's league First National Bank, Pampa News and First Baptist men were victors while Carlson-Craddock and Charlie's Furniture took wins in the mixed league.

Health Club Memberships
If you are not acquainted with our health facility, now is the time to come by and let us show you around. The Center has one of the most complete health clubs in the Panhandle area. Hours are split between women users and men users.

The health club houses all the health exercise equipment such as the beauty bars, barrel rollers, vibrator belts, bicycles, sit-up boards, exerciser machine, rowing machine, leg and thigh curl machine, leg press machine, barbells, dumbbells, multi-press machine, jungle pulley machine, sun lamp, two handball and racquet-ball courts, dressing rooms, showers, facial machine and sauna.

The health club membership is called our unlimited membership. It is always available to individuals and to husbands and wives in a combination membership.

An individual membership for six months is only $65 total which may be paid out on an installment plan for $15.50 for the first month and $10.50 each of the other five months. The husband-wife combination plan calls for $90 for six months. On the installment plan this would be $23.87 the first month and $13.87 each of the other five months.

We have a one-visit tryout plan without any obligation, if you would like to try us out.

Regular youth center memberships for use of the gym, swimming pool and recreation hall is still available. The cost is only $5 for six months for an individual and $12 for a family. Yearly rates are $8 and $20 respectively.

A summer special we are running is the student plan for three months. This membership is for graduating seniors or college students home for the summer. The cost is $35 for the three month period and entitles you to full use of all the facilities at the Center.

For other students not in this category there is still another outlet for you to participate. If your father or mother is a member of the health club, the children who are in Junior and Senior high school may join at half price.

Another way to participate in the health club is to get some member to sponsor you to be responsible for you and then you can join at full price. For further details contact director Smith at the Center.

JAZZ PERFORMER - Stephen W. Higdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.W. Higdon, Pampa, is to perform with the Tarleton State University Jazz Ensemble at Expo '74 at Spokane, Wash., May 19-26. Higdon is a percussionist for the group. He is a senior marketing and management major and will graduate in December.

The Almanac

United Press International
Today is Sunday, May 12, the 132nd day of 1973 with 233 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn. Those born on this date in history are under the sign of Taurus.

Florence Nightingale, the British nurse who founded modern nursing, was born May 12, 1820.

On this day in history: In 1922, the magazine "Radio Broadcast" commented: "...The rate of increase in the number who spend at least part of an evening listening to radio is almost incomprehensible." In 1937, George VI was crowned king of England, succeeding his brother Edward, who abdicated to marry American divorcee Wallis Warfield Simpson.

In 1949, Soviet authorities announced the end of a land blockade of Berlin that had lasted 328 days and whose effects had been neutralized by the famed "Berlin Airlift."

In 1963, President John Kennedy ordered federal troops into Birmingham, Ala., after an outbreak of civil rights rioting.

A thought for the day: Scottish essayist Thomas Carlyle said, "Adversity is sometimes hard upon a man. But for one man who can stand prosperity, there are a hundred who will stand adversity."

In 1960, 16.5 million Americans were 65 years old and over; by 1970, the figure was more than 20 million, an increase of 21.2 percent.
