TRIBUTES FROM FRIENDS—Two longtime friends of the late M. K. Brown were presented for the dedication ceremonies for the newly-opened M.K. Brown Memorial Civic Auditorium held Sunday afternoon. ## Civic Auditorium Dedicated With Pomp; Brown's Philanthropic Activities Praised

By LARRY HOLLIS
A near capacity crowd turned out Sunday afternoon to fill the auditorium for the dedication ceremonies of the newly-opened M. K. Brown Memorial Civic Auditorium.
The occasion marked the fulfillment of one of the most cherished dreams of one of the first settlers of Pampa and one of its finest philanthropists.
The new auditorium was made possible by the money the late M. K. Brown left to his foundation to continue the projects he had begun in his life and to fund new ones to aid Pampa.
"This is an historic day in Pampa," Roy Sparkman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said in his opening remarks.
Noting that it was a longtime dream come true, he added that the new building is "a golden nugget for all of us to enjoy."
The dedicatory address was given by Frank H. Wardlaw, director of the University of Texas Press in Austin and a longtime friend of Mr. Brown.
"He (Mr. Brown) was, to my way of thinking, a great man," Wardlaw said. "He would have been a great man if anybody had ever applied this adjective to him during his life and would have responded with 'Shoot!' or 'Good Lord no!' or perhaps both."
Wardlaw related several stories of Mr. Brown's activities and revealed something of the character of the man and his interest in the community.
"M. K. Brown left Pampa, the Panhandle and the whole state of Texas much better than he found them," he added. "There is scarcely an important institution or enterprise in this region which did not benefit from his strikingly original participation, support and leadership."
Among the activities of Mr. Brown, Wardlaw noted, was the sponsorship of a series of books on pioneer life in the West, particularly in Texas. There are now 10 volumes in the M. K. Brown Range Life Series, with others yet to be published.
"To Montie Brown, the past was not something dead and gone, to be forgotten, but a living heritage whose records were to be treasured, learned from and preserved for future generations," Wardlaw observed.
Wardlaw said he didn't intend to relate the facts of Mr. Brown's life, as they were outlined in the program of the dedication. Instead, he wanted "to sum up something of the character and personality of this remarkable man."

"A ramrod straight, energetic and direct man, British to the core, he lived life to the hilt and enjoyed it thoroughly," he continued. "He had a surprising range of interests and read many books, particularly history and biography. He was a man of both strength and gentleness."
Noting that Mr. Brown was a man who loved Pampa and all of Texas, Wardlaw said. "When the ship, which brought M. K. Brown to America and his remarkable life in the Panhandle, docked in New Orleans April 26, 1903, he performed a symbolic gesture: he dropped his English walking cane into the Mississippi River. It was a commitment to a new country and a new life."
Concluding his talk, Wardlaw related a story showing both the philanthropic activities of Mr.

Brown and his modest reaction to any acknowledgement of it.
My most poignant memory of all, however, was of an occasion when Montie and I were eating dinner together in Pampa. A middle-aged waitress came up to him and clasped his hand. There were tears on her cheeks.
"Oh, Mr. Brown," she said. "I have just learned that you are going to send my daughter to college. I can never, never thank you!"
Montie's face turned even redder than usual and he twisted his mouth in a characteristic grimace.
"Shoot," he said.
Don Lane served as master of ceremonies for the dedication ceremony.
"There is certainly excitement here in Pampa today," Lane said before introducing many of the people who had helped to make the auditorium dream a reality and other various guests.

Bringing the official welcome, Mayor Milo Carlson asked, "Isn't this nice?" His question was answered by a round of applause.
Wm. Jarrell Smith, secretary-treasurer of the M. K. Brown Foundation, reflected on the activities of the Foundation.
He related that the organization had trouble getting started as there were various laws and regulations the group had to fulfill and meet.
"After several trips by different people to Washington, D. C., and to Fort Worth and other places, the Foundation was finally able to begin its operation."
Smith noted that at one time the plans for the auditorium almost had to be cancelled because of the interpretation of regulations by other agencies.
But with the help of many people, both locally and in Washington and Fort Worth and Amarillo, the Foundation was able to move ahead in fulfilling the dreams of Mr. Brown.

Smith acknowledged the great efforts made by a number of people to get the building built, noting that he had only a small part in achieving it.
The ceremony began with an overture by the Pampa High School Band, with Harris Brinson conducting.
Presentation of colors was made by members of the Adobe Walls Council of Boy Scouts of America—with the Pledge of Allegiance led by Vincent DiCosimo of Troop 22.
The national anthem was sung by the PHS Concert Choir, with Larry Sherwood directing, accompanied by the band.
The Rev. Sam B. Hulse, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, delivered both the invocation and the closing prayer of dedication.
The program closed with the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," sung by the choir and accompanied by the band.
Tours of the new facility were conducted until 6 p.m.
Members of the dedication committee, who helped to organize the program, were Mrs. George Cree, Jr., chairman; Mrs. William L. Arrington, Homer Johnson, Mrs. Fred Thompson, E. O. Wedgworth, Mack Wolford and Mayor Milo Carlson.

Rollbacks Of Price Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — The Price Commission will order hundreds of millions of dollars in price rollbacks and customer refunds in the next few weeks, its chairman announced today.
Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said the reason is that the commission's limit on profit margins in beginning to take hold as a second line of defense against inflation.
Grayson, speaking of the matter publicly for the first time in remarks for the annual meeting of The Associated Press, said he hopes the announcement will help rally public opinion behind controls.
"In a very few words I would like to inform you that beginning late last week, the Price Commission inaugurated a series of major actions which will result in hundreds of millions of dollars of price reductions, which will roll back current prices of some of the country's largest companies to their base-period levels."
Meanwhile, Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Cost of Living Council, told automobile manufacturers not to expect approval of large price increases.
In a speech prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit, Rumsfeld said steel companies' hold-the-price-line pledge "is a significant step in the effort to reduce inflation, a step which should be reflected in the prices of 1973 model cars."
Grayson explained that the rollbacks and customer refunds will result from orders based on a Commission ruling that has attracted little public notice.
This rule, in addition to the commission's basic dictate that any price hikes must be justified by cost increases, says that price increases cannot be so large as to raise the profit portion of each sales dollar above the average for the best two of the past three years.
Grayson said now that large companies—those with more than $50 million in yearly sales—are beginning to file required quarterly reports, this profit-margin rule is starting to have effect.
Recently, the Price Commission ordered two firms to roll back prices because of inflated profits.

Scientists Acclaim Apollo 16's Mission

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Scientists are acclaiming Apollo 16's mission to the Descartes highlands where the astronauts collected rocks believed formed by the fiery volcanoes that shaped the early moon.
"We have little doubt they've looked at examples of the early volcanic processes that formed the highlands," said Dr. William Muehlberger, head of the Apollo 16 geology investigation team.
Moreover, man now has a fourth nuclear-powered geophysics station on the moon returning satisfactory data about moonquakes and the lunar magnetic field.
The major blight upon the mission achieving it's scientific goals occurred, however, when John W. Young stumbled while erecting the station and tore loose a cable to the heat flow experiment. The experiment, critical to learning about heat still in the lunar interior, couldn't be repaired.
"If it hadn't been for the heat flow cable breaking, we'd have a perfect mission even though we had to cut the third EVA (moonwalk) short," said Dr.

Rollbacks Of Price Planned

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 16's explorers fire out of lunar orbit tonight to start the long journey home with a treasure ship of rocks that scientists believe will prove the moon long ago was wracked by volcanoes.
The major finds came Sunday, on the third moon drive that almost was canceled because Mission Control felt the astronauts might be tired and pressed for time as a result of their late landing Thursday night.
They return with 245 pounds of materials which represent perhaps the oldest and most significant samples yet collected on the lunar surface. Locked inside are secrets of how the moon was born more than four billion years ago.
Geologists are certain that John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly got everything they sought during man's fifth moon landing mission, primarily the volcanic evidence.
The astronauts trigger the command ship Casper's big engine at 9:16 p.m. tonight to begin the 66-hour, 240,000-mile voyage back to earth. Splash-down is scheduled Thursday in the Pacific Ocean.
The three astronauts were reunited Sunday night after Young and Duke blasted off the moon in the cabin section of the lunar ship Orion and skillfully maneuvered it to a linkup two hours later with Mattingly in Casper.
"What a ride! What a ride!" Duke shouted as Orion blasted away from the mountainous Descartes plateau at 8:36 p.m. EST after a 71-hour surface expedition during which the moonmen set records for the amount of rocks collected, time on the surface and speed traveled by their classy moon buggy.
The two ships maneuvered around one another as Mattingly took pictures of the effects of the liftoff on Orion's thin skin, then they gingerly moved together nose-to-nose.
"I believe we got everything we went for," said Dr. Tony England, a scientist-astronaut who was capsule communicator during much of the flight.
"It was an outstanding success—really crowning achievement for the Apollo 16 crew," said flight controller Pete Franks.
The main goal was to find volcanic evidence as they drove their moon car over the Descartes plateau and on and around Stone Mountain. Experts here believe that evidence is tucked away in the carefully documented sample bags the astronauts are bringing home.
They base this on extremely clear television pictures relayed to Mission Control and the expert descriptions of the moon walkers as they examined hundreds of rocks, including boulders the size of buildings on

Communists Crush Defenses In Viet's Highlands' Provinces

SAIGON (AP) — A North Vietnamese division crushed the northern defenses of Kontum City in the central highlands today, driving the South Vietnamese into retreat. Air and sea battles erupted deep inside North Vietnam, in the Gulf of Tonkin and the Gulf of Siam.
The North Vietnamese 2nd Division, spearheaded by more than 20 tanks, rolled southward across Highway 14 through Tan Canh and Dak To, the anchor of South Vietnamese defenses guarding the highlands provincial capital of Kontum City, said to be the ultimate objective of the enemy's 26-day-old offensive.
A radio message was sent out to the scattered and badly battered South Vietnamese 22nd Infantry Division, which had its forward command post at Tan Canh and a regimental command post at Dak To, to pull back to a new defensive line at Vo Dinh on Highway 14. This is about 15 miles south of Tan Canh and about 10 miles north of Kontum. Other lesser bases and towns crumbled in the path of the North Vietnamese onslaught.
In the air war, the U.S. Command said, about 10 surface-to-air missiles were fired at B52 strategic bombers raiding North Vietnam. One of the bombers sustained "minor battle damage."
A U.S. helicopter was shot down near Dak To, north of Kontum, and the four crewmen were killed. It was the 22nd American helicopter lost since the offensive began, the U.S. Command said. Seventeen planes also have been lost, and total air crew casualties are 25 Americans killed, eight wounded and 35 missing, the command said.

The United States sent its big B52 bombers to within 90 miles of Hanoi to attack supply depots, railroads, highways and marshalling yards at the big coastal city of Thanh Hoa.
For the first time in the war, one of the giant bombers was reported hit over the North, by fragments from a surface-to-air missile, but it returned safely to Da Nang with 30 holes in its fuselage and a ruptured fuel tank. There were no casualties among the six crewmen.
Another American plane, an Air Force F4 Phantom fighter-bomber, was shot down near Dong Hoi, 45 miles above the demilitarized zone, and the two crewmembers were pulled from the Tonkin Gulf by a Navy helicopter.

Two U.S. 7th Fleet destroyers were hit by shore fire. No casualties were reported.
Nine Americans were wounded and three buildings were damaged by a 13-round rocket barrage against the Da Nang Air Base, the biggest in South Vietnam from which raids are flown against North Vietnam.
The North Vietnamese attack in the highlands developed shortly after midnight when the tank column rolled down Highway 14, which connects Pleiku, Kontum, Dak To and Tan Canh.

Senators saw their farmers suffering big losses as export shipments were blocked.
When the dock-strike legislation was before the Senate in February, Sen. Robert W. Packwood, R-Ore., sought to attach a permanent national-emergency-strike provision as an amendment.
Sen. Harrison A. Williams, Jr., D-N.J., the Labor Committee chairman, and Democratic leaders were able to beat the provision by only three votes.
Unless the committee acts by May 19 to draft its bill on permanent machinery, Packwood says, he will bring up the issue again on the floor as an amendment to some pertinent bill.
But, even if the panel approved a bill, it does not mean the legislation will be enacted or even pass the Senate this year. It could not get to the Senate floor before June.

Antiwar Protests Resume

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
War protests held across the nation over the weekend resumed in the northeast today with demonstrations at Westover Air Force Base in Chicopee, Mass., and Columbia University in New York City.
Eight Columbia buildings were closed by antiwar demonstrators who refused to allow teachers or students to enter.
Police arrested 35 persons at the Massachusetts Air Force Base.
The protesters, mostly pupils from the five-college Amherst area, arrived at 7 a.m. and waited for a busload of 40 Chicopee police to arrive before sitting down in a circle, blocking traffic going into the Strategic Air Command Base.
Demonstrators in eight canoes failed to halt the sailing today of the munitions ship USS Nitro from the Earle Naval Ammunition Depot at Leonardo, N.J.
Other weekend war protests were staged in New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Columbus, Ohio.
Some 30,000 marked Saturday in New York. They tramped 20 abreast for 30 blocks, carrying signs and chanting slogans.
More than 13,000 marched and rallied in Los Angeles and 25,000 sat in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium Saturday to demonstrate against the escalated bombing.

Apollo 16 went to the lunar highlands because they were believed to be much older than the flat lunar maria or seas that are filled with volcanic flows. Tantalizing bits of quite old lunar rocks had been found in the maria.
The M. K. Brown Memorial Civic Auditorium hosted its first public gathering today with the April membership luncheon of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in Heritage Room.
The auditorium was to be open to the public from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. for visitors to an art exhibit in the main lobby.
The first concert to be staged in the auditorium will be the Pampa Fine Arts Association presentation of Van Cliburn, concert pianist, on May 9.
Proceeds from that concert have been used to purchase a grand piano for the auditorium.

HHH, McGovern Hope to Deal Muskie Knockout Blow In Pennsylvania, Massachusetts

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and George S. McGovern hope to deal Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's faltering presidential campaign a one-two knockout blow Tuesday in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, two states where the Maine senator once hoped to flatten his two major opponents.

In Pennsylvania, even Muskie supporters believe Humphrey will run first in the nonbinding preference race. They insist, however, that the support of Gov. Milton J. Shapp and Philadelphia Democratic Chairman Peter J. Camiel will enable Muskie to win a majority of the 137 delegates to be elected Tuesday.

Humphrey, who has never won a primary in three bids for the presidency, needs a Pennsylvania victory badly after a third place finish in Wisconsin. "There won't be any West Virginia, Indiana or elsewhere if we get knocked off in Pennsylvania," he said in a memo to his staff April 9.

McGovern, hopeful of catching Muskie in the preference vote and snatching a chunk of delegates, plans to stump Pennsylvania from east to West Monday. Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who is also in the preference contest, scheduled a four-city swing Saturday.

In Massachusetts, McGovern supporters talk of sweeping most of the 102 delegates. They are concentrating their efforts in Boston and working class areas, rather than his campus and suburban strongholds, in hopes of using the primary to show his broad electoral appeal.

The preference contest, in which McGovern and Muskie have been by far the most active of 11 candidates on the Democratic ballot, will determine how the 20 at-large delegates and 82 district delegates, being elected separately, vote on the first ballot at the Democratic national convention.

President Nixon is expected to be an easy winner Tuesday in Massachusetts. There is no GOP presidential primary in Pennsylvania this year.

Politicians feel the result Tuesday, especially in the large industrial state of Pennsylvania, will strongly influence future Democratic primaries, including those May 2 in Ohio and Indiana, May 16 in Michigan, June 6 in California and June 20 in New York.

"Ohio is watching what we're doing," Pennsylvania labor leader Mike Johnson, a Humphrey backer, told a labor breakfast for the Minnesota senator in Allentown, Pa., Friday. "And Indiana is looking over Ohio's shoulder."

McGovern, second to Muskie in committed delegates so far, expects to vault into the lead Tuesday. He has predicted he'll win a majority of the 230 delegates being chosen in the two states.

Muskie wound up with disastrous fourth place finishes in Florida and Wisconsin.

He has little organization of his own in Pennsylvania or Massachusetts and has lacked funds for an extensive media campaign.

In Pennsylvania, Shapp and Camiel have provided an organizational base. "The question," one top Shapp aide said, "is whether it is enough."

Humphrey, with powerful labor backing provided by President I.W. Abel of the United Steelworkers of America and all of the top state officials in the AFL-CIO, wants a big vote. "If we get a big vote, we're going to win," the Minnesota Democrat said in Allentown. "If we don't get a big vote, maybe the machine is going to win."

Many observers expect a small vote, under 50 per cent of the 2.8 million registered Democrats. Some think the number of voters in the delegate contest will be considerably lower than in the preference races.

This could work to the advantage of Muskie, who stands to gain from organization backing in Philadelphia, where Camiel predicts he'll win 80 per cent of the 28 delegates.

A small vote could also help McGovern, whose supporters have been at work for months despite the senator's longstanding decision to emphasize Massachusetts next Tuesday.

Ted VanDyke, who moved to Pennsylvania from Washington to oversee the McGovern operation, feels his candidate is competitive in 30 of the 50 senatorial districts in which delegates will be chosen and predicted last week he would win between 15 and 20 of the 137 delegates.

In contrast with Humphrey, Muskie and McGovern, all of whom are fielding complete or practically complete delegate slates, Wallace has only four backers running for 137 places. He also has no organization, but no one would be surprised if he polls 10 per cent or more in the preference race.

He could hurt Humphrey in the blue collar areas around Pittsburgh. And the recent flare-up in U.S. action in the Vietnam war also may hurt Humphrey. It promoted the first sustained heckling of the 1972 campaign when he spoke last week at the University of Pennsylvania.

Two other Democrats on the Pennsylvania ballot, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York, haven't campaigned in the state. Jackson also has 27 delegates running. Mrs. Chisholm, who isn't in the preference race, has 13.

Because of the large number of delegates at stake in Pennsylvania the 137 chosen Tuesday will elect 27 more and the new Democratic state committee will add 18 and its proximity to Ohio, its primary has occupied the bulk of time and resources for the major contenders—except McGovern.

He long ago decided to make a major race in Massachusetts and has only started to shift time and resources into Pennsylvania when he became convinced victory would be his in the Bay State.

Others on the Massachusetts Democratic ballot include Humphrey, Jackson, Mrs. Chisholm, New York Mayor John Lindsay, Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana, former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Connecticut anti-poverty worker, worker Edward Coll, the man who waved a black rubber rat during a televised debate of candidates before the March 7 New Hampshire primary. Lindsay and Hartke have withdrawn from the race.

Reps. John Ashbrook of Ohio and Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey of California are on the GOP preference ballot. McCloskey, who has withdrawn from the race, urged support last week for McGovern after doing the same for Lindsay before.

Muskie, meanwhile, was in Pittsburgh this morning, seeking votes for Tuesday's important Pennsylvania primary. In Washington, John Dean confirmed that he has resigned as associate campaign manager in charge of organizing black support for Muskie. Dean said he was disappointed that "white politicians don't seem to be able to accept advice from black politicians."

In other developments Friday: Vice President Spiro T. Agnew labeled "reprehensible" and "preposterous" the charges of some Democratic presidential aspirants that Nixon's bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong is a dangerous escalation of the war.

He spoke to the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington, naming Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, Muskie, McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey as having seized on the setbacks to Allied forces in Southeast Asia for political advantage.

In Miami Beach, meanwhile, the City Commission voted to withhold a formal bid for the Republican National Convention after legal problems arose over a proposed switch in dates.

The New York Times Friday reported Miami Beach officials as saying the GOP convention would be coming. But in Washington, the office of Richard L. Herman, vice chairman of the Republican Arrangements Committee, said no decision had been reached. Herman was in Miami Beach.

bly lower than in the preference races.

This could work to the advantage of Muskie, who stands to gain from organization backing in Philadelphia, where Camiel predicts he'll win 80 per cent of the 28 delegates.

A small vote could also help McGovern, whose supporters have been at work for months despite the senator's longstanding decision to emphasize Massachusetts next Tuesday.

Ted VanDyke, who moved to Pennsylvania from Washington to oversee the McGovern operation, feels his candidate is competitive in 30 of the 50 senatorial districts in which delegates will be chosen and predicted last week he would win between 15 and 20 of the 137 delegates.

In contrast with Humphrey, Muskie and McGovern, all of whom are fielding complete or practically complete delegate slates, Wallace has only four backers running for 137 places. He also has no organization, but no one would be surprised if he polls 10 per cent or more in the preference race.

He could hurt Humphrey in the blue collar areas around Pittsburgh. And the recent flare-up in U.S. action in the Vietnam war also may hurt Humphrey. It promoted the first sustained heckling of the 1972 campaign when he spoke last week at the University of Pennsylvania.

Two other Democrats on the Pennsylvania ballot, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York, haven't campaigned in the state. Jackson also has 27 delegates running. Mrs. Chisholm, who isn't in the preference race, has 13.

Because of the large number of delegates at stake in Pennsylvania the 137 chosen Tuesday will elect 27 more and the new Democratic state committee will add 18 and its proximity to Ohio, its primary has occupied the bulk of time and resources for the major contenders—except McGovern.

He long ago decided to make a major race in Massachusetts and has only started to shift time and resources into Pennsylvania when he became convinced victory would be his in the Bay State.

Others on the Massachusetts Democratic ballot include Humphrey, Jackson, Mrs. Chisholm, New York Mayor John Lindsay, Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana, former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Connecticut anti-poverty worker, worker Edward Coll, the man who waved a black rubber rat during a televised debate of candidates before the March 7 New Hampshire primary. Lindsay and Hartke have withdrawn from the race.

Reps. John Ashbrook of Ohio and Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey of California are on the GOP preference ballot. McCloskey, who has withdrawn from the race, urged support last week for McGovern after doing the same for Lindsay before.

Muskie, meanwhile, was in Pittsburgh this morning, seeking votes for Tuesday's important Pennsylvania primary. In Washington, John Dean confirmed that he has resigned as associate campaign manager in charge of organizing black support for Muskie. Dean said he was disappointed that "white politicians don't seem to be able to accept advice from black politicians."

Sen. McGovern
Wooing Workmen

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern is wooing the working man in Massachusetts, looking for votes that would prove his appeal reaches across the Democratic spectrum in a presidential primary he termed crucial to his White House hopes.

McGovern seeks out blue collar voters today in Chelsea and Boston, after a Friday night spent on hand shaking tours of a rubber factory in New Bedford and bowling alley in Quincy.

His radio and television campaign for support for himself and his slate of convention delegates is angled in the same direction. His advertisements are timed to go with hockey and baseball games, when his managers believe the average working man is most likely to be tuned in.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE,
PH. D., M. D.

Bill deserves a double salute! For he is one of the real "spark plugs of civilization." And also furnishes jobs to 50 workers, plus taxes to local, state and federal government. His business school Alma Mater also merits praise!

CASE T-561: Bill Mosteller should be an inspiration to all modern youth who love American.

"Dr. Crane," publisher Wilton E. Hall told me, "Bill sold electrical appliances to pay his way through high school."

"Then he enrolled in a Business School, where he took courses in Business Law, Bookkeeping and Business Administration."

Afterwards, he accepted a position as bookkeeper, ultimately working up to superintendent of the Piedmont Yarn Mill.

"But his original enthusiasm for selling motivated him to take over the Ford Agency here in Anderson, South Carolina, just 5 years ago."

"At that time, a good monthly sales record was 20 new cars, plus 5 new trucks."

"Now Bill's organization sells 75 new cars, 30 trucks and 140 used cars per month!"

"And he has 50 employees, any one of whom is fired if he is caught misrepresenting a car."

"For Bill follows the Golden Rule policy, so about 90 per cent of his business is done with former satisfied customers."

BRAVO TO BILL!
Former University of Wisconsin President, Dr. Glenn Frank, called salesmen the "spark plugs of civilization."

They undergird all of our pay checks, for unless merchandise is sold, our entire economic system stands still.

Doctors and teachers and policemen and judges and Congressmen and preachers and bookkeepers, farmers and union workers would be without pay checks if salesmen didn't move their products or services into the channels of trade and bring in cash for such merchandise!

Business Schools thus merit a long overdue salute, for their students are geared to basic American "free enterprise."

You don't find Business School students rioting or staging "sit ins" or burning campus buildings or desecrating the flag.

For Business Schools offer intensely practical education, not such frilly Liberal Arts courses as "Ballroom Dancing" or "How to Play Tennis."

Even the Home Economics classes in high schools simply duplicate what pupils could easily learn from their mothers without soaking the taxpayers (who paid $71 BILLIONS for education last year).

If students learn to read, they can follow recipes in any cook book and win prizes at their State Fair, without subsidizing frilly high school courses.

And why teach Physical Education, when pupils will learn to swim or play tennis, or bowl at their own expense as extra curricular hobbies?

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Monday, April 24, the 115th day of 1972. There are 251 day left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On his date in 1704, the first American newspaper printed on a regular basis, the Boston News Letter, was published for the first time.

On this date: In 1743, the Englishman who invented the power loom, Edmund Cartwright, was born.

In 1800, the U.S. Congress appropriated $5,000 to create the Library of Congress.

In 1877, Northern rule in the South ended as federal troops were ordered removed from New Orleans.

In 1898, Spain declared war on the United States after receiving an American ultimatum to withdraw from Cuba.

STRAYS CAN'T WIN
LOGANSPORT, Ind. (AP) — The Cass County council has appropriated an extra $1,000 to meet the growing cost of handling stray dogs.

Sheriff Rex Harris said each dog picked up costs $6, including $1.50 per day for three days, $1 for putting it to sleep, and 50 cents to a rendering company for disposing of the body.

In 1916, the Easter Rebellion broke out in Dublin, Ireland.

In 1953, Sir Winston Churchill was knighted by Queen Elizabeth II.

Ten years ago: President Jose Maria Guido of Argentina announced that he had voided provincial elections in which supporters of ex-dictator Juan Peron made a good showing.

Five years ago: Soviet cosmonaut Vladimir Komarov was killed when the parachute straps of his spacecraft got tangled during a landing attempt.

One year ago: Soviet cosmonauts linked up with an unmanned earth satellite prior to an attempt to build the world's first orbital space laboratory.

Today's birthdays: Barbra Streisand is 30. Writer Robert Penn Warren is 67. Comedian Jack E. Leonard is 61.

Thought for today: take time to deliberate; but when the time for action arrives, stop thinking and go in—President Andrew Jackson, 1767-1845.

Dear Abby

Abby pops the question

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: About that male cook who "took pride" in his cooking and refused to divulge his recipes: Some of the worst cooks I've known were men who "took pride" in their cooking.

I don't claim to be a good cook, but I am probably the best corn popper in the state of Michigan. Admittedly, my prowess is not divinely inspired, but is the conglomeration of instructions from a local 65-year-old lady and a former national champion grower of corn.

I have taught many people how to make delicious popcorn, and I derive as much pleasure out of their enjoyment of it as I do to my own.

DEAR BILL: All right, you pop the corn and I'll pop the question: How about that recipe?

DEAR ABBY: You blew it when you stated that good cooks should share their recipes.

I happen to be the world's best dancer, salesman and amateur chef. And Abby, my love, no one, but NO ONE gets my recipe for spaghetti! They also beg me for my recipe for sweet and sour sauce, and many others, but my spaghetti sauce is out of this world, and everybody who tastes it wants to know my secret.

Thus far I have given it to no one. I'm not selfish. I like to cook, and I like to treat my guests to something they can't get anywhere else. Sorry about that.

BOB IN LONG BEACH

DEAR BOB: You may be the world's best dancer and amateur chef, but you blew it when you said you were the world's best salesman. My husband is! P. S.: I'll put my mother in law's sweet and sour sauce against yours any day, but Bob, old boy, about that spaghetti recipe: Are you willing to negotiate?

DEAR ABBY: Can you stand one more letter about recipes? I used to share mine, too, but no more. Here's why:

A few years ago I dreamed up a recipe of my own and it made such a big hit, my friends asked me for it, so I gave it to them.

Well, one fine day I saw that one of those "friends" had submitted MY recipe in a contest, taking full credit for having created it, and she won $25 for it!

When I spoke to her about it, she said when I gave it to her I forfeited all right to it.

In a more recent instance, a hairdresser asked me how I kept my skin so nice. When I told her it was my own formula, she wormed it out of me with a plea that she had "problems" with her skin and really had to know.

A year later, I found that this hairdresser had been making MY formula, putting it up in jars, and was selling it for a big price.

When I threatened her with a lawsuit she stopped, but since that incident, I have never given a recipe or anything else that hasn't been published in a magazine or newspaper that everyone has access to.

LEARNED A LESSON

DEAR LEARNED: If people write and ask me how they can get your miracle dry skin formula, what shall I tell them? To dry up?

DEAR ABBY: About that earth-shaking question of whether to give out a recipe or not, why the hassle?

I agree with you, "If someone else enjoys the same thing you enjoy, it in no way diminishes your enjoyment of it!"

And if someone takes the recipe to her grave with her, who gains?

BIG-HEARTED BETTY

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

TUESDAY, APR. 25

Your birthday today: The goal now is to realize and enjoy fully what you are and what you have, seeing further possibilities as extensions of present reality. Today's natives tend to be candid, open-handed, deeply interested in anything mysterious or requiring astute skills.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Tidy up, do chores that need full concentration and detailed study. Line up budgets and adjust plans to skip extras.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: If you have overscheduled yourself, made too many promises, you can get out of some today. Project more of your own feelings.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: A bold approach works best in everything but money matters. What seemed out of reach yesterday is now available to you.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: All kinds of secrets emerge now for your study and counsel. Acceptance — and if that fails — tolerance is essential.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Realize that you are not at your best and make the most of the day. Bring home a pleasant surprise for loved ones.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Intriguing ideas have potential, but need further thought. Meanwhile, keep up with people around you, anticipate their needs.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Detours prove more direct than normal routes as habits hit snags. People disagree merely for a change of pace.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: If you are going to help, get in completely and cooperate. If not, then concentrate on increasing your own resources.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: What you do for an older friend needs discretion. In general, it's better not to talk money with friends.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: If you can carry your regular work without skipping details, this can be a great day for expansion.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Put aside projects that don't seem productive, focus on something that is. Improvements come with steady effort.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Whatever you put together today should come out of your own resources or ideas, so that you derive the main benefits and experience.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The bad player slaps cards on the table and hopes for the best. The fair player studies the hand and looks for the main chance. The really good player looks for every possibility.

North would have liked to double four spades. Who can blame him? Actually he could only set that contract one trick, but North did not know that.

On the other hand good player South had no defense and had a hand with great attacking potential. His five-heart call was correct.

East plopped his ace of spades on the king and continued the suit. South ruffed and studied the hand carefully. Should clubs break 2-2 he would have no trouble making his contract. What could he do about a 3-1 break?

He decided to find out. He led a trump to dummy; ruffed a diamond; led another trump to dummy; cashed the ace of diamonds and ruffed dummy's last diamond.

Then he led the deuce of clubs. West played the nine and dummy's 10 lost to East's queen. East was dead. He had to lead a spade or diamond to allow South to ruff in his own hand and discard dummy's losing six of clubs.

What would have happened if West stuck in the king of clubs on the first club lead? It would have been a beautiful play. South could still make the contract if he read the situation but he might conceivably have gone wrong. We'll never know.

 A—Bid seven spades. You can count 12 top tricks. The odds favor developing a 13th.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 Instead of passing over your one spade, West bids two clubs, North and East pass. What do you do now?

Story Of Sam Houston Told To LaCulture Club

"Today's Woman Looks To Her Texas Heritage," was the program presented for LaCultura Club by Mrs. Mike Kuralt, who told of Sam Houston and the 12 women who influenced his life.

"Sam Houston, born March 2, 1793, was the fifth child of Capt. and Mrs. Sam Houston," she stated. "He inherited from his father his fascination for military life, but it was his mother who gave him solid enduring principles of character that were later to identify both his public and private life."

She told of Rachel Jackson, wife of Andrew Jackson, whom he called "Aunt Rachel," adding that he owed much to both of the Jacksons for his political success.

"Eliza Allen was the first wife of Sam Houston," she reported. "Although they were married for eight years, they lived together for only three months. Houston's second wife was Tina Rogers, an Indian woman, and they remained married until her death."

Mrs. Kuralt told of other women who had a lasting effect on the life of Sam Houston, such as Peggy O'Neal, the daughter of a Washington tavernkeeper; Eva Sterne, wife of Adolph Sterne; Anna Raquet, the belle of old Nacadoches; Marcissa Hamilton, a cousin of Houston; and Margaret Moffette Lea, his last wife and mother of his eight children.

Next meeting will be at 10 a.m. April 25, with Mrs. Michael Kuralt, 704 N. Gray.

Members attending were Mrs. Lee Foxworthy, Walter Colwell, Carl Adcock, Michael Kuralt, Wayne Hampton, Ralph Dozier, Jim Johnston, Robert Elliott and Max Lovell.

Can you judge the value and potential of Colorado land?

A rare investment opportunity for those who appreciate the value and potential of Colorado land.

Land for vacation now, retire to in later years—or simply to hold as a wise investment. Consider. A sprawling 13,000 acres in sunny, southern Colorado. Guarded by the Spanish Peaks and the Sangre de Cristo mountains. Laced by the Cucharas River. Wooded with pinon, cedar, juniper—even an occasional rare bristlecone pine. Land with wild, wide-open views of purple peaks and majestic forests.

Ancient land. The bountiful hunting ground of Utes and Comanches; the proud Spanish Conquistadores who gave it its name. And the solitary prospectors who sought legendary Spanish treasures.

Land of gentle climate. Protected from summer heat by its altitude, over 6,000 feet. Land easily accessible by major highways from four directions. Land with a central water system. Close to the hiking, hunting, fishing and backpacking wilderness of the San Isabel National Forest. Adjacent to Lathrop, Colorado's largest state park with its golf course, campgrounds, lakes for swimming and water-skiing. Five convenient miles to Interstate 25 at Walsenburg. Closer still to the Navajo Trail U.S. 160—the well-traveled scenic short-cut between the Midwest and the Grand Canyon.

Now this ancient land has entered a new era...when more people are seeking vacations and homes in the Southwest and Colorado. For those who appreciate the value and potential of such land, this is truly a rare investment opportunity offered to you by a Colorado company with a continuous 77-year history of success. And a subsidiary actively involved in environmental research and developing new methods of pollution control.

THE JACKSON TWINS

JUNIOR, I KNOW YOU MEANT WELL WHEN YOU TOOK MR. SPINDLE'S FLOWERS SO OTHERS COULD SHAKE THEM.

BUT THEY WERE HIS PRIVATE PROPERTY, AS WAS THE GRAVE THEY WERE ON? AND WE MUST RESPECT OTHERS' PROPERTY?

S-S-SIR... THAT WILL BE ALL GENTLE MEN!

HE'S GETTING OFF EASY!

IN CASH
 VALUE BINGO
 BUCKS!!!

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper - also at the public library - also a Bingo card and-or copies of The Pampa Daily News containing the Bingo numbers may be obtained by mailing your request to this newspaper (please print your name and address clearly.). You may play as many cards as you wish - they are free. Get additional cards - one at a time - each day of the week - from the merchants listed below (ADULTS ONLY).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS on a card must be matched to win.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn strictly at random at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads - or elsewhere in the paper. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will appear someplace in the sponsoring merchants' ads - and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and members of their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes. Newspaper Bingo is a program copy-righted and registered by Marketing-Research Associates, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Here's How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please), pick up your free Bingo Cards from the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. You may, however, make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY-THE BETTER YOUR CHANCES ARE TO WIN.

HOW TO PLAY: Check the ads in EACH DAY'S issue of The Pampa Daily News. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally, numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol may be found elsewhere in the paper. Check the classified ad section for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS WITH THE TOTAL OF THE NUMBERS PUBLISHED IN ALL THE ISSUES OF THE Pampa Daily News, EACH WEEK-YOU HAVE A "BINGO"-AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!!

AT LEAST $50.00 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50.00 (in "Bingo Bucks") - they spend the same as cash with any of the sponsoring merchants listed below). If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50.00. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50.00 equally. If there are no winners any week, the $50.00 weekly prize will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE PAPER: A new game will start each Sunday and be completed the following Friday. Be sure to check each day's issue of The Pampa Daily News because some of the numbers may appear in each day's issue. All numbers needed to complete each week's game will have appeared by each Friday's issue. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published for each week's game. A new color of Bingo cards will be available each week at the sponsoring merchants' stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced each week on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, on which ALL 24 NUMBERS have been matched with the total of the numbers published during the week in The Pampa Daily News print your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card, on the back of your card and mail to: The Pampa Daily News, P. O. Box 2198 PAMPA, Texas 79065 (the envelope containing your card must be received by 5:00 PM Monday of the following week)-or bring your card to the office of this newspaper at 403 W. Atchison Pampa Texas by 5:00 PM Monday of the following week.
