

Nuclear Obstacles, Not Watergate, Block Summit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Long-standing obstacles in Soviet-American nuclear arms negotiations — not Watergate — are likely to prevent any startling breakthroughs when President Nixon journeys to Moscow next month for a summit conference, diplomatic sources indicated Saturday.

Newspapers, congressmen and other commentators have argued Nixon's trip will be crippled by impeachment threats at home, and that he will not have the necessary political strength to bargain effectively with the Soviets on arms limitation, which is expected to be a major topic at the summit.

But Western diplomats said the Russians are aware that Nixon's achievements in foreign policy in the last five years are popular in the United States and have at least tacit support from Democrats and Republicans alike.

In addition, Soviet leaders have made it clear they want the meeting to be held on schedule. Russian diplomats and White House officials both contend that there was never any indication from either side that the meeting announced by Nixon and Soviet Communist Party chief Leonid Brezhnev almost a year ago might be delayed.

From a public appearance standpoint,

Nixon administration officials realize that failure to meet as scheduled would be interpreted in many parts of the world as evidence that the momentum of detente has been replaced by the old "Cold War" confrontations.

Foreign diplomats stationed in Washington, particularly those Western allies of the United States, said Watergate will make little difference in the summit.

Some American critics have expressed fear that the embattled President might make unwise concessions to Soviet leaders in order to pull off some temporarily spectacular achievement which would tend to diminish the effect of the Watergate furor.

But this ignores Nixon's pride in his earlier diplomatic achievements such as establishing relations with China, concluding agreements with the Soviets and possibly achieving a Middle East peace through Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. It would be inconsistent for the President to risk any action at Moscow which might endanger his place in history as a world leader simply to gain a temporary political advantage at home.

Actually, the most pertinent question asked by many diplomatic authorities is whether the June summit conference in Moscow can accomplish anything because of factors which have nothing to do with Watergate.

Soviet and American negotiators, in their talks at Geneva, have been unable to make any significant progress on the second round of Strategic Arms Limitations Talks (SALT II) aimed at limiting buildup of offensive nuclear weapons.

The other thing which will inhibit Nixon at Moscow is the failure of Congress to approve "most favored nation" trade treatment for the Soviet Union unless Russia abandons its laws which restrict the emigration of Jews and other Soviet nationals wishing to leave that country.

Holiday Keeping Planned

Pampans and other area residents are making preparations today for the observance of Memorial Day, the annual American holiday commemorating those deceased servicemen who have fought for their country in time of war.

Flags will be placed on graves of armed service veterans at both Memory Gardens and Fairview cemeteries at 6:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The American flag at each of the cemeteries will be lowered to half-mast at sunrise Monday.

Veterans of Foreign Wars will be in charge at Memory Gardens and auxiliaries of the American Legion, VFW and World War I organizations will place the flags at Fairview.

There will be no other services here Monday for war dead. The annual service in their memory will be held on Veterans Day in October.

City, county, state and federal offices will be closed tomorrow in observance of the day.

It is being observed on Monday this year as proclaimed by the Federal Holiday Bill, designed to lengthen weekends. The traditional Memorial Day does not fall until Thursday, May 30.

Most retail business in the area will be closed although some grocery stores and convenience stores have announced they will be open.

There will be no residential or rural mail delivery tomorrow. Post office windows will be closed but there will be mail service for box patrons.

Holiday Toll

United Press International Texas' Memorial Day weekend began with lots of Texans on the highways, and a fast jump in traffic deaths.

The worst accident killed four persons and injured two more three miles east of Austin on Farm Road 973 early Saturday. Other multi-fatality accidents kept the toll high.

The American Automobile Association said a ready availability of gasoline probably would allow any Texan who wished to make a holiday trip during the three-day weekend, further adding to the fatality risk.

White House And Nixon Under A Heavier Seige

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House and President Nixon were under siege on all sides Saturday at the end of one of Nixon's most critical weeks in the long Watergate affair.

Congress, the courts and even the executive branch itself were pressuring the President, who left his family behind and flew to the Florida White House with his two top aides for the holiday weekend.

The situation: —Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski declined to wait for a U.S. Court of Appeals ruling and asked the Supreme Court directly to decide whether Nixon can continue to resist his subpoena of Watergate tapes. —In the most stinging rebuke delivered from the bench during Watergate, U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesell said Nixon must understand personally that if he continues to refuse to produce subpoenaed White House files he must bear responsibility for "aborting" the Ellsberg break-in conspiracy case.

—Members of the House Judiciary Committee will decide Thursday what to do about Nixon's refusal to comply with its subpoena of 11 tapes and his daily diary for nine months in 1972-73, and whether to subpoena 65 additional Watergate and 65 ITT and milk scandal tapes.

—Jaworski's petition, aimed at heading off months of litigation, was delivered to the court Friday at 5 p.m. Clerk Michael Rodak assigned it Docket No. 73-1766, and arranged for copies for each of the nine justices — four of whom are Nixon appointees.

The court's next regularly scheduled public meeting is Tuesday. It could take up the petition privately afterwards, or delay consideration for as long as it wishes. It could accept the case, or tell Jaworski to go back and proceed through the normal channel of the Court of Appeals.

The Supreme Court is unlikely to act until it hears from Nixon, and court observers believe it either could ask the White House for a response or just wait until one arrives.

Commissioners Will Study Rate Request

Southwestern Public Service Company's request for a 10 percent hike in electric rates for Pampa will top the agenda at Tuesday's meeting of the City Commission at 9:30 a.m. in City Hall.

SPS filed its rate request with the City last Wednesday, asking that the new rates, amounting to an increase of $1.38 a month on the average residential electric bill, become effective in September.

The company, incidentally, filed its request for an increase in all towns and cities in its Texas service area.

Citizens in one town in the local area, White Deer, will petition the town council there on June 18 to turn the request down.

Other items on the agenda at the Pampa Commission meeting Tuesday include: Receiving bids on the rental or lease of City property known as Reeves Auxiliary Landing Field.

Public hearing on a certain area in regard to expanding the city's mobile home zoning.

Receive a request from Mrs. Alice Garys relative to funding of the Community Day Care Center.

Who To Fight?

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) —Constitutional Convention delegates get their choice of parring partners this week.

They can continue their own intramural slugging match over the deadlocked judiciary article or take on Gov. Dolph Briscoe over provisions in the new charter for the Legislature to remove public officials from their posts.

The official agenda for Tuesday's session when the delegates return from their Memorial Day holiday calls for consideration of the article Briscoe is opposed to.

Rep. Lynn Nabors, D-Brownwood, announced in advance, however, that he would move to postpone consideration of the section Briscoe opposes and the rest of the general provisions article to present a compromise proposal on the judiciary article.

Price Daniel Jr., convention president, predicted Nabors' plan will get fewer votes than the supposed compromise Daniel backed Thursday and saw rejected 79-71.

Delegates voted 81-73 Wednesday to kill the judiciary article they spent seven days of caustic floor debate writing and debating. Daniel blamed disgruntled county judges for stirring up much of the dissent in an effort to protect their present constitutional status.

Judiciary article revisers want to authorize future legislatures to replace county courts with circuit courts. County judges would have to give up their positions as chief administrative officers of their counties to become circuit court judges.

"There's been a lot of animosity among some of the delegates about the way the county judges have treated this convention," Daniel said. "I don't know if the spirit of compromise will prevail."

Daniel said working out some plan to placate the county judges will be the key to a successful compromise on the judiciary article, and expressed doubt that Nabors' proposal will do that.

"The way the Nabors substitute is right now it would be defeated by a substantially wider margin than have been these other substitutes," Daniel said.

He predicted Republicans and conservative Democrats who voted for the substitute offered Thursday will oppose Nabors' plan because of limits it would impose on prosecutors' rights of appeals in criminal cases.

Crisis Settlement Close?

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is "one or two decisions" short of agreement on a military disengagement between Israel and Syria and will stay at least one more day to complete it, a high American official said Saturday night.

Kissinger came out of what was supposed to be a decisive meeting in Damascus with Syrian President Hafez Assad still short of the final agreement he sought in negotiations that have lasted one month.

The American official aboard his plane said talks were the point where "one or two decisions can do it." He added Kissinger would be "nuts to leave it" even if there could be agreement by Monday night.

"By all normal processes, it is almost inconceivable it could get this close and not work, but in this case I wouldn't bet on it," the official said, referring to the difficulty of the talks.

He said Kissinger would return to Damascus Sunday evening and hoped to leave from either there or Jerusalem Monday morning, stopping over in Cairo a few hours to be home on the night of his 51st birthday.

Kissinger left two key advisers — Assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern Affairs Alfred L. Atherton and State Department legal adviser Carlisle Maw — behind in Damascus to work on some basic documents with the Syrians until he returns.

On the decisive issue of the thinning out of forces on either side of a cease-fire line — the main point blocking agreement — Kissinger said there was some progress and Israel and Syria were "quite close."

But he said Syria introduced a "new wrinkle" in the latest round of talks and it required more discussions with the Israelis.

Among the other outstanding issues are the number of United Nations troops to be stationed along the truce line and "cleaning up" language in the general agreement, the high official said.

Assad spent the morning visiting Syrian troops on the Golan front, encouraging them and thanking them for their "heroic and constant fighting during the past few months." It was the 75th day of clashes between Syrian and Israeli forces.

If there is an agreement, it could be initiated and announced Sunday.

Kissinger planned to fly back to Israel after his talks with Assad.

Kissinger wants to start home Sunday and is determined to be in Washington by Monday night, the official said. He left open a possible return to Damascus on Sunday, only to complete the drafting after "substantive agreement" is reached.

Kissinger was working on an American compromise to overcome the major remaining issue — the thinning out of forces along the cease-fire line in the Golan Heights. That means how many men and what weapons the two countries would be allowed to keep there.

Linked to that was the location of the buffer zone between the forces.

In the past two days, Kissinger had made "progress" in both countries.

Another issue still to be settled finally was the number of United Nations troops who would police the agreement, and the high official said the two sides were "crawling" towards agreement.

Secretary of State Kenneth Rush, 64, to be the new chief White House economic policy coordinator, with the title of counselor to the President.

The President's talk on the economy contained no new major economic plans. Shortly after the 17 minute speech ended, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told a news conference: —The President will visit the Middle East and "there is a distinct possibility" the trip will be "in the near future." He left open a possibility that it would come before the President travels to Moscow in late June to begin a new round of U.S.-Soviet summit talks.

White Deer Residents Petition Against Hike

WHITE DEER — Petitions are in circulation here which will ask the White Deer City Council to "forego any request, at least for the time being," of the Southwestern Public Service Co. for a rate increase.

SPS already has filed its request for a ten percent rate hike in all Texas towns and cities served by the public utility.

A half dozen petitions calling on the council to delay the SPS rate increase here are in circulation, according to V.W. Weaver, chairman of a White Deer Citizens Committee.

Weaver said the petitions asking a delay in granting the utility company request will be presented to the White Deer Council at its next meeting Tuesday, June 18.

He added the action is being taken because it is felt the "steady spiral of prices in groceries, gasoline and services has meant nothing less than havoc for citizens on fixed incomes — especially those on social security, and meager retirement benefits."

"The elderly, those who receive only a small income," Weaver said, "many getting less than $100 a month, have difficulty making ends meet. And it is becoming more important to our welfare each passing day as prices soar way out of reason."

He said the petitions to delay the utility company's request are not prompted "just because it is the electric company, but because it is time someone

President Voicing Hope For The Best

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) — President Nixon, voicing hope "the worst is behind us" in the battle against inflation, said Saturday he saw no choice but to stick to his basic economic policies of budgetary restraint, tight money and no tax cut.

Nixon, in a nationwide radio address broadcast from his Florida bayside villa, acknowledged that his prescription "may sound like harsh medicine" and added "I wish I could tell you that there is a way out of the present inflation without such measures, out there is not."

The President disclosed that he would send a special report on the economy next Tuesday to the Congress, where some Democratic leaders have called for a tax cut and increased federal spending to ease the strain of the worst inflation in more than 20 years. He said federal spending would be aimed at spurring production, now declining for the first time in more than a decade.

Nixon also announced the appointment of Deputy

Secretary of State Kenneth Rush, 64, to be the new chief White House economic policy coordinator, with the title of counselor to the President.

Friday Rains Produce Over Inch Of Moisture

Forecasts called for partly cloudy conditions today with the high expected to reach into the upper 80s as Pampa and area residents enjoy the holiday weekend, without much chance of rain.

The heavy rain which fell across much of the Panhandle Friday night brought a very welcome 1.08 inches to Pampa, but without the damaging winds and hail which pummeled some area towns.

Tornadoes caused minor damage to residences on the north edge of Lubbock and another was spotted near Floydada. Vega was reportedly hard hit by hail and windows were knocked out of houses on the northwest edge of Amarillo.

The low last night was in the 50s preceding the 80s predicted for this afternoon. Preliminary forecasts call for partly cloudy to sunny skies Memorial Day.

In UPI reports: The National Weather Service Saturday placed 19 counties across northern Texas under severe thunderstorm alerts for possible large hail, high winds and heavy rain.

The threat of the severe weather was the second day of thunderstorms created by cool air flowing eastward across the state. To the south, Texas' skies were clear to partly cloudy and temperatures throughout the state were mild.

The greatest threat of a thunderstorm was in an area along and 45 miles either side of a line from Childress to south of McAlester, Okla.

The NWS said the cool air would move into the northern portion of the state by Sunday to near a line from Dallas to the Big Bend country, with showers and thunderstorms scattered along the front.

Skies were expected to be generally partly cloudy with cooler temperatures in the north.

Early Saturday the first series of storms struck in the Panhandle, particularly at Lubbock.

"Most of the damage was on the north edge of the city," said Lubbock police desk sergeant John Ledbetter. "I'll bet 95 percent of the city didn't get any hail at all."

Ledbetter said hail up to the size of baseballs fell on the north edge, causing widely spread damage to house tops, cars and trees.

WEATHER

Clear to partly cloudy today with high in 80s. Low last night and tonight in 50s. Winds variable at 8-18 mph. High Memorial Day expected to be in 80s.

Land Levelling Helps Irrigation

The purpose for land leveling is to improve the distribution of irrigation water without causing soil erosion or drowning out of crops. In order to do a land leveling job, the area in the field that is causing a problem needs to have a good grid map made.

To get a grid map of he area that is causing the problem, the field is marked off in 100 ft. squares and elevation shots recorded. With this information a land leveling cut and fill sheet can be prepared. With this cut and fill sheet, the irrigation farmer will know about how much it will cost him to have the field leveled.

For more information on getting a grid map and cut and fill sheet made for problem areas in your irrigation system or any conservation problem, you may contact your local Soil Conservation Service at the Courthouse Annex Building just east of the city on Highway 60 or call 665-1751.

Approximately 450 people gathered at noon Thursday for the annual barbecue held at what used to be the old Grandview school. Since consolidation last year, it is now the school for the Grandview - Hopkins Independent School District.

Those who attended the affair were served beef, which was donated by Mrs. Odell Baggerman, and numerous vegetables, salads and desserts which were prepared by ladies in the community.

It was the 49th consecutive barbecue held at the school since it first began in the spring of 1925, and it was the first since the consolidation took place.

The barbecue is sponsored by the Grandview - Hopkins PTA. The president of that organization this year is Mrs. Roselle Collingsworth.

Travis Raven Wins Acquittal

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Former football coach Travis Raven, acquitted on a charge of compelling the prostitution of a 16-year-old girl but convicted on a lesser charge of engaging in prostitution, says he does not know what the future holds for him.

Raven, who three times led gaunt Reagan High School to the state football championship before becoming athletic director of all eight Austin high schools, paid the maximum $200 fine imposed for his conviction Friday night.

Raven said he would confer with his attorneys before making any decisions on his future. School Superintendent Jack Davidson said Saturday "We'll have to make some decision in the near future" on Raven's suspension as athletic director.

A six-man, six-woman jury deliberated for nearly five hours at the conclusion of the weeklong trial, voting to acquit Raven, 51, on the compelling prostitution charge which could have brought him up to 20 years in prison if convicted.

The same jury acquitted 28-year-old Audrey Anne McDonald, 28, on the compelling prostitution charge.

Both were arrested last March and indicted for inducing a Houston runaway, Mary Theresa Lindley, into prostitution for Raven and several of his associates.

Memorial Day Opens Summer At Meredith

Memorial Day is traditionally the beginning of many summer programs at Lake Meredith Recreation Area and the National Park Service has announced its schedule of visitor activities for the 1974 summer season.

Alice M. Allen, public information officer at Lake Meredith, told Pampa Kiwanis Club members at their Friday luncheon that the Spring Canyon Swimming Area, known as the stilling basin, is scheduled to open at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, June 2. The supervised swimming area will be open from 9:30 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, with weekday hours being 11:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. The Berger Chapter of the American Red Cross will schedule its learn-to-swim program at the lake later this summer.

Hearst And Two Others In Southern California?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — An FBI spokesman said Saturday that agents were now operating on the premise that Patricia Hearst and Symbionese Liberation Army members William and Emily Harris are still in Southern California and have again managed temporarily to sink out of sight.

"It looks like we're where we were in San Francisco," said agent John Morrison. "Apparently they (the SLA) were able to operate there for some length of time."

Eight days after "General Field Marshal" Donald DeFreeze and five other SLA members died in a South Los Angeles home in a fiery shootout with hundreds of police, federal authorities are getting fewer calls from citizens who said they have seen Miss Hearst or the Harrises, the FBI said.

"Every legitimate lead called into us is checked out," Morrison said. "The FBI is also assuming that the Harriss and Miss Hearst have not split up and are still somewhere around Los Angeles."

"We just don't have any evidence to indicate they've left the area," Morrison said.

Whether or not the three could remain out of sight in this sprawling city as they apparently did in San Francisco would depend on their contacts here, he added.

Federal agents and local police are also questioning neighbors who spoke to DeFreeze and other SLA members hours before the shootout. "I think that area has been pretty well covered," Morris said.

County Coroner Thomas Noguchi, however, said the two men and four women who died in the shootout "behaved fanatically," and "were fully prepared to die" in the flaming house rather than surrender to authorities.

"They chose to stay under the floor as the fire burned instead of getting out," Noguchi said. "In all my years as coroner, I've never seen this kind of behavior in the face of flames."

Although none of the SLA members was ever visible to their attackers, Noguchi gave a vivid description of their last stand, based on examinations of the bodies.

Camilla Hall, 29, was the first to die, according to the coroner. Shortly after the house began to burn, probably from an SLA molotov cocktail, she was cut down by a police bullet in her forehead while firing at officers from the front windows of the house.

Nancy Ling Perry died next — from a barrage of bullets which ripped into her chest and back. DeFreeze was wounded twice in the waist but kept fighting.

As the flames spread and police fire became more intense, the surviving terrorists took the two bodies with them and fled to the rear of the house.

Armadillos Honored Again

VICTORIA, Tex. (UPI) — Those who honor armadillos each Memorial Day weekend in South Texas Saturday paused from the Yelling Contest and the Beer Can Smash to select the new Miss Vacant Lot of the World to succeed — not replace — last year's winner, Modine Gunch.

"We only had one entrant last year," said Fred Armstrong, the chairman of this year's Fourth First Annual Armadillo Confab and Exposition, the general title of the gettogether near the Texas Gulf Coast.

"But we've got 15 entrants this year. We have judges and everything. The girls do whatever it is that they do best for a minute and then we decide who wins."

Last year Miss Gunch, who possibly exists only in Armstrong's mind and he isn't telling, was said to have balanced on her head wearing a brief halter and hot pants while twirling a hula-hoop with a leg to win.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX RYALS
Today's column is the third in a series presenting a recommended statewide program for Conservation and Development of Texas Water Resources.

Last week we covered Part II of the recommended plan.

Organization for the Accomplishment of the State's Goals and Policies for Conservation and Development of its Water Resources

An effective program at the accomplishment of goals and policies for conservation and development of the state's water resources must embody sound organizational concepts consistent with existing governmental structure and political realities. Texas has been successful to date in the development of its water resources using existing federal, state, regional and local political subdivisions. Further, the state legislature in recent years has established and defined the responsibilities of state water resource agencies to fit modern concepts of organization and function.

The following organizational chart and listing of broad areas of public responsibility are recommended for use as a guide for the implementation of the state's water program:

Responsibility — Goals, Policy, Coordination.
Agency — Governor, Division of Planning Coordination.

Responsibility — Planning, Regulation, Financing.
Agency — Principal Statewide Agencies, Water Development Board, Water Rights Commission, Water Quality Board.

Responsibility — Planning, Financing, Construction, Operations, Regulation.

Agency — Regional and Local Entities, Cities, River Authorities, Special Water Districts.

The statewide agencies listed above are the principal agencies with responsibility concerned entirely with water resource matters. Many other statewide agencies whose responsibilities cover different or broader fields also have important responsibilities with regard to water resources. For example, the Texas State Department of Health not only has responsibility for making recommendations to the board (Texas Water Quality Board) concerning the health aspects of matters related to the quality of water in the state, but also has statutory responsibility for establishing drinking water standards, the review and approval of plans and specifications prior to the construction of public drinking water systems, and the surveillance and protection of drinking water quality.

It is recognized that the Department of Health has an important role to play in a statewide program for conservation and development of Texas water resources. Agencies such as the state Soil and Water Conservation Board, Railroad Commission and the Parks and Wildlife Department are also involved.

The state legislature plays a fundamental role in all matters pertaining to conservation and development of the state's water resources, since it provides the statutory basis for all actions taken under a statewide program for conservation and development of Texas water resources.

Planning for Water Resource Development

A. General — Two general types of plans are required in order to provide for effective conservation and development of Texas' water resources: (1) "long-range plan," which anticipates needs far into the future and outline general alternative means for meeting such needs; (2) "short-range plans," which focus on more immediate needs and set forth specific projects and activities as a basis for action programs. The emphasis in short-range plans is on projects and activities which are currently under way or which should be placed under way in the immediate future as elements of action programs designed to make the water resources available when required to meet emerging needs.

The 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. meeting at the Pioneer Natural Gas Building on gardening was well received. A total of sixteen potted tomatoes of the new variety "Summertime" were given as door prizes. Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stafford of Stafford Nursery, east of Pampa.

We also appreciate the fine cooperation by Pioneer Natural Gas for the use of their building.

Mark July 24 on your calendar. This is the date for the all-day plant clinic to be held at the Pioneer Natural Gas Office Building. Three specialists in plant disease, insects, and soil will be present to help you with your plant problems. This is the 4th annual Plant Seminar we have held. You can bring diseased plants or parts of diseased plants and these specialists can help you many times. Dr. Robert Berry, Lubbock-based plant pathologist, is one of the best in the state in this field. He will head the list of specialists.

Texas Declared Free Of Hog Cholera Disease

AUSTIN (UPI)— Federal officials presented a special certificate to the Texas Animal Health Commission last week designating the state and the nation as hog cholera free.

Texas was the last of the 50 states to be recognized by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) for going 12 months without a confirmed case of the highly infectious disease.

Dr. Francis J. Mulhern, administrator of USDA's animal and plant health inspection section service, said this is the first time all 50 states have been declared hog cholera free since intensive efforts to eradicate the disease began in 1962.

"We must remain vigilant and keep up surveillance at farms and markets until we're sure this disease has, in fact, been eliminated," Mulhern told Texas officials.

believe it would ever rain again. Rex disagreed and bet him it would rain again sooner or later. I'm told Rex gave up last week and paid off on the bet.

Dryland farming is at a standstill awaiting rain. Irrigation farmers are improvising different ways to plant milo and insure a stand. There is considerable difficulty obtaining stands due to the hot, dry and windy weather. Pre-watered milo ground does not insure getting a stand.

I've heard a lot of the old timers say they think we are in for a drought. The weather pattern does seem to be following that set in the dry 1950s: The wind can blow strong for four days out of the Southeast. It will cloud up. Then here comes the wind out of the Northwest and dissipates what looks like a good chance for rain.

I refuse to forecast weather. Several years ago I was passing through Lefors. I was visiting with John Carpenter (now deceased). I told him I thought we were in for some real dry weather. In less than three hours Lefors had a three-inch rain that flooded part of the city. John never let me forget this.

MILK PLANTING

There are a host of good varieties of milo to plant for both irrigation and dryland. Two things you should inquire of your dealer: one is — check the disease resistance to M.D.M. Most reputable companies have discarded susceptible varieties. The other thing — if you plan to control weeds with 2-4-D, make sure the variety you plant is not susceptible to 2-4-D injury. It's too late to check after you have the milo up.

NEW YORK (UPI) — "There is a danger of a near term violation of 790 to 800 by the Dow Jones Industrial which could well lead to an acceleration of the decline building up to a final climax," says Merkin & Co. Inc. The firm points out that intermediate and long term technical indicators are improving despite "extreme internal weakness" in the market at the moment. "There is still a considerable degree of vulnerability throughout the list," it adds, "and buying should be deferred until there are more concrete signs that the market is at a bottom."

The disastrous month of May has seen the Dow Jones Industrial Average at its lowest point of the year as "many erstwhile attractive stocks disintegrate in the atomic shock waves of inflation and towering interest rates," says Paine Webber Jackson & Curtis Inc. Some stocks have taken such a beating that they will not recover fully even if the market has a peaceful summer, it continues. "Rebound will be a very exclusive affair and there will be many uninvited guests," the firm adds.

SETTING A GOAL and making plans for the 20-mile March For Missions was part of a recent youth service at the United Pentecostal Church. Seen making plans are three of the youth marchers, from left, Randy Reed, Carolyn Schoonover and Sandy Brewer.

20 MILES OF Pentecostal Youth Plan 'March For Missions'

A 20-mile March for Missions will be staged here on Saturday, June 15, by the youth and participating members of the United Pentecostal Church, 610 Naida St.

The Rev. H.M. Veach, pastor of the church, and Butch Summers, march co-ordinator, announced that the march will be a part of its annual Sheaves for Christ fund-raising drive for missions projects. Participants in the march are obtaining sponsors who pledge a certain amount per mile walked.

Checkpoints are to be set up along the march route to verify each person's "mileage."

"This is necessary since the march is not limited to the young people. Some of the older members who are involved may find the 20-mile trek a bit long, but

SUMMER SCHEDULE
As summer vacation comes for the young people, the Youth Center schedule changes. Beginning June 3 the Center's schedule will change to being open Monday through Saturday and closed Sunday. From May 28 through June 1 we will open on a temporary schedule starting at 1 p.m. Swim lessons do not start until June 3 so we will not be open in the mornings until then.

Starting June 3 all swim lessons will be taught during the morning hours from 8 a.m.-12 noon. Lunch will be observed from 12-1 p.m. At 1 o'clock p.m. we reopen with all activities going full blast. Supper hours will be observed from 5-7 p.m. and then we reopen for the night session from 7-10 p.m. During all open hours participation in all of the activities may be observed. All ages swim and have fun on the trampoline, as well as pool, ping pong, basketball, volleyball, tumbling, wrestling and other quiet games will be available.

BATON LESSONS
What a treat is in store for young people desiring baton lessons. Rhonda Dennis, noted high school batonist, will again conduct the classes this summer. Rhonda taught for two years then took a leave of absence last year.

Baton lessons will begin June 3 at 1:30 p.m. Everyone who is interested in taking baton lessons should come by and enroll or come to the first meeting. Rhonda will place you in the class you should be in after a short trial period. Classes will meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday for six weeks through July 12. To participate you must be a Youth Center member and have a balanced baton.

CALICO CAPERS SQUARE DANCERS
For you adults who like square dancing or would like to learn, there is the Calico Capers Square Dance Club. This is an adult square dance group that meets at the Center on Saturday nights from 8-11 p.m. They dance to an out-of-town caller and really enjoy themselves.

The current president of the club is Gerald McCabe and he would invite any interested couples to drop by the Center and meet the Capers. Gerald and the other Capers will explain to you how you may become a member of the club.

SUMMER SWIM LESSONS
Although the initial day of enrollment for the summer swim classes was May 5, you may still enroll your children. There are some vacancies in some of the classes and you may check the schedule below and inquire at the Center front office to see if there is still a vacancy.

All of the summer classes are taught during the morning hours so the swimming pool can be opened in the afternoons to all ages. Classes meet on a one hour time limit except the junior and senior lifesaving class. This class meets for two hours each morning. All classes are taught by qualified Red Cross Water Safety instructors. These instructors are co-ordinated by our resident instructor, Ruth Carter.

Cost of the lessons is $4 for non-members or free to Youth Center members. Memberships are available to the public at all times. You get a full six months or years membership no matter what day of the month you join.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL, Executive Secretary ARC
We are continuing to register for the Summer Swim program beginning June 17 and will run through July 26.
We have had so many phone calls asking us to take little children aged 1 through 4 years old. We do not teach children younger than 6 years old.
We know that little children can learn to swim but we have so many children that we teach the station method and not individual method.
Miss Dana Chisum WSI phone 665-2878 is anxious to teach private lessons, so if you are interested call Dana. We are sure that she will do a good job for you.

We have had a good class of adults to register for the evening class, beginning June 17 to 28 at 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. with the pool fee $1. If you would like to learn to swim or to swim better, come out and enter the adult classes. They will be taught by Red Cross instructors also.
We have a Hospital Volunteer aged 14 years old that we are very proud of.
Last Saturday evening she went with her mother to visit some of the patients at the Pampa Nursing Center and when the fire alarm sounded, she kept her cool and was able to calm the patients, help the nurses evacuate the patients and got blankets to wrap the patients in and was generally able to assist in the evening work.

We should be proud of our young people who give so much of themselves for others. Thanks, Jackie Robertson, for being in the right place at a time when you were needed.
Jan Robertson, WSI, completed an intermediate class at the Pampa Youth Center with the following completing the course: Evelyn Chisum, Phyllis Cotham and Jeletta Cox.

Melvin P. Miller, FAI for Multimedia First Aid from Sweetwater, Tex., taught four classes for Texaco Co. with 54 taking the course. We are grateful to M. Miller for coming to Pampa and teaching the course.
He was assisted by C.E. Earnest from Sweetwater. Johnny Sybert, RN, school nurse from Lefors School, taught a Mother and Baby Care class to the following girls: Niona Nickel, Debbie Howard, Debbie Mayben, Diane Tarbet, Faye Squires, Ann Vincent, Beverly Lee, Connie Finney, Pam James and LaWanda Ring.
Mrs. Forrest Hills, RN, assisted with this class.

Green Snags Lead In Memphis Golf

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Lanky Hubert Green, already a two-time winner on the pro tour this year, fired a 2-under-par 70 Saturday to stretch his lead to three strokes in the third round of the $175,000 Memphis Golf Classic.

Green had three birdies and stumbled to only one bogey — only his second of the tournament — before a record crowd of 36,000 for a sparkling 14-under-par total of 202 over the Colonial Country Club course.

Bob Wynn a 69 to tie for second behind the Birmingham, Ala., pro at 205. Another stroke back were Don Bies and Gary Player, going into Sunday's final round.

Bies shot a 66, the best round of the day, while Player curled in a 13-foot putt on the final hole for a 69 to set himself for a run at Green Sunday.

Green made shambles of par in the first two rounds Thursday and Friday with identical 66s.

Rod Curl and Tom Watson, who were tied for second place two strokes behind Green going into the third round, each slipped badly. Watson had a 74 and Curl, winner of last week's Colonial tournament at Fort Worth, skied to a 75.

Ruidoso Downs' Dudich Keeps On Miking

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — Ruidoso Downs Race Track, now launching its 27th year of racing, has come a long way.

From a stop on the leaky-roof, circuit, the scenic mountain track has grown into the Yankee Stadium of the quarter horse world.

A man who's seen much of this transformation is Bob Dudich, long regarded as one of the premiere race callers in the nation. When it comes to quarter horses Dudich is without equal.

This weekend he kicked off his 13th straight season at the Ruidoso mike. His voice and the vibrant way he calls a quarter horse dash, have become part of the Ruidoso Downs story.

Over the years, Dudich has become probably the closest observer of the Ruidoso scene. And he's had some unusual experiences — such as the time he was flattened out by a lightning bolt, but go off the canvas just in time to call the next race!

Dudich broke into horseracing some 20 years ago with The Daily Racing Form. Even today, his duties include that of trackman and turf writer for The Form.

Dudich has worked at such big-league tracks as Santa Anita, Hollywood Park, Golden Gate Fields and Del Mar. But none caught his fancy like Ruidoso Downs.

"When I was first assigned here 16 years ago, I was amazed at the enthusiasm of the fans," he recalled. "It was hard to believe a track as small as Ruidoso Downs could have that kind of pari-mutuel wagering. Ruidoso Downs, even back then, had all the earmarks of a great racing facility."

Dudich's observation couldn't have been more on target. Last year, Ruidoso Downs enjoyed its greatest season ever. The daily pari-mutuel average soared to over $275,000 as more than 300,000 fans moved through the turnstiles.

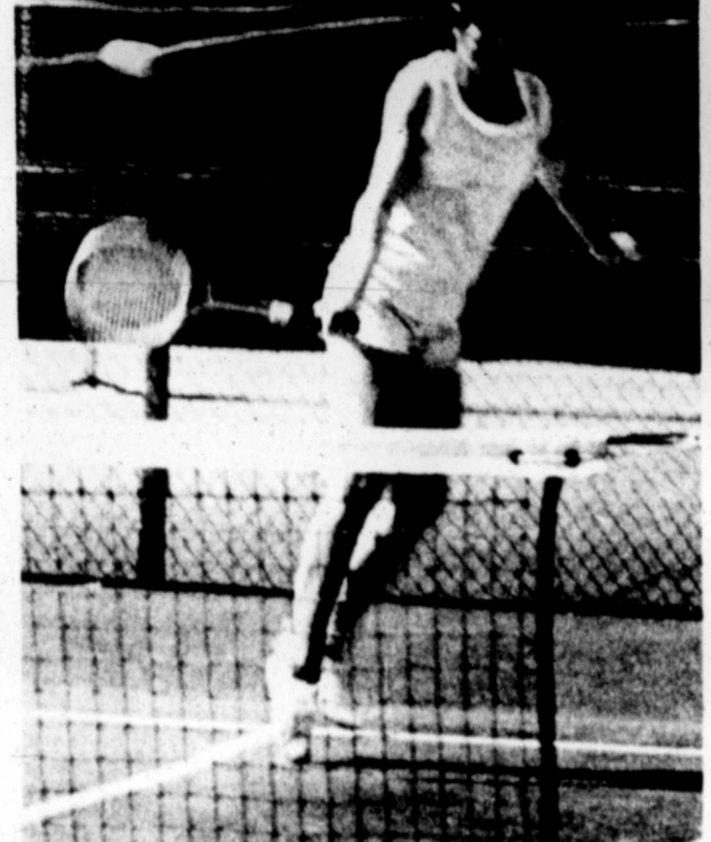

But the highlight of the year came on Labor Day when the world's richest race — the $1 million All-American Futurity — was televised nationally. Dudich's call of the race reached an estimated 13 million people.

"Calling the All-American Futurity has to be one of the greatest moments I've ever had in racing," Dudich said. "I've called the event for the past 12 years, but last year's running marked the first time it was televised from coast-to-coast."

"The All-American Futurity has to be one of the great landmarks in horseracing," Dudich says. "There's so much excitement and fever surrounding the race, it's hard not to get swallowed up in it."

"The two most important things in calling the All-American are timing and preparation. There's five straight days of racing prior to the running of the All-American and that can get pretty tiring. So you have to be pretty well prepared for the big one mentally when it comes up, no matter how

Orioles 5, Yanks 1

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mike Cuellar pitched a two-hitter for his fifth straight complete game victory and Paul Blair banged out three hits including a home run Saturday to lead the Baltimore Orioles to a 5-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

Cuellar, 5-3, lowered his ERA to 2.71, the best among Oriole starters and was supported by a lusty 14-hit attack.

Tigers 5, Tribe 4

DETROIT (UPI) — Willie Horton negated a two-run homer run by Charlie Spikes in the top of the eighth with a three-run blast of his own in the bottom of the inning Saturday to give the Detroit Tigers a 5-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Spikes' sixth home run of the season followed a single by Oscar Gamble and came off Luke Walker, who nevertheless gathered in his first American League victory in relief.

Cubs 5, Cards 4

CHICAGO (UPI) — Billy Williams' two-run homer, his seventh of the year, triggered a three-run third-inning off Bob Gibson Saturday and the Chicago Cubs held on for a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a nationally televised game.

Gibson, who lost for the fourth time against three wins permitted only six hits but an unearned run in the third inning proved to be his eventual downfall.

Dodgers 9, Giants 5

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bill Russell's three-run homer capped a six-run first inning rally Saturday that started the Los Angeles Dodgers on the way to a 9-5 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Russell's homer came off San Francisco starter Ron Bryant, who gave up five hits and all the first-inning runs. He was replaced by Jim Willoughby, who gave up two more runs in the second inning.

Steve Garvey drove in two runs for Los Angeles with a double in the first inning and a homer in the seventh, his 11th of the year.

Cantrell Takes First Place In Pigeon Racing

A silver cock owned by Jim Cantrell flew 950.73 yards per minute and captured first place in the Roswell, N.M., to Pampa pigeon race Saturday.

The race was held by the Top O' Texas Racing Pigeon Club. Next Saturday, the birds are scheduled to be released from Tucson, Ariz.

Saturday, the pigeons were released at 7:30 a.m. Cantrell's pigeon landed at 3:16 p.m.

R.W. McPhillips won second place with a dark check cock, which missed first by two-thirds of a yard per minute as the bird flew 950.11. Clyde Neal took both third and fourth with a red check cock and red check hen, flying 947.77 and 918.26 respectively.

Brew 9, Sox 2

BOSTON (UPI) — John Briggs smacked a pair of two-run homers Saturday as the Milwaukee Brewers regained first place in the American League East with a 9-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The loss snapped a six game Boston winning streak and dropped the Red Sox from first place after a one-night stay to third place in the tight AL East.

Valdes Becomes Middleweight Champ

MONTE CARLO (UPI) — Colombia's Rodrigo Valdes knocked out Philadelphia's Benny Briscoe in the seventh round of their 15-round contest Saturday to win the vacant World Boxing Council (WBC) world middleweight title in his first attempt.

The 27-year-old Valdes, who fights out of New York, nailed Briscoe with a left hook and, as the American staggered back, followed up with a right cross which sent him to the canvas.

Briscoe got up at eight but staggered straight into the arms of English referee Harry Gibbs who counted him out.

Valdes immediately said he wanted a fight with World Boxing Association (WBA) middleweight champion Carlos Monzon of Argentina, whose refusal to defend his WBC title set up Saturday's $50,000 openair match in Monaco's Louis II soccer stadium.

The 31-year-old Briscoe, who weighed in at 157 1/2 pounds to Valdes' 157 1/2, lived up to his name of the "Philadelphia Robot."

He opened with a series of left and rights, swinging hooks to Valdes' body in the first round, but the Colombian suddenly caught him with his left hook, sending him staggering across the ring and taking much of the steam out of the American for the rest of the fight.

Valdes, who boosted his win-loss record to 50-4-2, switched his tactics in the third round. He circled Briscoe, flicking out a left jab for half the round, then suddenly came inside and started slugging it out toe to toe.

Neither man managed to gain the upper hand in these encounters but Valdes was always the more scientific in his punching.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought To You By B.F. Dorman

Here's an interesting point to think about... Whenever a father - or anyone - teaches a youngster how to hit a baseball, they always say to put your hands together on the bat... Yet, did you know that two of the greatest hitters in the history of baseball used a different way of hitting?... Both Ty Cobb and Honus Wagner batted with their hands separated on the bat... They each had one hand spaced apart a few inches from the other on the handle of the bat... Isn't it strange that no one tries to bat that way today?... Cobb had the highest lifetime batting average of all-time, .367 and Wagner's was .329.

TEE-OFF TID-BITS

By Hart Warren

Another season is in full swing at the Pampa Country Club, and sports writer Paul Sims has asked me to submit my column again for this summer.

Of course, the big news right now is the new automatic watering system, completed over the winter. With this new system, we are able to put 1,360,000 gallons of water per night on the course.

The only drawback is the new reservoir to the right of the number one which has taken its toll of new balls.

The upcoming summer will prove to be our largest tournament schedule in several years. Three major tourneys are on the agenda. They are the Men's West Texas June 20-22, the Tri-State Seniors July 22-26 and "the big one", the Top O' Texas Aug. 30-Sept. 2.

Several club events such as the Ladies Championship, the three-day Ladies Panhandle, where ladies from all Panhandle cities compete, and numerous Scotch foresomes and selective shot events are planned.

It should be a successful golf season.

Are you a safe hunter? Could you pass the test? Find out. Put your name on the list for the next hunter safety class to be held by Texas Parks and Wildlife instructors.

The hunter safety program helps each student learn safe gun and bow handling, hunting ethics and responsibility, laws and regulations, game identification, survival and first aid, and the concept of a quality outdoor experience, whether or not a limit is bagged.

Every state trains hunters on a voluntary or mandatory basis. Texas has a voluntary status. However, if you are going to hunt in Colorado, Montana, Oregon or fourteen other states, and you were born after January 1, 1949, you will be required by law to have successfully completed an NRA Hunter Safety class.

Last year, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department wardens were asked by prospective young hunters to certify them for out-of-state hunting requirements just before the hunting season started. Many of these young hunters did not get to go to a state requiring an NRA hunter card, due to the lateness of their request. Don't get caught without your hunter safety card this year.

Records prove most firearm accidents result from a lack of hunter safety knowledge or the failure to apply it. Statistics from states with strong hunter safety training programs show a substantial reduction in hunting accidents.

Hunters contributed over $2.2 billion toward conservation in the United States in less than fifty years. The purchase of federal duck stamps, guns, ammunition, and hunting licenses is responsible for $145 million a year used by the Federal government to purchase and improve wildlife acreage and to protect both game and nongame species.

For registration information on hunter training, contact the Lubbock office of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department at 4821 Avenue Q., or the Amarillo office at 3802 South Bowie.

Miller Inks With OSU

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI) — Lindy Miller, a possible successor to Ben Crenshaw in amateur golf, Saturday signed a letter of intent to play at Oklahoma State University.

Miller has won 20 major high school, amateur and junior crowns during his career at Arlington Heights High School in Fort Worth.

"What can you say when you get a young man like Lindy," Cowboy golf coach Mike Holder said. "He's one of the nation's best young golf prospects, a topnotch student and a grand young gentleman."

"Along with the two outstanding freshmen we had this year (Tom Jones and Jaime Gonzales) I definitely feel we have the makings of an NCAA championship team," Holder said.

He said Miller picked OSU over major golf schools such as Texas, Houston, Florida, North Texas, Wake Forest and Louisiana State.

Miller, who won't be until July, recently won his second consecutive Class AAAA state high school title and last August won the Texas juniors crown in an 18-under total for 72 holes.

Meramac College Wins In 1st Round

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (UPI) — Meramac Junior College of St. Louis, Mo., set a new tournament record with three home runs in one inning en route to a 12-6 win over Mitchell of Statesville, N.C., Saturday in the first game of the National Junior College Baseball Tournament.

Meramac's Steve Viehos, Mike Murphy and Tony Berlyski each hit home runs in the eighth inning off two pitchers to account for four of the eight runs.

Raven Found Guilty Friday

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A jury Friday night found former high school football coach and athletic director Travis Raven guilty of engaging in prostitution — a misdemeanor — but acquitted him of the more serious charge of compelling prostitution.

Raven was fined the maximum $200.

He could have received as much as 20 years in prison had the six-man, six-woman jury convicted him of compelling 16-year-old Mary Theresa Lindley to commit prostitution.

Audrey Anne McDonald, 28, Miss Lindley's roommate who was also on trial, was acquitted on all charges.

The five-day trial ended with a bitter attack on Raven by Travis County District Attorney Robert O. Smith in his final argument.

INDY TODAY

Steward—'The Eyes Of The World Are On Us'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Several hundred thousand people lined the downtown streets to watch the annual pre-Indianapolis race parade Saturday and the buzz was about A.J. Foyt's ice-cold nerves in entering two sprint auto races Friday night.

"I really don't understand how he could risk his neck on such a meaningless thing just before Sunday's important race," observed one bystander.

To know A.J. is to understand the Texas millionaire, who guns for his fourth Indy victory when the green flag waves the 33 starters off at noon EDT today.

"I just wanted to let off some tension," said Foyt, after winning both races Friday and collecting his portion of a $15,000 purse. "These sprint kids are tough and I just wanted to see if I could keep up with them."

The winning race team Sunday will earn $250,000 of a million dollar purse. Drivers received final race instructions Saturday from chief steward Tom Binford, who the drivers believe will get them off to a fast and safe start.

Binford displayed a mutual admiration at the drivers' meeting by assuring the wheelman he was certain they wouldn't violate any rules.

"You have 200 laps to race. Don't do it right from the start. Don't make us assess a penalty, which we will if there's a flagrant violation," Binford said. "We had our problems this month, but it's been a good month. None of the starters scheduled are in the hospital and, with a safe race, they'll all be there for the victory dinner Monday night."

Texas 1 Game Away From Elimination In NCAA District Six Playoff Series

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Steve Lacy scored the deciding run on a passed ball in the seventh inning Saturday to give Louisiana Tech a 5-4 triumph over Texas in the NCAA District

6 playoffs and bring the Bulldogs to within one game of a College World Series berth.

A victory in the night game Saturday would wrap up the playoffs for Louisiana Tech while a Texas victory would force a deciding game Sunday.

Lacy opened the seventh with a single, was sacrificed to second, moved to third on a wild pitch by Longhorn reliever Bobby Cuellar and scored on a passed ball by Rick Bradley.

Rangers Nip Twins As Johnson Clouts

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Alex Johnson hit a two-run homer in a three-run eighth inning rally and pulled the Texas Rangers from behind to a 4-3 victory over the Minnesota Twins Saturday.

Rangers and is now 2-1. The loser was lefthander Vic Albury, now 2-2.

Texas pinch-hitter Jim Spencer was ejected from the game in the eighth inning by umpire Jim Evans after loudly protesting a called strike. Mike Hargrove came in with a count of 1-2 and walked.

she raced through the first five games against an unusually erratic Miss Heldman. But from the start of the sixth game, Miss Wade knew she had a fight on her hands.

Although Miss Heldman broke service in the fifth game she was by that time only delaying the inevitable result.

Heldman Loses Out To Wade In Tennis

BOURNEMOUTH, England (UPI) — Britain's Virginia Wade beat Julie Heldman of Houston, Tex. Saturday, 6-1, 36, 6-1, in a match that took nearly two hours to win the women's singles title of the Rothman's $72,000 British Hard Court championships.

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED KARPIN

According to the records of the American Contract Bridge League, the all-time top-ranking player in the United States Congress has been the late Rep. John C. Kunkel, of Pennsylvania. Through the years, Congressman Kunkel had amassed over 3000 master points, with 300 being needed to become a life master, organized bridge's highest award.

When I once asked Congressman Kunkel what his favorite hand was, he gave me today's deal, in which he took a beating. He was sitting South.

North-South vulnerable. South deals.

The bidding:
South West North East
1NT Dbl. Pass Pass

Opening lead: Four of ♠.

East won the opening lead with his king of diamonds, after which he played back the diamond three. South put up the ten, West's jack winning. The diamond ace then felled down South's queen.

West returned his remaining diamond, East's seven-spot taking the trick as South discarded a club. At this point, East did not cash his high diamond. Instead, he shifted to the jack of hearts.

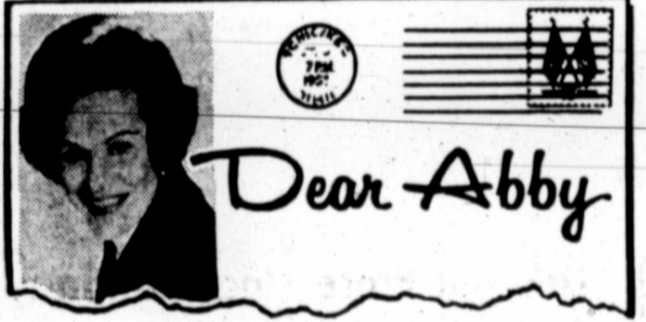

South covered this lead with his queen, and West's king captured the trick. West returned a heart, East's nine being taken by South's ace. Kunkel next laid down the club king, East's ace taking the trick.

East now cashed his high eight of diamonds, South discarding the ten of clubs while West discarded the spade six. Next came the ten of hearts, everybody following suit. East then following his thirteenth heart — and Kunkel had a serious problem.

His last four cards were the K-J-10 of spades and the queen of clubs. West held the A-Q-9 of spades and the club jack. If, on East's heart lead, Kunkel discarded his queen of clubs, he would make a winner out of West's jack. So, as a lesser-evil, he tossed away his ten of spades. West, on this lead, discarded the jack of clubs.

East now played back a spade, trapping South's K-J, and enabling West to capture the last three tricks. All Kunkel made was one trick, the ace of hearts, and suffered a loss of 1700 points, owing to circumstances beyond his control.

After the score was recorded, I have the feeling that Congressman Kunkel folded up his tent and silently stole away. His favorite hand? I still don't believe it.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I never thought a successful businessman would have to write to Dear Abby for advice, but here I am with the rest of the schnooks.

I am a 56-year-old Southern gentleman who lost his wife a year ago. (No children.) I put my house on the market and fell in love with the real estate agent. She's a sophisticated, 42-year-old divorcee who can turn me on with a look. I knew she was for me an hour after I met her.

I took her to New York, and we stayed at the best hotel (separate rooms). We saw five Broadway shows in as many nights and had a wonderful time. I took her to a jewelry store, hoping she would pick out some rings, but she ended up with a diamond wrist watch instead.

All the time I wined and dined her I never laid a hand on her because I wanted her to know I was a real Southern gentleman whose intentions were strictly honorable.

When we got home, she told me she couldn't marry me because the "chemistry" wasn't right. (Now what the heck does that mean?) She returned the watch and asked me not to call her anymore. Abby, I love this woman. How can I win her over? VIRGINIAN

DEAR VIRGINIAN: You can't. The lady is looking for sky rockets, Roman candles, gypsy violins and goose bumps. In other words, YOU don't turn HER on. Don't waste precious time brooding. You have a lot going for you, so get going.

DEAR ABBY: After being married to Dudley for 30 years I suppose I should accept the fact that he isn't the most demonstrative man in the world, but something has come up that bothers me.

A few months ago we got a dog, and since then nothing has been the same around here. Dudley calls the dog all the pet names he used to call me. He even pats the dog on the same spot he used to pat me.

Abby, I need a little affection, too, but I am being ignored. When I complained, Dudley said: "Don't tell me you are jealous of a dog?" Well, I am, and I'm not kidding. Any suggestions? SECOND FIDDLE

DEAR SECOND: Put up a bowl and ask Dudley to please treat you like a dog. And if he refuses, bite him in the leg.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter-in-law steals things from our home. Before we put locks on all our doors and windows, steaks and other foods disappeared from our freezer. Our son (her husband) mentioned casually that they were having steaks so often he was tired of them. In the spring about half of my canned fruit disappeared from my basement fruit room. Their daughter (age 10) said: "It seems like we have just as much fruit as when you canned last summer." Her mother blushed and tried to smush her up.

We spoke to our pastor about this, and he said he thinks our son knows his wife takes these things, but that he's trying to cover up for her. That's hard for me to believe. Our son wasn't raised that way.

The last straw was when they were here for Sunday supper and my daughter-in-law was helping me with the dishes afterwards. She kept hanging around the silverware drawer. After she left, I noticed three forks and four spoons were missing.

I am praying constantly for this girl. How can I help her? She can't be right in the head. WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Between prayers, have a talk with your son. You are wise and compassionate to realize that something is wrong with the woman. She needs to be examined by a doctor.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, MAY 26

Your birthday today: Finds you in the midst of personal reorientation, the changing and realignment of your goals and directions, in both spirit and deed. This promises to be an eminently successful year of growth and emotional independence. Every relationship is up for review and must evolve as you change. Today's natives are generally rebellious of character, frequently seek either to oppose or to improve upon the existing order of society.

Aries (March 21-April 19): Pleasant excitement prevails on this active Sunday. You have many things to do and it's up to you to get started bright and early.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): You'll be disappointed if you're expecting too much, too soon to a romantic attraction. You have a place to fill in local affairs—do it gracefully.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Seek serenity in a calm or solitary path for at least part of this busy Sunday. Give those you love space and time to work out their moods and conflicts.

Cancer (June 21-July 21): Intellectual pursuits are to be preferred today over emotional contacts. Family plans clash with career activities—try compromise, a little of both.

Leo (July 22-Aug. 22): Promises of support, encouragement in career ventures come in today. Present your own ideas clearly and simply. Travel does not go at all well.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Try to minimize your efforts, doing the least that will suffice to fill your own and others' needs. Strenuous sports, exercises, should be avoided.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): People from distant places with special interests are important in your project today. Strengthen personal contacts, don't neglect anybody, who expects to hear from you.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Cooperation is something to encourage. Reach out for contacts with those who are alone. Unexpected quirks of circumstance are the order of the day.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): If you can keep your sense of humor this can be a fascinating Sunday of many varied incidents. Assume nothing about emotional ties, however. Romance is not favored.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Be conservative and alert as you contribute to the Sunday customs of your community. Tread very softly on the feelings of your loved ones.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Hobbies, creative projects should dominate free time, distract you and others from possible friction. Stick near home base.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Those blessed with home and family are busy, those with less have a special opportunity for inspiration. Events take unexpected turns.

MONDAY, MAY 27

Your birthday today: Finds you beginning to collect the benefits which are a result of your activities over the past several years. Nothing comes easily, so you must continue to work hard. Relationships run slow and smooth for the current year or so. Today's natives nearly always have a strong knack for literature and other use of language.

Aries (March 21-April 19): It's just as well this day is set aside for a holiday, as you've got some personal and family adjustments to reason out. Creative projects around the house are favored.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Give individuals who demand attention a rain check, so to speak. Gather your crowd for fun, music, good food. Make changes as needed to avoid fatigue and stress.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): New contacts are certain. The question is how you select which of them to pursue.

Make the first move to calm any troubled relationship; expect no immediate response.

Cancer (June 21-July 21): Few people work today—if you do, make sure you're well rewarded for what you do. Informal social meetings contain the seed of future enterprises, so take notes.

Leo (July 22-Aug. 22): Personal ventures spread and fill the holiday well, may push aside superficial entertainment or idle wandering. Your friends are full of interesting information.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Take a hard look at your daily living, see its high points and its less satisfying routines. Investigate minor details, facts and figures which aren't clear.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Friends are very helpful. Just don't let them decide your financial arrangements. It's a peacemaker day; make the most of it. Rest in the evening.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Leave business aside, use the holiday for local recreation. Plan minor home improvements. Family conferences agree on long-range plans, quibble over trivia.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Short-distance travel doesn't produce the expected results. Promoting competitive pastimes among your friends keeps you all busy, yields personal satisfaction.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Joint or group action is favored. Make certain all concerned know what's happening in time to share fully. Take a real rest from your work, be fresh for tomorrow.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Cooperative effort is easier, brings immediate returns. Long-lost or mislaid objects turn up in unlikely places. Good teachers for special subjects can be found.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Get on with what you must do. Even though it's called a holiday, some sideline could bring in extra income. You may have time to bone up for a new job activity.

Cotton is being replaced as a bra fabric by cotton blends using manmade fibers. They give better control as well as a fashionable look.

1 Card Of Thanks

JODY BURRELL TO ALL PARENTS "I'll tend you for a little while a child of mine." He said. "But will you love the while he lives and mourn for when he's dead. It may be six or seven years or twenty-two or three. But will you call him back, take care of him for me?" He'll bring his charms to gladden you, and his soul his stay be brief, You'll have his lovely memories as solace for your grief. I cannot promise he will stay, since all from earth returns. But there are lessons taught down here I want this child to learn. I've searched the wide world over in my search for Teachers True. And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes I have selected you. Now will you give him all your love, nor think the labor vain. Nor hate me when I come to take him back again? I fancied that I heard them say: "Dear Lord, Thy will be done. For all this child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run. We'll shelter him with happiness; We'll love him while we may. And for the happiness we've known, forever grateful stay. But will you, the angels call for him much sooner than we'd planned. We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand."

We Appreciate Your Business

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I never thought a successful businessman would have to write to Dear Abby for advice, but here I am with the rest of the schnooks.

I am a 56-year-old Southern gentleman who lost his wife a year ago. (No children.) I put my house on the market and fell in love with the real estate agent. She's a sophisticated, 42-year-old divorcee who can turn me on with a look. I knew she was for me an hour after I met her.

I took her to New York, and we stayed at the best hotel (separate rooms). We saw five Broadway shows in as many nights and had a wonderful time. I took her to a jewelry store, hoping she would pick out some rings, but she ended up with a diamond wrist watch instead.

All the time I wined and dined her I never laid a hand on her because I wanted her to know I was a real Southern gentleman whose intentions were strictly honorable.

When we got home, she told me she couldn't marry me because the "chemistry" wasn't right. (Now what the heck does that mean?) She returned the watch and asked me not to call her anymore. Abby, I love this woman. How can I win her over? VIRGINIAN

DEAR VIRGINIAN: You can't. The lady is looking for sky rockets, Roman candles, gypsy violins and goose bumps. In other words, YOU don't turn HER on. Don't waste precious time brooding. You have a lot going for you, so get going.

DEAR ABBY: After being married to Dudley for 30 years I suppose I should accept the fact that he isn't the most demonstrative man in the world, but something has come up that bothers me.

A few months ago we got a dog, and since then nothing has been the same around here. Dudley calls the dog all the pet names he used to call me. He even pats the dog on the same spot he used to pat me.

Abby, I need a little affection, too, but I am being ignored. When I complained, Dudley said: "Don't tell me you are jealous of a dog?" Well, I am, and I'm not kidding. Any suggestions? SECOND FIDDLE

DEAR SECOND: Put up a bowl and ask Dudley to please treat you like a dog. And if he refuses, bite him in the leg.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter-in-law steals things from our home. Before we put locks on all our doors and windows, steaks and other foods disappeared from our freezer. Our son (her husband) mentioned casually that they were having steaks so often he was tired of them. In the spring about half of my canned fruit disappeared from my basement fruit room. Their daughter (age 10) said: "It seems like we have just as much fruit as when you canned last summer." Her mother blushed and tried to smush her up.

We spoke to our pastor about this, and he said he thinks our son knows his wife takes these things, but that he's trying to cover up for her. That's hard for me to believe. Our son wasn't raised that way.

The last straw was when they were here for Sunday supper and my daughter-in-law was helping me with the dishes afterwards. She kept hanging around the silverware drawer. After she left, I noticed three forks and four spoons were missing.

I am praying constantly for this girl. How can I help her? She can't be right in the head. WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Between prayers, have a talk with your son. You are wise and compassionate to realize that something is wrong with the woman. She needs to be examined by a doctor.

Houston Police Pays Debt To One Of Its Own

By BRUCE E. HICKS
HOUSTON (UPI) — For 22 years the Houston Police Department has been paying a debt to one of its own.

Cecil "Mac" McWhorter sat in his wheelchair at the police station Wednesday and sliced his 51st birthday cake, surrounded by some of the people he worked with when he wore a blue uniform 22 years ago.

His wife, Isabel, wiped away tears watching her husband honored by the friends who never forgot that a patrol car accident left Mac permanently disabled. His right side is paralyzed and his speech and hearing are impaired by resulting brain damage.

"Mac is our man and we're going to take care of him until he dies," said Lt. Ken Garnett, an officer who suffered almost identical injuries in an accident in 1967. "I was fortunate that it was a number of years later and they knew how to treat it then. Mac wasn't so lucky.

"Seeing Mac sitting there, I thought 'There but for the grace of God, sit I,'" Garnett said. "We love Mac. He will always be a brother officer."

Mac spent four years on the force before the Jan. 14, 1952 crash. For the next 30 months he lived in a dark world, unable to talk or move. Slowly he returned from his coma and is now able to talk to his family and friends.

"Of the 300 to 400 people who came down to see him

(at the party) only two or three knew him then," Garnett said. "Policemen are a pretty tight bunch. If one is in trouble or needs some help, no other officer will spare anything to get it."

Now a grandfather, Mac gets a courtesy ride each Sunday in a police car from his hospital residence to the home citizens paid for in the late 1950s.

"The good people of Houston gave me a brick home, with air conditioning, central heat, a car port and everything," Mac said, beaming from his wheelchair.

The city kept Mac on full pay for five years after his accident which occurred while answering a burglary call. He was retired at half pay in 1957.

The Harris County Hospital District has tried to get Mac moved from the county hospital to a nursing home. District officials argued more than a quarter million dollars had been spent on his care, but former Mayor Louie Welch and other public officials criticized the district and Mac kept his hospital bed.

During the rides to his house and around the city, Mac gets to talk to the dispatcher on the radio and recall the days he sat behind the wheel of a blue and white.

In those early days, he drove police chief Carrol Lynn home when the chief was a young patrolman.
