President Opposes Early Supreme Court Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has decided to oppose an early Supreme Court hearing on whether he must surrender Watergate information to the courts. Should Nixon persuade the high court not to intervene in the case right now — as Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski has asked it to — it could mean a delay in the cover-up trial of seven former top Nixon aides accused of plotting to hush up the bugging scandal until well into 1975. The Supreme Court on Friday received Jaworski's request to rule on Nixon's refusal to surrender subpoenaed trial evidence without waiting for an appeals court test. On Tuesday, justices asked the White House to file an "expedited response" within two days on whether the Supreme Court should consider the matter. White House officials quickly signalled the response would be negative.

Carefully Considered
"As far as these cases are concerned, they raise constitutional issues that ought to be carefully considered by the courts and I think it would be appropriate that these matters not be short-cutted," chief presidential lawyer James D. St. Clair told reporters. Added a ranking official at the White House a short time later: "The White House will respond to the application and oppose the Supreme Court taking the case at this time because the White House lawyers feel the issues are of such importance they require utilization of the full judicial process and the issues do not justify short-cutting the judicial process."

Meanwhile, Jaworski applied to U.S. District Court to provide him extra evidence for two grand juries investigating whether there was a criminal White House conspiracy in 1972 to use the Internal Revenue Service to harass its political enemies. He told Judge John J.

Sirica in court papers that the grand juries already have evidence substantiating that suspicion, but now need 17 minutes of tape and notes of a Sept. 15, 1972, Oval Office meeting withheld by Sirica in December on grounds they did not relate to Watergate. He asked Sirica to reverse that December ruling. The meeting involved Nixon and two of his former key advisers, H.R. Haldeman and John W. Dean III. "Allegations concerning the White House's attempt to abuse and politicize the IRS have been and are the subjects of investigation," Jaworski said.

Audit Or Harass
He referred specifically to charges that the White House sent lists of "enemies" to the IRS in September, 1972, with orders that the people "be audited or otherwise harassed" and that in August and September that year the White House "unlawfully attempted" to have the IRS investigate Democratic Chairman Lawrence O'Brien.

In other Watergate developments: — Republicans and Democrats on the House Judiciary Committee caucused separately Tuesday, and both groups urged that committee subpoenas be issued against President Nixon for tapes requested but not received. — The Senate voted to provide its Watergate investigating committee with another $200,000, bringing the panel's total so far to $2 million. — Francis X. Carroll, former Washington, D.C., representative of the Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers of Allentown, Pa., pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court to nonwillfully assisting in an illegal $50,000 contribution by the co-op to President Nixon's re-election campaign. He was sentenced to 30 days unsupervised probation. He was the second former official of the co-op to plead guilty in the case.

FROM COMMITTEE President Facing More Subpoenas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee plans to issue more subpoenas to President Nixon for tapes of his Watergate-related conversations, and the President's lawyer indicated today that Nixon would continue to ignore them. "I have no information that the President's position has changed at all" on the issue, attorney James D. St. Clair told reporters as he arrived for a closed meeting of the committee for hearing more impeachment evidence by the panel's legal staff. St. Clair also said he would not object to having tapes already in the committee's hands played in public sessions. St. Clair he said favored making public "the entire presentation."

Meeting separately behind closed doors Tuesday, Republicans and Democrats on the panel agreed to support the issuance of subpoenas for more tapes when the impeachment committee meets in public session Thursday. Nixon already has defied three subpoenas for tapes, sending transcripts in response to one and nothing in response to the last two. Privately members of both parties concede the new subpoenas are likely to be futile. But they consider the evidence vital, and they don't know how else to get it. They talk, too, of counting it against Nixon as an impeachable act if he continues to "stonewall" the committee. Contempt Citation Republican Lawrence F. Hogan, Md., even said he might support seeking a contempt of Congress citation against Nixon at the end of the line if he doesn't comply. House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes, Ariz., who had said earlier that Nixon might consider resigning, came to the President's defense Tuesday. He called the committee "mesmerized" with tapes. He said tapes were only "hearsay evidence" and the panel should draw its conclusions by taking testimony directly from witnesses — a process that could add months. Members of both parties brushed off Rhodes' criticism. Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said the panel had a "duty" to subpoena vital evidence.

RETURNS TO BAND DIRECTING Harris Brinson Resigns Chamber, PIF Positions

Harris Brinson, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce and director of economic development for the Pampa Industrial Foundation, has resigned to accept a post as band director at Angelo State University in San Angelo, Tex. Brinson, who resigned as band director at Pampa High School to accept the local chamber and PIF job last October, submitted his resignation in writing yesterday to chamber manager E.O. Wedgeworth and the boards of directors of the Chamber and Industrial Foundation. Brinson asked to be relieved of his duties June 15. His resignation was accepted with regret at meetings of the chamber and PIF boards of directors this forenoon. Wedgeworth said both boards expressed appreciation for the work already done by Brinson in laying groundwork to carry on objectives of the newly created post he is leaving. Officials of the Chamber and Foundation said they able to solve — this problem, simply stated, is that I miss teaching and directing bands more than I had anticipated. At the time this position was offered to me last fall there was no doubt in my mind about getting out of the teaching profession. I had no way of knowing that this feeling would change a few months later. After careful consideration for the past several weeks, I feel that the best solution for all concerned is for me to resign my position here and I therefore request to be relieved of my present duties on June 15, 1974, in order for me to assume the position of director of bands at Angelo State University. I am very grateful to the Chamber of Commerce and Industrial Foundation for the confidence shown in me the past months. I certainly hope and trust that this position will be filled as quickly as possible. I feel it is a worthwhile addition to the Chamber and Industrial Foundation and is needed for the continued development of Pampa.

Israel, Syria To Sign Cease-Fire Agreement

LOSER AND WINNER — Longtime Sen. J. William Fulbright, left, lost his re-election bid in primary elections Tuesday to Gov. Dale Bumpers in Arkansas. But political maverick Wayne Morse won the Democratic nomination for senator in Oregon after losing a re-election bid in 1968.

BUT MORSE WINS South Rejects 'Old' Faces In Elections

United Press International — The "New South" turned away from old faces — J. William Fulbright and Orval Faubus — in primary elections Tuesday. But Oregon voters gave new life to the maverick political career of Wayne Morse. The rejection of Fulbright after 30 years in the Senate and of six-time former Gov. Faubus by Arkansas Democrats, along with the defeat of veteran Democratic Rep. Frank Stubblefield in Kentucky, gave mounting credence to the belief that established political figures regardless of party are in grave jeopardy after Watergate. Though Morse is 73 and served 24 years in the Senate, his campaign was tailored to capitalize on the potent issue of integrity in government and on his own long record as a fiery dissenter against establishment politics. Push For Change The victory of Gov. Dale Bumpers in Arkansas was not a surprise because he had been leading in the polls from the start. But Bumpers' majority of well over 60 percent was a crushing rebuff to the 69-year-old Fulbright, who left a university presidency in 1944 to serve one term in the House and five in the Senate. He had gained global prominence as the independent-minded chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a leader of opposition to U.S. involvement in the Indochina war. Bumpers, 48, serving his second term as governor, is regarded as a sure winner in November, although he does have Republican opposition from John H. Jones, a banker. Bumpers is a Southern Democrat who turned away from the racial politics that dominated the party in that region for nearly a century after the Civil War. While relatively unknown nationally, he made a splash in 1970 by whipping Faubus for the Democratic nomination and unseating Rockefeller. Former Rep. David Pryor, another relative newcomer in Arkansas politics, won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination by outpolling Faubus, who became the symbol of Southern resistance to racial change when he tried to block school integration in Little Rock in 1958. Pryor ran well ahead of Faubus and Lt. Gov. Bob Riley in the primary, but his total was barely over the 50 per cent plurality needed to avoid a runoff with the former governor June 11. Another Chance Morse was the favorite in Oregon, but some observers thought the one-time "Tiger of the Senate" might be going to the well one time too many in seeking another chance against Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., who beat him in 1968. Morse went to the Senate in 1944 as a Republican, but left the GOP during the Eisenhower years and styled himself as an Independent for several years before moving to the Democratic side. Like Fulbright, he was a strong opponent of the Vietnam War and was one of only two senators who voted against the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution in 1964. A major upset occurred in the Oregon GOP battle for a nominee to succeed Gov. Tom McCall, prevented by law from running again. State Sen. Victor Atiyeh handily defeated favored Secretary of State Clay Myers. In the Democratic primary, State Treasurer Robert Straub held a narrow lead in a three-way battle for the Democratic bid.

Jerusalem (UPI) — Israel and Syria announced today they had reached agreement on troop disengagement in the Golan Heights. It was a major diplomatic triumph for Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger who shuttled between Damascus and Jerusalem for 32 days. Kissinger's mission had appeared ending in failure Tuesday when he made his 13th and last trip to Damascus, a spur-of-the-moment decision that saved his longest and most difficult mission. He had won a similar agreement between Israel and Egypt early in the year. Final agreement came at an Israel cabinet meeting after a day of last minute telephone consultations with Damascus on minor details. The agreement ends the 79-day-old war of attrition that broke out on the Golan Heights soon after the October 1973 Yom Kippur War ended. It was the first formal agreement Syria had reached with Israel since 1948 when Israel four what it called its war of independence. It is to be signed formally in Geneva, site of the Middle East peace talks thus far boycotted by Syria. Although the agreement ends the fighting much negotiation lies ahead before here is permanent peace. The Soviet Union and Syria said tonight the disengagement agreement must be followed immediately by steps to get an Israeli withdrawal from all occupied Arab territory. The Israeli sources said the breakthrough came Tuesday when Israel dropped its insistence on a Syrian guarantee against Arab guerrilla infiltration from across the frontier and accepted instead a U.S. offer of political support in the event of Israeli retaliation. The agreement was a major diplomatic success for Kissinger, who has roamed the area for 32 days trying to bring it about in negotiations described as harder than those on Vietnam. Israel radio said that if no last minute hitches arise, the agreement was to be announced first in Washington, presumably by President Nixon, and then, simultaneously in Jerusalem and Damascus. Throughout the day, messages passed back and forth between Jerusalem and Damascus with Kissinger trying to get the clarifications sought by the Israeli cabinet. Israeli newspapers said the United States removed one of the final barriers by agreeing to support Israel politically in case it had to retaliate against Arab guerrilla attacks across the cease-fire line with Syria. Syria had refused to give direct guarantees against guerrilla infiltration into Israel from its territory. Israeli radio said planes were standing by to exchange prisoners of war.

The agreement was designed to end the so-called war of attrition on the Golan Heights, now in its 79th day with sporadic artillery exchanges reported, and to pull back the troops from a cease-fire line. Israeli officials said the announcement following the cabinet meeting would be made by Information Minister Shimon Peres, who said earlier that "there are no real differences" between Israel and Syria on the agreement. The agreement is known to provide for an Israeli withdrawal from 325 square miles of Syrian territory captured in the October Middle East war plus a slice of the Golan Heights taken in the 1967 Six-Day War.

Decision Hampers Filing Class Suits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court action hampering the filing of class suits, those brought by one or more persons on behalf of many, today brought expressions of anguish from civil liberties and consumer interests. The court ruled Tuesday that each person readily identifiable as a member of the class must receive personal notice that the suit was filed. The trial court normally performs that chore, but the Supreme Court said under current civil procedure those bringing the action must pay for the notification, an obstacle that may kill many such law suits. An American Civil Liberties Union spokesman said the opinion imposes an enormous burden on those bringing class suits "and may well emasculate class actions." The test case, alleging illegal price fixing, was brought by New York investor Morton Eisen on behalf of all purchasers or sellers of "odd lots" on the New York stock exchange. This group was estimated at about 6 million. The number readily identifiable was about 2.25 million, who could be notified by mail at a cost of $225,000. Eisen's personal stake in the suit was only $70. The court said his suit must be dismissed as now framed, but that he may be able to restate it by cutting down the size of the class he purports to represent. Civil rights spokesman said Eisen's case is far removed from some other kinds of class suits where the group to benefit may be smaller. For instance, an unfair employment practice suit on behalf of black workers in a single plant could go ahead, with notifications being accomplished through the weekly pay envelope, one lawyer said. The court Tuesday also: — Agreed, in a New Jersey case, to decide if broadcasters can announce in their newscasts the winning numbers in state-sponsored lotteries. Other states with lotteries are New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maryland and New Hampshire. — Refused, pending completion of a court suit, to halt official determination of death for 1,150 U.S. servicemen missing in Indochina.

CONDEMNNS GENOCIDE SLA Statement Given To Television Station

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A three-page statement purportedly from the Symbionese Liberation Army was delivered to a television station Tuesday night, the FBI said today. The hand-written statement contained three pages of what the FBI called political rhetoric condemning the murder and genocide of oppressed people and was signed "a friend and supporter of the SLA revolution." Three men, apparently only involved as intermediaries, brought the statement to KABC-TV, the FBI said. Agents said they were not greatly interested in the statement because it appeared to contain no new leads in the hunt for the SLA members still at large — Patricia Hearst, and William and Emily Harris. Although there have been no good new leads in this area, an FBI spokesman said Tuesday, the search is still centered on the Los Angeles region. The Harrises are charged with 19 state and federal offenses, and Miss Hearst with 20, including kidnapping, robbery, assault and weapons law violations. The FBI said a fourth suspected SLA member, Thero Wheeler, is also being sought. Wheeler escaped from the state prison facility at Vacaville about the same time that Donald DeFreeze did. DeFreeze, who styled himself SLA "General Field Marshal Cinque," killed himself after five of his followers died in a gunbattle with police and FBI and the fire that consumed their hideout. Hundreds of FBI agents, supported by local police, are conducting an intensive search for Miss Hearst, who allegedly has become a gun-toting terrorist of the SLA, which kidnaped her in Berkeley Feb. 3.

Elevator Gets Dryland Wheat

GRANDVIEW — The first load of wheat to be received at the Groom Wheat Grpwers Grandview elevator this year was brought in this morning by Gray County farmers Eddie and Holly Gray, elevator operator R.A. Snyder reported. The dryland wheat had a 13 percent moisture rating and weighed 62 pounds a bushel, Snyder said. Estimates are that the Gray wheat will run about 15 bushels to the acre. It is the first wheat reported harvested in the county this year.

Clean-Up Drive To End Today

Pampa's annual citywide clean-up campaign, sponsored jointly by the City and the Chamber of Commerce, was drawing to an end today. City trucks and work crews were finishing a week-long trash pickup in Ward 4. R.B. Cooke, public works director, said eight loads were hauled away in the ward yesterday, making a total of nearly 270 loads picked up in the city's four wards since the drive started May 1.

Tapes Erasure Report Readied For Publication

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A full report on what technicians believe caused the erasure of 18½ minutes from one of President Nixon's Watergate tapes probably will be made public Friday, it was announced today. In a preliminary report Jan. 15, a court-appointed panel of six audio experts said the gap was caused by perhaps as many as nine separate erase and re-record operations, all done manually. The final report is expected to detail the scientific tests that prompted that conclusion. The preliminary report strongly suggested the erasure was deliberate. U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica's office said a judge expects to receive the report probably on Friday and "not later than Monday." The court spokesman said copies would be available at $10 each. The tape involved is of a conversation by Nixon on June 20, 1972 — the first full working day at the White House after the Watergate bugging arrests three days before — with H.R. Haldeman, then his chief of staff.

IN NORTHERN IRELAND

Protestant Strike Ending After Government Falls

BELFAST (UPI) — Protestant strike leaders today announced a "phased return to work," effectively ending a 15-day walkout that forced the overthrow of the first Northern Ireland government to share power with minority Roman Catholics.

Although the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) said its forces were on the alert to protect Catholic districts against attack, the city was calm. The collapse of the coalition appeared to be a setback for moderate Catholics and Protestants attempting to end bloodshed rocking the province for nearly five years.

The Executive — backed by both Britain and the Irish Republic — was the first attempt in 50 years of Northern Ireland history to give Catholics a say in government. Excluded From Power In the past, the province's half-million Catholics — a third of the population — were virtually excluded from power by the Protestant majority.

FBI Holding Bobby Keese For Extortion

SANTA ANA, Calif. (UPI) — The FBI today held Bobby Joe Keese, who has popped up repeatedly in mysterious international incidents including the return of American POWs from North Vietnam, in connection with the unsolved disappearance of a U.S. diplomat in Mexico. Keese, 40, was arrested Tuesday and charged with trying to obtain $250,000 by extortion in the case of Vice Consul John S. Patterson.

Patterson vanished from the consulate in Hermosillo, Mexico, on March 22, and was reportedly last seen getting into a car with a man described as looking like another American. Patterson's wife has said she has tried to deliver a ransom for him, but was unable to make connections.

The FBI said there is no evidence that Keese was connected with the actual disappearance of Patterson, but he is charged with "causing to be delivered" to the consulate a ransom note demanding $250,000. Keese, who gave his occupation as cabinet maker, was arrested by FBI agents outside his home in Huntington Beach on a complaint issued in San Diego, taken before a federal magistrate in Santa Ana and held in lieu of $100,000 bail.

Keese is a native of Wheeler and a former resident of Pampa.

Keese, then a civilian, surprised American officials by turning up among the POWs released by North Vietnam in March, 1973. The State Department said it had no idea the North Vietnamese had a civilian prisoner, although his appearance seemed to confirm a report by a charter pilot in Bangkok that a mysterious American hijacked his plane on Sept. 18, 1970, forcing the pilot at gunpoint to land him on a beach in North Vietnam.

In January, 1962, Keese went AWOL from Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., flew a small, stolen plane to Cuba and asked for asylum. The Castro government sent him back to the United States, where he faced 153 federal charges. He was convicted of interstate transportation of a stolen car, and the other charges were dropped. He said at his trial that he was working for the CIA and the escape was part of a CIA plan to establish his "cover" for future operations. The CIA denied any connection. He served five years and was paroled in June, 1965.

He next turned up among 57 hostages held and released by Palestinian guerrillas in an Amman, Jordan, hotel in June, 1970.

Gasoline Leaks Cause Danger

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UPI) — Thousands of residents remained away from their homes this morning and officials kept electrical power shut off to a large section of New Britain where gasoline that leaked into the sewer system posed the threat of an explosion. New Britain Mayor Stanley Pac said the force of the leaks, which forced 2,500 persons from their homes Tuesday, had been narrowed to three Exxon service stations. Pac declared a state of emergency in an area of two to three square miles during the peak of the crisis Tuesday.

The state Department of Environmental Protection took samples from the sewer and confirmed the gasoline was 90 per cent Exxon, the mayor said. He said tanks at the three stations were drained Tuesday night and the sewer lines treated with a chemical to neutralize the gasoline and prevent the escape of explosive fumes into the atmosphere.

Pac said the gas apparently leaked from old storage tanks, adding, "This can happen when they get to be about 15 years old." The mayor said the danger of explosion was extremely high Tuesday. During the peak of the crisis, a volatile gas detector, on which a reading of 60 is considered dangerous, registered 90 to 100.

He said the 2,500 persons forced to leave their homes could return today if the safety steps proved effective.

'Super Emmys' Shows Televised

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Alan Alda and Mary Tyler Moore, two stars of CBS-TV's Saturday night lineup, won Emmys Tuesday as the best actor and actress in television series in the flawed debut of the "Super Emmys."

The Television Academy abandoned the idea of just one top award for actor and actress, under protest from the performers. Cicely Tyson took the best actress Emmy for a non-series performance for her portrayal of a black woman's life from slavery to civil rights, in the special, "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman," which took the award for the best comedy or dramatic special.

Hal Holbrook won the best non-series actor Emmy for his performance as Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher in the special, "Pueblo."

Alda plays "Hawkeye," one of the irreverent Army surgeons of "M-A-S-H," set in the Korean War, and was also nominated, but did not win, in the dramatic special category for starring in "6 Rms Riv Vu."

Miss Moore, playing a career girl-of-all-work in a Minneapolis television station's newsmag in her own show, won for the second consecutive year.

Awakening Effect Miss Tyson said after the presentation — televised nationally and hosted by Johnny Carson — that "Miss Jane Pittman had an awakening effect" on television viewers.

The only standing ovation of the evening went to retired baseball player Willie Mays, who presented two awards for best sporty program of the season to ABC's Wide World of Sports.

Many of the Emmy winners had been announced previously, in various categories. In an attempt to cut down on past criticisms of the confusing multitude of awards, "best of the year" awards — or "Super Emmys" — were to be announced Tuesday night.

In the supporting player category, where the single top award remained in effect, top honors went to Michael Moriarty and Joanna Miles for performances in "The Glass Menagerie."

The statuette for outstanding music-variety series went to Carol Burnett for her weekly show, and Lily Tomlin took top honors for the best comedy-variety special, "Lily."

"M-A-S-H" took the "best comedy series" award. "Upstairs, Downstairs," a British import, was chosen best dramatic series.

Two Hours The show ran 30 minutes beyond its scheduled two hours to hand out 71 statuettes, with CBS sweeping the network.

Area Museum Seeks Names From Pioneers McLEAN — As a bicentennial project, the Alan Reed McLean Area Museum is collecting the names of all area pioneers and the date of arrival of each in this section of the county.

For a donation to the museum of $25, the names of two to three people who moved to this area 50 or more years ago, and the date of their arrival, will be engraved on a metal plate which will be mounted on a mahogany plaque to be displayed at the museum.

All early day pioneers, whether living or dead, may have their names submitted for inclusion on the plaque. Donations may be sent to the area museum (Box 354, McLean, 79057). The names of the pioneers and the year in which they arrived in this area must be included in the same envelope.

Rep. Joe Salem, D-Corpus Christi, asked the convention to adopt his amendment which he said would prevent Texas from becoming the nation's garbage dump. But delegates rejected the idea.

Salem's amendment would have prohibited importation of any waste material, toxic waste or garbage into Texas from other states for dumping. "We've got enough garbage in Texas already without being the garbage dump of the United States," Salem said.

The delegates also turned down 87-57 an attempt by Rep. Senfronia Thompson, D-Houston, to put language in the new constitution ordering the legislature to adopt an antismoking regulations that would protect nonsmokers from being forced to breathe smoke-filled air.

Clinic Planned On Parenthood Planned Parenthood, located at 615 E. Albert, holds a weekly clinic with a medical doctor present to enable women to receive family planning counseling, a physical examination, a Pap (or cancer) smear, a birth control method if desired, and testing for anemia, tuberculosis, venereal disease and pregnancy. PPH is able to service any women over 18 and, regardless of age, anyone who had a pregnancy and is married. All others under 18 must have written parental consent.

Mrs. Mae Jean Andrews and Irene Dodd are available, except on clinic day, for counseling on family planning, sterilization, problem pregnancy and infertility. For the clinic or counseling Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., call for appointments or for transportation at 669-2291.

This week's clinic will be Thursday at 10 a.m. All clinic services are free, according to Mrs. Andrews.

authority while weakening the power of the chief executive. Rep. John Wilson, D-La Grange, a member of the General Provisions Committee which drafted the provision for removal of officeholders, defended it during Tuesday's debate.

"Impeachment isn't always the best way to remove an official from office," he said. "That's pretty obvious from what's happening in our country today. It's pretty obvious from what's happened in our national government that impeachment is not a very expedient process."

The delegates Tuesday also killed a proposal by Sen. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, that would have declared the state's air, public surface water and public beaches as public trusts and allowed citizens to defend them against pollution through legal actions.

Doggett's amendment, endorsed by environmental groups and the Texas League of Women Voters, failed 90-64 after critics warned that it would open the door for a flood of suits that could delay or block virtually any new construction in Texas.

Delegates Keeping Impeachment Plan AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Constitutional Convention delegates have decided if the Legislature wants to kick a Texas governor out of office, it will have to be done through the impeachment process.

The convention Tuesday turned down 94-55 a provision that would have allowed future legislators to remove public officials from office by a two-thirds vote of the House and Senate, even if those officials had not committed an impeachable offense.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe had opposed the provision and a Briscoe aide said it would be another weapon legislators could have used to strengthen their own authority while weakening the power of the chief executive.

Rep. John Wilson, D-La Grange, a member of the General Provisions Committee which drafted the provision for removal of officeholders, defended it during Tuesday's debate.

"Impeachment isn't always the best way to remove an official from office," he said. "That's pretty obvious from what's happening in our country today. It's pretty obvious from what's happened in our national government that impeachment is not a very expedient process."

Gasoling Shortage Didn't Stop Weekend Travelers

United Press International The gasoline shortage that hit the United States this winter seems to have had little or no effect on Memorial Day weekend travelers, a UPI survey shows. Inspired by reports of fully stocked gas stations, many motorists took the car out for the first long distance spin since the recent crisis faded. Massive traffic jams resulted in big cities when they all came home Monday night.

A key highway interchange at Bay City, Mich., was clogged for hours into the night as returning Detroiters inched homeward at 5 miles an hour. Cars were backed up for 30 miles. "Normal" holiday weekend traffic tieups were reported in Southern California. A spokesman for the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel District said traffic was higher than it was a year ago.

The traffic death toll for the weekend was 390, the lowest in 14 years. A spokesman for Lion Country, a wild animal park

TV In Review

By FRANK SWERTLOW
NEW YORK (UPI) — Wanted: low-keyed newsman who likes the morning shift and who can get along with drowsy viewers. Apply NBC-TV's "Today Show."

Although this advertisement has not yet appeared in a classified section, it illustrates NBC's search for a replacement for Frank McGee, the show's host who died last month.

In recent weeks, Garrick Utley and Edwin Newman have occupied the chair next to Barbara Walters, who recently was named a permanent co-host of the highly successful morning news and interview show.

During the upcoming weeks, temporary co-hosts for the show will be: Tom Snyder, host of "Tomorrow"; Tom Brokaw, NBC White House correspondent; Jim Hartz, an anchor man for WNBC-TV, New York; and Bill Monroe, "Today's" Washington correspondent.

Others will be announced later.

Not Potential Co-hosts
"This is not essentially an audition for these men," said Donald Meaney, vice president of NBC News. "Some are doing it knowing that they are not potential co-hosts."

"Right now," Meaney said, "we must occupy ourselves with looking for someone to replace Frank. These men will give us the time to look and make a decision."

This decision, Meaney said, is more than a few weeks away.

During "Today's" history four men have hosted the program: Dave Garroway, Hugh Downs, John Chancellor and McGee. According to Meaney, the next host will have many of their similarities.

"He will be a solid man with a low-key broadcasting approach," said Meaney. "We don't want anybody to come on strong because he'll hit viewers at a very intimate time."

Court To Hear Written Opinion Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to hear Texas' appeal from a lower court order directing Texas to turn seven multi-member legislative districts into single-member districts.

The court will hear the case and rule by written opinion.

Texas contended a federal district court had adopted an incorrect and simplistic "checklist" of criteria for finding out if multi-member districts were allowed or not.

The legal battle arose from the legislative redistricting plan that grew out of the 1970 census. A group of voters sued, contending the districts varied too much in size and that multiple-member districts watered down the voting strength to minorities such as blacks and Mexican-Americans.

The U.S. district court agreed the Texas House districts varied too much in size, and also ordered single-member districts in Dallas and Bexar counties for the 1972 elections.

On appeal, the Supreme Court reversed the part about the size variations, but upheld the decision on Dallas and Bexar counties, and sent the case back for further lower court consideration, in light of that determination.

Whereupon the original plaintiffs and some new ones challenged multi-member districts in nine areas other than Dallas and Bexar counties, and won a lower court ruling affecting seven of them. That ruling ordered single-member districts in Tarrant, El Paso, Travis, Nueces, Jefferson, Lubbock, and McLennan counties.

It is that ruling that Texas appealed to the Supreme Court. Texas said the lower court's criteria included whether there had been "racist campaign tactics" in the past that defeated minority candidates, and whether district-wide state representatives had shown hostility or indifference to minorities.

Three Area Students Win Cabot Corp. Scholarships

Three of the 20 individual college scholarships which Cabot Corp. presents to children of its employees in the United States and Canada were awarded to area students.

Two of the recipients, Suzanne E. Bond and Tonya R. Lewis, are 1974 Pampa High School honor graduates, and the other area winner was Timothy E. Farley, a 1974 Amarillo High School honor graduate.

Miss Bond is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Bond, Jr., 2228 Aspen. She has earned such special awards as Who's Who in American High Schools, Society of Outstanding American High School Students, chairman of the National Fraternity of Student Musicians, president of the Presbyterian Youth Group, a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa, and first place in the local "Anti-Pollution" contest and second place at the district level.

Organizations which Miss Bond has been active in are Future Teachers of America, Truteen Service League for Girls, and Young Republicans. One of her major interests is music, including piano, organ, voice, and in Pampa High School she was a member of the Concert Choir.

Her hobbies include bicycling, tennis, running, reading, sewing, handwork, and swimming. She will attend the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, where she plans to major in psychology.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton B. Lewis, 2238 Evergreen, are the parents of Miss Lewis. Special recognitions Tonya has received are National Honor Society, Top-Ten Rank in Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow, Honor Certificates for Advanced Classes and nomination for NCTE Achievement Award.

She has participated in such organizations as secretary for the Truteens Service League, French Club, Red Cross and has served as a Vacation Bible School teacher. She was also art editor for the literary high school magazine, editor-in-chief for the annual, and a member of the choir.

Bicycling, dancing, piano, sewing, crafts, poetry, and doll collecting are Tonya's hobbies. Miss Lewis plans to attend West Texas State University in Canyon, with a major in education.

Farley, 3401 Lynette, Amarillo, is the son of Earl F. Farley, plant office manager of Cabot's Pampa Plant. He is a member of the National Honor Society, first place winner in shot put contest, first place in the University Interscholastic League American History Contest, second in speed test in typing (70 words per minute), and second in the Science Fair Contest.

Young Farley lists his major interests and hobbies as hiking, golf, motorcycle riding, swimming, reading, football and track. He has chosen to attend the University of Texas at

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED KARPIN

When today's deal was played in a recent rubber-bridge game, our South declarer incurred a one-trick set because he was not aware of the "safety play" that was inherent in the cards.

Neither side vulnerable. North deals.

♣ Q 10 7 6 4

SOUTH
♠ A Q 9
♥ A K Q
♦ K J 8 5 4
♣ 8 3

The bidding:
North East South West
1♠ Pass 2♦ Pass
3♦ Pass 4NT Pass
5♥ Pass 6♦ Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♠.

West's opening spade lead was taken by South's queen, after which a low diamond was led to dummy's ace. When East discarded a spade on this lead, it was revealed that West had two sure tricks in trumps. Thus declarer suffered a one-trick set.

There can be no doubt but that declarer was unlucky in running into the horrendous 4-0 trump break, with West the possessor of the four outstanding trumps. Had East held them, declarer would have been able to finest against East's queen and ten, and actually would have avoided the loss of even one trump trick. But the fact is that declarer should have fulfilled his contract.

At trick two, declarer should have led his king of trumps. With East failing to follow suit, the four of trumps would be led next. West putting up the ten (if West followed with a low trump instead, dummy's seven would be inserted with the assurance that it would win the trick).

Upon taking West's ten with the board's ace, the nine of diamonds would now be led. South playing low as West captured the trick with the queen. Upon regaining the lead, declarer would cash the jack of trumps, picking up picking up West's remaining trump.

The beauty of declarer's initial lead of the king of trumps is that it would be guaranteed to restrict declarer's trump losers to a maximum of one trick, regardless as to which of the opponents (if either) had the four outstanding trumps.

If, in theory, it had been West who had failed to follow suit to South's initial lead of the trump king, a low trump would be led next to the board's ace. Then would come a third trump lead (off dummy) and East, with the hypothetical Q-10 remaining in front of South's J-8-5, would make just one trump-trick, the queen.

And so our actual South, playing mechanically, tossed away a sure slam contract.

Dear Abby
 If streaking offends,
 just wear blinders

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You hear so much talk about how terrible the young people are, but how about the adults? This new streaking fad is being encouraged by people who are old enough to know better. You can't pick up a newspaper without reading about a streaker. And everyone thinks it's something to laugh about.

Well, last week my 43-year-old husband went to take his usual shower before dinner, when all of a sudden we heard the shower door bang, and in nothing flat here comes my husband running completely naked past me, our teen-aged daughter and two teen-aged sons! He ran through the living room, dining room, kitchen and back to the bedroom. He thought he was being funny. I was furious, and the children were too shocked to say anything.

What do you think about this streaking business?
DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: I think that there is so much to cry about today, that streaking is part of the "anything-for-a-laugh" syndrome. For my part, if something I didn't want to see more of came into view, I'd quickly close my eyes.

DEAR ABBY: I am doing time in a federal penitentiary, and have noticed that you seem to have a sympathetic feeling toward prisoners. I won't go into my history because it would take up your whole column, but I do have a favor to ask of you. I want to study the Bible, but I don't have one. Could you please send me one? I am a Christian. I am not begging, I can pay for it a little at a time. I am black and male, if that matters.
FOUR YEARS TO GO

DEAR FOUR: Your color doesn't matter, but your sex does because I have a friend in Dallas, Tex., who will send a red Bible to any man in prison who wants one, and a white Bible to every female inmate. It comes with instructions on how to study, and it's free. His name is Chaplain Ray. Send me your complete address and I'll do the rest. God bless.

DEAR ABBY: The following story is almost identical to the one described by Loved and Lost, which recently appeared in your column. Only the ending is different. I think it's worth printing.

Mature man in his 40s meets younger charming woman in her 20s. She's sexy, charming, vivacious, etc. A serious emotional involvement follows. After a six months hidden passionate affair the man leaves his wife of 16 years and several wonderful children. He begins a new "heavenly" life with the younger woman, and after one year he finds that she is selfish, moody, materialistic, arrogant and possessive. The situation becomes intolerable, and the love affair is over.

All this time the wife had been getting counseling to help her over this painful experience. I asked if we could try again and this magnificent woman took me back with dignity and nobility. For her the whole miserable episode never happened, and she refuses to hear even one word about it.

Conclusion: There are still women who hold the home and family above their own pride.

PLEASE WITHHOLD MY NAME

CONFIDENTIAL TO B. L.: No one said it better than Sibly Krausz:

"I know what every woman needs
 As she perforce, grows older:
 A true and understanding friend
 To lend a wetproof shoulder,
 And who, when they shall meet again,
 Forgets the things she told her."

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

THURSDAY, MAY 30
Your birthday today: Opens a fluctuating year of many complex growth processes, both material and intangible. If you are willing, you can now touch deep inner sources of spiritual power. Relationships of all sorts encounter favorable conditions, intense experience. Today's natives tend to hold onto what they earn and to reinvest all usable resources immediately.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Your luck is running high, but your ability to persuade others is near minimum. Be attentive to details as you go, as there seems no easy way to correct errors later.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Put in your bid for competitive spots early, pursue them vigorously through this day of mixed influences and crosscurrents. Be careful when using mechanical equipment, handling money, traveling.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: After a slow start, the work of the day takes on a fun quality. News from distant places adds to personal excitement. After hours are great for entertainment.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: There's personal triumph of subtle quality in meeting and coping with today's conditions. Change your usual home routine; gather good friends for a pleasant evening elsewhere.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Early plans must be revised, nothing lost if you will only adapt promptly. Social movement now goes to extremes, merits your close attention. Join the party of the evening.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Today is not a time for paying out lump sums or taking part in secret ventures. Business done openly for standard rates prospers. Make no promises yet.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Be ready with contingency plans, alternative courses of action, as work situations shift. Remember that machines do not care, that people do not always know; play it safe!

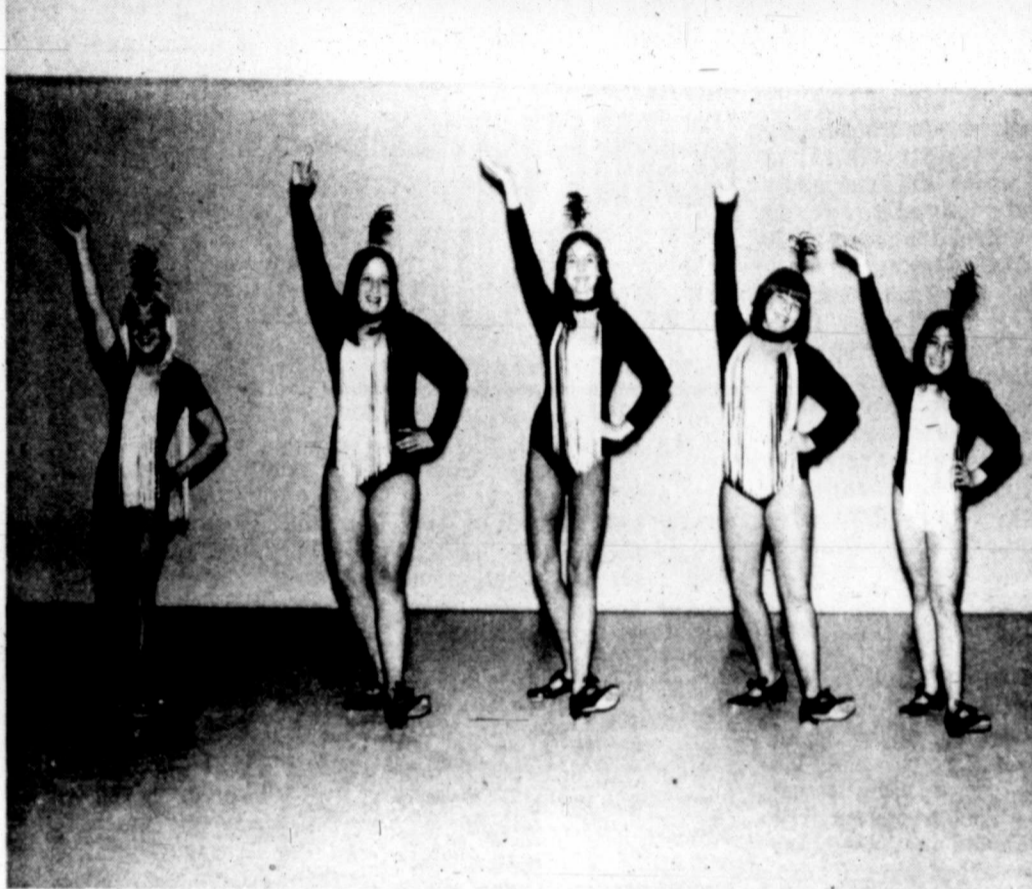

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: The unforeseen is normal today. You'll be proud of your flexibility which comes from having thought out ahead of time what you really want and how best to get it.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Whatever the occasion, expect a passing resistance just on principle, to test whether you really care. Check your budget; find out where small sums are dribbling away.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Competitors come up with new ideas which deserve study before you react. It's well worth the effort. Although important, don't let money be the cause of arguments.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Accept sudden reversals of attitude among your friends as natural, partly a response to your own recent moves. Be more cautious than usual where strict rules must be observed.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Personal concerns run contrary to extra demands from career enterprises. Be choosy in making your selections. There may be some surprises; take them in stride.

TAP ROUTINE — Featured in Madeline Graves annual dance revue will be the tap dance, "California Summer," to be performed by, left to right, Ann Jeffrey, Mary Ellen Rodgers, Melissa Willis, Nickita Kadingo and Judy Rogers. The recital will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the M.K. Brown Auditorium.

WEDDING-ENGAGEMENT DEADLINE
 The following deadlines and procedure on wedding stories will be as follows: For a wedding story to appear in a Sunday edition, information and picture must be turned in to the women's editor by 5 p.m. on the Monday BEFORE the wedding. All wedding stories submitted after that time will appear during the week. Engagement announcements must be submitted by 12 noon Wednesday to appear in Sunday's edition.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Government Versus Private

Far too many misguided people, distressed by fuel prices which have increased in recent months to balance falling supply against rising demand, want the federal government to take over the oil industry lock stock and barrel.

competition within its scope of influence, though largely on its own terms. And the U.S. Postal Service permits competition in the parcel post field and in the carrying of "third class" and "second class" mail, but none, whatsoever, in the categories of "first class" and air mail.

An associate here at the Gazette Telegraph received some papers from an insurance company in Denver which were to be signed and returned. The papers were mailed via the U.S. Postal Service in an envelope to which were affixed twelve 10 cent stamps, for a total of $1.20.

Which brings us to the point we started out to make, which is: If advocates of a governmental take-over of the oil industry imagine the socialization of the industry would result in lower gasoline, fuel oil, and other oil products prices, they are sadly mistaken.

Tax Man's Pot Shot

If President Nixon had the best accountants and legal advice that money could hire, yet couldn't get his taxes right, what chance does the small business man have?

the IRS is not likely to fine-tune him as hard even when it audits. If he is big enough, the cost to accountants and tax attorneys can be justified and add to the "jeopardy of litigation" which serves to soften IRS bargaining. However, if the enterpriser is bigger than small and smaller than big, the price of super-experts would be too big a percentage of his total costs.

Our associate, rather than returning the papers the same way they came, sent them instead, via United Parcel Service, a private enterprise organization, which charged him just 59 cents for the service — slightly less than half the $1.20 charged by the U.S. Postal Service for the same chore — and provided him with a receipt for that amount.

From the IRS standpoint, the "jeopardy of litigation" is slight. Mr. Medium is a sitting duck for the tax man.

OUTRIDER

Mr. Nixon's Little Deceptions

By GARRY WILLS People who buy the edited tape transcripts of White House conversations must be surprised that they can walk off with such a handy little paperback. After all, the Government Printing Office used up over 1300 pages of nearly typewriter-sized pages in its own release of the material. But, of course, that was the problem — these were typescript facsimiles, double-spaced and with wide margins on both sides.

President an awe-inspiring show-and-tell prop for his TV set. (An earlier Watergate speech featured Lincoln and The Daughters in the equivalent camera angle.)

that diplomats would spit in the President's eye to show what they think of Watergate? It seems unlikely — if for no other reason, from respect for Pompidou. Yet the White House talked as if ceremonial courtesy in Paris had become an impromptu referendum on impeachment, a vote that Mr. Nixon won.

DUNAGIN'S PEOPLE

"NOW THAT SIMON IS TREASURY SECRETARY, LET'S PUT IN FOR AN ALLOCATION OF MONEY."

Another recent example of this occurred in Nixon's use of his attendance at the Paris funeral of President Georges Pompidou. Though he was only able to confer with other heads of state for part of Saturday (after the funeral) and part of Sunday (before his afternoon departure), his flacks and tax-paid claquers made it sound as though he saved the Western alliance in eight or ten hours of conference around the unfortunate dead leader's bier.

Maybe so. But what did the White House expect — that journalists Alexander Cockburn has turned up a basic problem in this picture of the American President being processed through more governments than you or I know anything about.

Well, what is a Captain Regent of San Marino more or less? Or even Seven Missing Heads of State (great title for a novel)? Nixon was speaking in round numbers, even if he missed one or two of the 28 actually there. Say he saw well over 20. He was only exaggerating by a third or so.

But that is the point. Why go for the extra few presidents or premiers in the first place?

RIDING THE WAVES

PREFERS COMMUNISTS? Conyers' Hatred For Nixon

BY VICTOR RIESEL WASHINGTON — There's nothing flamboyant about the soft-voiced 45-year-old bachelor, Congressman John Conyers, Jr. — except his violent hatred for Dick Nixon and his intense passion for coalition with left-wingers, former Communists and at least one current member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party U.S.A.

the anti-Communists. He sure knows the "C.P." record in Detroit and what they tried to do (and did for a while) to the big United Auto Workers.

with the Nazis in the very early '40s. And there is another, equally grave issue. It seems to me John Conyers, who as a member of the House of Representatives should be speaking for all the people, is using Watergate to whip up racial hatred.

Conyers, who would have the House Judiciary Committee, of which he is a member, investigate the U.S. in general and the White House in particular, sets his own rules. If one discusses him, his record, his friends' activities and their Communist records, one is swiftly denounced as a "racist" and oppressor of the working class. To refer to old FBI dossiers on his political ally, Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, is to face the Congressman's full fury, oral bromstone and power.

He has gone before many black groups with his cookie-cutter attacks on racism. He is using this to push himself higher in his Democratic party. He has his eye on a Senate seat. He pokes into the United Auto Workers internal politics.

He has a safe seat in Michigan's First Congressional District. He could use his soft voice, his place in the Black Caucus to bring the races together. Yet here he is using the Watergate tragedy as a tool for trying white and black people apart.

After carefully perusing Congressman Conyers' recent hell-and-fire speeches, many of which sound brutally chauvinistically anti-white to me, it's evident he would like to impeach President Nixon merely for breathing. Though Conyers is a member of the National Advisory Council of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) he hasn't granted the President of the U.S. an iota of the right to due process which the ACLU has to Nazis, Fascists and Communists.

Conyers has been attacking American multinational corporations. But he strides to the same speaker's platform with Angela Davis, whose party is a section of the most brutal multinational operation the world has known and which joined

For years now he has chosen strange alliances — so his pre-conviction of Dick Nixon hardly is surprising. Actually, he's not even very kind to Sens. Hubert Humphrey, Walter Mondale and Ted Kennedy, whom he finds "all confused."

Western Europe as a whole was averaging 10 percent inflation at last count and the figures will be higher when all of 1973 is in; worse, 1974 inflation rates are climbing faster. Japan's rate was 23 percent, Switzerland's 12 percent and Strange as taking the trouble to fly into Detroit May 10 to join a member of the Communist Party U.S.A. Central Committee and others to whip up a typical radical rally. That member is Angela Davis.

World inflation such as we have today led to the Great Worldwide Depression of 1928-1940. Only World War II ended that depression. War is too high a price to pay to end inflation. The people must cause their governments to stop inflating money and credit before another worldwide economic collapse destroys industrial civilization.

Conyers, speaking that day for the National Alliance Against Racism and Political Oppression, called for a great coalition against Watergate-ism, racism and oppression.

He averred he would stay the weekend with the coalition leaders to organize a "struggle against the system of racism and repression that spawned Watergate."

Although White House aide Ken Clawson said Nixon "will not quit even if hell freezes over," he rushed an order for double-thick thermal business suits.

CONSERVATIVE ADVOCATE Conservatives Given High Ranking In Poll

BY WILLIAM RUSHER Senator Jesse Helms, the North Carolina Republican, is by any standard a conservative. His ACU (or conservative) vote rating is 96 out of a possible 100; he has managed to please the AFL-CIO only 18 per cent of the time.

prescription for political action. In strictly partisan terms, the Democratic party today claims the allegiance of many more Americans (42 per cent) than the Watergate-tainted GOP (24 per cent).

What with Watergate, the Agnew resignation, etc., you might expect to find Senator Helms downhearted these days. On the contrary, Jesse Helms thinks he sees a formula for a whole series of conservative victories in the years ahead.

But Dr. Gallup's amazing statistic has some very definite political implications all the same, and Senator Helms was quick to note them:

In a speech at a recent dinner in Washington, the amiable ex-radio commentator (who was elected to the Senate only in 1972) pointed to a recent Gallup Poll whose result he found startling. So, apparently, did the liberal press: Helms said he found the story buried on page 20 of his newspaper, next to a small item headed "Smallpox Deaths Rise in India."

"What do you suppose would happen, ladies and gentlemen, if a serious movement were launched to realign the political parties in our country — a movement that offered the majority an opportunity to unite, and to work together?"

Dr. Gallup, it seems, has made it a point over the years (ever since 1936) to ask whoever it is he asks whether they consider themselves liberal or conservative. Not Democrat or Republican, mind you: just liberal or conservative. And the latest version of his annual survey is an eyeopener. Right now, in the trough of Watergate and related despairs, only 26 percent of the American people call themselves liberal. Another 36 per cent are undecided. And a thumping 38 per cent describe themselves as conservative.

It is not a new idea, of course, but in the wake of Watergate and the possible impeachment of President Nixon, it is fair to ask whether the time may not be near for America's conservative majority to jettison the heavy baggage of a discredited and largely meaningless label and assert its political clout through the medium of a new party.

More over, if the undecided 36 per cent are forced to choose only between the liberal and conservative labels, the resulting totals for the population as a whole are 41 per cent liberal, 59 per cent conservative — the highest conservative percentage in the entire 38-year history of the Gallup Poll.

The difficulties of such a course should not be underrated; indeed, they can hardly be exaggerated. Our two great parties have more lives than a cat — as the Republicans demonstrated after 1964, and the Democrats after 1972. Powerful traditions, compelling interests, tend to keep voters in their ancestral homes. But no purely human institution is immortal, and the Republican party man, strictly as a label, be more trouble to save than it's worth. What we need now are national leaders capable of launching and championing a new conservative party. Senator Helms, who started out as a Democrat and turned Republican, is plainly ready to keep moving.

Now, surely that is an extraordinary datum, if we are to believe even half of what our print and electronic media tell us. In 1974, after all the "White House Horrors" — here, in the very midst of what any leftist would assure you ought to be the Greening of America — George Gallup finds the prestige of the word "conservative" at a record high.

"No people ever yet benefited by riches if their prosperity corrupted their values." — Theodore Roosevelt

THIS 1974 Chrysler New Yorker Brougham is one of the many products Doug Boyd Motor Company, 811 W. Wilks, has to offer Pampa area residents. Pampa car dealer for 14 years, Doug Boyd is the first in Pampa to carry a complete line of Chrysler products.

Doug Boyd Motor Company Offers Full Line Of Chrysler Products

With a "real good staff" and 14 years experience in the used car business in Pampa, Doug Boyd offers a complete line of Chrysler Products, the first in Pampa.

Located at 811 W. Wilks, Doug Boyd Motor Company features a four car showroom and a half block area of Chrysler, Plymouth, and Dodge cars and trucks.

Boyd carries the Chrysler line of power wagons and medium duty new or used trucks.

Dodge trucks possess the electronic ignition system, which is standard on all 1974 models, newer fuel system, fewer filter replacement, fewer front end lubes, fewer air cleaner replacement and exceptional transmission service.

He also carries the Dodge pickup line consisting of the conventional cab and the club cab with optional auxiliary jump seats, a crew cab with a six man capacity.

The club cab, the one ton model, has double wall construction, effortless fuse change, Dodge owns 30 year experience in manufacturing top of the line four wheel drive trucks.

Dodge trucks have the standard electronic ignition, electronic testing of the engines and solid state voltage regulators.

Improved over the 1973 model, medium duty trucks possess an integral steel grille and a large cooling opening.

For out-of-town customers, Doug Boyd offers a loan car service while the customer's car is being serviced.

Office staff members for Doug Boyd Motor Company include Margaret Dowdy, head bookkeeper and Helen Seitz, secretary.

Salesmen are Harold Starbuck and Wes Stucker while Gene Hutchison heads the cleanup department.

Northeast Crisis Becomes Economic

United Press International The energy crisis in the Northeast has become an economic crisis and its long term effects on individuals and businesses is just beginning to be felt.

There were no cold homes or power blackouts as feared this winter on the East Coast and with the lifting of Arab oil embargo lines at gas stations have grown fewer and shorter.

Energy is available — if you can afford it. The economic impact of sky-high oil costs—which have doubled in the past year—is being felt across the nation. But nowhere is the impact greater than the Northeast, and New England in particular, where three quarters of the power plants, heating units and factories run on oil.

Oil Price Jumps According to the oil buyers guide, the price of one-per cent sulfur residual oil used by electric utilities and industries has jumped on a contract purchase basis 280 per cent in the past year—from $4.24 to $11.87 per barrel.

During the same time period home heating oil prices on a cargo-load, contact basis rose 106 per cent from 11.95 to 22.5 cents per gallon at New York City, according to the guide.

The cost of gasoline on a spot purchase basis in New York has increased in the past year from 25 to 41 cents per gallon for regular. The price does not include state and federal taxes.

Regions of the country which product substantial amounts of energy from relatively low priced coal, natural gas and hydroelectric sources are not as adversely affected by these oil prices as the East Coast.

Electricity Highest The largest discrepancy in energy costs between the Northeast and other regions is for electricity. The New England Electric System, a private utility holding company, estimates that the cost of electricity in the six-state region is about triple the national average.

The cost of electricity in New England now averages between $1.50 and $2.50 per BTU compared to 50 to 70 cents in the country as a whole.

The situation has become so acute that government officials and electric companies representatives have requested federal action to equalize fuel costs across the nation in keeping with the Emergency Energy Act of 1973 which states that no region should be forced to suffer more than any other from the energy crisis.

In a letter to the Federal Energy Administration, Massachusetts Public Utilities Commissioner Robert L. Meade supported the New England Power Pool's (NEPOOL) request that the Federal government act to equalize energy costs.

He Is Alarmed "The economic effect of the unconscionable increases in the cost of oil to New England utility and industrial companies has already had an alarming effect on the entire economy of the Northeast," Meade said.

"If meaningful and immediate steps are not taken, the effect on the citizens of New England and their economy will be nothing short of catastrophic."

Meade said "utilizing the domino theory of economics, we could well be faced with a national economic crisis the like of which the nation has not seen since 1929."

THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS

...it tells you how

One of MOTHER's friends, Edwin R. Pugsley, would like to pass along the following recipe to all MOTHER's readers. It's for Breakfast Bread and it goes like this:

- 2 cups buttermilk
- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/4 cup molasses
- 2 teaspoons soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1-1/2 cups whole-wheat flour
- 1/2 cup of wheat germ
- 1 cup white flour
- 1/4 cup raisins (optional)

Mix together the buttermilk, honey, molasses, soda and salt. Then, in another bowl, combine the whole-wheat and white flour and add that blend to the buttermilk mixture. Stir in the raisins and pour the batter into a 9-X-5-X-3 loaf pan. Preheat your oven to 400° F.; turn it back to 350°, slide in the pan and bake the bread for one hour. Turn the loaf out, inverted, on a rack to cool... and wait one day before slicing and toasting this breakfast bread.

TV Notes

NEW YORK (UPI) — ABC has set Jan. 6 as the premiere date for "AM America," a new weekday early morning program broadcast live from 7 to 9 o'clock. Central and Mountain Time zones will get it as a mixture of live and tape, and the Pacific Coast will get a tape feed. It will be a topical news program with emphasis on feature treatment.

For the summer, beginning July 7, the CBS "60 Minutes" program with Mike Wallace and Morley Safer will move from 6 p.m. to the 9:30-10:30 spot Sundays, replacing the "Barnaby Jones" series. Beginning July 6, the latter will occupy the 10-11 Saturday space.

Screen star Angie Dickinson has been signed by NBC for the leading role in its "Police Woman" series due in the fall from 10 to 11 on Fridays. It is her first video series assignment, but the character she plays is a spin-off from a role she played in one of this season's "Police Story" episodes.

The CBS summer realignment brings in four musical programs of the mini-series category. "Bobbie Gentry's Happiness Hour" leads off June 5 for a four-week run in the 8-9 p.m. Wednesday spot. "Tony Orlando and Dawn" takes over for four weeks beginning July 3, to be followed for five weeks, beginning July 31, by "The Hudson Brothers Show." On Aug. 2, the 8-8:30 p.m. Friday slot will be filled by a revival of "Your Hit Parade," in for five weeks. Jack Gaver

1040 U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. As part of the property settlement of my divorce, I'm transferring stock to my wife. Will I be taxed on the difference between my basis in the stock and its appreciated value on the day of the transfer?

A. Yes. You realize a taxable gain equal to the difference between the appreciated value and your basis in the stock.

Q. I filed my return just before the April 15th deadline. When can I expect my refund?

A. If there are no mistakes on your return that might delay processing, it normally takes about six weeks after a return is filed. It might take a little longer to get your refund, however, due to the large volume of returns filed in April.

Q. I'm a doctor. I recently received a brochure promoting a Caribbean cruise during which professional matters are to be discussed. Is the cost of the trip deductible as a business expense?

A. If your primary purpose in taking the cruise is a vacation, the cruise is considered personal in nature and the expenses incurred are not deductible. However, if you engage in business activities while on such a vacation trip, any expenses incurred specifically for business activities are deductible. For example, the properly allocable cost of a series of lectures on business or professional subjects you actually attend on the cruise may be deductible.

Whether a cruise is primarily personal depends upon the facts in each case. An important factor is a comparison of time spent on business affairs and time spent on personal activities. Deductions claimed for cruises where little time is devoted to professional or business activities are checked carefully by IRS examiners to determine whether the expenses are properly deductible. You are required to substantiate the amount of time spent on business activities.

Q. What interest does IRS charge on taxes that are not paid when due?

A. Interest at the rate of six percent a year is assessed on the unpaid balance from the date the tax is due until it is paid. In addition, a penalty of one-half of one percent of the unpaid taxes is imposed for each month, or part of a month, beyond the due date that the tax remains unpaid, up to a maximum of 25 percent.

Court Okays Determining Dead

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today refused to stop military authorities from determining whether 1,150 servicemen missing in Southeast Asia are dead.

Several families of the missing men want the practice stopped until the court can rule on their contention the secretaries of the armed services have no right to determine death without absolute proof.

Marshall refused to stop the Pentagon on May 13 but the next-of-kin challenging the determinations took their case to Justice William O. Douglas, who turned it over to the court itself.

The families wanted the high court to stay the effect of a ruling by a three-judge federal panel in New York City allowing the death determinations to continue under certain guidelines.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Ada's confession shows one of the splendid "fringe benefits" of the modern newspaper! Multiply it by thousands of other cases and you can easily see why journalism even exceeds the helpful counseling that Dr. Fosdick mentions!

CASE A-645. Ada S., aged 19, is a college coed. "Dr. Crane," she began, "your newspaper column saved my life!"

"And I'm not joking!" "For when I was a high school sophomore, I had no friends and looked like that waddling walrus you often mention."

"I weighed 167 pounds though I was only 5'3" tall. "So I was a typical wallflower and withdrew from social affairs."

"One day I was so blue and hopeless that I actually decided to commit suicide."

"I planned to do it after I went to bed. "But your column in our evening newspaper that very night described one of your Northwestern University coeds who was almost my twin."

"And you said within 6 months, she was elected popularity queen and had shed 40 pounds by use of your 'Compliment Club' and your dehydration dieting plan."

"Well, I didn't want to die and had only decided to do so because I felt there was no hope."

"But that newspaper column gave me something to cling to, so I figured I could wait a couple of months before doing away with myself."

"Much to my surprise and delight, I began to win friends easily by paying those 3 honest compliments every day."

"At the end of the 30-day 'Compliment Club' experiment, I was not only finding it easy to engage in conversation with the boys in my classes."

"But I had lost 18 pounds and was down to 149."

"To most girls, that 149 pounds would have seemed terrible but by contrast with my former 167, I felt quite slim."

"So I kept on paying at least 3 compliments per day and also shifted to your 2nd Diet Plan on which I could have 1,200 calories daily and still lose 2 pounds per week. "Before the end of that sophomore year in high school, I had dropped to 119 pounds and was voted the 'Personality Queen' of my class, which included over 200 girls, plus 250 boys."

"Dr. Crane, if a newspaper column could thus save my life and change me into a slender, popular girl, just think how many thousands of other people all over the U.S.A. must have also been saved from unhappiness, divorce and even suicide!"

FRINGE BENEFITS

Ada's case shows one of the wholesome "fringe benefits" of the modern newspaper.

This "Worry Clinic" is just one of several educational columns in this daily newspaper which bring college educations to millions of readers.

Some thoughtless folks still fail to realize the vast counseling value of modern newspapers.

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, famous New York pastor, once stated:

"Preaching is personal counseling on a group scale."

Newspapers likewise offer vast personal counseling, as well as tutoring in current history, medicine, psychology, finance, home economics, needlecraft and many other practical fields.

So send for that booklet "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Worry Clinic, Hopkins Bldg., Mellon, Indiana 47001. Enclose a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Ford Carves His Very Own Path

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Not since Franklin Delano Roosevelt tried to tame maverick John Nance Garner has a President had a tougher time than is President Nixon in holding his vice president in the old corral.

Try as he may, Nixon has just about lost the support of his handpicked vice president, Gerald R. Ford over his Watergate strategy.

Nixon had two recent talks with Ford, hoping to keep him in line with the White House moves against impeachment, or at least to urge the vice president to lower his profile. But to no avail.

The first time, Ford said Nixon advised him not tire himself out by "taking too many trips." Political observers took that to mean that Nixon would like to see the vice president cut down on his speaking schedule during which he frequently urges greater presidential cooperation with Watergate prosecutors and House impeachment investigators.

Ford has expressed the view such resistance by Nixon could lead to his impeachment in the House.

Ford, who is tuned in with Congress after 25 years in the House, has urged Nixon to stop "stonewalling" and to seek a compromise with the House Judiciary Committee. So far, he has not been able to persuade the President to soften his stand even though Ford thinks it will stiffen views of House members who would like to support Nixon.

In a series of interviews and news conferences, Ford says he hopes the President will turn over Watergate material "the sooner, the better."

In summer months, there is usually enough oxygen in water to support fish life, while in winter the oxygen supply is diminished significantly.

Social Security Q & A

(Have you a question about social security? Address it to Howard L. Weatherly, Branch Manager, Social Security Administration, 1541 N. Hobart, Pampa, Tex. 79065. You will receive an answer in this column or by mail.)

By H. WEATHERLY
Q. I injured my leg three months ago. I applied for disability under Social Security, but was denied. My doctor says I should be able to return to work in another six months. Could I receive Supplemental Security Income until I am able to return to work?
A. Based on information you have given, your disability will last only nine months. In order to qualify for disability payments under the Supplemental Security Income program, your disability must be expected to last at least twelve months, therefore you would not be eligible.

Q. I applied for disability under the Social Security program and was denied because I did not meet the earnings requirements, even though I had worked many years in covered employment.

Now, I have applied for Supplemental Security Income payments and have been denied because of excess resources. What do I have to do to get benefits on the money I have paid into the system?

A. Social Security benefits are payable based on the amount of money you have paid into the system, whereas Supplemental Income payments come from a general trust fund and are payable based on need, not how much you have paid into the Social Security Trust Fund.

Q. What is the age range for an individual to qualify for Supplemental Security Income disability or blind payments?

A. Anyone under age 65 may qualify for disability-blind benefits under the Supplemental Security Income if they meet the other requirements.

Spontaneous Collapse Of Lungs

By G.C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you discuss spontaneous collapse of a lung or lungs? I have heard that the collapse can be complete or partial due to blebs that pop, and these blebs are supposed to be a congenital defect.

Since they don't show up in X-ray, it is impossible to know you have them until a lung "blows out."

At what age will this "pneumothorax" most likely occur and what are the chances that it would occur repeatedly? I am confused as to how this can happen to someone who is otherwise healthy, of average weight and exercises moderately.

You seem, except for a minor detail or so, to have a pretty good idea of what pneumothorax, or lung collapse, is all about. As you say, it usually results from rupture of a bleb in the lung after which, like a punctured balloon, the lung more or less collapses and cannot draw much air in.

It most often happens to healthy young males, and most often between the ages of 20 and 40. It most commonly comes after heavy exertion or violent coughing but can occur with sudden changes in pressure — as high altitude flying without pressurization.

Or it may be a complication of such lung diseases as tuberculosis, bronchiectasis or others. Small blebs can be invisible in an X-ray but large ones may be observed. While it is conceivable it could occur in both lungs at once, that is improbable; usually it is just one side. There is a sharp chest pain, then shortness of breath in varying degrees.

The bleb usually heals over, with a little scar formation, and the lung resumes normal action. Whether the accident will happen again is unpredictable. It has been reported to recur in some women around menstruation. It may recur — but many times it happens once and that's the end of it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is recovering from quinsy with the help of an antibiotic. A friend advised that sinus drip can contribute to quinsy. Is quinsy a unique virus or does it develop from other infections such as sinus? This is my husband's second quinsy attack and it can be a very scary experience.

—Mrs. E. E.

Quinsy is an abscess in the area around the tonsil due to infected tonsillitis. You are right. An attack can be scary, since there is usually pain and a high fever. The sufferer often has great difficulty breathing. A person can also lose much of the senses of smell and taste.

The cause is more often a strep germ than a virus. And I doubt whether postnasal drip has anything to do with the attacks. (That implies trouble higher in the nasal tract.) If this is his second attack, it could be time to take a serious look at his tonsils. They may have to be removed.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Last time I had my physical, my doctor told me to take Nitrostat twice a day. I had been taking nitroglycerin only, when I had pain. Sometimes a week goes by without needing it. Is this something new.

—V.S.
Your trouble, obviously, is angina but not particularly severe.

Nitrostat is the brand name of nitroglycerin in a more stable form — has less tendency to lose effectiveness on exposure to air.

I would assume that the two - a - day program your doctor suggests is designed to prevent attacks of angina pain rather than waiting for pain to start before you take medication. Which makes sense to me

What is angina pectoris? Is it dangerous? Is there a cure? If you would like to learn more about angina pectoris, write to Dr. G.C. Thosteson, Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120, for a copy of his helpful booklet, "How To Handle Angina Pectoris." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible. Copyright 1974 Field Enterprises.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

More Riches For Show Business

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The people are spending and it looks like riches for show business this summer.

So get your reservations now, in New York or Las Vegas, so you won't be shut out. The Broadway hit shows are naturally sold out Saturdays — try midweek.

Las Vegas anticipates its biggest summer event, with a room hard to get on weekends even though hotels are rushing additions. Johnny Carson's new asking price is reported to be $250,000 a week (for four weeks): A million a month.

I know there's prosperity because people phone me about tickets for the Andrews Sisters, for "Candide," "Pippin," and for some show down at the Village Gate. They're average customers. A Las Vegas fireman and his attractive wife sat beside me in the Las Vegas MGM Grand the other night watching beautiful "Hallelujah, Hollywood," paying the $15 - a - person minimum.

The Rev. Bob Carey, pastor of the St. Viator Guardian Angel Shrine in Las Vegas, who accepts chips at collection, says chips are coming in nicely; more $5 chips than $20 chips, of course. Hotels no longer accept other hotels' chips so he makes the rounds with his chips to the cashier's cages.

Father Carey is said to be the only man who always comes out of a casino with more money than when he entered.

The summer action gets hysterical here, and in Las Vegas, too, early in June. Frank Sinatra returns to Caesars Palace June 6-19 with his special magic inspiring the Sands to do its best with Lena Horne and Rich Little, the Riviera to present the Smothers Brothers, Edith Carson at the Sahara.

The Riviera on June 9 will be host to the first Entertainment Hall of Fame Awards — winners being Sinatra, Sammy Davis Jr., Jimmy Durante, Elvis Presley and Ella Fitzgerald, with posthumous awards to Judy Garland, Nat (King) Cole, Louis Armstrong, Joe E. Lewis and Sophie Tucker.

Regarding big salaries, Sid Gathrid of Caesars Palace said, "You ask yourself, 'Can we do without these stars?' and our answer is 'We cannot.'" That's why Caesars isn't saying how much it's giving Sinatra for 8, shows a week (two Saturday and two Wednesday). Whatever the figure, it'd like to have him back two more weeks in the fall... probably with a little raise thrown in.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Huntington Hartford wore a moss-green velvet jacket 15 years old, almost as old as his bride Elaine Kay, 22, when they were married by the Rev. Ted Smith at his apartment. His son Jackie and daughter Kathy, both in their 20s, toasted Hunt and their beautiful new stepmom (from Fort Lauderdale). Actor Larry Horn flew from London to be best man for Hartford, who, we noticed, did everything his bride told him to do — and instantly, too.

Grandpa Bert Bacharach was bragging at Jo Copeland's party for Carmel Myers that his granddaughter Nikki, 7, daughter of composer Burt and Angie Dickinson, told her father, "Shut up!" He retorted, "You shut up!" Nikki called back, "That's no way to talk to a 7-year-old child!"

Jackie Mason shrank back in the shadows as his movie, "The Stoolie" opened at the 68th St. Theater, but later he confessed, "I was brilliant, my acting was ingenious and unique." (He was believable)... Pappy Fields was a sensation, too.

Show Biz Quiz: Who played The Four Cohans in the "Yankee Doodle Dandy" film? Ans. to yesterday's: Nobody played the title role in "Harvey" — he was an invisible rabbit.

The Cher-Dave Gelfen romance is reported rocky... Imus, NBC's early morning disc jock, will do a cafe act next month at Jimmy's... Ray Stark's film company, Rastar, will follow "For Pete's Sake" with "The Mystery of Watergate."

A famed entertainer's teen-age dtr. had a hassle with mama and moved out... Liza Minnelli got a Rolls Royce in Lake Tahoe, and had a chauffeur flown from NY to drive it back... Former jockey Eddie Arcaro will do commercials for off-track betting: "That's the perfect way for me to race the races."

I'D RATHER BE LIGHT

Today's Best Laugh: Mickey Rooney's seen "Walking Tall" five times (reports Hal Kanter), but it hasn't helped him a bit. Wish I'd Said That: The computer's a machine that permits business to convert the simple old-fashioned clerical error into a corporate disaster. — Marty Ragaway's "Funny Rury World."

Remembered Quote: "About the only thing that can be achieved without much effort is failure." — Wes Izzard.

Earl's Pearls: Sign in a supermarket: "This place is guarded by shotgun three nights a week. You guess which nights?"

A veteran New Yorker claims the safest place to walk is right on the curb: "Buses never pull up to them, and dogs are never pulled over to them."

That's earl, brother. All Rights Reserved.

BUILDING LOANS
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — More than $2.1 million in loans to United Methodist churches has been approved by the United Methodist Development Funds. The money will be used to finance construction projects.

WOMEN IN CHURCH
ATLANTA (UPI) — Women in the Presbyterian Church in the United States (PCUS) are pressing that denomination for a theological reflection on the role of women in the church. The denomination's Committee on Women's Concerns has asked the Council on Theology and Culture to draft a paper "reflecting the theological understanding of women in the church."

Under Twenty

DEAR ASTRID

By ASTRID CARSON
Dear Astrid: I do not agree with your saying it is all right for a 16-year-old girl to go with a 22-year-old man. —JDM

Dear JDM: we did not say it was all right. We urged the girl to make friends of people her own age. Also, we recognized that some people are more mature than others and an age difference is not always as much as it may seem in mere numbers.

A relationship depends on the individuals involved and their respective personalities have to be taken into account.

Dear Astrid: There is a girl I know who has had sex with her cousin. I love him very much but she really loves him. She says she doesn't like any other girl to talk to him. I know she loves him very much, but so do I. —Worried

Dear Worried: There is enough trouble in that situation without your getting involved. Stay out of it and find yourself another boyfriend. There's no place for you at all in this sticky affair.

Dear Astrid: My boyfriend and I are both 16. We go to different schools. I love this guy very much. Most adults think that at our age we don't know what the word means. Well, they are wrong. Every time I'm around him

I feel really special. Even when I'm not with him I still know I'm his. I don't see him often, but when I do our time together is precious. I know he loves me, too. Since I've been going with him, life looks brighter.

So tell me if this isn't love, what is? —In Love

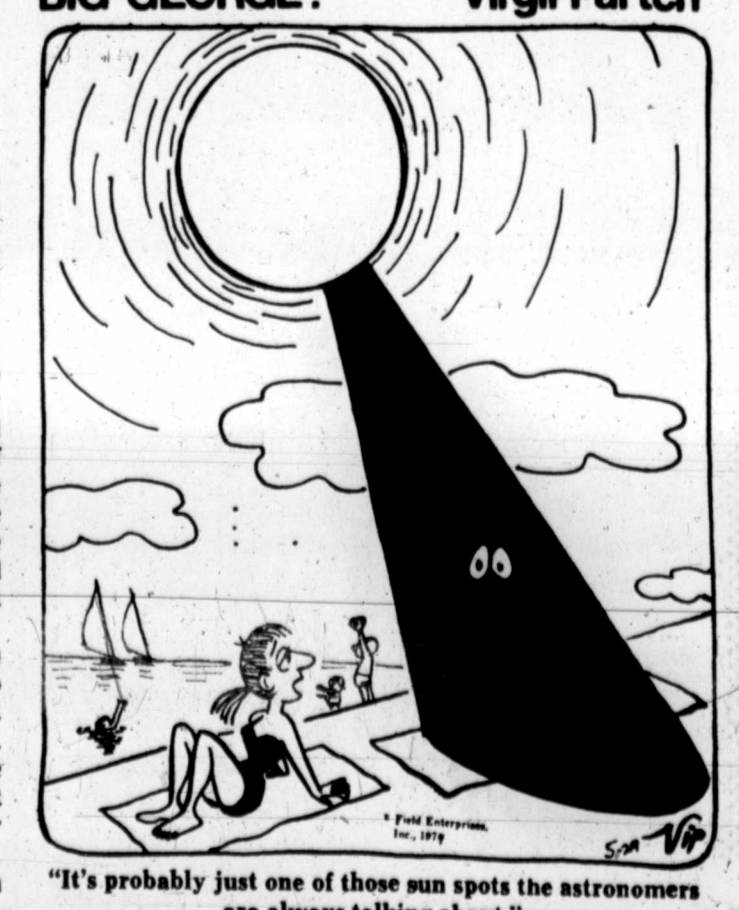

Dear In Love: You are, of course, right. There isn't any age limit on love. Little children love. Very old people love. There are, however, different kinds of love at different ages. Yours is a young love and, from the way you write, a rewarding one for you.

Dear Stubborn: Both of you are acting foolishly. You are ready to get married and then broke up. He's tried unsuccessfully to find someone else and it certainly sounds as if you have tried as well.

The two of you looking at each other and trying to hear about each other through friends and relatives is simply silly. If you had the close relationship that was on the way to marriage it is time the two of you sat down and talked things over to find out where you stand.

Using the excuse that you are both too stubborn to make the first move just doesn't make any sense. One of you has to make the first move. If not, you've got to forget it and make other plans for your life. (Distributed by Columbia Features, Inc.)

It Sims To Me...

By PAUL SIMS
Sports Editor

Ray Powell and Randy Warner, both 1974 graduates at Pampa High School and members of Robert McPherson's basketball team, will have their names published in the 1973-74 Prep All-America Basketball Yearbook, announced the editors of Coach & Athlete Magazine recently.

Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Powell of 820 S. Somerville, and Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doty Warner of 1137 Terrace, were selected to the Prep Honor Roll and are eligible for judging in the Prep All-America National Awards — Prep 100 Squad, Super Ten Team and Cum Laude. The National Finalists in each category will be announced in the May-June issue of Coach & Athlete, which has not been released yet.

Nominations for the yearbook were made in the fall by high school coaches and athletic directors, college recruiters and sports writers from across the country. In the two Pampans' case, I made the nomination with the help and recommendation of McPherson.

Powell and Warner each scored 309 points during the 1973-74 basketball season, which saw the Harvesters finish second behind Borger in District 3-AAAA and amass a 23-8 record. Warner, a 6-6 post, was a two-year starter, while Powell, a 5-10 guard, started last season and was a part-time starter in 1972-73.

"I think it's a great honor (being nominated). Both kids are very deserving; they worked extremely hard the past three years to make themselves good basketball players," said McPherson. "And they tried to become the best players on the team."

"Both are very capable students, they should have no trouble in college. I'm proud of 'em."

Powell will go on scholarship to York Junior College in York, Neb., while Warner is undecided, although he has visited Lubbock Christian College.

McPherson added, "It's a good tribute to the high school basketball program."

Bill Kilgore, administrative assistant of Coach & Athlete, will send anyone a copy of the yearbook, to be released in the latter part of June, for $15.95. Kilgore can be contacted in Montgomery, Ala., at (205) 263-4436.

About those nominated for the yearbook, Kilgore said, "It depends on the information returned on the athletic profile forms. Then each form we receive is reviewed by the committee (Prep Awards Selection Committee). They decide who will get the top honors."

Included on that committee are Dwight Keith, editor of Coach & Athlete; Bud Wilkinson, ABC sports analyst, and Joseph Vancin, Yale University president and head of the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

Powell will join Freddy Wilton, 1973 Pampa graduate, on the York Junior College basketball team for the 1974-75 school year.

The 5-10 guard, who was sought after by a number of Texas colleges, was Pampa's Hustling Harvester recipient at this year's annual basketball banquet.

"We only planned to sign one guard and Powell was the one we wanted," said York coach Collis Campbell, whose attention is mainly being given to signing the big man, 6-5 or over.

Did you know that in 1900 it is estimated there were only 50 buffalo in the United States and approximately 200 in Canada? Today, the U.S. herd stands at 25,000 animals and is increasing by 5,000 every year. The National Buffalo Association predicts that buffalo meat will again become staple in Americans' diets.

Aaron Hits 722nd To Defeat Phillies

UPI Sports Writer

Hank Aaron stood in front of his locker in the Atlanta Braves' clubhouse Tuesday night and delivered a familiar eulogy for a rival losing pitcher.

"He was tough," said baseball's all-time home run king, referring to Jim Lonborg of the Philadelphia Phillies. "He had a good, live, fast ball and kept throwing me hard stuff all night. He was pitching a real good game—but he happened to make one mistake."

That mistake was throwing Aaron a high slider with one out in the bottom of the 10th inning and the scored tied at 11.

Result: A 390-foot homer, a 21-victory for the Braves and a new string of impressive statistics for the 40-year old Aaron.

The homer was Aaron's ninth of the season and the 722nd of his regular-season career. Counting World Series and All-Star game homers, he raised his total to 730—the same number Babe Ruth hit when post-season and All-Star games were added to his regular-season total.

More important, however, was the fact that it was his sixth game-winning RBI in this season—tops on the Braves.

For the Braves "Hank's been piling up a lot of statistics in the last few years," explained teammate Dave Johnson. "But the thing he still wants to do most is win games for the Braves. That's why he was hurt so badly last season—when some people said he was swinging for himself instead of the team."

Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 11-5. Cincinnati beat the New York Mets 7-2 and Houston downed Montreal 8-4 in other National League games.

American League scores were Boston 9 Minnesota 5, New York 3 Chicago 2, Kansas City 9 Baltimore 5, Cleveland 8 Texas 0, Detroit 3 Oakland 1 and Milwaukee 6 California 2.

Aaron is batting only .243 but his nine homers and 24 RBIs lead the club and he seems as good this season at 40 as he was in 1973 at 39 years of age. Danny Frisella, who pitched a scoreless 10th, received credit for the win. Johnson hit his seventh homer in the eighth inning, tying the score for the Braves.

Dodgers 11 Cardinals 5 Ken McMullen and Joe Ferguson hit two-run homers and Ron Coy had four hits in a 20-hit Dodger attack which dealt the Cards' Alan Foster his fifth loss against one win. McMullen's homer came in the second inning and Ferguson's in the third as the Dodgers built an early 5-2 lead. Reggie Smith drove in four runs for the Cardinals with a double and a three-run homer before Mike Marshall came out of the bullpen to finish up for the Dodgers.

No Surprise--Portland Grabs Walton

NEW YORK (UPI) — After selecting the outstanding talent in the collegiate ranks for the price of a phone call, National Basketball Association owners began throwing around millions and millions of dollars today in an effort to sign those choices.

The prevailing attitude of the basketball class of '74 was summed up by Campy Russell, the eighth player chosen in Tuesday's collegiate draft, when he said: "I'll sign wherever the money is. I think, either with the NBA or ABA, whichever one has it."

Russell, a 6-8 forward from the University of Michigan with another year of college eligibility, was the first of the players with hardship status to be chosen. He was selected by the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Five Year Contract

Some clubs were a little more fortunate in early dealings with their top choices. The Portland Trail Blazers, who knew weeks ago they would choose No. 1 went into the draft with 6-11 center Bill Walton of UCLA already tucked away with a five-year contract.

Walton, a three-time Player of the Year, will receive between two and three million dollars.

The Kansas City-Omaha Kings, another team which needs instant help, also rejoiced in a quick signing when their first choice, 6-7 forward Scott Wedman of Colorado, agreed to a four-year contract.

"Kansas City just had a better offer," said Wedman, who previously had been drafted by Memphis of the ABA. "That's the main reason right now. I didn't really consider too much about the leagues."

Centers were in prime demand during the draft, which was conducted by telephonic hook-up to the NBA office in New York. Following Walton, the Philadelphia 76ers chose 6-8 Marvin Barnes of Providence, the Seattle SuperSonics chose 7-4 Tom Burleson of NCAA champion North Carolina State and the Phoenix Suns took 6-8 John Shumate of Notre Dame.

If Shumate signs with Phoenix, he undoubtedly will switch to forward since the Suns already have 6-10 Neal Walk.

ABA Rights

Burleson, who will become the tallest player in the pro ranks, wasn't surprised at being chosen third and said he was going to leave the negotiations, relating both to money and team, to his agent, Norman Blass. Indiana has the ABA rights to him.

In addition to Russell, four other hardship players were chosen in the first round, including a freshman, 6-8 forward Cliff Pondexter of Long Beach State, selected by the Chicago Bulls. Chicago, making another selection on the opening round as the result of a deal completed less than an hour earlier which sent Howard Porter to the New York Knicks, used it to take 6-9 forward Maurice Lucas of Marquette.

The other underclassmen picked in the opening round were 6-7 center Mike Sojourner of Utah, selected by the Atlanta Hawks on a pick they acquired from New Orleans in the Pete Maravich deal, and 6-3 guard Gary Brokaw of Notre Dame, chosen by Milwaukee.

Roscoe Pondexter, a brother of Cliff and another player with hardship status, was chosen on the third round by Boston. Roscoe is a 6-6 forward from Long Beach State.

Other Choices

Other first-round choices were: Houston—Bob Jones, a 6-8 forward from North Carolina; Atlanta—Tom Henderson, a 6-2 guard from Hawaii; Buffalo—Tom McMillen, a 6-11 forward-center from Maryland; Golden State—Keith Wilkes, a 6-6 forward from UCLA; Los Angeles—Brian Winters, a 6-4 guard from South Carolina; Washington—Len Elmore, a 6-9 center from Maryland; Detroit—Al Eberhard, a 6-5 forward from Missouri; and Boston—Glen McDonald, a 6-5 forward from Long Beach State.

Portland, which has finished last in each of its four years in the NBA, also picked up a lot of supplementary help for Walton.

Guidolin Has Grudge With Bruins After Refusal Of New Contract

BOSTON (UPI) — Bep Guidolin is bitter about the treatment he received from the Boston Bruins' management.

But Guidolin, who resigned after being refused a five-year contract, is more steamed about the way several players let him down in the Stanley Cup finals. The Bruins lost the Cup to the Philadelphia Flyers.

"(Phil) Esposito didn't give me his best—he could have given me more," Guidolin said Tuesday in a telephone interview from his Barrie, Ont., home. "I felt the same way about (Ken) Hodge."

Although he didn't mention their names,

Guidolin also was displeased with the play of veteran John Bucyk and linemate Bobby Schmautz.

Little Control

"There were a few who could have given a little extra more for themselves and their teammates," said Guidolin, who coached the Bruins for 1½ seasons. "If they were mad at me, they should have taken it out on Philly."

Guidolin, the youngest player in the National Hockey League as a 16-year-old wing with the Bruins, intimated he had little control over some of his big name players.

Savard. These guys kept hustling."

Mentioning Savard set Guidolin on another tangent that led into a masked tirade against Managing Director Harry Sinden, the man who refused to grant a five-year contract.

OLDEST HOMER MARK

BOSTON (UPI) — The oldest major league batting record was set in 1894 when Bobby Lowe of the Boston Braves became the first man to hit four home runs in a single game.

PAMPA SOFTBALL

Gibsons Racks Up 12 In 6th

SKELLYTOWN — Gibson's Discount plated 12 runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to come from behind and down Southwell Supply, 23-11, Tuesday night in the only Pampa Men's Softball League action so far this season.

Benny Wyant picked up the win while the losing pitcher was Southwell's Jackie Graham.

Leading hitters for Gibson's in the contest were Wyant, who went four for four, and Toddy Black, Gerald Owens and Rick Musgrave, all going three for four. Jody Johnson and A.J. Brewer aided Gibson's cause on the field.

For Southwell, which led 9-3 after three innings and was tied 11-11 going into the sixth, Nelson Medley batted three for four and was instrumental throughout the game fielding at shortstop.

Mark Westbrook also went three for four behind the plate.

All Pampa softball games are being played at the Skellytown Lions Club Park. Game days are Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. There will be a doubleheader each night and play begins at 7 o'clock. No admission fee will be charged at any of the games.

Perry On Comeback Trail, Wins Over Rangers With 5-Hitter, 8-0

UPI Sports Writer
There's an old baseball axiom that the best trades are sometimes the ones you don't make.

The Cleveland Indians couldn't agree more this season.

They spent most of the winter trying to deal Gaylord Perry. He slumped to 19-19 last season after his Cy Young Award winning season of 24-16 in 1972 and the Indians wanted to trade the 35-year-old right-hander while he still had some market value left. They wanted some young players to build for the future.

But none of the deals worked out and Perry wound up back in a Cleveland uniform this year. The new rule which allows the umpires to eject a player for throwing the spitball was supposed to hurt him, too.

It's hurt him so much that he boosted his record to 8-1 Tuesday night with an 8-0 triumph over the Texas Rangers on a five-hitter. He's just the winningest pitcher in the majors.

And he's doing it all without the spitball. Sure, when you mention the spitball to Perry, he has the same look of innocence on his face as a 3-year-old who gets caught with his hand in the cookie jar and says, "what cookie jar?"

Can't Remember
He said with a straight face after the game, "it's been so long since I threw one that I can't remember when it was."

He added, "of course, I never threw it that much anyway." Of course, "I went through all those motions to psyche the batters but I'm sorry the pitch is gone. I enjoyed throwing it."

Ranger Manager Billy Martin is one of those managers who doesn't like to complain about Perry's "pitch" because he agrees that it's psyches the hitters if they spend all their time looking for it.

"The players say it's the same old Perry," Martin said, "he still has his stuff" and he nibbles on the corners the way he always did.

Surprisingly enough, the 8-1 record isn't Perry's best start in the majors. He was 20-2 in 1966 with San Francisco before he slumped and wound up at 218.

In the other AL games, Kansas City downed Baltimore 9-5 in 11 innings, New York topped Chicago 3-2 in 10, Boston beat Minnesota 9-5, Milwaukee turned back California 6-2 and Detroit nipped Oakland 3-1.

In the National League, Los Angeles pounded St. Louis 11-5, Cincinnati beat New York 7-2, Houston topped Montreal 8-4, Atlanta nipped Philadelphia 2-1 and Atlanta downed Philadelphia 2-1.

Brewers 6, Angels 2
Jim Slaton and Tom Murphy combined on a seven-hitter and Dave May and George Scott hit homers to pace Milwaukee past

California. Milwaukee got a pair of unearned runs off starter Dick Lange in the second and then May and Scott hit back-to-back homers in the third. Slaton went 8 1-3 innings and Murphy got the final two outs.

Tigers 3, A's 1
Gary Sutherland hit a pair of solo homers and Woody Fryman, with help from John Hiller, picked up his first victory to lead Detroit past Oakland. Fryman, who went into the game with a 6.91 ERA, retired the first 13 batters he faced and lasted for 6 2-3 innings before Hiller came on for his eighth save. Reggie Jackson went 0-for-3 for Oakland and his average dropped from .404 to .396.

Royals 9, Orioles 5
Cookie Rojas' grand slam home run in the 11th inning lifted Kansas City past Baltimore. Fran Healy's sixth-inning run-scoring single tied the game 5-5 and it remained that way until Rojas hit his grand slam off loser Bob Reynolds. Healy's 11th inning single, which sent George Brett to third and preceded an intentional walk, set the stage for Rojas' blast.

Jipcho, Smith Among Top WPTC Entrants

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ben Jipcho will be shooting at a sub-four-minute mile and Steve Smith at an 18-foot-plus pole vault tonight in feature events of the World Professional Track Championships at Madison Square Garden.

A crowd of about 15,000 is expected at the closing meeting of the International Track Association's indoor season.

Jipcho, who has the second fastest outdoor mile in history to his credit, is the favorite in a field which includes four other runners who have been flirting with four minutes this season—Jim Ryan, Keith Munson, Sam Bair and Chuck LaBenz. Jipcho's best indoor effort this season was 4:00.6 but he said Tuesday he felt he is ready for a sub-four-minute performance.

Smith and Bob Seagren are the favorites in the pole vault with both confident they will exceed 18 feet.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bep Guidolin, who got only beans in Boston, will get what he wants most in Washington—security, plus a little more respect.

He will sit down soon and sign a multi-year contract with the NHL's new expansion club, which calls itself the Capitals. This procedure merely will demonstrate how one general manager readily can recognize a good man when he sees one and how another can blithely let this same man get away.

Mill Schmidt, general manager of the newly-formed Capitals, and Bep Guidolin are friends a long time. They played together and later worked together with the Bruins. Guidolin never was the kind of star during his nine years playing that Schmidt was in his 16 years, but what he did achieve eventually was Schmidt's respect for the way he handled players, first in the minors with the Boston Braves, and later with the Boston Bruins.

Bep Guidolin couldn't take some things anymore in Boston.

Modest Regard
He couldn't take the fact the Bruins held him in such modest regard that they would offer him only a one-year contract.

He didn't particularly appreciate the fact either that here he was added with all the headaches of trying to handle some immature, self-centered, six-figure performers, and for what? For $25,000. That's all the Bruins were paying him.

Guidolin also couldn't help but notice that when he was critical of the majority of the Bruin players' performances against the Philadelphia Flyers during the Stanley Cup final, (the majority of them, that is, except Bobby Orr, who played his heart out), there was a conspicuous lack of ringing support from the front office.

What he couldn't take most, perhaps, was the fact that Harry Sinden, Boston's general manager who once coached the Bruins himself, didn't really seem to care whether he came back next season or not. In effect, Sinden seemed to be saying, sorry to see you go, Bep. Old boy, but make sure you close the door on your way out.

Mill Schmidt looks at Bep Guidolin differently.

"I think he has done a tremendous job," says Schmidt.

Draft Choice
"He said a few things maybe he shouldn't have said in the playoffs, but you have to take into consideration he was under a great deal of stress and strain. What do I think of him as a coach? One hundred per cent. The reason I can't talk with him

He's not hoping for a college education...

he's banking on it!

Most newspaperboys are banking part of their savings for higher education. Even if you can easily afford to send your boy to college, you might consider this—the boy who works and saves for part of his education is the boy who will get the most out of college. He'll appreciate Pop and the checks from home more if he's already had a taste of earning money by working himself. And while his route profits are important, this is only one of a number of reasons why so many of today's successful men encourage their boys to get the benefit of Newspaper Route experience—including service, salesmanship, collections and record keeping.

Busy Boys Are Better Boys
If you think your son or some other youngster might profit by Newspaper Experience, why not suggest that he come in and talk to us.

Last Week In Wall Street

By BOB HILL, Lantz, Newton & Co. Amarillo Members N.Y. Stock Exchange
Get ready to see a remarkable change in the landscape of this country over the next few years. Windmills will spring up across the countryside as air - power becomes an alternative source of energy. The idea isn't as absurd as many would believe. Windchargers were commonplace on farms and ranches in the late 30's until cheap gasoline and diesel fuel became available and the REA expanded its service.

Experts are quick to point out that windmills will never replace the oil, coal and nuclear powered electric generating plants of today, nor do they see windmills becoming a practical source of energy for individual homes. Windmill supporters do believe that air - powered generators will be useful as a supplemental source of energy and that by the year 2000, windmills could be producing as much as 1 percent of our total energy requirements. Today's prototypes are made of cloth, wire, fiberglass or metal and are designed to turn as fast as possible in the slightest breeze. The blades must also be variable - pitched, which automatically turns the blade from the broadest side in a light wind to the narrowest side in a strong wind.

Scientists estimate that a windmill with 50-ft. long blades would generate 100 kilowatts in a 20 mph wind. But the same blade would produce 800 kilowatts in a 40 mph wind. Another experimental design with 125-ft. blades moving 200 mph at the tips would produce 1,000 kilowatts in a 20 mph wind.

One Eastern electric utility has concluded that a 250-kw windmill would not only be feasible, but also competitive with 30 cents per gallon fuel oil. The utility is paying 24 cents per gallon now. Offshore drilling rigs are also likely locations for windmill generated electricity.

In addition to being an insect, the noun "bug" can be a germ, a microbe, a small car, a mechanical defect or an unusual interest in a subject.

Research Group Seeks Oil Extraction From Shale

By JOHN A. WEBSTER, ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — An Albuquerque research organization is experimenting with a method of extracting oil from Rocky Mountain shale deposits without removing the shale from the ground or using nuclear devices.

The Atomic Energy Commission, in cooperation with private industry, has been working for years on the "in situ" or in place, method of extracting oil locked in the tight shale formations.

But the AEC's methods, used in such projects as Grasbuggy in New Mexico and Rulison in Colorado, have employed nuclear devices to shatter the shale and release the oil. The use of nuclear explosions led to environmentalist outcries.

The Albuquerque experiments, by the Energy Technology Department of the private Sandia Laboratories, would be an alternative to nuclear devices. The experiments also could provide a cheaper method of getting the oil.

"Successful completion of the project would go a long way toward helping the country build up a large reserve of competitively priced oil," said H.M. Stoller, head of the Sandia project. Stoller said his department will investigate the "in situ" treatment of other fossil fuels such as coal, but the initial experiments will be concerned with oil shale.

"In situ treatment should have the advantage of minimal environmental impact," he said. "Other forms of oil shale treatment would leave large amounts of shale on the surface after processing."

"In situ processing would also be safer than either underground or surface mining."

Oil shale deposits in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah are estimated at 1.8 trillion barrels of oil. The shale oil occurs as a solid bituminous material that yields 25 to 30 gallons of oil per ton of shale.

The cost of the technical problems of removing the oil from the shale has prohibited its commercial development until recent increases in crude oil prices boosted its competitive potential.

Stoller said the method proposed by the lab to remove the oil involves shattering and burning the shale deposits. The oil, now locked in the rock, would be forced to the bottom of the shale bed and could then be pumped to the surface.

The first step in the process, Stoller said, would be drilling of a vertical hole through the shale deposit. Then, the deposit would be caved in with nonnuclear explosives, he said.

Stoller said without the additional space created by the vertical hole, the shattered shale would not be porous enough to burn.

Propane gas would be fed into the rock and ignited, creating a smoldering bed of shale, he said. The heat, approximately 900 degrees, would be high enough to allow the oil to flow to the bottom of the deposit.

"The two most difficult problems appear to be preparation of the test bed — fracturing the rock so it will burn efficiently — and controlling the combustion so that the maximum amount of oil will be produced," Stoller said.

"In addition, we must learn a great deal about the reaction chemistry of oil shale — how temperature, pressure, flow rate and other factors yield quality and quantity."

Ideally, he said, 90 percent of the oil in the shale would be recovered using the proposed method.

Money for the project is included in AEC funding for the facility, said Jim Mitchell of Sandia's public information office. Mitchell said the lab was not now working with any oil company seeking to develop the oil shale deposits in the western states but said "anything we learn, we'll turn over the private industry."

Stoller said laboratory experiments were already underway on the project, and "subsequently, we hope to conduct full-scale bed preparation tests underground."
