Ford Plans Unpopular Anti-Inflation Speech

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford is aware the anti-inflation program he will propose today will be "unpopular" with segments of the public and his own party, a White House spokesman said. The comment was an indication Ford intended to seek a tax increase.

Presidential Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford had settled on his proposals to be delivered to Congress at 4 p.m. EDT without consideration of the "benefits of liabilities" they will bring to the Republican party in congressional elections four weeks from today.

Nessen said the speech, timed for the exact moment the stock market closes, will last an unusually long 45 minutes.

On Capitol Hill, Ford was widely expected to propose a surtax of about 5 per cent on the income taxes paid by couples earning $15,000 a year or more. Sentiment against such a tax increase rose even before Ford made his address.

Three Republican congressmen called a news conference to express their opposition to a surtax and to announce the creation of a "GOP coalition against personal income tax increases."

The House Ways and Means Committee voted today to exempt from taxation the first $500 of each taxpayer's savings account interest. Rep. Herman T. Schneebeli, R-Pa., ranking GOP member of the tax-writing panel, said following the vote that Ford's proposals would not include any similar recommendation. At a White House news briefing, Nessen said Ford was "aware that some of the things he is going to propose this afternoon will be unpopular among certain segments of the population and the economy and he is aware that some of the things he is going to propose are not extremely popular among some members of his own party."

But Nessen said Ford did not consider the political impact likely to arise from his program to save fuel, revive a sagging economy and curtail stubborn inflation.

"He needed to propose these things and needed to propose them now," Nessen said.

Ford, in welcoming Polish Communist party leader Edward Gierek to the White House today, said "the stability of the world is in danger" because of worldwide economic troubles.

Women, Children Stabbed

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — The bound, gagged and nude bodies of three young women and two 2-year-old children, all slain with a huge butcher knife, were found today in an apartment on the city's south side.

"The three ladies were assaulted criminally and in other ways," medical examiner Dr. Felix Gwozdziak said.

Homicide Division Lt. Olu Ball said there were signs of a terrific struggle. While the women were nude, the children were fully dressed, even to shoes. The children were gagged but not bound.

All were stabbed many times and a bloody butcher knife was left in a front bedroom with three of the bodies.

The women were identified as sisters Laura and Martha McLendon and a third woman, identified only as "Linda." They ranged in age from 19 to 24.

"Five brutally murdered people," was the way Ball described the crime.

The children, a boy and a girl, were the children of Laura and Martha McLendon.

Ball said there was no sign of a forced entry into the apartment and that he had no suspects. The apartment was on the ground floor.

"It's the worst situation I've seen in a long time," Dr. Gwozdziak said.

The bodies were found by Alexander Small, stepfather of two of the women, and by an uncle. They told police they came to the apartment to take the women to work and when they became political rally in Vermont, the President also underscored his concern.

"We are going to save the political fabric of this country and the political fabric of countries that believe in freedom around the world," Ford said regarding his toughminded solutions.

Asked if a surtax proposal was likely to hurt Republicans at the polls four weeks from today, Rep. John Anderson, R-Ill., replied: "Frankly, yes. I don't believe you ever recommend a tax increase without having to be concerned."

To deal with a deep-set inflation and a simultaneous economic downturn — and the threat of fuel shortages which could make both worse — Ford was expected to propose:

— A surtax of about 5 per cent on the income taxes middle and upper income individuals and corporations will pay next spring on 1974 earnings.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford will veto a House-passed resolution on foreign aid that requires an immediate end of U.S. military assistance to Turkey if it reaches his desk in that form, a White House spokesman said today.

In a special presidential statement, Ford appealed to the House "to reconsider its hasty act and, working with the Senate, pass a bill that will best serve the interests of peace."

The administration has contended cutting off aid to Turkey through an act of Congress would only make it harder to reach a peace agreement over the Cyprus crisis.

The House voted Monday to cut off military aid to Turkey until Ford certifies that "substantial progress" is made toward an agreement for the removal of Turkish forces on Cyprus.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said the Senate will attempt to consider the measure today.

The Senate has passed similar aid cutoff language that was later dropped by House-Senate conferees.

"Instead of strengthening America's ability to persuade the parties to resolve the dispute, it (the amendment) will lessen our influence on all the parties concerned," Ford said in his statement. "And it will imperil our relationships with our Turkish friends and weaken us in the crucial eastern Mediterranean."

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said earlier that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's bargaining position around the world may be seriously weakened if Congress votes to halt U.S. military aid to Turkey.

Kissinger departs for the Middle East at midnight with his first stop scheduled for Cairo. He is not scheduled to meet any parties involved in the Cyprus dispute.

Tower, who was interviewed with Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., on the NBC Today Show, said he believes "we might be cutting off our noses to spite our faces if we try to legislate sanctions against Turkey."

Tower said the main danger is that "any attempt on the part of the Congress to hamstring or tie the hands of Kissinger... would be interpreted as a vote of no confidence in Kissinger and would seriously inhibit his ability to negotiate."

City Officials Find Business More Uncertain

By TEX DEWEES

A thread of uncertainty about climbing costs of equipment and materials availability and delivery dates was interwoven through today's semi-monthly meeting of the Pampa City Commission.

It came up during discussion of an agenda item setting Nov. 12 to receive bids on the purchase of 15 automotive items for the street, parks, sanitation, engineering and water and sewer departments.

They included trucks, pickups, packer bodies, loading attachment, tractor mower and a 4-door sedan.

City Manager Mack Wofford asked if a definite delivery date should be stipulated.

It was decided quickly such a request would be useless. No local dealers are able to give a guarantee. Delivery is behind now on equipment promised in September.

The question of price on automotive fuel came up. There currently is no way to get bids. The price the city must pay is the tank price on day of delivery.

There was mention of the $12,000 cut in the city's revenue sharing check received yesterday.

The city manager advised commissioners there is no way of knowing what can be expected in future revenue sharing checks, although he said he did not anticipate any dilemma in that respect.

City officials indicated they were moving over to the cautious side as they took a look at the future under the current inflationary trend.

DISCOURAGES CARS

Sawhill Suggests Petroleum Curbs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Energy chief John C. Sawhill said today three ways being considered to curb petroleum use in America are a horsepower tax on automobiles, voluntary self-control, and import duties on oil and oil products.

The government's attitude toward nonautomobile petroleum use also will have a big impact on coal, Sawhill said in a speech prepared for the American Mining Congress in Las Vegas but released in Washington.

"We are striving to change the country's love affair with the private car," he said. "The automobile is about the least efficient way to move people from place to place in an urban area."

To break the automobile's grip on American transportation habits, we need strong disincentives to urban auto use," he said.

One possibility he is considering is a horsepower tax on new automobiles, graduated upward as engine size increases and fuel economy decreases. This could encourage buyers to purchase more efficient cars," he said.

Another option is increased import fees levied on crude oil and petroleum products, which would raise prices and discourage consumption," he said.

"Still another important factor is the voluntary cooperation of the public," he said. "Voluntary self-control... can go far toward achieving essential reductions in energy use."

While petroleum was scarce, the United States is known as the Saudi Arabia of Coal," he said, but he added that the resource is under-used.

Sawhill suggested several possibilities for inducing additional coal use:

"We can amend the Clean Air Act to allow, for the time being at least, the burning of high-sulfur coal in electric generating plants.

Changes Made In Events For Fire Prevention

Two changes were announced today in the schedule of events for the observance of Fire Prevention Week in Pampa.

The demonstration of rescue procedure scheduled for yesterday morning atop the Rose Bldg., 100 W. Kingseill, was postponed because of inclement weather and set for 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The fire truck demonstration set for 1 p.m. Monday at Travis Elementary school has been changed to 1 p.m. Friday.

All other scheduled events will be at the same times as originally scheduled, according to Cameron Marsh of the Chamber of Commerce Fire Prevention and Safety Committee.

These include the open house for the public from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday at Central Fire Station downtown and fire truck demonstrations Thursday at 10 a.m. at Lamar school and 1:30 p.m. at Baker school.

Truck demonstrations were held today at Austin, Horace Mann and Wilson schools.

Accident Results In DWI Charge

A two-car accident Monday at the intersection of Frederic and Barnes streets resulted in heavy damage to the two vehicles involved.

Police said a car driven by Lois G. Robertson, 1104 S. Faulkner, was struck from the rear by a pickup truck driven by Charles M. Gill, 735 Barnes St.

Investigating officers said the Robertson car was stopped and attempting a left turn when it was hit by the pickup.

Driver of the pickup was arrested for driving while intoxicated.

Air Tour Reception Planned

Aviation enthusiasts from ten states are expected in Pampa late Wednesday afternoon for an overnight stop as the Chamber of Commerce hosts the annual Texas Air Tour for the second successive year.

The guests will be entertained at a reception and dinner dance in the Heritage Room of the M.K. Brown Civic Center.

The reception is set for 7 p.m. and the dinner is set at 7:45 p.m., according to Milo Carlson, chairman of the chamber's Aviation Committee.

Rex McAnelly, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will emcee the dinner program.

The affair is open to the public and reservations will be taken at the chamber office until 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Carlson said cars still are needed for transportation of the air tour group from Perry Lefors Airfield to the Coronado Inn starting at 5 p.m.

Persons who can furnish cars were asked today to notify the chamber office.

Not Starving Is Perilous

We just don't know what folks are going to do. Dr. Rita Campbell, lecturer in health services at Stanford Medical School, warns that "almost all foods may be shown to have some degree of health risk when consumed in large quantities."

She was dramatizing a logical weakness that often shows up in scientific data use to back up administrative bans on commercial products. The prohibitions usually are accompanied with a statement that alleges laboratory rats developed tumors when fed the substance under tests. Typically the facts are that the animals received a daily higher than normal diet would provide Dr. Campbell's point is that you can document bad effects by the simple expedient of stuffing the rat with too much of one thing.

Thus the mere allegation that tumors or wars or leisions or whatever accompanied the experiment is a scientifically meaningless statement. It is like saying feathers are heavy because they fall in a vacuum; the scientist is damning the substance because it conforms to a universal law of nature.

"Within the United States," Dr. Campbell said, "prices for food increase partly because of the effect of government regulations to ensure safer supplies. The question should be asked: How many individuals — primarily older persons on fixed incomes and young children of low-income families — suffer greater risk of diseases (other than cancer) because their nutrition level is reduced?"

Cancer can be drastically diminished, it not eliminated, by common agreement. The terms of the agreement is that everyone shall starve to death before he gets old enough to fall victim to the dread killer.

Land Of Persecution

Mas Ohi is a member of a persecuted minority. His father came from Japan in 1889, sweated on the railroads in Utah and Idaho, finally taking up farming near Sacramento in 1908.

After World War II, Ohi with brothers Art and Henry started their own farming in Yuba City. They started with 600 acres planted to sugar beets and tomatoes. He has found time for a few other things. He is a director of the California Cannery and Growers Co-op, a past president of the Yuba City Rotary Club, a director of the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco, and with his wife Yo sings in the choir of the Methodist church.

Meantime, the family farming operation has grown to 7200 acres. Rice, peaches, vegetable seeds, safflower corn and wheat have been added to the list of crops. The family corporation is involved as a partner in four John Deere dealerships.

Ohi says he and his family feel fortunate to be citizens of this country of opportunity and they believe that the conditions still exist for every American to accomplish the goals he sets for himself.

You might say it's a country in which even the "persecuted" can thrive.

INSIDE LABOR CIA, No? KGB, Yes? Wh?

By VICTOR RIESEL

WASHINGTON — This report could begin with the detailing of the crude fashion in which I was harassed by Soviet agents, trained and disciplined "apparatchiks," so-called labor officials who had actually been rushed in from France and Italy, and my other tense confrontations with Maoist militants — all in Portugal a few weeks ago.

They attempted to prevent my interviewing anti-Communist Cabinet officials. They shut down elevators in tall Lisbon buildings. They followed me at times, diverted me into long trips to the wrong part of the country and checked constantly on my whereabouts. Also they actually put big brothers and little sister observers into rooms where I had arranged private conversations as a newsman covering what I believe eventually will be one of Europe's top running stories. At one point on a sunny Lisbon street, only the sudden appearance of a few young soldiers prevented my being roughed up.

But all that gets ahead of my story. It should begin with the fact that Soviet purchasing agents again are secretly seeking to buy huge stocks of wheat in the U.S. They may succeed though the American crop is short of our goal this season — and heavy exports would jack up bread prices again.

All discussions of wheat purchases are backed by almost emotional Soviet recourse to the "spirit of detente." Their emotion is intense because the U.S.S.R. is desperately short of bread.

Yet this very same Soviet government, run by the very same CP U.S.S.R. Politburo, betrays the spirit of detente in critical Portugal where the good people, and they all are, indeed, fine humans, are in desperate need themselves.

To me it is of importance to note that we do have a MAAG (Military Assistance Advisory Group) in Lisbon. Also a U.S. Air Force installation in Alverca, A U.S. Air Force base in Lages, Terceira, the Azores. And a small undermanned embassy doing its best to tell the story of American democracy.

All of which is crucially significant at a moment when there is such revulsion against covert CIA operations in Chile. Much of this consisted in helping truck strikers' hungry families, an anti-totalitarian newspaper and a radio station to survive.

Now compare this with the Soviet — KGB operation — covert and overt — in Portugal. The Communist party of Portugal is the most "Stalinist" of all Western Communist parties. It just doesn't put a comma in a resolution without permission of the undercover Soviet rep. (representative).

It has had a viable underground structure for years — all organized and paid for by the "Portuguese

Inside Washington

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — To importantly help him make good on his dramatic pledge at the economic summit to limit the next federal budget to $300 billion, President Ford would find it highly useful to examine a newly published report on a major aspect of government spending.

It revealingly pinpoints a root cause of the seemingly never-ending increase in federal expenditures.

The report graphically demonstrates why, despite the incessant chatter about reducing the budget, it continually soars; also why the bombastic congressional announcement last week that the huge defense budget had been cut by some $4 billion is inherently tripe.

What the claimed slashing actually amounted to was shuffling of papers — big spending proposals by the Pentagon that the Armed Services Committees either rejected or postponed for the time being.

In reality, not a dime in actual expenditures was saved. In effect, this loudly-fanned-reputed economizing was merely window-dressing.

Forcefully underscoring that is the report dealing with actual government expenditures and pinpointing one of the basic causes of the constantly soaring cost of the federal government.

Remarkably, this highly illuminating study was not mentioned at the economic summit — just as it was ignored by the media.

It should have been a major topic of consideration by both. But it wasn't. In fact, it's doubtful whether the President and his various economic assistants know about it — and the same goes for the numerous other summit participants and experts and masterminds.

What It's About

That's extremely regrettable, because what the report starkly discloses is that, despite all the talk about "cutting" the budget and "holding down" the budget, federal employment continues to climb — and so does its cost.

In the past fiscal year, federal employment and its cost rocketed to an all-time high.

Following are the sobering statistics: Total employment — 2,778,951; cost — $35.7 billion.

In contrast, in fiscal 1973 the totals were 2,700,265 employees; cost — $33.3 billion. In 1969, the civilian federal payroll was $24.5 billion; and 10 years ago, 1964, $16.1 billion — less than half of last fiscal year's all-time high.

The report, issued by the Joint Committee on Reduction of Federal Expenditures, draws no moral about these profoundly significant statistics. And neither does Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman and a foremost authority on the federal budget.

The tall, able legislator does note sadly the seemingly inexorable increase in the cost of federal employment. But other than commenting that this amounted to $2.4 billion more last fiscal year than previously, he refrains from any strictures.

Apparently, the Texan is letting the striking figures speak for themselves.

Which is all right — as far as that goes. The grievous difficulty is it doesn't go very far.

Although an official document, the report is virtually unknown. This writer showed it to participants in the economic conference, and it was news to them. All readily conceded its significance, but none did anything about it.

It remains to be seen how President Ford can make good on his pledge to hold the next federal budget to $300 billion without drastically curbing federal employment. If he doesn't effectively restrict that and reverse the annual rise in the number and cost of the federal payroll, he'll never make the $300 billion ceiling.

Missed Opportunity

It was a bold and imaginative idea — which probably is the reason it got nowhere.

Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., in a personal letter to President Ford, urged that the economic summit consider what might be done about the U.S. collecting some of the $60 billion owed by foreign countries.

Wrote Alexander:

"I am sure the American people and Congress would applaud the inclusion of this subject on the agenda of the economic summit. As you may know, the Foreign Operations and Government Information Subcommittee has been studying for five years the problem of delinquent international debts and unpaid claims owed to the United States. Our findings to date show that more than 100 countries are delinquent, including nations that are now prosperous. Also some that are now gouging us with exorbitant prices for oil."

From a White House assistant, Alexander got a polite acknowledgment of his suggestion. And that was all. At the economic conference, there was no reference to it of any kind.

But as Alexander pertinently pointed out in his letter to the President, repayment of some of the $60 billion would come in mighty handy right now.

Contrasting News

First the good news: Gen. David Jones, new Air Force Chief of Staff, is putting an end to those expensive aerial fly-bys at retirement ceremonies for high-ranking officers.

In an official directive he declared, "In this era of rising prices and very great concern on the proper use of taxpayers' money, we cannot afford to use any resource for other than mission essential requirements."

This economizing drew warm approval from Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., leading critic of military spending. Said Proxmire, "Gen. Jones not only has cracked down on aerial fly-

A word on marrying Roy: Don't

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Roy and I are engaged to be married. My problem is that he has gotten the same girl pregnant three times.

The first time it happened Roy didn't know me. The girl was in high school then, and she lost the baby, so Roy got off lucky.

The second time Roy was home from the Army on an emergency furlough. (His father had died and he came home for the funeral. Roy said he went to see this girl and she wanted to take his mind off his sorrow.) She had the baby, which Roy still supports.

Right after Roy gave me a ring, this girl turns up pregnant again. She claims it's Roy's. I think she was just trying to hook him. He tried to talk her into an abortion but she refused. She says abortion is murder, it's against her conscience, and besides it's a sin.

She is having the baby in November and I had planned to get married in December.

Roy says if I will forgive him and marry him anyway, he will never look at another girl as long as he lives. Would you marry him?

IN LOVE WITH ROY

DEAR IN: No. He's accident prone, doesn't learn from experience, and seems to have a serious weakness he hasn't learned how to control.

DEAR ABBY: You referred to alimony as "the high cost of leaving."

That may be true, but I still think paying alimony is like buying oats for a dead horse.

STILL BUYING

DEAR STILL: Ex-wives are not dead horses. They are two-legged oat-burners and very much alive and kicking.

Though the cost of LEAVING may have seemed high at the time, the cost of LIVING has been climbing steadily, so before a man decides to leave his wife, he'd be wise to check the cost of oats, which these days ain't hay.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from that husband who complained because his wife of 35 years was a "backseat driver."

He said she made him so nervous he didn't think he could tolerate a motor trip with her beside him as a co-pilot.

That lady reminded me of myself. For the duration of my marriage (52 years) I, too, was a backseat driver. I know it irked my good husband, but he seemed to understand.

One day he drove to a nearby shopping area and I wasn't in the car beside him to say, "Look out for that crazy woman coming toward us on the wrong side of the road!"

This is the end of my story. She killed him.

TO PROTECT CHILDREN

Boston Mayor Requests Federal Marshals' Help

BOSTON (UPI) — Mayor Kevin H. White called today for at least 125 federal marshals to be sent to racially troubled South Boston to help protect children and to implement a court ordered plan to integrate public schools by busing.

The motion was filed with the clerk of the U.S. District Court in Boston by assistant City Corporation counsel Kevin Maloney.

It called on Judge W. Arthur Garrity "to enter an order requiring that not less than 125 marshals be assigned to the South Boston district."

Attached to the motion was a five page letter to Garrity from White detailing the racial violence in South Boston and explaining why federal assistance was needed.

Earlier, black children were kept out of South Boston schools by city officials and police, strengthening earlier reports that White and NAACP leaders would call for federal marshals to be sent to Boston.

Thomas I. Atkins, president of the Boston branch of the NAACP, also was expected to seek an appearance before Garrity today.

The action followed the worst day of violence since the court order a month ago. Thirty-three persons were arrested Monday in two outbreaks of violence and a mob of whites, some carrying sticks, chased and beat a black man whose car was stuck in traffic at a South Boston intersection.

Police were stationed this morning at areas where black children are picked up for busing. The children were told they would not be taken to schools in South Boston today. Instead, they were taken to other sites for discussions and some classes.

Prior to his court appearance, Atkins said "it is widely agreed that the police cannot maintain order on the scale of violence" which exists, especially in South Boston, Hyde Park and Roslindale.

George Regan, assistant press secretary to White, said the mayor will not call for armed federal troops to be sent to Boston. But he did not rule out the possibility of a call for marshals.

Atkins said the situation in South Boston was so bad "any black person, or person of any color, who goes into the area will be set upon by animals." He added the some people in Hyde Park and Roslindale were determined not to allow blacks to go to school there.

The lives of the black children are being threatened every day, Atkins said.

It was the worst day of violence since court-ordered busing to desegregate city schools began a month ago. Thirty-three persons were arrested.

Mayor Kevin H. White said he supported an expected call by the NAACP for federal marshals to protect children being bused.

FOR GRAIN SALES

Ag Department Devises System

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Stung by a near repeat of the 1972 Soviet wheat fiasco, the Agriculture Department Monday revealed a hastily drawn-up voluntary system designed to keep track of major grain sales to foreign countries.

The system was announced by Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz in the wake of the revelation Friday night that two giant grain exporting firms had negotiated sales of 3.4 million tons of wheat and corn to the Soviet Union.

Following a "jawboning" session at the White House, the companies — Continental Grain Co. of New York and Cook Industries of Memphis, Tenn. — agreed to postpone their sales.

Butz said prior Agriculture Department approval will now be required for large export sales.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., has called Butz and the grain company officials to testify before his permanent investigations subcommittee today to clear up questions surrounding the ill-fated deal.

The hearings open amid conflicting reports from Butz and the companies as to just how much the Agriculture Department knew about the contracts before late last week.

The companies said Monday they cleared the sales in advance with the Agriculture Department, but Butz said he did not know about it until after the fact.

At the White House, presidential Press Secretary Ron Nessen said President Ford does not blame the Agriculture Department for the mixup.

"We hope," he said, "that some of this grain will eventually be sold to the Russians."

Butz said he will rely on the good faith of the grain exporters to keep the department informed about what they are selling, of whom and in what quantities.

The system is not designed to put a damper on the export market for U.S. farm goods, he said, nor is it intended to single out any one country for lower export shipments.

By requiring prior approval, Butz said, the Agriculture Department will be able to head off sales that could disrupt the market and assure a fair distribution of feed grains to all nations.

Just how short this year's corn and soybean crops will be as a result of premature midwestern frosts won't be known until Thursday, when the department releases its October crop report, but Butz said private reports indicate a "substantial" loss of corn.

Although the reporting system will not be mandatory, Butz said he expected exporters to cooperate.

'FIGHT UNTIL DEATH'

Law Officers On Alert For Antitextbook Group

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Sheriff's deputies were on the alert today for more disorders at schools resulting from pledges by antitextbook leaders to "fight until death, if necessary."

"We are going to continue to close down all the schools until the un-American, un-Christian, vulgar, filthy, trashy books are banned," said the Rev. Charles C. Quigley, a leader of the sometimes violent textbook crusade.

"We are going to continue picketing if they throw everyone into the county jail. These are parents who love their children and will fight until death, if necessary."

"We are anticipating more trouble," a police official said Monday. "Everyone is on standby alert and all leaves are canceled. It's a rough situation."

Kanawha County Sheriff Kemp Melton said 18 persons were arrested for unlawful assembly Monday at nearby St. Albans after angry parents blocked school bus garages and kept hundreds of children out of classrooms.

School officials said nearly 20 per cent of the county's 45,232 pupils were absent from classes but all but 27 of 222 school buses were on the road Monday.

A sign saying "Burn Nigger Books" was painted in huge black letters on the side of a building in a Charleston suburb, but protest leaders disclaimed responsibility for it.

At the height of the five-week-old protest there were two shootings, schools were closed and 10,000 coal miners walked off the job in support of the parents.

Schools were reopened and miners returned to work when the books were withdrawn from classrooms pending a 30-day review by a special citizens committee.

The protesters, however demanded the unconditional removal of the books, which come from a language arts series and bear such titles as "Communicating," "Man" and "The Dynamics of Language."

Teaching is not new to Boone. Recently he instructed advance drama students at Flagler College in St. Augustine, Fla.

Senators Vote To End Emergency Powers Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has voted officially to end the Great Depression, 41 years after it was declared.

The vote also means the country no longer has to be mobilized for the Korean war.

The action was taken Monday when the Senate passed a bill to abolish four obsolete national emergency declarations and suspend 470 statutes under which presidents are empowered by Congress to invoke extraordinary powers to deal with national crises.

The bill would require congressional approval of any such presidential declarations in the future and any use of national emergency powers.

Under its provisions, Congress would review all emergency declarations and actions every six months to approve or disapprove them.

The bill would further require Presidents to give Congress specific reasons

K&F Speaker Gives Laughter

By FRANK BAIN The speaker for Monday night's meeting of the Top O' Texas Knife and Fork Club lived up to his advance billing.

Dr. James Blakely, who earned a doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Missouri, has devised his own "philosophy of humor," which kept the guests laughing for an hour and a half.

Although the printed tickets and invitations listed 7:30 p.m. as the time for the event, the dinner in the Coronado Inn was practically over by that time, and persons who showed up "on time" found they were actually late.

However, Blakely soon made everyone forget that problem and any other they may have had as he presented his talk, "Living On Love and Laughter."

Monday night's presentation was the first of the fall season by the Knife and Fork Club.

FIRST BAPTIST WOMEN
The Baptist Women met at the church at 12 noon for a luncheon and study on Wednesday, Oct. 2. This was the first meeting of the group for the new church year.

The prayer of grace before the meal was given by Mrs. Myron Porter, new WMU director.

Mrs. Jerry Wilson, president, was in charge of the meeting.

The review of the Baptist Women Handbook and the study of West Africa was directed by Mrs. James Everitt.

Assisting her with the review were Mmes. Tom Wilkerson, David Hutto, Paul Turner, George Smith, D.B. Jameson, Jerry Allen, Fred Epperly and Miss Claudia Evely.

Mrs. Larry Upshaw gave the "Calendar of Prayer" and information about her office as Prayer Support Chairman.

Mrs. Gary Doss explained the different areas to be covered by her office as Mission Action Chairman.

Assisting in the study of West Africa were Mmes. John Glover, Raymond Neff, Boss Coleman and E.E. Shelhamer.

Displaying posters illustrating different facets of Baptist Women work were Mmes. Louis Tarpley, W.R. Bell, Guss Greene, L.V. Hopp, A.N. King, Carl Smith, G.E. Groninger, and H.D. Moran.

Mrs. Wilson concluded the meeting singing the Baptist Women song of the year and with a prayer.

Approximately 60 members were present.

Mrs. Lucy Hale's guests were Mrs. Ruth Yoder and daughter, Nancy from Santa Rosa, Calif. They lived here years ago and found it very entertaining, visiting Palo Duro Canyon, Amarillo, Borger and Miami. They were in the area about 10 days.

Nuptial Mass Unites Debra Labus-Michael Meyer

MRS. MICHAEL JOHN MEYER
...nee Miss Debra Jeanne Labus

Miss Debra Jeanne Labus became the bride of Michael John Meyer Saturday, Sept. 14 in St. Theresa's Catholic Church, Panhandle.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Labus, Panhandle. The bridegroom is the son of Vincent Meyer, Dallas, and Mrs. J.C. Handley of Amarillo.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kalka, White Deer.

THE CEREMONY
Officiating for the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. M.J. Matthisen. Sister Clara, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied the Sister's Choir of Santa Maria Convent as they sang "Ave Maria," and "We Join the Bridegroom and the Bride."

Background decorations for the ceremony were two urns of white gladioli with palm leaf greenery. The bridal aisle and guest pews were arrayed with tri-branched torchiers of three glowing votive candles entwined with greenery. A white satin kneeling bench was placed in front of the altar.

Closing the ceremony, the couple placed a small bouquet at the base of the Blessed Mother statue and knelt in prayer as the choir sang "On This Day." The couple then paused to light a Christian wedding candle.

THE BRIDE
Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white angel mist over bridal Peau de Soie. The softly flared A-line silhouette featured an empire waistline and sheer yoke enhanced with imported heavy re-embroidered lace. The full back of the gown, highlighted with tiny satin buttons and a Dior bow with long flowing streamers, ended in a ruffle at the hemline which cascaded into a sweeping chapel length train. The Bishop sleeves with fitted cuffs of applied lace, closed with tiny satin buttons.

The three-tiered full length veil of bridal illusion fell from a Venice lace bandeau and she carried a nosegay of cushion mums, daisies, miniature carnations and baby's breath with orchid and aqua streamers. The bridal attire was original designs, fashioned especially for the bride by her mother.

For the traditional something old, the bride wore a 50-year-old family heirloom cameo, which was worn by the bridegroom's mother and grandmother in each of their weddings. Other traditional bridal attire was carried out, and the bride wore birthdate pennies in her shoes.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. David Mooring of Clarendon and Miss Lynette Labus attended their sister as matron of honor and maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Carter and Miss Lea Handley, of Amarillo, sister of the bridegroom. They wore identical gowns of aqua angel mist with floral print bodices of orchid and blue, featuring a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves, a deep flared ruffle at the hemline and empire waistline, accented with a soft orchid bow.

Their coils of matching floral print tiers were accented at the back with long blue loops. Each carried a nosegay fashioned similar to the bridal bouquet.

Flower girl was Miss Donna Labus, Bay City, niece of the bride. She was dressed identically to the bridal attendants and carried a white carousel decorated with streamers and filled with flower petals.

David Mooring of Clarendon served as best man. Groomsman were Jim McKown, Mike Rena and Mike Harris, all of Amarillo.

Ushers were Ron Labus, brother of the bride, Bay City, and Bobby Ebenkamp, Pampa, ring bearer was Keith Kalka, cousin of the bride, Hereford.

RECEPTION
A reception was held in Parish Hall immediately following the ceremony. Guests were registered by Miss Sherri King of Dallas, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jo Handley of Amarillo, sister of the bridegroom. The serving table was covered with a white Peau de Soie cloth overlaid with white bridal tulle bordered with lace. The bridal bouquet and bridesmaid's nosegays formed the centerpiece for the silver appointed table.

The four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a Christian wedding cross and miniature bride and bridegroom, was served by Miss Sherri King and Mrs. Michael Strand of Dallas, cousin of the bride.

The punch was served by Mrs. Ron Labus, of Bay City, sister-in-law of the bride. Other members of the houseparty were Miss Sandy Cummings, Oklahoma City, Miss Rosealea Kalka of White Deer, and Mrs. Ken Plunk of Amarillo, all cousins of the bride, and Miss Jo Handley.

Hostesses for the reception were Mmes. Herman Hoffman, Clement Labus, Joe Spann, Fabian Haiduk and Raymond Conrad.

A wedding dance in Parish Hall followed the reception.

For the wedding trip to Colorado Springs, the bride wore a three-piece forest green pant suit and a corsage of daisies and baby's breath.

AFFILIATIONS
The bride is a 1971 graduate of Panhandle High School and attended Amarillo College and West Texas State University. The bridegroom is a 1972 graduate of Palo Duro High School in Amarillo and a spring graduate of Texas State Technical Institute.

The couple will reside in Amarillo where the bridegroom is employed by Bob Getman Cement Contractor.

PRE-NUPRIAL EVENTS
A miscellaneous shower in the Vernon Mann residence, honoring the bride, was hosted by Mmes. Earl Cole, Vernon Mann, Raymond Conrad, Herman Hoffman, Leon Haiduk, Leroy Meaker, Fabian Haiduk, A.J. Looten, Bennie Urbanczyk, and Vernon Reining.

Mrs. Robert Cole of Amarillo aunt of the bridegroom, hosted a bridal shower in her home in honor of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Handley hosted the rehearsal dinner in the Heritage Room of the First National Bank.

Mrs. Alvin Kalka of White Deer and Mrs. Kenneth Cummings, Oklahoma City, aunts of the bride, hosted the bridal luncheon.

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED KARPIN

A bridge player who is unfamiliar with national championship play might well be of the opinion that this top-level play, the mastery of technique in bidding and play would always be manifesting itself. If he were to attend a national tournament, he would be sadly disillusioned, for unbelievable things occur rather frequently. As the Bard of Avon put it, "there are more things on Heaven and Earth, Horatio, than are dreamt of in your philosophy."

An example of the strange goings-on at national tournaments can be seen in today's deal. The hand came up during the 1974 Summer National Championships held this past July in New York City. In the deal, a tournament record was established: a set of 4000 points!

Fugate--Best In Printing

Fugate Printing Company continues to specialize in the finest of business forms and stationery.

Bob Fugate, owner, has been known in Pampa for his top quality printing and lithographing since 1951, and on this reputation, he has expanded to the present large modern printing plant at 210 N. Ward.

Regardless of the size or complexity of your printing need, whether it be business cards or an eight-part time carbon form, you can be sure it will be produced accurately and quickly at Fugate's.

Among the hundreds of items regularly produced in the Fugate plant are snap-apart forms (either one-time or carbon or NCR paper statements), invoices, letterheads, envelopes, business cards, brochures, booklets, window cards, tickets, labels, and many specialty items such as calendars, schedule cards, die cut specialties and binding and folding.

Fugate handles genuine steel die engraved wedding invitations and announcements, in addition to their more economical line of simulated engraved invitations.

The firm also offers a complete line of office supplies, featuring these top quality brands: Boorum & Pease columnar sheets and pads, post binders, loose leaf ring books and sheets, Smead files and expanding wallets, Carter adhesives and marking devices.

Others are Bic and Micro-point Papermate ballpoint pens, Flair and Carter markers, Swingline and Bostitch staples and staplers, Stecbo brief cases, Scotch brand tape, Barkley file folders, Pendaflex hanging file folders and frames, Frankel typewriter, adding machine and calculator ribbons, typewriter and pencil carbons, duplicator carbon master sets and Tempo brand mimeograph stencils.

Fugate stocks mimeo stencils and ink for Gestetner, Geah and Rex Rotary machines and has a good supply of mimeo and duplicator paper in both letter and legal sizes.

'The Miracle Of Mombasa' Opening Doors To Kenyans

NEW YORK (UPI) — At Lummus Co., Bloomfield, N. J., machinery manufacturer and construction firm, they call it "The miracle of Mombasa," a gratifying refutation of the ugly American theme.

It's a story of how Lummus, a subsidiary of Combustion Engineering, Inc., Stamford, Conn., trained African workers, fresh from the bush, for much of the work in expanding a refinery at Mombasa, Kenya, to make it one of the biggest in Africa.

The job is finished, leaving the Kenyan government with a pool of trained African workers, including 200 skilled welders and pipefitters, for work on other projects. The Japanese Toyota company is planning an automobile assembly plant in Kenya and a pipeline will be built from the Mombasa refinery to the capital at Nairobi.

Nearly all the 200 welders and pipefitters trained were from the bush country. Most never had done a day's work for pay. They were illiterate and had not dreamed of ever having a steady job. They couldn't vote because they couldn't pay poll tax. Most couldn't even afford to marry. Now all 200 have been jerked into the 20th Century overnight and their whole outlook on life changed.

But the miracle of Mombasa has been magical for Lummus too; it saved the New Jersey company huge amounts of money and time on the job.

Lummus first considered the usual practice of shipping European or American welders and pipefitters to Kenya at high pay. Then it was decided to train Kenyans. A plan was worked out between the company and the faculty of Mombasa Polytechnic Institute, which agreed to select the trainees and provide some of the facilities.

It was expected if one out of three of the Kenyans from the bush finished the training and became a satisfactory worker, the project would be a success. The budgeted cost of the training course was $1,700 per worker.

The results were astounding. Only two of the 200 trainees failed to become a satisfactory craftsman and the actual cost of training was only $700 per worker.

Mombasa is just south of the Equator on the Indian Ocean. It's a climate where any physical work is quite an effort and to put on a welding mask, stand next to the fire of torch hour after hour and produce 50 inches of welds a day is a great triumph of the will. But these Kenyans did it for nine hours a day and six and a half days a week.

ALL GONE — AN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The last grizzly bear in California was killed in Tulare County in 1922, says the California Department of Fish and Game.

Business Today

By LeROY POPE
UPI Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — Mention the bellows and the image that comes to mind is the piano accordion or the leather instrument the old fashioned blacksmith used to make the fire in his forge glow to heat iron white hot.

The organs in old churches obtained their air flow from a huge bellows pumped by hand levers. Jewelers and other skilled workers used a tiny bellows to blow dust away from their work.

Motor-driven fans have taken over these functions, but the principle of the bellows, discovered in prehistoric time, still is used in a wide variety of sophisticated machines.

The casual observer can't see these modern bellows devices. They're concealed in the housing of instruments. They may be made of leather like the old fashioned bellows but are more likely to be made of a tough plastic or metal. They are taken for granted but they do surprising things. For example, one controls the level of fire and keeps the coffee urn hot in restaurants. This isn't exactly earthshaking news but, on the other hand, who likes cold coffee?

Another rather simple but widely used bellows control is found on the water troughs on pig farms. It turns on a heat element as the temperature drops to freezing and keeps the water flowing. The pigs don't know about it but still they appreciate it.

The same principle is used on very sophisticated bellows devices that prevent fuel from freezing in the fuel lines of airliners, military planes and ships. These devices protect at temperatures many degrees below zero.

One of the important makers of devices using sophisticated applications of the bellows principle is Standard-Thomson Corp. of Waltham, Mass., an instrument maker with sales of around $23 million last year.

Magazines In Review: Recent Issues

United Press International — If magazines offer any value, disenchantment with government runs wide and deep. Opposition is mounting, to bloated payrolls, foreign involvement, how taxes are raised and spent, and the way the economy is being run. Worried that "runaway government payrolls" might "bankrupt" the nation, Editor Creed C. Black of the Philadelphia Inquirer writes in Reader's Digest that total public employment has hit nearly 14 million. That's 18 per cent of our work force, a big factor causing Federal, state and local governments to devour 21.4 per cent of the gross national product — three times as much as in 1929.

However, Melville J. Ulmer calls in the Atlantic for gradually enrolling up to four million jobless in a national service plan to fight inflation and depression. He also urges selective wage and price controls; suggests a tax boost and wants "special-interest subsidies" taken out of the federal budget.

Also for cutting down, author Sidney Lens in The Progressive opts for "slashing the $90-billion-a-year war budget and the

2,500 military bases it maintains abroad." In his view, the "abundant economy" is turning into a "shortage economy" as America's influence in the world fades. Lens predicts "more and more weak nations can be expected to assert control over their own resources and do what the great powers have done for centuries — charge whatever the market will bear."

As for the New Yorker, it is "appalled" at U.S. chumminess with foreign dictators. It scores the U.S. role in toppling the former Allende regime and hopes Chileans will overthrow their new military rulers. Striking a different note on Chile, The National Review's James Burnham argues that deposed President Allende's "democratic trappings" were only incidental; that he stifled dissent. Burnham warns Communist world leaders see "two, three, many Chiles" of the Allende Marxist type "looming on the near historical horizon," including Portugal.

Did Marilyn Monroe's suicide make you wonder what taking such a step would be like? In the month following her death, sociologist David Phillips writes, the nation's suicide rate jumped 12 per cent. He says in The American Sociological Review that there are suggestive people among us who imitate suicides who make the headlines.

Researchers are also studying suicides, homicides and insanity and their relationship, if any, to

Critic Of U.S. Dies

NEW DELHI (UPI) — The mass of mourners wound slowly through the streets behind the body of V.K. Krishna Menon, the caustic critic of the United States.

The cortege came to a halt at the bank of the Jumna River and witnessed the remains of the former defense minister placed in a waterside crematorium. "A volcano is extinct," Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said Sunday night at the cremation of one of India's most controversial figures.

Mrs. Gandhi led hundreds of Indian leaders in paying tribute to Menon, fired in disgrace as defense minister in 1962 following India's crushing border war defeat by China. Menon, who died a bachelor early Sunday at the age of 78, had insisted on a funeral ceremony devoid of religious rites. He was born a Hindu, but later became an atheist.

He began criticizing the United States in the 1950s after America started selling arms to Pakistan. He remained a bitter critic of Washington until his death.

"Really, I make no bones about it, but the United States has no purpose but to upset other people," Menon told UPI in a rare interview a few months before dying.

Menon entered a New Delhi hospital Friday complaining of exhaustion.

He had a severe heart attack late Saturday and died Sunday morning.

Although a confidant of the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and an eloquent defender of India's non-alignment policy in world forums, Menon's personality and the China debacle made him unpopular at home.

Menon's acid tongue-lashings, aimed mostly but not exclusively at the United States, won him more notoriety than respect abroad.

The Almanac

United Press International — Today is Tuesday, Oct. 8, the 281st day of 1974 with 84 to follow.

The moon is in its last quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Libra. Famed American aviator Eddie Rickenbacker was born Oct. 8, 1890.

On this day in history: In 1871, the great Chicago fire started. It destroyed more than 17,000 buildings, killed several hundred persons and left 98,000 homeless. In 1923, inflation reached such a disastrous extent in Germany that an American penny was worth more than six million marks.

In 1948, the first contingent of World War II WAVES began naval training at Smith College in Massachusetts.

In 1967, former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee died at the age of 84.

A thought for the day: Spanish philosopher George Santayana said: "There is no cure for birth and death save to enjoy the interval."

No-Roach Kills Roaches

Some people never have he neighbors in...and it's understandable. Who wants to take a chance on the neighbor spotting a cockroach flitting across a counter, or down a drain? So it is that thousands of housewives...all over America, never join Kaffee Klatch, because they know they can never take their turns having the girls in.

Or can they? Of course they can. All they have to do is discover Johnston's No-Roach...the sure-fire answer to cockroach problems. Not to mention ants...and silverfish...and spiders...and so forth. No-Roach, the household insecticide that keeps the promise of its name. The seeming magic about No-Roach is the ease with which it is used. You just brush it on (No-Roach supplies the brush) anywhere that roaches or other crawling pests may assemble: across doorways, windowsills and baseboards; in cupboards and along the edges of kitchen cabinets. No-Roach is killing cockroach eggs back in the nest...cause every roach (or insect of any kind) that crosses No-Roach, picks it up on its feet and takes it home.

Do the neighborly thing. Serve the ladies on the block a cup of coffee in a roach-free kitchen...thanks to Johnston's No-Roach. Available at: Ideal; Furr's, Sav-U, Cashway, Piggly Wiggly and all food stores. Dist. by Affiliated, & Kimbell.

FOR PEACE AND OIL

Kissinger Expecting Progress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger expects progress but no final agreements to result from his newest Middle East mission in search of peace and lower oil prices.

"I am not going with any fixed ideas," Kissinger told a news conference, despite published reports he has an elaborate plan to present to Arab and Israeli leaders.

"I would like to point out that there will be no concrete results in terms of agreements or dramatic announcements that can be expected out of this trip," Kissinger said. "The primary purpose is to give concreteness to the negotiating process, and perhaps to agree on some timing."

He said he would not meet with Yasser Arafat, a Palestinian leader who reportedly has extended his visit to Cairo so it will overlap with Kissinger's.

Kissinger indirectly has linked the issues of oil and Middle East peace talks by expanding his itinerary to include oil-rich Saudi Arabia as well as Algeria and Morocco. He originally planned visits to Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Israel.

But he insisted that the oil and peace issues are being negotiated separately. "The major dynamics of the impact of the high oil prices is not inevitably linked to the Arab-Israli negotiations," he said.

"We are negotiating these two issues separately because the high oil prices affect many nations on a global basis that do not have the remotest connection with the Arab-Israli conflict."

"We believe that to some extent, these negotiations should be conducted in separate forums, and we are conducting them in separate forums," Kissinger said.

Kissinger also said "there is no possibility I will see... Arafat or any other Palestinian leader while I am in the Middle East."

Arab leaders told former President Nixon earlier this summer that a solution to the Palestinian problem — where to relocate Palestinians who lost their homes when the state of Israel was created — was the only key to a lasting peace in the Middle East.

IN HAIRCUT INCIDENT
Brooks Not Harrassed
In Prison, Judge Rules

HOUSTON (UPI) — Texas District Judge William M. Hatten ruled Monday that David Owen Brooks, accused of killing four youths in a three-year sex and sadism murder spree, has not been mistreated by jail officials.

Hatten also ruled that Brooks could not prevent inmate barbers from cutting his hair.

"I don't find that he's harassed or molested any more than any other prisoner," Hatten said. "I don't find that the sheriff is abusing his prisoner."

Brooks' attorney, Ted Musick, asked for the hearing, saying Brooks had been beaten by jail trustees when he refused to submit peacefully to a routine haircut Sept. 30.

"I had orders he was to get his hair cut if I had to take him out of the cell," deputy L. R. Lowe testified. "He told me he was not. He said he was not coming out without a fight."

"He backed up, took his glasses off and put up his fists," Lowe said.

Lowe testified Brooks struck one trustee, Roy McCullough, in the face and threatened his life during the 20-minute incident.

"He told Roy he would kill him," Lowe said. "He said he would kill him with a broom handle if he had to."

County Officials Attending Meet

Two members of Gray County Commissioners Court plan to attend the Oct. 9, 10, and 11 gathering in Houston of the county Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas.

County Judge Don Cain left for Houston Monday, with 3rd Precinct Commissioner Jimmie McCracken planning to leave today or Wednesday.

The annual conference is expected to transact important business for Texas counties, hear outstanding, informative speakers, and participate in many planned entertainment features, according to "County Progress," official publication of the association.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe heads the list of distinguished speakers. Others include Attorney General John Hill, former U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, Assistant Attorney General J.C. Davis, and Secretary of State Mark White.

Headquarters of the conference will be the Rice Hotel in Houston.

FFA Planning Area Meeting

Officers and teachers of Area I, Future Homemakers of America, will meet today at Pampa Junior High School cafeteria for work sessions.

Representatives will be present from Pampa, Claude, Groom, Clarendon, Panhandle, Berger, Lefors, Phillips, Sunray and Sanford - Ms. Nita Williams, local FHA sponsor.

Teachers and officers will meet separately for work sessions and program planning.

Sunray will have charge of the program, which is scheduled to begin at 4:30 p.m. and continue to 7:30 p.m.

Saturday Party

The next meeting of the Betwixt - Between Singles Club will be Saturday, Oct. 12 at 7 p.m. at the home of president, Dr. Gerald York, 1121 S. Hobart.

An informal Columbus Day Party will be held. All adult singles are invited to come.

On Sept. 28, a Chinese game party was enjoyed by the group. Both attendance and interest are growing with each meeting of the club, York said.

Other activities being planned by the group for the near future are a Halloween costume party and the formation of a square dance club. More information on these activities will be given at a later date.

For additional information about the club, call 665-1627.

TIRE CHECK

DETROIT (UPI) — It's good practice to inspect the wheels whenever new tires are bought for a car.

A wheel that does not lie flat or roll straight on a smooth surface should be replaced. A damaged wheel can ruin a new set of tires quickly.

It Sims To Me...

By PAUL SIMS
Sports Editor

Denny Moss and the White Deer Bucks headed the list of remarkable performances turned in by area football players Friday night, a typical night of area high school football with upsets, near upsets and expected wins.

White Deer pulled out the biggest surprise of all, edging District 1-A favorite Stratford, 14-7, in a district clash at White Deer. Moss galloped for 185 yards on 24 carries and had a touchdown on 75 yards in the second quarter.

For his incredible performance, the senior halfback was named Amarillo Globe - News Player of the Week today. The win gives White Deer a 1-0 record and a big step towards the 1-A championship. White Deer, Stinnett and Sunray are all unbeaten after the first week of district play. The Bucks, open this Friday, visit tough Canadian Oct. 18.

Canadian was the upsettee and Sunray the upsetter in another 1-A bout Friday evening. Sunray won the battle of the cats, 29-0, as halfback Charlie Vasquez rambled for 130 yards and picked off two passes on defense. The Bobcats were slight underdogs going into the game and have now become a strong contender for the 1-A crown, which is still completely up for grabs.

Don't count the Wildcats out yet. Jack Hawthorne-coached teams usually have a way of bouncing back. A win against Stratford Friday would put Canadian back into the race. And any one of the unbeaten is likely to lose before the season's over.

Here are some 1-A games yet to be played: Canadian at Stratford, Stinnett at Sunray, Canadian at White Deer, Stratford at Stinnett, Stinnett at White Deer, Canadian at Stinnett, Sunray at Stratford and Sunray at White Deer. Whoever goes undefeated in District 1-A will probably win state.

A near upset last Friday was made by the Miami Warriors, who lost to Lefors, 14-0. Miami, which is an eight-man team, played 11-man football against the Class B Warriors, and according to Lefors coach Leonard Tolbert, "If they don't win their division, I'll be really surprised."

Tolbert added, "I tell you what - they've got a good football team. I was extremely impressed with their defense and overall team speed. I like that Mercer kid (Mark) he was in on a lot of plays."

The Pirates were led by fullback Barney Sawyer, back after a week layoff on offense because of a hip pointer. Sawyer rushed 19 times for 165 yards and made 11 unassisted tackles at linebacker.

The "expected" winners Friday included Wheeler over Claude, Silverton over McLean, Groom over Pampa junior varsity, Perryton over Dalhart (50-0) and Pampa over Canyon.

In the latter, the Harvesters won their second straight game over a 1-AAA opponent, 33-0, as they whipped Perryton by the same score three Fridays ago.

The win against Canyon wasn't all joyous as Chuck Quarles had his thumb broken when a Canyon player fell on the Pampa quarterback, who had the thumb (his passing thumb) turned backwards. The injury, which will keep Quarles' thumb in a cast for three weeks, happened in the third quarter.

Pampa had another good night overall, though. The Harvesters racked up 367 yards and held the visiting Eagles to only 74.

***

Pampa News Managing Editor Larry Hollis writes: "Someone from around town, we hear, has been dissatisfied with the coverage given to the Pampa Harvesters, the varsity and junior varsity football teams, and to junior high football activities."

He thinks the newspaper has not given enough coverage. He claims to have read more about the Pampa teams in the Amarillo paper than in The News.

If so, it's only because he's read the Amarillo paper more often.

A few figures - Since Sept. 1, The News has published 491 inches about the Harvester varsity football team and printed 49 pictures of the team, either as individuals or as action shots.

During the same period (which includes Monday's edition), the junior varsity has had 76 inches of copy and 15 pictures.

Does he really think the Amarillo paper has given that much coverage to Pampa? Amarillo, I'm sure, has never granted its neighboring city that much space in such a short period for anything!

Now he might complain because the junior varsity has not received as much coverage as the varsity. Much as parents might like to think otherwise, the jayvee team just does not generate as much interest in the community as a whole as the varsity team. I'm not saying that's right; it's just the way it is.

And the same with the junior high teams. To date, in the same period as above, there have been 34 inches of copy on the junior high games. This despite the fact that "someone" claims there has been NO results published in The News. It's there for the reading.

There's also a complaint about misspelled names. Often we receive the names misspelled. Or when taking results over the phone, misunderstandings occur. Or sometimes the way a name is sent back on the copy is not the way it comes out in print. Mistakes are made.

Including, sometimes, one's opinion of what constitutes good coverage and what does not.

The coaches themselves don't seem to be making any complaints about the coverage. Just some of the fans.

Oiler Coach Tired Of Giving Games

HOUSTON (UPI) - Coach Sid Gillman is tired of giving ball games away. He hopes quarterback Dan Pastorini is healed enough to turn things around for the ailing Oilers.

"I think he is (ready)," Gillman said. "He came out of the last game unscathed. I worried about it, because if he'd gotten hurt it would have been another month."

"I kidded him after the ball game, that from here on out if he had any aches and pains relate them to the doctor, don't relate them to me. I felt he was ready to go."

Pastorini, coming into the final quarter against Pittsburgh Sunday, completed three of six passes for 69 yards. A pulled hamstring kept Pastorini out of the entire preseason and first three season games this year.

Pastorini threw for only 10 less yards than starter Lynn Dickey, but he couldn't change the faltering pace of the Oilers losing 13-7 to Pittsburgh.

With a final chance to score from a first down on the Pittsburgh 18-yard line, Pastorini fumbled the snap from center for the Oilers third turnover and second near the goal line.

McLean Boosters To Buy Machine With Garage Sale

The McLean Tiger Booster Club is going to sponsor a garage sale soon to raise money for a leg-press machine for the athletic department. It will cost around $750.

Anyone wanting to donate to the sale should bring the merchandise to Terry's Appliance old building on I-40 or call 779-2820 to have the merchandise picked up. The date of the sale will be announced later. Cash donations are also being accepted.

AL Playoffs Pick Up Today As Oakland Plays At Baltimore

BALTIMORE (UPI) - The Baltimore Orioles' World Series hopes may rest today on a nod of Jim Palmer's head.

That nod will come about 15 minutes before the Orioles and the world champion Oakland A's resume their American League championship series at 2 p.m. EDT and will tell Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver whether Palmer or Ross Grimsley will be the starting pitcher against the A's Vida Blue in the third game of the best-of-five series.

Should Palmer remove himself from the starting role Weaver and the other Orioles want him to play, the A's would become the clear favorites to win the AL pennant.

Although Palmer had only a 7-12 record this season, following his AL Cy Young Award winning 22-9 season in 1973, he is generally regarded as the best pitcher on either team. Weaver says that Palmer pitched as well during the last month of this season as he did during his brilliant 1973 campaign and points out that he shut out the A's in the first game of last year's playoff series.

Palmer has a pinched nerve in his right elbow which at times acts up and cuts down on his effectiveness.

"I don't have pain," Palmer said Monday. "But if the nerve is inflamed, it affects my forearm and I can't throw with the same velocity."

The Orioles worked out at Memorial Stadium for about two hours Monday while the A's passed up a workout in favor of flying into Baltimore later in the day.

The teams are scheduled to play the final two games of the series, if necessary, Wednesday and Thursday with each game to start at 2 p.m. EDT.

"It's as even as it can be," said Weaver. "This series will be decided by inches. We're both very good clubs and the breaks will decide it for us."

Los Angeles Leads Pirates Going Into Game Today, 2-0

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - The Los Angeles Dodgers, the winningest team in baseball in 1974, hope to wrap up their first National League pennant in eight seasons today when they take a 2-0 lead into the third game of the NL playoffs against the frustrated Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Pirates dominated the Dodgers during the regular season, taking 8 of 12 from the Western Division champs, but they collected just a dozen hits, all singles, in the first two games of the series.

At Pittsburgh Saturday and Sunday, first the Dodgers' Don Sutton and then Andy Messersmith, with the help of ubiquitous Mike Marshall, stopped the Pirates 3-0 and 5-2.

"Nothing is going to be easy from now on," said Pirate slugger Willie Stargell, who has three of his club's 12 hits against Dodger pitching.

"I don't think the Dodgers have ever played any better than we did in the first two games of this series," said Sutton, a Dodger since 1966. "Not as long as I've been with them, at least."

If the Dodgers can't win the pennant today, they have two more opportunities—Wednesday and Thursday here.

A freak thunderstorm rumbled across Southern California Monday, posing the remote possibility that today's game could be delayed by more showers. Forecasters said there was a 40 per cent chance of rain today.

Doug Rau, 13-11, a southpaw, is scheduled to oppose Pittsburgh's Bruce Kison, 9-8, a righthander, in the third contest of the series, the Dodgers' first game at home since Sept. 25.

Griese Stops Namath In Battle Of Passers

MIAMI (UPI) - As Miami Dolphin Coach Don Shula put it, "Those were two pretty good no. 12's going after each other tonight."

Dolphin quarterback Bob Griese and the New York

Jets' Joe Namath threw 62 times in Miami's 21-17 win Monday night, completing 34 for 489 yards and three touchdowns.

The win for Griese and the Dolphins came only with a big assist from speedy Hubert Ginn, a Baltimore Colt castoff who clinched the Miami win with a 41-yard burst for a touchdown with 8:59 left in the game.

Griese started the game by hitting nine straight passes and converting 13-of-19 third down plays. He wound up hitting 17-of-23 for 167 yards and a touchdown.

Griese admitted the Dolphins are throwing the ball more this year, displaying what amounts to a "new look" as opposed to a run-oriented offense in the past.

"You just can't do the same thing year after year and continue to win," he said. "We're smart enough to know we can't win the same way this year that we did last year."

Although Namath hit 17-of-39 passes for 290 yards and two touchdowns, he said he was disappointed in his performance.

"We just couldn't make the big play," he said, ignoring his team record 89-yard scoring strike to tight end Rich Caster with 8:59 to go that brought the final margin to 21-17.

Ex-Astro Player Files Law Suit

HOUSTON (UPI) - Former professional baseball player Bob Aspromonte filed a $675,000 suit Monday claiming his right eye was damaged by an exploding battery last April.

Aspromonte, who retired from the Houston Astros in 1971, named as defendants General Motors Corp.; its Delco division; Sears, Roebuck Co.; and Sam White Oldsmobile.

The suit said it was a Sears jumper cable applied to a Delco battery in a 1973 Oldsmobile sold by Sam White Oldsmobile. The suit said the explosion caused Aspromonte serious and painful injuries and "cosmetic defects which result in great embarrassment and anguish."

Aspromonte, who now sells real estate, said he was trying to help a person whose car would not start.

"He went to borrow a jumper cable and as he was leaning over to hook it on, the battery explodes and the cap flies off and hits him in the eye," said his lawyer, Joe Jamail.

OU-TEXAS SATURDAY

Switzer Says Earl Best At Wishbone

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) - Barry Switzer is acknowledged to "know a thing or two" about the wishbone offense and he saw something to envy in Texas last Saturday.

"I think Earl Campbell, right now, is the best wishbone fullback in the country," Switzer said Monday.

Switzer flew to Austin to watch Texas thump Washington, 35-21, Saturday night after his Sooners demolished Wake Forest, 63-0, during the afternoon. Oklahoma and Texas stage their annual grudge match in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas this Saturday.

Switzer said he saw a better Texas team last Saturday than the Sooners defeated, 52-13, last year.

Campbell, a freshman, is one of the reasons. But the backfield as a whole is faster, he said.

"Offensively, they're better than they've been before because of speed at halfback," Switzer said. "The past couple of years we've had to worry mostly about fullback and quarterback; they used their halfbacks most as blockers. That's no longer true."

Switzer said Texas has had some problems on pass defense because of adjusting to a new defensive alignment, but is as tough as ever against the run.

"We'll have to play a game where we make as few critical errors as possible," Switzer said.

The team with the fewest errors and the best kicking game, he said, is likely to be the winner.

Conover Hoping Notre Dame Runs Same Kind Of Game As Last One

HOUSTON (UPI) - Rice coach Al Conover said if Notre Dame tries to run straight at them this week the Owls can stop the Irish.

"Against Michigan State (last weekend) Notre Dame tried to run straight at them - not make mistakes - and tried to control the game," Conover said Monday.

"That's fine with me. I hope that's what they do to us because their quarterback, Tom Clements, is a great operator."

"He's the key to their offense. He's what makes their offense go. We've got to figure out some way to bribe him, something, to keep him from doing that."

Rice has been prepping for the Notre Dame game in South Bend, Ind., since tying LSU two weeks ago.

Ohio State Solid Choice For Rating's No. 1 Spot

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ohio State, as it has all season, was a solid No. 1 choice in the latest United Press International Board of Coaches' major college ratings, but the Southeastern Conference is making its move.

A trio of undefeated SEC teams occupy three of the top six positions in this week's top 20 ratings. Alabama retained the No. 2 spot it has held since the preseason, and Florida and Auburn climbed into the fifth and sixth positions, respectively.

Ohio State captured a season high 32 first-place votes in, amassing 347 points.

Alabama received two first-place ballots, while No. 3 Michigan received the other.

Nebraska, 3-1, replaced Texas A&M as the No. 4 team after the Aggies were upset by Kansas 28-10 Saturday. The Aggies were the only one of last week's top 10 to lose, the best week the top-ranked teams have enjoyed this season.

Florida topped LSU and Auburn shut out Miami (Fla.) to run their records to 4-0 and set up an interesting title chase in the SEC. Florida does not meet Alabama, but must face Auburn. The War Eagles also play Bama.

Texas Tech remained No. 7, while Notre Dame fell from sixth to eighth after struggling past Michigan State 19-14 Saturday.

Southern California and North Carolina State each advanced one notch to take the ninth and 10th spots, respectively.

Wisconsin regained a berth in the top 20 by blasting previously-ranked Missouri 59-20 for the No. 11 rating.

Undefeated Arizona climbed three positions to 12th. Penn State was 13th and 3-1 Kansas made its first appearance in the ratings as No. 14.

Arkansas, which has outscored its last two opponents by 109-0, also regained a spot in the ratings as No. 15. Texas, Texas A&M and UCLA were in a three-way tie for 16th, while Arizona State was 19th and Baylor and Tulane tied for 20th.

Cincy Trying To Make Deal

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds reportedly have offered the Houston Astros a list of Red players for consideration in a trade to send third baseman Doug Rader to Cincinnati. The Cincinnati Enquirer said the Reds might be willing to part with third baseman Dan Driessen, outfielder Ken Griffey or relief pitcher Clay Carroll. Cincinnati finished second in the NL West this season. Houston was fourth.

Oklahoma Heavily Favored As Game Set For Saturday

United Press International In the midst of a more than a quarter of a million people who will push along the midway, swarm around the exhibits and stroll through the livestock barns of the State Fair of Texas next Saturday, they will run off a pretty good side show — Texas vs. Oklahoma.

As always, the Red River rivalry will be a carnival in itself, beginning the night before on the streets of downtown Dallas and finally culminating in the 69th renewal of one of football's finer feuds before a sellout mob at the Cotton Bowl.

The Sooners will be the heavy favorite.

"Oklahoma has a great football team," allowed Texas coach Darrell Royal last Saturday after his Longhorns had whipped Washington, 35-21, "but we will take our boys up there and see what happens."

The Texas-Oklahoma clash usually overshadows the rest of the Southwest Conference schedule by a bunch, but this year there is another fairly good attraction in College Station.

Texas A&M (3-1), knocked off its fourth-ranked perch by Kansas last week, 28-10 will open its conference season against Texas Tech (3-0-1), the seventh-ranked club which has already downed Texas and which hung on to nip Oklahoma State Saturday night, 14-13.

Two other conference games are on the schedule as well. Baylor (2-2), winner of two in a row, will travel to Fayetteville and take on Arkansas (3-1), which looked awfully good in a 49-0 demolishing of TCU. And SMU (3-1) will visit TCU (1-3) — a meeting that usually takes place at the end of the season, but one that has

Cowboy Feels Winning Kick Was No Good

IRVING, Tex. (UPI) — Dallas Cowboy middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan put up a brief, vocal argument Sunday over the quality of a last-second field goal by Minnesota's Cox, which gave the Vikings a 23-21 win.

The 27-yard kick appeared to carry directly over the right upright — or maybe just inside or outside the upright. At any rate, it was close.

"The ball was outside the goal post from where I was on the field," said Jordan. "It was outside the goal post by the thickness of the ball. To me that isn't any good."

"I don't know how the official's rule book reads, but anytime the thickness of the ball is outside the goal post in my opinion it is supposed to be not good."

After Jordan argued for a bit, he was told to be quiet.

"He told me to mind my own business, politely," Jordan said. "He gave me some theory about a certain portion of it being over the goal post or something like that."

been moved up in hopes of drawing more folks.

Rice (0-2-1), which had last week off, has the honor of taking on Notre Dame in South Bend.

Tech coach Jim Carlen, naturally, is concerned about Texas A&M, but he is also concerned with his own club.

"I'd like to play this week who Rice played last week," said Carlen. "We're a little beat up now. Texas and Oklahoma State both are physical teams and we're showing it. A&M is the most physical team in the Southwest Conference since I've been here."

"And I don't think there is going to be any big shootout this year. Any team in any place can beat anyone else this year. This year you are going to have your hands full whenever you play."

Oklahoma, it appears, should have success moving the football against Texas. The Longhorns' pass defense has been extra poor the past two weeks. Sooner coach Barry Switzer, however, does not think that should be much of a problem for the Longhorns next Saturday.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford's trip up Capitol Hill this week to reveal his new economic program was preceded by one of the biggest trial balloon flotations in memory.

I spent several days with Congressional ack-ack battalions watching them shoot down exploratory anti-inflation proposals as they drifted over.

At times the western sky was darkened by them.

"Where are these babies coming from?" cried one Senate gunner as he buckled on a World War I type helmet and crouched down behind the sandbags.

"I don't know," his spotter shouted, "but here comes another one!"

The spotter grabbed a pair of binoculars and trained them on a point slightly above and to the right of the Washington Monument.

"Ten o'clock high!" he barked. "It's a 10 cent gasoline tax increase and it appears to be coming from the general direction of the Treasury Department."

Both senators wheeled around to their mimeograph machines and began firing off press releases denouncing the plan as unfair, ineffectual and unduly burdensome on certain segments of the economy.

I could tell from the puffs of smoke dotting the sky that other ack-ack battalions in both the Senate and House were zeroed in on it too.

At that moment the 10 cent gas tax balloon, which apparently wasn't very substantial anyhow, burst into flames and plummeted to the ground in the vicinity of the statue of Ulysses S. Grant.

The smoking duplicating machines had hardly ceased their clatter before another trial balloon rose on the horizon, this one lofting up from the Federal Energy Administration.

The spotter quickly identified it as a 20-cent gas tax booster with refunding clause. It was so complicated it barely got off the ground and collapsed of its own weight before it got in range.

The gasoline rationing trial balloon was just coming into view when I slipped out of the ack-ack emplacement and made my way to an advanced outpost manned by an administration spokesman.

"What's the strategy behind this massive trial balloon launching?" I said.

"We keep hoping one of them will get through so the President will have something to put in his economic package," the spokesman replied, scanning the sky anxiously.

You'll know from hearing and reading about Ford's message whether anything made it.

BEHIND TIMES

CARACAS (UPI) — Communications minister Armando Sanchez Bueno says Venezuela is 50 years behind the times in telecommunications facilities.

The minister blamed the situation on what he called the mentality of politicians who in the past thought it was enough to construct ostentatious public works projects with no thought given to their daily operation and maintenance.

REALLY CARE

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ms. Mary Millsap, member of the American Association of Industrial Nurses, says "half the job in trying to help people stop smoking is in convincing them that you really care that they are hurting their health."

Industrial nurses, because they are workers every day on the job, are more strategically placed than most other health workers to help the smoker who wants to quit," she added.

Lefors School Board Plans Meeting

LEFORS — The board of directors of Lefors Independent School District will meet in regular session Oct. 10 to consider an agenda containing nine items, according to school superintendent Jerrel Julian.

Aside from routine matters such as payment of bills, the board will consider these items:

- Participation in the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.
- Purchase of new school buses and sale of old buses.
- School audit made by Cornel and Company of Amarillo.
- Results of community survey made by elementary principal-Phase II.
- Contract to employ attorneys to collect delinquent taxes.
- Report on school board and superintendents workshops held in San Antonio.
- Sick leave policy and business leave.

AFS Seeking Exchange Student Applicants

The American Field Service student exchange program is currently seeking applications for students interested in attending school in other countries for foreign study.

A local board will begin screening applicants soon. Two students will be referred to New York for national consideration under the program.

Applications are available from Howard Graham, Pampa High School history teacher, in Room 206. Deadline for all applications is Nov. 1.

Three programs are currently offered. In the Northern Hemisphere, a student has the opportunity to attend school in mainly West European countries. The Southern Hemisphere program includes Latin America, Africa and parts of Asia.

Students in the Northern Hemisphere plan would attend school during approximately the same school year currently in use here. Under the Southern Hemisphere program a student would leave here for the south in January or February.

Cost for both programs is $550 plus $250 for a yearly allowance. The other program is for summer school only, with more countries available. Cost is $975.

A student may apply for only one of the options. More male applicants are being sought since four times as many girls usually apply.

The U.S. beef cattle industry is the largest segment of American agriculture.
