Chemical Plant Explodes

SCUNTHORPE, England (UPI) — In what may be Britain's worst industrial explosion in peacetime, a chemical plant blew up in northeast England and poisonous fumes caused the evacuation of three villages.

The curious away while ambulances shuttled back and forth to take out the dead and wounded. The blast engulfed the Nypro (UK) Ltd chemical plant at Flixborough, Lincolnshire, in flames that spread over a wide area, witnesses said. The village is about 160 miles northeast of London.

The previous highest death toll from a blast in peacetime was in 1971 when 21 people died and 57 were injured in a gas explosion that tore 10 shops apart at Clarkston Toll in Scotland. The Nypro plant makes raw material used in the manufacture of nylon.

"We don't know how many people are still inside although we know there were about 50 or 60 before the explosion," Shaw said. "We probably got 30 of them out but we are still checking."

The blast was heard 30 miles away in Grimsby on the North Sea coast. Thirty fire engines rushed to the scene. "It is quite colossal," an ambulance service spokesman said. "People are being treated for injuries from flying glass from shattered windows in surrounding villages."

Rasco is the second write-in candidate to announce for the post. A.C. Thompson, 1085 Varnon Dr., announced last Wednesday.

Adobe Walls Cub Scouts Studying Bicycle Safety

Cub Scouts in the Adobe Walls area are taking part in a month-long bicycle safety program in their packs and dens that will help the 8-, 9- and 10-year-olds to know how to keep bicycles in safe condition, to drive bicycles safely, and to know traffic signs and rules of the road.

The major event for the 64 Cub Scout packs will be a bike rodeo later this month in each pack's neighborhood, according to William M. McElroy, scout executive, of the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America.

"There is a big emphasis on bicycle safety in the Cub Scout program because bicycles are booming in popularity and because the accident statistics are alarming," McElroy said. "More than 80 million people in America now drive bicycles, and most of them are children," he added.

McElroy explained that the word "drive" is used because a person on a bicycle is not merely a rider, but is a driver in the same sense as an auto driver.

In addition to covering bicycle maintenance and safe-driving instruction, the Cub Scout bicycle safety program will include bike clinics and bike rodeos.

The bike rodeo will include such events as stopping, reversing direction, signaling, changing direction by sound, quick direction changes, balance test, pedaling and braking, riding a straight path, changes in balance, maneuvering and emergency stop.

Today's natives seek constant movement, either symbolic or actual travel.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Being prompt and alert for opportunity is part of your success—getting the job done well is the rest of it. Finish whatever can be concluded today.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: By day's end you encounter a passing chance for a decision, likely have to make it without adequate information. Even trivial choices involve fundamental changes of direction.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: It may seem to you that nothing is going smoothly. Stay on the job, attend those items that are within reach if you can't get at the main problem.

Karol Sucher, Pam Ellner and Marilyn Meinecke now are in demand at campus football games.

Miss Meinecke said she took the course because she complained about officiating and wanted to know more about football.

Rucker-Weatherred Exchange Vows In Eight O'Clock Rites

Miss Sandra Mae Rucker and Michael John Weatherred were united in marriage during a candlelight service at 8 p.m. Saturday, June 1, in the Crowell United Methodist Church.

The Rev. and Mrs. W.O. Rucker, Jr., of Crowell, are parents of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Baylor Weatherred, of Crowell, are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride's father, who is pastor of the Crowell United Methodist Church, officiated at the double-ring service. The Rev. William D. McLeynolds, Quaker, assisted in the ceremony. Rev. Rucker is a former pastor of Harrah United Methodist Church in Pampa.

The formal setting was centered around a candleabra holding burning white tapers garlanded with greenery and palms. The altar was set with a background of a white floral arrangement with an open book and altar candles.

THE BRIDE

She wore a gown given in honor of her father, a long-sleeved, long-train, white tulle gown with a high collar and a full skirt. The gown was designed by the bride. It had a raised neckline, long sleeves, and a full skirt with a high collar and a full skirt with a high collar and a full skirt.

MOTHERS

The bride presented her mother with a long-stemmed red rose on her way to the altar, and one to her mother-in-law as she left the altar. Her mother wore a formal-length pink double knit crepe dress with silver accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore a mint green formal length knit crepe with white accessories.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Jan Harvey, of Pampa, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patty Sims, of Pampa, and Nora Durham, of Crowell. Attendants wore identical double knit crepe gowns featuring sleeveless, lilac colored, high waist trimmed in white braid, and deep orchid princess lined skirts. They wore white picture hats with orchid streamers and white gloves, and carried nosegays of pink daisies, carnations, purple status and baby's breath.

Daniel Urquiza, Jr. of Margaret, served as best man. Groomsmen were George Eavenson, United States Air Force, San Angelo, and Jimmy Glover, of Crowell. While the bridegroom wore a white tuxedo, black and white ruffled shirt, black velvet bow tie, and black trousers, the groomsmen wore black tuxedos with identical shirts and ties.

Robert McElroy of Truscott, Fred Adcock, of Crowell, and Steve Weatherred, brother of the bridegroom, served as ushers. The ushers wore navy blue blazers and white trousers.

Miss Rhonda Vecera accompanied Miss Pam Whitley, soloist, as she sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Twelfth of Never."

Mrs. Raymond Paul Dickey, Fayetteville, Ark., sister of the bride, provided traditional wedding music using the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," by Wagner, for the processional, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" for the recessional.

Guests were registered as they arrived at the church by Mrs. Fred Adcock, sister of the bridegroom. She was seated at a table covered with an orchid cloth, the bride's wedding book and a single taper with streamers.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom greeted guests at a

A candelabrum held an arrangement of pink carnations, purple status and baby's breath. Paul Dickey served the bride's cake and Miss Pam Whitley served punch to the guests.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a white linen cloth centered with a single candle surrounded with nosegays of pink daisies and purple status. Mrs. Steve Weatherred served the chocolate cake and Miss Debbie Harris served coffee from a silver coffee service.

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED KARPIN

At a bridge tournament one of the directors was selling entries for the Open Pair Championship. At the head of the line was a gorilla with a $20 bill clutched in his paw. Although visibly disturbed, the director took the $20 bill, gave the gorilla an entry slip, and an incorrect $5 in change (the price of the entry was $10).

As the gorilla headed towards his designated table, I tapped him on the shoulder and, trying to make conversation, stated politely:

"We don't get many gorillas playing bridge."

The gorilla turned towards me and responded sourly: "And at $15 an entry, bud, you're not going to get very many."

He was right. We haven't seen hide or hair of a gorilla since.

Which brings us to the subject of "monkey-shines" at the bridge table. In the deal which follows, North's bidding is not recommended, despite the excellent result he achieved. East-West vulnerable. West deals.

The bidding:
West North East South
1 2 3 4
Pass 2 4 Dbl. Pass
Pass 2 NT Dbl. Pass
Pass Redbl. Pass 3 4
Dbl. Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of 4.

With favorable vulnerability conditions, North embarked on a series of "monkey-shines," hoping to purchase the contract at three clubs. His two heart bid brought a vociferous "double" from East, as did his subsequent retreat to two spades. When North then bid two notrump, East again doubled.

North's "redouble" of two notrump requires an explanation. This bid could not possibly have been misinterpreted by South as a desire to play at that contract. If North had wanted to play it here, he would have passed East's double, since two notrump doubled and fulfilled would have been scored as a game. Hence it was an "S.O.S." bid, a plea for rescue.

South correctly bid three clubs, the only unbid suit. This was promptly doubled by West — an unwise decision. When it was all over, North-South had lost only two hearts and three diamonds, for a loss of 100 points (West was finessed for the club king).

East-West could have made a small slam, but they never got even close because of North's "horsing around" — excuse me, I mean "monkey-shines."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Possibly the last, and certainly the most bewildering, show biz award program of 1974 was televised this week: The Emmy show.

As one watched the program, one's recurring thought was: "Who are all these people and why is everyone saying nice things about them?"

For which the concomitant question was: "Why am I watching this thing instead of doing something constructive, like patching the waterwings?"

It was the latter question that prompted me to commission the Noss Nellie Public Opinion Polling & Sampling Co. to make a survey of Emmy viewers. Its findings my astonish you.

The survey showed that 67.3 per cent of the viewers watched the program out of curiosity. But not curiosity as to who would win the awards.

Really Responsible
What they really wanted to know was who was really responsible for the success of Carol Burnett, Peter Falk, Mary Tyler Moore and the other winners. Really.

Almost invariably, a person accepting an award will thank those who make it all possible. It is the disclosure of this inside information that keeps the audience rapt.

"Ever since 'MASH' first came on the air my family has been having arguments over who should get credit for Alan Alda's acting," one viewer wrote on the survey questionnaire.

"I felt strongly it was the director, but my wife insisted the producer should get the laurels. Junior, on the other hand, was convinced that Alda owed it all to the rest of the cast. And Sis kept saying his biggest debt was to the crew."

"We were all sitting on needles and pins during the first part of the Emmy show. By the time Alda came forth to accept the award for best actor in a series the tension was so thick you could have cut it with a chest surgeon's scalpel."

Were Instrumental
"Imagine our shock and chagrin when Alda got up and thanked the writers. The writers, for Pete's sake! None of us even had an inkling they were instrumental in Alda's success."

Investment Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Growing fears of a credit crunch in the wake of the tight money policy and some adverse fundamental corporate news resulted in the market suffering one of its largest losses of the year Wednesday, virtually obliterating some of the more positive technical signs that had been developing over the past couple of sessions," says E.F. Hutton. The firm predicts many traders may move to the sidelines to see if the shrinkage in last week's loans will continue this week and point to a peak in interest rates.

"A return in the percentage of corporate earnings paid-out in dividends from its present anemic rate to its pre-1968 average could alone bring about over the next five years an advance to the 1200 level in the Dow Jones Industrial Average," according to Wright Investors' Service. Although dividend increases came under federal restraints for 33 months, the Bridgeport, Conn. firm says shareholder pressure and the eventual easing of interest rates will sweep away the reluctance of corporations to raise dividend payments. Higher dividend payments, it adds, will represent "a solid floor of value under the current level of common stock prices."

NEW DEAN
SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI) — Elmer Kirsch, 45, Santa Cruz, Calif., will become academic dean of Central Bible College July 1. His appointment was announced by the Assemblies of God headquarters here. Kirsch presently is dean of education and professor at Bethany Bible College, Santa Cruz. Before going to Bethany he taught in public schools in Wisconsin and Ohio.

INCREASE
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The percentage of working women in Pittsburgh has increased from under 25 per cent to 33 per cent since 1953. The figure is far below the national average, says the University of Pittsburgh.

Registration Is Scheduled

LUBBOCK — Registration for the first term of the summer session at Texas Tech University is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. June 3 and continue through 6 p.m. June 4 in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Classes for the first term will begin Wednesday morning.

Enrollment for the first term of the 1973 summer session totaled 8,333 and officials estimate this summer's first term figure will be about the same.

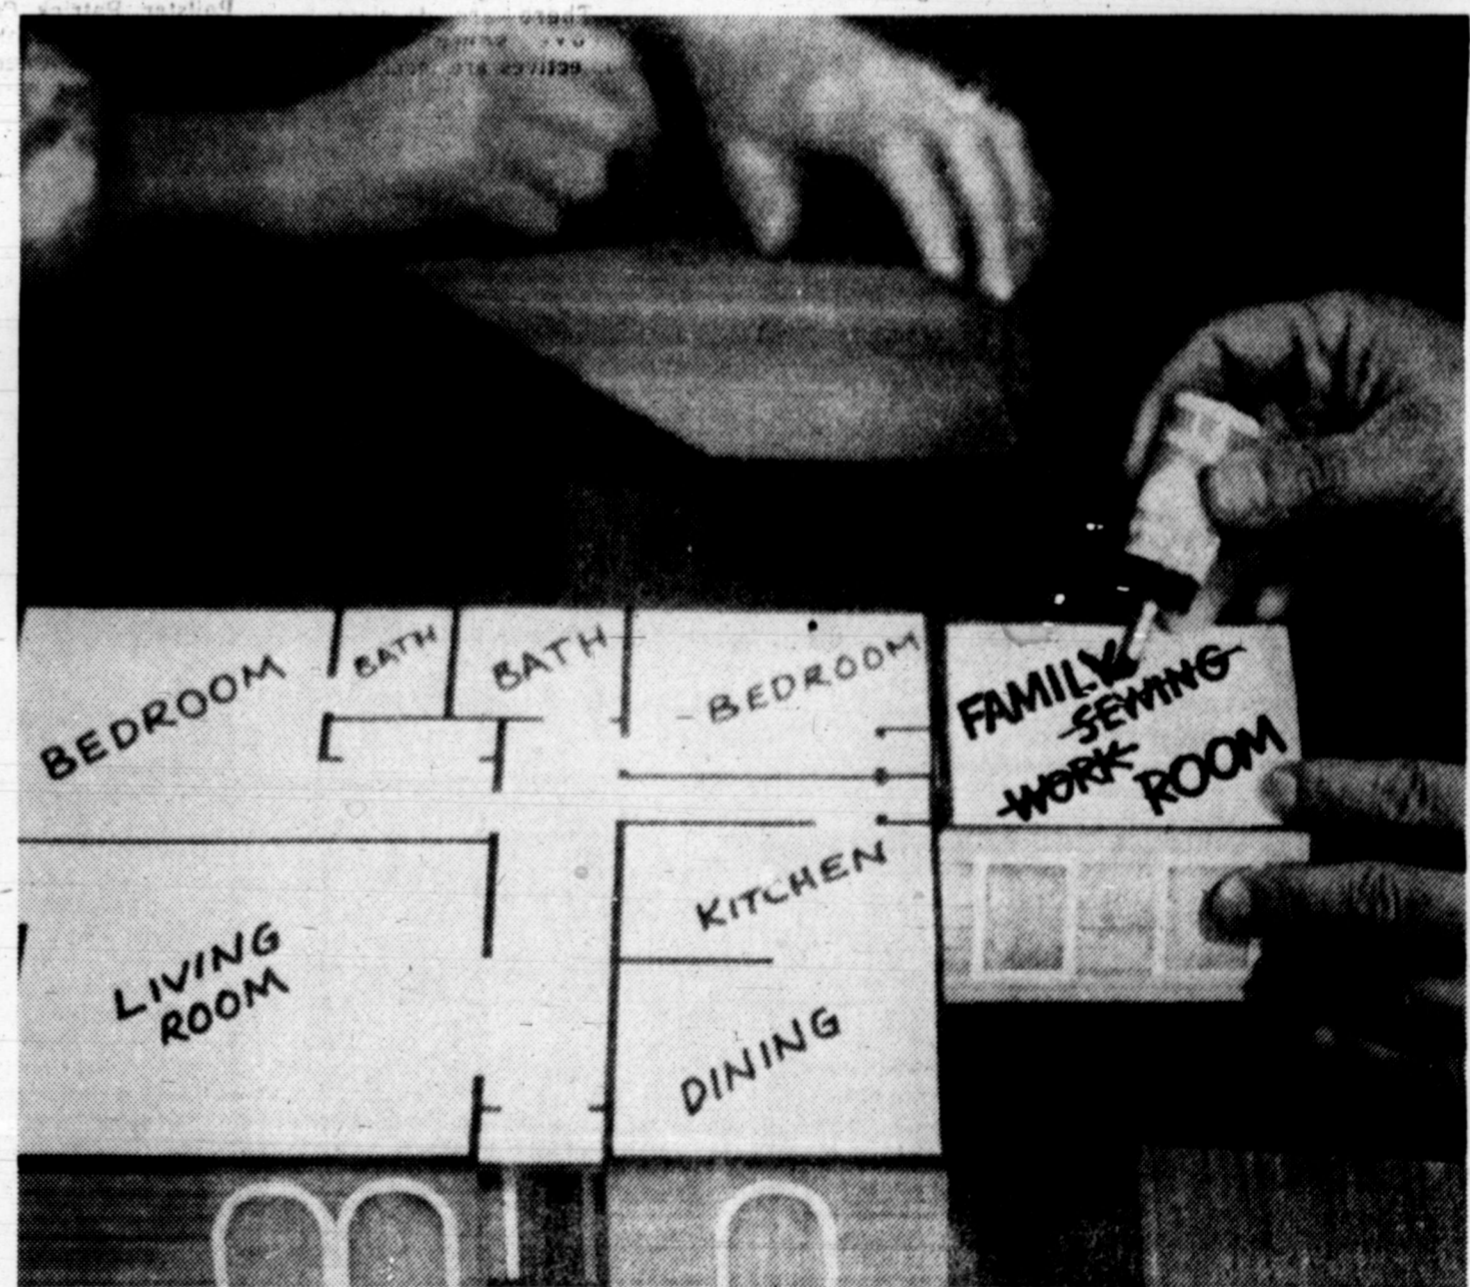

He first term ends July 13, the second one begins July 15 and ends Aug. 24.

NEW RODGERS' OPUS
NEW YORK (UPI) — Richard Rodgers has written a new work for the New York Philharmonic Orchestra's "Promenades" concerts, which will begin its 12th season on May 22 in Avery Fisher Hall.

Rodgers' composition will be given its world premiere during "A Night for Dancing" on May 23, 25, 28, and 29.

Andre Kostelanetz, who originated the Promenades in 1963, will conduct all of the performances.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

Buddy Hackett Is Melting Away

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Buddy Hackett sat melting away in the baking sun in Las Vegas recently in a tennis outfit and solemnly declared his intention to take off — not weight — but time. Ten weeks vacation, he said ... 2½ months ... to go skiing.

"I want to ski the last half of December, and all of January and February," Buddy said, a few minutes after he delivered himself of the opinion that Alan King's Tennis Classic at Caesars Palace "did for tennis what Richard Nixon did for politics."

Hackett's interest in skiing — especially in summer — was a little surprising.

"Do you plan to go to Switzerland?" this visitor timidly asked.

"No! I ski in America," Buddy retorted. "You can't trust that Swiss snow. It's got holes in it like their cheese." Buddy reeled off the names of western ski spots in Colorado, Utah and Nevada that he'd visit.

He doesn't have much of an image as an outdoor man or athlete. We usually think of him as a talk show funnyman and nightclub star, given to such gags as hitting a golf ball into the woods and emerging naked, muttering, "Damned termites!"

"I play tennis the same way," Buddy said. "Before the match starts, I jump over the net. Only I don't make it. I get caught on the net."

He admitted readily that he's no champion skier. "I'm not a fast skier but I'm sure. Don't forget, when I fall — and I do — I don't have far to go. So I don't pick up much speed in my fall so I'm a slow faller. I played golf for years and it really wasn't much exercise so I decided on skiing."

It helps with his constant battle against weight which has led him to many diets.

"I have a cinderblock in my house and I pick it up and carry it around every morning. I say to myself, 'Do I want to carry this thing around with me all day long every day?' It weighs about 18 pounds and that's the excess weight I have to get rid of."

Buddy's on the verge of tycoonism. He's a vice president of the Del Webb Co. which owns the Sahara in Las Vegas where he stars. "I'm not a partner. I don't own any stock," he confesses openly. He admits getting older, more mature. He has seen his son Sandy arrive at college age, becoming a freshman at the University of Nevada in the fall.

He went to Beverly Hills High but he almost didn't graduate — he didn't have a car," Buddy said.

Buddy'll be back at Westbury Music Fair Sept. 2 with James Darren (whom he's going to take skiing).

"Jimmy doesn't sing very well — but when I work with him there are a lot of girls around the dressing room," he says.

They have frank talk around the dressing room and some of the ad lib dialogue on stage is franker. "People pretty much know my style and I have a big sign. 'No children of any age admitted.' One of our ad lib sessions was about sex. Jimmy asked me what happened with those three girls I was out with."

"I told him I was out with them till 6. He said '6 a.m.?' I said, '6 p.m.' He said, 'What happened?' I said, 'Nothing, to me. They wouldn't let me join them.'"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP...

The first U.S. — style casino in the French Riviera will be in Loe's Monte Carlo ... NBC's looking at the old radio TV game show, "20 Questions," and may bring it back ... The 1275th performance of "Godspell" will be celebrated with a midnight party aboard a Staten Island ferry boat ... Cindy Adams, writing the Jolie Gabor bio, says her tentative opening line is, "Once upon a time, in downtown Budapest ..."

The Outer Circle's Best New Performer award, and a Most Promising New Personality award went to that "new" entertainer, Sammy Cahn of "Words & Music" — who'll be 61 ... Producer Robert Fryer signed Sarah Churchill for his next film, "Great Expectations." ... Several airlines have stopped putting Playboy in their planes — too many passengers walked away with 'em.

Peter Ustinov's dtr. Tammy is featured in "Scapino" at Circle in the Square; her father's in town, too, making a movie ... Producer Harry Rigby's looking for another musical for Jane Powell and Patsy Kelly — now in his "Irene" — to appear in, in two years.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Excessive BM Can Be Harmful

By G.C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can excessive bowel movements be injurious in any way? Until two years ago I was regular, once a day. At that time I stopped taking codeine tablets which I had taken for many years.

The last two years I have had five to six movements daily regardless of what my diet consisted of. If this does harm, what can be done to bring me back to regularity? — Mrs. M.

Yes, excessively frequent action can be harmful to the extent that the system loses too much water, minerals, and even food value which ultimately would result in weight loss and weakness. In your case there is too much information missing for me to draw specific conclusions. Why, particularly, were you taking codeine? Frequent and regular doses of that can in itself subdue bowel action and even lead to constipation.

If, for example, you were taking codeine because of colitis — to retard bowel action — the colitis may be manifesting itself now.

Likewise you say nothing of some other symptoms which could have a bearing — pressure, pain, bleeding, mucus or whatever.

The best I can advise you — but I DO advise this — is to have your condition investigated thoroughly by your doctor.

What should then be done would depend on the findings — whether it is the result of infection, allergy, intestinal parasites, colitis, nerves. It could, you see, be from quite a few things.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read somewhere that smoke from a cigaret is just about as harmful for a nonsmoker's lungs as it is for the smoker. I told this to a smoker and he didn't believe me. Could you clarify? — C.N.

In fact, I doubt if that statement is true. The basic statistics on lung cancer and smoking showed over 10 times the mortality for smokers as compared to nonsmokers. Yet in our present society we can assume that very few nonsmokers escape exposure to the cigaret smoke of other people.

This is not to say the gases and particulate matter from someone else's cigaret are totally harmless. The potential for irritation is still there.

But a smoker inhales vastly more smoke, and it is of a higher temperature, which probably has some bearing on the questions, too.

None of the above should be interpreted as saying that nonsmokers shouldn't be able to escape from a smoky atmosphere, however.

Some with asthma or certain allergies suffer intensely from only a trace of smoke in the air, and they are entitled to escape that misery. Nonsmokers have rights that deserve to be respected.

Cancer Strikes Gen. Abrams

WASHINGTON (UPI) — General Creighton W. Abrams, chief of staff of the Army, is suffering from lung cancer, the Pentagon has announced.

Abrams, who will turn 60 this September, became ill last week while on a trip to Europe. He cut short his visit to return to Walter Reed Army Hospital near Washington where he was admitted last Thursday and diagnosed as suffering a mild case of pneumonia.

The Pentagon said tests since then had uncovered cancerous tissue in the left lung.

Texas Crops Doing Well... Livestock Export Pens Go Modern... Ear Ticks a Menace... Shortages Yet.

GRAIN SORGHUM is reported heading out from South Central Texas southward, and cotton is blooming in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, as most of Texas enjoyed good growing weather within the past week or 10 days. Planting of both grain sorghum and cotton is gaining momentum on the Low and High Plains. There was some hail damage in the Valley recently as there was on peaches in the Limestone and Freestone Counties areas. The rains slowed harvest of potatoes and cabbage in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area. Watermelons and cantaloups were beginning to come off in the Valley. Rice planting is almost complete in the State, compared with about 75 per cent at this time last year. Wheat and oat harvest is well underway.

THE TEXAS Department of Agriculture is now operating five new livestock export facilities at El Paso, Brownsville, Del Rio, Houston and Eagle Pass, and the sixth and final installation authorized by the legislature will be built at Laredo. Texans who have not visited one of the facilities would be interested to see what has been happening in the livestock exporting business which adds millions to the economy each year. Everything has been done at the facilities to make it easier and safer to handle animals and to prevent the export or import of diseased animals. The loading and unloading chutes may be raised or lowered hydraulically, and vats for dipping cattle also are movable. The strong-built pens, all under a roof, have concrete floors and curbs that make cleaning easier. Office space and laboratories also are at each location. The El Paso and Brownsville facilities are the most recent to go into operation of the five now in use. Commissioner John C. White reported that 33,000 head of livestock went through the Houston, Del Rio and Eagle Pass facilities between April and December, 1973.

A REMINDER: Watch out for ear ticks which are making a strong comeback, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Entomologists say that the ticks are being found in greater numbers because of favorable weather and neglect of control measures. And ear ticks can cause an increase in screwworm infestations. In 1973, 80 per cent of screwworm cases in 14 South Texas counties were attributed to ear ticks. The ticks, sometimes called Gulf Coast tick, flourish within 100 miles of the Coast.

FUEL SITUATIONS are reported very tight in Donley, Archer, Lamb, and Comanche Counties, but no Texas counties reported critical situations. Hay baling is getting underway in some Texas counties, and 88 counties have reported short supplies of baling wire, and 66 counties reported short supplies of twine. Other shortages that may affect Texas farmers have been reported in both wood and steel fence posts, barbed wire, herbicides, machinery parts, and tractor and machinery tires.

TEXAS CATTLE on feed totaled 2,072,000 head May 1, which is four per cent lower than a year ago; 392,000 head of fat cattle were sold in April, which was 11 per cent above April, 1973. In seven cattle growing States (Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas) there were 8,351,000 head on feed as of May 1, compared to 8,803,000 head a year ago and 9,321,000 head on feed a month before. In April, 245,000 head went into Texas feedlots.

COTTON, STILL the Number 1 crop in Texas, brought in a total of $1,056,000,000 in 1973 from 4,673,000 bales, compared to $469,000,000 from 4,246,000 bales in 1972. The figures are from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service which said that total United States production in 1973 was 12,958,000 bales, compared to 13,704,100 bales in 1972. Lint cotton averaged 47.10 cents a pound in 1973, compared to 23 cents in 1972, and cottonseed brought an average of $94 a ton, compared to $48.60 in 1972.

TEXAS' 1973 cotton production was from 5,200,000 acres, which gives Texas a record 431 pounds of lint per acre, but below the 519 pounds national average. Arizona had the highest yield per acre with 1,063 pounds of lint, followed by California with 891 pounds, Mississippi with 645 pounds per acre. Mississippi was second to Texas in total production, with 1,800,000 bales, followed by California with 1,749,000 and Arkansas with 1,041,000 bales. Texas produced about 40 per cent of the nation's total cotton.

LIVESTOCK OWNERS are reminded to watch out for screwworms, because they are making an appearance over Texas. Samples of suspected screwworms should be mailed to the laboratory at Mission. Kits in which they may be mailed can be obtained from county agents. There were 176 identified cases of screwworms found in Texas during April, 1973. Cases were found in the following counties: Webb, Duval, Zapata, Starr, LaSalle, Dimmitt, Hidalgo, Live Oak, Kennedy, Jim Wells, Jim Hogg, Zavala, Dewitt, Kinney, San Patricio, Cameron, Goliad, Atascosa, Medina, Bee, Karnes, Victoria, Brooks, Willacy, Guadalupe, Wilson, Frio, Presidio, Real, Gillespie, Pecos, Terrell, Val Verde, Llano, Concho, Goliad, Bistrop, Fayette, Gonzales, Jackson, McMullen, Kleberg, Crockett, Kimble, Kerr, Kendall, and Comal.

PARITY RATIO is reported to have dropped seven per cent during the month ending April 15, hitting 83 per cent. Prices paid farmers went down on many commodities, including cattle, eggs, corn, wheat, hogs, soybeans, rice, rye, and prices on cotton went up three cents a pound and on potatoes 73 cents a hundred. Wheat prices dropped almost a dollar, to $3.98 a bushel, which was 103 per cent of parity, but the price was still declining at last report. Texas' wheat crop, plagued by drought, was estimated to be 69,300,000 bushels, compared to 98,600,000 bushels from the previous crop. Recent rains came to late to save the wheat in North and West Texas.

HARVEST OF peaches in South Texas and in the Hill Country is underway, with the crop expected to be about the same as last season when 312,500 bushels were picked. North and East Texas peach growers suffered the most damage from last winter's freezes, but the Hill Country reports almost no damage from cold weather, and the crop is expected to be around 75,000 bushels in that area slightly above the 1973 crop.

MOISTURE SAVINGS — The sandsage brush on the Milton Carpenter ranch was sprayed in the spring of 1973 to improve forage production of the native grassland on the ranch. The trees in the background were not sprayed to maintain shade for livestock and cover for wildlife. (Soil Conservation Service Photo)

Brushy Plants Rob Moisture

Sand sagebrush and sand shinnery are robbing native grasslands of moisture, according to Rodney Hyatt, soil conservationist. Both plants use at least four times as much water to produce one pound of forage as do native grasses. The forage produced by brush generally is not grazed by livestock at all.

Where brushy plants are extremely prominent, it is not likely that a well balanced grazing plan alone will retard the growth of such plants, which are undesirable for livestock.

Where these plants shade 20 percent or more of an area, some method of control would be extremely beneficial. However, unless our moisture conditions improve, it is doubtful if aerial spraying with chemicals will be beneficial in suppressing brush density this spring, Hyatt stated. According to weather forecasts, this situation will hopefully change soon.

Hyatt encouraged ranchers to consider present and future land use opportunities when planning a brush management program. Utmost consideration should be given to the effect of brush management on wildlife habitat. Ranchers should consider leaving woody areas along natural draws and creeks to maintain food, cover, and nesting for wildlife.

Crop Progress

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Crops are making good progress across Texas but most would benefit from rain, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported this week. Planting of cotton and sorghum is active in the High and Rolling Plains and in West Central Texas. However, farmers in some of the dryland areas of the plains are still waiting on planting moisture.

Rain is also needed to boost the hay crop, especially additional cuttings. Hay baling has started in most sections, and the first cutting is generally producing good yields. However, baling wire is in short supply. The first cutting of alfalfa is being harvested in the high plains. Peanut planting is active in Central and North Central Texas as well as in Southeast Texas. Soybeans are also being planted in the Coastal Plains, and a limited acreage is being seeded in North Central Texas.

According to the extension service, harvesting of wheat and oats is making good progress in central and southern areas, with harvesting also starting in the south and Rolling Plains. Yields are generally light due to dry conditions during the winter and early spring. However, yields in some counties are around the 30-bushel per acre mark and some oats are yielding up to 50 bushels per acre.

Sorghum midge are increasing in sorghum that is in bloom, and populations are expected to increase in late planted sorghum. Boll weevils are generally heavy in cotton throughout South Texas and spraying is underway. Spraying is also active in most counties to control the pecan nut casebearer.

Both home gardens and commercial vegetable crops are producing well.

By FOSTER WHALEY THE CATTLE OUTLOOK AND PRICE SITUATION

Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist recently made some very interesting observations in a newsletter to County Agricultural Agents. I thought you would be interested in these comments. I will pass them on to you. I quote:

"Never before in history has the cattle business been so confused or so utterly unattractive. Retailers are continuing to sell beef at record high prices and margins, yet main that consumer demand is off."

"Packers are also reporting record high margins, but can't afford to pay more for cattle. Feeders are losing their shirts on cattle coming out of the lots, and still can't see daylight. On top of all this, the administration keeps saying that beef prices for the consumer are coming down."

"Let's be certain we all understand the facts as compared with a year ago: 1—Beef production in the first three months of 1974 was up one percent. 2—Disposable personal income of consumers during the same period was up nine percent. 3—Retail prices of beef, as a consequence, were up 12 percent. 4—Fed cattle prices, in the same three months, averaged five per cent higher."

"We might add gain cost stood at an all-time high during this period, exceeding 50 cents per pound in many cases. Now I have been hesitant to put this in print but I have a guaranteed solution to the price problem in the cattle situation, with one big 'IF'... If there would be no anti-trust violations. Here is my plan:

Get a few executives from the Texas Cattle Feeder's Association together and work the details of this plan, which I will lay out below. There is nothing sacred

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS West Texas has a vested interest in the recommended Statewide Program For Conservation and Development of Texas Water Resources. The average West Texas seems to be totally oblivious of his almost total dependence on water for his continued economic well-being.

Today's column is the fourth in a series, presenting in depth, the short-range and long-range plans for conservation and development of the water resources of Texas.

LONG-RANGE PLANS In planning the conservation and development of water resources, proper consideration must be given to anticipated water needs and conditions many years into the future, because development of water resources is, by its nature, a long-range operation. It takes a substantial amount of time to plan, finance and construct a water resource conservation project. Experience shows that the time required to bring a major reservoir to reality is usually between 10 and 20 years.

Needs must therefore be anticipated many years in advance just to have the water resources available when the needs arise. In addition, when a major reservoir is built, it should be planned and designed so as to contribute most effectively to ultimate development of the available water resources as appropriated to help meet long-range regional and Statewide needs as well as short-range local needs. To do otherwise may seriously hinder or entirely preclude proper ultimate development of the available water resources to meet such needs in the future.

It is necessary, therefore, to give full consideration to long-range regional and Statewide needs and to be aware of all the water conservation projects it may be feasible and desirable to build in order to properly develop the water resources of the basin or sub-basin in which the project is being planned.

This requires long-range planning on a Statewide basis aimed at meeting anticipated needs 50 to 100 years in the future. Fifty to 100 years is a very long time through which to try to see clearly our future water requirements, and the rapid rate of advances in technology makes it extremely difficult to plan specific ways of meeting these projected requirements so far into the future.

To demonstrate this, one needs only to think back 50 years in time to the year 1924 and try to imagine from that vantage point how accurately a planner could have forecast water requirements and conditions today. Recognizing the difficulty of planning so far ahead, long-range plans should be developed, maintained, and utilized with the following points uppermost in mind. (1) Long-range water needs should be forecast and expressed in very general terms.

It is impossible to forecast with accuracy the anticipated needs 50 to 100 years from now of specific water users such as individual cities and towns; some of them may not even be in existence then. However, it is possible to forecast with reasonable accuracy the probable future needs of entire areas or regions, for example, the greater Houston metropolitan area along the Gulf Coast or the High Plains region of Northwest Texas.

In making these regional or area-wide forecasts, proper consideration must be given to past and probable future social, economic, and environmental trends as well as to anticipated developments in science, engineering, and technology. However, even with the most scientific and thorough evaluation of trends and anticipated developments, estimates of water needs 50 to 100 years hence will be no more than the best guesses that can be made, and they must be recognized as such.

(2) In planning ways to meet projected long-range needs, plans should be made to utilize available groundwater supplies to meet water needs to the extent economically feasible without exceeding acceptable rates of depletion of the aquifers or causing unacceptable land subsidence, salt water intrusion, unacceptable structural modification of water bearing formations or other problems.

Development of surface water supplies should be planned to meet needs that cannot be dependably met from groundwater supplies within these limitations.

Migration Southward Occuring

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A few successful blacks who earned good pensions in the urban north and west are beginning to trickle back to the rural southern areas they left decades ago, an Agriculture Department population specialist says.

But so far, said David L. Brown, census figures show only faint signs of this movement of blacks who have made it in the city and are retiring to the country, often back home.

But Brown thinks the movement will continue.

"The South is definitely going to see a gradual return of successful blacks to rural areas, just as the national trend is toward more people staying in or returning to the countryside," Brown said in an article published today by the Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service.

The back-to-the-country move will not, however, be as great in this decade among blacks as among whites, Brown added. And he said it would fall far short of offsetting the heavy tide of blacks leaving the rural South during the past 20 years.

Over the past two decades, nearly 3 million blacks — mostly young — have left the rural South on a net basis. The main reason was the lack of jobs," Brown explained. He said black employment on farms dwindled sharply as cotton and peanut production were mechanized and tobacco began to follow the same trend.

For whites, the loss of farm jobs was offset in recent years by rapid growth in nonagricultural employment in the rural South. But for blacks there were either few such opportunities or they were not attractive enough to outpull the lure of a potential better life in places like Chicago, Los Angeles and New York, Brown said.

Rankin Fights Off Challenge To Hold 1-Stroke Golf Lead

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — Defending champion Judy Rankin withstood challenges by hometown favorite Carol Mann and Susie Berning Saturday to retain a one-stroke lead heading into the final round of the $40,000 Baltimore Golf Championship.

Miss Rankin, of Midland, Tex., tied on the back nine at the Pine Ridge course, but she finished with an even par 73 Saturday for a 36-hole total of 144.

Four women were tied for second place with scores of 145 after the second round. They were Miss Mann, the 1972 Baltimore champion; Miss Berning, the 1969 titlist; all-time leading money-winner Kathy Whitworth and Marilyn Smith.

"I played almost as well as I did Friday, but ran out of zip on the back nine," Miss Rankin said after Saturday's round. She shot a 39 on the final nine holes after a 34 on the front nine.

Former PGA champion Billy Casper, steady Hubert Green and J. C. Snead were four strokes back at 204.

Veteran Ray Floyd, who started fast with five birdies on the first eight holes, struggled on the backside and finished with a 68-205. He was tied with Bert Yancey, who also had a 68, and Gibby Gilbert who had a 70.

The day's best round was carded by young Tom Kite.

UCLA A Favorite In NCAA Meeting

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — UCLA's Bruins, winners of the last three NCAA track and field championships, will face a rugged test this week in attempting to make it four straight.

The NCAA meeting begins Tuesday with the decathlon and qualifying begins in the rest of the events on Thursday at the University of Texas.

UCLA, Tennessee and Texas-El Paso are considered almost dead even in the form charts with other potential contenders coming from North Carolina, Florida, Texas Southern and the host Texas Longhorns.

"I know we are going to be ready for a determined effort to defend our title," said UCLA coach Jim Bush, the only active track coach in the country to have ever won three straight NCAA crowns.

Barring more unforeseen injuries I believe we'll be in good physical condition. Benny Brown ran a good relay leg at Modesto recently but he still hasn't regained his full strength or top form.

NCAA will count heavily on Brown, who along with teammate Maxie Parks ranks among the top quarter milers in the nation.

Other Bruin victories are expected to come in the long jump and triple jump.

Freshman Jerry Herndon turned in his best long jump ever at Modesto with a 26-7½ leap and junior Clarence Taylor is a likely winner in the triple jump.

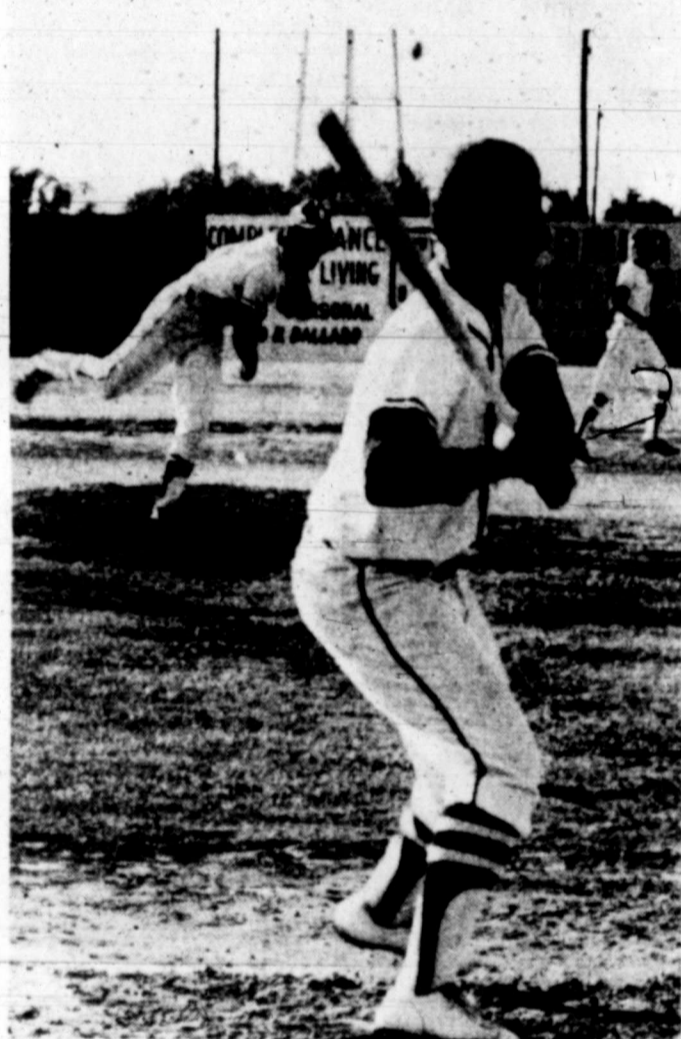

Texas-El Paso's top strength should come in the field events with defending shot put champion Hans Hoglund expected to win again along with pole vaulter Larry Jesse and hammer thrower Peter Farmer.

Tennessee will be paced by sprinter Reggie Jones, defending steeplechase champion Doug Brown and quarter miler Darwin Bond.

If any club other than Texas has a home track advantage it would be Texas-El Paso.

The meet will be run on the all-weather track inside 80,000 seat Memorial Stadium on the Texas campus, and the Miners run there every year in the Texas Relays.

It will be the first time UCLA has ever run in the stadium and Tennessee has not been to Memorial Stadium in two years.

Heard Leading Kemper Following Third Round

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — Californian Jerry Heard, shrugging off threatening clouds and a host of pursuers, shot a seven-under-par 65 Saturday to build a formidable three-stroke lead after three rounds of the $250,000 Kemper Open golf tournament.

Heard, winner of this year's Florida Citrus Open at Orlando, birdied four straight holes on the backside to run his three-day total to 69-66-65-200.

Heard started the day one stroke behind second-round leader Lee Trevino and started out with two birdies on the front nine. He spurred after the turn with consecutive birdies on the 10th through 13th holes to take a three-stroke lead over Trevino and surprising Bob Menne into Sunday's final round.

"I just started making a lot of putts," said a smiling Heard. "They just started to go in."

Former PGA champion Billy Casper, steady Hubert Green and J. C. Snead were four strokes back at 204.

Veteran Ray Floyd, who started fast with five birdies on the first eight holes, struggled on the backside and finished with a 68-205. He was tied with Bert Yancey, who also had a 68, and Gibby Gilbert who had a 70.

The day's best round was carded by young Tom Kite.

the former University of Texas star from Austin, who equalled the course record 64 set Friday by Trevino, moving into a five-way tie at 10-under-par 206, six strokes back of Heard.

Jack Nicklaus, grouching that the manicured greens over the 7,085-yard Quail Hollow Country Club course put too much of a premium on putting, had a respectable 69-208, eight strokes down.

Arnold Palmer, for the first time in his illustrious career, missed the cut for the third straight week and did not play Saturday.

Gary Player, considered a favorite after his victory last week in the Memphis Classic, had a 72-214 and was out of contention.

First round leader Tom Watson ballooned to a 73-208 and fell out of contention.

Trevino, whose unspectacular 69 was marked by five birdies and two bogeys, was confident about his chance of taking the $50,000 first prize.

TEE-OFF TID-BITS

By Hart Warren

Unbelievable is the only word I can find to describe the weather we have been fortunate to have this week. And the massive crowds we are receiving indicate it should be a busy summer.

Just as an example of this increased interest in golf, Monday (Memorial Day) we had over 50 players on the course by 9:30 a.m. And the rest of the day followed suit.

Monday was also National Golf Day where golfers registered to play against Johnny Miller and Jack Nicklaus, who will play Tanglewood Country Club at Piedmont, N.C. June 3, the amateurs will play, and are allowed their full handicap and the way those two play, the amateurs will probably need it.

National Golf Day is a nation-wide effort of golf professionals to raise money for various charities. We are proud to say 97 of our players registered.

I am sure most of you have heard several definitions of a golf fanatic. But I think we witnessed a real medical golf fanatic. How about the doctor who played nine holes, rushed to the hospital, delivered a baby and returned for another 18-hole match — all the time never removing his golf spikes. That, you must agree, is a golf fanatic.

But now to a serious note. I'm sure you have all seen or talked about people who throw clubs. You might have said things like "Doesn't he look stupid?" or "Boy, if golf upset me like that I wouldn't play." But there is one thing about it, when he snaps his clubs he only hurts himself and his pocket book.

But as for that inconsiderate person who took the divot from number nine green last Monday, he hurt 548 other members. To me this is the most disrespectful thing that person could do.

I hope we can start a campaign here and turn this person's name in and anyone else's name who abuses our course. The names can be turned into the Board of Directors and disciplinary action will be taken.

A REAL GOOD RULE TO KNOW —
Rule 29: Unplayable lie. The player is the sole judge as to whether his ball is unplayable. It may be declared unplayable at any place on the course except in a water hazard.

If a player deems his ball unplayable, he may use the stroke and distance penalty or drop a ball, under penalty of one stroke, either within two club lengths of the point where the ball lies, but not nearer the hole or behind the point where the ball lies, keeping that point between himself and the hole, with no limit to how far behind the ball may be dropped. If a ball lies in a bunker, it must be dropped inside the bunker.

See you in the rough!

Mets Slip By Houston By 3-1

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rusty Staub belted a double and single to drive in two runs Saturday and pace the New York Mets and Tom Seaver to a 3-1 victory over the Houston Astros.

Don Hahn opened the game with a triple off loser Dave Roberts. Felix Millan singled home Hahn and scored on Staub's double to right center.

Staub got the Mets' third run in the fifth inning. Wayne Garrett, ending an 6-for-16 slump, opened the inning with a single and was sacrificed to second by Seaver.

IN BABE RUTH Ideal Runs Past Pupco To Notch 2-Game Lead

IDEAL opened up a two-game lead last week in Babe Ruth play with two wins, the first over its closest challenger, the Lions, 12-5. On Friday Ideal picked up a 15-3 victory over winless Pupco.

The leaders got their wins on the pitching of Joe Davis and Brian Bailey. Davis hurled the win over Lions after surviving a shaky first inning when he allowed four hits, two walks and two wild pitches which netted the Lions their five runs.

After that he gave up only two more hits the rest of the way. Bailey didn't give up a hit to Pupco and struck out 12 batters in the process.

Other results from last week saw First National Bank winning a pair, beating Pupco, 11-1, and then coming back on Friday to hand the Lions their second straight defeat by a score of 12-4. Javier Santacruz and Gary Bolch pickup the wins for Bank.

Fords Body Shop swamped Grant Supply by a score of 14-4 in a game that only went five innings because of the 10-run rule. Zach Adcock got credit for the victory in relief while Tommy Washington was charged with the defeat.

The other game of the week was between Cree and Pampa Hardware and a

Harness Racing Drivers Not Guilty

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five harness racing drivers were found innocent Saturday on race-fixing charges in connection with an alleged superfecta race-fixing scheme at Roosevelt and Yonkers raceways.

Carmine Abbatiello, Real Cormier, William Gilmour, Kenneth McNutt and Elden Turcotte burst into tears as the verdict was read in Brooklyn Federal Court.

The jury reached the verdict at 4 p.m., then took a short break before restarting deliberations on the remaining two defendants, drivers Del Insko and Dale Ross.

Friday, the jury found Forrest Gerry Jr., the alleged mastermind of the scheme, guilty of conspiracy and sports bribery in the scheme. It also acquitted seven of the 16 defendants, including driver William Myer, of similar charges.

The 16 were accused of a bribery scheme in which drivers were encouraged to rig the order of finish in superfecta races last year.

The government's case during the 11-week trial rested heavily on a series of charts showing betting patterns in which two horses in the eighthorse races were consistently left out of the betting.

It was the discovery of this betting pattern that led track executives and the city's Off-Track Betting Corp. to discontinue superfecta wagering, in which the bettor must pick the first four horses in the exact order of finish.

Prosecutors Michael Pollack and Hal Meyerson asserted that the betting rig made certain two horses would not finish among the first four to increase ring members' chances of picking the winning combination.

Manager, Harvester Lanes

We would like to extend an invitation to all the Little League baseball players to come out and bowl with us here. We had the National League out yesterday and had a great time. Next week is the American League's turn.

We had four teams out at 10 a.m. and the remaining teams out at 2 p.m. On June 14 the Babe Ruth League will come out, and on June 21st the Farm League will be out. We cordially invite the parents to come out with the boys and bowl.

Would like to throw a bouquet in the direction of the Optimist Club for the fine job they are doing with our young men. Without their time and energy put forth, a lot of our youth would be without one of the greatest assets in life — how to be a good sport no matter what the outcome is.

We must all do what is necessary to encourage these boys and build their confidence. We are happy to be working alongside one of the coaches, Josh Cox, who is our good right arm here at the lanes. His time spent has helped many of these boys along.

We also want to praise all the coaches that are giving their time and effort to work with all these boys. For more details on this special bowling event contact the team manager or coach.

Now we need to remind you that this next week will be the beginning of our summer leagues. We still have plenty of openings and would appreciate you contacting us about them.

This is it for this week and hope the boys will come out and have a good time.

Bye now, Gil

FRIDAY'S BASEBALL Angels Ruin Tigers As Ellie Rampages

United Press International
An expensive off-season investment by the California Angels is finally beginning to pay dividends.

Last winter the Angels, sorely in need of a catcher who could hit, gave up one of their starting pitchers, Clyde Wright, to the Milwaukee Brewers for Ellie Rodriguez, a catcher who had hit .285 and .268 the past two seasons.

The Angels didn't expect Rodriguez to contribute much power-wise, since he had hit only six homers in five big league seasons, but they figured he would be an every day player who would be somewhat more than the "automatic out" that Angel fans had been used to from the catching department in recent years.

Now it appears the Angels may have gotten more than they expected. After going hitless in 18 appearances last week, Rodriguez has come alive at the plate with nine hits in his last 15 at bats, including a surprising show of power. His latest spurge came Friday night when he drove in four runs with a pair of homers and a double to lead the Angels to a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Rodriguez, who has raised his average to .265, doubled home two runs in the second inning, snapped a 2-2 tie with a homer in the fifth and capped a perfect 3-for-3 night with another homer in the seventh. Rodriguez, who did not hit a homer last season in 94 games, already has four this season.

"I haven't hit more than two homers in a season since my rookie year of 1964," said Rodriguez. "It was just one of those nights when I got good pitches. I was in a slump last week and I credit Frank Robinson and Whitey Herzog for helping me out of it. Herzog has been my hitting instructor since 1964 when I broke in. He noticed I wasn't getting my hands out in front of me when I swung. They were too close to my body."

In other American League games, Chicago edged

Boston 32, Oakland beat Milwaukee 5-2. Minnesota downed New York 5-2. Kansas City topped Cleveland 4-2 and Texas edged Baltimore 7-6.

St. Louis blanked San Diego 5-0. Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh 7-5. Houston whipped New York 7-1. San Francisco topped Philadelphia 6-2 and Chicago beat Los Angeles 8-3 in National League games. Atlanta at Montreal was rained out.

White Sox 3, Red Sox 2
Manager Chuck Tanner of the White Sox experimented with his lineup by batting sluggers Dick Allen and Bill Melton in the first two positions, and they hit back-to-back homers in the third inning to spark the victory. Wilbur Wood, despite giving up a pair of homers to Carlton Fisk, worked 8 2-3 innings to gain his eighth victory against six losses.

A's 5, Brewers 2
Joe Rudi hit a three-run homer to highlight a five-run, fourth inning that enabled the A's to beat the Brewers. Dave Hamilton and Rolie Fingers combined on a seven-hitter for Oakland.

Royals 4, Indians 2
Amos Otis singled home two runs and John Mayberry hit his 10th homer to lead the Royals over the Indians.

Little League
To Bowl Free
Next Saturday

American League (Little League) baseball players will be the guests of Harvester Lanes next Saturday for a time of free bowling. Yesterday, National League teams participated in the free day.

Four teams will bowl starting at 10 a.m. and the other four will start at 2 p.m. Saturday. More information can be obtained by contacting Gil Wuest at the lanes.

Babe Ruth teams will bowl June 14 and Farm League teams will be guests June 21.

Gary Parrish Receives Hoisting— Not Bad For Winning One Game

By PAUL SIMS

After the Fort Worth Brewer Junior High School football team edged Fort Worth Diamond Hill, 27-24, in both teams' season finale, ecstatic Brewer players hoisted first-year coach Gary Parrish up on their shoulders.

The reason? Not because they won the district championship, as you might think, because they didn't win it; in fact, the team had lost nine games going into the final contest with the cross-town rival.

That's just it. Brewer had lost nine games and the season before that (as eighth graders) the team lost all 10 games and the season before that (as seventh graders) the team did not win a game. After 29 straight losses, any team will be near hysteria when it finally wins.

Parrish's football team experienced a 100 percent improvement over the previous year. "We didn't lose any game last year real bad," said the 23-year-old Parrish, who graduated from Pampa High in 1969 and was the Harvesters' starting quarterback his senior year.

The "successful" season the rookie coach brought to Brewer resulted in a promotion — Parrish will coach the Brewer High School varsity secondary in the 1974 season. With the varsity, he will work under Bob "Moose" McAlester, a Pampa Harvester Assistant under Swede Lee and Buddy Williams.

That's the success story of Parrish, the football coach. But Parrish, the basketball coach, has another one.

Brewer Junior High failed to win a district game in the team's seventh- and eighth-grade years. Last season, with Parrish at the helm, the team won five conference games.

Parrish's philosophy is simple. "I try to make myself full of enthusiasm when I'm out on the practice field and the game field and it carries over to the kids. I try to get down on the kids' level, too, but not to where they don't respect me."

Parrish, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B.R. Parrish in Pampa, went to West Texas State on a partial football scholarship but was hampered in college with a once-a-week broken back, sustained during his senior football season at Pampa. He sat out the Harvesters' first four games. At West Texas State, he played only as a freshman.

Parrish has proved that it doesn't take a long and brilliant playing career to be a good coach. And if Brewer High School, which went 0-10 last year in District 5-AAA, wins a game next season, Gary Parrish might very well be hoisted into the air again, even if he is just an assistant.

Rangers Nip Baltimore 7-6 Friday

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Sooner or later it figured that a pitcher was going to get into the Texas-Baltimore game Friday night and cool off the hitters.

And it turned out to be the Rangers' Steve Foucault. Foucault corralled the Orioles for 4 2-3 innings on three hits which allowed the Rangers to play catch up and finally subdue Baltimore, 7-6.

The Orioles had jumped in front 4-0 in the first, but the Rangers nibbled away until they finally produced what proved to be the winning run in the seventh on a one-out single by Toby Harrah that brought in Jeff Burroughs from second.

"When you are four down and come back and beat a good ball club like Baltimore it is something," said Ranger manager Billy Martin.

"Foucault pitched very good tonight. His secret is that he doesn't make mistakes. You go over a hitter with him and he throws the ball where you tell him to throw it."

Foucault came into the game with one out in the fifth inning and Orioles on first and third. The Rangers were behind at the time, 6-5, but Foucault got the side out without any further damage and gave up only three hits in his stint.

The 4 2-3 innings worth of pitching was a little longer than Foucault usually goes, but he did not appear to be any the worse for wear. "I was still strong at the end," Foucault said. "I had five or six days rest I guess. If they need me tomorrow I will be ready to go."

The Orioles-Ranger contest was the first for Texas since the club was involved in a brawl with Cleveland last Wednesday, and the effects of the fight were felt in at least one part of the team's lineup.

Houston scored again in the fifth on singles by Cedeno and Watson and a sacrifice fly by Johnson. Rader tripled and Helms singled in the sixth for the Astros' fourth run and Cedeno homered off reliever Bob Apodaca in the seventh.

Cedeno Gets 4 Hits, Lifts Houston To Triumph Over New York Mets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cesar Cedeno collected four hits, including his 10th homer of the season, Friday night to spark the Houston Astros to a 6-1 triumph over the New York Mets.

The loss was the fourth in a row for the Mets and their ninth in their last 12 games.

Tommy Helms and Doug Rader chipped in with three hits apiece for Houston as the Astros tagged southpaw Jerry Kosman with his fifth loss in eight decisions.

The Astros scored first in the second inning when Bob Watson singled, Cliff Johnson and Ollie Brown walked and Rader hit a run-scoring single to right. After Helms struck out, Wilson hit a long sacrifice fly to left for another run.

Houston scored again in the fifth on singles by Cedeno and Watson and a sacrifice fly by Johnson. Rader tripled and Helms singled in the sixth for the Astros' fourth run and Cedeno homered off reliever Bob Apodaca in the seventh.

Whenever you think about men overcoming handicaps, did you know that men with only one arm have played big league baseball, and bigtime football, too... Back in 1945, outfielder Pete Gray, who had only one arm, played in 77 American League games for the St. Louis Browns... And, Guard Ellis Jones, who had only one arm, was a star on the highly ranked Tulsa football teams of the early 1940s, and in fact, played in three bowl games, the Sugar Bowls of 1943-44 and the Orange Bowl of 1945!

Ever wonder how many golf courses there are now in the U.S.? Answer is approximately 10,000... And there are now about 10-million people who play golf... So, that figures out to an average of about one golf course for every 1,000 golfers in America today.

Here's an oddity... The 1927 Yankees are often called the greatest team in baseball history... yet did you know they do NOT hold the record for winning the most games in a season?... The '27 Yanks won 110 games, but two other teams have won more in a year... The Cubs of 1906 won 116 and the Indians of 1954 won 111.

Tell husband vacation should be fun for all

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I can't agree on what constitutes a vacation. Paul and I have four kids, ranging in ages from 10 to 16. Last summer a friend turned over his farm to us and we took the kids and spent three weeks there. Paul is a country boy at heart. He likes to get up at the crack of dawn and run the tractor and spend every evening rocking on the front porch, looking into space and listening to the crickets. Meanwhile, I do all the laundry, cooking and dishes. [This is a vacation?]

Paul wants to go to this farm again, and I say we should leave the kids home and take a real vacation alone somewhere. My mother agreed to stay with our kids. What should I do? Take the credit cards and go to Reno?
CITY GIRL

DEAR CITY GIRL: To Reno with credit cards? What for? To gamble or file for a divorce? Why not compromise, and do what Paul wants to do for half the vacation and what you want to do for the other half?

DEAR ABBY: I'm not much of a letter writer, but I need some answers, so here goes:

The other day I got a questionnaire in the mail. It was a form to fill out. There were lots of questions about a friend of mine who apparently had applied for a job with a big company. Here are some of the questions:

Has _____ ever been in trouble with the law?
Does _____ drink? Moderately? Excessively?
Does _____ use drugs?
What do you know about _____'s general health?
Please name some of _____'s undesirable qualities.
Name some of _____'s good qualities.

Abby, my friend must have given my name for a reference or I wouldn't have received this questionnaire, right?

I have known this person for about 15 years, but I can't honestly answer some of these questions. In fact, if I could, I wouldn't want to. I'm afraid if I don't fill out this form, my friend won't get the job.

How would you handle this?
STUCK

DEAR STUCK: You are under no obligation to answer the questionnaire. I would write a letter telling what I DO know about the applicant and no more.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WHO AM I?" You are a 19-year-old high school dropout who never made a serious effort to stick with anything once the going got rough.

You didn't listen to your father because you thought advice from "a loser" wasn't worth anything.

You didn't graduate from high school because you were too lazy to make your grades, so you told yourself that school was a waste of time, that you had learned all there was to learn there, and you'd be better off in the business world.

Determined as you were to do "your own thing," you haven't done anything because you still don't know what "your own thing" is.

Right now you aren't anybody. But if you sincerely want to be somebody, do this: Go back to school. [Adult education—night classes are available for those who work days.] First, get your high school diploma, then learn a trade or develop a special skill, and work like a sonuvagun. You will then be "somebody," and you won't have to write to Dear Abby to find out who you are.

Jaime Pitman-Gary Johnson Exchange Vows In Hereford

The marriage of Jaime Ruth Pitman and Gary Ray Johnson was solemnized at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, May 25 in the Hereford Presbyterian Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas Pitman of Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. R.O. Johnson of Pampa are parents of the bridegroom.

THE CEREMONY

The Rev. Roger Knapp, pastor, officiated for the ceremony before a fan shaped arrangement of white roses on the altar, flanked by two swirl candelabra with emerald foliage. Hurricane lights decorated the aisle.

Two large groupings of tropical foliage and large trees with clusters of blooming plants, made to look like a garden area, and two large arrangements of Hawaiian flowers and foliage coming out of the fountain, completed the courtyard decorations. Exotic flowers include torch ginger, birds of paradise, croton leaves, ti leaves, ferns, and anthurium.

Principal selections, played by organist, Mrs. Charles Jones, were "Sanctus by Gounod," "Fugue in G Minor," by Bach; "Wachet Auf," by Bach and "Cia Cona," by Beethoven. The processional of "Trumpet Voluntary" and recessional, "Trumpet Tune," were composed by Purcell.

THE BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white Peau de soie, appliqued with Alconon lace and styled with a Victorian neckline and long Victorian sleeves.

MRS. GARY RAY JOHNSON

enhanced by lace appliques. Her floor length veil of illusion fell from an Alconon Duchess, appliqued lace cap, and she carried an old fashioned nosegay of white roses, stephanotis and bristol ferry.

The bride carried an heirloom pendant, blonging to Mrs. W.E. Dameron of Hereford.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Tammy Laughlin was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Marsh McCormick Pitman, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Tommy Jochetz, sister of the bridegroom.

They wore peach organdy dresses styled with puffed sleeves and flounce around bottom, trimmed with white lace. They wore horse hair picture hats, trimmed with white satin bows and flowers. Each carried nosegays of peach wauburn abbey with bristol ferry.

Kimberly Emerick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Emerick, and cousin of the bride, was flower girl wearing a peach organdy dress with white embroidered organdy apron.

Another cousin of the bride, Duncan Sensenich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Sensenich of Trenton, Mo., was ringbearer.

Serving his son as best man was R.O. Johnson. Groomsmen were Chip Taylor and Darrell Sublett, Marsh McCormick Pitman, John Kirk Pitman and Joseph Clay Pitman, brothers of the bride of Hereford, and Charles Johnson, cousin of the bride, Amarillo and Tommy Jochetz, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, seated wedding guests.

WEDDING SUPPER

The bride's parents hosted a wedding supper in their home following the ceremony. The main rooms decorated were foyer, library, dining room, and living room. Decorated were a multitude of exotic flowers and colors, including vanda orchids, cattleya orchids, birds of paradise, statice, anthurium, snapdragons, tangerine carnations, Dutch iris, gardenias, peonies, gladioli and other spring and summer flowers.

The serving table was covered with a peach cloth with white accents, and centered with a large silver epergne arrangement of orchids, white roses, gardenia, bridal pink roses, statice, Dutch iris, white and pink snapdragons and bristol ferry. White wedding cake was served and a silver troth cup, a gift of friends, was used.

The punch table held a silver candelabrum with an epergne in center with mixed spring flowers.

Assisting with the serving was Mrs. Tom Williams, Oklahoma City, and Mrs. David Emerick of Hereford, both cousins of the bride.

Miss Kimberly Dameron of Salida, Colo., attended the registry.

For the wedding trip to Dallas, the bride wore a white linen suit styled with Kubuski sleeves and lifted the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside in Amrillo.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

Parties held on the day of the wedding included a brunch hosted by Mrs. Wm. S. Dameron and daughter Kimberly of Salida, Colo., for wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Proceeding the wedding in the evening, a supper was hosted by Mrs. J.A. Pitman, grandmother of the bride and Mrs. J.A. McWhorter, aunt of the bride, Hereford, and Mrs. Don Taylor of Amarillo, great-aunt of the bride. The event was held at the Hereford Country Club for wedding party and out-of-town guests.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Attending the wedding from out-of-town were Mrs. J.L. McCormick, Amarillo, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Johnson, Jr., aunt of the bride; Mrs. Gordon Novak, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Sensenich, aunt of the bride; Mrs. W.O. DANIEL SAYS Controversial Items Might Be Dropped AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) - Convention President Price Daniel Jr. says some of the more controversial items tentatively approved by the constitutional convention may have to be dropped from the new charter in order to get the final third vote needed to submit the document to voters.

It will be up to the Committee on Submission and Transition to find the combination of proposals that can get the 121 convention votes needed, Daniel said.

Reports of the Submission and Transition Committee cannot be amended on the convention floor, so delegates will have to either approve the committee's recommendations, or send the report back to the committee for suggested revisions.

Sees Trial-Error
The process of reaching the final agreement, Daniel said, will have to be one of trial and error.

"I don't expect to get a two-thirds vote on the first go-round," he said. "I don't anticipate any trouble getting it, but I just don't think we'll get it the first try."

The submission and Transition Committee has the authority, he said, to pull controversial provisions out of the proposed charter, and set them up as side issues to be voted on separately by voters if that is necessary to get the two-thirds convention majority.

drop controversial provisions entirely. Deletion of entire provisions would appear unlikely, however, since all items included in the tentative drafts have already received approval by at least a simple majority of the convention delegates before being sent to the submission and transition committee.

Concerned About Time
Daniel is more concerned about the prospect that the convention may run out of time than he is about the prospects of getting the two-thirds vote for the final document.

Delegates rejected his suggestion that they work Monday morning, and voted instead to come back from their weekend break at 2 p.m. Monday.

"I think it's absolutely essential that we start putting in more time," Daniel said, adding that if the delegates refuse to work Monday morning, they should consider a Saturday session.

"Time is running out, and we don't have that many working days left in the convention," he said.

Or, Daniel said, they can

He's not hoping for a college education...

he's banking on it!

Most newspaperboys are banking part of their savings for higher education.

Even if you can easily afford to send your boy to college, you might consider this—the boy who works and saves for part of his education is the boy who will get the most out of college.

He'll appreciate Pop and the checks from home more if he's already had a taste of earning money by working himself.

And while his route profits are important, this is only one of a number of reasons why so many of today's successful men encourage their boys to get the benefit of Newspaper Route experience—including service, salesmanship, collections and record keeping.

IMAGINATION
Do You Have It?
It'll Pay Off!
DON'T CALL US ON THIS ONE-unless you have $3,000 cash (or can get it) to pay for this northwest 2 bedroom home, owned by an out-of-state owner. It's a well built older home with paneled bath, a lot of storage, fenced dirty but with more than 1,300

Youth Center Report

Youth Center Memberships
Participation in the activities of the Center are through a membership plan or a daily fee. The most economical plan is to purchase a membership for the whole family. The cost is really fantastic with all the benefits you receive.

The limited membership plan sold to individuals eight years of age or older or families entitles you to use of the gym, recreation hall, swimming pool and dressing rooms as well as free swim lessons. The cost of this plan for an individual is $5 for six months or $8 a year. For a family the cost is only $12 for six months or $20 a year.

The unlimited membership plan adds to the above plan the use of the new health facility. This facility houses all the exercise machines, handball and racquetball courts and sauna.

If you are interested in lost weight and inches, the health club membership is your best plan. We have all types of machines including the bicycles, barrell rollers, vibrator belts, rowing machines, jungle pulley universal machine, hips away, sit-up boards and all types of weight lifting equipment.

The unlimited plan costs only $10.50 per month for an individual or for a husband and wife the cost is only $13.87 per month after your initial sign up. For further details come through the club and look around. Use it free on your first visit and then make up your mind.

Women's hours are during the mornings from 9-11:45 and also Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7-10 p.m. Men come from 11:45 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and till 7 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday.

New Game Room
The Center has added a new look to the recreation hall. We are in the process of turning this room into a game type room. We have added two foosball machines, a missile game, pin ball machine and are adding other machines in the near future. All young people are invited to come by and play these fun machines and enjoy the other activities.

Summer Schedule
As summer vacation comes for the young people, the Youth Center schedule changes. Beginning June 3 the Center's schedule will change to being open Monday through Saturday and closed Sunday.

From May 28 through June 1 we will open on a temporary schedule starting at 1 p.m. Swim lessons do not start until June 3 so we will not be open in the mornings until then.

Starting June 3 all swim lessons will be taught during the morning hours from 8-12 noon. Lunch will be observed from 12-1:00. At 1 p.m. we reopen with all activities going full blast. Supper hours will be observed from 5-7 p.m. and then we reopen for the night session from 7-10 p.m.

During all open hours participation in all of the activities may be observed. All ages swim and fun on the trampoline, as well as pool, ping pong, basketball, volleyball, tumbling, wrestling and other quiet games will be available.

CARPET YOUR GARDEN... AND CONTROL THOSE WEEDS!

By J. SHUTTLEWORTH
Now it begins... the weed season! If this is the first year you've tried to raise a garden (and it is for a great number of folks), the next few weeks will probably both amaze you and put a "crick" in your back.

Crab grass, quack grass, thistles, milkweed, lamb's-quarters, mustard, jimson... the list of unwanted visitors to your vegetable patch sometimes seems endless, as does the amount of bending, pulling and hoeing you have to do to banish them from your neat rows of lettuce, beans, corn and other produce.

Isn't there a better way to garden?

"Yes," says John Krill, who lives in North Lima, Ohio, "there is. If you're young and lazy, old and feeble or just plain busy... you can reap rich garden harvests with much less physical exertion by putting a rug in your produce patch.

"This gardening method requires no tilling of the soil, no cultivating, no weeding and no machinery in the form of tractors or gas-powered tillers. The technique will allow you — in a matter of hours — to start a vegetable plot that will literally maintain itself, even on tough sod. Only the fall fronts will put an end to such a garden's unattended productivity."

If that sounds good, John's next point sounds even better: He claims that his vegetable-raising idea can be put into practice on a total cash outlay of practically nothing.

"Most of the few things you'll need for this 'no work' way of gardening," states Krill, "can be found at residential curbsides on rubbish disposal days or in the town dump: one or more discarded rugs, a knife, a spade, a wheelbarrow — and if it's available — some compost or manure."

John recommends that you begin your search for the materials listed above right now... while you're highly motivated and determined that you'll never let weeds get the upper hand in your garden again.

Then — either this fall or at least a month before you're ready to plant next spring — spread the carpets you've collected bottom-side-up in your vegetable patch. The covering will soon choke out all the grass and weeds beneath it and this will eliminate the need to plow or otherwise till the soil it covers.

To plant tomatoes in your "deep pile" garden, cut from the carpet one-foot by one-foot squares spaced three feet apart (in rows that are also three feet apart).

Set your wheelbarrow near each fresh opening and dig a hole about fifteen inches deep at every location. Spade the dirt into the barrow, mix it 50-50 with manure or compost and then shovel the mixture back into the excavations.

"Be sure to tamp all but the last four inches of the soil-compost combination well as you refill the holes," cautions Krill.

"This will prevent later settling that might leave your plants sitting in depressions. New plants form poor root systems in compacted earth, however, so the top four-inch layer of each little plot must be left loose to allow the plants to establish themselves quickly and vigorously."

John points out that there's no need to space most other vegetables or fruits as widely as he recommends for tomatoes. "For things like green peppers, cucumbers and cantaloupes, separate the planting holes by only two feet in each direction... and remember to leave a broad margin of carpet around the edges on which the cucumber, melon and other vines may spread."

Once you've laid out your carpet, cut planting holes and prepared soil in the excavations, you're ready to place seeds or sets in each location.

"Water well after planting," advises Krill, "and your garden should need no more watering. The rug allows rain to seep through its weave, then retains moisture by protecting the soil from the sun as it retards evaporation."

According to John, his way of gardening has other advantages too: "Insect pests mostly avoid a carpeted vegetable patch because there are no weeds or loose dirt for them to hide in. And you won't need to stake your tomatoes since they'll be lying on a clean surface with nothing to blemish them. Picking produce from a rug-covered garden in even the rainiest weather is a mud-free task."

Krill also likes the fact that old wool and cotton carpeting — which needs no weights to hold it in place — eventually decomposes and provides a produce patch with valuable organic matter.

And, he says, "Once started, a carpeted garden cares little if you're present. We've taken long trips during the growing season and returned to harvest ripe produce that had done splendidly with no care at all."

"And, when we stay at home, I can now squander the long hours I used to spend on garden drudgery. In my more than 50 years of raising home vegetables, I've yet to find an easier, more efficient way to produce a yearly crop of fresh-grown food."

Think about that as you weed your vegetable patch this summer... and you may well decide to carpet your garden next year!

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. My housekeeper is quitting. Do I have to give her a W-2 form?

A. Yes. Normally you must furnish your housekeeper a Form W-2 no later than 30 days after making the last payment of wages to the employee. However, this 30-day requirement has been presently suspended, and you may defer furnishing a 1974 Form W-2 to your former employee until 30 days after the IRS announces the date that the forms are available.

There are 15,738,941 motor vehicles registered in California with Los Angeles County leading all others with 4,918,510.

Q. Last year I filed a withholding exemption certificate so I wouldn't have to have tax withheld from my pay. Do I have to file a new one to be exempt from withholding this year?

A. Yes, for most taxpayers, 1973 W-4E forms expire April 30, 1974. Thus, you must file a new form with your employer to be exempt from withholding this year. To qualify you must not have had any tax liability for 1973 and expect to have none in 1974.

Q. My son plans to take a part-time job when school ends. If he earns more than $750, will I lose his dependency exemption?

A. No, if your son is a full-time student for any part of five calendar months of 1974, or under 19 at the end of the year, you may claim him as a dependent regardless of how much income he has. Of course, you must meet all the other dependency tests, including furnishing more than one-half of your son's total support.

Q. I've been in business for myself for three years. And I own the business outright. If I set up a retirement plan, will all my contributions to it be tax deductible?

A. Yes. The amount contributed under the plan is deductible if it does not exceed 10 percent of your earned income or $2500. For more details, see IRS Publication 560, "Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals." It's available free from your IRS office.
