BATTIN' AROUND Disaster For Mankind Now Popular Prediction

By C.R. BATTEN
 It seems to be a popular pastime nowadays to look at population statistics and predict disaster for mankind. The Zero Population Growth people have been telling us for years that the birth rate must be limited—that our environmental problems are caused by overpopulation. A Presidential Commission has recommended that the United States "adopt a deliberate population policy."
 Others are less pessimistic. Some have said that high density does not necessarily mean low quality environment, and point to the Netherlands—twice as densely populated as India—and remind us that it also has a very pleasant environment.
 An article in the March NATURE concludes that "The statistics imply that the American is not far short of such a goal...in spite of all the fuss which there has been about the growth of the American population, demographic stability is already within sight."
 No laws have been passed by Congress, no edicts signed by the President limiting the size of families. It appears that individuals, making their own decisions on the size of their own families have, for whatever reason, already acted in a manner that has already begun to reduce the rate of population increase in the United States.
 A group of specialists at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has reported that if current growth trends continue, "the human race is doomed." By feeding known data into the computer, the group came up with projections of what could happen in the future, based on present trends. It appears that the MIT study had very weak basic data in some areas, which makes one wonder why those who made the study wasted their time on it.
 But, waste of time or not, the MIT studies are getting some attention in authoritarian circles, at least. James Boyd, executive director of the National Commission on Materials Policy, used that study to support his premise that the U. S. faces some "hard choices" because of the "rapid increase in rate of population growth, the consumption of raw materials, industrial production and environmental pollution."

 Boyd told the American Paper Institute at its annual convention in March that there appears to be growing recognition that man "may not be able to have everything he wants." He says that the work of his Commission should make it possible for the public to "evaluate the choices" that must be made between population increases, industrial production, living standards and the nature of the environment in which we live.
 "Those choices will inevitably involve some 'trade-offs,'" he said.

It seems to have been news to Boyd that man "may not be able to have everything he wants." I don't know anyone who has. As for trade-offs, that is what happens when the refrigerator conks out, and we postpone buying that camera gear we needed, in order to buy a new refrigerator.

Boyd is the former chairman of the board of directors of Copper Range Company, one of the nation's largest copper producers. He should know that the market and pricing system balances demand with supply. When prices rise, demand falls, and substitutes are used.

This is regulated by natural law which we are not able to completely understand—we do not know just how it works, but we do know it does work. Congress cannot repeal that law and no commission, even if composed of the wisest men on earth, will ever be able to replace its operation and "evaluate the choices" for all the people.

U.S.-Soviet Summit Meeting Seen To Be Held As Planned

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
 AP Special Correspondent
 It is easy to envisage a set of circumstances that could make it impossible for President Nixon to go through with his visit to Moscow next month.

The latest mission of the peripatetic Henry A. Kissinger can arouse speculation that the current North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam could produce such circumstances.

There's evidence that neither Moscow nor Washington wants that to happen. Each seems eager for the summit to go on.

But the way the President's adviser announced his secret four-day stay in Moscow suggested that Vietnam was high on the list of subjects to be probed before the trip.

Moscow continues to advocate a determination to give North Vietnam and the Viet Cong "all necessary aid."

That aid has been enormous. Initial arrangements for the Nixon visit were made at a time of relative lull in Vietnam. The U.S. troop withdrawal program was proceeding on schedule.

When Nixon was about to visit China, a North Vietnamese military buildup was noted. It might have been expected that an offensive would come to embarrass the Chinese. It didn't happen.

What's going on? Kissinger could well ask. Why an offensive now, when it can embarrass the Russians? It has been going on almost a month and the North Vietnamese are believed capable of sustaining it for yet another month. Should it rack up a clear major victory and establish, say, a capital for the Viet Cong's Provisional Revolutionary Government that would make the Nixon visit almost impossible.

Would Hanoi deliberately set out to embarrass its protector and benefactor? Would the offensive have taken place if Moscow had warned against it?

These are puzzling questions. Kissinger may not have received satisfactory answers. He adopted a Soviet device in describing the talks as "frank," which in Moscow would mean they got nowhere.

Leonid Brezhnev, the party general secretary who is to meet with Nixon, set the tone March 20 in a notably mild speech that dwelt on the Soviet intention to "improve the political climate of the planet."

The Russians want the summit for a variety of weighty reasons, some connected with the economy. Perhaps the Vietnamese did, after all, deliberately set out to put the Kremlin on a spot.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal hearing examiner has urged continued use of the pesticide DDT, saying evidence is insufficient to support claims that current applications of the chemical harm wildlife and marine organisms.

Edward Sweeney made his recommendation Tuesday after a seven-month probe into charges the pesticide should be banned except for public-health emergencies.

TV And Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP Television-Radio Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — Prime-time television—with networks, film studios, producers, creators, writers and scores of others in on the finished product—is not the happiest hunting ground for the rugged individualist.

Jack Paar, if nothing else, is a distinct personality. His "African Diary" on NBC Tuesday night was, for better or worse, a very personal program.

As an hour of television, however, it racked up as Paar's least effective production. The quality of the photography and sound was fuzzy and unimaginative. Jack rushed through the sequences, particularly the interviews.

A number of his elaborate sight gags fizzled, but he used them anyway. In one he staged a black-tie formal dinner party in a tent in the middle of the bush which was scheduled to be invaded by a wild donkey. It looked obviously staged—the diners were seated on three sides of a table so the camera had a clear shot of everybody. Worst of all, the donkey was the tamest guest in the tent.

Jack's interest in Joy Adamson and the "Born Free" lions was further explored, but Jack's interview with Mrs. Adamson was so hurried and jumbled it was hard to understand either of them.

In spite of everything, Paar did wheedle a good quote when he asked Mrs. Adamson what she was afraid of.

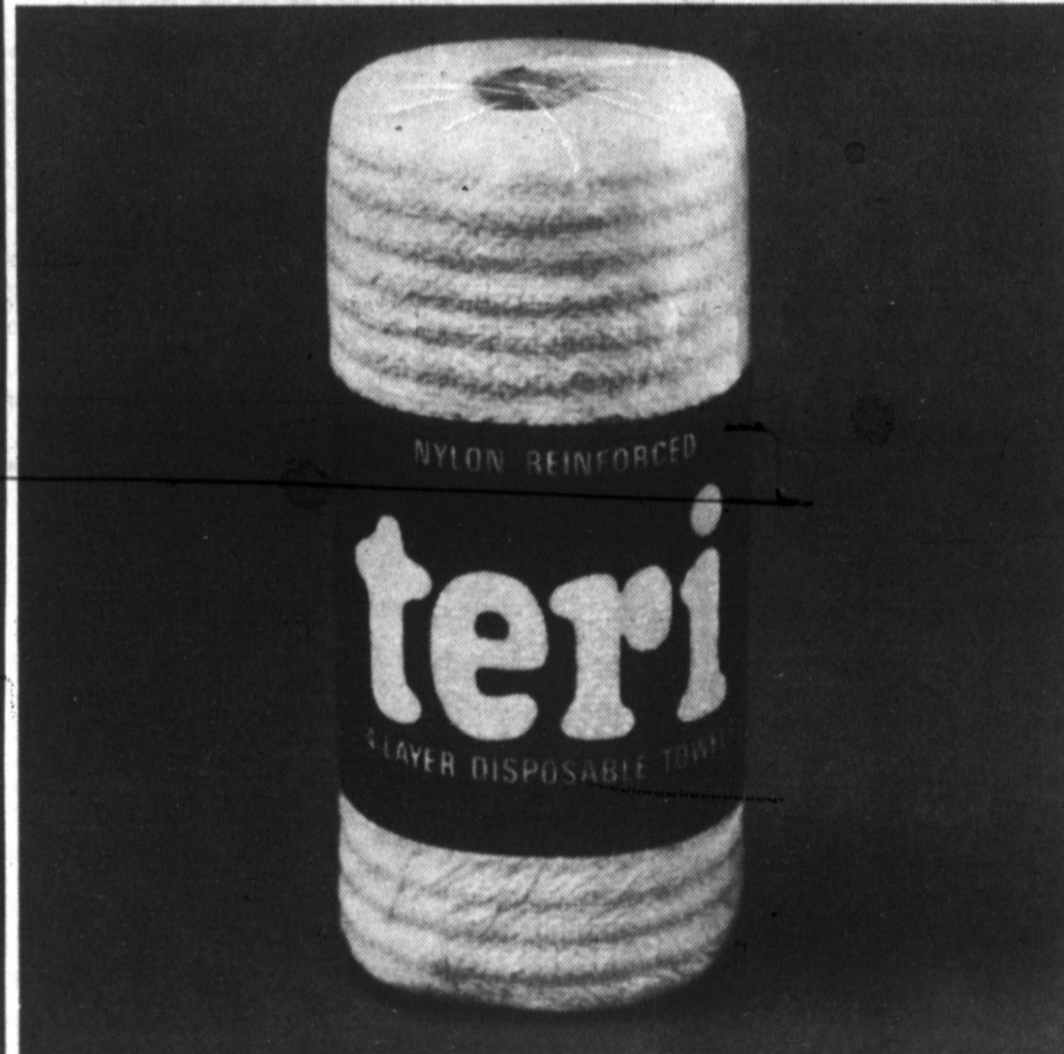

"Loneliness," she replied and Paar wisely quit while he was ahead. And in some moments Paar's delicious sense of the ridiculous came through, including his throw-away report about the English lady in Africa who found she needed a permit from the local department of agriculture to get her shipment of shoe trees from London.
 The program was not, even by Paar's standards, professional. But at a time when most television comes off Hollywood production lines, it probably is important to have around some people such as Paar who are using the medium for personal expression.

Impeachment Powers
 The House of Representatives has the sole power to impeach an officer of the U.S. government. Trial on these charges is by the Senate, with a two-thirds vote of those present necessary to convict.

 Packaging consumes an estimated 70 per cent of the world's glass production, excluding sheet glass, and 50 per cent of the world's tin plate, paper and paperboard, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Houston Abortion Referral Agency Says 65% Of Its Clients Are Unmarried

By PAUL REICHER
Associated Press Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston abortion referral agency is now doing such a large amount of business that hospitals in California are giving its clients a volume discount.

Bob Mosby, director of Problem Pregnancy Information, Inc., here, said that it's actually cheaper for a Houston woman to fly to Los Angeles for an abortion than it is to receive a legal abortion in Texas.

Legal abortions, said Mosby, cost around $550 in Texas with the best medical care, but a woman can receive the same service in Los Angeles, plus pay for a round-trip airline ticket, for a total of only about $365.

"Abortion is one of the rare parts of medicine that deals with supply and demand," said Mosby. "Since we here are dealing with a substantial number of patients, we have been able to make arrangements with hospitals in Los Angeles. It, in effect, is a volume discount."

The Houston agency operates as an unofficial clearing house for women from all over the state seeking abortions. Mosby said the agency works closely with agencies in Dallas, San Antonio, Austin and Lubbock and arranges legal abortions for about 6,000 women a year.

The agency has 90 to 100 clients from the Houston area week, plus 20 to 30 from Dallas and six to 10 a week from San Antonio, Lubbock and Austin.

In some cases, he said, the State of Texas foots the bill for the abortion medical costs.

"We can get Texas medicaid to pay for abortions performed in California," he said, "if that person is on medicaid when they come to see us."

But the majority of women who come to the problem pregnancy agency don't qualify for medicaid. Most are average, middle-class women between 13 and 25.

"The need for an abortion is definitely a white, middle class phenomenon," said Mosby.

Sixty-five per cent of his clients, he says, are unmarried and only recently experienced in their relations with men. Most are victims of what Mosby calls "a Bible Belt ethic."

"The type of birth control used by 74 per cent of them is none," he said. "Most of them see the use of birth control as affirmation of promiscuity. They're not realistic enough to accept the possibility of pregnancy."

He said a referral agency in Atlanta has noted the ethic among its clients but this is not generally observed outside the South.

Mosby said the social stigma of being unmarried and pregnant seems to be declining in Texas, however, and most of the agency clients are seeking help for what he called "pragmatic reasons," whereas only four or five years ago abortion was chiefly a moral issue.

"Now the reasons they give are centered on the idea that it's just not practical for them to have a child now," he said.

The Houston agency usually gives its clients choices of where they want their abortions performed. New York, California, Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas and the District of Columbia all permit abortions on demand. Most women, said Mosby, choose California because it's cheaper.

Abortions cannot be performed in Texas, legally, except to save the life of the mother.

"This law is interpreted pretty liberally here in Houston," said Mosby. "For instance, if a woman tells a doctor she'll commit suicide rather than have the baby, and the doctor believes it, this can be interpreted as justification under the law."

"The real arbitrators of abortions in Texas are the hospitals. They could legally get away with a lot more if they were inclined to. But the hospitals are all rather conservative and take a stiff line on abortions."

The U.S. Supreme Court is expected to rule on the constitutionality of the Texas abortion law. If the law is tossed out, hospitals and doctors will not be forbidden from performing abortions on demand.

If that happens, he said, there are hospitals in Houston prepared to start providing abortions. Mosby said the increased number of such operations in Texas, will, inevitably, bring cost down.

"This happened in both New York and California," he said. "The operations cost $600 at first in New York. Now the cost is down to $150."

In 1972 the accordion celebrates its 150th birthday.

Christian Friedrich Ludwig Buschmann developed an instrument in 1822 which would produce notes in tempered tuning. This apparatus already had many characteristics of the accordion, and he called it the "Aura." Eventually, because his Aura left only one hand free for playing, Buschmann developed a new reed instrument which he called the "Hand-Aeoline."

In the modern accordion, the bellows are manipulated by expansion and contraction for the purpose of directing a flow of air through the instrument, thus producing musical tones.

McGovern Scores Lead In Delegate Strength; Muskie Says He Will Continue To Campaign

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

Sen. George S. McGovern vaulted to the lead in Democratic delegate strength Wednesday with a lowering victory in the Massachusetts presidential primary and a surprise bonus in Pennsylvania.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said he had "won a decisive battle" for the Democratic center by winning in Pennsylvania.

And in double defeat, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine said he would campaign on, declaring that his rivals would "have to fight like hell" to keep him from the White House nomination.

McGovern and Humphrey fought him separately Tuesday in the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries, and beat him for delegates and popular votes. Next Tuesday they join head-on in a battle in Ohio, facing each other, Muskie and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington.

Muskie finished a far-back second in Massachusetts, and was running third in Pennsylvania, behind the surprisingly strong Gov. George C. Wallace. The Alabama governor picked up eight per cent of the Massachusetts vote, and was running fourth there, behind Humphrey of Minnesota.

In Indianapolis, Wallace said his Pennsylvania showing "indicates George Wallace has a better chance to be the nominee than ever before."

Humphrey won Pennsylvania with 35 per cent of the vote. Wallace and Humphrey each had 21 per cent, although governor was 12,000 votes ahead in nearly complete returns. McGovern was narrowly behind them.

In a major Pennsylvania surprise, McGovern was picking up more delegates than Muskie with 94 per cent of the vote counted. Humphrey led the delegate competition there with 57, McGovern had 37 and Muskie 29.

In Massachusetts, McGovern was managing what no 1972 candidate had done before, capturing an absolute majority of the ballots in a crowded presidential preference race.

McGovern's landslide put him in charge of all 102 Massachusetts delegates—and furthermore, his slate of relatively unknown pledged delegate candidates beat the big name party leaders who were on the ballot for Muskie.

Mexico Priest Reported Kidnaped

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Authorities were investigating Wednesday the reported kidnaping of a Roman Catholic priest in an industrial-residential area north of Mexico City.

The Rev. Juan Ramon Lopez Collazo disappeared from the rectory of Los Remedios Church Thursday night. Calls to the bishop of Tlalpantla, the Rev. Felipe de Jesus Cueto, demanded $80,000 ransom.

The bishop said Tuesday night the church would not meet the ransom demand, mainly because the diocese does not have $80,000. He appealed the conscience of the kidnapers in asking that the priest, 30, be freed.

State Speaker Replaces 8 Members Of House Appropriation Committee

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — House Speaker Rayford Price replaced eight members of the 21-man House Appropriations Committee Wednesday.

The expected shake-up of the powerful committee, however, did not take place.

During the special legislative session in March, the House empowered Price to reappoint the entire committee, but with nine appointments to be made on the basis of seniority.

Reappointed were Reps. Hilary Doran of Del Rio, who will be vice-chairman; William Barecklein, Dallas; Harold

New members are Reps. Fred Agnich, Dallas; Grant Jones, Abilene; Mike Moncrief, Fort Worth; Bryan Poff, Amarillo; Neil Caldwell, Angleton; Menton Murray, Harlingen; Renal Rosson, Snyder and Vernon Stewart, Wichita Falls. Price earlier appointed Rep. Bill Finck of San Antonio as chairman.

Allen, Caldwell, Johnson, Murray, Rosson, Slack, Slider, Stewart and Ward were appointed on the basis of seniority. Ex-Speaker Gus Mutscher also requested appointment to the committee but had no more seniority than any of those nine. All were in the House in January 1961, when Mutscher first became a representative.

The committee will serve during the special session that Gov. Preston Smith is expected to call in June to write a state budget for the year beginning Sept. 1.

Zesty Homemade Bread

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A Raisin Oatmeal Ribbon Bread provides tangy zest to any meal or in-between snacking. It has the extra pickup of flavor from the use of orange juice and orange peel, which tend to heighten the raisin taste.

RAISIN OATMEAL RIBBON BREAD

- 1 1/2 cups California raisins
- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup uncooked quick-cooking oats
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons soft butter
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1/2 cup water

Chop raisins coarsely. Resist flour with baking powder, soda, cinnamon, salt and sugar; stir in oats. Add beaten egg, butter, orange juice, peel and water. Mix until well-blended. Spread Homemade breads come in a variety of tastes such as raisin-oatmeal.

1/2 of batter in bottom of greased and floured 8 1/2 x 4 1/2-inch loaf pan or 2 (2 1/2-cup) pans. Sprinkle with half of raisins. Cover with batter, another layer of raisins and top with remaining batter. Bake in 350-degree oven 55 to 60 minutes for 8 1/2-inch pan or 40 minutes for small pans. Turn out and cool on rack. Makes 1 large or 2 small loaves. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Chicken And Sauerkraut

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
DEAR CECILY: I tried your chicken and sauerkraut recipe and liked it so much I'd be grateful if you would give another recipe for this combination. I had never thought of putting the two ingredients together, but now I think they're especially tasty. — CURIOUS COOK.
DEAR CURIOUS COOK: Yes, it is a little surprising that kraut and chicken are such good companions. I think you'll like the following recipe because the kraut is deliciously savory. — C. B.

CHICKEN WITH TOMATO KRAUT

- 1/4 cup butter
- 3 pounds broiler-fryer chicken pieces
- Salt and pepper
- 2 medium onions, but in thin strips
- 1 large clove garlic, minced
- 3 large carrots, grated medium-fine (2 cups lightly packed)
- 1 can (1 pound and 11 ounces) sauerkraut, drained
- 3 tablespoons light brown sugar
- 1/2 cup dry red wine
- 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon dried crushed oregano
- 1/4 teaspoon dried crushed thyme
- 1/4 cup minced parsley
- Parsley sprigs

In a large skillet melt the butter; add chicken and brown slowly and thoroughly on all sides so that parts are almost cooked through. Remove chicken; sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper and set aside.

To drippings in skillet add onion, garlic and carrots; cook gently, stirring often, until tender. Add remaining ingredients except chicken; mix well; simmer until moisture evaporates — about 3 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Into a 3-quart oblong glass baking dish (13 1/2 by 8 3/4 by 1 3/4 inches) or similar utensil turn the kraut mixture; top with chicken. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until chicken is tender — about 20 minutes.

Makes 6 servings.
Note: A 3-pound frying chicken, cut up, may be used in place of the 3 pounds broiler-fryer pieces. In either case have drumsticks separated from thighs.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Nutritious Molasses Skillet Bread

Molasses Skillet Bread provides an old-fashioned, nutritious treat.

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Bread making at home is a reward in itself. Very close to an old-fashioned taste and texture is a Molasses Skillet Bread with a honey glaze. Bake this in a cast iron skillet, cool and serve from skillet for a touch of nostalgia.

MOLASSES SKILLET BREAD

- 1 cake compressed or 1 package dry yeast
- 1/2 cup lukewarm water
- 1/2 cup milk, scalded
- 1/4 cup sugar

- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup light molasses
- 3 1/4 to 3 3/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked

Glaze:

- 1/4 cup honey
 - 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Pour scalded milk over sugar, salt, butter and molasses; stir to dissolve butter. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in 1 cup flour and egg. Add softened yeast and oats. Stir in enough additional flour to make soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas; knead dough until smooth. Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted butter. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in size, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; cover; let rest 10 minutes. Turn out onto lightly floured board or canvas. Roll into a 23x6-inch rectangle. Cut in half lengthwise. Pinch lengthwise edges of each strip together to make two 23-inch ropes. Place one rope of dough around outside edge of a buttered 8-inch (measured across the bottom) cast iron skillet. Wind second rope into a coil in the center of the skillet. Pinch together the ends of the 2 ropes where they meet. Brush lightly with melted butter. Cover; let rise in warm place until nearly double in size, about 45 minutes.

Bake in preheated 350-degree oven 30 minutes. Beat together honey and butter until smooth. Brush half of honey glaze over bread. Bake an additional 5 minutes. Brush with remaining glaze. Cool 10 minutes and serve warm. Makes one loaf. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Angelfood Cake Roll For Guests

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
Roll cakes, stuffed with fillings other than the traditional jelly, are good enough for guests.

So here's a new combination you may want to try. A package of angelfood cake mix is used for the roll and the filling is a luscious combination of semi-sweet chocolate and whipped cream. To gild the lily you may, if you like, top the servings of this Chocolate Cream Angelfood Roll with vanilla ice cream.

- CHOCOLATE CREAM ANGELFOOD ROLL
- 1 package angelfood cake mix
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1 1/2 teaspoons water
- 1/2 of a 6-ounce package (1/2 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 3/4 cup heavy cream, whipped

Line the bottom of a jelly roll pan (15 by 10 by 1 inch) with wax paper; grease paper. Prepare cake mix according to package directions and pour into prepared pan. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 30 to 40 minutes. With a small metal spatula loosen around edges and turn out onto a tea towel sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Remove paper; trim off edges. Immediately roll up cake, from 10-inch side, in towel. Cool.

In a small saucepan combine honey and water; over moderate heat, stirring constantly, bring just to a boil. Remove from heat. Add chocolate and vanilla and stir until chocolate melts and mixture is smooth. Cool completely. Fold in whipped cream. Chill until thick enough to spread.

Unroll cake; spread with chocolate mixture and roll up again. Chill several hours or wrap in foil and freeze. Before serving sprinkle with con-fectioners' sugar. Cut into slices about 1-inch thick. Makes about 10 servings.

COOKING IS FUN

BAKED ZUCCHINI

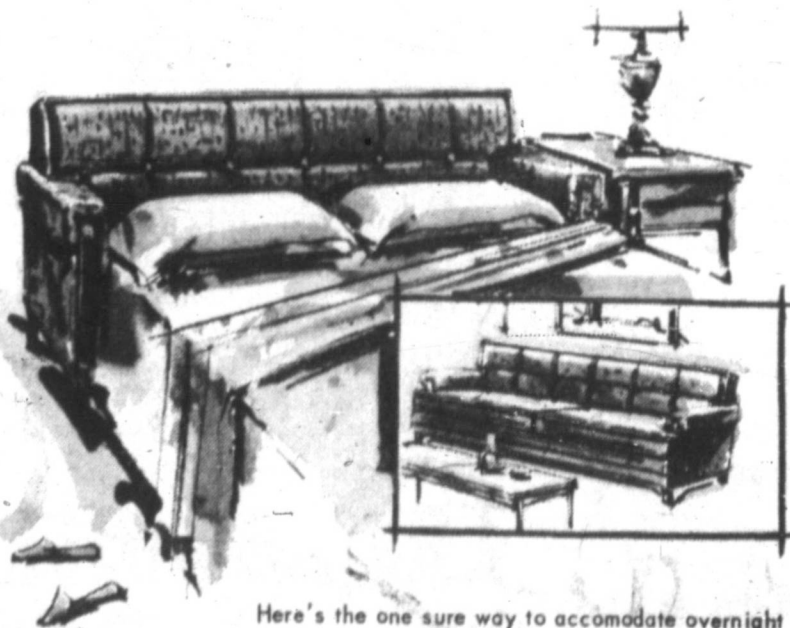

None of the flavor is lost during the cooking.
4 medium (1 1/2 pounds) zucchini
1 tablespoon olive oil
Salt

Trim ends from zucchini and discard; scrub zucchini in cold water. Cut in half lengthwise. Place, cut side up, in a single layer in a shallow baking pan; brush cut sides with oil. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until tender — 30 minutes. Sprinkle with salt. Skin sides of zucchini may be browned. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Child-rearin' made easy, Sioux City-style

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I must comment on mothers who go thru their teen-agers' drawers and read their personal mail.

I raised three children, and they always came to me with their little problems because they knew that I would always listen, and comfort them even when they did wrong, and not condemn. Maybe that is why they never had any big problems.

I know a mother who kicked her 17-year-old daughter out of the house because she found out she had had a love affair. Kicked her own daughter right out into the street!

I just don't understand some people, Abby.

BAFFLED IN SIOUX CITY, IOWA

DEAR BAFFLED: That makes two of us. [P. S. Some of the most wonderful mothers in the world raised their families in your town. Mine did.]

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "REAL SUFFERER" could have been written by my husband a few years ago. He, too, thought I was a hypochondriac because I was constantly complaining about my health, couldn't sleep and couldn't stay awake and was always taking pills.

This self-help group taught me specific techniques for handling all the problems that husband outlined in his letter; preoccupation with symptoms, pessimism, sleeplessness, overactive imagination, self-diagnosis, nervousness, etc.

You would do your readers a service by telling them about RECOVERY, INC. It is in its 35th year with 825 groups in the U. S. and Canada.

A FORMER HYPOCHONDRIAC

DEAR FORMER: I investigated this organization and have found them to be everything you said they were. Free literature is available by writing to RECOVERY, INC., 116 S. MICHIGAN AVENUE, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60603.

DEAR ABBY: I am in serious trouble. Several years ago I stopped filing income tax returns. The reason? A silent one-man protest against the use of my money to kill-or to provide others with the weapons to kill.

Abby, I am a veteran of World War II, with a long hospital record behind me, and I know what war can do to young men.

When I made my decision, I also went back to church to work as best I could for peace and understanding among men.

I feel now that I have accomplished nothing except to place myself, and those who depend on me, in great jeopardy, for I now understand that by failing to file income tax returns I am facing a possible prison sentence and heavy fines, for which I have no money to pay.

The strain is affecting me both mentally and physically. Can you help me or tell me where I can receive advice?

Please don't advise going to my priest. I know his views concerning such situations, altho I feel I have done nothing wrong other than to refuse to contribute my money for war and destruction while millions in this world are dying for lack of food. TRIED AND FAILED

DEAR TRIED: You strike me as being far too intelligent to suddenly "understand" that failure to file income tax returns is a federal offense, punishable by prison and fines. I advise you to see a lawyer.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALMOST EVERYBODY: You will be much better company if you remember one elementary rule: Never interrupt anyone when he is talking.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Cadette Girl Scout Conference Slated

Quivira Girl Scout Council will hold its annual Cadette Conference Friday through Sunday at Frank Phillips College, Borger. More than 100 junior-high-aged Cadettes from the council's 10 counties are expected to attend.

Highlight of the event will be a talk on horsemanship and training horses and an exhibition ride by Mrs. Kathryn Paul of Lipscomb and her Arabian horse, at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Born in Higgins, Mrs. Paul rode a horse alone at the age of 4. Her parents raised quarter horses, and she became interested in Arabian horses in high school. At one time, she worked at a stable training horses. She presently raises and trains Arabian horses.

In 1970, she helped form the Llano Estacado Arabian Horse Club, for which she is now serving as secretary. She was instrumental in setting up the Arabian Horse Show at the Tri-State Fair.

Most recently, she helped with preparations for the Arabian Horse trail endurance ride, to take place May 27 and 28, starting at Amarillo and going toward Lubbock.

Theme of the conference, directed by Mrs. Vaden Fowler of Borger, will be "In Perfect Harmony." Girls will check-in at Maxine Goins Hall between 4:30 and 6 p.m. Friday.

Following a sack-lunch meal, a sports and games session will be held, coordinated by Mrs. Jack Duke of Borger, council field director. Games will be demonstrated, followed by participation and training.

In charge of the basketball will be Jana Gordon and Janice Bean, both of Miami, and Carolyn Whitmore and Sandy Eads, both of Pritch. Cindy Salsar and the Phillips A and B squads, who were in the league finals, will teach volleyball, while the Borger High School team will teach tennis.

Panel members will be Mrs. Holladay, Miss Sharon Washburn of Lubbock, Mrs. Bill Lee and Jim Morgan, both of Borger.

"The Merry-Go-Round" will be a discussion on a Cadette service plan project with members of the council's Cadette planning board. Miss Barbara Whiteley of Pampa Troop 3 will lead the discussion.

Preceding Mrs. Paul, who will also show a film, "The Pure Breed," will be a gospel singing program by "The Ambassadors-12," and old-timer's tales by Milton Bryan of Borger.

The evening events include a style show by Pampa Cadettes and a talent show by girls attending the conference.

Following religious services Sunday by Dr. Dale Younce of Borger, a film and talk on "Our Cabana" will be given by Miss Annette DiCosimo and Miss Cathy Collinsworth, both of Pampa. Both girls attended a session at the international friendship house in Mexico last summer.

The conference will close at 2 p.m. Sunday.

"Could I Do Worse?" Asks Bob Goldsholl

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—He would talk back to the television announcers a lot when basketball games were on. He had questions that they didn't answer. Sometimes he protested that they were insulting his intelligence, or giving faulty information. Other times they bored him stiff.

One time recently he saw a halftime interview in which the commentator called a basketball player by the wrong name and asked him wrong questions about the place he was from.

Bob Goldsholl sat on the edge of his couch, puffing heatedly on his pipe. And with characteristic aplomb asked, "Could I do worse?"

Then one night in February he was watching a New York Nets game and found that Marty Glickman was Gibsonless. That is, Glickman was doing the game alone because Bob Gibson, his "color man," had gone off to spring training with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Goldsholl's antennae quivered. His opportunity. Goldsholl works in sales at WNEW radio in Manhattan. He knows Glickman, who is that station's sports director. Goldsholl had done some tapes for Glickman in the past. Now, Goldsholl asked Glickman for a chance. Glickman, who knew he could keep two tight hands on the mike if need be, said, well, uh, okay, but you've got to ask the Channel 11 producer Don Carney.

So one afternoon Goldsholl dropped down from the sky and into the office of the unexpected Carney. Goldsholl wore his "sincere" blue suit ("I didn't want him to think I was a mad man") and asked for just one shot, one night. Goldsholl promised he wouldn't embarrass Carney. Okay, was the surprised response. But no salary for the trial.

Goldsholl had two selling points. First, he was not just another big-name athlete trading on his name, even though he played two months in 1956 for the Hastings (Neb.) Class D baseball team. He had hopes then of becoming the right-handed Sandy Koufax. But Goldsholl was severed from the squad in rather indecent haste.

"The manager was a bigot," says Goldsholl today. "He didn't like people with no talent."

Goldsholl also had a basketball background as a sub on some very bumbling NYU teams. ("I sat on some of the best benches in the league," says a defensive Goldsholl.)

And, Goldsholl told Carney, he retains a physical as well as analytical interest in basketball. Goldsholl plays regularly at the Grand Central YMCA, and is the organizer and starting guard on a Y team which, to the shock and chagrin of the players was recently described in a New York Post column by Larry Merchant as "a scurvy bunch of wheezers."

"But I have a feel for the game and I think I can communicate it," said Goldsholl. "You don't have to be Rick Barry to feel the tension in a game—you can feel it in half-court at the Y, too." And there are millions of guys like me who play at a Y or a community center who know and love the game, but who get little satisfaction from listening to someone like a Chris Schenkel who has a beautiful voice but little insight into the sport.

"And we don't want to hear a halftime interviewer ask a player, 'What did you think of the first half?' We want, 'How come your fast break isn't working?'"

Goldsholl, dark-haired, 6-3, not too badly built and not all the ugly, opened up the pre-game show at court-side with Glickman that first night. He glanced around the court knowingly while talking with Glickman, as though in possession of an immense wherewithal. But mentally he was biting his nails. It was a little bit of hell actually being on the other side of his couch.

Yet Goldsholl looked and sounded professional and did make acute comments during the game.

The producer asked him back a second time. And with pay!

Halftime of the next game is described by Goldsholl as "my first big choke." Rick Barry, the halftime interviewer, forgot and stayed late in the locker room. So Goldsholl circled with microphone onto the court, dodged bouncing balls, and plucked guard Ollie Taylor for an interview. When Barry finally emerged, Goldsholl colored him, too.

Such grace under pressure could not go unrewarded. Goldsholl was signed to do the playoffs. Well, not exactly signed.

"I just show up for each game," he says. "Nobody tells me not to come."

Bill Talbert Proposes Tennis "Super Bowl"

NEW YORK (AP)—William F. Talbert, chairman of the U.S. Open Championships at Forest Hills, has come up with an answer to the current tennis war—a double-header tournament climaxed by a Tennis Super Bowl.

Now all he needs is approval from the feuding parties—Lamar Hunt's World Championship Tennis troupe and the affiliate associations of the International Lawn Tennis Association.

"I have been distressed by news that the contract pros plan to boycott Wimbledon—or are being shut out, whichever the case may be," the former ranking player and U.S. Davis Cup captain said Tuesday, "and that the top pros also may not play at Forest Hills and other established tournaments."

"I lay awake at night wondering what the solution might be and then the thought struck me: Why not hold two tournaments simultaneously—one tournament for the contract pros and another for the other players. Let each group determine its own champion and then have the two champions meet on the final Sunday in a sort of super bowl."

"Who could be against it? Both sides would get what they want. The public would benefit. This fighting is silly. All the public wants is to see the players. Why shouldn't they?"

Talbert said that, as chairman and tournament director of the U.S. Open, he would propose a $50,000 tournament involving the best 96 players, such as Stan Smith and Ilie Nastase, who are not under contract to Hunt, playing for a proportionate purse.

"All Hunt is asking is a purse of $50,000—we're willing to put that up," Talbert said. "The other players could compete as they normally would. Then we could have a playoff. "I don't think Lamar Hunt would object to it. He helped found the American Football League and was largely responsible for the Super Bowl in pro football. I would hope that there would be no obstacle from the ILTF, but who can tell? It's just too simple."

At the present time, the 1972 Wimbledon the most famed tennis tournament, is scheduled to go on without such stars as Rod Laver, John Newcome, Ken Rosewall and Arthur Ashe, members of the Hunt troupe.

KK DON CAIN P?

Gray County Judge Don Cain will be the principal guest speaker when an open meeting concerning alcohol abuse will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday in the west auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church, 509 W. Montagu St.

Judge Cain is expected to explain the concern of the judiciary regarding the problems created by abuse of alcohol, and to observe how A.A. works.

The general public is invited to the meeting which will be the first in a planned monthly series, sponsored solely in the interest of alcohol abuse education, by the Action Group of A.A. and Al-Anon in Pampa.

There will be no collection taken since the sponsoring organization is entirely self-supporting.

Court Affirms Sentence Term For Odessa Man

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed Wednesday the 26-year prison sentence assessed Doc Rhynes in the Odessa rape of a 57-year-old woman selling "the world's most beautiful family blue ribbon Bible" door-to-door.

The woman testified Rhynes asked her to come in and try to sell him a Bible and motioned for her to sit on the bed in his bachelor apartment.

She said Rhynes told her he would buy a Bible for his mother, but if she would go to bed with him he would buy three bibles. She said she started out the door, but he blocked the way and threw her on the bed.

While he was struggling with her, she testified, she told him: "Here you have ordered a Bible for your mother I am old enough to be your mother, would you want someone to treat your mother like this?"

A doctor testified at the trial that his examination revealed no evidence of rape or intercourse, but it still would have taken place.

Cowboy Hall Honorary Title Conferred On Pampa Woman

MRS. NONA S. PAYNE ...honorary director

OKLAHOMA CITY—At a meeting held at the Cowboy Hall of Fame April 22, trustees representing the 17 Western states unanimously recognized Mrs. Nona S. Payne of Pampa by conferring upon her the statue of honorary director.

This is the first time the title of honorary director has been conferred upon any trustee. In 1969 Mrs. Payne and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kirkpatrick made possible the construction of the building housing the "End of the Trail" and the Fraser studio collection of sculpture. The building, known today as the Payne-Kirkpatrick Memorial is considered one of the most important repositories of American sculpture in existence. In addition to the End of the Trail, Fraser became famous for his Buffalo nickel, Navy Cross and countless artistic works.

In 1971, the Board of Trustees of the 17-state owned Shrine elected the late Dave D. Payne, widely known Roberts County rancher to the Hall of Fame of Great Westerners. Mr. Payne, pioneer cattleman, was recognized for his outstanding values as a pioneer.

Mrs. Payne has served on the Board of Trustees for three years and has become active in the Hall's activities. Today she resides at her home in Pampa.

Lyndon B. Johnson Back In His Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson was released from Brooke Army General Hospital early Wednesday afternoon and flown to his ranch, the hospital announced.

The former president was flown to the military hospital here April 12 after suffering what doctors called a serious heart attack in Charlottesville, Va., April 7.

A hospital spokesman said, "President Johnson has continued to recover from his recent heart attack in a very satisfactory manner. In fact, his present condition is such that in the opinion of his physicians, he may now continue his convalescence in the comfort of his home."

His first heart attack was in 1955, apparently more severe than the recent one.

Johnson, 63, was stricken about 4 a.m. in Charlottesville while visiting a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robb. He was taken to a hospital there by a rescue squad.

Johnson's release from his special suite in the military facility here came three days before President Richard Nixon is scheduled to visit near San Antonio.

Youth Honored At Tech

The grandson of a Pampa couple was honored recently by the Reserve Officer Training Corps at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Thomas L. Landers, a member of the Air Force ROTC program, was given the President's Award for high academic ranking and material contributions to Tech.

The grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Kitchens, 617 N. Hobart, Landers received the award during the annual President's Retreat at Tech, held at the Memorial Circle on the campus.

A senior cadet, Landers plans to work towards a masters degree, remaining in the ROTC program.

Both Air Force and Army ROTC units participated in the ceremonies of respect and tribute to the flag and country.

Fifteen other cadets were honored during the patriotic retreat, which also featured a fly-over of T-38 jet aircraft.

Aircraft in the fly-over were arranged in a symbolic "missing man" formation to honor prisoners of war and men missing in action in Southeast Asia.
