AT STATE LEGISLATURE Runoff Primary Causes 50 Per Cent Turnover

By Associated Press
The list of lame duck legislators has grown longer, as Texas voters showed they are still riled up over the National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock scandal.
Saturday's run-off primary guaranteed a 50 per cent turnover in the Legislature's membership next year and changed the odds in the 1973 session's power game.
Rightly or wrongly, voters apparently tarred 23 incumbent representatives with the brush of ex-speaker Gus Mutscher's involvement in the scandal, sending them down to defeat with him. Ten—including Mutscher—were beaten in Saturday's runoff. Only one member of the anti-Mutscher "Dirty 30" coalition has been beaten so far, Rep. Charles Patterson of Taylor, who lost to "Dirty 30" member Dan Kubrak May 6.

Speaker Rayford Price, who succeeded Mutscher March 28 and hoped to win a full two-year term in the job next January, was among those who lost in the runoff.
A "Dirty 30" member, Rep. Fred Head of Troup, narrowly defeated Price in their East Texas district, and there might be a recount.
Mutscher carried only his home county, Washington, as Latham Boone III of Navasota won in the other five counties in the district and defeated him, 11,127 votes to 8,623. Mutscher was convicted in Abilene March 15 of conspiring to accept a bribe in the form of NBL stock profits. He resigned as speaker 13 days later, but sought vindication at the polls.
While liberals began to express hope of electing the next House speaker, conservatives strengthened their newly won control of the currently liberal-leaning Senate. But their presiding officer will be Lt. Governor Bill Hobby, who had labor support in his successful campaign against conservative Sen. Wayne Connally, Floresville.

Conservatives, including members of the Austin lobby, supported Price for speaker and sought to discredit the "Dirty 30" in his race against Head.
Candidates endorsed by the "Dirty 30" ran strongly in the runoffs, and Head asserted: "The people are choosing real reform candidates... It's time to return to Austin and continue to build the foundations of reform and ethics the 'Dirty 30' began last year."

The "Dirty 30" endorsed candidates in 34 Democratic and six Republican races, and their preferences carried in 27 of the contests.
Rep. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty, the liberals' favorite in the speaker's race, saw the election results as guaranteeing his election with 100 "firm votes" out of a possible 150.
Among the defeated incumbents was Rep. Bill Finck of San Antonio, whom Price appointed last month as chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee. Finck was beaten by Matt Garcia, a lawyer.
In another San Antonio upset, liberal Sen. Joe Bernal lost to Rep. Nelson Wolff, a reform-minded conservative who now is serving his first term in the legislature.

Bernal's defeat gives the Senate a probable line-up of 19 conservatives, 11 liberals and one "swing" vote next year. The chief liberal-conservative issue that worries businessmen is the corporation income tax, which came within a single vote of passing the Senate last year.
As the two top presidential contenders met for their third televised confrontation
As a result of a weekend court order, they were joined on the hour-long ABC program "Issues and Answers" by Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty, New York Rep. Shirley Chisholm and Maj. Gen. Taylor Hardin, representing Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.
That prompted Humphrey, trailing in several polls in Tuesday's California primary showdown, to suggest that he and McGovern buy time Monday night for a fourth meeting that would be a true debate between them, rather than a question-and-answer session with newsmen.
McGovern said he was willing to do it if his schedule permitted, then issued a Monday schedule that includes a visit to New Mexico, where a primary is also being held Tuesday, and calls for a late-night return to Los Angeles.
In suggesting that a special emissary to Hanoi might settle the POW question, Humphrey said that President Nixon could send John B. Connally, the Texas Democrat who resigned as Nixon's secretary of the Treasury. McGovern said he doubted if "John Connally, who's been one of the foremost supporters of our involvement, is the right man to get us out."

HHH, McGovern Disagree On War Prisoners' Issue

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and George McGovern disagree on the best way to get U.S. prisoners released by North Vietnam. Humphrey wants President Nixon to send a special emissary to Hanoi, while McGovern says only a total U.S. withdrawal could get them out.
The POW issue and Humphrey's contention—quickly denied—that McGovern's proposal for sharp defense spending cuts could leave Israel defenseless, were the chief points of disagreement Sunday.

Criminal Court Is In Session

A week of jury trials for criminal cases began this morning in 31st District Court with Judge Grainger McIlhenny presiding.
First case called up was that of Robert Lewis Sheppard also known as Robert Lewis Dunbar. He will face one of five counts of burglary.
Eleven other cases have been placed on the docket but it was doubtful if any significant number of them would be heard this week.

New Sub Stressed By Laird

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today it is "absolutely essential" that the United States proceed to develop new, submarine and bomber systems to maintain bargaining position for further strategic arms limitation talks—SALT—with the Soviet Union.
Laird urged Congress not to take unilateral action to do away with the United States' ability to add the Trident submarine, the B1 bomber and other weapons to its offensive arsenal.
If Congress takes such action, Laird told the Senate foreign affairs subcommittee on operations, "I believe the opportunity to negotiate any kind of an agreement that is meaningful to insure the safety of our people and the peace of the world would be diminished greatly."

Laird said the recent SALT agreements in Moscow will permit funding reductions for U.S. antiballistic missile (ABM) defensive systems.
"But funds for offensive systems in the fiscal 1973 budget will remain very much needed," he said.
Laird said the Trident, under present planning, would not be available before late 1978 or early 1979.

By that time he said the Soviet Union will have 90 Y class submarines while the United States will have 41.
He said there has been no change in the U.S. authorized ceiling since 1958.

Rocket Hits Cambodian Defense Hqs.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—A rocket scored a direct hit on the Cambodian Defense Ministry today, killing two persons and wounding at least two others, while two other rockets straddled the villa of President Lon Nol.
It was the first daylight rocket attack on the Cambodian capital in more than two years of war.
One rocket landed in front of the president's villa on the southwestern edge of the city, while another hit behind it. Sources said they did some damage to buildings close to the villa.
Two other rockets, landing so close together that the explosions sounded like a single blast, were fired at the long Defense Ministry building close to the center of the city. One scored a direct hit on the third floor, while the other tore apart a tree on the far side of an iron fence in front of the ministry.

U.S. Deficit For 1972 Will Reach $26 Billion

Official Run-Off Returns

By Associated Press
The final returns from the Texas Election Bureau, with no more counting expected in Saturday's second primary:

Democratic:
Senator: Barefoot Sanders 1,001,184. Ralph Yarborough 925,943.
Governor: Dolph Briscoe 1,099,993. Frances Farenthold 887,665.

Lieutenant governor: Wayne Connally 848,192. Bill Hobby 1,091,105.
Comptroller: Robert S. Calvert 976,490. Jim Wilson 753,291.

Republican:
Governor: Henry Grover 40,655. Albert Fay 21,067.

The liberal-conservative line was sharply marked in the governor's race, although Briscoe preferred to call himself a reformist-moderate.

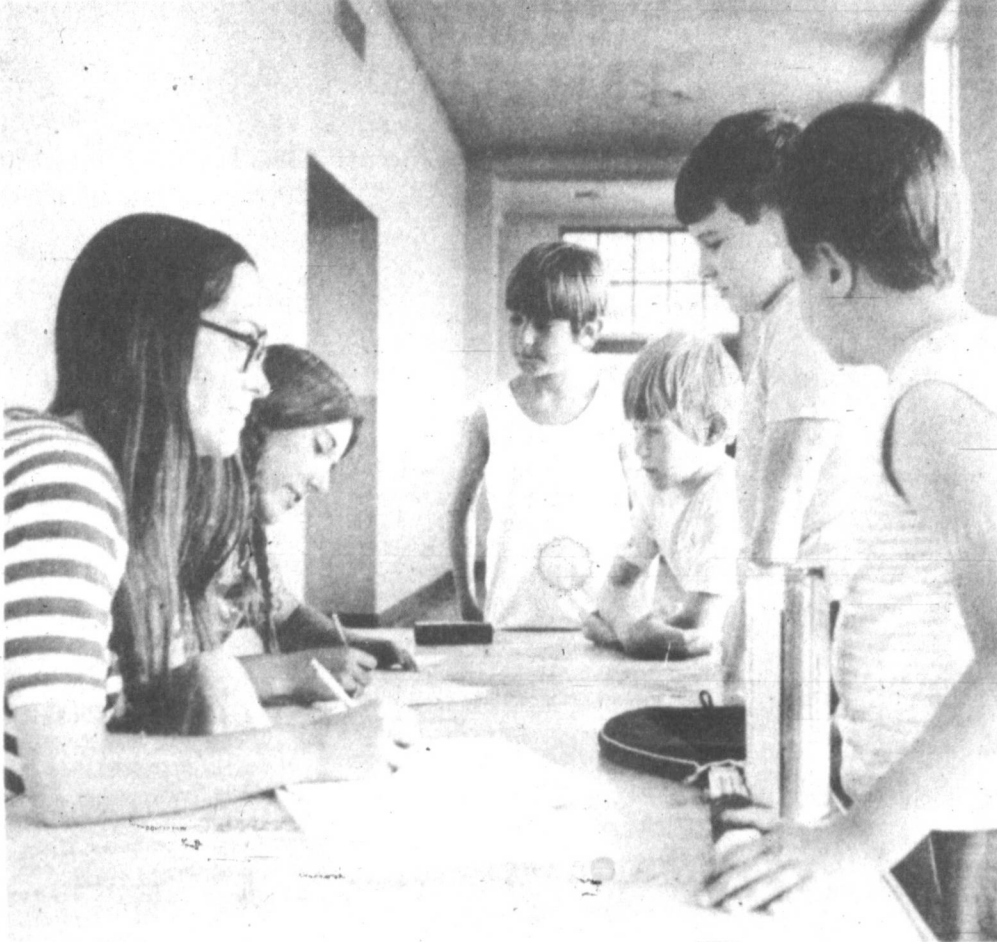

Mrs. "Sissy" Farenthold, a state representative and an outspoken liberal, waged an energetic and articulate campaign with what she called "amateur workers" but fell afoul of the traditional conservative voting patterns.

Briscoe's Democratic nomination should be equal to election in November, although Republicans give most candidates a run for their money in any presidential election year. Republicans surprisingly rejected Fay, who has been a GOP leader and dedicated worker for decades.

Sanders did not appear to have much of a chance for nomination for senator when Yarborough got 49.88 per cent of the vote in the first primary. But again, as in the case of Mrs. Farenthold, there appeared to be only so many liberal votes in Texas and winning on a liberal ticket is a miracle.

Jurors Showed Little Discord On Innocence Of Angela Davis

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—The jurors who acquitted Angela Davis on murder-kidnap conspiracy charges had no major disagreements on her innocence from the start of their deliberations, the forewoman said.
Mary Timothy revealed the lack of discord while attending a festive party celebrating Sunday's verdict. A Mexican-American on the jury said he related to defense arguments about the persecution of blacks.
Another source said the all-white jury voted at least three times before handing in its verdict. On the first ballot, taken Friday afternoon shortly after they began deliberating, the jurors voted nine for acquittal and three undecided. There were no votes for conviction during the balloting, the source said.
Hysterical sobs of joy intermingled with shrieks of happiness in the courtroom when the verdict was returned.
Miss Davis wept quietly, tears streaming down her cheeks.
She was found innocent of engineering the bloody Aug. 7, 1970, Marin County courthouse escape attempt in which a judge, two convicts and their accomplice were slain. She had spent 16 months in jail before she was freed on $102,500 bail five days before the trial began Feb. 28.

Southern Democratic Governors Fear McGovern's Victory May Hurt Party

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Subdued and unhappy Southern Democratic governors say they fear George McGovern's presidential nomination would hurt the party in the South.
But they are apparently forgetting any thoughts of a "Stop-McGovern" drive, accepting the likelihood the South Dakota senator will be the nominee, and hoping to influence his stand on the issues and his vice presidential candidate.
"I've done about all I can right now," Georgia Gov. Jimmie Carter said. "I think he's certainly the most likely winner."
The Southern governors agree "almost to a man," said Gov. Bob Scott of North Carolina, "that if McGovern receives the nomination it would be just almost a disaster for the South." But, he said, "it's a little late to be stopping him now."
Speaking two days before the crucial California primary which McGovern is favored to win handily, Missouri's Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said "I never thought it would happen. I never thought we would be discussing the presidential nomination as if it were almost in the bag for presidential McGovern."
The governors are here for the annual National Governors conference—a bipartisan meeting expected to be dominated

Figures Highest In 27 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal deficit for fiscal 1972 will be an estimated $26 billion, highest since World War II, but $12.8 billion lower than predicted in January, the government said today.

The revised budget estimate came as the Nixon administration asked Congress to raise the national debt limit by $15 billion from the current $450 billion.

The deficit for fiscal 1973, estimated earlier at $25.5 billion will be about $27 billion, the Office of Management and Budget said in a report to Congress.

The federal financial situation has improved markedly since January because of increased tax collections resulting from over-withholding from paychecks.

The reason for the lower deficit is that the Treasury has collected more money than anticipated. This is due to congressional action changing income-tax tables effective this year, resulting in sharply higher amounts being withheld from paychecks.

The change was designed to eliminate traditional under-withholding for millions of taxpayers. And many people who are having too much deducted have not adjusted their withholding rates, despite pleas by the administration.

The deficit also will be smaller because no action has yet been taken on Nixon's revenue-sharing bill. The administration scheduled $2.2 billion for revenue-sharing in the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The national debt now stands at almost $430 billion.

Several congressmen have said they plan to attach tax-reform amendments to the debt-limit request, but the administration says the tax code should not be revised in an election year. Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, has introduced a bill that would call for a review of 54 major tax "loopholes" by 1976.

The improved budget situation means the administration can claim that the budget is not in deficit when figured on a full-employment basis.

Dependance On Foreign Oil Warned

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—An Oklahoma Congressman said today growing U.S. dependence on foreign oil and the steady rise of Soviet Naval power in the Middle East presents "the greatest danger to American security in more than 30 years."

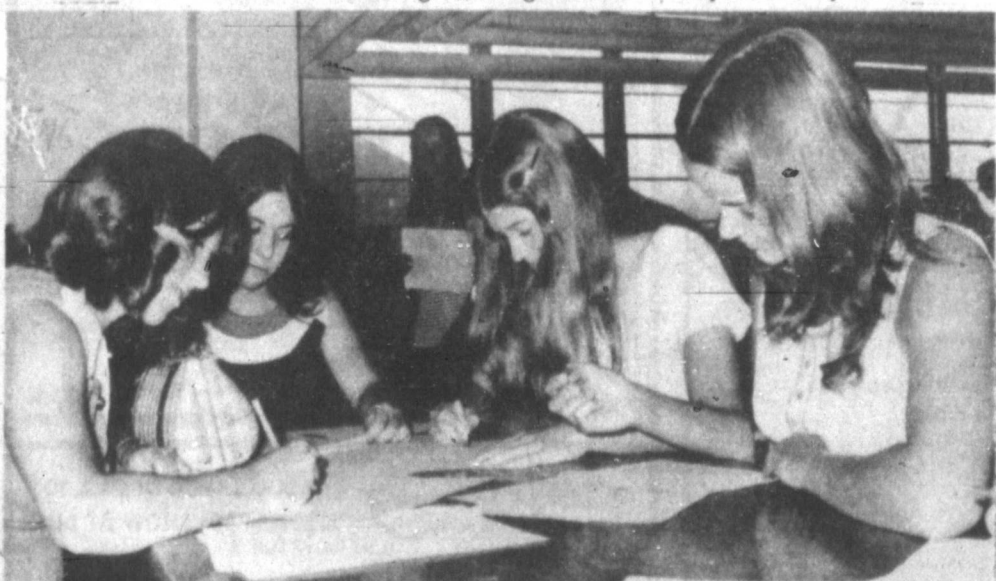

The American people, said Rep. Ed Edmondson, are "just beginning to awaken to the great risk we are facing."

The Oklahoma Democrat's remarks were prepared for delivery at a meeting of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

"Like the ostrich whose head is beneath the sand, a large segment of the American public continues to be blind to the danger that a foreign cartel or Russian submarine could in a matter of a few weeks turn out the lights for a great part of our country," Edmondson said.

Edmondson, chairman of the House subcommittee on Mines and Mining, said the committee on Interior and Insular Affairs recently heard evidence by Secretary of the Interior Rogers Morton that the United States will be importing more than 50 per cent of its oil by 1985.

"Greater reliance on this foreign oil supply simply means that our national security and our economic stability inevitably become more dependent upon the actions of other countries."

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH. D., M. D.

Philip interviewed Chinese refugees who had swum the dangerous 5 miles of rough seas to escape from Red China to Hong Kong. Use his interview in your local schools to show children why America is still the "Promised Land" on this planet Earth!

CASE U-501: Last fall, our son Philip accompanied several of his fellow Congressmen on the House Banking Committee to Japan, Taiwan, Saigon and Hong Kong.

"Dad," he said, "at Hong Kong a newspaper publisher furnished me a Chinese interpreter so I could go down to the beaches to interview swimmers who had dragged themselves on shore after braving 5 miles of turbulent sea between Hong Kong and Red China's nearest coastal area."

Philip found that most of the escapees (of whom an average of 600 succeed in this dangerous swim, though many others drown) were young adults, ranging in age from 18 to 25 years.

"How are you treated back in Red China?" he inquired.

"We must work 14 hours per day," they answered, "and 7 days per week!"

"What do you get paid for that heavy schedule?" he continued.

"Two hundred dollars annually in Chinese money (equal to $70 in America)."

"What can you buy with that income?" Philip asked.

"Only a bare minimum of food that is just enough to keep us alive and able to work," they replied.

"Then how do you obtain clothes or other necessities?" Philip persisted.

"We depend on Chinese friends in Hong Kong or even San Francisco," they said, "for some of their packages still get through to us."

"But we don't dare wear a dress that isn't covered with patches! For then we'd suffer more reprisals and be harassed as capitalists..."

"How much would a pair of shoes cost in Red China?" Philip persisted.

"Leather shoes like yours?" inquired two of the girl refugees, aged 20.

Philip nodded.

"At least $20 in Chinese money," they went on. "But it takes all of our $200 annual earnings just to buy food."

"And even if we had surplus money, we wouldn't dare purchase such shoes! For then we'd be taunted as capitalists and assigned harder tasks."

Philip said most of the escapees are the children of former small land owners or shopkeepers.

"We are denied any future chance to get an education," they confided to Philip.

"For we are consigned to the lowest or peon class, while those former peons are now in the saddle in Red China."

Despite the bold claims of Communist propagandists, that they produce "Paradise" how many people risk their lives to swim those hazardous 5 miles of churning seas to escape from Hong Kong back to Red China?

How many West Germans have been shot or blown to bits with land mines as they also try to sneak into East Germany?

Why were the Bamboo Curtain in China and the Iron Curtain in Europe ever erected?

Were they to keep citizens of capitalistic nations from swarming into the so-called "Paradise of Communism?"

Let's combat the glib Communist agitators who now disrupt our campuses, by offering scholarships at American colleges to these qualified Chinese escapees.

Vividly they can document the torture and regimentation behind the Bamboo Curtain!

Donate for such scholarships to the Charles Edison Memorial Youth Fund, 2121 "P" Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20037.

Your gifts are tax deductible! Let these Chinese escapees refute atheistic Communist propaganda! They merit support!

Mail your gifts now! (Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg. Mellot, Indiana 47956 enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

When to Sell Stock?

By CARLTON SMITH

There's a wry formula, often heard on Wall Street, for sure profits in the market: "Buy low, sell high."

It's offered as tongue-in-cheek wisdom because no one knows, of course—not the best of the professionals—how far down "low" is, or how far up "high" is. But behind the wryness is a message for the individual, amateur investor.

There is, indeed, a time to buy and a time to sell, and the successful investor is simply one who knows the rules of the market well enough to buy what's reasonably priced, and get rid of the stock that doesn't have a good future.

Too many amateur investors believe you can buy a chunk of high-quality stock and "put it away and forget it." Thousands of investors who've accepted that bit of lore over the past years would be ahead if they'd kept their money in a savings account.

Every stock, blue chip and all, is going to have its ups and downs. The investor who hangs on blindly to thank if he fares well...

And there's the rub. "Giving advice on what stocks to sell, and when, is substantially more difficult than giving advice on purchases," says Marilyn V. Brown, a Burnham & Company analyst.

It's easier—for an analyst, that is—to spot the "buys" than to foresee the decliners. The competent professional who makes a business of studying and interpreting economic data, market trends and industry figures will identify supply-and-demand situations which mean that a given industry is almost certain to have a good year coming up. Seek out the companies in the strongest competitive positions in that industry, and you have "buy" recommendations.

"It is much more unusual when a stock or group of stocks appears clearly overpriced," says the Burnham & Company analyst. Occasionally, bad news about developments in a particular company will come to an analyst's attention, and the brokerage firm can advise clients to unload. But in most cases the decision can't be that clear cut.

"A sell decision much more often will be conditioned by the individual investor's own requirements," says Ms. Brown. You've bought a stock for its dividends, and now it's priced at a low-yield level, for example. To you that may say "sell"; to someone else, it might not. For a variety of reasons, the right time to sell can be affected both by the outlook for the stock itself, and by the individual's own investment strategy.

Thus the investor is much more likely to go wrong on the "sell" end of his investment. He can be wrong either by holding a stock when he should have sold, or by selling when he should have hung on. Yet—if our original thesis is correct—the successful investor must take into account the truism that there is a time to buy, and a time to sell.

If you don't have that much market know-how, you'll find yourself in over your head, trying to play in that league.

Unless you have sufficient capital to command the interest and attentions of a good broker—and few of them have any time for the little guy these days—better let a mutual fund manager make the decisions.

United States To Import More Oil From Mideast

HOUSTON (AP) — If current forecasts are correct, the Middle East's role in supplying petroleum to the United States will take a very dramatic jump in the decade ahead.

Most industry officials and petroleum economists are in agreement the current level of U.S. oil imports approaching 4.5 million barrels a day will climb above the 12 million mark between 1980 and 1985.

And there is general agreement most of that sharp increase will have to come from the Middle East.

Only 10 per cent of the oil the United States now receives from foreign sources comes from the Middle East.

The new 1971 edition of British Petroleum's annual statistical review of the world oil industry places a 3,875,000 barrels per day estimate on last year's U.S. oil imports.

It also indicates the Middle East's share of U.S. imports last year amounted to only 390,000 barrels a day. The 1961 statistical review had the Middle East shipments averaging 345,000 barrels a day. During the 10-year period, however, total U.S. imports jumped from a daily average of 1,890,000 barrels to 3,875,000.

Stated another way, the Middle East supplied 18 per cent of U.S. oil requirements in 1961 compared to only 10 per cent in 1971.

The addition of North and West African oil would not change the 1961 percentage but it would boost the combined Africa-Middle East share in 1971 to 15 per cent.

British Petroleum breaks down last year's total U.S. oil imports this way: Venezuela and the Caribbean area 2,170,000 barrels a day, Canada 800,000, Middle East 390,000, Western Europe 145,000, Southeast Asia 130,000, West Africa 105,000, North Africa 90,000, other Western Hemisphere areas 30,000, other Eastern Hemisphere areas 10,000, and Russia-Eastern Europe 5,000.

In the decade, the Caribbean-Venezuelan share of U.S. imports dropped from 65 to 56 per cent.

Worldwide inter-area total oil movements meanwhile increased from 9,870,000 barrels a day in 1961 to 27,285,000 daily in 1971. Total Middle East exports climbed from 5,090,000 to 15,250,000 barrels a day. Africa from only 435,000 barrels daily to 5,490,000, Caribbean-Venezuela from 2,635,000 to 3,150,000, and Russia-Eastern Europe from 615,000 to 1,090,000 barrels a day.

At the end of 1971 Western Europe was receiving one-half of all the oil being exported by other areas.

Petroleum imported by Western Europe increased from 4,465,000 to 13,555,000 barrels a day between 1961 and 1971. Western Europe's consumption of Middle East oil averaged 7,685,000 barrels a day last year compared to 2,855,000 a decade earlier. Her requirements for Africa oil averaged 4,430,000 barrels a day compared with only 430,000 in 1961.

Percentage-wise, Japan's spiraling requirements for petroleum exceeded those of Western Europe.

Lack of funeral is no cause to mourn

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Recently a dear friend passed away, having requested no funeral services whatsoever. She did this in order to spare the family and friends the stress of a funeral. To me that was the height of unselfishness, and an expression of real love.

Funeral services may be a comfort to some, but the full treatment usually makes the final farewells far more painful than comforting. Any method of reducing such pain is a gift of love to those left behind, and the one who plans ahead in this way is to be commended. NO MOURNER

DEAR NO: I have been privileged to know only one such unselfish person. She was a beautiful newspaper woman, and her name was Maggie Savoy.

DEAR ABBY: I agree wholeheartedly with the person who wants no funeral. I have arranged for a private church service before the notice of my demise goes into the paper. Life has been good to me, and my wonderful friends need not take time out to attend my funeral. I would rather have them go about their business and think kindly of me.

I never send flowers to a funeral. I donate a book to the library instead. But lest you think I am depriving the florists of business, be assured that I am a steady customer because I believe in giving flowers to the living.

J. N. N.: OKLAHOMA CITY

DEAR ABBY: This is for M. M. B. of Greenwood, S. C., who says that she is not going to attend her own funeral.

Well, I am sorry to inform you, but this is impossible. If there is one thing in life we cannot get out of, it's attending our own funeral. Even if the body could be taken out to the city dump and burned, it is still a funeral.

I agree, grief is no fun, and no one goes looking for it, but death is a fact of life, and to try to run it under the rug is decidedly unhealthy.

To deny our loved ones the opportunity to pay their last respects at our funeral shows a lack of consideration for them.

When someone you love leaves town, do you go to the airport to bid him a fond farewell? Or do you call on the telephone and leave a message?

THE REV. J. P. G. IN CLEVELAND

DEAR ABBY: Mrs. M. M. B. of Greenwood, S. C., indicated that she would like to hear from others relative to her ideas on her funeral. I wonder if she has ever thought of the gift of sight to two blind persons by her donating her eyes; the gift of health and even life to two persons who need a kidney each; the gift of normal growth to doomed children who are in need of serum from the pituitary glands of donors.

It is possible for anyone to perform such miracles after death by getting in touch with the local eye bank or Lion's Club, the National Kidney Foundation, 116 E. 27th St., New York, N. Y. 10016, the Human Growth Foundation, 307 Fifth Av., New York, N. Y. 10016. CHARLOTTE R.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to go Mrs. M. M. B. one better—I am not going to my own funeral, and neither is anyone else! I have made arrangements with the San Diego Memorial Society to cremate my remains and scatter the ashes over the ocean. [It's now legal.]

There will be no services for me, but later, if and when my family wish to gather to recall the happy times we had together—and offer their prayers for the living—it's up to them. ALL SET IN CALIF.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Advancement—the broader perspective that leads to still better work—is more likely in view now. Organize something profitable for yourself.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Friends complicate matters, can't be left out altogether, yet in some ways turn out quite helpful. What you had Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Rash moves make problems. Even though it seems that you've waited too long (take time to think about what you are doing).

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Well-meaning advisers can be as much in error as anybody. Avoid needless arguments, simply follow your own welfare, do the necessary.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Offer constructive suggestions to people of more influence; let lesser authorities manager themselves while you improve your resources.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Being responsive and considerate of others' needs will bring you what you need. There seems nothing to gain by haste.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: The day's routines are enough. Save your energy, and tonight exert yourself to be calm and immune to casual provocations.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Any last-minute adjustment needs further changes. Try to be consistent and be satisfied with little recognition.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: You may as well cope with the costs of today's maneuvers. To get what you want, you must work and spend. Do your own thinking.

PARTNERSHIP WINNERS—B.F. Dorman and Scott Hall, center left and right, won the first hole of a sudden death best ball playoff yesterday against the other two teams shown to win the 10 annual Pampa Country Club Partnership Tournament. Hall, Dorman Win Tourney

Scott Hall sank a three foot putt on the first hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday afternoon to give he and his partner, B.F. Dorman the victory in Pampa Country Club's annual Partnership tourney.

Hall and Dorman finished the regulation 36 holes of the tournament tied at 196 with two other teams: Rick Clark and Lee Ziegelgruber and Deck Woldt and Stu Youngblood. It wasn't until the fourth extra hole that Ziegelgruber was able to close Woldt and Youngblood out with a snakey five footer that gave he and Clark second place.

The teams of Dr. Frank Kelley and Jim Triplehorn; Herman Jarrard and Dale Ladd, and Ed Myatt and H. C. Grady tied for fourth with 197's.

Howard Lockhart and Dewey Cudney were seventh at 198 O.M. Prigmore and R.A. Baker took eighth with a 199.

Homer Beats Thirlwell For British Am. Title

SANDWICH, England (AP)—American golfers didn't do too well in this year's British Amateur Championship, but they were still a vital part of the scene.

"We couldn't do without the Americans," said an official of the Royal St. George's Club which staged the event. "They bring this tournament to life."

"Just watch the interest when a good British player and a good American are paired against each other. A match like that always attracts the biggest gallery."

The championship ended Saturday with an all-English final. Trevor Homer, 28, who never had previously won a major tournament, defeated Alan Thirlwell, 43, by 4 and 3 over 36 holes.

The tournament started with 43 Americans. Only four of them reached the last 32 and only two—Kemp Richardson of Huntington Beach, Calif. and Dick Siderow of Westport, Conn.—made the last 16. Richardson then reached the quarter-finals, where he was beaten by Thirlwell.

Often the Americans played the wrong kind of chip shot to a green. They chipped high as they do at home—and the ball got carried by the wind into sand traps or deep rough.

The British do it a different way. They chip low and let the ball run on to the green. American players found the greens much faster than any they knew at home.

In the final, Homer twice eagled the 490-yard seventh hole. In the afternoon round, his 36-foot putt at that green started a run of eagle-birdiebirdie which put him five up and virtually clinched the title.

GIANT SUCCESS

Going into the 1972 season, the San Francisco (see New York) Giants had the best cumulative record among National League teams, with 6,694 wins and 4,919 losses for a .553 percentage. Pittsburgh was in second place with a 5,769-5,255 record, a .523 mark. The worst record was San Diego's, 176-369 and .363.

HOLIDAY PAIRINGS SET

SHAVING STROKES

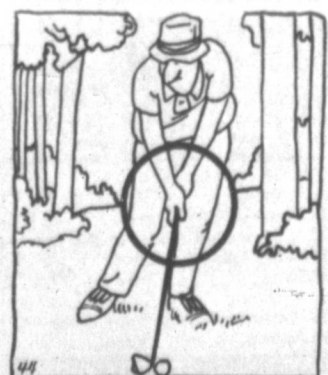

by Frank Beard

44—A Two-Handed Game

Much modern teaching puts tremendous emphasis on the role of the left hand in the golf swing. Sometimes I get the idea some experts think we ought to cut off our right hands and we'd play better.

I believe that when you stress the role of one hand in the golf swing you're looking for dark trouble.

It's true that if you're duck-hooking or hitting too much from the top, some of this left-hand emphasis can help you—as a negative correction. But your right hand is probably your stronger hand, and you'd better put it to use.

Golf is a two-handed game, and I always try to have my hands working together, to weld them.

When I grip the club I visualize my hands being folded in prayer. The palms will be facing.

Then my goal is to keep them in that kind of union throughout my swing, not letting one cup, or pass the other.

Baseball Roundup

By Associated Press

American League
They don't call the Baltimore Orioles the O's for nothing; they got 18 of them Sunday.

You know—zeroes, goose eggs. O's. The Orioles got nine of them—000 000 000—in the first game of Sunday's double-header against Oakland and nine more—000 000 000—in the nightcap.

The A's got 16 O's themselves but had the presence of mind to score twice in the first inning of each game en route to a 2-0, 2-0 sweep of the beleaguered Orioles. The double defeat dropped Baltimore's three-in-a-row American League champs into third place in the East Division, three games behind Detroit and one percentage point in back of Cleveland.

Elsewhere, the Tigers blanked Minnesota 3-0, the Indians turned back California 6-4, the Chicago White Sox took a pair from the New York Yankees 6-1 and 5-4. Boston defeated Kansas City 4-0 after dropping the opener 7-5 and Texas blasted Milwaukee 10-0.

Baltimore has played 41 games and has managed to win only 21. One of the reasons is such feeble batting averages as Ellie Hendricks' .114, Boog Powell's .156, Mark Belanger's .159, Andy Etchebarren's .189, Don Buford's .203, Brooks Robinson's .236, Paul Blair's .246 and Dave Johnson's .248.

Catfish Hunter squelched the Orioles on two hits in the opener while rookie Dave Hamilton, Rollie Fingers and Darold Knowles combined for the shut-out in the nightcap. Sal Bando's two-run homer off Mike Cuellar decided the first game and the A's touched Doyle Alexander in the first inning of the nightcap on a walk, singles by Joe Rudi and Reggie Jackson and Bando's double play grounder.

Detroit's Tom Timmerman blanked the Twins on four hits and Mickey Stanley broke up a scoreless duel with a two-run homer in the seventh off Bert Blyleven, only the second hit off the hardthrowing righthander.

The Indians piled up a six-run lead against the Angels with Alex Johnson homering and pitcher Milt Wilcox socking a two-run double, but had to hold on to win. Leroy Stanton homered for the losers.

Dick Allen smashed a dramatic three-run pinch homer off Sparky Lyle, the Yankees' ace reliever, in the ninth inning to lift the White Sox to their sweep before a crowd of 51,904.

Mike Andrews and Carlos May delivered two-run singles off Mel Stottlemyre in the opener and Bill Melton homered. Ron Blomberg connected for the Yanks.

John Curtis pitched the Red Sox to victory in their second game with a seven-hitter after Paul Schaal's grand slam home run capped a five-run rally that enabled the Royals to win the opener. Tommy Harper homered for the Red Sox.

Texas kayoed Milwaukee's Skip Lockwood, who pitched a one-hitter his last time out, with six runs in the first inning and Rich Hand, Mike Paul and Horacio Pina tamed the Brewers on six hits.

National League

It was the best of times for Chicago's Randy Hundley, and the worst of times, too. He broke San Diego's back—and one of its bats. And he broke the back of a Cubs rally—and had a bat of his own broken in return.

The Chicago catcher, struggling to get his batting average back up to respectability and give second-string backstop Ken Rudolph a permanent seat on the bench, swatted his first home run in nearly a year and a half Sunday.

It couldn't have come at a better time because it broke a tie and sent the Cubs on the way to a 3-1 victory over the Padres.

Then, in the ninth inning, he slammed a hot grounder at shortstop Rafael Robles. And it couldn't have come at a worse time because Robles converted it into a triple play.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh swept a pair from San Francisco, 4-3 and 9-1. Atlanta dumped the New York Mets 9-3. St. Louis defeated Los Angeles 4-0. Cincinnati stopped Philadelphia 2-0 and Houston whipped Montreal 5-0.

"I was just trying to hit the ball," Hundley said of the Bill Greif pitch that wound up in the left field stands.

Hundley, all but sidelined by knee problems, is batting a meager .198 with just 11 runs batted in.

"To show you how things are going for me," he said of the triple play, "the third baseman is charging in, expecting a bunt, and the shortstop is supposed to break to cover third. But he didn't move and I hit the ball right at him." Robles snared it, tagged Carmen Franzone as he ran by, then threw to second for a force on Jose Cardenal and Derrel Thomas wheeled and fired to first to retire Hundley.

Early in the game, Thomas hit a Ferguson Jenkins pitch, then let go of his bat, which struck Hundley in the knee. "I took his bat and hit the ground with it and it broke. I didn't mean to do it."

Hundley bunted and was tossed out by Fred Kendall. Then the San Diego catcher, on instructions from Manager Don Zimmer, broke Hundley's bat.

The Pirates, winning their sixth game in the last eight, slashed the Mets' East Division lead to 3½ games. The Cubs, who have won seven of nine, are six games off the pace.

Willie Stargell, who had four RBIs in the second game against the Giants, said the Pirates "don't think about the Mets until we play them. There's nothing you can do about their games so there's no point in worrying about it."

After eighth-inning singles by Manny Sanguillen, Vic Davalillo and Al Oliver and Milt May's sacrifice fly gave Pittsburgh the two runs it needed to win the opener. Bruce Kison limited San Francisco to three hits in the nightcap while the Bucs got 16 of their own.

Darrell Evans led Atlanta's 12-hit assault against four New York pitchers that saddled six-game winner Jon Matlock with his first defeat. Evans clubbed a two-run double and a three-run homer.

It was Old-Timer's Day in Los Angeles and 36-year-old Bob Gibson celebrated with a five-hitter, the 52nd shutout of his career and second in a row.

The Reds, edging within half a game of the first-place Dodgers in the West with their seventh straight victory, got everything they needed on Johnny Bench's first-inning two-run double. It was enough to hand the Phils their eighth straight loss and 18th in 19 games.

Don Wilson pitched a two-hitter for the Astros and Cesar Cedeno broke a scoreless deadlock with an eighth-inning homer before Houston struck for four insurance runs in the ninth to tame the Expos.

HORSE PAPER CLOSES

NEW YORK (AP)—After 139 years as a newspaper specializing in past performances of thoroughbreds, The Morning Telegraph has ceased publication.

Doug Sanders Breaks 2 Year Long Drought

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—There was just a trace of a smile around the lips as Doug Sanders announced in obvious but restrained delight:

"I've proved I can still play. And I've proved I can still win. You can't imagine what a wonderful feeling it is."

The dapper guy had just scored a dramatic, one-stroke victory over Lee Trevino with a long birdie putt on the final hole of the $175,000 Kemper Open Sunday, confounding the critics who had written his golfing obituaries scores of times.

He'd been derided for his admitted playboy attitude toward life, complete with late hours and liquor. Purists said his unorthodox, short swing would fail him with his advancing years. He lost his exempt status when he failed to play well enough to make the top 60 money winners last season. He hadn't won in two years.

His 19th career victory, worth

$35,000 and a congratulatory telephone call from sometimes playing partner Vice President Spiro Agnew, solved it all.

"When that putt dropped, it was like a blessing from heaven," said Sanders. "I don't know how long it was. Some people say 40 feet. Some say 20, but I think it broke that much."

His winning birdie on the 72nd hole, before a huge gallery of some 23,000 basking in the bright, warm sunshine and sweating out one of the most exciting finishes of the year on the pro tour, gave the 38-year-old Sanders a four-under-par 68 on his final round.

His 13-under-par total of 275 on the 7,278 yard Quail Hollow Country Club course was a single stroke better than Trevino, who missed a 10-foot birdie putt on the final hole that would have tied it. Trevino had a 69.

Labron Harris was next at 277, with South African Gary Player, Australian Bruce Devlin and Cesar Sanudo tied at 278. Ray Floyd, Dave Hill and Tom Shaw followed at 279 in the closely bunched field.

Gibby Gibert, who led the second and third rounds, went to a 75-281 and was tied at that figure with defending champ Tom Weiskopf. Billy Casper had a 282 and Arnold Palmer was far back in the field at 288. Jack Nicklaus did not compete.

Sanders played in the group just in front of Trevino and was tied with the dangerous, gritty Super Mex where he went to the final hole, a 448-yard par four, uphill and with a dogleg left.

Sanders drove the fairway, and hit his second to a bank on the left of the green, the ball trickling down to the fringe, some 10 yards from the cup, he took 40 seconds exactly lining it up, then stroked it and raised a clenched fist aloft as the ball dropped in the cup.

Trevino, pacing restlessly in the fairway while Sanders putted out, ripped his second shot dead at the flag but didn't even hit the hole on the 10-foot putt that would have tied it.

John Smith Healthy Again

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—John Smith's return to health cleared out the Olympic 400-meter dash picture somewhat but the main result of last weekend's NCAA track and field championships was the number of new names that popped up as winners.

Smith, UCLA's boy wonder two years ago when he won the national AAU title, was last year's NCAA king before contracting the weakening illness hepatitis. The disease, if not caught in its early stages, usually keeps its victims in bed for months.

But Smith is no average fellow. The muscular senior was up within a month. He stayed on a training routine early in the year and his midseason times did not approach his world record for 440 yards of 44.5.

When he stepped off the Hayward Field track at the University of Oregon Saturday he had the NCAA title for a second straight year.

But Smith is no average fellow. The muscular senior was up within a month. He stayed on a training routine early in the year and his midseason times did not approach his world record for 440 yards of 44.5.

Lucas ran his first steeplechase race a year ago. He won but said "my grandmother could have won. It was a terrible race. I had no competition."

But his 8:30.2 time here was the fourth fastest ever run by an American.

Williams and Woods both freshmen, won jumping events in fine fashion. Southern Cal's Williams won the long jump at 26-8¼ with a very slightly aiding wind of 4.6 miles an hour. Woods, the Oregon star, upset star, flopped 7-3¼ in the high jump equal to the national freshman mark held by Cal's Clarence Johnson.

Edmondson was California's junior college sprint champ three years ago at Merritt College in Oakland. Today, after two years of near-misses, the UCLA senior is college king and holder of the NCAA 100-meter record at 10.0.

Wottle is a Bowling Green's flashing-foot miler who captured the NCAA 1,500 in 3:39.7 and said "I had so much run left in me I think I could have gone a lot faster."

Schoterman's 231-3 hammer throw made him a definite threat to make the U.S. team which goes to Munich.

The key game of the match, Mrs. King said, was the third game of the second set when she fell behind 0-40 on her own service, evened it at 40-all with a drop shot and volley and then got a service winner.

The triumph earned Mrs. King, who has been ranked No. 1 in the United States five times, $4,000 while Miss Goolagong, ranked No. 1 in the world, collected $2,000.

Mann Wins At Carling

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—To hear her describe it, Carol Mann's two-stroke triumph in the Lady Carling open golf tournament was "uniquely, the greatest victory" she has ever scored.

She did it in dramatic fashion Sunday before nearly 8,000 hometown fans at the Pine Ridge course.

Locked in a head-to-head battle with veteran Kathy Whitworth, Miss Mann tied the course record with a six-under par 67 to roll up a nine-under par 54-hole total of 210.

Three times in the last five years, Miss Mann had finished a bitterly disappointing second. And each time she could point to the hole where she blew the championship.

"I thought about every one of them out there," she confessed after finishing ahead of Miss Whitworth, who shot a second round 67 and was a four-time champion at Pine Ridge. Miss Whitworth carded a 70 to tally a 212 total.

Miss Mann started the day two strokes behind second round leader Marilyn Smith and one off Miss Whitworth. She swept past Miss Smith into the lead on the front nine with a course record five-under par 32. Miss Whitworth handled the front nine in 33. At that point they were tied at eight-under the par.

Miss Mann took the lead when Miss Whitworth bogeyed the par three 14th hole and Miss Mann increased her lead to two shots with a birdie at the par four 16th.

Mexico President Has Own 'Summit'

By DON OAKLEY

President Nixon's summit conference with the heads of the Soviet government in Moscow is to be followed hard upon by a mini-meeting with the president of Mexico in Washington.

President Luis Echeverria Alvarez will come to the United States on a seven-day visit starting June 15. His itinerary includes stopovers in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Antonio, as well as the Washington meeting with President Nixon.

In the nature of things, his visit is likely to be overshadowed by continuing analyses of the dramatic and historic accords reached in Moscow and speculations about their ramifications for world peace. But the agenda of matters to be discussed in Washington is no less important in the eyes of our southern neighbors than were the Nixon-Brezhnev talks to Americans.

Mexico and the United States do not, unfortunately, have the problems of mutual arms limitations, but there are other sore points. Chief among these is the problem of the salinity of Colorado River water received by Mexico from the state of Arizona.

U.S. agricultural and water practices have not only been scouring the land for farmers in the Mexican Valley for a decade but have been souring U.S.-Mexican relations for as long. Mexican experts think one solution would be to construct a canal to divert contaminated waters before they enter the Colorado.

Other key issues of concern to both countries include technology exchanges, the situation of migratory workers and trade. Sources close to President Echeverria indicate, however, that a major topic of discussion will be his belief that the rich, industrialized nations of the world should play a larger role in the development and progress of poor nations, without interfering in those nations' internal affairs.

President Echeverria put forth his philosophy in an address before the United Nations-sponsored conference on trade and development (UNCTAD) in Chile in April.

He noted that while there had been an unprecedented expansion in world trade in recent years, it has primarily favored the more prosperous nations and has resulted in only minimal benefits for countries in the process of development. Despite anyone's intentions, the interchange has only served to widen even more the gap between nations.

Recent protectionists measures and the monetary crisis confirm this trend, said Echeverria. Economic inequalities are reflected in the voting power held by the large nations within international financing organizations.

He called on the International Monetary Fund to adopt a more democratic method of reaching its decisions through greater participation of the developing nation, warning that no peaceful world balance can be established that is based on the discontent of the greater number of its inhabitants.

"The progress of human society is from now on indivisible," he said. "Whatever happens in one country affects all the others and conditions its own evolution."

"It is not only by arms that peace can be destroyed. We shall make ready for the 21st century only insofar as we comprehend that we all share a common destiny."

If the United States is the leader of the free world, the industrialized democracies, and the U.S.S.R. or China the leaders of the Communist world, Mexico can lay claim to being the leading spokesman for the interests of the developing or so-called "Third world."

This could be the real import of the Nixon-Echeverria mini-summit in Washington.

And I Quote

"Learned scientists keep dreaming up more and more 'potential' dangers to keep people from enjoying not only their tap water but their tuna fish sandwiches and diet cola. About the only perfectly safe condition is death, and even in that, these days, one may well be disturbed to make way for a new interstate."—Eric F. Johnson, executive director of American Water Works Assn.

Change Seen In Economy Of Russians

By RAY CHOMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Nixon's recent visit could force important domestic changes in Russia.

The shifts may not come quickly; but to a degree they seem almost inevitable.

The Kremlin may find it necessary to divert more of its production into meat, better clothes, more housing and household appliances, automobiles.

And perhaps allow a bit more personal freedom—not much, but some.

That's the considered opinion of some knowledgeable men in this administration.

These Kremlin watchers are conjecturing of course. Their thinking is based on pressures already building up within Brezhnev's technical bureaucracy, and the expected weakening of the Soviet government's strongest argument for austerity and stringent security—the American "threat."

The pressures for a better deal for the consumer and more freedom have been growing steadily among the upper strata in Russia—the engineers, scientists, technicians, administrators and party functionaries on whom Brezhnev depends for survival and for the success of his programs.

But the Soviet leaders have been able to scrimp on the consumer, emphasize military and basic industrial production and bear down with a heavy hand on dissent because they have been able to picture Russia as ringed with enemies, threatened on all sides—especially by the United States with its Minuteman missiles, Polaris submarines, long-range bombers and formidable aircraft carriers.

The Nixon visit won't make "the United States is threatening us" stance impossible but it certainly will be less credible. And with the recent West German ratification of the new détente with Russia the "threat" of Western Europe cannot be painted in the dark colors usual in Kremlin propaganda.

China remains. But is China as convincing a threat as the Western capitalist countries?

One may think credibility does not matter in a police state. It probably doesn't when speaking of the average Russian. But credibility does matter when Brezhnev deals with that 3 to 4 per cent—the experts, the technicians, the administrators—who run the machine. They could drive him out as Khrushchev was driven out. Analysts now believe economic failures were a major cause of Khrushchev's forced retirement.

The Soviet leaders will have other problems in keeping the lid down on what the upper strata of Russian citizenry wants. If commerce between Russia and the United States is to be increased, if Americans are going to give Russians help in developing their industry, if there is to be a greater exchange of scientists, there will be more contacts with Americans and their free-wheeling ways.

Already, the meetings between Russian, American and other Western scientists seem to have had some slightly unsettling results within the upper levels of Soviet technical society. Not serious as yet, but bothersome to the Kremlin all the same.

What effect the Nixon visit will have on Soviet foreign policy is far less clear. Direct and indirect U.S. financial aid and trade could provide Moscow with a greater ability to supply Cuba, Egypt, North Vietnam and other client states. And with the United States limited by agreement on the production of nuclear weapons, Russia, perhaps, will have more freedom to stir troubled waters, operating as usual through small ambitious nations.

These operations could perhaps be held in check if Nixon insists on a continuing basis that U.S.-Soviet cooperation be tied to military restraint.

You will be happy to know that your taxes are being spent on the Treason Highway across the land-mass of Asia, being built in cooperation with Russia.—The Councilor

Paul Harvey News What About All Those Secrets In FBI Files?

The late J. Edgar Hoover never looked taller than when measured alongside his detractors. He's already enshrined in history, but history did not even take note of the maligners.

What next for the FBI? Horrors! I hear from Capitol Hill a suggestion that the FBI henceforth should be answerable to a congressional committee.

They say they're anxious that the next director might misuse the voluminous files of the FBI. What's to keep Congress from missing them?

This is not meant as a slur. Paul Harvey retains a perhaps old-fashioned reverence for the body of Congress.

But some members of Congress have not been responsible custodians of the public good. We've had blabbermouth drunks on committees which are privy to military secrets.

And collectively, the congressional majority allows itself to be intimidated. That's how welfare gets out of hand. Politicians buy votes with promissory notes, and you and I have to make good those promises.

Now we have this public payola siphoning off 10 per cent of our nation's total gross national product, and politicians don't dare say no to an advancing welfare army now 13 million strong.

So the legislative third of our government is subject to

H. L. Hunt Writes

VIOLENCE IN U.S.

The vicious assault on Gov. George C. Wallace in Maryland once again emphasized that lawlessness is one of the foremost problems confronting this nation today. Gov. Wallace, an active candidate for the Presidential nomination of his party, survived. Sen. Robert Kennedy did not when he was gunned down four years ago in Los Angeles. His brother, President John F. Kennedy, had succumbed to violence in 1963 in Dallas.

These tragic events have dramatized the ever-growing crime problem in the United States. The FBI estimated that there were 14,590 murders in the 50 states in 1969. In 1970 there were an estimated 15,810 murders. Figures for 1971 had not been compiled up to this time, but an increase over the 1970 figure would not be surprising.

Murder and assault with intent to murder can and should bring severe penalties under the law. Most states have death penalty statutes but they currently are in a state of suspension awaiting decisions by the U.S. Supreme Court. It is good to guess that the failure of the high court to rule on the death penalty has caused criminals to carry out their attacks without thinking about consequences.

Help can be given through the Law-Aid program which encompasses support for all enforcement officers. Juries will have to take a stern look at defendants charged with assaults and murder. Their actions in seeing that justice is done will go a long way in helping make the streets of our nation safe again.

Your Health

That's why we should run scared from any suggestion of congressional snooping of the FBI beyond the traditional surveillance of all bureaus by the Congress.

The minutely detailed and necessarily personal files of the FBI, misused for partisan political purpose, could be used to cover up, to silence, to terrorize. The prospect is horrendous to contemplate.

L. Patrick Gray III, the man selected as temporary director, says he aims to do such a good job that he will get the job permanently.

That's a good start. Chairman James O. Eastland of the Senate Judiciary Committee has already examined Grays qualifications; calls him "honest, tough but extremely fair."

That's a good start. Now, I mentioned that a congressional chaperone for the bureau would hazard our internal security. What about the other possibility that some successor to The Honorable Mr. Hoover might be less than honorable?

That's where the President and the Congress always have the prerogative of throwing him out. Let's leave it that.

McGovern's Proposed Defense Cuts vs. Defense Realities

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—Sen. George McGovern's extremist scheme to hack some $32 billion from the defense budget is either sheer demagogic claptrap or the most dangerous kind of ignorance and self-delusion.

On its very face this far-left proposal is ridiculous or suicidal—or both.

For example: 55 per cent of the defense budget goes for pay and allowances (active and retired personnel). That means, under the pending $83 billion defense budget, $45.65 billion is mandatorily required for this purpose. The other approximately $40 billion goes for operations, maintenance, research and development, etc., etc.

McGovern bombastically advocates a defense budget of only $54.8 billion—$40.7 billion for conventional forces, $14.1 billion for strategic forces. But nowhere in the 56-page opus detailing this radical plan is there one word about military pay and allowances. Sizable personnel cuts are specified in the four armed services.

But either ignorantly or deliberately there is not one word in this voluminous paper about the large payroll cost of the remaining military manpower.

Proportionately, it would be the same (55 per cent) and possibly even higher than under the existing budget. But you would never learn that from McGovern's grandiose ghostwritten dissertation.

There is much high-flown verbiage about the billions that would be saved going away with ballistic missiles, planes, submarines, tanks and other crucial weapons, including development of new ones, but not a murmur about any pay and allowance savings—for the very good reason there would be none.

On this key factor, candidate McGovern and his academic masterminds who cooked up this ultra-left defense budget are completely silent.

The Grim Realities

Similarly, McGovern and his deep thinkers are also significantly quiet about two other incontrovertible facts:

(1) His broadaxed defense budget would drastically dismember the armed forces and literally reduce the U.S. militarily to a third-rate power. In effect, his extremist policy would disarm the U.S. unilaterally—at the very time the Soviet is intensifying the expansion of its military strength, particularly naval air and space.

(2) Cause immense and violently disruptive economic dislocation throughout the U.S., throwing hundreds of thousands out of work and imperiling the jobs of millions of others. California, where he is now furiously electioneering, would particularly hard-hit with its vast and varied defense and space industries.

Ominously illustrative of either the demagogic recklessness or stupid ignorance of McGovern's plan is his proposed steep slashing of research and development funds for advanced weapons. He particularly singles out the still incomplete F-14—urgently needed to counter the Russians' MIG-23 and MIG-25, both superior in speed, maximum ceiling and firepower to the F-4 phantom jet, best fighter-bomber the U.S. now has.

As against its speed of twice the speed of sound and a 60,000-ft. ceiling, the MIG-23 has a speed three times the speed of sound and an 80,000-ft. ceiling.

But McGovern says explicitly he would kill both the F-14 and F-15, being developed for the Navy. He blandly asserts they are not needed.

But the Israelis bitterly know differently.

Recently, two MIG-23s, piloted by Russians, left secret bases in Egypt and flew over Israeli-held Sinai territory. The flight was instantly discovered by Israeli radar and F-4s streaked aloft to intercept the Soviet-piloted MIG-23 intruders. But the F-4s couldn't reach them.

The Phantoms, operating at full speed and maximum altitude and equipped with latest-type air-to-air missiles, were incapable of intercepting the Russian MIGs.

The Israeli air force, equipped with F-4s, faces the stark reality of knowing that Mig-23s can fly over Israeli cities, territory and defenses with impunity. Said Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., ranking member of the Armed Services Committee and leading Congressional champion of armaments and credits for Israel:

"This intrusion is a sinister omen of more and worse to come. Israel is defenseless against the MIG-23 not because we have been unwilling to supply her with modern aircraft, but because the United States has no aircraft that can match the speed and altitude characteristic of the MIG-23. We simply have no plane that can do the job."

And that isn't all. If McGovern has his way, the U.S. will never have a plane to do the job, because he would kill the F-14 and F-15.

More Suicidal Disarmament

Similarly, the New Left South Dakotan would halt development of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile, and end the conversion of Polaris nuclear submarines to carry the longer-distance and more powerful Poseidon missile.

These submarines are literally this country's first line of nuclear defense.

McGovern's avowed intention to scuttle development of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile is another instance of his shocking irresponsibility or arrogant ignorance.

It has been definitely established that Russia now has a ballistic missile capable of carrying a warhead of more than 50 megatons (the equivalent of 50 million tons of TNT). This cataclysmic offensive weapon is in the process of being installed in at least 25 underground silos, strategically disposed throughout Russia.

The Safeguard anti-ballistic missile, with a powerful MIRV warhead that is being perfected, is designed to counter the Soviet's latest dread weapon.

But McGovern would kill the Safeguard—because according to him, the U.S. already has enough long-range nuclear weapons. The South Dakotan produces no valid evidence that, but he has a handy stump spiel, as follows:

"I think we can have a defense system in this country that is more efficient and more dependable than the one we have now, if we eliminate the waste and fat in the budget in that process we can save about $32 billion."

Maybe so. But what about saving the USA?

HOUSTON (AP) — The director of the Houston branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says Negroes will never be able to receive justice as long as blacks, in effect, are barred from juries.

The Rev. C. Anderson Davis told county commissioners Thursday that "too many lily white jurors are trying black people" in the criminal courts here.

Davis said blacks are "systematically excluded" from local grand and petit juries when the person being tried is black. On grand juries, he said, there are never more than three black jurors and more often just two whose votes are nullified by 0-3 majorities.

Davis asked the court to establish a commission to look into the situation. The court took no action on the request.

HOUSTON (AP) — Ernest S. Allemen, 60, has been charged with attempted robbery by assault with what police call an attempted holdup at the Texas Commerce Bank.

A teller told police a man appeared at her window Thursday with a withdrawal slip. In the space for amount was written $1,000 and the blank for the signature was signed "or die." She said the man had a small can in his hand.

The teller backed away and the man walked off. The teller spotted the man later making out another withdrawal slip and he was arrested by security guards.

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston fire department photographer has filed a suit for $185,000 over injuries allegedly received during an Oct. 19, 1971, train derailment and explosion in Southeast Houston.

The suit by Bobby G. Key, 23, filed Thursday, claims he was burned and injured in the explosion which killed one fireman and injured 37 other persons. Suits totaling more than $8.7 million have been filed in connection with the accident.

Defendants in the suit are the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Co., General American Transportation Corp., Union Carbide Corp., and Dow Chemical Co.
