Thought For Dad

Well, here's one for dear old dad.

To be a father in fact is not so much, but to be a father in deed, now that's something.

A father is the great leader of the world. At least he has the opportunity to be, because he has the attention of the most remarkable raw material on God's earth at a time when it is most susceptible to guidance and molding. The ideas he exposes are critical.

What a father offers his children at a time when they most need or when they may be most able to react, sets pattern and direction for a chain of events from that bright eyed, enthusiastic inquisitive child.

When we hear: "My old man was a drunk," or "He always beat me," or "He ran off and left us when I was a kid" we often are saddened at the thought of a miserable life that person had as a child.

But that isn't the end of the world, and such adverse start in life can serve to strengthen a child for his years ahead. Did having a thoughtless father cause him to dedicate himself to a sober life of kindness and dedication to responsibility?

The fact is, that children cannot blame their fathers if their own lives are unsatisfactory.

This is not to approve of delinquent fathers. The "old man" will live with his own sense of failure as a person. And we have pity for him for he has forfeited one of life's great rewards, the love and respect of his children.

Hard Terms Are Pushed By Hanoi

By RAY CROMLEY
 WASHINGTON (NEA)—Rigid doctrinaire thinking may enable the North Vietnamese to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory.

President Nixon, along with mining Haiphong harbor, offered terms which would enable Hanoi to force a coalition government on Saigon and eventually to take over the South, lock, stock and barrel.

One might anticipate that North Vietnam would jump for the offer after some stalling. Hanoi has publicly said the terms are unacceptable. But such public statements, or even private messages to the United States, could be part of their normal diplomatic maneuvering.

However, it now appears North Vietnam is going to blow it.

Hanoi's men have told European sources known to this reporter that indeed they will in fact never negotiate so long as President Thieu and his government are in office, regardless of what terms are offered—even if the offers in fact would result in handing them South Vietnam on a platter.

Combined with the abdication of Thieu, Hanoi demands that it will negotiate only with a Saigon government set up in advance, with the connivance of the United States, dominated by men of Hanoi's choosing, and containing no one Hanoi chooses to veto. This before talks even begin.

If Hanoi sticks to these demands, it indicates a rigidity which could make it impossible for Nixon to negotiate.

For acceptance would mean that Nixon, not Hanoi, with no fig leaf to hide the deed, would be forced to openly install a Communist-dominated government without vote of the people or any pretense of a vote and do this before the negotiations.

This would make the United States an open ally of Hanoi in the takeover, and be so blatant a United States sellout of its principles and friends that it is difficult to see how anyone could trust this country again.

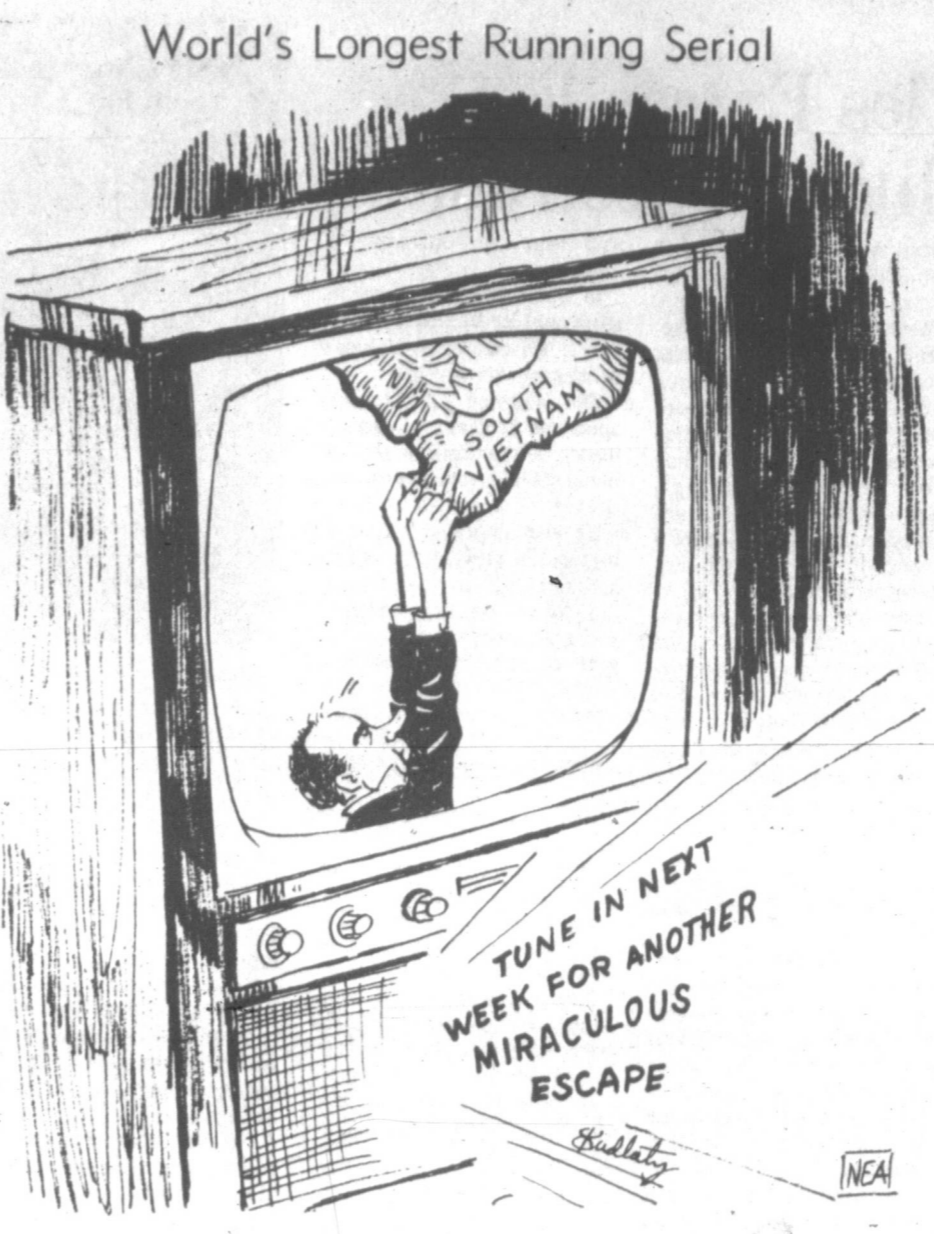

Perhaps this is what Hanoi wants more than it wants South Vietnam—or it may be Ho Chi Minh's successors now believe they can have both.

Many voices say the United States should just get out of Vietnam and let things go at that. What should be made clear now is that the evidence so far is that Hanoi is not willing to settle for that.

Hanoi seems to have made it crystal clear to Dr. Henry Kissinger that even if the United States were to pack up and leave "by a date certain," that would not be enough to insure the return of U.S. prisoners.

As the American negotiators understand the terms, Hanoi insists that before peace talks could seriously begin the United States would have to actually bring down Thieu and take the steps outlined above. Only then would Hanoi consent to talk about U.S. prisoners of war and their return.

If this sounds absurd, it is clearly the reading that Kissinger and his associates have on what the Communists are demanding.

Hanoi Gets The Word That Moscow Is First

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Leonid Brezhnev has told Hanoi bluntly Russia's national interests come ahead of Moscow's duty to aid North Vietnam.

He advised Hanoi the time has come to be flexible and to zig instead of zag.

He said that Russia could best serve the interests of world communism by building a strong Communist society in the U.S.S.R. and by taking international steps in cooperation with non-Communist countries to insure that Russia will not be militarily endangered.

What in fact are the most profound, vital interests of our people in the sphere of international life," said Vadim Zagladin, speaking for Brezhnev. "They consist primarily in a news commentary," in which he was really guaranteeing peace for our state and peaceful conditions for its development and for the building of Soviet society. They consist in insuring reliable security for our country and in guaranteeing the inviolability of what the Soviet people are creating."

He notes that Soviet foreign policy is determined in Moscow

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
 Patient Can Still Lead Full Life

Dear Dr. Lamb—Would you please explain the outcome for a man 54 years of age, weighing 145 who has arteriosclerotic heart disease and some blockage of one of the arteries to his heart. Now he is home and has had bed rest for two weeks and is up and can walk and can exercise. After he is completely released, how much work will he be able to do. He was a moderate cigarette smoker but on advice from his doctor he has stopped. What diet will be best? He likes fried foods and can eat them if they are cooked in vegetable oil and drained. Is there a chance of the closure in his arteries diminishing even to a small extent if he takes care of himself?

Dear Reader—One of the most important medical problems we have is rehabilitating a person who has arteriosclerotic heart disease or who has had a recent heart attack. After all, heart attacks are responsible for one out of four deaths from all causes in the United States.

Every case has to be handled individually. It is not possible to know how much damage a person may have had during a heart attack until after he has started to show recovery and can get up and walk around. Only when the heart is used more than the doctor tell if it is going to be strong enough for the person to lead a relatively normal life.

About all I can give you are some guidelines. As long as a person isn't having chest pain or discomfort or isn't excessively fatigued, the best exercise is to walk. The amount of walking should be gradually increased. No one who has had a heart attack should be doing any more vigorous exercise than walking for about three months after the initial attack occurred. This time is needed to open the small arteries in the heart to provide detours for blood supply around the artery which has been blocked.

Under careful medical supervision, some patients who have recovered well from their heart attack can do a little more vigorous physical activity sooner, but only with the doctor's advice. I have seen many men gradually build up their exercise tolerance to the same level or better than it was before their attack occurred.

Stopping cigarette smoking is a must. I also recommend stopping coffee and all stimulating drugs. During the first three months, activities should be limited to a level that the heart rate doesn't exceed 100 beats per minute. Coffee, stimulating drinks and cigarettes all contribute to rapid heart rate.

Rearview Mirror

BY TEX DEWEENE
 Editor of The News

LIKE IT says over there in the editorial column, today is Father's Day—so let's devote some space to dear old Dad.

We suspect not everyone is aware that this year is the first time Father's Day is observed as a new national holiday with full official legal status.

That's because President Nixon last April 24 signed the Father's Day Act, an event followed by the designation of seven famous American fathers as 1972 Fathers of the Year.

One of them is a Texan—none other than our own Roger Staubach who was named Sports Father of the Year by the National Father's Day Committee.

The Dallas Cowboys' quarterback and Annapolis graduate was named most valuable player in the Super Bowl and also won the Bert Bell Award as outstanding player in the NFL.

Staubach completed 59.7 percent of his passes, throwing 134 in succession without having one picked off. When at Navy he won the Heisman Trophy, set records that still stand. He also won the Maxwell Trophy, lettered in basketball and baseball. Later he served off Vietnam during his hitch in the Navy.

He married Marianne Hoobler, and the Staubachs have three daughters. He is interested in youth groups, Fellowship of Christian Athletes and other organizations. Off season he is a real estate executive.

OTHERS BEING HONORED

today by the National Father's Day Committee include Vice President Spiro Agnew, national Father of the Year.

Along with Staubach these fathers of the Year were named in their respective categories:

Mike Douglas, host of the "Mike Douglas Show," television; "Doc" Sovarenis, musical director of the Tonight show; music; Vernon E. Jordan, executive director of the National Urban League; humanitarian; I.W. Abel, industrial president of the Steelworkers of America, labor, and Ted Brown, New York Radio personality and host of NBC's weekend Monitor program, radio.

THE CITY Hall Cat

and School House Kitty have insisted we spread the news locally that June is Cat and Kitten Month and something is being done about it.

It seems the United States never has issued a stamp honoring cats. However, with the help of California Congressman George Danielson, the children of Elysian Heights Elementary School in Los Angeles hope to score a first with a stamp honoring Room 8, a cat who was their pet for 15 years and became the nation's most famous cat.

Although Room 8 died in 1968, his memory is alive and purring. The children and other friends have collected more than 200,000 signatures on petitions to the Post Office Department, asking for the commemorative stamp.

Room 8, a stray who loved children, got his name because that was the number of the classroom he picked for a hangout.

Room 8 was a cat among cats, and if the children have their

The Bureaucrat Mind

The Florida Insurance Commissioner is threatening to revoke the license of an insurance company on grounds that it employed Art Linkletter to advertise its services.

The commissioner stated that the well-known television personality was not a "licensed agent authorized to solicit insurance in this state."

The case illustrates how a bureaucrat's mind works. Because Linkletter—for a fee—discussed, advocated, and recommended a specific insurance company, the commissioner comes to a conclusion that he was soliciting a sale. Now, let's take a look at that.

In order to solicit a sale, the solicitor must have some means for completing the transaction. Furthermore, he must not only commend the company to a specific prospective buyer, he must offer a specific merchandise. We are frankly skeptical that a person of Linkletter's means and responsibilities would use his

Tax-Free Tse-tung

High school drop-out Joseph Kennedy, III, oldest son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, is now on the payroll of the tax-exempt foundation bearing his father's name.

WASHINGTON STAR columnists Vera Glaser and Malvina Stephenson report the 19-year-old heir is ensconced in an office adjoining a reception room adorned with "huge posters" of Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung and Cesar Chavez, the farm labor organizer who has been enrolling migrant workers in his union via compulsion.

What My Dad Means To Me

CINDY BALL, 15
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Ball, 1125 Cinderella

My father means a lot to me because he took me out and taught me how to drive standard and automatic shift cars. He solves some of my problems when I have them. He takes us on vacations to California to visit my aunt and uncle.

A FATHER'S TOUCH—One of the greatest pleasures a son can find is the helping hand of his father. Charles Polk, 923 Mary Ellen, shows his son, Mark, 13, how to improve his swing for a game of tennis. With today being Father's Day, many fathers will be finding themselves honored by their children in thanks for the aid and comfort they have received.

SANDY BREWER, 18
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brewer, 1316 Mary Ellen

I think my dad is the most wonderful person in the whole world. We have our differences just like everyone else but somehow or another, he can sense the way I feel about things. He means very much to me and he always has and he always will.

SHAWN MAULDIN, 9
Son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mauldin, 1808 Coffee

He takes me out lets me shoot my .22 rifle and shotgun.

SARA WALKER, 18
Daughter of Bill Walker, 1816 N. Dwight

My dad is everything to me. He is always there whether I need him financially, spiritually or emotionally. He is always there.

SHARON BABB, 17
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Babb, 1117 Cinderella

I guess the reason why I love my dad is because he understands and takes people for what they are. He usually is easy to get along with because he forms his own opinions about people. Everybody has their bad points, I guess, so sometimes he is not so easy to get along with and he does get mad, but everybody does.

DEBBIE LAMAR, 14
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Slavick, 816 N. Christy

There are some people who are unable to get along with their fathers because of the generation gap, but I think my father is fantastic. I can talk with my father and he understands what I have to say. I don't like to be just with kids my age all of the time. I like to go places with my father because we have fun. A lot of families are really dull, but around our house there is always something going. My father keeps it going.

DAVID SOKOLOSKY, 7
Son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sokolosky, 2117 Dwight

Sometimes when my dad goes to work he takes me with him. He plays catch with me and he fixes my bicycle.

DEBBIE JOHNSON, 13
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Johnson, 1801 N. Hamilton

I appreciate my daddy because he lets me do things that some parents wouldn't let their kids do. He takes the whole family out driving. When I have problems, I can always go to him and tell him about them, and he straightens them out. He sometimes goes out in the yard and plays catch and throws the football and stuff like that to me.

RONNY JOUETT, 18
Son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Jouett, 1108 Crane Road

All the accomplishments in my life I contribute to my father. Without him I would get nowhere in this world. I can sit down and talk with my father and we understand each other. Many times I take him for granted for all the hard times he has been through with me. That is why I think so much of my father.

Brown-Tucker Vows Said In Double-Ring Ceremony

Nuptial vows were exchanged at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, June 10, in the First Christian Church, Pampa, by Miss Carolyn Lucille Brown and William Baldwin Tucker.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Brown, 1800 Williston, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill D. Tucker of Lubbock.

THE CEREMONY
Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. Ralph Palmer, church pastor. Mrs. H.V. Wilks, organist, played "A Time For Us" and "Somewhere, My Love." Mrs. Paul Reimer sang "The Twelfth of Never" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The ceremony was performed before a background of seven-branched candelabra entwined with salal foliage. Tall pedestals holding massive arrangements of white chrysanthemums flanked the wedding party. A fan arrangement of white chrysanthemums decorated the altar. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon and greenery.

THE BRIDE
The bride was given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I" vowal. She wore a floor-length gown of Venetian lace, designed with a high-rise bodice belted in white satin ribbon. The scalloped neckline was embroidered with seed pearls and the Juliet sleeves ended in fitted cuffs. The skirt, scalloped at the bottom, had controlled fullness in the front, and was gathered into a back fullness that extended into a chapel sweep.

Her tiered veil of imported illusion fell from a Juliet cap adorned with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and gardenias, accented with greenery.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Holly Moritz of Dallas was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. James M. Brown of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Nancy Tucker of Lubbock, sister of the bridegroom.

All wore identical, floor-length gowns, fashioned with bodices and full lantern sleeves of yellow lace and bouffant skirts of yellow organza. Each carried a nesegay of white Marguerite daisies and lemon-yellow carnations.

Gerald Tucker, of Lubbock, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsmen were James M.

SUNDAY, JUNE 18
By Jeanne Dixon

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: You emerge steadily into a practical line of reasonable success this year. Somewhere in the middle is a transition period in which your thinking shifts, you assign different values to your skills and resources. Today's natives are fond of traditions, may be expert on antiques, history. They must be their own bosses.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: The quieter you can make this Sunday, the better. In many countries Fathers are selected for special attention on this day. Express yourself.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Moderation, tact, understanding are essential if you are to carry your social poise evenly thru the day. You can, and it's worth doing.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Family matters tend towards restless whims—disension for no real reasons, staying out of the confusion is an art in itself.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: How well you draw the line between your own affairs and those of other people defines and expresses character in a subtle way this Sunday.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: It's time you realized that for every spur-of-the-moment giving, you unconsciously expect special loyalties or other non-purchasable benefits later.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Impatience, tension are probable. Be serene, enjoying each minute as you get to it, even though you are waiting for something incomplete.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Even well-venerated parents pose problems. Expect some minor interruptions, but stay unruffled as you drift thru the social activities.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: You tend to be more direct and forceful than certain people find comfortable. Leave the Sunday activities to others when you can.

Mr. and Mrs. T.O. Trout, 2119 N. Faulkner, are parents of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Bonnell, 631 N. Faulkner, are the parents of the bridegroom.

THE CEREMONY

The Rev. Bryan Halliburton, church pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Dolores Edwards, organist, accompanied Mrs. Mike Pool as she sang "Walk Hand In Hand," "More" from Mondo Cane and "The Lord's Prayer."

The couple was married before a background of yellow tapers in three brass candelabra, entwined with greenery, and arrangements of yellow pompons in three large brass baskets.

Pews were marked with a single yellow mum and green and white satin streamers.

THE BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown of nylon organza, styled with a empire waistline. The Juliet sleeves and bodice of the gown were trimmed with wide lace, embroidered with clusters of seed pearls. The chapel-length train was bordered with lace and pearls.

Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a Juliet cap of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisy mums and sweetheart roses.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Pam Klein of Pampa was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Eileene Moss of Fort Worth, sister of the bride, and Miss Patsy Neslage of Pampa.

All wore identical gowns of yellow crepe yellow dotted Swiss, styled with empire waistlines. The waistlines were highlighted by lace trim and green velvet bows with long streamers. Their headpieces were a cluster of yellow organza roses from which fell short veils.

Each carried a single yellow candle in a green glass holder, encircled with yellow and white mums.

Dayne Carruth, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsman were Kenneth Ferguson of Amarillo and Gary Moss of Fort Worth, brother-in-law of the bride.

Ushers were Dan Crawford of Panhandle and Tommy Raburn of Dumas, both cousins of the bride.

Karla Kirby of Hollis, Okla., was flower girl. She wore a floor-length gown of yellow nylon dotted Swiss and carried a white basket filled with yellow and white flowers. Kale Kirby of Hollis, Okla., was ringbearer. Both are cousins of the bride.

MOTHERS

The bride's mother wore a mint-green crepe dress, fashioned with long sleeves and a high neckline. Her corsage was a green orchid.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a rose-pink dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

RECEPTION

For the reception in the church parlor, the table was covered with a white net cloth over yellow satin. The centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow and white mums in a crystal and brass bowl, centered with three yellow tapers.

The three-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Beverly Carruth, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Ann Washington presided at the punch bowl.

For the wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a navy-blue knit dress, trimmed in red and white. Her corsage was of the roses from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside in Stillwater, Okla.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

Pre-nuptial events included a lingerie shower at Cousins Hall at West Texas State University, Canyon, given by Miss Pam Klein and Miss Cathy Sims.

A shower in the Central Baptist Church parlor, Pampa, was hosted by Mrs. James Washington, H.A. Muns, David Smithhiser, Jack Mitchell, Jim Terry, Wayne Cobb, James Baird, Kenneth Ward, Mary Lou Simpson, Kenneth Gowdy, Floyd Kenig, Arthur Griggs, Welby Harden, Wayne Brown, Forrest Cloyd and V.C. Moore.

The parents of the bridegroom were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at Dyer's Barbecue.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride, a 1971 graduate of Pampa High School, attended West Texas State University, Canyon. The bridegroom, a 1968 graduate of PHS, is a senior agriculture student at Oklahoma State, Stillwater.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. G.A. McWhorter of Skellytown announce the engagement of their granddaughter, Vicki Tollison, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tollison, to Larry Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Owens of Skellytown. The wedding is planned for Aug. 26, in the Skellytown Community Church. The bride-elect, a graduate of White Deer High School and Frank Phillips Junior College, is employed by the Soil Conservation Service in Pampa. The prospective bridegroom, employed by Natural Gas and Pipeline Company, Pampa, attended Spearman and White Deer High School and served with the Navy aboard the U.S.S. Tripoli.

Delegates Attend National Meeting

Miss Karen Gikas of Pampa and Mrs. Jim Daugherty of Las Cruces, N.M., a former Pampan, are at Lake Ozark, Mo., attending the biennial convention of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

Collegiate chapter and alumnae chapter representatives from the United States and Canada are attending the convention, which began Saturday and will continue through Thursday.

Miss Gikas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gikas, 1301 Mary Ellen, is representing Delta Pi chapter of Eastern New Mexico University, Portales. A 1969 graduate of Pampa High School, she is a senior student at ENMU.

Mrs. Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman T. Gantz, 345 Sunset, Pampa, is the official delegate for the Las Cruces alumnae chapter. She is a graduate of Pampa High School and New Mexico State University.

Keynote speaker of the convention is Virginia H. Knauer, special assistant to President Nixon for consumer affairs. Convention theme is

"Zeta Tau Alpha Model for Life."

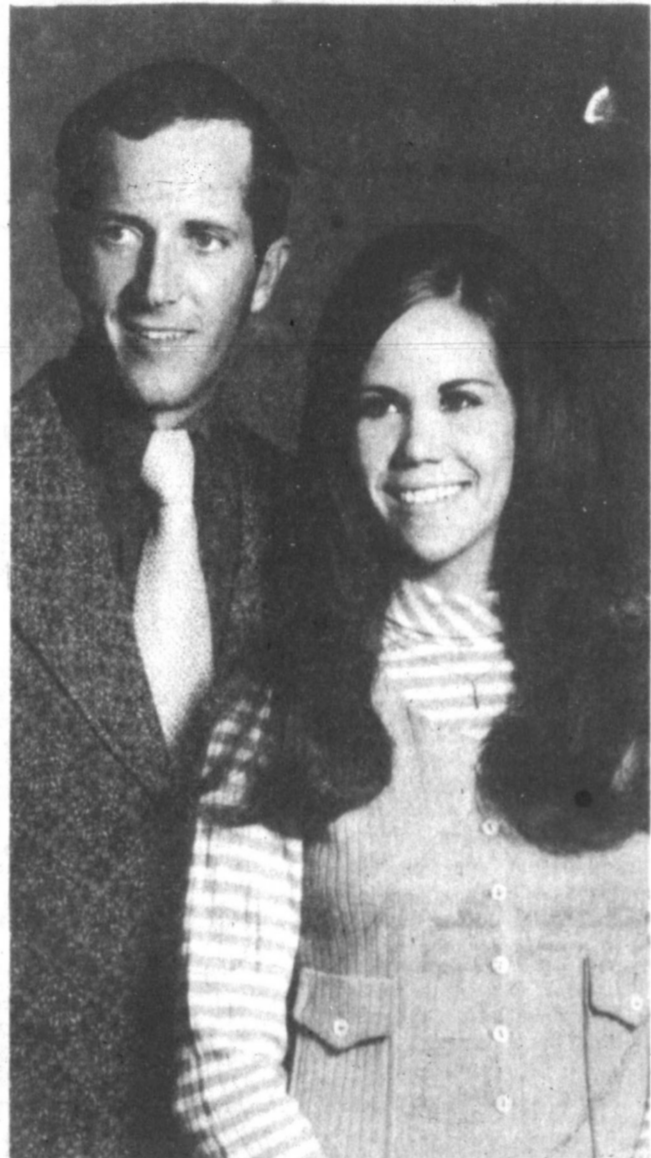

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded at Longwood College, Farmville, Va., in 1898, the only Panhellenic member chartered by special act of the Virginia State Legislature.

Philanthropic pioneers in work with the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., the Easter Seal Society, ZTA has provided biennial grants for such projects as film strips and brochures for parent education, and development of self-help clothing for crippled children.

Currently the sorority is working with the National Association for Retarded Children and has underwritten the cost of a mental retardation prevention brochure distributed to high schools, colleges and churches through YOUTH-NARC.

The Zeta Tau Alpha Foundation, chartered in 1954, has given over $100,000 in scholarship grants to 439 women, 279 of them Zetas, on 132 different campuses in the U.S. and abroad.

To Be Married

Hospital patient cool to unwelcome visitors

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband had surgery recently, and while he was still out of it, some relatives he never sees otherwise came to the hospital to visit him.

Abby, please tell your readers that the last thing a person needs or wants when he's had surgery is company! I have had surgery and I know what it's like to have some idiot sit by your bed and talk to you all afternoon under the mistaken notion that you need "cheering up."

I have even seen rooms with "NO VISITORS" signs on the doors, but little groups of people "sneak in" for a few minutes because they think they are so special that the patient needs only to see them to be happy.

What in the world is the matter with those creeps who think they are the exceptions?

All a patient wants is to be left alone. [Some don't even want their best friends around when they're feeling rotten.]

DEAR BEEN: Your letter will do more for some post-surgical patients than a "NO VISITORS" sign. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: My husband wants two funeral services when he dies. One in his home town and one in the city which he is now living. He says he has about an equal number of friends in both places, and he's probably right.

I say one funeral is enough, don't you?

DEAR WIFE: According to some, one funeral is one too many. Read this:

DEAR ABBY: A very sensible woman wrote to say that she did not want to attend her own funeral. She has the right idea, but the wrong exit. I carry one small card which states that I have donated my eyes to the eye bank, my kidneys to the Kidney Foundation, and the rest of me goes to the State University Hospital for research. [There will be enough left of me to "say a prayer over" for a religious service.]

I am not a rich man, and this is the only way I can leave something of value to my fellowman.

My wishes are legal and binding, and no judge and no court and none of my heirs can change it.

Just knowing that a sightless person will one day see thru my eyes, or that my kidneys will prolong the lives of two others gives me great pleasure.

These gifts cannot be taxed, dissipated or sold to the highest bidder. How selfish can a person be to take perhaps useful organs to his grave!

DEAR STURGIS: Right on! One telephone call to your lawyer, doctor or the Medical School of your State University will do it.

DEAR ABBY: Enclosed is an invitation to a Bar Mitzvah. [A Bar Mitzvah officially marks a Jewish boy's entry into the adult male community, traditionally at age 13.] This message seems so appropriate to all teen-agers, I thought perhaps you'd like to share it with your readers.

HOW TO MAKE A BAR MITZVAH
Take one son. . . . Carefully measure equal amount of parental guidance and benign neglect. Add unknown quantities of peer influence and sibling rivalry. Butter up occasionally, coddle regularly, beat rarely and watch closely. Sprinkle with liberal amounts of Judaism. Simmer slowly without either of you boiling over. Do not baste, but on occasion allow to stew in his own juices. Let him rise to his full height, while keeping the lid on. After 13 years, hope that he is warm, mature, and well-seasoned. Cover with an appropriate dressing. Serve proudly to friends and family.

P. S. The above was written by the boy's father, a Binghamton, N. Y., physician.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69706, L. A., CALIF. 90009 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90009.

NBA Stars Threaten To Strike Over Fines

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — The first player strike in the National Basketball Association's 26-year history was threatened today following a decision by the league's board of governors to fine nine of the 11 players who participated in last month's All-Star Game against the American Basketball Association.

After Commissioner Walter Kennedy announced Friday that the governors had unanimously passed a resolution directing him to fine each player the amount he received for playing, Larry Fleisher, executive director of the NBA Players' Association, disclosed the strike threat.

Fleisher said from New York that the association had voted unanimously at a meeting in Spain May 30—five days after the game at Uniondale, N.Y.—that, if the owners decided to fine them for playing in the game, they would take every legal recourse—including a strike, to prevent it.

The nine players named to pay the fines were Walt Chamberlain and Gail Goodrich of Los Angeles, Nate Archibald of Cincinnati, Archie Clark of Baltimore, Dave DeBusschere of

New York, John Havlicek of Boston, Bob Lanier of Detroit, Bob Love of Chicago and Oscar Robertson of Milwaukee.

None had received permission from his club owner to play. Connie Hawkins and Paul Silas of Phoenix, the other two members of the NBA all-star squad, had been granted permission to play by Suns' owner Dick Bloch.

Kennedy said each player who participated without permission would be fined an amount equal to the sum he received for playing with the money collected to be donated to charities or research foundations.

"The concept of the board of governors attempting to fine the players for presenting a game that over 25 million Americans watched is outrageous," Fleisher said.

A section in the NBA players' standard contract forbids them from taking part in exhibition games without the approval of their club owners.

While Kennedy was announcing the unprecedented decision at the conclusion of the two-day governors' meetings, he also disclosed: —That Abe Pollin, owner of the Baltimore Bullets, had been named to the newly created position of chairman of the board.

—That a decision on the Julius Erving case had been postponed.

—That Pollin would meet within a week with H. Wendell Cherry of the Kentucky Colonels and discuss further the proposed merger with the ABA.

—That the governors had briefly discussed the option clause, which the players association is seeking to have dropped before approving a merger.

—And that Irving Levin and Harold Lipton, whose application to purchase the Boston Celtics had been rejected Thursday, made another presentation before the board.

WCT Season Starts June 27

DALLAS (AP) — World Championship Tennis starts its 1972 season June 27 in St. Louis, the first of 11 stops on the schedule.

WCT officials said Saturday each is a $50,000 tournament, with the winner getting $10,000 and the runnerup, $5,000.

Following St. Louis, competition is scheduled in Washington, Louisville, Boston, Cleveland, Fort Worth and San Francisco. Canadian stops are Montreal and Vancouver.

Two tournaments are also scheduled in Europe—the Canada Dry-TCT International in Essen, Germany, in October and the Caballero World Tennis in Rotterdam, the Netherlands, in November.

Swede Lee Promoted To Aggie Varsity Staff

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M athletic director and head football coach Emory Bellard announced Sunday that Rex Norris, line coach at Navarro Junior College in Corsicana the past two years has joined the Aggie football staff as freshman line coach.

The 32-year-old Norris fills a vacancy created when Pug Gabrel recently accepted the post of offensive coordinator at Oklahoma State.

"Naturally we regret Gabrel's leaving and we wish him well in his new position," Bellard said.

"At the same time we feel that Rex Norris will be a valuable addition to our staff."

The changes brought about a slight reshuffling of coaching assignments. Swede Lee moves from the freshman staff to replace Gabrel as defensive end coach for the varsity while Norris joins head freshman coach Paul Register and backfield Donnie Wigginton of the freshman staff.

Norris grew up in San Angelo where he was a guard-linebacker at Central High, graduating in 1958.

He played two years under Max Bumgardner at San Angelo College and then two years at East Texas State.

He received his bachelor's degree in physical education and history in 1962 and then stayed on as a graduate assistant coach while attaining his masters degree in education.

He was an assistant coach at Carrollton Turner for six years and was line coach and defensive coordinator when he left in 1970 to become an assistant at Navarro.

Norris is married to the former Dolores Teaff of Sweetwater. They have a daughter, Whitney Rae, 7, and a son, Rex Jr., 6.

Mrs. Norris is a cousin of Grant Teaff, head football coach at Baylor.

400 DAILY GOLFERS

Dave Williams Likes Houston Golf Chances

HOUSTON (AP) — When Bill Yeoman became head football coach at the University of Houston in 1962, he made an interesting statement:

"I hope we can have the kind of football team the golf team will be proud of."

It was just another all-allocate directed toward UH Golf coach Dave Williams, the masterful piper of college golf who at that time had won six of seven NCAA golf championships.

Williams became UH's unsalaried golf coach in 1952 and started doing what he does best—recruiting top golf prospects. Williams says his secret of success is simple.

"I make it a practice to find 10 boys who can break 70," he said.

Since Williams took leave from his job as a thermodynamics professor at UH to direct the golf team, the Cougars have become the UCLA of college basketball, the Nebraska of football.

When the Cougars tee up Wednesday in the NCAA championships at Cape Coral, Fla., they will be shooting for their 13th NCAA title in 17 years.

They finished second three other times and placed 11th one year because a player was penalized 18 strokes for having too many clubs in his bag.

Ask Williams to chronicle the Cougars' titles and he says "It's easier to tell you the ones we lost."

Williams' efforts haven't been responsible only for trophies. The annual All-American Golf Classic sponsored by UH supports the golf program.

The tournament cleared $22,000 this year but has taken in much more in past years. The UH golf program actually pays for itself and when any is left over, it goes into the general athletic fund—just in case the football program is running short.

Williams splits nine full scholarships among 12 to 14 players, the limit allowed by the Southwest Conference.

Williams doesn't take credit for Houston's success. He gives credit to the players and to a higher power.

"I'm convinced that the man upstairs takes time out for watching over football at South Bend to help us out with golf down in Houston," Williams said.

It wasn't always smooth sailing for the UH golfers however. They'll have airline tickets to Florida this week but they hitchhiked to their first tournament in 1952.

"In 1953, we had a stationwagon that had over 200,000 miles on it," Williams recalled. "We broke down five times between here and Colorado Springs. We didn't think we'd ever get there."

A major crisis occurred in 1959 when UH almost gave up spring sports because of financial difficulties. That's when Williams started charging entrance to the All-America classic.

It took Williams several years to build up a winning tradition at UH.

"At the time (1952), I saw that college golf was about like ping pong," Williams said. "I had some boys turn pro on me (one was Dave Marr) and it (college golf) just wasn't a big thing. I wanted to make college golf a big thing."

After Williams got the word out that Houston was a golf oriented school, the titles, and players, started rolling in. UH has turned into a farm club for the men's pro golf tour. At this year's Houston open, almost one-fifth of the field played under Williams.

One of Williams' star pupils, Homero Blancas, said he owed everything to the UH golf program.

"I don't think Dave is an instructor," Blancas said. "He may be now but when I was playing he was mostly a promoter. He would kind of boost your ego. He would make you believe in yourself, which is the biggest thing in golf—your mental outlook."

Williams has become one of the nation's foremost boosters of college golf, and he has more plans.

"We haven't added a Texas team to our tournament in 15 years," he said. "We want teams from all over the U.S. We want this to be a national tournament. In fact, we want to get it on national television."

Moore Gets CoC Award

AMARILLO—Donnie Moore, who just pitched Lubbock Monterey to the Class AAAA state championship, is the winner of the 1972 Amarillo Chamber of Commerce Texas High School Outstanding Baseball Player Award.

The senior right hander allowed only two hits in hurling Monterey to a 6-1 victory over Corpus Christi Carroll as the state tournament opened.

In the 2-1 championship victory over Houston Bellaire, Moore pitched the final three innings in relief. Bellaire had the bases full with only one out in the last inning.

Moore struck out the final two batters.

His record for the season was 18 wins and 4 losses. He also played in the outfield when not on the mound. Moore was drafted in the ninth round of the pro baseball draft by the Boston Red Sox.

Moore is the tenth winner of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce baseball award. The first honoree was David Brevell, Lufkin outfielder, in 1963.

Other winners have been Ken Perrin, Sherman pitcher, 1964; Bob Arnold, El Paso Austin pitcher, 1965; David Larson, Freeport Brazosport pitcher, 1966; Burt Hooten, Corpus Christi King, pitcher; Glenn Harris, San Antonio Highlands pitcher, 1968; Ted Gilman, Houston Lamar pitcher, 1969; Bobby Cuellar, Alice pitcher, 1970; and Johnny Kimbley, outfielder, 1971.

Mark has lived the last four years with his sister, Mrs. Terence Torzala can't get over Chenoweth's help.

"Isn't he great? They've become fast friends. He's really helped Mark's spirits," his sister said.

'The Boys of Summer,' Chicago Style

Or—When a Cub Fan Thinks Back, He Wishes He Hadn't

By IRA BERKOW
 NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—For a guy from Chicago, the most woesome part of Roger Kahn's best seller, "The Boys of Summer," comes when the interviewing author takes Andy Paiko, the retired ball player, out for lunch and Paiko orders a club sandwich.

"Furillo, Snider and guys who could play like that, you oughta buy them steaks," says Paiko.

With that humble thought, it all comes back: The lifetime supply of inferiority with which the Cubs provided an entire city during the last three decades.

One realizes that it was inescapable. If Paiko couldn't shed the cloak of mediocrity, who could?

And we traded him off only when he became too good. He hit .304 in 1951 and people thought it might be catching. He went to the Dodgers for a year-and-a-half. And thus played on the team of Robinson and Furillo and Snider and Campy and Reese which had been chronicled in "The Boys of Summer."

"No," Paiko told Kahn, "I don't belong in that book. I wasn't in the class with Snider and Furillo."

No, Andy, don't say it ain't so.

The Cubs set a major-

ANDY PAFKO SLIDES safely into a place beyond even the wildest dreams of most members of the 1948 Chicago Cubs, third base. Taking the throw is the Philadelphia Phillies' Eddie Miller.

league record for botchery that is staggering. They finished in the second division 20 straight seasons, starting in 1948. Many an impressionable Chicago boyhood—many an impressionable Chicago adulthood, for that matter—were stunted beyond repair. Losing for a Chicagoan was as natural as a monsoon for a Tibetan.

Yet there was always a ray of sunshine. One year a rookie named Bob Speake hit something like 10 homers in May until the opposing catchers discovered his weakness, all weaknesses: They whispered to him as he came to bat, "You're a Cubbie, you're a Cubbie!" Whiff. Whiff. Whiff.

There was the pitcher, Bill Paul, who would hypnotize himself before a game, and talk to his arm. But he always seemed to hypnotize the wrong arm.

There were, in springtimes, the inspired double play combinations, which were always going to make us forget Tinker-to-Eversto-Chance. But by midsummer, they were: Emil Verban-to-Roy Smalley-to the grandstands; Bob Ramazzotti-to-Smalley-to the grandstands; Wayne Terwilliger-to-Smalley-to the grandstands; Gene Mauch-to Roy Smalley-to the grandstands. And more, much more.

There was in 1957 a local high school star named Jim Woods. He was signed right off the Lane Tech High School campus and put on the Cubs bench. He was a bright hope. The Cubs put him in the last game of the season as a pinch-runner. He came out of the dugout, stepped on third base, then took a one-step lead and was picked off. The Cub magic had done its dirty work on Jim Woods.

Inevitably, it caught up with Paiko, too.

Once he came to bat for the Cubs in the ninth inning with the score tied and the bases, mysteriously, loaded. A young, wild pitcher plunked Paiko in the ribs with a fast ball. Winning run scored, of course. As Paiko walked toward first base, he had words with the downhearted pitcher. Then Paiko stalked toward the mound. Using pure Cub logic, he had reasoned that the pitcher had hit him on purpose.

Another time, also with the bags loaded, Paiko was convinced he had caught a fly ball against the vines at Wrigley Field. But the umpire signaled he had trapped it. Paiko raced to the infield, screaming at the ump and brandishing the ball in his bare hand as proof of his catch. All four runners scored.

Years have passed. The Cubs win more games now than they used to, but they still can't win a pennant.

And in our hearts, Andy Paiko and the rest of us know they never will. It's the Cub complex. The club sandwich complex.

Lone Star 500 Pole Qualifying Begins Thurs. In College Station

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Richard Petty, Bobby Isaac and Bobby Allison—three of stock car racing's hottest drivers—will duel for the top spot on the Lone Star 500 here next Sunday.

The Lone Star 500, one of the major events on this year's NASCAR-Winston Cup racing circuit, is expected to establish Texas track records for speed and attendance.

Some 70 drivers will arrive

Wednesday for the start of pre-race activities.

Petty, the only driver to win four Winston Cup events this season, is leading the overall championship point race.

Allison, who is on top in the second leg of the points race by finishing first or second in the majority of this year's events, may repeat the duel he staged with Petty in the Texas 500 here last December. Petty won when Allison came up with late engine problems.

Isaac, one of NASCAR's toughest competitors, won the first 500-miler ever held here, in 1969. He has captured pole position starting spots at Daytona Beach, Darlington and Michigan this year.

All three, along with other top drivers, will qualify here Thursday.

Texas World Speedway officials said the large field, combined with the probability of good racing weather, should break the track speed record of 144.27 miles per hour set by Isaac in 1969. Ed Hamblin, TWS executive director, predicts "at least 40,000" racing fans will be on hand which would break the attendance record.

Fifty cars will start the Lone Star 500 which offers a Texas record purse of $95,000, with the winner due to take home more than $12,000.

A COMPLETE RECORD
 NEW YORK (AP) — "The Book of Baseball Records," edited and published by Seymour Siwoff, is one of the most complete first edition record books ever turned out on the major leagues.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

If you frequently are not sure about the break in a putt, you may not be taking a broad enough view of your subject.

Before you look at your putt, quickly survey the slope of the green in general. Gravity will make your putt roll with that slope.

Then assess your putt, keeping in mind what you have learned about the overall green.

There is an axiom about putting that says you should have your eyes over the ball. That axiom should be buried.

If you have your eyes over the ball, you're looking at the line to the hole with peripheral vision. You won't see it well enough.

Watch Jack Nicklaus, the Masters champion. He cocks his head downward and behind the ball. He gets a better idea of the line of his putt.

And that's what all of us should be doing with our eyes while putting.

Dan McCormack Is Getting Some Help From His Friends

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dan McCormack was a healthy high school athlete when a car hit him six months ago.

Now he's a quadriplegic, with no use of his arms and legs, a $20,000 medical bill and little hope of recovery.

The orphaned Beaver Creek High School sophomore, 16, was walking along a highway en route to basketball practice when the accident happened.

Since then, McCormack's life has been hospitals, wheel chairs and respiratory treatments.

His plight, however, hasn't gone unnoticed.

Former University of Kentucky basketball coach Adolph Rupp and hydroplane racing champion Dean Chenoweth lifted his spirits with hospital visits.

The Beaver Creek Jaycees are easing the financial burden. They already have raised $1,200 through a spaghetti dinner. More funds are on the way from a Dan McCormack allsports week that started Tuesday night.

Chenoweth, who won national unlimited hydroplane titles in 1970 and 1971 driving Miss Budweiser, has been most instrumental.

"I read about him in February," said Chenoweth, a Xenia, Ohio, car dealer. "No father, no mother, that age and paralyzed. Somebody had to help and pitch in."

He visited young McCormack two or three times weekly while he was in a Columbus hospital. Dan now is in a nearby Xenia rest home, continuing therapy.

"I talked the World Hydroplane Championship officials into naming one heat of their races (July 2 at Madison, Ind.) after the boy," said Chenoweth.

"He'll be there in Madison that day," the veteran driver assured. "But he told me if he went I had to win. How's that for pressure?"
