ATTORNEY DIES; SHERIFF SURRENDERS Osborne Is Chosen Mayor, With Murfee, Boyd as Commissioners SENATOR FESS, OHIO, REPUBLICAN KEYNOTER

ADVOCATE OF CAL NAMED

KANSAS CITY, April 4.—(P)—Heralded as a staunch administration supporter and declared by party leaders as outstanding among the persons available, Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, today was cast in the role of temporary chairman and keynoter, speaker for the Republican national convention here in June.

Selection of Senator Fess climaxed a two-day session of the national sub-committee on convention arrangements ending here yesterday.

"Named Best Man"
In announcing the Ohio Senator had been named by unanimous vote, William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican national committee said no political significance could be attached to the selection. He added that the committee was interested only in choosing the best man available to outline the party principles.

Following the selection of the keynoter, a rumor was circulated that the Senator Moses of New Hampshire had been mentioned as a favorite for permanent convention chairman. The permanent chairman is elected by the delegates. Butler denied that the committee had formally discussed the permanent chairmanship or the chairmanships of important sub-committees.

Fess Is Forceful
Known as a forceful speaker, Senator Fess will come here with a knowledge of national affairs obtained as a college professor, author of political works and editor, in addition to experience gained as an assistant Republican whip in the senate. He is one of the most avowed drys in Congress.

When he was named as a delegate at large from his state, Senator Fess pledged his support to the presidential candidacy of the late Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio. He specified Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas as his second choice. This was interpreted to mean that since the death of Senator Willis, he would be bound to throw his support to the Kansas Senator. No announcement as to his preference of presidential candidates was made by Senator Fess.

German Fliers to Build an Artificial Runway for Takeoff undampened by continued rainfall, the DUBLIN, April 4.—(P)—Their ardent German trans-Atlantic flight aspirants today prepared an artificial runway to enable their heavily laden plane to take the air at Baldonnel aerodrome.

Several hundred old railroad ties were brought to the airfield to extend the runway. Baron von Huenefeld, sponsor of the flight, hoped that this extended runway would give the Bremen sufficient headway to enable it to rise before hitting the ground that has been softened by rain.

Captain Herman Koehl, pilot, and the Baron maintained silence as to their plans and the rumor persisted that Colonel Fitzmaurice, leader of the free State air force would act as relief pilot in place of Arthur Spindler.

MIAMI MAN DIES
J. W. Gore, 78 years old, died at his home in Miami yesterday following an extended illness. Mr. Gore had been a resident of Miami for the last nine years and was well known in the neighborhood.

The body was prepared for burial by G. C. Malone, of the Malone Undertaking parlor here.

Big Bill Haywood Is Ill

William D. Haywood, known in American labor circles as "Big Bill", is reported critically ill in the Kremlin Hospital, suffering from diabetes. Haywood fled the United States in 1920 after conviction on a charge of violating the espionage act. He was under sentence of 20 years in prison and a fine of $20,000. Haywood was one of the founders of the I. W. W. in America. Here he is shown with a Russian boy, his constant companion in the Kuzbas colony in Siberia, which "Big Bill" pictured as "a haven for oppressed workers."

LEWIS COX IS LAUDED IN AMERICAN LEGION PROGRAM

Lewis O. Cox of the local post of the American Legion was last night the recipient of a past commander's button and an address of congratulation for the service rendered during his term at one of the largest attended meetings ever held in the Legion home here.

Because of seeking public and remunerative office, and according to the by-laws of the American Legion cannot serve as commander of the post.

The presentation and address were made by Roy Williams a visiting Legionnaire who lauded the efforts of the past and present commanders and the body as a whole and individually for their beautiful home and active membership.

On Wednesday night, April 11, the Legion will hold a dollar dance at the Pla-More auditorium and tickets may be secured from Legion members who were supplied at last night's meeting. The dance will be featured by square dances and a caller-off and round dances with music by a good orchestra.

Next meeting night, April 17, will be entirely social and a good program is being arranged by the program committee, composed of P. E. Boyd, Lewis O. Cox, Artie Sailor, and J. G. Runnell.

A quartet has been organized and will be ready for the next social. Those to work in the quartet are A. D. Nance, R. C. Regan, Lester Sills, P. E. Boyd, G. C. Durham and E. F. Thomas.

The local post has been invited to attend the Panhandle District meeting to be held in Borger April 10, and several members plan to make the trip. Those desiring to attend the gathering are asked to notify the commander or the adjutant beforehand.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at Fairview cemetery by the Rev. Tom Brubaker, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Coolidge Thinks Flood Bill Not Epecific Enough

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(P)—President Coolidge feels that the Jones flood control bill approved by the Senate and now before the house is open to criticism because the expenditures it would authorize for protecting the Mississippi river from further disasters are not specifically set forth.

The bill makes it impossible, in the President's judgment, to say how much flood control will cost. He recalls that even senator Jones, author of the bill admitted that the final expense would be far above $700,000,000.

WICHITA FALLS MAY HAVE CITY MANAGER GOVERNMENT

WICHITA FALLS, April 4.—(P)—The fate of the city manager plan voted on here Tuesday was still in the balance Wednesday as officials continued counting ballots. Indications are the manager plan will carry by a slight majority.

J. W. Akin defeated R. E. Shepherd incumbent, for mayor by a majority of 67 votes.

In addition to the charter amendments providing for the city manager plan, voters cast their ballots on six other proposed charter changes and these were overwhelmingly defeated.

Old Courthouse Must Go by Sale; Commissioners Announce Auction
The old courthouse building at LeFors must go. Thus have the county commissioners of Gray county decided.

Serving as the center of Gray county since its formation in 1862, the LeFors courthouse will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder May 14. The DeLoe light plant situated in and near the court house will also be sold at public auction.

Built in 1902 by Henry Weckesser building contractor with headquarters at Miami, a building half the size of the present courthouse was erected. In 1908 the building was doubled in size to adequately house the records of the county.

When sold the old building will have to be moved, as the land on which it is situated reverts back to J. M. Shaw who donated the plot and $1,000 in 1902.

CHARGE TO BE FILED SOON

SHERMAN, April 4.—(P)—Franz J. Kim, county attorney of Marshall county, Okla., who was wounded by Sheriff Ed Long on Monday while in the commissioners' courtroom at Madill, Okla., died here shortly before 1 a. m. today.

MADILL, Okla., April 4.—(P)—After learning of the death of Franz J. Kim, Marshall county attorney, in Sherman, Tex., Sheriff Ed Long today went to the county jail and instructed the jailer to lock him up. Long shot Kim at the county commissioner's office Monday after an argument over a claim.

MADILL, Okla., April 4.—(P)—R. C. Rowland was appointed today by the Marshall county commissioners as county attorney to succeed Franz J. Kim, who died in a Sherman hospital from bullet wounds inflicted Monday by Sheriff Ed Long.

Rowland, who has acted as Long's attorney, immediately announced that he would disqualify himself from filing charges against the sheriff, and that he would instruct his assistant, whom he expected to appoint this afternoon to file charges. It was thought probable that Paul Buford, Kim's assistant, would be reappointed. Buford was returning to Madill from Sherman today.

Kim, who was shot by Sheriff Long after an altercation over the allowance by the county commissioners of a claim presented by the sheriff, was found after he was wounded to have been armoured with a bullet-proof vest. The fatal shot glanced from the lower edge of the vest, striking Kim in the abdomen.

The body of the county attorney was brought here today. It will be taken to a suburb of St. Louis Mo. for burial.

Klan Chief Urged Man To Murder, Deposition Charges

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 4.—(P)—Charges that Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan instigated murder are contained in a deposition obtained for use in a suit to prevent the Klan from functioning in Pennsylvania.

The deposition was made by David C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Klan in Indiana, in his cell at Michigan City, Ind., where he is serving a life sentence for the murder of Madge Oberholzer.

Stephenson brands Evans as "the murderer" of Captain William S. Coburn, a attorney of Atlanta, "who was put out of the way because he was going to bring out some embarrassing matters in a suit against the Klan."

"The actual murder," Stephenson avers, "was committed by Phil Fox, who was incensed after Evans had told him he could prove Coburn had made derogatory remarks about Mrs. Fox."

Law on Chicken Theft Void Because of Indefiniteness

AUSTIN, April 4.—(P)—A statute purporting to make theft of chickens and other fowls a felony was held unconstitutional today by the state supreme court.

The court found objection in the fact that the act's caption made the theft either a felony or a misdemeanor and held this too indefinite.

Senator Perce B. Ward of Cleburne drew the bill, which was passed during the 39th legislature.

In Congress

Senate continues debate on McNary-Haugen bill while House takes up secondary bills on consent calendar.

Senate finance committee decided to hold public hearing on tax reduction measure.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing, or reputation of any individual, firm, concern, or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Pampa Daily News will be gladly corrected when called to the attention of the editor.

Editorial Note—Persecution, real or imagined, engenders irresponsibility and fosters a spirit which defies death, comfort, and the desire for normal living.

Canton Nationalists executed several hundred Reds. The Reds, says the Associated Press, "died gladly", proclaiming that for everyone killed ten would rise to take their places.

Down in Mexico banditry and persecution are linked hand in hand. Some instigators are mere plunderers, and some are fighting for causes they believe to be right.

Some very good men ran for city office in Pampa. Only three could be chosen for the special duties. The citizenship congratulates them and trusts their administration will be fruitful.

Civic affairs, however, under the Pampa charter are not limited to the commission, the city manager, or other city employees. The commission either forms the policies or refers them to the voters in municipal elections, and the manager administers the charter and these policies in the most business-like manner possible.

The Sweetwater Reporter objects to use of state gasoline taxes for any purpose other than building of good roads. It logically contends that "Texas is making good progress in the building of its highway system and no one should want to see that progress stopped."

"A special tax of the kind placed on cars should be used for the specific purpose of building and repairing roads. It should not be used for schools or other purposes as is now done. This does not mean that the schools should suffer, either; if we need more money for schools it should be raised from taxation from the proper source."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

Washington—If Seymour Lowman should actually succeed in his announced attempt to make the two party conventions dry he will have achieved the healthiest reform in national politics since Lincoln freed the hotel space.

Your correspondent will be on hand and if he can find any lady or gentleman who performs for longer than 15 minutes he will gladly and promptly report the fact as the big news scoop of either or both conventions.

As a matter of observation and belief, political gatherings of all sorts, one except meetings of law enforcement leagues, represent an ultimate in defiance of the prohibition laws. Certain other types of convention provide serious competition, but none provide more moisture to the square inch of

It is a matter of common knowledge that many "dry" members of Congress violate the law and that many wet-voting members who claim to be personally dry are nothing of the sort. The "dry" members aren't as "wet" as the "wet" members, one might say.

add from limited observation, for one does not often see a "dry" member carried from a public function and poured into an upstairs room or a taxicab.

But a similar condition apparently runs all through politics and politicians both in and out of office seem to be a party to it. There are personally dry politicians and everyone here knows some. Doubtless there are quite a few of them, but in Washington they are regarded as exceptions to the rule.

This goes for some members of the cabinet and on down the line. It doesn't go for President Coolidge.

The wetness of political gatherings such as meetings of the national committees and the much larger national conventions is party traceable to the fact that there are many wealthy hangers on who always attend with no other apparent purpose than to remain in hotel rooms and do a little serious drinking with all comers. But only partly.

That class doubtless would leave quickly if Mr. Lowman were to make life miserable for them at Kansas City in Houston. The politicians would have to remain and do their work sober. Whether or not this would be beneficial to the country, they couldn't do any worse than they have sometimes done in the past. One reason that nothing of the sort is likely to happen is that the ordinary politician will not depend on the bootlegging trade in Kansas City or Houston but will bring his own in trunks.

These insurance men are urging us to protect amply before risking aviation, but they probably won't go around urging our participation after we sign up with them.

Publicity is a great thing, and if any of those Chicago fellows could defy the gangsters and stay in good health they could almost get what they asked of stage, movie, or side show. But health is basic, especially in Chicago.

WRIGHT'S BAKERY IS NOTED FOR "TRUE MILK" BREAD AND PASTRIES

J. O. MARLE, MANAGER, RECOGNIZED AS AN EXPERT IN THE BAKERY BUSINESS

APPROXIMATELY 300 DEALERS SELL WRIGHT'S PRODUCTS THROUGHOUT THE PANHANDLE

In reviewing the larger business of Pampa, Wright's Bakery ranks well at the top of the list. Their feature product, "True Milk Bread", has brought them recognition in practically every home within a radius of fifty miles of Pampa, the vast territory which they serve.

The bakery is owned by J. E. Wright, and is efficiently managed by J. O. Marle, who is recognized as an expert in the bakery business.

trucks keep Wright's products always fresh on the market. The plant of this bakery is modern in every respect. The latest type of high speed mixer is used to mix the dough.

Although Wright's Bakery is less than two years old, it has developed at a rapid pace. Fourteen employes and five The our is automatically sifted and fed into the mixer. An automatic dough divider and moulder prepares the loaves for the oven. From the time the dough is mixed until the finished loaf of bread is wrapped, it is practically untouched by hands.

The capacity of the bakery is about 10,000 loaves of bread every 24 hours, besides the pastries that are baked daily in large quantities. The flour used by Wright's is always fresh, being milled to order by the bakery. It is bought in carload lots. Sweetened condensed milk and pure ingredients gives "True Milk" a tasty flavor that cannot be duplicated.

At the present time there are approximately 300 retail stores that sell "True Milk" bread and other products of Wright's Bakery. Daily deliveries to the various retailers insure marketing of the products while they are absolutely fresh.

Mr. Marle is always glad to show visitors the large bakery, and invites everyone to see the process used in making the bread and pastries. The Wright's Bakery is indeed among Pampa's greatest assets—it is a business that is building and boosting for a bigger and better Pampa.

VOYAGE END

Once again the clipper held her course, showing red lead. Shattering the sea-tops into golden rain. The waves bowed down before her like blown grain; Onwards she thundered, on; her voyage was short. Before the crier's bells rang her into port. Cheerily they rang her in, those beating bells. The new-come beauty stately from the sea. Whitering the blue heave of the drowsy swells. Treading the bubbles down. With three times three they cheered her moving beauty in and she came to her berth so noble, so superb; Swayed like a queen, and answered to the curb.

Then in the sunset's flush they went aloft. And unbent sails in that most lovely hour. When the light gentles and the wind is soft. And beauty in the heart breaks like a flower. Working aloft they saw the mountain tower. Snow to the peak; they heard the launchmen shout; And bright along the bay the light came out. John Massfield, in "Dauber."

ROYAL BRIDGE CLUB AND GUESTS ARE ENTERTAINED TUESDAY

The social activities have been somewhat dull during the lenten season, but pre-Easter festivities were revived Tuesday afternoon with the meeting of several bridge clubs of the city. Mrs. A. C. Clark and Mrs. W. F. Chausing entertained the members of the Royal Bridge club and a number of additional guests in the home of Mrs. Clausing Tuesday afternoon. Easter decorations were effectively used, and attractive favors of jonquil filled with tiny candy eggs were given the guests. Mrs. G. C. Walters won high guest prize, and Mrs. Tom Eiler was awarded high club prize. Mrs. E. G. Guber received consolation. A delicious two-course luncheon was served the following: Mrs. G. C. Walters, Mrs. C. C. Cook, Mrs. P. C. Ledrick, Mrs. I. E. Duncan, Mrs. James Herdon, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Mrs. Carson Loftus, Mrs. E. G. Guber, Mrs. P. B. Carlson, Mrs. Billie Lang, Mrs. Marvin Lewis, Mrs. S. C. Boston, Mrs. Marion Howard, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. J. S. Wynne, Mrs. DeLea Vicars, Mrs. H. W. Johns, Mrs. Edwin Vicars, Mrs. H. L. Scott, Mrs. F. M. Culberson, Mrs. Roy A. Webb, and Mrs. A. B. Hendron.

Royalty has its place, but it takes a mighty good dead prince to crowd a missing girl off the front page.

Family Menus

BREAKFAST—Sliced bananas and oranges, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon, cornmeal pancakes, maple sirup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Cream of corn soup popcorn, eggs stuffed with beet greens rhubarb whip, milk, tea.

DINNER—Savory beef's tongue, baked squash, French endiv with Roquefort cheese dressings, peach upside-down cake, milk, coffee.

While bananas served alone are rather too bland a fruit to whet the breakfast appetite if they are combined with a tart and juicy fruit their effect is stimulating. A faint sparkling of salt improves bananas amazingly.

Rhubarb Whip
One cup cooked rhubarb, sugar whites 3 eggs, 1-8 teaspoon salt. If the rhubarb was baked with sugar more sugar will not be necessary but if the rhubarb was stewed and is quite juicy more sugar will be needed. Rub fruit through a sieve and add sugar if necessary. Heat and fold in the whites of the eggs beaten until stiff and dry Turn into a buttered baking dish place in a large pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm to the touch. It will take about forty minutes. Serve with a soft or 'boiled' custard sauce made with the yolks of eggs.

Social Calendar

Mrs. Charles Symonds will be hostess Thursday afternoon to the members of the Ace High bridge club.

GIRL ALONE

COPYRIGHT 1928 BY NEA SERVICE

By ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "SAINT AND SINNER"

Sally Ford, inmate of a state orphanage, is "farmed out" the summer she is 16 to Clem Carson, farmer. There she meets David Nash, student, and athlete, who is working the Carson farm for the summer. Carson makes insinuations about David's friendship for Sally and David strikes him. Not knowing whether Carson is dead or not, Sally and David decide to run away. All that night they tramp through fields and unweared roads toward the little town of Stanton. At daybreak they cross the railroad track and see a carnival train. Sally instantly recognizes Eddie Cole, a former orphanage boy who ran away to join the carnival. The owner of the carnival makes a place for them.

CHAPTER XIV

"Right this way, is—dies and gen—dies—man! Step right up and see Boffo, the critical man, eat, eat, eat, eat! Look! Pickle, lead pipe, or what have you! He chews 'em up and swallows 'em like a kid eats candy! Boffo, d'gets anything and everything from horsehoes to jack-knives! Any gentlemen present got a jack-knife for Boffo's dinner? Come on, folks! Don't be bashful! Don't let Boffo go hungry!"

The spieler takes a seat on a chair, commanding, exhorting, bullying the gaping crowd of country people who surged after him. He then addresses to "The Palace of Wonders," a tent which housed a score of freaks and fakers, was 25 cents. It still seemed wonderful to Sally that she was there, without having paid admission that she—she, Sally Ford, runaway ward of the state—was one of the many attractions which the farmer and villagers had paid their hard-earned money to see.

Daily through the crowd came the voice of the Barker and ticket seller in his tall, red, scarred box outside the tent: "All right, all right! Here you are! Only a quarter—25 cents—two bits—to see the big show! Performance just starting! Step right up! All right, boys this way! Don't let your girls call you a piker. Two bits pays for it all! See the half-man-half-woman! See the girl nobody can lift! Try and lift her, boys! Little and pretty as a picture, but heavy as lead! All right, step right in! See Princess Lalla, the Harem Crystal Gazer! See all, know all! See Pitty Sing, the smallest woman in the world!"

Incredible! On Saturday, just two days ago, she had been peeling apples to make pies for the Carson family. Today she was a member of a carnival troupe, under the protection of Winfield Bybee, owner of all these weird creatures about whom the spieler was chanting. It was too unreal to be true.

There had been 12 solid hours of sleep. Then had come a marvelously satisfying supper in the dining car, or "privilege" car, with Bybee himself introducing her to these astonishing people whom the spieler was now addressing to the curious country people. The giant, a H. H. H. named Jan, something-or-other, had bent from vast heights to take her hand; the tiny midget, a Hawaiian billed merely as Neko, had gravely asked her, in a tiny piping voice, if she would sew a button on his miniature coat for him; the bearded "lady" was a man, after all, a man with a naturally falsetto voice and tiny hands and feet. Boffo, the human catfish, had disappointed her by being satisfied with a very ordinary diet of corned beef and cabbage. The fat girl, who had confided to Sally that she only weighed 380 pounds, though she was billed as "tipping the scales" at 620, had patiently drunk glass after glass of milk, until a gallon had been consumed—all in the interest of keeping her weight up and adding to it.

Then Bybee had taken her to his wife, a thin, hatchet-faced shrew of a woman who seemed to suspect everything in petticoats of having designs on her husband, and who, in turn, seemed to feel equally sure that everman must envy him the possession of such a wonderful woman as his wife. His deference toward her touched Sally even as it amused her.

Mrs. Bybee was too good a business woman, however, to let jealousy interfere with her judgment where the show was concerned. She had demurred a little, then had abruptly agreed to Bybee's plans for Sally. Hours of sharp-tongued instruction from Mrs. Bybee had resulted in Sally's being on the platform now, nervously awaiting her turn.

The crowd surged nearer to Sally's platform. The spieler was introducing the giant now, and Jan was rising slowly from his enormous chair, unfolding his incredible length standing erect a last so that his head touched and slightly raised the sloping canvas roof of the tent.

She wondered, as she gazed pityingly and a little fearfully at Jan, how it felt to be three feet taller than ever the tallest of ordinary men and as she wondered she gazed upward into Jan's face and caught something of an answer to her question. For Jan's great hollow eyes, set in a skeleton of a face were the saddest she had ever seen but—sadly sad, as if the little boy really did somewhere in that terribly abnormal body of his had resigned itself to eternal sorrow and loneliness.

At the request of the spieler Jan staided like a seven-league-boots creature of a fairy tale, up and down the little platform, then, still sad-faced, patiently folded up his amazing legs and relaxed in his great chair with a sigh. He was sullenly and indifferently offering postcard pictures of himself for sale when the Barker turned toward Sally, cajoling the crowd away from the giant.

"And here, ladies and gentlemen we have the most beautiful girl that ever escaped from a Turkish harem—the Princess Lalla. Right here, folks! Here's a real treat for you! They may come bigger but they don't come prettier! I've saved the Princess Lalla for the last because she's the best. I know all you sheiks will agree with me." Embarrassed snorts of laughter interrupted him. "That's right boys. And if the Princess Lalla don't show up tonight I'll know that some good-looking Stanton boy has eloped with her. Stand up, Princess Lalla, and let these boys see what a Turkish princess looks like! Don't crowd now, boys!"

IT DID NOT SEEM POSSIBLE THAT SHE WAS SALLY FORD

Sally slipped from her chair and advanced a pace or two toward the edge of the platform, her knees trembling so she could scarcely walk. It did not seem possible to her that the plump, beautiful figure to whom the spieler had made a deep and ironic salaam was Sally Ford. She wondered if all those people staring at her with wide, curious eyes or with envy really believed she was the Princess Lalla of the Sultan of Turkey. She made herself see herself as they saw her—a slim rounded, young-girl figure in fantastic purple satin trousers, wrapped close about her legs from knee to ankle with ropes of imitation pearls; a green satin tunic-blouse, sleeveless and embroidered with sequins and edged with gold fringe, half-revealing and half-concealing her delicate young curves; a provocative lace veil dimming and making mysterious the brilliance of her wide childish eyes.

She wondered if any of the more skeptical would mutter that the golden-olive tint of her face, neck and bare arms had come out of a can of burnt-sienna powder, applied thickly and evenly over a film of cold cream. The mock-jewel-wrapped ropes of her blue-black hair, however, were real, and she felt their beauty as they lay against her slowly rising and falling breast. To her gravely expressed doubts of the authenticity of her Turkish costume Mrs. Bybee had replied curtly and contemptuously: "My Gawd! Who knows or cares whether Turkish dames dress like this? It's pretty, ain't it? Them women may wear turbans and what-nots for all I know, but that black hair of yours ain't going to be covered up with no towel around your head."

And so, circling her brow and holding the scrap of black lace nose veil in place, was a crudely fashioned but gaudily pretty crown studded with imitation rubies and emeralds and diamonds as big as bird's eggs. Her feet felt very tiny and strange in red sandals, whose pointed toes turned sharply upward and ended regally in fluffy silk pompons.

"I declare, you make a lot better Princess Lalla than Minnie Brooks did," Mrs. Bybee had commented after outfitting Sally. "She took down with appendicitis in Sioux City and we ain't had a crystal gazer since—one of the big hits of the show, too." But the spieler was going on and on, giving her a fearful and wonderful history, endowing her with weird gifts— "Yes, sir, folks, the Princess Lalla sees all, knows all—sees all in this magic crystal of hers. She sees past present and future, and will reveal all to anyone who cares to step up on the platform and be convinced. Just 25 cents, folks, one lonely little quarter, and you'll have past, present and future revealed to you by the Turkish seeress, favorite fortune-teller of the Sultan of Turkey. Who'll be first, boys and girls? Step right up!"

As he exhorted and harangued, the spieler, whom Sally had heard called Gus, was busy arranging the little platform, covered with black velvet, embroidered in gold thread with the sign of the Zodiac. On the table stood a crystal ball mounted on a tarnished gilt pedestal, and covered, over with a black square. Gus whisked off the square and revealed the "magic crystal" to the gaping crowd. Then, with another deep salaam, he conducted the "Princess Lalla" to her throne-like chair. She seated herself and cupped her brown-painted hands with their gilded nails over the large glass bowl. A young man vaulted lightly upon the platform, followed by giggles and slangy words of encouragement, Sally's eyes, mercifully shielded by the black lace veil, widened with terror. Her hands trembled so as they hovered over the crystal impulse to cover her face with them. Then she remembered that the black lace veil and the brown powder did that.

For the first to demand an exhibition of her powers as a seeress was Ross Willis, Pearl Carson's "boy friend." Ross Willis who had not asked her to dance because she was the Carsons' "hired girl" from the orphanage.

Babe Ruth Hits First Homer, But Yanks Lose Again

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP)—All's right with that part of the baseball world in which Babe Ruth. Birds are singing, grass is green, and spring has come for the big slugger has hit his first home run since 1927. Inspired perhaps by the lofty shadows of lookout mountain stretching across the Chattanooga ball park, Babe lifted the ball out of the lot in the 7th inning of yesterday's game between the Yankee and Chattanooga.

Ruth's home run was not enough, for the lookouts tied the score in the 11th and went on to win in the 12th, 3 to 2, but the loss of the game was incidental. The world champions have dropped out of 14 spring games and one more means little at this stage of the campaign, when Babe Ruth hits a home run. The Yankee played the only extra inning game of the day and were the only major leaguers to fall before a minor league outfit.

The Giants extended their winning streak to ten games, downing the Washington Senators 2 to 1. Andy Cohen came to life at the bat with a bang, smashing out two triples and a single suggesting that possibly he has inherited Rogers Hornsby's bat along with his job. Bill Terry outpointed Cohen by one base, getting two triples and a double.

Brooklyn finished in front of Macon a Robin farm, 9 to 3, in spite of some wobbly fielding, the miscues were offset by tight pitching. Charlie Graves equaled his last season's base running record by stealing a base.

A game at Memphis developed 4 hits and 30 runs, the Chicago White Sox getting 19 of the runs and 26 hits while the Southern Association Chick had to be satisfied with 11 runs and 11 hits. May was pitching a morned to soon, for the Hose blasted him for 1 hit in one and one-third innings. John Clancy did not miss in four trials.

Cincinnati's Reds made it two six for the Hendricks clan. The Kentuckian failed to register in the first game Adolfo Liguie was reached for only one run in five innings and has been niced, but two counters over a span of 23 innings.

The St. Louis Cardinals hit the ball hard to defeat Nashville 10 to 7, taking kindly to the southpaw offerings of Oscar Fuhr, who went all the way for the volunteers. Blades, Frisch, and Hafe, showed the way at bat.

Dan Howley's St. Louis Browns used 27 hits, which they may need later on to score 23 runs while Tulsa's best was eight. Ten runs was the quota for one inning. The hustling Frank O'Rourke indicated that he was made at a habit to start his day's work with a home run.

Rain defeated both Detroit and Waco.

Forty Teams Are Battling for Title of Basketball Champs

CHICAGO, April 4.—(AP)—Twelve high school basketball teams, aspirants for the national prep school championship today had survived their first round games in the current national tournament at the university of Chicago. Twelve other teams had entered the consolation tournament, which will bring together the losing fives of the first round.

By tonight the 40 teams entered from 37 states will have played their first game while eight will have gone through their second contest in as many days.

Today's play will bring together teams favorites to go far into the elimination. The mountain side from Carr Creek Ky., will receive a real test when they meet the tallest team in the tournament, which hails from Austin, Tex. The blue grass team won a popular victory yesterday from the Indians of Albuquerque, N. M., while Austin nosed out Englewood of Chicago in a fast finish.

Rain and Flu in Texas League Camps Delay Activities

DALLAS, April 4.—(AP)—After a long absence Jupe Fluvius has returned with a vengeance to Texas league training camps. Yesterday he wrecked the plans of clubs in both North and South Texas, and threatened to interfere again today.

At Waco, a game between the Cubs and the Detroit Tigers was postponed as was one at San Antonio between the Bears and the St. Mary's university team, while rain halted a contest at Fort Worth between the Cats and the Minneapolis Millers in the fifth inning.

Shreveport, Wichita Falls, and Houston were more fortunate, however. The Sports were beaten by New Orleans, 7 to 4, the Spudders defeated the House of David team, 9 to 2, and the Buffs won from Fresno of the South Coast league, 6 to 3.

At Dallas, the Steers had only a light workout in accordance with Manager Ellison's intention to give his men a chance to recuperate from influenza that has swept the club. Second baseman Morse, Pitcher Jackson and outfielder Miller were in uniform after an absence of several days, but others, including pitcher Slim Love, remained on the sick list.

Squad training conditions at Beaumont, among the latest releases being George Kent, first baseman, who was sent to San Angelo of the West Texas league, a rookie named Yeargin, who goes to Evansville of the Three Eye league, and Cimpl, an infielder, who was released to Fort Smith of the Western association.

With the state line running down the center of the road in this interstate hamlet, the runners and walkers were divided at the start half in New Mexico and half in Texas. After an overnight stop at Vega, the caravan will proceed to Amarillo tomorrow, the largest city visited since the star lat Los Angeles March 4.

Ed Gardner, Seattle negro, and Oll Watline, New York, finished yesterday's 44.1 mile trek from Tucumcari in a dead heat. Their time was 6:8:15. The Swimmens of Detroit was third in 6:21:35.

Swimmens retained the lead in elapsed time with 184:10:20, for the 1,114.7 miles, a lead of slightly more than five hours over Andrew Payne of Clarendon, Okla.

The field was reduced to 31 when Carl Swenson of Los Angeles and Mike Galiena, Palm Beach, Fla. dropped out in the trek from Tucumcari.

Late Events Are Proof of Tunney's Business Sense

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP)—The hectic events of the last few days have furnished convincing evidence that Gene Tunney not only is managing his own affairs but doing pretty well at it for a young fellow whose chief aim in life not long ago seemed to be the mastery of seven-syllable words.

Gene still has command of an extensive and often effective vocabulary. But his latest word to the boxing commission, in addition to being noteworthy is a diplomatic rejoinder, contains no word in excess of five syllables and only two of those. It proves that simple language can be, and often is, more effective and forceful than complicated phraseology.

"While I have received no official communication from the New York boxing commission," a gesture of respect in that line, obviously. Further on: "The commission knows me well enough to know I have never selected my opponent but have always left that detail to the promoter." A gentle touch of irony here, perhaps.

There was a time not so long ago when Gene Tunney, then only a fair "middlin' light heavyweight, needed a manager and some good ring advice if he was to get anywhere. The veteran Billy Gibson filled both requirements, steered Tunney in to the American light heavyweight title and paved the way for the Dempsey match in 1927 that brought Tunney to the peak.

Gene wasn't champion of the world more than a few days, however, before he decided to handle his own affairs. He has done so ever since. There have been some to accuse him of ingratitude but others who see, not only that the situation has changed but that Tunney possesses the business ability to make the most of his ring career. Gibson, even if his voice in the champion's business is no longer above a whisper at least shares, financially, in Gene's success.

Tunney got the title but little else at Philadelphia in 1926. He had to go on a vaudeville tour to make some money. He has made a pretty fair job since then of managing his own affairs. He collected close to a million at Chicago and has had his own way, it appears in selecting Heeney as well as a July date for his first and perhaps only 1928 engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Corson left yesterday for Waxahachie to visit with their daughter, Elizabeth, who is attending Trinity University.

"FLYING LUCK"

Capt. Wilkins May
Hop Off Thursday
For Top of World

SEWARD, Alaska, April 4.—(AP)—If Captain George H. Wilkins hops off to fly over the top of the world tomorrow he will take off at 6 o'clock in the morning. This was the substance of a radio message last night from his operating base at Point Barrow, the most northerly point in Alaska.

Weather conditions, he said, would largely determine whether he would try to make the 2100-mile flight to Spitzbergen on the other side of the globe. His plans, however, were not definite.

Wilkins hopes to explore the blind spot of the Arctic in a plane piloted by Carl Ben Eielson, sordough aviator. This is their third and most ambitious attempt to explore the polar sea from Barrow. The principal objects of their proposed flight are to find the fabled Arctic continent and study weather tendencies.

Ground Broken
for Western Carbon Black Plant

Engineers are staking out the location for the Western Carbon company's plant today. The new carbon black manufacturing plant will be situated in the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 81, Block 3, & G. N. R. R. survey, on the C. W. Saunders Sr. lease.

This plant will receive residue gas from the casinghead plants in the Wilcox field. The plant is located south and west of the Magnolia carbon black plant, which was the first to operate in this territory.

J. B. Shewmaker is local representative of the Western Carbon company.

TODD SAYS---

"Strive to enter by the narrow door" was the theme of the sermon preached by the Rev. James Todd Jr., at the Christian church last night. He discussed the saying in the Bible that when Jesus was asked if but few would be saved he replied that they would come from the four points of the compass and would strive to enter in at the narrow door.

He used as an illustration the door within a door entering the city, and commonly known as the needle's eye.

Rev. Todd said that very few people would admit that they expected to be lost, but that many who expect to be saved are being blinded by indifference and carelessness concerning the Kingdom of Heaven.

Large gatherings are attending the meetings and many young people are joining the church by profession of faith while others are joining on letter of transfer.

CHICAGO, April 4.—(AP)—Wheat values averaged higher today in the early dealings. Reports of heavy damage by winter killing continued from Ohio valley states, with excessive wind and need of rain in trans-Mississippi states southwest and west.

Opening 1-3 off to 5-8 up, wheat underwent a general sag, but then rose all around above yesterday's finish. Corn, oats and provisions were easy, corn starting unchanged to 3-8 higher, and subsequently showing general declines.

Mrs. P. B. Carlson returned yesterday from Amarillo where she has been visiting.

At Last!

A face powder that really stays on. Nylotil Face Powder De Luxe goes on smoothly and stays on. It does not show in spots, but spreads evenly and blends invisibly with even the finest skin.

The powder is delightfully and lastingly perfumed. It is put up in an attractive round box, finished with a striking peacock design.
