Escaped Convicts Shoot Farmer; Others Marked

ROTAN, Tex. (UPI) — Three escaped convicts, apparently bent on a revenge murder spree, killed an elderly farmer Saturday who helped send one of them to prison. Police feared three other persons were also marked for death.

Rotan Police Chief Kenneth Hardin said Williams, who escaped from the Colorado State Prison Thursday night with two companions, had boasted he would kill three other persons he felt were responsible for sending him to prison.

"He's got four subjects — Baker, the McQueen Brothers, Donald and Curtis, and Mrs. O. O. Campbell," Hardin said. "He feels like they caused him to go to prison."

Hardin said the McQueen brothers had seen Williams in the countryside around Rotan a few months ago when he was charged with stealing Baker's gun collection. Mrs. Campbell's son, Ray, was captured with Williams in a shootout with authorities in Fort Collins, Colo., earlier this year. Hardin said. "I feel like he's a little bit deranged," the police chief said. "They killed Baker and his little dog."

It was revenge for putting him in the pen for 20 to 40 years," Hardin said. "He put himself there."

We do know the subjects are armed with shotguns and they (officers) did say he was dead," said Stonewall County sheriff's deputy Leona Elkins. "He had been shot."

She said the shooting occurred on the county line between Stonewall and Fischer counties. She said officers set up roadblocks and a helicopter and two airplanes searched the arid West Texas countryside for the fleeing convicts.

Baker, described as an "average" farmer, produced cotton and some cattle on his modest spread on the Double Mountain River. The area is covered with scraggly mesquite trees and scrub oaks.

FOR PEACE TALKS

Greece, Cypriot Leader Spurn British Proposals

Greece and the Greek Cypriot president spurned a British proposal Saturday for the revival of the defunct Geneva Cyprus peace conference and at the same time tentatively accepted a Soviet plan for expanded peace talks with participation by the Communist powers.

The United States has not yet officially reacted to the Soviet proposal, but diplomatic sources in London predicted Washington would turn it down.

Turkey has not officially accepted or rejected the Soviet plan either. An Ankara foreign ministry source reacted coolly to the plan, saying Turkey "is willing to negotiate with the interested parties only."

Turkey warned the Cypriot government its troops now controlling one third of the island in the Mediterranean would retaliate against Greek Cypriots if they conducted guerrilla warfare.

The Turkish warning in Ankara came in reaction to a statement by Greek Cypriot President Glafcos Clerides, who said in Athens that if a peace settlement is not reached:

"There is nothing left for us but to conduct a guerrilla war against the Turks, who will soon find out that their perimeter in Cyprus is not inviolable."

A Greek government spokesman said his country, on the other hand, accepted in principle a Soviet plan for an expanded peace conference that would include participation by all 15 United Nations Security Council members, including China and the Soviet Union, as well as Greece, Turkey, and Cyprus representatives.

"We have accepted the Soviet proposal in principle," said Greek government spokesman Panayotis Lambrias. "The government reserves to itself the right to express its observations on the proposal when it answers officially to the Soviet Union through its ambassador in Athens on Monday."

In Athens, Clerides said he also accepted the Soviet proposal. He warned that unless the plan were accepted by all parties concerned "the Soviet proposal will suffer a painful death."

Clerides, in warning Turkey that Greek Cypriots would carry out guerrilla warfare rather than accept the continued presence of Turkish troops, said "the refugees suffer, our animals are dying, our homes are looted, but we are ready to accept all of that instead of bending down to a fait accompli."

In Ankara, Turkish Information Minister Orhan Birgit accused Clerides of threatening to break the U.N.-sponsored cease-fire and warned, "The (Greek Cypriots) will receive retaliation for such acts."

Clerides said if he were left alone with Turkish Cypriot leader Rauf Denktaş, "we could reach a solution within a month."

In Cyprus, however, a Turkish Cypriot spokesman rejected the Soviet plan as an attempt to diminish Turkey's influence.

"It appears that Greece and the Greek Cypriots want to internationalize this binational problem in the hope that the role of Turkey, in preventing enosis (union of Cyprus with Greece) will be lessened," a Turkish Cypriot statement said.

A public hearing on the budget proposal for fiscal year 1974-75 is expected to dominate action at the City Commission's meeting at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Pampa's proposed budget for operation of city government calls for an increase in the tax rate to $1.93 per $100 assessed valuation, compared to the current rate of $1.72.

The total budget calls for expenditures of $2,734,786, exclusive of $382,006 that will be spent in capital outlay in the coming year coming out of federal revenue sharing funds.

ON SUBVERSIVES

Subcommittee Studying DPS Files Destruction

AUSTIN (UPI) — Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, said Saturday an investigative subcommittee which he heads will attempt to determine what was in intelligence files destroyed recently by the Department of Public Safety.

The DPS acknowledged Friday that it has destroyed most of its intelligence files on alleged "subversives" during the last year.

DPS Director Wilson E. Speir denied the destruction of the files was prompted by the revelation in July that a "subversive" file had been put together on Dallas airline pilot Robert Pomeroy, who was active in a group opposed to construction of a nuclear power plant.

The action of the Department of Public Safety in destroying all existing non-criminal investigative files proves that the indignity suffered by Robert Pomeroy was not an isolated instance," Mauzy said.

"Our subcommittee will continue its inquiry to determine the nature and extent of such non-criminal investigations in the past," Speir said he ordered files in several branches of the DPS destroyed about one year ago.

"This is true of our traffic files, our general history files and our intelligence files," he said. "This has been no secret. I've talked to members of the legislature about it and others — law enforcement agents."

DPS information officer Bill Carter said the procedure was "probably accelerated" because of the public furor over the Pomeroy incident but said the subversive files were eliminated "mainly because of the volume and because of a shift of emphasis to criminal and organized crime activities and away from this word 'subversives.'"

Speir said he did not know how many subversive files were kept by the DPS.

Mauzy said his subcommittee will "conduct whatever investigation is necessary to develop the facts as to who authorized such improper surveillance of citizens of this state in the past."

Budget Hearing Slated Tuesday

A public hearing on the budget proposal for fiscal year 1974-75 is expected to dominate action at the City Commission's meeting at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Pampa's proposed budget for operation of city government calls for an increase in the tax rate to $1.93 per $100 assessed valuation, compared to the current rate of $1.72.

The total budget calls for expenditures of $2,734,786, exclusive of $382,006 that will be spent in capital outlay in the coming year coming out of federal revenue sharing funds.

Included in the increased budget is the reactivation of the old Board of City Development urged by the Pampa Industrial Foundation.

Increased costs of materials and hikes in the salaries of city employees are also listed as reasons for the increase in tax rate.

According to City Manager Mack Wofford, the budget is balanced in regard to revenues and expenditures and for the first time in several years does not reflect the use of accumulated earned interest.

The budget proposals were made after several months of study by the city manager's office and the various department heads.

NO PROGRESS MADE

Kissinger, Khaddam End Conference On Refugees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Syrian Foreign Minister Abd el-Halim Khaddam concluded three days of talks Saturday with no apparent progress toward solving the sticky problem of Palestinian refugees.

In marked contrast to Kissinger's other meetings with Arab and Israeli officials in recent weeks, no joint communique was issued at the end of the Khaddam-Kissinger talks.

The discussions ended with an hour-long meeting at the White House Saturday, after which the press office issued a statement saying only:

"Secretary of State Kissinger concluded his consultations with Syrian Foreign Minister Khaddam with a one-hour meeting in the White House.

Richard Murphy, U.S. ambassador to Syria, was the only other person attending the 10:30 a.m. meeting.

But the State Department said it had nothing to add.

Khaddam arrived Wednesday afternoon and was personally greeted at Dulles International Airport by Kissinger and several other State Department officials.

The talks on Middle East problems began Thursday morning and included a meeting Friday with President Ford, but at no point has there been any indication that the leaders had found some common ground in their approaches to the issues.

DRIVER SUFFERS BURNS

Service Station, Truck Destroyed By Explosion

By MRS. W. BECK
News Correspondent
MOBEETIE — This small Wheeler County community was beginning to return to normal Saturday following a devastating explosion Friday evening.

A Groendike Transport truck with a cargo of gasoline was being unloaded at the Lester Leonard Conoco station at about 5:30 p.m. when the truck's gas tank exploded, setting off a second explosion and a fire which demolished the truck and service station.

Driver of the truck was Virgil Simpson, 62, of Borger, who suffered severe burns.

A warehouse on the grounds and a building across the street were saved by firemen.

The service station is located about a block and a half north and east of the business section.

Wheeler County sheriff's officers and other law enforcement personnel evacuated all residents for about four hours because of the danger of further explosions.

Most townspeople drove to Old Mobeetie on Highway 152 about a mile south of the town proper, until allowed to return to their homes.

Many said it was "little short of miraculous" that the fire did not spread and that the truck driver was the only person injured.

There was speculation that the fire first broke out in the cab of the truck.

The owner of the station said Saturday it was too early to make an estimate of the dollar loss and that the exact cause of the explosion and fire was under investigation.

At the height of the fire, heavy black smoke was visible from a radius of 20 to 25 miles.

Other firemen on the scene had managed to prevent spread of the fire, which was finally brought under control at about 8 p.m.

President Signs Legislation For Price Watchdog

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Declaring "inflation can be licked," President Ford took a first swing at it Saturday by signing legislation to establish a wage-price watchdog council equipped only with powers of persuasion.

At the signing ceremonies, Ford also pledged he would bring the 1975 federal budget back under the $300 billion mark and said, "we can do it."

Official creation of the new economic monitoring panel, Ford's first move toward developing his own anti-inflation strategy, capped a typical working Saturday for the President and set him up for a weekend of golf, swimming and relaxation.

TO GET RID OF LETTER

Songwriter Disillusioned At Nixon

DALLAS (UPI) — Songwriter Bill Rogers, whose "Ballad of Richard Nixon" earned him a personal letter of appreciation from the former President in the final days of his administration, is dying and disillusioned.

Rogers said Saturday he was deceived by the man he defended and as a result will auction off the letter, another card signed by Nixon and an engraved ballpoint pen he received from Patricia Nixon.

"As I am in near continual pain from failing health I would like one more time to speak up for my country," Rogers said. "Since I was disappointed in the resignation of President Nixon and his admission in the Watergate scandal on three tapes, I am putting up to the highest bidder the personal letter and signature, a card from him and a gold pen signed 'Patricia Nixon.'"

Rogers said he was also thinking about selling the mastertape of the song and

"several hundred records."

Rogers, 49, who is a disabled World War II veteran and who suffers from cardiovascular disease, said he would use the money from the auction to purchase and engrave a plaque to the memory of military personnel missing in action.

"My wife and children are hollering about me putting this letter out but I told 'em the President disappointed me and I think I have the authority to do what I'm doing," Rogers said.

Before penning the Nixon ballad Rogers wrote "The Ballad of Hanoi Jane," "The Ballad of William Calley," "The Ballad of Harry Truman," "The Ballad of Lyndon Johnson," and "The Ballad of George Wallace." Some of the songs were never recorded.

The Nixon verse described the former President as having been wrongly accused by Congress for the trouble at Watergate.

"I believed in Richard Nixon," Rogers said. "I think he done some good things for America. I believe it will show up in history. I wrote The Ballad of Richard Nixon" believing to the last minute that he was innocent."

Nixon responded by writing Rogers that he was "truly heartened" by the "unique and thoughtful expression of confidence" in his administration's policies.

Population Meeting At Halfway Stage

BUCHAREST (UPI) — The 149-nation world population conference Saturday passed its halfway stage with the forum dividing broadly into two blocs on a plan of action.

A working group trying to find consensus on the plan has broken down roughly into two groups — the developed world and the more loosely grouped nations of the developing and Communist world.

Delegates said interest had now moved away from the plenary sessions to the working group which was running into the danger of drawing up a document so broad it would be all things to all men.

The delegates said the main division was between developed countries wanting to stress the urgency of curbs on population growth and the so-called third world nations putting development first and calling for the establishment of a "new world economic order."

One point of debate was on whether the plan should be termed "essential."

Abderrahmane Remili of Algeria, supported by Abraham Ramirez Lituma of Peru and Hector Harding of Cuba, said the top priority was for the implementation

Man Receives Gunshot Wound At Local Club

One man remained in serious condition in an Amarillo hospital Saturday afternoon following a shooting incident here late Friday night at the Catalina Club, 600 S. Cuyler.

A spokesman at St. Anthony's Hospital said Ronnie Melton, 26, of Pampa was in the intensive care unit, where he had been transferred by Metropolitan Ambulance Service after first being taken to Highland General Hospital in Pampa. He reportedly suffered a chest wound.

Also taken to the local hospital was Wiley (Butch) Reynolds, 37, also of Pampa, who was treated and released.

Pampa police said Saturday afternoon that the case was still under investigation and that some details were yet to be determined.

There was no official information on who had fired the shots inside the lounge.

The police report provided the following information: They were called to the club at 11:17 p.m. with all units responding. There had been a report that a fight was in progress and that shots had been fired. An ambulance had been called.

On arrival at the scene, officers said they encountered two State Liquor Control agents from Amarillo. They were identified as Elvis E. Davis and Eugene L. McNeely, and were outside the building.

Harmon E. Herring was arrested for drunkenness and remained in city jail Saturday.

Center Planning Exercise Class

The Pampa Youth and Community Center announced the scheduling of a women's exercise and swim class to begin on Monday, Aug. 26.

The exercise class will meet each Monday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 10:15 a.m. to be followed by the informal swimming period from 10:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

During the exercise classes will be furnished and the exercise will be by synchronized recording led by Mrs. Sally White. The swim period is an informal one with no lessons given.

To participate in either or both of these classes you need only be a member of the Youth Center. Memberships may be purchased during any open hours.

Congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Clint Freeman, White Deer, on the birth of a boy at 11:22 a.m. weighing 8 lbs. 2 ozs.

Suspect Still Held In Jail

Gray County sheriff's officers said Saturday afternoon that Gary D. Sikes, 28, of Pampa remained in custody in the county jail in lieu of $100,000 bond following his arrest on a charge of "aggravated sexual abuse - threats."

Sikes was arrested here Thursday night after a special session of the Gray County Grand Jury handed down an indictment earlier Thursday.

He is charged in connection with an incident which occurred Aug. 14 in Lefors.

County Sheriff Rufe Jordan said the arrest resulted from an intensive investigation on the part of his office and that of Pampa Chief of Police Jim Conner, along with Texas Ranger Bill Baten, and Constable R.B. White of Lefors.

The investigation, extending back some seven or eight months, reportedly is continuing.

Gibsons Plans Service Center Of Distribution

Delmar Watkins, president of the Sandra Corporation, and the Pampa Industrial Foundation jointly announced Saturday the construction of a new 50,000 square foot warehouse and distribution center to be built in the foundation's industrial park, number one, located at the east end of Kingsmill St. in Pampa.

The new distribution center will service ten Gibson Discount Stores located in this general area.

In addition to the Pampa store, other operations are located in Canyon, Borger, Dumas, Hereford, Friona, Elk City, Okla., Tulia, Dimmitt and Tucumcari.

The general contractor will be Hogan Construction Company of Pampa. Construction will be basically steel and concrete, complete with loading docks for both truck and rail transportation, paved parking area, rail siding and offices.

Construction is expected to get under way within the next few days and will be ready for occupancy by March 1 or before.

The new business will provide from 12 to 15 new jobs, Watkins said.

Philippines Soldiers Hunt For Communists Leader

NOVALICHES, Philippines (UPI) — Helicopter-borne soldiers hunting the head of the Communist party in the Philippines raided a Roman Catholic seminary Saturday and arrested 20 laymen and a priest.

The Rev. Benigno Mayo, head of the Jesuit order in the Philippines, was arrested on his way to the Sacred Heart novitiate, questioned and later released without charge.

Officers in charge of the raid produced a warrant authorizing them to search the novitiate for Jose Maria Sison, head of the Communist party of the Philippines. He was not found and priests said he had not been on the premises.

McLean Gets New Building For Students

McLEAN — Agriculture students at McLean High School moved into a new building when they returned to classes last Monday.

The new department occupies 3,600 square feet and is located at the corner of Gray and 5th St. on the campus.

It houses approximately 2,400 square feet of shop space, a class room, an office, two restrooms, three storage rooms and a dressing room.

The building is air conditioned throughout.

Head of the Agriculture program, Kenneth McGinty, indicated that 45 persons, including three girls, were enrolled as compared to 26 last year.

McGinty helped to plan the building and is enthusiastic about its effect on the quality of the program and the interest in it.

Construction on the steel structure began almost a year ago to replace the existing prison - of - war buildings which had been used since the program's creation.

The project was completed at a cost of $37,500.

Those arrested were taken under guard by bus from the seminary 14 miles north of Manila to Camp Crame on the outskirts of Quezon City, the capital on the outskirts of Manila.

Priests at the novitiate said those arrested, all Filipinos, had come to the seminary early Saturday to attend a community development seminar.

Priests and nuns from several foreign countries who came to the rolling 50-acre campus to attend separate religious retreats watched in amazement as the raiders streamed from three helicopters and made arrests, searched rooms and carried off documents.

Asked what charges had been filed against those arrested, Father Victor Helly, superintendent at the institution, said "nobody is ever charged."

"I was praying when the soldiers came in," said Sister Eileen O'Neill, an Irish nun now doing missionary work in India. "Now I know what martial law in the Philippines means."

School Board Calls Meeting

A special meeting of the board of trustees of Pampa Independent School District has been called for Aug. 27 at Carver Educational Service Center.

The agenda for the 3 p.m. meeting contains five items, including final amendments and adoption of the budget for the past school year, the finalized version of the 1973-74 budget must be submitted to the Texas Education Agency.

Also to be considered are a Bible course offered at the high school for the first time this year, auditor's professional fee and the adult education program.

There will be a report on the courses offered by Clarendon, Amarillo, and Frank Phillips College at Borger.

A board spokesman said Saturday there is also the possibility that one teacher will be hired.

Opinions Differing On Vietnam Battle

SAIGON (UPI) — Fighting in South Vietnam now is more intense than it was during the secret 1972 negotiations which resulted in a cease-fire declaration.

As usual in Vietnam, no one knows how to stop it, and analysts are not sure just what it all means.

Spokesmen for the Viet Cong, publicly and privately, insist the nationwide attacks which began July 17 do not constitute an offensive.

"This is not an offensive and we are not going to launch an offensive," said a senior officer flatly.

The Saigon command disagrees. "The Communists have launched a general offensive, marked with high points of intense fighting within the offensive," said spokesman Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien.

Discrimination Case Charged

TYLER, Tex. (UPI) — A Dec. 2 trial date has been set for an alleged case of racial discrimination in hiring and firing in the Lufkin Independent School District.

The suit was filed Aug. 12 by Harold Strong, a 15-year veteran vocational agriculture teacher who was fired because of charges he made improper advances to three white teachers. The suit said two white teachers found to have done the same thing were not fired.

Strong seeks $100,000 in damages, reinstatement and back pay and benefits.

U. S. District Judge William Wayne Justice set the trial date during a pretrial hearing Saturday.

STILL DREAMING OF PRESIDENCY?

Rocky Admits To Some Mistakes

SEAL HARBOR, Maine (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller "totally relaxed" in his new role as vice presidential nominee, admits he probably made some mistakes in the three times he ran for president but has no regrets. As he sat on a crude pine bench and talked philosophically of his political life and great wealth, he conveyed a feeling that he still dreams of being president.

Wearing a bright yellow sport shirt open at the neck, matching socks and dark green slacks, Rockefeller spoke casually with reporters for more than an hour at his vacation compound on the Maine coast near where he was born in 1908.

He will be 72 in 1980 and many say that's too old to run for president. Does he agree?

"I think it's totally irrelevant today," he answered. "The times are too critical to talk about politics."

Now at 66, as he prepares for congressional hearings on his confirmation, Rockefeller seems less reluctant than in the past to discuss his fortune.

"Well, to be very frank, I never felt the disadvantages. Nor did I have a feeling of guilt."

"Money brought with it tremendous opportunity and responsibility. I learned that from my grandfather and my father. It's like a tool—a sharp tool—if you misuse it you can get cut badly but if you use it wisely there are a lot of things you can do—that's what I've done."

A reporter told him that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy once said Rockefeller's greatest mistake was withdrawing too early from the first time he ran for president.

"Sen. Kennedy said that if you'd stayed in, in 1950—if you'd run against then Vice President Nixon in all of the primaries—that you would have won the nomination and you might have beaten his brother. Do you agree with that?"

"Well there are a lot of things you could say," he replied. "I'd only been governor a year. And you know you can say things about the other times—about 1964 and 1968—but you know I never look backward and worry about the past."

"You can speculate about what you want, but I look toward the future. I'm sure I made a lot of mistakes, but I don't worry about it."

The former governor also spoke openly about the 1971 Attica prison riot where 43 inmates and prison employees lost their lives.

"I followed it step by step. I based what I did on a new commissioner—a man with a great record in prison reform."

2 Civilians Caught In Crossfire, Die

BELFAST (UPI) — Two civilians were shot when they walked into crossfire between British soldiers and suspected Irish Republican Army guerrillas in the border town of Crossmaglen, an army spokesman said Saturday.

The spokesman said it had not been determined whether the civilians were hit by shots from the troops or their attackers in two separate incidents at Crossmaglen, 50 miles from Belfast, late Friday night.

No security force or IRA casualties were reported in either incident.

The spokesman said an army foot patrol came under fire outside Short's bar on Crossmaglen's North Street, and the troops shot back. A pedestrian was wounded in the shoulder during the exchange, the spokesman said.

Five minutes later, a man driving a mini-van was hit when he crossed the line of fire in a 15-minute gun battle between troops and gunmen at Poyntzpass, the spokesman said.

South of the border, in the Irish Republic, police found an English-registered automobile which had been hijacked by IRA fugitives who blasted their way out of prison six days earlier.

Police said they found the car in the Wicklow area, about 20 miles from the spot where six of the fugitives slipped through an army and police cordon Thursday.

The discovery of the car shifted the focus of the hunt to Ballyglass, 35 miles southwest of Dublin.

Lake Meredith To End Some Of Its Activity

Labor Day will signal the end of many summer activities for Lake Meredith Recreation Area.

The Spring Canyon Swimming Area below Sanford Dam will close for the season on Labor Day. Weekday tours of Alibates National Monument will be conducted by reservation only after that date.

Weekend tours of the flint quarries at Alibates will continue to be available through October. No reservations are needed for families or individuals joining the tours at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Groups desiring tours should contact the National Park Service in Sanford for arrangements.

The Sept. 1 opening of dove season shifts the center of activity from the lakeshore to the canyon above the lake, according to National Park Service officials. Picnic areas, launching ramps and other heavily used areas are closed to the use of firearms.

Maps showing the legal hunting portions of Lake Meredith Recreation Area are available from National Park Service Headquarters in Sanford, or from any park ranger. Copies of Texas hunting and fishing regulations are also available.

Clayton Picking Up Votes For Speaker

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Rep. Bill Clayton, D-Springlake, adding momentum to his race for 1975 House speaker. Saturday announced commitments of support from four more representatives.

Clayton predicted his campaign will be successfully completed by early October.

The new supporters were Reps. Bennie Bock, New Braunfels, Don Henderson, R-Houston, Bill Presnal, D-Bryan, and Felix McDonald, D-Edinburg.

Clayton, Rep. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, and Rep. Fred Head, D-Athens, are considered the three top contenders for the speaker's position.

The four new supporters issued a joint statement expressing confidence in Clayton's legislative abilities and calling him "a strong leader with the ability to work effectively with all the members of the legislature, regardless of their race, philosophy or political party affiliation."

"Bill Clayton is the leader the Texas House needs if we are ever to gain the forefront as a model of legislative effectiveness for the nation," the statement said.

The conservative Clayton was considered far behind the more liberal Parker and Head when the speaker's race began in earnest in May.

Auto Insurance Course Planned

CLARENDON — Clarendon College has announced the offering of a class in insurance that is designed to help the local agencies with all the areas of responsibility related to a successful agency operation.

Automobile Insurance Coverage and Ratings will be taught by Weldon Talley of Amarillo, who holds a Bachelor degree from West Texas State University and has 13 years of field experience in the insurance business. The course will cover all phases of automobile insurance.

Classes will be held each Tuesday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. in Room 103 of the Academic Center at Clarendon College starting Sept. 10 and ending Dec. 17. Cost of the course is $50 for the semester of instruction.

Anyone interested in taking the course should contact Beryl Clinton, academic dean, Clarendon College.

TEXAS GUEST Jean Marc Chicco of LaCouronne, France, had the opportunity this week to inform his American family. Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Massa, 1000 Christine, about his own country. Leaving today for Austin, he will attend the University of Texas through the Experiment in International Living Program. Participants come from all over the world and about 80 percent are males, ranging from 18 to 35.

DURING VISIT HERE

French Student Enjoys His Stay In High Plains

By BOBBYE COMBS

Upon his arrival in Amarillo, less than a week ago, Jean Marc Chicco of LaCouronne, France, was most impressed with the High Plains of the panhandle.

He is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Massa, 1000 Christine, and will depart from Pampa today for Austin, where he will attend the University of Texas for two years through the Experiment in International Living Program.

The Experiment arranges the placement of foreign students enrolled in US colleges and universities in individual homes upon their arrival in this country. This homestay gives them an opportunity to adjust to American life before they report to their campuses.

For all recipients of scholarships to the U.S. awarded by the French government, departure preparations are made by the Franco-American Commission for educational exchange.

Chicco completed the Ecole Supérieure in Paris, (equivalent to a masters degree in electrical engineering with a specialization in process control.)

During his stay in the U.S. and Texas, Jean will entertain friends from France by showing them points of interest in Texas and parts of Mexico.

After returning to France, where he enjoys swimming, skiing and sailing, he must complete one year's obligation. National Service, formerly called Military Service, where he will be using his specialization either in electrical engineering or electronics.

National scholarship holders are required to work in France at the beginning of their careers, and Jean plans to take "an interesting job" somewhere in France.

Chicco's father is manager of a cement factory, part of a multi-national company which has branches throughout the world.

His mother is a homemaker and he has two brothers: One 15, lives at home and the other studies medicine in France.

When asked about his impression of Texas, Jean stated, "It's true, Texans are the friendliest."

5 KILLED

Red Rockets Hit Residential Area

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist rockets aimed at the sprawling Bien Hoa air base north of Saigon fell short for the second day in a row and struck a residential area Saturday, killing five civilians. The Saigon command said.

Field reports said Communist troops also cut a vital road link to Da Nang in a new drive just eight miles from South Vietnam's second largest city.

Four other persons were wounded when at least six 107mm mortars crashed into a populated quarter in Duc Tu district on the edge of the Bien Hoa base, 14 miles north of the capital, the command said.

The air base and the surrounding area were struck at sunup Friday with 15 Russian-made 122mm rockets, the biggest in the Communist arsenal. Most of the rockets fell into civilian areas, killing eight persons and wounding 11.

The city has a population of about 175,000 and houses the military headquarters which commands government units in the 11 provinces around Saigon. Government planes fly from the base each day on bombing runs against Communist positions.

UPI photographer Lim Thanh Van said the battle south of Da Nang on Highway 1 killed at least 11 civilians, most of them war refugees. Military casualties were not known.

South Vietnamese units based at the Cau Ren bridge tried to defend their position and the civilians were caught in the crossfire, field officers said.

In Laos, Premier Souvanna Phouma appealed to his countrymen in a nationwide radio broadcast Saturday to take special precautions to avoid "every possible conflict" while he is in France recovering from a heart attack he suffered July 12.

The neutralist premier named Deputy Premier Phoumi Vongvichit, a member of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, to preside over the four-month-old coalition government in his absence.

Cambodian government anti-aircraft batteries stationed around President Lon Nol's palace fired at a government military DC3 plane Saturday as it flew in restricted air space above the palace grounds.

Military sources said the plane was not hit and the aircraft continued its flight.

Boys Ranch Plans Labor Day Rodeo

The biggest Labor Day attraction of the Texas Panhandle is the annual Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch where more than 370 boys will be putting on the 30th presentation of the nationally-known event.

The Ranch's boys have been preparing for most of the summer by trying to become contestants by riding calves, steers, bulls and bucking broncs.

The rodeo's two-hour time limit restricts the number of entries to about 150 boys, but all will have some part in the rodeo production.

Trophies are awarded to riders for the best performances in each riding event. All the boys will be competing for the titles of Junior and Senior All-Around Cowboys.

The two top riders will also share the Michael McAngus Thomas Memorial trophy, a sculpture created by Amarillo artist Jim Thomas in memory of his son.

The rodeo will also be an annual reunion of the Boys Ranch Alumni Association who members are composed of young men who have lived at the Ranch since its founding by Cal Farley in 1939.

Another attraction will be barbecue beef plates that will be prepared and sold by the boys for $1.50. Rodeo performances are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Sept. 1 and 2.

Reserve box seat tickets are available at the Boys Ranch Administration office, 600 West 11th in Amarillo for $2.50. General admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children and service - men in uniform.

RAE LYNNE STONE ...in student publication

Local Girl Named To Who's Who

Rae Lynne Stone, senior at Pampa High School, has been notified of her inclusion in the eighth annual edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1973-74, the largest student award publication in the nation.

Miss Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Stone, 2205 N. Christy, will have her biography published in the edition, which honors students from across the nation for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service. Less than three percent of junior and senior class students from over 20,000 public, private and parochial high schools nation-wide are awarded the recognition.

A semi-finalist in the recent Miss Top O' Texas Beauty Pageant, Miss Stone is a member of the PHS marching and concert bands, a charter member of the Pampa Civic Ballet Company and a member of Explorers Post 4.

She has worked with Junior Volunteers at Highland General Hospital.

In addition to having her biography published, she will also compete for one of ten scholarship awards of $500 to $1,000 funded by the publishers. She has been invited to participate in the firm's annual survey of high achievers.

She plans to attend either Tyler Junior College at Tyler or Texas Tech University at Lubbock after graduation.

GAME ROOM

Activity in our recreation hall game room has really been busy this summer. Some parents are very pleased that we have installed some coin operated machines for the young people to have fun on.

Young people may come to a wholesome clean place and have a barrel of fun on our driving machine, foosball machines, air hockey and pin ball machines as well as ping pong, pool and other quiet games.

All young people are invited to participate.

DOLPHIN SWIM TEAM

The Dolphins are an AAU sanctioned swim team which competes in both boys and girls age classes. They attend several swim meets during the school year which are held on weekends. Swimmers are divided into 10 and under, 11-12, 13-14 and 15 and up classes.

If you are interested in competitive swimming, the Dolphins would invite you to join their club. They are most interested in promoting good swimmers. The only pre-requisites are that you become a Center member and have a desire to swim.

Come by the Center any evening at 6 p.m. and full information will be given to you.

HEALTH CLUB FACILITY

In conjunction with the Youth Center proper there is a health club facility for those interested in physical activity or losing weight. This physical building was completed in 1969 and has been an integral part of our program ever since.

Included in the health facility is a sauna, two handball and racquetball courts, sit-up boards, barrell rollers, bicycles, 4-way bicycles, exerow machine, sun lamp, multi-press machine, leg press machine, barbells, dumbbells, health walker, box platform, incline bench, supine bench, leg and thigh curl machine, vibrator belts

Potter County Plans Report

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — A report of the investigation of the attempted escape from the Potter County jail will be issued Monday, Chief Deputy Bob McCarty said.

McCarty said the report will show how many persons took part in the uprising, whether there was any abuse of female prisoners and the details of the activity in the cellblock during the 36-hour affair.

The apparent ringleader of the takeover, which included four other active participants including a female prisoner, was killed when deputies shot their way into the jail last Wednesday. Three others were wounded.

Gunman Shoots Man At Party

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — One man was killed and three others wounded by a man who broke into a private birthday party Friday at a bar and began shooting, police said.

The dead man was Julius Polk, 56. He died at a hospital early Saturday, about a half hour after the incident at the bar.

Police said the gunman burst into the lounge and started shooting at a 27-year-old man who he had argued with early in the evening. The gunshots hit Polk, the 27-year-old and two others.

Officers said the gunman was still at large.

Staten Island is more than twice as large as Manhattan, 64 square miles to 31.

Male Aide Charged In Deaths Of Patients

PETERSBURG, Va. (UPI) — A second murder indictment against a former nurse's aide may be sought and as many as 10 more bodies assumed in an investigation of suspicious deaths in a hospital's coronary care unit, authorities indicated Saturday.

Petersburg Commonwealth's Attorney J. Thompson Wyatt said autopsies have already shown that two patients in the Petersburg General Hospital coronary unit died from overdoses of lidocaine, a drug that should be used under carefully controlled conditions in emergency treatment of some serious heart ailments.

Wyatt said lidocaine was found in the bodies of Josephine Thomas, 73, who died June 30, and Thomas W. Wray, 85, who died June 29. He has said he will exhume as many more bodies as necessary for his investigation.

Wyatt ordered Wray's body exhumed Aug. 15, the day after Lee Roy Hargrave Jr., 21, was charged with murdering Miss Thomas. Hargrave worked the 11 p.m.-7 a.m. shift at the hospital. Officials said both Miss Thomas and Wray died during those hours.

At least 10 other coronary unit patients died between June 13 and June 30, which hospital officials said was nearly double the normal death rate for a month.

Lidocaine is kept on a cart in the coronary unit, along with other drugs for emergency use. But Wyatt, referring to the deaths of Wray and Miss Thomas said, "The information I had was that it was not prescribed. My understanding is that the only way to get it in is the injection."

Wyatt said while he is not committed to seeking another indictment against Hargrave he expected to present the coroner's report "to the next available grand jury."

Wyatt said the next grand jury session is Sept. 19, the same day Hargrave faces arraignment on the Thomas murder charge. Although he could call a special grand jury session he said several members are on vacation.

Wyatt said his next step was to contact Dr. Joseph P. Whittle, co-director of the hospital's coronary care unit, to decide which body to exhume next. Whittle, who spoke with newsmen earlier in the week, refused comment Saturday.

Louis Primmer, the hospital's night administrative supervisor, said the entire hospital staff had been instructed not to give out any information.

Hargrave, who was being held in the Petersburg Correctional Center in lieu of $100,000 bond, was suspended from his job the day of Miss Thomas' death. He was fired July 10, after a Pinkerton, Inc., investigation requested by the hospital. Hargrave had worked summers at the hospital since 1971 and became a full-time nurse's assistant April 23.

Hargrave attended Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va., for a year before returning home to Petersburg to work. A friend said he wanted to study pre-med in college and become a physician.

"Roy aspired to be a doctor because he wanted to help people," said Sarah Ballard, 22. "We've known each other since we were four years old. We grew up together. We were very close. He's a quiet sort, intelligent, a reader."

FPC Will Conduct First LVN Graduation Exercises

Graduation exercises for the first class of Licensed Vocational Nursing students who training was conducted under the auspices of the Division of Occupational Education and Technology of Frank Phillips College will be held Friday, Aug. 23, in the FPC Fine Arts Auditorium. Emmett Johnson, administrator of High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo, will give the main address during the ceremony which will begin at 7 p.m.

Twenty students from seven different Texas and Oklahoma cities will receive diplomas from Dr. William E. Raab, president. Mrs. Ella M. Weeter, R.N., director of the LVN program, will conduct the Presentation of Pins; and Mrs. Marilyn Vermillion, R.N., FPC instructor, will conduct the Lamp Lighting and lead the Vocational Nurse Pledge. Andy Hicks, Frank Phillips' Director of Occupational Education and Technology, will preside.

The Licensed Vocational Nursing programs, formerly conducted by area hospitals, Pampa and Borger, merged during the summer of 1973, and Frank Phillips College of Borger was approved by the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners, the Texas Education Agency, and the Division of Post Secondary Occupational Education and Technology of Texas to be the controlling agency and instructional base for the LVN program in the Northern Panhandle. Each hospital is designated as affiliated agencies and provides clinical facilities for the 12 month course.

Mrs. Thomas Brooks will provide the processional and recessional music for this historic occasion, and Roger Brown will present the special music during the ceremony. The public is invited to attend.

Students who will receive diplomas and therefore be eligible to qualify for the State Board Examinations to be given in Austin Oct. 28 and 29 are Joyce Marie Adams, Marcia Hillman, Cathy Ruth Pettit, Jerry Laquita Bellflower, Florence Bernese Quarles, and Mary Suzanne Wilkinson, all of Pampa; Vonna Gay Casida, Sheila Gay Ennis, Carol Ann Herbst, Billie Ruth Hickman, Genevieve Louise Hill, Dorothy Joanne Price, Debra Karen Rice, Rebecca Sue Routon, and Joyce Ann Snyder, all of Borger; Kitt Meaker of Panhandle; Esther Arlene Sword of Canadian; Helen Rae Weese of Shattuck, Oklahoma; Judy Yvonne Denney of Cheyenne, Oklahoma; and Elizabeth Haytchen Smith of Felt, Oklahoma.

Since the Vocational Nurse provides much of the bedside care for patients, the one year program of concentrated study, and experience is considered a most essential part of the health profession in meeting the needs of any geographic areas' hospitals and homes.

FPC's Licensed Vocational Nursing Department has already accepted 35 applicants for its 1974-75 class which begins this month, therefore continuing in its efforts to meet the health needs of the Panhandle area.

Consumer Market Report

COLLEGE STATION - Although prices are up, eggs should be high on "budget-minded" lists, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt said this week.

The consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, listed ground beef, pot roasts, picnics, luncheon meats, franks and liver as "good standbys" for menus during days ahead.

Admitting uncertainty in predicting meat prices, she said upcoming weeks promise higher prices and fewer specials.

"Look for best beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks and roasts, and ground beef.

"Pork values will be picnics, hams, shoulder roasts and steaks, and pork liver.

"Fryers continue as one of the more popular summer cookout items, and turkeys are still economical."

At produce counters, Mrs. Clyatt reported watermelon and cantaloupe among current best buys - "they're abundant and show good quality."

Other economical vegetables include cabbage, carrots, red potatoes, dry yellow onions, squash, radishes, green onions, okra and purple hull peas.

Fruits in good supply at the most economical prices are nectarines, plums of several varieties, bananas, grapes and pears.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Ice cream is a boon to summer menus.

Between meals, this tempting frozen dessert can supply small fry with varied snacks and extra milk nutrients - don't forget cones to make the treat "portable."

PRIZE WINNERS

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Robert Redford and Norman Jewison each won a David De Donatello prize, Italy's most prestigious film award, for "The Sting" and "Jesus Christ Superstar" respectively.

Macaroni Meal-Maker

Macaroni makes a hearty meatless meal when it's prepared casserole-style, with generous additions of tomatoes and cheese. Serve with salad and a hearty soup. Progresso Minestrone, straight from the can, would be an appropriately Italian choice.

1 lb. elbow macaroni
1 can (17 oz.) Progresso Italian peeled tomatoes
1/2 tsp. oregano
salt and pepper
3 Tbsps. olive oil
grated Parmesan cheese

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Rinse with cold water. Drain tomatoes. Arrange with macaroni in oven-proof casserole. Season with oregano, salt and pepper. Sprinkle with olive oil and liberal amounts of cheese. Heat 10 minutes in pre-heated 375° oven. Serves 6.

Dallas Troupe Will Appear In Dinner-Theatre Thursday

The Pampa Fine Arts Association is sponsoring a dinner-theatre production, the Alpha-Omega Players, a nationally acclaimed troupe from Dallas, in one performance, "Where Are You Going, Hollis Jay?" by Benjamin Bradford.

If you can remember the wonderful agony of being eighteen and in love for the first time - you'll fall in love again, with Hollis Jay. If you've forgotten the time of innocence and awkwardness, "Hollis Jay" will refresh your memory. This is an outrageously funny play and is a nostalgic delight for all ages.

Performers scheduled to appear Thursday, Aug. 29 are Shelley Russell in her first year with the Alpha-Omega Players, hailing from Urbana, Ohio. She received her BA in theater at Otterbein College and has spent a year as a professional apprentice at the Alley Theatre in Houston.

Kerry Phillips, in his first season with The Players, is from Port Neches, Tex. He graduated from Lamar University in Beaumont, with a BA in speech.

The dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. with the performance to follow, in the Heritage Room of The M.K. Brown Auditorium. Deadline for all tickets is Monday, Aug. 26. The price of each ticket is $6.50 per person, which includes the dinner and play.

For reservations contact Mrs. W.R. Whitsell, Theatre Arts Chairman.

ABC'S Of A Child's Mental Health

COLLEGE STATION - Before a child ever goes to school, he or she is already well on the way to learning an important lesson - the ABC's of mental health, one family life education specialist pointed out.

"Affection, balance, communication, development and expressiveness are reflected throughout a person's life, but they begin with a good parent-child relationship," Dr. Jennie Kitching, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said this week.

AFFECTION is an integral part of good mental health. Children who are comfortable with adults and children and enjoy their company - who are generally at ease with people - are showing this trait.

There's something about the child that makes it important to get close to people because that's the way he or she can receive and give affection, Dr. Kitching noted.

A child soon begins learning to BALANCE his own wishes against the needs of other members of his family. Sometimes other children take advantage and the child has to protect himself.

Learning balance in relations and needs is part of growing interdependence. All children COMMUNICATE. A child has her own interests to talk about and says spontaneously what is on her mind. At times a child may be stubborn or irritable as well as pleasant. But he usually is aware of what other people are saying," Dr. Kitching said.

He can communicate in several ways - he talks, listens, observes and feels. The ability to communicate in multiple ways indicates natural sensitivity to other people and to oneself - another attribute of good mental health.

"DEVELOPMENT of interdependence, then gradually interdependence, is essential for a child's good mental health. Children rapidly learn to care for their own needs," she said. An indicator of the growing need for independence is the child's phrase, "I can do it myself."

As young people develop qualities of independence, they gradually recognize the place of interdependence in everyday living. Interdependence is a balance between dependence and independence.

A mentally healthy person is neither totally independent nor dependent. In some respects she is dependent, in other ways she is independent. Accepting the reality of interdependence is another positive mental health trait, Dr. Kitching explained.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 25
Your birthday today: Necessitates your realization that there is no easy route, as challenges develop through the coming year. You triumph in subjective, spiritual experience rather than in material affairs. Keep simple and direct your daily living and your enterprises. Today's natives have deep insight, often the ability to write or explain their experience.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: You've got nearly everything going for you. Take a normal and prompt part in community activities for favored solitary pursuits. Don't overdo anything.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Restless but short-lived moods of impulse or temper needn't lead you into spoiling a good thing. Don't try to "keep up" with a neighbor; stay ahead by being yourself.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Younger people and their problems catch your attention. Reconsider what you really want to achieve and whether you can through present methods.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Be selective in choosing a few people with which to spend the day. Tackle no more than you had originally planned. The goal now is simplicity.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Recognize detours or deviations from expected routines before plunging into action. Seek a conservative amount and let others have a fair share.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: General conditions improve. Benefits may arise from intelligent compromise, sensible adjustments. Take great care and nothing for granted if you drive.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Contemplating the day's events gives you perspective. Select a moderate course, then do what is expected of you with grace and elegance. Rest early.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Don't be surprised if your ideas clash head-on with the plans of others. Smooth ruffled tempers as best you can, but proceed firmly.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Fresh opportunity abounds for the eligible as you complete traditional observances and visits. Be brief, linger nowhere, keep moving.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Today is rather "iffy." Be punctual, but wait for arrangements to be made before settling on particular action. Your contribution should be modest and unassuming.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Those who know you well see you have an easier day. You encounter the unfamiliar with enough rough-going to detract a bit from the fun. Be reasonable in your presentations.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Keep business and commercial activity completely out of your scheme. Concentrate on making life simple and comfortable, your home and family peaceful.

Heare-Keeling

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Stroup, 1825 Dogwood, and Mr. and Mrs. James Frank Heare of Miami, Tex., announce the engagement of their daughter, Teri Kay, to Jimmy Ray Keeling, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Moore, Canyon, and H. L. Keeling, Denver, Colo. Miss Heare is the granddaughter of Ray McReynolds and the late Mrs. McReynolds of Canyon, and Mrs. B. C. Heare and the late Mr. Heare of Panhandle. The bride-elect attended Amarillo Colledge and West Texas State University where she is a member of Kappa Alpha. The prospective bridegroom is self-employed in the insulation business. The couple will wed Oct. 19 in the home of her mother.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

MONDAY, AUGUST 26
Your birthday today: Finds you making headway on a long-term project, with several months of demanding work left before major results come suddenly near year's end. Experience now gives you all the tools you need for future developments. Relationships continue normally, despite their inconvenience. Today's natives follow orthodox work methods, take pride in doing things right.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: You make many plans and deals that don't come out as expected. Set your own reservations, stay free for alternatives. Bright ideas arrive late at night.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Experiment, find out what's wrong with existing installations, but don't confirm changes until tomorrow. Well-meaning friends become involved; watch what they do.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: In general, things are on the upswing, require no immediate action. Those who listen carefully hear subtle indications of unspoken wishes in later hours.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Career prematurely advances. Be conservative, double-check details and avoid changes today. Expect a different story tomorrow. Home life proceeds well tonight.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Today opens and closes a grand experiment. If you take it seriously, anticipate adjustments later. Evening promises a glimpse of unlikely directions.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Any effort to improve home and surroundings yields extra results. Hold off your program of business initiatives and new contacts, at least until tomorrow.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Effect creative ideas just enough to map them out for completion later. Home and family affairs become more important.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Have patience while the establishment labors over details. Withdraw to pursue light pastimes. If you must work, do so systematically.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Quit while you're ahead. Tidy up your personal life; pass up speculative ventures. Favorable financial news arrives in later hours.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Add to your reserves to be ahead of the game. Continue research and routine while others advertise themselves and their faults. Late news is cheerful.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Keep your reserve funds intact and out of the day's complex schemes. Observe rather than participate right now. Evening hours are conducive to social progress.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Although they help social activity, public concerns aren't quite in line with personal projects. There's much to talk about, but few final answers.

Cain-Tarbet Exchange Vows In Lefors Double-Ring Rites

The marriage of Miss Sandra Elaine Cain and Valta Brent Tarbet was solemnized Saturday, Aug. 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, Lefors. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Cain and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tarbet, both of Lefors.

THE CEREMONY
The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rick Wadley, pastor. Organist, Miss Pam James, Pampa, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Wanda Beaver, Lubbock, who played "Color My World," on the flute for the professional of the candlelighters and the wedding party. Miss James played the traditional wedding march for the entrance of the bride.

Vocalists, Miss Carol Messersmith, Lubbock, sang, "Time In a Bottle," and Miss Diane Tarbet, Lefors, sang, "It Seems I've Always Loved You." "One Love," was sung by Mrs. Wanda Beaver, Lubbock, and Miss Kathy Eady, Lubbock, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Two 14-branched spiral candelabra entwined with salal foliage and basket arrangements of orchid and white carnations and baby's breath in tall pedestals flanked the wedding party.

THE BRIDE
The bride was given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal. She wore a formal gown of white silk organza over bridal taffeta designed with an empire bodice covered with Venice lace, marked at center back with an organza bow. The long sheer Gibson Girl sleeves were caught at the wrists by deep cuffs of lace and ruffles. Her softly gathered skirt fell to a deep flounce ruffle cascading into back fullness in a chapel train. Appliques of Venice lace in daisy design enhanced the skirt.

Her three-tiered waist length veil of bridal illusion fell from a matching Camelot-coil-covered with lace, daisy appliques and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, orchid carnations and baby's breath with matching ribbon streamers over a white Bible covered with lace.

The bride wore birthdate pennies in her shoe for something old; something new was pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom; and her something borrowed was a diamond necklace belonging to her sister. She wore the traditional blue garter.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Susan Lowder, Canyon, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Diane Tarbet, Lefors, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kathy Gillespie of Stinnett and Mrs. Margie Owens, Breckenridge. Mrs. Lowder wore a floor length A-line dress of traditional organza sprigged with white rose buds over orchid designed with a square neckline and butterfly sleeves. She wore an orchid garden hat enhanced with white ribbon streamers.

Other bridal attendants wore identical gowns of the matron of honor and wore white garden hats trimmed with orchid ribbon streamers. Each carried a basket of orchid carnations with white baby's breath.

Reese Tarbet, Shamrock, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer, and Rhett Tarbet, Shamrock, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Miss Tarbet was dressed identically to the bridal attendants.

Candlelighters were John Mark Tarbet, brother of the bridegroom, and Daryl Cain, brother of the bride, both of Lefors.

Raymond Kendall, Lubbock, was best man. Groomsmen were Larry Beaver, Lubbock, George Orm, Weatherford, and Billy Earles, Lefors. Terry Dunn, cousin of the bride, and Daryl Cain, brother of the bride, both of Lefors, and Fred Lowder, Canyon, brother-in-law of the bride, seated wedding guests.

MOTHERS
The bride's mother was attired in a formal gown of floral knit designed with a fitted waistline.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in an aqua sleeveless formal gown of knit designed with an A-line waistline. The gown was complemented with diamond studded beads.

Both wore white corsages.

RECEPTION
The reception was held in fellowship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The bridal table, covered with a floor length orchid cloth, was overlaid with white lace and centered with an arrangement of orchid and white carnations, and baby's breath, flanked by crystal candle holders holding orchid tapers.

The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with orchid roses and tiny wedding bells was topped with a Keepsake ornament of bells made of porcelain, a gift from the bridegroom's aunt. Doves and bells rested on the bottom tier, with the names of the bride and bridegroom inscribed.

Mrs. Cheri Earles, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs.

Guyla Eudey, both of Lefors, served cake. Miss Cyndi Koetting, Pampa, poured punch and Miss Laura Best, Pampa, registered wedding guests. Following the wedding trip to Amarillo, the couple will reside in Lubbock where both will be seniors at Texas Tech University. For traveling, the bride wore a wine and white floral double knit dress and lifted the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

AFFILIATIONS
The bride, a 1971 Lefors High School graduate, will receive a bachelor of business administration degree in May, 1975 from TTU. She is a member of National Collegiate Association of Secretaries and Pi Omega Pi, an honorary business education sorority, and a member of the Dean's Honor Roll. She will be employed at TTU. The bridegroom, a 1971 LHS graduate, will graduate May 1975 from TTU with a construction engineer technology degree. He was a member of the Dean's Honor Roll and is presently employed by Canadian River Water Authority, Lubbock.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS
The bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower recently at First Baptist Church in Lefors. Hostesses were Mmes. Maude Presley, Delena Young, Imogene McMinn, Mary Ray, Vera Minter, Viola Nichols, Freddie Cody, Linda Sissle, Beverly Klein, Margie Keith, Leola Moxon, Lou Ella Allison, and Diane Hix.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at their home. The buffet was served in an out-of-door setting where individual tables were covered with red and white gingham cloths, centered with antique lanterns.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS
Attending the even from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Tarbet, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman and family, Iowa Park; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tarbet, Shamrock; Mrs. Margaret Chapman, McLean, grandmother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Valta Tarbet, Shamrock, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mrs. Bertie Cain, Hollis, Okla., grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sween, Lakeview; Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bates, Estelline; Mr. and Mrs. Odell Cain and Lee Ann, Groom; and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hunt, and Cindy, Dallas.

BLUEBONNET CLUB
The Bluebonnet Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Clifton for a business meeting and luncheon.

Mrs. Marie Boyd, vice president, presided. Roll call was answered on "How I'd like to fix my home."

Mrs. Francis Ellington presented the program on making terrariums. They made one and presented it to Mrs. Mattie Scott.

Mrs. Francis Ellington was honored with a birthday luncheon.

Members present were Marie Boyd, Jimmy Clifton, J.W. Dart, Clyde Gray, Anna Hutchens, Dalton Malone, Tony Smith, Hattie Wright, Mattie Scott, Fred Drum, Barney Gatlin and Francis Ellington.

Next meeting will be held Sept. 3 in the home of Mrs. J.W. Dart, 2015 Hamilton.

Homemakers News
By ELAINE HOUSTON

Last Friday was the last meeting for the Stretch and Sew classes. Thirty-five women attended the classes taught by Mrs. Helen Lemons of the Stretch and Sew Center in Amarillo. Becky Culp, clothing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service was in my office last Monday to bring me up to date in what's happening in the clothing and textile industry. You might be interested to know that clothing costs are expected to rise again thus making homemakers more aware of the importance of home sewing and recycling existing clothes. I think you will be reading and hearing a lot about recycling clothes in the future.

Hemlines have come down again and Becky says this is evident already in department stores in Amarillo. Hemlines had seemed to stabilize at the knee but they have dropped again to about an inch below the knee.

Colors popular for fall are misty and dusty shades of blues, greens, rusts and reds. Fashion newcomers are pinks and purples. Also, good will be greys, naturals and black.

When you plan your fall wardrobe, keep these things in mind.

Library Notes

By MARY FATHEREE
Lovett Library's summer reading program for youngsters, the "Monster Club," awarded certificates recently to 168 members who successfully completed their reading requirement of twelve or more books, selected in part from a suggested list prepared by the library staff.

Winifred Crinklaw, assistant librarian, says that this is the largest number to complete the program in the past several years.

Mrs. Walter Colwell reports that openings are still available in the Friends-sponsored "Library Story Time" project. Beginning September 5, Mrs. Colwell, Mrs. Cranz Nichols, and a group of volunteers will read stories to four and five-year-olds from 10:30 until 11 a.m. every Thursday through November 21.

Registration will be limited to 25, so if you want your children to participate, please call the library or Mrs. Colwell this week.

Board members of the Friends of the Pampa Library met last Monday to discuss plans for the fall which include a book review, selection of a Library Family of the Year, and the purchase of new audio-visual equipment for the library.

The board welcomed new members Mrs. David Holt, who will be chairman of the cultural and recreational committee; Mrs. Ross Buzzard and Mrs. M.K. Griffith, co-chairmen of the spring book sale, and Boyd Taylor, newly appointed chairman of the special gifts committee.

At this same meeting, Mrs. M. McDaniel, Friends president, announced that donations of used books for the 1975 Book Fair will be accepted for processing and storing beginning now and continuing up until the time of the sale next spring. When you run across books you no longer wish to keep, you may drop them at the library at your convenience.

The Friends now boasts and active membership of 468 individuals, families, and businesses.

The library's summer hours will still be in effect until after Labor Day, at which time the regular fall schedule will resume.

The McNaughton Collection of current best-selling fiction and non-fiction has been enlarged and some inviting new seating arrangements prepared for your comfort, so stop by the library soon and sample the fall reading fare.

NUTRIENT LABELING
Nutrient labeling can help in making meaningful comparisons between substitution foods. Values for fresh whole milk might be compared with chocolate milk; canned tuna with peanut butter, and cream cheese with American cheese. Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, suggested.

BETA CHI-KKI
Beta Chi, Lefors chapter of Kappa Kappa Iota, met recently for their first meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. Howard Archer, president.

After breakfast, programs for the current year were planned and hostesses were named.

Those attending were Miss Ardelle Briggs and Miss Norma Lantz, and Mmes. C. E. Fenno, Helen Lette, Lloyd McKnight, Robert Skaggs, Jerry Harris, Merray Stroud, R. V. Bull, Jerrel Julian, and the hostess.

She's not her sister's keeper

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Talk about a situation which is incredibly unbelievable—but true—the one in my own family takes the prize.

I have a 36-year-old sister who is unmarried and pregnant. She is attractive and self-supporting, and believe it or not, she is a practicing physician!

The problem is, she refuses to marry the baby's father. She says she knows who he is but she doesn't want to get married. She could have had an abortion with no trouble at all, but she didn't want one. Have you ever heard of anything so crazy in all your life?

No friend or relative can convince her that she is wrong. We were all so proud of her, and now she is about to disgrace the whole family.

She respects your advice, Abby. Can you help us convince this foolish, bull-headed woman that she should get married?

OLD-FASHIONED SISTER

DEAR SIS: Knowing nothing of the "baby's father" or your sister's reasons for refusing to marry him, I can't join your team. It's her life and her decision, and as a grown woman, it's her prerogative to decide what is best or HER. A person can disgrace only him (or herself). You are not your sister's keeper.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you can help me with a problem in my personal life. I hope so, because I can't ask anyone else.

I have known this young lady for about two years. Well, in the last month I have taken her out a few times, but only on a friendly basis. Now she tells me that she is in love with me!

The problem: Very recently, she introduced me to one of her friends who is also her neighbor. As soon as I met this friend, something sparked between us. I would like to ask her out. Even if she turned me down, it might cause hard feelings between her and her friend, and I would be out in the cold.

I want to avoid this. Don't tell me to forget the girl because girls like her are few and far between.

THREE IS A CROWD

DEAR THREE: You are a free agent. You've made no commitment to your old friend, and she has no claim on you, so go ahead and ask the "few and far between girl" for a date. If the "spark" was indeed a two-way ignition, she'll accept. You have more to gain than to lose.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow (nearly 60) who has been alone for two years. Before George died he asked me to promise him that, if anything happened to him, I would not marry a certain bachelor friend of ours. I was shocked at his request, but didn't know what else to say, so I said: "Of course, George. I promise," never dreaming anything would happen.

I have been going with this bachelor friend for nearly a year, as we were good friends. He says he loves me and wants to marry me. I want to marry him, too, but I am haunted by that promise I made George. Please advise me.

HAUNTED

DEAR HAUNTED: It is my feeling that since most deathbed promises are charged with emotion, they shouldn't be regarded as binding. But the decision is yours, so if you let that "promise" continue to haunt you, face it, you'll find no happiness with this man.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Miss Maness Becomes Bride Of Ted R. Day

MRS. TED R. DAY
nee Miss Jeanine Maness

Miss Jeanine Maness became the bride of Ted R. Day, Friday Aug. 23 at 7 p.m. in the home of her parents.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Maness, 431 N. Sumner. The bridegroom is the son of

Mrs. Sarah Day of Amarillo, and the late Mr. Lester Day. THE CEREMONY
Glen Walton, minister of Mary Ellen - Harvester Church of Christ, officiated for the double-ring ceremony performed before a brass candelabrum holding citron yellow candles and salal foliage, and a brass basket arrangement of yellow gladioli and green spider mums.

Miss Linda Reed, pianist, played the "Wedding March," and Bush Jordan and Miss Reed sang "We've Only Just Begun," and "The Lord's Prayer," and Mr. and Mrs. Bush Jordan sang, "Twelfth of Never."

THE BRIDE

With the "her mother and I," avowal, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white bridal satin. The empire bodice was overlaid with lace and the bell sleeves and overskirt of the gown were of silk organza edged with lace. The gown featured a scooped neckline and chapel length train, bordered with lace. Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a silk bandeau applied with lace and seed pearls and she carried a "Fantasy" cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses, stephanotis and pixie carnations with stands of ivy.

The bride carried an "old" linen handkerchief, belonging to her grandmother and a "borrowed" diamond drop necklace, belonging to her sister-in-law, Sonya Maness. She wore a "new" dress, birthdate pennies in her shoes and a blue garter.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Connie Maness, sister of the bride, was maid of honor wearing a white lace over mint green satin dress fashioned like the bridal attire. She carried a nosegay of yellow spider mums and yellow pom poms.

Ringbearer was Raymond Maness, brother of the bride, and Miss Shari Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Scott, was flower girl. She wore a white lace over yellow satin dress styled like the bridal attendants. She carried a white basket armband arranged with white daisy mums.

Best man was Jim Brown, Amarillo, and Randall Maness, brother of the bride of Bryan, seated guests.

MOTHERS

Mrs. Maness, mother of the bride, wore a coral floor length princess line gown designed with a V-neckline and long sleeves, enhanced by beaded trim. She wore camel accessories and a yellow sweetheart rose corsage.

The bride's grandmother wore an aqua floor length, A-line dress styled with a rounded neckline. She wore bone accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bridegroom's mother was unable to attend the event.

RECEPTION

The home reception was hosted by the bride's parents. The serving table was covered with white lace over a white satin cloth and was centered with an arrangement of green spider mums, white carnations and marguerite daisies, and a silver candelabrum with citron yellow candles. Silver appointments were used.

An angel topped the two-tiered divided wedding cake, decorated with roses and clusters of sweetpeas. Serving cake was Miss Cathy Collinsworth and Miss Debbie Fletcher, poured punch. Registering guests was Mrs. Sonya Maness. Assisting with other household duties were Mmes. Leo Scott, and L.G. Clifton.

Following the reception, the couple departed for a wedding trip to Dallas and the Gulf Coast. For traveling the bride wore a black with multicolored and-licked the corsage from her bridal bouquet. Future address of the couple is 4802 53rd, St. Lubbock.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School and Draughon's Business College, Amarillo.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Amarillo High School, is a veteran of the US Marine Corps. He is presently director of Draughon's Business College, Lubbock.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS. A pantry shower held recently in the Flame Room, was hosted by Miss Jeannie Cox and Miss Cindy Halford.

Hosting a recent miscellaneous bridal shower were Mmes. Ralph Collingsworth, Leo Scott, Jimmy King, De Hester, Al Smith, Jack Mitchell, Ray Jordan, Don Fletcher, Wayne Harris, Vic Houchins and Era Waters.

A dinner honoring the couple was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Harmon of Lubbock.

A rice bag party was hosted recently by Miss Laquita Carter, and Mmes. Oran Carter, and Park Brumley.

The bride's parents hosted a rehearsal bar-b-que dinner in their home.

Guests from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Maness, Bryan, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown, Amarillo.

Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Baird of Wheeler will be honored with a reception today from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Baptist Church, Fellowship Hall in Kelton. Max Baird and Peggy Anderson, both of Clarendon and children of the couple, are hosting the event. Friends of the couple are invited to attend.

Teach Children To Eat Right Foods

COLLEGE STATION — Allowing a child to eat only the foods he likes and making up lost nutrients with vitamins is a poor practice, one foods and nutrition specialist contends.

"Learning to enjoy a wide variety of nutritious foods is basic for developing good lifetime eating habits," Frances Reasonover, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said this week.

She explained that children who eat only the foods they like have to depend upon these few foods for all the 45 or more essential nutrients.

Parents can encourage children to learn to eat a variety of foods by setting a good example in their own eating habits.

"It's all right for a child to have a few dislikes. If he refuses certain dishes, don't push but offer them again later," the specialist suggested.

Children's taste buds are sensitive — they generally like bland foods better than those with sharp or distinctive flavors.

"A food 'jag' — eating only one food at a time — is common and seldom harmful. A wise parent will not worry about this, knowing his child will soon concentrate on a different food," she advised.

Letting the child help prepare food, serve himself and allowing him some choice in the selection of his meals are other ways to encourage variety in the child's diet.

SENSE OF HUMOR

A useful strategy for daily living is humor — simply a good sense of humor. The family is an ideal place for playfulness, Dr. Jennie Kitching, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Washington-Tilger Vows Said In Christian Church

Nuptial vows were solemnized Saturday, Aug. 24 at 7:30 p.m. in First Christian Church for Miss Mary Margaret Washington and James Dennis Tilger.

Mr. and Mrs. James Washington, 2112 N. Faulkner, are parents of the bride, and Mrs. Carolyn Tilger of Canyon and B.J. Tilger, Amarillo, are parents of the bridegroom.

THE CEREMONY
The wedding was performed before a background of gold rainbow candelabra entwined with salal foliage, holding tall yellow tapers. Tall urns of mixed yellow flowers flanked the wedding party. The bridal aisle was lighted with tall candelabra draped with green foliage holding yellow tapers and covered with hurricane globes. A prayer kneeling bench and the memory candle, lighted by the couple, completed the setting. Mothers of the couple lighted candles around the memory candle. The double ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Ralph T. Palmer, pastor. Mrs. John Gill, organist, accompanied Barry Stevens as he sang, "The Lord's Prayer," "More," and "The Wedding Song."

THE BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of sheer organza and Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta designed with a high mandarin neckline, empire waistline, long Bishop sleeves and semi A-line silhouette with full back. Inserts of lace enhanced the neckline, bodice, and skirt of the gown. Tiny sequins complemented the lace on the bodice and the full back of the gown ended in a sweeping chapel length train. Her chapel length veil of imported illusion, with a border of matching lace, fell from a coil of lace and satin, and she carried a cascading bouquet of feathered yellow carnations and white gladioli buds.

ATTENDANTS
Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Greg Dalton, Oklahoma City. Bridesmaid was Miss Judy Imel, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Jim Rogers, Canyon, was bridesmatron. All wore yellow floor length dresses trimmed with white embroidery around the necklines and at the waistlines, styled with long full sleeves. They carried yellow carnations and baby's breath fashioned in a nosegay and each wore a matching headpiece.

Candlelighters were Miss Teresa Sims and Miss Pattie Sims, cousins of the bride. They wore yellow floor length dresses similar to the bridal attendants. Larry Tilger, Dallas, served his brother as best man and groomsmen were Mike Tilger, brother of the bridegroom, Canyon, and Charles Smith, Canyon. Ushers were Jeff Shepie, Canyon, and Steve Stark, Amarillo.

MOTHERS
The mother of the bride wore a floor length orchid lace dress lined with deeper orchid and styled with long sleeves. She wore white accessories and a pink rose corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pastel green knit dress accented with buttons and a double ruffle at the front. She wore a yellow rose corsage.

RECEPTION
The reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlor. Miss Sandra Vance, Pampa, played piano and organ music. The bride's table was centered with a five-branched candelabra holding yellow tapers with greenery entwined.

Cherub's Delight topped the four small cakes on a revolving stand, set-off by three tiers that soared above. The spice cake was decorated with garlands and yellow rose buds. Angels with harps were found amid the garden of roses on the small cakes.

For traveling to Fountainhead Lodge, Oklahoma, the bride wore a three-piece pant suit of soft blue pin-striped double knit. The couple will reside at 1108 3rd Ave., Canyon.

AFFILIATIONS
A graduate of Pampa High School, the bride completed a two year secretarial course at West Texas State University. She is presently employed at

AMERICAN INFLOW

KATMANDU (UPI) — More than half of the 41,833 tourists who visited Nepal during the first six months of 1974 were Americans, the Tourist Department reported.

Other tourists came mainly from West Germany, Britain, France and Japan, the department said.

It said this year's tourist traffic showed a seven per cent increase over the same period last year and that Nepal expects to earn $12 million from tourism in 1974.

Feeling like the last roast of summer? By this time you're probably tired of hamburgers and chicken. Instead, barbecue a fresh thuringer, say home economists for Union Carbide's Food Science Institute. Give the thuringer a preliminary scalding, then cook it to a turn on your outdoor grill.

Back to school means back to the lunchbox. A hearty salami sandwich with 2 slices of enriched bread is great for body building. It contains 24 grams of protein, almost half of the daily requirement. And for a little spirit lifting on that first day back, tuck in a funny note and a candy surprise.

By now, you know that a winner in the National Sandwich Contest was the Big Frank Reuben, but have you tried it? Split a skinless frank and place it, split side up, on toasted rye bread. Top with a tablespoon of thousand island dressing, 2 tablespoons sauerkraut and a slice of Swiss cheese. Close sandwich with another slice of toasted rye, wrap in foil, and bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes.

extended down the center front of the floor length skirt. Lace appliques and tiny seed pearls enhanced the bodice of the gown. Her chapel length veil of illusion fell from a pearl coil and she carried a white bridal Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Matron of honor was Penny Tanner, sister of the bride. Maid of honor was Kim McGavock of Amarillo, and bridesmaids were Mary Caraway, Karen Bain, Phyllis Miller, all of Stratford, Sherry Jones of Amarillo, and Jancy Jester of Ralls.

Jana Gauthie of Italy, Tex., and Melinda Thompson of Houston, were flower girls.

Best men were Dee Hawkins of Chicago and Steve Summers, Amarillo. Groomsmen were Tim Tanner, brother of the bride, Amarillo, Steve Kincaid, Lasley, Gunnison, Colo., and Terri Williams, Canyon.

Mrs. Dee Hawkins of Chicago and Debbie Stanton of Amarillo, served at the bridegroom's table.

Following the wedding trip to Ruidosa, N.M., the couple will reside at 2815 W. 27th, Amarillo.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride attended Texas Tech University and is employed by the First National Bank in Amarillo.

The bridegroom, a graduate of West Texas State University, is employed by Vance Hall Sporting Goods. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Jerry Haynes, 26, South San Francisco, literally was honked into custody Wednesday.

Police said he robbed a savings and loan association of $300 and fled in his car.

A bank employe, Allen Jamieson, 28, gave chase in his car, consistently honking his horn.

Police said Jamieson so disconcerted the fleeing robber that he lost control of his car and slammed into a utility pole. Two passing detectives took Haynes into custody.

Double-Ring Service Unites Juanita Wilhelm-Charles Barker

Miss Juanita Marie Wilhelm and Charles James Barker were united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the Holy Family Catholic Church, Nazareth, Tex.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James L. Wilhelm of Nazareth. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L.J. Barker, 2001 Hamilton.

THE CEREMONY
The Rev. Stanley Crocchiola, pastor of the Holy Family Church, Nazareth, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The couple stood before a white cloth-covered table at the altar, flanked by tall white baskets of red carnations and white gladioli. White and red satin bows marked the pews.

Mrs. Alma Conrad of Nazareth provided traditional wedding selections on the organ. She accompanied Mrs. Pat Brockman of Friona who sang "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing," "True Love Comes From God," and "The Savior is Waiting."

The bride presented her mother a long-stemmed red rose during the processional and presented a long-stemmed red rose to the bridegroom's mother during the recessional.

THE BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white sheer organza and Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta. Designed with a high mandarin neckline, empire waistline, long Bishop sleeves, and semi A-line silhouette, the dress had inserts of Chantilly lace enhancing the neckline, bodice, sleeves and skirt. The full back of the gown ended in a sweeping chapel length train.

Her three-tiered veil of imported illusion with a border of Chantilly lace fell from a caplet of lace, seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of cascading red garnet roses and white gladioli.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Vickie Wilhelm, sister of the bride of Nazareth, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of sheer red voile designed with an empire waistline and deep ruffles around the neckline and hemline. A sash forming a large bow in the back was made from the same material as the gown.

MRS. CHARLES JAMES BARKER
...nee Miss Juanita Marie Wilhelm

She carried a cascade of white carnations and white gladioli.

Miss Karen Book, cousin of the bride, and Mary Lynn Wilhelm, sister of the bride, both of Nazareth, were bridesmaids. They wore gowns identical to the maid of honor and wore matching white floral headpieces. They carried bouquets of white gladioli.

Daniel Barker, brother of the bridegroom, Amarillo, served as best man. Groomsmen were Sam Pakin Amarillo and Gene Young, Canyon. Ushers were Gordon Wilhelm, Nazareth; Kerry Brockman, Nazareth; Bennie Stingley, Amarillo, and Mike Charlton, Amarillo.

MOTHERS
The bride's mother wore a floor length red dress trimmed with lace and designed with an empire waist. She wore white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Brockman of Nazareth wore a street length grey and pink suit with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white gladioli.

The bridegroom's mother wore a floor length pastel orange double knit dress with white accessories. She wore a white gladioli corsage. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Carl Kisinger of Red Springs, wore a street length beige dress with matching accessories. She wore a white gladioli corsage.

RECEPTION
Immediately following the ceremony, a reception and dinner were held in Nazareth Community Hall. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a floral arrangement of red roses. The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with red roses and white wedding bells. Miss Evelyn Wilhelm, sister of the bride, Nazareth, served the cake and Mrs. Cyrilla Brockman assisted at the punch bowl. Miss Angie Wilhelm, sister of the bride, Nazareth, registered the guests.

For the wedding trip to Estes Park, Colo., the bride wore a blue double knit pant suit with white accessories. She wore a red rose corsage from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home in Pampa where the bridegroom is employed by Flint Engineering Company. The bride is a junior student at West Texas

State University, Canyon. A 1972 graduate of Nazareth High School and valedictorian of her class, she has served as a member of the Senate and the Supreme Court at WTSU.

The bridegroom, a 1969 graduate of Pampa High School, is a spring 1974 graduate of WTSU. He was president of the WT Senate, served on the Board of Directors of the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association, and a member of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English Fraternity.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS
A bridal shower was held Aug. 14 in the home of Mrs. Cyril Brockman, Nazareth. Hostesses were Mrs. Ernest Brockman, Miss Vickie Wilhelm and Miss Mary Lynn Wilhelm.

The wedding rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents at the El Camino Restaurant in Tulia, was held Aug. 18.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Jerome Warner, Rebecca, and Ben, Lincoln, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Barker, Amarillo; John Worley, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Don Worsham, and family, Chatsworth, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harmon and Patti, Midland; Miss Ola Barker, Mrs. Frank Coy, Seymour; and Mr. and Mrs. A.R. ## KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED KARPIN

The late Harold S. Vanderbilt was most widely known as a yachtsman. He successfully defended the America's Cup three times, and never lost an important race. Nevertheless, his lasting fame is more likely to come from his contributions to the game of bridge.

To bridge players, he is known primarily as the father of contract bridge. Back in 1925, on a cruise from California to Havana, he invented the scoring system that launched the game. He also devised the first unified system of bidding, known as the Vanderbilt Club.

Vanderbilt retired from active competition a good many years before his death in 1970, but in his day he was a very good player. As an example of his ability, here is a deal played in the annual tournament that has borne his name ever since 1928: the Vanderbilt Cup Championships.

Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Ten of ♦.

When the dummy came into view, Vanderbilt perceived that the danger to his contract lay in East obtaining the lead with the diamond king and leading a club through South's king. If this happened, the defenders might collect three club tricks, to defeat the contract.

Spurning the diamond finesse, Vanderbilt won the opening lead with dummy's ace of diamonds, after which he cashed the ace and king of spades. Next came a low trump to dummy's nine, and this was followed by the jack of spades, on which Vanderbilt discarded his remaining diamond.

West won the queen of spades and correctly played back a spade, which East ruffed and South overruffed. Dummy was now entered via the trump ten (picking up East's last trump enroute), and the diamond queen was led.

When East covered with the king, South ruffed with the trump ace (had East not covered, South would have discarded his three of clubs). Dummy was re-entered via the trump queen, and on the established jack of diamonds Vanderbilt tossed away his three of clubs. From here in his only losers were two club tricks.

ID: Bane Of Burglars

Burglary is still the No. 1 crime in America. Some 2 1/2 million burglaries are committed every year — about one in every 13 seconds — for an estimated loss of more than $722 million.

Only about one in every five burglaries is solved. Of the relatively small percentage of stolen goods that police recover, a large share can't be identified and is eventually put up for public sale.

This lack of positive identification of stolen property also makes it difficult to obtain convictions for breaking and entering.

So, we call the attention of the Pampa police department and Gray County Sheriff department officials to the following:

Operation Identification, a protection program sponsored by the National Association of Insurance Agents (NAIA), is a plan to help put the thieves out of business. It simply involves personalizing or branding portable belongings with the owner's personal identification number. Electric engraving pens are available at no cost through the offices of NAIA members across the country.

After branding their property, participants in Operation ID put decals on windows and doors reading, "All items of value on these premises have been marked for ready identification by law enforcement agencies."

The idea is that, being forewarned, burglars won't usually break in for any good burglar knows that marked items are not only hard to fence but offer police hard evidence for a conviction and are, therefore, an invitation to jail.

In the Cincinnati area, for example, in one year's time there were 12,000 burglaries in 120,000 non-Operation Identification homes. During the same period there were only 10 burglaries in the 17,000 homes participating in the program.

Wichita, Kans. reports 5,553 burglaries in 90,000 homes. But of the 20,000 homes involved in Operation ID, only four were burglarized and of these four, only six marked items were taken and three of them were subsequently recovered.

Operation Identification thus has three functions, it deters burglaries, traces stolen property and helps prosecute thieves. It also helps keep down spiraling insurance costs.

Currently, about 1,000 cities are participating in the program.

Notably, although originated by a police chief, the idea is being sponsored and pushed primarily by private enterprise insurance companies.

Think Your Way Out

One person's irritation often turns out to be another person's fortune.

We read in the paper about a fellow who got sick and tired of a tangled telephone cord. He made a little device to wind it on. Now he's selling them like crazy out of his garage. He might be eating high on the hog.

Well, take for instance those nasty squid that were washing up on a West Coast beach. Just when that story was at its height — and little girl bathers were running screaming to "mommy" — the Wall Street Journal reported on a squid study done by Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The MIT researchers found that fried squid rings, squid chowder and squid cocktails rate high in taste tests, but that Americans have such a squeamish attitude that the item cannot be expected to rate on domestic seafood menus. The suggestion: export squid to Europe where folks have a different attitude.

Of course, for the return trip, you could find something that foreigners don't like and import it.

There is no shortage of irritations either. A newspaper colleague who has been painting his own house wants to find a better way of taking off old paint. He cleverly inquired of professional house painters and they told him "elbow grease."

Another possibility is some kind of solvent for the elimination of irritating suggestions.

Fordham's Dr. William J. Krossner, the 200 pollies were asked to pick their all-time favorite films from a list of 1,600 pictures made between 1918 and 1971.

The top four were "Casablanca" (1942), "The Maltese Falcon" (1941), "A Streetcar Named Desire" (1951) and "Treasure of the Sierra Madre" (1948). Not a nude scene nor a four-letter word in the bunch. Incredible?

What happened, I wonder, to the sick garbage the critics have been touting to the skies — "Bullitt," "A Clockwork Orange," "Billy Jack"?

Krossner answers this way: "The overall picture to be drawn from the list of an audience concerned with sex or violence, but rather with the themes of idealism, morality and social significance."

This certainly is a far cry from what the critics would have us believe. Are you listening, Hollywood?

4 — Finally, our English cousins — with a straight and even lugubrious face — have struck a blow for something or other by arresting and charging one Eleanor Donaghy with cruelty to prawns. It seems she works at a fish processing plant near jolly old Berwick, and instead of dumping the poor little prawns into boiling water to turn them into scampi, as was her solemn charge, she put them onto a hot stove and watched as they leaved disconsolately about before expiring.

For months on end, the English experts have been bawling about such weighty questions as "What is cruelty?" and "Is frying crueler than boiling?" One of them was even crass enough to ask "What is a prawn, really?"

EDUCATION IN AMERICA

An Antidote To Bad News

By MAX RAFFERTY

There were five front-page news stories in my daily paper yesterday. All five were bad news, no matter how you looked at them. This is par for the course these days, alas, with TV news stories waxing even gloomier and dooming.

So I thought you might go for a little cheering up today. How about some good tidings for a change?

1 — McCall's Magazine reports a recent survey among 5,000 teen-agers which shows that 84 percent feel — brace yourself — that their parents have done a good job raising them. That's right — a "good job."

"They not only like their parents," announces the survey team, "but also like the way their parents have brought them up."

Can it be that the generation gap, which looked like the Grand Canyon during the Sixties, is becoming a comparative crevice in the Seventies?

2 — On March 30 of this year, the head of the World Health Organization (WHO) predicted that mankind's all-time killer disease — smallpox — will be eradicated by the end of 1975. Since that announcement, India has had a flare-up of the dreaded disorder, but the WHO director, Halldan Mahler, sticks to his forecast.

In 1967, a worldwide campaign was launched against smallpox, which was originally brought into Europe from Asia by the Crusaders and spread by the New World by the conquistadors of Hernando Cortez. Three million Mexican Indians died of it in one year — 1520.

Vaccinations have ceased already for Americans. There have been no known cases in the Western Hemisphere since 1972.

3 — Still another survey — this time of Warner Bros. movies, past and present — shows a decided swing away from the current cinematic cycle of perversion, pathology and pornography in the direction of healthy entertainment. According to the giant nation, to learn from tiny Austria, which is more than whipped cream: Sacher Torte, The Merry Widow waltz and skiing. We could do well by creating what they did — the Parity Commission on Wages and Prices. It consists of four groups which work with the government.

"But madame! This is the good news!"

INFLATION BEATER

Austria's No-Strike System

By VICTOR RIESEL

VIENNA — They waltz well together in this hard-working city because once the men of power on all sides almost were hung together by the Nazis. Amid pain and ghastly death in the same concentration camp some 35 years ago, they learned the hard way the futility of social, economic, political and machine-gun civil war when they had their freedom. They lost it. Regained it. Now they worship it and don't try to bludgeon each other, neither the unions nor the employers.

I've just left Chancellor Bruno Kreisky in the Austrian counterpart of the White House Oval Room. We had talked for an hour in the very same office where exactly 40 years ago Christian Democrat Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss had been gunned down by a Nazi killer — not many days after his own forces had killed Social Democrats and unionists barricaded in public housing projects which were their last bastions.

Chancellor Kreisky and I had talked about the world's No. 1 problem — inflation, prices, the fight against the common enemy, the high cost of living, the survival of all free nations, the common stand against bankruptcy.

From this conversation and from talks with the highest management executives and with strong man Anton Benya, who is at the same time president of the Austrian Federation of Labor, the Parliament, and chairman of the Metal and Mine Workers Union, I learned that all sides trust each other.

Since 1957 they have worked cooperatively on something they call their Economic and Social Partnership.

Basically, this is an appeal to reason by the leaders of both sides and the government to their own constituencies on wages, prices and economic policies — for the good of their country.

It has worked. There are virtually no strikes. Last year, the private sector lost only 107,000 man-hours. Infinitesimal! There was a long teachers' strike. But the industrial and commercial sectors were quiet. Yet wages went up so that the cost of living was met. There is a formula which gives the workers 3 percent more in real wages after "meeting" the increased cost of living.

Obviously here I can give only a simplified version of their system. It's based on solid technical organization, however.

There is a lesson for us, the giant nation, to learn from tiny Austria, which is more than whipped cream: Sacher Torte, The Merry Widow waltz and skiing. We could do well by creating what they did — the Parity Commission on Wages and Prices. It consists of four groups which work with the government.

On it are the Austrian Federation of Labor (sort of the AFL-CIO). The Chamber of Labor (roughly, a miniature labor department), the Employers' Association and an Agricultural Council. They meet monthly with the Chancellor to discuss the economic good of their nation — though their politics differ sharply.

There are three sub-commissions, one on wages, another on prices and the third on social welfare. In theory, often in practice, manufacturers and merchants who want to raise their prices go to the price commission and argue for increases. Their own national business leaders ponder the impact on the country. They really can't veto the price hike but there is a "gun on the table." If a producer or farmer rejects "constraining" advice on moderation, the government can freeze prices for six months.

As for wages, the unions can't demand the renegotiation of their (open-ended) contracts without the permission of the sub-commission on wages. If they disclose they're going to ask for sky-high increases, Benya says, cool it. Or they can't reopen. Despite the grandeur of the Austrian countryside this isn't heaven on earth, so there are bugs in the system. But it works.

This Economic and Social Partnership works so well that there is overemployment. Austria, a nation with a unionized membership of 1.5 million has had to import over 200,000 foreign workers because all available Austrian employees are just not enough to go round even with the doubling and tripling of moonlight jobs.

As one highly placed management leader, Kunata Kottulinsky, head of the Association of Austrian Industries, put it: "We're not perfect. We survive because both sides listen to reason more often than they go wild."

He recalled that when the labor-Social Democrat coalition won absolute parliamentary control from the People's Party (Christian Democrats) in 1970 (and 1971) Benya visited the industrial leaders.

"Look," said the powerful politico-labor chief (proportionately far more powerful than George Meany), "we will not take advantage of our new parliamentary strength. When you fellows controled the government you did not push us around. Now we will be reasonable and not use our new parliamentary power to hurt you."

This is Economic and Social Partnership. It is in keeping with the vow they made to each other in the Nazi concentration camp always to work together despite political and economic differences, to preserve freedom if they survived.

Giant America could learn from little Austria. Or do we have to be hit by the Apocalypse first?

Rearview Mirror

By TEX DEWESE
Editor Of The News

PRESIDENT Ford's choice of Nelson Rockefeller as vice president hasn't helped things a bit in local city and county government circles.

Gray County still faces the protests on salary increase proposals and the City of Pampa is running into flak over the provision in the 1974-75 budget to reactivate the Board of City Development.

Those who don't agree with the county salary increases say the pay hikes are not distributed equally. They think some of the money allotted to boost the pay of major county office holders, such as the judge and commissioners, should go to county workers down the line.

contains increases in the water rate, sanitary sewer rate and solid waste collection fees that are expected to produce an additional $180,000 in city revenue annually.

That has to be done, according to City Hall, to insure continuance of public services on the current basis.

There will be an overall increase in city salaries in the neighborhood of 10 per cent. That will cost around $130,000. It has been pointed out the biggest pay increases on the city payroll will go to workers in the lowest pay brackets.

This, the City Hall and Court House Cats contend, is in exact reverse of the Gray County payroll increases where the biggest hikes go to the top brass in the highest pay brackets. And that ain't cricket, according to the protesters.

It will be interesting to see how it all turns out.

Their contention is that "other county employees" should get more than a $50 a month increase if the county judge is going to have his salary upped $400 a month with county commissioners getting a $200 per month hike. Even all of the commissioners are not in agreement on the salary boosts.

The foregoing surfaced following a visit from the Court House Cat who keeps pretty close tab on what's happening at the C.H.

Over on the City side of Government Plaza, the City Hall Cat comes right out and tells us there will be vocal opposition to the BCD reactivation when the municipal budget for the new fiscal year comes up for public hearing at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The Cat declares the opposition will be led by former mayor E.C. Sidwell. It was during his term of office that the BCD was dissolved and put out of business back in the early 1960s.

According to the Cat, Sidwell sees no valid reason for its rebirth. We'll probably hear more about that at the Tuesday public hearing on the budget.

AS STATED here before, the editor gets some strange mail and some unusual telephone calls.

The latest telephone call is one in which the caller charged some disparaging remarks were made about Pampa and the Texas Panhandle by "experts" on a morning radio talk show.

"Experts" was the word used by the person on the other end of the phone who said in part:

"We have lived in the Texas Panhandle for nine years, five of those years in Pampa, and think it is a great place to live and has the friendliest people you will find anywhere."

Then this comment was added:

"Those fellows should remember where they earn their bread and butter. Only suggestion we could make was that maybe they were just joking and the caller's sense of humor was at low ebb that morning, but if there was a complaint it should be lodged with the 'experts.'"

THAT BUDGET, incidentally, is for a total of $2,734,786 (plus $382,006 to be spent from federal revenue sharing funds for capital outlay). That makes the grand total for the fiscal year climb to $3,116,792.

The tax rate will be hiked from the current $1.72 to $1.93 per $100 of assessed property valuation, an increase of 21 cents. Three cents of that is for the BCD.

The company is merely leasing some land in that area for water rights to meet future needs, according to Melvin Kunkel, SWPS local manager.

Visitors of Mrs. R.B. Leonard last week were Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Newman and Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Leonard and son Chris all of Pampa; Mrs. Joe F. Leonard and son Jeff, Wichita Falls; Rev. and Mrs. Dinzal Leonard of Canadian; and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Leonard of Mobeetie.

Rev. Leonard moved to Canadian last week and Sunday was his first day in his new church, the First Baptist Church in Canadian.

Mrs. Wilber Beck visited with Rev. and Mrs. L.V. Grace Monday morning in Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sims and family of Canyon, visited his father Mr. D.G. Sims, Saturday evening.

Weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gudgel were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gudgel and little daughter of Oklahoma City, and their daughter, Mrs. Garland Lancaster and children of Pampa.

Guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gordon were her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Carter of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Ehtel Mason of Amarillo, visited her brother and sister Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Rocke Leake, last weekend.

Recent guests of Mrs. Eula Johnson were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Trimble, Debbie and Jeff of Lufkin, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dunn of Manchester, England. Last week Mrs. Johnson's grandchildren, Sheryl and Daryl Watson of Amarillo spent the week with her.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sherburne, Eddie Joe and Toni the last few days are her sister and mother, Mrs. Coleen Turner, Danny, Geri and Valerie of Farmington, N.M. and Mrs. Rosella Fowler of Cortez, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Murrin and Jeffery of Tulsa are visiting this week with Mrs. Murrin's mother, Mrs. Tommie Tyson.

Recent visitors of Mrs. Thelma Dunn were her grandsons and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dunn and Michael of Providence, R.I. and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Dunn and Jennefer of Lawton, Okla. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Sims last week were Mrs. Bessie Webb of Canadian, Mrs. Gladys Ives of California, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartram of Tulsa.

Those from Mobeetie attending the Scribner reunion in Panhandle on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, Mrs. Laverne Scribner and Mrs. Eula Johnson.

Mrs. Edna Williamson returned to Los Angeles with her granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Carter and children and is visiting a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Pritchard. On the return trip they visited Yellowstone National Park, Mount Rushmore and the Worlds Fair.

Mrs. Thelma Dunn visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bynum Smith in Wheeler two days last week. Mr. Smith is superintendent of the Wheeler Schools.

Mrs. J.B. Rector visited her mother, Mrs. Walter Davis in Cheyenne, Okla., Sunday.

Visiting Mrs. Edith Dunn last weekend were her grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Earl Davenport and son Steven Amarillo. Mobeetie School opened Monday, Aug. 19, with 105 students enrolling at 8:45. Seven of these are Kindergarten students who will attend morning classes from 8:45 to 11:30.

A short assembly was held at 10 a.m. for parents and students when Mr. Bob Mickey, school superintendent, introduced the following faculty:

W.F. Howard, principal; Mrs. Patricia Ford, kindergarten; Mrs. Kay Batton, first and second grades; Mrs. Loyce Brown, third and fourth grade; Mrs. Wilhelmina Sherrell, fifth and sixth grades; Mrs. Jenny Smith, mathematics and science.

Miss Carol Clangy, English and homemaking; Allen Hale, history and language arts; James Moffett, vocational agriculture; Bill Beaty, coach and mathematics; Mrs. Betty Howard, teachers aide.

Mrs. Roberta Adams, co-op librarian; Bill Burcham, co-op counselor; Mrs. Anna Belle Corcoran, cafeteria manager and cook; Mrs. Goldie Gordon, assistant cook; Ted Cooper, custodian and bus maintenance; and Mrs. Mary Ruth Morris, tax assessor and collector.

First graders are dismissed at 2:35 p.m. with all other students being dismissed at 3:55.

D&D To Hear Oil Program

The Pampa Desk and Derrick Club will host Jim Walker, independent oil operator, Monday at 7 p.m. at Furr's Cafeteria.

The meeting will begin with dinner, followed by a presentation by the guest on new legislation being proposed for the petroleum industry.

Walker, former assistant to the president of Globe-News Publishing Co. and former Oil & Gas Editor, graduated from University of Texas. He is a member of the board of directors of Independent Petroleum Association of America; vice president of Panhandle Producers & Royalty Owners Association, past director of Texas Daily Newspaper Assn. and past chairman of Children's Rehabilitation Center.

Other activities include president of Association of Petroleum Writers; past president and campaign chairman of Amarillo United Way, past director of Chamber of Commerce, past board member and secretary of Amarillo Club, and past board member of Camp Fire Girls and Panhandle Science Fair.

For reservations, call Martha Sublett at Leonard Hudson Drilling Co., Inc. at 665-8570.

Last Week In Wall Street

By BOB HILL
Several columns ago I commented on a new practice by some mortgage lenders in the Milwaukee area of slipping a sliding-scale interest rate clause into conventional new-home loans.

No one thought much about it until the money crunch hit. Then the interest rate went up on a number of home loans and the screams of unhappy homeowners were heard all the way to Washington.

Once again the proposal has been made by the head of Federal Home Loan Bank that variable interest rates be used on home mortgages. The variable interest rate proposal was made two years ago and received such a violent congressional reaction at that time that it was quickly withdrawn.

The objectionable part then, as now, was whether the proposal could lead to a rise in home mortgage interest costs of as much as 2 1/2 percent over the life of a mortgage.

The variable interest rate proposal is being offered as a possible solution to the heavy drain of depositors dollars out of savings and loan associations and into other higher yielding short-term investments.

Time was when a government ceiling on how much a savings and loan could pay depositors, helped keep home mortgage rates down. But not any more. The average effective interest rate on conventional new-home loans has hit an all-time high of 9 percent, up from 7.8 percent just a year ago.

So in spite of government ceilings on the amount of interest which savings and loan depositors may receive, mortgage interest rates continue to flee the thrift institutions.

Better than 60 percent of the country's housing money comes from thrift institutions where the small investors put their savings. Congress is aware of the right of the small investor to get an attractive return on his savings.

By holding down interest rates on savings and loan deposits, the government in effect is forcing the small investor to subsidize the homebuyer at a rate of return of 7 or 7 1/2 percent when the current rate of inflation is over 10 percent.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Our sincere sympathy to the family of Frances Prall, RN, who died this past week. Frances was a Red Cross nurse and wore her Red Cross pin proudly. We will all miss her smiling face and her eagerness to help others.

So many have called about our little friend, Anastasia Mama, who lived in Pampa last year. We have talked several times with Mrs. O'Conner, Red Cross representative on the International Red Cross at Washington, D.C., and she assures me that these things are very slow, but we will hear from our little friend if it is possible.

Our friend, Bob Price, is also working with the International Red Cross on this matter.

Swimming is coming to a close in our neighboring pool. Mrs. Leah Baggett, WSI at Canadian, brought in her skill sheets for a Junior and Senior Life Saving Class with Brent Gallagher and John Paul Turnage passing their Junior Life Saving tests and Doug Baggett passing his Senior Life Saving tests.

Vickie McCuiston, WSI, who managed the pool at Miami, held a Senior Life Saving class with the following completing their tests: Mark Mercer, Emmy Bailey, Cathy Bailey, Melinda McCuiston, Kathy Seuhs, and Pam Brogdon.

Since all of these Senior Life Saving persons are 17 years old or will be 17 years old, they will be eligible to become Water Safety Instructors next year. Be sure and watch for the WSI class Part I and Part 2 that will be given in Pampa next spring.

YOGURT, ANYONE? ROSEMONT, Ill. (UPI) — A few years ago, most Americans had never heard of yogurt, let alone eaten it.

Now a study shows that more than 10 percent of U.S. families bought yogurt during an average month between April 1972 and March 1973. The survey covered 7,500 families in five geographic areas nationwide, says the Marketing and Economic Division of the United Dairy Industry Assn. here.

Almost three fourths of yogurt purchases were made in large cities and by higher income families. Flavored yogurts represented 90 percent of the sales, with strawberry the leading flavor.

Eustachian Tubes Help Hearing

By G.C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain the relation between hearing and the Eustachian tubes.

Will hearing be impaired if the tube is plugged or stopped up? If this does exist, is there any treatment?

Last year I made a plane trip, and off and on ever since my ears have been "popping" when I swallow. Is this caused by a plugged canal? - J.F.M.

The Eustachian tubes are tiny ducts, one for each ear. The tubes lead from the middle ear to the upper part of the throat.

To hear well, your ear drum has to vibrate in accordance with the sound waves reaching it. To vibrate freely, the pressure must be approximately equal on each side of the drum. And that's what the Eustachian tubes are for - to permit a gradual flow of air, in or out, to the middle ear. Thus you don't have pressure building up on only one side of the ear drum; such unbalanced pressure would put tension on the drum and prevent proper vibration.

Stoppage of the tubes may not, of course, be complete. But if the tubes are partially closed, that can impair hearing. Probably the most frequent cause of such a condition is inflammation of the tissues. Indeed, infection can result in scar tissue which permanently leaves the opening in the tube somewhat smaller. Or even closed off.

Whether closing of the tubes will respond to treatment depends on the individual case, and the only counsel I can offer is that you consult an ear-nose-throat specialist.

I would doubt that your plane trip caused your trouble, but it may have brought it to your attention. There is relatively little trouble if you are riding in a plane with a pressurized cabin, since pressure is kept reasonably constant regardless of the altitude of the plane. There can be some difference in pressure as the plane rises or descends (usually the latter) and if Eustachian tubes are not open, this can cause a temporary deafness which corrects itself as, gradually, air seeps through to equalize pressure in your ears.

With the older, non-pressurized cabins, the period of unbalanced pressure could in fact be quite painful for a time.

About your ears "popping" when you swallow - the act of swallowing, or yawning, or even chewing involves some movement of the tissues surrounding the tubes, particularly the entrance to the tubes, and is usually helpful in allowing a bit of air through the tubes. This, of course, is helpful.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My 8-year-old daughter complains all day - off and on - of cramped toes. The second and third toes especially want to pull together.

In the old days it was thought to be a vitamin deficiency, but so many old theories are no longer valid. My doctor only says to have her relax before bedtime. - Mrs. N.K.

No, vitamin deficiency doesn't cause this sort of thing. But I can't quite see how relaxing at bedtime would prevent cramps during the day.

This is an unusual complaint for a girl of 8, and I suspect that some defect in arch or elsewhere in the foot (or possibly faulty fit in her shoes) could be involved. I suggest seeing an orthopedist or a podiatrist for a careful examination for foot defects.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is emphysema contagious if you kiss someone on the mouth who has it or if you get their breath? - A.J.

No, not contagious under any circumstances.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung problem, write for a copy of Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "How to Control Emphysema," in care of Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

Carol Orders An Empty Glass

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK - Everybody else at the 21 Club was ordering champagne or some drink that cost $2 with tax but Carol Channing turned her big imploring eyes on the captain bending forward for her order and said, "I would like an empty glass, please."

He did not wince as he would have if I had said it, for her peculiar dining habits are well known. When I arrived to meet her at 11 p.m., the maitre d' commented, "Well, we won't have to keep the kitchen open for HER."

Carol poured bottled water from her silver flask that came from a vintage Rolls-Royce and then gave her second order of the evening: "Could I have a plate?"

Extracting an apple which she sliced and some roast pork from a thermos, she feasted merrily upon this organic fare and described with great enthusiasm her summertime role as Mayor Beame's "official hostess for the City of New York."

She greets, kisses, shakes hands with, signs and hugs anything and anybody, from karate to croquet to bus tours and boat cruises, and also spends five to six hours a night at the Palace as star of "Lorelei."

"You do so much for the show," I mentioned. "But" - and it was almost a gasp, and her big eyes were on me now - "I'm not doing any more than I did in 'Dolly.' That's the obligation of a star getting a percentage. I don't know any other reason you get a percentage."

However, others are also astonished at her endurance.

Carol and husband Charles Lowe recently attended a sailboat race with the Kennedys where Eunice Kennedy, battling a 30-mile gale, "with everybody capsizing and splutter," Carol, I'll never understand how you do all those benefits."

"I'd rather do nine benefits than ride that sailboat," Carol said. "We're used to sailboats and you're used to benefits," Eunice Kennedy said.

Carol was finishing her dinner which she'd brought to this epicurean palace in a plastic bag and the captain was pretending to be enjoying the spectacle. "I'm tired of hearing the theater is dying," Carol declared. "Look at all the shows we've got as competition this summer. 'Pippin,' 'Scapino,' 'Candide,' 'Irene,' 'Over Here,' 'My Fat Friend' and whoever thought 'The Magic Show' would be a big hit? I wish to God we didn't have so much competition."

Carol arrives at the palace on an ordinary day at 5 p.m., sits in a little dressing room office and makes calls, naps 15 to 30 minutes, has an organic dinner and "relaxes" a wonderful relaxation getting ready leisurely to do your show. The show starts at 8, the curtain is down at 10:35 and then I see the students.

Most of the bus tour deals find somebody saying, "would it be possible to see Miss Channing?" and the answer always is, "They will be able to see Miss Channing."

That takes half an hour more and Carol gets out of the theater at 11 and to bed at 3 a.m.

Why so late? She has a video recorder that tapes the shows she wants to see, then she may be studying for an early morning show, or even thinking about the children's record she's doing or a trip to Nashville.

for another recording or acting as disc jockey for Julius La Rosa or being hostess at a Mayor Beame luncheon, or any of a hundred things.

When she was doing "Hello, Dolly," director Gower Champion was a strict disciplinarian. On Election Day after Lyndon and Lady Bird Johnson had voted for themselves, they phoned Carol, among others.

"We're counting our blessings and you're one of our blessings," the Johnsons explained. Gower Champion was furious at the interruption.

"I told Lyndon he must never call me during rehearsal," Carol said. Carol remembers, too, when she did a satirical sketch of Marlene Dietrich getting her legs tangled in a chair in Las Vegas. Lucille Ball brought Marlene, who was angry. Lucille chastised Carol. "You don't do great ladies like Marlene, you put them on a pedestal," Lucille said.

A few weeks later, Lucille did Marlene on her TV show - and Carol, too!

Farm-facts

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News
Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Outlook Gloomy... Fewer Cattle on Feed... Rains Help Hay... Swap Visits Tried

THE U.S. Department of Agriculture crop estimates earlier this month reflected the gloomy farm outlook over the nation, mainly because drought has affected production. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, which is operated jointly by the Texas and U.S. Departments of Agriculture, has an even gloomier outlook for Texas farmers and ranchers. Rains over most areas of the State earlier this month dented that gloom somewhat, but the fact remains that production of only three crops, corn, rice, and flaxseed, is expected to be higher this year than in 1973. Production of 69,750,000 bushels of corn in Texas is forecast, an increase of 15 per cent over last year. The 775,000 acres in corn is 21 per cent more than in 1973. Flaxseed production is expected to be 374,000 bushels, compared to 80,000 bushels in 1973. The rice harvest—about half complete—is expected to yield 23,646,000 cwt., compared to 20,530,000 cwt. last year.

PRODUCTION OF all other Texas crops is expected to be down. Here are the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service's predictions for some of those crops as of August 1: 3,050,000 bales of cotton, compared to 4,673,000 bales last year; 295,000,000 bushels of grain sorghum, almost a third less than the 417,000,000 bushels in 1973; 6,500,000 bushels of soybeans, compared to 8,500,000 bushels last year; 52,800,000 bushels of wheat, compared to 98,600,000 bushels last year; 8,100,000 bushels of oats, compared to 26,650,000 bushels; 1,350,000 bushels of barley, compared to 3,510,000 bushels. It is not a pretty picture.

TEXAS' 1,795,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter August 1 was 22 per cent fewer than a year ago but one per cent more than the previous month. The number on feed in the seven biggest cattle-growing states (Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas) totaled 7,007,000 head August 1, and that is two per cent fewer than the same time a month ago and 23 per cent fewer than a year ago. Fat cattle that went to market in Texas during July totaled 326,000 which was 16 per cent below July, 1973, and 10 per cent below June marketings. Seven counties in Texas are the first in the State to attain "Certified Brucellosis Free." They are Crane, Ector, Jeff Davis, Loving, Terrell, Winkler, and Ward. Certified brucellosis free, designated by the USDA, means that not more than 0.2 per cent of the counties' cattle were found to be infected during an 18-month testing period.

HAY MAKING in Texas was given a big boost by the rains early in August. The moisture also relieved some pressure on cattlemen to reduce herds but more rain is needed in West Texas if cattlemen are to maintain their herds. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says that some areas in the Low Plains and Cross Timbers are still short of stock water.

SWAP VISITS between farm and city families are being launched in a program by the Agriculture Council of America in Iowa, Illinois, and Minnesota. In the "In Touch With America" program, a city family is encouraged to spend a weekend with a farm family during this harvest season, and the farm family is asked to spend a weekend with the city family. The program has been tried in other areas in an effort to create better understandings between city and rural residents. One report says that the average person spends 17 cents more per day for food in 1973 than he did in 1972. Put another way, food that cost $1 in 1972 cost $1.15 at the end of 1973.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
Last week this column carried a portion of the essay by Janice Bandy on the importance of water conservation.

Janice graduated in the 1974 Senior class of Panhandle High School. The column ended with her assertion that the increased use of water and the lowering of the water table is now making the citizens of Carson County realize the growing need for conservation.

Today we carry a further portion of her fine essay in which she tells of having read the booklet, "The Availability of Water in Carson County" by Corlett, Gray, and Probst, Inc. of Wichita Falls, Texas, written in 1968.

"By reading this book man finds that the ground water needs of Carson County are supplied by the Ogallala Aquifer. This continues throughout most of the Panhandle area. Presently there is much more water being discharged from the formation than is being restored."

This extensive utilization is causing a rapid decline in the water table. If this trend continues, surface water development will become necessary because Mother Nature resupplies this source every year through rains, snows, etc.

Excessive lowering of the water table will eventually cause the ground water supply to become critical. Decreasing ground water supplies in the High Plains may not bring economic disaster to the area.

Dr. James Osborn, Texas Tech economist, under contract for the Water Development Board on a project to measure the economic impact of decreasing ground water and petroleum resources in the High Plains, made this optimistic prediction in his report to the board:

Osborn said that about one fourth of the water in the Ogallala Reservoir has been used, and about 300 million acre feet are left. Osborn predicted that the peak year for water in the Lubbock area will be 1980. The peak year for Amarillo will be 1990. Irrigation, too, will peak in the Lubbock area in 1980. However, water saving technology could extend the peak years.

Dr. Leon New, extension irrigation engineer with Texas A&M University in Lubbock, Texas, reports irrigation is of most importance to this part of the country. Figures from the 1950's show that each well supplied water to irrigate 140 acres. The average today has dropped to 85 acres.

Wells that one pushed 1,000 gpm. now dribble less than 100 gpm. Irrigation surveys point out that today approximately six million acres of cropland are irrigated in the forty-two county area known as the Texas High Plains, and more than 67,000 wells pump most of the water from underground reservoirs.

One means of conservation seems to be a natural one. Rainfall runoff caught in playa lakes is pumped into irrigation water distribution systems. Furrow irrigation system is one of the more economical irrigation systems available.

Demand For American Food Still Increasing

COLLEGE STATION — An increasing world population, prosperity and devaluation of the dollar have all combined to increase the demand for American food, says a marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"World population is now about 3.7 billion and projected to increase to about seven billion within the next 25 years," says Charles Baker.

Increased wages have spurred the demand for top quality food. People want to eat more and higher quality protein, particularly meat, milk and eggs. And more farming resources are required to produce animal protein. It takes three pounds of grain to produce a pound of broiler, five pounds to produce a pound of pork and seven pounds to produce a pound of beef.

In response, government restrictions have been lifted and eight million more acres were planted in 1974—800,000 more in Texas. Still, there are some limits on farmers that consumers should be aware of, points out the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Although millions of acres are being added to our total cropland, there is a physical limitation on our best land. It takes time to bring marginal acres to higher standards.

"Also, expansion requires investments in farm buildings, new livestock production systems, equipment, animals, feed, fertilizer and seed. These and other inputs, including gas and diesel fuel, may not be readily available in the quantities needed for full production."

Water is a major limiting factor, says Baker. Land can't be developed if it lacks a water supply. Irrigation is often a practical alternative, but an irrigation system requires a sizable capital expenditure and time for installation.

A shortage of machinery, fuel, fertilizers, pesticides, herbicides and other farm inputs and service can limit agricultural production. Environmental constraints may also cut production.

"A continuous and vigorous research program is essential to help farmers produce at a high level and compete in world markets," contends Baker. "It inevitably translates to consumer benefits in terms of food variety, improved quality and lower cost."

"With good weather, enough essential farm inputs and freedom to operate, farmers can work to reach full food production for everyone's benefit."

Producers Feeling Economic Losses

The cattle feeding industry is still in a depressed economic situation, says a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Since much of the equity capital of commercial feeders has been used, financing is a real problem. And the loss situation of feedlots is now being felt by cow-calf producers in the form of reduced prices for replacement calves. Cattle numbers of feed as of July 1 will not provide a large marketing level for the fourth calendar quarter, with marketings expected to be down about 15 per cent from last year's level. Feeders will have to be stimulated by profit opportunities before they will refill feedlots.

Cotton Faces More Trouble

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—West Texas cotton farmers, already hit hard for the 1974 crop due to lack of rains, have entered a critical period of the short growing season.

Agricultural officials say the next six weeks will be very important for the cotton crops on irrigated land which, in general, is the only remaining crop for 1974.

"During the past two weeks we have had more rain across the Texas South Plains than we have had since harvest of the 1973 crop," said Dr. Bob Metzger, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, stationed north of Lubbock.

"Much of the irrigated cotton now needs to dry out under warm, clear skies so it can finish maturing and bear," he said. "If it continues to rain now, our irrigated crops are going to be in just as bad a shape as our dryland crops."

Six Weeks Variance

Metzger also warned that, due to erratic weather conditions, the cotton crop varies as much as six weeks in planting dates. He said that many farmers would need to look carefully at soil and plant conditions and stages of growth as they determine if they need to irrigate again before harvest.

He also warned against misuse of chemicals known as hormone-type herbicides. He said herbicide applicators should use caution when attempting to knock out weeds in grain and grassland near cotton fields.

The first joint estimate of cotton production in a 25-county area surrounding Lubbock, made Aug. 1 by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., pegged the 1974 crop at 1,468,000 bales.

Such a crop, if reached, would compare with last year's all-time high of 2,886,600 bales and the bumper crop two years ago of 2,242,850 bales.

Anton Dvorak, a Bohemian composer, made final corrections on his famous "New World Symphony" while he was in Spillville, Iowa, in 1893.

Irrigated Pastures Can Help Farmers, Ranchers

By PERRY D. GRUHLKEY
Soil Conservation Service
Irrigated pastures can play an important role in beef cattle production in Gray County. Cool-season grasses under irrigation have proven to be excellent for prolonged grazing and high yields of beef. Cool-season grasses need less irrigation applications during the summer than warm season grasses when water is being used on cash crops.

For optimum production, the irrigated pasture should be split into at least 4 pastures and the cattle herd rotated from each pasture every 7 days.

Fertilizer should be applied as needed. Late season irrigation insures good, early fall growth. Cool-season grasses adapted to Gray County, such as Tall Fescue, Tall Wheatgrass, Orchardgrass, and Brome grass need rest in July and August to allow storing of food reserves in the roots.

These grasses will produce forage under irrigation most of the year except January and February, depending on the severity of our winters.

J.D. Skaggs, east of Pampa, stocked his 30 acre irrigated pasture with 275 steers weighing 600 pounds for three months in the spring of 1974 and baled hay after removing the cattle. He used a three pasture grazing system.

Leonard Glass, north of Alameda, has stocked his 34 acres of irrigated Tall Fescue grass with 50 cows and calves since early spring. He plans on grazing the pasture through the fall.

He stated that his calves will weigh about 150 pounds more than range grass calves, and one of the greatest benefits from the irrigated pasture is allowing rest of his rangeland for improvement of native grasses.

Without the irrigated pasture, the recent dry weather would have required marketing of part of Mr. Glass' herd during a low market-price period.

Cool-season grasses can be planted from now until March and will provide for increased livestock numbers and livestock performance for operators in Gray County.

The Soil Conservation Service, providing assistance to the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District, is available to assist an operator in planning an irrigated pasture program.

Cost-share is available through the Great Plains Conservation Program in establishing such a project on local farms and ranches.

Animal Wastes Proving To Be Valuable Resource

MANHATTAN, Kan. — Animal waste from a beef cattle feedlot can effectively restrict soil blowing on cropland lying idle over winter, researchers of USDA's Agricultural Research Service report.

"Animal waste, a potential water pollutant in the feedlot, is a valuable resource when used to restrict air pollution by blowing dust," says Neil P. Woodruff, ARS agricultural engineer, "and there's the added bonus to the farmer of increased soil fertility."

Field plot studies here show that animal waste is about as effective as an anchored straw in restricting soil loss from highly erosive sandy soil, he says.

At least 30 tons (wet basis) of animal waste per acre tandem-disked into the soil, or 15 tons per acre spread on the soil surface, reduced soil loss immediately after application from 4 tons per acre to less than a half-ton, Mr. Woodruff reports.

The 88-per cent reduction in soil loss, in comparison with that on unprotected plots, was on soil averaging 74 percent sand, 20 percent silt, and 6 percent clay.

Straw anchored with a straight-disk packer, a recommended wind erosion control practice, reduced soil loss by 92 percent when a half-ton per acre was applied.

Jerry D. Dickerson, ARS agricultural engineer, and Dr. Leon Lyles and Dr. Dean V. Armbrust, ARS soil scientists, worked with Mr. Woodruff in the study carried out in cooperation with the Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Harvesters Wind Up 1st Week Miller Burns Course To Grab 2-Shot Lead

By PAUL SIMS
Only five positions are now unsettled as Pampa High School football players have completed their first of three weeks of preparation for the upcoming season.

The Harvesters, working out in shorts most of last week, started hitting in pads for the first time Friday, and, according to head coach John Welborn, "We were pretty pleased."

Welborn added, "There's only so much you can do in shorts." The team used the no-contact period for getting in shape and going over patterns and technique.

"We had a pretty good effort last week. There was quite a bit of learning. Now most of our players know what we're doing on the offense and defense," said

Welborn. "There were a few mistakes, but nothing that can't be worked out."

The coach was pleased in particular with linebacker Frankie Lemons and fullback David Smith. Both showed a great promise a year ago and are liable to be major factors in Pampa's attempt to show up area forecasters, who picked the team to finish on the bottom again.

"I think we have two good senior defensive ends. They (Tyler Drinnon and Mark Baird) looked good yesterday," said Welborn.

"They can help the team a great deal. I feel like Baird and Drinnon and Baker (Kelly), out of those three, we have a fine chance of having a good defensive end situation."

Baird, 6-0 and 180 pounds, did not play last year. "He felt like he was missing out on it," said Welborn, giving a reason for Baird coming out this season.

Starters have been picked at most positions, although Welborn says three of four of those players are likely to receive stiff competition this week as Pampa starts its second week. The week will culminate Friday at Harvester Stadium with a scrimmage against Vernon. Sophomores start play at 6 p.m., followed by the varsities at 7:30.

Graves and tight end Deannie Lewis.

Kory Gamblin will see a lot of action at split end. When he plays, Howie Lewis will move to tight end and the other Lewis will go out.

Backfield will likely be quarterback Chuck Quarles, Smith, left halfback Rick Leverich and right halfback Tim Thornburg.

Ferris is 240 pounds while the other two are 225 each, giving the Harvesters left at the position. In fact Pampa will have two fairly heavy lines since the offensive line averages around 197 and the defensive line around 198.

Left and right linebackers will be Joe Holt and Lemons. Left and right cornerbacks will be Mike Adair and either Willis Price or Jerry Bob Shoopman. And left and right safeties will be John Agan and either Dave Edwards or Lewis Dinkins.

Punter will be Leverich and Howie Lewis will handle kickoffs, extra points and field goals.

So only defensive left end, right tackle, right end, left safety and right corner are still undecided. According to Welborn, those positions will be filled by Thursday.

Miller Burns Course To Grab 2-Shot Lead

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI) — Johnny Miller, playing "a nearly perfect round," shot a seven under par 65 Saturday and grabbed a two-stroke lead after the third round of the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic.

Miller, the leading money winner on the PGA tour, missed just one fairway and hit every green in regulation as he moved into position to win his sixth tournament of the year.

With previous rounds of 69 and 68, the 1973 U.S. Open champion had a 54-hole total of 202, 14 under par on the short Westchester Country Club course.

Tom Weiskopf, still looking for his first victory of a struggling year, birdied the final hole for a 68 and was alone in second place at 204.

Jack Nicklaus, who also birdied the final hole—sinking a putt from off the green after the national television coverage had ended for the day—had a 68 and was tied at 205 with struggling veterans Dale Douglass and Don Bies.

"I'm looking forward to tomorrow," said Miller, who capped a brilliant four-month surge in April by winning the Tournament of Champions and has been on a self-imposed exile from the tour most of the summer, playing only the U.S. and British Opens and PGA championship over the last 10 weeks.

Rangers 6, Cats 4

DETROIT (UPI) — Len Randle singled home the tie-breaker and Toby Harrah, whose home run tied it in the ninth, bunted home an insurance run in the 10th Saturday to give the Texas Rangers a 6-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

It looked like Mickey Lolich, who had moved into eighth place on the all-time strikeout list by fanning 10, was going to be a 4-3 winner until Harrah led off the ninth with his 17th homer this season.

Royals 4, Brew 0

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Al Fitzmorris pitched a three-hitter and faced only 29 batters to pace the Kansas City Royals to a 4-0 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers this Saturday.

The win was the Royals' 10th in 11 games against the Brewers this season.

Taiwan Little League Winner

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — Lin Wen-Hsiung hurled a two-hitter and hit two home runs Saturday to lead Kao Hsiung, Taiwan to a 12-1 thrashing of Red Bluff, Calif., in the Little League World Series championship game.

It was the fourth straight year a team from Nationalist China has won the title and the fifth time in the last six years.

Lin also hit two singles to lead Kao Hsiung's 12-hit attack against two Red Bluff pitchers. Chen Cheng-Chung and Kao Sun-Teh also hammered home runs for the winners.

Lin blasted five homers in the three-game world series, equalling a record set in 1971 by Lloyd McClendon of Gary, Ind. In pitching two series wins, he gave up just three hits and struck out 23. In the title game, he struck out 14 and walked only one.

Red Bluff's only run came on a lead-off homer in the fifth inning by Greg Shoff.

The Halfback's A Girl But You Couldn't Tell By The Way She Knocks You Down

ALTUS, Ark. (UPI) — Shy, sweet Linda with the warm smile and quiet ways is a pretty fair linebacker and halfback, says a fellow who ought to know—Altus

No, this isn't powder, puff football, this is with the fellas in the pads, cracking heads and everything.

Linda is Linda Alston, 5-foot 11, 163 pounds, tough and smooth and considered the best athlete in this Ozark mountain town more famous for its wineries than its football heroes.

Wilson, who only had 32 players come out for the team—and that was just about everyone eligible who could walk in this town of 392, was impressed with Linda's performance in a girl's charity powder puff game.

In that contest Linda ran and passed for more than 1,000 yards. "So I asked her to come out for the team," Stacy says now. "I didn't think much about it at the time."

Linda, 17, who wants to make sure you say her weight is 163 and not 165, doesn't know what all the commotion is about either.

"I've played football since grade school," she says. "I've always liked it. I like all sports."

Her male friends acknowledge en masse, if not individually for the record, that she is as good, if not better, than they are.

She played on the boys' Pony League in baseball and "hit a few homers and pitched some" so the boys are used to having her around, Wilson said. She has four trophies for girls' softball accomplishments and batted more than 500 in a league at Russellville this year.

LUBBOCK — Texas bowhunters are advised of an August 26 deadline.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. will hold a drawing to determine who will be allowed to hunt on two public areas.

The Kerr game management hunt will host three hundred bowhunters. This area is located 15 miles west of Hunt in Kerr County.

The Engeling game management area will host four hundred bowhunters and it is located 18 miles northwest of Palestine in East Texas.

Bowhunters, here is your chance but, you must get your application in to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept., John H. Reagon Bldg., Austin, TX 78701 now.

DOTS

That favorite quail gun has been hanging on the gun rack all year. Now is the time to get the forearm fixed or correct that malfunction in the safety.

Every year, sportsmen are wounded, some permanently, by firearms that blow up, come apart or don't operate.

Maybe it was only your pride that was hurt last year as that trophy buck bounded out of sight when the rifle failed to fire because of a broken firing pin.

Some minor repair jobs can be handled by you, such as refinishing the gunstock, touching up the barrel with some cold blue or installing a recoil pad.

It is better however, to get in contact with a competent gunsmith and have him fix the major problems such as trigger, safety or action malfunctions.

Don't wait until the day before deer or duck season and then expect the busy gunsmith to drop everything and work on your firearm. This is their busy time of year also. Get the firearm into the shop early.

You had better check on your ammunition, too. It is better to purchase a few boxes of shotshell or centerfire ammo now than to find out your favorite store has already sold all of their stock.

Many sportsmen consider getting ready for the trip, locating an area to hunt or discussing the merits of a particular bullet weight as much fun as the actual event itself. But, opening morning is the highlight and it will go smoothly if you are ready.

6-7 Cager Joins NT Grid Team

DENTON, Tex. (UPI) — Add the name of Stan Blackmon to the growing list of the basketball players deciding to play football.

Blackmon is the 6-7, 235-pound center for North Texas State's basketball team. But as of today he will be listed as a tight end on the school's football team.

This is not Blackmon's first shot at football. He was an allstate selection in high school in Gary, Ind.

"He has had exceptional workouts considering his long layoff from football," Coach Hayden Fry said Friday. "We feel he can make a contribution because of his size and mobility."

Blackmon was one of two persons who walked into the Mean Green's football camp Friday. The other was a member of the soccer team, left footed Iseed Khoury.

"There's no question about his leg strength and we're anxious to see him in pads under scrimmage conditions," Fry said.

Booster Club Meets Monday

The Harvester Booster Club will hold its first official meeting of the school year at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the high school cafeteria.

Head coach John Welborn will talk about the upcoming season.

Tiger League Registration Set Aug. 27-29

Fifth- and sixth-grade boys between the ages of 10 and 12 as of Sept. 1 are reminded Tiger League football registration will be held between 5 and 7 p.m. Aug. 27-29.

Those boys who participated last year must also register. Team rosters, coaches, practice field locations and practice times will be listed in the Pampa Daily News Special Football Edition Sept. 1.

Here's a tough quiz for you to test your knowledge of pro football. Listed below are five teams that won the championship in the years indicated. See if you can name the starting quarterbacks each of these teams used to reach the championship. Here are the five teams: 1948 Eagles...1951 Rams...1953 Lions...1955 Browns...1960 Eagles. Now, who were the starting quarterbacks on these teams? For the 1948 Eagles it was Tommy Thompson...1951 Rams, Bob Waterfield...1953 Lions, Bobby Layne...1955 Browns, Otto Graham...1960 Eagles, Norm Van Brockline.

Here's one of the most fantastic records ever made by any football team...It was made by the Army team of 1945 that featured those two greats, Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Army set an all-time record that year by AVERAGING 7.9 yards per play! Imagine a team averaging almost 8 yards every time they put the ball in play...That's a record that may stand for a long, long time.

When was the first time a football game was ever on television? First football telecast in history was on Sept. 30, 1939. The game was between Fordham and Waynesburg and it was televised in New York City.

Big Names, Money To Hilite Futurity

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. (UPI) — Big names and big money are represented by the fastest three qualifiers in the $1 million All American Futurity to be run Laboe Day at Ruidoso Downs.

Topping the tightly grouped 10-horse field of 2-year-olds that qualified Friday were Easy Six and Easy Date, both of which were sired by quarterhorse great Easy Jet. Easy Jet won the 1969 All American.

Rounding out the top trio was unbeaten Tiny's Gay, which can become the first horse in history to take the triple crown of quarterhorse racing with a win in the All American. The California colt has already won the Kansas and Rainbow Futurities, plus 10 other races this season.

The three fastest qualifiers have won more than $450,000 among them this year — Tiny's Gay with more than $306,000, Easy Date with more than $81,000 and Easy Six with more than $75,000.

Less than a half second separated the top 10 qualifiers Friday.

Reds Stay Close To LA Friday

National Leaguers have been saying for the last six weeks that Johnny Bench could win his third most valuable player award this year.

Now quite a few are saying he should.

The 26-year-old Cincinnati catcher, who won the award in 1970 and 1972, has similar impressive statistics—a .283 batting average, 85 runs scored, 26 homers and 98 runs batted in. More important is the fact that he has been a gamewinning slugger as the Reds have surged from 10 1/2 games back to within 2 1/2 games of the Los Angeles Dodgers in the West.

Bench knocked in four runs with a first-inning single and a three-run homer in the fifth Friday night when the Reds defeated the Montreal Expos, 10-7. The victory sliced another game off that once-imposing Los Angeles lead as the Dodgers lost to St. Louis, 2-1.

Pittsburgh downed San Diego 6-2. Atlanta swept New York 4-3 in 10 innings and 6-0, Houston nipped Philadelphia 1-0 and Chicago beat San Francisco 1-0 in other National League games.

American League results were Boston 3 Oakland 0, Chicago 2 Cleveland 0, Baltimore 4 Minnesota 1, Texas 5, Detroit 2, New York 10 California 4, and Milwaukee over Kansas City, 1-0, after an 8-4 loss.

The Expos had a 3-1 lead when Pete Rose and Joe Morgan singled in the fifth and Bench followed with his homer to put the Reds ahead, 4-3. They never trailed again as Clay Carroll won his 10th game with 3 2/3 innings of one-run relief.

Lou Brock, who earlier in the game stole his 87th base—17 fewer than Maury Wills' major league record—singled home Luis Melendez with the Cardinals' winning run in the ninth. Ted Simmons evened the score at 1-1 in the sixth with a homer but Mike Marshall, making his 83rd appearance of the season, yielded the ninth-inning run and was tagged with his ninth loss against 12 victories.

Pirates 6 Padres 2
Richie Zisk and Manny Sanguillen had three hits each and Rennie Stennett homered to lead the Pirates' 14-hit attack which tagged Bill Greif with his 15th loss. Jerry Reuss went 8 1/3 innings to win his 14th game with the relief aid by Dave Giusti.

Colorado DB Collapses, Dies

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — Poli Pottier, a sophomore defensive back at the University of Colorado, died Saturday at Boulder Community Hospital less than 24 hours after collapsing on the university's football training field.

A hospital spokesman said the young athlete died in the intensive care unit where he was rushed Friday complaining of illness during the 880-yard dash.

"We do not know the cause of death," a spokesman said. "An autopsy may be held, but there has been no decision made yet."

TEE-OFF TID-BITS

By Hart Warren

The Top O' Texas is just around the corner.

It hardly seems possible that it has been a year since Joey Richardson of Borger won the 1973 title and in a matter of only eight days, this year's tourney will be history.

Once again the tourney filled in record time. This year, Aug. 11 saw the beginning of a waiting list of area golfers, most of who are long-time supporters of the ToT, which shows the tournament has really grown in popularity.

Tournament director Dr. Vic Trammell has given instructions, in that all local entrants not paid by Sunday night (tonight), will be dropped from the tournament and waiting list contestants will take their places.

The ladies golf association held its annual tournament last weekend with 28 entrants. This year's champion is the "crazy one," Fran Wilson. Congratulations, Fran, those were two fine rounds of golf.

Special awards were given for long drive (Paulette Reed), chipping (Fran Wilson) and putting (Ava Warren). The winners in the first flight was none other than sweet - swinging Frankie Gates.

Second flight saw Jenny Cox pull away from the field, and in third flight, Nita Hill won her first tourney with only six months experience. Overall, it was a very good tournament, well run and smooth-as-silk, due to the efforts of Priscilla Simpson.

Buddy Lamberson and Delmar Watkins carded low rounds this week, both of them with 69. You guys better team up—that might be a tough combination.

Ralph Prock, however, wasn't far behind with a 69. I know the course isn't playing that easy, so somebody's been practicing.

A GOOD RULE TO KNOW
Rule 22 — Lifting before holing out in stroke play.

If a competitor's ball is lifted before it is holed out, except as provided for in the rules or local rules, the competitor shall replace it under a penalty of two strokes, provided he does so before he has played a stroke from the next teeing ground, or, in case of the last hole of the round, before he has left the putting green. If he fails to replace it, he shall be disqualified.

See you in the rough!

Garrett Pinning Blame To Houston's Veterans

HOUSTON (UPI) — Houston Texan Coach Jim Garrett, his World Football League team reeling after four straight games without a win, places most of the blame on his veterans.

"It may be that they just don't want to put out the effort," Garrett said following his team's 43-10 drubbing at the hands of the New York Stars Wednesday. "They've not used a marvelous chance and I think it's obvious they haven't captured the spirit of this new league the way the younger players on the other teams have."

Building hastily one month before the season began, Garrett recruited mostly retired NFL players. He said it would take several games for them to reach winning form.

But after winning two of its first four games, Houston then lost three and tied one of its last four. The Texans, particularly on defense where aging veterans Don Brumm, Jim Kanicki, Al Dotson and Joe Robb hold down starting positions, seem to be losing ground since their openers.

"At the time we were signing people, we didn't see any young players we thought were that good," Garrett said. "I thought these veterans would be able to provide us with the best possible team and I still think that if we could get an effort out of them."

Garrett said no Texan is safe in his position.

"Purge, p-u-r-g-e, by dictionary definition, is getting rid of undesirable people," he said.

Dear Consumer

Bikers' Rules of the Road

By Virginia Knauer
Special Assistant to the President and Director
Office of Consumer Affairs
Department of Health, Education and Welfare

One result of our efforts to conserve energy is the new popularity of bicycle riding. In fact, the Bicycle Institute of America (BIA) estimates that 70 million bicycles are in use today compared with about 100 million cars.

With more and more people using bikes for transportation, there's a new concern for bicycle safety. This concern has led to the issuance of new Federal Government safety standards and to the development of suggested road rules for bicycles.

Every year, an estimated 419,000 bicycle-related injuries are serious enough for emergency hospital treatment. To reduce that toll, the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) has just announced mandatory safety standards for bicycles, to become effective in January 1975.

The new standards will require all bikes to be labeled: "Meets U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission Regulations for Bicycles."

In addition to this new Federal action to improve bicycle safety, the BIA in cooperation with the National Safety Council and the Boy Scouts of America has developed Bicycle Driving Rules for cyclists, such as:

- Obey all traffic regulations for vehicles—bikes are always considered vehicles.
- Watch out for drainage grates, soft shoulders and other traffic hazards.
- Watch out for cars doors opening and for cars pulling out into traffic.
- Don't carry passengers or packages that interfere with vision or control.
- Never grab onto other vehicles such as trucks to "hitch a ride."
- Use hand signals.
- Use reflectors and lights at night.

BIA also urges cyclists to keep their bicycles in a safe condition. It suggests these maintenance steps:

- Make sure the seat and handlebars are adjusted and tight.
- Keep all movable parts lightly oiled.
- Check tire treads for particles like stones and glass and remove them.
- Keep tires inflated to the manufacturer's recommended pressure.
