LT. GOV. NIGH SAYS

Citizens Need Enthusiasm For Community Progress

By TEX DEWEESE

A new year for the Pampa Chamber of Commerce was launched in the M.K. Brown Center last night as new officers assumed their posts at the chamber's annual banquet attended by some 600 persons.

C.E. (Gene) Steel, general manager of the Celanese Chemical Co. Pampa plant, stepped into the presidency as he received the gavel from outgoing President Rex McAnelly.

Other administrative officers who took over were Boyd Taylor, vice president, and Gary Stevens, finance director.

After keeping banquet guests in almost continuous laughter for 30 minutes, Lt. Gov. George Nigh of Oklahoma, principal speaker, gave the new chamber officers, directors and members a bit of advice.

"There are three things that must happen in a community if it is to progress," Nigh said. "Its people must be enthusiastic, they must be hospitable and they must be charitable."

The Oklahoma lieutenant governor said civic leaders must always be looking to the future and they are always facing new challenges.

"Enthusiasm is the greatest factor of all," he said. "If you are not enthusiastic about your community, who do you think will be?"

Hall of Fame flag to Mrs. D.D. Payne of Pampa, an honorary member of the Hall board.

Mrs. Payne thanked Kraker for bringing the Hall of Fame art exhibit to Pampa as part of last night's chamber program.

The display of art consisting of portraits of Hollywood western movie stars was on view in the auditorium foyer before and after the banquet. It also was open for public viewing until 5 p.m. today.

Entertainment for banquet guests was by the Pampa High School Stage Band and Concert Choir under direction of John Woicikowski and Jeff Doughten.

Dinner music was by Sue Higdon at the organ.

Melvin Kunkel introduced out-of-town guests from Amarillo, Borger, Spearman, Dumas, Lefors, Miami, McLean, White Deer, Shamrock, Wheeler, Cranfield Gap and Oklahoma City.

The invocation was given by Glen Walton, minister of the Harvester Mary Ellen Church of Christ.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The President of the United States interrupted the first-term congresswoman from Brooklyn as she talked about suspicions that a deal was involved in his pardon of Richard M. Nixon.

"May I comment there," said Gerald R. Ford, making history as he sat at the witness table of a House subcommittee.

"He got a little indignant on Holtzman's question," said Rep. Peter W. Rodino, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

He looked directly at Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y.

"I want to assure you, the members of this subcommittee, the members of Congress, and the American people that there was no deal, period. Under no circumstances."

It was perhaps the first time a president in office appeared as a formal witness before a congressional panel.

Complimented again and again for his willing appearance and assured that Congress would not consider it a precedent, Ford was not required to swear that he would tell the truth.

President Ford Ends Statement On Pardon

It was perhaps the first time a president in office appeared as a formal witness before a congressional panel.

Complimented again and again for his willing appearance and assured that Congress would not consider it a precedent, Ford was not required to swear that he would tell the truth.

He spoke forcefully, directly, giving the impression that he had nothing to hide.

Ford relived for the committee the stunning moments of Aug. 1, when Nixon's chief of staff, Alexander M. Haig, came to his vice presidential office and told him that information would be released soon that very probably would make him President.

The substance of his conversation was that the new disclosure would be devastating, even catastrophic, insofar as President Nixon was concerned, said Ford.

Haig wanted to know, Ford said, "whether I was prepared to assume the presidency within a very short time."

BETWEEN NIXON, COLSON

Dean Claims Clemency Viewed For Defendants

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John W. Dean III testified today that Charles W. Colson told him he had discussed clemency for the original Watergate defendants with President Richard M. Nixon in January, 1973.

In his third day on the stand at the Watergate cover-up trial of five former Nixon associates, Dean continued his narrative of alleged cover-up activities in late 1972 and early 1973.

It was believed tapes of Dean's conversations with Nixon on March 17 and March 21, 1973, would be played at the trial later in the day. The first secret White House tapes were played Thursday in a courtroom rigged with earphones so all could hear.

Dean said Hunt was distraught over the death of his wife in an airplane crash and wanted to plead guilty if he could get "some assurance from the White House he wouldn't go to jail for the rest of his life."

During the March 21 meeting, Dean gave Nixon the details of the Watergate cover-up and warned, "We have a cancer—within—close to the presidency..."

Dean, former White House counsel and Nixon's chief accuser, testified today about the problems White House aides had with original Watergate defendants E. Howard Hunt Jr. and James W. McCord Jr.

Dean quoted Colson as saying, "John, I felt this matter was so serious... This was a matter I felt I had to take up with the President himself."

Chief trial prosecutor James F. Neal asked Dean if Colson told him he actually took it up with the President.

Leader Gerald R. Ford should try to head off a House investigation.

As the tape of Nixon's Sept. 15, 1972, conversation with Dean and White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman was played, every person in the silent courtroom—the jury, presiding Judge John J. Sirica, the five defendants, their lawyers, reporters and the 100 persons in the audience—wore large earphones.

The jury and reporters had transcripts to follow the conversation more easily.

Payne pointed out to the board, superintendent, and visitors, the existing code is violated by only a small minority of students. He further stated he feels no flagrant abuse of responsibility and decency would be exercised by students.

CHANGES RECOMMENDED

Board Considering Dress Code

By ALETHA DAVIS

Consideration of a change in existing policy on appearance for students in the Pampa Independent School District was still in progress at noon today by the board of trustees.

The Pampa board of trustees is studying recommendation the code be revised, shifting the responsibility of the appearance of students to the individuals and their parents, easing the responsibility of faculty and principals in enforcing existing dress code rules.

Pampa High School principal Paul Payne concurred with the board recommendation.

Jack Bailey, principal of Pampa Junior High, told board members he intended to follow the dress policy or any other policy guideline to the letter until otherwise instructed.

He told the members he felt the main issue in the recommendation remained unity.

Bailey further stated his belief that dress and behavior go hand and hand, and emphasized his feeling that, no matter what action was executed, the system should be in unity in interpreting the code.

Carole Mackey, speaking as a teacher, parent and wife of a teacher, told the board she was pleased with the code change recommendation, adding her belief, from experience, that the real problems in the dress code area came with the crackdown on permissible hair length in the school.

She said most elementary dress problems can be handled by a teacher suggesting a change. She concluded her remarks to the board, speaking as a parent who felt the dress code ruling had been used without merit in dealing with a child with injury severe enough to prevent the student from wearing hose to class.

Student body president, Glen Blanscet, told the board she was pleased with the code change recommendation, adding her belief, from experience, that the real problems in the dress code area came with the crackdown on permissible hair length in the school.

Payne relayed his belief students would accept the proposed code and promote responsibility, adding that violators would be handled with counseling or necessary action, as was the present means of enforcement.

He stated further he felt some code was needed, however, and voiced approval for the recommendation which was before the board.

In other action the board tabled final decision on purchase of 140 band uniforms, approved the budget report and minutes of the September meeting.

An audit report from Jerry Davis, CPA, was accepted, and bids were accepted from Jack Williams and Associates for the purchase of three projectors and zoom lenses.

Audio-Visual Educational Systems was awarded the bid for a slide film projector and Williams' bid on two record players was accepted.

A slide projector bid was awarded the Audio-Visual Systems as well as the bid on a wall projector. Total expenditure authorized by the board was $2220.71, with 50 percent earmarked for rebate from applicable educational funds.

Bill Arrington was elected as district representative to the Drug Task Force, and Dr. Dan Long, superintendent, was elected as representative to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

The board also adopted a resolution requesting the Pampa City Council and Gray County Commissioners Court to appoint representatives to the Drug Task Force.

PPCA Elects New Officers

Will Claypool, a member of the Colorado State Patrol from Lamar, was elected president of the Panhandle Police Communications Association during its concluding session Thursday afternoon.

Other officers elected in the session at Coronado Inn are Paul Harvell, Amarillo, member of the Texas Department of Public Safety, vice president; Joyce Folger, Hugoton, Kan., sheriff's office, secretary; and Leota Pollard, Pampa Police Department, treasurer.

The group of approximately 100 persons selected Amarillo, proposed by the sheriff's office there, by acclamation as the site for the April meeting.

The PPCA is comprised of law enforcement communications personnel from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico.

IN TRADE PLAN

Soviets Agree To Ease Jewish Emigration Rate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States and the Soviet Union have reached an agreement to ease emigration of Jews from Russia, Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., announced today.

The agreement was the result of two years of negotiations between Jackson, the administrations of Presidents Nixon and Ford and the Soviet Union. It clears the way for Congress to accord Russia nondiscriminatory trade treatment.

At a White House press conference held after meeting with Ford, Jackson described the agreement, contained in an exchange of letters between himself and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, as a "historic understanding in the area of human rights."

"This is really a great development in human rights in relations with the Soviet Union," Jackson said.

The agreement will apply not only to Jews who seek to emigrate but to other Soviet nationals as well.

Jackson said the agreement provides that the Soviet emigration rate will rise "promptly" from 1973 levels and increase to a minimum issuance of 60,000 visas a year.

Other Communist countries that seek nondiscriminatory trade treatment by the United States—China, Romania, Czechoslovakia and others—will be required to assure the United States that they too will permit free emigration of their nationals.

Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., portrayed the agreement as a "key element of detente" and said that "good faith performance of this agreement" by the Russians would be an important indicator of how well detente is actually working.

Jackson predicted the omnibus trade bill should be approved quickly when Congress returns from its recess and become law in December.

Granberry Sets Campaign Trip

Jim Granberry, Republican candidate for the governorship of Texas, will arrive at Perry Lefors Field at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

A press conference and open house marking the opening of the Gray County Republican Headquarters, 927 W. Foster, will begin at 11 a.m.

Congressman Bob Price is expected to arrive at the headquarters at 3 p.m. to take part in the opening day plans.

Granberry will be greeted by the Top O' Texans, a group composed of Gene Barber, Jean Martindale, Harold Barrett and Don Bigham, according to Republican party campaign officials here.

The Curse Of Waste

Waste is the curse of an affluent society. It tends to increase as the economy booms. It likewise tends to decrease as the economy slumps. The late R. C. Hoiles who founded Freedom Newspapers, often told us that "we can't stand prosperity." He didn't mean that it is a bad thing to be prosperous but rather that it is more difficult to make wise decisions when times are hard. The realism of poverty and scarcity makes conservation a necessity. Few persons need much persuasion on that score. But the wise individual realizes that if conservation is a good practice during hard times, it is equally valuable when the larder is filled. But these are ideas born of the free market and of the concept of individual responsibility. Somehow they seem to have gotten lost in the shuffle of the welfare state. The natural frugal way of life in America has dissipated through the years because self-reliance and individual responsibility have been preempted by agencies of political government. If someone else is going to see to it that we are fed, clothed, housed, schooled, medicated, and transported, the necessity for making decisions in those areas diminishes. We are left with little else to do but "live it up."

But government agencies, no matter how many, no matter how powerful, cannot repeal natural economic law. A time of accounting is inevitable. The growth of government bureaucracy not only drained the productive work force but it added to the cost of doing business for those still operating in the private economy. Cutting through the philosophical verbiage, what this means to the individual is inflation and scarcity. But after generations of looking to political government for solutions, it may be difficult for some even now to recognize the root of the problem.

The News has editorialized on this subject for decades and we have been encouraged recently because more and more of our readers are beginning to see our point. For those not yet convinced we should like to offer an illustration of why it costs the housewife so much these days to buy a loaf of bread. Admittedly this is oversimplified, but it is essentially the way it works. If the housewife can visualize all the people involved in the process of providing that loaf of bread, standing in line palms up, she may get a clear picture of the problem.

In the private sector, she has many palms in which she must place a coin. She has to pay the man who dug the ore from the ground, and the man who turned it into steel. Then comes the man who turned it into a trashing machine. Then she has to pay the man who harvested the wheat and the miller who turned it into flour and the baker who made it into bread. Then in line is the man who drove the truck to the grocery store. Then there are folks in the grocery store, each standing in line for their pay until she gets to the box boy who puts the bread on top of the sack of groceries and says "Thank you, ma'am."

There are a lot more palms which actually are in the line such as those responsible for providing the fuel to run the necessary vehicles and those who make the paper for the bread wrapper. But in all these cases, the palms belong to people who did something productive which made it possible for the housewife to satisfy a desire for a loaf of bread. Standing in the same line, however, and in front of the line is the vast army of political government workers who regulated some phase of the cycle of productivity. The housewife has to pay them all before she can have that bread. Then come the state inspectors, the state department of human resources, the department of motor vehicles. She has to pay the state and county health departments and finally the city hall for such things as building permits and business licenses. We have only scratched the surface here, but the point is clear that the customer pays all the costs, those directly involved in the production plus all the costs added by non-productive government interference. Government is the fastest growing and most costly activity in our land, and every tick of the clock inflates the cost of living. The challenge is to recognize where the housewife is wasting her money.

DUNAGIN'S PEOPLE

STILL HOLDING THE BAG

SET FOR 1976
New 'Kennedy' Star Is Born

By VICTORY RIESEL
NEW YORK — All political contests are equal — but this season the New York gubernatorial race is more equal than the others, it seems to me. A Kennedy star is being born. For the nation he's one of the obscure, but if the polls are right in giving him an ocean-sized "margin," he'll be a national name talked of for the 1976 Democratic presidential ticket. He's 55-year-old Congressman Hugh Carey, ex-infantryman, Bronze Star and French Croix de Guerre winner for slugging it all over Western Europe under Nazi fire in the big one. Already labor's inner circle sees him as the replacement for "Ted" nationally as the Irish Catholic Kennedy image — in the second slot at least, with a Jackson, a Mondale or a Bentsen.

The labor strategists, COPE's strongest men, see "Hughie" smashing incumbent Gov. Malcolm Wilson to a political pulp. This would destroy what's left of Nelson Rockefeller's home-based machine. One needs no Nick the Greek to bolster the labor leaders' confidence. Some polls have shown Carey 25 per cent — and more — ahead of Gov. Wilson. If the final count reflects this it will be a dramatic and traumatic throwback to the old Jack Kennedy — labor-Catholic 1960 presidential victory. Not only would it kick the props out from under ex-Governor Rockefeller (who depended for victories on little-known coalitions with liberal and regular machine Democrats) but it could dispatch Sen. Jack Javits back to Cuba as a paying tourist who once was a U.S. Senator.

If the labor chiefs are right — and they're now putting their best money, best manpower and best political minds on the line with AFL-CIO President George Meany's quiet support — there will be a straight Democratic victory. This could defeat the Republican liberal Sen. Javits. It would take some doing, but it just might happen. Meany dislikes Javits, who never has lost. The AFL-CIO chief told him in effect recently that he (Meany) was not proud of the fashion in which Javits sat at the feet of Castro when the Cuban dictator attacked the U.S. in a characteristically wild speech. "You should have taken the first plane home," Meany snapped at Javits. Further, Meany also is furious with the Senator for "attempting to bribe" the Soviets with favorable trade concessions in exchange for the annual release of 60,000 Jewish folk when the U.S.S.R. is bound to permit open emigration under its United Nations charter signature. So Javits won't have much labor outpouring. In name, yes, in logistics, no.

It will all go to Hugh Carey, who would have been out front years ago were it not for some heartbreaking personal tragedies. Now the Congressman from New York's 15th congressional district is in it all the way. He's back to the fighting tone of 1960 when he hooked his career to Jack Kennedy. And to 1964 when he plunged in to help Bobby Kennedy with the New York Senate race. He is, of course, Catholic. He has long been "in the family." He sees some of the clan often and is intimate with several of them. Thus, should he "win big," say the labor chiefs, Carey will be the natural replacement of Ted Kennedy's image on the 1976 national ticket. Should he beat Rockefeller's protege, incumbent Gov. Wilson and his money, Carey would become a powerful governor. And a power in the Democratic party. That would settle much of the inner feuding. It would blend the reasonable left with the regular "right" and labor chiefs. It would swing Al Barkan's COPE back into the official party structure. It would provide just the antidote to political suicide the party needs before its mini-convention in Kansas City — billed as the greatest political mayhem match in history. Or at least since the '68 Chicago convention. In the pragmatic, hard-nosed politicians' language, he would balance out the ticket and neutralize Catholic resentment against those who forced Ted Kennedy into an "early decision" (the full story of which I believe hasn't yet been told).

Hugh Carey would provide the party's presidential frontrunners with just the balance they need, say the inner sanctum labor chiefs. All this proves the New York gubernatorial campaign is not the usual horse race. As recent history has gone, this could be the making of a President. At least a Vice President. (All Rights Reserved)

ALL IN A NAME
NEW YORK (UPI) — The name Halloween means the evening before All Hallow's or All Saints' Day — Nov. 1. Although known as the eve of the Christian holiday, Halloween long antedates Christianity. In ancient days, for example, it was believed that of all nights in the year Halloween was the one when ghosts and witches were mostly like to wander about.

PARTY TIME
NEW YORK (UPI) — Halloween is second only to Christmas as an occasion for children's parties. RX for a successful party: everyone in costume, dim lighting, spooky decorations, games — such as apple bobbing and blind man's bluff. To save cleanup chores, use paper plates, paper table settings.

Inside Washington

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

Leftists, 'Old Guard' Prepare For Democratic Power Struggle
WASHINGTON — The battlelines are now tautly drawn in the long-seething backstage struggle for control of the Democratic party — and selection of its 1976 presidential standard bearer.

The gauntlet was belligerently thrown down at a stormy meeting between national chairman Robert Strauss and leaders of the leftist coalition. "It's us or the old guard," one of them testily proclaimed. The coalition of radicals, black militants and assorted activists that put over McGovern in 1972 and then was booted out after his crushing defeat is now aggressively girding to regain domination.

Showdown in this eventful tug-of-war will be at the "mini-convention" in Kansas City in December. On the basis of tabulations compiled by the Coalition for a Democratic Majority, the line-up at this gathering is still touch-and-go. Party regulars and their COPE (AFL-CIO) allies have a slim margin, but it's still uncertain how the opposing forces will finally measure up.

At a strategy huddle immediately following the session with Strauss, leftist leaders claimed $65,000 was pledged "as a starter" to finance the drive to get back in the saddle at Kansas City. Put in charge of this operation is Alan Barn — who has been vigorously organizing and spearheading the leftist bloc.

Short, beefy and known among politicians as "Five by Five," Barn was right-hand lieutenant of Mrs. Jean Westwood Utah, Democratic national chairman during the brief tenure of the McGovernites. Subsequently, he established the so-called "Democratic Planning Group," a handy vehicle for his agitational and propaganda machinations. "Angeling" Barn and DPG are millionaire radicals — foremost among them Stewart Mott, General Motors heir; Harold Wilens, Los Angeles realtor; Daniel Noyes, Indianapolis; Lily Drug heir; Mrs. Maya Miller, who recently waged a well-heeled but unsuccessful campaign for Senator in Nevada.

KEY ISSUES
Crux of the fateful Democratic struggle revolves around two leftist demands: Restoration of (1) the "unit rule"; (2) the "quota system."

It was these contrivances that enabled radical forces (a minority in the party as a whole) to maneuver McGovern into the 1972 nomination. After the South Dakotan's election debacle, party regulars and laborites set out to eliminate the two minority — favoring "gimmicks." To a considerable extent, that has been accomplished in the new charter that will be considered at the "mini-convention."

The leftists are determined to restore these devices — or as they self-righteously described it, "To block the old guard's attempt to roll back essential party reforms."

Outcome of this battle will largely determine both control of the party and its future course. Significantly indicative of what is behind the strident clamor for restoration of the quota system, is the ultimatum of a coterie of black leaders at a meeting with national chairman Strauss. They served notice that unless the quota is reinstated they will boycott the Kansas City meeting. Foremost among this group are Mayor Richard Hatcher, Gary, Ind.; Mayor Coleman Young, Detroit; Rep. Charles Rangel, N.Y., chairman of the congressional black caucus; Rep. Yvonne Burke, Calif.; Basil Paterson, vice chairman of the national committee. In a highly accusatory tenor, the blacks warned: "If the Democratic leadership continues to bow to pressure from those who would limit blacks, women, youth and other minority participation in party affairs, and if the party leadership continues to insist on further compromises on 'affirmative action,' we see no need to participate in the Kansas City mid-term conference. Chairman Strauss is still wishfully expressing confidence that "differences will be ironed out," and an open breach averted. Time and events will tell.

A meeting of the charter commission in Kansas City in August was deliberately broken up by a carefully prearranged televised walkout led by Willie Brown, black activist California state assemblyman — when his leftist faction was outvoted on the quota issue. And last month, at a session of the executive committee of the national committee, Gary Mayor Hatcher truculently challenged Strauss on the quota issue. Hatcher was stridently backed by Arnold Alperstein, Colorado radical.

Strauss averted an outright blow — up by promising to "consider" Hatcher's contention. Strauss used the same strategy in coping with a demand of leftist leaders that Alan Barn be included in a meeting of the charter commission in Washington to work out possible compromises on disputed provisions.

FLASHES
Militantly liberal Reps. Philip and John Burton, D-Calif., from adjoining districts in the San Francisco Bay area, are trying out an innovation in congressional staffs. They are pooling them — sharing a common legislative assistant on educational matters; another on immigration, and the same press man... To hear Sen. George McGovern on the hustings this year you'd never know the South Dakotan was way out in left field in his 1972 presidential race. He is assiduously mulling his militant stands of two years ago — on busing, drastic soak-the-rich tax proposals, unconditional amnesty, etc. In his reelection drive, McGovern is concentrating on the farm issue and the woes of aggrieved cattle raisers. On amnesty he has praised President Ford's conditional plan, hailing it as a "practical compromise that opens the way to reconciliation and healing of wounds."

ROAD SKIDS
NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 30 states are evaluating the skid resistance of their highways and many have found that cutting grooves either longitudinally or at right angles to traffic flow is effective in preventing skids, Arthur D. Little, a research firm, reports.

Dear Abby
Wants no wheels at her wedding
By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by The Chicago Tribune

DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon. My fiance's favorite brother, who was asked to be our best man, has just undergone his third operation. He will be out of the hospital in time for our wedding, but he'll be in a wheelchair for several months. My fiance insists that his brother be in the wedding party, wheelchair or no wheelchair. Abby, there will be over 500 people at the wedding and reception. I'm having a professional photographer take pictures of the whole thing—even movies—and I just know that wheelchair will ruin everything. Imagine, the best man going down the aisle in a wheelchair! I'm afraid people will laugh. Please don't get me wrong, Abby. I love my future brother-in-law and am sorry for what he's had to go through, but I think someone else should take his place as best man. Am I wrong for wanting everything to be perfect?
PHOENIX BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: If by "perfect" you mean appearances over the feelings of your fiance and his favorite brother, you are indeed wrong. A best man in a wheelchair (or for that matter, ANY member of the wedding in a wheelchair) is not unique in the annals of wedding ceremonies. And it's not apt to be laughed at.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 13-year-old girl. I'm writing this for my brother (he's 12) and myself because we both have the same problem. It's our father. He refuses to take a vacation. Dad says he can't spare the time. He's in the insurance business and he makes a good living, but what good is the money if he works himself to death? Mom is a housewife. We live in a nice home in the suburbs, have two cars, nice clothes and my brother and I go to a good camp. Mom and Dad haven't had a vacation together since they've been married. Other families take a vacation every year. All our Dad knows is work. Is there some way we can get him to take a vacation? We're not asking for a trip ourselves. We'd be happy if he took Mom and went someplace for a rest. Can you solve our problem?
MILWAUKEE KIDS

DEAR ABBY: Sixteen years ago I read a letter in your column urging readers to remove the doors from stored and abandoned iceboxes and refrigerators so children couldn't crawl into them and become accidentally trapped. (You called them "potential coffins.") I remembered that letter so vividly because the year before, I had lost a precious four-year-old grandson in such a senseless accident. Following his death, his mother (my daughter-in-law) had psychiatric treatment for a year to overcome her recurring nightmares and feelings of guilt. I read the same warning in your column three more times over the years. Yesterday I read a small item in our local newspaper. A seven-year-old girl, who had been missing for 12 hours, was found dead in an abandoned icebox stored in the basement of a playmate's home. During a game of hide and seek, the child had crawled into the icebox, was trapped, and eventually died of suffocation. Abby, will you please warn your readers again? It may save a young life.
GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: I will. But most people are strange. They think the weird things about which they read can never happen to them. Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SATURDAY, OCT. 19
Your birthday today: Intellectual development characterizes your progress this coming year. Knowing why something works is more valuable than just knowing it does. Relationships diverge into unplanned extremes. Today's natives are benevolent, sensitive, usually have a keen eye for color and texture. Many of them have become famous as champions of the "underdog."
Aries [March 21-April 19]: Deal with publishers, professional people, the ministry, as circumstances indicate. Catch up on shop-talk, pick up examples for future guidance.
Taurus [April 20-May 20]: A good day to revise budgets, rearrange other financial details. Seek direct recognition for current achievements. Invite friends in for a pleasant get-together.
Gemini [May 21-June 20]: If your ideas have been premature, you find them being presented by others. Never mind, join the fun, help make them come true.
Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Limber up early; it's a good working day. Maturity, like charity, begins at home. See that you gain in both. Get symptoms checked if you're not up to par.
Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: A mellow mood is normal, so make the day an easy one. Creative effort flows. Brief conferences with important people offer broad possibilities.
Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Everybody has an opinion on current circumstances, from football to foreign politics. Your first point of reference is your home.
Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: You are the main source of energy this weekend. Make it a long, pleasant day or small journeys, renewed contacts, perhaps romance.
Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]:

Deal with those you don't ordinarily see. Take the initiative, even where you're not certain of results. Secrets pop into public view, and you know where you stand.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Be ready early. There's much to be done and material and spiritual rewards to be had for the doing. Social functions are favored.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Old work is completed with your consistent diligence, quiet assertion. Nothing extraordinary is promised, just satisfying clarification.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Do not discard the practical approach in favor of theory. Profit from opportunity for social and intellectual exchanges.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Put your main effort into healthy self-interest — it hasn't gone out of style. Group finances improve. Save something on your own for future.

Briscoe Urges States To Help Provide Energy

HOUSTON (UPI) — Failure to adopt a national energy policy remains a principal stumbling block in solving the country's future power needs, according to Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

"We must recognize the seriousness, the magnitude, of the energy supply problems that face us in the years ahead," Briscoe said Thursday. "We will never establish energy independence without that policy."

Briscoe told a meeting of oil industry leaders the fuel situation was vastly improved, but it was time for other states to become aware of individual needs in meeting energy demands.

"Texas has done its part to meet the energy needs of this country," he said. "Other states must do their share, too. Other states must drill off their shores as we have."

The governor, who spoke at a final session of the 55th annual meeting of the Texas MidContinent Oil and Gas Association, repeated an earlier call for more incentives to encourage exploration by independents and big oil companies alike.

"Some action must be taken and taken soon that includes incentives for exploration," he said. "Oil reserves off the coasts of other states should be drilled now."

States have until the fall of 1976 to meet provisions of the Federal Environmental Pesticide Control Act.

FROM JAYCEES

Embarrassed Mills Gets Cheers

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — It was a perfect crowd for an embattled and embarrassed Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark. It was loud, boisterous and it supported him no matter what he might have done.

Mills, sweating and shaking, apologized Thursday night to the Little Rock Junior Chamber of Commerce for any embarrassment he may have caused and then asked for their support in what probably is his toughest reelection battle ever.

And the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee also offered some advice.

"Don't go out with foreigners who drink champagne," he said, and the Jaycees roared.

"Good for you, Wilbur," yelled one man in the back of the room after Mills discussed his run-in with the U.S. Park Police Oct. 7 at Washington.

Mills was making his first campaign speech since going into seclusion Oct. 8. He needed votes and he wanted to explain an incident that has become the talk of Arkansas.

Mills is being opposed by Judy Petty, a divorcee who refuses to make the congressman's latest troubles an issue in the campaign.

"I was one of those who went out one night and did something I shouldn't have done," Mills told the Jaycees. "I drank some champagne and it went right to my head."

He said his first mistake was taking that first sip of bubbly. "I learned years ago I couldn't drink it," he said.

Mills tried to set aside speculation that Mrs. Battistella was anything more than a friend and neighbor. He turned to his wife, Polly, and said, "When you've been married as long as we have, no one else comes between us."

The remark drew applause.

"I've been embarrassed beyond words, as I have said," Mills told the Jaycees. "I've apologized. I apologize again tonight. I apologize for any embarrassment I have caused you," he said.

McLean Plans Derby Jubilee

McLEAN — The Future Business Leaders of McLean High School are sponsoring a Derby Town Jubilee Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym.

The program will feature area talent in the country western music field.

Everyone is urged to attend the event.

Alanreed PTO Slates carnival

The Parent-Teachers Organization (PTO) of Alanreed will sponsor a Halloween carnival Saturday, Oct. 26, in the school gym.

Turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, will be served at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria by members of the Alanreed Home Demonstration Club.

Carnival doors will open at 7 p.m. and the final event of the day will be the Halloween Queen's coronation at 10 p.m. in the auditorium.

TO 75 PERCENT Attendance Jumps In Boston Schools

BOSTON (UPI) — Attendance at Boston's racially tense schools jumped to near 75 per cent Thursday in the second day of relative calm since the call-up of 450 national guardsmen.

Citywide school attendance was 74.3 per cent, up from 66.7 per cent Wednesday, and black attendance in South Boston's previously all-white high schools was over 50 per cent—the highest since court-ordered busing began Sept. 12.

Only seven whites showed up, however, at previously all-black Roxbury High, where South Boston whites have been ordered bused. School officials said a white boycott of those schools remained 80 per cent effective.

School officials conducted sporadic frisks of students entering Hyde Park High School, where eight whites were injured in racial fighting Tuesday.

One student was suspended after officials found a club concealed in his sleeve.

Police were sent into Rosindale High School to prevent violence from spreading after two female students—one white, the other black—got into a brief scuffle. No one was injured and there were no arrests or suspensions.

Elsewhere, three blacks were arrested for throwing rocks at a city bus, and a person identifying himself as a member of the Socialist Workers party was arrested for trespassing and blocking a sidewalk in front of English High School.

Board Asks Insurance Rate Hike

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — In 1972 and 1973 the State Insurance Board ordered rate reductions in premiums for relieved Texas motorists. Chairman Joe Christie says the board will whittle down industry requests for increases again in 1975.

But oh such increases. Texas motorists will have to pay $98 million more, a 16.8 per cent increase, beginning Jan. 1 if the board accepts the recommendations of its own staff.

If the three-member board goes along with the insurance industry the increases could be higher. The industry this week asked for a $126 million, 18.2 per cent jump.

"I can assure you that the board intends to use a sharp pencil when we write the final rates," Christie said Thursday.

The 16.8 per cent figure is an average of the varying rate increases suggested for different classifications of drivers, categories of coverages and territories of the state.

The premium increase for an average driver who drives his car to work and buys standard liability, comprehensive and collision coverages would be $44 in Houston, $33 in Dallas, $30 in San Antonio and Fort Worth, $43 in El Paso, Edinburg and San Angelo, $35 in Austin and $37 in Laredo. The highest increase would be $48 in Montgomery County, and the lowest would be $22 in Bowie County.

increase in rates for excess limits policies purchased on commercial vehicles.

Irons proposed a discount for motorists who join carpools and drive their vehicles less than 30 miles a week.

A 16.8 per cent increase also would be the largest single increase the insurance board has granted during the past 15 years.

Christie said the panel will study statistics on the effect the energy crisis is having on accident rates before ruling on new rates, and may base part of its decision on "intuition."

"We've got that authority within certain limits," he said.

The population of St. Petersburg, Fla., soars from its permanent level of 267,000 to 350,000 during the winter tourist season.

Violent Protests Continue Against Prisons Jailings

BELFAST (UPI) — A bomb planted in a hifacked car blasted a street in Belfast's new Lodge-Road area today, injuring a number of persons in the third day of violent protest against mass jailing of suspected extremists. A gunman wounded two Roman Catholic street cleaners in the Lower Falls area.

A police spokesman said the bomb exploded in car left in Hillman Street, a Roman Catholic area, injuring 12 persons, including a teen-ager. He said the extent of their injuries was not yet known.

The gunman firing a burst from a passing car hit one of the street cleaners in the back, seriously wounding him. The other man was hit in the arm, the spokesman said.

The spokesman said Army squads arrested 170 persons in the rioting in West Belfast in the last 24 hours.

Seven buses parked in a bus station at Ballymoney, 45 miles northwest of Belfast, were set afire during the night.

Barricades were still up in Strabane, south of Londonderry, but the Army said the situation was now quiet.

The British government vowed to keep holding suspected Protestant militants and Catholic Irish Republican Army members without trial, despite jail riots and street disorders sparked by the Maze prison uprising Tuesday.

Britain rushed 600 fresh troops into Ulster Thursday to reinforce 15,000 already in the strife-torn province and soldiers in riot gear fought running battles with stone-throwing mobs in several areas of the capital.

Flaming buses and autos blocked streets overnight and columns of smoke rose in the Catholic Andersonstown, Lower Falls Road, New Lodge, Ardoyne and Ligoniel districts.

A civilian was wounded in cross-fire between snipers and British troops at an observation post on Ormeau Road Thursday night and was taken to a hospital, the army said.

Sugar And Spice Being Ripped Off

United Press International Sugar and spice and such things nice are being taken off restaurant tables for fear that customers caught up in the inflation pinch will steal all that's available.

"Our customers will take all the free sugar they can get," said a waitress for Chicago's Cambridge House restaurant.

"We still keep sugar packets on the table, but we keep an eye on it to make sure it's being used on our coffee of tea or whatever. A lot of people come in and order milk or juice, then pack their pockets full of our sugar."

Other restaurants, especially the low-priced establishments, are not as generous.

"Sugar is as expensive for us as for anybody else," said a spokesman for a north west Indiana restaurant chain.

"We just let people ask us for the sugar now. Then the waitress gives them what they want. That way, we don't have people helping themselves and taking the stuff home."

"We even have people stealing the salt and pepper, shakers and all, if we don't keep an eye on them. Now our customers have to ask for the salt and pepper before it's put on the table."

The high price of sugar — up from 69 cents to more than $2 for five pounds, has made fortune hunters of many a restaurant patron.

Some restaurants have used health warnings to keep their customers off the sweet stuff.

"We are trying to encourage the use of sugar substitutes that we put on the tables anyway," said a spokesman for The Hollywood Holiday Inn in California.

"It hasn't made a dent yet. I've heard of people pilfering it off tables back east and in the Midwest, but we haven't gotten to that point yet."

But many restaurants and hotels in Pittsburgh are not providing packets of sugar unless specifically asked for it, and others refuse to put sugar in bowls on customers' tables for fear it will be stolen.

Restaurants in Atlanta also have waitresses offering a sugar packet at a time to sweet-toothed customers.

Restaurants in Philadelphia, Houston and Detroit said they continue to place sugar on the tables, though in reduced quantities in some cases, and find they are using more sugar than usual.

Harry Maroni, who works at the Corona Cafe in Chicago, says he hasn't seen anyone taking sugar yet, but "if I see anybody doing it, I'll tell the waiter to put it on the check — 25 cents."

Venezuela Views Oil Nationalization

CARACAS (UPI) — A draft bill moving Venezuela closer to nationalization of its giant oil industry went to President Carlos Andres Perez today for review and possible modification.

A presidential commission on Thursday approved without a formal vote a 12-article draft bill recommending that the government take over U.S. and other foreign-oil companies.

The 36-man commission is made up of private business men, government and technical representatives.

The business leaders opposed the exclusion of private business participation in the 3 million barrel-per-day industry, commission sources said.

The bill, which outlines the terms for nationalization of some 5.4 million acres of oil fields and installations worth an estimated $4.7 billion, will now go to for his review and possible modifications.

Perez set up the nationalization commission last May 16 with a six-month deadline for a plan to detail the takeover from a score of international firms, led by Exxon, Shell, Gulf and Mobil.

Venezuelan is the world's third largest exporter of oil and the chief supplier of U.S. oil imports. Foreign companies have managed its petroleum industry for more than half a century.

The companies hold 40-year concession agreements that normally would have expired in 1983. Perez, however, announced that the government would announce a new termination date.

President Signs Home Loan Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford today signs a $7.75 billion bill aimed at freeing more money for home loans and pumping new life into the housing industry.

The legislation is expected to spur construction of 100,000 new houses across the United States.

The bill will allow the federal government to buy conventional mortgages from savings and loan associations and other lending institutions, thus pumping more home loan funds into the tight money market.

The government reported Thursday that home building has skidded by more than 50 per cent during the last 16 months and fell 14 per cent between July and August.

Previously, the Government National Mortgage Association was allowed to purchase only FHA loans. Now it may buy conventional mortgages of up to $42,000 per home at interest ceilings equal to the going rate on six and 12-year treasury bonds.

Beautiful furniture that stays that way

DIALOGUE by Stanley. The striking new statement in furniture. It achieves a superb balance between the time-tested traditional and the strictly functional. With deep geometric moldings framing the exotic mottled look of burl. And a mere hint of hardware — all the more dramatic for its subtlety. Sepia, its radiant woodtone finish puts a glow on the engraved burl panels and richly grained pecan veneers. Dialogue. Equally outstanding in either an apartment or full-scale home. Let it say something uncommonly beautiful in yours.

New Certification For Auto Mechanics

COLLEGE STATION — Shoulder patches denoting kills is the newest way for consumers to know their auto mechanic's qualifications, according to one authority.

She's Lynn Borlund, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The newly-created National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence tests auto mechanics in eight areas. But a mechanic must have at least two years' experience before he can take the tests," she said.

Applicants can choose any area of testing — all eight don't have to be taken to qualify.

"Mechanics passing all eight tests are certified as General Automobile Mechanics and are entitled to wear a shoulder patch resembling a double gear.

"Those certified for less than eight categories can wear single gear patches with bars indicating the specific areas of certification."

Test areas are engine repair; automatic transmission; a manual transmission and rear axle; front end; brakes; electrical system; heating and air conditioning; and engine tuneup.

"Approximately 5,300 repair facilities in the U.S. now employ certified auto mechanics," she reported.

Lockhart, secretary; Sherilyn Hedrick, president; Mollie Jackson, vice president; Kellie Kvesich, historian; and Susan Albus, parliamentarian.

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED KARPIN

"A 'squeeze' is a play which forces an opponent to discard a winner, or a potential winner, or a card that protects a winner. An example of the squeeze play in action can be observed in today's deal, which was played in the 1974 Life Masters Pairs Championship. Sitting South was Gerry Michaud of Wichita, Kan. North was Bobby Nail of Houston, Tex. These two gentlemen were the winners of this six-session championship event.

The bidding:
South West North East
1♦ Pass 1♥ Pass
2NT Pass 4♦ Pass
4NT Pass 6NT Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Five of ♠.

North's four-club bid was the Gerber-Slam Convention, which inquired as to the number of aces South possessed. When South then bid four notrump, showing three aces, North contracted for the small slam in notrump.

It might be pointed out that if North had bid for notrump over South's jump rebid of two notrump, it would not have been construed as the initiation of the Blackwood Slam Convention. When the immediately preceding bid has been any number of notrumps, a bid of four notrump is deemed to be a raise of notrump.

In today's deal, had North bid four notrump (instead of four clubs), he would have been asking South to bid a small slam if the latter had maximum values for his bid (20 high-card points). On this day, South would have declined the invitation, and would have passed the four-notrump bid.

After winning the opening club lead with his ace, East returned a club, Michaud's king taking the trick. The ace and queen of spades were then played, after which declarer cashed five hearts and dummy's spade king, discarding a club and two low diamonds from his own hand. This was the position prior to the lead of North's sixth heart:

Dummy had the eight of hearts, the six of diamonds, and the club jack. Declarer had the A-Q-9 of diamonds; West had the K-J of diamonds and the club queen. On the lead of the heart eight, declarer discarded his diamond nine — and West was squeezed: if he tossed away the club queen, dummy's jack would be a winner; and if he discarded the diamond jack (as he did), his king would be decapitated by South's ace — as did happen. And so South's diamond queen became his twelfth trick.

Alert Parents Catch Signs Of Stress In Children

COLLEGE STATION — Any change in a young child's normal routine often causes him anxiety and stress, according to one authority.

Parents who are alert to a change in their child's normal behavior can tell when something may be bothering him. "Irene Carrington, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said this week.

"But if parents are not alert, they may only react to the symptoms rather than understanding the cause of the anxiety.

"Parents may correct or punish their child for crying, throwing a temper tantrum, or regressing to a babyish behavior — but the child may only be expressing his anxiety," she said.

The specialist noted that the child is not always anxious when he acts these ways, but stress is one possibility adults should consider.

Other signs of stress to watch for are loss of appetite, being unable to sleep or relax, or a pale flushed face. An anxious child might also bite his fingernails or stutter.

"Parents who are observant understand the cause for changes in behavior and take time to talk with their child about his feelings. This often reduces his anxiety. Love and reassurance by parents also help the child feel more secure," she said.

Lefors Civic Club Will Sponsor Speech-Hearing Clinic Saturday

A meeting of the Lefors Art & Civic Club was held in the Civic Center recently, with a skit on Parliamentary Procedure in Our Land given by Mmes. Joe Watson, Carl Hall, Earl Tarbet and Bill Allison. President, Mrs. Joe Watson, called the meeting to order, and led in the Pledge to the Texas Flag. Roll call was answered by 20 members with a scene from "Texas" which was outstanding to them. Mrs. Jerry Conway, Mrs. Roy Alderson and Mrs. Joe Watson will be in charge of the Senior Citizens Party to be held in the Civic Center on Nov. 7.

The Speech and Hearing committee chairman, Mrs. J.W. Franks, will be in charge of the Speech and Hearing clinic to be held Saturday, Oct. 19. Mrs. Norman Barber reported the arrival of a new shipment of cookbooks which all members were urged to try to sell for the club.

Top of Texas District fall board meeting will be held Oct. 22, in Wellington with several members attending.

All members were urged to bring a guest to the next meeting, Oct. 21. Mrs. Leora Rose, vice-president of the First National Bank, Pampa, will present a lecture on wills, banking laws, etc.

Mrs. Harry Youngblood reported on spring convention. Emphasis was made on the Bicentennial and also Poll Power, urging all to get out and vote. In respect to this, the Lefors Art and Civic Club is sponsoring a poster contest for school children urging residents to vote. There will also be a parade in Lefors the evening before Election Day to encourage voting.

The meeting was adjourned with all members singing "Texas, Our Texas." Door prize was won by Mrs. Marvin Allison.

United Press International No Final Victories, by Larry O'Brien.

(Doubleday, $12.50) Larry O'Brien came on the national political scene with John F. Kennedy and played the political game with great zest. As political adviser to two presidents and two presidential candidates, he was engulfed in the intricate business of winning votes and of translating policies into legislation.

If his reportage is stiff and too straightforward, he obviously feels that the facts need little embellishment. For half a dozen years he was center stage of Democratic party politics and he records without flinches the intriguing cross current of political forces and the incredibly dramatic events of those years, along with some backstage anecdotes.

Working with John Kennedy in the 1960s, he became the complete political professional and his reputation kept him in demand among Democratic hopefuls. Unflappable, the ultimate realist, he was the man who always could get things done. He was both pragmatic and principled and he possessed the abilities to turn his beliefs into accomplishments.

Ironically, O'Brien is more revealing in his comments on Lyndon Johnson than he is about his friend and mentor, Jack Kennedy. Johnson, O'Brien says, wanted to be loved, but he also wanted to dominate everyone around him. He even advised his top staff on the upbringing of their children. O'Brien concluded that Johnson "was much more successful in dominating than in being loved."

O'Brien finds the explanation for the Watergate break in of his Democratic headquarters quite simple. The object was "to secure all possible information that would help destroy the Democratic party and its chairman." That chairman, of course, was O'Brien.

If politics is your game, here's a primer on how the system works, sometimes poorly but often quite splendidly.

Something Happened, by

Joseph Heller. (Knopf, $10)

To end the suspense immediately, Joseph Heller has not written another Catch 22. But his second novel is a probing, amusing but not funny, study of a 20th Century American executive. Bob Slocum is troubled that "something happened" to his life but he's not sure what. It is a morose study, cataloguing, often at tedious length, what is bothering Slocum about sex, his children, his fellow workers. The patient reader will find much clever writing and many trenchant observations on modern man.

The Pirate, by Harold Robbins. (Simon and Schuster, $8.95)

Robbins concocts this tale of an Arab oil baron straight from the headlines — Palestinian guerrillas hijacking aircraft, Middle East countries exploiting their new found power based on oil. Unfortunately his exploration into character has all the depth of headline writing and the turn of events are familiar to any newspaper reader. The sex is plentiful, kinky and surprisingly boring, but Robbins fans know what to expect and they'll like this one, too.

The best way to clean electrical units on a kitchen range is to turn the setting to "high," permitting spills to burn off, according to consumer specialists at Pennsylvania State University.

Zion Lutheran Plans New Pastor Installation

Rev. Timothy W. Koenig will be installed Sunday at 4 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church, 1200 Duncan. A pot luck supper will follow at 5 p.m.

Rev. Koenig, the son of Rev. and Mrs. W.H. Koenig, was born in St. Louis, Mo., but lived in Little Rock, Sagninaw, Mich., Cape Girardeau, Mo., Indianapolis and Dallas during his childhood and college days.

His training for the ministry began at St. Paul's College High School, Concordia, Mo. Upon graduation in 1958, he enrolled at Concordia Teachers College in Seward, Neb. He married Nelose Geilsler of Breckenridge, Okla. Mrs. Koenig taught school in a one-room, six-grade school in Waco, Neb., while Rev. Koenig completed his training at Seward.

Following his graduation, the couple moved to Juanita, Neb. where he became principal, teacher and choir director at Christ Lutheran Church. They are the parents of three daughters, Lisa, 14 and Lori, 12, and Jennifer, 3; and a son, Tim, 8.

Pastor Koenig made the decision to continue his studies at Seminary in 1963, and they moved to Springfield, Ill., where they resided for two years. At that time, they moved to Sioux Falls, S.D. where they spent their vicarage at Zion Lutheran Church.

Following his 1967 graduation, Pastor Koenig was assigned to St. John's Lutheran Church in

Rev. T. W. Koenig
Chatham, Ill., 10 miles from Springfield. He was pastor there until June, 1970 when he accepted a call to St. Paul Lutheran Church, Carroll, Iowa.

Pastor Assumes Duties At First Assembly Of God

Rev. R.L. Courtney, the new pastor of First Assembly here in Pampa, has been involved with getting moved to the parsonage located at 1233 Charles Street.

Rev. Courtney, his wife Nelle, and daughter, Mellanie, who is 10, and a fifth grader at Stephen Austin Elementary School moved to Pampa in August from Oswego, Kan. where he had served as pastor of the Assembly of God Church there.

Rev. Courtney attended Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie, and South Central Bible College in Hot Springs, Ark. He did post graduate work at Harding College, Searcy, Ark.

During his years of ministry Rev. Courtney pastored churches in Scott City, Kan., Kimball, Neb., and Wichita, Kan., along with the pastorate held in Oewego.

Rev. Courtney and his family are not complete strangers in Pampa for they resided here about 10 years ago while he traveled as an evangelist for the Assemblies of God Churches.

A native of Hoisington, Kan. he and Mrs. Courtney have two other daughters, Mrs. Carl (Judy) Comstock, who resides with her husband at Platte City, Mo., and Mrs. Dwight (Rheta) Landon. Mr. and Mrs. Landon live in Wichita, Kan.

Their only son, Robert, is a twin brother of Mrs. Landon. He is attending the University of Missouri at Kansas City, where he is a student in the School of Pharmacy. He is married and lives with his wife, Quinnes, in Riverside, a suburb of Kansas City, Mo.

Rev. and Mrs. Courtney invite their friends from the past to visit the First Assembly of God Church and share worship with them.

God forgives us no matter what we do.

REV. J.T. WILSON

Local Pastor Guest Speaker

Rev. J.T. Wilson, pastor of New Hope Baptist Church, is attending the National State Convention being conducted in Fort Worth at Mt. Zion Baptist Church. Rev. L.B. George is pastor of the host church. He was to have been speaker on Thursday night, and will deliver the anniversary sermon for the Rev. T.H. Davis, pastor of the Rising Star Baptist Church.

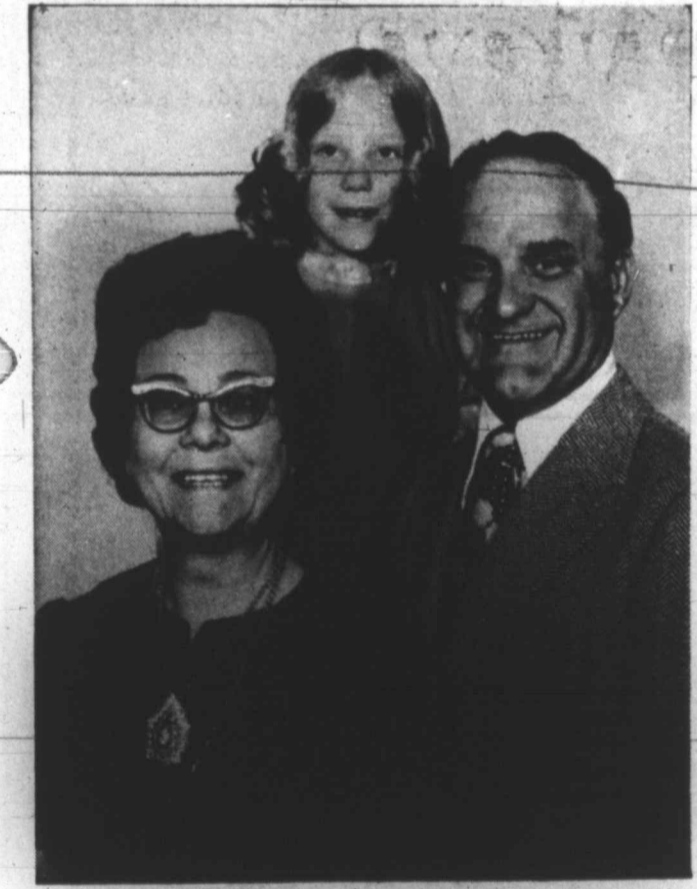

Assembly Schedules Open House

According to an announcement by the pastor, R.L. Courtney, Sunday, October 20, will provide an opportunity for parents and friends to visit the Sunday School Department at First Assembly of God Church in Pampa.

The Sunday School Supt., Deryl Robbins, along with R.C. (Dick) Davis, assist. supt., and Don D. Harris, general secretary of the Sunday School, have been working with department officers and teachers to provide this opportunity for others to see "inside" this fine growing Sunday School.

This feature has been planned along with a special emphasis in the Youth Department and will be a delightful experience for the many members and friends of the First Assembly of God Church.

To conclude the day's activities the Church will have a guest who will minister a message designed for the youth of the congregation. He will be Rev. John Pratt, from Skellytown.

COURTNEY FAMILY

Pampa Chapel Sets Revival

Rev. Jimmy Wallis, Alvin, will begin a revival Monday, Oct. 21, at Pampa Chapel, 711 E. Harvester.

Services will be conducted nightly beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Wallis will be accompanied by his wife, LaVonda, and their son

Randy, formerly a member of the World Action Singers of Oral Roberts University.

Special music will be presented by the Wallis family and others.

Rev. Edwin Waterbury, pastor has extended a welcome to all visitors for any of the services.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

First Free Will Baptist Church

By REV. L.C. LYNCH

SALVATION-RESCUE, SAFETY-IS OF GOD PS. 3:8 "Salvation is upon Thy people."

teaching of the Bible. Satan is striving to destroy unity among Christians. New ideas and interpretations of the Bible. Satanic worshipers and many more things are coming forth that do not stand true to the word of God.

The God that created this world and made man in his own image, has also through his son made a way of escape from eternal punishment.

Rom. 6:23 "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Salvation cannot come through the ideas and actions of men, or man-made religions. True salvations and deliverance from our past sins, comes only through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Acts 4:12 "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved."

Then we can plainly see that one cannot be saved on his own merits or good moral life. John 3:3 "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." John 3:16 "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Our final estate after this life depends on how we have believed and accepted the word of God and his son Jesus Christ our Lord: We receive the forgiveness and blessings of God through faith and grace. Eph. 2:8 "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God:"

Salvation is offered to all men: Titus 2:11 "For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men," to receive salvation requires confession: Rom. 10:9 "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." One may think when will the time come to surrender my life to the Lord. In God's word we read: "Behold now is the accepted time. Behold now in the day of salvation." To delay another day could be perilous and very dangerous. Heb. 2:3 "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation."

ANOTHER ELIZABETH Burton Preparing To Wed Princess

LONDON (UPI) — Actor Richard Burton, once again the other man, wants to marry Princess Elizabeth of Yugoslavia "as soon as is practically possible."

The princess, who is related to the British royal family, says she feels "wonderful" about the whirlwind romance and plans to wed Burton when "my divorce gets through."

It all came as a shock to Elizabeth's husband, Neil Balfour, a merchant banker and politician. He was so stunned he offered to end his political career.

"We both hoped that this would have progressed without this sudden explosion of publicity," Burton said Thursday at his Hampstead mansion. "We both hope it will not have repercussions on those we both love."

Princess Elizabeth, who was visiting the mansion with her 13-year-old daughter, Catherine, said the couple fell in love three weeks ago at an exhibition of Churchill memorabilia. "Goodness, is it only three weeks?" the 37-year-old princess said. "Of course, we've known each other a lot longer than that. We will marry as soon as my divorce goes through. I feel wonderful."

The 49-year-old actor said he planned to travel today to his home in Gstaad, Switzerland, with the dark-haired, with the Karageorgevitch family and second cousin to Britain's Prince Charles.

Burton's new love story hit London front pages Thursday when news leaked out that Elizabeth took him to Paris last weekend to meet her parents, Prince Paul and Princess Olga of Yugoslavia.

In the movie "Sujeska," still to be released in the United States, Burton ironically plays the role of Josip Broz Tito, the Communist leader who abolished the monarchy in Yugoslavia.

Balfour, 32, who ran unsuccessfully for parliament in last week's British election, said he has offered to resign from the Conservative party.

"While my wife and I are separated, we have not discussed divorce," he said. "She was with me on election night and came to the party I gave afterward with two other losing candidates."

He and the princess have a 4-year-old son. She has two daughters by a previous marriage to New York clothing millionaire Howard Oxenberg.

The princess said she has known Burton for six years, including the last stage of his stormy marriage to actress Elizabeth Taylor.

CHECKING ENTRIES — Getting ready for the upcoming Cancer Society Bike-A-Thon, Bob Walker, left, Jaycee participant, and Diane Grooters, Jaycee-ette participant, check over the entry blanks that have come in for the annual event. Walker, who will pull his children behind him, has 20 sponsors and Mrs. Grooters has 50 sponsors. The event will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday at Coronado Center.

Center Offers Swim Lessons

The Pampa Youth and Community Center will offer a new series of swim lessons for women beginning Monday, Oct. 21.

Classes will meet only on Monday and Fridays from 10-11 a.m. for five weeks. Instruction for beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates and swimmers will be offered at this time.

Enrollment is free to Youth Center members. A $5 instruction fee is charged non-members. For parents who have children at home there is a baby sitter available.

Participants may pre-enroll or just come to the first meeting, George Smith, Center director, said.

OPERATION IDENTIFICATION

Citizen Participation Can Help Burglary Problems

Burglary is every citizen's problem. And in this day and time the problem is one that only continues to grow. Approximately half of all crimes in the U.S. today are burglaries. Burglary prevention is one of the areas in which citizen participation and cooperation with the law enforcement agencies can help.

One method of slowing down the rising burglary rate is Operation Identification. The program is a nation-wide effort toward citizen participation in marking valuables with a personalized "brand" to discourage theft, according to James B. Conner, Pampa Chief of Police.

Operation Identification entails marking valuables with a driver's license number and then displaying a sticker on the outside of your home, office or car that tells the burglar that anything he might steal will be hard or impossible to sell, and that getting caught with it in his possession would be asking for a jail sentence.

Marking enhances the owner's chances of retrieving stolen property because it provides a positive identification number to reclaim items once recovered.

When Operation Identification was conceived, the initial question was to find a common marking method. The driver's license was chosen because of accessibility through interstate agencies and because the identity of the licensee and his current address is available to any law enforcement agency on an instant retrieval basis.

Manufacturers of such items as office machines, typewriters, guns, appliances, etc., have assisted by attaching a serial number to each unit produced. Law enforcement agencies, insurance companies and others have encouraged individuals to list these numbers and preserve them for ready reference in case of theft.

This has been of assistance where the items stolen had a serial number, the individual did make such a list, and when, after the offense was reported, the authorities to whom the report was made were able to arrest the suspect while in possession of the stolen items.

Law enforcement agencies found that these events rarely coincided and that they had to find an easier method of identification for themselves and owners. This is the concept behind Operation Identification.

On numerous occasions suspects are stopped by law enforcement officers

Freed Prisoners Arrive In Miami, Two Arrested

MIAMI (UPI) — Four young Americans released from Cuban prisons arrived in Miami Thursday. Two were arrested and the others subpoenaed to testify in a narcotics investigation.

FBI agents arrested Phillip Burris of Oakland, Calif., and Richard Johnson, of Walnut Creek, Calif., when their plane from Barbados landed. They were charged with stealing a small plane in Miami four years ago and flying it to Cuba.

David Bruce Nirenberg, 22, of Pennsylvania, and Susan Lane Brown, 29, of South Royalton, Vt., were released after being served subpoenas to appear before a West Palm Beach grand jury Nov. 11.

The grand jury is investigating illicit drug activity, federal narcotics agents said.

Clifford Johnson tried to prevent agents from taking his son into custody and they had to restrain him by pushing him up against a wall away from his son.

The younger Johnson, wearing handcuffs, emerged from the Miami International Airport and was greeted by a tearful embrace from his mother.

But the elder Johnson started shouting at the FBI agents. "No, no, no, you can't take him," and tried to prevent their taking him to an FBI automobile waiting a few yards away.

Almost in tears after being restrained, he continued to yell. "After four years in hell and you're making me go through this."

Salvation is a joy! What greater gift can there be than to know we are right with God?

CANCER HASN'T SPREAD

Doctors See Good Chance For Happy After Surgery

NEW YORK (UPI) — Surgeons have removed Margaretta "Happy" Rockefeller's cancerous left breast and rated her chances for survival as excellent. The wife of vice president-designate Nelson Rockefeller had found the malignancy by herself two weeks ago.

Doctors operated on her for four-and-a-half hours at Sloan-Kettering Institute Thursday, performing what was described as a "modified radical mastectomy."

The attending surgeon, Dr. Jerome A. Urban, told a news conference that Mrs. Rockefeller's "chances are excellent for a full recovery — over 90 per cent in 10 years."

He added: "The cancer had not spread to the lymph nodes. I feel I got all of it. I really do."

Urban described the 48-year-old Mrs. Rockefeller as "a sturdy, wonderful woman." He said there appeared to be no complications and said she was in excellent condition.

The former New York governor looked tired and depressed as he told reporters earlier in the day: "Gentlemen, you're not going to believe what I have to tell you. Happy has just had a radical mastectomy of the left breast."

Rockefeller declined to speculate on how the surgery would affect his political future, telling a questioner: "I think at this time, perhaps all of us should think about Happy's future, which is the one concern I have."

Urban said a biopsy performed Thursday morning revealed a carcinoma less than two centimeters in diameter and two smaller nodules that were found to be cancerous.

He and two other surgeons, Drs. Edward J. Beattie Jr. and Roy Ashkari, then performed the mastectomy.

Urban said he informed Mrs. Rockefeller after the surgery was complete that the cancer had not spread. He said she replied: "Oh, thank goodness."

Asked whether he felt a full mastectomy was necessary, Urban said he believed it was and he would continue to perform such operations "until we get more information on this subject."

Urban said Mrs. Rockefeller discovered suspicious lumps in her breast by self examination and X-rays were taken last Friday by her gynecologist, Dr. Arthur V. Greenley.

The first lady issued a statement at the White House Thursday saying she was "deeply distressed" when she received the news of Mrs. Rockefeller's operation.

"I'm sure that the love of her family, the prayers of the entire nation and her inner strength will be of great sustenance during this time," Mrs. Ford said.

Annual Bike-A-Thon Set To Help Cancer Society

The annual Cancer Society Bike-a-Thon will be held Sunday, Oct. 20.

Registration will be held at the Coronado Center parking lot from 12:30 a.m. to 1:20 p.m. The ride will begin promptly at 1:30 p.m.

The police department will furnish a car to lead the event, the sheriff's department will furnish a car to trail the bike-a-thon and the highway patrol will run interference. The National Guard will have a truck to pick up the tired riders or any broken bikes.

Each rider needs to have at least one sponsor that will donate 25 cents or more per mile that he rides and each rider under 18 will need his parent or guardian's consent. John Triplehorn, chairman, said.

The course is 30 miles long. There will be a rest stop at the Gray County airport, at Highway 70 and the by-pass, at the Wheeler highway and by-pass and at the Pampa Lumber Co. The beginning and ending of the course will be at Piggy-Wiggly at Coronado Center.

Triplehorn encouraged everyone to enter the event. "All proceeds will go the helping to cure cancer in our lifetime," he said.

If a rider is unable to find an entry form, all he will need is a signed statement from a parent agreeing to letting him ride and a list of his sponsors.

There will be prizes awarded to the rider with the most sponsors, for the rider who brings in the most money and for the oldest and youngest rider to complete the course.

McLean Preparing New Derby Town Jubilee For Entertainment

By BETTY HOLMES
McLEAN — The McLean Derby Town Jubilee Association is going back into action Saturday, Oct. 19, as the schedule for their first performance of the season. Under the direction of Donald Cunningham and George Terry, both resident of McLean, the show is always a success. The Jubilee was originally organized in 1962 along the same country and western theme order as the Big D Jamboree, Louisiana Hayride, and Grand Ole Opry, continuing to thrive in the McLean community as an entertaining and recreational pastime. The long time Jubilee tradition is kept up furnishing a wide variety of entertainment enjoyable for the whole family, proudly retaining its original admission fee of 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. The talent, harvested from all over the area, ranges from young to old. The secret of coordination in the program and keeping it running smoothly lies in much planning and hard work on the part of the directors and their sponsor. Cunningham spends a tremendous amount of time and energy discovering and developing new talent from this area. The organizer and "behind the scenes" director uses his own ability to play the guitar and sing to help encourage new performers as well as having his own part in the show. Terry works with the stage effects, devotes many hours to preparation of the show, and spreads his contagious enthusiasm and smile as he serves the audience assembled in McLean High School's auditorium as master of ceremonies. The Jubilee is sponsored by various organizations functioning in McLean which run a concession stand, give door prizes, and raffle cakes during intermission as fund raising projects. The Jubilee is never without a sponsor and many times, demand warrants a waiting list. The Jubilee has received widespread publicity in its 12-year existence, recognized nationally as well as locally. The talent display was recognized in a 1973 issue of "Phiglas," a national magazine put out by Phillips Petroleum Corporation, which employs Terry. It received full coverage in a 4-page illustrated article. Saturday's Jubilee, sponsored by the McLean Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America, will be held in the gymnasium due to remodeling construction in the auditorium. So come one, come all to the McLean Derby Town Jubilee Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. as the Association presents the first show of the 1974-1975 season. A perfect square is an integer whose square root is an integer.

What Is A Low Voltage Heart?

By G.C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is meant by a "low voltage heart"? I had what was diagnosed as a mild angina pectoris, and the lab technician making the E.K.G. made that remark about my heart. — R.R.
Well, you know what an electrocardiogram (EKG) is. There are, in every living heart, small electrical currents. (In nerves, too, of course, and in the brain.) If there has been a heart attack, and the heart muscle damaged, there will be changes in the EKG tracing — the wavy line on the graph paper. Other changes can be identified likewise. "Low voltage" implies that the amplitude of the ups and downs on the graph is less than average, and that indicates that the electric currents are of somewhat lower voltage. This lower voltage can occur with low thyroid activity; with chemical changes in the blood; or as part of a normal condition wherein muscular activity of various sorts is reduced. I would not take the expression "low voltage" too seriously or as implying serious heart disease. Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send me your booklet on "diverticulosis" for which I enclose 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Would psyllium seed be safe to take in orange juice or milk about three times a week? The doctors have told me not to eat figs or strawberries. I need to take off weight but feel the bowel may need a suitable amount in it. I have taken psyllium in the past and it worked excellently. — G.L.K.
Your thinking is on the right track, and you will find support for it in the booklet. Foods with hard seeds can be irritating to the diverticulosis patient. So can a few other foods. Psyllium seed is a soft, absorbent material and can provide you with bulk in the bowel without causing irritation. Bulk, it has been established, helps when you have diverticulosis. An idea held in the past that a low residue diet was necessary has been disproved. Dear Dr. Thosteson: After reading your article that touching the floor without bending the knees isn't dangerous, I wanted to tell you I have been doing this almost every day for about 65 years. I am now 70½ years old. Not only touching the floor but I still walk across the floor about 10 feet with my palms flat on the floor, and without bending my knees. I agree with you, it is not harmful. I am a mother of four, have 13 grandchildren. That's how I keep fit. — Mrs. H.K.

How do you mean, that's the way you keep fit? By exercise, or by having 13 grandchildren? Either way, congratulations and thanks for writing. Dear Thosteson: My husband suffered from itchy, bleeding hemorrhoids until a friend told him to try using pads such as women's sanitary napkins or a clean handkerchief dampened with witch hazel. Preferable use at bedtime, fasten in place against the hemorrhoids all night. This friend said they worked for him, and they worked for my husband in two weeks and less than a pint of witch hazel. He has had no more trouble and it has been five months — Mrs. J.K.
That is one of many systems used to relieve the symptoms of hemorrhoids. Others use ointments; sitting in a hot tub; apply warm compresses to the area. None of them correct or change the basic condition; some relief — possibly. Cure, no. Pads soaked in witch hazel are available as Tucks, and a bit more convenient than your friend's method. Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with this or other rectal problems, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of Dr. George C. Thosteson, Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120 for a copy of his booklet "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids." Enclose a long self-addressed stamped envelope and 25 cents. Copy 1974 Field Enterprises, Inc.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nelson Rockefeller's nomination to be vice president appears in trouble and it's his own fault. Surely the former New York governor has been in public life long enough to realize that philanthropy and politics don't mix. Yet during a 17-year period he gave away more than $2 million to political associates, aides and friends. Once word of his generosity reached Capitol Hill it was inevitable that it would cast a cloud over his confirmation. Under our political system, politicians don't give money away. At least not their own money. They wait until they are elected and then become big hearted with public funds. "It may be a matter of saving him from his own munificence," one senator told me. "Anyone who gave away $2 million as governor might get so carried away as vice president he wouldn't have a dime left." "I hesitate to use the term," a congressman said, "but this strikes me as sort of un-American. In this country, politicians traditionally have been on the receiving end when money is exchanged." I said, "I understand the reason for your concern, but couldn't an exception be made for anyone as rich as Rockefeller?" "When he gives away $2 million it's like the average politician offering somebody a cigar." "To the contrary," the congressman replied. "The fact that he is prominent and influential enough to set precedents is all the more reason for holding this deplorable practice against him." "This isn't just a case of some misguided Good Samaritan acting on a sudden benevolent impulse. What we have here is a deliberate pattern of openhandedness sustained over a period of years." "The information we have thus far strongly indicates that Rockefeller is a hard-core soft touch." I said, "Don't you give the voters credit for enough intelligence to recognize that giving away money is an unusual impropriety among government officials?" "Not in this age of political cynicism," the congressman said. "Let one politician get by with it and you create an impression that all politicians are good for a handout." "There's enough disenchantment with politicians already without having this added to our burdens." Personally, I think a little big-heartedness could be forgiven. Still I can't blame a politician for wanting to be above suspicion that he is on the give. About one third of U.S. meals are now eaten outside the home, according to Franklin A. Jacobs, president of Falcon Products, Inc. This rising trend is continuing and within the next decade 50 per cent of all meals will be eaten by Americans outside the home.

Pampa Begins 3-AAAA Action

By PAUL SIMS
It's been six years since Caprock has beaten Pampa in Harvester Stadium, and the Harvesters will try to make the jinx stick tonight as the Longhorns visit Pampa in the District 3-AAAA opener for both teams.

Based on Caprock's poor record on the road throughout its history, Pampa is a slight favorite in the game, which has a 7:30 p.m. kickoff. The Longhorns won the game in Amarillo a year ago, but have lost to Pampa four out of the last five encounters.

Caprock won in 1968, the only time in the school's life it beat Pampa on the road. And Caprock has never won in Borger so Ray Basinger's defending district champions will be after a big psychological win tonight, trying to prove they can win away from Amarillo's Dick Bivens Stadium.

Pampa has two more things going in its favor tonight — the Harvesters have a 4-1 record while Caprock is 3-2, and the hosts are much more experienced, starting 17 seniors while the Longhorns will start three upperclassmen on offense and four on defense.

It's not that the better non-district record makes the Harvesters the favorites, it's how they got that record. Pampa, losing to Lubbock Monterey, 15-0, has pulled up an average of 295.8 total yards per game and held opponents to only 96.00, best of all 3-AAAA teams.

And only three touchdowns have been scored on Pampa all season as Dumas, Perryton and Canyon where shut out.

Caprock has something in its favor, also. Harvester quarterback Chuck Quarles, injured two weeks ago with a broken thumb (on his passing hand, no less), will not play for the second week in a row. His absence was felt last week against Monterey as Pampa managed only 43 yards total offense with junior John Agan at the helm.

Agan will again get the nod tonight and, according to Pampa coach John Welborn, should move the offense better this time. "We've looked considerably better," said Welborn, comparing the week's five workouts to last Friday's game. "Agan's done a good job this week."

Senior halfback Rick Leverich, out with a slightly sprained ankle in the Monterey game, will be back tonight and should solidify Pampa's running game, which netted only 28 yards in the 15-0 loss. Leverich, with a 5.2 rushing average and 44 points this season, is the number eight rusher and number three scorer among district players.

In the backfield with Leverich will be two other seniors, both capable of breaking the long run — halfback Tim Thornburg and fullback David Smith.

Linebackers will be Joe Holt and Coy Free, who has filled in exceptionally for injured Frankie Lemons. In the defensive secondary will be cornerbacks Mike Adair and Willis Price and safeties Mike Hunnicutt and Dave Edwards.

The Longhorns' running game has been their forte as junior tailback Chuck Valasquez and sophomore fullback Dennis Skelton rank second and seventh respectively in rushing yards. Velasquez, a breakaway threat, has carried more times (113) than any other 3-AAAA back in non-conference play.

Quarterback Bobby Steward, an end last year and a junior this season, is "better than Average," says Basinger. Steward has completed 15 of 43 passes for 195 yards and one touchdown.

Wingback Gary Adams, a 160-pound junior, rounds out the backfield.

Other defensive stalwarts for Caprock are safety Ruben Mata, a 5-6 senior, and Skelton at left linebacker.

After Caprock Pampa must play Tascosa, Borger, Palo Duro and Amarillo High (in that order).

Tascosa
The Rebels, 8-2 last season, have already lost three games this year and are behind last year's team in more aspects than just their record. Tascosa has the smallest line in the district and a weak defense overall. But the Rebels have the players who can beat anybody and three of those are among the best running backs around. James Mayberry, Nathan Woods and Joe Harris give Jocko Harris a more than adequate running attack, and Mayberry, a linebacker is the closest thing you'll find to being a one-man defense.

Borger
Borger, another team with a slow start (also 2-3), is also another team with the potential to beat any team in the district. Junior Mike Glover is the best running back in the district, although he is fumble prone. In fact, fumbles and other mistakes, including touchdowns yielded to opponents in the late stages of the game, are why Borger has been unimpressive so far. The Bulldogs are a first-half ball club; in the second half they have played very poorly.

Palo Duro
The district favorite, Palo Duro can only be labeled as "awesome." With running backs like David Beezley and Rodney Towner on the outside and Greg Sellmayer up the middle, PD has been unstoppable in its first five games. Some say the Dons, whose lines are big (averaging 210-215 pounds per player) have the best team in 3-AAAA in years. Palo Duro is a second-half club basically, scoring most of the points in the last two periods while holding opponents to practically nothing.

Amarillo High
The district weakling, Amarillo has shown no offense so far only an adequate defense en route to its 2-3 mark. The Sandies' best athlete is linebacker Terry Hargraves, who has a shot at all-district honors. Their leading rusher has been David Bond, averaging only three yards a carry. But the Sandies have a tradition of winning, especially in district so they can't be disregarded.

Oakland Garners 3rd Straight Series

OAKLAND (UPI) — Three in row is as good as you can get, perfect, in fact, and that's precisely the type ball Oakland's battling A's played in the World Series to lay the cornerstone for baseball's newest dynasty.

When the New York Yankees won four consecutive world titles from 1936 through 1939, everybody considered them the most powerful baseball dynasty in history, and it was up to that point.

Then, a later generation of Yankees stamped out five world titles in a row from 1949 through 1953 in almost assembly line fashion.

Now, along come the A's, a team of outspoken players who battle among themselves in the clubhouse and publicly criticize their owner and manager, to challenge that record, and there are those who think they can equal, if not break it.

Thursday, as they had in the four previous games, the A's played baseball the way it should be, making all the plays perfectly and professionally to beat the proud Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 and win the 1974 World Series in five games. Centerfielder Bill North did make one error in the eighth inning but the A's turned it into a plus — one which finished the Dodgers.

"This was the sweetest one of all," said team star Reggie Jackson, "because we did it in five. Last year and the year before, it took us seven games to beat the Reds and Mets. Maybe now people will give us credit for being a great team, because we are."

There aren't many who will challenge that statement and certainly not the Dodgers, who made costly mistakes on the field and did most of the talking off it.

"If they are smart," said Joe Rudi, whose seventh inning homer off Mike Marshall won Thursday's game, "they will learn something from this. Sure, we fight a lot among ourselves, but we leave all that stuff in the clubhouse where it belongs. On the field, we play baseball." "I think we learned a lot watching them," said Dodger Manager Walter Alston. "There's a certain part of this game you can't get from talking. There are a few things you have to get on the playing field that nothing but experience will give you. The A's showed us that."

Bill Buckner, who turned out to be the goat in the final game when he was cut down trying to make an extra base in the eighth inning, was the man who did most of the talking for the Dodgers when he said if they played Oakland 162 times his team would win 100.

"If you are going to talk like that," said A's shortstop Bert Campaneris, "you better win."

The A's used brilliant pitching and defense to throttle the Dodgers.

Pampa High Girls Run Past Liberal In Tennis Match, 7-2

Pampa High's girls tennis team turned in its finest performances of the year Thursday here in a 7-2 win over Liberal, Kan.

"They played real well; they're really improving the last two weeks. I'm just real proud of them," said tennis coach John Michie after the win over favored Liberal.

The reason for the lineup changes is that Michie's be off until then. Caprock beat us pretty bad the last time (15-3), and I want to beat them," said Michie. "So we're going to work real hard this next week. We haven't had that much time to work out before. I've got to change the lineup next week, too."

GIRLS SINGLES — Donna Coufal, Pampa, def. Bonnie Yoxall, 6-4, 6-2; Peggy Wilson, Pampa, def. Linda McConnell, 6-3, 6-2; Karen Hampton, Pampa, def. Chicos Outlast Shockers

By PAUL SIMS
Halfback Robert Sillivent rambled 44 yards late in the third quarter for the tying touchdown, followed by a two-point run by Brian Hunter, as the Palo Duro Chicos edged the Pampa Shockers, 8-6 Thursday night in Harvester Stadium.

The win was the first game for either team against a 3-AAAA junior varsity. It left Palo Duro with a 5-2 mark while Pampa fell to 4-3 with the loss.

Pampa's touchdown came on a five-yard run off right tackle by halfback Ricky Moore with 1:51 to play in the first quarter. Moore was held trying for two points following the TD. The Pampa touchdown ended a six-play, 41-yard march, which included a 33-yard bomb from quarterback Garland McPherson to Jay Spearman.

The drive started after Paul Sloan returned a punt 40 yards for an apparent touchdown, but a 15-yard clipping penalty wiped out the play.

Neither team threatened again in the first half. Throughout the contest, both defenses made the big play as neither team was able to mount many serious threats.

Palo Duro drove to Pampa's 14 late in the fourth quarter, but the Shockers held on downs and took over with 5:14 left in the game. Jeff Yarber sealed the victory with an interception five plays later as the Chicos took over on the Pampa 45 with less than three minutes to play.

Pat Bailey was awesome on defense for the Shockers, blocking a punt in the second period and coming up with several key tackles.

Tackle Donald Robertson and linebacker Randy

Essary were outstanding for the PD defense, which limited Pampa to only 63 yards rushing and 41 passing.

Leading ground gainer in the contest was Sillivent with 87 yards on 13 carries. Other Chico rushers were quarterback Jody Rogers, 11 carries for 51 yards; Hunter, 9 for 44; Tony Moore, 6 for 9, and Wes Allen, 2 for 9.

Moore led Pampa's rushing attack with 11 attempts for 39 yards, followed by Randy Britton, 9 for 31; David Caldwell, 2 for 7; Russell Thornburg, 7 for minus 6, and McPherson, 14 for minus 9.

Caldwell was injured early as his absence was evident. The sophomore running back is the Shockers' leading rusher.

West Texas In Preparation For Big One Against Tulsa

CANYON — As one West Texas State player puts it, "Coach Mayfield sure doesn't say anything Tulsa can put on its bulletin board."

Gene Mayfield, the Buffs' cautious head coach, certainly wasn't out of character this week as the Maroon prepped for the Missouri Valley Conference's biggest game to date, Saturday night's battle with the Tulsa Golden Hurricane in TU's Skelly Stadium.

Just on-season records alone, one might think the Buffs would be a big favorite. WTSU goes into the game with a three-game winning streak and a 4-1 record, while Tulsa sports only a 2-3 worksheet.

But Mayfield and the Buffs aren't fooled by that. The Hurricane is 2-0 against Missouri Valley Conference competition, and the three losses have been to Kansas State of the Big Eight, Arkansas of the Southwest Conference and Tennessee of the Southeastern Conference.

"When they come down from playing the 'biggies,' they are an awfully physical football team," Mayfield says. The bare figures bear him out. Tulsa's offensive line averages 236 pounds from tackle to tackle, while the Buffs compute at only 229 pounds.

Tulsa has always been a strong passing team, and with quarterbacks Jeb Blount and Ron Hickerson alternating time, the '74 Hurricane is no exception.

Tulsa holds a big lead in the Valley passing stats (197.4 yards per game) while West Texas State is sixth in pass defense (146.4 per outing allowed).

That defensive stat may be a misleading figure. During the current three-game winning streak, the secondary has given up only 92 yards per win.

The problem here is that every good showing, some defensive back is hurt. Safety Mike Lozano, injured in the New Mexico State game, is still doubtful for Tulsa, cornerback Scott Hindman is out indefinitely with a knee injury, and cornerback John Paul Lee didn't play against Idaho last week because of a sprained ankle.

Minority Discontent Still Existing

United Press International
While the discontent of black Americans continues to be a national problem, the plight of at least 40 million so-called "white ethnics" is receiving more attention in national magazines. They are largely urban, says philosopher Michael Novak in an interview in U.S. News & World Report, earning around $12,000 a year, hit hard by inflation and afflicted by schools that can be as bad as those in black neighborhoods," he says, pointing to Philadelphia.

In Buffalo, N.Y., Novak says where Polish-Americans make up 40 per cent of the population, there are only 23 Poles in the state law school and until last January there was not one Pole in the city's banks above the level of assistant manager. Same pattern for Cleveland, he says.
If white ethnics feel cheated in employment and worry over the impact of changing neighborhoods on their homes, blacks also feel gyped by the system. Ebony claims, for instance, that "Southern white lawyers, land speculators and county officials" in the rural south duped black farmers out of 9-million acres of land since 1901. The same issue charges blacks are so shortchanged in the courts that over 30 per cent of federal prisoners are black.

The magazine quotes Yale Law Prof. Abraham S. Goldstein who says blacks are less able to afford bail so that an accused black man is "less able to locate witnesses and generally to assist in his defense." There is also the "coercive effect" of being locked up, which leads to "waivers of preliminary hearings, pleas of guilty and waivers of jury trial."
Blacks are also unhappy about their treatment in public hospitals. Essence magazine cites the case of a Baltimore woman on welfare who was approached during labor by doctors who convinced her to undergo sterilization. One New Orleans intern said in his hospital, "The whole atmosphere was to push sterilization."
"I could talk any woman into sterilization if I just scared her a little, then told her we gotta cut." He added, "First, it would be the women with 14 or 15 kids, then the woman with five, then anybody. They sterilized a 18-year-old while I was there. They would wait for the first labor pains, give them a little less demerol (a pain reliver) and then ask them if they wanted any more kids."

For many blacks, though, life is getting better. Whereas only 885,000 black families earned over $10,000 a year in 1965, more than twice as many, or some 1.9-million, were in this category in 1973. Blacks are also encountering less trouble when they move into white neighborhoods. In Playgirl, author Maya Angelou recounts her recent move into Sonoma, Calif., where neighbors made a point of dropping in to say: "You are welcome here."

The Tower of London—target of a terrorist bomb and notorious for its bloody dungeons, torture chambers and axman's block—is today the quiet home of some 150 guards, pensioners and their families.
The U.S. Bureau of Mines reports Florida produced 34 million tons of phosphate rock valued at $192 million during 1973.

LOOT WAS TOO HEAVY
DENVER (UPI)—A bag stuffed with $33,000 looked enticing to three would-be robbers Wednesday, but they couldn't carry it away. It was weighted down with $1,000 in quarters.
The trio entered the city treasury office shortly after noon while several employees were at lunch, said assistant City Treasurer Bill Costlow.
"They kept a cashier busy making change for a $10 bill while waiting for an opportunity to grab the bag," Costlow said. "It had just been delivered by armored car and hadn't been put away yet. It was just lying there on a countertop."
Costlow said the men, who appeared to be unarmed, waited until two other employees were not looking, then grabbed the bag and dropped it on the floor.
"They apparently decided that it was too heavy for them to run down the hall with," he said, "but at least they picked it up and put it back on the countertop before they escaped."

The name of the Dutch city, The Hague, is a contraction of "Gravenhage," meaning "the count's wood," because the city grew up on a forest site where the counts of Holland maintained a hunting lodge in the 13th Century.
