

"Any jackass can kick down a barn, but it takes a good carpenter to build one."
— Sam Rayburn

The Pampa Daily News

Serving The Top O' Texas 68 Years

Partly cloudy and warmer through Saturday. High in mid-50s, low in upper 30s. Yesterday's high, 36. Today's low, 18.

VOL. 69 — NO. 233

Circulation Certified By ABC Audit

THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1975

(12 Pages Today)

15¢

HER FIRST SNOWMAN — Rafaela Roaman, left, of Toa Alta, Puerto Rico, helped build a snowman yesterday, her first time to see snow. Aiding in the construction is Michele Kelley. The snow cover began to melt under sunny skies

Thursday afternoon, with more sun shining today as temperatures were expected to climb into the low 40s. A high in the middle 50s is forecast for Saturday.

MEETS WITH COLBY

Ford Conducts CIA Investigation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford today pursued a personal investigation into allegations that the Central Intelligence Agency illegally spied on some 10,000 American dissidents and antiwar protesters over the last decade.

The President called Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and CIA Director William E. Colby to the White House and also arranged to meet with Defense Secretary James Schlesinger, who briefly headed the CIA before he went to the Pentagon.

Colby prepared a 50-page report which was dispatched to Ford during his vacation in Vail, Colo., last week following news reports of the illegal spying by the CIA.

Press Secretary Ron Nessen promised to report later in the day on the substance of Ford's CIA-related consultations. He told reporters Thursday night that he expected the President to have a public statement on the CIA situation by the middle of next week.

The President also planned to meet with Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller and economic advisers later to work on his antirecession program which will be included in his State of the Union message. There were strong indications that Ford was leaning toward proposal for a tax cut this year to stimulate the sagging economy.

Kissinger, who arrived back from a post-Christmas Puerto Rican holiday Thursday night, indirectly confirmed a report that he has urged Ford to establish a blue-ribbon panel to investigate CIA intelligence activities at home. He said he had made some "procedural recommendations" to the President.

Nessen said Ford thus far had been silent on his reaction to Colby's report because "lives and reputations" were involved. Ford requested the report from Colby after the New York Times reported Dec. 22 that the CIA spied on antiwar activists in violation of its charter, which prohibits it from becoming involved in domestic spying.

Inside Today's News

	Pages
Abby	2
Church Page	7
Classified	11
Comics	8
Crossword	2
Editorial	2
Horoscope	12
On the Record	3
Sports	9
Women's News	6

Book Still Not Closed On All Watergate Business

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Watergate cover-up trial is over, but the book is far from closed.

Attorneys for the four men convicted New Year's Day — John N. Mitchell, H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and Robert C. Mardian — are preparing appeals which may take years to resolve.

The defendants, who were all aides to former President Richard Nixon, have begun to prepare for sentencing, setting up appointments with probation officials for interviews that will go into pre-sentence reports to Judge John J. Sirica.

At the offices of the Watergate Special Prosecution Force, it was business as usual as work continued in a batch of related cases. One of these involves John B. Connally, former Texas governor and former U.S. Treasury secretary. His bribery-perjury case comes to trial in March.

Others known still to be under investigation include former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans; Nixon's secretary, Rose Mary Woods; and close Nixon friend C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

Two Watergate grand juries are still working, and further indictments are expected in the next few weeks and months.

President Ford, who pardoned Nixon of any and all Watergate crimes last September, said it wouldn't be appropriate for him to comment on the cover-up convictions. On the advice of his lawyers, Nixon himself said nothing about the case, but an aide read reporters a general statement.

President Nixon is deeply anguished by Watergate and that these men who were among his closest aides and their families have suffered so much and that their lives have been so tragically touched by Watergate," the statement said.

Of the four conspirators, only Ehrlichman was visible and vocal. He held a news conference after the verdict to protest it had been a "political trial," and he showed up on NBC's "Today" show Thursday morning to say none of the defendants had expected an acquittal from a District of Columbia jury.

"It would be hard to imagine that any of these jurors could have escaped having some preconception," Ehrlichman said.

All four men, who face possible prison terms ranging from 5 to 25 years, are free on personal bond pending sentencing a month or two away. Their lawyers must file any post-trial motions — such as a request to Judge Sirica for a new trial — within a week and serve formal notice of appeal within 10 days. All the convicted defendants said they will appeal.

The appeals are expected to focus primarily on two issues — Sirica's refusal to recess the trial until Nixon was well enough to testify and his decision permitting prosecutors to inject the Ellsberg break-in episode into the cover-up case.

The one defendant acquitted was Kenneth W. Parkinson, 46, a lawyer hired to do Watergate legal work. He went home New Year's Day to find his neighbors had draped a banner across his front door saying: "Kenny, we love you."

The jury of nine women and two men began their 15 hours of deliberation disagreeing on nearly every count, foreman John A. Hoffer, 57, a retired Park Service policeman, said Thursday.

Hoffer said in an interview with Westinghouse Broadcasting that at the outset "There was quite a discussion on every defendant and every count. On almost every count there was difference of opinion."

Chief Watergate Prosecutor James F. Neal said in an interview with his home town newspaper, the Nashville Banner, that he had no doubt of Nixon's involvement in the cover-up but still felt President Ford was right in pardoning Nixon.

Lebanese, Israelis Exchange Gunfire

United Press International Lebanese and Israeli artillery gunners exchanged gunfire across their border again today and an Israeli armored car crossed the frontier, the Beirut military command said.

In Tel Aviv, military sources said today Israeli troops were continuing their "policing action" inside Lebanese territory to forestall Palestinian guerrilla activity across the border.

The Israeli patrols were active in all sectors of the frontier, the sources said, following a series of clashes Thursday that caused the death of one Lebanese soldier, the wounding of several guerrillas and the disappearance of an Israeli trooper returning from a search and destroy mission.

The Lebanese statement said the Israelis started the exchange of fire with an intermittent artillery bombardment of the Majidiyah area less than a mile inside southern Lebanon.

Lebanon said an Israeli armored car crossed the border to the outskirts of Majidiyah, but was confronted by Lebanese fire. It did not say if the car was driven back over the border.

The artillery exchange is still continuing, the statement said. It was broadcast by state-controlled Beirut radio at noon, three hours after the guns opened fire.

Since Wednesday the Israelis have crossed the Lebanese border at least three times to attack a number of villages, killing five persons and destroying 13 houses.

The Tel Aviv newspaper Ma'ariv reported from Washington that the Israeli "security screen" inside Lebanese territory has prompted the Beirut government to seek American pressure to halt the operations across the border.

The Beirut newspaper Al Nahar, meanwhile, reported today that Egyptian officials believe a power struggle within the Kremlin may have forced Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev to cancel his visit to the Middle East.

The newspaper, in a dispatch from Cairo, quoted "informed Egyptian sources" as saying they saw "serious developments" within the Kremlin leadership "with radicals gaining more ground."

Brezhnev, they said, is faced with "a difficult situation similar to the one (Nikita) Khrushchev had faced in the wake of the assassination of President Kennedy" in 1963.

The sources suggested Brezhnev may be under fire from other Soviet leaders for his policy of detente with the United States.

They noted that, on the American side, U.S.-Soviet detente was started while Richard Nixon was president. "Now that Mr. Nixon is out, Mr. Brezhnev may have to go as happened to Khrushchev before him," they said.

There has been no official explanation of the postponement, announced Monday at the end of a Moscow visit by Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy.

Diplomatic sources in Cairo said Brezhnev was suffering from ill health.

Speculation in Arab newspapers suggested differences between Moscow and Cairo over arms aide and Middle East peace negotiations cropped up during the Fahmy talks, delaying the tour that was to have taken Brezhnev to Egypt, Syria and Iraq beginning Jan. 24.

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat said in Cairo Thursday he was "fully convinced of the reasons" behind the postponement. He did not elaborate.

Sadat also warned of a new Middle East war if peace talks fail to achieve progress toward a settlement in the next three months.

The coming three months will be decisive for a settlement, otherwise we will reach a state where war becomes a must," Sadat said Thursday in Cairo.

Business Slump Brings Pressure On President

United Press International Several hundred thousand persons were added to unemployment benefits, up 246,800 from the previous week, and the highest since 1971.

Unemployment has risen rapidly in the last two months, bringing pressure on President Ford to take stronger action to counter the business slump.

Ford planned to meet with senior economic advisers meeting Sunday amid indications he will propose a tax cut as part of a tilt toward anti-recession programs and some form of tax or import duty to curb domestic energy consumption.

AFL-CIO President more than 3.3 million persons received unemployment benefits, up 246,800 from the previous week, and the highest since 1971.

The skyrocketing number of persons seeking jobless benefits strongly indicated another sharp rise in the nation's unemployment rate. The Labor Department released December figures today.

It was expected to reach, if not reach, 7 per cent of the nation's work force, adding some 500,000 persons to the November total of 6 million, or 6.5 per cent.

The government said Thursday that 677,800 workers applied for unemployment insurance the week before Christmas. In the week ending Dec. 14, more than 3.3 million persons received unemployment benefits, up 246,800 from the previous week, and the highest since 1971.

Unemployment has risen rapidly in the last two months, bringing pressure on President Ford to take stronger action to counter the business slump.

Ford planned to meet with senior economic advisers meeting Sunday amid indications he will propose a tax cut as part of a tilt toward anti-recession programs and some form of tax or import duty to curb domestic energy consumption.

AFL-CIO President

Law Officers To Gather At Conner Rites

Representatives from law enforcement agencies in surrounding towns will attend funeral services here tomorrow afternoon for Police Chief James B. Conner, who died Wednesday night.

The rites are set for 2 p.m. Saturday in the Central Baptist Church, E. Francis and Starkweather Sts.

Members of the Pampa Police Department will attend in a body. Officers of the Gray County Sheriff's Department and Department of Public Safety will provide city police protection during the afternoon.

Lovett Memorial Library will be closed from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Other city offices are routinely closed on Saturday.

Honorary pallbearers at the last rites will be peace officers and members of the Pampa Kiwanis Club, of which Chief Conner was a member.

Officiating at the funeral will be the Rev. Ted Savage of Central Baptist Church, and the Rev. T.O. Upshaw of Stamford, former pastor of the church. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

George Meany summoned officers of 110 unions to Washington Jan. 23 to consider how "to deal with the economic disaster threatening America." Meany said the recession is rapidly turning into depression.

The Commerce Department's report that orders for manufactured products fell 2 per cent in November while inventories of unsold goods rose 1.4 per cent indicated heavier production cutbacks and layoffs are in the offing.

The Commerce Department also said November building expenditures slumped for the sixth consecutive month, down 3 percent from October and 15 per cent from November, 1973.

The auto industry in Europe, as well as in the United States, announced the idling of several thousand more workers.

In West Germany, Volkswagen idled 86,000 of its 111,000 workers until Jan. 10, and the GM Opel subsidiary laid off 11,000 employees for eight days.

Chrysler is closing four plants next week, idling 9,700 workers more than previously announced.

City Schedules April Elections

Pampa voters will elect a mayor and two city commissioners at the next municipal election Tuesday, April 1.

Mayor R.D. Wilkerson is winding up his first term in that post.

Ward 1 commissioner Ray Thompson is currently completing his first term and Commissioner Leo Braswell, senior member of the council, will finish his third term in Ward 3.

None of the three has yet announced intention of running for re-election.

The terms of Ward 2 commissioner Joe Curtis and Ward 4 commissioner Linden Shepherd run until April of 1976.

The Pampa Daily News
A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Budget And The GNP

If the absence of fiscal sanity in Washington does not seem staggering enough, consider the chilling projection from Budget Director Roy L. Ash, as reported by the Washington Post's Hobart Rowen.

At a meeting with President Ford and the Economic Policy Board the day before the President went to Japan, Ash presented figures showing that if the average 9 per cent rates of growth in payments to individuals remains unchanged through the year 2000, federal and state local budgets will account for about two-thirds of the Gross National Product.

At present, total federal benefit payments to individuals are estimated to total $133.5 billion, or $1 billion above the July estimate, and $21 billion or 19 per cent above actual spending last year.

If an irresponsible Congress continues to vote for these payments and if the White House does not resist them, the total could well reach that two-thirds of the GNP, the disastrous consequences of which should be obvious.

Though not necessarily that projection portends that a majority of U.S. citizens might expect to live off government largesse, contributed by a producing minority.

Such would be an impossible situation for the nation to suffer. Before it is allowed to happen there is likely to be political and economic upheaval.

Even liberal-minded Rowen couldn't resist writing a frightened assessment of the Ash prediction. Anxiety about the astronomical growth of federal spending, he wrote, should not be viewed in the stereotype of clashing conservative-liberal ideologies. Outside the Ford administration, many economists have begun to worry about the ramifications of recent enormous real increases in Social Security and other benefits financed in part by a regressive system of payroll taxes that chews away at low-paid workers in favor of the elderly and retired.

Clearly the growth of government spending with its disincentives for production is reaching a point at which it will no longer be a question for debaters. To discuss it will no longer be an academic luxury. Political spending threatens to disrupt every livelihood in America — and disrupt it very, very badly.

At a meeting with President Ford and the Economic Policy Board the day before the President went to Japan, Ash presented figures showing that if the average 9 per cent rates of growth in payments to individuals remains unchanged through the year 2000, federal and state local budgets will account for about two-thirds of the Gross National Product.

At present, total federal benefit payments to individuals are estimated to total $133.5 billion, or $1 billion above the July estimate, and $21 billion or 19 per cent above actual spending last year.

If an irresponsible Congress continues to vote for these payments and if the White House does not resist them, the total could well reach that two-thirds of the GNP, the disastrous consequences of which should be obvious.

Though not necessarily that projection portends that a majority of U.S. citizens might expect to live off government largesse, contributed by a producing minority.

Such would be an impossible situation for the nation to suffer. Before it is allowed to happen there is likely to be political and economic upheaval.

Even liberal-minded Rowen couldn't resist writing a frightened assessment of the Ash prediction. Anxiety about the astronomical growth of federal spending, he wrote, should not be viewed in the stereotype of clashing conservative-liberal ideologies. Outside the Ford administration, many economists have begun to worry about the ramifications of recent enormous real increases in Social Security and other benefits financed in part by a regressive system of payroll taxes that chews away at low-paid workers in favor of the elderly and retired.

Clearly the growth of government spending with its disincentives for production is reaching a point at which it will no longer be a question for debaters. To discuss it will no longer be an academic luxury. Political spending threatens to disrupt every livelihood in America — and disrupt it very, very badly.

Dear Abby

She can always ask Joe Namath

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Would you please settle a controversy over pantyhose? Should you wear pantyhose with or without panties?

If you should wear panties with pantyhose, should you wear them UNDER or OVER the pantyhose? Some people wear them both under and over!

I have asked half a dozen people this question, and everyone has a different answer.

CURIOS IN SALEM

DEAR CURIOUS: I say that pantyhose — just as their name suggests — provides both panties and hose, so no panties are necessary. Of course they are worn only once and then laundered just as panties are; so panties are unnecessary.

P.S. If this answer doesn't satisfy you, ask Joe Namath!

DEAR ABBY: Don't give me any lectures, please. I know I did wrong, but I can't undo what I already did. Five years ago I had an affair with a married man (I am also married). I regret it now, but here is my problem: My sister-in-law keeps bringing up this man's name in every conversation where she can work it in.

Out of the blue she will ask, "Say, have you seen so-and-so lately?" Or she will mention that she saw his wife. Then she watches me closely for some kind of reaction, hoping to catch me off guard.

What can I do when she does this? I have the strangest feeling that she knows about me and this man.

Should I have it out with her and ask her why she is always bringing up his name? I would like to know if she really knows something or not.

GUILTY CONSCIENCE

DEAR GUILTY: Don't mention this man's name to your sister-in-law unless you want to risk spilling the beans. When she mentions his name, ignore it, and change the subject. She probably knows nothing, and your guilty conscience is working overtime.

DEAR ABBY: We are the natural parents of three happy, healthy children, ages five, six and eight. We are now planning to adopt a three- or four-year-old orphan girl from Korea or Vietnam.

Our problem is my mother. She is adamantly opposed to our international adoption. She said, "Your daughter will not be my granddaughter? For me she will not exist. If you adopt a brown, slant-eyed child, for me, none of you will exist. I will pretend you have all been killed in a plane crash!"

Mom lives 1500 miles from us, but she's always been a loving mother and grandmother. Abby, if she were happy with her decision never to see us again, it would be one thing, but Dad and other relatives report that she is miserable about it. She refuses to talk with a minister or psychiatrist. She says, "I'm too old to change." (She is 55.)

We have considered our decision carefully, and feel that this adoption is "right" for us and our children. I love my mother and hate to see her unhappy. Have you any suggestions?

DISTRESSED DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Let your mother know that you are deeply sorry about her decision. Tell her that your mind is made up, and if she changes hers, you would be glad to see her.

DEEP IN THE WOODS

CONSERVATIVE ADVOCATE Ronald Reagan Steps Down

By WILLIAM RUSHER

On New Year's Day Ronald Reagan stepped down as Governor of California after eight years in that office and — whatever people may think of him — they certainly can no longer say he's an unknown quantity.

That was a frequently heard objection when the soft-spoken former movie actor first tossed his hat into the ring back in 1966. A movie actor as governor? Ye Gods! What had we come to? Besides, Reagan had sprung to national political prominence as a result of a single televised speech for (of all people) Barry Goldwater, back in 1964. And Reagan's political views, though more smoothly articulated, plainly had a lot in common with Barry's. There was much solemn head shaking among intellectuals and above all liberal intellectuals when Ronald Reagan embarked on a political career.

But it didn't worry the people of California a bit. In his 1966 bid for the governorship, Reagan trounced incumbent Democrat Pat Brown by a whopping million-vote margin. Four years later, despite the inevitable erosion of popularity attendant on public office, he was returned to Sacramento by a cool half million votes. Now though only 63 he feels he has done about all one man can do for California. But what, exactly, has he done?

It seems likely that welfare reform is the field with which Reagan's career as governor will be most closely identified. The riots of the early and mid-1960s had badly frightened the Johnson administration and California Governor Brown. Lyndon Johnson's famous war on poverty, more accurately described long afterward by Richard Nixon as the practice of "throwing dollars" at rioters, was their answer. When Reagan took office, and until he was able to bring about major reforms in the system, the welfare case load in California was rising at the rate of 40,000 people every month. Since the Reagan reforms went into effect in March 1971, the number of Californians on welfare and general relief has declined by 364,630, despite the steadily increasing population of America's largest state.

Without the reforms, according to estimates of the California Department of Finance, welfare costs would have been $2 billion higher than they were. That is one reason Ronald Reagan has been able to come through with $5.6 billion in direct tax relief for the people of his state. Over the eight years of his governorship, for example, he vetoed or unilaterally reduced legislated spending proposals for a total saving of more than $2 billion. In 1970 he was able to effect a 10 per cent one-shot rebate on personal income taxes. In 1971 the tax credit was repeated — and doubled. In 1973 it was increased again to ranges between 10 per cent and 35 percent, and state income taxes on families earning $8,000 or less were eliminated altogether.

Despite these achievements — and in part because of them — Reagan has naturally come under severe and sustained attack from the liberal left. He is supposed to be indifferent to environmental problems — though he sponsored, supported and enacted the toughest water-pollution control law in the country, added 145,500 acres to the state park system, and almost single-handedly stopped a huge dam that would have flooded an Indian reservation in Round Valley. He is accused of cutting back on money for education — though the fact is that state funds for schools from kindergarten to twelfth grade have risen 105 percent during his Administration (while enrollment was increasing only 5 percent), and the budget of the never-satisfied University of California is up 106 percent (as against an enrollment increase of only 25 percent).

In our federal system, there are sharp limits on what a state governor can do. The Washington bureaucracy controls so much of the available money and has its hands on so many of the levers of power, that a large chunk of Ronald Reagan's time and efforts had to go into battles to simply hold the line. But he held it brilliantly for the most part, and his a few major accomplishments have earned him a permanent place in the affections of most Californians. Whether Americans in general would like to sample the Reagan style is a very lively question indeed.

(COPYRIGHT 1975)

Potomac Fever

By JACK POSNER

There is no truth to the rumor that administration advisers will be replaced by a spiritual medium and fortune teller.

Now that Rockefeller is vice president, the Alaskan oil pipeline will extend to Washington.

Despite Kennedy's disinterest in the presidential race, key politicians found cases of Irish whiskey in their Christmas stockings.

Seniority chairmen are trying to butter up new young congressmen by taking up the guitar and rock dancing.

Kissinger is trying to convince Jackson that every deal we make with the Russians doesn't have to be Kosher.

Ford and the economy have a lot in common. One is on skis; the other is on the skids — and both are going downhill.

Secretary Brennan will soon feel like a new mother — when he's relieved of his Labor pains.

It's doubtful that the V-P insignia will be changed to a Standard Oil gas pump.

Every one of the Democratic presidential colts is certain he can win the race against a pinto.

Even though Muskie and Humphrey may become Democratic candidates, it's doubtful that the GOP will renominate Nixon and Agnew.

DUNAGIN'S PEOPLE

Saudi Arabia is buying a major interest in a California bank. It will offer depositors camel rides and belly dancers.

Iran is negotiating a big investment in Shell Oil stations. But gas attendants might object to wearing a turban and kaftan.

Despite Ford's promise a House panel voted 20-0 not to give any tapes back to Nixon. They won't accept his American repress card.

"ALL THIS BELT TIGHTENING AND BULLET BITING HAS GOTTEN ME IS A STOMACH ACHIE AND A CHIPPED TOOTH."

INSIDE LABOR CIA's Inside Espionage

By VICTOR RIESEL

WASHINGTON — Of course, the Central Intelligence Agency has been operating inside the U.S. And why not?

All American Presidents since Harry Truman, a score of Cabinet officials and a number of top labor chiefs, for example, have known this for years. Virtually all of these men have participated in these operations — including such CIA critics as the late Robert Kennedy and Walter Reuther. The latter two and retired Gen. Maxwell Taylor, operating inside the U.S.A., using several Americans, actually discussed methods of uniting and capturing the Italian labor movement.

Reuther, who was United Auto Workers president until killed in a plane crash, earlier had been given $50,000 in small bills by the CIA to wash and use in and out of the U.S. on certain projects.

Sections of American labor always have cooperated with the CIA — just as British labor works with its MI-6 and German labor, until not so long ago, worked with their own burgeoning counterintelligence service. And for good reason — labor movements are constantly being infiltrated by the Soviet secret police (the KGB) which has become increasingly active in the U.S. since detente — you can take that for absolutely, positively, uncontradictably certain.

Such infiltration was especially the case in old CIO unions. So it became doubly important to check out certain key labor leaders, most of whom later acknowledged they had

H.L. Hunt Wrote

REALITY OF LIFE IN COMMUNIST CUBA

Castro's Cuba is often lionized by left-siders, and currently a move is on in the U.S. to establish diplomatic relations with its communist government. Nevertheless, the Cuban people suffer greatly under this tyranny.

Almost half of Cuba's 8.6 million people are in the army or the political police. 3.2 million of these exercise police state duties as members of 37,000 block committees, providing a government spy for almost every citizen.

Cuban school children are called "Pioneers" as were Russian children in the early days of Soviet rule, and the schools offer a heavy dose of political indoctrination. One Cuban teacher has been quoted as saying that "each year, we turn out 40,000 communists, and they will know what their tasks is."

Everyone 13 or over must study or work or go to jail, and all jobs are allocated by the government. Men between ages of 17 and 35 are required to spend three years in the military.

Enormous political billboards citing maxims of Lenin are seen throughout the country. Havana's buildings are covered with posters of Lenin, Soviet hammer and sickle flags line Havana's main boulevard. Bookstores are filled with books on such subjects as the Russian sugar beet harvest, Russian economics and Soviet education.

Clearly Cuba is not an independent country. It is a vassal state of the Soviet Union. The United States has no business setting up diplomatic relations with this puppet state which so oppresses its people.

been Communist operatives. And they had been privy to considerable U.S. classified briefings and secret information especially during the postwar development of the hydrogen bomb.

Who was to check out the American scene? The FBI, its director and several of his top assistants had a veritable horror of checking certain unions, whether for leakage of secrets or mob infiltration, lest the Bureau be accused of labor espionage.

All intelligence gathering becomes a miasma of secret actions within a subworld — action determined by the crisis of the moment.

Thus in one fashion or another there have always been labor specialists or labor desks or special labor operations inside CIA. Over the years these CIA specialists worked closely with AFL officials, AFL-CIO executives, individual unions and university men specializing in labor — on problems ranging from the newborn Federal Republic of Germany, Austria, inside Hungary, Italy, France, England, Guyana (British Guiana), Bolivia, Chile just to mention a few arenas.

Why? And why not? Even the Socialist British Prime Minister Harold Wilson officially charged that Communist dock workers were conspiring to wreck the United Kingdom's economy some years ago during a London waterfront strike.

And it's generally acknowledged that six members of the British National Union of Mineworkers' executive committee forced the British coal-diggers' strike to such extremes that the nation almost was paralyzed and a government fell.

The Soviets think so much of their own so-called All-Russian Trade Union "movement" as a force for infiltration of other lands by exchange of labor delegations that the Central Committee put former secret police chief Aleksandr Shelepin in as chairman of the USSR labor federation.

There have been all sorts of semi-secret interdepartmental American groups which actually were CIA operations. In December 1954 the late Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell created a "working group on overseas labor matters." On it were Labor Department, Pentagon, Foreign Operations Administration and CIA representatives.

So if there's to be a series of congressional probes into the CIA, let it be to strengthen the power of this agency to protect the U.S. Sure, someone should know what's in those 10,000 dossiers. How old are they? Are they actually files on anti-war dissidents? Or are they folders on those civilians who hold strategic secrets which may be ferreted out by Soviet agents — who don't exactly wear placards saying, "I'm a KGB man."

What's illegal should stop. Certainly, but first someone should narrow all this down to actually what was done to get up the files. Or is it information sent over by the FBI?

Intelligence work and counterintelligence are the bloodstreams of national life. Somebody has to watch the back of the store.

And even the CIA is innocent until proven guilty. Or has the law been changes?

(All Rights Reserved)

Crossword By Eugene Soffer

ACROSS

1 Letter

4 Profound

8 Chore

12 African antelope

13 Feminine name

14 Region

15 Magnificent

17 Numerous

18 Candies

19 Haggard

21 Born

22 Treat with iodine

26 Haughty

29 Female deer

30 Plant

31 Some are cast

32 Pro's companion

33 Hereditary factor

34 Likely

35 Asian festival

36 Open receptacles

37 Naval petty officer

39 Ocean

40 Absent

41 Examined

45 South American country

48 Come into view again

50 Furnace

51 Land measure

52 King of Judah

53 Legal document

54 Beloved Physician

55 Suburb of London

DOWN

1 Ova

2 Weather word

3 Certain

4 Curtailed calories

5 Irregular

6 Australian bird

7 Fervor

8 Subdued

9 Macaw

10 Japanese coin

11 Knight of the Round Table

16 Biological category

20 Garden tool

23 On the ocean

24 Drama award

25 Female sheep

26 Romp

27 Cord

28 Premiering

29 Speck

32 Primary

33 Seize

35 Greek letter

36 Indian tent (var.)

38 Small hill

39 Stuff

42 Valuable wood

43 Comfort

44 Sketch

45 School of whales

46 Twilight

47 Female ruff

49 French coin

Avg. solution time: 25 min.

WANE SOAP DAG
LITIG HUGO ITO
LITIGATES VEE
TESTED EVENS
NEW OASIS
BALD ADO ETUI
ERA DEN EITA
LAMB ATE ADEN
BEERS OR BEADS TARAWA
ERS SOPORIFIC
LIT VEVO VAIN
LEE SAPS ERGS

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12			13				14
15		16					17
18						19	20
		21				22		23	24	25
26	27	28				29				30
31						32				33
34						35				36
37						38				39
						40				41
42	43	44				45	46	47	48	49
50						51				52
53						54				55

The Pampa Daily News

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Subscription rates in Pampa and RTZ by carrier and motor route are $2.25 per month, $6.75 per three months, $13.50 per six months and $27.00 per year. THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS is not responsible for advance payment of two or more months made to the carrier. Please pay directly to the News Office any payment that exceeds the current collection period.

Subscription rates by mail are $22.00 per three months, $33.00 per six months and $67.00 per year. Outside of RTZ, $7.50 per three months, $13 per six months and $26 per year. Mail subscriptions must be paid in advance. No mail subscriptions are available within the city limits of Pampa. Servicemen and students pay mail $2.75 per month.

Single copies are 15¢ daily and Sunday.

Published daily except Saturday by The Pampa Daily News, Atchison and Somerville Streets, Pampa, Texas 79501. Phone 689-3333. All departments. Entered as second-class matter under the act March 3, 1973.

Mailing Your Daily News? Dial 689-2525 Before 7 p.m. Weekdays, 10 a.m. Sundays.

Armed Indians Continuing To Demand Land

GRESHAM, Wis. (UPI) — A group of armed Indians today occupied for the third straight day a 64-room monastery closed by a Roman Catholic order seven years ago, and said they had enough food to hold out for two weeks.

The Indians, calling themselves the "Menominee Warrior Society," seized the former novitiate New Year's day and demanded the Alexian Brothers order turn it over to them for use as a hospital or for other purposes.

Negotiations Thursday between the estimated 50 Indian militants and representatives of the Alexian Brothers failed to produce an agreement. But Circuit Court Judge Gordon M. Y. S. said communications have been established and we are using these channels that have been opened.

Neal Hawpetos, a leader of the group, said he would hold a news conference today in nearby Keshena.

The Indians have not been allowed to bring any food into the novitiate, but they said they had enough food inside to last a couple of weeks.

Some 70 local, state and federal law enforcement officers have sealed off the grounds. There has been no exchange of gunfire and there have been no reports of confrontations or injuries on either side.

The Alexians said they have been negotiating with other Indian representatives for the past several months to lease it to them for use as a rehabilitation center for alcoholic and emotionally disturbed Indians. The novitiate, located on 225 acres of wooded land, has been closed since 1958.

The Menominee Warrior Society is not recognized by the Menominee Restoration Committee, official governing body of the Menominee tribe in a nearby county, according to Ada Deer, head of the committee.

She said the Indians involved in the takeover apparently were a group of dissidents that failed to get control of the restoration committee last month. She discounted claims by the dissidents that the land involved in the takeover was Indian land.

Gold Price Drops At Zurich Market

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The price of gold dropped $11 today at the opening of international bullion markets in Zurich, but recovered a little ground in London markets. The dollar generally declined.

The financial markets reopened in Zurich after a two-day New Year's holiday with gold at $177 an ounce, against Tuesday's final $188.

In London, gold opened up $3.50 at $178 an ounce Thursday, the price of gold tumbled $11.50 an ounce to close at $174.50.

Gold was fixed in London today at $177 an ounce.

In Paris, gold dropped in early trading to $179 an ounce, down $9 an ounce from Thursday's close of $188. It was down more than $22 from Monday's record $201.40.

One Zurich gold dealer said the price of gold had gone too high and "now we have to see where the price should be, probably around $180 an ounce."

Also the market is extremely speculative as people are waiting to see whether the U.S.

Communist, Government Troops Fighting In City

SAIGON (UPI) — Tanked Communist troops drove government forces from the southern half of embattled Phouc Binh today but the outnumbered defenders dug in and reported beating back an attack on their line of last defense.

"Communist ground troops were driven off the provincial capital's defense perimeter," the Saigon military command said in a communique.

Soldiers battled each other from street to street for the third consecutive day today and government warplanes and troops reportedly killed 161 Communists and knocked out 11 North Vietnamese tanks, spokesmen said.

Government troops in Phouc Binh reported fighting off repeated attacks on the city headquarters that forms the defense perimeter.

Waves of dive-bombing warplanes blasted Communist positions in the war-torn city, 66 miles north of Saigon, in a desperate bid to save the government's last remaining stronghold in Phouc Long Province.

The fall of the city of 11,000 would leave the Communists in complete control of Phouc Long, making it the only South Vietnamese province entirely in Viet Cong and North Vietnamese hands.

The Saigon government asked the Viet Cong for a temporary halt in the fighting to evacuate civilians caught in the battle. The Viet Cong rejected the appeal as a "deceptive humanitarian trick."

"That was merely a trick to divert public attention away from and to cover up the real causes of the present serious situation in South Vietnam," a Viet Cong spokesman said.

The Saigon military command reported at least two Communist regiments — about 5,000 soldiers and 30 tanks — in battle against fewer than 1,000 government defenders at Phouc Binh.

Pilots of government warplanes reported killing 161 Communists and knocking out four tanks in around-the-clock bombing raids Thursday — the first day of the armored push against Phouc Binh.

Reconnaissance pilots said the wreckage of the bombattered Soviet-made T54 tanks — the heaviest in the Communist arsenal — lay smoking in the streets beside the province headquarters complex.

The Saigon command said fighting raged this morning in the city with the Communists battling their way into the central market in house-to-house clashes with outnumbered defenders.

Military officers said rain and clouds hampered government air strikes today, but the defenders were still under orders to hold the city "at any cost."

The Saigon command declined to disclose casualties in the fierce fighting.

The assault against Phouc Binh climaxed a two-week drive that saw all the other towns and military bases in the province fall into Communist hands.

In Cambodia, a fourth government military position fell to rebel forces Thursday, severing traffic between Phnom Penh and the former imperial capital of Oudong to the north.

Military sources said scores of sampans fishing in the Tonle Sap Lake behind the Communist lines were sunk. Survivors reported more than 20 persons wounded and four killed when fighting broke out on New Year's Eve.

Trustees Call Addicts' Deaths Honest Mistake

WACO, Tex. (UPI) — The board of trustees of the Mental Health-Mental Retardation treatment center which administered two fatal overdoses of methadone Christmas Eve has adopted a report which calls the incident "an honest mistake."

Susan Reese, director of adult mental health services of the MHMR center, Thursday night explained the overdoses which led to the deaths of two heroin addict-patients occurred because the device which measured the liquid doses conformed to cubic centimeters instead of milligrams.

Patient dosages were to be administered in milligrams but the measuring device read on a scale of 1-10 cubic centimeters. One cubic centimeter equals 10 milligrams. A recommended dose of 10 milligrams was apparently interpreted by a licensed vocational nurse to correspond to the 10 on the measuring device resulting in an actual dosage of 100 milligrams, Mrs. Reese told reporters.

Arthur Joe Williams, 32, and Robert Lee Spratt, 33, received methadone Christmas Eve and died Christmas Day. Both were participating in the program for the first time. The Christmas Eve treatments were only the third administered by the center which began the methadone program Dec. 20. The trustees' report showed Spratt suffered an adverse reaction to the methadone while still at the center but was given another drug to counter the effects of narcotics overdose. Officials said he appeared to be fine by 8:30 p.m. and was taken home an hour later. Spratt was one of three new patients who suffered adverse reactions to the drug while at the center.

Williams was seen as late as three hours after receiving his first methadone and appeared to be all right.

On The Record

Highland General Hospital THURSDAY

Admissions
Mrs. Rhonda K. Guinn, 517 N. Starkweather.
Baby Girl Guinn, 517 N. Starkweather.
Mrs. Betty Wilkerson, 908 E. Campbell.
Mrs. Mary K. Savage, 2104 N. Dwight.
John Reece, 606 Hazel.
Tommy Woodruff, 1052 Prairie Dr.
Pierce Walker, Mobeetie.
Mrs. Vicki L. Johnson, 1100 Neel Rd.
Mrs. Sue Earhart, 1500 N. Faulkner.
Lara Ryzman, 1008 Terry Rd.
Barry M. Richards, 2131 N. Faulkner.

Dismissals

Mrs. Debbie Stribling, Miami.
Baby Girl Stribling, Miami.
Mrs. Lynda Thomas, 345 Jean.
Mrs. Cynthia Graves, Pampa.
Baby Boy Graves, Pampa.
Mrs. Rhonda Winborne, 1000 Schneider.
Mace Ingram, 529 S. Ballard.
Mr. Bernice Rippetoe, 601 N. Nelson.
Mrs. Ovie M. Tillmon, 525 Harlem.
Mrs. Dorothy Chisum, 506 N. Wells.
Mrs. Vivian Stone, 324 Canadian.
Golden Choate, Enid, Okla.

Congratulations

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Guinn Jr., 517 N. Starkweather, on the birth of a baby girl at 5:44 a.m. weighing 5 lbs. 2 ozs.

PROTESTANTS BLAMED

Explosion Rocks Catholic Pub

BELFAST (UPI) — The first bomb explosion of Northern Ireland's tenuous cease-fire rocked a Roman Catholic-owned pub early today but no one was hurt.

British army sources said the bomb apparently was an attempt by militant Protestants to provoke the Catholic Irish Republican Army into retaliating and breaking its commitment to continue the truce until Jan. 16 at least.

The bomb, a small gas cylinder jammed with explosives, went off outside the pub in Chalmont, 35 miles west of Belfast, causing only slight damage.

It was the first in 12 days of cease-fire, coming just after the IRA's two-week extension, and was not regarded by the army as a breakdown of the truce.

Militant Protestants have expressed disapproval of the peace moves between the IRA and Britain, fearing that secret agreements are in the works that would undermine the Protestant majority in the province.

Protestant moderates, however, welcomed the IRA's extension of the truce.

"Thank God for another day of peace," said Brian Faulkner, one-time Northern Ireland prime minister and a leading Protestant moderate.

"Thank God for another day without killing."

"We are all of us thankful for the new hopes that the past few weeks have brought to our community," the Rev. Temple Lunde, leader of the province's Presbyterian church, said.

But Protestant hardliners reacted to the extension with suspicion. "I believe this respite will be followed by an onslaught that will horrify all of us," said William Craig, leader of the militant Vanguard party.

British officials and Northern Ireland church leaders began a two-pronged drive today to turn the IRA truce into a permanent peace in the province.

Merlyn Rees, the British overseer in Northern Ireland, conferred with his security advisers to discuss IRA demands for more concessions.

Roman Catholic and Protestant church leaders who helped arrange the truce gathered in Armagh for talks before meeting with Rees in Belfast later in the day.

The IRA began the 11-day holiday cease-fire on Dec. 22, setting the stage for possible peace talks. The outlawed militant group offered to extend the truce if Britain released IRA prisoners and promised to pull troops out of Ulster.

Britain announced plans this week to release 170 suspected members of the Catholic group from internment camps and promised to reduce the number of troops in Northern Ireland if fighting falls off.

The IRA, in an announcement Thursday only hours before the scheduled expiration of the truce, agreed to extend the cease-fire for another two weeks.

The holiday truce, the first in the province since 1972, halted more than five years of sectarian strife that has taken the lives of 1,143 persons in Northern Ireland.

IRA sources said the organization's leaders are happy about concessions and expect to enter peace talks with British officials to work out an end to the conflict.

India's Railway Minister Dies After Bomb Blast

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India's railway minister, wounded by a bomb blast at the dedication of a new rail line, died today. He was the first key Indian statesman to die by violence since the assassination of Mahatma Gandhi in 1948.

Twenty-five persons, including the minister, were injured Thursday when the bomb exploded at Bihar's new Samastipur Railroad Station, 200 miles northwest of Calcutta.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi called an emergency cabinet meeting in New Delhi shortly after receiving news of the death of 50-year-old Lalit Narayan Mishra.

A government spokesman said Mrs. Gandhi was expected to issue a public statement following the cabinet session.

Mishra was a controversial figure in Mrs. Gandhi's ruling Congress party and had been charged by opposition parties with financial corruption. Mrs. Gandhi consistently denied the charges against him and ignored opposition demands for Mishra's resignation.

The government spokesman said Mishra died following abdominal surgery at a hospital in suburban Patna, capital of the eastern state of Bihar.

Official records showed Mishra was the first ranking government official to die in political violence since Mahatma Gandhi was killed by an assassin's bullet during a public prayer meeting in New Delhi Jan. 30, 1948.

Federal and state government officials issued statements throughout India condemning the assassination and calling for investigations into the bombing.

The president of India, Fakhruddin Ali Ahmed, issued a statement in New Delhi saying he was shocked at the incident and condemning the "dastardly act."

Reports from Samastipur said an unidentified assailant hurled a bomb onto the platform where Mishra and a group of dignitaries sat during the rail inauguration ceremony. The wooden stage exploded in flames.

A government spokesman said Mishra would be given a state funeral Saturday with full military honors in his home village of Balua Bazar, about 300 miles northwest of Calcutta in Bihar state.

The 25 wounded included Mishra's brother, Bihar Irrigation Minister Jagannath Mishra; two members of parliament, Ram Bhagat Paswan and Jamuna Prasad Mandal; several state legislators; a deputy inspector general of police and P.R. Chopra, the national railway's northeastern general manager.

Reports from the scene said six of the injured suffered severe wounds. The Press Trust of India news agency said police arrested two suspects for complicity in the bombing but declined to give details.

The government in New Delhi said flags in all government buildings throughout the country would be flown at half-staff. Government offices in New Delhi were closed for the rest of the day to mourn Mishra.

Charlie's JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE...

EVERY ITEM IN THE STORE WILL BE DISCOUNTED FROM A MINIMUM OF 20% TO 60% OFF RETAIL PRICE.

HERE ARE JUST A FEW SPECIALS...

PILLOWS	1/2 PRICE
HANGING LAMPS	20% TO 60% OFF
DECORATOR ITEMS	20% TO 60% OFF
ALL PICTURES	20% TO 60% OFF

LIVING ROOM SPECIALS

EARLY AMERICAN VELVET SOFA & MATCHING CHAIR	BOTH PIECES REG. $558	NOW ONLY	$296
CONTEMPORARY HERCULON STRIPE, BROWN & RUST SOFA & MATCHING CHAIR, BOTH PIECES REG. $329		NOW ONLY	$219
HERCULON PLAID, CONTEMPORARY SOFA & MATCHING CHAIR, GREEN, GOLD & RUST, BOTH PIECES REG. $329		NOW ONLY	$219
SOFA SLEEPER SPECIALS
HERCULON PLAID, QUEEN SIZE, INNERSPRING MATTRESS BY RIVERSIDE, REG. $449		NOW ONLY	$199
NAUGAHYDE, BLACK QUEEN SIZE, TRADITIONAL BY RIVERSIDE, REG. $379		NOW ONLY	$199
VELVET BLUE & GREEN, QUEEN SIZE, INNERSPRING MATTRESS BY RIVERSIDE, REG. $630		NOW ONLY	$379
VELVET FLORAL, TRADITIONAL QUEEN SIZE, INNERSPRING MATTRESS BY TOWN & COUNTRY REG. $669		NOW ONLY	$389
SPANISH VELVET, GOLD ON GOLD, WOOD TRIM, QUEEN SIZE INNERSPRING MATTRESS, BY RIVERSIDE, REG. $670		NOW ONLY	$395

OF BOY, BABYSITTER Marine Corporal Blamed In Deaths

LEE'S SUMMIT, Mo. (UPI) — James Alexander Love, according to persons who know the baby-faced, 24-year-old Marine corporal, is a disturbed and angry man.

Love was held in jail without bond today pending a preliminary hearing Wednesday on charges he murdered his next-door neighbor's 2-year-old boy and 14-year-old babysitter.

Love was arrested a few hours after the New Year's Eve beating and stabbing deaths of the children. He pleaded innocent at his arraignment Thursday in magistrate court at Independence.

In June Love, who was then living in Kansas City, Mo., was held for 23 days on a charge of shooting his landlady to death. But he was released because police could not pinpoint his whereabouts at the time of the killing.

He moved to his parents' duplex apartment in this Kansas City suburb and became friends with the residents of the other apartment, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Berger.

The Bergers arrived home from a party early New Year's morning to find the bodies of their son, Jeffery, and his babysitter, Sheila Curtright.

Members of the local Jaycees said Berger, a vice president of the chapter, invited Love to join in October.

Members described Love as a real worker and very active in club functions. But they said he made people uncomfortable because of his extreme sensitivity and touchiness.

Investigators have pieced together a series of incidents between Love and Berger which they believe climaxed on New Year's Eve.

In one incident, the two apparently had an argument over parking facilities at their duplex.

At a Jaycees regional meeting Oct. 19, observers said Berger and the chapter president, David Knight, were teasing Love about his frequent trips to the restroom.

Then in the last week of October, several Jaycees members said, Love became overenthused in his role as a gargoyle at the chapter's Halloween haunted house, and had to be admonished by Berger because he was scaring children to the point they were crying.

On New Year's Eve, the Jaycees said, Love left a wearing white pants and a blue shirt and returned wearing a red shirt and dark pants. He pointed out to several partygoers he had cut one finger and smashed another, the Jaycees said.

Several Jaycees who danced with Love said they later noticed blood on their dresses.

Knight said Love told him at the party he was "past the point of talking and ready to fight," referring to Berger.

Fire officials speculated a fire reported in the garage of the Love apartment at the same time of the killings could have been started by Love trying to burn blood-stained clothing.

Traffic Deaths Show Decline For New Year

United Press International The National Safety Council says the 194 traffic deaths recorded during the 30-hour New Year's holiday weekend was not a record low, but was in line with a year-long decline in highway fatalities.

The council had estimated that between 170 and 230 persons would be killed in highway mishaps during the holiday period, which began at 6 p.m. Tuesday and ended at midnight New Year's night.

A count by United Press International showed that 194 persons died in auto accidents during the holiday period.

A breakdown of accidental deaths:

Traffic	194
Fires	20
Planes	0
Other	16
Total	230

"It's not a record low, but it's in line with the rest of our experience for the year," a council spokesman said of the traffic death toll.

The effects of the energy crisis and lowered speed limits were credited for the reduction of traffic deaths. The spokesman said there were nearly 10,000 fewer traffic deaths in 1974 than in 1973.

California reported the highest New Year death toll with 32 highway fatalities. Texas had 21, Florida 15 and Illinois 14.

Among the dead were two Chicago policemen, killed when two police cars collided while answering an emergency call Wednesday.

Television In Review

By FRANK SWERTLOW
NEW YORK (UPI) — When you step into Mike Wallace's office at CBS, you expect to see him sharpening a hatchet for his next interview on "60 Minutes."

Instead, he is warm, jovial and bright, like colors of his wife's painting that hangs behind his desk. "He's a pussycat," said one associate at CBS.

Mike Wallace, TV's best and toughest interviewer, is ready to talk. The initial subject, the return of "60 Minutes" Sunday and his chat with G. Gordon Liddy, the silent man of Watergate.

"He's stubborn, brave, a patriot, and an erratic and confused man," said Wallace. "He says he doesn't think there can be a democratic army; and he likes to talk about the German work ethic — Volkswagens are better than Vegas."

"He regards politics as war, and in war one does what is necessary to defeat the enemy."

Liddy, who is now free pending the outcome of his appeal, has already served 22 months of a six year sentence. For his appearance on "60 Minutes," he refused to discuss anything substantive about Watergate. Nevertheless, Wallace, once called TV's DA, tried to pick Liddy's combination.

"I really didn't expect him to tell me what he wouldn't discuss in court," said Wallace. "What the segment will show is really a character sketch of the only man who didn't talk."

Despite Liddy's silence, Wallace, 56, has had his share of headline making revelations.

On "60 Minutes," Paul Meadlo told about Lt. William Calley and the My Lai massacre; Lt. Col. Anthony Herbert (ret.), who alleged his military career was wrecked when he charged the Army with covering up war crimes in Vietnam, was embarrassed when his answers conflicted with the testimony of others. And Norman Mailer was shown to have sloppily researched his book about Marilyn Monroe, "Marilyn."

Before "60 Minutes," Wallace's provocative interviews made news with a local New York show "Night Beat." It became known as "Brow Beat" before it moved to ABC as "The Mike Wallace Show."

Among Wallace's most famous interviews was with mobster Mickey Cohen who found himself calling a police officer a "sadistic degenerate" and an "alcoholic." A $3 million libel suit followed.

Judge Studies Arguments On Indian Treaty

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Back in 1868, the U.S. government signed a treaty that the Sioux Indians say gave them most of western South Dakota. A federal judge today is deliberating whether the treaty is still in effect after 107 years.

Federal Court Judge Warren K. Urbom is expected to hand down his decision within 10 days.

If he supports the Indians' position, they claim, the U.S. government acted illegally in arresting more than 100 persons on the Pine Ridge Reservation during a 1973 American Indian Movement takeover at Wounded Knee, S.D.

Urbom has two weeks of testimony from both sides to think about in deciding the key questions: Whether the 1868 treaty actually did give the Indians the land, and whether the treaty remains in effect.

In an emotion-charged closing argument Thursday, Indian counsel John-Thorne of San Jose, Calif., told the judge if he were to rule in favor of the Indians, and were then later reversed on appeal, "You would feel better" for having done the right thing.

"I think you are hurting with this decision because it's getting to your guts," Thorne told Urbom, and added that the judge was confronted with "one of the most historic decisions" ever to come before a court.

Thorne has argued terms of the 1868 treaty remain in effect. Because of that, he said, the Sioux nation remains sovereign with the right to rule itself on land reserved for the exclusive occupation by members of the Sioux nation.

Special U.S. Prosecutor Duane Nelson of Lincoln has argued that Indians in various treaties did give the U.S. government at least partial jurisdiction.

"Supreme Court decisions have never been based on the Indians' supreme sovereignty," Nelson said. He added that the decisions looked upon Indians as members of "dependent nations" subject to treaty making and laws passed by Congress.

FUN IN THE SNOW — Barbara Gist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Gist, 2225 Lynn, saucers down the snow-covered slopes at Aspen Park Thursday afternoon, taking advantage of the winter activity in the sunshine. Sunshine beamed over the area again today, causing more of the snow to melt despite the cool temperatures. (Photo by Gary Meador)

Powerful Winter Storm Rages Over Midsection

United Press International A powerful winter storm packed the nation's midsection with heavy snows today and made highway travel hazardous throughout the area. At least six persons were killed in storm-related traffic accidents.

The storm raged over the mid-Mississippi Valley, causing the National Weather Service to issue heavy snow warnings and travelers advisories throughout northeastern Missouri, Iowa, central and northern Illinois and parts of Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

Two young Nebraskans were killed Thursday night in a car-pickup truck smashup on snowslick U.S. 81, about four miles north of Norfolk, Neb. State police said the two persons in the pickup, Gale Hanneman, 21, and Rodney R. Greenamyre, 18, both of Brunswick, were killed.

In Iowa, eight inches of new snow piled up at Red Oak, Des Moines, Mason City, Council Bluffs and Spencer each reported six inches on the ground and more snow was expected to fall at Burlington and Ottumwa.

The storm figured in at least two other fatal accidents. Tenora Schuman, 76, Cresco, Iowa, was killed Thursday when her car struck a jackknifed truck at the snowpacked intersection of U.S. 63 and U.S. 18 near New Hampton, Iowa. Robert Cook of Emmetsburg, Iowa, was killed Thursday night when his car hit a truck on snow-covered Interstate 80 near Grinnell, Iowa.

Slick roads plagued the Chicago area which had more than one inch of snow on the ground in the city and up to three inches in some southwest suburbs. Saurabh Desai, 34, of Summit, Ill., and his wife Nilima, 32, were burned to death Thursday night in a three-car collision on the Stevenson Expressway. State police also reported a flurry of "fender bender" accidents.

The Illinois Department of Transportation issued an alert to motorists and the Chicago Police Department put its emergency traffic plan into effect.

Snow also accumulated in portions of Minnesota and Nebraska, triggering travelers' advisories. One to three inches of snow was forecast for Minnesota and five inches socked portions of Nebraska, where winds of up to 35 miles per hour produced blowing and drifting.

The storm began its assault on Kansas and Missouri Thursday, bringing the first major snow of the winter and making travel hazardous. One to five inches of snow blanketed portions of Kansas and four inches was forecast for Missouri.

Three inches of snow piled up in Oklahoma's panhandle and rain and snow spread throughout much of the state.

Mainly About People

Open Saturdays. Artistic Beauty Salon, Call 669-7661 (Adv.)

The Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship will hold the regular monthly meeting on Saturday, January 4th at the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas. All interested men are invited to attend this time of fellowship and worship (Adv.)

The Lone Star Square Dancing Club will meet at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Optimist Club Building. Sammy Parsely will be calling and guests are welcome.

Mountaineers Descend After Scaling Summit

GRAND TETON PARK, Wyo. (UPI) — Paul Petzoldt's rugged band of 24 mountaineers, with three successful assaults on the 13,766-foot peak to their credit, descended the snowy Grand Teton Peak today. The climb was Petzoldt's fifth successful expedition in 10 annual attempts.

The climbers spent Thursday night in snow caves, and descended toward the steep granite walls of Moose Meadows to their base camp which they hoped to reach by tonight. Petzoldt said the party plans to be down the jagged mountain Saturday.

For the fifth time in 10 years, the 66-year-old mountaineer and author was successful in leading climbers to the top of the peak. Six of the climbers scaled the dangerous summit Tuesday under clear blue skies, and 11 more repeated the feat Wednesday.

Petzoldt sat out the two trips at the 11,700-foot level in a climbers' hut. Petzoldt radioed in his doubts about a third trip to the top Wednesday because of the weather. However, Thursday morning broke bright and clear, so a third group of Petzoldt's adventurers made an assault on the peak.

Ken Clanton, a 29-year-old instructor at Petzoldt's National Outdoor Leadership School in Lander, Wyo., radioed in the assault attempt late Thursday. He said the main party started the trip down the conquered Grand Teton, and the assault group would catch up with them later.

"The summit party should have made it because the weather was good," a Grand Teton Park spokesman said. Petzoldt's expedition had been worried about avalanches because of an increased warning this year, but experienced no trouble. The climbers' special locator beacons to pinpoint buried climbers remained in their packs.

The New Year's trips up Grand Teton always have been accident free, although three members of a Petzoldt training party were killed Jan. 16, 1974, in an avalanche near the mountain.

Obituaries

L.L. LESLIE BORGER — Graveside rites for L.L. Leslie, 79, former Pampa resident, will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at Westlawn Memorial Park here.

Dr. W.A. Appling, pastor of First United Methodist Church will officiate. Interment will be under the direction of Ed Brown and Sons Funeral Directors.

A resident of Borger for the past three years, Mr. Leslie died at 11:15 p.m. Thursday at North Plains Hospital.

He was a retired employe of Sun Oil Co.

Survivors include his wife, Effie, of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Blewett, Borger, one son, Wayne Leslie, Wichita Falls; one brother, Ora Leslie, Devon, Kan.; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Herbert Denny, 64, 602 N. Dwight, who was found dead at his home Wednesday afternoon, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in Carmichael-Whitley Colonial Chapel. Burial will be in Memory Gardens Cemetery.

Mr. Denny, a welder and construction worker, was born Feb. 14, 1909 in Oklahoma and moved to Pampa 35 years ago.

He was a veteran of World War II.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruby Denny, Pampa; three daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Colene and Mrs. John Cowser, both of Kileen, and Mrs. Doyle Barnett-Odessa; three sons, Paul Leon Denny, stationed at Hill Air Force Base, Liberty, Utah; Richard Earl Denny and Herbert Odell Denny; both of Amarillo; and five grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

REBA FAYE BAIN Funeral arrangements are pending with Duenkel Funeral Directors for Mrs. Reba Faye Bain, 67, who was found dead at her apartment at 401 N. Starkweather about 3:30 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Bain, an employe at Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners, was born Nov. 2, 1907 at Shiloh, Tex. She moved to Pampa in 1927 from Mexia, Tex.

Survivors include one son, Billy, Tyler; one daughter, Miss Joyce Bain, Indianapolis, Ind.; two brothers, Carmon Ferrell, Pampa and Ray, Amarillo.

JAMES B. CONNER Funeral services for James B. Conner, 61, 2216 Dogwood, who died at 11:25 p.m. Wednesday at Highland General Hospital, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in Central Baptist Church.

Officiating will be the Rev. Ted Savage, pastor, assisted by the Rev. T.O. Upshaw of Stamford, Tex. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery by Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors.

Born Dec. 1, 1913 at Vineyard, Tex., Mr. Conner grew up at Boonesville, Tex.

On Dec. 6, 1939 he was married to Willene Cowger at Wizard Wells, Tex. They came to Pampa in September, 1943 from Jacksboro.

Mr. Conner was a veteran of World War II.

He started to work for the Pampa Police Department on Sept. 8, 1943 and was made chief on April 1, 1952.

He was a member of Central Baptist Church, Pampa Kiwanis Club, National Fraternity Order of Police, Texas Police Association, and had served on the advisory board of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

Survivors include his wife, of the home; and one son, James G. Amarillo; one daughter, Mrs. Janna Kay Dowell, Amarillo; three sisters, Mrs. Faye Reynolds, Bridgeport, Tex.; Mrs. LaRue Harrell, Stanton, Tex.; and Mrs. Marguerite Walker, Bridgeport; and three grandchildren.

Honorary pallbearers will be peace officers and the Pampa Kiwanis Club.

The casket will not be opened at the service.

CULL W. WHITELEY WHEELER — Funeral services for Cull W. Whiteley, 86, who died Thursday afternoon in Parkview Hospital, are pending at Wright Funeral Home.

Mr. Whiteley, born in Russellville, Ark., moved to the Kelton area in 1905 and moved to Wheeler in 1969. He was a farmer and a member of the Wheeler Church of Christ.

Survivors include the widow, Lucille; two sons, L.D., Lubbock, and Dick, Oklahoma City; two daughters, Mrs. Bonnie Carr and Mrs. Vallie Jan Anderson, both of Hayward, Calif.; and nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

MARY E. ROCHE Miss Mary Elizabeth Roche, 89, a resident of St. Anne's Nursing Home at Panhandle, died Thursday at Highland General Hospital, where she had been a patient for the past three weeks.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Muehleback Funeral Home at Kansas City, Mo. Local arrangements were under the direction of Duenkel Funeral Directors.

Born April 29, 1885 at Arcade, N.Y., Mrs. Roche moved from Kansas City to Panhandle, three years ago.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews including Mrs. Vera Gruetzmacher, Kansas City; Mrs. Margaret Dial, Mrs. Mary Lane and Mrs. F.M. Collins, and John Roche, and one sister-in-law, Mrs. Mike Roche, all of Pampa.

PLAYING HOUSE — Kristy Duenkel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Duenkel, plays with her doll and an ultra-modern playhouse, enjoying her Christmas gifts into the New Year. (Photo by Jim Williams)

Stock Market Quotations

The following 11 a.m. Chicago Exchange live cattle futures are furnished by the Amarillo office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc.

Prev.	Close	Open	High	Low	Last
Feb.	39.27	39.50	39.65	39.35	39.42
June	46.42	46.55	46.75	46.25	46.52
Aug.	41.29	41.45	41.50	41.30	41.35
Oct.	40.82	41.00	41.05	40.85	40.90
Dec.	41.15	41.00	41.00	41.00	41.00

The following 11 a.m. grain quotations are furnished by Wheeler Grain of Pampa.

Wheat	54.64 Bu
Milo	34.55 cw

The following quotations show the range within which these securities could have been traded at the time of compilation.

Franklin Life	19 1/2
Ky. Cent. Life	19 1/2
Southern Life	19 1/2
So. West Life	25 1/2

The following 10:30 N.Y. stock market quotations are furnished by the Pampa office of Schneider Bernet Hickman, Inc.

Republic Pools	15 1/2
Celanese	27 1/2
DIA	22 1/2
Cities Service	22 1/2
Kerr-McGee	30 1/2
Pennac	42
Phillips	42
PNA	18 1/2
Shelby	18 1/2
Southwestern Pub. Service	5 1/2
Standard Oil of Indiana	41 1/2
Texasco	41 1/2

HERBERT DENNY Funeral services for

Woodhouse DRUG
114 N. Cuyler 669-7478

Polaroid SX 70 No. 2
CAMERA
Reg. $150.00
$119.88

Polaroid SX 70
FILM
Reg. $6.90 $4.99

BAKER-BROILER
Munsey Reg. $24.95 $15.88

Dallas Mayor Gets Auto Back

DALLAS (UPI) — William D. Martin, who owns a bar a few steps from City Hall, bought Mayor Wes Wise's 1966 Volkswagen for $760 Thursday and gave it right back to the mayor.

"If they repossess it again, I'll give it back to him again," Martin said.

The mayor's car, the one he's used to win two city elections as mayor, was seized by deputy sheriffs to help pay off a $30,000 judgment against him. Martin bought the car at a public auction, submitting the highest of the five bids offered for the automobile.

Martin's bid was $700, $600 more than Wise said the car is worth. Martin also paid $60 storage fees.

A light rain fell during the outside auction.

"I have a 1966 Volkswagen. Texas license number Mary Nancy Mary 11," the auctioneer said. "Do I have a bid?"

The bidding started at $100 but Martin, a portly grey-haired man who wore a sweater and a topcoat to shield himself from the cold, wind and rain, quickly upped the price to $700.

Martin said the seizure of the Wise's car was an attempt to embarrass the mayor who bucked the city's establishment to win his first election.

"If they repossess it again, I'll give it back to him again," Martin said.

again," Martin said. "They can go ahead and attach it again and try to embarrass him again. But I'll put it in my name and let him use it as long as he wants."

Martin was asked if the mayor's salary — $50 a week — had anything to do with his decision. Martin said he thought the mayor's salary should be raised. How much?

"I think he should make at least as much as a street sweeper," Martin said. "A street sweeper makes $120 a week for pushing a little orange wagon with a broom down the street and the mayor makes only $50 a week for working seven days a week, 16 hours a day."

After he signed for the car, Martin had it delivered to the mayor's home. Wise was not there when the car arrived, but his son was. The teen-aged boy reluctantly took the keys to the Volkswagen, smiled and said he was glad to have it back.

"I use it to go to school," he said.

Dr. Bernard Dolenz of Fort Worth and James Schleder of Dallas won a $30,000 judgment against Wise and his former partner, George Rodgerson, last summer. Dolenz and Schleder loaned the Texas Export Development Corp., founded by Wise and Rodgerson, $25,000 to seek rights to oil discovered in Indonesia.

The proposal did not succeed and the company folded without the debt being repaid.

Wise said he offered to pay $15,000, which he said was his part of the loan, but Dolenz and Schleder turned him down.

Wise said Dolenz and Schleder decided instead to file a lawsuit forcing a full disclosure of his holdings and then obtained a court order to seize his car.

Besides his city salary Wise also makes about $22,000 a year from his private job with the World Trade Center, but the financial statement filed by the mayor showed he was deeply in debt. But Wise said he had no intention of filing bankruptcy.

Rock Music

United Press International If 1974 could be summed up in one phrase, you might call it "The Year of the Big Tour." After years out of the spotlight, Bob Dylan and The Band, George Harrison and Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young all hit the road.

Names from the past, all — yet still immensely popular and playing for millions in the biggest halls available in scores of cities.

The big tours were the most noteworthy events of the pop music year, but all the hoopla really had little effect on the diverse paths rock meandered along during 1974. There remains very little direction to popular music.

That is not to say there wasn't any good music; there was plenty, and varied enough to keep even the most eclectic of tastes busy sorting out dozens of new acts and thousands of new albums.

Bad Company established itself with a single album as the first significant new hard rock band out of England in years. Occupying opposite extremes of a very wide spectrum, Genesis and Kiss carried rock theater several steps beyond anything dreamed of previously.

Mick Taylor left the Rolling Stones, Mick Ronson joined Mott the Hoople. The Electric Light Orchestra wrote a symphony and Randy Newman wrote what might as well be called an opera.

Elton John kept the hits right on a coming and Bachman-Turner Overdrive brought hard rock back to AM radio with a string of powerhouse singles. The Moody Blues finally gave up and Alice Cooper's band went its separate ways.

Nearly everyone likes to make "best of the year" lists. Rock writers are no exception and they have the advantage of getting their opinions into print for other people to disagree with.

So, with the New Year upon us, here is my list of the best, the worst and the most noteworthy of Rock Year 1974.

Best albums of the year:

1. Joni Mitchell — "Court and Spark"
2. Rolling Stones — "It's Only Rock and Roll"
3. Bad Company — "Bad Company"
4. Genesis — "Selling England By The Pound"
5. Bachman-Turner Overdrive — "BTO II"
6. Shawn Phillips — "Furthermore"
7. The South-Hillman-Furay Band — "The SHF Band"
8. Bob Dylan and The Band — "Before The Flood"
9. Manfred Mann's Earth Band — "The Good Earth"
10. Bonnie Raitt — "Streetlights"
11. Randy Newman — "Good Old Boys"
12. Doug Sahm — "Groovers Paradise"
13. David Werner — "Whizz Kid"
14. Joe Cocker — "I Can Stand A Little Rain"
15. Heartfield — "The Wonder Of It All"

Worst albums of the year (in no particular order):

Mott the Hoople — "Live! U r i a h H e e p — "Wonderworld"; The Sensational Alex Harvey Band — "The Impossible Dream"; Leon Russell — "Stop All That Jazz."

Most underrated group: Manfred Mann's Earth Band; best totally unknown group: Heartfield; best new rhythm & blues group: Graham Central Station; most overrated: Bruce Springsteen, Little Feat; best new groups of the year: Bad Company, Kiss, Kansas, PFM, Ozark Mountain Daredevils; greatest hope for the future: Genesis; best musical curiosity: The Skymonters with Hamid Hamilton Camp.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — During this transitional period when 1975 is taking over from 1974, I sought an interview with J. Temporal McAnno, the internationally known connoisseur of years.

Q. In your opinion, sir, how has the transition gone thus far?

A. Very smoothly. What we have seen these past few days is a heartening reminder that our chronological system still works.

Those "Nervous Nellies" who were predicting a chronological crisis on Jan. 1 obviously were all wet.

Q. Did the fact that 1974 vacated the calendar on schedule surprise you?

A. Somewhat. There were rumors the old year might try to stay on through January and maybe into February.

But public opinion proved too strong. All the polls showed the people were fed up with 1974 and would not tolerate it any longer.

Q. How would you rate 1975 from the little you have seen of it so far?

A. I doubt 1975 will go down in history as a great year. But it appears to have the qualities of decency and integrity, which counts for a lot just now.

After a hectic year like 1974, people are ready for a little dullness.

Q. Would you favor granting 1974 a pardon for all the turmoil and hardships it brought upon us?

A. Nearly everyone agrees that 1974 was a bad year. As to whether critics are justified in comparing it to 1929 remains to be seen.

In any event, there is some question that a year can be held legally accountable for everything that happened during its term on the calendar.

I personally feel that the sooner the events of 1974 are put behind us, the better chance 1975 will have of turning things around.

Q. How about the circumstances under which 1975 came into power, automatically replacing 1974? The people had no voice in its selection. Had they had a choice, they might well have preferred to go directly to 1976, or even 1984.

A. When our forefathers were drafting the chronology, they wisely provided a line of annual succession that insured an orderly changeover every 12 months.

If it was almost as if they had foreseen that bad years like 1974 would occur, and wanted to make sure they were not prolonged.

The worse thing that could happen at this time would be a divisive, internecine struggle over which year follows 1974. The calendar might never be the same again, if indeed it survived at all.

Q. How about the circumstances under which 1975 came into power, automatically replacing 1974? The people had no voice in its selection. Had they had a choice, they might well have preferred to go directly to 1976, or even 1984.

A. When our forefathers were drafting the chronology, they wisely provided a line of annual succession that insured an orderly changeover every 12 months.

If it was almost as if they had foreseen that bad years like 1974 would occur, and wanted to make sure they were not prolonged.

The worse thing that could happen at this time would be a divisive, internecine struggle over which year follows 1974. The calendar might never be the same again, if indeed it survived at all.

Q. How about the circumstances under which 1975 came into power, automatically replacing 1974? The people had no voice in its selection. Had they had a choice, they might well have preferred to go directly to 1976, or even 1984.

A. When our forefathers were drafting the chronology, they wisely provided a line of annual succession that insured an orderly changeover every 12 months.

If it was almost as if they had foreseen that bad years like 1974 would occur, and wanted to make sure they were not prolonged.

The worse thing that could happen at this time would be a divisive, internecine struggle over which year follows 1974. The calendar might never be the same again, if indeed it survived at all.

Q. How about the circumstances under which 1975 came into power, automatically replacing 1974? The people had no voice in its selection. Had they had a choice, they might well have preferred to go directly to 1976, or even 1984.

A. When our forefathers were drafting the chronology, they wisely provided a line of annual succession that insured an orderly changeover every 12 months.

If it was almost as if they had foreseen that bad years like 1974 would occur, and wanted to make sure they were not prolonged.

The worse thing that could happen at this time would be a divisive, internecine struggle over which year follows 1974. The calendar might never be the same again, if indeed it survived at all.

No Shoo-Ins For 1974 Oscars

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The box-office played a merry tune in 1974, one of the best financial years the movies have seen in more than a decade, and it won't be long before they hand out the prizes — academy awards, critics awards, foreign awards and all the rest.

It is unlikely any of the real money-makers will capture the coveted hardware — "Earthquake," "Airport 1975," and "Towering Inferno."

"Art" in its most pure, unalloyed form remains the criteria for most of the goldenings.

Among the disaster pictures, "Towering Inferno" stands the best chance of nomination for best picture of the year.

Others almost certainly due for consideration are "Lenny," "The Godfather Part II," "Murder on the Orient Express," "A Woman Under The Influence," "Harry and Tonto," "Chinatown," "The Three Musketeers," "Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore" and "Conversations."

It was something less than a banner year for performers who somehow were less spectacular than the pictures in which they appeared.

Almost sure to be nominated for best performance by an actor in the Oscar derby are Dustin Hoffman ("Lenny"), Art Carney ("Harry and Tonto") and Jack Nicholson ("Chinatown").

The other two Academy Award nominees could well come from "The Godfather Part II," Al Pacino and Robert De Niro. And then, there's Gene Hackman in "Conversations."

Leading ladies, however, are more difficult to come by. Seldom has the field been so thin.

Two potential Oscar winners are Gena Rowlands ("A Woman Under the Influence") and Faye Dunaway ("Chinatown").

Almost certainly Valerie Perrine will be a nominee for an Oscar either as a leading lady or best supporting actress for "Lenny."

There's an outside possibility that Karen Black will have a chance in "Airport 1975." The same is true for Ellen Burstyn in "Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore."

Thereafter it is difficult to dredge up another leading lady.

Bob Fosse—who won an Oscar for "Cabaret"—is a cinch to be nominated for his direction of "Lenny." And if there is any justice Francis Ford Coppola will win a nomination for "The Godfather Part II."

Another shoo-in is Roman Polanski who was at his best at the helm of "Chinatown." Consideration, too, must be given the fact that Coppola also directed "Conversations" and may be in competition with himself.

John Cassavetes has a chance at nomination for directing his wife, Gene Rowlands, in "A Woman Under the Influence."

There were some disappointments during 1974 as well as smash hits. Among the let-downs were "Mame" and "The Great Gatsby," both of which were roundly panned by critics. Another film that didn't live up to expectations was "The Front Page."

On Dec. 15, 1965, space capsules Gemini 6 and 7 participated in first manned space rendezvous.

Nixon 'Anguished' By Trial

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — Former President Richard M. Nixon is anguished that his former top aides and their families have suffered so much, but on advice of his attorney will say no more about the Watergate trial verdicts.

A spokesman for Nixon said Thursday the former president's attorney has advised him against making any specific statements about yesterday's verdict because the defendants have stated their intention to file appeals.

Nixon was at his home New Year's day when he learned that H. R. Haldeman, John Ehrlichman, John Mitchell and Robert Mardian had been found guilty in U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C.

President Nixon is deeply anguished by Watergate and that these men, who were among his closest aides, and their families, have suffered so much and that their lives have been so tragically touched by Watergate, the spokesman said at the Nixon estate here.

The convicted four have said that their appeals will be based partly on the lack of testimony from Nixon, who was subpoenaed by both prosecution and defense.

Nixon was excused from appearing because of poor health.

He is recovering from surgery performed in October, and from a number of complications which followed, including an almost fatal attack of shock, pneumonia and other ailments.

Police Check Triple Deaths

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (UPI) — Police said today a wealthy investment counselor who had been having financial troubles apparently shot his wife and teen-age son to death with a shotgun, then took his own life with the same weapon Thursday.

A family maid found the bodies of Charles W. Call, Jr., 49, his wife, Eloise, 43, and their son, Brad, 14, in their three-story mansion. All three were dressed in nightclothes.

Morris County Prosecutor Donald Colleser Jr. said no suicide note was found but that "it's my conclusion that it was a double-murder suicide. Call apparently acted as the trigger man."

Call, president of Ward Foods from 1963 through 1972, earlier this year started Springbrook Associates of Morristown and Charles M. Call Associates of New York, two investment firms.

WARD ONE WEEK SALE

Super sale!

Men's sportcoats

slacks, suits,

30% - 50% off.

Men, get set for a bonanza of a sale! Suits, sportcoats, blazers, slacks now at knock-down prices! Great assortment of terrific styles. Lively plaids and patterns, rich solids that are color stand-outs. Wanted fabrics, too. The works! And the savings are smash! Come in pick and choose at Wards!

BUY WHAT YOU NEED NOW — USE CHARG-ALL CREDIT

Looking for value? See us.

MONTGOMERY WARD

CORONADO CENTER 9:30 TO 6:00

Wright
FASHIONS

Winter CLEARANCE

Winter Robes
Shevelva by Vanity Fair

Long Robes $19 Short Robes $15
excellent selection — sizes 8-18

Dresses
1/2 PRICE AND LESS
$10 $15 $20 $25 $29 $39

PANT - COATS

Vinyl — Wool — Fake Fur Coats
$39 $49 $59 $69

Street Length $49 $59 $69 | Cashmere and Camel Hair 20% Off regular price

Sport Separates
● Pants ● Blouses ● Tops
$15 $20 $25 $29 $39

Suits | Pant Suits
$29 $39 $49 | $39 $49 $59 $69

Hints from Heloise

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
On dealing with liquefaction in baby foods...
Frankly, since the reason for that liquefaction—contamination by the baby's saliva was mentioned in your column—we feel that it might be better if more space is given to prevention rather than correction.

Now little mothers, this is great for all of you to know. So I beg of you to take heed.
All my heartfelt thanks to Edna Mae for taking the time to clue us in on this little baby matter.

We all appreciate you, little sweetheart!

Heloise

Saliva normally contains a starch-splitting enzyme. The saliva of some babies is especially high in this enzyme. The most direct and desirable solution then, is simply not to feed the baby from the jar when the entire contents are not going to be used.

Rather, the desired portion should be removed with a clean spoon to a serving dish, and the jar closed and refrigerated immediately. In this way, not only is the food uncontaminated with saliva, but also it is less contaminated with spoilage-causing micro-organisms. It will therefore keep somewhat longer under refrigeration.

In respect to how long partially used containers will keep in the refrigerator, we are unwilling to be specific in this matter. With careful handling, such as that described above and with an efficient refrigerator, it will probably keep longer than a couple of days.

However, since most babies are fed either one-half jar or one-third jar (if very young), only one or two days of refrigeration is necessary, provided the food is fed on consecutive days.

To add powdered mashed potato or baby cereal to the liquefied food is, to me, an "after the horse is out of the barn" measure.

Either procedure would increase the calories and proportion of carbohydrate to other nutrients when neither might be desirable. The main point, though, is that such measures are unnecessary if the desired portion is removed from the jar and not contaminated with saliva in the first place.

In closing, I'm pleased to add my personal thanks for your column, of which I'm a regular reader, and the countless suggestions that I have put to practical use.

Edna Mae McIntosh, R.D.
Nutritionist
Baby Food Company

(© 1975 King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

PROGRESSIVE CLUB
The Progressive HD met recently in the home of President, Mrs. E. A. Levard for a Christmas Party. The serving table was decorated with a red lace cloth, gold serving pieces, a candle, napkins and the favors were made from gum drop, life savers.

Mrs. Revard gave the invocation before a covered dish luncheon of turkey, dressing and all the trimmings.

After the luncheon, the group exchanged gifts with everyone bringing a gift for the Satellite School for exceptional children which was delivered by members of the club.

Games were played following the gift exchange while cranberry cake, coffee and tea were served. Attending were Mmes. B. F. Dorman, Grady Grant, G. B. Hogan, John A. King, E. A. Revard, John T. King, E. P. Tempin, Don Butler and W. T. Lytton. Guests were Mmes. B. G. Ward, Lee, Jackson, Babes Scrogberry, and Elaine Houston.

LETTER OF LOVE
Dear Heloise:
You're a boon to all mankind (oops!) "personkind."

Sincerely,
James W. Cullings

Dear Heloise:
I would like to pass along a hint to make body shirts last longer.

The snaps on my body shirt wore out, so for a quick repair, I took an old worn-out bra and cut off the elastic with the hooks and eyes on it.

I sewed the hook to the front panel and the eyes to the back. The elastic still had a lot of use and it saved me a body shirt.

Mrs. J.D.

You really "snapped" when you thought of this one, cutie!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Here is something everyone can use that is made from two paper plates.

Cut one plate in half, put the plate and the half plate together so that there is a little well between them. Simply staple or lace them together with yarn.

Now you have a dandy little holder for bills, letters, pencils etc., that can be tucked wherever needed.

Mrs. C.P. Mahoney

Dear Heloise:
My sheets always wear out in the middle. This is how I get a few more years wear out of them.

I tear them down the middle, make a fell or flat seam of the selvage, and then hem the outside.

This is especially good for children's beds, and they can be used as top sheets if they are too narrow.

Vera Firebaugh

THIS COLUMN is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

The Woman's Page

The Tampa Daily News

Pampa, Texas 66th Year Friday, Jan. 3, 1975

Spring Evenings

THE LONG LOOK, whether it's a skirt or pajamas, stars after dark. Fashions styled by Russ.

Budgetwise Fashions for Those Dress-up Occasions

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

SHORT cocktail and evening gowns keep trying to make a comeback, but they're not getting anywhere because women like dressing up. And dressing up means a costume that goes to longer lengths. It can be a dress or a pants outfit. It's not important which. The point is it should be festive.

This dress-up trend isn't pursued only by Beautiful People. Everyone's into it. Have a party, have a family gathering, go out to dinner or the theater—any social event at all is excuse enough.

Evening costumes aren't gussy and fussy any more, and that's why everyone's wearing them. For spring, floral prints are blooming after dark—on long skirts and on pajama sets, such as the budgetwise costumes pictured here from a new collection by Russ.

Doctor in the Kitchen

by Laurence M. Hursh, M.D.
Consultant, National Dairy Council

MUSICAL SPECIAL
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Peter Sellers will appear as a guest star with Julie Andrews when the actress-singer returns next year with her ABC-TV musical specials.

AMA DIET POSITIONS

Educating people to know what nutrients they need to be healthy, and what foods will give them those nutrients, are the two primary challenges facing nutritionists today.

The American Medical Association's Council on Foods and Nutrition officially recognized this fact a few years ago when it issued a position statement that read: "Foods are grouped into the Basic Four: (1) milk and milk products; (2) meat, fish and poultry with nuts and legumes as alternates; (3) fruits and vegetables; and (4) breads and cereals. A wise selection of foods from each group, as recommended will provide an adequate diet."

THE STATEMENT is regarded as important enough to be re-issued recently, in company with four other AMA statements relating to nutrition.

Regarding weight control, AMA says: "There is a significant and increasingly publicized problem with a certain minority of physicians who limit their practice to the treatment of obesity." AMA warns against the use of digitalis, prolonged use of diuretics (they increase body water excretion), toxic doses of thyroid, and other potentially dangerous therapeutic measures as "having no rational basis in the treatment of obesity."

AMA specifically urges all physicians to "limit their use of amphetamines and other stimulant drugs."

CONCERNING low-carbohydrate diets, AMA stated in part that variations of this diet have been promoted for years—the most recent effort being that contained in the "Dr. Atkins' Diet Revolution." The diet is neither new nor revolutionary and the rationale advanced for it "is, for the most part, without scientific merit." AMA also worries about people on such a diet possibly suffering an elevation of levels of fats in the blood.

The Zen Macrobiotic diet, says AMA, is "one of the most dangerous dietary regimens, posing not only serious hazards to health but even to life itself." Some followers of the most rigid diet have died. Others have incurred serious nutritional deficiencies such as scurvy, anemia, emaciation and loss of kidney function, and drastic drops in the body's stores of protein and calcium.

REGARDING hunger, the AMA position is that "in society that can afford to abolish it (hunger) is morally and economically indefensible." And malnutrition "may be just as damaging to the individual." Physicians are urged at the local level to involve themselves in "community affairs that pertain to the resolution of hunger and malnutrition."

ZALES The Smart Time To Buy Is Now!

Save 10% to 33 1/3% off regular prices on a select group of Watches

LISTED BELOW ARE JUST A FEW EXAMPLES OF THE GREAT SAVINGS

	Reg.	Sale
Men's Automatic Day-Date Watch	$110	$88
Men's 14 K Automatic Date Watch	125	99.95
Ladies' Yellow Gold Wide Band Watch	69.95	55.95
Ladies' 8 Diamond Fashion Watch	125	99.95

Zales Revolving Charge • Zales Custom Charge
BankAmericard • Master Charge
American Express • Diners Club • Carte Blanche • Layaway
Sale prices effective on selected merchandise.
Entire stock not included in this sale. Original price tag shown on every item.
All items subject to prior sale. Items illustrated not necessarily those on sale.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The Power Of Love Works On Young, Old, In-Between

Psychologists tell us that babies and children need the feeling of security which knowing they are loved gives more than anything else in the world. I think this applies to the human race at every age. Being wanted and needed and loved are essential to happiness.

Adults are no different! Many of the lonely and bored people are that way because they feel rejected by life: at home, socially, at the plant or the office. There's nothing like love to make the eyes sparkle and the heart zing and there's nothing like knowledge that one is needed and useful to make life meaningful and satisfying.

The melancholy emotions which sometimes assail people at middle age often come from the belief that they are no longer needed or wanted. The mother no longer has the obligations to her children she had for so many years, and too often she has lost her husband or has lost close touch with him. The man may have been retired from his job when still tops in skill and health. Both think they are on the sidelines of life.

Take care not to become caught in a vicious circle at this stage of life. Feelings of rejection and depression can completely change personality and health. Frustration may show itself in irritability, intolerance or fatigue. If the fun and excitement have gone out of your life, you cannot be much fun or very interesting and helpful to others. Often the person who needs help most gets the least.

What can you, as an individual, do about it if you are in this situation? Well, besides adding new interests to your life, perhaps a good beginning would be to look for the qualities in others which make you wish to accept them rather than for those which might cause you to reject them. If you adopt this policy you may be surprised by the way others will respond to you. There are so many people in the same boat.

New friends, interests and opportunities for service may magically appear on the horizon of your life. How many million happiness hours are lost because many folks have a reactive rather than a selective attitude in their human relationships!

Ideas for fun activities abound in the leaflet, "Hobbies." Get your free copy by sending a long, stamped, self addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of Register and Tribune Syndicate, Des Moines, Iowa 50308.

What a buy! During our...

JANUARY SALE

VINYL JACKET

17.88

ORIGINALLY 25.00

EMBROIDERED WESTERN STYLE JACKETS IN BROWN OR NAVY WITH CONTRAST STITCHING. SIZES 8-16.

bentley's

• PAMPA •

margos la mode

A Pleasant Way to Dine

Coronado Inn
PAMPA, TEXAS

Foursquare Gospel Has New Pastor

Rev. Charles Moran, assisted by his wife, Joyce, has been appointed and approved as the new pastor of the local Foursquare Gospel Church.

The former pastor, Rev. Samuel N. Godwin and his wife, Grace, resigned December 29, 1974, in order to devote themselves to other areas of Christian service. They have served the church here for almost six years.

The incoming pastor, Rev. Moran will preach his inaugural sermon Sunday, Jan. 5 at 11 a.m.

All members, active or inactive, and friends are invited to attend to meet and greet the new pastor.

New Pastor At Calvary

The newly called pastor of Calvary Baptist Church will begin his ministry by preaching both services on January 5th.

The Rev. Ronald A. Harpster has served as pastor of the First Lockhart Baptist Church in Lockhart, the Avenue Baptist Church in Hereford, and has been the associate pastor at Dalhart until his coming to Pampa's Calvary Baptist Church.

Every member and all guests are welcome to hear our pastor this coming Sunday at 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

Bible Study will begin at 9:45 a.m. and Church Training will be at 6:00 p.m. Calvary Baptist Church extends a warm welcome to each worshipper.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

Then Joshua commanded the rest of the army, "Go on chasing the enemy and cut them down from the rear. Don't let them get back to their cities, for the Lord will help you to completely destroy them."

So Joshua and the Israeli army continued the slaughter and wiped out the five armies except for a tiny remnant that managed to reach their fortified cities. Then the Israelis returned to their camp at Makkedah without having lost a single man!

Joshua 10:19-21
Religious Heritage of America

In whom ye also are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit. Ephesians 2:22. God planted our spirits in these strange bodies, so that we might have fellowship with Him and He with us. Bit by bit people become able to think His thoughts after Him.

Blessed be the Lord my strength which teacheth my hands to war, and my finger to fight. Psalm 144:1. God teaches us to war against famine, and to wrest our daily bread from the dust of the ground.

REV. and MRS. CHARLES MORAN

Old Faiths Endure In The Bible Belt

By CLAIRE COX
Copley News Service

NEW YORK — The Bible Belt is one of the most potent forces on the American religious scene today.

To some it is a state of mind, a fundamentalist, emotional religious fervor rooted in the Bible and old-fashioned preaching that can be found among conservative sects throughout the country.

To others it is a form of worship, an approach to Christianity adhered to in one large section of the country — the solid South and a few border states.

However one defines it, the Bible Belt, which grew out of the evangelism of the circuit-riding preachers and camp meetings of the 18th and 19th centuries, remains a source of deep religious conviction and enthusiasm.

While most of the old-time camp meetings have moved indoors, the supper on the ground, where families gather to eat, sing hymns and pray, is still popular in some parts of the South.

Evangelists such as Dr. Billy Graham, Oral Roberts and the Rev. David Wilkerson have been prominent among the new-time, jet-propelled itinerant preachers, carrying the Gospel to vast audiences in stadiums and auditoriums. Their messages differ little, however, from the preachings of the old-time spellbinders such as Billy Sunday and A. A. Allen, an Arkansas faith healer of wide renown.

"The Bible Belt Mystique" is the subject of a discussion by C. Dwight Dorrough, professor of English at the University of Houston, who attended his first camp meeting as a small boy and has been fascinated by the fundamentalist approach to religion ever since.

In his analysis, distributed by the Westminster Press, the publishing house of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., Dorrough considers the Bible Belt as existing in that part of the South that prides itself in the old-time religiousness.

"The old-time religion has been greatly modified since the early days," he says. "It no longer has the mass appeal that it did, but sufficient evidence has been presented to illustrate that the older type of religiousness is not dead."

"In fact, a great many southerners are turning to a type of neofundamentalism, probably as an insulation from social turmoil, an emergency crisis, economic chaos, environmental pollution, international conflict, and the like. In search for simple answers to complex problems, they have turned to the Bible for help. What is sought has been referred to by the more orthodox as the 'plain truth.' In this sense the older faith endures, and not only in the South."

Dorrough pointed out that pockets of older attitudes persist in the form of blue laws, local option on liquor sales, objections to Darwin's theory of evolution and intolerance toward some religious "liberals."

But he also noted the emergence of programs of social action, a diminishing fear and suspicion of Roman Catholicism and increasing racial desegregation.

The southern Bible Belt legacy includes stubborn individualism, reverence for the past, "love of the land, and place, and emphasis on family," and a close affinity between politics and religion, Dorrough said, adding:

"For believers in the old-time religion, the ghost of the Confederate dead is an inseparable legacy."

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

First Assembly Of God

REV. R.L. COURTNEY

WHAT OF THE NIGHT?? During this season of the year there are many areas of thought we often give attention to, but I find a couple of verses in Isaiah chapter 21 that is very interesting. It is verses 11 and 12. "The burden of Dumah. He calleth me out of Seir. Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?"

The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will enquire, enquire ye: return, come."

Before I consider the thought suggested by these verses I want to remind you of a fact that is substantiated in the pages of the Year Book of American Churches. The fact is that over the past few years there has been noted a great decline in interest in spiritual areas during national holidays.

Fundamental, Bible believing Christians have always been mindful of the place God has held in the success and prosperity of our country. Leaders of the past have been individuals who have not been ashamed and their need of God's help and guidance. This practise of showing interest in spiritual areas during national holidays has served a dual purpose. It has helped Christians to maintain their patriotic attitude and it has prompted praise to God for His rich blessings upon our great country.

But alas, we are experiencing somewhat of a nighttime of such practices.

We have gone through a period of great unrest and corruption that has been very detrimental in our land. We have seen a desecration of that which is clean and holy.

I bring some of these areas to your attention so that we might be called on to remember, and by remembering we will be enabled to turn our hearts and minds toward the lord with a new fervor. Watchman, what of the night??

This is a question which occupies earnest minds and sincere hearts. I confess to you that I am interested and concerned over what takes place in various areas around the world; I am likewise concerned over what takes place in our own country; and I am concerned over what takes place right here in our own city.

But friends, without bordering on the border-line of selfishness, I also confess that I am sharply interested in what touches the fine congregation which I serve as pastor.

And, I must go a step further and point out that I am greatly interested in and concerned about what is ahead for me as an individual.

Actually, I believe this is the attitude and interest that is God given, for He tells us in His word to check up on ourselves and to make our calling and election sure.

That is why I am interested in a verse like this one "Watchman, what of the night??"

I do not profess to be a prophet as the public usually considers a prophet, but I believe we are able to read the signs of the times. From these signs of the times I sense that we are being touched and influenced by the dark night of sin more than at any other time in history.

Some suggest that perhaps it is because we are made to be more aware of it, and then others suggest that perhaps it is because of the numerical increase in our society.

Well, while there may be an element of truth in both of the previous suggestions, but I am convinced that it may very well be that conditions are worse than ever before.

Church Directory

- Adventist
Seventh Day Adventist
R.D. Murray, Minister 425 N. Ward
- Apostolic
Pampa Chapel
Rev. E. Waterbury 711 E. Harvester
- Assembly of God
Assembly of God Church
Rev. Carl Savage Skellytown
Bethel Assembly of God Church
Rev. Paul DeWolfe 1541 Hamilton
Calvary Assembly of God
Rev. Gerald Middleough 1030 Love
First Assembly of God
Rev. R.L. Courtney 500 S. Cuyler
Lefors Assembly of God Church
Rev. V.R. Stone Lefors
- Baptist
Barrett Baptist Church 903 Beryl
Rev. Jackie N. Lee
Calvary Baptist Church 824 S. Barnes
Central Baptist Church
Rev. Ted Savage Starkweather & Browning Fellowship Baptist Church
Rev. Earl Maddux 217 N. Warren
First Baptist Church
Rev. Claude Cone 203 N. West
First Baptist Church (Lefors)
Rev. Rick Wadley 315 E. 4th
First Baptist Church (Skellytown)
Rev. Milton Thompson Skellytown
First Freewill Baptist
L.C. Lynch, Pastor 326 N. Rider
Highland Baptist Church
J.B. Smith, Pastor 1301 N. Banks
Hobart Baptist Church
Rev. John Hansard 1100 W. Crawford
Pampa Baptist Temple
Rev. Olan Russell Starkweather & Kingsmill
Bethel Missionary Baptist
Rev. Danny Courtney 324 S. Starkweather
Primera Iglesia Bautista Mexicana
Rev. Heliodora Silva 1113 Huff Rd.
Progressive Baptist Church
Rev. L.B. Davis 836 S. Gray
- New Hope Baptist Church
Rev. J.T. Wilson 321 Albert St.
- Bible Church of Pampa
Rev. Dick Ogden 2401 Alcock
- Catholic
St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church
Father Wendelin Dunker 2300 N. Hobart
- Christian
Hi-Land Christian Church
Harold Starbuck, Minister 1615 N. Banks

Church Directory

- Christian
First Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)
Dr. Ralph T. Palmer 1633 N. Nelson
- Christian Science
A.R. Rober, Reader 901 N. Frost
- Church of the Brethren
Rev. Bryce Hubbard 600 N. Frost
- Church of Christ
Central Church of Christ 500 N. Somerville
Church of Christ
Robert L. McDonald, Minister Oklahoma Street
Wayne Lemons, Minister Oklahoma Street
Church of Christ (Lefors)
Ronald Lamb, Minister Lefors
Church of Christ, Mary Ellen & Harvester 1717 Duncan
Glen Walton, Minister 1717 Duncan
Pampa Church of Christ
Jerold Barnard, Minister 738 McCullough
Skellytown Church of Christ Skellytown
- Westside Church of Christ
James B. Lusby, Minister 1612 W. Kentucky
- Wells Street Church of Christ 400 N. Wells
- Church of God
Rev. John B. Waller 1123 Owendale
- Church of God of Prophecy
Rev. Don W. Chatham 1044 S. Faulkner
- Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints
Bishop Levan B. Voyles 731 Sloan
- Church of the Nazarene
Rev. Edward Jackson 510 N. West
- Episcopal
St. Matthew's Episcopal Church
Rev. C. Phillip Craig 721 W. Browning
- Foursquare Gospel
Rev. Charles Moran 712 Lefors
- Full Gospel Assembly
Lamor Full Gospel Assembly
Rev. Gene Allen 1200 S. Sumner
- Christian Center
Rev. Ron Palermo 801 E. Campbell
- Lutheran
Zion Lutheran Church
Rev. Timothy Koenig 1200 Duncan
- Methodist
Harrah Methodist Church
Rev. Bill Wilson 639 S. Barnes
First Methodist Church
Dr. Lloyd V. Hamilton 201 E. Foster
St. Marks Christian Methodist Episcopal Church
Rev. M.G. Gilbert 406 Elm
St. Paul Methodist Church
Rev. Charles Graff 511 N. Hobart
- Pentecostal
Ruby M. Burrows, Pastor 1101 S. Wells
- Pentecostal Faith Assembly
Rev. Marlan Gamber 944 S. Dwight
- Pentecostal Holiness
First Pentecostal Holiness Church
Rev. Albert Maggard 1700 Alcock
Hi-Land Pentecostal Holiness Church
Rev. Cecil Ferguson 1733 N. Banks
- Pentecostal United
United Pentecostal Church
Rev. H.M. Veach 608 Naida
- Presbyterian
First Presbyterian Church
Rev. Bobby L. Stolcup 525 N. Gray
- Salvation Army
Captain Bart Deggs S. Cuyler at Thuf

These Business Firm and Professional People Are Making This Weekly Message possible. Joining with the ministers of Pampa in hoping that each message will be an inspiration to Everyone.

Black Pope Possible

By MIL CHIPP
Copley News Service

VATICAN CITY — More than 200 bishops from all corners of the globe recently completed a meeting at the Vatican in learned conclave.

The official subject for discussion was world evangelism, and a revival of lost commitment within the church.

But the behind-the-scenes talk was about an entirely different topic — the papal succession.

Rumors that Pope Paul, now 77 and in his 10th year as pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, might be about to resign have been current for some time — partly because of his own oft-stated advice that bishops and cardinals should do so when they reach the age of 75, and partly because of his health.

Speculation about possible candidates for the throne of St. Peter seems to center on four names: Austria's Franz Koenig, Holland's Bernard Jan Alfrink, Belgium's Leo Josef Suenens, and Algeria's Leon-Etienne Duval.

But the guessing game ranges over a host of national opinions and takes in numerous Italian, European and American possibilities.

One of the many suggestions from third world prelates, who pessimistically view the Vatican as "divorced from the world," would be a bishop or cardinal from among their own ranks who could bring "new life" to a "tired" church.

If a non-Italian is to succeed Pope Paul, the feeling is that he should not belong to one of the big world political blocs, should not be an American, a Socialist or a prelate who is "compromised" by his attitude toward dictatorships.

Of the four rumored contenders, Cardinal Duval is considered in some circles to have the best chance of any prelate in Africa. Although originally a French national, the cardinal renounced his citizenship in support of the Algerian fight for independence.

But, if the new man is to come from Africa, why not name a Negro, it is argued.

Some proponents of a black Pope believe that such a choice would be a suitable compromise between the church's conservative and progressive wings. And some black cardinals are more moderate than several white possibilities. Two such are Paul Zougrana, 57, of Upper Volta, and Laurian Rugambwa, 72, of Tanzania.

Cardinal Zougrana's youth is against him, but his personal relations are such that he is not identified with the various currents and groups that help determine papal elections. Neither was Pope John XXIII, which contributed to his election.

Cardinal Zougrana apparently has not been able to accept the changes and renewal in the church endured by Pope Paul. He has never indicated any admiration for the Dutch catechism, for instance.

Speaking about the religion of Africans, he said they had no need to "be inebriated" by the currents for change raging in North Europe. In effect, he has succeeded in demonstrating that it is possible to be a devout Catholic without accusing the church of straying too far from the Gospel.

The towering Cardinal Rugambwa is considered in Rome as even more moderate than Cardinal Zougrana. His name translates roughly as "future celebrity" and he is considered a man of great spirit.

GIBSON'S DISCOUNT CENTER "Where You Buy The Best For Less" 2210 Perryton Pkwy. 669-6874	COSTON'S HOME OWNED BAKERY Coronado Center 669-7361
LINDSEY FURNITURE MART 105 S. Cuyler 665-3121	H.R. THOMPSON PARTS & SUPPLY 312 W. Kingsmill 665-1643
WRIGHT FASHIONS 222 N. Cuyler 665-1633	ADDINGTON'S WESTERN STORE Western Wear For All The Family 119 S. Cuyler 669-3161
PAMPA OFFICE SUPPLY CO. 211 N. Cuyler 669-3353	PAMPA GLASS & PAINT CO. Floor Covering Headquarters 1431 N. Hobart 669-3295
SHOOK TIRE CO. 220 N. Somerville 665-5302	TEXAS FURNITURE CO. "Quality Home Furnishings - Use Your Credit" 210 N. Cuyler 665-1623
LEWIS SUPPLY CO. Tools and Industrial Supplies 317 S. Cuyler 669-2558	FORD'S BODY SHOP 111 N. Frost 665-1619
DIXIE PARTS & SUPPLY 417 S. Cuyler 665-5771	MONTGOMERY WARD & CO. Coronado Center 669-7401
CLAYTON FLORAL CO. 410 E. Foster 669-3334	BENTLEY'S LADIES STORE 113 N. Cuyler 665-5715
SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE 315 N. Ballard 669-7432	PAMPA PARTS & SUPPLIES INC. "Automotive Parts & Supplies" 525 W. Brown 669-6877
FURR'S CAETERIA Coronado Center 665-3321	FURR'S FAMILY CENTER 1420 N. Hobart 669-7441
HOME INTERIORS 1621 N. Hobart 669-6831	FIELD'S MEN & BOYS WEAR 111 W. Kingsmill 665-4231
SONIC DRIVE-IN 1418 N. Hobart 669-3171	PANHANDLE SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION 529 Cook 669-6868
	FASHION FLOORS Carpet and Linoleum 321 W. Kingsmill 669-9452

BIG GEORGE! Virgil Partch

"Well, if Consolidated Tinfoil, Ltd. is all that good, how come YOU don't buy any?"

HONEYBUNCH

KERRY DRAKE

GRIN & BEAR IT

"... And while this new session of Congress will be faced with many critical issues I am confident most of them can be avoided."

STEVE CANYON

CONCHY

BEETLE BAILY

BLONDIE

MARK TRAIL

FUNKY WINKERBEAN

B.C.

JUDGE PARKER

HAGAR THE HORRIBLE

THE WIZARD OF ID

SNUFFY SMITH

ANDY CAPP

DONALD DUCK

Looking For Results
SELL BY CLASSIFIED

Sett
Burn
Gill
decis
none
Amar
Gill
Palo fact Gille
as a
In AAA
Gill
reco be th
"W
if thi
Red their Gill
some Last inclu
in 3-
Pa youn
two Voss
"O Asbe
we'l
"I start suffe
Gill
arou
it's g
Pa
impr
impr
Th insid Durr play
Moo
Gi
this:
It year enth
later
"I mist
this
Pa
cont
us li won have
"I
coul tell fixir
Gill
seas wou gam
coat outs
"I try t in th
the Ch
"My till or st
W behi
"I
som selli
O Jac play
Tex
bec
Lea wer
the Lea
try
Bea
B bon bos
Bla
call
N Cat
pitc
H pos:
Yor
Fin pre ord yea
F arb
Hur
Oak voic and rea:
will
B Hur
tha over rea:
bas rest
C ball five goir
Sup four onc own
C disc Ti
yea
out still call he

It Sims To Me...

By PAUL SIMS Sports Editor

Selling Tom Gilley short is like playing footsy with a Burmese tiger. Either way you're likely to get swallowed.

Gilley's Palo Duro Dons have only one win in 13 decisions this season, but you can bet your gym shorts none of the 3-AAAA coaches are taking the northside Amarillo team lightly.

Gilley is 56, and that's also the number of the year his Palo Duro team captured the state AAA championship.

In fact, Palo Duro first opened its doors in 1955, meaning Gilley coached the Dons to a state title their very first year as a school.

In 1961, Palo Duro went all the way to the state finals in AAA before losing.

Gilley, in 29 years at Palo Duro, has a 289-233 win-loss record. Prior to this season, many thought 1974-75 would be the year he gets his 300th win.

"We're gonna have to hurry," Gilley says. "I'd like to do it this year. If I do, I'll light up a cigar on the bench like Red Auerbach."

To get 300, Gilley's Dons need to win 11 of their remaining 14 games.

Gilley would just as soon win a district championship, something he has won as recently as three seasons ago.

Last year, Palo Duro finished with a 21-9 mark, which included a district win over Borger, the Bulldogs only loss in 3-AAA play.

Palo Duro is way behind last year's pace. "We're a young and inexperienced ball club. We've been starting two sophomores - Cleveland Winston (6-3) and Lowell Voss (5-11).

"Our football players (Wesley Roberts and Ray Asberry, both 6-4) haven't been out long enough. We think we'll get some help from them.

"I knew that we were gonna be inexperienced. Our only starter (Mike Weatherly) moved away. It's pretty tough to suffer through a 1-12 record."

Gilley adds, "We feel like things are going to turn around a little bit. We're gonna have a complete flip flop or it's gonna be a long winter. It's already been pretty long."

Palo Duro, like the other Amarillo schools, has improved steadily since the season's start and should improve even more now that Roberts and Asberry are out.

The 6-4 posts give the Dons rebound strength and a solid inside game. Two things PD has been without thus far, Palo Duro has also been hurt by the lack of a consistent playmaker and team quarterback, but guard Sylvester Moore, a 5-10 junior, gets better with experience.

Gilley teams always have at least one "leaper", which this season is 6-1 senior Anthony Jones.

It isn't easy to keep a team's spirits up during a dismal year, but Gilley has somehow managed to keep enthusiasm high. "We tell them that good things come later on and don't come unless you work hard for it.

"They seem to be in good spirits. They can see their mistakes and are beginning to realize that for us to change this thing around, we can't make those mental mistakes."

Palo Duro is struggling to develop into a district contender but there's still a long way to go. "They picked us last," the vocal Don coach says, "and we're hoping we won't wind up there. All indications are all other teams have pretty good ball clubs.

"I think it'll be between Borger and Pampa. Tascosa could. (David) Camfield has some good sophomores, so tell (Robert) McPherson to grab his eyeballs. Camfield's fixing to be mean as an old cat."

Gilley, through his thick years and thin, ones, like this season, has stressed decency and fair play. Although it would take a lot of patience and a cool head to referee a game with Gilley fuming on the side line, the Palo Duro coach has helped several players to later become outstanding individuals.

"I encourage them to give everything they've got and try to see them devote themselves not only on the court but in the classroom - see that they make decent citizens in the community."

Chances are Gilley will leave coaching in two years. "My son is here (Palo Duro) and I'll probably stay around till he graduates. Then, I imagine if I could find a principal or superintendent job, I'd take it."

Whenever (if ever) Gilley leaves, he'll be leaving an era behind him.

"I haven't always been down," Gilley says. "I've had some good ball clubs." That's why you won't find anybody selling PD short, at least not in 3-AAAA.

Pardee Starts Work

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) - Jack Pardee, a former player and assistant coach at Texas A&M who went on to become the World Football League's coach of the Year, went to work Thursday for the National Football League, where he will be trying to rebuild the Chicago Bears into a winner.

But Pardee had one more bone to pick with his former bosses at the Florida Blazers and he did: he called for a probe of possible irregularities in payoffs from the Dec. 5 championship game which his Blazers lost to Birmingham 22-21.

"It looks like we've been ripped off again," said Pardee. "It bears looking into - it's the final straw of the whole deal."

State Attorney Robert Egan said he was looking into the World Bowl payoffs, along with other financial irregularities in the Blazers'

Jim Hunter Could Sit Out Year

NEW YORK (UPI) - Catfish Hunter may not pitch at all this year.

He's aware of that possibility. So are the New York Yankees and Charlie Finley, who went through pretty much this same ordeal, with Dick Williams a year ago.

Peter Seitz, the arbitrator, ruled that Hunter's contract with the Oakland A's was null and void. That pact covered 1974 and 1975, and there is every reason to believe the courts will support that ruling.

But Seitz also declared Hunter a free agent, and that decision could be overturned for a number of reasons, chief of which is baseball's controversial reserve clause.

Curt Flood was the last ballplayer to test it less than five years ago and after going all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court, what he found out, in effect, is that once a ball club owns you, it owns you for life.

Catfish Hunter could discover the same thing. That would mean his two-year contract with the A's is out the window but that they still own him and have first call on his services should he wish to sign another professional baseball contract.

The litigation could take a long time, and it's conceivable Hunter would be enjoined from pitching for anybody until it was settled - the same way Dick Williams wasn't able to manage for anyone until Finley said okay.

Given the circumstances, there is no question Charlie Finley would walk that extra mile to keep Hunter, from pitching, particularly with the Yankees. He feels, and says he can prove it, that Williams was approached by a representative of the Yankees offering him a managerial proposition, while still under contract to the A's.

The Yankees undoubtedly have taken steps to protect their multimillion dollar investment in Hunter, much the same way all the other clubs did when they made their propositions to the 28-year-old North Carolinian.

M. Donald Grant, the Mets' board chairman, says his club made Hunter "a very substantial offer," and with a little arithmetic the offer adds up to more than $2 million, but the Mets, aware like others Hunter might be enjoined from pitching, had a stipulation with their offer.

"All the money would remain intact, deposited in trust or escrow in his name, until his case was adjudicated," Grant explained. "We talked with his lawyers and it was understood the Mets would get their money back if the case was reversed in court."

For some years now, the Mets have set aside a sum to be used in case they find it possible to buy what they considered "a real solid, superstar" from another ball club. The sum set aside was in the neighborhood of one million dollars.

"With that in mind, our first offer was $800,000," says Grant, "because I wanted to leave myself some room." I asked Joe Flythe (one of Hunter's attorneys) if we were in the ballpark, and he said yes, but we were the last ones in the ballpark. I told him I'd like to have some idea about a figure, and after he gave it to me, we went to one million dollars, plus two hundred thousand dollars for the lawyers' fees. We were going to put all this in cash.

Grant, a brokerage man,

SC Wins Crown

United Press International Southern California, a football team which head Coach John McKay candidly admits "did not start this season well," can now point with pride to ending it well with season-closing victories over Notre Dame and Ohio State that earned a second national championship in three years from the UPI Board of Coaches.

The Trojans, who capped their 10-1-1 season by coming from behind to edge Ohio State, 18-17, in the closing minutes of their New Year's Day Rose Bowl showdown, received 27 first-place votes from the 34 coaches participating in the final post-season vote.

That overwhelming endorsement enabled the Trojans to easily overtake Alabama, which had gone into the bowl as a runaway favorite for the national title only to be foiled by Notre Dame, 13-11, in the Orange Bowl. The final total vote tally gave Southern Cal 335 points to Alabama 254 (including three first-place votes).

Ohio State, which finished up at 10-2, was third with 245 votes while Notre Dame wound up fourth with 225 and Michigan fifth with 220, including four No. 1 votes - one of which came from outgoing Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian.

"We did not start the season well," was McKay's initial observation of the national championship vote.

"We were plagued by injuries, but we recovered and beat some very fine football teams in Ohio State, Notre Dame, UCLA and Stanford."

Under the guidelines set down by the American Football Coaches Association last January, those teams on NCAA probation are ineligible for top 20 and national championship consideration. Thus, Oklahoma, which finished its season at 11-0 but was banned from the bowls and television exposure because of recruiting violations, was not considered by the coaches.

Said retiring Notre Dame Coach Parseghian, who admitted voting Michigan No. 1 in his final UPI ballot: "We didn't put Oklahoma on probation, the NCAA did. We made this decision to discourage teams from breaking the rules and bring some sanity to this business of recruiting."

After fifth-ranked Michigan in order came Auburn, victor over Texas in the Gator Bowl; Penn State, a 41-20 winner over Baylor in the Cotton Bowl; Nebraska, which beat Florida, 13-10, in the Sugar Bowl; North Carolina State and Miami of Ohio to complete the top 10.

At Montreal, Shorter figures his chief opposition will come from Ian Thompson, the European marathon champion who is a 24-year-old student teacher from Leeds, England.

Shorter, who has his Munich gold medal locked away in a safety deposit box in Kansas, insists that victory is not his ultimate aim in life.

"I try not to approach running that way," he said. "I don't think it's absolutely necessary to win. I try to get in the best possible shape I can and let what's going to happen happen. That's all you can do."

AREA ROUNDUP

Phillips Crushes Clarendon To Advance At White Deer

Phillips' boys crushed Clarendon, 70-29, while the girls belted Clarendon, 68-37. Thursday, propelling both Blackhawk teams to the semifinals of the White Deer Invitational Basketball Tournament, which winds up Saturday.

Terry Sullivan scored 14 for the Phillips boys. He was followed by Denny Roark, Randy Key and Kenny Hale with 11 each. Howard Weatherton managed nine for the losing Bronchos.

Jill Rankin poured in 32 points and Mary Ann Clemons added 18 for Phillips' girls. Pearly Butler paced Clarendon with 20.

In other boys' games, Adrian whipped Mobeetie, 56-40. Shamrock pelted Lefors, 40-14, and White Deer crushed Booker, 49-25.

Monty Hall scored 27 and Paul Jacobson 16 for Adrian, while Roy Stribling tallied 10 for Mobeetie. High for Shamrock were Stanley Barefoot with 12 and Roy Cogburn with 10. Carl Cady scored seven for Lefors.

White Deer got good scoring from Denny Moss with 12, Eddie Milton with 11 and Dennis Look with eight. Van Crabtree scored eight for the Kiowas.

In girls' games, Mobeetie trimmed Adrian, 52-50. Lefors downed Shamrock, 60-52, and Booker nudged White Deer, 44-37.

Mobeetie's Zana Corse pumped in 31 points, followed by Shelia Barton with 14. Adrian placed two in double figures - Bi Jackson with 18 and Mel Creitz with 16.

Carol Vincent was high for Lefors with 38, while Renee Bradley led Shamrock with 15. For Booker, Julie Mills and Tammy Neiden scored 28 and 13 respectively. For White Deer, high were Debbie Cooper and Sandra Davis with 19 and 11.

In the Canadian tournament, the hosts swept both the boys' and girls' games over Higgins. The Wildcats, behind Kristi Berry with 25 and Teresa Williams with 24, dumped the Higgins' girls, while Lonnie Hines scored 20 for Canadian in the boys contest.

Miami's boys, behind Danny Gilliland with 26, dumped Briscoe, 64-43, while the Briscoe girls tripped Miami, 45-38.

Other boys' winners were Wheeler over Follett, 55-48. Spearman over Alamo, 61-50. Sanford - Fritch over Groom, 76-43, and Claude over Silverton, 65-39.

In girls' games, Follett defeated Wheeler, 71-35. Canadian JV nipped Alamo, 49-48. Sanford - Fritch knocked off Groom, 76-66, and Claude belted Silverton, 69-23.

Gen. George Washington defeated Hessian troops at the battle of Trenton on Dec. 26, 1776.

Homeowners: State Farm has rates that currently average 15% less than Standard Texas Homeowners rates. Call me for details. Harry V. Gordon. Year T.O. Texas Agent For 27 Years. North Side Coronado Center 669-3861. Gray County. Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there. STATE FARM INSURANCE. State Farm Fire and Casualty Company Home Office: Bloomington, Illinois.

Malcolm Hinkle, Inc. 1925 N. Hobart 669-7421. Serving the Top O' Texas More Than 20 Years! Plumbing Heating Air Conditioning Sales and Service MECHANICAL CONTRACTORS 24 Hour Service Budget Terms. We Appreciate Your Business.

Harvesters Trip Ector, Play Permian Today

ODESSA - Pampa battled back from deficits twice in the game, including a one-point Odessa Ector lead late in the game, and tripped the Eagles, 71-68, in a non-conference basketball contest Thursday.

The Harvesters, down 17-15 at the end of the first quarter, took the lead and held it until there were three minutes left in the game.

Ector, leading by a point - 64-63, fouled Pampa's Billy Wilbon, who sank two pressure free throws to give the Harvesters the lead. Wilbon was fouled again and put in two more free shots to give a three-point margin to the Harvesters, who held on for their 11th win of the season against only two losses.

Ector, with the loss, fell to 10-5 but is still one of the top

AAA teams in the state. "If their coach can keep those big kids - (Travis) Ellis, (Dwight) Randolph and (Clarence) Cockerham - out of foul trouble, he'll go to the state tournament."

Pampa coach Robert McPherson said this morning. "I was pleased. They (Eagles) are so quick. We weren't getting aggressive on the board early and they really put it to us. We finally adjusted and then we played well."

"(Howie) Lewis, (Nick) Slaymaker, (Donnie) Hughes, Wilbon and (Brian) Bailey really did a good job on the boards."

Pampa was led by Lewis, who had his best game, point-wise, of the season with 30. Lewis, a 6-5 post, scored 16 in the first half, eight in each of the first two periods. Wilbon added 22 and Robert Young followed with 10. Young's points all came on field goals in the second quarter.

In double figures for Ector were Ellis with 13, James Butler with 12 and Edward Pierce with 11. Randolph added eight.

Pampa takes on Odessa Permian, 17-2, at 8 p.m. today and will return home Saturday.

PANAMA (71) - Brian Bailey, 14-12; Ed Drey, 6-6; Donnie Hughes, 14-2; Richard Lane, 14-2; Steve Lewis, 13-31; Nick Slaymaker, 14-2; Bill Wilbon, 24-22; Robert Young, 14-10. Totals - 70-68.

ECTOR (68) - James Butler, 6-9-12; George Baker, 3-6-6; Edward Pierce, 11-11; Dwight Randolph, 3-3-8; Travis Ellis, 3-3-13; Australia Hobbs, 14-2; Clarence Cockerham, 14-8; Abbeas Alexander, 4-3-18; Ronnie Hodges, 9-1-1. Totals - 71-68. Fouled out - Slaymaker, Pierce, Cockerham.

PANAMA ECTOR 18 37 34 54 71 17 34 48

Knicks Trip Phoenix To Begin New Year

United Press International Off their initial 1975 effort, the New York Knicks would seem to have renewed their old "playoff spirit" and that could mean a happy New Year after all for the Madison Square Garden faithful.

The Knicks, losers of seven of their last nine games, including an almost unheard of four out of five at home, celebrated the beginning of the new year by beating the Phoenix Suns, 117-113, in overtime at home Thursday night.

In the only other NBA games Thursday, Detroit edged New Orleans, 99-95, and Milwaukee downed Atlanta, 116-111. In ABA action, the Spirits of St. Louis put away Virginia, 112-88. San Antonio rallied over San Diego, 122-104, and Memphis tripped up Utah, 95-88.

Knicks 117, Suns 113: Walt Frazier scored eight points in the overtime period and a game high of 32 as the Knicks rallied back for victory after blowing a 14-point fourth quarter lead. Charlie Scott, who had 30 points for the Suns before fouling out late in the overtime period, hit on five consecutive points in the final 15 minutes of regulation play to deadlock the game at 115-111.

Pistons 99 Jazz 95: Dave Bing and Mel Counts turned a foul and a technical on New Orleans' Mel Counts into a decisive, tie-breaking three-point play with 1:21 to go that enabled the Pistons to put away the stubborn Jazz. Lanier wound up with 36 points and 11 rebounds. The Jazz, saw its winless road streak extended to 21. It was paced by 31 from Pete Maravich.

Bucks 116, Hawks 111: Kareem Abdul-Jabbar poured in 52 points - three short of his career high - but it took two free throws by Mickey Davis in the final minute if play to preserve the Milwaukee victory. With the Bucks leading 110-109, Davis drew a foul with 32 seconds remaining and promptly sank both shots to give Milwaukee a more comfortable three-point cushion.

Bowling Results

CAPROCK First place team - Tri State Data - 1st Half Winner Second place team - Ogden & Son High team game - Ogden & Son (925) High team series - Ogden & Son (2638) High indiv. game - Richard Wilson (222) High indiv. series - Larry Yearwood (572)

Michigan Nips Illinois

United Press International Michigan center C. J. Kupec, who had 30 points and 17 rebounds, hit two free throws to tie the game at 84-84 and Wayman Britt hit on a jumper to give the Wolverines their victory.

Kupec's free throws came after he was fouled by Otho Tucker. Illinois' Nate Williams missed a shot with three seconds left and Michigan was home free.

The Michigan-Illinois

thriller wasn't the only close one in the Big Ten Thursday night as Iowa squeezed by Northwestern, 75-73. In other league games, Minnesota crushed Wisconsin, 61-46, and Purdue beat Michigan State, 93-86.

Purdue's Walter Jordan and Wayne Walls both broke the school freshman one-game scoring record of 20 points. Jordan had 28 and Walls had 24 points and 18 rebounds, breaking another freshman record.

In other major games Thursday night, Maryland clobbered Appalachian State, 96-50. Mississippi topped Georgia, 88-83, Florida whipped Georgia Tech, 90-69. Cincinnati humiliated New Hampshire, 57-32. Creighton edged Drake, 71-70. San Francisco stunned Providence, 96-68. Washington downed Seattle, 50-45. Washington State blitzed Gonzaga, 73-50, and Oklahoma defeated San Diego State, 79-74, in overtime.

John Lucas, returning to Maryland's starting lineup for the first time since breaking his collarbone in the season opener, scored 27 points in the rout of Appalachian as the Terps recorded their eighth victory in nine games.

Gen. George Washington defeated Hessian troops at the battle of Trenton on Dec. 26, 1776.

COLDEST BEER IN TOWN Ballantine's BEER 6 Pak $1.25 OPEN EVERY DAY ELEVEN DAY MINT MART 2100 PERRYTON PKWY. 1106 ALCOCK 304 E. 17th

Homeowners: State Farm has rates that currently average 15% less than Standard Texas Homeowners rates. Call me for details. Harry V. Gordon. Year T.O. Texas Agent For 27 Years. North Side Coronado Center 669-3861. Gray County. Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there. STATE FARM INSURANCE. State Farm Fire and Casualty Company Home Office: Bloomington, Illinois.

The Almanac

Today is Friday, Jan. 3, the third day of 1975 with 362 to follow.
The moon is approaching its last quarter.
The morning stars are Mars and Saturn.
The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.
Those born on this date are under the sign of Capricorn.
Actor Ray Milland was born Jan. 3, 1908 (as Reginald Truscott-Jones).
On this day in history:
In 1938, the March of Dimes campaign was organized to fight infantile paralysis.
In 1961, the United States severed diplomatic relations with Cuba after Fidel Castro admitted to being a Communist.
In 1967, Jack Ruby, who fatally shot presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, died of cancer in Dallas.
In 1972, American industrial leader Charles Wilson died at the age of 85.

A thought for the day: British satirist Jonathan Swift said, "We have enough religion to make us hate, but not enough to make us love one another."

Shearing Quintet Plans Concert Here

Some of the "smoothest" musical sounds to be heard in Pampa will be evidence in the M.K. Brown Civic Auditorium at 8 p.m. Monday when the Pampa Community Concert Association presents a concert by the celebrated George Shearing Quintet.
The ensemble includes the famous pianist-composer and four other outstanding musicians on the guitar, string bass, drums and vibraphone.
London-born George Shearing has created an international reputation for his musical talent as pianist, arranger, and composer. Equally at home on the classical concert stage as on the jazz-night-club stand, consistently compelling with quintet or trio, with full orchestra or in solo performance, Shearing is recognized for his inventive, orchestrated jazz.

Off stage as well, Shearing is a dedicated musician. His composition, which number better than one hundred, have produced works like "Lullaby of Bridland," which has become a jazz standard.
A popular television personality also, the Shearing wit has captivated audiences on the "Tonight," "Davis Frost," "Mike Douglas," "Merv Griffin," "Dick Cavett," "Ed Sullivan" and "Steve Allen" shows, among others.
George Albert Shearing was born on Aug. 13, 1919 in the Battersea area of London. Congenitally blind, he was the youngest of nine children of coalman James Phillip Shearing.
Shearing discovered his piano talent when he found he could duplicate the tunes from the old crystal set on the piano.

His only formal musical education consisted of four years to study at the London Lodge School for the Blind.
Shearing's keyboard reputation flourished through engagements in top London supper clubs and as a popular guest on the BBC.
While still in his twenties, he landed a recording contract with Decca Records, and became one of the top selling artists in Britain.
In 1947 Shearing, his wife and five-year old daughter Wendy moved to America where Shearing spent two long years re-establishing his fame on this side of the Atlantic.
In 1949, the Shearing sound was firmly entrenched when he gathered a quintet, featuring his distinctive blend of piano, bass, drums, guitar, and vibas to record "September in the Rain" for M.G.M. The record was an overnight success.
In the last decade his passion for classical music has peaked. While he performed his first classical concert in 1952 with the Rochester Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Paul White, he has re-immersed himself in the classical form since 1963.

He has appeared with the Utah, Cleveland, St. Louis and Chautauqua Symphony Orchestras, among others. His full-blooded ensemble typically feature in the first half a piano concerto with full orchestra and in the second half, Shearing's ensemble and the orchestra playing jazz.

GEORGE SHEARING

College Notes

Reggie Thompson, Pampa senior at Western State College of Colorado, has been selected through audition for solo performance with the WSC Orchestra. Thompson plays piano.
A total of six students were selected for the honor by a music committee from the WSC music division.
Thompson is majoring in applied music, instrumental at WSC.
The first solo concert by the orchestra is scheduled for February, 1975.

ABILENE — Brenda Faye Dickey, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Willson of Tulsa, Okla. and J.A. Willson of Pampa, will complete all requirements for graduation at Hardin-Simmons University at the close of the fall semester.
Mrs. Dickey is a candidate for a bachelor of music degree. The December graduates will receive their diplomas at spring commencement next May.

COLLEGE STATION — Gene R. Carlson of Pampa was graduated magna cum laude from Texas A&M University.
Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Carlson, 2211 Charles, earned his degree in mechanical engineering. TAMU had a total of 1,074 fall graduates.

AMARILLO — West Texas State University graduate student James L. Blair of Amarillo has been initiated into Psi Chi, the National Honor Society in Psychology, with active membership in the WTSU chapter.
Blair, who resides in Amarillo, is the son of Horace F. Blair of Lefors. A 1970 WTSU graduate, he is currently working for the Texas Rehabilitation Commission as a counselor, and on his master's degree in counseling.

Psi Chi was organized in 1928 under the sponsorship of the American Psychological Association, Washington, D.C., to recognize scholarship prowess in the field of psychology.
Over 300 chapters have been established on campuses in all the states. About 45 percent of the members are undergraduate degrees.
The West Texas State University Chapter was established formally in October, 1971, at Canyon, Texas.

AMARILLO — Amarillo Pantex employe and West Texas State University psychology major Terry W. Freeman has been initiated into Psi Chi, the National Honor Society in Psychology.

He resides in Amarillo with his wife, Gloria. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Freeman of Pampa.
Psi Chi was organized in 1928 under the sponsorship of the American Psychological Association, Washington, D.C., to recognize scholarship prowess in the field of psychology. Over 300 chapters have been established on campuses in all the states.

About 45 percent of the members are undergraduate students, with the remaining 55 percent pursuing graduate degrees.
The West Texas State University chapter was established formally in October, 1971, at Canyon, Texas.

ABILENE — Nancy Bumpass, senior, from Hawley at Hardin-Simmons University, has been named to the Texas Rho Chapter of Alpha Chi, national scholarship society.
Mrs. Bumpass is an elementary education major. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Stevenson of Tyler, and is a graduate of Pampa High School.

The organization, which is the highest recognition of academic excellence for a student, is open to the upper 10 percent of the junior, senior, and graduate classes. Fifty students were named to the H-SU chapter this year.

AMARILLO — Two West Texas State University students from Pampa were in the 23-member pledge class recently initiated into the Delta Xi chapter of Beta Beta, the National Biology Honor Society.

Qualifications for entering the organization, according to chapter sponsor Charles Wright, WTSU associate professor of biology, are that biology be one of the student's major areas of study, completion of 45 semester hours of college work, a grade point average of 1.5 on a 3.0 scale, completion of three biology courses with enrollment in a fourth and a 2.0 gpa in those courses.

The students initiated at the semi-annual banquet held in Amarillo heard Dr. Alfred Schram of the WTSU Chemistry Department speak on "Nutrition."

West Texas State students from Pampa initiated were Lisa Laycock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Laycock of 2400 Mary Ellen; and Thomas Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T.W. Watson of 820 Christy.

DEEP PORT PUERTO MADRYN, Argentina (UPI) — The Australian ship Lista docked here recently with 22,000 tons of raw material for the local aluminum plant, inaugurating a new deepwater port more than 700 miles south of Buenos Aires.
Port facilities include the biggest crane in South America with a capacity of lifting 1,000 tons an hour.

The Pampa News TV Log

Friday Evening	Saturday Evening	Monday Evening	Tuesday Evening	Wednesday Evening	Thursday Evening
6:30 4—Lawrence Welk 7—To Tell the Truth 10—What's My Line 7:00 7—Kung Fu 10—Movie, "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang" 7:30 4—Chico and the Man 8:00 4—Rockford Files 7—Six Million Dollar Man 9:00 4—Police Woman 7—ABC News Closeup 10:00 4—News 7—News 10—News 10:30 4—Johnny Carson 10:45 7—Bonanza 11:45 7—Wide World In Concert 12:00 4—Midnight Special 12:15 10—News	6:00 4—10—News 7—Hoe Haw 6:30 4—Wild Kingdom 10—Thrillseekers 7:00 4—Emergency 7—ABC Theatre 10—All in the Family 7:30 10—Friends and Lovers 8:00 4—Movie, "Mystery" 10—Mary Tyler Moore 8:30 10—Bob Newhart 9:00 10—Carol Burnett 10:00 4—News 7—ABC News 10—News 10:15 7—News 10:30 4—Movie, "Drama" 10—Boxing 10:45 7—Movie, "Drama" 11:30 10—Movie, "Adventure" 12:30 7—Movie, "Thriller" 1:30 10—News	6:00 4—News 7—News 10—News 6:30 4—Sanford and Son 7—To Tell the Truth 10—What's My Line? 7:00 4—Movie, "The Specialists" 7—Jacques Cousteau 10—Gunsmoke 8:00 7—ABC Theatre 10—Maude 8:30 4—Movie, "Target Risk" 10—Rhoda 9:00 10—Medical Center 10:00 4—News 7—News 10—News 10:30 4—Johnny Carson 10—Movie, "Scream, Pretty Peggy" 10:45 7—Bonanza	6:00 4, 7, 10—News 6:30 4—Raymond Burr 7—To Tell the Truth 10—What's My Line? 7:00 7—Happy Days 10—Good Times 7:30 4—Movie, "The Dream Makers" 7—Movie, "Let's Switch" 10—MASH 8:00 10—Hawaii Five-O 9:00 4—Police Story 7—Marcus Welby 10—Barnaby Jones 10:00 4—News 7—News 10—News 10:30 4—Johnny Carson 10—Movie, "Banacek" 10:45 7—Bonanza 11:45 7—Wide World Mystery 12:00 4—Tomorrow 12:30 10—News	6:00 4, 7, 10—News 6:30 4—Pop! Goes the Country 7—To Tell the Truth 10—What's My Line? 7:00 4—Little House on the Prairie 7—That's My Mama 10—Antonio and the Mayor 8:00 4—Lucas Tanner 8:30 10—GE Theater 9:00 4—Tennessee Ernie 7—Get Christie Love! 10:00 4—News 7—News 10—News 10:30 4—Johnny Carson 10—Movie, "The Split" 10:45 7—Bonanza 11:45 7—Wide World Special 12:00 4—Tomorrow 12:15 10—News	6:00 4, 7, 10—News 6:30 4—Adam-12 7—To Tell the Truth 10—What's My Line? 7:00 4—NBC News Special 7—Adventure In America 10—Rikki-Tikki-Tavi 7:30 10—The Waltons 8:00 7—Streets of San Francisco 8:30 10—Benjamin Franklin: The Rebel 9:00 7—Harry O 10:00 4—News 7—News 10—News 10:30 4—Johnny Carson 10—Movie, "Machine Gun McCain" 10:45 7—Bonanza 11:45 7—Wide World Special 12:00 4—Tomorrow 12:30 10—News

Sunday

6:30 7—Christopher Closeup 10—Faith for Today 7:00 4—Blue Ridge Quartet 7—Comedy Theatre 10—Day of Miracles 7:30 4—Your Question, Please 7—Gospel Singing Jubilee 10—Norman Vincent Peale 8:00 4—Day of Discovery 10—James Robison 8:30 4—Larry Jones 7—Courtship of Eddie's Father 10—Church Service, Baptist 9:00 4—Rex Humbard 7—Big Blue Marble 9:30 7—Lassie's Rescue Rangers 10—Oral Roberts 10:00 4—Johnny Gomez 7—Goober 10—Good News 10:30 7—Make a Wish 10—Face the Nation 11:00 4—Day of Miracles 7—Here Come the Brides 10—Washington Debates for the 70's 11:30 4—Meet the Press 12:00 4—American Bowl 7—News 10—CBS Sports Spectacular 12:30 7—Issues and Answers	1:00 7—Superstars 2:00 10—NBA Basketball 2:30 7—American Sportsman 3:00 4—NHL Hockey 3:30 7—Wide World of Sports 4:30 10—To Be Announced 5:00 7—Buck Owens 10—60 Minutes 5:30 4—NBC News 7—Porter Wagoner 6:00 4—News 7—News 10—News 6:30 4—World of Disney 7—Movie, "Western" 10—Apple's Way 7:30 4—McCloud 10—Kojak 8:30 10—Mannix 9:30 4—New Candid Camera 7—Let's Make A Deal 10—Dragnet 10:00 4—News 7—News 10—CBS News 10:30 4—Weekend 10:45 7—Movie, "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang" 11:45 10—News
---	---

Newspaper Missing, Call 669-2525

Daytime Schedule

6:20 7—Kindergarten 6:45 7—News 6:50 4—Agriculture Today 7:00 4—Today 10—CBS News 7:15 7—New Zoo Revue 7:45 7—Cartoons 8:00 7—Sesame Street 10—Captain Kangaroo 9:00 4—Name That Tune 7—Dennis the Menace 10—Joker's Wild 9:30 4—Winning Streak 7—Munsters 10—Gambit 10:00 4—High Rollers 7—Partridge Family 10—Now You See It 10:30 4—Hollywood Squares 7—Brady Bunch 10—Love of Life 10:55 10—CBS News 11:00 4—Jackpot! 7—Password 10—Young and Restless 11:30 4—Celebrity Game 7—Split Second 10—Search For Tomorrow 11:55 4—NBC News 12:00	4, 7—News 10—News, Farm Report 12:30 4—Jeopardy 7—Let's Make a Deal 10—As the World Turns 1:00 4—Days of Our Lives 7—Newlywed Game 10—Guiding Light 1:30 4—Doctors 7—Girl in My Life 10—Edge of Night 2:00 4—Another World 7—General Hospital 10—Price is Right 2:30 4—How to Survive a Marriage 7—One Life to Live 10—Match Game 3:00 4—Somerset 7—$10,000 Pyramid 10—Tattletales 3:30 4—Movie 7—Mission: Impossible 10—Bewitched 4:00 10—Dusty's Trail 4:30 7—Beverly Hillbillies 10—That Girl 5:00 7—Dick Van Dyke 10—Truth or Consequences 5:30 4—NBC News 7—ABC News 10—CBS News 6:00 4, 7, 10—News
--	--

FOR BEST COLOR AND B & W TV RECEPTION... Get On The Cable!
Just Pennies A Day... Call
PAMPA CABLE TV
1432 N. Hobart Ph. 665-2381

Saturday

6:30 7—The Answer 7:00 4—Addams Family 7—Yogi's Gang 10—Speed Buggy 7:30 4—Wheeler and the Chopper Bunch 7—Bugs Bunny 10—Scooby Doo, Where Are You? 8:00 4—Emergency Plus 4 7—Hong Kong Phooey 10—Jeannie 8:30 4—Run, Joe, Run 7—Adventures of Gilligan 10—Partridge Family 9:00 4—Land of the Lost 7—Devlin 10—Valley of the Dinosaurs 9:30 4—Sigmund and the Sea Monsters 7—Korg, 70,000 B.C. 10—Shazam! 10:00 4—Pink Panther 7—Super Friends 10—Harlem Globetrotters 10:30 4—Super Truck 10—Hudson Brothers Razzle Dazzle Show 11:00 4—Jetsons	7—These are the Days 10—U.S. of Archie 11:30 4—Go 7—American Bandstand 10—Fat Albert 12:00 4—College Basketball 10—Children's Film Festival 12:30 7—Country Place 1:00 7—Hotline to Politics 10—Rifleman 1:30 7—Pro Bowlers Tour 10—That Girl 2:00 4—College Basketball 10—Gardner Ted Armstrong 2:30 10—Other People, Other Places 3:00 7—Hula Bowl 10—Big Valley 4:00 4—You Can Do It 10—Wrestling 4:30 4—Police Surgeon 5:00 4—Bobby Goldsboro 10—Hank Thompson 5:30 4—NBC News 10—Jimmy Dean
---	---

Classified Ads Get Results
Call 669-2525

GOOD NEWS Poppies to help detente

By FRANK MACOMBER
Copley News Service

Sometimes amateurs can be as effective as professionals, especially in the field of diplomacy.

Take Joan Kay Bibow, of Sacramento, Calif., who went to Moscow on a three-day visit and wound up planting poppies on the grounds of the building where the famed Bolshoi Ballet performs.

Joan Bibow figures that when California poppies begin blooming in Moscow next spring she will have established some kind of new U.S.-Soviet rapport, at least among the Russians who pass by the Bolshoi Ballet grounds.

The poppy seeds were left over from the Sacramento Symphony Orchestra's spring subscription drive.

Joan Bibow is executive secretary of the Sacramento Regional Arts Council.

"I just wanted to share them with the Russian people, so they could enjoy the beauties of our state flower," explains Joan.

Earlier she had tried to give the poppy seeds to Russians she met on the street, but they wouldn't accept them.

"Not even the children," Joan recalls. "Youngsters swarm around tourists at bus stops, offering to trade their Lenin buttons for chewing gum, but they weren't about to accept the seed packets."

So on the last day of her Moscow visit Bibow went to the Bolshoi Ballet gardens with the seeds folded in a napkin, along with a few vials of California soil.

She scattered the seeds in black soil near a clump of trees.

Next spring, Bibow predicts, the fruits of her visit to Moscow will be evident to Russians who pass the Bolshoi.

She hopes before long to lead a tour of Russian art lovers back to Russia for a visit to Moscow galleries and museums — and look at California poppies flourishing in the Soviet sunshine.

PRODUCTIVE REACTORS

While today's nuclear reactors use less than 2 per cent of uranium's potential energy, breeder reactors will be able to utilize about 60 per cent, extending the supply of uranium fuel from decades to centuries. — CNS

Public Notices

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
The Zoning Commission of the City of Pampa, Texas will hold a Public Hearing in the City Commission Room, City Hall, Pampa, Texas at 3:00 P.M. Wednesday, January 22, 1975.

All open hearings will be held on the following described property:

TRACT I: Being subdivisions of a part of the SW 1/4 of Section 91, Block 3, 1&G N RR Survey, Gray County, Texas described as follows:

Beginning at the SW property cor. of Lot 8, Block 3, Survey for the beginning of this tract.

Thence North along the East ROW line of Barnes Street to the NW corner of Block 3.

Thence North—easterly along the South ROW line of Tye Ave. to the SE cor. of Lot 11, Block 4, Lilliston 2nd Addition.

Thence Southerly along the West ROW line of Block 3, Lilliston 2nd Addition.

Thence North westerly to the SE cor. of Lot 1, Block 2, Aham Addition.

Thence Southerly along the North alley line to SW cor. of Lot 18, Hansen 2nd Addition.

Thence Northerly to the SE cor. of Lot 1, Smith Addition.

Thence Southerly to the SW cor. of Lot 9, Smith Addition to the point of beginning.

TRACT II: Being subdivisions of a part of the SW 1/4 of Section 114, Block 3, 1&G N RR Survey, Gray County, Texas, described as follows:

Beginning at the Southwest property corner of Plot 148 for the point of beginning of this tract.

Thence Northerly along the East line of Dwight Street to the Southwest property corner of Lot 18, Block 7, Sawyer Addition.

Thence Easterly to the Southeast property corner of Lot 18, Block 7, Sawyer Addition.

Thence Northerly along the West line of Alley to the Northeast corner of Lot 1, Block 1, Same, McCoy Addition.

Thence Easterly along the South line of Block 1, Same, McCoy Addition.

Thence Southerly to the Northwest property corner of Lot 18, Block 1, Mason Addition along the West line of Block 1 to the Northeast corner of Lot 6, Block 1, Mason Addition.

Thence Southerly 131.6 feet West and parallel with West property line of Hobart Street to a point in South property line of Plot 139.

Thence Southwesterly along the North property line of Fancher & Santa Fe RR ROW to the point of beginning of said tract.

TRACT III: Being subdivisions of the SE 1/4 of Section 114, Block 3, 1&G N RR Survey, Gray County, Texas, described as follows:

Beginning at the Southwest property corner of Lot 22, Block 2, Neal Addition for the point of beginning of this tract.

Thence Northerly along the East line of Farley Street to the Southwest property corner of Lot 11, Block 7, Sawyer Addition.

Thence Easterly along the North line of Oklahoma Street to the Southwest property corner of Lot 18, Block 7, Sawyer Addition.

Thence Northerly along the East line of Dwight Street to the Northwest property corner of Lot 12, Block 7, Sawyer Addition.

Thence Easterly along the South property line of Block 7, Lots 18 & 19, Block 5, Finley Banks Addition to the Southwest property corner of Lot 3, Block 6, Finley Banks Addition.

Thence Northerly along east line of Sumner Street to the Northwest property corner of Lot 3, Block 6, Finley Banks Addition.

Thence Easterly along the South property line of Lot 23, Block 4, Lot 2 & 3 Block 7 to the Southwest property corner of Lot 2, Block 8, Finley Banks Addition.

Thence Southerly along the West line of alley to the Southeast property corner of tract 135-362 of Plot 136 as shown on City Tax Records.

Thence Westerly along the Northline of McCullough Avenue to the point of beginning of said tract.

Your comments on this proposal will be heard at this meeting.

Signed: Bill Harris
Chairman
City of Pampa, Texas
Dec 27, 1974, Jan 3, 1975

Public Notices

NOTICE TO THE CREDITORS OF THE ESTATE OF CLAUDE A. McLAUGHLIN, DECEASED

Notice is hereby given that original letters testamentary upon the estate of Claude A. McLaughlin, deceased, were granted to the undersigned as Independent Executor of the estate of Claude A. McLaughlin, deceased, on the 28th day of November, 1974, by the County Court of Gray County, Texas.

All persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same for allowance to me by filing a verified claim with me at my address in P.O. Box 2018, Pampa, Texas, on or before January 13, 1975.

Gear May McLaughlin,
Independent Executor of the Estate of Claude A. McLaughlin, Deceased.
January 3, 1975

2 Monuments

COMPARE BEAUTY
Quality and Price
Brown Monument Works
1025 S. Faulkner Pampa
Vince Marker 669-9327

3 Personal

ALCOHOLIC ANONYMOUS and Al-Anon. Tuesdays and Saturdays, 8 p.m. 727 W. Browning. 669-9235, 665-2856, 665-4002.

FOR BETTER cleaning, to keep colors gleaming, use Blue Lustre carpet cleaner. Rent electric shampooer $1. A.L. Duckwall, Coronado Center, open 9:30 a.m.-5 p.m.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS. New Hope Group meets Monday, Friday 8 p.m. 1206 Duncan 665-4621.

MARY KAY Cosmetics, free facials. Call for supplies. Mildred Lamb, consultant. 665-1754.

4 Not Responsible

AS OF this date, 1-3-75, I Ralph B. Cairns will be responsible for no debts other than those incurred by me.

Signed: Ralph B. Cairns

5 Special Notices

SPOTS BEFORE your eyes - on your new carpet. Remove them with Blue Lustre. Rent electric shampooer $1. Pampa Hardware.

PAMPA MASONIC Lodge No. 966, Thursday January 2, Friday January 3rd, no meeting or work. Happy New Year! Thursday January 9th, EA Degree, Friday January 10th, Study and practice.

TOP OF TEXAS Masonic Lodge 1381 on January 6th Study and Practice, on Tuesday, January 7th Study and Communication.

RENT OUR steam carpet cleaning machine. One Hour. Martinizing. 1807 N. Hobart, call 669-7711 for information and appointment.

IT'S A Record Display presented by Explorer Post 401, at Pampa Optimist Club, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., grade 7 thru 12, 50 cents admission. Chaperoned, Friday January 3rd.

10 Lost And Found

LOST RED Irish Setter puppy, male. White on chest, reward. 669-3315 or 669-4793.

14D Carpentry

RALPH BAXTER
CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER
ADDITION, REMODELING
PHONE 665-8248

FOR ROOMS, Additions, repairs, call H. Jeter Construction Company, 669-2961, if no answer 665-2704.

ADDITIONS, REMODELING of all kinds. For free estimates call Jerry Reagan 669-9747 or 669-2648.

FOR BUILDING new houses, additions, remodeling and painting. Phone 669-7145.

BUILDING OR remodeling of all types. Ardell Lance, 669-3940.

14E Carpet Services

CARPET INSTALLATION
All work guaranteed. Free estimates. Call 669-2623.

14J General Repair

WEST TEXAS Shaver Repair all makes Electric Shavers. 2132 N. Christy, 669-8618.

14N Painting

DAVID HUNTER
PAINTING AND DECORATING
ROOF SPRAYING. 665-3903

PAINTING OR miscellaneous jobs. Ross Byars, 669-2864.

BILL FORMAN Painting contracting and furniture refinishing. For estimate call 665-4665.

JAMES HAYNES, Painting contracting. For estimate call 669-3295 or 665-1789.

14T Radio And Television

GENE & DON'S T.V.
Sylvania Sales and Service
900 W. Foster 669-6481

HAWKINS-EDDINS
APPLIANCE
854 W. Foster 912 Kentucky

14Y Upholstery

OPEN AGAIN for business at 326 S. Cuyler, fabric samples, estimates. Earlene Davis, 669-7480.

18 Beauty Shops

PAMPA COLLEGE OF HAIRDRESSING
Open Monday-Saturday
618 N. Hobart 665-3521

19 Situations Wanted

WOULD LIKE to baby sit children in my home. Hot meals and snacks. 669-2213.

Equal Housing Opportunity

JOE FISCHER
REALTOR
115 N. West 669-9491

Bobbie Nisbet 669-2323
Iona Simmons 669-9248
Sandra Igo 665-5318
Dorothy Jeffrey 669-2484
Bobbie Adams 669-9237
Ralph Banks 669-9636
Joe Fischer 669-9564

Doris Elkberry 669-3573
Murdelle Hunter 665-2903
Valma Lewter 669-9865
Nona Weatherbee 665-2797
Gwen Parker 669-9340
Chuck Elkberry 669-2573
Gonervive Henderson 665-3303
Office 319 W. Kingsmill

De Loma
REALTOR & ASSOCIATES
669-6854

Graduate Realtors Institute

19 Situations Wanted

PRACTICAL NURSE will care for your loved ones. Your home or hospital, day or night. 669-2864.

21 Help Wanted

CARRIERS
THE PAMPA Daily News has immediate openings for boy or girl carriers in some parts of the city. Needs to have a bike and be at least 11 years old. Apply with circulations department, 669-2523.

WANTED NIGHT Waitress. Full-time permanent. $1.70 per hour, plus tips, while training. Apply in person, Pizza Hut, 855 W. Kingsmill, 1151 N. Hobart.

WANTED COOKS Apply in person at Pampa Nursing Center.

KENTUCKY FRIED Chicken needs cooks and kitchen help for evenings and weekends. Apply in person. 1151 N. Hobart.

WANTED HOUSEKEEPERS. Pampa Nursing Center, 1321 W. Kentucky.

FIRST CLASS body repairman. Excellent working conditions. Apply at Ford's Body Shop, 111 N. Front.

MAINTENANCE SUPERINTENDENT
Experienced mechanic to take charge of all preventive maintenance and repairs for medium sized Diesel powered Compressor Plant in rural Northeast New Mexico. Housing and liberal fringe benefits provided. Mail resume outlining experience and salary requirements to J. T. Crow, SEC Corporation, Box 9737, El Paso, Texas 79967.

HELP WANTED. Adult male or female for motor route. Needs dependable car. Hours approximately 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m., 6 days a week. Call circulation department, Pampa Daily News, 669-2523.

AM OHIO Oil Company Offers Plenty of Money plus cash bonuses, fringe benefits to mature individual in Pampa area. Regardless of experience, airmail. G. F. Read, President, American Lubricants Company, Box 696, Dayton, Ohio, 45404.

DISPATCHER WANTED. Apply in person, Yellow Cab, 116 N. Front.

48 Trees, Shrubbery, Plants
DAVIS TREE SERVICE, PRUNING, TRIMMING AND REMOVAL. FREE ESTIMATES. J. DAVIS, 665-5659.

PAX, EVERGREENS, rosebushes, garden supplies, fertilizer, trees.

BUTLER NURSERIES
Perryton Hi-Way & 28th 669-9681

50 Building Supplies

Houston Lumber Co.
429 W. Foster 669-6881

White House Lumber Co.
101 S. Ballard 669-3291

Pampa Lumber Co.
1301 S. Hobart 665-5781

57 Good Things To Eat

WE DO custom slaughtering and processing. 669-7891.

HALF BEEF for sale. 69 cents pound. Wrapped. Ready for freezer. 669-7877.

59 Guns

WESTERN MOTEL
Guns, Ammo, Reloading Supplies. Scopes, Mounts, Etc.
Open 8 AM - 3 PM Weekdays
Closed Sundays, Holidays

60 Household Goods

WRIGHTS FURNITURE AND MACDONALD PLUMBING
513 S. Cuyler 669-4521

Shelby J. Ruff Furniture
2111 N. Hobart 665-5348

TEXAS FURNITURE CO.
Nice Collection Of Used Furniture
218 N. Cuyler 665-1623

Jess Graham Furniture
1415 N. Hobart 665-2322

LINDSEY FURNITURE MART
105 S. Cuyler 665-3121

JOHNSON HOME FURNISHINGS
ARMSTRONG CARPET
406 S. Cuyler 665-3361

CHARLIE'S
Furniture and Carpet
1304 N. Banks, Ph. 665-4132

HAWKINS-EDDINS
Furniture
Name Brand Furniture
912 W. Kentucky

REPOSSESSED KIRBY
New model. Guaranteed. Hunt's Vacuum Center, 512 S. Cuyler. 669-2990.

Well established restaurant on U.S. 80. 5800 square foot with 235 feet highway frontage. Two houses, two apartments, shop building. About 20 miles from Pampa.

6200 square feet building on N. Cuyler. Small office with bath for rent. Balance has good lease income. Call Nora for more info. MLS 781C.

100 foot frontage on N. Hobart. Old 2 bedroom house. MLS 754.

60 Household Goods

REPOSSESSED KIRBY. Contact: Kirby Sales & Service, 1319 N. Hobart, 669-9282.

69 Miscellaneous

GERT'S a gay girl - ready for whirl after cleaning carpets with Blue Lustre. Rent electric shampooer $1. Pampa Glass & Paint.

FOR SALE: Dry Pampian fireplace wood. P.O. Box 137, Jim Warren, 666-2186, Trinidad, Colorado.

Problem Windows?
Call Berdona Neef, 9-12 or after 6 p.m., 669-6180 or 665-9563 for custom draperies, bedspreads and show shades.

APPROXIMATELY 1500 feet of 2" pipe for sale. 635-2200.

FOR SALE. Large office desk with chair, $50. 669-1989.

20 percent off on fabrics and notions. Back of buttons 18 cents a card. Patterns 4¢ price. No-Way Cleaners and Fabrics. White Deer.

70 Musical Instruments

Lawrey Music Center
Coronado Center 669-3121

New & Used Pianos and Organs
Rental Purchase Plan
Torrey Music Company
117 N. Cuyler 665-1351

75 Feeds And Seeds

FOR SALE: Alfalfa hay. $2.25 a bale. Young Brothers, Canadian, 323-0978.

77 Livestock

DEAD STOCK Removal, 7 days a week. Pampa Bi-Products. 669-9641.

DEAD STOCK Removal. Lactation Processing Company. Day, 669-7016, Jim Crouch. Sunday or night, 669-1755, Paul C. Crouch.

FREE DEAD stock removal, daily service. Please call collect. National By-Products, 806 383-2296, Amarillo, Texas.

80 Pets And Supplies

ALL SUPPLIES for Habitrails and Tropical Fish.

B & J TROPICAL FISH
1918 Alcock 665-2231

BEAUTIFUL SINGING canaries. The animals don't arrive. Visit the Aquarium, 2314 Alcock 665-1122.

81 SPECIAL

Saturday only. $1.00 off on all puppies. AKC poodles and Chihuahuas. B & J Tropical Fish, 1918 Alcock, 665-2231.

84 Office Store Equipment

RENT LATE model typewriters, adding machines or calculators by the day, week or month.

TRI-CITY OFFICE SUPPLY
113 W. Kingsmill 665-5555

89 Wanted To Buy

WANT TO buy used air compressor for garage use.

C.C. MEAD USED CARS

313 E. Brown

95 Furnished Apartments

Good Rooms. $2 Up, $8 Week. Daily Hotel, 116 1/2 W. Foster. Clean, Quiet, 669-9115.

FOR RENT 3 room duplex. Carpeted. Close-in. Adults. Deposit. No pets. 669-9605.

3 ROOM APARTMENT to couple or a man. No pets. Water and gas furnished. References important. 903 E. Francis. 669-8193.

98 Unfurnished Houses

NICE 3 bedroom, panel, heat, carpet. Wells Street, 665-5642.

103 Homes For Sale

3 BEDROOM home with garage and carport. Real clean and with 3 room furnished house for extra income. Close-in. $10,500.

A section of good grass land. Fenced. Windmill water. A good section for $127.50 per acre.

2 bedroom. Very clean home with attached garage and fenced yard. $7250. 50 per cent down. For your estate needs call W.M. Lane Realty for honest and reliable service. The only kind that I solicit.

103 Homes For Sale

3 BEDROOM BRICK, 2 baths, new drapes, Evergreen Street, 635,900 665-2613.

FOR SALE: 3 bedroom, Asbestos siding. Attached garage. Fenced back yard, gas light and grill. Large kitchen area, living room and hall carpeted. Low equity, 433 Graham.

112 Farms and Ranches
GRAND HOTEL near Lake Meredith, Fritch, Texas. To trade for 1320.00 Farm or Ranch; 118 Kitchens clear of debt. Ideal for retiring couple; come look. Owner (806) 372-0579, 355-9000.

Problem Windows?
Call Berdona Neef, 9-12 or after 6 p.m., 669-6180 or 665-9563 for custom draperies, bedspreads and show shades.

APPROXIMATELY 1500 feet of 2" pipe for sale. 635-2200.

FOR SALE. Large office desk with chair, $50. 669-1989.

20 percent off on fabrics and notions. Back of buttons 18 cents a card. Patterns 4¢ price. No-Way Cleaners and Fabrics. White Deer.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Compulsory" Surgery

Suffering from a hyperthyroid condition, Doris began to collect disability payments under the Social Security Act. But after a brief period, the government decided to pay no more.

"She isn't that sick," a government spokesman explained in a court hearing. "All she needs is a minor operation, which she refuses to have. That isn't our fault."

However, the court agreed with the government that the payments could indeed be terminated. The court said Doris could not be classified as "disabled" when it was within her own power to get well.

The justification for the ruling was that the operation which Doris needed was relatively safe. Why, say the courts, should the government bear the consequences of a person's unusual squeamishness?

The greater the risk, however, the greater the right of the ailing person to refuse surgery without losing his benefits. He may also refuse surgery on the ground that it is not likely to help him. Thus, a truck driver was disabled by a severe back problem. Here too the government wanted him to undergo corrective surgery rather than collect disability payments.

But this time, the operation was both painful and dangerous—and the chance of success was no more than 50%. Ruling against the government, the judge said:

"This court will not require claimant to submit to such odds." One case involved a man who was unable to hold a job because he drank too much whiskey. In seeking social security payments, he claimed he could not change his habits. But a court turned him down, concluding that he could control his "disability" if he tried hard enough.

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

tips for consumers

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

Your Christmas list probably didn't include purple satin pillowcases, a leopard print table cloth, a fuzzy angora sweater (that you're allergic to), yellow slippers that you can't quite squeeze into or a cigarette lighter you don't want because you quit smoking last New Year's Day. But now that you have them, what can you do with them?

Other than stuffing the gifts in a closet and writing gallant think - you notes, you can try to return them. says the Better Business Bureau. That is, if you know where the gifts were bought. But even then, don't assume a store has to accept returned items, it doesn't.

Except in cases of misrepresentation of defective products, a store doesn't have to accept any of your returned white elephants. But most stores want you business, so there's a good chance you can get an exchange, credit or refund.

If a store's policy allows return, usually it will require proof of purchase. If the item was a gift, you won't have a sales slip. So take it back in the original box or wrapper when you return it. And try to take it back as soon as possible after the holidays.

If the store's policy is to credit the price of the return to your account, be sure that this credit appears on your next statement and that it stays there until you decide to use it.

Don't expect a refund on anything you've soiled or used. The store may not be able to resell it, and this just increases the cost of all items in the store for all customers. It also might prompt the store to adopt a stricter return policy.

MORE ELEPHANTS
While you're returning unwanted gifts, you'll probably notice that everything seems to be on sale. This is a good time to pick up some real bargains.

Does A Mother Need Education?

By P. McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — At Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, about half the 25,000 students are female. Most of them are Mormons.

Is it a waste for these girls to get a college education? The question stems from Mormon teaching that holds, roughly, as follows:

"Our young women properly aspire to and prepare themselves for the experiences and blessings of motherhood, which is their highest calling and opportunity for service." The leaders of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-day Saints (Mormon Church) have consistently taught that "mothers who have young children in the home should devote their primary energies to the companionship and training of their children and the care of their families, and should not seek employment outside the home unless there is no other way that the family's basic needs can be provided." There is some uneasiness and confusion on campus about where the Mormons stand on education for women, especially vocationally oriented education.

In an interview, Dr. Dallin H. Oaks, president of the university, said he detected the uneasiness among students during Women's Week at the school.

What is unsettling? All that is being said in society about the role of women these days. Women's lib.

"Since some of these statements are quite contradictory to what we have been taught by the leaders of the church, some uneasiness is understandable," Dr. Oaks said.

To set the record straight, during Women's Week, Dr. Oaks issued a statement on the education of women. In it he quoted a former Brigham Young president, Harold B. Lee.

"When you teach a boy, you are just teaching another individual, but when you teach a woman or a girl, you are teaching a whole family," Lee had said.

What Dr. Oaks had to say about college-educated women who stay home to raise their children applies to all women who elect to do so — not just Mormon women.

He made these points: A young woman's primary orientation toward motherhood is not inconsistent with the diligent pursuit of an education; even efforts in courses of study that are vocationally related.

According to current life expectancies, a 20-year-old woman can look forward to more than 50 additional years of life. Not all that time will be spent in bearing children and raising families. In fact, from one-third to one-half of a young woman's remaining years of life will be spent in activities preceding marriage and the rearing of children — or following the time when children have left the home.

A young woman's education, therefore, should prepare her for more than the responsibilities of motherhood. It should prepare her entire life.

Dr. Oaks also had something to say about educating women in general, not just young Mormon women. To wit:

"Education," Dr. Oaks said, "is more than vocational. It should improve our minds, strengthen our bodies, heighten our cultural awareness and increase our spirituality."

"It should prepare us for greater service to the human family."

Product Orders Show Declines

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New orders for manufactured products plunged 2 per cent in November, indicating continued weakness in the economy for at least the next few months, the Commerce Department reported today.

Factories base their hiring and production schedules on the strength of new orders.

While new orders declined in November, inventories went up 1.4 per cent. The inventory accumulation precipitated widespread layoffs in November when the unemployment rate jumped from 5 to 6.5 per cent of the workforce.

Inventories grew five times faster than work in process during November, the Commerce figures showed. Inventories surged up $2 billion while work in process rose only $390 million.

Your Horoscope

By Joane Dixon

SATURDAY, JAN. 4

Your birthday today: Your way is smoothed before you all year if you are working constructively for yourself. Simplify your daily living, drop bad habits and discontinue losing ventures, unnecessary expense. Relationships based on real sharing thrive. Today's natives usually have talent for managing property, often a strong interest in solitary hobbies.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Intuition leads the way in both home and business. Brief travel is indicated; accept invitations and be ready to go! Think about results when selling ideas.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Get together with anyone who wants to help. Share the responsibility and reward fairly. Shoptalk is enlightening and serves your long-term interests this evening.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Find out the source of the problem in financial matters. You owe yourself a bit of advertising; improve your image by doing things in style and in the right places.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Give a zany idea a chance to prove itself. Be willing to cooperate in group ventures. You have plenty of help in social activity; if static arises, find out why and change your plans.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Others tend to show off in teamwork, but you're more successful today. Public entertainment is favored. Dress up and highlight your best qualities.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Work on uncompleted chores related to your health and welfare. Promises from relatives are available; get them into writing.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Make a busy, alive appearance today and have plenty of reserve energy for the right enterprises. Consult experts to investigate ways to rearrange finances.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: With a personal promotion likely, present and give special care to your finest appearance. Share socially and have or find a party in later hours.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: It's a perfect day for a picnic, or family or group outing. Share hobbies and do some shoptalk. Watch for bargains in items you seldom purchase.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: You can learn a great deal if you relax, become a bystander and watch the events around you. Inspiring news comes from distant places and people.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Celebrate what you've been able to achieve recently. Friends and loved ones are sensitive to your reactions and willing to see things from your vantage point.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Give careful consideration to proposals that are voiced. Everyone is excited over something and wants to talk about it. Travel goes well.

Serving Their Country

SPENCER R. BOYD
Navy Ship's Serviceman Seaman Apprentice Spencer R. Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blalock, 212 Tignor, Pampa, reported for duty aboard the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier, USS Enterprise, in the Western Pacific.

TOMMY G. ADKINS
Navy Machinist Mate Third Class Tommy G. Adkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley O. Adkins, 543 Tignor, and husband of the former Miss Debra S. Woods, 604 Davis, all of Pampa, recently participated in an amphibious training exercise while deployed to the Western Pacific aboard the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier, USS Enterprise.

The exercise, conducted with naval forces from the Republic of the Philippines, was designed to familiarize each country with tactics and techniques employed by the other.

DAVID M. MILLER
Navy Electronics Technician Third Class David M. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Miller, 1125 S. Nelson, and whose wife, Emma, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Manning of 1104 Garland, recently participated in an amphibious training exercise while deployed to the Western Pacific aboard the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier, USS Enterprise.

The exercise, conducted with naval forces from the Republic of the Philippines, was designed to familiarize each country with tactics and techniques employed by the other.

DONALD E. GRAVES
Marine Pfc Donald E. Graves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Graves, 1014 Hillside, Canadian, was promoted to his present rank at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

VERNON A. SLAPE
Navy Personnelman Seaman Vernon A. Slape, son of Mrs. Ruth A. Martin, 401 S. Ballard, recently participated in an amphibious training exercise while deployed to the Western Pacific aboard the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier, USS Enterprise.

The exercise, conducted with naval forces from the Republic of the Philippines, was designed to familiarize each country with tactics and techniques employed by the other.

GENE C. DAVIS
Coast Guard Damage Controlman Third Class Gene C. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo R. Davis, 939 E. Denver, has left Long Beach, Calif., aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Burton Island on a four-month deployment to Antarctica.

He will help support various international research projects being conducted on the frozen continent.

DONALD E. GRAVES
Marine Pfc Donald E. Graves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Graves, 1014 Hillside, Canadian, was promoted to his present rank at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

saturday at DUNLAPS

Saturday Hours: 10 a.m. til 6 p.m.

Entire Stock Included

Famous Label Men's Suits

Reduced 20% to 40%

Were 89.95 to 130.00 Now 60.00 to 104.00

A great selection of polyester knit suits in desirable tonings and patterns. Regular 37 thru 46, Longs 39 thru 46. Come choose yours and count your savings.

Repeat of a sell-out

The Great Pretenders

Leather-like Pantcoats!

Usually to 40.00 21.90

Sizes 8 thru 18 Gold, Red, Brown, & Black

Choose from three styles in a sensational collection of P. V. C. vinyl on 100% cotton backing. These butter soft coats look like real leather but are really vinyl that wipes clean with a Cloth! Come choose yours now at this dollar savings price!

Young Men's Pants

Famous label polyester knit pants in styles that fit the way young men like. Solids or pattern. Waist size 28 thru 36.

Were to 18.00 9.90

Boy's Shirts

Choose permanent pressed blends in woven fabrics in regular stylings or long sleeve knits. Sizes range from 8 thru 20. Originally 5.00 to 10.00.

Were to 10.00 3.99

Quilted Bedspreads

A pleasing selection of solid colors or printed spreads in twin, double, queen, or king sizes. Originally 20.00 to 45.00

Reduced 25%

Francis Denny Multi-layer Moisturizer

Regular 10.50 6.50
Light and right for new smoothness. Enriches under make-up. Limited offer.

Junior Patterned Jeans

You'll recognize the label immediately — you know you'll like the way these jeans fit. Choose the patterns you like and save now. Broken sizes.

Were to 15.00 6.99

Missy Pantsuits

Select styles from makers you know in two and three piece styles. All washable polyester knits. Broken sizes 10 thru 20. Were to 60.00-

Reduced 1/3

Ladies' Shoes

Famous brands you know and like — a great selection of casual or dress shoes in broken sizes and styles. Originally to 24.00.

8.90 to 15.90

Entire Stock Famous Name

Ladies' Warm Sleepwear

Long gowns, short gowns, long pajamas—all in pretty styles from famous makers. Broken sizes but most all sizes represented.

WERE	SALE
8.00	6.16
10.00	7.70
12.00	9.24
14.00	10.78
18.00	13.86