

Fire Fighters Hope For Rain While Forests Are Afire

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 3.—(AP)—Rains which a year ago this month were flooding Arkansas were anxiously awaited by Forest Rangers and hundreds of volunteer workers today in their fight against the most serious series of fires in the state's history in two national forests.

One death, that of the one-year-old son of Jim Tilley, has been reported as a result of the fire. The Tilley child was burned to death when his father's house in Baxter county on the north side of the Ozark reserve, was swept by flames.

Road crews and even students from Arkansas Tech at Russellville in addition to Rangers were fighting heroically to check the red wall of destruction on the northern frontier, which extends from Baxter county southwest through Newton county and as far south as Pope.

On the western front, the Ouachita reserve, more than 500 men were battling scores of fires which extended from Scott county south to Polk and east to Montgomery.

Encouraging news that many of the older fires were under control was coupled by reports of new outbreaks.

Losses in both reserves have been estimated at about $300,000, with millions of dollars worth of pine timber in danger.

Five Millions for Price to Dallas

Dallas, April 1.—(AP)—The Times Herald said:

"If Dallas and the Baptist church can raise $5,000,000 for buildings and endowment and donate several hundred acres of ground for a campus, Baylor university at Waco likely will be moved to Dallas.

"If sufficient funds and campus acreage necessary to give the university a plant and endowment fund equal to that of Southern Methodist university and other institutions of the state, Baylor will remain at Waco."

Dallas members of the church's relocation and consolation commission "would not deny" these unofficial reports," the paper said.

Cullen F. Thomas, spokesman of the Dallas commissioners, the paper declared, "continued to maintain silence regarding plans of the commission but declared that 'some action on the project will be taken immediately."

WACO, March 30.—(AP)—An athletic stadium, a fire-proof chapel and a girls' dormitory were pledged to Baylor university by the Waco Chamber of Commerce today, construction to begin as soon as it is definitely and permanently settled that the university is to remain in Waco.

The students, assembled for daily chapel exercises, cheered long and loud of the Waco chamber of commerce.

In making the announcement, Mr. Watkins said that "you can't transport their spirit from Waco with five hundred million dollars," referring to the distinguished men who had spent the "golden glow of life's morning at Baylor university in Waco."

An opinion already has been obtained and the remainder "can be gotten" for "a modern dormitory for girls," he said.

Prehistoric Flowers Found In Asphalt

Plant fossils, of which the pine cone (upper left) is a sample, have been preserved, presumably for thousands of years, in California asphalt beds. Investigation by paleobotanists disclosed traces of trees like the Monterey cypress (upper right), which is making its last stand 200 miles north of its Pleistocene home. Below is a road builder's steam shovel uncovering the fossils.

CARPINTERIA, Calif. (AP)—Flowers that bloomed in the spring of 293,072 B. C.—it may be—are being recovered from an asphalt deposit near here by Dr. Ralph W. Cheney, research associate in paleobotany of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, and other experts in the prehistoric life of the Pacific region.

The deposit was called to the attention of scientists only a year ago, when the steam shovels of road building contractors disclosed that the oil impregnated sands contained numerous plant fossils. Examination since then has established the deposit as one of the richest sources of paleobotanical specimens known to science, comparable in its field to the fossil beds of Rancho La Brea, near Los Angeles, where the remains of many prehistoric animals and birds have been recovered.

Between the two deposits, the scientists have been able to make important additions to the natural history of southern California during the Pleistocene period, which is estimated to have begun at least a million years ago and ended about 25,000 years ago. While the Rancho La Brea deposits are not without plant fossils, their value in that respect has been overshadowed by the record of Pleistocene animal life which they contain. The new find near here, on the other hand, appears to be particularly rich in the remains of plant life.

In addition to flowers, which rank among the rarest of fossils, pine cones have been found with the seeds still in place and attached to the branches on which they grew several hundred thousand years ago. Pine needles in bunches of two and three are common together with bits of wood, so perfectly preserved by their coating of tar that they show even the borings of insects and the threads of parasitic fungi.

Sinclair Denies He Will Sell Horses

NEW YORK, April 3.—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair says he has no intention of selling his racing stable and that his horses will continue to run in the colors of the Ranocas stable as usual.

Commenting on the agitation created by reports of the sale of his stable to

James Irwin, Philadelphia contractor, Sinclair said:

"Somebody seems over-anxious to sell my horses for me. I never heard of the man in my life. Several months ago Sam Hildreth sold two or three of my horses to a man named Emmons of Philadelphia to be trained as jumpers. You can say for me that I intend to race my horses in my own colors according to the schedule Sam Hildreth has followed in the past.

Bratton, also accompanied by and delegates of all the clubs met for Mrs. Elliot, and a reading by Mrs. Carson Loftis. Accompanied by Mrs. H. Twiford, Mrs. A. H. At the close of the musical program Mrs. Dave Pope, president of El Progresso, introduced Mrs. R. R. House district chairman of citizenship, Mrs. I. B. Hughey, district chairman of Americanization, Mrs. V. E. Fathree chairman of tree planting campaign of the county; and Mrs. F. T. Collins, president of the seventh district of federated clubs.

Mrs. Collins spoke of three ideals that she desires to place before the club women of the district of which she is president, namely: The necessity of County Federation, the planting of trees and beautification of the plains, and county libraries. Very much impressed with the rapid growth of Pampa during the last three years Mrs. Collins urged the creation of more clubs in the city, and organizing of a County Federation, stressing the fact that a County Federation does much to broaden the viewpoint of women in regard to club work.

While praising the beauty of the plains of the Panhandle, the added attractiveness of trees and flowers was also an object of Mrs. Collins's talk, and suggested that the club women of Pampa plant an avenue of trees in memory of prominent women of the city.

The real necessity of a county library and rest room was presented by Mrs. Collins, who also stressed the importance of the organization of a community federation. A meeting will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Presbyterian church to perfect the organization. All clubs of the surrounding vicinity, McLean, LeFors, and Alameda will be notified.

Young People of Methodist Church Enjoy Banquet

Monday evening at the Methodist church, the Mother's Sunday School class served for the young people of the church a banquet. A large number were present and the evening was not lacking in liveliness and good food.

Guests of the evening were the director and members of the band, who played at the close of the meal. A very enjoyable program consisted of the reading of "A Message to Garcia" by Walter Hardin, a number of ballad songs sung by Nellie Hardin, and humorous readings by Katherine Vincent. Following these, the band took its place and played a number of selections closing the evening's pleasures in marital style.

The young people wish to thank the Mother's class for the banquet and those who aided in making the program a success.

Honors Nearly Even in Slugging Matches Last Night—Vincent Is Shaken, But Leads With His Jabs

Throwing more gloves than has been seen in a local ring since Kid Granite and Wildcat Monte staged the memorable bout some time ago, Bob Vincent and Bill Springfield met at the Pampa Athletic club last night and rounded away for ten rounds like a pair of wildcats.

Honors were about even, with Vincent getting a shade the better of the argument, with his leading and steady jabbing, while the champion of San Francisco was landing blows that shook the Oklahoma college graduate.

The affair opened with both boys on the defensive, but in the third round things opened up and from then on it was a battle with each by working for a knock-out. Vincent was leading in the first, while Springfield was hitting to the stomach and rime an opponent that had the college boy's head rocking at times.

This boy Springfield is a heavy hitter and one of the best boys ever here in a long time. He slurs or boxes to cut his opponent and makes a jab of both. Vincent seemed to be troubled with his feet, leaving the floor last night. It may have been from his blows, but he seemed off balance most of the time in the ring.

Rounds nine and ten saw things wide open with both boys standing toe to toe slugging, but neither left his feet, although jarred from repeated blows to the head and body.

The semi-final was given faster than the main event, with Frankie Parrell substituting for Bennie Tripoli and meeting his ancient rival, Jerry Haley from Borger. It was no levee meeting. The first three rounds were tame, but in the fourth Haley hit Parrell low and the Pampa flesh came back like a wild cat and his the Borger product think-

U. S. Davis Cup Team Handicapped By Shift To Altitude Of Mexico

United States Davis Cup tennis team goes up in the air, literally. The team, pictured here, must accept the handicap of a sharp change in altitude in going to lofty Mexico City, more than a mile above sea level for the matches with the Mexico team, April 6, 7 and 8. At left is "Junior" Coen, 16-year-old alternate, who couldn't be kept off the team because of his spectacular work in the trials. Upper right is Captain Tilden with Wilmer Allison and Arnold Jones below and John Hennessey lower right.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—One of the biggest obstacles to the success of the United States Davis Cup tennis team in its matches with the Mexican team here April 6, 7 and 8 is expected to be the lofty altitude.

Mexico City is located on a plain 7,350 feet above the sea and is about a mile and a third higher than Augusta, Ga., where the American players under William T. Tilden have been training.

The sudden change to this extreme altitude often causes the newcomer extreme discomfort, which is especially marked in the cases of athletes. Bleeding from the nose sometimes occurs when persons newly arrived engage in strenuous exercises. It is also recorded that a diplomat from a foreign country once gave up his post here because he could not stand the elevation.

Just how great will be the effect of the rarefied air upon the Americans is problematical, but it is considered certain to have some influence upon their play. None of the visiting players has had a chance previously to become accustomed to the conditions under which they must play and they have only a short time before the first match, April 6.

Augusta, where the training matches were held, has an elevation of but 134 feet while Germantown, Pa., where the last Davis Cup matches of last year were played is but 400 feet above the sea. The rise of 7,000 feet to Mexico City, while more gradual, is comparable in its effects on the human system to an airplane ascent to a height of a mile.

Some wag has pointed out that the elevation probably will be felt the most by Big Bill Tilden as the tall captain of the American team himself has an altitude of 4 feet plus. By the same method of figuring, it would have least effect on "Junior" Coen, the little Kansas City youngster of 16.

Much of the interest in the American team is focused around Coen as a result of his spectacular work in defeating Doeg, Jones and Chandler and pressing Tilden to five sets in the try-out matches at Augusta, Ga., who was there only for practice, could not be kept off the team as a result of his spectacular showing and comes here as an "alternate."

Besides Wilmer Allison of the University of Texas, intercollegiate champion, Coen is the only student on the American team.

Asked how he carries on his school work in spite of his lengthy absences, the youth said he spends several hours nightly with his books. He makes the "honor roll" regularly at his high school passing his tests with good marks even when away for Kansas City.

"In fact," he said laughingly, "I made the best mark last year when I had been away three weeks."

"Occasionally, when in such a strenuous week as during the Davis cup test play, I hardly study as much as usual but I make up for it the next week."

Coen has been playing tennis since he was six years old. Like Bobby Jones in golf he has had the advantage of having started playing around experienced net stars and has been under the guidance of Tilden for several years.

Runners to Arrive At Vega Tomorrow In Marathon Race

TUCUMCARI, N. M., April 3.—(AP)—Ninety-three athletes representing the Los Angeles to New York marathon today faced a 46-mile trek to Glen Rio Arne Suenemier of Detroit continued to hold first place in elapsed time for the 1,076 miles, a lead of more than four hours over Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla.

Tomorrow the caravan will cover 36.9 miles to Vega, Texas, with an additional 36 miles carrying them to Amarillo Thursday.

Mr. Pickens who is in charge of the route schedule for Mr. Pyle, was in Amarillo Sunday and stated that the great American derby would without fail arrive at Texan park on Thursday April 5. On this date also the bewhiskered boys from the House of David will battle the Amarillo Bronco game starting at 3 p. m. Interesting feature of the afternoon's performance will be the appearance of Lt. Lucif Frost, long haired runner from the late King Ben's household, who will undoubtedly meet many of his old buddies, who are touring with the visiting ball club. Mr. Pickens says that Frost is a great performer and always comes into a town singing or chanting and waving a staff in his hands.

British Hope For Another Champion

NEW YORK, April 3.—(AP)—Though Tom Heeney, erstwhile New Zealand blacksmith, the British empire hopes to recover the world's heavyweight boxing championship which she successfully maintained in the rippling brochure days of 1927.

Only since the inception of the modern mode of fistfighting has a subject of his majesty the king worn the laurel of pugilistic supremacy. This honor fell to the gangling-legged Gene of Cornwall, Ruby Bob Fitzsimmons, who captured the title from Jim Corbett, the bank clerk, and lost it to Jim Jeffries, the boiler maker.

When Fitzsimmons on June 9, 1909, was being counted out in the eleventh round of his championship battle with Jim Jeffries at Coney Island, New York, the nascent Heeney, a pink-fisted infant of 21 days, lay in his makeshift crib in the "cut-back" country of New Zealand.

That sturdy product of the Antipodean open spaces has become today what some of the observers think is Britain's man of pugilistic destiny. In the scheduled battle for the world's title between Heeney and Gene Tunney in July, whether it be over the 16-round route in New York, or 20 rounds in Old London, Heeney at last will have

English Viscount Beats "Bobby" of London Police

LONDON, England, April 3.—(AP)—In a roving four-round fight, Viscount Knobworth, 25-year old son and heir of the Earl of Lytton, last night defeated Policeman Bone, a young London "Bobby."

Viscount Knobworth, a welterweight, has achieved a reputation as an amateur boxer. He was too fast for Bone, who although a novice, was not inexpert when it came to exchanging blows with the representatives of the nobility.

Viscount Knobworth took the lead from the start, demonstrating a dexterity left which constantly found the Bobby's head. Bone, however, managed to get a few blows past the Lord's guard.

That golden opportunity which has been denied British boxer boys for more than three decades.

And Britisners the world over are expectantly awaiting the time when the plotting Smithy will attempt to forge for himself a distic crown.

Texas League to Have Exhibitions in Many Cities Soon

DALLAS, April 3.—(AP)—Following that one learns by doing in baseball Texas league managers plan a large number of squad or exhibition games for the last end of the spring season. Jake Als has evolved one of the bravest schedules for the Port World Cats, a six-game affair that beginning today sends his proteges successfully against Omaha, a Denver American Legion team, and Dallas.

In a two-days Post-World-Dallas series, an annual event, the feature of the week's baseball from the standpoint of general interest is provided. The clubs play in Fort Worth Saturday and Dallas Sunday.

The Houston Buffs were set today for a couple of fourth class league baseball as practiced by the Freeport Tarpons, while the Wichita Falls Spudgers were ready for the House of David nine.

Manager Bert Ellison at Dallas announced the Steers would take things easy for a time to permit some to recover from effects of influenza. Yesterday seven men were absent from the lineup because of illness.

As a result of an eighth inning rally which enabled them to overcome a one-run lead, the Steers defeated the House of David team, 4 to 2.

At Waco, the Detroit Tigers combined hastily hitting and great fielding with errors of the opposition and defeated the Cubs, 7 to 4.

The San Antonio Bears administered a lacing to the University of Texas Longhorns, who contrary to their customary style batted most balls coming their way, chalking up nine errors.
