Economy Is Facing New Trade Threats

More layoffs were announced in several parts of the nation Thursday, and new statistics show the amount of oil the United States imported in November jumped by 8 percent, indicating an unfavorable balance of trade.

But retail merchants said there was a last-minute surge of Christmas shopping, and a Christmas day crowd at Disneyland broke the one-day attendance record at the amusement park.

In Indiana, a federal judge said U.S. Steel must either shut down a polluting open-hearth furnace in Gary or pay $2,300 a day in fines. The company delayed an immediate decision but said if it shut down it would lay off 2,500 workers. Gary Mayor Richard Hatcher and Indiana Gov. Otis Bowen said the loss of that many jobs would be an economic disaster.

Detroit Mayor Coleman Young announced at least 1,500 of the city's 26,000 workers face layoffs early in the new year because of budgetary problems.

Howmet Corp. of Philadelphia said it will shut down one of its aluminum extrusion plants at the cost of 110 jobs permanently, and in Greenwood, S.C., Monsanto Co. said it will furlough 550, or one fourth the working force, in its textile plant next week.

An 8 percent surge in petroleum imports, after two months of decline, should send the balance of merchandise trade into deficit for November. A weakened balance of merchandise trade contributes to domestic inflation by removing currency from circulation.

The November jump in oil imports was shown by data gathered by the Federal Energy Administration and two industry groups, the American Petroleum Institute and the Independent Petroleum Association.

A sport survey of stores in the nation's biggest cities showed there was the usual last-minute rush of Christmas shopping in spite of a disappointing season. Many store managers said there was a trend to fewer but more expensive gifts.

'Moguls' Interrupt Ford's Ski Plans

VAIL, Colo. (UPI) — President Ford encounters a "bunch of high powered moguls" today. This time they are his energy experts.

Ford was punning Thursday in announcing that Treasury Secretary William Simon, Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton and energy administrator Frank Zarb would be coming to his playground in the Rockies for a strategy session on energy. A mogul can be either a hump of snow or ice on a ski slope or an important, influential person.

"We'll have a bunch of high powered moguls," he said, "so I won't be able to ski."

Ford also is studying a 50-page report on the Central Intelligence Agency and whether it spied in the United States — a violation of its charter — in recent years. The New York Times reported Sunday that the CIA followed eavesdropped, opened the mail and kept files on 10,000 dissidents in the antiwar and other movements.

Ford indicated to reporters that he may make the document public. "It depends on the contents," he said. "We'll see later."

Federal Reserve Board chairman Arthur Burns, Chairman Alan Greenspan of the Council of Economic Advisers and other experts were summoned to confer with Ford Saturday on ways to reverse the recession.

Nessen said Ford is seeking further explanation for some recommendations the energy planners submitted before he left Washington. He said the President has ruled out the constantly recurring proposal that he increase gasoline taxes to curb consumption, considering it inequitable to some segments of society.

There were indications that Ford may mandatorily restrict oil imports by 1 million barrels a day by late 1975. Gasoline rationing apparently has been put on the back burner.

Ford signed 11 bills Thursday. He has 125 more left by Congress when it adjourned. Among the ones signed Thursday officially allow girls to play Little League baseball, ending a 35-year boys-only policy.

Ford still must act on the bill to give the Soviet Union "most favored nation" trade treatment. Congress accepted it with the understanding that Moscow would ease immigration restrictions for Soviet Jews.

Ford skied for 2 1/2 hours Thursday. "I fell down a couple of times," he confessed to reporters, "but it got better toward the end."

The President also has been taking a daily swim in the heated pool adjoining his chalet, leased from Dallas oilman Richard D. Bass. He shares the pool with his Vail neighbors.

— The Insurance Information Institute said casualty insurance industry has had the worst year in its history with an underwriting loss of $1.12 billion and a shrinkage of about $6.6 billion in the policyholders' surplus from which the companies have to pay claims.

Millions Mourn Death Of Great Comedy Star

United Press International Jack Benny, America's beloved, penny-pinching comedian, is dead at the age of 80. Benny, star of vaudeville, radio, movies and television, died early today in his Los Angeles home.

He seemed in excellent health even after passing his 80th birthday Feb. 14, 1974. But he suffered a dizzy spell in Dallas, Tex., in October and came home to Los Angeles for five days of hospital tests. It was said at the time that he had no serious illness, but it was learned only last week that he had terminal cancer.

When not performing, Benny led a quiet life with a few close friends, among them comedian George Burns. His marriage was one of the most lasting in Hollywood.

In recent years Benny had cut his television appearances to two or three guest shots and one or two specials. In 1973 one was titled "Jack Benny's First Farewell Special." It was followed in 1974 by the "Second."

Benny became America's foremost funnyman during the 30s and 40s with a variety of personality quirks: his stinging, big blue eyes, ear-smarting violin playing, an ancient Maxwell automobile and insistence at all times that he was 39 years old.

Actually, Benny was born Benny Kubelisky Feb. 14, 1894 in Chicago and was raised in nearby Waukegan, another source of his humor, where his father operated a clothing store.

The comedian began studying the violin as a child and played in the orchestra of the Barrison Theater while still in grammar school. He continued his theater job during high school days and played at dances in and around Waukegan.

Watergate Deliberations Now Put Off Until Monday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Arguments end today in the 61-day Watergate cover up trial, but Judge John J. Sirica says the jury will not begin deliberations until Monday.

Revising an earlier plan, Sirica ruled that Jacob A. Stein, defense lawyer for Nixon re-election campaign lawyer Kenneth W. Parkinson, and chief trial prosecutor James F. Neal will complete their arguments today.

Sirica will present a two or three hour charge to the jury Monday morning, and then give them the case.

The jury heard lengthy arguments Thursday — the completion of 3 hours by William S. Frates, lawyer for former White House domestic affairs chief John D. Ehrlichman; 1 hour 40 minutes by Thomas Green, lawyer for former Assistant Attorney General Robert C. Mardian; and the beginning of Stein's argument.

Stein said Parkinson was a Washington lawyer of good reputation and "politically nothing."

"Mr. Parkinson has not been charged with anything that if you saw it, it would look wrong," Stein said. "He didn't hit anybody, he didn't taunt anybody, he didn't poison anybody, he didn't take anything away from anybody."

Green, youngest of the defense lawyers at 33, described Mardian's "30 short days in the summer of 1972" while the campaign lawyer handled Watergate legal work for President Nixon's reelection committee.

Mardian was reassigned to political duties when he threatened to resign unless taken off the Watergate case.

Green said there was insufficient evidence to have warranted indicting Mardian, accused on a single count of conspiracy. The other four defendants are accused of both conspiracy and obstruction of justice.

Frates placed much of the blame on Nixon — "the missing person, the orchestra leader."

"He (Ehrlichman) didn't believe the President was involved," Frates said. "He didn't believe Nixon was involved."

At 15 he teamed with Cora Salisbury as a violin duo, traveling the Chicago area theater circuit. He became an excellent violinist and later in life made several concert tours as featured soloist with symphony orchestras.

After dissolving his partnership with Miss Salisbury, Benny assumed the name of Ben K. Benny and joined forces with Chicago pianist Lyman Woods. As Benny and Woods they traveled with the vaudeville across the country playing small theaters.

Shortly before World War I Benny discovered he was more adept at making people laugh than with his virtuosity.

He enlisted in the Navy and served during the first World War with an entertainment troop raising money for Navy Relief. As his shows progressed his comedy antics became a dominant factor, the violin serving only as a prop.

After the war Benny went out as a single. Once more he changed his name, dropping the Ben in favor of Jack, for fear audiences would confuse him with Ben Bernie.

City And County Offices Will Mark The New Year

City, county, state and federal offices will close next Wednesday for the New Year's holiday but the business slowdown will not be as tight as at Christmas time.

Only government departments in operation on Jan. 1 will be police, sheriff and fire departments.

Most grocery, food and service establishments will be open and some will observe shorter hours.

Banks will be closed and there will be no rural or residential mail delivery on the holiday. Post office windows will be closed and only special delivery mail will be handled.

Most department and merchandising stores will close for the day but some will remain open.

Both City Hall and County Courthouse office employees will have the day off.

Schools will continue closed through the holiday week and classes will not resume until Monday, Jan. 6.

Teachers, however, will return Thursday and Friday, Jan. 2 and 3, for two days of in-service training.

Ad Deadlines For Holidays

Display and classified holiday schedules will permit News employees to observe a holiday on New Year's Day.

Display advertising deadlines are as follows:

Ads for Wednesday, Jan. 1, must be submitted by 12 noon Monday, Dec. 30. Jan. 2 ads are due Dec. 30 at 5 p.m. Ads for Jan. 3 must be submitted by 5 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 31.

In Classified Ad Department, Sunday classified display ads are due by 10 a.m. Friday. Classified line ads are due by 5 p.m. Friday for Sunday publication.

Other deadlines are as follows:

Noon Saturday for Monday line ads, 5 p.m. Monday for Tuesday line ads, noon Tuesday for Wednesday line ads, 5 p.m. Tuesday for Thursday line ads, 5 p.m. Friday for Monday classified display ads, 10 a.m. Monday for Tuesday classified display ads, and 5 p.m. Tuesday for Thursday classified display ads.

IRS Forms Are In Mail

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Income tax forms are in the mail.

The Internal Revenue Service said Thursday that forms have been mailed to 80 million individual taxpayers. They should be arriving next week.

The 1040 and 1040A forms are the same as last year with the exception of a "no" box added to the line for contributions to the presidential election campaign fund. Last year's form contained only a "yes" box.

The deadline for filing returns is April 15.

Panhandle Shivers As Cold Lingers: Snow Prospect Slim

Pampa law enforcement officers were happy to report little or no weather-related traffic problems Thursday when freezing rain, followed by sleet and snow moved into the Pampa area.

Skies were clearing by early afternoon and the accumulation of snow subject to melt by afternoon temperatures which climbed to a high of 31.

Very little additional snow or freezing rain was forecast for today, but enough snow and ice remained on the ground in Southwest, Northwest and North Central Texas to create extremely hazardous conditions for holiday motorists.

No snow fell early today in Southwest Texas, where a stubborn Canadian cold front dumped a record snowfall in El Paso, but travelers' advisories remained in effect. Considerable amounts of snow remained on the ground west to the Pecos River.

Guadalupe Pass reported 8 to 10 inches of snow on the ground.

Freezing rain could fall in the Big Country area of Northwest and North Central Texas and combined with low temperatures it could make driving extremely hazardous.

Travelers warnings remained in effect for Southwest Texas west of the Pecos River Valley, including the mountainous sections of far Southwest Texas around El Paso and the Big Bend regions.

The Department of Public Safety said any persons driving in these areas should equip their automobiles with snow tires and snow chains.

But the National Weather Service said the winter storm system which brought 12 inches of snow to the Davis Mountains in far West Texas has lost its punch and has moved northeastward into the Central Plains.

A gradual improvement in the area weather was forecast as skies cleared from the west.

The Edwards County community of Rocksprings reported two to three inches of ice hanging from oak trees and power lines.

Skies were cloudy over most of the state with some rain and fog in the eastern and southeastern sections. Temperatures ranged from the low to mid 30s to the mid 40s.

Cloudy and wet skies kept temperatures on the cool side Thursday. They ranged from a 33 at Lubbock, Amarillo, Childress and Dalhart to 54 degrees at Galveston and 53 at McAllen.

Five inches of snow fell on El Paso in 24 hours to set a record for Christmas snowfall. The previous high was 2.2 inches in 1918.

One death was attributed to the storm in Juarez, Mexico across the Rio Grande from El Paso. Authorities said three adobe

DANGEROUS PRACTICE — A Pampa motorist today scraped ice from a small portion of the rear window before proceeding to work. Like many drivers, the owner of the automobile decided "a peek hole" would be sufficient to observe traffic in the rear. Pampa's assistant police chief, George Wallace, said this morning, lingering cold and icy mornings make a complete window cleaning operation a must. Snow, grime and haze should be removed from all auto windows before driving during winter months. (Photo by Jim Williams)

Question Box CONSERVATIVE ADVOCATE
The Women They Admire

The Double-Whammy

As a graphic illustration of what governmental inflation of the money supply is doing to the purchasing power of your income dollars, the little chart which appeared on the front page of the Wall Street Journal spoke volumes.

As expressed in current dollars, the first line on the chart showed that per capita disposable personal income in the third quarter of 1974 rose to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $4,670 from $4,565 in the second quarter.

These are the kind of figures the monetary witch doctors like to point to when they insist that "you never had it so good." And, of course, if you let your attention get riveted to the number of dollars in your income alone, you will be inclined to agree with them.

However, when you examine the second line of the WSJ chart, you begin to get an entirely different picture indeed.

The second line, using the more stable purchasing power dollars of 1958 as a yardstick, showed that per capita disposable personal income for 1974 fell to $2,837 in the third quarter from $2,850 in the second quarter.

Furthermore, as one studies the chart, something else emerges with a mind-boggling thud. Namely:

That, as incomes, paid in diluted purchasing power inflated dollars, rise, the earners of those incomes are inexorably pushed into successively higher income brackets. Consequently, not only does the government take a greater number of your income dollars, it takes a larger percentage of that income, as well.

The hidden tax of inflation robs you first by diluting the purchasing power of your income dollar then, not satisfied, puts it to you again by increasing and multiplying the government's tax take via the usual channels.

The pundits are right. There IS no living with inflation.

Unmentioned Empire

One of the largest existing empires does not appear on the maps of the world.

It comprises a population of 14.1 million individuals, exceeding the total populations of the 17 states of Alaska, Delaware, Hawaii, Idaho, Louisiana, Maine, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia, and Wyoming.

If the unmentioned empire were to be admitted to the United Nations, it would outrank 97 of the 135 member states in size of population.

DEAR ABBY: I have a big decision to make and I need your help. My wife died 14 months ago. She was 41, and I am 39. We never had any children as she was never strong enough.

Two women came into my life and both are pressing for marriage. One is a fine lady who could give me an easy life. By that I mean a place in society, a beautiful home and a very, very secure income. I would never have to worry about money with this lady. She is a widow who says she is 51, and she looks it—and more. She can't give me a very exciting love life, however, as she is quite dried up and not a beauty by any means.

The other woman has nothing to offer except herself. An exciting love life would be assured with this one. She is very good to look at, and is only 28.

If I knew I would live to a ripe old age, I'd marry the widow, but if I could be sure I would die in 10 to 15 years from now I would marry the younger one.

Please don't leave this decision up to me. One day I think one way and the next day I change my mind. Thank you.

CAN'T DECIDE

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think I am out of my mind, but I have always had the feeling that they gave me the wrong baby when I left the hospital.

The "baby" is now 15 years old and I can't get this notion out of my head.

I have the baby's little footprint on the certificate of birth, and I know footprints don't change, so I wonder if you would think I was crazy if I asked my daughter to step in some ink and make another footprint to compare to the one of her certificate?

Thank you for not laughing. WRONG BABY MAYBE

DEAR WRONG: If it will make you feel better, go ahead. But be warned: How will you feel and what will you do if the footprints do NOT match?

DEAR ABBY: My husband had a very bad heart attack a month ago. We live in the country and there wasn't an ambulance available, so I drove him 52 miles to the hospital. Need I tell you what an ordeal that was?

I, ...ed with my husband for three hours, then the doctor told me he was out of danger so I should go home and get some rest, so I went home.

In the meantime I had phoned my daughter and son to tell them about their father. When my daughter got to the hospital and found that I had gone home, she called and raised the roof, saying I should have stayed at the hospital with her father. Abby, she has brought this up several times since, and it bothers me.

I love my husband dearly and prayed for his recovery night and day, but my daughter keeps trying to make me feel guilty.

Do you think I neglected my husband? HURT

DEAR HURT: You took the doctor's advice, which I think was very wise. Your daughter can't make you feel guilty without your cooperation. You KNOW you didn't neglect your husband, so tune your daughter out, and don't feel hurt.

Question: Increasingly I hear the Washington brass saying that an increase in gasoline taxes will increase the price of gasoline, and reduce the demand for gasoline. What is behind the thinking of people like Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and others in trying to make gasoline too costly for poor people? Don't they know that politicians and businesses are on expense accounts and won't have to pay the higher prices themselves and that wealthy individuals have plenty and don't care about the cost?

Answer: The theory behind the idea of making gasoline more costly through higher taxes is a political attempt to use the laws of supply and demand. Certainly, if the price is high enough, it will force persons on limited incomes to reduce their gasoline usage and bring the demand down closer to the dwindling supplies.

The strange part about this political solution is that the same politicians seem to be unwilling to allow gasoline sellers to increase prices in obedience to demand and provide the wherewithal to bring higher supplies.

But politicians win votes by trying to force down prices to producers, while hitting consumers with higher prices in taxes. It seems that people are more inclined to blame business for higher prices than they are to blame the politicians and bureaucrats who cause the higher prices through taxes.

It may be that the political figures realize that they and businesses are in a position to pass on tax increases. We are not so sure that all wealthy individuals do not care about added cost through taxes. We suspect there are some who do care, despite the fact that the higher costs do not injure them so severely as those on restricted incomes, and that others disregard the costs as inconsequential.

We can see no benefit at all to allowing government to raise taxes to force less use of gasoline. Giving Washington more money to spend as the politicians see fit is not the same as giving producers more money to spend on research and development for possible long-term solution to the energy problem.

HONORARY TITLE
NEW YORK (UPI) — Actress Marlo Thomas, star of Broadway's "Thieves" comedy, has been named national honorary chairwoman of the Educational Foundation of American Women in Radio and Television, which sponsors an unusual in-hospital television program for sick children.

By WILLIAM RUSHER
Did you see "Good Housekeeping's" list of the world's most admired women, as reflected in the magazine's annual poll of its readers? It contained, it seemed to me a lot of food for thought.

The top ten, in order, were: Pat Nixon, Golda Meir, Rose Kennedy, Julie Nixon Eisenhower, Shirley Temple Black, Patricia Neal, Betty Ford, Princess Grace, Ethel Kennedy, and Mamie Eisenhower.

Now generally I assume that these annual lists of the World's Most this-and-that are simply exercises in name-recognition, with a heavy discount for movie and TV stars. Give or take a Madame Curie (and they are extremely rare), the only women it is possible for most people to admire are ones who have been in and around the White House, because those are the only ones the public usually ever hears of in a favorable non-showbiz context.

So at first glance there is nothing terribly exciting about this particular list. It contains a First Lady, two former first ladies, the mother and sister-in-law of one president and the daughter of another. Golda Meir is deservedly there too, partly because of the immense publicity she received as Prime Minister of Israel (though apparently not entirely: Madame Gandhi, that sly little number who is Prime Minister of India, didn't make the top ten).

Princess Grace is surely at the far end of various spectra from Mrs. Meir, but she also is, in her very different way, a sure-shot: She is Cinderella come to life—the Philadelphia girl who really lives, and will keep on living till she dies, the sort of fairy-tale existence that constitutes a part of most women's private fantasies.

But look again at that list, and note especially the two remaining names: Shirley Temple Black, our new Ambassador to Ghana, and Patricia Neal, a respected actress. They obviously weren't chosen for their career achievements alone: There are several other female ambassadors, and plenty of capable actresses. Quite clearly it was Mrs. Black's triumph over breast cancer, and Patricia Neal's long, slow and infinitely courageous comeback from a cerebral hemorrhage, that evoked the special admiration of "Good Housekeeping's" readers. And suddenly, as we look again at the other names on the list, almost all of them take on an added dimension of suffering overcome: Mamie Eisenhower, who spent those long years waiting for her general to come home; Rose and Ethel Kennedy, their lives shadowed by the bullets of political assassins; and, most interesting of all, Pat Nixon and her daughter Julie.

I say "most interesting" because we all know what the media and other manifestations of the public mind can do, and too often actually do, when they are involved in the ritual destruction of a political figure.

It is not enough to denounce and penalize the man himself: His family, also, comes under attack. And indeed Pat Nixon, and Julie and Tricia, did get their share of criticism from Richard Nixon's detractors: Pat right across the years, and the daughters — especially Julie — for their stout and vocal defense of their father in those last agonizing months before his resignation.

But the women of America, or at least those of them who read "Good Housekeeping," feel differently. Imagine: scarcely three months after Richard Nixon resigned from the presidency, inches ahead of impeachment, with his name blackened and his career in ruins, his wife — who never had a career of her own, who rarely made a speech or even planted a tree, whose only achievement was to stand there, month after month, with a tight little smile on her lips, beside her crumbling husband — is voted Most Admired Woman in the World!

That, and the other names in the top ten, tell me something I didn't know about the women of America — something very nice indeed. They are capable of many things, but the thing they themselves admire most is courage in the face of adversity. And the woman who, to them, best personifies it is a slender lady in blue, with a strained smile on her lips, who will do the very best she can, this year, to give the man she loves a Merry Christmas.

Civil Service Abuses
Due For Investigation

By C. MOLLENHOFF
WASHINGTON, D.C. — Long-festering abuses of the Civil Service System are under investigation by a House Government Operations subcommittee, and will receive an airing after the first of the year.

U.S. Rep. John Moss (D-Cal.) has taken on the job that has been dodged by the Senate and House committees on Post Office and Civil Service matters despite periodic indications that a depth investigation was needed into the operations of Civil Service under the Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

And, although the Civil Service Commission General Counsel's office is invoking "executive confidentiality" on its records in the same manner it has stalled or frustrated earlier investigations, Rep. Moss said he "will not tolerate withholding of any records that we believe are relevant."

The California congressman said he will seek to use the jurisdiction of the subcommittee on government information policy to force an accounting if there is a continuing reluctance by the Civil Service Commission.

The Watergate scandals have focused attention on a White House personnel booklet prepared by the Nixon administration after the 1972 election and distributed widely in the Executive Branch, which Moss characterized as "a master plan for politicizing the Civil Service Commission."

able to get through to get any presidential action on my requests because they were all bound up with their Watergate problems, but I was able to get President Ford to send out an executive order within a week after he took office."

Frederick V. Malek, special assistant to President Nixon in charge of White House personnel, moans that "the booklet was a big mistake, but it never was the White House policy. It was prepared by a junior staff member in my office, and it was supposed to be just a summary of how these personnel things have been handled and should be handled."

Malek said that he "had frequent contact with Chairman Hampton, but for the most part it was on Schedule C jobs that are exempted from Civil Service protection." He said he had "no knowledge of Hampton handling political referrals for the White House."

The Civil Service chairman admitted that he had written a note in connection with one controversial appointment that is under investigation by Rep. Moss, "but even that was a routine matter, and I was unaware that the White House was pushing to get him a job." Hampton said Hampton said it was "a mistake for Kreger to have associated him with the requests of Flemming and McCune," and said he is not afraid of a congressional investigation.

Rep. Moss has been critical of Civil Service chairmen who "also wore a political hat as White House patronage boss. It was true under the Eisenhower administration, and I raised a fuss about it when President Kennedy let his Civil Service chairman (John Macy) have a White House office with political patronage functions."

Rep. Moss and his investigators agree with Ralph Nader's Public Interest Research Group that "the spoils system" is at the heart of most governmental problems.

"If you don't have a sound and nonpartisan career government service that protects the rights of honest officials, it is impossible to get effective and honest administration of the laws passed by Congress," Rep. Moss said.

The Nader report found that falsification of records, perjurious testimony and deception permeated the personnel management policies of nearly every agency of government.

Civil Service Commission Chairman Robert Hampton admits that "pressures" from the Nixon White House and the so-called "master plan" represented "an intolerable situation," but claims that his actions "blocked the plan from going into effect."

"I went to the White House on three occasions to try to get the President to issue an executive order correcting the impressions that went out through the distribution of the booklet," Hampton said. "I was never

DUNAGIN'S PEOPLE

"WE EITHER HAVE TO GET THE PRICE OF SUGAR BACK DOWN OR START SUBSIDIZING THE DENTISTS."

New Help For Diabetes Ready For Production

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Researchers have developed an automatic device that can help doctors pull a patient out of a diabetic coma in a fraction of the time it now takes.

The machine, called an artificial endocrine pancreas, will be produced commercially by Miles Laboratories' Life Sciences Department, Elkhart, Ind. First sales will be to research institutions to develop experience for eventual sales to hospitals.

In all of us, the pancreas gland secretes insulin to regulate blood sugar level. In diabetics it malfunctions and they can go into a dangerous coma if the amount of sugar in the blood is excessive, a condition called hyperglycemia.

By conventional methods it may take 10 hours or more of carefully injecting insulin to lower the blood sugar level and bring a patient out of a coma, according to Anton H. Clemens, head of the department, in a telephone interview.

"With this automatic device it takes one-and-a-half to two hours," Clemens said.

He emphasized that the Miles' team didn't work alone, but leaned heavily on others' research that detailed mathematically the responses of the normal pancreas.

The device includes a small computer, blood sugar analyzer and precise dosage injection system. Slated for production next spring, it already has been used on more than a dozen patients in diabetic coma, Clemens said.

He said it also can be used when blood sugar level is hard to control because a diabetic is undergoing labor or using a kidney dialysis machine. He said the device has kept a diabetic mother's blood sugar level normal through a caesarian birth.

Clemens said the machine's instant response is vital, because it is believed momentary blood sugar excesses often can build up eventually to secondary effects of diabetes such as blood vessel deterioration, blindness and kidney disease.

"The normal pancreas is able to sense an increase in blood sugar immediately when it takes place, even in the normal range, and an initial insulin spike is released," preventing the sugar level from getting too high, Clemens said. He said the machine duplicates this action and has proved the human pancreas does act instantly and in proportion to the need.

There have been efforts to create a tiny gadget that will do for diabetics what a pacemaker does for heart patients. But Clemens said the day when a diabetic can carry around a tiny, implanted computer and pump to do what the Miles device does still is far off.

He said he believes such an implant would have to have a direct bloodstream connection, not just tissue contact. In his opinion, a tissue implant would be unable to provide the necessary instant response.

NFO Plans Beef Sale

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — A direct-to-the-consumer ground beef sale is being planned by the National Farmers Organization for the second week in January, an NFO spokesman said Thursday.

The radical farmers group has already staged a successful calf giveaway and a cheddar cheese sale. The intent of all the NFO events has been to protest the slice middlemen take in the farmers' profits.

The plans for the beef sale were stalled temporarily by packing houses reluctant to handle the processing. A Tennessee slaughter house, finally offered its services.

David Goolsby, publicity chairman of the Maury County NFO, said collection in the midstate for beef cattle will begin next week. After processing, the meat will then be ground into hamburger and sold perhaps as early as Jan. 6.

Goolsby said the number of cattle processed may be small at first, but should increase as the sale's success eases farmers' qualms.

Goolsby said he thought food chains would lower ground beef prices to coincide with the NFO sale, in an attempt to undercut the farmers' protest.

The site for the sale will be in the Nashville area, although the exact location has not been decided.

DETERMINED PILOT — Brian Master 11, Bartonville, Ill., has one leg and half a pelvis, but has a burning desire to be a helicopter pilot. One of his Christmas wishes came true when he took his first stint as a helicopter "co-pilot" from Peoria to Chicago's O'Hare Field. Brian's left leg and left half of his pelvis were removed in September due to a rare type of cancer. (UPI Photo)

Former Nazis Sentenced In Russian Court

MOSCOW (UPI) — A court in Vladivostok, Ukraine, has sentenced one Ukrainian to death and two others to prison terms for acts carried out as members of the Nazi police during the World War II occupation of the Ukraine, the newspaper Pravda Ukrainy said.

The newspaper, which arrived in Moscow today, quoted prosecutors as saying F. Capitoula shot Russian prisoners of war and old men, women and children from his own village. He was sentenced to death.

They said Z. Kazpach, as the official representative in his village of the occupation troops, organized hunts for Ukrainian resistance fighters and sent Soviet people to slavery in Germany. He got 15 years.

S. Gouzey also took part in killing expeditions, prosecutors said. He was sentenced to 10 years in jail.

The newspaper said all three men joined the Nazi police voluntarily and admitted their guilt when confronted with evidence. It gave no reason for the lapse of time in putting the men on trial and did not give a date or method for the death sentence.

Throw Money At Problems, And Watch Them Disappear

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the past 40 years or so, the federal government has proceeded on the assumption that any problem could be solved by throwing money at it.

"This may explain why the government has been so conspicuously unsuccessful at coping with inflation. Let's take Senator Bulljack as a typical example.

"Senator," you say, "inflation is now running about 12 per cent. Do you have any plans or proposals for dealing with this problem?"

"I shore do, sonny," the senator replies, patting you on the head reassuringly. "Action is my middle name. I am this very day introducing a bill to give members of Congress a 12 per cent pay raise."

Actually, some economists doubt inflation can be brought under control with increased appropriations.

But try telling that to Senator Bulljack.

"Didn't you ever hear of fighting fire with fire, boy?" he snaps.

By this time the habit of throwing money at problems is so deeply ingrained, it likely cannot be broken. So the trick will be to use deficit spending to ease the inflationary crunch.

One approach might be a program called "two-way parity."

"Nobody has ever fully understood what parity is. But it works something like this:

If the income a farmer derives from his crops fails to match the relative buying power of comparative income during a certain base period, the government makes up the difference. See?"

Storms Immobilize Portions Of Southwest

United Press International

A powerful winter storm has immobilized portions of the Southwest, piling up the heaviest snowfall in a decade in portions of New Mexico and spreading snow as far south as El Paso, Tex.

At least three persons died on New Mexico's snow-clogged roadways as a result of the storm and authorities were searching for a 14-year-old boy who went rabbit hunting Christmas day before the storm moved in.

More than 100 persons, using horses and four-wheel drive vehicles, were searching the Truth or Consequences, N.M., area for Joseph Cordova of Albuquerque, who got separated from his father and brother.

Sierra County authorities said the boy's best chance is to keep moving.

"If he sits down under the brush it would be difficult to spot him," a police spokesman said.

Several aircraft have joined the search.

The storm eased somewhat Thursday after dumping up 12 inches of snow at Las Cruces in extreme southern New Mexico — the heaviest snowfall in at least a decade. However, all highways were reported open.

The storm eased somewhat Thursday, but travel was discouraged west of the Pecos River in Texas. Five inches of snow clogged El Paso in 24 hours — the biggest Christmas snowfall on record there.

In Juarez, Mexico, just across the border, a 3-year-old child was killed when three adobe houses collapsed under the weight of the snow.

Prison Inmates Stop Rebellion In Lorton

By EDWARD ROBY

LORTON, Va. (UPI) — The uprising began during the Christmas night showing of a Kung Fu movie, "The Hong Kong Connection." A dozen armed prisoners burst from the maximum security dining hall used as a theater and ran for the wall of Lorton Reformatory.

Only four got out of the prison and one was fatally wounded by a guard's rifle shot.

The estimated 90 to 95 others, armed with butcher knives, returned to the dining hall, interrupted the movie, seized 10 persons hostage and held them for 20 hours.

Before it was over Thursday afternoon, District of Columbia officials agreed to meet a series of demands for improved conditions. But the freedom of the last hostages was delayed by a demand for a written guarantee that ringleaders of the revolt would not be prosecuted.

U.S. Attorney David Hopkins refused to make the pledge, although he said in a letter he would confer with D.C. officials before any charges were brought and give "fair and calm consideration of the facts involved as would be our normal practice.

Immunity from prosecution is not a negotiable factor in a prison matter," he said.

Escaped Convict Kills 2 Women

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (UPI) — A mother and her teen-age daughter were killed Thursday night by a convict who escaped from a prison farm and took them hostage, authorities said.

A third woman hostage was released unharmed.

The convict, Riley Mosley Jr., 26, surrendered just minutes after the shootings. He was held in the maximum security section of the Indiana State Prison here.

State police said Mosley held Mrs. Stanley Napierala and her two daughters, 17 and 19, at gunpoint and negotiated with a representative of a prison inmates group for about six hours before the shootings occurred.

Police said Mrs. Napierala, who was in her 50s, and one of her daughters were killed. The other daughter was hospitalized for severe shock.

Authorities said police learned of Mosley's whereabouts from an 11-year-old boy who escaped from the farm house through a basement window when the convict forced his way inside.

The shootings caught police completely by surprise.

Police said that Mosley never made any threats against the hostages during the ordeal and repeated his intention to surrender after he was allowed to talk with his father, who lives in Indianapolis.

Authorities said the only threat he had made was a suicide threat.

"All of us involved felt he was eventually going to come out without anybody being hurt," said State Police Capt. Roy Sheets.

"That was the last thing in our minds that he was going to harm anybody. We felt that if he was going to harm anybody, it would be himself."

Police said they had talked with Mosley and the hostages up to 15 minutes before Mosley's surrender and that the hostages had said they were unharmed.

The shootings apparently occurred within the next few minutes — shortly before Mosley walked out of the house and surrendered.

As he strode from the house, he said only: "I cut my hand."

Police said the convict, who had been armed with a rifle and a pistol, apparently injured the hand while breaking into the house.

Jon Shafer, a spokesman for the Indiana Department of Corrections, said Mrs. Napierala's husband and another daughter were away — apparently visiting someone at a Michigan City hospital — when Mosley burst into the home.

Shafer said Mosley apparently walked away from the minimum security prison farm "trusty area" Thursday afternoon, broke into the home of Bill Schopmeyer, foreman of the West Prison Farm facility, and stole a .38-caliber revolver.

FFA Studying Violation Claims

HOUSTON (UPI) — For the third time this year, the Federal Aviation Administration is studying claims commercial airliners carried packages leaking hazardous radiation into Ryan Airport at Baton Rouge, La.

An FAA spokesman said Thursday his office was studying a Dec. 18 incident involving a package shipped from Pittsburgh to Baton Rouge on board a Delta Airlines flight.

"All I can say is that the latest incident is under investigation by the FAA at this time," he said.

Similar incidents involving alleged improperly packaged shipments occurred in Baton Rouge April 6 and Aug. 26, but a spokesman for Delta described the latest incident as minor.

"Delta has been assured by the Atomic Energy Commission and health authorities in Louisiana that no hazard was presented to the Delta passengers and employees in the recent incident," said Fred Brown, an airline spokesman in Atlanta.

"The defective package was detected by Delta's own personnel by close monitoring with surveillance equipment," Brown said.

Milk Hike Up To Ford

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tony Dechant, president of the National Farmers Union, urged President Ford today to sign a bill to raise the government support price for manufacturing grade milk.

The bill, which administration officials opposed, was passed shortly before Congress adjourned. Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said he advised Ford to veto it.

Dechant said in a letter made public today that unless Ford approves the bill, dairy farmers will be forced to cut milk production to escape a squeeze caused by high feed costs. That could lead to "a potential nutritional disaster for the American people," the farm leader said.

"Prices farmers are getting for milk are far below the cost of production... if consumer demand returns to normal and off-farm employment opportunities for dairy farmers improve, there is likely to be an acute milk and dairy products shortage," Dechant added.

The measure would raise supports for manufacturing milk, used in making butter, cheese and similar products, to about $7.69 a hundred pounds immediately with further increases coming quarterly through March of 1976. The hike from the current $6.57 a hundredweight support would be necessary because the bill would set a new floor of 85 per cent of the "fair earning power" parity price under milk supports.

Mills Says Blackouts Hampering Memory

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., has sent word he has suffered from blackouts and since undergoing back surgery in 1973 and has no memory of his appearance on a Boston burlesque stage, columnist Jack Anderson reported Thursday.

Anderson's Washington-dated story was carried in the Arkansas Democrat. The story said Mills is beginning to feel like his old self, but still may decide to resign from Congress.

Mills, who won election to a 19th term Nov. 5 despite his involvement with stripper Annabel Battistella in the Tidal Basin incident, has been hospitalized since his appearance on stage.

with Mrs. Battistella in Boston. He decided not to seek the chairmanship of the House Ways and Means Committee again following his hospitalization at Bethesda Naval Hospital for exhaustion.

Rep. Walter Jones, D-N.C., who is Mills' fellow patient at Bethesda, delivered the message for Mills to Anderson. Doctors have forbidden the Arkansas congressman to meet with reporters.

Woman New Mayor In Ark. City

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (UPI) — The 49-year-old grandmother who will become the first woman mayor of a major Arkansas city says it is not sex but ability that counts in the job.

"It's not whether you're a man or woman, it's whether you can do the job," said Joyce Ferguson, who will become the East Arkansas city's ninth mayor on New Year's Day.

West Memphis, with a population of 28,260, serves as a feeder city to Memphis, Tenn., located just across the Mississippi River, as well as having its own commerce — including the state's only dog racing track. Two bridges connect Memphis and West Memphis.

Mrs. Ferguson, wife of an obstetrician, defeated six men in her first bid for public office last November.

While the residents elected a woman mayor, they turned out the only female member of the city council in the same election.

Mrs. Ferguson said she became involved in politics because of her past involvement in civic projects. "I felt this is where I could do the most for my city," she said.

Death Toll Falls Below Estimate

Georgia 12.

No holiday traffic deaths were reported in Alaska, Delaware, Hawaii, Idaho, Iowa, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

During the last 30-hour Christmas holiday, in 1968, there were 231 traffic fatalities. Over last year's four-day holiday, 520 persons died in traffic mishaps.

Another 30-hour holiday — New Year's — comes up next week. The council's estimate is that there will be between 130 and 230 traffic fatalities during that holiday period.

MRS. W.J. MORRIS Lefors — Funeral arrangements are pending with Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors for Mrs. Robbie Nell Morris, 64, a Lefors resident for 30 years, who died at 8:25 a.m. today at Highland General Hospital.

Mrs. Morris, born July 8, 1910 at Ringland, Okla., moved to Lefors from Duncan, Okla.

She was a member of the Lefors First United Methodist Church.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, John Morris, Brownsville; a daughter, Mrs. Vaughn Pittman, Pampa; four sisters, Mrs. Esther Sullivan, Comanche, Okla., Mrs. Dewey Fore and Mrs. Billie Ireland, both of Duncan, Okla., and Mrs. Callie Peden, Pampa; and five granddaughters and two great-grandchildren.

DARWIN, Australia (UPI) — Hungry looters ransacked food stores wrecked by a devastating cyclone and officials in Darwin tried today to prevent typhoid and cholera epidemics that could kill hundreds who survived the storm.

Australian American and British planes ferried in tons of food and carried out thousands of homeless in the wake of the Christmas Day cyclone that wiped out the once-bustling port city.

The Minister for Northern Development, Dr. Rex Patterson, said "unless you saw Darwin, it is impossible to describe."

"Three quarters of the people are living outside houses in shelters. The problem at present for those in the city is one of survival. There is no sewerage, no water and no power."

"The casualties of the cyclone will be nothing to those that will occur if disease spreads," Patterson said.

Patterson said he had instructed police to begin shooting starving dogs which were roaming the streets in packs looking for food.

Prime Minister Gough Whitlam cut short his European tour today and flew back to Australia from London.

"I have been appalled by the reports I have heard of the loss of life and damage in Darwin," Whitlam said when he arrived in Perth.

"I want to extend my sympathy to those who have suffered in Darwin and promise that we will do all in our power to restore and rebuild the city as soon as possible and help those who need our assistance," Whitlam said.

Whitlam then boarded an air force jet for Darwin.

Witnesses in the stricken city said looters ransacked damaged food stores and police were issued pistols to fend them off. Store owners put up "Looters Shot" warning signs outside their battered shops.

"There is virtually no building in Darwin that is not seriously damaged. Ten thousand homes have been wrecked. They have been torn to pieces and the pieces scattered across the city," Cairns said.

Fulbright Decides On Retirement

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — The decision by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., to resign from office effective Dec. 31, will have no effect on whether his successor, Dale Bumpers, resigns early as governor.

Bumpers defeated Fulbright in the May 28 Democratic primary and went on to defeat Republican John Harris Jones in the Nov. 5 general election. The defeat ended the 30-year Senate career of Fulbright, who gained worldwide prominence as the gadfly chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

By resigning from office two and a half days before his term ends, Fulbright will be eligible for a 6.4 per cent increase in his retirement pension.

Bumpers must still decide whether to resign early, but Fulbright's decision will have no effect on his decision. Under the Arkansas Constitution, Bumpers cannot be appointed senator to fill out the remainder of Fulbright's term without giving up the six-year term he was elected to serve.

The decision Bumpers must face is whether he can resign by Jan. 3 and have as much seniority as all the other freshmen senators elected in the Nov. 5 general election. Bumpers' term as governor ends Jan. 14, and although Congress does not convene until that day, Bumpers would lose 11 days of Senate seniority and would be last in seniority. The Congress originally was scheduled to convene Jan. 3, but decided to delay the opening of the term to give members a vacation between congressional sessions.

Bumpers has scheduled a news conference for today to discuss the situation. It was not known whether he would announce his decision at that time. The governor has held several news conferences since the question came up, but he has delayed making the decision until he and Lt. Gov. Bob Riley can agree on Riley's duties should he serve as governor for 11 days. Gov.-elect David H. Pryor, who defeated Riley in the May 28 Democratic primary, will be inaugurated Jan. 14.

Victim Will Get Lifetime Funds

HOUSTON (UPI) — James Alexander, 18, who lost the use of his arms and legs from injuries suffered in a traffic accident on his 16th birthday, will receive $100,000 annually for the rest of his life as a settlement of a suit stemming from the accident.

The payments will be made from a trust fund established at a Houston bank by a group of insurance companies. Alexander's attorney, Joe Jamail, said Thursday.

He said Alexander's heir or heirs also will receive $1 million from the trust upon Alexander's death.

Visit Surprises Patient

DENVER (UPI) — Marty Cox, 17, waited two years for Christmas, but he feels it was worth it.

Marty, confined to Colorado General Hospital since November of last year, is one of the world's longest living liver transplant patients.

He planned to spend Christmas this year with his family in Nova. Ohio, but doctors vetoed that when the youth developed a high fever. Since being told he couldn't go home for the holidays, hospital officials said Marty spent most of his time in his room reading or staring out the window.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, said they had no money to pay for a flight to Denver to see their son because his long hospitalization had drained their finances.

Christmas morning Cox, an assembly line worker in an automobile factory, received a phone call from an anonymous Englewood, Colo., business man who said he would pick up the tab for the flight to Denver. The Coxes were given free lodging by a Denver motel.

Later that day, Marty was wheeled into a visiting area of the hospital and surprised by his waiting parents.

Massive Integration Predicted For Colleges

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Southern Education Foundation (SEF) predicted Thursday universities and junior colleges in 19 states may be in for the same kind of massive integration that elementary and high schools experienced in recent years.

"Whether the states achieve full compliance with federal law depends on how faithfully they carry out the promises they have made," said the SEF report on "Ending Discrimination in Higher Education."

Aside from student enrollment, the SEF said publicly supported colleges have disproportionately small numbers of blacks and other minorities serving on boards of regents, boards of trustees and other such governing authorities.

"Simple fairness — as well as respect for the law — requires a substantially greater contribution from minorities in these important planning and decision-making roles," said the report.

The foundation's report said integration of higher education will be speeded by a major federal court case, Adams vs. Richardson, in which a Washington judge ruled last summer that 10 states had to file with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare their plans for increasing both black enrollment on white campuses and white enrollment in mostly black schools.

Although the Adams case applied to only the 10 schools cited as its defendants, the SEF said nine more states will be affected because they maintain racially dual state-supported universities and junior colleges.

The case was filed under Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which provides for cutting off federal funds to statesupported colleges which discriminate.

The states ordered to give HEW compliance plans were Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. The SEF report noted that Pennsylvania's compliance plan did not include desegregation of its state university, but was accepted by HEW.

The SEF said one state, Mississippi, had its plan rejected because it failed to include junior colleges, and another state, Louisiana, refused to submit a plan and has been sued by HEW through the Justice Department.

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

SATURDAY, DEC. 28
Your birthday today: Confrontation is common all through this coming year as you grow and change from within and acquire capabilities you previously lacked. Continue your constant search for freedom of spirit. Relationships are tested and by year's end you know where everyone stands. Today's natives have a keen sense of form and proportion, often are leaders in their specialized areas.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Expect strong emotional reaction as old questions or problems surface and require full answers. Avoid open differences with authority when possible.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Everyone gets into the act and requires tactful handling. New ideas help. Bad news of distant people and their activities is inaccurate.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Avoid squabbling over money. Review your budget and reconsider the costs of achieving your objectives. The less action you take today the better.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: The creative mood of the morning is brief. Follow it with practical application. Make agreements with others about what happens next and who should do it.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Emotional factors have a strong role in most enterprises during this uncertain day. Discreet actions may yield great future gains or advantages.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: You're forced to rely on your own resources today and have few obstacles in making long-awaited decisions. Be sure you're right, then go ahead gently but firmly.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: When differences arise, find out why from original sources. Family matters get in the way of work and play and require attention, sensible choices.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: You are loaded down with even more than normal routine. Local conditions go awry and create an extra burden. Play it safe while traveling.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Even though you've found support for your ideas, keep them in the planning stages. Complete old obligations without complaint.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Friends provide a handy testing ground for your theories and provisional plans. You learn from their responses, although no one is very congenial today.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Set your own pace and put all your effort into getting work done. Busy associates are likely to be working at cross-purposes. Resolve discrepancies quickly.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Progress is generally sluggish, but every move is over recent developments in no one is pleased with anything in progress, they'll change their minds when they see results.

Counterintelligence Chief (CIA) Resigns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The CIA's counterintelligence chief says he is resigning because "higher authorities" wanted him to leave after allegations were made that the agency spied on antiwar groups.

Central Intelligence Agency veteran James Angleton, sounding distraught and contradictory in several telephone conversations, Wednesday told UPI he did not know of CIA work against Americans within the United States.

He had previously said published allegations of such activities were "mainly true."

President Ford, on a skiing vacation in Colorado, has asked Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who is also his national security adviser, to forward a report on the allegations published in Sunday's New York Times.

The 50-page report, prepared by CIA chief William E. Colby, was dispatched Wednesday by special Air Force flight to Ford in Vail, Colo.

The Times charged the CIA illegally spied on and collected dossiers on as many as 10,000 Americans.

Richard Helms, CIA director, when the alleged operations took place in the late 1950s and 1960s, "categorically denied" the charges Tuesday in a message to Kissinger from his present post as U.S. ambassador in Iran.

Helms was reported vacationing somewhere in Europe.

Angleton told UPI Tuesday he was resigning because of CIA "police state" activities but retracted some of his remarks Wednesday, telephoning UPI to say he would like to get some things "straightened out" from previous talks.

"My resignation was reluctant," he said. "I was not pushed."

"The point I'm making is that the (Times) story was highly exaggerated and as far as I'm concerned I had no knowledge of any activities of such by the agency but I can't speak for the agency."

He said he did not recall saying Tuesday that he did have knowledge of alleged illegal CIA domestic activities.

Why, then, did he resign if he insisted he wasn't "pushed?"

Beaumont Holds Lowest Crime Record According To FBI Report

United Press International Beaumont, recorded the lowest increase in serious crime in 12 Texas urban areas included in the Federal Bureau of Investigation's report through the first nine months of 1974.

Nationally, serious crime rose 16 per cent, Attorney General William B. Saxbe said in the report released today.

The index of total crimes rose from 5,200 through the first nine months of 1973 to 5,502 in 1974 in the Southeast Texas city. Murders decreased from 14 to 10 in Beaumont and robberies fell from 143 to 99. Other categories of crime, including rape, increased slightly, and assaults decreased from 529 to 434.

Dallas showed a large decrease in murders, from 175 in 1973 to 147 this year, but gained in other serious crime. Houston, which set an all-time murder record this year, jumped from 188 to 236.

Murders also dramatically increased in San Antonio, from 93 to 111, but dropped by one, from 14 to 13, in El Paso, and by five, from 67 to 62, in Fort Worth.

Statistics released by the FBI for 12 Texas metropolitan areas (1973 figures listed first):

AMARILLO: total crime 4,794-6,451; murder 4-10; rape 25-21; robbery 77-133; assault 189-262; burglary 1,324-1,860; larceny 2,903-3,756, motor

Christmas Day Woman's 100th

METAIRIE, La. (UPI) — Eloise Wilkins was 100 Christmas day but said she had no advice on how to live a century.

"A few years ago an 83-year-old woman I met on the bus told me she was convinced good thoughts and a good disposition provided the foundation for living to a ripe old age," she said. "I didn't tell her then, but I thought it was the most ridiculous thing I had ever heard."

Mrs. Wilkins had seven children, three grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. Her husband died in 1936 and she and two daughters live in the New Orleans suburb of Metairie.

"I was born on my uncle's place outside Patterson (La.)," Mrs. Wilkins said, on Dec. 25, 1874. She married Howard Wilkins in 1892.

"He was the overseer on a sugar plantation outside Patterson, and we lived there. You could only reach it by driving a horse and buggy to the river and then taking a ferry to the other side."

Midwives delivered six of the children, but for the seventh Mrs. Wilkins had to help herself. "When I realized she wouldn't get there, I took a medical book out, read the directions to Howard, and we delivered the baby ourselves."

99 PER CENT OK — CHICAGO (UPI) — The first two French-built Turboliners purchased by Amtrak chalked up about 40 million passenger miles in the first year of service between Chicago and St. Louis, Amtrak reported. It said in a survey of 1,325 passengers, 99 per cent said they enjoyed the trip.

Restaurant Owner Provides Yule Dinner-Price, A Smile

United Press International A South Dakota restaurant owner who didn't want to spend Christmas alone opened the doors to his steak house and invited all lonely people to join him for dinner. The price was a smile.

More than 75 persons showed up during the first hour in response to the invitation by Larry Dethury, Brandon, S.D., a native of Hungary who lived in California for 14 years before settling in South Dakota.

Dethury, who told one elderly customer "your smiles are more than enough" was just one example of the Christmas spirit.

Even 14 million blackbirds slated for execution by the Army at Milan, Tenn., were given a Christmas reprieve.

Army officials had planned to kill the birds as pests. However, the eradication was delayed due to "the divergency of opinion expressed by various individuals and organizations on this proposed action," a spokesman said.

But even the Christmas spirit could not overcome personal tragedy. In Denver, 17-year-old Marty Cox — one of the world's longest surviving liver transplant patients — spent his second Christmas in a room at Colorado General Hospital.

Cox has been too ill to travel since November 1973, and his parents say they can not afford the plane fare from Nova, Ohio, to visit

SAFER BRAKES

DETROIT (UPI) — Disc brakes on cars are replacing drum brakes on the front wheels because they're considered to be safer.

Disc brakes are more resistant to fade because they use a flat, rotating disc against which asbestos-lined pads are pressed by a hydraulic cylinder.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I'm retired and have lots of hobbies. One of them is collecting your hints. So I shall gladly share one of mine with you. This is another little hint for those who work with plants (and I'm one of them).

Most people don't know or remember the names of their plants when asked. So I thought I would put the names of my plants on the pots or containers in which I put them in. I enjoy them better knowing who they are, their botanical names, etc., just like we enjoy knowing people's names.

Friends might not ask you the names of all of your plants, but would like to know the ones they might not be familiar with. In this way you won't forget, and the name is right there with the plant for everyone to see.

Velma Ashcraft

Bless your sweet heart! I love to work with plants too. Your idea is great and hits close to home, as just recently a friend's little boy bought his mother a plant as a gift. By the time he got it home he had already forgotten the name of it. It wasn't one she was familiar with and she's still wondering what kind it is.

Course, most of the time the nurseries put the names on plants and a good thing, too, for who can remember all those names! But — I'll remember yours!

Dear Heloise:

Being a loner presents a problem when it comes to buying food. A lot is wasted because only a small portion is used.

Some things can't be bought in small portions, celery for instance, but I found a way to keep it for three weeks or more. (It was a sad mess after it was left for more than two weeks previously.)

When I brought the celery home from the store, I broke the stems from the stalk and wiped each piece dry with a paper towel (use no water). I then wrapped each piece in a paper towel and put them into a plastic bag. I put the bag into the vegetable crisper of the refrigerator, and had crisp celery for weeks.

Try it for yourself before anyone tells you it doesn't work.

C.G.

I did try it, and it does!

Heloise

HAVE YOU NOTICED:

That when you finally buy that appliance you've been wanting, it won't be anytime until "they" will come out with a new model with just the improvements on it you've been wishing were on yours.

Ghost See (Ghost Jon's sister!)

Dear Heloise:

I'm a mother of two girls — one is 2 and one is 3 months. When bathing the baby, I have my hands full, especially with "big" sister around helping. I found it difficult to pour out the right amount of shampoo with one hand and I was forever spilling it and pouring out too much, which of course, was wasteful.

So I washed out a small medicine bottle that had a dropper-type top. Now when it's the baby's shampoo time, I can squeeze out two or three drops and have just enough for that little head. Of course, mark the bottle plainly as a safety precaution.

Elaine

Dear Heloise:

Would you please tell all new brides (as well as older ones), to keep a large manila envelope in a convenient place and insert all guarantees of appliances, addresses of repair centers, instructions for use of "gadgets" on them, etc. It will surely save a lot of time and inconvenience later if all these easily misplaced items are kept together.

If date of purchase is also noted, you won't have to try to remember how long it has been since you acquired your lawnmower, TV, or household appliance.

Kitty Koerber

Dear Heloise:

I often knit or crochet items as gifts. I always enclose a copy of the washing and drying directions.

Most fabrics and yarns nowadays are machine washable and dryable, but this saves any guess work.

Linda Paulesich

Dear Heloise:

That crack between storm window and window sill is there for a purpose. It allows for a minute circulation of air.

Stuff the crack, and the moisture in the dead air will condense. And one of these days that moisture will wreck the wall beneath the window and maybe the ceiling in the room below, if you have one. I was told about that crack when our storm windows were installed.

E. Mormey

Then another one approached and said, "I would have known Mr. Brickle just from my son's description, wouldn't you?" (Lady, I wouldn't have found the building if there hadn't been a Boy Scout in the parking lot.)

Finally, "It's a shame you were too busy to come to the

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN
MADY GERRARD has had a passion for knits since she first began turning out little caps and accessories as a 6-year-old in her native Hungary.

Today, in her New York studios, she produces exquisite hand-framed knits and hand-crochets that are couture fashions. When she received the 1974 Woolknit Award, it paid tribute to her leadership in the field as a designer as well as a developer of yarns.

"Designing knits is so gratifying," says Mrs. Gerrard, "because they can do such great things for a woman's figure. They flow gracefully and if the cut and shape are good they can make a woman look slimmer. As for the perfect figure, they set it off better than any other fabric."

Mrs. Gerrard designs her clothes every inch of the way, first working out the stitches and colorations, then the styling and, finally, the hand-crocheted buttons, ruffles and trims that are her specialty. She favors the luxury fibers of wool, mohair and cashmere, often using them in yarn blends with other fibers to achieve the interesting lightweight textures that are her signature.

"Sometimes a dress I create takes as much as 72 hours to complete," she says. "It has to be of the best materials or it would be a waste of good handicraft."

Typical of her texture and style artistry is a costume in her current collection that has a frothy, tweedy jacket in hand-crochet mohair shot with metallic threads. It is worn over a sleeveless wrap top with a mid-calf skirt in a finely textured hand-loomed mohair blend knit.

Dream Come True

Mrs. Gerrard dreamed of coming to America for many years before she managed to fulfill that ambition. As a child, she began working for a state cooperative in Budapest and later obtained a license to work for a small private firm. In 1956, during the revolution in Hungary, she made her way to Cardiff, Wales, where she bought a knitting machine and began making knits and crochets at home for private customers, later expanding her business into a boutique.

Ten years later she came to Toronto and, five years ago, realized her goal in New York where she launched her own firm. She specializes in magnificent day and evening clothes that are the delight of fashion sophisticates. Recently she expanded into a new area—high-fashion knit and hand-crochet sweaters for men.

Girl Scouts En Action, a day of exhibits and demonstrations climaxed Demonstration Week, is in the planning stages by all Pampa Girl Scouts for March 15, Optimist Club, subtitled "Improving the Environment for '76", the event will provide participants the opportunity to earn one of the official bicentennial patches designed by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. national office. The bicentennial patch reads "Girl Scouts Involved Since 1912." "Girl Scouts have been involved in ecology since their founding in 1912," said Mrs. Wayne Jones, chairman of the En Action day.

There will be booths with troop members actually demonstrating ways they can improve the environment, particularly with recycling. Some of the items to be sold at the event. Other Girl Scouts are doing and studying. Members of the En Action committee in addition to the chairman include Mrs. Bill Hagerman, Mack Courtney, and Mrs. Wallace Birkes.

In addition to the live demonstrations and the exhibits, there will be a series of ecological films run at specified time during the day. Other special features will include a food concession stand to be operated by Cadettes and Seniors.

Exhibits and demonstrations will be judged and ribbons will be awarded for first, second, and third place in three divisions: Brownie, Junior, Cadette Senior.

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED KARPIN

A tendency that is most difficult for many bridge players to overcome is the instinctive urge to capture a king with an ace. As they would explain their actions, were not aces born to capture kings?

While it is true that aces were born to capture kings, nevertheless many situations arise — as in today's deal — in which a king must be permitted to reign for a moment in order to secure a happy future. But, unfortunately for his side, our South declarer didn't see it that way.

Neither side vulnerable. South deals.

South West North East
1♥ 1♠ 2♥ Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠.

West's opening lead of the club king was captured by the board's ace, East dropping the jack of clubs. This play by East denoted possession of the club ten, since in this type of situation, with adjacent high cards, a third-hand defender plays the higher of two honors.

To trick two a low trump was led off the board, South finessing his queen. West captured this lead with the king, and underled his queen of clubs to East's known ten spot. Upon winning the trick, East laid down the eight of spades (West's bid suit). West then took two spade tricks, thus handing declarer a one-trick set.

From the outset, declarer's worry should have been that East would obtain the lead to play a spade through South's K-J. If this could be prevented, declarer would subsequently be able to discard the spade jack on dummy's fourth diamond. Declarer could have accomplished this objective in simple fashion: by allowing West's king of clubs to capture to opening lead.

Whatever West now returned, he could not deprive declarer of his victory. Let's say another club was led, dummy's ace winning. The trump finesse would then be taken, losing to West's king. From here in, all the defenders could make would be West's ace of spades.

But when declarer took the opening club lead with dummy's ace, he sealed his doom, for he thereby created an entry out of East's ten of clubs. Thus he preserved the West-East line of communication, enabling East later to lead a spade through South's K-J.

Service Project Highlights

Members of Pampa Garden Club celebrated the Christmas season recently with a Christmas party and program and a service project. Early in December members made 51 door decorations which they hung on the doors of patients at the Pampa convalescent home. The decorations of decorated felt Christmas trees mounted on burlap were designed by a committee headed by Mrs. Milo Carlson. At the workshop Mrs. Carlton Freeman and Mrs. S.T. Holding led a demonstration on making wreaths, corsages, and tying ribbons. At the traditional club Christmas party and gift exchange Mrs. W.R. Campbell presented a contemporary Christmas story "The Little Christmas." Hostesses for the party were Mmes. V.N. Osborn, Marion Brown, and Thelma Bray. They displayed arrangements depicting Christmas carols. The therapy committee held two workshops with Headstart students at Baker School recently. They planted plants for rooting in terrariums, then later in a work session with 60 students made terrariums for Christmas presents. The next project will be making floral valentines for February.

Monday, Jan. 6, 9:15 a.m., Flame Room, and the program will feature a panel discussion on "Planting Seeds for a More Colorful Garden."

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Stanford University's institute for electronics in medicine has been given a minicomputer system that will increase its capability for research in the application of computers to medical problems.

Institute director Robert L. White said the computer will be used on projects ranging from the study of fetal electrocardiograms to analysis of brainwave patterns associated with schizophrenia.

The $125,000 minicomputer system was donated by Hewlett-Packard Co.

At Wit's End

By ERMA BOMBECK
My son has spoken four words to me all year. One day ss I was separating an egg, the whole thing cracked and slithered to the floor. He looked at me and said, "Way to go, Mom."

My eyes misted. I didn't think he even knew who I was.

I have always been envious of the mothers of children who talk. What an insight they must have into the personality of their child. What good times they must enjoy...the intimate laughter...the first blush of a shared secret.

Our relationship is a lot like the Trials of Nuremberg.

"What's that hanging out of your notebook?"

(Shrug shoulders)

"You're having your school pictures taken tomorrow? And what's this one? An insurance form for football? I didn't know you went out for football. What do you play? WHEN do you play?"

(Grimace)

"Hey, here's one directed to my attention. They need someone to bake cakes for the ox roast. I think I could manage that."

"That's left over from last year."

"Oh, Here's one. Memo to: Revolutionary Troops. Cross Potomac tonight at 7:30 p.m. Bring money. Signed George Washington. Thought I'd toss in a little humor there."

(Sigh)

"Look here. You're having an Open House I think I'll go."

(Moan)

Now, if you think this, at home are painful for he mother of a non-verbal child, you should try enduring an Open House.

No sooner was I in the door than a mother accosted me and asked, "What do you think about Miss Barbie and Mr. Ken in the boiler room? I'm sure your son told you about it, didn't he?"

Then another one approached and said, "I would have known Mr. Brickle just from my son's description, wouldn't you?"

(Lady, I wouldn't have found the building if there hadn't been a Boy Scout in the parking lot.)

Finally, "It's a shame you were too busy to come to the Booster's Meeting. We thought since your son was on the team...

As I was ready to make my exit, my son's teacher put her hand on my arm. "I want to talk about your son's problem," she said.

So! It wasn't me. It was definitely a case of a poor, shy boy who couldn't express himself, so he lived in a world of silence.

"Your son can't seem to keep his mouth shut," she said. "He talks incessantly during the class, shouts out the answers before there are questions and is known to his classmates as 'Elastic Mouth.'"

I confronted my son in the hallway. "Way to go, what's your name," I said.

LAMAR FULL GOSPEL

The story is old, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film THE GOSPEL ROAD to be shown on Tuesday, Dec. 31, at Lamar Full Gospel. The program will begin at 8:30 p.m.

THE GOSPEL ROAD, distributed by World Wide Pictures, was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash, whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way.

The film is a unique blend of scripture-based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs, and a series of in-depth character portrayals.

with Israel itself as the mixing bowl.

You are there, walking beside the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee; you are there, seeing Him in many human situations that establish a practical and personal rapport with every viewer. You are there, being introduced to the disciples, and gaining insights into their varied personalities. You are there, experiencing the highly charged emotional impact of the trial before Pilate, and becoming so personally involved that you feel sympathetic pain when Robert Elfstrom, in an outstanding portrayal of Christ, suffers the physical attack that precedes the Crucifixion.

Adding to the effectiveness of THE GOSPEL ROAD in its endeavor to convey reality for this day are: the fascinating treatment of the Crucifixion, making this tragedy an event of significance that reaches from its own time across the years to take on meaning for all men of all ages; and the songs and background music of Johnny Cash and other outstanding musicians, whose contemporary style is not out of keeping with the story.... a story that reveals that His darkest day has become our brightest.

NEW HOPE BAPTIST

Rev. and Mrs. J.T. Wilson, pastor and wife of New Hope Baptist hosted a dinner for the adults and older youth of the Church Wednesday in the Quivira Room of the Coronado Inn.

The traditional Christmas dinner of turkey, dressing and all the trimmings were served to 42 members of the church. Rev. Wilson gave a prayer of thanks, and Mrs.

Wilson spoke to the group on the importance of fellowship, and stated that this was their way of saying thanks to the New Hope Church family for the working relationship that has been established between pastor and members during the 10 months the church has been in existence. Mrs. Wilson closed the talk with a poem "Everyone Needs Somebody" by Helen Steiner Rice.

Christmas carols were played during the dinner, and pictures were taken of the various church auxiliary groups.

A Christmas tree and Caroling was held for the younger group of the church Sunday.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Pampa Chapel

Edwin Waterbury

Christ is All We Need world has the economy to many, 1974 has not been a good year. Our nation has suffered one of its greatest moral crises in its 200 year history. The business and economic answer to our mounting problems. For this troubled world, we have a message of glorious hope, joy, and peace. That message is bound not by church, denomination, dogma, or creed; but in a person. It is Jesus Christ, the hope of glory.

Think with me of the glories and wonders of this Saviour when He was with His Father in the Heavens from the foundation of time. Yet He left that grand estate to come and identify Himself with fallen, disobedient, and rebellious man. He was to be born in an obscure village, in a smelly little stable, with the poor of the earth in attendance; but, oh, what a gift to all mankind!

It was He whom the prophet Isaiah said "his name shall be called 'Wonderful'." Jesus Christ is still the compliment to all men's needs: He is bread to the spiritually hungry; He is the Water of Life to those who thirst after righteousness; He is rest to the weary, refuse to those in distress, healer to the sick, life to those dead in trespasses and sin.

Jesus is liberty to the captive, friend to the lonely, and peace to the troubled. He is victory to the soldier, riches to the poor in spirit, power to the man who prays, and a great reward to the faithful and both lighthouse and light to those in darkness. He is a harbor for the vessel, weary and storm-tossed on the sea of life, a shelter in the time of storm.

Oh beloved friend, this wonderful God-man, this everliving, ever-loving, everlasting Saviour is all your longing heart needs. His saving power can take a wasted, immoral, and sin-scarred life, transform it into something useful and beautiful to behold. The living Christ can touch your life and truly make life worth living. May you find that He is all you need this Christmas season and throughout 1975.

Consider The Moral Angle

By FATHER LESTER
Copley News Service

Dear Father Lester:
In Iowa a farm family rigged a trap gun and injured a burglar. The burglar sued them and they lost everything they owned in paying off the judgment.

The use of traps or spring guns may be unwise and downright illegal; but should criminals injured by such devices have any recourse against those who used them? The burglar in Iowa clearly profited from his illegal act.

Margaret-Ann M.

Dear Miss M.:
Defense of one's property or person should not be immoderate.

One must not use means that are more harmful than necessary nor means that would do disproportionate harm. He may not, for example, kill the aggressor when a punch would do as well toward stopping the aggression; nor may he intentionally break the aggressor's arm in defense of some trivial thing like a few pounds of apples.

The person who uses immoderate means is correctly liable to punishment by the state. In a sense he himself becomes an aggressor since his victim did nothing to deserve such an attack. Yet his victim who triggered the overreaction through, in this case, a burglary attempt, should not be allowed to profit even indirectly from the attempt at evil — which seemingly he would be allowed to do if he is permitted to sue for punitive damages.

Protestant Unification Apparently Collapsing

By DAVID E. ANDERSON
UPI Religion Writer

The present phase of the ecumenical movement—marked by the second Vatican Council's "Declaration on Ecumenism" and the efforts of nine Protestant denominations in the Consultation on Church Unity to find a way of uniting—is only a little over a decade old.

Already, however, the movement has been accused of collapsing or, by some more kindly critics, of bogging down in talk without any action.

Some of the criticism has even come from those most committed to the movement's goal of unity.

United Methodist delegates to last month's plenary session of the Consultation on Church Union, for example, refused to affirm an effort by members aimed at moving the nine churches toward a mutual recognition of members that membership in a particular church is full participation in the whole people of God.

The Methodist delegates, virtually the only plenary participants to vote against the proposal, said they did so because they were disappointed that the statement did not go far enough.

One of the major architects of the international ecumenical movement, however, has recently given a ringing defense of the movement, in particular the aspect so often criticized—dialogue.

Cardinal Jan Willebrands, president of the Vatican Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity, in this year's Paul Watson Lecture, marking the 10th anniversary of the Second Vatican Council's decree on ecumenism, said dialogue was one of the most important points in the Council's teaching on ecumenism.

There has certainly been no greater change in the relation between the Roman Catholic Church and other churches and communities than the change from a polemical attitude to dialogue, from the prejudice that "the other" is an adversary in the Christian cause to accepting that he is a brother in Christ, Willebrands said.

At the same time, Willebrands noted the frustration of those who express the feeling that this is of little or no importance, that it has come to a standstill or that it is continually paralyzed by measures taken by official authorities.

But he stressed that the church today finds itself in a very different position with regard to divisive issues than it did in the early centuries of the church's formation.

The highest altitude in Connecticut can be found at Mt. Frissell in Salisbury, 2,380 feet.

Minorities want bigger voice

By CLAIRE COX
Copley News Service

San Francisco Theological Seminary, agreed, saying that it takes a person who has had the "red experience" to present the Gospel as a meaningful way to other red men and women.

"No ethnic community can develop a theology without knowing the history and writings of their people," he said, adding that otherwise any theological statement would be merely a rewrite of existing theories.

Vine Deloria Jr. of Golden, Colo., the widely read writer on Indian affairs who is president of the National Institute of Indian Law, told the 11-denomination meeting that it is too late for Indians to seek change through churches.

As for himself, he said he was through speaking to church groups because "they are not willing to deal with such areas as scientific events and ecology."

Delegates to the meeting called on their denominations to find a way to provide information to Indian groups on the conduct of effective young-adult programs. A statement adopted at the meeting said that a significant reason many young adults are "disenfranchised from the life of the church" has been the inability of congregations to conduct a creative ministry for them.

Self-awareness also predominated at an interracial minorities meeting conducted by the National Council of Churches' Commission on Justice and Liberation at Princeton Theological Seminary.

In a sharp departure from the mood of similar gatherings in the 1960s, this meeting was without a spirit of conflict and confrontation. A National Council spokesman saw the sessions as marking a new day in the thinking of minorities and in their relationships to churches.

There were many expressions of strong interest of delegates in one another's work and a general awareness that although each minority group has different roots, they all suffer from similar forms of oppression. They were in general agreement that they needed to join in an effort to define more satisfactory lives for themselves.

It Sims To Me...

By PAUL SIMS Sports Editor

Pampa basketball players resume practices today and, according to Coach Robert McPherson, things are going to get serious from now on.

It isn't that things weren't serious before today. Pampa hasn't really drilled very hard in workouts so far in an attempt to be rested and at high performance when district starts Jan. 24.

For the next few weeks and in the remaining six non-district games, the Harvesters will be polishing their fast-paced offense and perfecting their defensive play.

"We haven't brought them along as fast this year as we have in years past. That's why we're not winning by as much," McPherson said. "Another thing — we have an inexperienced ball club, only three starters back.

"We haven't pushed them as hard but we'll start pushing them now."

McPherson has substituted long, tedious workouts with shorter competitive situations and the result is a team that "has enjoyed basketball," says McPherson. "They probably enjoy it more this year than a team has in the last several years."

"We try to make things competitive. We don't do the same thing every day and we have 'fun' games and 'fun' drills and game situations."

Pampa, 10-2 after its 59-55 loss to Oklahoma City Northwest Classen last Friday, has yet to play Odessa Ector and Permian. Lubbock, Monterey, Liberal, Kan., twice and Monterey again. The Harvesters open 3-AAAA action against Caprock in Amarillo.

It isn't going to be easy for Pampa to close out non-16-2 record, not against opponents like Ector and Permian. Ector is likely the best AAA team in the state, while Permian sports a fine 14-1 mark. Pampa will play those teams Jan. 2 and 3 in Odessa.

Liberal and Monterey are always impressive and should be doubly so when Pampa plays them on the road Jan. 17 and Jan. 7 respectively.

Can't wait to see the Midland newspaper's AAAA basketball ratings when they're released at the start of district play. I've already nominated Pampa for a spot in the state's top 10, and should they win their next six games the nomination will probably put the Harvesters among the state's elite.

The Midland ratings will be carried once a week in The News.

Try these on for size — 1) When was the last time Baylor appeared in a post-season bowl game? 2) What was the name of the bowl and who did the Bears play? 3) Baylor has played in seven bowl games in 25 years. Do you know the Bears' won-lost record in bowl appearances? For the answers, look elsewhere in the column.

Two Baylor Bears — center Joe Johnson and linebacker Derrell Luce — have unusual summer jobs and the two would likely make a good team after graduation. Johnson works in a mortuary helping with embalming and autopsies, while Luce sells cemetery lots.

Elsewhere in the column: 1) The last time Baylor appeared in a bowl game was Dec. 21, 1963, when the Bears edged Louisiana State, 14-7, in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl. 2) Baylor has a 4-3 record in bowl games, owning championships in the following: Dixie Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Gotham Bowl and Bluebonnet Bowl. In the Orange Bowl in 1952 against Georgia Tech, Baylor lost, 17-14.

Defenses To Be Tested In Shrine East-West Tilt

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — There will be no mystery in Saturday's 50th anniversary Shrine East-West football game.

The West, led by quarterbacks Steve Bartkowski, an All America from California, and Jim McMillan of Boise State, will throw and throw and throw.

The East, anchored by quarterbacks Dennis Franklin of Michigan and Fred Solomon of Tampa and backs Walter Payton of Jackson State and Bard Davis of Louisiana State, will run and run and run.

So, the key to success will be the respective defensive units, but under game rules blitzing is not allowed. Where that may lead to is a high-scoring game, and the feeling is that is exactly what the respective selection committees had in mind when they started picking players.

Anyone who knows anything about Franklin and Solomon knows pretty much what we are going to do," said East head coach Bo Schembechler, "and I'm sure they are going to make some holes."

any secrets about our team on Saturday."

The West is favored by a touchdown, mostly because of Bartkowski and McMillan, but the East running game, especially on option-type plays, should offer a happy balance. That's because of big offensive tackles Darryl Carlton of Tampa (6-6, 275) and Al Kravis of Boston College (6-5, 268).

"Those two boys know how to play this game," said Schembechler, "and I'm sure they are going to make some holes."

Louisville Stays Unbeaten After 1st Round Of Classic

United Press International They're as relentless as death and taxes. If one don't pay, then the other will.

Fourth-ranked Louisville continued its victory march Thursday night with Allen Murphy doing the honors in the opening round of the Holiday Classic.

Murphy and Junior Bridgeman have taken turns providing the impetus for the Cardinals' unbeaten record this season and Thursday was Murphy's turn. He responded with 24 points and the Cardinals rolled over Western Kentucky, 107-81.

Bridgeman's modest contribution to the evening's festivities was 15 points.

Louisville will meet Florida State in Saturday's championship final after the Seminoles knocked off 13th-ranked Purdue, 69-66, in the tournament opener.

A balanced scoring attack gained Florida State its sixth victory against two losses, with Greg Grady scoring a team-high 15 points in the raggedly played game. Purdue's John Garrett was the game's top scorer with 19 points.

Tom Boswell jammed the nets for 32 points in South Carolina's easy 113-81 victory over Assumption College in the Ocean State Holiday Basketball Classic. Mike Dunne added 23 points to the Gamecocks' total, while John Grochowalski was high for Assumption with 25.

In the tournament's opening game, freshman Bruce Campbell's twisting layup with 14 seconds left ended a seesaw battle with Holy Cross as 16th-ranked Providence pulled out a 76-75 victory. The game had 27 lead changes and neither team ever led by more than four points. Campbell led Providence with 19 points, while Holy Cross' Joe Reece, 31, was the first staff appointment made by new coach Bud Moore since his appointment Dec. 17. Reece was a fullback at the University of Missouri from 1963 through 1965 and is a native of Springfield, Mo.

Formerly Reece was an assistant at Missouri, Northern Michigan, Southern Illinois and Eastern Carolina.

Carballeirra was the game's high scorer with 23.

In the Far West Classic, ninth-ranked Arizona State defeated Boston College, 81-73, and 14th-ranked Oregon dumped Creighton, 75-64.

Creighton held a 40-36 halftime lead after shooting 51 per cent from the floor, but was held to a miserable 18 per cent in the second half as the Ducks claimed the victory.

In Madison Square Garden's Holiday Festival, Fordham dropped Manhattan, 82-70, and Rutgers topped Seton Hall, 89-81, in the opening round.

Kevin Fallon, despite playing most of the second half with four fouls, hit on 10 of 11 shots in the closing 20 minutes to spark Fordham's victory over its intra-city rival. Fallon finished with 22 points, while teammate Darryl Brown added 21.

Phil Sellers scored 32 points and Mike Dabney 25 to pace the Rutgers' victory. In the Gator Bowl, Marion Hilliard scored 22 points to lead Memphis State a 71-68 victory over Temple and Penn State edged Jacksonville, 75-73.

Wet Peaches For Raiders

ATLANTA (UPI) — The weatherman forecasts rain for the Peach Bowl game Saturday between Vanderbilt and Texas Tech. So, what else is new?

The weather has been the Peach Bowl's toughest opponent since its inception in 1968. Ice, snow, torrential downpour. You name it, the Peach Bowl has had it.

Actually, the weather for Saturday's game probably won't be all that bad. After all, the rain is only expected to be "scattered" and a warming trend is expected to move into the area.

Moving the starting time from 8 p.m. to noon est to accommodate television is bound to help. Even with clear skies, nights in Atlanta at the end of December tend to be on the chilly side.

Latest estimates call for a turnout of 40,000 at 58,800-seat Atlanta Stadium. The game will not be televised live locally but a recast begins in the area at 3 p.m. est, right after the game ends.

The Peach Bowl is better able to cope with inclement weather when it was played on the artificial turf at Georgia Tech's Grant Field. But a hassle over rent moved the game to Atlanta Stadium where the footing gets pretty sloppy when it rains.

Both Vanderbilt, which arrived in town Christmas afternoon, and Texas Tech, which arrived nearly 24 hours later, are practicing at Georgia Tech. They hoped to work out on the natural grass at Tech's old practice field, but Vanderbilt moved to Grant Field Thursday morning because the other field was too wet.

The Peach Bowl ranks with such bowls as the Liberty, Sun and Astro in prestige. Like the others, it has had to wait to see which teams were available after the "big" bowls filled up.

This year, the Peach Bowl grabbed Vanderbilt when the Commodores were 5-2 with four games yet to play and Texas Tech when the Red Raiders were 5-2-1 with three games to go. Vanderbilt wound up 7-3-1, its best record since its only other bowl team (Gator) in 1955, and Texas Tech lost its last two games to wind up 6-4-1 after going 10-1 and winning the Gator Bowl the previous year.

Despite its difficulty in pairing top teams, the Peach Bowl has had some outstanding games. The inaugural Peach Bowl, in 1968, saw Louisiana State outslug Florida State, 31-27, in sleet — and that was the most points scored in a bowl that winter. Yet, that 58 points was topped in 1970 (Arizona State 48, North Carolina 26 in a snowstorm), 1971 (Ole Miss 41, Georgia Tech 18 in a driving rainstorm) and 1972 (North Carolina State 49 West Virginia 13).

"We haven't gotten some of the prestige teams we'd like to have gotten," said Peach Bowl director George Crumley. "But, we owe apologies to no one for most of the games we've put on."

The Peach Bowl has managed to show a profit every year. In its first six years, it paid out more than $1.5 million to its participating teams and cleared better than $200,000 with half of the profits turned over to the Lions' Light House for the Blind.

Saturday's game is expected to be a duel between Vanderbilt's offense which led the Southeastern Conference in total yardage, averaging 415 yards per game, and a Texas Tech defense that gave up more than two touchdowns in only two of 11 games.

High-light of the Vanderbilt season was a 24-10 victory over a Florida team that wound up ranked No. 14 nationally and in the Sugar Bowl. Texas Tech's top game was a 26-3 win over Texas which wound up 10th-ranked and in the Gator Bowl.

The Rockets' defense put the game away in the fourth

Betterson and Voight, who this past season became the first two running backs to ever gain 1,000 yards each while sharing the same position, will carry the Tarheels' 1-2 punch Saturday when they meet

Mississippi State in the 40th annual Sun Bowl.

Game time is 1 p.m. (est). While Betterson and Voight have gained most of the publicity this season, Tarheels coach Bill Dooley thinks it is Oliver who deserves much of the credit for North Carolina's offensive power, which ranked sixth in the nation with an average of 31 points per game.

I doubt if either

Betterson or Voight would have gained over 1,000 yards this season without Oliver up front doing the blocking, said Dooley Thursday after arriving in El Paso. Oliver gained only 162 yards from his fullback slot, as he was used primarily to spring either Betterson or Voight from the Tarheels' power formation.

Oliver also provided excellent blocking for quarterback Chris Kupec, who set an NCAA record by hitting 69.3 per cent of his passes in North Carolina's 7-4 season.

The 6-3 Kupec completed 104 of 150 passes during the season, erasing the old record of 68.7 per cent by Tulsa's Jerry Rhome 10 years ago.

If Mississippi State can stop Betterson and Voight, the Sun Bowl could come down to a duel between Kupec and Mississippi State quarterback Rocky Felker.

Felker this past season led Mississippi State to an 8-3 record, the school's best since 1946 and its first bowl bid in 11 years.

"We have got to get a good game from Felker," Bulldog Coach Bob Tyler said. "We depend more on our quarterback than most teams." Felker, whom Tyler calls the best veer quarterback in the country, led the Southeastern Conference total offense with 1,593 yards, passing for eight touchdowns and running for seven more.

Like North Carolina, Mississippi State thrived on the big play most of the season, averaging 27.4 points per game. Only Orange Bowl bound Alabama shut out the Bulldogs this season.

The two teams were greeted by five inches of snow on their arrival in El Paso Thursday, a rarity in the city that prides itself on the abundance of sunshine it enjoys most of the year. The heavy snowfall hampered workouts planned by Dooley and Tyler, but both coaches said the weather would not alter their game plans.

"You've got to make the best of what you've got," Tyler said. "We had excellent workouts back home and we're ready to play."

North Carolina, hampered by injuries most of the season, will be without starting offensive guard John Frerotte, who stayed home because of the death of his father.

NBA ROUNDUP

Rockets Dump Atlanta Hawks

United Press International Goodbye, Zaid Abdul-Aziz. Hello, Kevin Kunnert. Kunnert, a second-year pro out of Iowa who was drafted by Chicago in the 1973 college player draft, had seen only spot duty during his first year. Traded to Buffalo before last season and then sent to Houston Feb. 1, the 7-foot-1 center averaged only 11 minutes of playing time and 3.6 points per game in his rookie season.

But Abdul-Aziz, formerly known as Don Smith during his seven-year NBA career, had said before the season began this would be his last year in pro basketball and he informed the Rockets by telephone shortly before their game with Atlanta Thursday nights that he was calling it quits.

Houston's loss, however, was Kunnert's gain. The 23-year-old pivotman filled in with 18 points, grabbed 11 rebounds and blocked three shots while alternating with center-forward Steve Hayes as the Rockets drubbed the Hawks, 114-86.

Guard Calvin Murphy led the Rockets with 21 points and Rudy Tomjanovich and Dave Wohl chipped in with 19, while Jim Washington topped the Hawks' scorers with 16 points and Tom Van Arsdale added 15.

The Rockets' defense put the game away in the fourth quarter, holding the Hawks scoreless for the first 7:47. Atlanta managed only five field goals in the final period.

In other NBA contests, Chicago edged Philadelphia, 92-91, Detroit nipped New York, 84-83, Los Angeles defeated Cleveland, 99-89, and Golden State topped Portland, 112-101.

Bulls 92, 76ers 91:

Chicago edged Philadelphia on the strength of Bob Love's 20-foot field goal with 12 seconds left to play for the Bulls' sixth win in their last seven games. Chet Walker led Chicago with 22 points and Love added 20. Billy Cunningham topped the 76ers with 19. The win, raising the Bulls' season mark to only 17-14, put them a game ahead of idle Kansas City-Omaha and kept them 1 1/2 games in front of Detroit in the Midwest Division.

Pistons 84, Knicks 83: Dave Bing's short jump shot from the side with six seconds to play gave Detroit its narrow win over New York, trailing the Knicks their seventh loss in eight games. Bing scored 24 points and Bob Lanier, playing his first game after missing two with a sore left knee, was high for the game with 27 points and 14 rebounds for the Pistons.

Earl Monroe led the Knicks with 24 points.

Lakers 99, Cavaliers 89: Gail Goodrich and Lucius Allen each tossed in 28 points to spark Los Angeles over Cleveland. The Lakers jumped out to a 54-34 halftime lead, but had to hold off a strong second-half rush by the Cavs.

Run Vs. Pass In Fiesta Bowl

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI) — Two widely divergent offensive philosophies clash when Big Eight representative Oklahoma State and Western Athletic Conference champion Brigham Young meet in the fourth Fiesta Bowl Saturday.

The Cowboys ran for 2,378 yards out of the Wishbone in posting a 6-5 season record while the Cougars went to the air for 2,174 yards enroute to a 7-3-1 record, which included winning their last seven games. Oklahoma State gained only 824 yards passing and Brigham Young got 1,410 on the ground.

The offensive matchup could be overshadowed, however, by two teams which ranked among the nation's leaders in defensive statistics.

Oklahoma State was 10th in the country in total defense, allowing 253 yards a game, and 11th in pass defense, giving up an average of 87 yards. Brigham Young, with a defensive line featuring 255-pound senior tackles Paul Linford and Wayne Baker, allowed an average of only 111 yards rushing, fourth best in the nation.

The Cowboys' leading rusher, fullback George Palmer, underwent knee surgery at the end of the season, and Coach Jim Stanley was faced with counting on freshmen Terry Miller and Skip Taylor and senior Leonard Thompson to do much of the ball carrying.

He has not yet announced his starting quarterback, debating among sophomores Charlie Weatherbie and Jimmy Derrick and freshman Scott Burk, who started against Oklahoma in the season finale.

Whichever youngster Stanley selects will face a formidable counterpart in Brigham Young senior Gary Scheide. Scheide averaged 16.5 completions a game, with flanker John Betham his favorite target. He completed 60 per cent of his passes for 23 touchdowns.

The Fiesta Bowl has its fourth straight sellout with 50,000 expected for the 4 p.m. (EST) nationally televised game (CBS). Unseasonably cool temperatures were forecast, with temperatures in the 50s.

Ellender Rejects Texas Tech Job

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Tulane football coach Bennie Ellender, in the second year of a 10-year contract, said he is not interested in an opening at Texas Tech and has decided to remain at his alma mater.

Ellender, 49, removed his name from consideration for the Tech position Thursday night, one week after visiting Lubbock to see about the opening.

"In the best interests of everyone concerned, I am announcing my intentions to stay at Tulane," he said. "I visited Texas Tech and was impressed with the hospitality, sincerity and positive attitude of the representatives of the university."

Ellender, who came to Tulane from Arkansas State in 1971, was criticized for considering the Texas Tech opening during the height of high school recruiting season.

"We still have a big challenge ahead of us and we need to get on with our work if we expect to reach our goal," he said in withdrawing his name.

Ellender, a starting quarterback and tailback at Tulane in 1947, led the Green Wave to a 38 mark in 1971 and a 6-5 record in 1972.

He was given a new 10-year contract in 1973 after leading Tulane to a 9-3 season, including their first win over rival Louisiana State in 25 years.

His squad jumped to a quick start again this year, winning its first five games. But they ended the season with six straight losses.

Blue Room Will Close

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The Fairmont Hotel will close its Blue Room, New Orleans' last reminder of the lavish supper club era, in June, according to the Times-Picayune.

The newspaper said Wednesday the rumored closure of the once-popular night spot had been confirmed by Richard L. Swig of San Francisco, president of Fairmont hotels.

"It was a tough decision," Swig said. "It's true. The losses for the last three years have been exceeding a half-million dollars a year." Dating back to the 1930s, the Blue Room became noted for presenting top name entertainers such as Sophie Tucker, Joe E. Lewis, Jimmy Durante and Ted Lewis, all of whom played there every year.

But Swig said entertainers' salaries had become "exorbitant" and the audiences had gotten smaller.

He said the room would be used for private parties after the closure, and the hotel would upgrade the entertainment in its Fairmont court.

Quality Tops Quantity In '74 Shopping Pattern

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This year's Christmas shopping pattern was to buy fewer, more expensive presents.

"What we're in basically is a buyer's market," said Richard Marcus, president of the prestigious Texas retailer Nieman-Marcus.

A UPI survey taken Christmas Eve backed up his assessment. Sears, Roebuck & Co., the nation's largest retailer, reported a record high of holiday period sales, although fewer units were sold.

A Sears spokesman said pre-Christmas price reductions may have played a factor.

Discount stores such as F. W. Woolworth's Woolco and S. S. Kresge's K-Mart were attracting a shoppers who traditionally patronized department stores.

"From the way some of the people shopping here are dressed, you can tell they have more money than our usual customers," a Woolco spokesman said.

In Chevy Chase, Md., two competing department stores had markedly different shoppers.

Woodward & Lothrop, a department store which offered pre-Christmas price cuts, was doing a brisk business. Across the street in Loin Chevy Chase, Md., two competing department stores had markedly different shoppers.

Army Seeks Nerve Gas Manufacturer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said Wednesday the Army is advertising for manufacturers of deadly binary nerve gas despite the Senate's ratification of the 1925 Geneva Protocol outlawing chemical warfare.

Aspin, member of the House Armed Services Committee and a former Pentagon economic adviser, said in his statement the Army was violating the Defense Appropriation Act which eliminated $5.8 million for the production of this form of chemical warfare.

The Army had no immediate comment on Aspin's charge. Binary nerve gas is produced when two relatively harmless chemical compounds are mixed together. The two agents are delivered in an artillery shell in which the mixing process takes place during flight.

The Senate ratified the protocol Dec. 15 after nearly 50 years of U.S. delay. The treaty was designed to head off recurrence of the gassing that took place during World War I.

Nixon Library Plans Could Be On The Shelf

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Richard Nixon has made no objection to moves by several trustees to dissolve the foundation charged with building a presidential library for him, the Los Angeles Times said Wednesday.

At least eight of the 25 trustees of the Richard M. Nixon Foundation are in favor of giving up plans to build the structure, the Times said.

Only five more votes are needed to get the majority of 13 that would dissolve the foundation.

Although Nixon has no legal control over the foundation, the Times said "those closely associated with the foundation made it clear that a move to dissolve the foundation would not have been made if Mr. Nixon objected."

Patricia Reilly Hitt, former Nixon administration official and vice chairwoman of the board of trustees, said Tuesday she had written the other trustees urging that the foundation be dissolved.

In her letter, Mrs. Hitt, former assistant secretary of Health Education and Welfare, said the foundation's purpose was "the creation and perpetuation of a presidential library and museum for the collection and study of papers and memorabilia of the 37th President of the United States."

"The prospects for being able to carry out that mission in the foreseeable future are unfortunately clouded at this time," she wrote.

When Nixon was pardoned by President Ford, both men agreed that the former chief executive would retain control over his tapes and documents.

The tapes and documents would have been destroyed in 10 years or upon Nixon's death, whichever came first.

However, Congress voted to keep the records under government control.

The foundation currently has a collection of tape recorded reminiscences by those who knew Nixon in the first 30 years of his life.

Soviet Space Is Station Success

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today orbited the unmanned Salyut 4 scientific station in what could be a further effort to smooth the way to a successful space linkup with American "astronauts" next July.

An announcement by the Tass news agency said all Salyut's equipment was functioning normally and ground stations in the Soviet Union as well as a monitoring vessel in the Atlantic Ocean were tracking the laboratory in its earth orbit.

The aim, it said, is "to further test the design, onboard systems and equipment of orbital stations and to conduct scientific and technical studies and experiments in conditions of space flight."

Judging by a reading of previous Soviet experiments, this could indicate a new attempt will be made by cosmonauts to dock with Salyut 4 which the Russians named the "Academician Sergei Korolev."

Afterwards the flight crew said the docking tests were successful.

Konstantin Bushuyev, project director for the joint Soyuz-Apollo mission, indicated there would be no further Soyuz flights in connection with Apollo, but added "This does not mean there will not be any more Soyuz launches before the joint flight."

American Wounded In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Doctors in a two-hour operation today amputated the right leg of a teen-aged Jacksonville, Fla., girl wounded in an Arab guerrilla grenade attack against her tourist bus Sunday. Flowers sent by her Florida boyfriend cheered her.

Prof. Meyer Makin, head of Hadassah Hospital's orthopedic department, described the condition of 16-year-old DeJean Replogle as normal and "as expected after an operation such as this."

Makin, who performed the surgery, said only that he amputated the leg above the knee. He refused to detail the exact location of the amputation though DeJean suffering injuries to her thigh and hip.

She underwent a 15-hour operation Sunday to repair damage to the thigh and a fracture of her right hip, a hospital spokesman said.

The spokesman, Lucien Harris, said DeJean was conscious following surgery and was much cheered by the arrival of Birds of Paradise flowers sent to her from Jacksonville by her boyfriend, Stephen Castilla, 16.

Harris said DeJean asked him from her bed, "How far will my parents be away from me?"

"They will be very close to where you are," he said he replied. The hospital provided her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Replogle, with an apartment in the doctors' residence. "That made her happy," he said.

Harris said DeJean probably would be confined to her bed for "a matter of weeks."

DeJean was with 16 other American pilgrims from the Main Street Baptist Church in Jacksonville on a Christmas tour of the Holy Land when the grenade attack occurred as their tour bus pulled away from the Church of St. Lazarus and Mary in the Arab village of AlAzhar, near Jerusalem. The spot is Biblical Bethany.

The grenade, apparently thrown from a nearby roof overlooking the gravel parking lot of the church, tore two holes in the front of the bus that sent shrapnel searing into DeJean. No other tour members was injured.

The other members of the group returned to Jacksonville today, as scheduled.

Consumer Price Index Shows Costs Soaring

If there's one thing a consumer doesn't need to be told these days, it's that the cost of most items on the household budget has been soaring.

Since 1967, the Consumer Price Index (CPI) — used by the Federal Government to measure the average price change of consumer goods and services — has gone up 51.9 percent.

The Better Business Bureau offers you no great secret on how to combat this inflation, but it does offer a listing of household items that have suffered the greatest price increases in the last seven years.

These items are among those used in calculating the CPI each month. Perhaps in reading over this list you will find some expenses that dominate your own household budget, and which therefore help to explain why your particular budget has gone up as much as it has.

Dried Beans head the list, with their price almost triple what it was in 1967 (up 270.3 percent). That's probably not a big item in your budget, but consider the price increases of these four food staples that come next on the list:

Sugar (up 214.1 percent), rice (up 142.3 percent), salad or cooking oil (up 129.5 percent) and margarine (up 127 percent).

Regarding this last item, by the way, you may have noticed in your favorite store that the price of margarine — once a fraction of the cost of butter — now has reached or even exceeded that of the so-called "higher priced spread." It's no wonder.

While the price of margarine has increased 127 percent since 1967, the price of butter has gone up only 13 percent. Butter, in fact, is 20th on the list of items whose prices have gone up the least since 1967 (more on the others later).

Next on the list of greatest price increases comes an item that is among the largest on many a household budget — heating fuel. The combined prices of heating oil and coal have risen 122.7 percent since 1967. That means that these fuel costs have more than doubled in the last seven years.

Next with price decreases of 3.6 percent and 1.5 percent, respectively, are portable and console television sets. Prices have dropped 0.3 percent in price, while the cost of replacing a television picture tube is up only 2.8 percent.

Liquid center golf balls have gone up only 3.3 percent since 1967. Portable radios are up 3.4 percent.

Consumers especially worried by inflation can find relief in the price change of tranquilizers (prescription tranquilizers), up only 5.1 percent.

Bank service charges for checking accounts are up 5.3 percent. Cream or roll-on deodorants are up 7.4 percent. Liquid tonics (non-prescription) have gone up 8.5 percent in price, and canister vacuum cleaners are up 9.4 percent.

BANK SALARIES

NEW YORK (UPI) — A study by the Don Howard personnel agency shows that salaries of commercial bankers have risen about 10 percent in the past year.
