

Doctor Shortage May Develop Locally

By ANNA BURCHELL
Gray County unlike many Texas areas, has no acute doctor shortage at this time — but unless additional physicians are recruited in the near future the situation could become critical.

This is the opinion of a spokesman for the Top Of Texas Medical Association who explained that several local doctors may retire within the next few years.

However, spokesmen here are quick to say that Pampa and Gray County could use more doctors now.

We have our share of illnesses and quite an elderly population, said one Pampa resident in commending the doctors here for the splendid job they do in keeping up with the current workload.

Locally the ratio of residents to physicians is about 1,300 to 1 statewide the average is 1,000 residents to 1 doctor, according to a recent survey. The national average is one doctor for every 675 residents, according to one official.

One spokesman of the medical profession said the average age of doctors in Gray County and other Panhandle cities is 59 years. With retirement fast approaching for many, the shortage is likely to develop.

In two nearby communities — Canadian and Perryton — the shortage of physicians is more severe, officials say.

Tony Weatherly, administrator of the Hemphill County Hospital in Canadian reported Saturday that after two years of recruitment efforts for two badly needed doctors for that city, they have a commitment from one who will probably set up practice there within the next 18 months.

Negotiations are also under way in an effort to attract a second new doctor, but no definite commitment has been made.

Canadian has a new $100,000 county medical clinic completed and ready for occupancy — if officials are successful in finding doctors to practice there.

One area resident who has spent many hours studying the medical shortage said he is concerned because for the past 10 to 15 years medical schools have created the idea that everyone (medical students) should be a specialist. It seems that the general practice doctor or the general practitioner is a thing of the past.

He added that he foresees no way to immediately end the physician shortage — now one of national concern. However, he said if current legislation becomes law the shortage would eventually lessen.

Physicians and residents alike voice and opinion that Pampa offers the finest medical facilities of its kind anywhere.

Patients requiring specialized medical care are transferred to Amarillo.

A recent bill tentatively approved by the Texas House would make certain that a specific number of medical students agree to practice in rural counties.

The measure sponsored by Rep. Fred Head, a Democrat from Athens, requires 20 percent of each freshman medical class at state-supported universities to sign contracts to practice general or family medicine in a rural county.

A local medical official labeled the Head bill as impractical.

In the first place, he said, it is very difficult for a physician to practice alone in not sold on the bill.

The official explained that the old country doctor is a thing of the past because modern transportation makes it convenient for patients to receive treatment at the nearest medical facility with life-saving equipment ready for use.

One spokesman said Perryton probably has the most severe shortage in this area with four or five doctors available in population area of an estimated 10,000.

Elections are now no more than a plebiscite by which a whole people puts itself in the power of a small gang — Bertrand de Jouvenel

Probers Accuse Government Of Neglecting Welfare Fraud

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Amazed at what they have found so far, congressional investigators say the government is guilty of "fantastic neglect" in its efforts to stop chiseling, cheating and fraud in the nation's welfare programs.

A House subcommittee has been checking the investigative capacity of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, which spends more than one-third of the federal budget — $118.4 billion in fiscal 1976 — on programs that affect virtually every American.

Over the past two weeks, hearings of the House subcommittee on intergovernmental relations and human resources disclosed that:

—HEW has only 13 criminal investigators to watch over Medicare health insurance and social security for the aged, which account for more than 60 percent of its budget.

—HEW has only 10 investigators for all its other 320 programs, including welfare, Medicaid, guaranteed student loans and the Food and Drug Administration.

—Those 10 investigators have about 100 cases of alleged fraud and abuse under or awaiting investigation. A four-year backlog.

—HEW's tiny investigative staff must clear every proposed investigation with the HEW secretary or undersecretary.

The lawmakers have been incredulous at these revelations.

This is a question of fantastic neglect over many, many years, said Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass.

You're kidding yourselves, Congress and the American public to say you have any investigatory capacity, Rep. Elliott H. Levitas, D-Ga., told an HEW representative.

The congressmen are not charging that HEW's programs are rife with fraud, because they simply do not know how widespread it is.

HEW officials testified they don't know either, but agreed there is plenty of potential for undetected dishonesty.

There is a vast potential for fraud and abuse, HEW official John Ottina said of the Medicaid program.

The hearings may resume in the next two weeks.

Subcommittee Chairman L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., has been patient with the HEW witnesses, stressing that neither he nor the panel blames them personally.

But even Fountain lost his cool over the clearance procedure that HEW's security chief Nathan D. Diek must follow to initiate an investigation.

Pampa Choristers Win At Galveston Festival

Pampa High School choral groups made first division ratings Saturday in Galveston at the fifth Sea Arama Marine World Southwest Choral Festival.

Top honors were won by the Men's Glee Club, Girls' Glee Club and the Concert Choir, according to a tired-sounding John Wojcikowski, director, who called the News Saturday night.

It's been a long, hard trip, he said, but we've had a lot of fun and they've proven themselves once more.

The 63 members of the choir on the trip left at 8 a.m. Wednesday for the five-day tour that will conclude with their return about 2 p.m. today.

As soon as we get back on Monday, the director said, we'll begin preparing for the Spring Festival and I hope everyone will come hear these great choirs.

The Spring Festival featuring the choirs of Pampa's schools will begin at 8 p.m. Friday in the Harvester Field House. There will be no admission charge.

One of the stops on the tour was a performance by the choir in the rotunda at the state capitol building in Austin.

We were met by Max Sherman, state senator; Phil Cates, state representative; and a representative from the Governor's office.

Wojcikowski said, We were recognized from the floor of the House of Representatives as being in attendance and presenting the concert.

Unemployment Nears 9 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of persons holding jobs increased in April for the first time in seven months, but because more people were searching for work the unemployment rate rose to a 34-year high of 8.9 percent, according to the Labor Department.

Unemployment has been above 8 percent for four consecutive months and the April rate is the highest since 1941. The April rate was 0.2 percent above the March rate of 8.7 percent.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the number of persons employed in April rose by 237,000 to 84,086,000. But the number unemployed also rose 196,000, reaching 8,176,000.

The jobless count has risen by 3.3 million persons since August, 1974, when large increases in unemployment began the bureau said.

The reason that unemployment went up as well as employment was because 430,000 persons entered the job force in April but little more than half were able to find work.

Increases in joblessness were concentrated in the construction, manufacturing, and transportation and public utility industries and among the blue-collar occupational grouping, according to the department.

Jobless rates of 19.3 percent in construction and 12.2 percent in manufacturing were all-time recorded highs.

The department said the average work week in manufacturing had risen to 29 hours, the best in three months.

Average weekly earnings in non-government and nonmanagement jobs rose slightly in April to $158.51, up 36 cents from March.

During testimony before Congress Thursday, Labor Secretary John T. Dunlop said he did not believe unemployment rates would go much higher but he also predicted that recovery in employment may lag behind recovery in other parts of the economy.

Payroll jobs have declined by 2.6 million since last October's peak level and all but 200,000 of the reduction was in the goods-producing industries, the department said.

Most of the increase in unemployment in April affected adult men whose jobless rate reached 7 percent up from 6.8 percent in March and the highest since July 1958.

The unemployment rate for married men rose from 5.2 percent in March to 5.6 percent

Gray Grand Jury Indicts Pampa, Fritch Youths

A Pampa youth charged with malicious destruction of property at Pampa High School March 29 was indicted Friday by a Gray County Grand Jury.

District Judge Grainger McIlhenny set bond for Rocky Blake Nichols, 19, 705 E. Francis, at $10,000.

The indictment against Nichols was one of seven returned by the grand jury in 31st District Court here Friday afternoon. Dist. Atty. Guy Hardin presented the cases to the judge.

Nichols was allegedly involved in vandalism of the school which caused an estimated $5,000 in damages.

Police reported damage on all four floors of the main building. The report also revealed that windows were broken, food and glass scattered and a soft drink dispenser was broken into and overturned in the teachers lounge.

In other action, the grand jury indicted David Lee Rice, 17, of Fritch on charges of obtaining a controlled substance with a forged prescription from Heard and Jones Drug Store on Feb. 18. His bond was set at $5,000.

Other indictments were returned against Allen Ray Anderson, 20, of 341 Jean, on charges of possession of stolen property, Julian Victor Gaona, 36, 532 S. Reed, for allegedly carrying a concealed weapon on premises where alcoholic beverages are sold, Craig Duane Nokes, 20, 905 Gray, for possession of marijuana and Jackie Franklin Cook, 23, of 325 Jean, for alleged burglary of Gates Valve Shop on Feb. 14.

Hardin said a seventh person was indicted, but since he is not in custody, his name was not released.

Sponsor Blames Budget Not Teacher Pay Raise

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — If the combination of a higher state budget and a school finance bill costing up to $2 billion force an increase in state taxes, the blame should be placed on the budget and not on a teacher pay raise, Rep. Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, contends.

Kubiak, chief sponsor of the school finance bill which raises basic teacher salaries from $6,600 to $10,000 a year, says he will fight to maintain the $10,000 a year pay scale during House debate even though other state officials say the pay raise provision alone will cost taxpayers $1.2 billion over the next two years.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who proposed a $600 million school finance plan which was rejected in favor of Kubiak's proposal by the Public Education Committee, has vowed to veto any tax bill this year, and says legislators will have to stay around the $600 million figure on school finance legislation.

If the governor is concerned, he ought to come in and help keep expenditures down, Kubiak said. If we pass a school finance bill and the appropriation bill runs over the amount available, it will be the bill requiring new taxes, not the school finance bill.

The education committee decision may have placed the lawmakers in a politically tough position. They now must either approve the higher pay scale in a public vote and face the prospect of a tax bill or turn down the teachers' top priority request.

The Texas State Teachers Association, one of the most influential lobby groups in the state, is the chief force behind the $10,000 a year pay scale for beginning teachers.

There's going to be a lot of pressure. The TSTA is going to saturate the state trying to build up the pressure on these members to vote for the $10,000, said Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo.

Refugees Keep Coming

United Press International

The trail to exile for an estimated 120,000 Vietnamese refugees stretched 10,000 miles Saturday as flight after flight of the homeless arrived in America and thousands of others sailed through the South China Sea in ships crammed to the gunwales.

The first plane load of refugees to land in the Deep South was scheduled to arrive at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., Sunday to a welcome toast of Florida orange juice.

Thousands of others were en route to hastily assembled tent cities at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and Fort Chaffee, Ark., where they will join homeless countrymen faced with a bewildering array of red tape.

The 300 refugees headed for Eglin Air Force base had been scheduled to land late Saturday, but their plane was delayed at Guam.

They will be housed in wood floor and frame tents, among scrub pine and palmettos at a remote airstrip on the huge base just miles from the Gulf of Mexico. The camp can accommodate 2,500 persons.

The numbers of known refugees, who escaped South Vietnam jumped Saturday when a Danish freighter radioed that it had picked up 3,000 men, women and children from a sinking Vietnamese freighter and was steaming for Hong Kong under dangerous conditions with food supplies running low. It was expected to arrive at 6 a.m. EDT Sunday.

About 30,000 other refugees were aboard South Vietnamese Navy vessels in the South China Sea.

Another 40,000 were aboard American vessels going to the Subic Bay Naval Station in the Philippines or en route to Guam. About 10,000 of these were helped ashore at Subic Bay Saturday from Navy ships including the helicopter carrier USS Hancock.

In addition, about 40,000 are at staging areas on Guam and Wake Island or at Camp Pendleton and Fort Chaffee.

About 10,000—wives, children and in-laws of Americans or those with American sponsors—have been released to new homes across the country.

The first refugees to arrive at Fort Chaffee Friday received such an open-hearted welcome from Arkansas Gov. David H. Pryor and private citizens that it prompted a call of congratulations from President Ford.

He complimented the people of Arkansas for the best reception given so far for the Vietnamese refugees, Pryor said Saturday.

"...LEST YE BE JUDGED" — Don Cain, Gray County Judge, was one of many Pampa residents who was stopped Friday by city police for a license check. Police Chief Richard Mills said that 160 cars were stopped at check points in the 1000 block of Mary Ellen and the 900 block of Duncan. Tickets for 12 violations were issued, including one for an expired inspection sticker. Mills said other periodic checks will be conducted. Judge Cain's license was proper.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

FEDERAL SPENDING FEARED

Inflation dims optimism

Some economists have complained to the American Society of Newspaper Editors that reporting of economic news is so laced with gloom and doom that it is undermining America's confidence in the future, thus holding back recovery from recession. Almost as they spoke, the nation's newspapers were reporting that housing starts declined again in March, and that the gross national product had dropped by 10.4 per cent in the first quarter, the steepest decline since 1946.

This was not the kind of news an optimist would have hoped for, but newsmen have to tell it like it is. We also would submit that Americans are worried less about the current pace of business as reflected in the economic indicators than they are about the prospects for more inflation in the future. Opinion polls bear out that Americans regard inflation as our No. 1 economic problem, and their confidence in that regard is affected more by the political news than the economic news, particularly what they read about the tax and fiscal policies of the 94th Congress.

Congress has concentrated on efforts to stimulate the economy through tax cuts and other programs even while a consensus was developing that forces were at work within the economy pointing to a turnaround this summer. The decline in housing starts in March does not alter the fact that there is a pent-up demand for housing around the country which can trigger a resurgence in that industry if prices and interest rates can be kept within reasonable range. Despite the first-quarter decline in the GNP, the sold-down inventories in many industries are setting the stage for an increase in production which will reverse that decline.

Readers of economic news thus have grounds for optimism — or would have if Congress were as concerned about inflation as it has been about recession. While we know enough about business cycles to predict that recessions lead inevitably into recovery, we do not know for sure how an economy heading into recovery is going to behave when the government will be borrowing as much as $100 billion to pay its bills. It is the question of whether the inflationary force of such deficit financing will derail our recovery that surely accounts for much of the doubt many Americans still harbor about the immediate future.

Our estimation is that the American people have confidence in themselves and their ability to make their economic system work. We are not so sure about their confidence in the ability of their government to avoid rocking the boat with fiscal policies that aggravate the most serious problem threatening their economic system — inflation.

As breadwinners, consumers, taxpayers and investors, Americans on the whole are sophisticated enough to keep the ups and downs in the economic news in proper perspective. If the news would show that Congress has awakened to the inflationary danger in its own spending policies, then the confidence-index of the American people would surely show an upswing.

Reforming the Record

The Congressional Record is a disgrace to Congress and should be reformed.

The most obvious abuse is the insertion in the printed record of personal reelection campaign material. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass., recently had his entire voting record for 1974 printed in the Record, using 22 pages at a cost of $278 per page. That's $6,116 of the taxpayers' money.

This is a time-honored congressional prerogative but it should be curbed.

More important, the Congressional Record should be purged of extraneous matter including "speeches" never delivered (one by Hale Boggs was printed two days after his death in an Alaskan plane crash), newspaper editorials and articles, press releases and other miscellany. Such items now make the Record a confused collection.

The printed record should be an actual record of oral proceedings in the chamber. All extraneous printed or written matter should be printed, if worth printing, in a separate appendix.

Some bunkum and disorder is indigenous to democracy, can't be helped and may in fact be healthy. But the Congressional Record as now constituted carries this confusion principle to a deplorable extreme.

(Mr. Congressman, please don't reprint this in the Record.)

GAS RATIONING

Senator Weicker's Obsession

By H.C. GORDON
U.S. Industrial Council

During his early career as a novelist, statesman Benjamin Disraeli once invented a character who was a man of great ignorance. He only had one idea in his life — and it was wrong.

Considering the single-minded obstinacy with which he has repeatedly called for federal gas rationing, that description might almost apply to Sen. Lowell Weicker of Connecticut.

Despite the fact gasoline is now readily available, Sen. Weicker nevertheless remains stubbornly determined to put the screws on the American public. Just how far the senator is prepared to go toward this end is evidenced by his recent introduction of what he has grandly termed the Mandatory Energy Conservation Act of 1975 — a bill that resurrects the most extreme measures advocated by him at the height of last winter's Arab oil embargo.

Of particular interest are those sections of the bill which deal with the rationing and allocation of gas. The first section revives the bizarre "no coupon sticker rationing plan" originally proposed by Mr. Weicker last February. Under this plan, every motor vehicle in the country (including motorcycles) would be required to bear a sticker indicating one day a week in which it could not be driven. In the case of individuals owning two or more cars, the head of the Federal Energy Administration would be empowered to further restrict travel so as not to give these persons special advantage over those who own only one automobile.

Leaving aside the obvious drawbacks inherent in this ill-considered proposal, (the inconvenience, the expense, the question of enforcement, and the abusive potential of the broad authority which would be granted to the FEA) it is more than a little disturbing that so drastic a measure as the partial nationalization of private automobiles would be seriously advanced even in a time of chronic shortage — let alone under present conditions.

Equally disturbing is the third section of the bill which would make the Federal Energy Administration responsible for the equal distribution of gasoline supplies. To be sure, shortages, gas lines, and inequalities did develop during the embargo of last year, but since these problems were largely caused by federal controls in the first place, it would appear highly unlikely that further regulation would prevent their recurrence.

Ironically enough, the most striking illustration of federal ineptitude in this respect took place in Sen. Weicker's own state of Connecticut. Initially plagued by an acute gas shortage, the state had petitioned Washington for additional supplies — only to be deluged the following month with an allocation that was 21 million gallons greater than its requirement. According to a Washington Post account of the incident, if state energy officials had not acted promptly to prevent it, gasoline would have been literally "flowing in the streets."

Of course, if so pointed an object lesson as this has failed to shake Sen. Weicker's faith in the ability of big government to solve all our problems, it is unlikely that anything ever will. But this is beside the point. The very fact that Mr. Weicker can still maintain such a discredited stand and not be thereby made an object of public contempt or ridicule is in itself a matter for grave concern. Clearly, the American people owe it to themselves to make plain that there is a limit to the amount of nonsense they will tolerate — even from Congress.

Dad Says:
No Ifs, Ands or Butts

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am 29, and my husband is 33. We are unable to have children of our own and want to adopt, and have our names in at a very reliable adoption agency.

We would prefer a very young infant but are told that it could be a long wait. We have been offered a brother and sister, ages 5 and 6, but friends have told us that we shouldn't consider children who are that old. They say that children of that age are usually emotionally damaged and that we would be looking for trouble. We can easily care for those two and want them.

What is your feeling about this? We trust you.
LOVES CHILDREN

DEAR LOVES: If you are "looking for trouble," you will find it. If you are looking for love, you will find it. Your signature says as much as your letter. Take the brother and sister. No one has a guarantee against having emotionally damaged children, even when they have children "of their own."

DEAR ABBY: I am the oldest of five children. Four years ago, both of my parents smoked about three packs of cigarettes a day. One day my father decided to quit cold turkey. He also proclaimed that my mother was going to quit, too.

Well, my father really quit, but my mother didn't. She said she did, but she used to sneak cigarettes behind everybody's backs. She wasn't fooling Dad. He knew it, but he made all of us policemen, and he was the chief.

We felt bad rattling on Mom, because she sometimes keeps things we do a secret from Dad because he is a violent man and she wants to protect us.

We believe Mom should quit smoking, but we can't do anything about it. We've now sided with Mom because Dad has threatened to send her to her mother if she smokes another cigarette.

We don't want our home broken up. What should we do?
CIGARETTE PROBLEM

DEAR PROBLEM: It's unfair of your father to ask you to inform on your mother. He should know that nicotine is strongly addictive and some smokers can't be cured by nagging or threats. Lay off Mom; she's trying to quit. If she succeeds, it will be her victory over herself, not your dad's — or yours.

DEAR ABBY: Two weeks ago I met a man to whom I was very much attracted. I gave him my phone number, and he said he would call me.

I waited a week, and he didn't call, so I got his phone number and called him. He seemed glad to hear from me, and he asked me out. I had a fabulous time. I gave him my number again to be sure he had it, and he said I'd be hearing from him. Well, it's been a week, and he hasn't called.

I don't like running after a man, but if I wait for his call, he may never call me, and I really want to see him again. How do men feel about women calling them?
IMPATIENT

DEAR IMP: Some men enjoy being pursued, but most do not. I think it's his turn to call you.

THE LIFE of a newspaper editor isn't always what it's cracked up to be.

That is to say, there are times when you wouldn't describe it as a bed of violets. (We know the old saying is "a bed of roses," but clichés bug me — so what's wrong with "a bed of violets"?) A newspaper editor can get in dutch with all kinds of people — like mayors, city managers, policemen, fathers, mothers, husbands, wives, teenagers, sheriffs, doctors, lawyers — on and on ad infinitum.

There are many who hate the editor's insides because of something that has appeared in the newspaper. It could be a news story or an editorial opinion.

Some like to refer to him as a low-down, unclean so-and-so. It seems to make them feel better when they put that kind of black label on the editor. It's like killing two birds with one arrow. They take a poke at his mother at the same time.

In fact, we once had a Texas Railroad Commissioner angrily attack us with a velvet hammer by telling a friend of ours: "Your editor up there in Pampa is a revolving s.o.b."

Asked to explain, the railroad commissioner said: "That's a guy who is an s.o.b. no matter what direction you look at him, from."

The man no longer is a railroad commissioner. He is still alive. If he reads this he will recall that we got a kick out of his revolving joke and forgave him long ago.

ALL OF the foregoing is by way of prefacing something City Manager Mack Wofford read in one of the many trade bulletins that arrive on his desk almost daily. It goes like this:

"Only a short time ago the editor of a paper in Indiana grew tired of being called a liar and announced on Page One that from that date on he would begin telling the truth."

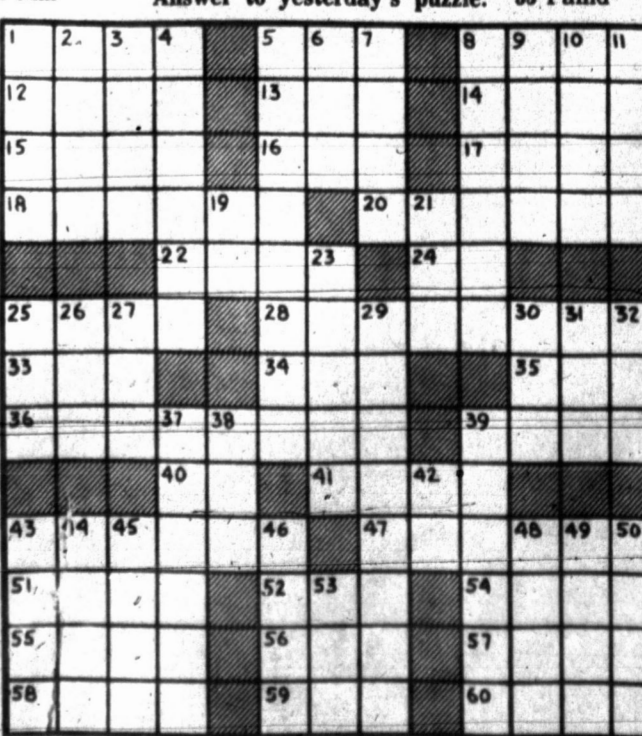

The next issue of the paper carried the following items:

1. John Coyle, local grocery man, is doing a poor business and for good reason. His prices are high, his store is dirty, and his clerks are insolent. How can he expect much?
2. The Rev. John Jones preached Sunday night on "Charity." He'll need all the charity he can get from his congregation because his sermon was so poor.
3. Dave Conkey died at his home here Tuesday night. The doctor called it heart failure, but those who know say that whiskey killed him.
4. Married — Miss Sylvia Rhodes and Jimmy T. Colvins, last Sunday at the Baptist of thine hands.

Refugees Healthy Pediatricians Say

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal health officials and private pediatricians say most of the Vietnamese refugees are in pretty good health despite reports to the contrary.

In separate statements, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the American Academy of Pediatrics indirectly rejected reports that the refugees, including some 2,000 orphans, might be importing serious diseases that threaten public health.

These refugees pose no more of a problem to the health of Americans than the thousands of other travelers who enter this country from the Far East every year, said Dr. Theodore Cooper, assistant secretary of HEW for health. Summarizing the situation as of mid-week, Cooper reported: —Of 33,858 refugees received on Guam, only 80 to 90 were hospitalized, mostly for maternity care, measles, pneumonia and mild diarrhea.

—Of 3,500 persons received on Wake Island, five were hospitalized, the most serious case being a small child with a high fever and convulsions.

—At Camp Pendleton, Calif., there were no hospitalizations among arrivals. "The most serious health problem was a member of the press who broke his arm."

A task force of the American Academy of Pediatrics, reporting on the medical needs of Vietnamese orphans, said "there is no evidence at all of any disease which requires quarantine" nor evidence of any disease of a unique or serious nature which might be introduced into this country.

But the pediatricians did cite 1972 and 1974 surveys of 1,600 families that adopted Asian children, which showed that 83 per cent of these children developed one or more acute illnesses during the first six months in the United States.

Of these, 42 per cent developed diarrhea; 25 per cent suffered persistent ear problems; and 28 per cent contracted upper respiratory infections. Lesser percentages showed signs of shigella, salmonella, virus infection, milk intolerance, skin infections, lice, intestinal flu, hepatitis and infectious mononucleosis.

Viet Refugees Saved From Sinking Vessel

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — A Danish container ship, packed with about 3,000 South Vietnamese refugees picked up from a sinking freighter, sailed Saturday for Hong Kong under "dangerous" conditions, with supplies running low.

Carsten Borch, vice president of A.P. Moeller shipping company, whose 14,000-ton Clara Maersk rescued the Vietnamese Friday after intercepting an SOS, said Capt. Anton Olson "has reported that the situation aboard his ship is abnormal and dangerous."

Borch said the Danish ship had unloaded at Bangkok and was sailing almost empty for the United States when it picked up the refugees from the 600-ton South Vietnamese freighter Truong Son, "somewhere south of the South Vietnam coast. The vessel had sprung a leak and was sinking with water in its holds."

"Everything is under control, but the situation is serious because supplies are running low," Borch said. "The actual loading, as I understand it, was very tricky. Our reports indicate there was some panic."

"With only a crew of 32, the captain had to organize groups among the refugees and set up a security guard to make sure no one smoked. The refugees are everywhere—in the holds and on the deck."

Other groups of refugees have been organized to distribute food and water and take care of sanitation problems. Older women and children who are ill have been given berths. The ship has some blankets, but not enough.

Borch said the Clara Maersk would reach Hong Kong at about 7 p.m. (8 a.m. EDT) Sunday. He said Hong Kong authorities had granted the refugees a temporary permit and various organizations were working on distributing them.

Borch said none of the refugees appeared to be injured, although some were ill. "Two British patrol boats have already left Hong Kong and are on their way to meet them with a doctor, medical supplies and water."

Jack Hightower Thinks Ford Farm Veto Wrong

Congressman Jack Hightower, in a statement issued from his Washington office Friday, said he was sadly disappointed by President Ford's veto of the Emergency Farm Bill.

"We had been hearing rumors of this action for weeks," Hightower said. "But I just could not help but think that the support the bill received in congress would convince Mr. Ford of the desperate situation the farmers in America are facing."

"The bill is directed at an emergency situation just as its title suggests," Hightower said. "Faced with double digit inflation eating away at any return of his investment and effort, the farmer has got to be

Record Shop Suspected Of Selling Much More

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Flying High Enterprises Record Store and Boutique didn't have much of a musical inventory but its large clientele never complained.

Two persons were arrested and charged with delivering marijuana, a felony. Police Friday obtained the names of 307 persons, mostly students at a nearby high school, suspected of buying marijuana at the store and are trying to decide whether to give the names to parents or school officials.

Floyd Watson Attends Bankers Meet

Floyd Watson, president of First National Bank, is in Houston for the 91st annual convention of the Texas Bankers Association which runs through Tuesday.

Gene Edwards, Amarillo banker and president of TBA, estimated between 1,500 and 2,000 bankers will be at the Hyatt Regency Hotel for committee meetings and social activities today and business sessions Monday and Tuesday.

New officers, to be elected Monday forenoon, will be presented at the annual dinner Monday night. Edwards said if custom is followed, and it invariably is, J.B. Wheeler, president of the Hale County State Bank in Plainview, will be the new TBA president.

Juvenile Division Sergeant R. L. Martin said the names were obtained when they arrested two clerks at the shop and found apparently more than records were being sold.

Martin said the names were written on pink punch cards found in the store. The cards allegedly were used in a bonus scheme in which a person who bought 19 half lids of marijuana was awarded a 20th lid free.

Each half lid, which makes about 20-25 marijuana cigarettes, sold for $5, police said. The store's customers carried a punch card which was matched by an identical punch card in the store. After each purchase of a half lid of marijuana, a hole was punched in both the customer's card and in the store's card.

Martin said the store, which had only 15 or 20 records for sale, had been operating for at least two months.

Police investigated for two weeks before arresting Thomas James Branch, 29, and Lenora Robertson, 22. Both are charged with delivering marijuana, a felony.

Branch was being held in city jail without bond. Miss Robertson was held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Mills Tells Kiwanians About Crime Prevention

By TEX DEWEESE
The Pampa police department has only one purpose — protection of the people who live here and those who come to the city as visitors.

That's what Police Chief Richard Mills told Pampa Kiwanians and their guests at the civic club's Friday luncheon in First United Methodist Church.

Speaking on the subject, "Crime Prevention and Citizens' Chief Mills said Pampa has a low crime rate compared to Texas cities of comparable size, but pointed out there are many things citizens can do to cut the rate still lower.

"Don't make it easy for thieves, robbers and burglars to get into your home or business place," Mills said. "Don't invite them to steal from you by leaving doors and windows unlocked and leaving valuable equipment in the yard or on the porch. Never leave keys in your automobile, and when you park be sure to lock the car to prevent theft of articles left inside."

The police chief also invited

Pampans to take advantage of the police department's offer to lend an engraving tool to inscribe driver's license numbers on personal property for identification and recovery.

"It's a free service," Mills said, "and we wish more people would take advantage of it."

The chief said engraved numbers on personal property makes it harder for thieves to operate.

"Thieves are lazy," he said, "and engraved identification numbers remove the temptation to steal anything marked in that manner."

Another service of the Pampa police department, according to Mills, is the protection offered to property owners who leave on vacation.

"If they'll just phone the department and tell us the period of time they are to be gone, a police officer will keep a daily check on the home," he said.

Mills also stated police will be glad to advise with home and business owners on measures that can be taken for better security.

In other business at the Friday luncheon:

The following club officers for the 1975-76 Kiwanis year were elected:

Jeff Anderson, president; John Gattis, vice president; William Kindel, secretary; and Cletus Mitchell, treasurer.

Rick Hayes, Key Club president, announced that the Pampa Key Club won third place trophy at the district convention in Dallas last week for its annual achievement report.

The local Key Club's annual installation banquet is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday in Furr's Cafeteria.

Bud Welsh, 2635 Navajo, was introduced by E.L. Henderson and inducted into membership by J.C. Hopkins, club president.

State To Ask Death In Optician's Trial

HOUSTON (UPI) — Attorneys for an optician facing trial Monday for the Halloween poisoning death of his young son are expected to challenge the legality of the state's plans to ask for the death penalty in the case.

Prosecutor Michael Hinton said he plans to ask for the electric chair for Ronald Clark O'Bryan, 30, if O'Bryan is convicted of the murder.

O'Bryan's attorneys, Marvin Teague and Richard Harrison, have not elaborated on their plans to challenge the capital murder indictment, but are expected to file motions Monday.

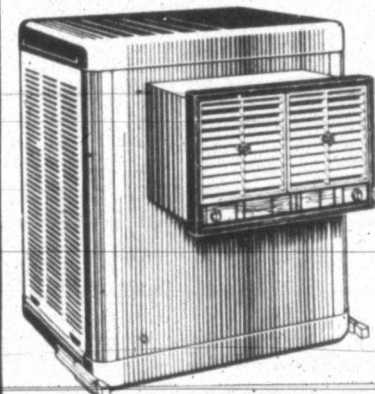

The defense has indicated it may put District Attorney Carol S. Vance on the stand to give testimony on the legality of the statute.

O'Bryan is accused of murdering his son, Timothy, 8, last Halloween to collect $63,000 in life insurance. He allegedly put cyanide granules into candy-filled tubes he gave his son as he took the boy and several other children from house to house.

He is also charged with trying to murder his daughter, Elizabeth, 5, and three neighborhood children who were trick-or-treating with the O'Bryan children.

O'Bryan is being held without bond.

The state is expected to call about 30 witnesses during the trial, including O'Bryan's wife.

Ford Pledges US Power

NORFOLK, VA. (UPI) — Calling military power "the sure guarantor of peace," President Ford Saturday commissioned the world's largest warship and pledged to strengthen America's international commitments in the post-Vietnam period. Ford delivered his pledge during commissioning ceremonies for the USS Nimitz, the nation's second nuclear powered aircraft carrier and the largest warship ever launched. The $692 million carrier was named in honor of Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz, one of the nation's greatest World War II naval heroes, who died in 1966. Ford said Nimitz turned defeat into victory during that war and, in doing so, brought peace to the Pacific.

A 21-gun salute greeted the President and a crowd of 10,000 gave him a warm welcome. The Navy Band played martial music, a fireboat passed by spraying pink and green water, and gaily colored flags fluttered over the four-acre flight deck from bow to stern.

Ford stressed his determination to seek world peace, but added: "Fleet Admiral Nimitz and this fine ship both tell us that controlled strength is the sure guarantor of peace."

"We are strong," he said. "We will continue to be strong. We will keep our commitments and we will remain a great country."

The President's speech appeared designed to blunt fears around the world that, in the wake of Vietnam, the United States might not be a reliable ally.

His only reference to Vietnam, however, was to the role played by U.S. aircraft carriers in the emergency evacuation of Americans and South Vietnamese. He said the five carriers used in the evacuation provided "the most convincing demonstration of their readiness and flexibility in the successful execution of national policy" and made the 20-hour rescue possible.

Ford flew to Norfolk for the commissioning ceremony and returned to Washington almost immediately after a tour of the massive ship.

Loud applause from the crowd interrupted Ford's speech several times.

"The Nimitz joins the fleet at an auspicious moment, when our determination to strengthen our ties with allies across both great oceans and to work for peace and stability around the world requires clear demonstration," Ford said.

He called the carrier "a solid symbol of U.S. strength and resolve—made in America and manned by Americans" and said "to all, this great ship is visible evidence of our commitment to friends and allies and our capability to maintain those commitments."

Recalling his own days as "a lowly lieutenant" on the carrier USS Monterey in World War II, Ford said that "looking back on my own life, one of the things of which I am proudest is that I can say I served under Adm. Nimitz in the Pacific."

The 95,000-ton ship, powered by two nuclear reactors, will have a crew of more than 6,000 and be able to house about 100 tactical aircraft.

Viet Refugees Should Return Says McGovern

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., has called for the voluntary return of most South Vietnamese refugees to Saigon.

In a lecture prepared for delivery to Eastern Illinois University Sunday, McGovern said "America will not turn away those few who might be endangered by a return to their homeland."

"That is more respect for the people than Thieu's army ever demonstrated," McGovern said.

Day in Refugee's Life

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (UPI) — A day in the life of the first Vietnamese refugee camp in the United States—an "Asiatic city" that has sprouted on the California shore—now they have to deal with the fried pork chops. Obviously, they don't like them. What do?

The children? They are everywhere. They peek at you shyly with great, wondering brown eyes through the flaps of the tents that are their homes for now. Others race merrily through the rows of quonset huts in a follow-the-leader game they have invented.

engulfed in the garment. It brushes the ground and her arms are lost far up in the sleeves. Two others are up on a hillside picking yellow spring flowers to brighten their tent.

The three little girls and one small boy sit across the table from their father in the Marine messhall. They are models of decorum. They have scooped up all the rice from their paper plates but gravelly picks up his chop and places it on his father's plate. He has been taught not to waste. The girls look at one another and then, each in turn, put their chops on top of the boy's until there is a stack.

One little girl wears a Marine khaki field jacket. She is at the children and smiles and they all break into giggles.

Three boys have a frisbee and they are sailing it back and forth with overnight skill. Another girl is clapping what may be one of the few hula hoops extant. A photographer motions her to put it over her head. She has no idea what he means.

Hanoi Reports Cong Flag Flies But Little Else

By United Press International

dispatches by Peking's New China news agency, under Hanoi datelines, received in Hong Kong.

French journalists, who disappeared almost a week ago during the fall of Saigon, were still missing. They were identified as Michel Laurent of the Gamma photographic agency and Christian Hoche of the newspaper Le Figaro.

But those who arrive in daytime at El Toro Air Force Base get a brief, tantalizing first look at America on the bus ride from El Toro. They whiz down the eight lane San Diego freeway past orange trees sagging with fruit through the little town of San Juan Capistrano.

Hanoi radio and news reports said Saturday water, electricity and textile plants had resumed operation in conquered South Vietnam and that the first plane flying the Viet Cong's colors had landed in Saigon—the capital the Communists renamed Ho Chi Minh City.

After 35 years of fighting the Japanese, French, Americans and South Vietnamese, victorious Viet Cong troops rode Russian-made tanks and captured U.S. jeeps into Saigon Wednesday to end the war.

A handful of American newsmen, including four UPI men, remained in the capital. The last direct dispatch from UPI's Saigon bureau was Wednesday morning.

They see their first super-market plaza to one side, a luxurious senior citizens development with golf courses and sparkling fountains, a Hilton Hotel.

A wave of 70,000 Vietnamese who fled the country by sea during the dying hours of the war were making their way across the Pacific aboard U.S. and Vietnamese ships Saturday, en route to eventual destinations in the United States.

A New China dispatch said electricity and water supply plants had resumed operating in Da Nang, Ban Me Thuot, Pleiku, Kontum, Nha Trang and the ancient imperial capital at Hue.

A young man who worked for United Press International in Saigon and is now one of the refugees rides around the base with a UPI photographer whose car is a six-year-old Dodge with more than 100,000 miles on it. "What a fine car," he says. In Saigon they are all old.

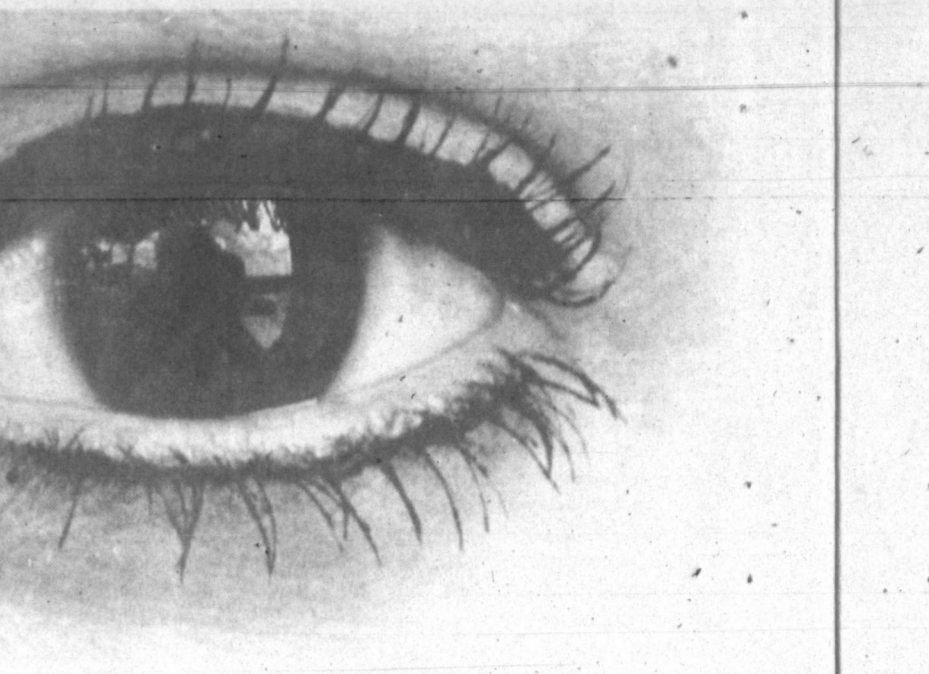

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Herndon, 1920 Williston, announce the arrival of adopted daughter, Ashley Dawn, born Feb. 10, weighing 8 lbs. 1 1/2 ozs. She is also welcomed by a sister.

Pampa Lions Club Sees To City Sight Needs

By THOM MARSHALL

It has a bit of a double meaning when Henry Gruben, president of the Noon Lions Club, says, "The eyes have it," following a vote—especially if the vote has something to do with spending money.

Because often, when the Noon Lions Club, or any one of the many other Lions Clubs of District 27, vote to spend money, "the eyes have it," the eyes of children who need glasses but have parents who can't afford them; and the eyes of people who have sight restored following transplants.

Gruben said that the Noon Lions Club of Pampa spent $1,700 on eyeglasses and eye examinations last year.

District 27 Lions Clubs supported the Hi Plains Eye Bank with $7,500 raised through member Lions donating $2 each.

The Hi Plains Eye Bank is the leading one of eight in the state. There are 6,500 donor cards on file with the Hi Plains organization.

The purpose of the eye bank is to collect human eyes and distribute them to any hospital where a cornea is needed for grafting or a transplant. The eye bank also stores the vitreous fluid for use in retinal detachment operations or transplants.

Floyd Sackett, a former district governor and an eye bank director, said that ham radio operators all over the United States cooperate with the effort of eye banks through what is known as the Eyeball Network.

"At 7 a.m., and at 7 p.m. they all get on the radio," Sackett said. "If any place in the country has eyes available, that information is broadcast. If any place has an emergency need for eyes, or an eye, that is broadcast also."

When eyes become available to the eye banks and they are matched with needs any place in the country, the eyes are flown and operations performed in a matter of hours.

In addition to working with eyes, Pampa's Lions have many other projects that benefit the community.

Gruben said that the Noon Lions Club recently has been assisting with the correction hearing problems of needy school children.

"As a result of Lions paying for an examination," he said, "an infection was discovered in one youngster's ear which could have proven fatal in a few months if the needed operation hadn't been performed."

Another project that gets attention and funds from local Lions is the Crippled Children's Camp near Kerrville. A Pampa youngster was sent to the camp last year by Noon Lions.

Another child attended the Diabetic Camp in the same area, thanks to the club.

During the year there was a Lubbock convention for the deaf and it was important that some of Pampa's non-hearing attend. They didn't have enough money for the trip. The Noon Lions donated $100 and two cars of Pampa deaf people were able to go to the convention.

A local man with a kidney problem needed a dialysis machine. The Lions kicked in $100 of the needed $1200. The rest was made available by other local organizations and the machine was obtained.

"We have also helped the Genesis House," Gruben said. "We're interested in helping Pampa and the big thing is helping kids see and hear."

Childbirth Argument Enters Strike Talks

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Medical authorities caught up in a three-day anesthetists strike against malpractice insurance rates argued Saturday whether childbirth is an emergency.

under the "life or death" standards they have set up to require their presence despite the walkout.

But the administrator of St. Mary's Hospital, Sister Mary Joanne, said "I feel, and I believe that our anesthetists feel, that a childbirth is an emergency."

About 30 hospitals in the San Francisco area were affected by the strike, and six were not.

Some private hospitals referred expectant mothers to public institutions relatively unaffected by the strike.

Many of the striking anesthetists have refused to consider normal childbirths emergencies.

"For a childbirth, a woman would be admitted here because it doesn't require a general anesthetic—usually just a local," Sister Mary Joanne said of St. Mary's Hospital.

The city where the refugees are housed is in a valley circled by low mountains which are barren except for scrub. It is cold overnight with fog and overcast in the mornings. There are no buildings except for the quonset huts and a few military wooden buildings.

But if the mother asks for a spinal anesthetic, I believe the anesthetists would give it. The doctor could do it, but it's preferred that the anesthetist does it," she added.

But those who arrive in daytime at El Toro Air Force Base get a brief, tantalizing first look at America on the bus ride from El Toro. They whiz down the eight lane San Diego freeway past orange trees sagging with fruit through the little town of San Juan Capistrano.

One public institution, the University of California Medical Center, was having a baby boom. Admissions to its obstetrics ward tripled.

They see their first super-market plaza to one side, a luxurious senior citizens development with golf courses and sparkling fountains, a Hilton Hotel.

The Golden Agers will meet for lunch at 11:30 a.m. Monday at Salvation Army Building, Major Chambers, and friend (Ventriquist) will present the program.

A young man who worked for United Press International in Saigon and is now one of the refugees rides around the base with a UPI photographer whose car is a six-year-old Dodge with more than 100,000 miles on it. "What a fine car," he says. In Saigon they are all old.

$692 Million Warship Is Biggest Ever Built

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The Navy's $692-million nuclear aircraft carrier USS Nimitz commissioned by President Ford Saturday, is the biggest ship ever built and can accommodate a crew of 6,286 persons. The nation's second nuclear powered carrier is 1,092 feet long, transports approximately 100 planes, and travels at a speed in excess of 30 knots. The keel was laid seven years ago. Named after World War II Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, the ship displaces 95,000 tons and has a flight deck area of four and a half acres. It is 292 feet wide and can launch four

Highway Projects For Area Okayed

The first phase of three on a multi-million dollar project to complete a 9.7 mile link Interstate Highway 40 in Gray and Donley Counties has been approved for construction. The contract for the first phase to cost $5.4 million is expected to be awarded this month. Excavation and leveling of dirt for the new westbound Interstate lanes will probably start in June. The 1-40 project extends from about one-half mile east of Jericho eastward to one mile west of Alanreed, a total distance of 9.7 miles. This section of U.S. 66, which straddles the Gray-Donley County line, is a four-lane divided roadway. The first phase is expected to require 1 1/2 years to complete. The second phase will involve paving the new westbound lanes and rest area and the third, reconstruction of the eastbound lanes and construction of a rest area on the south side of the highway.

Democrats Will Meet

Members of the newly organized Top O' Texas Democratic Club will meet in regular session at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the County Courtroom of the Gray County Court House.

J.T. Holmes, club president, issued an invitation Saturday to persons of any party affiliation.

"Anyone is invited to our meetings," Holmes said, "whether they are members or not."

Holmes continued, "You often hear people say,

"things are in a mess, but what can we do about it—nothing."

"Well, members of citizens groups that have sprung up throughout the country, such as our club, are not accepting the fact that nothing can be done. Quite the contrary, they feel many things can and must be done."

Holmes said the Top O' Texas Democratic Club is just one of many projects under way among the voting public to participate more effectively in all units and at all levels of government.

"We are just concerned citizens," Holmes said, "and feel that by participating in such organizations we can become more deeply involved, better informed and more influential in the management of public affairs which so directly concern all of our lives."

In inviting public participation, Holmes stressed that interesting and informative discussions make up and the programs on the first Monday of each month.

Congress Reduces Withholding Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you are a married worker with four dependents and a $15,000 annual salary, you probably just got what amounts to a $4.73 weekly raise.

It's because federal income tax withholding was reduced Thursday as a result of the tax cut bill Congress passed in March.

A single person earning $10,000 a year gets an extra $1.44 a week because of the smaller withholding.

It may not seem like much to individuals, but collectively the

Grand Jury Says Prosecute Nonviolent Too

HOUSTON (UPI) — A Harris County grand jury said the district attorney's office is not making enough of an effort to prosecute white collar crimes that do not involve violence.

The grand jury's report said Thursday such cases are not submitted with the same effort used for violent crimes.

The report recommended the district attorney's office spend more time on white collar crime.

The grand jury also recommended police officers receive extra training in handling dangerous situations to avoid unnecessary deaths of suspects.

Jury foreman Gerald Gordon, an attorney, said the panel studied the 32 deaths of suspects slain by officers in the last two years, but found no indictable crimes.

change will increase payroll by $9.3 billion during 1975.

The 10 per cent rebates on 1974 federal income taxes that begin going out in mid-May at the rate of $100 to $200 for most families will contribute another $8.1 billion to consumer income.

Another $1.7 billion in Social Security checks, at $50 each, will be distributed in the next four months.

The total effect will be to add $19.1 billion in income at the consumer level.

Economists will be watching closely what Americans do with the extra money. If they spend it on automobiles, refrigerators, clothing and other durable goods, this should stimulate production and employment and ease the recession.

If people put their bonus dollars in the bank, or use them to pay bills, the tax cut and rebate plan will have a much less salutary effect on the economy.

Some employers may not have gotten new withholding schedules from the government in time for this week's checks. When they do, the lower withholding would be retroactive to May 1.

Black College President Dies after Plea

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Dr. J.J. Seabrook, president emeritus of predominantly black Huston-Tillotson College, collapsed apparently of a heart attack and died Thursday night while telling the city council about blacks' struggle for equality.

Seabrook, 76, was dead on arrival at Brackenridge Hospital. He addressed the council to ask members not to reconsider action they had taken weeks before which designated West 19th Street as Dr. Martin Luther King Boulevard. Council member Dr. Emma Lou Linn administered mouth to mouth resuscitation until emergency medical aid arrived. The council immediately adjourned.

A few minutes before Seabrook's speech, the council voted to reconsider the action and hold public hearings in light of citizen complaints.

Merchants along the street, the main crosstown thoroughfare cutting between the capitol and the University of Texas, complained the name change would be costly.

Final Energy Bill Near

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said today his panel will approve within 10 days a far-reaching energy package aimed at stifling "wasters."

Ullman said the committee is in the "final stages" of work on the bill. The main stumbling block, he said, is whether to clamp a high tax on automobiles that would hit hard against vehicles with low gasoline efficiency.

The Senate Thursday voted 47 to 36 to delay for three months President Ford's plan to end price controls on domestic oil. The plan would eventually hike gas prices about five cents a gallon and encourage motorists to use less fuel.

Ford has delayed his own energy plans with the hope of reaching a compromise agreement with Congress.

Ullman, who was interviewed on the CBS Morning News, said his committee's main goal is to avoid taxing all segments of society and concentrate of excess energy users. "We're trying to tax the wasters," he said.

"This is one of the most difficult problems that we have," Ullman said. "My judgment is that we need to turn Detroit around. Detroit needs to build more efficient automobiles for Americans to use."

Ullman said he hopes the bill will include a "tough program that will, in effect, say that if you don't turn around in three or four years, if you don't begin building more efficient automobiles, then we'll begin a program of taxing your gas guzzlers."

Research Budget Okay

The board of directors of the Muscular Dystrophy Association recently approved a record research budget of $8,119,514 for the national health agency's current fiscal year.

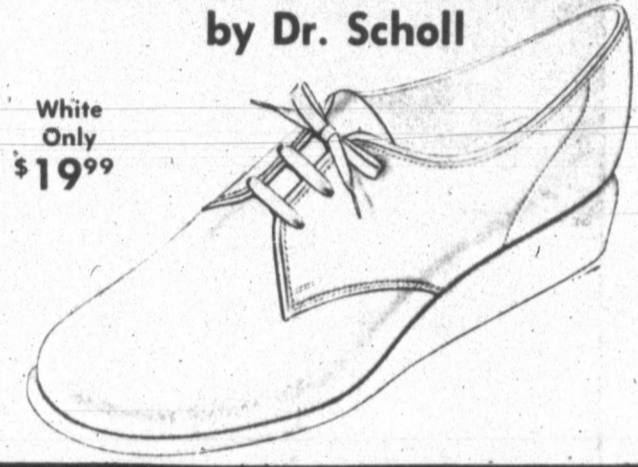

In making the announcement, Mrs. Paula Hungerford, president of the Greater Plains Chapter of MDA, noted that the sum exceeds by $1.2 million the amount budgeted for this purpose during the agency's previous year.

This record-breaking budget for research — the highest in MDA's 25-year history — will permit intensification of our efforts to find causes of and cures for the host of tragic neuromuscular diseases covered by our programs." Mrs. Hungerford added.

Baptist Denounces Speaking In Tongues

DALLAS (UPI) — The pastor of the nation's largest Baptist church has denounced the charismatic renewal's practice of speaking in tongues as "idiotic gibberish" that will never become part of the Baptist doctrine.

Dr. Wallie Amos Criswell recently debated atheist Madelyn Murra O'Hair but declined a challenge to discuss the glossolalia issue with another Texas minister pastor.

Criswell said his challenger, Rev. Marvin Hicks, was a publicity seeker. United Pentecostal clergy and parishioners countered that the Corpus Christi pastor is a Bible scholar.

The United Pentecostal churches, whose theological doctrine incorporates speaking in tongues as one of its most important tenets, purchased space in Dallas newspapers to demand a public discussion or a public apology for the derogatory statements made by Dr. Criswell.

"Why," the newspapers statements asked, "will he have a public discussion with an atheist and refuse to have a public discussion with a Bible scholar?"

Criswell, 66, pastor of the 18,506 member First Baptist Church complex which covers several blocks of prime downtown real estate, scoffed at the uproar.

"I would not think of it," he said of the debate challenge. "He's no Bible scholar. He's just a Pentecostal pastor. He just describes himself as that."

"He manifestly was seeking publicity for what he was doing."

Criswell upset charismatics last month with widely quoted comments made during a meeting of Baptist ministers. He said speaking in tongues was "senseless, idiotic, divisive and hurtful brings disgrace and dishonor to the name of the Lord" and is "gibberish."

Criswell, former president of the 12.5 million Southern Baptist Convention, said in an interview he was "dumbfounded" by the practice.

"If a thing to me is silly, it's just that way," he said. "And this is gibberish without meaning to me."

"Can it have meaning to a Christian?"

"I don't think so, unless he is off balance."

Criswell said: "I've talked to a jillion of them (tongue speakers). It's beyond me. They say they have this infilling from above but I just don't understand it and I don't think it is part of the Christian experience today."

"It's an insane thing to do, according to Paul in the 23rd verse (14th chapter, 1-Corinthians), and that's what I think about it too."

However, charismatics are certain the practice is founded in New Testament scripture.

"This is not only a practice of the Pentecostal church," Rev. Hicks said. "There's not a religion in the world today that has not had this experience by some of its members. Even the Roman Catholics are very active in this."

At the heart of the disagreement is the reason Criswell commented initially on the practice: the movement has reached Baptist churches after integrating and surviving in other denominations. While Criswell said he would not think of debating Hicks publicly, he admitted to a personal desire to discuss the subject.

"I would very much like to do it personally," the silver-haired preacher said. "I would like to present the case against speaking in tongues. I have studied it. I have a deep conviction concerning it. I would like to present it. I have presented it such as that address I made (to Baptist ministers). But I don't want to get into an argument with fellow Christians."

Your-Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, MAY 4 - Your birthday today: Once you pass the cross-currents early in the upcoming year, intuition sets in and guides you to successful adjustments and greater prosperity. Naturally you'll have to work hard to get the best results. Relationships are puzzling at times but generally satisfying. Today's natives are usually intrigued with mystical or metaphysical ideas, always able to tell a good story.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Keep your arrangements simple this Sunday. Many temptations and opportunities for social competition exist on all sides. Be selective or consider staying at home.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Travel is not favored. Pay attention to health care and household conditions. Leave your friends to pursue their own expensive ideas.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: If you've been patient, you'll find those who haven't done much for you lately are more amiably disposed. Try for a better place for yourself, reconcile recent disagreements.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Stick close to home base and rest, making possible a bit of necessary maintenance, greater perspective on belongings and how to improve them.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Social action runs to extremes and is just as well passed up; find relaxation in hobbies and mental pastimes. Someone at a distance is waiting to hear from you, so keep in touch.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Bear in mind how fortunate you are with what you have, and give some thought to the way you are using it. Later hours lend themselves to sensible planning.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Your money gets away all too easily, leaving very little to show for it. Discussion of plans drifts into unrealistic schemes, perhaps dissension. There'll be another time!

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Peace with relatives is easier to keep than to recover today. There's enough to do elsewhere to use up energy if you're restless. Some short journeys are probably necessary.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Make your usual Sunday contribution to your community; pick up a neglected hobby, explain it to others who are interested. Introductions lead to future benefits.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Seek serenity first. External conditions are more easily managed as the day wears on once you face current issues. Be prepared to abide by decisions reached today.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Today finds you at a peak of a personal cycle, good influences going in your favor. Make your wishes and feelings known. Skip any work you can so you aren't distracted.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: The subtle details of home life are more satisfying than casual travel, sightseeing, visits. It's good to know who takes the initiative to come to you and who doesn't.

MONDAY, MAY 5 - Your birthday today: You diverge from previous plans and develop new ideas. Many of them are expedient, although the least likely turn out to be the most productive. Try to avoid unnecessary excitement, casual changes and wasteful habits. Revise relationships and share your personal growth.

Today's natives have a natural gift for salesmanship, travel regularly.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Secret deals attract outside attention. Be alert for sudden action of competitors, but let them make the first move. Health precautions are in order for everyone.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Friends' ideas on money don't fit the actual situation; use your own judgment. File applications for higher position, scholarships or benefits. Family matters strike a balance.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Now is the time to seek technical or medical advice and check for facts rather than speculate. Control your temper until people at least have a chance to get out of your way.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Each member of your group has a great idea that requires financing. Don't move on important financial decisions aside from getting estimates or asking for earned recognition. Travel isn't favored.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: This is no day for haphazard changes of direction or purpose. Have an orthodox plan ready. Look up people who influence matters that interest you. Get them to see things your way.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Let well enough alone in home and work areas until you arrive at an agreement on your goals. Try to reconcile differences before too much is said.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: If you settle on a clearly stated objective early, speak out plainly. You have a better chance of success today. Don't do anything in excess or squander money.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Don't experiment with your finances. Devote some time to going over facts and figures. Include long-time associates in a discussion of a nagging question.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: One word opens the door for six more, and the next thing you know, you've got an argument. Instead of petty bickering, put your energy into striving for higher income.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Competition arises on all sides. Dig in and work to win. Take advantage of a bargain in supplies. Dispose of a neglected chore for good, then take a break.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Make sure your theories are practical. Cash gets away from you all too quickly with little benefit for anyone you like.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Begin early to avoid the rush and do as much as possible before interruptions interfere. With patience you're able to sort everything out to your advantage.

Some serious talk about West Texas gas

By K. B. "Tex" Watson, Pioneer president

Living in the middle of an area known for its abundant gas deposits, it's hard to imagine West Texans threatened by a shortage of natural gas. However, there is the possibility that governmental regulations could create a shortage here. If we are not vigilant, we could see much of our gas supply allocated to other areas. Or we could see price controls make it impractical for producers to drill additional wells in this area. What can the average citizen do to prevent that from happening? I would suggest that he be aware of the problem and support Pioneer's efforts to maintain our gas reserves.

COOKING TIPS
UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Vegetables should be cooked until tender, while preserving the color, shape and food value, says Mrs. Ruth Buck, nutrition specialist at Pennsylvania State University. Mrs. Buck said tenderness may mean different degrees of doneness but that any properly cooked vegetable should retain its original shape. She said texture and nutritive value will be changed if vegetables are soaked in water before cooking or allowed to stand in water after they are cooked. To shorten cooking time, she advises starting the cooking in boiling water.

HOMEMAKERS NEWS

By MRS. ELAINE HOUSTON
County Extension Agent

PLENTIFUL FOOD LIST

The USDA reports beef, potatoes, canned green beans, frozen vegetables and dairy products, dry beans and peas on the plentiful food list. Look for specials and lower prices in grocery stores on these items.

DECORATE SUMMER CLOTHING

Trims and braids are an important part of the 75 spring and summer look. There are several ways to help the homemaker achieve a professional look.

Use thread that matches the trim.

—Mark the exact location for a professional look.

—Use trims compatible with fabric. Permanent press and synthetic trims are available, as well as cotton and rayon.

—Use a light thread tension if applying trim by machine.

—Polyster thread often gives better results since it doesn't shrink when laundered.

—Pin or baste trim in place, working with a full length of trim. This avoids cutting the piece too short.

—If the pattern doesn't call for trim, homesewers can determine yardage necessary by measuring the pattern pieces at the exact location of the trim.

—Add 1/2 yard or more to allow for joinings, curves or corners. It's better to have a few inches left over than to be a few inches short.

LAYERED LOOK

—Subtle layered looks, a plus for extending wardrobes, are still fashionable. Currently leading French and Italian designers are showing tunics and other separates in fall 75 collections.

APPLIQUE AT-SHIRT

This idea was on some literature we received and it seemed like an easy method homemakers might like to try.

Take the front of the T-shirt and draw the picture of the applique such as an apple, tree or sail boat on the WRONG side of the fabric.

Take a large piece of fabric for the applique and place on right side of fabric. Now, use a small zig-zag and stitch on the wrong side of the fabric following the outline drawn. Turn to the right side and clip excess fabric off next to stitching line.

NOTICE FOR BRIDES

Wedding and engagement regulations for publication in The Pampa News are as follows: Pampa News forms are available at the Woman's Department of the paper or may be obtained by sending a stamped addressed envelope. Weddings and engagements will be published according to available space and, therefore, may not appear on the date requested.

To prevent weeping and to form a tight seal for meringue-topped pies, spread meringue on slightly cooled pie filling so that it touches crust around the edge.

Pantsmaker Turns To Cotton

NEW YORK — Haggard Company, the largest slack manufacturer in the country, has introduced a 100 percent cotton fabric into its line of products for the first time since the advent of synthetics.

Through a joint merchandising effort of Cotton Incorporated and Reeves Brothers, Haggard has purchased over 100,000 yards of a 100 per cent cotton brushed sateen woven fabric.

Cotton Incorporated is the fiber company of U.S. cotton producers, with marketing operations in New York City and a research center in Raleigh, N.C. Reeves Brothers is one of the nation's largest manufacturers of cotton fabrics.

The breakthrough with Haggard is an excellent example of how Cotton Incorporated works with its major mill customers to expand markets for cotton, according to J. Nicholas Hahn, vice president for sales.

marketing for Cotton Incorporated.

Haggard, with annual sales of over $125 million, has recently entered the casual wear market. Hahn said: "This awareness of the comfort and attractiveness of cotton should open the door for many of our other important concepts—such as corduroy, Natural Blend, and Press 10-11 apparel."

Haggard's cotton apparel will be marketed under a new division called "Body Works."

FASHIONETTES

Denim is a classic for sportswear, but this season's look is a faded, worn one instead of the traditional deep indigo.

Looking ahead to fall, Bonnie Cashin has designed a fingertip-length mandarin jacket in rare palomino mink for H.B.A. Furs.

At Wit's End

By ERMA BOMBECK

I don't know what to accept as truth out of the pages of history anymore.

The movies have me believing the Pony Express broke their bones carrying Cross - Your - Heart bras to Rhonda Fleming, and television has me convinced we would have won the battle of Saratoga had we not broken for a Supp - Hose commercial and blown our concentration.

Everytime I see those Shell Oil Company squibs on the Bicentennial telling how it was, I get a twinge of panic of how this generation will be interpreted another hundred years from now.

Hopefully, someone will put this column in a hermetically sealed mayonnaise jar so that observers of this country in the year 2075 will know the truth.

"We left the cities in the early 1950s heading toward a vast expanse of undeveloped land...no water, no sewers, no schools, and a three - month wait for phone service.

"But we were plucky. We planted trees and crab grass came up. We planted schools and taxes came up. We planted septic tanks and that wasn't the smartest thing we ever did.

"The adjustments were brutal but friendships sprouted up among the pioneers who shared the same floor plan, the same lamp in the picture window, the same monthly prin, and int. payments, at the same little bank.

"The first winter we lost more than half of the original brave settlers. Several lost their way in cul - de - sacs and winding streets with the same name and couldn't find their way home. Other poor devils perished trying to merge from our exit onto the freeway to the city. One was attacked by a fast - growing evergreen that the builder planted near his front door. (We named a school after him.)

"It was lonely. In the long evenings when the sun went down, these adventurous nomads would sit on their patios and when someone would sneeze eight houses down, the entire band of settlers would yell in unison, 'GESUNDHEIT!'

"March 6, 1968 is a date that will live in infamy. It was the day a washer repairman appeared over the horizon only 12 years after he was called.

PFAA Names Board Members: Presents Artist of the Year

The Pampa Fine Arts Association's Ninth Annual Meeting was held Saturday night, April 26, at the Pampa Country Club. One hundred twenty - five attended the meeting, which was preceded by a buffet dinner. Sue Higdon played dinner music for the occasion.

Dr. Carl Lang, who helped organize the Pampa Fine Arts Association - introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Emilio Caballero of West Texas State University. Dr. Lang had taken art lessons in a class from Dr. Caballero nearly 20 years ago. Dr. Caballero spoke on "Art, an Idea." The theme revolved around "Art Renaissance" and its benefits. Dr. Caballero graciously donated a large, beautiful, framed watercolor picture which was won as a door prize by Jimmy Massa.

The new board of trustees members elected for the coming year were for a three - year term, were Mrs. Ted Alexander, James T. Brown, Mrs. J. B. Maguire, Jr. and Mrs. Delmar Watkins. Mrs. E.H. Brainard II was elected for a two - year term and John R. Reeve for a one - year term.

Mrs. Homer D. Johnson is the only retiring board member. Acknowledgment of her many fine contributions and service as president for two, one - year terms was made. Continual growth and progress were made under her leadership, it was told.

Miss Vicki Carter received the annual scholarship award for the year. She was awarded $250 and was introduced by John Woickowski. The Artist of the Year award was presented to Mrs. Olive Hills by Mrs. Frances Appleby who outlined the many crafts and talents possessed by the winner. A gallery show will be presented in her honor next year.

For the first time, an Honorary Patron Award was presented. This award is in recognition of an outstanding contribution to the purpose of support of the organization. The numerous contributions and tasks undertaken by the first Honorary Patron were elaborated by President Bill Tuke. The award was justifiably given to Ted Gikas.

The retiring President, Bill Tuke, presented his gavel to 1975 - 76 President John Woickowski as the final item of business for the affair.

The membership drive for 1975 - 76 is underway. Members will continue their payment by mailing to the Pampa Fine Arts Association, P.O. Box 818, Pampa, Tx 79065. As the Bicentennial year approaches, activities should accelerate. New members are welcome and solicited. For information, call Lilith Brainard, 665-4579.

Golden Agers View Film

MRS. L.H. NORMAN
More and more people are beginning to realize the fellowship and good times the Golden Agers are having at the weekly meetings at Salvation Army Building.

The film "Angel With Bushy Beard" was shown. With this title everyone wondered what kind of a film it could be. The Angel was William Booth, a retired military man working for the Salvation Army in India. The film was narrated by David Frost a TV personality.

Every day for 15 years Booth cooked food for as many 6000 hungry people. He delivered food to areas where the hungry could not get to the place where the food was cooked. The food was cooked in big tubs and carried to these people.

Most of the people did not have spoons, nothing to eat with but their hands. When night time came Booth was so tired and his feet were so swollen he would have them soaked in water and dressed with medication.

Hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I have just learned the best way to water plants that are buried in pots of soil, without over- and under-watering.

I take a plastic bottle with a narrow neck and cut the bottom out of it. I plant this in my soil upside down!

Then all I do is pour the water in the plastic bottle and it soaks the plant slowly without overwatering. This way, when you water an extremely dry plant, which you forgot about, it won't run over.

Anne Palivoda

Now aren't you the tricky one, my lassie? We all love you for letting us in on your secret.

When I flood a dry plant with water I always take my ice pick (or a pencil, if the plant is big enough) and punch holes in the soil. The bubbles start breaking and the water goes to the bottom of the soil quickly. Aeration, you know?

This way we do not get plant rot near the top of the plant and all those pretty leaves start dying from overwatering.

Also, if you are using plant food, some of it will get to those roots where it really needs to be.

Stop and think about this: The top soil sifts out all the vitamins the roots are supposed to be getting if the plant itself has not been repotted in a long while. Filtering it, I suppose, etc.

So happy stenciling the soil with your old pencil tomorrow.

P.S. I just left all my old pencils in each pot plant so I won't forget next time I water 'em. They don't show among the leaves.

Dear Heloise:

Helping my Grandmother get beans ready for freezing, I saw her use this helpful hint.

She would take one of her plastic freezing bags, put in enough beans for one meal for her and my grandpa and then seal it. There would be enough of the plastic bag left to put more beans in the bag and seal that part too.

And so end up with two meals in one bag!

Cindy Nelson

Dear Heloise:

In this day of so many self-service gas stations, how easy it is to forget the gas cap and leave it lying on the pump or back of the car!

But here's a tip: always take the cap off and put it on the front seat.

If you forget to replace it, at least you haven't lost it.

Joanne Barrs

Dear Heloise:

I have found a quick and safe way to dice hard-boiled eggs for egg salad.

Use a French fry potato cutter. Place over bowl and press hard-boiled egg through the cutter.

My family prefers these finely diced pieces over the too mashed eggs in egg salad.

Sharon Ballew

It works. The egg is cut in a hurry. Much faster than cutting on the egg slicer.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

The other night I discovered a great "mess saver" and wanted to share the idea.

I needed to make a graham cracker crust. So I put the crackers into a gallon-sized plastic bag, let the air out and sealed the bag.

After rolling the crumbs fine, I added the sugar and softened margarine, made sure the bag was closed, then mashed and squashed it all together until it was thoroughly mixed.

Then I dumped it into the pie plate. Out went the bag and all I had to do was press the crumbs into the pan. No mess!

Dating Often Brings Emotional Pressures

COLLEGE STATION—Young people often go through a real emotional strain trying to "cool off" a relationship with a favorite fellow or girl. Roberta Dix, family life education specialist said this week.

Feeling trapped by the relationship or disinterested in the other person are two possible reasons for wanting to end the close dating, the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said. She offered some practical suggestions for dealing with this often difficult situation.

"If you are aware of these feelings but would like to remain friends, try being honest about what you sense as a problem."

"Discuss the difference you observe about the relationship and set a course of action."

"It might just be a time when values, attitudes and goals need to be reexamined so that the relationship can reach a new stage of growth," she said.

Some consequences of an open, honest discussion might be seeing the dating partner more clearly only to find out that there wasn't much common ground anyway.

On the other hand, the relationship might be strengthened. Either state is a change and should help develop good feelings about handling this kind of tender emotional relationship. Miss Dix said.

4♥	Pass	6♥	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♦.

After capturing West's king of diamonds opening lead with his ace, declarer laid down the ace of trumps — and West followed suit with the queen!

"Our declarer happened to be a good player, and he knew that West was also a good player. Hence, from declarer's point of view, he realized that West might have falsecarded from the Q-10 doubleton. But, then, the queen might have been a "true" play, that is, a singleton. Declarer, after some thought, decided that the queen was a singleton.

So declarer next led the spade jack to dummy's queen, after which he played dummy's remaining trump, inserting his nine - spot when East followed with the trump five. West won the trick with his ten. The defenders then cashed two diamond tricks.

Had West played the ten of trumps instead of the queen when declarer led the trump ace, declarer would also have a had a problem as to whether to cash the king next, or to finesse against East for the queen.

Viewing it objectively, the fall of the queen would figure (in real life) to be a singleton more often than the ten would figure to be a singleton. After all, it does take nerve and imagination to toss away the queen from the doubleton Q-10, and not too many players would come up with the play. And further, if the ten - spot were a singleton, then East would have started with the Q-7-5-4, in which case a trump trick would have to be lost even though the finesse against the (presumed) queen would be successful.

Thus I imagine that declarer would have laid down the trump king next — if West had played the ten on the first lead — although the haunting thought would persist in his mind that perhaps West was falsecarding from the doubleton 10-7 or 10-5, trying to talk declarer out of finessing against East for the queen. But they will never know what might have been if West had played the "normal" ten - spot instead of the queen.

Area Expert Talks Vegetables At Annual Gardening Seminar

By THOM MARSHALL
It is important to mulch and prevent an accumulation of salts in the soil if Lake Meredith water is used on a vegetable garden, according to Dr. Roland E. Roberts, area vegetable specialist from Lubbock. Dr. Roberts was in Pampa Tuesday to speak at a gardening seminar at the Courthouse Annex.

He said that a proper mulch serves to keep the soil cool, control weeds, and conserve water. Since it does conserve water, the mulch helps prevent a build-up of salts found in Lake Meredith water, Dr. Roberts said.

The specialist had many tips on growing vegetables for the 30 gardeners present at the meeting.

He said that "growing your own vegetables has become more than just a hobby with the price of vegetables what it is today."

Panhandle gardeners are fortunate, according to Dr. Roberts, because "we live in an environment that lets us grow practically every vegetable that God created. We have good, deep top soils and even fertile sub soils in our area."

In his talk, the expert emphasized proper garden planning.

"You've got to have in mind how much you're going to plant and what you're going to plant," he said. "Think in terms of how much your family uses in a week."

In speaking on varieties of vegetables available to gardeners, Dr. Roberts commended the horticulture geneticists who have developed many bush type squashes and other vegetables suitable for small gardens and containers.

In emphasizing another area of proper planning, Dr. Roberts advised that planting areas be selected according to the maturity of the plants. By laying out the garden in quick, moderate and slow maturing vegetable plots, the gardener will find it easier to till, easier to water, and easier to mulch, he said.

Before starting the garden, Dr. Roberts said a soil sample should be tested so that a proper fertilizer can be selected to eliminate deficiencies.

CONSERVATION AND WILDLIFE — Conservation of soil and water resources go hand-in-hand with good wildlife management. The H.F. Fabian Ranch east of McLean uses shelterbelts to prevent wind erosion and fences these areas to exclude livestock grazing for quail and dove food, nesting and cover. Good grazing management including proper grazing use and a rotational grazing plan are essential for good wildlife habitat on rangeland, according to the Soil Conservation Service. Whenever a range is overgrazed, cover and food for gamebirds will be in short supply. Brush infested pastures may offer cover for quail and prairie chickens, but they offer very little food for wildlife or livestock. Land under a sound conservation plan is more productive for both wildlife and livestock than overgrazed, poorly managed land.

Local Church Services Note Soil Stewards

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's responsibility to protect and conserve soil, water, and other natural resources, begins today. Tony Smitherman, chairman of the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District, announced today.

This year's theme, "Test of Strength," emphasizes "how the many changes now occurring in the nation test our strength and affect our continuing responsibility to be good stewards of the land."

Among the churches in the district that are scheduling special Soil Stewardship services in Pampa are First Baptist, St. Vincent de Paul Catholic, Hobart Baptist, Highland Pentecostal, First Christian, First United Methodist, Calvary Baptist and New Hope Baptist. The churches in McLean participating are the Baptist, United Methodist, and Church of Christ.

Local events scheduled for the week include special sermons and bulletins with Soil Stewardship observances.

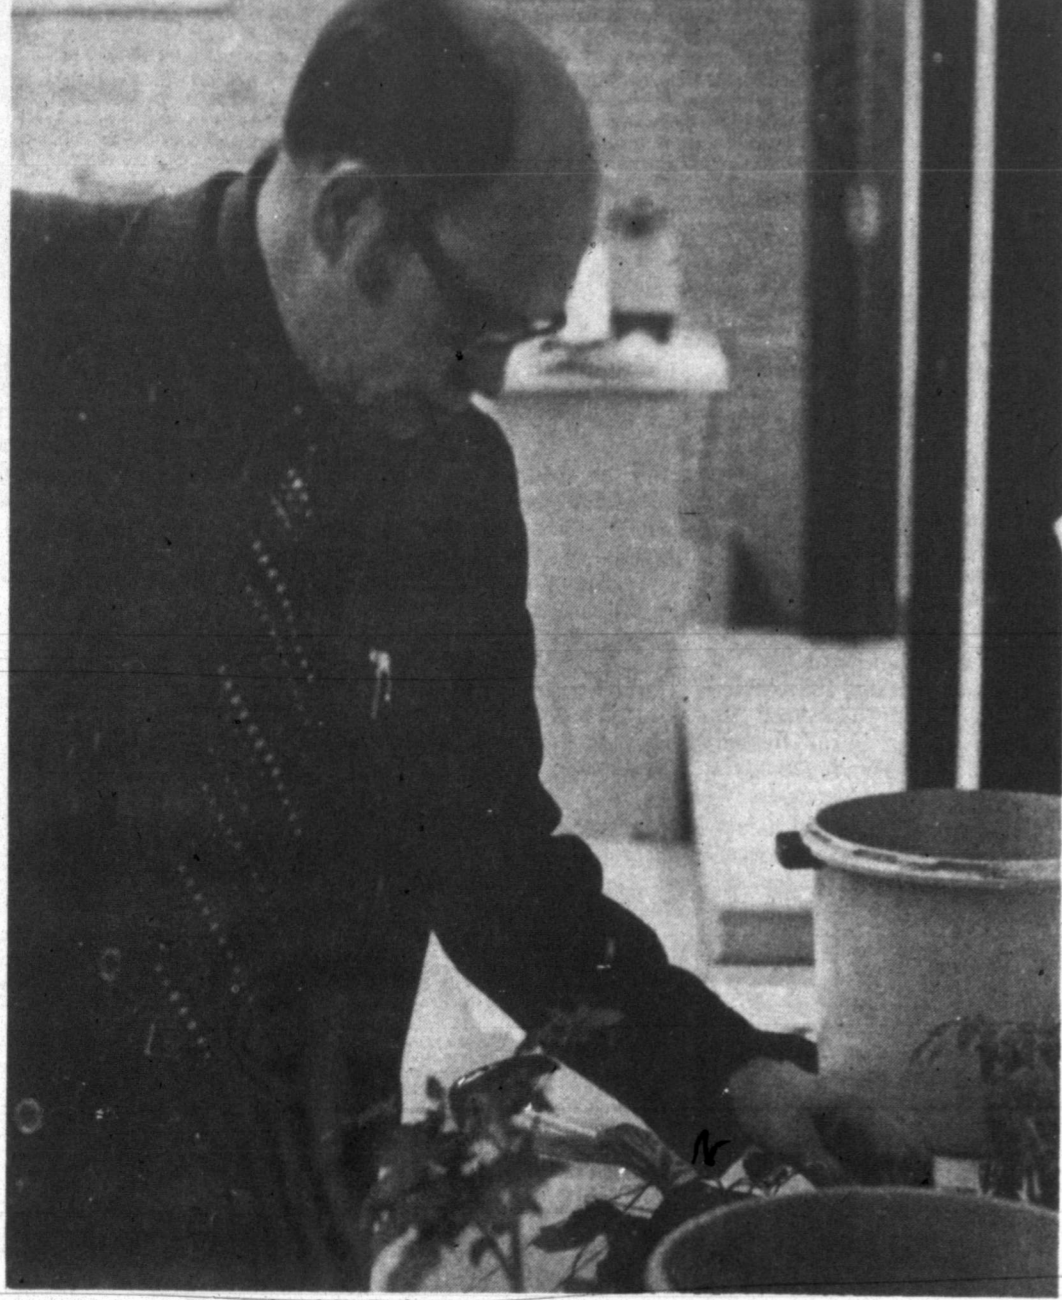

Smitherman cited food and energy shortages, environmental pollution and the growing concern over land use as examples of changes and development affecting the use of America's natural resources.

"We hope," said Mr. Smitherman, "that during Soil Stewardship Week, millions of Americans will pause for a moment to consider their responsibilities for the protection and use of the Lord's earth."

Members of the Gray County Soil Stewardship Committee are Robert Sailor, Smitherman and Milton Carpenter.

The district has provided local churches with programs, bulletins, inserts, and copies of this year's observance booklet. The material was prepared by the National Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee of the National Association of Conservation Districts. The advisory committee is composed of churchmen of different faiths.

This is the twenty first consecutive year that the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District, along with almost 3,000 similar districts throughout the nation, has sponsored Soil Stewardship Week. The custom of setting aside special "Rogation Days" for this purpose began more than 1,500 years ago in France, when French peasants prayed for help after crop failures had brought widespread hunger.

Average US Farm Size Declines

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The average size of the nation's biggest farms is declining as more and more farms crowd into the top size classes, an Agriculture Department report showed today.

The report estimated in 1960, when statisticians counted only 23,000 U.S. farms with annual sales of $100,000 and over, the average size of those farms was 4,529 acres. But by 1973, with an estimated 109,000 units in the $100,000-plus class, the average size dropped to 2,333 acres.

The figures were included in a "Balanced Sheet of the Farming Sector" report which showed continuing growth in the commercial agricultural economy and a continued decline in small farms.

According to the report, farms with annual sales of $20,000 and up grew in number from one-tenth of all farms in 1960 to one-third in 1973. By 1973 when latest available statistics were compiled, the $20,000-plus farms accounted for nearly 90 per cent of all raw farm commodity sales compared with about 50 per cent in 1960.

In addition, the report indicated the $20,000-plus farms had more than 70 per cent of U.S. farm assets, about 75 per cent of the farmland and 77 per cent of the farm debt by 1973. In 1960, the comparable shares were 36 per cent, 40 per cent and 43 per cent.

Economists said part of the escalation of farms into higher sales classes in 1973 was due to inflated crop prices rather than further increases in production volume. But much of the growth in farm size has been "real" in recent years, experts added.

The report showed between 1972 and 1973, the number of farms with sales of $20,000 and up rose to 1,009 million, an increase of 314,000 units. At the same time, the number with sales under $20,000 declined to 1,835 million, a drop of 340,000. Overall farm numbers in 1973 were estimated at 2,844 million compared with 2,870 million in 1972 and 3,963 million in 1960.

Castorbean Leaves US

AUSTIN — Anyone who can recall having to swallow castor oil as a child will remember the important role the bitter liquid played in the upbringing of thousands of Americans.

And today, while the oil of the castorbean is still used in the production of a variety of products, including paints, varnishes, hair oils, and hydraulic fluids, Texas and the U.S. as a whole are getting out of domestic castorbean production.

Farmers on the High Plains, the only area in Texas where castorbeans have been grown, have not indicated intentions to plant any acreage in the castor plant in 1975, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Production of the castorbean, which has never been a popular crop among High Plains farmers, decreased significantly last year, with only 800 acres harvested in 1974 compared to 11,000 a year earlier.

White explained that the high prices commanded by cotton, grain sorghum, and soybeans in 1973 and early 1974 also drew farmers away from producing the relatively poorly priced castorbean.

The U.S. now obtains the majority of its castor oil from South America, where it is both grown and crushed before importation into the country.

The seed sales are coming to an end. If you have seed money or seeds, turn them into your 4-H leader or the County Extension Office as soon as possible. Let's see who gets to go to 4-H Camp and 4-H Congress as a prize for selling the most.

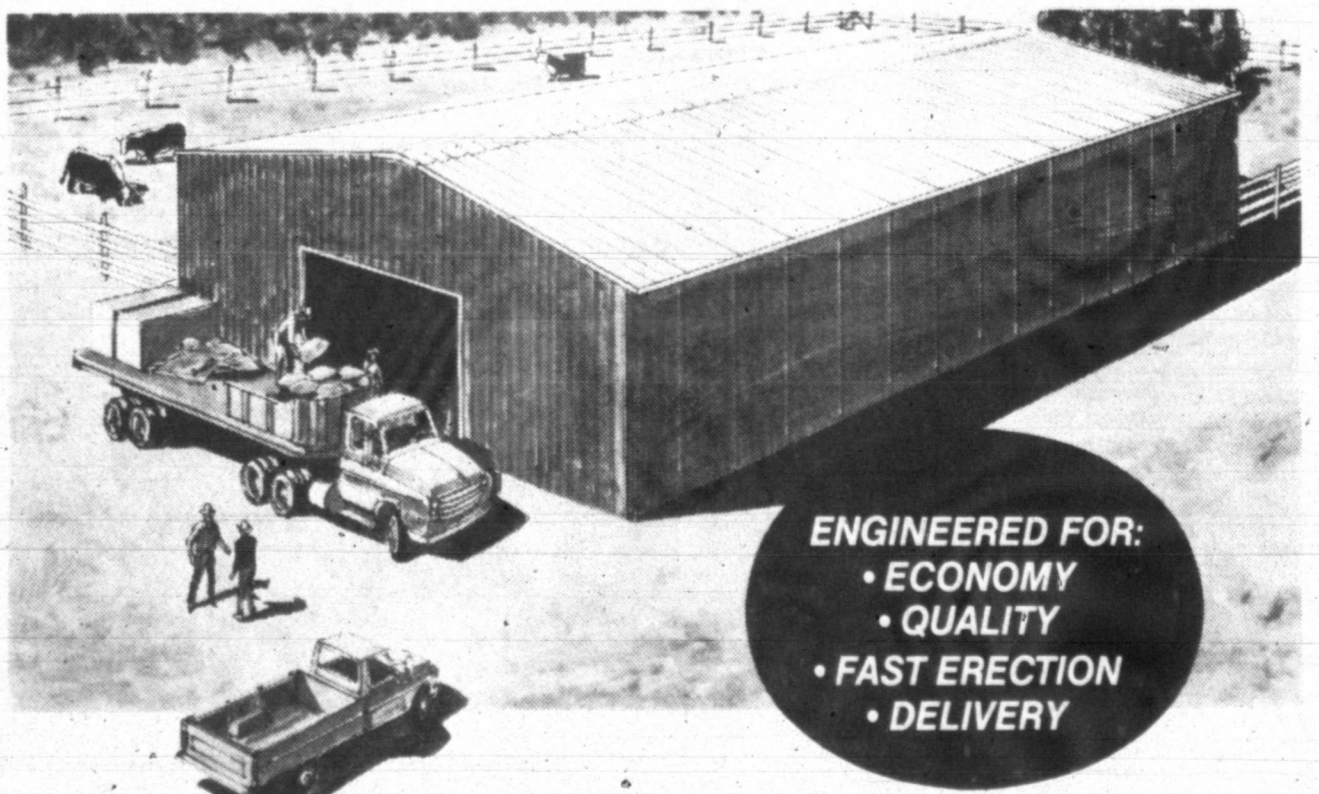

The Dress Revue Committee met to plan this summer's dress revue. June 18 was the date the group chose, so the 4-H'ers will have to get busy just as soon as school is out. Those serving on the Dress Revue Committee are Mrs. Gabe Crossman, Mrs. Clarence Kirby, Mrs. Tom Etheredge, Mrs. Bob Skaggs, Mrs. Ed Brainard, Mrs. Mar Cochran and Mrs. Don Wilson. # Foolish Pleasure Flies To Derby Roses

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Foolish Pleasure, taking advantage of a bumping between Avatar and Diabolo at the eighth pole, breezed by the front-runners Saturday to win the 101st Kentucky Derby in convincing style. John L. Greer's 3-year-old...

Derby history of an estimated 140,000. Foolish Pleasure picked up the $209,600 winner's purse for Greer. The What A Pleasure-Fool Me Not colt, who many experts said could not last the grueling 1 1/2 mile distance of the Derby, was timed in a rather ordinary 2.02 flat.

Frank McMahon's Diabolo and Arthur Seelgson's Avatar, the two California entrants who had the crowd roaring with a stirring duel down the top of the stretch, suddenly bumped at the eighth pole and Foolish Pleasure, almost unnoticed, raced to the lead for a 1 1/2 length victory over Avatar. Diabolo fell back to third.

Diabolo, who ducked back inside after the incident with Master Derby another 2 1/2 lengths back. Foolish Pleasure paid $5.80, $4.40 and $3.60. Avatar returned $9.20 and $5.60, while Diabolo paid $4.40.

considered to be an advantage for the California duo.

Bombay Duck took the lead as expected coming out of the gate, with Avatar in close pursuit and Foolish Pleasure dropping back to the latter half of the pack. After Bombay Duck opened up approximately a two-length lead at the half-mile, Avatar and Diabolo shifted into high gear.

Dons Fall, 2-1

Pampa Grabs 1st Loop Win

By PAUL SIMS Ron Willett's second-inning home run, his first of the season, helped carry Pampa to its first district baseball win of the season, 2-1, over Amarillo Palo Duro Friday at Optimist Park. Pampa, 9-13 for the season, had lost all eight district games prior to Friday's win. Palo Duro dropped to 3-18 overall and 2-7 in district.

Pampa took the lead in the fourth after Tylor Drinnon struck out and Willett singled. Roy Morris reached on an error, then Willett was forced a third on a ground ball by Robbie Harris. Bailey then hit a single up the middle to free Morris.

In other district games Friday, Caprock clinched at least a tie for the 3-AAAA title by clubbing Borger, 16-4, and Amarillo High stayed a game behind the league-leading Longhorns with a 4-2 win over Tascosa.

PD threatened in the seventh as two Dons reached base on Pampa errors. Edwards, however, pitched his way out of the jam, getting Allen to smack a line drive to second baseman Bobby Chance, who threw to Morris at first for the game-ending double play.

Willett hit a one ball, no strike pitch over the right center fence in the bottom of the second with no outs. That tied the game.

"PD's not bad. They're gonna be pretty good next year," White was also happy with Edwards, who had "probably the best game he's pitched all year. I thought his fast ball was really taking off. He probably threw it harder than he has all year long."

Babe Ruth Ends Week

Pampa's Babe Ruth League baseball season got underway last week with eight games being played at Optimist Park. Ford's Body Shop and Grant Supply are leading the race with two wins and no losses.

Edwards, in going the distance, picked up his third win of the season against four losses. The Pampa junior gave up only five hits and one walk while striking out 10.

Other games saw Pampa Hardware beating Ideal Food Store, 13-7, while losing to the Lions Club, 9-2. Pupco won its first game over the Lions, 6-4, and lost its second game to Ideal, 7-5.

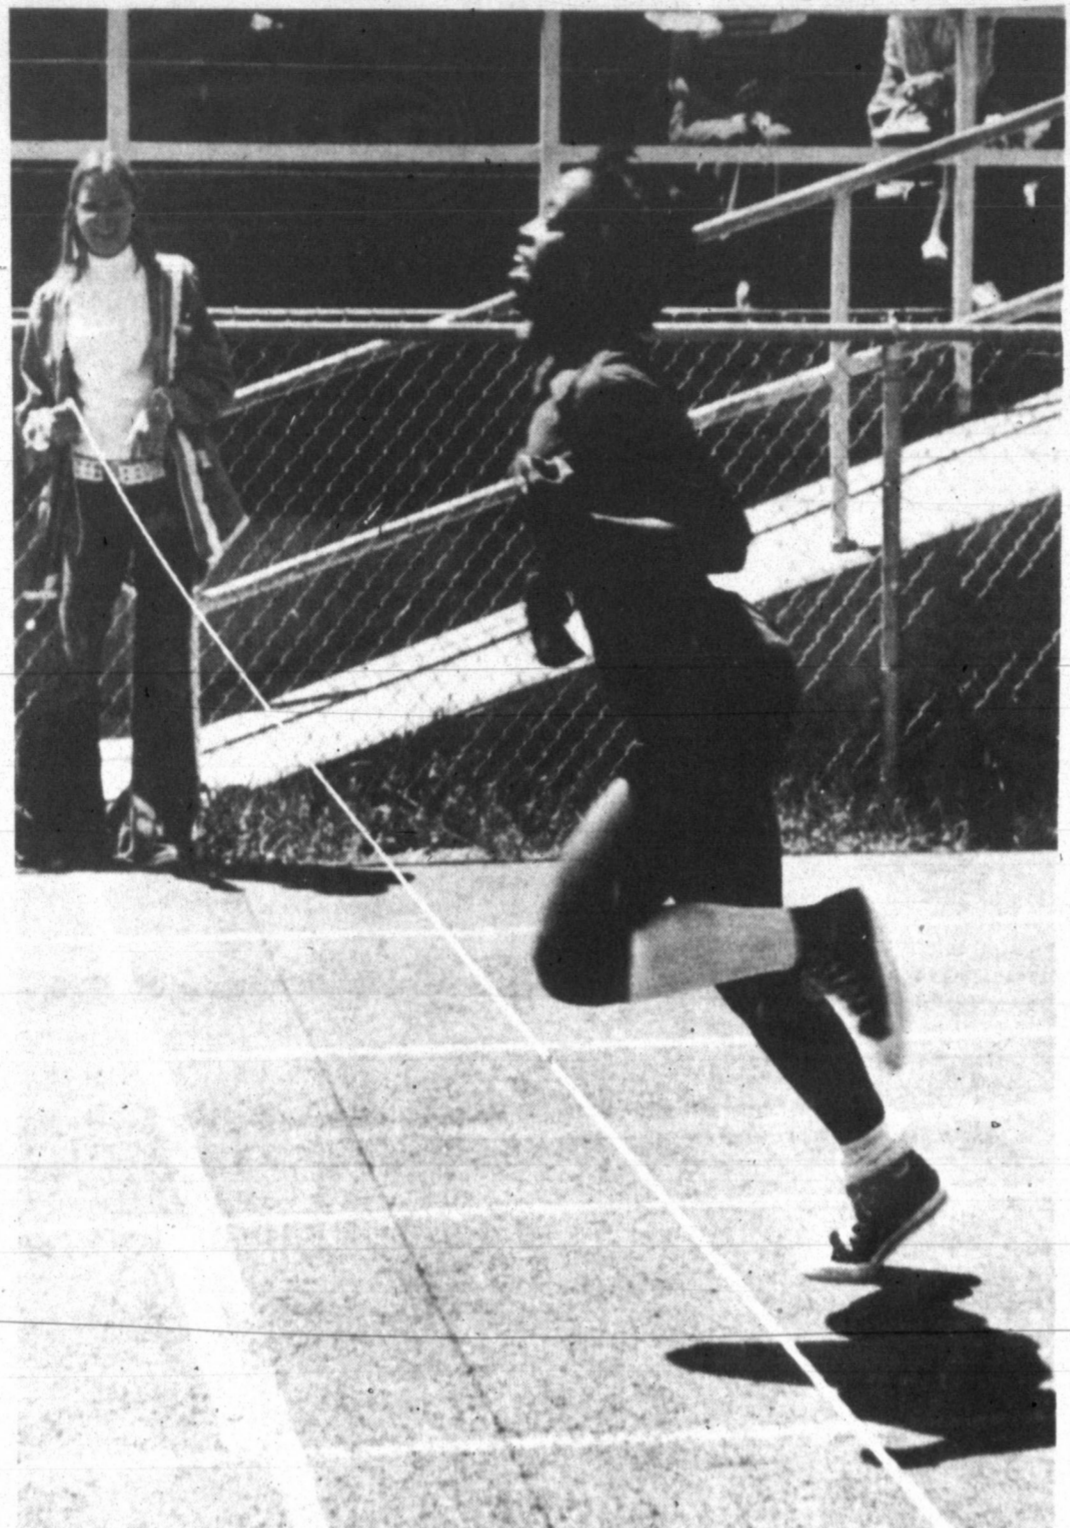

Bill McElduff suffered the loss, his sixth of the year compared to just one win. The Palo Duro starter lasted four and two-thirds innings, giving up five hits, two runs (one earned) and no walks. He whiffed four.

Second week action will get underway tomorrow at 6 p.m. at Optimist Park with Hardware facing Cree, while Bank meet Pupco in the nightcap. Tuesday, Ford's will go against Lions and Grant will meet Ideal. Thursday, Hardware will meet Bank and Pupco will tangle with Cree. There will be no games on Friday this week due to the choir program that night.

Pampa winds up its season Tuesday in a 4 p.m. game against Amarillo High. At 1 p.m. Monday, Pampa and powerful Altus, Okla., will start a make doubleheader at Optimist Park. Sophomores Mike Knutson and either Joe Davis or Curtis Haynes will start for Pampa Monday. Dennis Edmondson is Tuesday's probable pitcher.

There will be no games on Friday this week due to the choir program that night. Saturday, May 10 will mark the official opening of the Optimist Club baseball program with two games being played that day. Grant will meet Lions at 2 p.m., while Ford's and Ideal will tangle at 8 p.m. Those games will be held in conjunction with the special program presented by the Optimist Club. It will be the annual bar b que, which will get underway at 4 p.m. and will follow with ceremonies at Babe Ruth Park where all of the teams, coaches and queens will be presented to the audience.

Linda Cornelius of Fort Paschal, who set a national mark in the long jump Friday, tied Smith for high point honors in AAAA by winning the high jump with 5-11 and placed second in the 440.

WINS HEAT — Verna Caldwell won her heat in the 220 with a 34.1 clocking during the Sam Houston seventh-grade meet Friday in Harvester Stadium. The time was good enough for third place in the event. Both boys and girls competed in the meet.

Ali Opens School

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — When Muhammad Ali hits town, it's like the Marines have landed. The heavyweight champion burst upon the scene in his native city Friday, and his presence all but upstaged the Kentucky Derby, at least for the moment.

Colons' star Artis Gilmore and Ellie Brown, board chairman of the Colons basketball club. But the spotlight was on Ali, as it always seems to be.

The Ali School of Boxing will be at its temporary location on the grounds of the Russell school for about two years before the permanent building housing the school is completed at the Chestnut St. YMCA.

Ali was on hand for a ceremony marking the official opening of the Muhammad Ali School of Boxing at Russell Junior High School in the city's west end, where he grew up. A galaxy of other big names was on hand, including singer Andy Williams, pro football star George Blanda, Kentucky

But the world boxing king disclosed at the ceremony that he plans to box another Louisvillean from the west end, Jimmy Ellis, in an exhibition fight here in the near future. Ali also said he intends to do three or four weeks of training here before his next title fight. Then, with typical clowning flair, the champ got into the ring with a 16-year-old local amateur prospect, Kevin Wooden, and sparred with the youngster bare fisted.

Veteran boxing coach Fred Stoner said the school has some 70 boys and about 40 girls signed up to participate in its program. Stoner said the girls will not be matched against the boys, but will compete among themselves. The Ali School of Boxing was co-founded by Mrs. Brown and Tennessee industrialist John Jay Hooker. Mrs. Brown served as emcee for Friday's program.

Gridders Conclude 1st Week

Pampa High gridsters have been in spring training just three days but head coach John Welborn is becoming increasingly aware of bright spots on next season's team.

For three days of practice, I'm pleased as a whole. The first two days (Wednesday and Thursday) we worked out in pads and had really good practices."

Pampa was supposed to hold an intersquad scrimmage Friday. However, soreness acquired during the first two workouts prevented the scrimmage.

"We wanted to give them a little more time to get loosened up."

Phil Pirkle, offensive line starter, should be real good. He weights 190 or 195 pounds. Dub Taylor and Mark Adair probably can be starting on the other side.

Dunnam, who has been working with state qualifier Howie Lewis (hurdles), has had some opportunity to coach offensive backs. Dunnam, too, is optimistic about the upcoming season.

"We have three real good backs — Ricky Moore, David Caldwell and Mike Glover. Ricky is more of a power-type runner than probably the other two. Glover has real good speed, real good moves — a real good broken field runner — Caldwell has been looking good."

Coaches Curtis Didway and Bill Balcomb were not available for a report.

Second week workouts start at 2:30 p.m. Monday.

Welborn, besides his head coaching duties, works with the team's quarterbacks. Presently, he is also working with receivers and offensive backs since coaches Ronnie White and Scott Dunnam are still involved with other sport (baseball and track).

The key to Pampa's quarterbacking situation this season will be replacing Chuck Quarles. "I think anytime you have good senior leaders you lose, you miss it (leadership) temporarily."

It is expected either John Agan, Garland McPherson or Mike Martin will be able to provide the offensive spark next season.

Other coaches are as content with the first week's practices as Welborn.

Lou Allred, secondary. "I think our secondary is in pretty good shape. It's kind of hard to say right now how good they'll be but size-wise, they'll probably be a little bit bigger. We might lack some of the speed we had back there last year."

Jim Morgan, defensive ends. "As far as how good we are, we haven't worked that much with them. Kelly Baker (returning

Indy Speedway Starts Practices

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The Indianapolis Motor Speedway threw open its doors for practice Saturday, and a flurry of activity was expected between now and next weekend's first round of time trials for the 500-mile race on May 25.

Rain threatened to disrupt Saturday's first practice session, although forecasts called for clearing conditions later in the day.

The 2½-mile oval was pronounced fit by Speedway Superintendent Clarence Cagle, but as a precaution, the traditional speed limit was in effect as the circuit opened.

Chief track steward Tom Binford said the initial speed limit of 180 miles per hour probably would be lifted later today.

This year's race has drawn 61 entries competing for the 33 starting berths which go to the fastest qualifiers. Already, by Friday, 25 machines were housed in Gasline Alley and nine of these had passed the U.S. Auto Club's technical inspection.

Six former champs are in this year's field. Of these, only Gordon Johncock had a racer among the earlier arrivals at the famed oval.

Texan A. J. Foyt loomed as the early favorite for this year's classic. He's out after a record fourth Indianapolis "500" crown and comes here in the wake of his California "500" victory in March.

Other ex-Indianapolis kings in the field included brothers Bob and Al Unser, Mario Andretti and defending champ Johnny Rutherford.

About half the cars entered already have drivers assigned to them, and this year's driver corps includes 10 rookies.

HARVESTER PRETZEL — Three Pampa High footballers get tangled on a play in Thursday's afternoon workout in Harvester Stadium. Pampa gridsters held an intersquad scrimmage Friday and will resume spring training Monday. Workouts will conclude Tuesday, May 20 with a varsity alumni game.

EDGES HOWIE — Kirby Daniels of Panhandle (left) nipped Pampa's Howie Lewis, 14.15 to 14.2 in the 120-yard high hurdles Thursday during an exhibition run in Harvester Stadium. Lewis beat Daniels, 38.4 to 38.45 in the 330 intermediates. The pair is expected to place high in state track meet Friday and Saturday in Ausitn. Daniels will compete in Class A's division; Lewis in AAAA.

Aussie Passes Trevino In Houston Tournament

HOUSTON (UPI) — Bruce Crampton, shooting his first PGA win in almost two years, fired a six under par 66 Saturday to pass faltering Lee Trevino and grab a one stroke lead over Dr. Gil Morgan in the $150,000 Houston Open.

Crampton gathered seven birdies including three on putts of 6-, 15-, and 8-feet in the first three holes to make his move toward winning the Houston event for the second time in three years and his fourth win in the Australian's adopted home state.

"I like it here because it's warm and humid," Crampton said. "I like the Texas people, too."

Morgan, 28, a far-sighted optometrist from Wewoka, Okla. who said he needs to work on his own eyesight, did not need help on his swing, firing one of two Saturday 67s to put him two strokes ahead of six-year pro John Schroeder.

Trevino, the first and second day leader, struggled to a one over round and fell four strokes off the pace.

"I shot a 73, and I'll tell you that it was a hell of a 73. Don't ask me why," Trevino said. He was tied at eight under 208 with Floridian Eddie Pearce.

Five strokes back of Crampton were Joe Inman, Larry Nelson and Roger Maltbie.

Crampton's 66 followed rounds of 68 and 70, both of which he said he was not satisfied with. The usually dry Crampton changed his tune Saturday when asked to describe how he played the par 4 No. 12 on which he found two traps.

Pampa Miss Wins First For Poster in State

By ANNA BURCHELL
A pretty brown-eyed Pampa student took first place honors in the state garden club poster contest.

The winner, Mike Wilkinson, a sixth grade student at Austin Elementary School, received a $10 check from Mrs. Rue Hestand, chairman of the youth communications committee of the Pampa Garden Club.

Mike is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Wilkinson, who live three miles southeast of Pampa.

Mike took city and district honors with her poster prior to the state award.

The poster entitled "Trees Today For Life Tomorrow" featured a tree with inserts of wildlife, housing, food, air, beauty, recreation, lumber and industry.

When the announcement came that Mike had won first place, she smiled told how much she enjoyed the outdoors and the beauty of Mother Nature.

The poster contest is one of many in which Mike has been named winner recently including the 4-H cooking contest both in Pampa and in Amarillo.

She took second place honors in the swine division of the Gray County Stock Show, and placed first in her 4-H demonstration on how to plant a cacti terrarium.

Mrs. James Malone, former president of the Pampa Garden Club, one of the judges in the contest told Mrs. Hestand that when Mike's poster arrived judges were of the opinion it would be a winner. However, they did not know from what city it came nor who its author might be. Mike enjoys her membership in riding club and likes snow and water skiing.

Asked about future plans, Mike said: "When I was little I wanted to be a veterinarian... but that desire is not so strong as it once was."

STATE WINNER — A poster, "Trees Today for Live Tomorrow," submitted by an Austin Elementary School student took first place honors in the state garden club poster contest. The poster's author, Mike Wilkinson, 12, received a $10 check in recognition of her work. It was presented by Mrs. Rue Hestand, chairman of the youth communications activities of the Pampa Garden Club.

Police Follow Bloody Trail After Rustler

HOUSTON (UPI) — Police officers perfecting skills used in the Old West followed a trail of blood to the scene of a grisly crime and got their man — a cattle rustler.

Officers W.G. Jackson and James Kerr, investigating the theft of a steer Thursday, found its discarded hooves, head and hide in an apartment complex trash bin. From there they followed the blood back to a vacant apartment where the animal allegedly was butchered.

Peter Nathaniel Smith, 20, was charged with theft of cattle. Bond was set at $10,000.

Gulf Admits to Pressuring

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gulf Oil Corp. of Pittsburgh has admitted in secret testimony to the Securities and Exchange Commission that it paid $4 million in "contributions" under pressure to politicians in a foreign country in order to be allowed to continue doing business there, the Wall Street Journal said Friday.

The country was not identified in the Journal dispatch. The disclosure to the SEC was said to have been made by Gulf Chairman B.R. Dorsey in explaining certain outlays which the SEC had questioned in Gulf's financial statements. The article said Dorsey also told in the secret testimony of another occasion on which Gulf had to pay $200,000 to a politician in a country where it had invested $150 million in order to get the necessary permits to start actual operations.

Dorsey is said to have told the SEC that international companies by necessity operate in many countries — at the "sufferance" of the host governments, and he said he feared that disclosure of the details of the payment and the identity of the country would jeopardize Gulf's $700 million investment there.

The SEC had accused Gulf in a suit filed March 11 of failing to account for foreign disbursements totalling $4.9 million and it said Gulf has admitted making $10.3 million in illegal domestic political contributions.

In Pittsburgh, a Gulf spokesman would neither confirm nor deny the reported payoff.

"We wouldn't want to confirm or deny," the report said, William R. Cox, director of public relations for Gulf.
