City Must Pay $500 Damages to Miss Della Todd, Jury Decides Saturday In Lengthy Civil Case

Judgment of $500 for the plaintiff, Della Todd, was found by the jury early Saturday morning in the damage suit against the City of Pampa. Miss Todd had asked $35,000.

This ended a suit which required an entire week to hear. In the previous suit judgment of $1,500 was returned. A re-trial was asked, both sides joining in the motion, and the suit was set for June 22.

By its verdict the jury found the city responsible for leaving an open ditch across Barnes street at the intersection with South Cuyler, and the fixing of the damages involved rested upon conflicting evidence as to the extent of the injuries sustained by Miss Todd and the measure of responsibility or irresponsibility on the part of L. G. Lunsford, driver of the Ford coupe which overturned on May 25, 1927. Miss Mickey Todd, sister of Della, was killed at the time, and her parents, who live at Shamrock, are suing the city for $35,000. Lunsford and Leo Parker, companions of the girls, have small suits pending in connection with minor injuries and expenses incurred by themselves.

First Wheat Is Sold From John Haggard's Farm

Pampa received its first truck load of wheat at noon yesterday. The wheat was grown on the John Haggard farm one mile southwest of Pampa, and was sold to the Stark and McMillen Grain company at $1.12 a bushel. The grain was wet, reducing the test to 65. It was stated at the elevator that the wheat when dry will easily test 61.

According to information given at the elevator, Mr. Haggard has three or four hundred acres which, gauging from the amount already cut, will produce about 26 bushels an acre. It is said, however, that the wheat in that locality is considered the best in the Pampa trade territory, and is far above the average crop.

Site for West Ward School Is Bought by Board

Fourteen lots of Block 2, Cole addition, have been purchased from Dr. A. Cole as the site for the west ward school, a building which will be erected soon.

Purchase of the east ward site on twelve lots of Block 1, Sloan addition, was announced some time ago.

A contract will be let Tuesday on the two eight-room ward buildings and the gymnasium-auditorium, the latter to be placed on the central campus.

Miss Fannie Florence Sims of Clarendon was employed to teach history in Central high school, and Miss Ruby Speed, former student of Clarendon college, to teach at Hoover.

FAIR BOARD TO STRESS FARM IMPROVEMENT

TWO POULTRY SHOWS, PLANS

Feeding of Row Crops Believed Vital in Gray County

Working under the inspiration given by hopes of aiding in the ultimate high development of the agriculture, livestock, and poultry industries, the fair board, committee members, and other Pampa fair officials are striving to put on a solid working basis a permanent fair organization to serve not only Gray county but neighboring counties and towns.

Likely it will take years to realize the full benefit, and the fair officials are busily at work, realizing the task is great and a worthy one.

At present, wheat is playing the greater part as a money proposition in this section. It is not intended that the fair encourage wheat raising, but rather encourage other lines on a practical and profitable basis.

It is a known fact that dairymen in this section, and what the fair officials will strive to do is to intensify interest and give material aid in solving other inhibiting problems. More first class dairy cows are to be selected and brought here, and it is hoped to organize a bull circle for the gradual and economic improvement of the various herds.

Poultry is another profitable and pleasant business which the farmers in this section could develop to a high degree if the proper encouragement is given. One man near Pampa realized more money this last winter from his 500 laying hens than he could expect to make on one of his average wheat crops, the farmer stated himself.

The Pampa fair by having two shows in this poultry division, one for show birds and one for utility birds, expects to develop great deal of interest in this phase of the work.

Another part of the ultimate aim of the fair officials is the matter of realizing greater profits through feeding row crops to livestock, rather than selling both the livestock and row crops separately on the northern markets. At present, most of the cattle are shipped to northern points where they are fattened and marketed for a handsome profit. Fair officials, in connection with this problem, are asking the question: Why can't the farmer in this section fatten his own cattle with his own home-raised feed and realize the profit himself? They expect to ultimately find a solution to the question through the influence of the fair.

Cut a few weeds this week.

Max Minter of Port Arthur Badly Injured

PORT ARTHUR, June 30.—(AP)—Max Minter, 30, prominent lumberman, was shot three times tonight and seriously injured by a negro after an automobile accident in which the negro's car was damaged. The negro threatened to kill Minter after the accident, police said, and when Minter got out of his car the negro opened fire.

Minter, who was shot in the head, arm and leg, is not expected to die. Reports that police had captured a negro drew hundreds of citizens to the city jail. No violence was resorted to and police rapidly dispersed the crowd. Officers who had been searching for the negro, who escaped after the shooting, the outgrowth of an automobile accident, refused to say whether they had captured the assailant or not.

Emmett Gatlin of Miami was a business visitor in Pampa Saturday.

Joseph Robinson Tired But Talks to His Townsmen

ALBANY, N. Y., June 30.—(P)—This city turned out in force tonight to give Governor Alfred E. Smith the greatest demonstration he has had since his nomination for the presidency.

Organized by the Albany county Democrats, thousands of the governor's townsmen formed in parade in the lower city and marched behind bands and barking cannon to the executive mansion.

The drab streets about the governor's official home were packed so tight with cheering men and women that only with great difficulty were state troopers and police able to break a path to an automobile which the governor was to use.

As he was escorted to the car hands were held out in front to give him a patting on the back and shoulders, grasping his hands, and reaching for any part of his clothing they could touch.

He Liked Albany The governor climbed to the rear seat of the car and made a short speech, telling how much he thought of Albany and how he disliked the thought of leaving it, which he will do at the end of his present term regardless of the result of the presidential vote.

The cheering of those near him and the shouts of those trying to get near, was so loud, however, that his words were inaudible to all the few jammed up against his automobile.

Giving up hope of being heard, the governor turned traffic policeman and kept the crowd moving by waving it along past the front of the mansion. "Down that way," he kept shouting, "keep going so the rest can have a chance."

One man handed up a brown derby as he passed and the governor put it on for a moment, to the greatest burst of applause of the evening. It was an hour before regular traffic was resumed and then the governor retired, tired out by two demonstrations and a game of golf in the afternoon.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 30.—(P)—Home from his greatest triumph, Senator Joe T. Robinson, the new Democratic vice presidential nominee today acknowledged greetings of hundreds of Arkansans who met his special train from Houston and then went straight to bed.

Robinson is Tired The Arkansan, chosen as Gov. Alfred E. Smith's running mate showed his fatigue on his arrival here today, but he did not let it prevent him from making a 20-minute talk to "the folks at home."

In this he paid tribute to the presidential nominee, Gov. Smith and to the Arkansas delegation at the Houston convention.

Senator Robinson will remain quietly at his home in Little Rock until some time next week and then he plans to go to Houston to spend several days resting.

Telegrams of congratulatory nature poured in from Democratic clubs in the country to place Robinson on the platform.

ROTARY FOSTERS INTERNATIONAL IDEAS

Better Understandings Are Being Brought About Between European Peoples and Americans

The Rev. James Todd, Jr., who attended the Minneapolis convention of Rotary International, has written for The News the following interesting account of his trip.

There are several features of the international convention of Rotary recently held in the city of Minneapolis that are of interest to the general public.

Upon two afternoons during the convention a number of special assemblies were held in various sections of the city for the discussion of club service, community service, and vocational service. While much can be said of interest regarding all of these special discussions, possibly the most interesting is the one conducted on international trade relations.

Students Exchanged

In view of the fact that more is being accomplished than is generally understood toward a better international understanding through the exchange of university students of a number of the European nations and those of the United States, the question was presented for discussion of the "international exchange of young men for vocational training."

By this it is to be understood that when young men have completed their technological training in their respective professions and industries, that instead of taking their places in their respective nations that there be found for them a place in the professional life of another nation for a period of two years. It is to be understood that certain other educational and social qualifications be required making the person eligible for exchange a true representative of his nation. During this period of time he will have acquired a knowledge of the methods and practices of the other nation and a better understanding of the national life of the people and upon his return home he will be enabled to contribute to the international understanding and a good will of the nations of the world.

Employment Is Problem

But there are two difficulties at the present time to be overcome. On account of the economic condition in England the secretary of labor has decreed that no person from another nation be permitted to enter for employment as long as so many men of England are unemployed. Representatives of the Rotary clubs of Switzerland and Holland have taken the matter up with the Rotary clubs of England and in presenting the question to the secretary of labor a special permit has been granted to these special professional and industrial representatives so that this exchange can now be made among European nations. But a difficulty exists in the exchange with the United States. Under present rulings they would come as immigrants. Out of this international trade relations assembly came the recommendation to the board of directors of Rotary International that the matter be taken up with the Bureau of Immigration under the department of labor of the United States relative to the admitting of these special professional and industrial representatives without submitting to the rules governing the admittance of immigrants.

See Better Understanding As the various speakers from other nations were heard every one in special assemblies and the convention proper in the great municipal auditorium came to realize that there is growing rapidly a better understanding on the part of thinking people among the nations of Europe concerning America. All of these speakers were the outstanding men in the business, educational, and political life of the nations represented.

This was especially noticeable in the concluding address of the convention by the Rt. Hon. Sir Donald Maclean, Member of Parliament, London, "International Godwill," when he left the impression that the United States was able to do more toward the abolition of war as a non-participant in the League of Nations, and spoke in the highest terms and deepest appreciation of the new peace pact that Secretary of State Kellogg has just recently presented to France outlawing war, which has subsequently been presented to fourteen other nations.

Japan, Italy, and Peru presented their flags to the Minneapolis Rotary Club with expressions of growing understanding among respective nations. The entire delegation of thirty-eight from Italy marched upon the platform in the presentation and gave the old man salute which has been restored by Mussolini. The convention delegates stood in mass and returned the salute.

HOUSTON, Texas - As the Democrats go into battle for what they conceive to be their country's welfare...

She is the party's own, devoted widow of its last great leader, Woodrow Wilson.

Today she has returned to the party, after long years of modest retirements...

Edith Bolling Wilson holds those ideals and principles very dearly. Her belief in their eventual prevalence and their eternal verity has not dimmed.

She has seen lesser men carry—or to try to carry—the torch that fell from the hands of the stricken leader of Democracy.

Mrs. Wilson is attending her first national convention, sitting on the platform in a place of honor.

The new leader will go forth with the blessing, implied and explicit, of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

The note that rang loudest and sounded farthest at this convention was the one on Wilson's presidential career of eight years.

Edith Wilson sits on the platform, leaders of the party paying obeisance to her as often as the proceedings will permit.

Sometime ago she came out of deep mourning and she wears a purple silk dress, a purple hat and gray shoes and stockings.

Traces of beauty remain in her face. She is 56 years old now, but she remains a handsome woman.

But when the name of Woodrow Wilson and the tributes to his memory echo from the speaker's stand—as they often do—her face is inscrutably set, immobile, serious and deadly attentive.

What are the thoughts of Edith Wilson as Bowers tells of "that brilliant record"?

What a majestic figure was he, who led us in those fruitful years; the cold, even light of his superb intellect played upon the most intricate problems of the times and they seemed to solve themselves.

He lifted the people to such heights of moral grandeur as they had never known before, and his name and purpose made hearts beat faster in lowly places where his praise was sung in every language of the world.

What a tribute! What a mighty roar from the assembled Democracy—and what must have been in the mind of Edith Wilson!

Four Prison Officials Submit Their Resignations

HUNTSVILLE, June 30.—(AP)—Four officials of the state penitentiary here, including the warden, Colonel McDaniel, resigned today, their resignations to become effective as soon as they can be relieved.

Colonel McDaniel said he was resigning because of the ill health of his wife, who is in San Antonio and cannot be brought to Huntsville.

The others, Cragg DeWalt, assistant warden; Dog Sergeant Hudson, and J. D. Carter, secretary to warden McDaniel, did not give reasons for their resignations.

W. P. Moore of Berger, who is employed in the engineering department of the Phillips Petroleum company, was a business visitor in Pampa yesterday.

Melting Ice Is Endangering Lives of Noble Party

(Copyright, 1928, by the Associated Press)

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 30.—(AP)—Today, start of the sixth week since Gen. Umberto and his polar expedition in the dirigible Italia crashed on the ice off North Eastland, saw weather conditions not only halting efforts of rescuers but increasing the peril of the six refugees whose location is known.

Another day passed also without news of the nine missing members of the Italia's crew or of the party of six which Roald Amundsen organized for search and rescue work in a French naval seaplane.

Throughout the more than two score days since the disaster, efforts of aviators and marines, backed by the resources of five governments, have failed to effect a rescue except in the case of Gen. Noble himself. His return from the ice was nullified, so far as number of imperilled men was concerned, by the marooning of his rescuer, Lieut. Einar-Paal Lundborg, Swedish flier.

the safety of Lieut. Lundborg and the five explorers at the camp from which Noble was rescued. The Arctic summer is affecting the ice fields and the floes are moving under the influence of wind and current. The fields are beginning to break up and there is apprehension lest the big floes on which Noble's tent was pitched disintegrate.

Mrs. Robert Holt and son, Robert Jr., of Wheeler, are guests of Mrs. Holt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Carr. Mrs. C. E. Vincent of LeFors also, was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carr, Friday.

Stae Physician Pleads for July 4 Without Funerals

DALLAS, June 30.—(AP)—A plea for the celebration of the Fourth of July without the aid of fireworks and firearms that the elimination of deaths from tetanus resulting from injuries received on the holiday may be continued, was made by Dr. Manton M. Carrick, director of the public health department here, who described the disease and told of ways that it may be cured.

Statistics show, the doctor said, that 406 deaths occurred from tetanus around July 4, 1923, the year the "Safe and Sane Fourth" was first urged as an antidote for the large number of casualties. Thirteen years later no deaths were attributed to the disease, which is commonly called lockjaw, he pointed out.

"Tetanus is a particular kind of a germ that is introduced into the human body by some sort of injury," Dr. Carrick said. "A slight injury may prove causative. Tetanus may, therefore, be regarded almost solely as a wound complication. Punctured wounds, calceated, torn and bruised wounds are susceptible to tetanus infection, and many fatalities have occurred from such unimportant wounds as insect bites, splinters and even pin scratches."

One of the most outstanding symptoms of tetanus is the marked stiffness of the neck and lower jaw. As the disease continues to make inroads on the system, spasms of other parts of the body develop. In this event, there should be no delay in preliminary treatment. Wounds should be cared for immediately and anti-tetanus serum should be administered. The efficacy of prompt treatment is best realized when we consider that the former mortality rate from the disease ranged between 70 per cent and 80 per cent, and that of late years it has been greatly decreased.

160,000 ACRES OF COTTON

"WHAT OF IT?... Supposing Dunlop does require all the cotton from 160,000 acres. What does that mean to my pocketbook?"

Just this. Dunlop has grown great because Dunlops save money. Over 26,000,000 Dunlops are now in use—each one saving money for its owner.

Last year, Dunlop required the cotton from 160,000 acres, and all of this cotton was spun into cable-twist cord at Dunlop's own cotton mills.

Dunlops are better tires—with greater safety, greater tread mileage, and greater carcass strength. Otherwise they couldn't have justified their slightly higher initial cost.

Yes.... the 26 million Dunlops now in use are your guarantee that Dunlop must build only the best.
Save money—equip with Dunlops!

OLYMPIC HOPES

When Claude Bracey, Rice Institute sophomore ran the 100 at the Texas Relays in the remarkable time of 9 1-2 seconds, the comeback was that he had the wind behind him.

Rice officials, however, said that Bracey was one of the best sprinters in the country and sent him up to the national intercollegiate at Chicago a few weeks ago to make good their word.

He did. He won the 100 from a great field of sprinters, including Hester of Michigan and Simpson of Ohio State in 9 3-5 seconds. This tied the world's record and set a new record for that meet. He came back in the 200 with a 20 9-10 performance for first and a new meet record.

Olympic officials regard Bracey as one of the most likely members of the college sprinters who performed this year.

Mr. Brown said he was receiving the Pampa Daily News at the various stops and enjoying the news from home.

Mrs. Albert Skelton and children, Alberta and James, left last evening for their home in Weleetka, Oklahoma, after a week's visit in the home of Mrs. Skelton's sister, Mrs. L. M. Halbert.

Varner-Walker Bout Should Be One of Greatest

Place: Pla-Mor auditorium.
Date: Tuesday, July 3.
Time: 8:30 p. m.
Main Event: Walker-Varner in 10 rounds.
Semi-windup: Tabby Levine-Jack Morrison in 10 rounds.
Special: Goldie-Villaton in 6 rounds.

Tuesday night at the Pla-Mor, in what is expected to be the most thrilling fight ever held in the Panhandle will be staged between Walter Varner of Roxana and Young Mickey Walker, local boy. These boys will step 10 rounds or less, and according to advance dope given out by both fighters a quick knock-out can be expected. Varner has trained faithfully for this fight and is in the best shape of his career. It is conceded that Varner is a clever boxer, and if he escapes Walker's hay-makers he might get the decision.

Walker has had less than two years experience, but is one of the hardest hitting middleweights in the Southwest. He has had 21 fights and has scored 21 knockouts. Walker is confident that Varner will not be unable to stand up against his vicious body attacks and is predicting that he will stop Varner within five rounds.

Supporting this card is another 10-round fight good enough to be classified a main event on any card. Tabby Levine, local boy, will be pitted against Jack Morrison of Borger, Mirrison is well known here as a fighter who starts aggressively with the first gong and keeps going. He has won all of his 20 fights of his brief six-month career in the ring.

Levine though a youngster in years is a veteran in the ring, meeting such boys as Wildcat Monte, Dickie Dixon, and some of the best in the Southwest. Levine will always be remembered in Wichita Falls for the great fight he put up with Dickie Dixon under a great handicap of weight and experience. The fight is still talked of there. These boys have agreed to weigh in at 120 pounds each.

Black Cloud Goldie of Pampa will meet Ara Vilaton of Borger in a six-

Meets Walker

Walter Varner, above, the fast, clever boxer of Roxana is scheduled to meet Young Mickey Walker, the boy who has made an enviable record with his heavy wallop. The fight will be staged at the Pla-Mor Tuesday night.

Comedy on High Plane Harold Lloyd Puts

Harold Lloyd is one comedian who has elevated slapstick to such a high plane that even the most hardened critic can find no objection to it. And he has done it by giving his action a sincere twist that takes away from it any flavor of "hokum." Take a look at "Speedy", for example, showing at the Rex theatre today and tomorrow. This is his latest picture, and one of the fastest moving in his lexicon of great comedies.

Lloyd has broader action in this picture than in any he has attempted for some years, but he lifts it to an elevation of the highest merit because he has motivated every single piece of business with plausibility and sincerity.

The bespectacled comedian has done more for the comedy art than any other one performer before the camera. He does not throw a bit of business into a picture just for a laugh. Unless it is part and parcel of his story, it does not break into the picture. Lloyd discards more gags than most comics use because they are illogical and as he says, "dragged in without rhyme or reason, and intended to get a laugh, regardless of their bearing on the further development of plot."

"Speedy" is full of uproarious laugh situations. Restraint can be thrown to the wind while looking at this one, for every one else in the audience will be lacking in control of his adrenal glands, the glands that make one laugh.

"Speedy" is an hour of great mirth, and is a worthy addition to the list of "best sellers" Lloyd has been producing through these years.

Ann Christy is Harold's leading lady in "Speedy". Ted Wilde directed.

When Dolores Del Rio, who comes to the Crescent today and tomorrow in Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal love story, played in her first pictures the public declared her a great success. Now she comes to the Crescent today and tomorrow in "Ramona"—that glowing romance of old California with a role that could not only be played by Miss Del Rio.
There are five great dramatic climaxes in the picture—the romance element of Ramona, the tragic death of their baby, the wanton massacre of defenseless Indians, the cruel murder of Ramona's husband and the restoration of Ramona's memory.
Just when everyone begins to think that there is nothing new in comedy, Harold Lloyd pops up with a new idea and explodes the idea. He does it with a bang with his latest mirthquake "Speedy," and provides more laughs than the public has had since he issued "The Kid Brother."
Harold will be at the Rex today and tomorrow, straight from a release by Paramount. Babe Ruth will appear in the baseball game that is also screened in the picture, and the home run king is in keeping with the speed in the story.
As a taxicab driver, and the pilot of a horse car of the gay nineties period, although the story has a modern setting, Lloyd provides thrill after thrill. Lloyd has to make his comedies for laughs, for the public expects them from him regardless.
Tuesday and Wednesday the Crescent will present "The Opening Night." The picture is a tense, gripping drama of human emotions and sacrifice for love. The action moves swiftly against a shifting background of the theatre, the sea and a Newfoundland fishing village.
Tuesday the Rex will present "The Washington Square," a mystery comedy. Plenty of action is seen in this picture, and comedy that is unusual is displayed throughout the picture.
The Rex will show Ramon Navarro in "Forbidden Hours" Wednesday and Thursday. Navarro, who will be Prince, approaches the portrayal of royalty from another angle in "Forbidden Hours." He appears as a modern king in a modern European kingdom in the new story.
"Love Hungry" with Lawrence Gray and Lois Moran will be the feature at the Crescent Thursday. This picture is an appetizing recipe for all seeking romance.
Adolphe Menjou in "His Tiger Lady"

Smith's Statement Not Alarming to Texas Chairmen
DALLAS, June 30.—(AP)—Nothing in the statement of Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee for the presidency, should cause any good prohibitionist to bolt the Democratic ticket, General M. Crane, vice-chairman of the Texas delegation to the Houston convention, said here Saturday on his return from the convention. General Crane believes only a small number of Democrats will bolt.
"Naturally, some of the prohibition bitter-enders are disappointed over the results of the Houston convention," General Crane said, "and they are feeling some resentment at this time. But by the time for the election in November they will have thought the situation over and reached the conclusion that the Democratic ticket and platform deserves their support rather than the Republican ticket and all the rascality that has been proved on Republican party leaders in the past three years. Congress is the place where the fight for and against prohibition must be waged now."
Gillen F. Thomas, of Dallas, who was will be the feature at the Rex Friday. Menjou will be seen sporting a turban and from all reports promises to give his followers here a show that will be remembered.

Saturday the Rex will present "Sunset Legion" and the Crescent will present "The Branded Sinner."

In the building was stored about fifty tons of hay which became soaked with water by heavy rain after part of the roof had burned away. It was believed the weight of the wet hay caused the collapse.
Most of the injured persons were in the building removing slowly burning hay, or on the roof.

Come take a drive and you too will say
"WHAT A CAR, WHAT A PRICE"

"What a car," you'll say when you've driven this New Oldsmobile... and "What a price," when you've learned how little it costs. A glance will tell you that it is every inch the fine car in smartness and appearance. And a drive will convince you that no fine car outshines it in performance.
A great new 55-H.P. engine provides brilliant high-compression performance—but does not require the use of special fuel.
Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, deeply-cushioned form-fitting seats, and a silenced chassis and interior add the comfort, restfulness and quiet which distinguish fine-car operation.
Come take a drive in this New Oldsmobile. Then you'll know why more and more thousands of motor car buyers are making it their choice.
