Hospital Problems May Be 'Worked Out' Tonight

By ANNA BURCHELL Pampa News Staff
A member of the hospital board of Highland General and McLean General said today that some of the personnel matters to be discussed at tonight's meeting in executive session with the Gray County Commissioners Court stem from the purchase of expensive office furnishings by the hospital administrator.

Riot Wrecks Prison

CONCORD, Mass. (UPI) - A brief rebellion by about one-fourth of the inmates at the Massachusetts Correctional Institution has left parts of the facility resembling a smoldering garbage dump.

The situation developed over an altercation involving a few people, said Hall. 'Only 15 or 20 instigated it.'
About 50 riot-equipped state police and some 150 prison guards from two nearby correctional facilities entered the prison four hours after the melee began.

Hearst Jury Gets Tour

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Patricia Hearst today led the jury in her bank robbery trial on a tour of the hideouts where she was held in closets following her kidnaping two years ago.

Her lawyers said it was in the closet that SLA leader Donald DeFreeze, killed later in a police gunbattle in Los Angeles with five other associates, began his revolutionary indoctrination.

Ominous Job Bank Bill

The Bicentennial Year, at the governmental level, is getting off to a fast start with a particularly ominous piece of legislation identified as HR-SR 50, and known as the "Full Employment Act of 1976." The joint House-Senate Bill would have the effect of setting up a nationwide computer job bank network controlled by the federal government through state employment agencies, funded, of course, with tax money.

That, alone, is ominous enough. For, with private employment agencies and newspaper want ad services — already having to compete with tax supported state employment agencies — being forced to compete with a federally controlled nationwide computerized job bank, the private agencies would soon be forced out of business and job and help wanted ads would disappear from the pages of your favorite newspaper. At that point, anyone looking for employment would be dependent upon the bureaucrats controlling the computers.

However, that is not the extent of the pending legislation. In addition to the federal government's interest in computerizing unemployed individuals and unfilled job positions, the bill also provides for the computerization of all employed individuals. In other words, the system envisioned by the legislation would give the federal government the location of every job in the nation, the identity of every potential worker and, for the first time, with the aid of the computer, the capacity for matching worker to job.

One cannot help but wonder if the bureaucrats in the nation's capital are playing around with the idea of forced labor. And, if that should strike you as an alarmist guessing, please consider the implications of the pending "Full Employment Act of 1976" in conjunction with a recent headline study which found that, as a result of massive welfare and other governmental "transfer payments," 41 per cent of the people in this country are being forced to support the other 59 per cent. Clearly, with that kind of a situation prevailing — and getting worse, rather than better — the economy of the nation is headed for deep trouble. Which, in turn, leaves the powers — that — be but two alternatives:

1. They can reverse the course of events by ceasing to plunder some for the benefit of others and turn the nation back into the channels of private enterprise, privately bestowed charity, and individual responsibility for one's livelihood.

2. They can plunge ever deeper into totalitarianism with a system of forced labor waiting at the end of the road.

Some years ago, in an analysis of the Communist Manifesto, retired Navy Admiral Ben Moreell pointed out that, for all intents and purposes, all but one of the ten main planks called for by Marx and Engels in that document were already in effect in this country. The remaining plank Moreell had reference to was number eight which calls for the "equal liability" of all to labor and the "establishment of industrial armies."

Joint House-Senate bill 50, the "Full Employment Act of 1976," with its computer bank, has all the earmarks of being intended to put the Manifesto into full effect. "Scientific socialism," Marx and Engels called it. How it works has been demonstrated in the "workers' paradises" of Soviet Russia, Hitler Germany, Red China and Castro Cuba.

Don Oakley Teachers at odds over militant muscle

By Don Oakley

The muscles being developed by the teaching profession are not welcomed by all its members.

"The Militant Teacher's Bicentennial Calendar," published in the National Education Association's (NEA) monthly newspaper, the Reporter, drew the following letters to the editor:

"As a member of NEA I wish to voice my objection to the heading on the calendar in the January issue of the NEA Reporter. I do not care to be known as a member of a militant teacher movement, which, it seems to me, is happening to NEA."

"In the past I've been proud of what NEA has stood for. Now, I am no longer proud of my association with this organization."

"Of this, I want no part," wrote "Dedicated Teacher, 1926-68."

"I'm disgusted," wrote another. "Your whole attitude is wrong."

Another retired teacher also voiced this opinion:

"I totally oppose strikes by public employees. No one should be permitted to shut down a government operation, for which taxes have been levied. Moreover, public employees are a part of government, and strikes by government are intolerable and undemocratic too."

"Strikes by government employees are a step on the road to chaos and anarchy, as well as defiance of the voters and elected officials."

This last has echoes of Calvin Coolidge's pronouncement during a police strike in Boston in 1919 that "There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, anywhere, anytime."

And no doubt the Coolidge era is exactly where many of today's militant teachers will say these letter-writers and their quaint beliefs belong.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Couples living together without marriage is a bummer. In cases where both parties invest in joint properties, if the man dies in an industrial accident, the woman can claim nothing. When the property goes to probate to pay off the bills, the woman is out of luck. Former wives, children and family can all claim a bigger share than this kind of "widow" can.

A good case was the woman who not only had one illegitimate child, but was carrying another. He always talked about marrying her, but never did. The husband-to-be was killed in a car wreck, wherein insurance could be claimed, but the woman had no legal standing.

If the man decides to "leave," the rejected woman must find another partner, but by that time, the woman has the reputation of a tramp.

Of course, if she can spawn enough children without matrimony, with Aid to Dependent Children, food stamps, low-cost housing and welfare, she can do pretty well and possibly even find a live-in boyfriend, which we taxpayers have to pay for. But the children from this unhappy mess is another matter, and your whole column could be filled with those problems.

MAGISTRATE IN ALASKA

DEAR MAG: Yours is only one of 50 states that has its own laws regarding "common-law marriages." However, your timely warning concerning the new cultural phenomenon known as "shacking up" is appreciated, and I hereby pass it on.

DEAR ABBY: My wife of 14 years has suddenly developed a strong desire for children. Both of us would enjoy having a child; however, at this time in our lives (I am 50 and she is 42), do you think it's practical for us to take on the responsibility of raising a child?

My wife constantly argues that a child would bring needed happiness and a more youthful outlook on life for both of us.

I contend it's too late in life for us to start out with an infant, but I am willing to adopt a child of elementary school age or even one in his (or her) early teens.

Our clergyman favors adoption. My wife's physician says she is capable of having a child.

I am more inclined to adopt a child who needs a home, but my wife feels strongly about having our own.

ABLE BUT UNWILLING

DEAR ABLE: Sorry, but this is one problem that you and your wife will have to solve yourselves. Some people are "old" at 30, and others are "young" at 60. It takes love, patience, understanding, determination, energy, fortitude, generosity and time to raise a child of any age. How much have you?

DEAR ABBY: This concerns people who never seem able to accept a compliment graciously. For years I was one of these people, and it took me a long time to understand why. It goes back to my childhood. My family (bless them) never gave me an honest-to-goodness compliment. If I looked especially nice, they would say, "You look nice—but can't you do something else with your hair?" This made it impossible for me to say, "Thank you." Instead, I was always trying to make apologies and put myself down. Compliments should be given freely and without little digs to spoil them.

"THANK YOU"

DEAR THANK: And thank YOU!

Predicts 'Horse Race'

By ELIZABETH WHARTON

Publisher William Loeb of the Manchester Union Leader believes New Hampshire's Feb. 24 primary contest between President Ford and Ronald Reagan will be a "horse race." Gov. Meldrim Thomson predicts Reagan will win by a 5 per cent margin.

On the Democratic side, George Wallace captured almost 50 per cent of the votes in Mississippi's process of selecting delegates to the state convention, and Jimmy Carter got a $250,000 response to a telethon fundraiser in his home state of Georgia.

"I think it's a horse race."

In Florida, early polls showed Reagan running ahead of Ford, but enthusiastic turnouts which greeted Ford at several stops during his two-day swing across the state convinced some aides he may pull out a win March 9.

The President told a crowd of 15,000 in St. Petersburg no candidate with a philosophy to the right or left of his own could win in November.

More than 15,000 Massachusetts Democrats held some 130 caucuses in the state's 42 congressional districts Sunday to pick 1,300 potential delegates to the party's national convention.

The biggest draws at Sunday's meetings appeared to be for Morris Udall, Birch Bayh and Carter. Those for Henry Jackson and Shriver drew somewhat fewer and those for Milton Shapp and antiabortion candidate Ellen McCormack still less.

Wallace, who scored an earlier victory in the precinct caucuses last month, had 48.8 per cent of the votes in the Mississippi county weekend meetings with only a few scattered areas not reporting late Sunday.

Carter, with 11.5 per cent, and Sargent Shriver, with 10.8 per cent, battled for second place.

But 28.2 per cent of the delegate votes still were uncommitted going into district meetings scheduled for next weekend.

A statewide telethon in Georgia gathered pledges of more than $250,000 for Carter in presidential campaign contributions. Federal matching funds are expected to boost the total to $400,000, providing a net profit of around $325,000 after expenses, campaign officials said Sunday.

CONDUCTING a national campaign for the first time, Republican candidate Ronald Reagan strikes a hopeful note for the New Hampshire primary, the first test by ballot of his presidential hopes.

Showers Develop

By United Press International Thundershowers developed early today over the eastern portion of parched Kansas where a mid-winter drought has left wheat farmers worried about dust bowl conditions.

Early morning rainfalls in eastern Kansas were reported light. The National Weather Service said scattered rains fell across Kansas during the weekend but they were too little and widespread to provide much relief.

Farmers were still hoping new storms would bail them out. "We can catch up in a hurry if we have some normal or better than normal snowfalls throughout March and the remaining portion of February," said Keith Krause, executive director of the Kansas Water Resources Board.

Rumford, Maine, reported an inch of snow, and heavy snow warnings of six inches or more were in effect throughout the day in the Colorado mountains.

Mild weather which shot temperatures up to 65 degrees in Chicago and Decatur, Ill., Sunday was expected to continue across the nation. Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 20s and 30s in the north and the 50s and 60s in the south.

At 2 a.m. EST, temperatures ranged from 72 at Kingsville, Texas, to 18 at Minot, N.D.

Survival Name of Game

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the Democratic presidential battle so far, survival is the name of the game.

There have been no big winners or real losers in the early precinct caucuses, but there have been some who did not survive.

Surviving takes about 20 per cent of the vote, apparently. The candidate who manages that seems able to go on. Candidates who get about 10 per cent — as Sen. Lloyd Bentsen did in Oklahoma's precinct caucuses — go home to become favorite sons.

Former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina was the first fatality. He dropped out because the polls showed him at a virtual zero in recognition and popularity. That made Sanford a nonsurvivor, not a loser.

Jimmy Carter, who hovers around the 20 per cent mark in caucuses and polls, is talked about at the new frontrunner. But 20 per cent doesn't make him a winner.

There are five Democrats in the New Hampshire primary Feb. 24 and there are indications none will receive anything approaching a clear mandate. Maybe they'll each get 20 per cent and survive.

A more serious survival problem for Democratic con-

Cited Wildlife Violations

DENVER (UPI) — The Colorado Division of Wildlife says a record 4,884 violations of the state's wildlife laws were reported in 1975, including one Texas man who sent officials a $400 check because he illegally shot an elk for another hunter.

Jack Hogue, division chief conservation officer, said Peck Meier of Baytown, Tex., hunting in Colorado last fall, violated the "party hunting" law.

"Meier spotted and bagged his own animal then later took an elk for one of his hunting companions," Hogue said.

Meier wrote a letter to the division admitting his mistake and enclosed a $400 check, the amount of the fine for illegally killing an elk in Colorado.

"I've gotten a lot of letters from people admitting violations," Hogue said, "but I've never gotten one with $400 in it too."

Labor Union Withdraws

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (UPI) — The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, the nation's largest public employe union, has resigned from the AFL-CIO Public Employee Department under threat of suspension.

Federation president Jerry Wurf announced the withdrawal of his union's 750,000 members in a letter, dated Sunday, that was critical of the department.

The move followed a Saturday meeting in which the unions in the department voted to suspend the federation if it did not pay thousands of dollars in delinquent dues.

The federation will continue as a member of the AFL-CIO, whose 34-member executive council meets here today.

The withdrawal struck a blow to the prestige of the depart-menters is money. Reports for the period ending two weeks ago show five Democrats — Birch Bayh, Morris Udall, Sargent Shriver, Fred Harris and Milton Shapp — all are in serious financial trouble.

That does not mean they cannot win. But it does mean they don't have any money to invest in television commercials. Without money for television, you don't win very often in this game.

But George Wallace and Henry Jackson have lots of money for television — and they're using it in Massachusetts and Florida.

Both Ronald Reagan and President Ford have revised their schedules to plan some last-minute campaigning in New Hampshire this week.

Ford strategists, who were about to write off the nation's first primary, also have revised their hopes. Ford is scheduled to go back to the Granite State because his aides now believe

Daley Chooses Governor

CHICAGO (UPI) — When Chicago Mayor Richard Daley put together a Democratic state ticket this year, he chose a "Mr. Clean" to run for governor and it appeared he might knock Gov. Daniel Walker out of the party's power structure.

But with a month to go before the showdown, Daley's "Mr. Clean" is being made to look in need of a scrubbing.

It isn't that Secretary of State Michael Howlett, a 61-year-old Chicago political veteran, has been really dirtied. But his reputation has been smudged by disclosures he held a job with private industry while on the public payroll and that he paid income taxes on $100,000 given to him as campaign contributions.

Daley was livid over the disclosures. He accused reporters of getting drunk and "writing things that aren't true."

He challenged Walker to disclose the names of his 1972 contributors, the campaign in which the governor first confronted and beat a Daley-backed candidate. Walker's campaign staff said the names will be forthcoming this week.

The Republicans expect to run former U.S. Attorney James Thompson against the Democratic winner. Thompson, who convicted former Gov. Otto Kerner in a racketeering scandal, likely will win the March 16 GOP primary.

For the Democrats, this year's race is essentially a battle for future control of the state party power structure.

If Walker wins a second term, he will seriously undercut Daley and be in position to dominate the Illinois party if the 73-year-old mayor retires.

But he is regarded as the underdog in the primary fight. He has alienated segments of labor, education, medicine, liberal blocs and the media.

Opponents call him a hypocrite who preaches New Politics and practices old-time patronage and arm twisting.

Still, Walker remains an effective campaigner. He is excellent on television, has shrewd advisers and gets votes from almost everyone who hates Daley — and there are quite a few.

Howlett, state auditor for 12 years and secretary of state for four, has on his side the 300,000 votes regarded as the automatic reward of Daley's endorsement.

Howlett did not conceal the block of W. Francis.

On Saturday, officers investigating a report of loud music that had been playing for several hours in an apartment at Texas and Russell observed drugs on a table in the apartment.

Blair Leslie Mitchell was arrested on possession of a substance believed to be marijuana after police observed he appeared intoxicated. The substance was found in a plastic bag in Mitchell's possession.

John Kennedy edged out Richard Nixon as the most popular president among voters at a presidential exhibit at a Columbus, Ohio, museum last week.

Kennedy received more than 3,800 votes while Nixon was second with 3,458. Abraham Lincoln edged Gerald Ford for third by a vote of 3,282 to 3,168. George Washington finished fifth.

Among the least popular in the balloting were William Henry Harrison, Zachary Taylor, Franklin Pierce, James Buchanan and Chester Arthur.

Lily Pons Dies

DALLAS (UPI) — Lily Pons intended to become a concert pianist but some of her earlier audiences preferred her voice. She redirected her training and was eventually considered the world's finest coloratura soprano.

A rosary service was scheduled today for Miss Pons, 71. She died Friday of cancer.

Her first U.S. appearance at the New York Metropolitan Opera House in 1931 drew 16 curtain calls and widespread critical acclaim. During the next three decades she was considered one of the greatest opera singers of the 20th century.

"She was a great artist in her day... no doubt one of the great singers of her time," said Rudolph Bing, manager of the Met 23 years.

"She was probably one of the last of the great... personalities that we had that were so prominent in those days," said opera star Rise Stevens.

She retired from the Met in 1960 and later lived in Palm Springs, Calif., and Dallas.

She appeared with the Dallas Symphony in 1963 and soon after sang her last operatic performance — again as Lucia — with the Fort Worth Opera.

Miss Pons, 71, will be buried in France, the country she rejected officially three decades ago but returned to many times professionally and emotionally.

"Burial will be in Cannes," a funeral home spokesman said. "Probably Friday. We can't be certain when we can obtain the necessary clearances from the French government. The French vice consul is expected here Tuesday and the final arrangements will be made then."

Women Attack Ford Hecklers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Reporters with President Ford in Florida had a suggestion for the Secret Service.

The bodyguards watched, but white-haired ladies acted when a group of young men heckled President Ford's speech in St. Petersburg's Williams Park Saturday. The ladies yanked hair, beat with fists and handbags and routed the hecklers.

Reporters suggested the Secret Service add the indignant elderly women to their White House detail. The agents are grim about any violence in the President's vicinity and were not amused.

Other notes scrawled during Ford's campaigning in Florida over the weekend: — Both Ford and his rival for the GOP presidential nomination, Ronald Reagan, trumpeted calls for bringing back the death penalty. It was nothing new. Both long have been on record for that.

But the fact that registered Republicans in Florida tend to be older and vexed with crime led both men to stress the point as the March 9 Florida primary date nears. It was no accident Ford made his get-tough crime speech in Miami, a city calling itself the crime capital of America.

— The spectacle of millions in public financing going to presidential candidates is making it more difficult for White House fund seekers to raise money from private

Ford's CIA Reform To Be Unveiled Midweek

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford's long awaited CIA reform package will be unveiled by mid week highlighted by the creation of a White House board to monitor abuses, officials said today. Ford was meeting this afternoon with top advisers to make final decisions on a set of recommendations for overhauling the nation's intelligence agencies, mainly by executive order.

Stock Market Quotations

No stock market quotations or cattle futures will be included into today's News. The Amarillo offices of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith and Schneider, Bernet and Hickman are closed today in respect of George Washington's birthday.

Saigon Sees Uprising

SAIGON, South Vietnam (UPI) — Security forces killed two rebels and captured 15 others in dusk-to-dawn fighting last week in the first fully reported armed uprising since the Communists took power last April, government authorities said. One government soldier also was reported killed in the 13-hour battle at a Roman Catholic church. Authorities said Sunday the rebels were equipped with counterfeiting machinery and radio transmitters and had "direct links to the CIA," but did not elaborate. U.S. officials in Washington denied the charges. A Catholic priest and a paratrooper major in the former Saigon army were led shackled before newsmen Saturday and named as ringleaders of the revolt. Government spokesmen said security forces attacked the rebel stronghold at the St. Vincent de Paul Church Thursday but met stiff resistance. They said a huge area around the church was evacuated and appeals were made by bullhorn for the rebels to give up. Their surrender finally was negotiated Friday by Saigon Archbishop Nguyen Van Binh. Tran Bach Dang, a senior member of the Liberation Front of Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon), called the fighting the "most important political crime since liberation day."

City Tax Check Arrives

Pampa's city sales tax check covering January sales was received at City Hall today in the amount of $24,302.62, an increase of $5,886.94 over the last check that covered holiday sales in December. Comptroller Bob Bullock in Austin advised the city the current check was for sales through Jan. 30. It was one of 741 Texas cities receiving a total of $1.3 billion in sales tax money, bringing to $22.7 million the amount rebated to cities and towns so far in 1976. The check received by the city today was the net payment after the state had deducted $653 for audit payments, $520 state service fee and $1,214 retained by the state. Pampa's gross sales tax collection for the period was $26,038. Other one-cent sales tax rebates to area cities include: Amarillo, $209,067; Borger, $18,203; Canyon, $4,320; Dalhart, $9,271; Dumas, $16,216; Groom, $655; McLean, $1,830; Miami, $562; Panhandle, $1,522; Perryton, $13,666; Plainview, $32,026; Shamrock, $4,105; Wheeler, $1,979, and White Deer, $683. State Comptroller Bullock, in his letter announcing the sales tax disbursements, also issued a warning to the hundreds of organizations formed to celebrate the nation's bicentennial. "Many of them don't realize,"

Students Enjoyed HS Model Congress

Students evaluating Model Congress II Saturday at Pampa High School were positive in their reactions said John W. Warner, general chairman. "We had 71 of the 100 students attending turn in evaluation sheets," Warner said. "All of them said they enjoyed the model congress and that it should be repeated in the future." Students were asked what they liked best about Model Congress II. "It gave students a chance to understand how government is actually run," said one. "It helped me think seriously about the proposed bills," said another. "I now understand why Congress is so inefficient," was one comment. "I hate to admit it, but I learned something."

U.S. Congressman Jack Highower served as Speaker of the House of Representatives and State Senator Max Sherman was President of the Senate. Model Congress II was the result of the combine efforts of seven groups. The Kiwanis Club headed by their chairman, Phil Vanderpool, prepared the initial 10 bills and obtained more than 20 witnesses to testify about the bills. The Jaycees, under the leadership of Benny Horton, served as parliamentarians. The Jaycee - ettes, lead by Margaret Milam, typed and stenciled the original bills and then typed and stenciled the

Dad Won't Return Twin

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — A man identifying himself as the father of recently separated Siamese twins says nothing, not even legal charges, will make him return the daughter he abducted. A man identifying himself as Willie L. Cates called the Wichita Eagle-Beacon during the weekend and said 3-month-old Millie Lula was safe and out of the city. "I'm not giving up Millie under no circumstances," Cates said during the call. "If charges are filed against me for kidnaping my own child, I intend to counter-sue the state for kidnaping Anna Marie if she is not released."

DECA Takes Five Firsts

Distributive education students from Pampa High School returned from the Area Six DECA Leadership Conference in Lubbock with five first place awards, three second places and four thirds. The five first place winners are Gary Sanders, student of the year — boy; John Hollar, public speaking; Dennis Laycock, sales demonstration; Karl Collier, study in marketing service manual, and Ky Norman, study in marketing home furnishings manual. Leanne Hall won a first alternate position in the student of the year — girl competition. Ky Norman won a second in public speaking and Dexter Turner and Ann Casey placed second in sales demonstrations and program design respectively. Shelly Pilcher won third place awards in display and study in marketing department store. Sherry Skidmore placed third in the job interview category and Debbie Rogers was third in the vocational education 2 class for a creative marketing manual.

Youth Kill in Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — A band of youths burst into an isolated farmhouse on the outskirts of Belfast Sunday night and opened fire on six persons, killing three women and seriously injuring a man, police said. The killings were the latest in a wave of violence following the death last week of jailed Irish Republican Army hunger striker Frank Stagg. Police said the injured man suffered head and stomach wounds and was in serious condition. Two other women in the farmhouse were hospitalized for shock, they said. The women were reported to be Roman Catholics. The farmhouse stands off a country lane on the outskirts of Belfast. A Protestant housing area is nearby. In London, police warned early morning commuters to watch out for bombs on the subways after a 20-pound explosive device was found and defused Friday at busy Oxford Circus subway station. Two bombs were planted in central London apartment buildings Saturday and one exploded, damaging an elevator shaft. But the incidents were slight compared with the violence in Northern Ireland. In addition to the farmhouse slayings, police reported six other persons killed and 33 injured in four days of rioting, shooting and bombing. Security forces said some 200 cars and buses had been commandeered and many set on fire to barricade the streets of Catholic ghettos. The burned-out hulks were cleared away by Sunday but gangs of youths roamed Catholic districts of Londonderry, setting fire to an abandoned factory, a bakery and several cars.

Wilkinson Reports Hay Was Stolen

A total of 150 bales of cane hay was stolen late last week from a stack on FM 272 between Pampa and Lefors — about 3 1/2 miles this side of Lefors. Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan said the hay belonged to Ernie Wilkinson, and is valued at $2.50 per bale. "We're working diligently and have some suspects," the sheriff said this morning.

Pipe Gone From Lease

An estimated $6,000 in heavy duty pipe has been stolen from the Worley Lease between Pampa and Lefors. Sheriff Rufe Jordan said the pipe was owned by Sam Anisman, a drilling contractor. He said 53 thirty-foot joints of 4 1/2 inch heavy duty pipe was taken. "This is very costly pipe," the sheriff added. Two of his deputies were in the field working on the theft this morning.

Kissinger Begins Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After numerous postponements, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger finally is beginning a six-nation Latin American tour to try to ease hemispheric strains over such issues as the Panama Canal. Kissinger was to leave for Venezuela, the first stop of a nine-day tour which will take him also to Peru, Brazil, Colombia, Costa Rica and Guatemala. Kissinger has planned since late 1974 to go to Latin America, but events in the Middle East and Southeast Asia have stopped him until now. Still, some Latin American leaders felt the traveling secretary was overdue in their region. The current Kissinger trip was designed in part with that in mind.

Public Notices

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE
A Hearing Commission of the Texas Water Quality Board will conduct an enforcement public hearing on March 5, 1976 at 9:00 a.m. in the City Council Chambers, Planning City Hall, 901 Broadway, Pampa, Texas to explore the status of PACKERLAND PACKING COMPANY OF TEXAS, INC.'s compliance with the terms and conditions of Permit No. 81924, Page 1, which authorizes the disposal of treated industrial wastewater into the watercourse of the State from the plant site located in the drainage area of Red Deer Creek, and the Canadian River in the Canadian River Basin adjacent to and on the north side of U.S. Highway 604 at a point approximately 1.8 miles east of the intersection of State Highway 273 and U.S. Highway 604. The hearing is being held pursuant to Section 310.21 of the Texas Water Code and Section 310.2 of the Rules of the Texas Water Quality Board to consider violations of the permit. The hearing will be held in particular, the Hearing Commission will consider evidence which indicates non-compliance with special provisions of Permit No. 81924, Page 1 concerning failure to prevent contamination of surface waters, failure to prevent the occurrence of nuisance conditions through a lack of designed and managed irrigation practices, failure to provide tankwater control facilities, where necessary, to prevent the discharge of water into the State of any wastewater which drains from irrigated lands, and failure to give immediate notice to the State in the event the company discharges wastes which violate the no discharge limitation authorized by Permit No. 81924, Page 1. The Hearing Commission will also consider any information presented at the hearing concerning any other violations of Permit No. 81924, Page 1, or of the Texas Water Code. By this notice the Texas Water Quality Board directs Packerland Packing Company of Texas, Inc. to appear at the enforcement public hearing to show cause for failure to comply with the terms and conditions of Permit No. 81924, Page 1. If the Board does find violation of the permit, the Board will consider appropriate enforcement action which may include issuance of an enforcement order requiring corrective action and/or revocation or suspension of Permit No. 81924, Page 1, and/or institution of a civil lawsuit against Packerland Packing Company of Texas, Inc. and/or other appropriate action. The Board will make whatever findings and take whatever action the evidence may justify. Any inquiries concerning this hearing should be directed to Mr. Lee H. Matthews, Chief of Enforcement Hearings, Texas Water Quality Board, P.O. Box 12346, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, telephone (512) 473-7881. Interested parties may appear at the hearing and present relevant evidence. Subsequent to the hearing, the Hearing Commission will prepare a written report for submission to the Board or to the Executive Director of the Board. The written report will encompass recommendations for disposition. Information on procedures for making comments on the findings or recommendations is available from the Hearing Commission's report which will be furnished at the public hearing. The hearing on this matter from time to time and from place to place, as necessary to develop relevant data and information issued this 8th day of February, 1976. February 14, 1976

Weekend News Summary

By United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Environmental Protection Agency has given its qualified approval to plans for selling offshore oil leasing rights for the first time in the Atlantic Ocean.

An agency spokesman said the EPA still was concerned about such potential dangers as oil spills caused by shipping near drilling sights, equipment damage caused by storms and trawling activity over undersea pipelines.

EPA's qualified go ahead was contained in a letter to the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management. The decision had been opposed by numerous environmental and citizens groups along the East Coast.

YONKERS, N.Y. (UPI) — Yonkers, first city in the nation to technically default on payment of its municipal notes, is trying to finalize elements of a $15 million package that would save the city from actual bankruptcy.

New York's fourth largest city has been in technical default on $12.5 million in maturing notes since Saturday but it has until the banks open Tuesday after the holiday weekend to find the money to meet payment of noteholders when the banks reopen.

It needs an additional $2.5 million to meet a payroll this week.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt said during the weekend the state would step in and help the city avoid actual bankruptcy.

HOUSTON (UPI) — Tenneco Inc., the nation's 24th largest industrial corporation, made campaign contributions to Texas and Louisiana candidates and payments to officials in 24 foreign countries.

Tenneco, a diversified natural gas, chemical and shipbuilding company, disclosed the payments in documents submitted voluntarily to the Securities and Exchange Commission but said an internal investigation could not disclose whether the payments were illegal.

Internationally, the company disclosed payments of $10,000 to a foreign government employee and $500,000 to "the military and certain military personnel in a foreign country for protection" of operations. No one was identified.

NEW YORK (UPI) — After 70 years in business, W.T. Grant and Co. closed its remaining 359 stores this weekend. The firm, which declared bankruptcy last week, was given 60 days to liquidate.

Unless a federal bankruptcy court rules in favor of the company's remaining 24,000 employees, they will receive no severance pay.

The company's personnel vice president, Robert Brown, said Grant's independently funded pension plan "is in good shape and we are proceeding to pay out claims."

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — In a move designed to tighten its control of the press, the Indian government has slashed by more than one-quarter the number of Indian journalists accredited to cover the capital.

The 14-member central press accreditation committee Saturday revoked without explanation the press credentials of 57 of the nearly 200 Indian reporters operating in New Delhi.

No foreign correspondents were involved in the government sweep.

Since the June 26 national state of emergency and news censorship were imposed, the government has expelled seven foreign newsmen, including five Americans, for what were termed censorship violations.

Two other foreign reporters have left voluntarily.

Mrs. Dunigan Heads Highland Auxiliary

The Highland General Hospital Auxiliary elected new officers at a recent meeting. The new slate will be installed in May.

The newly elected officers are Mrs. Edward M. Dunigan, President; Mrs. Joe Autrey, first vice president; Mrs. E.D. Grady, second vice president; Mrs. Earl Eaton, third vice president; Mrs. Warren Hampton, recording secretary; Mrs. James Hopkins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Scott Osborne, treasurer; Mrs. Peggie Ennis, parliamentarian. Named to a three-member advisory committee were Mrs. Charles White, Lois Wilkinson and Mrs. C.L. Farmer.

During the meeting, members voted to adopt cherry pink smocks as their new uniforms.

The Auxiliary assist hospital personnel in admissions, TV installation, x-ray and surgery departments, obstetrics and the gift shop.

The group voted to distribute pamphlets on the care of infants to new parents. The pamphlets are provided by the state.

At the meeting, which was attended by 23 members and two guests, Gil Gilpin, physical therapist at the hospital, demonstrated a battery-powered Transcutaneous Nerve Stimulator.

Plant City, Fla., is called the Strawberry Capital of the World and celebrates the Strawberry Festival annually in the early spring.

Employment prospects for the class of 1976 in colleges may be even worse than ones faced by the 1975 college graduates. This is according to an early-season survey of 630 employers conducted by the College Placement Council.

All Things Considered, It Wasn't As Much Fun

SORRENTO, La. (UPI) — Standing on a log in the middle of a dense swamp, swatting mosquitos and warding off the cold, can't compare with a night on the town in New Orleans. But Penny and Susan McGinty handled it well.

"They took it like champs. It was very cold and the mosquitos just tore them to pieces. They were just freezing all night. They had no drinking water, no blankets, no nothing," said Joe McGinty, Penny's husband.

He and Penny, his sister Susan and their friend, pilot Hugh Moore, left Alexandria, La. Saturday for a two-hour flight in a single-engine Piper Cherokee to New Orleans.

They had planned a shopping trip and a night on the town, "sort of a get-away weekend," McGinty said.

But the plane was forced down by engine trouble in a dense swamp near Sorrento, in Southeast Louisiana.

Rescuers took almost 24 hours to get the women and Moore out of the swamp, because of problems with terrain.

Penny and Sue suffered only minor scrapes and bruises; Moore was in stable condition with a head injury at Baton Rouge General Hospital.

McGinty, 25, sloshed through the snake-and alligator-infested mud about two miles — dragging a piece of the plane's tail to mark his location — and reached Interstate 10, where he flagged a motorist to summon aid.

Efforts to hoist the victims by helicopter through the thick cypress trees failed, but a medic swung down to them and joined them for the wait. Sheriff's deputies and state police next tried air boats, but the brush was too thick. An amphibious duck bogged down, and a four-wheel drive marsh buggy also failed.

The four waited on a log near the plane and finally, after dawn, a "flat-trackmobile" managed to complete the rescue.

"The two ladies were standing on a huge log and just out of the water," said Malcolm Edmonston, the Ascension Parish sheriff's deputy who headed the rescue operation.

"The two ladies burst into tears. You would have just had to be there."

"After staying all night in the swamp fighting snakes and alligators — I don't mean to sound like Davy Crockett or Daniel Boone or anything like that, but it's hell," Edmonston said. "It was a rough situation."

Alpha Iota Studies Constitution

Alpha Iota Conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota met recently to hear a committee report concerning amending the constitution on membership.

The conclave will vote on the proposed changes in March.

In other business, the membership began plans for attending the state convention in Lubbock in April. Alpha Iota conclave will meet other area conclaves March 22 for a salad supper.

Garden Club Names Officers

New officers of Las Pampas Garden Club for 1976-77 were approved at a recent meeting.

The slate of officers are Mrs. Alice Raymond, president; Mrs. Mary Ann Boehmish, vice president; Mrs. Kathy Hall, secretary, and Mrs. Carolyn Maxey, treasurer.

Twelve members and two guests were at the meeting to hear a program on sand painting and terrarium making delivered by Jan Ott and Gay Kimbell of Rice's Garden Center.

WTSU Library Gets Gifts From Locals

E.J. Dunigan Jr., and Jeffrey Nash, both of Pampa, have contributed to the West Texas State University Books for Buffs Drive.

Parents of students at WTSU have been asked to help fund the drive with $15 donations to the WTSU Cornette Library.

For the contributions, parents may designate the names of individuals they want honored with bookplates which the library places inside books purchased with the donations.

The drive has netted the library over $1,700 from parents. Goal of the drive is to add more than 65,000 volumes to the library.

Silver Beaver Awards Presented at Banquet

Four Silver Beaver awards were presented during the annual recognition banquet hosted by the Adobe Walls Council of the Boy Scouts of America Feb. 6.

Marvin Thompson,

Scoutmaster of Troop 559 in Borger; E.D. Daugherty Jr., member of the executive board from Canadian; C.E. "Gene" Steel, past president of the council from Pampa, and Marvin A. Andrews, associated with the Paul Hitch Ranch in Guymon, Okla., were the recipients.

The award is the highest honor which a local scout council can bestow on an individual and fewer than 100 such awards have been presented by the Adobe Walls Council since 1938. Selection for the award is based on service to youth, community and church, as well as service to the Boy Scouts.

Other honors went to the Pioneer District and the Buffalo Wallow District for achieving all their goals in 1975.

Olympics: Till We Meet Again

INNSBRUCK (UPI) — The sign read: "Till we meet again in Lake Placid—1900." And with that the 12th Winter Olympic Games ended Sunday, quietly and with a minimum of pomp.

Those who watched the Games on television saw brilliant racing, stunning upsets, comradeship and good sportsmanship.

There was Rosi Mittermaier presenting Kathy Kreiner a yellow tulip after the Canadian teen-ager had halted the West German's bid for the first women's Alpine Triple Crown success in the Olympics.

And there was the smile of pretty Dorothy Hamill of Riverside, Conn., after she won the women's figure skating title.

The American team will remember Innsbruck. Only once, previously, at Oslo in 1952, has an American team returned home with more medals—11.

Sheila Young, 25, of Detroit was the star of the American team, returning home with three speed skating medals: a gold for the 500-meter sprint; a silver for the 1,500 and a bronze in the 1,000.

Peter Mueller of Madison, Wis., was America's other gold medalist for the 1,000 meter speedskating event.

The speed skating team, in fact, accounted for six of America's medals, all the more amazing when you consider the United States has only one international size outdoor arena at West Allis, Wis.

Leah Poulos of Northbrook, Ill., won a silver at 1,000, and Dan Immerfall of Madison took the bronze in the 500.

In Nordic cross country skiing, where Americans normally bring up the rear, a star of the future emerged in Bill Koch of Guilford, Vt., when he finished second in the 30-kilometer.

Colleen O'Connor and Bill Mills of Colorado Springs won the bronze medal in the ice dancing, one of the two new events introduced this year, behind a couple of Russian teams.

The Alpine skiing team, which had the best possible preparation, came close, but not close enough. Cindy Nelson of Lutsen, Minn., won the bronze in the women's downhill for America's only medal.

Russia headed the medals race with 27, made up of 13 gold, six silver and eight bronze. East Germany, 7-5-7—19 was next with the U.S. in third place.

Shockers Leading Conference Race

By United Press International
The Wichita Wheatshockers not only own a little bit of revenge, they now own the Missouri Valley Conference lead.

But the Shockers face plenty of trouble in the four games that remain on their MVC schedule.

Thanks to Cal Burton, Wichita (7-1) nipped challenger Southern Illinois last Saturday, 65-64, to seize a one-game lead over the Salukies and West Texas (both 6-2). West Texas whipped Bradley, 74-66, Saturday in Bradley.

That narrow victory helped avenge a two-point loss Wichita suffered earlier this season at Carbondale, the only setback the Wheatshockers have had to put up with in the MVC this season.

But the road to the league title and a trip to the NCAA playoffs is certainly not going to be easy for Wichita. Of the four conference games remaining for the Shockers, three are away from home.

And one of those road games is against West Texas a week from Monday.

Burton hit a pair of free throws with 19 seconds left against Southern Illinois to bring home the Shockers win Saturday and provide Wichita with its sixth straight victory.

Robert Gray paced Wichita with 22 points and Bob Trogele pitched in 14.

Earlier in the week Southern Illinois had hurt West Texas' title chances with a 66-57 win at Carbondale.

Wichita has only one conference date this week, entertaining Drake (2-4) on Thursday night—the Shockers final home league game of the season. Southern Illinois will be at home against Bradley (3-6) Thursday night and visit Drake Saturday evening.

West Texas has the entire week off to rest up for its critical meeting with Wichita Feb. 23.

High for Rebound

Tascosa's Mike Lorenz seems to be riding Pampa guard Forrest Taylor piggy-back style while going for a rebound Friday night. Shooter Rayford Young, 21, and Tascosa's Cliff DeFee also await the ball. Snead 1st in Williams

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The longest day in J.C. Snead's life, as he describes it, is over, and like all good stories it had a happy ending.

Snead, one of those "good ole boys" the hill country around Hot Springs, Va. is noted for, won the $100,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open Sunday the way he figured the night before as he tossed in his bed while sleep eluded him.

"The ending came out the way I figured it," said Snead, "but all that stuff in between was different. I don't ever want to go through another experience like that. It was too wearing."

Covalt, Bradford Capture 2nd-Place Wrestling Trophies

KILLEN — Monte Covalt, wrestling in the 95 pounds division, and Brent Bradford, in 119 pounds, both brought second-place medals back to Pampa from the Fort Hood Invitational Junior High and Grade School Wrestling Tournament Saturday here.

Covalt, a Pampa Junior High eighth-grader, and Bradford, a seventh-grader at Sam Houston Middle School, wrestle for the Pampa Optimist Boys Club.

The meet attracted 227 entries from Fort Hood, Killen, Fort Worth, Bryan, Denton, Plano, Houston and Pampa.

Saturday, the Pampa team will compete in the Grade School and Junior High State Tournament at Irving.

Pearson Wins Crash, Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — David Pearson, who crept to his first Daytona 500 victory Sunday in a crippled Mercury, blames Richard Petty for a spectacular wreck 100 yards from the finish line.

"When he came through the fourth turn," Pearson said, "Richard was undoubtedly pushing too hard and hit me in the rear. That got me sideways and we both slammed into the wall."

Pearson and Petty began dueling 25 laps back, when a caution flag bunched the field and made it appear it would be a three-way battle between Pearson, Petty and Benny Parsons right down the wire.

Parsons, who finished third in a Chevrolet, had managed to move from his 32nd slot to become a strong challenger but was effectively knocked from competition with engine problems. He finished two laps down.

That left a race between Pearson, a 41-year-old Spartanburg, S.C., native, and Petty, of Randleman, N.C., both of whom were running at speeds better than 180 miles per hour when they collided.

Both mangled cars came to rest in the grassy infield with the checkered flag in sight. Pearson kept his motor revved and limped past Petty's stalled Dodge.

"I must have been going about 15 or 20 miles an hour when I went by Richard," Pearson said. "It was the slowest finish ever at Daytona International Speedway."

Petty's pit crew rushed to the accident scene and pushed the famous No. 43 for a short distance but the car apparently finished under its own power.

Neither driver was hurt.

Pearson said he wasn't angry as he tried to get his car rolling.

"But if he had got across the finish line before me, I might have been standing here telling another tale," he said.

Petty said he wasn't angry either. "If there was anything to be mad at, I'd be mad at myself. I hit him, he didn't hit me."

Asked if his mind was on the finish line when he began spinning, Petty said, "When that thing got sideways, I didn't give a damn whether I got to the finish line or not."

Seven caution flags slowed the race for 35 of the 200 laps around the Daytona International tri-oval. One of them resulted from a wreck in which John Ray of Eastaboga, Ala., was injured.

Dr. Lamb Emphysema isn't the same as TB

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB—Please explain to me what emphysema is and how it affects people. Is it contagious? How is it different from tuberculosis?

DEAR READER—Emphysema is not contagious and is not caused by a germ. Tuberculosis is. However, a person can have both tuberculosis and emphysema.

Emphysema means obstruction of the airways in the lungs. The lung is made up of many tiny air sacs that you can regard as small balloons. These air sacs are where oxygen and carbon dioxide and other gases are exchanged with the blood. To provide oxygen and eliminate carbon dioxide the air in the sacs must be changed constantly. When we breathe out we expel the air in the tiny sacs and when we breathe in we bring in new oxygen. In emphysema the neck or opening into the tiny sacs is narrowed or constricted. This makes it particularly more difficult to empty the air sacs of old air adequately.

The constantly over-distended air sacs results in an over-distended chest. A person with longstanding emphysema will have a larger, often barrel shaped chest because of the

Salvation Army Sends Quake Fund

The Salvation Army in Pampa and other Texas cities is accepting funds to assist earthquake victims in Guatemala, according to Captain Bodell Heath, commanding officer of the local post.

Clothing and other supplies are not being accepted at this time for Guatemala because of difficulties in shipping Heath said. He noted that funds should be designated for Salvation Army Guatemala Relief and should be sent to The Salvation Army, 701 South Cuyler Street, Pampa, for forwarding to the leaders of the relief fund.

Rescue work in Guatemala is under the direction of the Salvation Army's Panama division.

over inflation. We call this configuration an emphysematous chest. Normally, the chest is flatter, as you can see by looking at your chest again, assuming you do not have emphysema.

The inadequate exchange of air leads to poor oxygenation of the body. The degree of difficulty is directly related to how much old air is trapped in the lungs and how much obstruction to air flow into and out of the lungs there actually is.

Various factors contribute to the obstruction at the opening of the air sacs. Cigarette smoking is a major one.

Poor oxygenation leads to loss of energy and one of the first symptoms of emphysema may be loss of exercise capacity. With mild exertion the victim gets short of breath. As the disease progresses, the difficulty in breathing becomes more marked. Finally these people literally choke to death or spend the last of their days literally gasping for air.

There are other complications that can occur along the way, too, which are not any more pleasant.

For a better understanding of how the lungs work send 50 cents for The Health Letter, Number 24. Keeping Your Lungs Fit. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Emphysema may follow a long history of apparent bronchial trouble with cough and sputum, or any evidence of lung disorder may be entirely absent.

Treatment is based on removing any and all irritants to the lungs and first on the list is tobacco. Doctors can help in some cases with other means of cleaning up infections and improving lung function. Some medicines are useful in helping to relax the obstruction in the lungs and improve ventilation. None of these measures by the doctor will be successful unless the patient cooperates by stopping smoking entirely or by avoiding other sources of irritants, such as dust, to which he may be exposed.

Jet Mechanic 'No Women's Libber'

ALVIN CALLENDAR FIELD, La. (UPI)—One weekend a month Nancy Netter dons her olive-drab fatigue uniform and goes to work on the jet engines of the Louisiana Air National Guard's F100 Super Sabre fighter planes.

Nancy, 18, says she is the only female jet engine mechanic in any National Guard unit in the country.

She does it because she loves aviation, and what some feminists may see as inherent sexism in her military rank of airman third class doesn't enter into it.

"I'm anything but a women's libber," she said during a recent drill meeting. "I get extremely upset if a guy goes through a door before me. But if I can do the job, why not?"

Seated in an office of the engine shop of the 159th Tactical Fighter Group, Nancy swept her chestnut hair behind her shoulder with the back of a grease-covered hand and spoke of a love affair with aviation that began when she was 4 years old.

A bulky silver necklace shone from behind the loose-fitting fatigue shirt, a glittering hold on her femininity in a formerly all-male world.

"I've loved flying ever since I was a child. A neighbor gave me a ride in a helicopter. I really loved it. I started taking flying lessons when I was 13."

Nancy wasn't able to keep up the lessons. Her mother is bedridden with emphysema. Nancy spends most of her time at home in Donaldsonville, La., 75 miles up the Mississippi River, caring for her.

"I hope to get a commercial pilot's license and an airframe and engine mechanic's rating," she said. "I figured the best place in the world to learn was the Air Force or something like it. But the Air Force sounded a little too permanent."

Nancy told guard recruiters she wanted to be a pilot. They told her the guard does not train women pilots but she could apply for mechanical training. Several weeks later she was at Chanute AFB, Ill., learning how to work on jet engines.

She has been back working with the guard for four months. Her supervisors said she is doing as well as her male counterparts, and without special treatment.

"I admit I was nervous about the way I would be treated, like glass or knocked around, neither are good, but it seems very natural," she said, "although I hear the language has quieted down a bit."

BPW Club Reviews Foundation

The Foundation Story was presented during a recent meeting of the Pampa Business

Roena Stone Graduates

Roena Ruddick Stone, a 1967 Pampa High School graduate, has completed her master's degree in guidance and counseling from Troy State University's European Division. She and her husband, Mike, a 1964 PHS graduate, are teachers for the Department of Defense at Spangdahlem and Bitburg, Germany. Mrs. Stone is the daughter of Mrs. Earl Davis of 1900 Coffee.

and Professional Women's Club in the new Senior Citizens Center.

Since the founding of the Business and Professional Women's Foundation in 1956, the club has worked to expand educational opportunities for women and to support research on the concerns of working women, officials said.

Two awards are offered by the foundation to assist mature women who need additional training. This training includes a non-degree program in order to re-enter the job market, to advance in a position or to change careers.

Women 25 years of age or older and who are U.S. citizens may apply for the Career Advancement Scholarship.

The applicant must show that she has a reasonable chance of success in her planned program of study. Financial need is a key requirement, and the emphasis is on smaller grants so the service will be available for as many as possible.

The scholarship fund does not cover doctoral studies, study at an institution of a foreign country or a correspondence course.

Criteria for Clairiol scholarships are the same as the career advancement scholarship, except the former requires that a woman be 30 or over.

During the meeting an announcement was made that as its bicentennial project, the Foundation has made a grant to Caroline Bird, author of "Born Female" to research and write this story as a book of national publication.

The book, "Enterprising Women" is scheduled for publication in February 1976.

Future meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club will be in the Senior Center, 500 W. Francis.

DAR Announces Colonial Tea

The 11th annual Colonial tea to be at St. Matthews Episcopal Parish Hall on Feb. 22 was announced during a recent meeting of the Las Pampas Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution.

The meeting was held in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. with Mrs. James Hopkins and Mrs. Dewey Palmieri as hostesses.

Mrs. J.R. Spearman, general chairman for the colonial tea, made the announcement.

Mrs. P.R. Britton, regent, presided and delates were chosen to attend the State Conference of Texas State DAR at the Sheraton-Texas Hotel in Fort Worth March 16-18.

During the Colonial tea Mrs. Walter C. Whatley of Groom will present the DAR "Good Citizens" awards to four girls who were chosen by their respective schools on the basis of trustworthiness service, leadership and patriotism.

They are Cindy Alexander of Pampa High School, Cindy Conrad of Groom High School, Lana Callahan of Wheeler High School and Carolyn Ray, who attends Lefors High School.

Top winners in the essay contest for American history of the month are Angela West and Leslie Eddins.

That announcement was made by Mrs. James Hopkins.

Mrs. A.D. Hills, assisted by Mrs. Don Melancon, presented a tour of New Mexico through slides.

Pampa Police Add Two New Staff Members

Two new employes have been added to the Pampa Police Department staff.

Lynn Allen Brown of Pampa is the new patrolman and Arley G. Atchley of Pampa is a communications trainee.

The announcement was made by Police Chief Richard Mills.

Brown is married and has two children. He is a native of Pampa and was graduated from Pampa High School. He replaces Bruce Bailey who resigned to accept a position as deputy sheriff in another county.

Atchley is a graduate of Pampa High School, and has served in the U.S. Army.

Pension, Annuities Rules Vary

By Ray De Crane
(10th in a Series)

Income from pensions and annuities may be fully taxable, partially taxable or exempt from tax for a limited period.

Here are the rules: If you are retired and receiving a pension that was totally financed by your employer, all of your income from the pension must be reported. Under these circumstances, you need not complete the pension and annuity income section of Schedule E. Merely report the full amount of your pension payments on Line 31b, Form 1040.

If you are retired under a contributory pension plan

(both you and the employer made contributions to the program) you must use Schedule E. Almost always in such plans the retiree will receive within the first three years after going on pension all the money he contributed to the program.

Once all contributions have been recovered tax-free, everything received beyond that point is fully reported as income.

Annuities represent another form of retirement income. Annuities may be purchased with a lump sum payment or in payments made during one's working life. Annuities guarantee a fixed monthly payment for life after retirement.

In effect, each payment represents a part of your own money coming back to you plus earnings on your money. Only the latter portion represents the taxable part.

To determine what part is taxable and what is non-taxable, it first must be determined what the annuity cost you. This figure can be obtained from your insurance company. Once the cost has been determined, the anticipated return must be determined.

Actuarial tables, available through your insurance company or from IRS, are available for this. According to actuarial tables, a man at age 65 has a life expectancy of 15 years. Here is how it would work for a man who invested $15,000 in an annuity program that promises him $250 a month for life after reaching 65.

His expected return is $45,000 ($250 x 12 x 15). To determine the excludable portion, divide the $15,000 cost by the $45,000 expected return. This is 33 and a third per cent.

Each year 33 and a third per cent of the payments received will be excluded from tax. Only the balance is reported as income.

Once determined, this excluded portion remains fixed for life. (NEXT: Retirement income credit.) NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your rewards will be greater today if you take pride in what you do and work to please others.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) This is a good day to get together with an old friend you've neglected a bit lately. Let her know you still care.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You are adept at closing a deal today, particularly if there is something of value in it for you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your words will have greater impact today than you're apt to give yourself credit for. Others won't take them lightly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your material prospects look very encouraging today. Keep an eye peeled for situations that could add to your resources.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You can achieve desired results today if you don't lose track of what it will mean to you. Think of yourself, but don't be selfish.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't be discouraged today if that which you hope to accomplish gets off to a slow start. Things will get better.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today you are likely to place the interests of others far above your own. This won't go unnoticed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Conditions look favorable today where your career and finances are concerned. Opportunities may come through friends.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Concentrate on a major goal today. You should be able to make substantial progress if you apply yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You'll get better results today from things you do with someone else, than if you work alone.

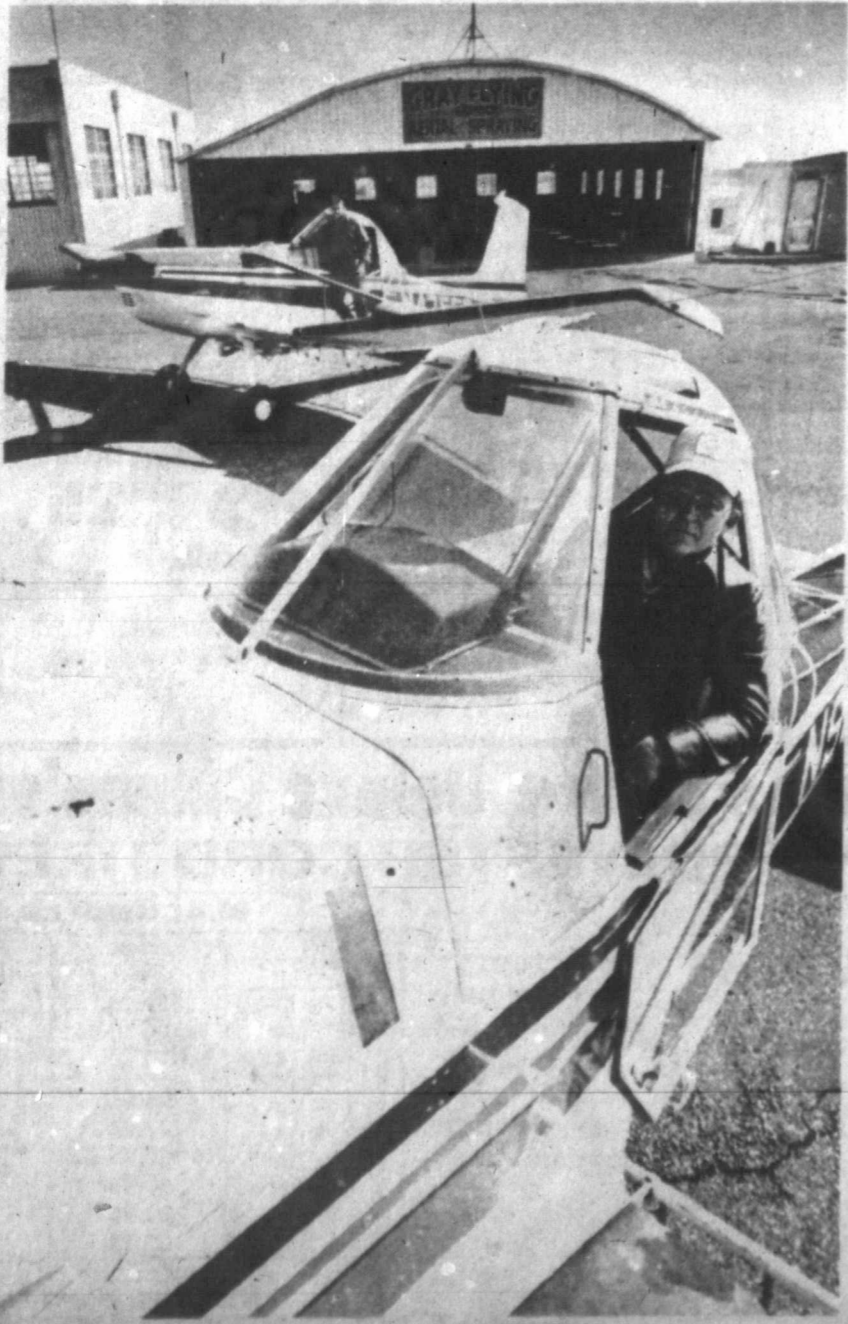

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) You might now begin to see a return on obligations that are due you. Don't refuse anything owed you.

There will be a more profitable market for your knowledge and skills this year. Work or career advancement is likely if you use your talents wisely. NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Gray Flying Service

Kenneth Gray and Stan Coleman

Kenneth Gray started the Gray Flying Service, an aerial spraying business, 12 years ago at the Perry Lefors Field here.

He began with one small plane. Today he has two Cessna agri-trucks. He has a commercial license and two pilots are employed full time.

He came to Pampa from near Miami in Gray County.

"I've lived in Gray County all of my life," he said, adding that he is also a farmer and is familiar with all the problems that go with it.

He has a wife and three sons. "The future of Pampa is great. We have the best people in the world right here and I mean that sincerely," he said.

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED KARPIN

This past summer I asked Lee Hazen, the legal counsel for the American Contract Bridge League, for his favorite hand. The deal he gave me was the one presented below. In it, he came up with a defensive play that won a tournament for him. Hazen was sitting in the East seat.

Both sides vulnerable. South deals.

NORTH
♥ Q8
♦ AK6
♠ AQJ10953
WEST
♦ 763	♦ 52
♥ K62	♥ J1073
♦ Q107432	♦ J85
♦ 7	♦ K842
SOUTH
♦ KQJ10984
♥ A954

The bidding:
South West North East
1♦ Pass 3♦ Pass
3♦ Pass 4♦ Pass
4♥ Pass 4NT Pass
5♦ Pass 6♦ Pass
6♦ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Seven of ♠.
The North-South bidding was very sound, with one "abnormal" bid being made: North's raise to six diamonds over South's Blackwood response of five diamonds. This was an expert call which said: "Partner, I know you don't have diamonds, and I have no intention of playing the hand in a diamond contract. If you have the king of clubs — the suit which I have bid twice — bid a grand slam in clubs."

Dummy's queen of clubs was played on the opening lead, and Hazen won the trick with his king. The instinctive play would have been to return a club, since he knew that West was void of this suit.

But, based on the bidding, Hazen knew that South rated to have a solid trump suit and the ace of hearts. Why had South finessed at trick one when he held a singleton club? Surely, Hazen concluded, South was prepared for a club return.

It will be observed that if a club had been returned at trick two, declarer would have fulfilled his contract with ease. He would have ruffed with a high trump, cashed dummy's ace of spades, re-entered his own hand by ruffing a club with a top trump, and picked up West's two remaining trumps.

His three low hearts would then have been discarded on dummy's clubs.

After due consideration, Hazen found the killing return at trick two — a low diamond. Dummy's king won the trick, but the sole future entry to dummy had just been removed. Dummy's ace of trumps was cashed next, after which the diamond ace was played, South discarding a heart. But when declarer next ruffed the club jack, West played (as South discarded another heart). And, in time, declarer still had to lose a heart trick, to incur a two-trick set.

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The current Holy Year has provided a boost for the Italian tourist industry. Tourism Minister Adolfo Sarti said in a recent Vatican Radio interview. He said a projection indicates that by the end of the year the tourist inflow will be eight per cent above the 1974 level and money tourists brought to Italy will have topped $1.9 billion.
