

Primaries enter round two

By CLAY F. RICHARDS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The second round of presidential primaries is about to begin and for the Democrats it could mean a three-way contest soon will be down to two men.

Wisconsin and New York vote April 6, and Morris Udall must win one of the two — or come in a close second in both — to keep his candidacy alive.

If Henry Jackson wins New York big and Jimmy Carter captures Wisconsin — which is what each predicts — it probably will be all over for Udall.

Udall has a chance of winning in Wisconsin, however, and has pulled together a liberal coalition of sorts in New York. The Arizona congressman received two big boosts when he captured back-to-back endorsements from the National Board of Americans for Democratic Action and the New York New Democratic Coalition.

That established Udall's credentials as a liberal and will bring in the big liberal money and organizational expertise that has been hanging back looking for a candidate.

Udall wasted no time. He sent out a fundraising letter immediately to ADA members and warned the liberals "there is a growing danger that the party of FDR, Stevenson, the Kennedys and McGovern could arrive at its convention offering delegates the choice between two essentially conservative candidates."

Jackson isn't taking any chances in New York. He's campaigning there almost every day from now until the primary. Udall is splitting his time between the two states and Carter in his usual style is spending about half his time in New York and Wisconsin, the other half in primary states down the road.

Ronald Reagan's unexpected victory in North Carolina last week put new punch into the conservative drive against President Ford.

Both the American Conservative Union and the Young Americans for Freedom promptly came out with resolutions calling for Ford to withdraw.

A county circuit court judge in Lansing has issued a restraining order blocking Michigan's May 18 presidential primary. Judge Ray Hotchkiss said he will rule by April 1 whether the election should be scrapped.

The order stemmed from a suit by local government organizations protesting the state's refusal to pay the $2.2 million needed to finance the primary. Hotchkiss said he won't permit the primary to go on unless the legislature votes the funds.

An aide to George Wallace said the suit was part of a scheme to thwart the Alabama governor's campaign.

Sen. Frank Church says he hit on his campaign strategy the night he appeared on the "Tomorrow" show on NBC-TV.

"I was astonished to find that the program has an audience of six million insomniacs," Church told a Washington luncheon Friday.

"I said to myself, 'Today the insomniacs, tomorrow the world.'" Daniel Patrick Moynihan launches his political career in New York's April 6 primary. He is on the ballot as a delegate pledged to Jackson.

It has been speculated that the delegate race is a trial run for Moynihan's plans to seek the New York senate seat now held by James Buckley.

It was an inauspicious start for the former U.N. ambassador. He filed his delegate petition late and almost was ruled off the ballot by a state supreme court judge.

The judge said, however, the change in state law that permitted Moynihan and others to get on the ballot didn't permit enough filing time — and allowed the Harvard professor to run.

President Ford spoke at the Radio and Television Correspondents Association dinner in Washington last week and said he understood television had adopted something called the "family hour" but he wasn't quite sure what it was.

"I always thought the family hour was something to do with Sargent Shriver's campaign. It was inspired by the family, and it lasted an hour."

Woman's condition good after accident

The Pampa Police Department blotter today revealed a variety of reports ranging from motor vehicle accidents to criminal mischief.

Ruth Taylor, 55, of 316 Miami, was in good condition this morning at Highland Hospital where she is recuperating from injuries received in an accident Sunday.

The police report states that she backed from a driveway and was in collision with a parked car belonging to Floyd E. Irvin. A fence at 304 Miami was also damaged in the accident.

In an accident Saturday at Browning and Ballard, Harlon L. Hatcher of 1816 Coffee received injuries. He was riding a motorcycle which was in collision with a car.

He was treated at Highland General Hospital and released.

One person was arrested for driving with no drivers license, third offense, another for driving while intoxicated and another for driving while under the influence of drugs.

Theft of hub caps was reported from John McGuire Motors, 701 W. Foster.

Janice Steptoe of 430 Oklahoma reported a disturbance call at Mary Ellen's Soul Food, Oklahoma and Gray. She was hit with a glass bottle.

She was taken to Highland

General Hospital where five stitches were required to close the wound.

B. D. Reeves of 525 Lowry said someone removed a Citizens Band radio antenna while his car was parked at Stedum's Restaurant.

One subject was issued a citation for following too close after an accident at Ballard and Francis.

A shattered glass in a vehicle parked behind Duckwalls was reported. It appeared to have been done with a BB or pellet gun, according to the report.

A violation of the dog ordinance was reported in connection with a resident allegedly allowing his four dogs to run at large.

Longet to face charges

ASPEN, Colo. (UPI) — Among the 500 persons attending memorial services for former professional skiing champion Vladimir "Spider" Sabich was the lover who allegedly shot him to death — singer Claudine Longet.

District Attorney Frank Tucker has indicated Miss Longet, 35-year-old former wife of singer Andy Williams, will face charges of criminal negligent homicide. She was free on $5,000 recognizance bond pending a hearing April 8.

Dressed in a black coat and carrying a white daisy, Miss Longet took part during the weekend in the memorial service at the base of a small slalom course set up at the foot of Aspen Mountain.

The mourners included movie stars, sports figures, residents of this ski resort community and tourists. Spectators included pro ski racer Hank Kashiwa and film star Jill St. John, who has a permanent residence in Aspen.

Sabich was shot once in the stomach March 21 at his $250,000 house in an exclusive subdivision where he had lived with Miss Longet for the past two years.

Miss Longet walked to a small speaker's stand, plucked a white daisy from a basket of flowers and then returned to her spot at the front of the crowd during the brief service, conducted by the Rev. John Jepson of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Aspen.

Jepson told the crowd he had not known the 31-year-old Sabich but urged those present to take inspiration from his death to be instruments of peace.

Sabich, a two-time world pro ski racing champion who had been plagued by injuries for the past several years, was attempting a comeback at the time of his death. He entered several races earlier this winter but was not among the top finishers.

He was buried in his hometown of Placerville, Calif., Thursday.

School menus

Tuesday — Fried chicken, mashed potatoes with gravy, English peas with carrots, hot roll, jello with fruit and milk.

Wednesday — Corn chip pie, pinto beans, cole slaw, pineapple cobbler and milk.

Thursday — Hamburger with mustard, french fries with catsup, lettuce, tomatoes, chocolate no bake cookies and milk.

Friday — Barbecue Weiner, green beans, potatoes, drop biscuit, pair half, milk and cinnamon roll.

Pioneer film star dies

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Pioneer film star Richard Arlen, who starred in the first Oscar-winning motion picture, "Wings," was an aerial daredevil in life and the movies.

Arlen, who appeared in more than 250 silent films and talking pictures during his 50-year career, died Sunday at the age of 75 at Riverside Hospital, where he was hospitalized four weeks ago for treatment of a severe emphysema attack.

Prayer services were scheduled Tuesday night and funeral and burial Wednesday at St. Cyril's Church in suburban Encino and Holy Cross Cemetery in Inglewood.

Arlen portrayed a silk-scarfed American pursuit pilot in "Wings," the 1927 epic about World War I combat that also brought stardom to Gary Cooper and Buddy Rogers.

He starred in at least a dozen more flying pictures over the years, including "Legion of the Lost Flyers," "Power Dive," "Forced Landing," and "Sabre Jet."

His forte was adventure stories of all kinds, including "Danger on Wheels," "Lucky Devils," "Warlock," "Kansas Raiders," "Hurricane Smith" and "Devil's Canyon."

Arlen took up character roles in movies and television, as well as commercials, in his later years. His last appearance was a cameo in a satire of early movie-making, "Won Ton Ton, the Dog Who Saved Hollywood."

Born Van Mattimore, Sept. 1, 1900, in Charlottesville, Va., Arlen grew up in St. Paul, Minn.

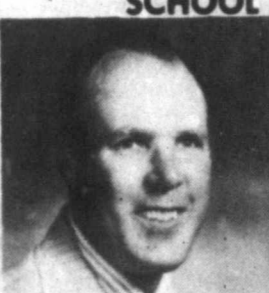

In 1917 he joined the Royal Canadian Flying Corps and became an expert pilot with service in England. He never saw combat, however, and once remarked that the flying sequences in "Wings" were more dangerous than his military flights.

Arlen worked his way west after the war and got a job in Hollywood as a film developer and motorcycle messenger. He was delivering film to the studio that later became Paramount when his cycle crashed into a studio gate and broke a leg.

Studio personnel visited him in the hospital and later offered him bit movie parts. Seven years later he won the role in "Wings" that made him a star and brought him wages of up to $200,000 a year.

Oil dependency higher today

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States is even more dependent on Arab nations for crude oil supplies today than it was before the oil embargo, according to a study by an independent consulting firm.

The Petroleum Industry Research Foundation, in a study released today, said total Arab imports into the United States last year rose 86 per cent over 1974, when imports were artificially low because of the embargo early in the year. "Nevertheless," said John Lichtblau, director of the foundation, "compared to 1973, which was not significantly affected by the embargo, Arab imports here in 1975 rose by 49 per cent."

He said 25 per cent of all petroleum imports, including refined products, came from Arab sources last year compared with 16 per cent in 1973. "For crude oil alone our dependency on Arab oil was even higher last year — 32 per cent of total U.S. crude imports were of Arab origin," Lichtblau said.

Lichtblau said the Eastern Hemisphere accounted for 58 per cent of all imports "and, thus, for the first time for more than half our total imports." The trend is accelerating and in the last three months of 1975, 62.5 per cent of U.S. imports were of Eastern Hemisphere origin, he said.

The major reasons for the decline in the Western Hemisphere's share of the U.S. market were the drop in Canadian crude oil shipments and a reduction in residual fuel oil imports from Venezuela, Lichtblau said. Total petroleum imports, including crude, residual oil, unfinished oils and other petroleum products, declined by less than 1 per cent in 1975 after dropping 3.5 per cent in 1974, according to the study.

Just as in 1974, all of last year's decline occurred in the importation of refined products which dropped 29 per cent. By contrast, crude oil imports rose by nearly 15 per cent. "In all, the United States imported 6.5 million barrels per day in all petroleum products in 1975 compared with 6.6 million in 1974 and 6.8 million in 1973.

City exemption urged

City Manager Mack Wofford reported 15 letters and a half dozen telephone calls had been received today urging city commissioners to grant the $3,000 homestead tax exemption to Pampa property owners 65 years of age or older.

The city manager said the letters and calls were the first response to an appeal for public opinion on what action the city should take regarding the tax exemption. Persons wishing to express views on the matter were asked to send a card or letter to Mayor R.D. Wilkerson, P.O. Box 2499, Pampa, Tx.

Gray County activated the homestead exemption under state law three years ago and the Pampa Independent School District made it effective March 11 this year.

Birth defects seminar set Thursday in Pampa

A one-day educational seminar aimed at stimulating interest in the problems of birth defects in Texas is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the Coronado Inn in Pampa.

Host will be the Gray County Chapter of the National Foundation - March of Dimes. H.L. "Red" Weatherly, March of Dimes Volunteer and Gray County chapter chairman, said today that Pampa is probably the smallest city in the nation to host such a seminar.

Dr. Leonard Graivier, Dallas pediatric surgeon and Regional March of Dimes chairman, will discuss "Birth Defects — The tragedy and the Hope."

He will be followed by Mrs. Helene Botsonis, RN and State Volunteer advisor, who will present "The Darker Side of Childhood," a side presentation developed in cooperation with the Texas Department of Community Affairs, Early Childhood Development Division.

Concluding the presentation will be a panel discussion of "YOU — The Hope for the Future."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ronald Reagan, finding it a "ridiculous situation" that he cannot buy his way onto television for a major speech, is asking the chairmen of ABC, NBC and CBS to make the time available.

"In the interest of fairness and justice as well as the people's right to know, I believe time should be made available. Otherwise as one of only two national candidates seeking the Republican party's nomination for president I will be unable to gain the same access to the people as the other contender, Gerald R. Ford."

Reagan said Saturday the networks refused to sell his campaign 30 minutes of prime time for the speech. He said that if he couldn't get time on any of the networks he would try to buy it across country on independent stations.

Reagan was not planning "at this time" to take legal action before the Federal Communications Commission or the courts.

Breast removal bypassed

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Rekindling the breast cancer treatment debate, a radiologist said Saturday preliminary results of a Harvard study suggest radiation plus lump removal may control cancer occurrence and spare women the need for breast amputation.

The Harvard results were reported by Dr. Samuel Hellman, chairman of radiology at Harvard Medical School. He said "while I am very encouraged about the results so far, I would be less than honest if I said I know they will continue this well."

uncertainty of having a mastectomy," he said in a report to the American Cancer Society science writers seminar.

May barbecue to fund LBJ Memorial Grove

STONEWALL, Tex. (UPI) — On May 2 on the banks of the Pedernales River, political leaders and environmentalists will attend a barbecue to raise funds for a national memorial to former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Rockefeller, Mrs. Vincent Astor, Mrs. Albert D. Lasker, Mrs. Charles Engelhard and Nash Castro. A cast of more than 100 singers and dancers, a stage coach, a hack, a covered wagon, 28 horses and six mules from the Fort Griffin Fandangle will perform at the benefit.

presidential years. Cactus Pryor will be master of ceremonies and Broadway star Carol Channing, a member of the LBJ Memorial Grove Committee, will attend.

Breast cancer has been controlled in 74 per cent of 90 patients with more advanced breast cancer but most of those patients developed cancer in distant organs.

At Wits End

Film showing costly for theater man. DANBURY, Conn. (UPI) — For letting two 17-year-old girls view "Deep Throat," Harry Brey has been ordered to spend 10 days in jail and pay a $750 fine.

There are no records to prove it, but I have every reason to believe my husband was an 11-month baby. And he's been running two months late ever since.

"We've been through all this before," he signed. "Sitting around before an event begins is a complete waste of time when you could be spending it sleeping... reading... working..."

"I have seen you set your alarm clock. When you want to get up at 6:30 you set it for 5:30. Then you smack it and say, 'Don't tell me what to do, Buddy. Then you reset it for six. At six when it goes off you hit it again and shout, 'Ha, ha, I was only kidding. I got another half hour.' You reset it for 6:30, at which time you throw your body on it and say, 'I don't need you. I don't need anybody.' Then you go back to sleep."
