Gun Control Legislation May Be Asked At Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The attempted assassination of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace may force the Nixon administration to introduce gun legislation it has been sitting on for months.

A gun-industry source said Tuesday he received private assurances from an administration official several weeks ago that the White House would continue to delay introducing legislation it promised to propose last fall and reportedly completed drafting in February.

But within hours of the shopping center gunshots that killed Wallace and wounded three others Monday a Senate subcommittee scheduled a closed session for this afternoon to consider a series of tough bills.

The meeting was called by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency.

None of the administration officials most closely involved in gun control could be reached for comment Tuesday.

But a source on Capitol Hill said he understood the White House was considering unveiling its own delayed proposals, perhaps within a day or two.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson was quick to call for tough new gun-control legislation after the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy in June 1968.

But the gun-control act which finally passed Congress months later was far weaker than Johnson sought, attesting to the election-year muscle of the country's 40 million gun owners, many of whom traditionally see any legislation as another small step toward confiscation.

High Nixon administration officials repeatedly have said they oppose restrictive legislation, but favor the goal of most

Gold Price Sets Record In Europe

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold spurred ahead to new record levels as soon as European free markets opened today, touching $58.50 an ounce in Frankfurt.

With demand heavy, dealers said price levels were responding to the limitation of South African gold supplies to the free market.

Dr. Theunis De Jongh, governor of the Reserve Bank of South Africa, confirmed in Johannesburg Tuesday that South Africa, the world's biggest gold supplier, is no longer selling its full weekly output of gold.

In Frankfurt, the price of gold was fixed at $57.75-56.25 an ounce at the opening but quickly shot up to $57.50-58.50 compared with Tuesday's close of $54.70-55.20.

Dealers said demand was heavy on a tight market.

On the active London market, the price of the metal moved up to $57.50 an ounce at the fixing, compared with $55-55.50 late Tuesday.

In Zurich the price was fixed at the opening at $56-56.75. Tuesday's close was $54.50-55.

Gold closed in Hong Kong at $56.20 an ounce, up $2 from Tuesday's closing rate. Dealers said the jump was due to soaring prices in Europe.

Dealers do not believe monetary speculation is responsible for the latest surge in gold prices and the U.S. dollar is steady in European capitals.

Red Shells Hit U.S. Air Base, Killing 7 GIs

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese shells smashed into a big U.S. Air Force transport and stored artillery ammunition and gasoline at the Kontum airfield in the central highlands today, killing seven Americans aboard the plane and injuring the other two.

The North Vietnamese also blew up the main ammunition dump at Pleiku, 20 miles south of Kontum.

City Continues Data Processing Analysis

City officials are planning a lot of study on the possibility of Pampa operating its own data processing system.

The exploration will follow a trip to White Settlement yesterday by City Manager Mack Wofford and City Secretary S.M. Chittenden to investigate that town's municipally-operated computer handling of city billings and records.

Wofford said he and Chittenden were given a thorough briefing on how the White Settlement system of leased IBM data processing equipment works.

The city manager said City Tax Collector Aubrey L. Jones is expected to make additional study of the White Settlement operation this weekend.

"We are trying to determine whether we can operate our own system and get additional results cheaper or for around the same amount it now costs to have the work done by contract," Wofford said.

The city manager said a great deal more investigation is necessary before reaching a decision whether to make a change.

The city currently is spending between $20,000 and $25,000 a year on its data processing contract with Tri-State Data Processing Co. of Pampa.

Bremer Has Many Things In Common With Oswald And Sirhan: Psychiatrist

NEW YORK (AP) — A quiet young man, a loner with few friends and alienated from his family, Arthur H. Bremer was many things in common with Lee Harvey Oswald and Sirhan B. Sirhan.

Such men act on impulse and feel compelled to change the world, says a psychiatrist often called upon by the Justice Department to examine would-be presidential assassins.

Bremer, 21, is accused of shooting Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace as Wallace campaigned Monday for the Democratic presidential nomination in Laurel, Md.

Sirhan was 24 when he fatally shot Sen. Robert F. Kennedy during the 1968 presidential campaign. Oswald was 23 when he assassinated President John F. Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

Dr. David Abrahamson, a New York psychiatrist, has examined more than a dozen people who threatened the president or vice president. He has written a book about Oswald, "Our Violent Society," and researched the personality of assassins.

"These people have a very low level of frustration. They are to act out their impulses whenever the possibility is there," said Abrahamson.

"They feel very threatened. To overcome being threatened, they try to change the world."

Assassins and potential assassins often come from broken homes or were otherwise separated from their families, he said. "They often feel alienated and have a need for revenge," he said.

"These people think of the world as a place of chaos and try to clean up the chaos by an extraordinary act such as killing," he said. "They are not really trying to kill a person. They are trying to change the world."

Abrahamson has never seen Bremer or personally examined Oswald or Sirhan, though he has studied their cases.

Bremer was arrested in Milwaukee last November for carrying a concealed weapon. Oswald was reduced one rank while he was in the Marine Corps for carrying an unauthorized personal weapon.

A court psychiatrist who examined Bremer after his arrest last year said Tuesday Bremer did not seem dangerous at the time. Oswald underwent psychiatric tests in grade school and was found to have a passive tendency toward aggression, nothing more.

A minister who interviewed Bremer last year reported Bremer said he had no close friends. On a personal history questionnaire when he was in high school, Oswald answered no to a question of whether he had any close friends.

The minister, Fred E. Blue Jr., said Bremer "appears to bottle up anger but will sometimes let it go—I assess him as bordering on paranoia." The defense in the Sirhan trial asserted that he shot Kennedy in a state of gathering paranoid rage.

Few people know Bremer well. The sketchy picture that emerges from the comments of his family, school acquaintances and people he worked with is that of a fairly intelligent young man who kept to himself the reasons for whatever he did.

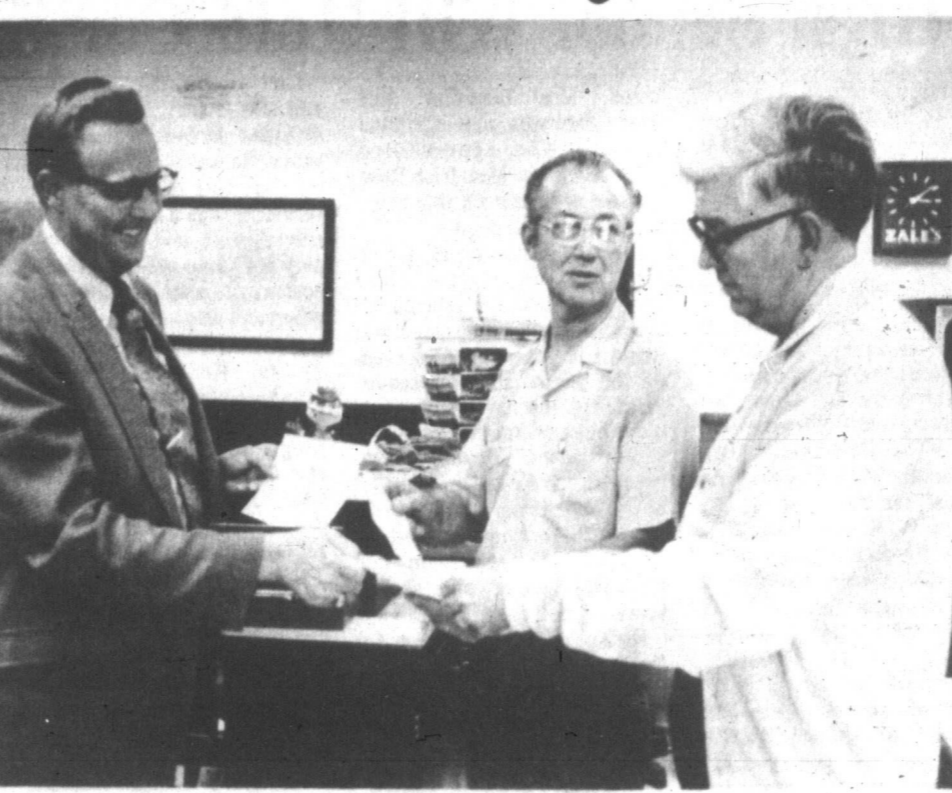

"There is no explanation we can give at all," said Theodore Bremer when told his younger brother had shot Wallace.

"All I know is he is a nice kid," said Sirhan's older brother when told of the shooting of Robert Kennedy.

"I can't believe it," Bremer's father said of the shooting. "If my boy did it, he must have got awfully sick."

"My son—it can't be," Sirhan's mother said in 1968. "Ever since he had a fall about a year ago, he hasn't been the same."

John Connally's Decision Stirs Wide Speculation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Why did John B. Connally resign his post as Secretary of the Treasury? What does it say about his future?

Republicans and Democrats alike offered speculation Tuesday on the man President Nixon has said could handle any political office in the land.

The theories went like this: —"He said he'd come in as a Democrat and he'd go back to Democrat and this is what he's going to do," said Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex., a longtime Connally friend who predicts he'll rest up at the ranch.

—"He's in a much better position to run for vice president now, free of the Treasury job, and he's probably leaving now to get more support for it," said Rep. Mendel J. Davis, D-S.C., who said a Nixon-Connally team might be unbeatable in the South.

—"I imagine he will be campaigning for his brother but I don't know," said Rep. Olin Teague, D-Tex., referring to state Sen. Wayne Connally who came in second in the race for lieutenant governor and faces an uphill runoff battle.

—Rep. Wright Patman, chairman of the House Banking

Committee, said he didn't know whether Connally's future lay in the Republican or Democratic party "but he is a very active and able person and I am sure that we will hear much from him in Texas as well as in this nation."

Immediately after Connally's resignation was announced by President Nixon, one explanation given was that Connally wanted to go back and help his brother—and oldtime Southwest Texas rancher-banker friend Dolph Briscoe who's running for governor—pull through the runoff election.

"His brother's going to need all the help he can get," commented Rep. Bob Casey, D-Tex.

Teague noted, however, that some people thought Connally's position in the Republican administration hurt Wayne Connally, also a Democrat.

Connally may not even return to Texas until after the early June runoff.

Pickle, a friend of Connally's for three decades, said he was surprised only at the timing of Connally's announcement—a day after the critical wounding of Alabama Gov. George Wallace, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president.

"There's been some speculation that this was related to the Wallace campaign but I don't think so," Pickle said.

"I really think that if Connally was going to leave the cabinet, he'd need to get out before the campaign gets underway and this will happen after the President returns from Russia," Pickle said.

Home state politicians are expecting John B. Connally to reappear on the Texas political scene—but they don't know where or when.

"We're just as surprised as when he went to Washington, said a former Connally aide. "We're just waiting now to hear from him."

Just last week Connally told a reporter stationed in Washington for a Texas newspaper that he thought most of the Democratic contenders for the presidential nomination were "too far left" but said: "I have no plans now to change parties."

He also repeated that he would not go this year to either the Democratic or Republican national conventions.

"I have said all along that John went to Washington to do a job for his country and that he would be back in Texas when he thought he had done it," said Wayne Connally, a brother who is in a hot Democratic runoff race for lieutenant governor.

"Of course, I know he is for me in my race. However, I do not know that he will be able to return to Texas in time to help me in my race, in that he will no doubt remain in Washington until his successor is on the job," Connally said.

President Nixon also said Tuesday that the former secretary would undertake some temporary, unpaid assignments for the president after the summit talks in the Soviet Union.

John Connally's political plans became a matter of national discussion last month when Connally invited about 200 of his most influential and best financed political friends to his Floresville ranch while Nixon was there overnight. Nixon gave the guests a detailed discussion of his political views.

There was considerable speculation that the ranch party was a prelude to possible organization of a bipartisan group like the "Texans for Nixon" of 1968 that was headed by former Gov. Allan Shivers.

Agnew, Thieu Discussing Viet Situation

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew conferred with President Nguyen Van Thieu for more than an hour today in a meeting that U.S. sources said was intended to underscore the Nixon administration's support for South Vietnam in the current Communist offensive.

Thieu's press office said Agnew and the president "reviewed and discussed the general situation in South Vietnam." Aides refused to give any details or to say whether Agnew carried any personal messages between Thieu and President Nixon. But they said the vice president would report to Nixon immediately upon returning to Washington Friday.

Agnew flew to Saigon from Bangkok, where he arrived Tuesday after representing Nixon at the ceremony in Tokyo returning Okinawa to Japan. It was his third visit to South Vietnam, and he stayed three hours and 15 minutes, then flew back to Bangkok.

Accompanying him to the meeting with Thieu at the presidential palace were U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

The vice president was to meet this afternoon in Bangkok with Field Marshal Thanom Kittikachorn, chairman of Thailand's ruling national executive council, and tonight he was giving a dinner for his Thai hosts.

Candidate's Condition Showing Improvement

By The Associated Press

Gov. George C. Wallace has scored overwhelming victories in the Michigan and Maryland presidential primaries, and his managers are mapping new contests in behalf of their wounded candidate, hoping to deadlock the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey was resuming today the campaign he suspended when Wallace was shot. Sen. George McGovern said he would take up the race again Thursday.

Felled by a gunman and partially paralyzed, Wallace received 51 per cent of the Democratic vote in Michigan to score his first Northern victory as a presidential campaigner, and parlayed that with a 40 per cent victory showing in Maryland.

McGovern ran second in Michigan, with 27 per cent of the vote. Humphrey third with 16 per cent. In Maryland, Humphrey's second place share was 27 per cent. McGovern trailed him with 22 per cent.

The South Dakota senator said he was pleased with what he termed strong showings in both states.

Humphrey congratulated Wallace, but said he could draw no conclusions from Tuesday's two primaries. He said his prospects of winning a second Democratic nomination had not been damaged by the outcome.

On the Republican side in both states, President Nixon won easily over token opposition.

Wallace had been the favorite in both contests, with his opposition to school busing for desegregation a big plus in Michigan, and with the electorate in much of border state Maryland clearly receptive to his kind of Democratic protest.

But his margins were bigger than expected, and it appeared that votes of sympathy for a felled campaigner, and a stiffened resolve among his supporters, had bolstered his showings Tuesday.

The Democratic ballots in both states were crowded—1 entries in Maryland, seven in Michigan—but only Wallace, McGovern and Humphrey gained significant shares of the vote.

In Michigan, voters could choose the ballot of either party, and Democratic leaders said a massive crossover of Republicans had inflated the Wallace vote.

With 99 per cent of the Michigan precincts counted, the votes lined up this way: Wallace 791,321 or 51 per cent. McGovern 416,671 or 27 per cent. Humphrey 246,546 or 16 per cent.

National convention votes were awarded there on the basis of the primary vote shares of candidates who polled at least 5 per cent. Those figures translated into 72 convention votes for Wallace, 38 for McGovern, 22 for Humphrey.

Humphrey thus was falling short of the goal he said would be a satisfactory outcome, a 25 per cent share of the Michigan delegation.

George C. Wallace, elated by smashing presidential primary triumphs in Michigan and Maryland, showed continued improvement from gunshot wounds today.

A medical bulletin giving the latest word on the condition of the Alabama governor, partially paralyzed since being shot Monday during an election rally, said:

"The governor spent a comfortable night. He is very alert and aware of his surroundings. He is reading the paper avidly. He is continuing to improve.

"Paralysis of the legs remains unchanged.

"At this time, despite reports to the contrary, the exact nature of injury to the spinal cord cannot be determined until surgery is performed."

The bulletin, issued by Dr. Joseph F. Schanno, appeared to challenge published reports that Wallace already faced permanent paralysis from the hips down because of damage to the spinal column.

The Washington Post in today's editions reported that the bullet had severed Wallace's spinal cord. It quoted unnamed medical sources as saying chances of the governor ever walking again are "zero."

Earlier, Billy Joe Camp, Wallace's press secretary, told a reporter that the Post story was "unfounded."

Camp said the governor had asked him this morning to get the latest vote totals from the two primaries.

"He was in good spirits," Camp said. "He was already aware he'd won the primaries."

There had been indications that Wallace's gunshot wound affecting the spine might not be as serious as had been feared.

DETROIT (AP) — Here are the vote totals of the leading candidates in the Michigan Democratic presidential preference primary, with 80 per cent of the 5,710 precincts reporting: Wallace 601,845-50 per cent. McGovern 324,484-27 per cent. Humphrey 200,382-17 per cent.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Here are the vote totals of the leading candidates in the Maryland Democratic presidential preference primary, with 99 per cent of the 1,616 precincts reporting: Wallace 216,019-40 per cent. Humphrey 144,849-27 per cent. McGovern 118,311-22 per cent.

DETROIT (AP) — Here is how Michigan's 132 delegates to the Democratic National Convention would be divided, according to primary election returns from 5,703 of the state's 5,710 precincts:

Wallace 72
McGovern 38
Humphrey 22

BALTIMORE (AP) — Here is how Maryland's 53 delegates to the Democratic National Convention would be divided, according to primary election returns from 1611 of the state's 1,616 precincts:

Ratiff's Daughter Goes Before Jury

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Sen. David Ratiff's daughter has testified before the Travis County grand jury in a probe of her father's possible violation of the state nepotism law.

Lynora Ratiff spent about 30 minutes with the jury Tuesday, then refused to talk to or even look at reporters as she marched from the courthouse.

Miss Ratiff reportedly worked fulltime for the Campus Crusade for Christ at the same time she was on the payroll of Rep. John Allen of Longview.

Ratiff supposedly endorsed some of the House payroll checks issued to his daughter.

The state nepotism law forbids legislators to hire their own or other legislators' relatives.

Wallace's Backers In Texas Vow To Keep Campaign Going

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Alabama Gov. George Wallace's supporters are keeping up their drive for about a third of the state's national Democratic convention delegates.

"We're going right on. That's what they (Wallace headquarters in Montgomery, Ala.) told us to do," said Mrs. Lee Sullivan, the Texas organization's secretary.

Monday night, she was still trying to collect results of Saturday's county Democratic conventions, but couldn't raise many Wallaceites on the telephone.

"After this happened, everybody was going to church for prayers," Mrs. Sullivan explained, referring to the attempt on Wallace's life.

County conventions Saturday gave Wallace about 28 per cent of the delegates to the June 13 state Democratic convention, according to an Associated Press survey. The state convention will choose delegates to the national convention.

"My thought is that we should have 30 to 35 per cent of the delegates," said Hall Timanus, Houston lawyer and self-styled "Shivers Democrat" whom Wallace personally picked to head his Texas campaign.

The target is as many of Texas 130 national convention delegates as Wallace can get.

"All we are doing right now is holding our people together and getting out instructions for the state convention," Mrs. Sullivan said Tuesday.

Wallace's success in Texas thus far has resulted from seven weeks of hard work, a tightly controlled organization with no pretense of democratic procedure and a charismatic candidate.

Timanus says he agrees with that evaluation.

Wallace started late in Texas, kicking off his drive for pre-

State Demo Head Denies Charges By Yarborough

DALLAS (AP) — State Democratic chairman Roy Orr has denied charges by former Sen. Ralph Yarborough that the party's state committee refused to listen to complaints of mistakes in the May 6 primary vote count.

Orr presided for the committee's meeting Tuesday at which county totals were certified, establishing that Yarborough lacked 536 votes to secure the nomination for U.S. senator.

Yarborough will face former Astt. U.S. Atty. Barefoot Sanders in the June 3 runoff.

The former senator claimed that he won the primary without a runoff and the committee refused to recognize it. He said Orr and other Democratic party officials refused to listen to complaints by Yarborough's representatives.

Orr rejoined that if there were any mistakes in the vote count, they were made by individual county chairmen and it is up to

Smith Makes Appointment

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith has named Arthur Bush of Dallas and Z.T. Craver of Marshall to the Texas Advisory Commission in Inter-governmental Relations.

Bush replaces William T. Bailey of Dallas and Craver succeeds Judge Tom Ball of Cleburne, both of whom resigned.

Bush is regional administrator for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Craver is county commissioner of precinct no. 4 in Harrison County.

Yarborough to request recounts.

"We are not trying to suppress anybody," Orr said Tuesday night. "Yarborough knows the proper channels for asking for a recount."

"We only certify the totals submitted by the county chairmen. We cannot make any changes."

"We would be in serious trouble if the state committee started making changes on its own on the vote total only because a candidate complained."

Orr said he met with Yarborough's representatives and reminded them that they could ask recounts in counties where they felt mistakes were made.

Yarborough's office said he was informed by Borden County chairman Bill Jennings that a third candidate in the race received 34 votes instead of the 314 reported to the state committee.

"I would pick up 280 votes there," Yarborough said.

Dear Abby

Two-faced GI may try honesty in future

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm not very good at writing letters, so I make tapes to send to members of my family. (I am overseas in the service.)

I made two the other evening. One for my wife and one for my mother. I put them in the wrong envelopes and my mother got the tape I made for my wife, and my wife got the one I made for my mother.

I told my wife that when I come home next month I would rather that we just be alone, and I would try to get out of having my mother come to visit us. (My wife and my mother don't hit it off very well.)

In my tape to my mother I said I hoped she could come and visit us when I get home!

Well, my wife wrote and told me she got the tape I made for my mother, so obviously my mother got the tape I made for my wife.

Now what do I do? WORRIED IN NAM

DEAR WORRIED: Take your lumps like a man. And if things get too hot stateside, you can always re-enlist!

DEAR ABBY: Every time I read a letter in your column from a mother who has practically become unglued because of a shocking letter she has "accidentally come across" while cleaning her child's desk drawers, I am reminded of some of the letters I used to write when I was a teen-ager.

I used to dream up the most fantastic tales to make my out-of-town friends think I was popular and wild. I realize now that some of the stories my correspondents wrote to me must have been equally fictitious.

I'm lucky my mother never snooped in my stationery box or she surely would have had a heart attack — for nothing!

OVER FIFTY

DEAR OVER: Your letter should be included with the literature put out by the HEART ASSOCIATION.

DEAR ABBY: There is a blind man who sells newspapers downtown. He has a seeing eye dog, but yesterday I noticed that he was hesitant to cross the street so I gently touched his elbow and said, "I'll tell you when you have the green light."

He thanked me warmly and said, "I wish more people were educated to let me know when the 'go' light is on. If I get started all right, I'm okay, but last year I was struck by a car."

I suppose because a blind person has a seeing eye dog with him, everyone assumes he needs no help in crossing streets. They don't realize that ALL dogs are color blind, and cannot read traffic signals.

I didn't know this until recently. If you will pass it on, Abby, you will help many blind people.

MRS. E. H. N.

DEAR MRS. N.: I am informed that, although all dogs are indeed "color blind," guide dogs are trained to escort their masters across streets by going with the flow of traffic. However, not all masters have complete confidence in their dogs, so if you observe such a situation, it would be kind to offer assistance.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Defense Chief Visits Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secy. Melvin Laird left Tuesday for Europe to explain to America's NATO allies what he called President Nixon's "bold decision for peace in Indochina."

"I believe the majority of the defense ministers will understand this most generous offer for peace," Laird said.

He referred to the President's offer last week to withdraw all U.S. troops from Vietnam four months after the North agrees to return all American prisoners and an internationally supervised ceasefire throughout Indochina.

The United States has since sealed North Vietnam's harbors with mines and is bombing that country's transportation system to cut off the flow of military supplies.

He defended use of the mines, describing them as passive weapons which "do not seek out ships, but when a ship seeks out a mine there will be an explosion."

Effects of the mining and bombing campaign, he said, will not be felt at once but will have a long-term effect on the enemy strategy.

Laird is to take part in NATO's nuclear planning group meeting in Copenhagen Thursday and Friday and at the May 24 session of the NATO defense Planning Committee in Brussels.

Laird repeated that he is impressed by the performance of the NATO allies but believes they need to bear a larger burden in behalf of their own defense.

Chicago Couple Works Out Principle For Equal Share Of Their Housework

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — Like many American couples, Andy and Millie Stoll married young, had a family and fulfilled their dream of owning their own business.

But after 12 years of marriage, Millie, first, and then Andy, decided that their traditional married roles were driving them apart.

Now, every other week Millie, 30, kisses Andy, goodbye at the door and goes off to work. Andy returns to the kitchen to do the ironing, cleaning and caring for the couples five children, age 2 through 10.

Going to work for Millie—and Andy—means managing the small glass company they own. The firm, started by Andy's father, is only three blocks from the Stolls' home in North Chicago. Andy and Millie bought the controlling interest in the firm.

The Stolls' experiment with a radically different division of labor started when Millie became restive in her role as a housewife.

She grew increasingly irritable with Andy's well-meaning offers to help with "your wash or your cooking."

"It's not my wash, it's our wash and our meals," Millie would snap back.

Then, last September, Millie walked out.

"I had to figure out who I am, not in relation to other people, even Andy and the kids. Just myself," she explains.

When she returned several days later, Andy agreed to split the housework down the middle.

Now it was Andy's turn to be unhappy, for he was still working six days a week at the Stoll Glass Co., plus shouldering 50 per cent of the housekeeping.

After more soul-searching they arrived at the present arrangement—one week for each running the house, one week for each running the family business.

Millie's belief that women are restricted by tradition and patterns led her to join in organizing a NOW—National Organization for Women—chapter. She recently became its president.

She says, however, she was dissatisfied before any formal affiliation with the women's liberation movement.

"I had been thinking about a 50-50 arrangement for several years before we actually worked it out. One day last summer something just clicked in my head, and I wanted to know how I could have equal charge in running the household," she says.

Both the Stolls agree housework is boring, but also agree the new system benefits the whole family.

"It's one way of getting things we want for our family in a mutually satisfying manner," Millie says. Giving their children two full-time parents is one of those things.

The children have not been so enthusiastic. The older girls—Lisa, 10, and Theresa, 9—grumble that mother isn't around much anymore, and that Andy and Millie are putting more emphasis on their individuality than on togetherness.

Even that attitude doesn't worry the Stolls, for they feel the children should learn early how to deal with individuals.

Most of the couple's friends are reserving judgment on the unusual arrangement, displaying little approval or disapproval, asking only if it works.

Has the change in work habits made an impact on the glass company?

"It's really too soon to tell," Andy says. "Maybe in a year or so we'll notice a difference, but I doubt it will have anything to do with Millie and me trading places."

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

Velma's sex questions may perplex millions of you readers. So scrapbook this case or mail it to young married couples. A high school course on "Practical Medicine" would familiarize all our people with such vital facts!

CASE T-581 Velma W., aged 24, wants some medical facts about sex.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "we have been married 3 years and still I am not pregnant."

"So I'd like to know what is the best way for a wife to conceive if she and her husband are both apparently normal but still childless."

"And how can a doctor predict when a baby will be born, after the woman is pregnant?"

"Why do some mothers bear several baby girls but no baby boys, while the very reverse is true in other families?"

Pregnancy Facts

The womb (uterus) can be visualized as resembling an inverted pear.

Add a trumpet vine flower, extending from each of the upper corners and you have a rough picture of the womb with its two Fallopian tubes.

At their far ends, those tubes flare out with finger-like projections, much like the bell of the trumpet vine's flowers.

About the middle of a woman's menstrual month one egg (ovum) usually ruptures from either her left or right ovary.

And her ovaries are outside the Fallopian tubes.

The sperm cells of the male are also of two kinds and look like microscopic tadpoles, for they have tiny tails for swimming.

If a married woman has contact with her husband during the "pregnancy week" of her menstrual month, millions of these sperm cells swim up through the womb; then out the Fallopian tubes and then swarm all over the ovary, waiting for the egg to rupture free.

Fertilization occurs either at the ovary or in the outer one-third of the Fallopian tube.

If the smaller of the two types of sperm cells impregnates the egg, the infant will be a boy. The larger sperm cell produces a girl baby.

Since the female vagina is normally rather acid in its moist lining, and acid tends to paralyze sperm activity, the smaller or male type of sperm may not be able to get into the alkaline interior of the womb on its way toward the ovary.

This can explain why some women have a series of girl babies.

And many apparently normal wives remain childless, may merely need a mild alkaline douche just prior to mating.

TMA Launches Drive For Budget Reform

HOUSTON — An extensive public information campaign directed at the citizens of Texas and calling for sweeping changes in the Texas State budgeting system was announced today by the Texas Manufacturers Association (TMA), a group composed of over 6,000 businessmen and professionals.

TMA spokesman Dr. Ralph Wilson, Chairman of the Association as well as Chief Executive Officer of the Texas-based Ralph Wilson Plastics Company, stated that the 36 chapters of TMA located throughout the state held simultaneous meetings to kickoff the campaign.

Estimated attendance at the kickoff meetings was set at over 6,000, according to Dr. Wilson. Attending the locally-held meetings were members of virtually every civic and professional group in the state as well as key members of the media.

Citing the need for a new budgeting system, Dr. Wilson said, "There are five distinct problems relating to money management in Texas: budget office duplication of efforts, excessive and non-restrictive powers of the Free Conference Committee, earmarking of 80 per cent of our budget, non price-tagging of proposed bills, and no provision for budget accountability."

Continuing, he stated that Texas' present budgeting system, adopted in 1949, when an annual budget of only $500 million existed, is totally incapable of efficiently handling today's annual budget of nearly $4 billion.

Dr. Wilson also stressed the necessity for acting quickly to improve state budgeting practices, noting that old financial problems are becoming more critical and new ones are rapidly developing.

"TMA's goal," said Dr. Wilson, "is that, when the legislature is called to order in January of 1973, one of the first proposals presented to our elected Representatives and Senators will be one that moves our budgeting system into modern-day times."

The program presented at the locally held TMA kickoff meetings was built around an extensive slide-tape presentation designed to "present the problem of state budgeting honestly, without bias." The Association hopes to show this presentation to any Texas group.

Mainly About Skellytown

By FANNIE COLEMAN
Rev. and Mrs. Milton Thompson and son, Brian, were in Portales, N.M. recently where they attended the graduation exercises at the Portales business college where their daughter-in-law graduated.

The Skellytown Boy Scouts with their Scout Master, Raymond Smith and two sponsors, Amos Cook and A.J. Watson, spent a recent weekend at Camp M.K. Brown, Mobeetie, where they slept in tents and cooked their meals over campfires. Boys attending were Danny Ray McCann, Walter Garrison, Alvin Smith, Marvin Kramer, Bobby Tollison, Kent Burditt, Dennis Cook, Kelly Watson and Charley Paul Boissenet.

The Old Familiar Buck

Here is one to write your favorite politician about. Did you know there is a private group that speculates in land to be sold to the government?

We didn't know either until we read Ford Foundation Letter for April 15, 1972. Page 7 of the letter described the relationship of the foundation to a group known as "The Nature Conservancy."

According to the letter, Nature Conservancy is a "private agency that preserves open land of scientific or aesthetic value against commercial exploitation."

The letter goes on to state that Nature Conservancy's "chief mode of operation is to buy or take option on strategic tracts and hold them for resale to the government as soon as Congress votes the funds."

In 1968, the so-called Conservancy obtained a $6 million loan guaranty from the Ford Foundation "to expand its program of land acquisition in cooperation with Federal Agencies."

"A few weeks ago," the Foundation letter states, "the Conservancy notified the foundation that it wished to terminate the credit agreement ahead of schedule because the guaranty had demonstrated the Conservancy project's feasibility and credit-worthiness to banks and other conventional lending institutions."

Now let us examine that verbiage. The quoted phrase "in cooperation with Federal agencies" means that the fellows in the private agency get the word from the government boys that the latter are out after a "strategic" piece of real estate.

The phrase "demonstrated the Conservancy project's feasibility and credit-worthiness to banks" means that in the eyes of a banker, the private agency (a) buys the land cheap enough, and (b) sells the land to the government high, thanks to the bureau, to (c) make enough extra to meet its overhead (feasibility) and (d) build up a cash reserve, other assets or profit margin (credit-worthiness).

The U.S. Government already owns approximately one-third of the total land area of the nation, ranging as high as 85 per cent in Nevada, and 98 per cent in Alaska. Yet we hear a persistent clamor, often in the name of conservation, that the government acquire more. We have never doubted that there was a motivation. Now we know a little more about it.

Biggest Blow Hards

One of our staffers who usually doesn't think much of the women's liberation movement, thinks one of the gals came up with a pretty good idea.

The women's libbers were staging their usual objections to the weather people down in Florida always giving feminine names to the big wind storms. Roxey Bolton said the National Hurricane Center should name the big winds after senators and representatives in Congress.

She didn't get anywhere, since the Hurricane bureaucrats depend on Congress for appropriations. But it was an appropriate suggestion anyway, our staffer contends. He's willing to offer a few names of candidates for president for a starter.

What's In A Name?

What do they call frankfurters in Frankfurt? "Wiener Wurstchen"—Vienna (little) sausages.

O.K. What do they call wieners in Vienna? "Frankfurters" naturally.

This intelligence comes from gourmet Joseph Wechsberg, writing in the Saturday Review. He personally believes that the pre-World War II "parky" in Prague were the best hot dogs of all.

If that doesn't give you enough to chew on, be advised that in Hamburg, hamburgers are called "Deutsches Beefsteak."

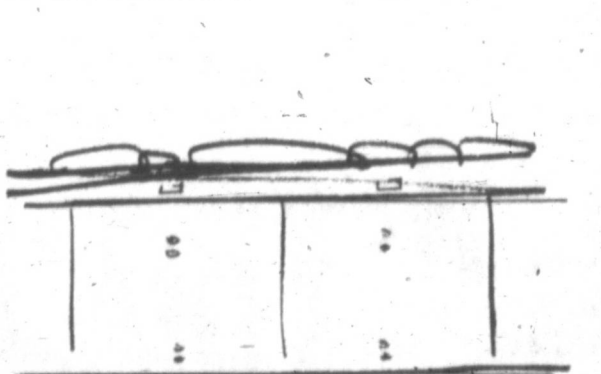

Which leads to the question, what do they call beefsteak in the United States? Outasight.

"Listen, my friend, if you don't put your seatback up—I'll hijack this plane!"

Nixon Adds To Welfare Give-Away

With one swift, surreptitious stroke, the federal government has managed to increase individual public aid benefits for thousands of welfare recipients all over the country.

In Chicago alone, some 19,000 welfare families have benefited from this windfall, at an expected cost to the taxpayers of more than $8.4 million this year. If the scheme works the way its planners intend it to, the cost will be even higher next year.

The increase was made possible by legislation revising the Brooke Amendment, signed into law by President Nixon last Dec. 22. Cloaked in goodness, the revision limits the rent charged to tenants of federally-financed public housing to 25 percent of their income, even if that income comes solely from public aid.

As rents charged by the Chicago Housing Authority for example, have been considerably higher than that, enactment of the measure has meant a substantial reduction in rent payments for welfare families living in C.H.A. projects. Because the reductions (averaging about $37 a month) are retroactive to last December, some families will be paying no rent at all in April and May. Additional federal subsidies will compensate the C.H.A. for the loss in rent revenue.

One might applaud the scheme as a means of increasing the federal government's share of the welfare burden, presuming that the rent reductions will be accompanied by proportionate reductions in the amount of local monthly public aid payments.

That's not how it works. Under the scheme, the rents go down but the public aid payments stay the same. The Cook County Public Aid Department has been ordered to keep paying recipients at the same old rate, allowing the recipients to pocket the difference. In effect, the rent reduction is a substantial, across-the-board increase in welfare benefits for those living in federal housing.

One hesitates to decry any action which improves the lot of the downtrodden, but this scheme has some major flaws. One is that the taxpayers, already in an angry mood, will become enraged. Local property taxes are sky high and landlords are increasing rent; all over the place.

Also, the scheme would seem to abrogate the principle of relief on the basis of need, which is embodied in the Social Security Act and other federal statutes. With the scheme, the federal government has decreased the amount of need but not the amount of relief. Finally, the program works an injustice on welfare recipients who are not living in federally-funded public housing. The only way they can increase their benefits is to move into one of the public projects.

Here, it would seem, lies the method to this madness. Public housing of the high-density, high-rise sort has proved a colossal failure. These projects have become such wretched, crime-ridden sociological disasters that welfare families flee from them at the first opportunity. There are some 378 vacancies in Chicago's Cabrini-Green housing project alone. The only possible inducement to continued residence in them would have to be something as compelling as more money. To a person on welfare, $37 a month is a small fortune.

"Inducement" is one word for it. Another is "bribe." We can't see how it's going to solve anything in the long run, and we hope this isn't the sort of thing Mr. Nixon has in mind when he talks about welfare reform. — Chicago Tribune

Hanoi Nixes Moscow; Will Go Its Own Way

WASHINGTON (NEA)—It can be said with some certainty that Dr. Henry Kissinger, in his recent fruitless secret meeting with Le Duc Tho, North Vietnam's representative, went through one of the most shocking experiences of his life.

The emotional effects were still apparent two weeks after the event.

According to administration sources, the Soviet Union had in four days of meetings with Kissinger promised, in effect, to deliver Hanoi on a platter if the United States would only once again agree to secret negotiations.

The men in the Kremlin had promised Kissinger they would tell Hanoi that unless the invasion were halted or some reasonable talks begun with the United States, Moscow would gradually cut back on war supplies to North Vietnam.

The Soviet leaders said they did not expect the United States to take their word on what they would do. The United States could continue to bomb until Washington saw results.

The Russians said that even a gradual cutback on supplies would not, of course, have an immediate effect on the fighting. Nor would it be quickly discernable. But the United States should watch, and when Washington was able to discover by its own intelligence methods that in fact the Russia-to-Hanoi supply line was indeed shrinking, then Nixon, they hoped, would begin to cut down on the bombings and other aid to match the Russian cutback.

Moscow told Kissinger they would deliver North Vietnam's Le Duc Tho to Paris ready to talk. The evidence was, and still is, that the Russians meant what they said and believed they could do what they promised. This information comes from men who normally do not trust the Soviet Union.

But North Vietnam bolted. Le Duc Tho appeared in Paris. But in those secret meetings, as Kissinger has put it, the North Vietnamese said nothing that could not have been clipped out of a newspaper.

There was no negotiating or any attempt at negotiating by Tho. There was only a "jubilant" and "arrogant" reading of the old terms—which amount to a United States and South Vietnamese surrender. It was an insulting, take-it-or-leave-it meeting.

Le Duc Tho wouldn't talk. He would only demand Kissinger was humiliated. He believed the United States and President Nixon had been humiliated as well.

This was Kissinger, the scholar, the reasonable man, who believed longer than almost anyone else high in government that intelligence combined with reasonable negotiations would, in the end, prove fruitful.

For the first time, Kissinger, Mr. Nixon's closest security adviser, saw that neither the Soviet Union nor China had power over the tiny country of North Vietnam. He finally realized that Hanoi was going to go its own way, in its own fashion, regardless of how much pressure Moscow and Peking applied.

H. L. Hunt Writes

REPLACE FAMILIES?

Defeat of legislation to set up federally-financed "child development" centers for children below school age was a victory for the family in our country. Yet the enemies of the family have not given up. The attack on the family continues in many different areas.

Recently Roger Freeman, a senior staff member of the Hoover Institution and a former special assistant to President Nixon, made the frightening proposal that children might be better off if taken away from mothers who were receiving welfare and placed in government institutions.

Said Mr. Freeman: "Maybe we should consider whether a child is always best off with his mother, or whether growing up in a well-run institution may not give him a better chance in life than living under inferior parental care or in a detrimental environment."

The notion that government institutions could provide a better upbringing for children than a family is completely contrary to everything that our country has stood for.

Some people might support these proposals on the grounds that they only affect people receiving welfare. Yet this point of view holds that the government has the right to take children away from their parents and put them into institutions under some circumstances.

Such proposals are perfectly at home in a totalitarian state. They have no place in a free country.

Your Health

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
This 15-Year-Old Had 13 Operations

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 15 years old and have had 13 operations, including a tumor above my right eye, tonsillectomy, removal of part of my bladder and my right kidney. As you can imagine, I have spent a lot of time in the hospital and have missed quite a lot of school. Because of this I developed slowly and am way behind most kids my age in body maturity. I am weak and get exhausted after the least bit of strain. My doctor prohibited me from participating in football, basketball and even physical education class. I would like to know what sports you think would be bad for me and what sports would do my physical condition good. Thank you, from Kidney-less.

Dear Reader—Of course you would like to participate in some sports, but I really think you had better rely on your doctor's judgment, because he knows all the details of your problems.

Although physical activity is very good for individuals who are healthy, sometimes when one has had serious illnesses like you have had, they can be harmful. You might talk to your doctor about the advisability of walking and hiking, which could help build up your physically to some extent. If your over-all physical condition will permit this, and if it is allowable it might help you gain some strength.

For anyone who has been inactive for a long time, even a young person like yourself, the proper way to begin any physical program before any sports activity would be a good walking program, carried out for a period of months until your physical condition will permit you to do something more.

If you are going to be physically limited for a long period of time, you might at least be able to compete with other people by developing your ability in games of skill. You don't need to be Hercules to be able to compete with other people and enjoy it. If you like cards, why not become a real card shark at bridge? It would help you socially and you could play bridge with your friends or some other card games if you preferred. You could make a project out of it, or if you really wanted to work on something brainy, why not become an expert on chess?

The American Optometric Assn. has a good safety suggestion. They recommend that all motorcyclists wear reflective material on all sides of their helmets to provide greater safety at night. The reflective material should be open triangles of about five square inches. Triangles of this size can be detected at distances of about 800 feet, which is three times farther than a normal white helmet can be seen at night.

Jackson Warns: Better Not Leave It To George

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

Golda's Pipeline to Rumania
WASHINGTON — Prime Minister Golda Meir of Israel did gain one important objective during her first-of-its-kind visit to Rumania.

Both President (and Communist party leader) Nicolae Ceausescu and Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer personally assured her that more Rumanian Jews will be allowed to migrate to Israel.

There was no hint of this consequential promise in the joint communique issued at the conclusions of Mrs. Meir's three-day stay.

In fact, nothing was said at any time about this significant matter either before or after her trip. Instead, public attention was centered on the possibility of Rumania acting as intermediary in bringing the Arabs and Jews to a negotiating table. Press and radio-TV coverage was concentrated entirely on that.

That was eminently agreeable to Prime Minister Meir and her Rumanian hosts. By mutual consent they were in full accord on the desirability of maintaining a total blackout on the touchy and explosive immigration issue.

But in her talks with Ceausescu and Maurer, Mrs. Meir found them willing to make some concessions on permitting more Rumanian Jews to go to Israel. No formal agreement was sought or made, but the Rumanian leaders did give assurances that existing restrictions would be moderated.

Just what and how much that means only time will tell.

But on its face, their verbal commitment is a notable diplomatic triumph for Mrs. Meir, which could have far-reaching impact on both Russia and other Iron Curtain countries that are much tougher than Rumania toward their Jewish nationals.

Oil Leverage
Last year, some 2,000 Rumanian Jews were allowed to migrate to Israel.

Reportedly, another 25,000 have applied for permission to leave. Rumania's Jewish population is around 100,000. They numbered more than 800,000 before World War II; upwards of half of them were slaughtered by the Fascist regimes. For a while, the Communists permitted a large-scale exodus, but later imposed strict limitations.

In other respects, the Ceausescu government is the most liberal of the Iron Curtain countries in the treatment of its Jewish citizens. They have full freedom to exercise their religion, and there are few restrictions on their going to schools and holding government and other jobs. Jews are particularly prominent among Rumanian scientists and other technical professions.

Unquestionably, a key factor in the friendly relations between Israel and Rumania is a little-known pipeline that carried vital crude oil supplies from Iran to Rumania.

Extending from the port of Eilat, at the head of the Gulf of Aqaba, to the port of Ashkelon on the Mediterranean, this Israeli-owned and operated pipeline attained crucial importance in the international oil trade after the shutdown of the Suez Canal following Egypt's crushing defeat in the 1967 war. More than 50 per cent of the oil Rumania needs for its booming petrochemical industry is transported through this pipeline from Iran.

Because of Arab hostility, both Rumania and Israel maintain tight secrecy regarding both the existence and operation of the Eilat-Ashkelon pipeline. But among knowledgeable oilmen, the facility is known as one of Israel's most successful and profitable enterprises—in more ways than one.

New TV Spectacular
Now that the West Virginia primary is out of the way, you will shortly be hearing about a new Congressional investigation of the television industry and certain of its high-placed and high-income moguls.

Subpoenas have already been quietly served on a number of them.

This latest probe is actually a continuation of the battle Rep. Harley Staggers, D-W.Va., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, has been waging with the three networks over their operations and news and other coverage.

While ABC, CBS and NBC are involved, CBS is the principal target.

Staggers has not forgotten nor forgiven his failure last year to win House approval of his demand that CBS be cited for contempt. After hours of stormy wrangling, that was turned down 236 to 181.

During the acrid debate, it was openly charged that the strong opposition was directly due to tremendous lobbying and pressuring.

After this setback, Staggers quietly launched a new inquiry, and for months staffers have been gathering evidence and material throughout the country. Scores of TV and radio officials and operators have been grilled in preparation for being summoned for public interrogations at the hearings in Washington planned by Staggers.

Because of possible political repercussions, there was no hint of this activity before the May 9 primary. But now that's over, Staggers is set to resume airing of the affairs of the TV industry.

The 24-year Congressional veteran, normally quiet-spoken and quiet-mannered, has his dander up about the industry in general, and CBS in particular.

He was deeply angered by the network's widely controversial special feature "The Selling of the Pentagon"—which was heatedly denounced by top military and other officials for gross distortions, falsifications and deliberately biased manipulations.

After an extended inquiry, Staggers unsuccessfully sought the contempt indictment of Frank Stanton, then president of CBS. A few months later, Stanton due to retire in March 1973, was supplanted as president by Charles Ireland, Jr., $100,000-a-year official of the giant International Telephone & Telegraph Co. But Stanton, now a vice president, has continued in Staggers' bad graces.

In renewing his probe, Staggers has influential House backing.

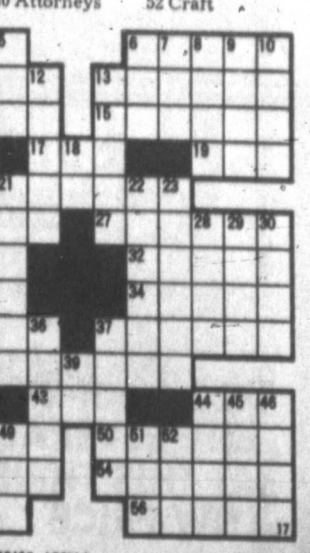

Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., chairman of the powerful Armed Services Committee and one of the sharpest critics of the "Selling of the Pentagon," has vigorously encouraged resumption of the investigation.

Birchers Favor Economic Sanction On Reds

Jack Skelly, chapter leader of the local John Birch Society, said today, if President Nixon really wants to stop other Communist countries from supplying North Vietnam, he could cut that supply line in Washington D.C. before those supplies ever reach Haiphong harbor.

"The John Birch Society feels that if President Nixon intends to stop Communist aggression in Vietnam," Skelly said, "he will stop providing economic aid to the Communists. After eleven years of war, and 50,000 American deaths, it is certainly time to stop helping our enemies. Mining the North Vietnamese harbors at this time is closing the barn door after the horse is gone."

Skelly added that if President Nixon is sincere then mining Haiphong harbor should be backed up by total economic sanctions on Russia and other Communist countries until they cease arming the Communist invaders of South Vietnam.

"The local chapters of the John Birch Society" he continued, "obtained hundreds of signatures on petitions to President Nixon asking him to stop all aid to and trade with all of the Communist nations who are supplying the tanks and other weapons for North Vietnam, and we hope many other citizens join with us in this request."

Colorado Man To Be Here To Conduct Local Auction

A Colorado rancher-farmer who also serves as an auctioneer will be in Pampa this week to conduct a local auction. Damon Koch, who farms near Haxtun in northeast Colorado, will be auctioneer for the B&R Furniture Co.'s liquidation sale at 7 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

In addition to farming and serving as an auctioneer, Koch has amassed a collection of thousands of antique tools and a collection of restored Model-A

Allstate Agent Here Awarded

Mark Buzzard, 1923 Grape, has been awarded the "Seal of Confidence" certification by Allstate Insurance Companies, according to Dallas Regional Manager R.D. Eger. Twenty-nine of the companies' 350 Texas and Oklahoma sales representatives received the distinction recently.

The award is made only to those among the companies' agents who have demonstrated over a long period of time outstanding ability and exceptional judgment in dealing with the public as company representatives.

Buzzard received the certification in five previous years and has repeated his accomplishment in 1972. He has been with Allstate since 1959. He represents the companies in Texas, working mainly from the Allstate location at the Pampa Sears, Roebuck and Co. store.

Jay Silvester Tries, Tries, Tries Again for Olympic Gold Medal

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

PROVO, Utah—(NEA)—L. Jay Silvester was stiff. Physically stiff. From three hours of tugging the weights, stretching, bending. Hauling his bulk through the perspiring grime of a long workout.

It's part of Jay's daily regimen. He is 34 years old, married, with three young children. And every day he's in the shorts and T-shirt of the sweating athlete, exerting himself in the company of kids more than a decade younger.

He's in just as good shape as they are. A solid 6-2½ filled out to 250 pounds. And he's more motivated.

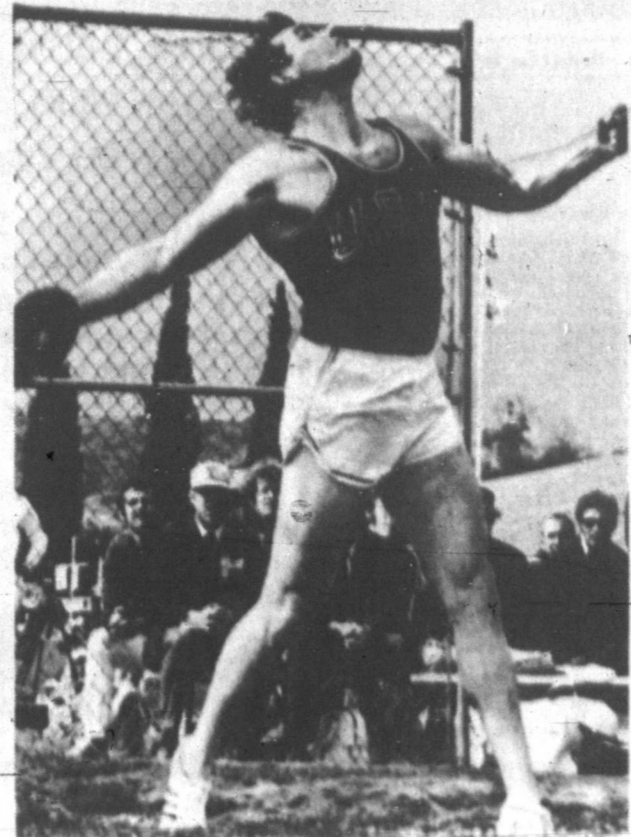

Jay wants to throw the discus in the 1972 Summer Olympic Games in Munich. He has competed twice before in the games, at Tokyo in 1964 and Mexico City in 1968. The best he has accomplished was a fourth place in Tokyo.

"It's the monkey on my back, to win a gold medal," he says now earnestly over a cut of New York steak. From his seat in the hilltop restaurant he can see out on the beautiful white-topped Wasatch range of mountains overlooking the spic-and-span Brigham Young University campus, where Jay teaches physiology in the physical education department.

This is Jay's country, where he can take his pick-up truck out into the wilderness to hunt ducks. He is comfortable here, though he has been all over the world as a discus thrower. He is also a conscientious elder in the Mormon church.

But Jay's mind these days is primarily on southern Bavaria in late August because he knows that, at his age, he may never get another chance at the coveted gold medal.

"In track and field," he says, "that's it for any man who competes. I don't care who they are. They're nothing until they've won the Olympics. And I've been an international competitor since 1961 and a year later I broke the world record."

He's conscious of the fact that in the old days around Mt. Olympus, the Greek who flung the discus the farthest was regarded as the epitome of the greatest athlete. Myron's "Discobolus" depicts the classic discus thrower in stone. Jay, a pragmatic modernist in form, is nevertheless proud of the connection. So one turn in the ring, a grunt and a mighty heave—that has been the ritual dominating his life.

"For the last four years," he says, "I haven't been out of training for more than two weeks. I do it because I love it, and because I have this goal."

even the thought of professionalism is a crime worse than a padded expense account. So Jay is sweating out an appeal by the U.S. Olympic Committee—to the International Amateur Athletic Federation to determine his status. In the same boat are three other American world class performers who signed the old worthless contracts—400 meters champion Lee Evans, silver medalist shot-putter George Woods and steeplechaser George Young.

If Jay does get the special dispensation and returns to Europe late this summer, he'll not have the specter of Al Oerter shrouding his ambitions.

Oerter, a track marvel, won the gold medal for the discus in each of the last four Olympics but does not plan to compete again. Silvester won't concede that Al was a better man—except in the Olympics.

"In two of them," he relates, "he was lucky." On a hot, listless day in Tokyo, a perfect 45-degree wind whipped up just as Oerter stepped into the ring for his fifth, and winning, throw.

"In Mexico," admits Jay, "he just flat whipped the world."

Jay's own ventures were plagued. At Tokyo, walking through a stadium tunnel ("built for Japs"), he struck his head on an overhang 10 minutes before the qualifying throws, sustaining a cut which required several stitches. He finished fourth.

"Mexico," he says with a frown, "was a disaster. It was raining the day of the competition and got so slippery they had to put a net around the discus area so nobody would get killed. Finally they delayed it and we went into a room to lie down." He says he "freaked out" psychologically during the pause and finished fifth.

So now it's four years later and he wants to regenerate the quest for a gold medal. It would make the aches and stiffness every night worth the effort.

Pardue Not Ready To Concede Defeat

BALTIMORE (AP)—Trainer Homer Pardue isn't ready to predict a Preakness victory for No Le Haze, but he's going to at least try a different racing strategy against Riva Ridge.

"We're going to lay up real close this time," Pardue said of Saturday's 1 3-16-mile Preakness, "and if there's no pace, we're going to force it. My horse has speed, if we want to use it."

No Le Haze was the runnerup to Riva Ridge in the Kentucky Derby, finishing 3½ lengths behind at the end of the 1¼-mile test following a late rush.

Although No Le Haze made up three lengths in the stretch, Riva Ridge was under a hand ride by Ron Turcotte and not exactly being pushed.

"We could have been too far off the pace," Pardue said. "Not at the half-mile pole, but

Jack And Arnold Challenge Trevino

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer return to action this week to challenge defending champion Lee Trevino in the $175,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis Open Golf Classic.

Nicklaus and Palmer, the dominant figures in the game for the past decade, both filed late entries that came as mid—but very pleasant—surprises to the sponsors of this rich event which begins Thursday on a spanking new layout.

Both have been out of action for two weeks. It was in this tournament—but on a different course—that Trevino last year started a sensational streak that culminated in his sweep of the American, Canadian and British Open crowns.

The site is the new South Course at the Colonial Country Club, a 7,175-yard, par 72 layout that is some 600 yards longer than the course on which Trevino won. It's so new, and the fairway grass so sparse, that so-called winter rules will be in effect with the players allowed to lift, clean and place balls on the fairway.

The field of 147 is very strong. Only 11 spots were open for qualifiers. Most of the season's leading money winners are on hand. Billy Casper and Gary Player, both out of the country, are among the exceptions.

Among the standouts are Jerry Heard, the streaking youngster who scored his second victory of the season last weekend, and George Archer.

Also in the field are Fred Marti, Frank Beard, Tommy Aaron, Dave Hill and Tom Weiskopf.

Schaus Goes To Purdue

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fred Schaus, saying college coaching remained in his blood after a dozen years, has taken the head coaching job at Purdue University after helping bring success to the Los Angeles Lakers.

The 46-year-old Schaus resigned Tuesday as general manager of the National Basketball Association champions whom he coached for seven years before moving to the front office five years ago.

Why would he leave a job with a presumably higher salary to return to college coaching, with its inherent problems of recruiting and eligibility?

"Both have their headaches," said Schaus, who succeeds George King as coach of the Boilermakers. "As general manager I was involved with basketball in scouting as a spectator. But you kinda miss coaching. Only coaches who've been in it for a long time can fully appreciate what I'm saying."

"Toy Cannon" Wynn Is Back On His Game

HOUSTON (AP)—It appears that 5-foot-9 Jimmy Wynn, the Houston Astros' "Toy Cannon," has his powder dry again.

Detractors started calling Wynn "Toy Pop-Gun" last season when he batted .205, slumped to seven home runs and was regularly greeted by a chorus of boos when he came to the plate.

Wynn went to spring training this year vowing to come back, and his .333 average and seven home runs are evidence he's on his way. There's a long season still ahead, but Wynn feels this is his year.

He considered it a good omen in a recent game when he dribbled a pitch down the third base line in foul territory. It took an awkward bounce into fair territory just out of reach of the third baseman for an infield single.

"That's the sign of a different year for me," the happy outfielder said later.

McLain To Decide

OAKLAND (AP)—Denny McLain planned to tell the world and Charlie Finley today whether he's willing to pitch in the minor leagues, four seasons after winning 31 games in the big time.

"I'm speculating about many things," the 29-year-old Oakland Athletics' pitcher said Tuesday night at his home in nearby Walnut Creek.

The A's optioned McLain, 1-2 with a 6.05 earned run average, to Birmingham, of the Southern League Monday. But after talking Tuesday with his attorney, A's owner Finley and American League President Joe Cronin, the right-hander still wasn't sure whether to accept the demotion.

If he does report to the A's farm team at Birmingham, McLain said, it won't be until after the birth of twins expected by his wife any day.

His return to power has paralleled the Astros as a team. Houston is battling Los Angeles for the Western Division lead and already had belted 26 homers going into Tuesday's game against Atlanta.

Wynn is leading the home run column with first baseman Lee May one behind. Wynn went on an 11 for 19 binge last month and was named National League Player of the Week.

His only problem this season has been a back injury that has hampered his base running.

"The doctor says I'll just have to live with it," Wynn said. "It's a pinched nerve in my lower back and it jolts of pain goes down my left leg. If it gets worse I might have to take time off."

Although this has slowed him on the base paths, Wynn said, "When the time comes, I'll steal to help the club."

Navarro's 65 Helps Wichita

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Gary Navarro's 65 helped Wichita State to a four-stroke first-round lead over Memphis State and New Mexico State in the Missouri Valley Conference golf meet Tuesday.

Wichita had a 280 team total at Windyke Country Club while Memphis State and New Mexico State both shot 284.

North Texas State, the defending champion, stood fourth at 289. Tulsa totaled 291. Louisville 299. West Texas State 300. Drake 307 and Bradley 311.

The finals were scheduled to day.

News Briefs

DECATUR, III (AP) — "Come and get it!" was the cry for ice cream eaters at Millikin University campus. Bill Heyer, the university's dining service manager, decided to break the monotony of final exam studies Wednesday by building a 6-foot ice cream sundae on the campus.

What better way to keep them cool, he said. "We used a round table and an oval plastic wading pool as the base. We piled up 120 gallons of ice cream, 2 gallons of chopped nuts, poured on 3 gallons of chocolate syrup and topped it off with 15 quarters of whipped cream."

I put a big red apple on top instead of a cherry. Then I yelled, "Come and get it!" and got out of the way."

MIAMI Fla. (AP) — The Dade County school board chairman, William Lehman, has proposed a plan which he said would keep young visitors too busy to demonstrate during the national political conventions in Miami Beach this summer.

I think if you gave out 10,000 Frisbees to every young day, that should keep them busy and they'll never think about demonstrating," Lehman told a meeting of the Greater Miami coalition during a discussion of ways to prevent trouble during the Democratic convention in July and the Republican conclave in August.

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — Three Arab pickle and pepper packers have gone kosher. It all started when the Safie Brothers Farm Pickle Co. near Mount Clemens decided to turn out a line of kosher pickles and peppers named "King David."

The three brothers—George, Charles and Louis—needed a rabbi to make it kosher. Rabbi Jack Goldman of nearby Oak Park said he would be happy to oblige and Wednesday the three Arab brothers and the rabbi celebrated the birthday of the new pickle.

We've heard so much about Ping-Pong diplomacy," Rabbi Goldman said, "we thought we'd try a little pickle diplomacy."

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A $500 reward has been posted by the Gwinnett County Commission for information leading to the arrest of vandals who drained the county's water supply of a million gallons of water.

Police reported that 27 fire hydrants were opened last weekend in the northwest section of the county.

O.P. Ackerman, general manager of the county's water system, said the system was left with a dangerously low supply.

GENEVA (AP) — The World Health Organization's annual assembly voted overwhelmingly Wednesday to recognize Communist China as the rightful representative of China.

A resolution, which automatically ousted Taiwan from the 133-nation organization, was approved by 76 to 15 with 27 countries abstaining.

The United States voted against the resolution. Its chief delegate, M.K. Duval, said that while participation of Communist China was welcomed, the United States was opposed to any action suggesting exclusion of Nationalist China.

MARSHFIELD, Wis. (AP) — Employees in the physical therapy department at St. Joseph's Hospital get a one week vacation every other week.

But they have to work 10 hours a day, seven days a week every other week. The experimental work calendar for the two therapy teams is finding favor with insurance companies and patients because it allows daily treatment.
