

'CIA, FBI lied to Warren Commission'

By DAVID C. MARTIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The CIA and FBI lied to the Warren Commission about the assassination of President Kennedy, a Senate intelligence committee member said today. The senator also suggested "we pursue some hot leads" to answer for certain who killed Kennedy.

Sen. Richard Schweiker, R-Pa., a member of the panel's subcommittee investigating the assassination, said "there is no question in my mind" that the two intelligence agencies lied to the commission which conducted the government's first massive probe of Kennedy's death. Schweiker said he has found no new evidence about who killed Kennedy but declared, "If we pursue some hot leads, we may well answer that question." Schweiker refused to elaborate on what he meant by "hot leads."

Schweiker made his statements on the CBS-TV "Morning News."

He said the subcommittee has turned up "significant new material about defects and deficiencies in the investigation" of the assassination, noting — as he has before — the CIA's failure to inform the Warren Commission of its schemes against Cuba's Fidel Castro and the FBI's destruction of a note by Lee Harvey Oswald, whom the commission named as Kennedy's sole assassin.

Schweiker and Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., are the only members of the subcommittee which investigated the "performance or non-performance" of the intelligence agencies during the initial probe of the assassination. Hart has said he has seen no evidence to discredit the Warren Commission's report that Oswald acted alone in killing Kennedy.

But Schweiker said today he disagrees. He said the deficiencies in the original investigation invalidate the Warren Commission's conclusion. Schweiker said he believes the key to Kennedy's slaying lies in Oswald's relationships with both pro and anti-Castro factions.

Schweiker said some of the deficiencies by the CIA and FBI were "deliberate."

Schweiker and Hart are expected to deliver a written report to the intelligence committee by the end of the month. The full committee must approve the report before it is made public.

The question of why Oswald killed Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas, Tex., will be one of the first questions to face a proposed new Senate committee that would watch over the workings of U.S. intelligence agencies.

The Senate intelligence committee voted Thursday to recommend that the proposed new permanent panel conduct an investigation into the never officially answered question.

Creation of the new permanent committee itself remains in doubt.

A compromise measure to create the new panel ran into some unexpected trouble Thursday when members of the Armed Services Committee, which currently monitors the CIA and other spy agencies, raised the possibility of a filibuster.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield immediately filed a petition to invoke the Senate's debate-ending cloture rule.

Schweiker said his limited probe of the assassination found the Warren report to be based on a faulty investigation in which leads either were ignored or not followed up.

He cited as examples the CIA's failure to inform the commission of its schemes to kill Cuba's Fidel Castro and the FBI's destruction of a threatening note delivered by Oswald to FBI offices in Dallas just days before the assassination.

Newly released CIA documents concede that the Warren Commission was not told about the plots against Castro but maintain there is no convincing evidence that the Cuban premier was aware of CIA attempts to kill him or that they prompted him to retaliate against Kennedy.

But an April, 1975 memo says Castro undoubtedly knew about some of the assassination plots mounted by Cuban exile groups and speculates that some of these plots may have been falsely attributed to the CIA.

Mansfield's debate-ending cloture petition is scheduled to come to a vote next Tuesday and will need at least 60 votes to succeed.

The majority leader, who is one of the chief backers of a new permanent intelligence committee, tried to get unanimous consent for a final vote on Tuesday or Wednesday, but Sen. Robert A. Taft, R-Ohio, a member of the Armed Services Committee, objected, saying members needed time to study the proposal.

State says Packerland does not test cattle

By ANNA BURCHELL
Pampa News Staff

The Texas Animal Commission is seeking a permanent injunction against Packerland Packing Co. of Texas Inc. which would force the firm to back-tag and identify all head of untested cattle consigned and slaughtered.

The suit was filed Thursday in 31st District Court here by Texas Attorney General John Hill.

The Commission also alleges that Packerland has neglected, failed and refused to comply with the regulations.

Hill asked that the injunction commanded Packerland to gather and collect blood samples for the purpose of brucellosis testing on all head of untested cattle.

Other requests include: — Order Packerland to blood test all head of untested - test - eligible cattle received within five days of purchase whenever such cattle are not sent to immediate slaughter.

— To command Packerland to permit entry and access to its premises in Gray County by authorized state and federal officials for the purpose of conducting blood tests, collecting blood samples and receiving back tag identification of all head consigned to Packerland's slaughter establishment premises.

— To command Packerland to maintain and keep proper records showing such information as prescribed by the Texas Animal Health Commission regulations and to make those records available to representatives of the commission.

— Command Packerland to submit all blood samples collected at its slaughter establishment to the State Federal Diagnostic Laboratory.

The Texas Animal Commission attached to its request for an injunction statements of John B. Williams, Basil I. Wheelers, Dr. Erston S. Cox, and Dr. John C. Schweda, all employees with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In its request for an injunction, Hill says Gray and Swisher counties are in a "Type II" control area in the geographic Area I of the State by designation of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Gray County, Hill said, has a "certified free" brucellosis status while Swisher County has a "modified certified free" brucellosis status.

He adds that the "unlawful acts" of Packerland jeopardize the brucellosis status of Gray and Swisher Counties. The plaintiff further contends that Packerland's unlawful acts serve to frustrate, deter and prevent the state from performing its statutory duty to eradicate bovine brucellosis in Texas.

Hill asked that Packerland be cited to appear and answer the court immediately, and without notice to the defendant, issue a temporary restraining order to prevent Packerland from the purchase, sale, housing, feeding or slaughter of any untested bovine animals on its slaughter establishment premises in Gray County.

A jury trial is scheduled July 26 in another suit filed against Packerland for alleged violations of the Texas Clean Air Act.

The state, in that suit, filed last December, requested the court to fine Packerland from $50 to $1,000 per day for each violation.

Desegregation plan nixed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Austin School Board had an emergency executive session scheduled today to study the second rejection by the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals of the school district's desegregation plan.

The court rejected the Austin plan Thursday, remanding it to the U.S. District Court in Austin to implement one that will eliminate all discriminatory segregation of Mexican-American and black students in the district's 74 schools to meet federal standards.

The court order in effect did away with a three-year-old plan that the district had implemented while it was still being appealed. The court said the plan is not good enough and may be continued only as a stopgap.

The constitutional duty of the school authorities is to establish a unitary system, not a unitary grade, the decision said aiming at the main feature of the plan that apparently displeased the appeals court.

The Austin plan had been set up to avoid massive busing and concentrated only in the sixth grade. It set up six sixth grade centers and estimated it would require the busing of about 1,900 students, 62 per cent of them Anglo.

The 5th said the plan approved for the AISD "leaves untouched the students in grades K-5 (kindergarten through fifth) and 7-12."

The district court should consider appointing a master to prepare a comprehensive desegregation plan, the 5th added in remanding the case back to U.S. District court in Austin.

The AISD encompasses the city and some outlying areas of Travis County. It has some 55,000 students, 62 per cent of them Anglo, 23 per cent Mexican-American, 15 per cent black.

Of the two minority classes, the 5th said 42 per cent of the blacks and 45 per cent of the Mexican-Americans still attend schools where the enrollment is over three-fifths minority.

Austin School Board president Carole McClellan called the meeting after being told of the court's decision.

School District Supt. Jack L. Davidson said he would work with the board "step by step" to implement whatever the federal court orders.

Sam Biscoe, attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said of the court's decision "Excellent, excellent."

It was the second time the appeals court had rejected the Austin school desegregation plan. A plan submitted in 1972 also was rejected.

Austin now assigns students in grades kindergarten through the fifth to schools closest to their homes. The 5th said this will not do.

It is apparent that assignment on a strict neighborhood basis will not suffice in the AISD although it may suffice as to some schools. To the extent that it does not suffice, the district court will proceed to employ other methods of desegregation.

Two all-black schools, Anderson High and Kealing Junior High, were closed under AISD's present system.

Kealing must be reopened, the 5th said. It's too late to reopen Anderson, it already has been converted into a community college.

The AISD concedes, as it must, that a primary reason for the school closings was the fear that whites would flee the school system rather than send their children to these East Austin schools," the 5th said.

"It is hardly a new principle of constitutional law that this fear is an impermissible basis for closing public schools."

A new desegregation plan should be similar to a proposal drawn up for Mexican-American intervenors in the suit by John A. Finger, a professor of education at Rhode Island College, the 5th said.

Finger proposed a 4-4-4 system. Elementary schools would contain grades kindergarten through 4, middle schools would handle grades 5 to 8, high schools, 9 to 12.

All students in grades K-4 in elementary schools which are over 50 per cent minority would be bused to elementary schools that are over 90 per cent Anglo. Fifth to eighth grade students in schools that are over 90 per cent Anglo would be bused to schools that are over 50 per cent minority.

"The practical effect of the plan is that K-4 students in East Austin would be bused to West Austin, and 5-8 students in West Austin would be bused to East Austin."

"Elementary and junior high schools that are between 50 and 90 per cent Anglo are defined as naturally desegregated and would remain unchanged."

Finger estimated his plan would require busing 18,659 students. In objecting, the AISD said the total would be more like 25,000.

High schools would be desegregated by selecting, for each high school, feeder schools which would provide the maximum integration.

Swine flu vaccines set

By ANNA BURCHELL
Pampa News Staff

Public immunization against swine flu will probably begin in Gray County in July or August with those over 65 and the critically ill to get the first jobs. The announcement was made this morning during a meeting of the Gray County Commissioners Court by David Brown of Canyon, health program specialist with the Texas Department of Health Resources.

He added that the county health officer, Dr. W.P. Beck, would be the key person in the organization for the immunization campaign. She was present for the meeting.

Brown said that hopefully, Dr. Beck will find a coordinator. Officials estimated that clinics for immunizations would be needed in Pampa, Lefors, McLean and possibly Alareed and Grandview Hopkins.

Brown said the main problem would be lack of manpower. He also said plans call for the hiring of a local public health nurse to serve Gray, Carson and Wheeler counties.

"Our services are available to the entire public — we are supported by tax money," he said.

Plans for the swine vaccine call for free distribution in local physicians' offices by July or August, but physicians "charge professional fees" in administering them, he said.

The immunization clinics will provide the vaccine free. The second immunization program for swine flu will probably be in September for the remaining population to the cut off age — which has not yet been determined.

In other action, early in the meeting today, commissioners authorized Joe Van Zandt to spend up to $1,000 for 4-H livestock equipment with approval of the county judge.

Van Zandt outlined priority needs which total more than $1,000 for livestock equipment, secretarial equipment an office bulletin and display and storage facilities.

Commissioners said they would study the other needs and made a decision at a later date.

The court authorized Van Zandt to take a three weeks study leave in June to work on his masters degree.

The welfare report for April, the commissioners noted, was more than in previous months. The total was $2,893.04 for 43 families. The cost has been $2200 or $2300 per month, Commissioner Ted Simmons estimated.

The court was scheduled to meet in executive session at noon to consider hospital personnel matters. The last items was added just before 10 a.m. today. Hospital Board member Susie Wilkinson was present for the meeting.

The session follows an announcement that the hospital granted salary increases ranging from 9 cents an hour to $150 monthly during the Monday night session. Horace Williams, administrative assistant, was approved for a $150 raise, according to minutes of the board's executive session.

The raises are subject to Commissioners Court approval.

Reagan playing for crossover voters

By WALTERS R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

Ronald Reagan is playing for the Democratic crossover vote in Michigan's key presidential primary, saying that America's problems cross party lines and so should the voters.

It could be an important factor in his challenge in President Ford's home state, where Jimmy Carter and Morris Udall are wooing those same voters as they square-off next Tuesday in the Democratic primary.

Reagan, who already had won 18 Oklahoma delegates in district convention votes, appeared to be headed for a sweep of the 36-member Oklahoma delegation. The state Republican Executive Committee today voted to nominate a slate of 18 Reagan supporters to the national convention.

The final decision comes at the state convention Saturday, but the nomination is expected to be approved.

Ford today began a swing through Tennessee and Kentucky with his first stop in Johnson City, Tenn. Then he heads for Michigan where he begins his whistle-stop train tour through the state on Saturday.

Carter today is meeting AFL-CIO President George Meany for the first time — a session that could be the key to winning enthusiastic support from organized labor if he captures the Democratic nomination.

Both Ford and Reagan hope a victory in Michigan will send their campaign on the road to victory at the GOP convention. Carter wants a victory to consolidate his position as Democratic front-runner following this week's loss in Nebraska and to stymie Udall's bid.

"We have to win a state like Michigan,"

Ford has said. Most observers agree that a loss to Reagan in his home state could cripple Ford's campaign effort.

Four of Reagan's victories over Ford have come in states that do not register voters by party — like Michigan — permit voters to choose candidates from either party during primary election balloting.

The President, too, has invited Democratic voters to cast Republican ballots for his cause. But the odds are that Democrats who choose to vote Republican in Michigan will do more for Reagan than for Ford. "I don't think it will hurt us," Reagan said in Battle Creek Thursday.

Reagan and Ford seek the votes of past supporters of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who won Michigan's Democratic primary in 1972 but has been all but eliminated as a factor in the 1976 campaign.

Reagan campaigned today in Flint and Detroit, winding up his 25-hour mission in Ford's home state. His effort is built around personal appearances and $50,000 worth of weekend television broadcasts.

Meanwhile, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., demanded that the Ford campaign stop using tapes of Goldwater criticizing Reagan's position on the Panama Canal, it was learned. The Ford campaign complied.

Goldwater told a news conference 10 days ago that Reagan's statements opposing the administration's Panama Canal negotiations "reflect a surprisingly dangerous state of mind."

Tapes of the news conference were broadcast on Ford's behalf in Nebraska, where Reagan defeated Ford last Tuesday.

Besides his meeting with Meany, Carter was scheduled to be back in Maryland today, along with California Gov. Edmund "Jerry" Brown Jr., his chief opponent in Tuesday's Maryland Democratic primary.

For the most part, Brown on Thursday found receptive ears for his platform of full employment, conservation of natural resources and "planetary realism" in the nation's foreign policy.

Brown announced that he'll stage a write-in effort in Oregon's May 25th primary. He had previously planned campaigns in California and Nevada as well as Maryland.

The late-starting presidential hopeful was buoyed by results of a Baltimore Sun poll published Thursday showing him trailing Carter by 1 percentage point among registered Maryland Democrats.

"If I can virtually move into the lead in Maryland in two weeks, why can't I take the lead nationwide in two months," Brown said.

—The Washington Post said its national voter survey shows Carter with a large lead over both Ford and Reagan. The newspaper said today that its interviewers discovered Carter pulls votes from many voters who did not describe themselves as Democrats.

Matched against Carter, both Republicans showed support from about one-third of the respondents, the Post said.

Wallace, declaring he still is "a viable candidate," said in Louisville that he's glad crossover voting isn't allowed in Kentucky because "this will keep voters from crossing over and voting for Ronald Reagan."

He told Kentucky audiences he was second in the number of popular votes he has received and said the media has ignored that fact.

He also accused Carter of waffling on the issues.

He fought Ma Bell

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The huge Pacific Telephone Co. came within a few days of seeing its downtown headquarters on the auction block to pay a disputed $11 debt.

Louis Gary, who boasts of paying his residential telephone bill at the last minute "as a matter of principle," filed suit against the powerful utility charging it cut off his service without the customary five days notice.

He contended that his payment was mailed on time.

"They said they didn't get the payment," said Gary. "I said they did. They said I got pushed around and disconnected the telephone."

When the telephone company admitted in court that it had received the payment but charged him $11 anyway to reconnect his service, Gary went to City Hall and filed suit in small claims court.

On April 12, Municipal Court Judge Louis Garcia ordered the company to pay Gary the $11 despite Pacific's contentions that tariff regulations required the charge.

When the company did not comply with Garcia's order by May 3, Gary filed a lien on Pacific's headquarters in San Francisco's financial district with an assessed value of nearly $1 million.

Garcia ordered the payment made by May 23. Gary said he would foreclose and ask Sheriff Richard Hongisto to put the property up for sale to pay off the debt.

A spokesman for Pacific Telephone, Roger Orr, said Wednesday the payment had been made by special messenger. "It was an oversight on our part," he said. Orr declined to discuss the case, citing "privacy restrictions."

Gary, however, said he feels vindicated each time he needs the telephone company. "My over-all feeling is that I get pushed around," he said.

Gary said his long distance bill to friends runs $200 to $300 monthly and that he deliberately waits until "the last possible day to pay. The delay costs them some money, even though it is only pennies."

Gary, a programmer for a shipping firm, said he feels his telephone service is "exorbitant. $6 monthly local service fee is $14.50 and it isn't worth it."

The company has complained about his payment methods before, he said. "...but I always get the money in on time."

Jail raider fears prison

DALLAS (AP) — A former Marine who led a raid on a Mexican prison that freed 14 U.S. citizens is now facing the possibility of going to prison himself for violating the U.S. Neutrality Act by carrying unregistered weapons into Mexico.

Don Fielden, 31, an unemployed truck driver described by his attorney, Ernest Kuehne, as a "typical East Texas country boy," was planning to surrender to U.S. marshals today.

The husky former Marine sergeant said earlier this week he was aware of the possibility of charges being filed against him, but added he was not worried about them. "Like that old song says, 'if you can't do the time, don't do the crime,'" he told newsmen.

Kuehne said Fielden faces a possible two-year sentence and a $25,000 fine.

Fielden was named in an arrest warrant charging him with violation of neutrality laws following an investigation by U.S. Customs officers of his activities in connection with the March 12 raid on the Piedras Negras jail. Fielden had told the Dallas Times Herald Sunday that he and two other Dallas men conducted the raid which was financed by a Dallas psychologist, Sterling B. Davis, whose son was jailed in Piedras Negras on a drug charge.

Young Davis and 13 others were released by Fielden and his companions who held 10 policemen at gunpoint while opening the jail cells. Most of those released swam back to Eagle Pass across the Rio Grande and surrendered to county officials or simply made their way to their homes. Young Davis turned himself over to authorities to face charges of parole violation and is currently at El Reno prison in Oklahoma.

"In simple terms, he (Fielden) is accused of taking guns across the border without declaring them," said U.S. Customs Agent Charles Conroy in Houston.

Kuehne declined to say how Fielden would plead to the charges, "because there are other potential charges and because of some possibility of plea bargaining."

Kuehne said Fielden "is prepared to meet the charges. He was prepared before this thing became public."

Kuehne said the names of Fielden's two companions have not been revealed.

Ironically, one of the companions, according to Fielden, ended up with the $5,000 paid by Dr. Davis. Fielden said he had to pay him the money and had to pay his second companion $500, but went ahead with the raid because "I had made a commitment and when I make a commitment, that's it. I'll follow through."

Man swam from offshore rig

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Earlier this month Roger Sullins, his wife, Kimberly, and their friend Jim Turner went to Padre Island near here for an afternoon on the beach.

Sullins walked to the surf, yelled he was going to swim to an offshore oil rig and disappeared in the water.

Mrs. Sullins and Turner told officials that Sullins, 23, drowned.

The Coast Guard launched a search for his body.

Today the FBI was searching for what the agency says is a very much alive Sullins in Mobile, Ala.

Officials said they think Sullins swam ashore at another point on and, hitchhiked to Corpus Christi, took a bus to Dallas and went on to Mobile. Mrs. Sullins, 20, appeared before U.S. Magistrate Phillip Schraub here Wednesday on charges of defrauding the federal government in her attempts to collect a $20,000 government insurance policy on her husband.

Schraub said Turner was to be arraigned on similar charges.

Police Chief Bill McConnell of Beeville, where Sullins was assigned as a Navy air controller, said Mrs. Sullins' lack of grief is what made him suspicious.

"We had only her say-so that Sullins was dead," McConnell said. "We were suspicious, too, when a week went by and the body didn't float."

McConnell said Turner, a Navy boot camp friend of Sullins, came to live with the Sullins last month following his discharge from the Navy after being absent without leave several times.

Bribes to Mexico probed

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico has asked the United States to help it investigate U.S. charges that the General Tire and Rubber Co. paid $240,000 in bribes to get the Mexican government to approve tire price increases.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) charged recently that General Tire funneled the money through its Mexican subsidiary, General Popo, to officials of the Mexican Chamber of Rubber Industries between 1969 and 1975. The price increases were approved in 1974 and last February.

Antonio Navarro, the manager of the chamber at the time, denied the charge. President Luis Echeverria said it was part of a campaign to discredit Mexico.

Julio Cano, the president of the Chamber of Rubber Industries, said the price increases were authorized because of increases in costs that were proved legitimate.

The attorney general's office announced Wednesday it has questioned 20 persons about the American charge.

Chamber sets member drive

The annual membership roundup of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will start Monday at a kick-off luncheon of the 15 four-man solicitation teams at 12 noon in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

Names of the 15 team captains were announced Thursday afternoon by Art Aftergut, campaign director. They are Clyde Carruth, Veri Hagaman, Bill Hite, Bill Kindle, Dan Long, Ken Plotner, J.C. Roberts, Aubrey Steele, Dudley Steele, Gary Stevens, Boyd Taylor, Clotilde Thompson, Glen Turbeville, Rufe Jordan and Tim Hoiles.

Teams will compete for incentive awards during the two-week campaign scheduled to end with the final check-up Friday, May 28.

Prospect cards will be distributed at the Monday luncheon. Aftergut said in order to make the drive more interesting, special prizes will be awarded to the three top teams.

First prize will be a bound copy of Dr. Calvin Linton's popular Bicentennial Almanac for each team member, second prize, a paperback copy for each member, and third prize, a bicentennial indexed book for addresses and phone numbers. Aftergut said this year's budget goal has been set at $46,000 and $37,408 of that amount already has been received through mail renewals.

The two-week campaign will direct efforts to raise the $9,000 balance needed to meet the goal through additional renewals and new members.

The minimum membership fee for individuals is $25 and the minimum for businesses is $36.

Aftergut said individual team tables will be arranged for the Monday kickoff luncheon and teams with all members present will be started off with 40 points.

Carter-Meaney meet in works

JIMMY CARTER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter is heading for his first face-to-face meeting with AFL-CIO President George Meany — a meeting that could be the key to winning enthusiastic support from organized labor if he captures the Democratic presidential nomination.

Aides to both men described today's meeting in Meany's office across Lafayette Park from the White House as a chance for them to get to know one another. No endorsement was expected to come from the session.

Carter headed into the session fully aware that labor leaders generally preferred Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey or Henry M. Jackson. But he also knew that with his candidacy gaining momentum, labor may need him more than he needs them.

The former Georgia governor's stunning victory in the Pennsylvania primary showed that he could win the "lunch-bucket" vote, despite the opposition of several important union leaders who endorsed Jackson.

Carter has had help from a coalition of liberal unions and in recent weeks has stepped up his efforts at wooing new labor support.

Democratic presidential candidates have traditionally benefited from the AFL-CIO's support in terms of money and manpower. A rare exception was in 1972 when the candidate, Sen. George McGovern, incurred Meany's wrath and the labor federation sat out the election.

Meany, who at one time or another has met with all of the Democratic candidates except Carter, has said any of them would be acceptable with the exception of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Although known to be cool to Carter, he told his political strategists last month to stay out of any stop-Carter drive.

AN AFL-CIO official said today's meeting would give Meany a chance to study Carter and find out where he stands on issues concerning labor, such as jobs and the economy.

"If Meany sees that Carter can level with him while sitting across the table, it will help," the official said.

Some labor leaders are weighing individual endorsements for Carter and there has been some talk that the AFL-CIO ought to abandon its pre-convention neutrality. But officials of the giant labor federation insist that no endorsements would be made until after the conventions.

Hill probes funding

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe's release of half of $4 million appropriated by the 1975 legislature for community care of juvenile delinquents meant that he had no power to withhold the rest, Atty. Gen. John Hill said Thursday.

Briscoe based his power to withhold the $2 million on a special provision that said the Texas Youth Council could spend the money only after the governor was satisfied that the agency had a proper plan for allocating the funds among various community-level programs.

A key factor of such a plan was to be its full use of existing facilities in an area before any new ones were built.

"The legislature delegated to the governor the power to determine whether or not a particular fact exists. It has not given him the power to determine whether the appropriated funds should be released in whole or in part," Hill's opinion said.

Hill issued the opinion to Rep. Lane Denton, D-Waco, chairman of the House Social Services Committee.

During a hearing before a subcommittee of Denton's panel, spokesmen for the governor said he was withholding approval of the rest of the money until he could be sure it was to be spent wisely.

The "alternate care" program provides money for communities and private groups to deal with both delinquents and children on the verge of becoming delinquent. This would be an alternative to the present options of reform school, parole and unsupervised return to the streets.

"The special provision—or 'rider'—gives the governor only the option of releasing all of the funds or none of them. Since the governor is presumed to have acted within his authority, the fact finding which he characterized as being sufficient to permit the release of $1 million (on two different occasions) probably would be construed by the courts to permit the release and utilization of the entire appropriation item," Hill's opinion said.

Hill wanting release of hospital document

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Atty. Gen. John Hill has gone to court to force the State Insurance Board to release a document on its plans to monitor hospital costs.

Hill filed suit Thursday after Insurance Commissioner Joe Hawkins refused again to permit a freelance writer, Jackie Cox, to see the document even though Hill had said it must be disclosed under the Texas Open Records Act.

The suit is believed to be the first filed by Hill to force compliance with the act, which was passed in 1973.

Ms. Cox, who prefers the "Ms." designation, sought the board's application for a U. S. Social Security Administration grant to fund a mechanism for examining hospital rates authorized by Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas.

Under the state insurance code, Blue Cross has the authority to approve or disapprove rates of its member hospitals. Ms. Cox says 95 percent of all Texas hospitals have signed a Blue Cross contract.

The Texas Hospital Association and the insurance board are joint applicants for the federal grant to set up a monitoring system for such charges.

Ms. Cox also has moved in a Dallas district court to require Blue Cross to disclose its policies and procedures for reviewing hospital rates. She said a hearing is scheduled for Friday morning in Judge Leonard Hoffman's court.

The insurance board contended its application was confidential under federal law exempting competitive bids from disclosure since it was in "competition" with other states for grants.

CC tickets available

A limited number of tickets are available at the Pampa Chamber of Commerce office for the May 24 annual membership banquet of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce at which the Pampa High School Band and Concert Choir will entertain.

The banquet will be at 7 p.m. in the ballroom of the Villa Inn 1-40 East. Hearsell Wilson, nationally known humorist, will be the speaker.

"We have a few tickets at $7.50 each for any Pampans who might wish to attend," E.O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager, said today.

Buyers stop payments legally

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the new car you just bought is a lemon, federal regulations that take effect today mean you may not have to pay off the bank or loan company that financed it.

The regulations end the 200-year rule of a marketplace philosophy known as "holder-in-due-course," which forced consumers to pay for products bought on credit even if the products were not delivered or broke down.

The new rules, promulgated by the Federal Trade Commission six months ago, make creditors just as liable for customer satisfaction as the original seller.

Under "holder-in-due-course," a consumer who sought to withhold payment for unsatisfactory goods or services was not able to do so if he or she owed the money to a creditor rather than the original seller.

"Many creditors are participants in the... practice (and) it is unfair and deceptive," the FTC said in issuing the new rules last November. The new FTC regulations seek to remedy that situation.

If the new car you bought today breaks down tomorrow, you can now stop payment under certain circumstances to the bank or credit agency which extended the auto loan if a relationship existed between the seller and the finance agency.

This would be the case, for example, if the seller arranged or helped in any way in your securing the loan. It would not apply, say, if you arranged a loan from a bank or credit agency and then went out to buy the car yourself. Nor could you withhold, say, a $2,000 payment if your damage claim amounted to $100.

Railway cars temporary housing in quake area

UDINE, Italy (AP) — The Italian government has rushed hundreds of railway cars to Friuli province to house earthquake victims driven from their tent camps by flooding rains.

Police warned the homeless in five camps that they might have to move.

Rescue squads stopped digging through the debris for bodies and dug drainage ditches around the tent camps. But officials said there was no health hazard yet.

The storms caused more landslides along roads of the devastated region in northeastern Italy, isolating several communities. Clearance operations were hampered by darkness and the threat of more slides.

Another threatened village was evacuated Thursday night, adding more than 3,000 persons to more than 100,000 persons made homeless by the first severe quake May 6. It was the fifth village evacuated in two days.

Strong north winds blew over some tents and brought somewhat colder weather. Authorities tried to speed up deliveries of cots and blankets to the tent cities.

The government set up a court in one tent to try four men accused of possessing goods stolen from damaged houses.

Nine more bodies were found in Gemona, raising the total to 923 bodies recovered. A police spokesman estimated that 400 to 500 more persons were missing and probably dead, an increase of 100 to 200 over previous estimates.

More than 2,000 injured still were hospitalized.

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, after a visit to one of the tent camps and a hospital on Thursday and a meeting with Italian officials, told reports the government had done a "splendid job."

The vice president said he was certain the House of Representatives would approve the Ford administration's legislation to allocate $24 million to the Italian government for relief and reconstruction. The Senate has already passed the bill.

American officials said the United States already has sent more than $600,000 worth of tents, supplies, food and medicine to the quake area.

PHOTO CONTEST
ROCHESTER, N.Y. — UPI — Scouts in the 11-through 15-year-old age range and who have qualified for merit badges in photography as of Oct. 1 are eligible to enter the 1976 Scout Photo Scholarship Awards sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company.

Scholarship grants of $1,000, $500 and $250 will be awarded in two categories — black-and-white and color — and certificates of merit will be given for other entries which the judges deem worthy of recognition. The deadline for entries in this fourth annual competition is Oct. 1.

Rules folders and official entry blanks can be obtained by sending a self-addressed, business size, stamped envelope to National Scout Photo Scholarship Awards, Scouting Division, Boy Scouts of America, North Brunswick, N.J. 08902.

Police report

Pampa police investigated a report of a shooting victim, a criminal mischief complaint, three thefts and three non-injury accidents Thursday.

Police answered a call from Highland General Hospital about a shooting victim. Robert Eugene Mitchell of Pampa was treated and released for three shotgun pellets in the face which he received in a disturbance on South Somerville. Mitchell told police he did not want to file charges.

An officer on patrol observed that 12 - 15 small windows and one large window were broken at Baker Elementary School. Several large rocks were found nearby and damage was estimated at $150.

Rex Reneau of 330 N. Wells reported that hubcaps were stolen from his car while it was parked near Houston Middle School.

A bicycle was reported taken from Ramiro Soto's yard at 318 Hazel. It belonged to his son.

Ideal Food Store at 312 E. Brown reported a shoplifter in the store and Frances Marie Boyd, 66, of Pampa was charged with allegedly placing three packages of meat, valued at $6.07, in her purse. Due to her age, she was released on her own recognizance.

Young Frenchman kills bank president, self

PARIS (AP) — A 22-year-old man shot and killed the president of France's second largest bank today, wounded the bank president's wife, and then committed suicide, police said.

Jacques Chaine, 61, president and general director of the Credit Lyonnais, was shot as he stepped from his car at the entrance to the bank's main office in Paris. He died in an ambulance on the way to the hospital.

Chaine's wife was wounded in the neck and jaw by a second bullet. Her condition was described as not serious.

The killer was identified as Jean Bilski, a native of Auch in southwestern France. Bank officials said he had never been a bank employe and they knew no possible motive for the attack.

Police said they found a grenade in a bag that Bilski was carrying.

The Credit Lyonnais is owned by the state. Chaine had been its president since 1974. Before that he was president of the French Bank for Foreign Commerce.

The first detective story, Edgar Allan Poe's "The Murders in the Rue Morgue," was first published in April, 1841, in Graham's Magazine, Philadelphia.

Then attend summer school at West Texas State University. It's a way to save time, money and trouble in a college education.

Six hours college credit in six weeks time can save 30 percent on tuition and fees and a lot of worry about finishing a degree on time.

And if a student goes more than one summer term, he may be able to graduate a semester early, and be ahead of his class on the job market. That can be important.

Advice

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a paperGIRL, and I deliver to approximately 80 households.

My problem is that I am constantly being called a paperBOY, and I hate it. There are a lot of girls who deliver newspapers, and it's time people realized it.

Our newspaper company had an awards banquet, and the invitation read: "Please wear a shirt and tie." Well, I turned down the invitation. When my adviser asked me why I didn't attend, I said, "Because I don't have a shirt and tie!"

He said I was silly because if I had been there, I might have been voted paperBOY of the year.

Abby, can you do something about my problem? All of us paperGIRLS will be very grateful.

PALM SPRINGS PAPERGIRL

DEAR PAPERGIRL: If the newspaper is delivered on time the boy or girl doing the job will be called "blessed." (P.S. I'm sending you a shirt and tie for the next awards banquet.)

DEAR ABBY: Our son and his girlfriend, who are both in their early 30s and divorced, live in California about 50 miles apart. They openly admit that they sleep together on weekends to find out if they are compatible for marriage.

They flew here last December to spend the holidays with Dad and me. When we showed them his bedroom for HER and the hideaway bed in the den for HIM, they decided to stay at a motel.

Dad and I were hurt because we see our son only once a year, but we didn't say anything, and off they went.

When our son returned to California, he phoned to tell us that his expenses for the trip, including the motel room, were $748, so we sent him a check but said this was the last time we would pay for a motel room since there was plenty of room at our house.

Do you think we were wrong in refusing to let them sleep together in our home? Even though we knew they had slept together elsewhere, it would have made us very uncomfortable.

SQUARE IN ILLINOIS

DEAR SQUARE: No. When children (of any age) visit their parents, they should live by the rules of the parents' home. You are far more generous than most parents would have been. Since your son preferred to stay at a motel, HE should have paid for it!

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column about the daughter who is the only one in the family who visits her sometimes senile mother in a convalescent home. (Her sisters and brothers can't stand the smell, and they get too depressed seeing old people.)

I'll tell you a better one than that: My mother is 80, and lives in her own little house, which has no hospital odor. And she's not a bit senile. One of my brothers lives right next door to her, and he stops in to see her maybe once a month for a few minutes.

The other brother lives only 15 minutes away from her, and it's the same thing with him. Neither brother has ever offered to mow the lawn, rake the leaves, or do any painting or repairing for her. Do you know who looks after my mother? My husband—her 60-year-old son-in-law! (My brothers are not yet 50.)

By the way, my brothers run to the altar rail every week. Not that there's anything wrong with that, but it takes more than prayers to make people good Christians. Right, Abby?

DISGUSTED WITH KINFOLK

DEAR DISGUSTED: Right!

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have an enlarged prostate gland which my doctor says is benign. He says I may have to have surgery before too long.

I read an article that stated that an enlarged prostate could be shrunk with a hormone tablet called Medrogestosterone. My doctor said he has never heard of it. Looks to me like the doctors are knife happy. I am 80 years old and my trouble or discomfort is that I have frequent urination and soreness when my bladder is extended or full.

If the prostate was shrunk this condition could be relieved or perhaps eliminated. Now why don't doctors give this hormone tablet a try on older people who do not have an infection and do not have a malignancy?

I have been examined thoroughly with an instrument inserted into my bladder and I have had a bone scan and everything was negative except that I have an enlarged prostate that causes all this trouble.

DEAR READER—Medrogestosterone is one of numerous hormones that are being studied for their possible effects in decreasing the size of the prostate and thereby eliminating the obstruction to urination that you are complaining about. At this writing none of these medicines has been approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for distribution in the United States.

The FDA is charged with the responsibility of approving new medicines for use by doctors in the treatment of patients. This approval is granted only when a new proposed medicine has been proved effective and has also

Polly's pointers

DEAR POLLY—Several people have asked me how I keep my fiber glass shower so clean and white, so I thought some of the readers might like to know, too. I use white vinegar, a plastic scouring pad and a lot of scrubbing where the soap dries and coats the walls and floor. Of course, there are some women with husbands who wipe the walls and sliding doors after every shower but not mine. —MRS.F.L.W.

DEAR POLLY—With spring upon us many are thinking about bedding plants. I started mine this week in the bottom halves of different colored styrofoam egg cartons. I put about three seeds in each cup after they were filled with dirt. When all danger of frost has passed they can be easily removed from the carton cups and be transplanted out of doors. Now they look very pretty on the window sill until that time comes. —W.J.M.

DEAR POLLY—I read in the column about all the trouble with bugs. I was told to buy a dog's flea collar, cut it into pieces and keep them in my cupboard. It really works. Hope this does the same for others who may try it. —MRS. D.C.P.

Temporary Pampan

Genie Robbins, assigned to the Gray County extension office for six weeks training, views her domestic inclination as a major career plus.

Domesticity is virtue for new county agent

By JEANNE GRIMES

Pampa News Staff

She's 22, single, a college graduate and she admits to a quality which many of her peers view with distaste. She says he is domestic.

But for Genie Robbins of Hereford, domesticity will help rather than hinder a career.

She will be the assistant county agent for home economics in Lipscomb County in mid-June, following six weeks training under Elaine Houston and Marilyn Shirley in the Gray County Extension office.

The December graduate from Texas Tech University has a bachelor of science degree in home economics with a major in home and family life.

Lipscomb County, she said, is "pretty rural, but that doesn't bother me. It's a good place to start because the work load won't be that heavy... That's probably the only reason they are sending me to a place by myself."

As lone home economics agent in Lipscomb County, Genie will assume the duties of a full-fledged county agent. She will not receive the agent title until she has two years experience.

"I really didn't pick it until after graduation," she said of her career choice.

She applied with the Extension Service following graduation and has been working as temporary office help in Lubbock while waiting for her appointment.

"I chose this work because I like education—it's a challenging field," she said. "But I didn't think I'd like the restraint of a local school board."

"I felt like I would have more freedom to teach what I want in this program."

She said that as assistant county agent, she will be expected to meet with her community council and prepare a plan of work with definite goals.

"The state encourages you to meet your goals," she said, "but you must meet the needs of the people in the community."

The state furnishes specialists in family health, mental stability, family clothing, family resource management, family housing and community environment and leadership and agents obtain information and materials from them to prepare various programs.

Lipscomb County, she explained, has been without an extension home economist since mid-March and the 4-H and home demonstration clubs are carrying out the previous agent's plans.

"There are all types of areas where Genie can start new things," said Mrs. Houston.

Genie said that since her major was home and family life, she will probably work extensively in that area with the Lipscomb County residents.

"I'd like to see them do some communications skills and parent effectiveness training," she said.

Academic requirements for the job are a degree in home economics, yet Mrs. Houston said that Extension work is very selective and only a small percentage of home ec graduates enter the field. Most who do enter it, she said, have had prior contact with the Extension Service through 4-H or home demonstration clubs.

"My being in 4-H is what made me want in it," said Genie, who are a 4-H'er five years.

The 4-H program, she added, stood out in her experience as being the most educational program outside school.

Her training time in Pampa is a new experience, not only for her but for the Gray County agents.

"This is the first time we've trained one for six weeks," Elaine Houston said.

During her first week of training, Genie met with 4-H specialists and other new agents in Amarillo, met with clothing specialists, spoke to a local Bible study club about family and home and attended a breakfast with a local home demonstration club.

Her training through May will be more meetings, watching and learning and during the first week of June she will attend the State 4-H Roundup in College Station. The following week she will spend in staff meetings.

Her assignment to a sparsely populated county doesn't dampen her enthusiasm.

"There are a lot of things I'll have to learn... I have confidence in my ability... to find out what I need to know."

Fagan recital Sunday

A bicentennial-themed piano ensemble recital by students of Lois Fagan will be 2:30 p.m. Sunday in Tarpley Recital Hall, 119 N. Cuyler.

"The Spirit of '76: A Bicentennial Musical" will feature six pianos and will include students from kindergarten through high school. Music in the show is by American composers, Mrs. Gagan said.

Twenty-four pianists who will perform are Doug Eubanks, Nancy Kelley, Janelle McCabe, Brenda Veach, Wanda Ledford, Becky Winters, Randie Miller, Becky Ogdon, Toni Robertson, Sandra Sanders, Malley Kay Hammer, Tami Robertson.

Elaine Kelley, Darla Denham, Cliff Kelley, John Williams, Terry Winters, Tim Williams, Melissa Wadsworth, Sheila Holmes, Deena Kelley, Shelly Walker, Willa Perkins and Sheila Gordon.

Among the patriotic selections will be "Birth of a Nation," "Uncle Sam's Birthday,"

"Yankee Doodle," "This Land is Your Land" and "God Bless America."

Featured performers will be Gary Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Sanders of 1305 W. Crawford, and Brenda Veach, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H.M. Veach of 2613 Comanche. She will offer gospel selections on the 120 bass accordion.

Mrs. Fagan said that ensemble playing aids rhythm, precision, fluent reading and musical pleasure. She added that it offers "tremendous value" in developing coordination, cooperation and listening.

A reception will follow the recital.

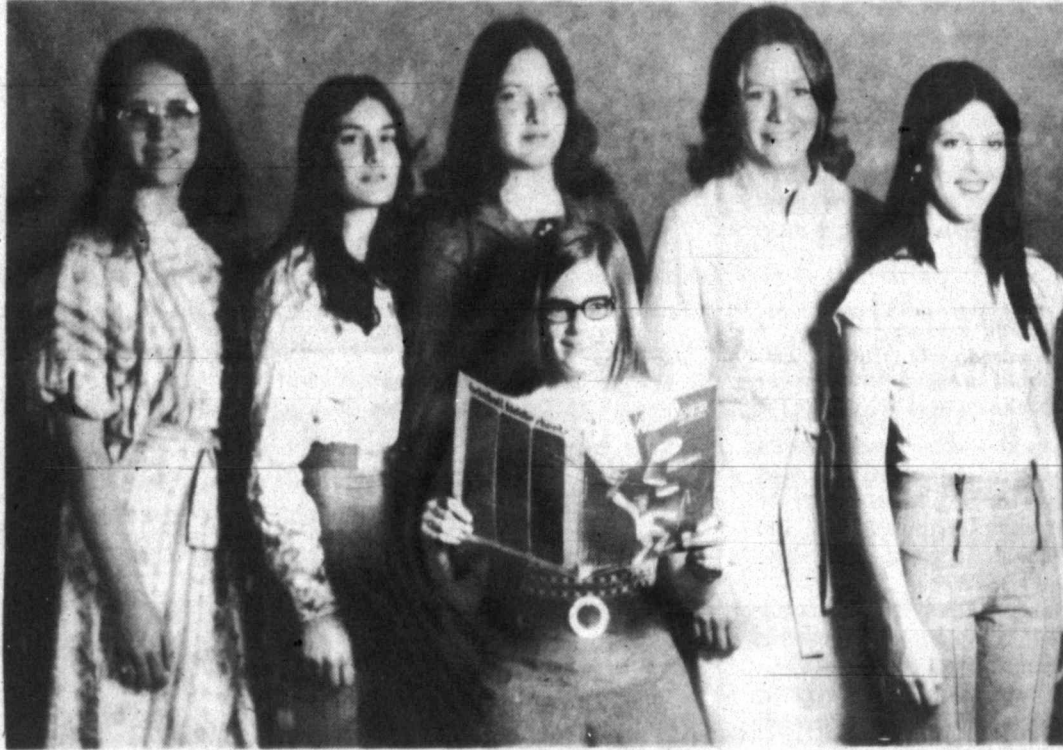

Senior citizens to be included in 4-H fair

Gray County 4-H Fair officials have expanded the 1976 fair to include entries by senior citizens.

The Senior Citizen Division will offer Gray County residents, aged 60 or older, the opportunity to exhibit entries in a variety of classes. This division has been added to the traditional state of classes for Gray County 4-H'ers.

Any person who wants a complete set of 1976 Fair Rules should call the County Extension Office, 669-7429.

The 1976 fair will be Aug. 14.

Ready for recital

M-A-S-H top-rated show

NEW YORK (AP)—A repeat episode of CBS' "M-A-S-H," the Korean war comedy where almost anything goes, was last week's top-rated show. But ABC's "Almost Anything Goes" suffered an opposite fate.

That program, featuring outlandish sports contests, was the nation's least-watched evening show, according to A.C. Nielsen Co. ratings made public Thursday. The ratings were delayed two days by what a Nielsen spokesman called "processing problems."

In addition to "M-A-S-H," the programs the Nielsen audience estimates showed as the nation's most popular last week were "Starsky and Hutch," "Baretta," "Laverne and Shirley," "Happy Days" and "Bionic Woman" (all ABC); "All in the Family" and "One Day at a Time" (both CBS); "ABC Monday Movie," "Switch" (CBS); "ABC Sunday Movie" and "Welcome Back, Kotter" (ABC).

Club News

Progressive HD

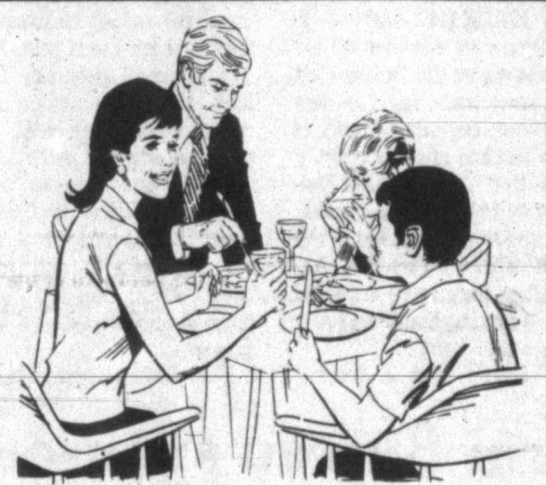

Progressive Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Ms. J.T. King for a program by Elaine Houston, county extension agent, on home safety.

She stated that there are 4 million accidents in the home each year that require 2 days or more in the hospital. Many house plants are acutely toxic, she added. Some of these plants are hyacinth, narcissus, poinsettia, dieffenbachia, elephant ear, and mistletoe.

Ms. E.A. Revard, council delegate, gave a report stating the Home Demonstration Clubs are helping the Bicentennial Committee in locating pioneer women in the area.

Hostess for the next meeting will be Ms. Lee Jackson.

Baker, Maples lead Lefors senior class

Gene Parker, director of education for West Texas State University in Canyon, will address graduating Lefors High School seniors during commencement exercises May 27.

The exercises will begin at 8 p.m. in the Lefors High School Auditorium.

Parker holds a bachelor of science degree from WTSU and a master of science degree from East Texas State University. He has also done graduate work at the University of Denver.

He has been a teacher, principal, school superintendent and regional manager for a major oil company, as well as maintaining agricultural interests.

The Jaycees presented him the Outstanding Young

Educator award and he has received a Distinguished Service Award from the Chamber of Commerce. He was named winner of the Good Guy Award — Education, by KVII-TV in Amarillo and is past recipient of the Human Relations Award sponsored by the Texas State Teachers Association.

Class valedictorian will be Jesse Keith Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Baker. While maintaining a four year high school grade average of 92, Baker also served in various class offices and is president of the Lefors High School Student Council.

He has attended slide rule competition at the state UIL Literary contests for three years, placing fourth as a sophomore, first in Class B while a junior and second as a senior. Baker, a regional qualifier in track, has also won district honors in football and basketball. He has lettered in football, basketball, track and tennis.

Peggy Norlene Maples, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maples, has been selected salutatorian. Her four year high school grade average is 91.28 and she has held various school offices. She was a captain of the girls' basketball team as a senior and has lettered in basketball and track. She will attend Frank Phillips College in the fall.

Baccalaureate services will be at 8 p.m. May 23 in the Lefors High School auditorium with an address by Denny Sneed, minister of the Lefors Church of Christ.

Home costs up 22 per cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices of new homes are rising at an annual rate of 22 per cent, throwing "a big question mark" over the ability of builders to construct houses that are cheap enough for families buying their first home, a government agency says.

The median sale price of a new home in February was $43,000, compared to $38,000 in February 1975, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported Wednesday in its monthly economic analysis newsletter.

Prices rose 13 per cent in the 12-month period, but soared at the 22 per cent annual rate during the last six months. And early indications were that the median price rose to nearly $44,000 in March, the board added.

The median price of $43,000 means that half the new homes in the country were sold for less than that sum and half were sold for more.

The board, which regulates the savings and loan associations that provide most home mortgages, said the rising prices "throw a big question mark over the ability of builders to reach more of the mass market of first-time home purchasers."

The sharp upswing in house prices is "surprising" because it "is completely out of proportion to the improvement in the financial state of the average consumer," the board said. It also appears "to contradict the publicity about the increasing importance of 'no-frill' housing."

Many builders have reduced lot and house sizes and eliminated luxury trimmings in an attempt to keep new-home prices within reach of first-time buyers who otherwise would be squeezed out of the market.

But the board indicated that strategy may not be working, saying the figures suggest that the relatively affluent, whose old homes have soared in value, are buying expensive new homes at a faster rate than the less affluent buy their first houses.

These more affluent home-owners were "less affected by the recession and inflation and generally own an existing home that can be sold at a profit," the newsletter noted.

The board indicated concern that the rising prices may imperil the housing industry's revival as well as putting home ownership out of the reach of many Americans.

Housing construction has perked up recently following lean years in 1973-75, when interest rates were high, mortgages difficult to get and the home buyers discouraged by the recession.

Probe clears recruiters

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A lawyer for a U.S. Marine recruit who died of injuries suffered in a training exercise says he is not surprised by the Marine Corps' announcement that an investigation had cleared recruiters of malpractices.

"If they had admitted it, they would have been totally liable," said lawyer John W. Gyorkos, who represents Mrs. Joseph H. Calhoun, McClure's mother. The family has sued the Marines for $3 million, questioning among other things the way McClure was signed on as a Marine.

"The Marine Corps has great motivation for not finding fault," he added.

The statement clearing Marine recruiters of possible malpractices in enlisting McClure, a high school dropout who had once failed the Marine test, was released here Wednesday.

In Lufkin, Tex., McClure's home, Mrs. Calhoun said, "I don't believe it. He couldn't have passed the test."

"They (the Marines) can lie all they want," a sobbing Mrs. Calhoun said. "They just put that boy in there and killed him."

McClure was injured last December during a bayonet combat simulation using padded sticks with the Marines wearing protective headgear. He suffered head injuries and was treated at the San Diego, Calif., Depot and later was transferred to Houston where he died.

Marine Corps headquarters spokesmen here said the investigation centered on three main questions.

Bizarre blast stumps police

WILLS POINT, Tex. (AP) — Federal agents, Texas Rangers and local peace officers said today they are stumped over the bizarre bombing of the Brookshire Food Store here Wednesday.

Investigators said a pickup truck carrying two container drums loaded with explosives was aimed at the storefront, put into gear and left to crash into the building.

Texas Ranger Stewart Dowell said the drums carried detonators but they could not be located.

Damage was estimated at around $350,000.

Airlines sue Southwest for still using Love Field

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A legal fight over whether all air lines that serve the Dallas-Fort Worth area must use the new $600 million regional airport is back in federal appeals court.

Lines that use the new Dallas-Fort Worth regional airport, known as DFW, appealed to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals after they were enjoined against pursuing Southwest Airlines in state court.

They asked that a federal court injunction be canceled so that a state court suit, filed in Austin, may proceed. The 5th took the issue under advisement Wednesday with no indication when it will rule.

Southwest operates between Dallas, Houston and San Antonio. It has stayed at Dallas' old, convenient and cheaper Love Field despite outcries from air lines lodged at the new airport.

For Dallas residents, Love

Field is closer. It takes $3.50 for the cab ride, compared to $20 to DFW. And critics complain that almost every move one makes at DFW costs 25 cents or more.

Other air lines contend that Southwest's refusal to move to the newer airport gives it an unfair competitive advantage and indirectly costs DFW lines an extra $1 million a year.

But when they filed suit in state court at Austin, a U.S. district court said that amounted to an attack on a 1973 federal court judgment won by Southwest stating it could not be forced to leave Love.

Robert S. Harkey of Atlanta, Ga., representing Delta Air Lines, American Airlines, Frontier Airlines, Ozark Air Lines and Eastern Air Lines, argued that the wrangle involves state law, not federal.

"Only the state court can rule authoritatively on the state law," Harkey said in asking that the federal injunction be cancelled.

Farm Bureau sponsors defensive driving class

The Gray - Roberts County Farm Bureau is sponsoring a two - part defensive driving course Monday and Tuesday and May 24-25, according to Artie Sailor Jr., bureau president.

Course work includes attending two four - hour sessions which will be instructed by a representative of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Classes will be 6:30-10:30 p.m. each day in the First Christian Church Fellowship Hall, 1633 N. Nelson. Total cost is $3 per student.

Sailor said that students will not be tested at any point during the course. He added that insurance companies offer 10 per cent premium discount to people who complete the defensive driving course.

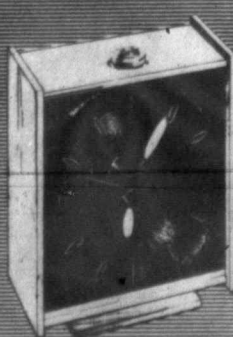

For additional information or to enroll in the classes, call the Gray County Farm Bureau office, 665-2389.

Nazarene director sets visit to Pampa church

Dr. Lyle E. Eckley, district superintendent of the West Texas District Church of the Nazarene, will visit the Pampa Church of the Nazarene, 500 N. West, Sunday.

He will speak at the morning service, which begins at 10:50 a.m.

Following the service, a dinner will be held in the church basement.

Sunday has been declared as "District Superintendent Appreciation Day" by local Nazarenes.

Dr. Eckley recently made a trip to a mission area in Peru where he along with 20 other Nazarene men constructed a church.

Mrs. Margaret Eckley, who is the district missionary president, will accompany her husband and present special music on the violin.

Appointed to the West Texas District in 1968, Dr. Eckley has lived in Lubbock for the past eight years. The district officer there serves about 100 churches.

Church tea honors members' mothers

Daisies, Prims and Missionettes of the First Assembly of God Church at 500 S. Cuyler hosted a Mother-Daughter Tea Tuesday.

All three are clubs for girls aged 5-16 in the church.

Several mothers participated in a skit, "Graduation for Mothers" and Mrs. Darwin Baumann spoke on "Tribute to Mothers."

Valerie Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson of 1832 Fir, was crowned Princess of the Daisy-Prim department and Princess of the Missionette department was Cindy Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Jones of 406 E. Kingsmill.

Girl of the Year for the Daisy-Prim department was Kim Pendleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Pendleton of 1605 N. Faulkner. She was also recognized for one year of perfect attendance. Renee Kitch was honored for two years perfect attendance and was named Girl of the Year by the Missionette department. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Kitch of 1916 N. Christy.

Seven girls in the Missionette department received achievement badges. They were Retha Bradsher, Karen Ely, Tonya Witt, Elisa Malone, Dietra Bradsher, Mellanie Courtney and Cindy Jones.

Forty-five persons attended the tea, including sponsors Mrs. Ron Witt, Mrs. Darwin Baumann, Mrs. Alan Fields and Mrs. Dan Pendleton. Mrs. R.L. Courtney, pastor's wife, was coordinator.

Guests included the Rev. R.L. Courtney, pastor; the Rev. Ron Witt, minister of education; Mr. and Mrs. James McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sublett and Frank Anderson.

Gospel concert Sunday

Carol Gray

The Sunday morning worship service at the First Pentecostal Holiness Church, 1700 Alcock, will feature Carol Gray from Bethany, Okla., as soloist in a program of Gospel music.

Ms. Gray is winner of the annual International Teen Talent contest which is sponsored by Lifeliners, the denomination's youth group.

She has sung with nationally prominent Gospel groups, has studied at the Stamps school of music and is a graduate of Southwestern College and the Bethany Nazarene College.

The Rev. Albert Maggard, pastor, said everyone is invited to attend Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m., and the evening service at 7 p.m.

Pastor's sermon topic taken from II Timothy

Text for the Rev. Norman D. Dow Jr.'s sermon Sunday will be from II Tim. 4:1 and Rev. Dow will speak on "And He Shall Come to Judge Both the Living and the Dead" at the 10:45 a.m. worship at the First Presbyterian Church, 525 N. Gray.

Assisting in the service will be Elder James A. Holcomb and a Congregational Meeting will immediately follow the service. Purpose of the meeting is to elect a member to the Nominating Committee of the congregation.

Junior and Senior High Fellowships will meet at 5:30 p.m. Sunday in Central Park for hot dogs and homemade ice cream. The groups' sponsors are Jim and Janna Hogan.

Elder Deacon calling will be 7 p.m. Wednesday and choir rehearsal will be 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in New Haven, Conn., will speak from the pulpit May 23. He is a former pastor of the Pampa church.

God-talk basis of theology

Theology, most simply, is God-talk. As long as people have wondered and talked about God, there has been theology.

In the Christian scheme of things, theology is the attempt to articulate, in a somewhat sophisticated way, the distinctive Christian message of Scripture to make the message meaningful for a particular time and place.

But according to Dr. George A. Lindbeck of the Divinity School of Yale University, the very notion of "doing theology" is today under attack.

Lindbeck was one of the signers of the now famous "Hartford Appeal," the manifesto that attacked 13 "themes" or patterns of thought of modern life as "false and debilitating" but all too pervasive in the life of the Church.

In an article on the Appeal in historical perspective, Lindbeck argued that the Appeal is unique in history "because it battles for the possibility of theology rather than itself proposing a theology."

His article, "A Battle for Theology," along with essays by seven other signers of the Appeal which expand on the theme and intents of the manifesto's makers, has been published in a new book, "Against the World For the World" (Seabury Press).

In earlier times, Lindbeck said, previous theological manifestoes all assumed the possibility of Christian theology and the manifestoes were statements of various sides or positions in a debate.

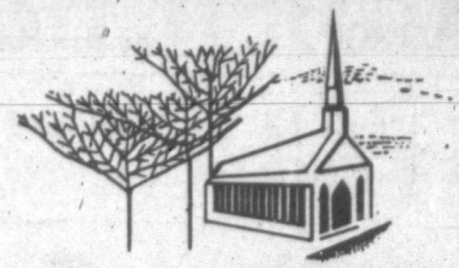

"The quarrels between right and left, majorities and minorities, orthodox and heretics were over the right theology, not over the possibility of theology," he said.

Today, however, the themes articulated in the Hartford Appeal — such notions as "Modern thought... is superior to all past forms of understanding reality" or "the world sets the agenda for the Church" — are so widespread, so much a part of everyone's common assumptions that they "inhibit the theological attempt to discern what is true and right from an independently Christian perspective." In other words, they make theology impossible.

In the midst of such shifts, he argues, many are tempted to deny either the necessity or the possibility of theology.

An investment in Your Future

ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

WORSHIP BEGINS IN THE HOME

Our home is more than just a pretty structure, of course it does provide comfort, but beyond that, it is a place where joy abounds... it is a place where love is abundant, it is a place of cooperation, and it is a place where the Lord is worshiped. From the home, our relationship with God is carried over into the church. It is there that my family is able to share worshiping the Lord with others. Ours would not be a full life, if we did not participate in worship at home and church. Attend church this week and join us in worshiping the Lord.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

After 22 points behind Nets rally, snare title

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets were struggling.

They had fallen 22 points behind the Denver Nuggets with 5:07 remaining in the third quarter of the sixth game of their American Basketball Association championship series.

Their shooting was off-target. Their offense was disorganized. The Nuggets, particularly David Thompson and Dan Issel, were destroying their defense.

The situation appeared hopeless... and it seemed a seventh and deciding game would have to be played in Denver Sunday.

Then, suddenly, the game turned.

The Nets, the best defensive team in the league throughout the regular season, began playing the defense that had distinguished them during that time. And because of it, their offense prospered.

They forced the Nuggets into costly mistakes, turnovers that resulted in Nets points or missed shots.

They began to close the gap. And they were gathering momentum.

The Nuggets, in the championship series for the first time, were coming apart at the seams.

By the end of the third quarter...

Freeman and Williams lead area in state

AUSTIN — White Deer pole vaulter Joe Freeman and halfmiler Steve Williams lead a contingent of area athletes here today for the 66th annual state boys track meet.

Field events in all classes — AAAA, AAA, AA, A and B — begin this afternoon. AAA and AA running event finals start at 7:30 p.m. today.

The remainder of the AAAA, A and B field events will start at 10 a.m. Saturday. Running event finals in those classes will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Freeman and Williams are from District I-A. Freeman vaulted 13-6 in the regional meet to qualify for state competition, while Williams turned in a 2:01.0 in the half mile.

PJH golfers seeking crown

HEREFORD — Pampa Junior High golfers, trailing leader Perryton by one stroke, are here today for the third and final district junior high golf round.

Perryton leads the district field at 691, while Pampa is a stroke behind.

Green, Stockton leading

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Talking like a pair of Las Vegas high-rollers, Hubert Green and Dave Stockton resume their swashbuckling duel today in the second round of the $200,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament.

"Yeah, I'm a gambler," Stockton said after dropping a clutch 10-foot par putt on the final hole Thursday for a 67 and a share of the lead with Green.

"I think most good players are gamblers. There are very few who sit back and wait for something to happen. I think the definition of a positive person would be one who takes sensible gambles."

"So I attack..."

Green, bidding for his fourth title of the year, recorded his three-under-par 67 hours before Stockton toured the 7,190-yard Colonial course, but the script was similar.

"I'm not going to hit every green, because I don't play safe," said Green. "I go for the pin. If I'm under par it's not my game to lay back and play it safe."

"I attack the golf course..."

Then, with a smile and a shrug, he added:

"You might as well attack this golf course because it's going to bite you one way or another. It's better to get bitten going after it instead of it going after you."

The historic Colonial course, whose terrors include the Trinity River, was once called "Hogan's Alley" as a tribute to Ben Hogan, a five-time winner here.

Green, currently the leading money winner, surrendered sole possession of first place with a bogey at the 18th, where he caught a trap, then missed a five-foot putt.

"I'm going to win, not finish 15th," he said grimly.

Six players were locked in at 68, a stroke off the pace, and 23 members of the select 102-player field were within three shots of the leaders.

Among those at 68 was Lee Trevino, not stranger himself to the high stakes, high risk life style. He nearly holed a sand shot at the final green to seize a piece of the lead.

He was tied with Miller Barber, Peter Oosterhuis, Don January, Barry Jaekel and Tom Weiskopf, the latter a defending champion of sorts.

Weiskopf won the National Invitation in 1973, the last time it was played as such. In 1974 it was a "designated" tournament and last year Colonial was host to the Tournament Players Championship.

A flash shower interrupted first round play, but it did no appreciable damage to either player or course. Forecasts were optimistic for today's round.

Thursday's casualty list included a covey of former champions, plus the 1976 pre-tournament favorite, Ben Crenshaw, who limped in with a four-over-par 74.

Previous winners who encountered difficulties were Romero Blancas and Billy Casper, also with 74s. Julius Boros and Doug Sanders with 75s and Gene Littler with a 76.

Orioles nudge Brewers

Palmer and other pitchers around the American League.

Palmer has been the most vociferous critic of what he calls its "flat" surface.

"I got hit pretty hard in Kansas City last Sunday, so it was pretty hard to look forward to pitching in Milwaukee. But you can't do much about it. It's like throwing straight up in the air. You've got to make sure you release the ball from on top or you'll throw a lot of high fastballs and they'll hit it out of the park on you all day."

In the other American League games, the Boston Red Sox beat the Cleveland Indians 7-5; the Detroit Tigers nipped the New York Yankees 3-2; the Kansas City Royals routed the Chicago White Sox 13-2 and the California Angels turned back the Texas Rangers 7-5. In the only National League game, the San Francisco Giants outscored the Chicago Cubs 9-5.

Despite fighting the Milwaukee mound along with the Brewers batters, Palmer had little trouble with the Brewers through the first seven innings. But then he was touched for a run in the eighth on George Scott's RBI single and two more in the ninth on a walk and two-out homer by Gorman Thomas.

Red Sox 7, Indians 5

Rick Miller drilled three hits and drove in three runs, sparking Boston over Cleveland. It was the second straight victory for the Red Sox after 10 straight losses.

Luis Tiant, 4-2, gave up nine hits and three of Cleveland's runs in 6-3 innings. Jim Willoughby, the second relief pitcher, pitched the last two innings for the Red Sox and gave up two runs in the ninth on sacrifice flies by Doug Howard and Ron Pruitt.

Tigers 3, Yanks 2

Rusty Staub's three-run homer with two out in the eighth inning following an intentional walk to Willie Horton lifted Detroit over New York. Chris Chambliss' home run in the bottom of the seventh had given the Yankees a 1-0 lead, snapping a scoreless duel between winner Vern Riffe, 3-0, and loser Rudy May, 2-1.

Royals 13, White Sox 2

George Brett smashed three hits for the sixth straight game and John Mayberry belted three hits and knocked in two runs to lead Kansas City past Chicago. Mayberry took a .182 batting average into the game, but pounded two singles and a triple. Also contributing to the 16-hit Kansas City attack was Cookie Rojas, who drove in three runs with an eighth-inning double.

Angels 7, Rangers 5

Orlando Alvarez, recalled earlier in the day from the minors, blasted his first major league homer, a three-run shot in the fifth inning, to power California over Texas. Alvarez, a 23-year-old outfielder acquired during this spring, played as the designated hitter and delivered his homer off Stan Perzanowski as the Angels built a 7-3 lead.

Giants 9, Cubs 5

Willie Montane tripled in the tying run in the ninth inning and scored on a single by Steve Ontiveros as San Francisco erupted for five runs to defeat Chicago. The Cubs had broken a 4-4 tie in the bottom of the eighth inning of the rain-delayed game when they scored a run without a hit on walks to Jerry Morales and Manny Trillo, a sacrifice bunt by Steve Swisher and Dave Rosello's sacrifice fly.

Tower's press secretary worked in Reagan camp

HOUSTON (AP) — A spokesman for U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., says no disciplinary action is planned against Tower's press secretary who confirmed he gave off-hours help to the Ronald Reagan camp while his boss campaigned for President Ford.

The Washington Bureau of the Houston Post quoted Mike Kelly Thursday as saying he has written one speech on education for the National "Citizens for Reagan" office, has advised Reagan's staff on some issues and has been elected as a Reagan delegate to the state GOP convention in Virginia.

Kelly denied being a "pipeline" from the Ford camp to the Reagan camp.

After being questioned about it by the Post, Kelly said he informed Tower, who was chairman of Ford's Texas campaign and who is scheduled to be the President's floor manager at the Republican National Convention in August.

Kelly said he had "never made a secret around the (Tower) office of my feelings about Reagan" but had not previously told his boss about his active work for the former California governor.

Edwin Skiles, Tower's administrative assistant, told the Post Kelly made a "judgment error" in not fully informing Tower. However, Skiles said no disciplinary action will be taken.

"Tower does not try to monitor our lives," Skiles said. "The rule around here is no politicking on the job. Whatever Mike wants to do in his own free time is his own business."

Skiles said he would feel differently if he thought any Tower "confidences had been betrayed" by Kelly.

"Granted, I would prefer that everyone on the staff have a great deal of zeal for President Ford," Skiles said. "It would make life easier. But so long as it doesn't affect his work, I'm not troubled by it."

The Post said a source in the Reagan's Texas campaign referred to Kelly as "our pipeline" into the Ford camp.

Both Kelly and Jeffrey Bell, an issues coordinator on Reagan's national staff, denied it.

"My conscience is clear about that," he said. "I have not violated my loyalty to the senator in any way."

Bell called the remark by the Reagan source "a bum rap."

"That's absolutely false," Bell said. "All Kelly's work has been in the issues area. Reagan has used material from the speech. It's been revised and used pretty frequently."

"But I don't know of any confidential or sensitive information Kelly ever gave us. That's just absolutely false. I have no knowledge of anything like that. I'm convinced he did nothing unethical."

Kelly, a former Washington correspondent for the Dallas Times Herald, was an unsuccessful Republican Congressional candidate in his native Wisconsin in 1972. He became Tower's press secretary Jan. 20, 1975.

District court Monday

A total of 252 prospective jurors are scheduled to report to 31st District Court with 125 members set for 9 a.m. Monday, and 127 at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Forty-eight criminal and civil cases are set for the jury docket.

Judge Grainger W. McIlhenny will preside over all the trails and District Attorney Guy Hardin will present the criminal cases to the court.

Ford debates chrome embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is being pulled in opposite directions over attempts to repeal a law that exempts imports of chrome from a trade embargo against the white supremacist regime that runs Rhodesia.

The eventual outcome of efforts to repeal the amendment could have profound effects on U.S. relations with black African nations.

Authorized by Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., Ind-Va., the exemption has become a symbol in black Africa of a test of U.S. willingness to match policy statements favoring majority rule with concrete action.

Pulling Ford in one direction is the conservative Byrd, who maintains his only concern is the issue that the world has only two major sources of chrome, Rhodesia and the Soviet Union.

Pulling the other way — toward repeal — are most members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who say ending the exemption is needed to restore U.S. credibility in Africa.

And Ford is faced with political pressure from his GOP challenger, Ronald Reagan, who has taken a dim view of efforts to "dictate" settlements to African nations.

But Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has been building an African policy out of the concept of U.S. support for efforts of African blacks to obtain majority rule in nations where a white minority holds political power.

Kissinger made appeal of the amendment allowing U.S. chrome purchases from white-ruled Rhodesia one of the major elements of a 10-point African policy he announced in a speech in Lusaka, Zambia, earlier this month. And repeal may be seen as a signal to Africans that the Ford administration intends to follow through on that policy.

But within days of Kissinger's statement, criticism of his support of black majority rule was injected into the presidential primary campaign by former California Gov. Reagan.

Reagan, challenging Ford for the GOP nomination, said during a campaign swing through Texas in the last week of April that Kissinger's pushing for black majority rule in Rhodesia "has literally undercut the possibility for a just and orderly settlement."

But Kissinger told the Foreign Relations Committee on Thursday that it was his "understanding" that Ford will campaign actively to convince House and Senate members to vote for repeal.

But there were some suggestions of concern that Ford might turn his back on his African initiatives for fear of losing conservative votes to Reagan.

He added that "We seem to be embarking on a policy of dictating to the people of southern Africa and running the risk of increased violence and bloodshed."

Kissinger, in the midst of his African trip at the time, labeled Reagan's statements "totally irresponsible."

In an interview, Byrd pointed out that Ford himself — while a House member — voted against repeal of the chrome amendment.

Widow files lawsuit against truck owner

HOUSTON (AP) — The widow of a man killed when an ammonia tank truck exploded has filed a $1.5 million lawsuit in state district court against the owner of the truck.

Sadie Bell McAdams of Conroe filed the suit Thursday against Transport Co. of Texas in Corpus Christi.

Gordon McAdams, 40, was one of five persons killed Tuesday when the tank truck crashed through an overpass rail and exploded on a freeway.

The suit filed by Mrs. McAdams alleges negligence on the part of the tank truck driver, William Gregory Schmidt, 20, of Corpus Christi.

Others dead at the scene were David R. Whiteman, 48, of Houston and George H. Pearson, 33, of Sugar Land.

Mrs. Grace Gillebaard, 33, of Houston died Wednesday night in a Houston hospital.

Authorities said nearly 200 persons, most of them overcome by fumes, were injured in the accident. Most of them have been released although three persons remained in critical condition in area hospitals Thursday night.

Federal, state and local agencies continued investigations to determine the cause of the accident.

Goldwater insists ads stop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, apparently under increasing pressure from fellow conservatives, is demanding that the Ford campaign committee stop using tapes of his denunciation of Ronald Reagan's stand on the Panama Canal.

"He's getting a lot of heat," one Republican source said after it was learned Thursday that Goldwater had written to Rogers C.B. Morton, Ford's campaign manager, and demanded a halt to use of the tapes in Ford radio commercials. While criticizing Reagan on the canal issue, Goldwater has refused to endorse Ford.

A spokesman for the Ford committee said further use of the commercials featuring Goldwater was halted after receipt of his letter.

The tapes were of a Goldwater news conference on May 4 in which he said Reagan's position on the Panama Canal reflected "a dangerous state of mind."

In confirming that the Arizona Republican had written the letter to the Ford campaign, a spokesman in his office said Goldwater was upset because he "doesn't want anything to look like an endorsement of one candidate or another."

The tapes first were used for radio commercials in Nebraska. They were broadcast extensively in the days before the May 11 primary, but Ford still lost to Reagan.

The Goldwater commercials also were run in West Virginia, which voted the same day as Nebraska and where Ford was the winner.

In addition, they have been broadcast in Oregon, Nevada and Michigan, which have primaries in upcoming weeks.

The Ford committee spokesman said the Goldwater letter objected to further use of either tapes or the text of the news conference but made no specific objection to Ford's referring to Goldwater's remarks in his campaign speeches.

The spokesman said no decision has been made whether the President would continue to refer to Goldwater's criticism of Reagan.

At his May 4 news conference, Goldwater said he would "have to support Ford's position" of attempting to renegotiate a canal treaty with Panama.

Goldwater said Reagan's statements "could needlessly lead this country into open military conflict."

Reagan has said he would go to the same lengths to protect U.S. interests in Panama as he would "to keep someone from taking Alaska away from us."

Asked whether he would go to war to keep the canal, Reagan said, "I don't think there has ever been a President who wouldn't have had to say yes."

Dutch get Houston heart surgery plan

HOUSTON (AP) — Hospital spokesmen here say no package cost deals have been made for patients a Dutch organization says it plans to send here for corrective heart surgery.

A Dutch association of heart patients announced Wednesday in Amsterdam it plans to begin airlifts to Texas, where it says members will undergo open heart surgery — at a package cost of $10,000 a person.

A spokesman for the Dutch group said airlifts of 25 persons a month have been arranged by the Dutch Heart Patients Association, which has 30,000 members, because Dutch clinics can't handle them.

The spokesman said the patients will be flown to St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital here and the operations will be performed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley and his team.

Henk Flevet, chairman of the Dutch association, said his group has already received hundreds of applications for the Houston flights from persons unable to get an operation in the Netherlands.

However, a St. Luke's Hospital spokesman discounted the $10,000 perperson fee quoted by the Dutch association.

The spokesman said each patient is evaluated as an individual.

She said that depending on the complexity of the heart surgery, rate of recovery, complications and other factors, every bill is "truly different."

The hospital spokesman said any large group of surgical patients would have to make advance arrangements for rooms and diagnostic examinations "so as not to just appear and swamp the facilities."

She said no dates have been set yet for the first of the heart patient airlifts.

Cooley's office said the internationally known heart surgeon would have no comment on the announcement from the Netherlands, but a hospital spokesman confirmed Cooley had talked with a representative from the Dutch group about the plan.

However, the spokesman said neither Cooley nor any member of his team, which includes six other cardiovascular surgeons, would talk about costs of operations.

It is widely known that Cooley's group and other Houston doctors who got large numbers of international patients often perform surgery free or for minimal charges.

Hospital costs, however, must be billed and fees for evaluation tests, intensive care units and other items can mount into thousands of dollars, depending on length of stay.

Another St. Luke's spokesman said Flevet, a former St. Luke's patient, was so happy with his surgery he organized a trip for others.

"There is no way you could have a package deal price," she said. "Some patients might come in and not need surgery. Surgery might not help others." The Dutch association said the first group of 25 will leave next month and another 80 are on the waiting list for later flights.

Flevet said Dutch clinics could perform only 1,600 operations last year and 6,000 were requested.

A St. Luke's spokesman said Cooley and his staff perform 4,000 heart operations a year.

"Thousands of people here are just left to get on with it," Flevet said. "People who could lead a normal life after a heart operation instead of dying prematurely."

Sikes' ethics probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ethics Committee, for the first time in its eight-year existence, is going to conduct a formal investigation into a congressman's conduct.

The panel voted 9-to-0 in closed session Wednesday to move from a preliminary inquiry to a formal investigation of conflict of interest charges against Rep. Robert L.F. Sikes, D-Fla.

Common Cause, the self-styled citizens' lobby, filed a sworn complaint with the committee in April charging that Sikes used his position to benefit his personal investments in Florida.

Sikes, 69, who has served in Congress since 1941, is chairman of the House military construction appropriations subcommittee.

Sikes promised to give the ethics committee "whatever information they need and we'll cooperate fully." He said he welcomed the probe "because I do not want innuendoes and defamatory allegations to be allowed to stand."

Sikes said Common Cause and "the liberal media" conducted "a year-long attempt to destroy me politically."

Common Cause's charges first surfaced in news reports last year.

Chairman John Flynt, D-Ga., said the ethics committee's decision to investigate reflected no judgment on the charges against Sikes.

Sikes sponsored legislation to permit commercial development of some Florida land on which a company he partly owned held a lease. Common Cause said it also said Sikes voted for a $73 million contract for Fairchild Industries while owning 1,000 shares of Fairchild stock.

In addition, the organization said Sikes urged local and state officials to permit establishment of the First Navy Bank at Pensacola Naval Air Station. It said he was an initial bank stockholder.

Sikes replied in a formal statement to the Ethics Committee that the land legislation he sponsored was requested by a local agency to rehabilitate part of Santa Rosa Island.

At wit's end

By ERMA BOMBECK

You know what they say. The metric system is like termites. No sense worrying about them until they get here.

Well, friend, they're here. Those creeping, crawling centimeters, grams and liters that threaten to put me in a size 142 girdle and a size 38 sandal have taken over.

The other day at coffee, Madelyn Murk the neighborhood gossip said, "Have I got a flash for all of you." We all sat there like a tableau — our coffee mugs in mid-air, not daring to breathe lest we miss one whip of her vicious tongue. "Remember Ginger, the hostess at the club who wears makeup a meter thick and stands around with her mouth open a kilometer? Well, she has this thing for Jan's husband."

"No!" we gasped in unison.

"Well, you know Jan," she continued. "All wool and a meter wide. She wouldn't suspect anything. Takes everything with a gram of salt. Played right into Ginger's hand."

"I don't know Ginger," said Mayva.

"You do too. She's always got the dry, wild hair that looks like she's down a liter of oil. Pushy! Very pushy! Give her a meter and she'll take a kilometer."

"Well, what happened was one day at lunch, Ardis said Jan. 'Remember the old gent Ginger was after? The one with one centimeter on a banana peel and one centimeter in the grave? Well, she's got new action now. A married man! And you know something? He's sitting a scant hectometer away from us..."

"Leave it to Ardis to put her meter in her mouth."

"Don't I know? She was never one to hide her ignorance under a hectoliter basket. Go on! What happened?"

"They looked over and, of course, there sat Jan's husband."

"What did she do?"

"Jan turned to Ardis and said, 'Judge no one until you've walked a kilometer in his moccasins...'"

"That's beautiful," said Mayva. "What does it mean?"

"That means you can go all over God's green hectare and you'll never find anyone with an avoidpous of human kindness to equal that of Jan's."

"Believe me, if it were me I'd demand my kilogram of flesh."

"What's that in English measurement?" I asked quietly.

"A pound," said Madelyn.

"What the heck," I said. "Put me down for a pound too. Anyone know how to double a kilogram?"

TV affects adults, too

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A psychiatrist says a study shows that television violence affects the mental health of adults the same as it does children and has suggested voluntary "prescription TV" for certain personalities.

"Dramatized television programs have substantial impact not only upon the young, but also upon adults," Dr. Roderic Gorney of the UCLA Department of Psychiatry told the American Psychiatric Association here Tuesday.

"People have always said we should be careful of what our kids watch on TV," he said. "But now, we see that television can affect adult behavior, which in turn carries over to the way he treats his child."

Gorney said psychiatrists "can't make a flatfooted statement about what everyone should view."

But he said he hopes his study can lead to "prescription" TV programming for certain personalities in the same way a doctor prescribes a diet for ulcer patients. Hopefully viewers would follow the guidelines.
