EVER STRIVING FOR TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Let Peace Begin With Me

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he possesses can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by a government, with the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property and secure more freedom and keep it for themselves and others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guide expressed in the Coveting Commandment.

How much government, tax, law is too much?

At the Republican convention, Sen. Howard Baker asked these questions: How much government is too much government? How many laws are too many laws? How much taxation is too much taxation? How much coercion is too much coercion?

Taking the last question first, any coercion of peaceful people is too much coercion. Such action has no place in a society of free men. If a free society were to be equated with socialism and its more belligerent brother communism. And if such equation were put on the same basis of seeking support by a disregard for human reaction, a trite answer would be, "any of the above is too much."

But if we should say, most any of the above is too much and would be willing to move more and more in the direction of self responsibility as individuals, to seek more and better ways to use voluntary methods to meet our desires, then we would leave the area of disregard for human reaction and would be heading in a direction that would bring us less government, less laws and less taxation.

As with the Ten Commandments, totality in the concept of free individual enterprise is a goal toward which one strives. It cannot be achieved by force, coercion or edict. Nor will it be attained by political means. Unlike socialism, freedom in individual enterprise (private enterprise, if you please) offers no free lunches, no largess handed to some at the expense of others. It will not produce short term gains for the few, at the expense of long term losses for everyone including the beginning favored few.

Perhaps as the "free lunch" syndrome fades into the mirage it is, more of us will take the freedom path anew. Who knows how far it could take us? But the start must be made to see how little we really need of big government, heavy taxes and laws piled upon laws.

Will tax solar energy

Second it kept coal in a bad competitive position with gas. Had the petroleum industry been allowed a more realistic price for its product, coal gasification might now be a factor in our supply of energy.

Getting back to the idea of taxing the use of the sun's energy, this goes "killing the goose" one step further. Politicians are now out to kill the goose before it lays any golden eggs.

For 35 centuries, the Mediterranean island of Malta was under successive rule by Phoenicians, Carthaginians, Romans, Arabs, Normans, the Knights of Malta, France and most recently — from 1814 to 1964 — Britain.

Nothing New The principle of jet propulsion was discovered about 100 B.C. by Hero in Alexandria. This was used 2,000 years later to help make jet planes.

Question box

QUESTION: With a growing Gross National Product reported by our government, do we have a growing prosperity? When I get a higher paycheck, doesn't that reflect a better economy in the nation?

ANSWER: The announced total Gross National Product is one of the less meaningful indices of the economy. The term means little. It could better be described as Gross National Cost, since it is an attempt to total all dollar payment figures in the nation.

Who are we fooling? Not the North Koreans. They remember the Pueblo, even if we do not. The distasteful fact, as Secretary of State Kissinger forever reminds, is that "the relationship between military strength and politically unusable power is the most complex in history" — which means we can bark but seldom bite.

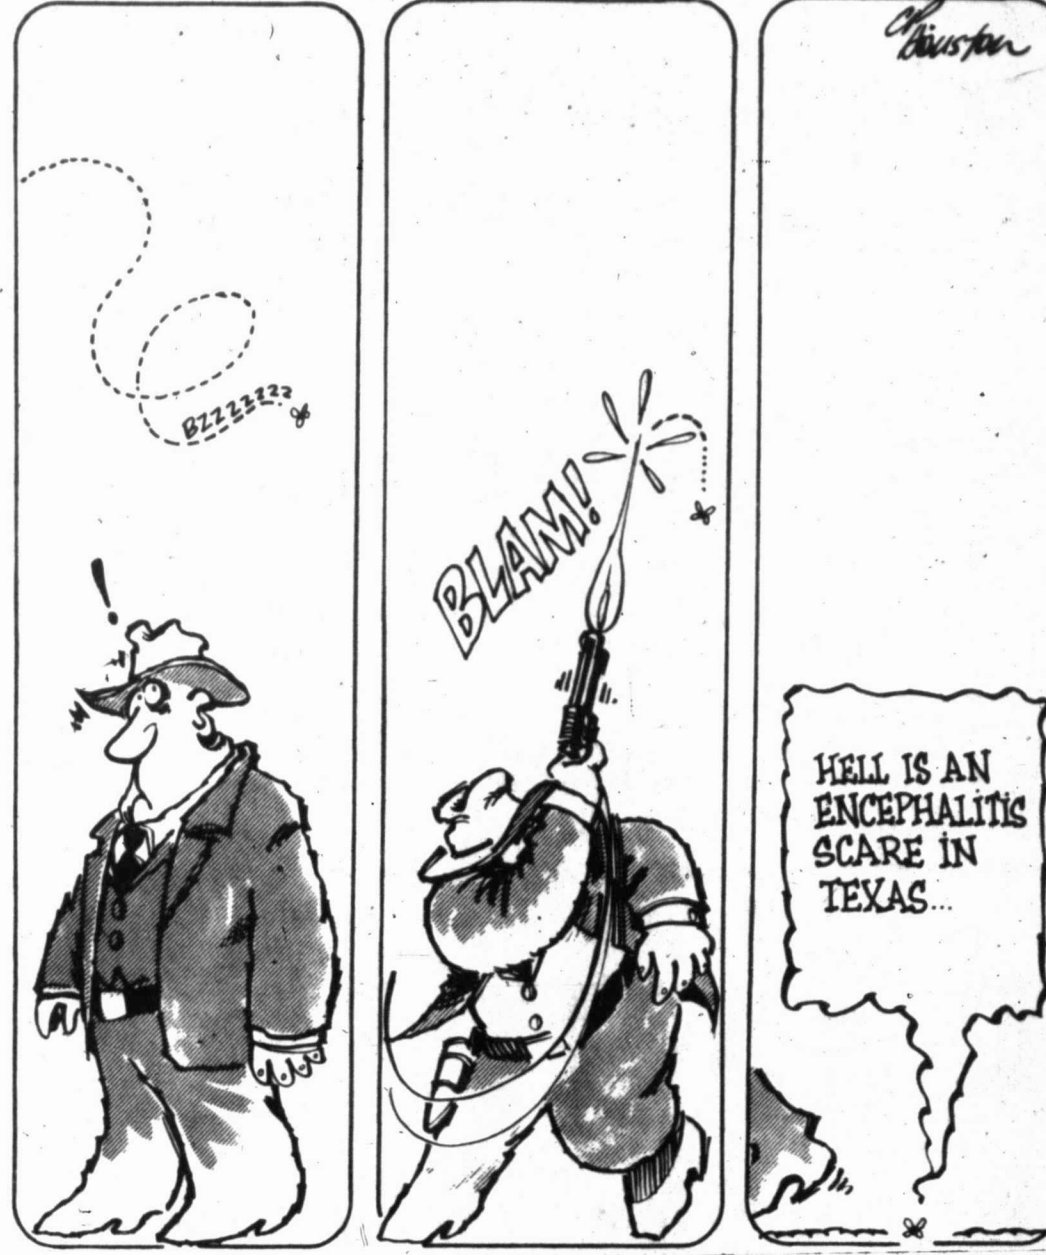

The ships we have sent to frighten Pyongyang will not drop bombs. Not for two dead G.I.s, not for the 83 men of the Pueblo, not possibly for anything short of an attack on American shores. If the President did give the order to draw blood in revenge, much of the post Vietnam American public would rebel.

Then too, perhaps the committed troops themselves would bar an aggressive response. They also are post-Vietnam people, and one supposes they would think twice before risking their lives in a conflict short of national defense. Actually, even the willingness of the soldiers to defend the nation is in doubt.

Perhaps as the "free lunch" syndrome fades into the mirage it is, more of us will take the freedom path anew. Who knows how far it could take us? But the start must be made to see how little we really need of big government, heavy taxes and laws piled upon laws.

SLEEP WELL TONIGHT U.S. puts on show of no force

By TOM TIEDE FORT BENJAMIN HARRISON, Ind. (NEA) — The response to the North Korean murders of two GIs in Panmunjon has been to return fire with rhetoric. We are "shocked." We demand "reparations." And we back this up with a costly show of force in the form of gunboats, fighter planes and fist-banging.

THE WEATHER always is a top conversation piece wherever people get together — the club, the drugstore, beauty salon, favorite eating place, farmers market, or just about any place where two or more persons congregate.

One of the strangest of these predictions comes from Pampa bird-watchers who say the birds already are taking off for the south where the climate is warmer — even some of the rugged feathered tribes who usually stick around until November or December.

Most of them who come to dine with us are sparrows, blue birds, robins and some ornery black birds who move in every once in a while to drive the others away. However, the most interesting bird around the place is a roadrunner who drops by every once in a while to stroll around the yard. Haven't seen him for quite a spell. Maybe he, too, sensed a frigid winter coming on in the Texas Panhandle and joined the bird-watcher's feathered friends for the trip south.

What do gals talk about during a coffee break besides the weather? Well, it so happens on this particular morning the subject was public welfare.

There was mention of the lady who goes into the store, buys groceries with food stamps and has the carry-out boy load 'em into her Cadillac.

The general consensus among the coffee-breakers seemed to be that our tax money spent for welfare doesn't always buy food and give assistance to those who need it most. Too many free-loaders cashing in and not enough checking on those who apply to see whether they actually qualify for aid.

Mexico trades plane for tourists

DALLAS (AP) — Businessman Richard Stokley spent three years trying to cut through the Mexican red tape which had held his private aircraft, confiscated after being used by a drug smuggler. Then, all of a sudden, the tape broke. "I got a call from a Mexican official who told me to come get it. I couldn't believe it," Stokley said Thursday. Stokley attributes the fast work to a change of attitude among some Mexican government officials. He said he was told American tourism had fallen off drastically and that the Mexican government wanted to rebuild it. One way is to be nice to Americans. Stokley said his advice for someone with a plane confiscated by the Mexican government is for them to press hard for its return. "If anybody has an airplane confiscated they ought to make an effort now to get it. They need to have the paperwork on this side of the border and know how to handle it on that side also," he said. Stokley's plane was flown into Mexico without his knowledge in April 1973. He learned a few weeks afterwards from federal border and narcotics official that the plane had been confiscated. Stokley said he had been in the process of selling the plane through a broker in California. He had allowed the plane to be kept in Sacramento, Calif., upon receipt of a down payment. A few days later the plane was in Mexico. He said he began trying to get the plane back since it was confiscated but really pressed the issue last fall. He got the State Department to write a letter over Henry Kissinger's signature. U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and U.S. Rep. Alan Steelman, R-Dallas also wrote letters.

Viking robot begins to dig

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — With the Viking 2 robot ready to begin digging for evidence of life on Mars, one of the twin orbiting ships left its station Saturday to take a close-up look at other regions of the planet.

Abandoning the Viking 1 lander — which has been put on stand-by after weeks of examining the planet's surface — the Viking 1 mother ship began an expedition of its own, its cameras and other instruments ready to probe the farthest reaches of Mars.

Meanwhile, Viking 2's lander was to begin man's second search for traces of life on Mars. On Sunday, the robot's arm was to reach out to the rocky Utopia plain, scoop up a handful of Martian soil and dump it into miniature laboratories for chemical analysis.

The Viking 1 orbiter fired its engines to begin shifting its orbit around the planet in jumps of 40 longitudinal degrees each day and is to complete the trip in nine days.

Then, in what scientists call a "complex operational period," it will position itself above the Utopia plain where the Viking 2 lander will be well into its quest for life, and take charge of the lander's communications with earth.

The maneuver will free the Viking 2 orbiter to begin its own swing around the planet and scan the polar caps, a region of particular interest to scientists.

The scientists have speculated that Mars once had an Earth-like atmosphere which has been frozen and is now bound up in the polar caps in the form of ice and solid carbon dioxide.

The focus of Viking 2's probe will be the search for organic materials — carbon-based molecules found in every living thing on this planet but not detected by Viking 1's experiments on the Chryse plain, 4,600 miles away.

Viking 1's first biology probes detected chemical activity that hinted at the existence of life, but scientists were baffled by the lack of evidence of organic chemicals.

Chief scientist Gerald Soffen said he had been prepared for the possibility of organic chemicals without life, but the suggestion of life without organics on Mars was totally unexpected.

If the second lander can find some trace of organics in the rocky soil, Viking 1's findings will be less puzzling. The explanation could be that there were organics at Chryse, but not within the handful of soil scooped up by Viking 1's telescoping shovel arm.

If no organics are found by Viking 2, scientists are likely to split on the issue of life on Mars, some calling the findings "fancy chemistry," others proclaiming the discovery of extraterrestrial life.

Viking 2 will return to orbit over Utopia on Oct. 17, freeing Viking 1 for a second swing around Mars. Scientists here will not be able to order the Viking 1 orbiter to return to Chryse until late December, after conjunction, the period when Mars and earth are on opposite sides of the Sun.

VETERAN FIREMAN
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After 54 years as a fireman, George Washington Ryst, 83, retired recently.

He joined the department in 1922, became a lieutenant in 10 years, and captain in another eight. For the past 22 years, he has worked at fire prevention.

When San Francisco made retirement mandatory at 65, those already working for the department were exempted, so Ryst stayed on.

Texas economy strong

By The Associated Press
The economy in Texas is strong and getting stronger, but inflation is still a serious threat, says the Texas Business Review.

Most indicators show that Texas is ahead of the overall national pace of economic recovery, from employment through construction and farm prices.

The unemployment figures for June showed 6.1 per cent of Texans out of work as opposed to 6.3 per cent in June 1975.

While this figure was heartening, economists pointed out that the consumer price index will probably hold steady on a course that would finish the year with a six per cent increase. This figure was an improvement over 1975's nine per cent increase, but the six per cent rate of inflation "cannot be other than disastrous over an extended period of time," the magazine said.

The overall surge in the economy was attributed to an increase in consumer confidence. This increase showed up in construction, capital expansion and farm prices.

The construction industry has overcome a decline in nonresidential building to register an overall 34 per cent gain in permits issued over 1975.

Capital expansion was also reported on a solid upward course, but a curtailment of funds nationally could alter that situation. Some restraints on the money supply have been reported, and a slight increase in interest rates was "assured," the magazine said.

If such increases remain slight, the forecast would call for continued improvement of business conditions despite a continuation of inflation.

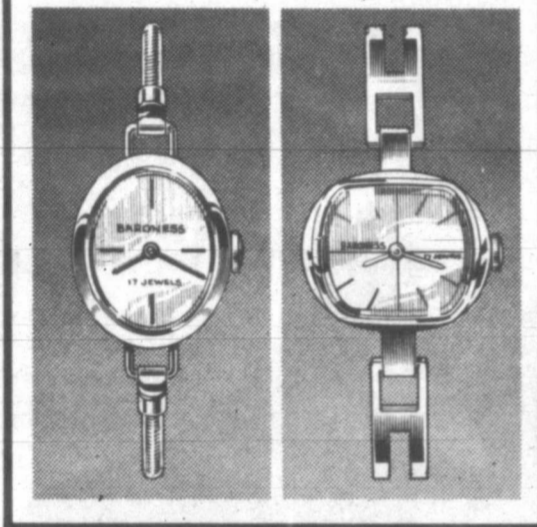

Spending for durable goods was in good shape, with new orders exceeding shipments, creating a backlog of orders. That backlog, which economists call a healthy sign, was nearly 30 per cent above the figure for June 1975.

Farmers' prices were reported up 11 per cent from last year; prices paid by farmers rose only five per cent during the same period.

Med school at TWU eyed

AUSTIN (AP) — Witnesses urged a House subcommittee today to support a new medical school at Texas Woman's University to help solve what a lawmaker called a "medical crisis"—the shortage of doctors. They did not contend it would be cheap. Rep. Doyle Willis, D-Fort Worth, said Texas medical schools are so crowded that applicants with near-straight "A" scholastic records are being rejected. The physician shortage is particularly critical in the rural areas, he said, where the ratio of doctors to residents is one to nearly 2,000.

In the past 10-15 years, he said, "We have resorted to importation of foreign doctors and have become increasingly dependent on that source of supply."

The subcommittee chairman, Rep. Fred Head, D-Troup, said training more doctors for Texas "is the No. 1 problem we're facing in state government."

Dr. John Fleming of TWU, who is not a physician, said the Denton school has land committed free of charge in Fort Worth and the Lower Rio Grande Valley for components of a medical school. But, he added, "the idea of TWU coming up here with a tin cup in its hand saying, 'Follows, it's not going to cost anything' is absurd. It is going to cost money." He said, too, that he was "well acquainted with the immense opposition" to the creation of a new medical school.

'EGGCEPTIONAL' SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — One of Ulla West-erholm's white leghorn hens hit the daily double recently when it laid an egg within an egg. When the huge egg was opened, out came both white and yolk and left inside was another completely whole egg, still uncracked.

Divestiture to be topic of Exxon manager talk

"Divestiture — Its Impact on the Nation" will be the topic of an address by H.S. (Hub) Hays, field sales manager for Exxon Co. U.S.A. at the first fall dinner meeting of the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Pampa Country Club.

Hays will discuss the strong movement mounted recently by various consumer groups and congressional leaders to force major integrated oil companies to divest themselves of various divisions or departments and form separate producing, refining, marketing and pipeline companies.

An advance notice says Hays will discuss how divestiture would affect the industry and consumers who depend on a strong oil industry to supply energy at the lowest possible cost.

Hays is a Texan who was reared in Abilene, attended Hardin - Simmons University, served in the U.S. Air Force and was graduated from Texas Tech University in 1957 with a marketing degree. He has been in the marketing department of Exxon since his graduation.

Safety society sets session

The Panhandle chapter of the Society of Safety Engineers will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Amarillo's Sutphen's Restaurant.

Paul Linnivold of the Texas Association of Business will speak on "Worker's Compensation Doesn't."

Astronaut urges smaller autos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired astronaut Michael Collins says the time may have come for the government to place restrictions on the size and the power of fuel-gulping automobiles.

Collins, director of the Smithsonian Institution's new Air and Space Museum, said Thursday that on his Apollo XI trip to the moon he was struck most by a view of the earth from a quarter of a million miles away — "the size of a thumbnail held at arms length, all blue and white."

Noting that the earth reflects the light of the sun four times as brightly as does the moon, he said the most elemental feature about the earth from space is its fragility, and that "fragility leads to an examination of the surface: Is it fragile or not?"

He said he is concerned over increasing pollution, and the possibility that the earth's fossil fuel supplies will run out unless mankind takes steps to develop other sources of energy.

"I share your concern over the pillaging of our planet which goes on unabated," Collins said. "These are frightening times... I am just astounded by the genius that goes into the building of an automobile... they disgorge one beautiful machine after another, but completely the wrong kind of a machine for anything other than stock-car racing. Why so heavy, why so powerful, why so wasteful?"

"What we really have to do is to learn to think small, to get used to less."

Prehistoric man left clues in Texas cave

By RICK SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A primitive rockshelter in Southwest Texas is giving scientists a detailed look at how some of the state's inhabitants lived 9,000 years ago.

of the Center for Archaeological Research at the University of Texas at San Antonio, led a team of researchers to the rockshelter this summer. Their findings at Baker Cave in Val Verde County have produced an archaeological gold mine," Hester said this week.

Two of the most important findings, Hester said in an interview, are charcoal, which has been carbon-dated to verify occupation of the cave in 7,000 B.C., and a Golondrina dartpoint. Hester said the dartpoint was used by Indians during the late Pleistocene geological period about 7,000 B.C.

These discoveries set the scene and time frame, Hester said. The archaeologists also uncovered parts of a basket woven between 4,500 and 3,000 B.C., as well as sandals, knots, cords and other basketry made from local desert plants. Flint artifacts and waste chips, animal and fish bones, nuts and seeds also were found. Baker Cave, said Hester, is one of the best preserved rockshelters in the United States. "The artifacts have been protected by the dry Southwest Texas weather and by layers of fine limestone dust which fell from the shelter roof over thousands of years," he said. The relics taken from the shelter are currently being analyzed in laboratories at UT-San Antonio, and specialists at the University of Pittsburgh eventually will study the basket samples to provide more detailed information about the fibers and weaving techniques used by the ancient Indians.

The baskets, seeds and nuts will be sent to Texas A&M University where they will be studied to learn more about prehistoric botany. Hester said the emphasis in archaeology today has shifted away from "a preoccupation with stone" to an interest in the lifestyle of the ancient people. While the charcoal and Golondrina dartpoint allow scientists to put the people in their correct historic period, Hester said it is items like the baskets, seeds and animal bones that allow researchers to study lifestyles.

From these artifacts, Hester and others hope to learn the diet of the ancient Indians, their technology, the animals they hunted and about their family life. In some areas of Baker Cave, there are as many as 20 levels of occupation. The top levels indicate the most recent habitation was around 1,400 A.D., about the time the bow and arrow were introduced in Southwest Texas, Hester said.

Located about one-third of the way down a 400-foot cliff, Baker Cave overlooks the parched, cactus-covered bed where a stream once flowed. The land is now mainly used for ranching. Hester said the Indians who lived in the cave were "similar to the Coahuiltecos who lived in South Texas. We doubt that they had any sophisticated tribal organization. They probably traveled in family groups."

Feds doubt GOP prosecution

By ERIC KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Federal officials say they doubt anyone will be prosecuted in connection with the now-completed investigation of bribery allegations at the Republican National Convention.

George Mandich, press officer of the Chicago FBI office, said in a telephone interview Tuesday that his office's investigation was complete. Last week, Bill Williams, special agent in charge of the Kansas City office, had said the only portion of the investigation still under way was that part being finished by the Chicago office.

On Aug. 17, before the nomination of President Ford, former Illinois Gov. Richard Ogilvie said two Illinois delegates had rejected offers of "considerable money" to support the candidacy of Ronald Reagan.

At the time, Reagan said he was "disgusted and disappointed" by the allegations and added: "This smacks of the tactics used in the California primary." He had previously accused the Ford forces of dirty campaigning in California.

In a telephone interview Tuesday, Ogilvie said, "On the basis of what the people told me, I had to believe it."

Although Bert C. Hurn, the U.S. attorney in Kansas City, said the investigation is considered officially still open, sources in his office, and the Department of Justice in Washington say chances of prosecution are slim.

Williams said his office interviewed about 14 people and the Kansas City portion of the investigation was completed before the convention ended.

Mrs. Goodlow said a man approached her in the restaurant of a local hotel, gave her a ride to the convention and later offered her $2,500 to vote for a resolution to force Ford to name his choice for vice president before the vote was taken on the presidential nomination.

Celebration to include time capsule

The Carson County Bicentennial Committee and John Anderson, deputy regional director of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, will dedicate a 50-year time capsule Sept. 18 in Panhandle.

The 2 p.m. dedication in the Panhandle High School Auditorium is part of the Square House Museum's annual Museum Day.

Included in the capsule which is to be opened July 4, 2026 are: statements from all county cities, churches, schools; lists of businesses and owners; city, county and school election ballots; newspapers; reports from various county organizations; and a copy of the minutes of the first Carson County Commissioners, June 29, 1886.

Also on the afternoon program will be the dedication of the Temple Houston Marker by State Senator Max Sherman, Te Ata, the internationally known interpreter of American Indian folklore, will present the program.

Other events for the day include reunions, a Pioneer Tea at the War Memorial Building at 4 p.m., and the annual barbecue from 5-7:30 p.m. at the County Agricultural Building. Art exhibits by Dorothy Rohner of Colorado and Estelle Pruitt of Panhandle may be viewed all day at the museum.

Members of the capsule committee are Mrs. J.B. McCray, J.R. Hogge, Richard Nunn, Mrs. J.L. Prendergast, Judge Clarence Williams, Charles Howell, Floyd Scott, Mrs. John Witt and Don Nicholson.

Collins' Pampa visit will be one in a series of stops in West Texas cities to discuss the economy and outline the WTCC goals for the coming year.

The Tuesday meeting will be in the Chamber of Commerce conference room in the Hughes Bldg.

Gray County Commissioners meet Tuesday

If required the court will meet in executive session to consider personnel matters and re-convene in open session for action, if any.

Bugged Over A Bug
DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A $200 bug is missing, and the Terminex people would like him back.

The advertising design carried on top of the exterminating company trucks turned up missing from one parked at an employes' home recently.

Des Moines Terminex manager William Keller said Thursday he can't think of any reason to steal the big bugs except maybe to decorate a college dormitory room.

TEXAS TALK

By Dodge Howard

Still another controversy has been sparked by the CIA. Since this involves agricultural forecasting, it concerns farming. This was no ordinary, run-of-the-mill piece of prognostication. This forecast was for a period of from forty to 100 years... covering the entire globe. Prepared by a special group of American scholars, it predicted the following: serious droughts will occur where none has occurred before. China will experience a major famine every five years, destructive rains will fall where it should be arid, Russia will lose some key grain producing areas because of climatological changes. India will face the threat of mass starvation because of drought and Canada will lose more than half its current productive capacity. Even though critics of the report are as easy to find as warm weather in August, many authorities are taking a serious look at the development of a world granary system to ward off such catastrophic possibilities.

Ag men want Ford to aid nation's wheat farmers

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Jack Hightower (D-Vernon) sent a letter to President Ford Thursday urging him to provide immediate assistance for the nation's wheat farmers.

Seventeen Congressmen from wheat-producing states, including House Agriculture Committee Chairman Tom Foley (D-Washington) and Appropriations Committee Chairman George Mahon of Lubbock, joined Hightower in this appeal.

Hightower urged the President to direct Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz to adjust the wheat loan level to at least $2.50 a bushel, which was the level recommended in the Emergency Farm Act of 1975. President Ford vetoed the bill.

"Considering the effect of inflation since the Congress passed the bill on March 21 last year, the $2.50 figure is conservative," Hightower said. "But it will give the President an opportunity to compromise and provide immediate relief to farmers and provide some insurance to the banks that finance their operations."

The National Association of Wheat Growers told Hightower that the President had turned down the association's request that he adjust the loan level to three dollars last week.

"I believe his rejection of the Wheat Growers' request reveals the President's lack of understanding about the very real problems confronting grain producers," Hightower said. "The need is imperative. The President has the authority to do something about it, and those of us who signed the letter hope that he will exercise that authority."

Demos decide races next week

By ANNA BURCHELL
Pampa News Staff

Three contested races of interest to this area will take place Friday and Saturday at the Texas Democratic Party State Convention in Fort Worth.

Calvin Guest, state Democratic chairman, is being challenged by John Henry Tatum of Lufkin.

In the 31st District, where 26 counties including Gray are involved, Ruth Osborne of Pampa, incumbent, is scheduled to compete for delegate votes with Fran Finney of Amarillo.

The 31st District has 136 delegates — including 11 from Gray County. Mary Hazlewood of Amarillo had earlier announced her candidacy for the post, but withdrew after Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed her as regional volunteer coordinator for the First Lady's Volunteer Program.

Wayne Dammier of Amarillo, 31st District Committeeman is competing against Jim Palmer of Canyon and Carl King of Dimmitt. Castro County Democratic chairman.

Dammier was elected during the 1974 convention as Joe Batson's successor. Batson of Amarillo did not seek re-election.

Ms. Osborne has held the committeewoman's post for the past six years.

The 31st District

committeeman and committeewoman will be elected Friday during a caucus.

Gray County delegates include Fred Vanderburg Jr., Susie Wilkinson, Mary Dwyer, Ott Shewmaker, Wanda Carter, Lois Wilkinson, Judge Don Cain and Bill Martin. Mary Simpson of Pampa also is a state delegate. She was elected during the May 1 primary as a national delegate for Jimmy Carter, presidential contender.

Alternates will be Bill Allison, Foster Whaley, Sam Haynes, John O'Keefe, Peg Baker, Margaret Guidry, Nancy Kotara and Naomi Martin.

Delegates at large include Mrs. Osborne and Rex McAnelly. Gray County Democratic chairman, with Jimmy and Margaret Thompson as alternates.

The Saturday agenda calls for pre-convention reports at 8 a.m. with the convention to be called to order at 11 a.m.

Cowboy stars urge support for round-up

Rex Allen, Roy Rogers, Ken Curtis and Slim Pickens will be encouraging ranchers and farmers to support the 17th annual Cattleman's Round-up for Crippled Children, which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene.

Each has visited the private, non-profit treatment and diagnostic facility that serves the handicapped of the Southwest regardless of age, race, creed, color, or ability to pay.

Charlie Morris, Abilene, chairman of the 17th annual Round-up stressed the importance of this year's sale, which is set for Sept. 27. "Right now the Center is faced with a deficit of $104,000 so it's going to take more cattle and cash than we have ever had previously to wipe this out," Morris stated. "The generous people of the Southwest have never let us down, and I feel sure that within a couple of weeks, as the pledges of cattle and cash come in, the Center will have a more optimistic picture."

The cattle sale is set for 1 p.m. Sept. 27 at Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Auction in Abilene. Also part of the round-up will be the horse sale Oct. 2 at Abilene Livestock Auction; the special auction Oct. 6 at Coleman Livestock Auction; and the farm equipment auction Nov. 6 at Lawn.

Anyone with livestock or cash to donate should contact their area Round-up chairman, or the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene, Texas (915) 692-1633. Arrangements will be made to pick up the livestock.

Beetle epidemic makes counties disaster areas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced Thursday he has declared 34 East Texas counties a disaster area because of an epidemic of the Southern Pine Beetle.

Infestation "spots" total more than 7,000, nearly twice as many as last year, Briscoe said.

The estimated tree mortality rate is equivalent to a wood product value loss of $8.5 million a month.

Briscoe's proclamation orders "all necessary measures, both public and private, be implemented to meet this threat to our forestry resources."

Community action gets grant for Panhandle

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has approved a $31.156 Community Services Administration grant and a $430,677 Office of Human Development grant to the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corp., in Amarillo.

The $430,677 grant includes $427,670 in new funds and authorization to use $3,007 in carryover funds.

The grant is effective retroactively from June 1, 1976 to May 31, 1977, and is funded under Title V of the Head Start, Economic Opportunity and Community Partnership Act of 1974.

The money will be used to serve 600 children from low-income families in 30 classes for four hours per day, five days per week in a public school setting. Twenty-six of the classes will be school-home-based with at least one lesson in the home each week.

Head Start's objectives are to provide four-year-olds with the opportunity to develop socially, emotionally and intellectually as preparation for public school.

The program is administered through Region XVI Education Service Center in Amarillo.

The $31.156 grant is funded under Title II of the Head Start, Economic Opportunity and Community Partnership Act of 1974.

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

Late September, 1776:

Major General Henry Knox, commander of American artillery, writes to his brother William from the American encampment above New York City: "General [Washington] is as worthy a man as breathes, but he cannot do everything nor be everywhere. . . . The bulk of [his] officers . . . are a parcel of ignorant, stupid men, who might make tolerable soldiers, but are bad officers; and until Congress forms an establishment to induce men proper for the purpose to enter the service, it is ten to one they will be beat till they are heartily tired of it. . . . As the army now stands, it is only a receptacle for ragamuffins . . . [and] unless some very different mode of conduct is observed in the formation of the new army, I shall not think myself obliged . . . to risk my reputation on so cobweb a foundation. . . ."

'Court wrong in Bell suit'—lawyer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A San Antonio lawyer told a federal appeals court Friday it has no right to change a legal ruling transferring a $29 million damage suit against Southwestern Bell Telephone out of federal court to a Texas state court.

"You are legally bound to accept the ruling," argued Pat Maloney. "I really don't know why you are here."

He was talking to an en banc session of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on the latest twist in a tangled slander and libel suit filed by the wife and children of the late T. O. Gravitt, and by James H. Ashley of San Antonio.

Leonard Joseph of New York, attorney for Southwestern Bell, argued that the appeals court does have a toehold of jurisdiction, though it is limited to determining whether the judge "had the proper criteria" for his ruling.

Maloney said federal law specifically holds that the type of ruling made by U.S. Dist. Judge Adrian Spears in San Antonio last April 27 is not subject to review.

Judge Spears held that, since Southwestern Bell had once claimed it was a "citizen" of Texas, it could not come along in this case and claim it was incorporated in Missouri, and this was entitled to have the case tried in federal court.

The en banc session, by all judges of the circuit, was ordered after the 5th's normal three-judge panel ordered Judge Spears to hold further hearings.

Maloney wants a state court trial, where trial restrictions are less binding.

Under questioning by the 10 judges present for the session, Maloney said it made no difference whether or not they like the reasons for Judge Spears ruling, because they can't rule on it anyhow.

"I don't care why he did it, he found it," said Maloney.

"If you feel the facts are so solidly in your favor, why do you so dread a hearing on the issue?" asked Judge Walter P. Gevin.

"Because we have gotten a 'jury verdict' and I am entitled to it," replied Maloney. "And I got it from the only jury possible. He's the guy to do it...that's the law."

Gravitt was the former head of the company's Texas operations. He committed suicide in 1974.

The house where Findleys and Hendersons have lived. (Pampa News photos by Michal Thompson)

The Findley house —a home filled with warm memories

By JANE P. MARSHALL
Pampa News Staff

Home is sweet to Smiley and Betty Henderson.

"When I think of the Findley house, I think of warm memories," said Mrs. Henderson.

The elegant, solid-looking white frame house at 419 E. Foster has only known two families—the Findleys who built the house in 1914 and the Hendersons, who live there now. The transition between the two was easy and comfortable: the families overlapping for many years.

The house was built by B.E. Findley, a former president of First National Bank.

As a high school student in Pampa, Henderson knew the Findleys who had a son, Warren, his age. He had come to Pampa in 1932 to live with his brother and sister.

In 1939, he lived upstairs with Warren. The young Findley worked at the First National Bank and Henderson worked in the tax office.

"We were the young bachelors in town at that time," he remembered.

After that came World War II and after the war, "I came back to my home," Henderson said.

Warren had died in a plane crash in 1943 and the Findleys were happy to keep their home open to their dead son's friend. "They took me in," Henderson remembers.

Mr. Findley had died in 1934 at Harvester Stadium during a Pampa - Amarillo football game.

Other members of the Findley family were Flora Deen, the younger daughter, and Frances.

"They were like sisters," Henderson recalled. "Even then we used the backyard for croquet, and we had friends over in the game room. Our children used the same game room."

When the Hendersons were married in 1945, they lived in an apartment for a few months. Then Mrs. Findley decided to visit in California and the Hendersons moved in to look after the house.

They are still there.

The longer Mrs. Findley stayed in California, the more the house became part of the Henderson family. When she returned for periods of time, Mrs. Findley made the one-room upstairs her apartment.

"She was a tremendous influence on our whole family," Mrs. Henderson said. "We always called her our second mother. She was always a respected member of the family."

Like Mrs. Findley, Mrs. Henderson is a teacher. The former moved to Pampa to tutor the T.D. Hobart children. The latter teaches math at Pampa Junior High School.

"Mrs. Findley had an old maid sister who would spend the summers here," Mrs. Henderson recalled. Roy Tinsley played the violin and he and "Aunt Nellie" would form duets to entertain the family.

Mrs. Henderson also recalled that Mrs. Findley was a health food enthusiast long before it became the popular thing to do. It was her way of life and she raised her children that way, Mrs. Henderson said.

Mrs. Findley died last August at the age of 94.

She used to make yogurt in a big brown kettle in the same kitchen the Hendersons use. The kitchen, and the whole house, has changed little.

The kitchen has been remodeled to include modern appliances. A refrigerator stands in what was the Findley's bread baking corner. The linoleum was taken up to show off the original hard wood kitchen floor and the several new cabinets were built and varnished to match the rest of the natural woodwork in the house.

Mr. Findley built the house himself... no contractor, no builder. "He wanted it done his way so as it was built he paid the bills. He had it done the way he wanted," Henderson recalled.

Findley designed the unusual light fixtures and had them made in Kansas. He made sure all the hard wood floors were edge grained fur or oak. Not a knot can be found anywhere in the natural varnished woodwork throughout the house. The house was built and wired for electricity before the city of Pampa even had electricity.

Findley also installed a private water system with softening units for his house. That was before Pampa had a city water system. A storage tank in the basement held water for family use.

The house was heated with coal. Hendersons still use the same furnace system only they converted it to natural gas several years ago.

Mr. Findley started a file on his house and the Hendersons have kept it up when they bought it.

Henderson compared costs: In 1939, N.B. Ellis bid $148 to paint two coats on the house and window screens. In 1975, Henderson had one coat spread on the house at a cost of $1,800.

His file contains original receipts and deeds. The first is dated Dec. 13, 1905, and transfers the property from Frederic de P. Foster to Minnie W. Hobart, wife of T.D. Hobart. The second, dated in 1913, transfers the property to Findley.

The house was built structurally sound with plenty of good material put into it, Henderson said. It has been easy to keep up and the flavor of the house has changed little.

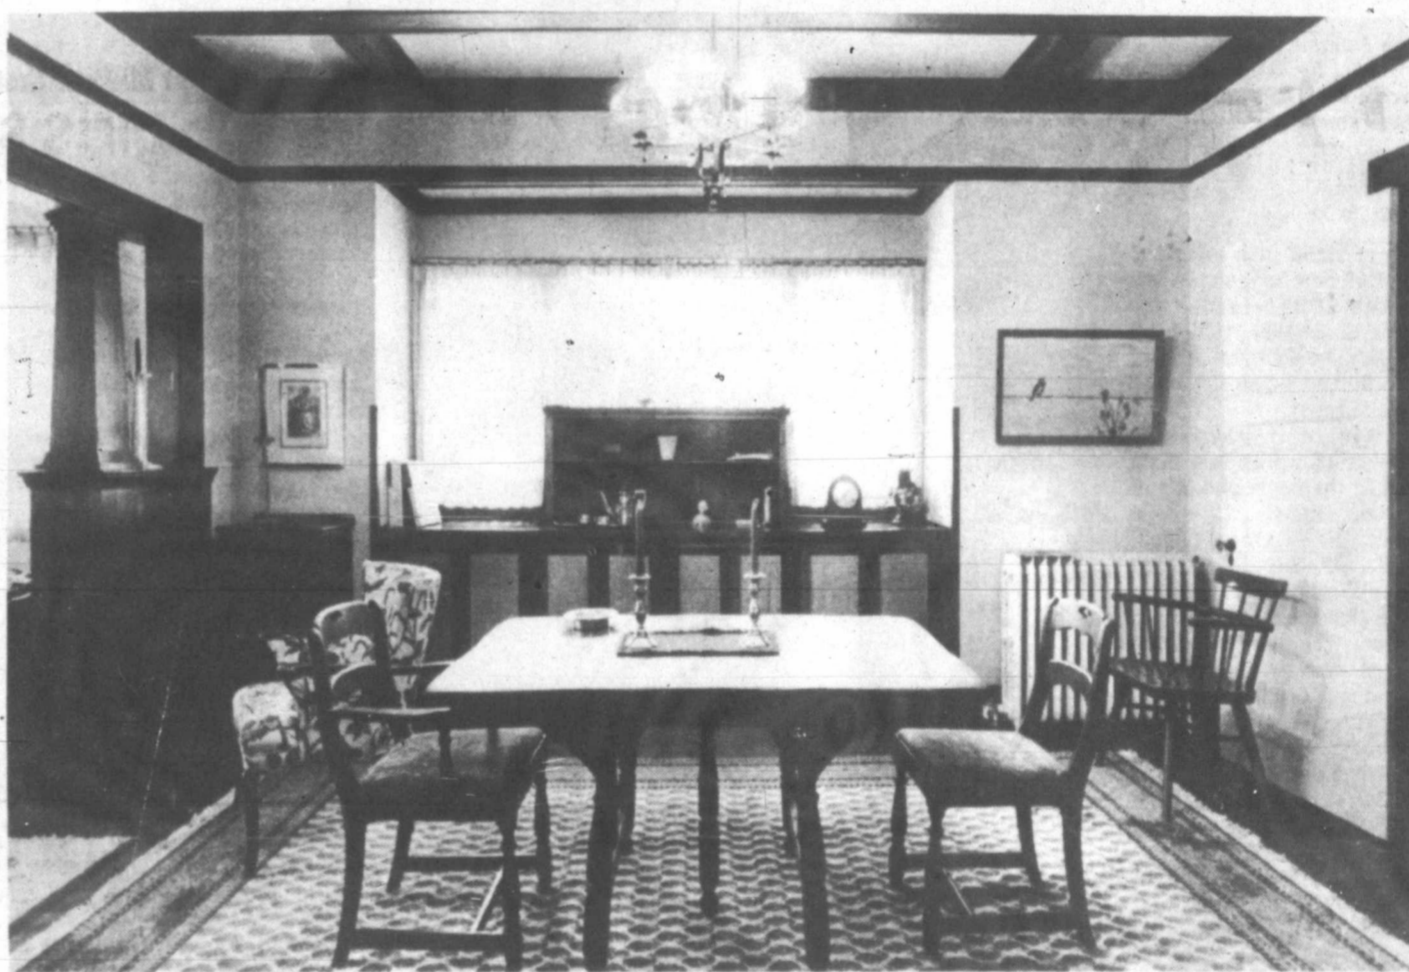

Mrs. Henderson's family furniture—a Civil War vintage Lincoln rocker and Great Grandfather Weatherby's chairs from Kansas—retain the antique, homey environment.

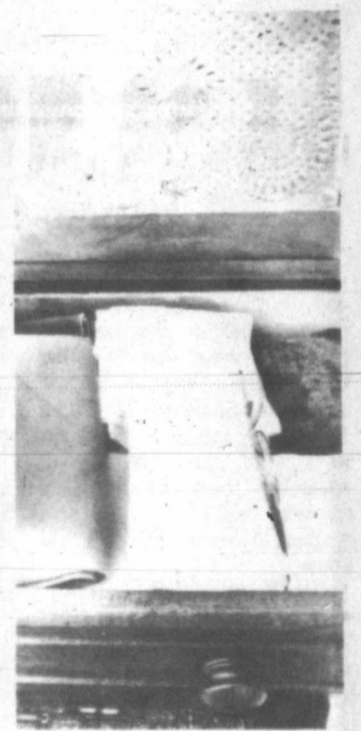

The king-sized upstairs was home to the Henderson boys, their grandfather and their father who lived there with the Findleys.

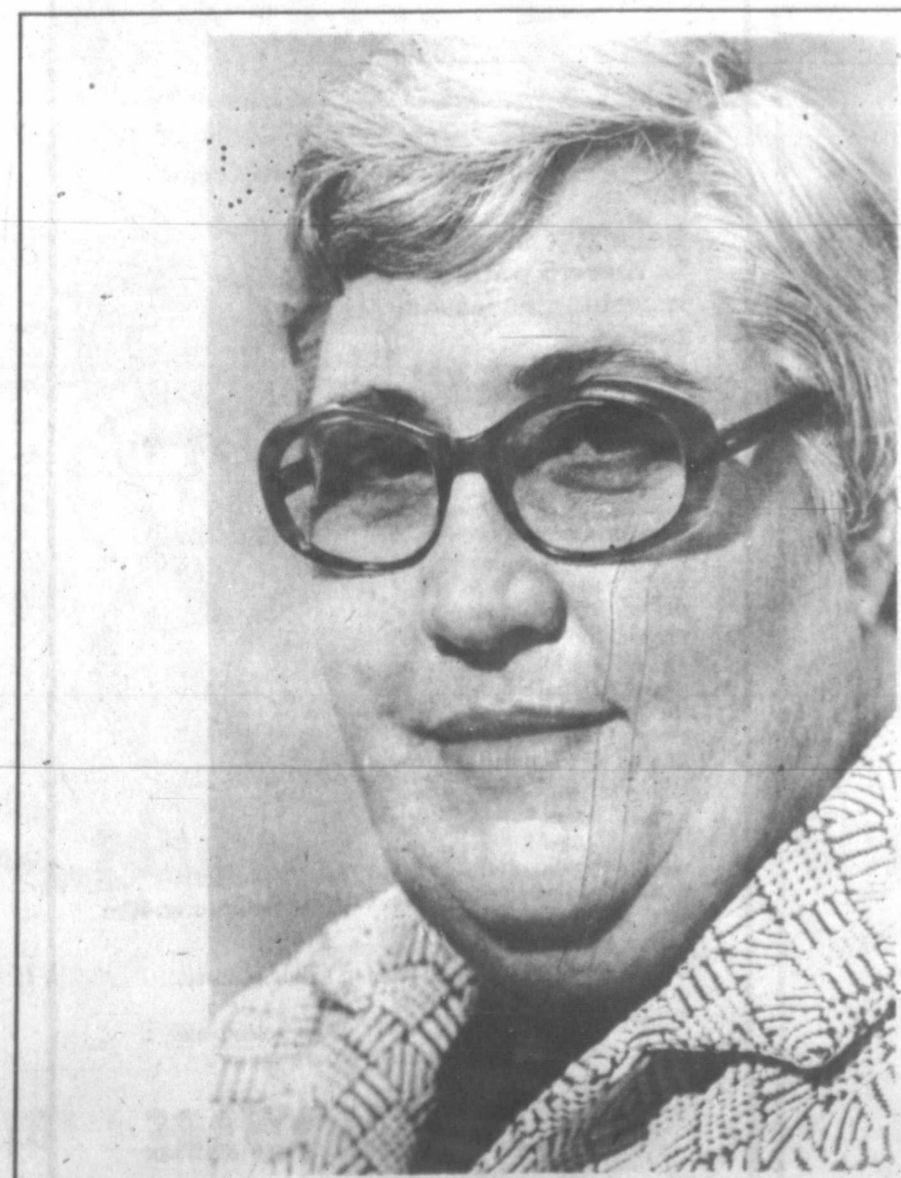

Ann Henderson's room adds a bright modern touch to the house which was built in 1914.

The overhead light in the Henderson's dining room was specially made in Kansas for the late B.E. Findley.

The Findleys used this pie safe, marked with T.D. Hobart's name because it once belonged to him, in the basement. Betty Henderson moved it into the closed-in porch for storage.

Jo Ann Linville

Community profile--Jo Ann Linville

By ANNA BURCHELL
Pampa News Staff

Jo Ann Linville spent 15 years as a volunteer nurse caring for hundreds of patients in Gray County but she has slowed her pace some recently—doctor's orders.

On Feb. 4, when she was a patient at Highland General Hospital, Mrs. Linville overheard her doctor tell her husband, "She's been in high gear all her life. Now she'll have to settle down."

Mrs. Linville is scheduled for an arteriogram and an artery repair at St. Anthony's Hospital in Oklahoma City on Sept. 20.

"I had been so busy I didn't have time to worry about myself," she said. "I checked everyone else's blood pressure—but didn't have time to think about my own."

Mrs. Linville's surgery will take place in the hospital which sponsored the school of nursing from which she graduated in 1953.

"That's coincidence," she said. During her years as a volunteer nurse, Mrs. Linville worked without pay for the Red Cross and the Gray County welfare.

"Hundreds of families with cancer patient relatives called for help," she said. She said many cancer patients who linger for months and years use all insurance benefits and can no longer afford hospitalization.

"I've gone into homes to administer intravenous solutions, change dressings and give whatever aid I could," she said.

"It was a full time job—all hours of the day and night," she added.

Mrs. Linville started her own loan closet for cancer patients 12 years ago with a wheel chair given by the Ed Myatt family. Other equipment soon became available including walkers and beds.

The American Cancer Society and the Gray County Chapter of the American Red Cross also assisted.

Speaking of her own illness, Mrs. Linville said:

"I've been as healthy as a horse all these years and all of sudden I was hit with high blood pressure."

As soon as she recovers from surgery in Oklahoma City, she is scheduled to undergo additional surgery at Highland General Hospital here.

"I'm just anxious to get it all over," she said.

The former Miss Jo Ann Oswald and R.O. Linville where married in 1953 after she graduated from nursing school.

"In those days no one married during nurses' training," she said.

The Linvilles moved to Pampa where he is district manager for Welox.

Mr. and Mrs. Linville have two children, Randy, 20, who is a third year student at Oklahoma State University at Stillwater, and Jana Kay, 12, a seventh grader at Middle School.

Mrs. Linville was instrumental in the organization of a Licensed Vocational Nursing School in Pampa in 1965. She was the director for the first class from which 15 students graduated in 1966.

"The LVN school was something we had wanted and needed for a long time," she said.

Medicare requirements had become more strict and the demand for nurses was greater than the supply, she commented.

Mrs. Linville enjoys working with all ages but she says the elderly are her favorites.

"You learn so much from them—you gain far more than you give," she said. A native of Purcell, Okla., she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Oswald, who still live on a farm near there.

Mrs. Linville currently is disaster nursing chairman for Gray County and the surrounding area.

When the McLean General Hospital opened, she set up the nursing service.

"I'll always have a warm spot in my heart for McLean and the hospital there," she said.

Advice

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have been reading you for 20 years and have used your common-sense answers to some of life's knottiest problems in teaching my students. (I am a professor in a medical school.)

I have been very successful in the field of mental health, but I can do for others what I can't do for myself.

My problem is one of alcoholism and there is no relief in sight. Your article about the man whose sister got drunk and telephoned him at all hours of the night hit home with me because I've done that hundreds of times. I would hope that the sober man would show some compassion for his alcoholic sister because I know so well the hell she lives in.

Abby, have any of your readers had a successful escape from alcoholism?

LIVING, BUT DEAD

DEAR LIVING: Yes! And the highest rate of successes has been with those who have sought help through Alcoholics Anonymous. (And for the spouse or friend of the alcoholic, Al-Anon, and for the children, Alateen.) I know I am beginning to sound like a broken record, but I cannot say enough for this wonderful non-profit organization.

There are chapters in nearly every city, and they're listed in your telephone directory. If you've given them a try and failed, try again. It's no crime to fail—only to quit trying.

DEAR ABBY: When I travel, I like to take my dog with me, which presents a problem because not all hotels allow dogs.

I recently stopped at a hotel where I was made welcome with my pet, and I saw this framed "notice" hanging in the lobby. It tickled me and if it tickles you, maybe you'll run it in your column.

"Dogs are welcome in this hotel. We never had a dog that smoked in bed and set fire to the blankets. We never had a dog who stole our towels, played the TV too loud or had a dog who stole his traveling companion. We never had a dog that got drunk and broke up the furniture. So if your dog can vouch for you, you're welcome, too."

DOG LOVER

DEAR DOG LOVER: I've been tickled by a version of that notice, but in case some readers haven't, I'll run it. Thanks for a well-deserved tribute to man's best friend.

DEAR ABBY: I met a very attractive, eligible widower last winter, and we've been keeping steady company since.

My only complaint is the way he keeps talking all the time about Mildred, his deceased wife. I never talk about my deceased husband. Outside of that, he is a decent man, and we get along just fine.

He has asked to marry me, but this is the way he proposed to me: "How would you like to take Mildred's place?"

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: If he has a sense of humor, tell him that since Mildred is in the cemetery, you don't want to take her place. But if he wants a new life and a new wife, you'll consider it—providing he quits talking about Mildred.

Ask Dr. Lamb

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Could you tell me at what age a woman quits bearing children? Can she become pregnant when she is going through the change of life and more than 51 years old? Can a woman at this age get pregnant when she hasn't had a monthly period for two months or more? I'll be waiting to hear from you real soon.

DEAR READER—This is a frequent question. To start with there is no record of any woman ever having a baby after age 56. Change of life babies are frequent because women wrongly think they can no longer get pregnant.

Your doctor can give you a better idea in your own individual case. You shouldn't assume on your own that you cannot get pregnant unless you are through the menopause and have not had a period for two years. Some doctors think one year without periods is sufficient, but if you don't want to follow the two year interval I would suggest you ask your doctor in regard to your own particular case. He may be able to tell you more on the basis of an examination.

To give you more information I am sending you The Health Letter number 5-12, Menopause. Others who want this issue can send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with 50 cents for it. Just address your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have a granddaughter with "Tetralogy of Fallot." She's just 14 months old and weighs 17 pounds.

The doctors say operate as soon as possible as her condition is deteriorating. They say the valve is becoming tighter and the hole enlarging.

From what I've read on the subject I think the child is too small to stand such an operation. But how long could she live without it? What can you tell me about this problem? I read she should be at least 5 years old and weigh 40 pounds before surgery.

DEAR READER—Tetralogy of Fallot is a birth defect of the heart and one of the best-known types of defects. The two most typical aspects of the defect are obstruction of the pulmonary artery that carries blood to the lungs and an opening between the right and left side of the heart (ventricular septal defect). This, with some other variations, causes un氧enated blood to be shunted to the left side of the heart and causes the blue discoloration called cyanosis.

Now it is nice to be able to wait until the child is optimal in size but the degree of the defect makes a lot of difference on the decision the doctors have to make. I presume the obstruction to the pulmonary artery is from an overgrowth of tissue just beneath the valve, and the progression of this overgrowth is increasing the obstruction. To make the point clear, if the obstruction were total, there would be no way circulation could be continued. So naturally the doctors are concerned with the degree of obstruction. The more severe the obstruction the more un氧enated blood is shunted to the left side of the heart.

The location and severity determine the course and time for treatment. I would suggest you trust the doctors' judgment as they have a lot of complex information that has suggested the best course of action to them. In some types of defects it is necessary to operate at once, soon after birth, so there is no hard and fast rule on age or size as you have read.

From what I've read on the subject I think the child is too small to stand such an operation. But how long could she live without it? What can you tell me about this problem? I read she should be at least 5 years old and weigh 40 pounds before surgery.

Polly's pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—Apartment owners often have a problem finding drip space for fine blouses and dresses which they do not want to put in the washer. My solution to this is to put each thing on an individual hanger, as is usual, and hang these between the shower curtain rings on the rod, after previously drawing the curtain the length of the tub. Of course, the bottom of the curtain must be kept tucked inside the tub to direct the drips into it and not on the floor.

Also, when sewing material like corduroy that sticks together, to keep both ends of a seam even without pinning or basting, I merely pass the steam iron over the two pieces as they are to be sewn. I find this works great: Those bright ideas which make life easier and are found in your column every day are golden nuggets to brighten one's day. —PATRICIA.

Thanks for those golden words. —POLLY.

Brazilian couple has 32 children

By WILLIAM R. LONG
Associated Press Writer

BRASILIA (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Raimundo Carnauba have stopped having babies, barring an unforeseen 33rd. Now the Brazilian superfamily is concentrating on grandchildren.

Carnauba and his sturdy wife, Maria Madale had more babies than any other living couple in the world, according to the Guinness Book of Records. "Twenty-six of the 32 Carnauba offspring are alive, and most have reached the age of parenthood."

The balding, rotund carpenter says his grandchildren have grown in number from four dozen late in 1973 to an estimated six dozen today.

"It seems like every day there is a new one," Carnauba said. "I don't know for sure, but I think there are 72."

He does some quick calculating: "It was 72. Then two died. But now two more were born."

"Yes, 72 grandchildren."

The most prolific of the second generation so far is Juvenio, 36, with eight children of his own.

Carnauba, 66, said his oldest child is 39 and his youngest, a girl, named Maria Aparecida, is 8. Seven of the 26 children are girls. Six are twins.

The couple was married when she was 13 and he was 23, Carnauba said.

Mrs. Carnauba, now 55, stayed back in the narrow kitchen while her husband sat and talked at a shabby plywood table in the front room.

Coaxed to come out, the wife smiled shyly when asked if she didn't miss having babies.

"I've got my grandchildren," she said.

Carnauba took that as a cue to say how fond he is of his grandchildren, especially a baby girl living with the grandparents.

"If the father wants to take her away, he'll have to fight me first," he said with a laugh and a friendly thump on his listener's shoulder. "He'll have to hit me several times."

The Carnauba home is a shabby wooden house with a tin roof, on a dirt street in one of several low-income "satellite cities" around Brazil's modernistic capital. Counting the kitchen but not the adjoining carpentry shop where Carnauba works, the house has six rooms. "It's pretty tight," Carnauba said.

The family budget also is tight, he said — taking the opportunity to solicit $5 to buy a fresh container of stove gas.

Carnauba said he proposed recently that his grown-up sons each chip in $5 a month to help with their parents' household expenses, but none was willing.

Nevertheless, he predicted that having ignored birth control and fathering all those babies will pay off some day.

"There has to be one of those who is going to support me," he said. "No, I don't like the pill."

Better Late Than ...

FAIRMONT, Minn. (AP) — Marvin Carlson paid the 28 cents postage due at the Fairmont Post Office and took the package home to his wife.

"When I looked at the address on the package, I wondered who was sending (daughter) Connie something and didn't know she was married," said Mrs. Carlson Thursday.

"Then I recognized my own handwriting. It was the package I sent to Connie five years ago."

Mrs. Carlson said the package was correctly addressed and had a correct return address.

She said employees at the Post Office in this southern Minnesota city did not know where the package had been the past five years or what office returned it.

How to live to be 100

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

From 1970 to 1975 an American anthropologist, Dr. Sula Benet, made frequent trips — some lasting as long as four months — to do field work in the Soviet Caucasus. That region of the world, a bridge between Asia and Europe, is known for the longevity of many of its people. As Dr. Benet notes, in 1974 she had the pleasure of meeting and knowing a delightful Caucasian woman 139 years old — probably the oldest woman then alive.

In a new book, "How To Live to Be 100," Dr. Benet discusses the factors that make for the longevity. She writes that this group's "rhythmic regularity of life" and their concerned family relationships seem important. In her studies she found that "Order in daily routines and in the entire arc of life from cradle to grave contributes to the security of the individual and the group. Continuity and regulations in diet, work, sex life and leisure appear to lessen the strain on the body by avoiding sudden discontinuities and changes."

"Children, adults and old people all consume the same diet and seem to have no interest in trying new foods. It is not a matter of having no alternatives, or being confined to locally grown foods; they truly love their traditional foods and see no reason for changes or variety."

She found that the long-living persons eat moderately and have "an extremely high intake of natural vitamins" from fresh vegetables, both cultivated and wild. She discusses their wide use of beans as a high-protein food; their extensive use of spices and herbs — some cultivated and some wild; their common use of nuts and yogurt; their cultivation and enjoyment of fresh fruits as well as fresh vegetables. Their methods of cooking meat, roasting and broiling, tend to eliminate excess fat. "Candy and sweets are not common in the Caucasus, since granulated sugar is something of a novelty there."

Dr. Benet does not promise that people in our less relaxed and less family-oriented society, adopting the diet of the long-living people of the Caucasus, will also live to be over 100. But as a delightful bonus, she concludes her book with a chapter of recipes she gathered during her field work. An experienced cook might very well enjoy trying some of them. At our house, our adaptation of the Raisin and Honey Chicken recipe was much enjoyed.

RAISIN AND HONEY CHICKEN

1/2 cup extra long-grain rice
3 to 3 1/2-pound broiler-fryer chicken
Salt

Wedge of lemon, if desired
1/2 cup raisins
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons honey

Cook rice according to package directions until it is tender and the water has evaporated; set aside. Wash the chicken in salted water and dry; rub inside and outside with the lemon wedge, if used. Boil the raisins, in just enough water to cover them, for 5 minutes; drain. Transfer the raisins to a small frying pan; add the butter and honey; stir over low heat until hot; add to cooked rice and toss. Stuff into body cavity of chicken; loosely close cavity with small skewers. Place breast-side up in a small, buttered, shallow baking pan; do not cover. Bake in a 350-degree oven, basting occasionally with the drippings, until tender and browned — 1 1/2 hours. Makes 4 to 5 servings. Adapted from "How To Live to Be 100" by Sula Benet (Dial Press).

Beef Fiesta '76
Make your plans now to attend 'Beef Fiesta — '76' Friday, September 17 at the M.K. Brown Auditorium - Heritage Room. We will have two outstanding demonstrations. Dr. Orts, Meat Specialist with the Extension Service will demonstrate how a half of beef is cut up. Miss Jayne Hager, Home Economist from the National Live Stock and Meat Board will prepare some beef dishes for us to sample.

The morning will also feature exhibits, educational handouts and door prizes. Come spend the morning learning more about beef. The program will be from 9:30-12:00 with a beef tasting fiesta from 12:00-1:00.

Home demonstration clubs meet women's needs
Home demonstration clubs have the largest membership of any other women's club in the world.

What do these women have in common that interests young and old, rural and urban, and highly educated to average educational level women all over the world?

The Homemaker Creed gives an insight: "We believe in the present and its opportunities, in the future and its promises... improving, enlarging and endearing the greatest institution in the world — the Home."

Over 29,000 women belong to the Texas Home Demonstration

Clubs and EHE Study Groups. They are interested in their home, their family, their community and their country — also in self-growth. Each home demonstration club meeting offers its members an opportunity to receive an educational program that is planned around the family, home, community or county need request.

Education is an important part of the organization, but there are many other opportunities offered besides education and the immeasurable social aspect. It is also hard to measure self-growth. Leadership growth and self-confidence often happen without realizing when or where it was happening.

Because of the desire to satisfy the needs and interests of all members, home demonstration clubs and family living committees in each county sponsor many varied programs, where all women have an opportunity to enjoy and improve themselves.

Home Demonstration Clubs and EHE Study Groups have open membership. Anyone interested in joining an active club or organizing a new club of eight to ten persons should contact the county Extension agent who will see that individual interests are met.

Electronic person to be topic at WT

One of the United States leading experts on artificial intelligence will speak at West Texas State University Tuesday.

Dr. Nils Nilsson, head of the Stanford Research Institute's (SRI) Artificial Intelligence (AI) Group, will present addresses at 3 and 7:30 p.m. in WTSU Science Center Room 101.

Nilsson was one of three project directors who developed the first electronic person, Shaky, a mobile machine remotely controlled by a computer which could gather data, make rudimentary decisions and then act on them.

Shaky made national news in 1970 with its capabilities similar to that of a four-year-old human child. When coded with the instructions, "knock the ball off the platform," Shaky could find the platform in a room, perceive that it needed a ramp to get on it, find the ramp, push it to the platform and then go up and push the ball off.

AI scientists at the time were quoted in a 1970 'Life' magazine article in predictions that within three to eight years they would have a machine with the general intelligence of an average human being.

Shaky was composed of five systems very similar to the basic human facilities — sensation, reason, language, memory, ego — with its ego function as the main coordinator of its activities. Such a machine was limited only by the number of words it could understand and its ability to think by analogy, both of which it was developing rapidly.

On the productive side of AI, scientists predict that it will relieve man of many of his dangerous or tedious tasks, that are found on the production line or in rescue work in fires.

And all the scientists seem to agree that this will be a reality in the 1980's.

Nilsson's first lecture will be "Artificial Intelligence: Is it real?" at 3 p.m. This talk, aimed for a general audience, will briefly survey the main accomplishment of artificial intelligence research using illustrative examples of applications to medical diagnosis, agriculture, theorem proving and game playing. He will also discuss social implications of artificial intelligence.

His 7:30 p.m. lecture will be "Knowledge - Based Expert Systems," and will deal with the technical basis for some recent applications of pattern recognition, automatic theorem proving studies and robot systems research. He has authored 21 papers on pattern recognition and artificial intelligence, and books on "Problem Solving Methods in Artificial Intelligence" and "Learning Machines."

Nilsson earned both his master's and doctoral degree from Stanford in electrical engineering and communication theory.

Firms halt production, sale of chlordimeform

The production and sale of chlordimeform, an agricultural insecticide used in the U.S. primarily to control insects in cotton, has been voluntarily halted by the two firms marketing the product.

The insecticide is marketed by Ciba-Geigy under the trademark Galecron and by Nor-Am Agricultural Products, Inc., under the trademark Fundal.

Both firms are issuing a recall of the products from distributors, dealers, and growers. In the meantime distributors and dealers should not sell the products nor should growers and applicators use them.

This action was taken because preliminary toxicological findings by company scientists indicate that chlordimeform may cause malignant tumors in a certain strain of laboratory mice when the animals are fed high daily doses of the chemical over the major part of their expected lifetime.

These preliminary findings are contrary to the results of previous long term studies in rats and dogs. There are no indications or reports that the product causes tumors in humans, company officials said.

Chlordimeform is not a persistent product and does not accumulate in man or the environment. The insecticide is used only in agriculture and is not formulated into any household or home and garden product.

C.O. O'Brien, president of Ciba-Geigy Agricultural Division, and Ray Seven, president of Nor-Am, said that the firms were taking this action as a precaution until all studies are completed and results analyzed.

The spokesmen emphasized that the new data are preliminary, not conclusive, and based on incomplete laboratory tests in mice, a species which is regarded as being susceptible to the development of tumors. These mice were fed high daily doses of the chemical for an extended period of time.

Pork projections show growing market as consumer income rises

LUBBOCK — Rising incomes will generate additional demand for pork in the future, according to Dr. Sujit Roy, professor of agricultural economics at Texas Tech University. He projected pork demands for the next 10 to 15 years.

The projections are a part of a Texas Tech effort to supply advanced information about market conditions to pork producers.

Lack of such information results in supply and demand variations, and Dr. Roy believes that unstable prices are preventing an orderly growth of the hog sector.

"Production and prices go through a cyclical process. The industry calls it the 'hog cycle.' If the hog sector uses our projections, eventually it will help in reducing the price and production fluctuations. This will be beneficial to the consumer and the producer as well," Roy said.

The Texas Tech professor has statistically analyzed data beginning from the 50's through the 70's. Using computer models and econometric techniques, he has developed a number of complex statistical equations. The equations will help him isolate major factors that influence pork demand.

Rising incomes, beef and poultry prices and consumption, and consumer attitudes were some of the factor, Roy said, affecting pork demands.

"The effect of rising income was our biggest concern. Earlier studies have indicated that rising incomes reduced pork consumption. Although our investigation confirmed that, we also found that more recently rising income has resulted in an increase in pork consumption," Roy said.

During 1950-59, when consumers' per capita income rose by 10 per cent, pork consumption appeared to decline by two per cent. But during 1964-73, for the same rise in income, it increased by five per cent.

"Pork is no longer the meat for low income families, and future consumption will most likely increase along with income," Roy remarked.

Population is another important factor, Roy said. Due to the decreasing growth rate, population will not exert a significant impact on consumption.

The effects of beef prices on pork consumption seem to have declined considerably in recent periods. During the last five years, pork consumption increased only one per cent, when beef prices went up by 10 per cent, Roy said.

Swarming defense

Pampa's defense, which led District 3-AAAA in fewest yards given up last season, came alive for the first time this year in the second half of

Burns keeps lead

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — George Burns engineered a two-stroke swing on a single hole against Ray Floyd and, with a two-under-par 69, retained a one-shot lead Saturday in the third round of the $200,000 World Open Golf Tournament.

Burns, who has led or shared the top spot all the way in this chase for a $40,000 first prize, had dropped back into a share of the lead with the on-rushing Masters champion going to the 18th hole at the 7,007 yard No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club.

But Burns made birdie four and Floyd, playing in the same threesome, took a fat six.

Burns, a former Maryland football player just completing his rookie year, finished 54 holes with a 202 total, 11 under par. Floyd shot a third round 67 in the beautifully sunny, mild weather and was second at 203.

and I hope I can keep on making the putts. I hate to say it again, but it was my putter that kept me in there again."

The key, of course, was the 504-yard 16th hole. Floyd and Burns were tied when they went to the tee. When they walked off the green Burns had a two-stroke lead.

He reached with two big wood shots and two-putted from about 30 feet for the go-ahead birdie. Floyd, who had played the par fives six under par in the first two rounds, drove into the woods, had to chip out, put his third in a bunker blew it out to about 30 inches and missed the putt. It was a bogey six.

Woodard, Shipman lead A&M by VT

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The 14th-ranked Texas Aggies overcame first game miscues with the pin-point passing of quarterback David Shipman and the bullish runs of fullback George Woodard Saturday to defeat Virginia Tech 19-0.

Shipman, who riddled the Gobblers with an effective screen pass, scored on a one-yard run in the second quarter to give the Aggies a 7-0 halftime lead.

Woodard helped set up the touchdown when he turned the screen pass play into a 43-yard gain to the Tech 27-yard line.

The Aggies, who missed two other scoring chances in the second quarter, put together their second scoring drive on the first series of the third quarter with Woodard getting the final two yards by breaking two tackles to rush into the end zone.

Shipman hit key passes of 20 and 10 yards to halfback Adger Armstrong to set up the touchdown.

The Aggies tacked on their final score with three minutes left to play when Woodard got his second touchdown, a ten-yard run that came on the first play after Aggie defensive end Bill Bennett recovered a Virginia Tech fumble. Woodard then missed a try for the two-point conversion.

Harvesters whip Demons, 21-8

By PAUL SIMS
Sports Editor

Pampa, sparked by an aroused defense and long runs by quarterbacks Steve Young and Mike Lancaster, came from behind to excise the pesky Dumas Demons, 21-8, Friday night in Harvester Stadium.

The win, witnessed by a crowd of more than 4,000, squares Pampa's record at 1-1. Dumas, after its stunning 7-7 tie against Amarillo Palo Duro the week before, falls to 0-1 in non-district play.

Pampa, down by 8-6 at the half, tied the game on a 21-yard pass from Lancaster to Gary Dumas 11 seconds into the final period. The Harvesters went ahead as Ricky Moore burst off right tackle for the conversion.

Young, the backup quarterback, started the five-play scoring drive with a 40 yard scamper, in which he reversed his field twice before being tackled on the Dumas 32.

Lancaster came in to give Young a breather and, four plays later, found Dumas alone at the left side of the goal line.

Dumas (the team, not the Pampa split end) fumbled the ensuing kickoff, and Kent Romines recovered on the 34.

Two plays later, Danny McCandless intercepted a Lancaster pass, giving the Demons possession on their own 38.

Dumas drove to the Pampa 29, lost seven as quarterback Kent Hazen was tackled by Charles Copeland and punted into the end zone. Seven plays, including a 22-yard run by Lancaster, later, Ricky Moore circled right end to score with 4:19 left in the game.

Juan Vargas booted the extra point.

Dumas struck first in the game after McCandless quenched a Pampa scoring threat by recovering a fumble on the Demon 14. McCandless had runs of 12 and 36 yards as Dumas drove 86 yards in 11 plays, with Hazen sneaking over from the one at 1:44 in the first quarter.

McCandless added two extra points as Dumas faked the kick, and holder Hazen pitched to the speedy tailback.

Moore scored on a four-yard run for the Harvesters at 5:43 in the second quarter. Terry McBride had given Pampa the ball on the visitors' 29 with a fumble recovery.

Pampa's defense totally shut down Dumas in the second half. The Demons gained 39 yards — all on the ground — in the last two quarters, compared to 110 yards in the first half.

Fullback David Caldwell led Pampa's running game with 80 yards on 16 carries. Moore added 49 on 14. Young, seeing limited action, carried four times for 62 yards. Lancaster gained 42 on 10 attempts.

McCandless picked up 77 yards on eight carries, followed by teammate Scott Hutchinson with 60 yards on 11 tries.

"We went back to our standard, pressure defense in the second half and everybody did a much better job," Pampa Coach John Welborn said.

"Caldwell really looked good. He had good balance and agility. Moore ran hard. Our offense still made some mistakes but we had real good effort in the right places out of our blockers and running backs.

"I felt like we would make a comeback."

Pampa visits Perryton, 2-0 for the season, Friday. Dumas travels to Amarillo to meet Tascosa.

In other games Friday, Plainview edged Tascosa, 7-0. Odessa Permian blasted Amarillo High, 29-6. Amarillo Caprock ripped EJ Paso Address, 30-8, and Snyder downed Borger, 14-6.

Eagles, Cowboys kick off season

DALLAS (AP) — The talented Dallas Cowboys, who have replaced eight starters from their Super Bowl X team, officially welcome new Coach Dick Vermeil of the Philadelphia Eagles into the National Football League Sunday in an opener for both teams.

The Eagles lost all six of their preseason games prompting Vermeil, who left Rose Bowl champion UCLA, to conclude: "I didn't expect to walk right into a winning situation. All the jobs with winners have been taken."

Vermeil has put the Eagles, who haven't had a winning season since 1966, through a rough camp and extended two-a-day drills right into August. The six straight exhibition losses marked the longest losing streak in Vermeil's coaching career on any level.

The Eagles come off a 4-10 campaign while Dallas was the direct opposite and lost a heart-breaker 21-17 to Pittsburgh in the Super Bowl.

Vermeil says it's a tough way to open the season against Dallas, a team he has picked to win the National Conference Eastern Division "because they didn't graduate any seniors."

While Vermeil's one-liner brought laughs it should be noted that Dallas Coach Tom Landry, the dean of active NFL coaches, isn't standing pat.

He fired last year's place-kicking specialist Toni Fritsch and replaced him with Elfen Herrera and doesn't even have the same backfield that started against Pittsburgh.

Pampa boosters to meet Monday

The Pampa Harvester Booster Club will meet at 6:30 p.m. Monday in Furr's Cafeteria, according to Art Aftergut, president.

Aftergut added that persons wanting to eat should arrive around 15 minutes early.

The film of Pampa's 21-8 win over Dumas will be shown, and Coach John Welborn will discuss the Perryton Rangers, Friday's opponent.

Pampa 2nd in tourney

CANYON — Unbeaten Amarillo High dealt Pampa its first loss of the young volleyball season, 15-7, 15-3, in the finals of the West Texas State University Invitational Girls Volleyball Tournament Saturday.

Pampa nudged Amarillo Palo Duro, 14-10, 4-15, 15-10 Saturday to reach the finals. Amarillo High whipped Borger, 15-9, 15-8, in the semifinals.

The Harvesters, now 7-1, opened Friday with a 15-13, 15-12 victory over Hereford.

Palo Duro downed Borger, 15-5, 15-0, for third place in the tourney. Amarillo Tascosa crushed Lubbock Monterey, 15-4, 15-7, in the consolation finals.

Tech rolls
LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Texas Tech skyjacked five Colorado passes, struck for two swift touchdowns and rode the gritty running of Jimmy Williams to a 24-7 intersectional football victory Saturday night.

A record opening game crowd of 44,132 watched a fiery, swarming Red Raider defense, led by linebacker Thomas Howard, torpedo the potent Buffalo attack to the point of frustration.

Howard, Greg Frazier, Eric Felton and Gary McCright stole four of the first six Colorado passes attempted and Tech used the thefts to mount a stunning 24-0 halftime lead over the slightly favored Buffaloes.

Pitt smashes ND in opener
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Ninth-ranked Pittsburgh turned a pair of interceptions into quick second-period touchdowns and Tony Dorsett tormented Notre Dame again by rushing for 181 yards as the Panthers rolled to a 31-10 victory Saturday, handing the Irish their first opening-game loss in 13 years.

Cowboys spur MVC Tulsa

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — A penetrating Oklahoma State defense led by mammoth tackle Phillip Dokes forced a rapid succession of Tulsa turnovers in the third quarter as the Cowboys rebounded from a 6-3 halftime deficit to defeat the Golden Hurricane 33-21 in a regionally televised football game Saturday.

The Cowboys scored 23 points in a span of less than eight minutes and appeared to have taken command with a 26-6 lead at the end of the third period.

Tigers stage comeback to down Warriors, 26-8

MIAMI — Groom broke open a close game with three second-half touchdowns to whip scrappy Miami, 26-8, in District 1-B action Friday night in Warrior Stadium.

Groom, 1-1 for the season and 1-0 in 1-B, trailed, 8-6, at halftime. Miami's Kirk Flowers capped a 60-yard drive with a one-yard burst at 7:11 in the first quarter to give the hosts the lead.

David Bean ran over the conversion.

Thomas Reed scored on a five-yard run around right end at 11:21 in the second quarter, but Miami kept the lead by stopping Chris Britten on the conversion run.

Pat Britten fell on a Miami punt, which had bounced off a Warrior player and landed in the end zone, at 2:55 in the third quarter as Groom took the lead. Thomas Reed failed to add extra points.

With 58 seconds left in the fourth quarter, Reed broke down the left sideline to score on a 20-yard run, giving the Tigers an 18-8 lead. A conversion pass by Nathan Waiburg fell incomplete.

Reed intercepted a Lonnie Gilliland pass and returned it 85 yards for another Groom score with 23 seconds remaining. Weiburg passed to Krizan for two more points.

"I was pleased with the effort of my boys. They (Warriors) put it on 'em," said Bill Gilliland, Miami head coach. "We were aggressive."

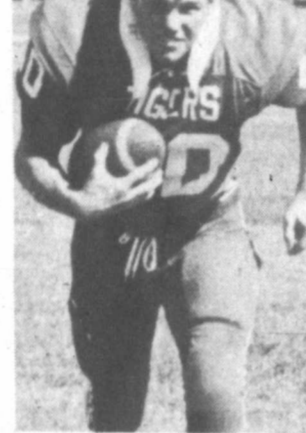

"I was just disappointed in the mistakes we made, like off-sides penalties and a couple of three clipping penalties."

Miami was penalized 11 times for 95 yards, compared to Groom's 13 times for 88 yards.

Chris Britten led all rushers with 111 yards on 21 carries. Reed added 67 yards on 14 tries.

"We just exploded on them in the fourth quarter," said Groom Coach Russell Roberts. "Chris

2nd-ranked Michigan tops Wisconsin, 40-27

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Tailback Harlan Huckley scored three touchdowns and quarterback Rich Leach hit wingback Jim Smith with two scoring passes Saturday to lead second-ranked Michigan to a tough 40-27 victory over Wisconsin in their Big Ten collegiate football opener.

The Badgers, who trailed 20-after the first quarter, refused to fold, running and passing with relative ease the rest of the way against the touted Wolverine defense.

Badger quarterback Mike Carroll threw two touchdowns and called an impressive game as Wisconsin continually threatened on offense.

Brazoswood, Abilene fall in AAAA upsets

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD — AP Sports Writer

Brazoswood was knocked from its No. 1 perch in Class 4A Texas schoolboy football in ignominious fashion Friday night — losing to Houston Memorial 21-0.

The 1974 state champions joined 10th-ranked Abilene in the loser's ranks in The Associated Press' 4A Top Ten. Abilene was outscored 28-21 by Austin High.

The rest of the 4A kingpins captured victories, with No. 2 Sherman's 35-0 whipping of Denton possibly catapulting it into the top spot. Third-ranked Houston Kashmere swamped Houston Forest Brook 33-6. No. 4 Odessa Permian tripped Amarillo 29-6. Fifth-ranked Tyler John Tyler nudged Corsicana 14-12. Sixth-ranked Longview shut out Fort Worth Paschal 31-0. No. 7 and defending champion Port Neches-Groves stamped out Houston Stratford 35-7. No. 8 Galveston Ball opened its season by beating Fort Worth Trimble 34-6 and No. 9 Killen slipped past San Angelo Central 21-15. Two members of the Class 3A

No. 1 Aledo and second-rated Big Sandy of Class A both registered shutout triumphs — 7-0 and 26-0, respectively, over Decatur and New Diana, but No. 3 Barber's Hill lost 13-10 to Anahuac of 2A. Tenth-rated Wall was outscored 36-35 by Clyde of 2A, but the rest of the A division's Top Ten won. Fourth-ranked Holiday shocked Electra 19-15. No. 5 Plains crushed Ponca City, Okla., 35-3, and 10th-ranked Humble outscored Cleveland 30-26. Second-ranked Gainesville, No. 3 Ennis and No. 9 Beeville had open dates.

In Class 2A, the only casualty was No. 3 Kermit, which lost 21-13 to Denver City. Top-ranked Rockdale slashed Taylor 25-6. No. 2 McGregor banged Waco Reicher 28-6. No. 4 Columbus pinned Boling 32-0. No. 5 Bowie whitewashed Olney 21-0, sixth-ranked Childress outlasted Memphis 20-12. No. 7 Pittsburgh manhandled Gilmer 35-0. No. 8 Kirbyville swamped Buna 21-0 and ninth-rated Belville beat Needville 14-6. Tenth-rated Powderly North Lamar was idle.

Connors, Borg advance

Evert rips Goolagong in finals

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Chris Evert solidified her position on the throne of women's tennis Saturday by crushing Evonne Goolagong 6-3, 6-0 in the final of the U.S. Open Championships.

Earlier, Jimmy Connors regained his image as a court killer and Sweden's Bjorn Borg drained the last bit of fire out of temperamental Ilie Nastase to gain the final round in the men's division.

The aggressive American from Belleville, Ill., and the methodical 20-year-old from Stockholm will meet at the West Side Tennis Club today for the $30,000 first prize.

Miss Evert's surprisingly one-sided victory, following triumphs over her Australian opponent in the 1975 Open here as well as Wimbledon, hoisted her onto the pinnacle once shared by such tennis greats as Helen Wills Moody, Maureen Connelly and Billie Jean King.

The women's match, last of a straight-set series in the center court, was played before another capacity crowd of 16,244. Unlike their previous meetings here and at Wimbledon, the Evert-Goolagong rerun was quick and merciful.

The graceful Australian, with rare natural talent and a rich repertoire of shots, was no match for the icy, computer-like stroke-making Miss Evert from Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

After a shaky start, in which she lost two straight games and won only one point, Chris rallied to take 10 games in a row in the 55-minute match. While she played well, Miss Goolagong practically donated her points with loose, effortless play.

She was uninspired.

Connors played perhaps the finest tennis of his career in smashing Guillermo Vilas of Argentina 6-4, 6-2, 6-1. Borg was almost as devastating in wiping out Nastase 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

"I will never play here again," said Nastase, who created a near riot a week ago with his boisterous and profane behavior on center court in a match against Hans-Jurgen Pohmann of West Germany.

"These crowds are the worst I have ever seen. I can't play my game."

In his match against Borg, Nastase was so proper the crowd sat in disbelief. The single controversial gesture of the match came not from Nastase but from the normally stoical, undermimic Borg.

On the first point of the eight game in the second set, shortly after he had scored a second service break for a 4-3 lead, Borg hit a smash that struck close to chalk sideline.

The linesman, Pat Riley of North Little Rock, Ark., promptly yelled, "Out!"

Wheeler blanks Panthers

WHEELER — Jim Verden, Wheeler's 245-pound all-state tackle candidate, fell on a Follett fumble in the end zone in the fourth period to insure a 21-0 win in a District 1-B contest Friday.

Both teams are competing for the first time in 1-B. Wheeler dropped from District 2A, while Follett was promoted from eight-man prior to the season.

Verden booted the extra point with 7:01 left in the game after scoring the touchdown to ice the game for the defense-minded Mustangs, who recorded their second shutout of the season in upping their record to 2-0.

Don Brown plunged over from the one with 37 seconds left in the first quarter after Wheeler took advantage of a bad Panther punt, which was downed on the Follett eight-yard line.

Brown scored two plays later, then Verden booted the first of three extra points.

Wheeler scored at 9:23 in the final period on a one-yard run by sophomore Marvin Grimes. The touchdown capped a 10-play, 70-yard march, which included runs of 19 and 10 yards by tailback Brown.

Brown was the game's leading rusher with 147 yards on 22 carries. Grimes ran 19 times for 74 yards.

Wheeler is open this week, while Follett hosts Booker Friday.

Houston surprises Baylor, 23-5

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Danny Davis whipped jittery Houston on three second-half touchdown drives after critical Baylor miscues Saturday and the Cougars celebrated their Southwest Conference debut with a 23-5 upset of the dazed Bears.

The nifty Davis refused to panic in the pressure cooker second half after a poor center snap and a sluggish offense had put Baylor ahead 5-0 at halftime.

Davis drove the nervous Cougars, who had waited five years to play in the SWC, 48 yards for a third-quarter touchdown. He climaxing the drive with a four-yard keeper to give the underdogs a 6-5 lead.

A fumble by Baylor quarterback Mark Jackson set up the touchdown when Houston's Mark Mohr pounced on the bounding ball.

Houston defensive back Anthony Francis intercepted a wayward Jackson aerial in the fourth quarter at the Cougar 13. The ice-calm Davis engineered an 87-yard drive in 16 plays, climaxing by Dyral Thomas' one-yard plunge on fourth down. Davis flicked a 22-yard pass to Don Bass and ripped off an 11-yard run.

Buckeyes batter MSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jeff Logan, Heisman Trophy winner Archie Griffin's tailback replacement, bolted for three touchdowns and had a fourth score nullified by a penalty Saturday, helping fourth-ranked Ohio State crush Michigan State 49-21 in a Big Ten football opener.

Logan, a 184-pound junior from North Canton, Ohio, ran 75, 68 and three yards for his touchdowns. He lost another 71-yard score as the Buckeyes rolled to their 12th straight conference victory.

Logan, with 112 yards, formed a punishing trio with holdover fullback Pete Johnson and new quarterback Rod Gerold. The three contributed 315 yards and six touchdowns rushing. Logan's 68-yard scamper came on a punt return.

Johnson, a 247-pound senior and the nation's leading scorer last fall, ran his career touchdown total to 41 with scores of one and 58 yards.

Lefors tramples Tornadoses, 28-14

LEFORS — Phil White won the battle, and that's why Lefors won the war.

In what was billed as a showdown between two of the area's top Class B running backs — White and Teline's Terry McNabb — Lefors outlasted its District 1-B rival, 28-14, Friday here.

White piled up 174 yards on 30 carries, averaging 5.8 yards, while McNabb gained 145 on 22 carries for a 6.6 average.

White, in Lefors' two wins this season, has totaled 387 yards on 52 rushes to become the top ground gainer in 1-B. Lefors is 1-0 in district play.

Teline, 0-1 for the season and in district play, led 14-0 after touchdown runs of 55 and 48 yards by McNabb at 10:42 in the first quarter and 5:23 in the second, respectively.

Conversion kicks were successful after each score.

White burst six yards to paydirt with 44 seconds left in the half, then booted the extra point to cut the Tornadoses' lead in two.

White broke through the middle of the line in the third quarter and scampered 34 yards for another touchdown at 5:35.

He booted the second of four straight extra points.

The Lefors tailback scored on a 24-yard run at 10:25 in the fourth quarter. Kenny Howard earned the final Lefors touchdown on a three-yard run with 4:42 remaining in the game.

"I was pleased that we came back and won," Lefors Coach Jim Allen said. "I wasn't pleased with our tackling. We were just dragging them down."

"Our offense generated some in the second half. We got a little momentum right before the half."

Howard added 126 yards on 12 rushes (10.5 average), while teammate Bob Roy Klein gained 45 yards on five attempts.

Floyd Cotham intercepted two Tornado passes to lead the defense.

Lefors hosts McLean Friday. Teline travels to Groom for a 2 p.m. contest Saturday.

Lions nudge Stanford

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Tenth-ranked Penn State converted three first-period fumbles into a pair of touchdowns and a field goal, and then let the defense take over in a 15-12 season-opening college football victory over Pacific-8 contender Stanford.

Junior halfback Steve Geise cracked one yard for the first Penn State score, sophomore Matt Bahr kicked a 33-yard field goal and freshman Matt Suhey, who gained 119 yards on 23 carries, raced six for the third score and a 15-0 lead.

Stanford's defense then contained the Nittany Lions' attack, and the Cardinals rallied for 52- and 27-yard field goals by Mike Michel and a 48-yard touchdown strike from quarterback Mike Cordova to wide receiver Tony Hill.

Stanford threw a scare into a sellout crowd of 61,645, largest ever to see Penn State at home, when it drove from its 39 to a first down at the Penn State 14 with little less than four minutes remaining.

A fumble causes havoc as players on both teams collide while chasing the ball, which squirts back to McLean's Curtis Simpson (44), the one who lost it in the first

Wildcats halt drive, claw Shamrock

SHAMROCK — Canadian overcame a 14-0 deficit then fought off a potentially winning drive late in the game by Shamrock as the Wildcats claimed a 22-20 win over the Irish in a non-conference clash Friday night here.

Shamrock, trailing 22-20 in the fourth quarter, drove to Canadian's nine-yard line, where the Irish had fourth down with 1:55 left. A clipping penalty moved the ball back to the 24, then Canadian stopped a run by Jackie Thompson to preserve the win. Shamrock took an early 6-0 lead as Jackie Thompson broke 52 yards for a touchdown on the sixth play of the game. Later in the period, Irish quarterback David Ramsey circled right end for 30 yards and another touchdown. The same play was good for two extra points, giving the hosts a 14-0 advantage.

Mary Carr, on the seventh play of a Canadian drive which started on the Wildcat 24, swept right end to score from 12 yards out late in the period. Gary Thompson was tackled on the conversion run. Carr dove over from the one to score early in the second period, then quarterback Gary Bob Hutcheson ran over the conversion as Canadian tied the score 14-14, which took until halftime.

Shamrock took the lead on a five-play, 32-yard drive in the third quarter as Thompson scored from a yard out. Ramsey failed to add extra points on a quarterback keeper.

Late in the third period, Hutcheson scored on a three-yard run. Gary Thompson gave Canadian a two-point lead by running over the conversion.

Carr led all rushers in the game with 149 yards on 18 carries. Hutcheson added 92 on 13 attempts. Thompson 78 on 12 and Robert Wilson 74 on 13 as the Wildcats racked up 394 rushing yards.

The Wildcats held Shamrock to 247 total yards, 218 on the ground.

Canadian, 2-0 for the season, hosts Sunray Friday, while Shamrock, 0-2, entertains Childress.

Oklahoma crushes Vanderbilt

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Quarterback Dean Blevins directed two-time defending Oklahoma to three second half scores as the Sooners overcame a lethargic first half to belt Vanderbilt, 24-3, in a season opening football game Saturday.

Oklahoma, which has lost only one game the last three years, had a sputtering offense but a defense that showed flashes of brilliance.

The Sooners led 7-3 at half time, making no passing yards, only three first downs and losing two of three fumbles.

But Oklahoma scored the first two times it had the ball in the second half and added a fourth quarter field goal to win going away.

Vanderbilt penetrated inside the Sooner 10-yard line three times during the game but failed to score.

Two of Oklahoma's touchdowns were set up by Vandy fumbles deep in Commodore territory.

Vandy's Martin Cox fumbled a punt at the 10-yard line in the first quarter and Oklahoma's Elvis Peacock scored on a six-yard run three plays later.

Bronchos kick Bucks in non-conference tilt

WHITE DEER — John Hall scored in the fourth quarter on a one-yard run, then Bubba Newhouse caught a conversion pass, as Clarendon trimmed White Deer 20-15 Friday.

The win gives Clarendon a 2-0 record in non-district play, while White Deer drops to 1-1 after last week's impressive 33-9 win over Vega.

Clarendon trailed 15-12 going into the final period. Hall's short plunge gave the Bronchos the lead for the first time since the second period. Howard Weatherton passed for the conversion.

After the final Broncho TD, the Bucks drove to the Clarendon 25 but, after quarterback Donnie Webb left the game with a hyperextended elbow, gave up the ball on downs. White Deer led 8-0 in the first quarter on a two-yard run by Steve Williams and a conversion pass from Williams to Randy Baldrige.

Clarendon scored in the opening period on the ensuing kickoff, which Weatherton returned 80 yards for a touchdown. Weatherton again scored in the quarter, diving over from one yard out. Conversion runs failed after both TD's.

White Deer took a 15-12 lead in the third quarter on a three-yard run by Dean Bennett and conversion-kick by Bobby Ensor.

The Bucks stopped Clarendon on three separate occasions from inside the White Deer Coach Mike Purcell said.

"We made too many mental mistakes to win. We played well, though. Our physical effort was outstanding. The mental errors lost it. "We didn't read properly on defense, we missed several stunt calls, our secondary didn't rotate properly and, on offense, we didn't execute."

Leading White Deer's running attack, which accounted for 160 of 174 total yards, was Webb with 70 yards on nine carries. Bennett added 52 yards on rushes, while Williams had 46 on eight tries.

"When Webb got hurt, it messed up our timing, our (Webb's substitute) ran some good plays but the injury shook us," Purcell said.

Clarendon rushed for 201 yards and passed for another 50. The Bronchos managed 18 first downs, compared to 11 for White Deer.
