

Iranians charged in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Nearly 100 Iranian students were being held today pending disorderly conduct charges following a clash in downtown Houston between the protesting students and Houston police.

Six police officers and about the same number of students were injured in the incident about noon Tuesday. None was seriously injured and only three students would accept treatment for minor scalp wounds at the county jail.

The clash between the members of the Iranian Students Association, estimated at about 250, and the police came during the second day of demonstrations by the group in front of the building where French Consul Louis Vorms has his office.

Printed handouts said the demonstrators were protesting the arrest in France last week of six Iranian students who were charged in the Nov. 3 assassination attempt on an Iranian diplomat.

The group, which demonstrates frequently in Houston, passed out statements charging the Shah of Iran with terror and fascism.

The group said the incident in France "was an extension of the Shah's terror and fascism. The Shah is a U.S. puppet and with the consent of the U.S. has done a good service also to the French Imperialists in plundering Iranian peoples."

A policeman in a patrol car used a public address system asking the students to disperse. They continued to chant and several policemen began walking toward the group. The brief battle occurred when officers arrested three of the demonstrators and others in the group began shoving and pushing with the policemen.

"We had the unfortunate task of removing some very loud, belligerent people that the police and district attorney's office have negotiated with for well over a year to try to avoid doing what we had to do today," said Police Chief B. G. Bond. "We have leaned over backwards to avoid this."

Ninety-one persons were expected to be charged with disorderly conduct, a misdemeanor. One felony charge of aggravated assault on a police officer was lodged against Ali Moaddus, 25, of Galveston.

He was accused in connection with an injury to Police Det. Ralph Wood who was stabbed in the hand with a screwdriver.

Knife, Fork speaker set

Guest speaker for the Top of Texas Knife and Fork Club at a 7:30 p.m. Nov. 18 meeting in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn will be Dr. Royal L. Garff of Salt Lake City.

Garff, a professor of speech and marketing at the University of Utah before his semi-retirement, now travels and delivers speeches on human relations.

He has covered more than a half million miles in 45 states and Canada since he began making talks about 10 years ago.

Garff is a graduate of the University of Utah, class of 1930. He worked for a few years, then went to Northwestern University where he earned his Ph.D. in 1939. He was for three years a director of retail training for Montgomery Ward Co. in Chicago. In 1941 he returned to the University of Utah as a faculty professor.

Tickets at $5 each are on sale at Heard & Jones Rexall Drug, 114 N. Cuyler and may be purchased before noon Nov. 17.

Gus Mutcher elected judge

BRENHAM, Tex. (AP) — Former Texas House Speaker Gus Mutcher has denied, but in leave-the-door-open style, that he will try to further his career beyond Washington County.

Mutcher was sworn in as county judge Tuesday, a week after his unopposed election, and afterwards he said in a telephone interview that he is enjoying his "little courthouse job." But he hedged on a statement that he has no plans to seek higher office.

"I would say—at this time—that this job doesn't point in any other direction," said the once powerful House speaker. "I like people and I like public life but it (higher office) has got to be a meritorious thing. I've got too much to do to go around running again."

Mutcher was appointed to his present job by Washington County commissioners last July only hours after a state district court judge released him from a 48-month probation.

He was convicted in 1972 of charges of conspiring to accept a bribe from Houston bank promoter Frank Sharp. The release gave Mutcher a clean slate enabling him to again accept public office.

Despite the scandal to which Mutcher's name was linked, Washington County officials have vowed their complete support. County Commissioner Robert Gaskamp said,

"He's done a wonderful and terrific job so far," said Gaskamp. "That (Sharpstown scandal) is behind us. Besides, I don't think 99 per cent of the people around here believed it anyway."

"I've always said I thought we had one of the best Houses ever. It was a real All-American team," Mutcher said. He added that he received countless congratulatory telegrams and letters from legislators past and present when his probation was canceled.

The wounds of Sharpstown are deep, but only Gus Mutcher knows if he will try to return to Austin once they are healed.

Spider man foils plan for pregnancy pusher

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The diabolical alien, The Prodigy, is seconds away from his nationwide telecast that will draw millions of innocent teen-agers into his seamy plot for a population explosion on earth.

"When I'm in front of that television tonight, I'll hit the bearless, mindless crowd with everything I've got," snarls the sinister visitor from outer space.

"What jive stuff this turkey hands out!" muses that perennial good guy, Spider Man. In the nick of time he breaks into the studio, rips off the Prodigy's human mask and foils the plot with super spider webs.

"Never again will you mesmerize kids with your destructive propaganda," a triumphant Spider Man chides the demon.

This comic book scene of good versus evil is Planned Parenthood's newest approach to the teen-age pregnancy problem—the plight of an estimated one million American teen-agers a year, according to Dr. Hugh Anwyll, executive director of the organization's office here.

The 25-cent comic book by Marvel Comics is distributed by Planned Parenthood clinics nationwide. It deals with pregnancy and contraception, homosexuality, masturbation and venereal disease.

It skirts morality entirely, focusing mainly on the value of good sense and knowing the facts, Anwyll said.

"There's a lot of material the bad guy can propagate," he said. "What we're trying to show kids through Spider Man is that you don't have to be trapped."

"It's a far cry from anything moralistic. I think it points to one significant thing—that there is an option, that you have a choice. It's not pushing anything or saying it's wrong to be pregnant."

Spider Man, you may recall, is the alter ego of a high school student who was bitten by a radioactive spider in 1962. The bite supercharged him, turning him into a humble, rather reluctant crusader for good and justice.

Planned Parenthood recognized his appeal to children and teens.

"The kids like it and that's about as much as we can expect," said Johanna Pugni of Planned Parenthood in New York, who developed the campaign.

Famed tennis player dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Baron Gottfried von Cramm — one of the world's great tennis players in the 1930's — died in Cairo, Egypt, Tuesday. One might say that he was one of the luckier victims of Adolph Hitler's reign of terror.

"He was crucified by Hitler and Nazi Germany," said Donald Budge, America's Grand Slam champion of the era.

Budge and von Cramm were rivals before the outbreak of World War II. Budge defeated the German in the final round of both Wimbledon and the United States Championships at Forest Hills. They also met in a Davis Cup duel that some have called the greatest match ever played.

"Gottfried was superb on the court, beautiful strokes, every inch a sportsman," said Budge. "Yet he was one of the unluckiest men I know."

"He was anti-Nazi," Budge recalled. "Yet he was a German sports hero and a close friend of Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering. The Nazis never were able to break down his resistance."

"Although he had a reserve officer's commission, Gottfried was sent to the Russian front as a buck private. On the Stalingrad siege, he personally held off the Russians with a machine gun while permitting 200 German soldiers to escape.

"He was awarded the German Iron Cross on the spot by the general, who was not aware of his political persuasion. It was reported that Hitler and Goering were livid."

Later von Cramm was jailed by the Nazis on a morals charge, a blot on his record that pursued him the rest of his life.

"Goering told von Cramm that there had been reports that he was homosexual," Budge related. "He suggested that Gottfried plead guilty to a morals charge rather than face action for being anti-Nazi. He promised von Cramm that he would serve only six months instead of the four to five years for the more serious charge."

Open Records laws 'insurance'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Open Records laws help to improve the credibility of government by allowing people to see problems as they really exist, according to Atty. Gen. John Hill.

Speaking here Tuesday night, Hill defended the laws, calling them "the best insurance for a truly open government."

Many people think the open record laws are designed primarily for the press benefit and are a burden on the agencies and boards affected," Hill said.

"This is far from the truth. It is a shortsighted view and we want to change this attitude," he added.

Hill spoke at a meeting of the San Antonio Media Freedom Forum that includes Women In Communication Inc., Alamo Business Communicators, Advertising Federation, American Women in Radio and Television, Sigma Delta Chi and the Armed Forces Information Council.

"Governmental problems are highly complex and if governmental action is hidden, people tend to believe the worst," Hill said.

The attorney general said the public has a right to know how public funds are being spent and how public business operates.

"The big problem area is in the notification of meetings," Hill said. "The right to observe meetings is hollow if no one knows about the meeting."

Under the law, notice must be posted 72 hours before the meeting in a place "generally acceptable to the public at all times."

Second wife says 'my humility gone'

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Patricia Martin says she was duped into thinking she was Bob Martin's only wife. His death three weeks ago has forced her to turn to welfare to feed her five children, she says.

Mrs. Martin learned after her husband's death she was one of two wives. Martin, South Dakota's director of economic development, led a dual life, heading a household in Sioux Falls and another with a wife and four children in Pierre 200 miles away, state Atty. Gen. William Janklow said.

"I'm a very simple person. I'm a mother first and I was of the opinion that Bob was married, had three children and was divorced," Mrs. Martin of Sioux Falls was quoted as saying in an interview with the Watertown (S.D.) Public Opinion.

"I was brought up in a family that believed you washed dishes and scrubbed floors before you asked for any assistance whatever. Now I've been reduced to having to beg for ADC (Aid to Dependent Children) and food stamps.

"My humility is gone. My pride is gone. I don't have a shred of dignity left. But I'm protecting my children. I can go through anything but those children have to eat."

Martin's last paycheck has been withheld until a court decides who will administer the estate. Lawyers for the two families have begun negotiations, though no will has been found and Patricia Martin, 33, who said she married Martin in 1968, can't find a marriage license.

"I remember signing a document, that's all. He took care of it. They have tried to check it out legally but obviously I was duped and I don't know why," she said.

Asked Sunday about her husband's two lives, Martin's wife in Pierre, Mary Lou, said, "This is not fact." She would not say anything else, but a son said later the matter was in an attorney's hands.

"I believe his other wife was just as much in the dark as I was," Patricia Martin said. "She had to go through the shock of this also. I feel very sorry for her. Her children must be old enough to understand all this. Mine aren't, unfortunately. All they know is that their daddy is dead and that they loved their daddy dearly."

Gov. Richard Kneip said he learned of Martin's dual life in late October. He said he was "rather abrupt" with a lawyer for the Sioux Falls family who contacted him because "he had no factual information that led me to want to get involved in any way."

"I have a great feeling for the hurt that must have come to this family and I just don't care to add to that. I don't know how long it's going to be dragged out. I don't understand why some people care to continue hurting a family this way, and I don't want any part of it," the governor said.

Martin, who traveled frequently between Pierre and his division's main office in Sioux Falls, turned in vouchers for motels and travel in the two cities. Those vouchers will be investigated by a grand jury, the attorney general said.

Highway 40 to be built in county

Bids for the construction of 5.5 miles of Interstate Highway 40 at Groom in Carson and Gray Counties are expected to be received at the November letting of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The project will be the first phase of construction designed to close the present gap in IH 40 in Groom and will include grading, drainage structures and grade separations. It will be built on a new location north of Groom and will extend approximately two miles east and west of that city.

The new highway will be a four-lane, freeway-type facility with a limited amount of frontage roads. Four overpasses will be built: at the east and west intersections of IH 40 and US Highway 66, and at the intersections of Farm to Market Road 295 and FM 2300.

A second construction phase would involve paving the 5.5 miles.

District Engineer A.L. McKee of Amarillo will be in overall supervision of the work, while George J. Cannon of Amarillo will be the department's engineer in charge of the project.

Death sentence changed to life in prison

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Former San Antonio massage parlor owner Samuel Corey's Louisiana death sentence has been changed to life in prison at hard labor by the Louisiana Supreme Court.

While upholding Corey's murder conviction, the Supreme Court Monday canceled his date with the electric chair but ruled he would have no chance of pardon, probation or parole from his life sentence for 20 years.

Corey, a short 300-pounder, was convicted of slaying newlywed Patricia Ann Albanowski Giesick, 25, formerly of Trenton, N.J., to collect her life insurance.

Mrs. Giesick was killed in New Orleans Jan. 16, 1974 while she was honeymooning with Claudius James Giesick of San Antonio. Giesick testified at Corey's trial that he and Corey insured Mrs. Giesick for $250,000 and then plotted to kill her.

Names in the news

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Aaron Copland, the 75-year-old American composer, conducted the Belgian National Orchestra in his own Third Symphony as part of an all-American program celebrating the United States Bicentennial.

Copland won warm applause Monday night from a capacity audience at the Palais des Beaux Arts. Ambassador Leonard K. Firestone was among the concertgoers.

Grant Johannessen of Salt Lake City was soloist in George Gershwin's Piano Concerto in F Major.

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz and television personality Dick Cavett have settled an argument over Indian artifacts that Cavett says was never more than a "tempest in a tepee" anyway. The hassle started when Cavett was given two buffalo robes, a shield, and a Plains Indian war shirt by the Museum of the American Indian here in exchange for his gift of 53 other artifacts.

Lefkowitz, claiming the goods were worth $12,000, said Cavett was receiving an illegal gift from the former director of the museum. He filed suit against Cavett to force their return.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernadette Devlin McAliskey, former radical member of Parliament from Northern Ireland, says the Women's Peace Movement there is "looking for peace at any price — and the price would be subservience."

Mrs. McAliskey, on an eight-city speaking tour in the U.S., told a news conference that the movement is an extension of the British and Irish governments to which she is "personally, radically opposed."

She also said she has left the Irish Republican Army in favor of a movement called the Irish Committee for a Socialist Program.

"I find it impossible to be anything but a revolutionary socialist," she said.

BOSTON (AP) — Edgar B. Speer, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel Corp., says the government has shown a "distressing lack of understanding" about the need for capital investment. He said he is concerned about President-elect Jimmy Carter's suggestion that wage earners should pay fewer taxes and corporations should pay more.

Speer told a news conference here that businesses need tax reforms to stimulate capital investment, expand production and create jobs.

LONDON (AP) — Millionaire rock idol Mick Jagger wants a court to permanently prevent former girl friend Christine Shrimpton from revealing details of love letters he wrote her.

Jagger, 33, already had a temporary injunction barring Miss Shrimpton, younger sister of model Jean Shrimpton, from making the letters public.

The leader of the Rolling Stones went back to court Monday seeking to have that injunction made a permanent ban to prevent Miss Shrimpton from selling the letters for publication without his permission.

Jagger also asked return of all letters belonging to him and information about any profits that may have been made from their use.

Ex-cop chose death over jail sentence

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "The next thing you'll hear is the bang," Gus Zanos told his niece over the telephone.

And Teddie Kiloylos listened at the other end of the line Monday as her 55-year-old uncle, a former small-town police chief, shot himself to death rather than begin serving a six-year jail sentence for embezzlement.

Zanos placed the call from his attorney's office minutes before he was to report to jail, the coroner's office said. The sentence was imposed after he pleaded guilty in a $418,000 bank embezzlement conspiracy.

"He told me he wanted to say goodbye," his niece told authorities later. "He tells me he was sold out by his attorney, that he was bearing the brunt of the whole thing.

"Then he says, 'The next thing you'll hear is the bang.' I heard the blast and I heard him fall."

Federal prosecutors claimed Zanos, ex-police chief of Apollo in nearby Armstrong County, embezzled the money along with two bank employees in a check kiting scheme. Zanos allegedly used most of the money to buy pornographic movies that he hoped to sell at a profit.

Zanos considered his sentence too harsh and had tried to raise money for a lie detector test that he hoped would at least partly exonerate him, his brother Jim said.

"He asked me for some money... I just didn't have it," he said.

After three postponements, Zanos was ordered to report to jail at noon Monday.

About that time, he went to see his attorney and asked for the private use of an office to make some phone calls, police said. He carried a concealed gun and letters addressed to three local newspapers and the federal judge who had sentenced him.

"So to all my friends I want you all to know that I am know (sic) crook," said one letter addressed to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, which published it today.

The first campaign buttons were given away by Alexander the Great, according to the National Geographic Society. They were made of silver and given as a promise of better government.

Bills pre-filed in House

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Bills repealing the state sales tax on utility bills and requiring all drivers to carry liability insurance were filed in the Texas House on Monday.

It was the initial day of pre-filing bills, the first time the House has used the pre-session introduction procedure.

The Senate pre-filed bills last session.

Rep. Gene Green, D-Houston, filed a bill making it a misdemeanor to engage without a county license in "transsexual massage," defined as massaging a person of the opposite sex in a massage parlor for pay.

He also filed a bill requiring all drivers to carry auto liability insurance as a requirement for obtaining their license plates. They also would have to carry identification cards issued by their insurance companies, showing their policy numbers.

Rep. Joe Wyatt, D-Bloomington, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, introduced a bill repealing the 4 per cent sales tax on utility bills and permitting cities to drop the 1 per cent local sales tax on gas and electric service.

Wyatt's bill also raises from $25,000 to $60,000 the portion of an estate that would not be subject to the inheritance tax.

Rep. Jim Nugent, D-Kerrville, chairman of the House Transportation Committee, filed Gov. Dolph Briscoe's bill allocating to highways three-fourths of the state motor vehicle sales tax revenue and all of the sales tax on lubricants, tires, auto parts and accessories.

Others among the 49 House bills pre-filed Monday were:

HB2 by Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, chairman of the House Education Committee, requiring 100 per cent state funding of the Foundation School Program.

HB5 by Rep. Fred Head, D-Athens, establishing a new University of Texas medical school at Tyler.

HB15 by Rep. Mickey Leland, D-Houston, establishing a Texas Right to Work Commission. It would carry out projects to keep the Texas unemployment rate from rising above 3 per cent for both sexes and all races.

Educator fears vocationalism

HOUSTON (AP) — An educator says youngsters should not be discouraged by counselors and teachers from attending college simply because the degrees might not help them obtain jobs they want.

"Vocationalism must not take over," said Dr. Sidney P. Marland, a former commissioner of education. "College is much more than job readying."

Marland, president of the College Entrance Examination Board, addressed the opening session Monday of the U. S.

Education Commissioner's National Conference on Career Education.

The meeting has drawn about 6,000 participants from education, industry, labor and government to hear speakers and view occupational and career development.

Marland said college graduates in liberal arts fields outnumber jobs available to them but "the liberalizing power of the arts and humanities were never so essential to the growth and intellectual development of our people."

A report released in conjunction with the opening of the conference said high school pupils appear to be unrealistic in their expectations for careers.

The National Assessment of Education Progress (NAEP) report said about 44 per cent of the 17-year-olds in the NAEP survey said they would like a job in the professional category, but census figures show that only 20 to 25 per cent of the existing jobs are professional or managerial positions.

Representatives of organized labor told the conference labor is opposed to career education programs which alter the minimum wage structure, exploit student labor or detract from the teaching of basic skills.

Carroll Hutton, education director for the United Automobile Workers, told participants work-study programs under which students work part of the day and attend school the rest "must not jeopardize the job security of the existing labor force."

George Butsika, a representative of the United Steelworkers of America, said he hopes career education "isn't going to be a cop-out, or an excuse, for children who are not getting the basics in education."

Walter Davis, education director of the AFL-CIO said students sometimes are trained for jobs that will be obsolete in a short time.

New GI bill includes savings plan

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Future veterans of America's armed forces are going to have to give a little if they want Uncle Sam to help put them through college or graduate school when they return to civilian life.

The men and women who enlist after Dec. 31 will not be entitled automatically to the lucrative education benefits that current members of the military and all veterans in recent years have shared.

But the Pentagon and the Veterans Administration are gearing up for an experimental new education program that will provide benefits for servicemen and women who are willing to put aside at least $50 a month for their own educational fund.

The experiment is a compromise written into the new GI bill that Congress passed in September. It will be reviewed in years.

Under the new program, those who join the military after Dec. 31 can gain the new educational benefits by contributing from $50 to $75 a month to the VA, up to a limit of $2,700 over the individual's military career. The government will match the contributions with $2 for each $1 invested.

A person may quit the program at the end of any 12-month period. Those who quit get their money back, but in most cases they lose their rights to the government benefits.

The benefits may be used after release from active duty, provided that the person is not dishonorably discharged.

Under the system being phased out, veterans are paid up to $292 a month in educational benefits for from 36 to 45 months if they meet certain requirements, such as 18 months of active duty. No contributions are required.

Current servicemen and women will be able to use those benefits for 10 years after leaving military service, or until the end of 1989, whichever comes first. Also eligible for these benefits will be anyone who enlists this year, even if he does not actually get into uniform until next year.

Education payments will be limited either to the number of months the member contributes or to 36 months, whichever is less. The amount of each individual's fund will be divided by the number of months participating to determine the monthly payments during schooling.

Benefits under the new program also must be used within 10 years after leaving military service. Unused contributions will be refunded.

This feature was a compromise with those who objected to the program being included in the VA budget since the old GI bill was designed basically for readjustment of those who served in wartime and not for a peacetime, all-volunteer military.

Omaha, Neb., was incorporated as a city in 1857.

Hunter earns Cy Young

Landry claims Coryell has ulterior motive

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore's Jim Palmer, an All-Star Game reject last July who reversed his field in the second half of the season, won the American League's Cy Young Award today for the third time.

The Orioles' right-hander joined Sandy Koufax, formerly of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Tom Seaver of the New York Mets as baseball's only triple winners of the coveted pitching award.

Palmer, also named the American League's best pitcher in 1973 and 1975, was an easy winner this time over runner-up Mark Fidrych, Detroit's flashy "Birdman" who took baseball by storm in his rookie season.

Palmer received 108 points on 19 first-place votes, four seconds and one third from the Baseball Writers Association of America. His total more than doubled that of Detroit's young right-hander, who had 51 points based on five first-place votes, seven for second and five for third.

Points are awarded on a basis of five for first place, three for second and one for third. California's Frank Tanana was a distant third with 18 points, while Ed Figueroa of the New York Yankees finished fourth with 12. Others who received votes were Luis Tiant of the Boston Red Sox, with 10; Vida Blue of the Oakland A's, 8; Minnesota's Bill Campbell, 7; and Rollie Fingers of Oakland and Wayne Garland, Palmer's teammate at Baltimore, 1 each.

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry believes he can recognize a "set-up" when he sees or hears one. Sixteen years as a National Football League coach provides a built-in detector system.

Now, Landry thinks there may be a "new" George Allen in the National Conference Eastern Division.

At least that's what he said Tuesday when informed that St. Louis Coach Don Coryell was picking the Cowboys for the NFC East title.

Carter not a golfing buff

NEW YORK (AP) — The election of Jimmy Carter appears certain to cool the golfing fever that has been around the White House for the last quarter of a century.

No more putting on the east lawn. No locker at the exclusive Burning Tree Club in suburban Bethesda, Md. No policy decisions on the first tee. No judging the state of the union by the severity of the president's slice.

golf," a spokesman for the country's President-elect said from Carter's vacation spot off the Georgia coast. "He's more of a softball man. He plays tennis a bit, loves fishing and is crazy about auto racing. But golf? Forget it."

Presidents, with rare exceptions, have relaxed by fighting bogeys on the golf course since the administration of William Howard Taft, starting in 1909. But it remained for the late General Dwight D. Eisenhower to turn the pastime into a virtual religion after he was elected in 1952.

Since Ike, every president has been a devotee of the game to varying degrees — John F. Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson, Richard Nixon and Gerald Ford. Only Ford, ex-footballer, ardent skier and sports buff, matched Eisenhower's enthusiasm for the fairway game.

pitched well in the second half of the season was that the Orioles played better over-all, he said.

"Our club played very well after June 15," said Palmer. "We had a better record than the Yankees after that. The club has to play well for you to pitch well."

Landry said the Thanksgiving Day game against St. Louis in Texas Stadium will be "the pivotal game."

Borg whips Drysdale, hopes to face Connors

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Stockholm Open tennis tournament still is in its early stages, but Bjorn Borg already is thinking about the ending.

Borg, 20, who has won Wimbledon and World Championship Tennis championships this year, appeared to have little trouble with Drysdale, but said it was not as easy as it looked.

It's always difficult in the first round," he said. "I came here only two days ago and I haven't trained so much. Actually, I'm only satisfied with my backhand tonight."

Herbert Hoover played some golf in his pre-White House years, and records show his name was once posted for delinquency in dues at a fashionable Florida club, but he was too busy with the depression to play much golf while president.

Richard M. Nixon picked up the cudgel but showed little aptitude until he started taking lessons from pro Tony Penna.

Houston Kashmere in 4A, Beaumont Hebert in 3A, Alcedo in A and Gorman in B, rolled into the final week of the regular season firmly clutching the No. 1 ranks in their classifications.

Ninth-ranked Odessa Permian, tied for No. 1 only two weeks ago, was upset by San Angelo 23-6 and dropped out of the 4A top 10 with only a slim chance of making the playoffs.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska linebacker Clete Pilen won The Associated Press college football Lineman of the Week honors, turning the trick against Oklahoma State the same way he harrassed Oklahoma for the award last year.

Whitley earns defensive honors

HOUSTON (AP) — At first Houston's Wilson Whitley thought he might need glasses to correct double vision. Every time he'd line up in a football game he'd rub his eyes and still there would be two men in front of him.

Whitley and defensive end Vincent Greenwood were the chief executioners Saturday when the Cougars paralyzed Texas 30-0 and held the famed wishbone offense to 24 yards rushing.

Whitley and Greenwood each finished with eight tackles in the game and each stopped Jones twice for losses before he could turn on his afterburners.

'Bama picked over ND

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bear Bryant is about to visit Notre Dame for the first time and it is unquestionable whether college football's book of legends can stand the strain. "I've been to South Bend," Bryant notes, "but I've never been in the arena. I'm looking forward to it. Notre Dame is probably the football capital of the world."

Whoa there, Coach. Isn't Tuscaloosa the football capital of the world?

"Only in Alabama."

Alabama and Notre Dame have met twice — in the 1973 Sugar Bowl and the 1974 Orange Bowl — with Notre Dame winning both by a total of only three points. For that little difference, plenty was accomplished. Notre Dame won a national championship and may have cost Alabama two of them.

Right now, Bama is on a 5-0 upgrade after a sluggish 2-2 start — "We've let other people do the coaching the last five games," Bryant says — while

Notre Dame struggled to beat Navy and lost to Georgia Tech after beating five consecutive opponents without allowing a touchdown.

Will it be Bryant the legend or Notre Dame the legend? Let's try... Alabama 17-13.

Last week's score was 46 right, 20 wrong and one tie for a 697 percentage. On the season, it is 431-177-11-709.

Ohio State at Minnesota: Might the Buckeyes be looking ahead to Michigan and might they suffer the same fate that befell Michigan at the hands of Purdue? "There isn't a chance in the world of that for one reason, and you're looking at him," says Woody Hayes... Ohio State 31-14.

Missouri at Oklahoma: With all their troubles, the Sooners still have an outside shot at the Big Eight crown and the Orange Bowl. "We have an opportunity to take it down to the finish against Nebraska," says Coach Barry Switzer... Oklahoma 27-21.

Texas A&M at Arkansas: The Razorbacks ruined the Aggies' perfect 10-0 season a year ago with a 31-6 rout and there is a little revenge motive here... Texas A&M 20-10.

West Virginia at Pitt: The Mountaineers won last year on a last-second field goal. Anything can happen in this neighborhood rivalry, but Pitt is feeling its oats as the new No. 1 team in the land... Pitt 35-14.

UCLA at Oregon State: Will the Bruins be looking ahead to Southern Cal? Probably, but no matter... UCLA 38-6.

Washington at Southern California: Will the Trojans be looking ahead to UCLA? Probably, but no matter... USC 38-6.

Illinois at Michigan: Will the Wolverines be looking ahead to Ohio State? They'll probably be looking back to Purdue, and Illinois will suffer the consequences... Michigan 41-7.

Purdue at Iowa: What can the Boilermakers do for an encore? Would you believe the Upset Special of the Week... Iowa 23-16.

Florida at Kentucky: Despite the loss to Georgia, the Gators can capture a share of the Southeastern Conference crown for the first time with a victory here. Does there always have to be a first time? Second Upset Special... Kentucky 24-17.

Georgia at Auburn: "Champions win their own titles," says Georgia's Vince Dooley. "The Southeastern Conference championship game is at Auburn next Saturday, and that's a tough spot to play." But the Bulldogs can make it to the Sugar Bowl with a win... Georgia 34-17.

Nebraska at Iowa State: "We're a long way from the Orange Bowl," says Nebraska's Tom Osborne. "But we're closer than we were last week." The Cornhuskers will have to put the clamps on Iowa State's explosive offense... Nebraska 27-13.

Colgate at Army: The Red Raiders still are undefeated but the Cadets may be unkind enough to spoil next week's looming battle of the unbeaten with Rutgers... Army 24-17.

Michigan closes out home season

By LARRY PALADINO
AP Sports Writer
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's defensive collapse last week could become a re-lapse this week if the Wolverines aren't careful.

Two consecutive shutout victories preceded their 16-14 upset loss Saturday at Purdue. They were Michigan's third and fourth whitewashes this football season and perhaps they lulled the team into thinking too much of its abilities.

This Saturday the Wolverines host Illinois in their final home game of the year.

"Our defense has got to come to life," Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler said this week. "I have never seen a great team that doesn't have a great defense."

He said Michigan's offense "was lousy" against Purdue, "but the name of the game is defense."

The Boilermakers moved up and down the field almost at will against Michigan, led by the running of Scott Dierking. "I've seen that kid break tackles on everyone when he's healthy," Schembechler said.

Linebacker Calvin O'Neal was Michigan's defensive player of the week against Purdue, but he didn't get much help.

The 6-foot-2, 230-pound senior is the runaway team leader in tackles with 118, including 76 solos. Senior tackle Bo Morton is next with 94 tackles and the next best is linebacker Jerry Vogele—with a full 30 tackles fewer than Morton.

Schembechler said that except to replace injured players he won't make any lineup changes for Saturday's game against Illinois.

Michigan has an 8-1 over-all record and is 5-1 in the Big Ten, while Illinois owns a 4-3 season mark and 3-3 conference record.

'College football' tilt slated

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Johnny Majors offered the romantic view of Saturday's game between his No. 1-ranked Pitt football team and visiting West Virginia.

"Saturday will be what college football is all about," Majors said, "a backyard brawl, the stands filled, bands playing, cheerleaders jumping up and down... that's college football."

College football is also the drive to finish No. 1, the chance for hundreds of thousands of dollars in bowl money, and competing for top high school recruits.

And those elements will also be present for Pitt, which needs a victory to stay on top and likely insure itself the choice of the Orange, Sugar or Cotton bowls.

"It entered my mind possibly to discuss the bowls with a small group of our players this week," Majors said, "but the more I thought about it, the more I thought we had enough to handle."

Pitt gained the top ranking in the wake of Michigan's upset loss last week to Purdue. "I might send Purdue a Christmas card," Majors noted.

Just like Purdue, West Virginia could enhance its 4-3 season mightily with a victory over Pitt, beaten 17-14 last year by the Mountaineers.

"We feel like it's a great challenge to us," West Virginia Coach Frank Cignetti said in a phone interview.

"We just appreciate the opportunity to play not only Pitt but the No. 1 team in the nation."

Cignetti, an assistant coach at Pitt from 1968-69 under Dave Hart, said the Panthers were bolstered by last week's return of quarterback Matt Cavanaugh, who'd missed three games with a hairline ankle fracture.

"Stopping Dorsett may have been the key when they were having quarterback problems," Cignetti said.

"But now that Cavanaugh's back, they've got balance in their offense... It's just a matter of what they decide to do."

Cignetti joined the West Virginia staff in 1970 after a year at Princeton, and he became head coach this season, succeeding Bobby Bowden.

Off the playing field, West Virginia also competes with Pitt for recruits.

"One of the prizes up for grabs this year is Robert Alexander of South Charleston, W. Va., a running back who's his state's top all-time high school scorer with 81 touchdowns."

Cignetti said he thought his team has the inside track on the 6-foot-2, 180-pounder, dubbed "Alexander the Great."

However, Alexander will spend this weekend at Pitt on a recruiting visit.

"It's a long time between now and signing day," Majors said. "I hear he's considering several schools, and I hope Pitt is one of them. We certainly have an opening for him."

View from the Plains...

By J.D. PEER
Parks and Wildlife
LUBBOCK — Travelers going through the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas would agree that the amount of smoke across the plains could mean only one thing — prairie fire. But upon investigating a little closer, they would find burning grain stubble, playa lake beds, fence rows, and even weed patches.

An abundance of this necessary cover is always evident in the fall as landowners harvest the grain, strip the cotton and graze the wheat. Hidden among the weeds and stocks are numerous game birds including the pheasant and quail.

A good forecast for the upcoming hunting season may lead some landowners into believing that even with the 1976 harvest of birds, and adequate number will survive through the winter into the nesting season.

Mild winter temperatures and minimum amounts of snow and rain over the past few years have allowed a sufficient number of game birds to make it to the nesting season, but one of these years (maybe 1976-77), the plains will again experience deep snow, cold winds and a die-off of local game birds.

Leaving a 50-yard strip of grain stock near some winter wheat is one way to insure against this unnecessary waste. Controlled burning of fields is beneficial but the elimination of cover in playa lakes and fence rows as the fire jumps a turn-row or road exposes all wildlife to the elements and their enemies.

Destruction of habitat also crowds the game birds into small areas where disease and an over-harvest of cock birds could occur from hunters and predators.

To help landowners improve the wildlife habitat and carrying capacity of both domestic stock and game birds, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has stationed extension biologists across Texas.

Individuals wanting assistance from the department should contact Richard DeArment, Extension biologist, P&WD, P.O. Box 122, Wheeler, Texas 79396.

The biologist will set up a survey of the land needing improvement with the landowner. A complete management plan will be worked up for that particular property with suggestions for planting specific trees, shrubs and cover. The plan will then be presented to the landowner explaining the reasons for each job. It will be up to the landowner to initiate the program on his property.

With proper habitat management, the plains of Texas could furnish some fine hunting opportunities rivaling Kansas and South Dakota in the number of pheasant per square mile.

There are many reasons sportsmen take to the field in pursuit of big game animals and a huge horn or antler adds spice to the hunt.

To recognize these trophy white-tailed and mule deer, antelope, and aoudad taken in the Panhandle during the 1976 hunting season, the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce will award an Uncle Henry Pro-hunter knife to the individual bagging the largest antlered or horned game animal.

All state game wardens will have the necessary entry forms and will measure and record all game animal entries.

Deadlines for aoudad is Dec. 1 and deer is Dec. 15, and the deadline for antelope has expired. The contest is for the Panhandle regulatory district.

Coin sets will be awarded to second and third place winners as the top trophy hunter receives the knife for each category in late December.

More information is available by contacting your local game warden or Leroy Tillery, Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Braves top Lakers in overtime

By The Associated Press
How does a team lose a 20-point lead in the last quarter, Jerry West?

"We lost our poise," said the Los Angeles Lakers coach, "that's all."

While losing their poise, the Lakers also lost the concept of their game plan and eventually lost the game to the Buffalo Braves — a 121-116 National Basketball Association overtime thriller Tuesday night.

"No way we should have lost it," lamented West. "We won the ball game — it just won't show up in the results."

Theoretically, at least, the Lakers should have won. They held an 89-69 advantage going into the last period, but neglected to go to their strength — center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

The Braves finally tied the game in regulation on Bob McAdoo's shot with two seconds left, then won it in overtime behind Randy Smith's eight points.

'Bama picked over ND

By HERSHEL NISSENSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Bear Bryant is about to visit Notre Dame for the first time and it is unquestionable whether college football's book of legends can stand the strain.

"I've been to South Bend," Bryant notes, "but I've never been in the arena. I'm looking forward to it. Notre Dame is probably the football capital of the world."

Whoa there, Coach. Isn't Tuscaloosa the football capital of the world?

"Only in Alabama."

Alabama and Notre Dame have met twice — in the 1973 Sugar Bowl and the 1974 Orange Bowl — with Notre Dame winning both by a total of only three points. For that little difference, plenty was accomplished. Notre Dame won a national championship and may have cost Alabama two of them.

Right now, 'Bama is on a 5-0 upgrade after a sluggish 2-2 start. "We've let other people do the coaching the last five games," Bryant says — while

Notre Dame struggled to beat Navy and lost to Georgia Tech after beating five consecutive opponents without allowing a touchdown.

Will it be Bryant the legend or Notre Dame the legend? Let's try... Alabama 17-13.

LUBBOCK — Travelers going through the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas would agree that the amount of smoke across the plains could mean only one thing — prairie fire.

But upon investigating a little closer, they would find burning grain stubble, playa lake beds, fence rows, and even weed patches.

An abundance of this necessary cover is always evident in the fall as landowners harvest the grain, strip the cotton and graze the wheat. Hidden among the weeds and stocks are numerous game birds including the pheasant and quail.

A good forecast for the upcoming hunting season may lead some landowners into believing that even with the 1976 harvest of birds, and adequate number will survive through the winter into the nesting season.

Mild winter temperatures and minimum amounts of snow and rain over the past few years have allowed a sufficient number of game birds to make it to the nesting season, but one of these years (maybe 1976-77), the plains will again experience deep snow, cold winds and a die-off of local game birds.

Leaving a 50-yard strip of grain stock near some winter wheat is one way to insure against this unnecessary waste. Controlled burning of fields is beneficial but the elimination of cover in playa lakes and fence rows as the fire jumps a turn-of-row or road exposes all wildlife to the elements and their enemies.

Destruction of habitat also crowds the game birds into small areas where disease and an over-harvest of cock birds could occur from hunters and predators.

To help landowners improve the wildlife habitat and carrying capacity of both domestic stock and game birds, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has stationed extension biologists across Texas.

Individuals wanting assistance from the department should contact Richard DeArment, Extension biologist, P&W, P.O. Box 122, Wheeler, Texas 79096.

The biologist will set up a survey of the land needing improvement with the landowner. A complete management plan will be worked up for that particular property with suggestions for planting specific trees, shrubs and cover. The plan will then be presented to the landowner explaining the reasons for each job. It will be up to the landowner to initiate the program on his property.

With proper habitat management, the plains of Texas could furnish some fine hunting opportunities rivaling Kansas and South Dakota in the number of pheasant per square mile.

There are many reasons sportsmen take to the field in pursuit of big game animals and a huge horn or antler adds spice to the hunt.

To recognize these trophy white-tailed and mule deer, antelope, and aoudad taken in the Panhandle during the 1976 hunting season, the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce will award an Uncle Henry Pro-hunter knife to the individual bagging the largest antlered or horned game animal.

All state game warden will have the necessary entry forms and will measure and record all game animal entries.

Deadlines for aoudad is Dec. 1 and deer is Dec. 15, and the deadline for antelope has expired. The contest if for the Panhandle regulatory district.

Coin sets will be awarded to second and third place winners as the top trophy hunter receives the knife for each category in late December.

More information is available by contacting your local game warden or Leroy Tillery, Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

By DON KENDALL, AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Tractors and other farm machinery continue to be the leading threat to life on farms and appear to be gradually taking a larger toll each year, according to the Agriculture Department.

Twenty years ago, machinery accounted for about 35 per cent of the accidental fatalities on the nation's farms. The rate has gradually risen so that in 1973, the most recent year analyzed, 43 per cent of the accidental farm deaths were due to machines.

Other causes, ranked in order after machinery, and their 1973 shares of the U.S. farm accidental death total compared with the averages in 1954-59 include:

Drowning 14.8 per cent in 1973 and 15.3 per cent in 1954-59; guns 8.2 and 12.2; falls 6.7 and 5.5; blows 6.6 and 8.7; buris 3.8 and 5.0; electricity 4.1 and 3.4; poison 2.0 and 1.6; other 10.8 and 13.0.

The report, issued Monday, did not include fatalities within the farm home itself or in vehicle accidents on public roads.

"Agriculture is unique among industries in that the work environment, including farm land and buildings and certain equipment such as wagons and tractors, is used for recreational as well as occupational purposes," the report said.

"In addition, many farm fatalities are related to recreational activities such as swimming and hunting, and many farm children, youth and adults are killed or maimed each year from accidents occurring around the farmstead which are not the direct result of work exposure."

The report noted that the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 — which provides for federal regulations affecting a broad spectrum of work activity, including agriculture — relates only to hired farm employees and is restricted to occupational hazards.

But sound safety rules could be helpful in reducing accidents even if no hired farm help is required, the report said.

In the machinery category, deaths were included that resulted from persons being "struck by or against an object" or from "being caught between objects as well as those resulting from overturned tractors, traditionally one of the leading kinds of serious farm accidents.

to the Agriculture Department.

Estimated beef production in the nation's federally inspected plants was 453.1 million pounds, down 5 per cent from a year ago. But pork production climbed to 287.8 million pounds, a 33 per cent gain from a year ago, the department said Monday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the lowest wheat prices in at least three years, farmers may plant as much for the 1977 harvest as they did for this year's bumper crop, according to the Agriculture Department.

"Apparently, winter wheat producers have planted heavily again and if moisture improves next spring, wheat plantings may total the 80 million acres for the 1976 crop," the department's Outlook and Situation Board said Monday.

Winter wheat, planted in the fall for harvest the next summer, makes up about three-fourths of total U.S. wheat production. The remainder comes from wheat planted in the spring for harvest the same year.

The 80.2 million acres planted for the 1976 harvest — slightly smaller than 1975's record crop — was the largest acreage since 1949.

The board said that "surprisingly high" wheat prices earlier this year dropped sharply in recent months and "only recently appeared to have bottomed out" at the lowest level in three years.

For all of the 1976-77 wheat marketing season — the 12 months which began last June 1 — the farm price of wheat may average between $2.75 and $3.25 a bushel, the report said.

Last season wheat averaged $3.52 a bushel at the farm; $4.09 in 1974-75; and $4.16 in 1973-74. In 1972-73, just as exports began setting records, wheat averaged $2.23 a bushel.

Washington (AP) — Total red meat production continues to be up from year-earlier marks, currently due to much larger pork output, according to the Agriculture Department.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — High-ranking state government officials, from Gov. Dolph Briscoe on down, can forget about cost-of-living raises if a majority of the Legislative Budget Board gets its way next year.

Dividing mainly on House-Senate lines, the influential board voted 6-2 to freeze salaries of all agency officials whose positions are so high that their salaries are set in line item appropriations.

"That ought to make the phone ring!" said Sen. Tom Creighton, the only senator who voted for the proposal.

The board's version of the general appropriation bill will be introduced when the legislature convenes in January and will be the working draft from which the final measure will be written.

Board members already have recommended raises of 6.8 per cent in 1977 and 5.1 per cent in 1978 for rank-and-file state employees.

College and university executives who are not paid by separate line item appropriations were not included in the freeze but might be later on.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Sen. Pete Snelson, D-Midland, voted against the motion to hold salaries at present levels, while Speaker Bill Clayton, four House members and Creighton voted for it.

At an earlier meeting, some board members had indicated displeasure with the large number of executive salaries in the $30,000 range.

The discussion turned down a different pathway when Rep. Mickey Leland, D-Houston, said he was disturbed by a board staff report showing that only 1.4 per cent of the persons in top-level jobs are black and 4.2 per cent are Mexican-American.

"Eight per cent are women," Mr. Leland, do you think qualifications have anything to do with it?" Creighton said.

"Yes, and I would like to recommend to the agencies that they hire some of the qualified blacks, browns and females to replace some of the unqualified people who are in some of these jobs," said Leland, a black.

Leland asked Creighton if he had read the report.

"I've looked at it," Creighton said.

"It's horrible, isn't it," Leland said.

"Depends on the parameters," Creighton said.

Clayton said, "It does look pretty bad, but we need information on what the openings have been before we can truly evaluate it."

Hobby, the board chairman, said minority hiring is "one of the most critical questions but if you asked how we can address it through the appropriation process, I would have to answer, 'Not very well.'"

Election not official
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Every Texas voter knows by now that Jimmy Carter carried the state Nov. 2 but a good many don't know it will be Dec. 13 before the outcome is official.

On that day the state's electoral delegates will gather in the state Senate chamber and cast their ballots for president.

The outcome is considered certain for Carter because the 26 nominees for the job supposedly pledged to support the party nominees.

Without most voters knowing what they were doing, Texans elected the slate of Democratic electoral delegates Nov. 2 when they cast a vote for the Democratic presidential candidate.

The secretary of state has not worked out details of the Dec. 13 voting ceremonies but one of the first duties of the Texas electoral college will be to choose a replacement for delegate Frank Leatherman of Pittsburgh, who died two weeks ago.

The 25 remaining electoral delegates include Bill Longley, Stamford; John Wehby, Taylor; William McBride, San Leon; Harriet Murphy, Austin; A.S. Weir, Hempstead; Claudette Brown, Nacogdoches; Robert Garrett, Dallas; Linda McCormack, Richardson; Harland Friend, Liberty County; Sen. Lindon Williams, Houston; Charles Osborne, Houston; Charles Dickens, Fort Worth; Don Horn, Harris County; Cruz Hernandez, Fort Worth; Suzanne Richardson, LaPorte;

Julie Scott, Houston; Chalie Maddox, San Antonio; Art Zeitler, Corpus Christi; B.A. Newman, Freer; Joe E. Guerra, Breckenridge; Dan Weiser,

CHICKENS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Truckers never mistake Hugh Fletcher's truck-weighting station for any other. It's the only one that clucks.

"I didn't get the chickens on purpose," says Fletcher, 59, who has nine in a fenced area behind the scales. "The chickens fly off poultry trucks as the trucks pull away from the scales. I holler at the drivers, but they never hear me. Sometimes the chickens are injured falling from the trucks. I nurse them back to health."

Fletcher weighs trucks carrying not only chickens but crushed automobiles, watermelons and tires among other things.

Taste Science Succeeds.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough brings unprecedented taste to low tar smoking.

By "cracking" cigarette smoke down into separate ingredients, researchers at Philip Morris discovered very special "key" flavor units that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.'

The cigarette packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco is MERIT. At 9 mg., one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

Yet, MERIT actually packs the taste of cigarettes having more tar.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1976

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Up to 60% more tar.
If you smoke, you'll be interested.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

Tests Verify Taste

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against current leading low tar cigarettes ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were tested. The majority reported that even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar than MERIT, MERIT delivered as much — or more — taste.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.
