The Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-PFLP-issued a statement in Beirut. Lebanon, claiming responsibility for the shooting. The captured terrorist told Israeli authorities he had been paid by a guerrilla organization, but he did not say which one.

-The Popular Front said the massacre was in retaliation for the killing by Israeli troops of two Palestinian hijackers of a Belgian Sabena jetliner at the Tel Aviv airport three weeks ago.

Apparently referring to the fact that the gunmen were not Arabs, the statement said the attack reaffirmed "solidarity of world revolutionary forces and proves that the

But the 55-year-old former Texas governor gave no hint of his future plans in a brief goodby speech to Treasury workers Tuesday. He has been mentioned as a possible running mate to President Nixon this fall, or perhaps the next secretary of state should Nixon be reelected.

Pampa Area Has Power To Spare While and all but three of the crew.

> By RAY BAXTER In a season approaching when acute energy shortages are predicted for most of the nation, this area has power to spare-22 per cent more than customers

> -That is the word of Edward G. Weber, official of Southwestern Public Service Company. He said that margin to the good is based on the established generating capacity measured against the most pessimistic consumer load. With the coming of summer the sound of clicking will again be heard on the land-the voracious gnashing of switches taking huge bites of energy for everything from air conditioners to swimming pool

Their number has become legion and existing supplies of energy may not be enough to fill the gapping maw of their appetite.

This is because we have been feeding energy off the pantry shelf rather than the front burner. A growing shortage does not necessarily mean sufficient resources are not now available. They just have not been added to the supply.

This may be because energy is like a paycheck-taken for granted until it is missing.

the nation's energy comes from oil and gas; four per cent is hydroelectric (water generated) and less than one per cent is nuclear.

In converting this fuel to energy up to two-thirds of it is ost as escaping heat and other waste. Add to this the fact that large electric generating units have about 60 per cent reliability in the first three years of operation which means full power output is available about half the time.

Meanwhile, back at the switch, public consumption is at an all time high.

New methods of producing. storing and transmitting electric energy are being studied with no timetable for any workable alternatives. Into this time-energy gap.

Co. is placing a lot of money, a lot more technology-and getting impressive results. According to Roy Tolk. president of the electric company, $144-million has been budgeted for the years 1972-76 with the planned addition of 600,000 kilowatts to the new Clifford B. Jones station near Lubbock is done with reclaimed water (sewage effluent) conserving six million gallons of fresh water. That is enough to supply the needs of a city the size of Pampa. A late-figuring factor in an adequate supply of energy is the impact on physical environment-ecology, if you please. In the rapid growth of energy consumption the past few years there have been cases where electric plants were designed and environmental protection a "Rube Goldberg" addition later rather than as an integral part.

Not so with SWPS. Among its efforts to conserve the resources of this region is a planned "combined cycle" unit for the Riverview Station near Borger. This combined cycle unit is a

Insurance Board Head Predicts Auto Premium Rate Decrease

AUSTIN (AP) - Texans should get a car insurance rate decrease this summer, State Insurance Board Chairman Larry Teaver predicts.

"I think we are looking at a reduction." Teaver said in an interview Tuesday

The board will hold its annual auto insurance rate hearing July 24. New rates will take effect Sept. 1. unless an increase is ordered and the U.S. Price, Commission delays it.

President Nixon's wageprice freeze last summer kept the board from ordering the 2.8 per cent average rate hike recommended by its staff.

Current rates have been in effect since Jan. 1, 1971, when the board ordered a 14 per cent boost. There has been no reduction since 1967, when rates were cut an average of onetenth of 1 per cent statewide for private passenger cars.

Underwriting profits are at an all-time high, in addition to investment profits," Teaver said of the companies that write car insurance in Texas.

He said, however, these profits are on a national basis, and the board's actuaries have just begun analyzing the companies' premiums and paid losses in Teaver hopes he can get board members Durwood Manford and Ned Price lo agree to reduce the amount of premiums allowed for inflation and for insurance company expenses. Before it increased rates 14 per cent in January 1971, the board raised lhe inflation factor to the companies benefit. Teaver said almost a fifth of the increase was due to this change.

The more than 600 lay and clergy delegates attending the annual conference became embroiled in heated debate Tuesday before endorsing a proposal to establish a legal aid fund for the poor in San Antonio.

The proposal calls for offering the poor "an alternative to the court-appointed attorney system" that would give priority to San Antonio's predominantly black East Side.

The proposal was the result of an issue that erupted here at last year's conference, when representatives of the Student National Coordinating Committee accused the group of not relating to the needs of the poor Earlier Tuesday, the confer-

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) -General Dynamics Corp. has stoutly denied federal charges that the firm and four present and former officials conspired to defraud the government.

A federal indictment, returned Tuesday in U.S. District Court in Dallas, accused General Dynamics of charging the Air Force for defective parts for the F111 fighter-bomber.

State House Unit Discusses Ways To Solve Fund Deficit

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - The Texas House Appropriations Committee eyed ways Tuesday to solve a multi-million dollar general fund deficit, meeting here in what one critic called a publicity stunt.

Committee members tossed around several ideas for cutting the state budget during the 212 hour meeting. One suggested that the panel review approfor Texas Tech, while another questioned the amount of state money spent on kindergarten programs.

Thomas Keel of the Legislatuve Budget Board told the committee that a general fund deficit of $109.2 million is projected for fiscal 1973. He pointed

Rules guaranteed to keep company comin

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the 28-year-old mother of four who tacked a poster on her door with "rules" to keep visitors away.

Well, I'm a 38-year-old mother of six, and I'm amazed that anyone would want that much privacy. We're newcomers who live in the country, and I'm stuck out here with six . kids, two dogs and three cats. I'm so hungry for company, I'm ready to go out on the road and flag down some strang-

Please print my "poster" in the paper for all to read: • You may smoke inside, outside, on the roof, or anywhere you wish, just don't burn the house down.

 If you're hungry, help yourself to anything you can find. And if you can't find anything, ask one of the kids. They'll fix you a peanut butter and brown sugar sandwich. • If you're here around mealtime, grab a chair and

• If you want to stay overnight, bring a sleeping bag and we'll move some clutter from the corner to make room

• Bring your kids. We have so many, a few more won't make any difference.

 We can't lend you any money, but go ahead and ask anyway. It will make us feel good to know we appear that prosperous.

 Tell us your troubles and we'll tell you ours. One of our kids can play the violin for background music, and we can all cry together.

• If you can stand us, we can stand you, so drop in anytime and stay as long as you like. We're people who like people.

MIDGE IN WATSONVILLE, CAL.

DEAR MIDGE: You sound like the kind of person I'd like to know. I'll bet you won't be hungry for company long.

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for printing a letter which let me know that I am not alone in this world. [A woman placed a poster on her front door to discourage unwanted company.] Some time ago I placed a sign on MY door which read,

"DO NOT DISTURB. NIGHT WORKER!" It didn't help. People still rang my bell, twisted the doorknob, beat on the door and yelled, "ANYBODY HOME?" Some even went around to look in the windows! When I realized that I needed something stronger, I

'ADMISSION $1.00-NO ONE ADMITTED FREE" That sign did the job. Nobody bothered me after that. Now I notice two other signs, just like raine in the neighborhood.

LONE WOLF IN JASPER, ALA.

DEAR WOLF: So far you've been lucky that some curious stranger hasn't demanded to know what you are offering for a dollar.

DEAR ABBY: When I read the letter signed "ALL" TORN UP" describing a husband who was Johnny-on-thespot to do chores for the neighbors, while his own remained undone, I was reminded of how my mother solved the same

My father was a wonderful mechanic who worked daily at his job from 8 till 5. We lived on a small ranch, and during his "free" hours he was supposed to do all the things one must do on a ranch, such as milking, irrigation, fencemending, barn repairs, etc.

Friends and neighbors would meet Dad at the gate as he came home, with, "if you have a minute will you please check my brakes, the timing, or the radiator?" Dad, being the big-hearted man he was, never said no. His hot dinner was often eaten cold. Weekends he spent repairing a friend's car, truck or tractor while his own ranch work was left undone. Mother often made minor repairs or irrigated with the aid of a flashlight. [This after she had done her own work during the day.]

Finally Mother had "notices" printed and passed them out to these unsolicited "customers." They read:

"MECHANIC ON DUTY MON. THRU FRI. 6 P. M. to 8 P. M. Charge $8 per hour. SAT. AND SUN. 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Charge $10. per hour. These charges are to cover cost of the handyman I have had to hire to do Mr.---ranch chores.'

You have no idea how fast these freeloaders learned to do their own repairing or found another patsy. SUN BONNET SUE

All Becoming Cities?

According to the recently issued final report of the President's Commission on Population Growth and the American Future, at least 50 million people will be added to the U.S. population before the end of this century-and almost all of them will live in the cities.

The report notes that even in 1970, nearly 70 per cent of the population was metropolitan and that this figure will approach 85 per cent by the vear 2000.

For better or worse," it concluded. "we are in the process of becoming an almost totally urban society.

There is a lot of talk about the need for something like 100 brand-new cities to accommodate this population increase. But one student of the problem disagrees.

There are arguments against the idea of scores of new cities rising unnaturally on the rirgin landscape and lacking the cultural traditions of present communities." says Dr. Charles Kimball, president of the Midwest Research Institute. a Kansas City. Dear Dr. Lamb-My younger sister on the West Coast had a blood pressure of 134 over 84. Her doctor said the maximum was 130 over 80 and if she didn't get immediate treatment she would die. She convinced me to get a check-up and my blood pressure was 136 over 86. My doctor said it was fine, that the maximum was 140 over 90, but it tended to creep up in a person my age. He said I shouldn't gain weight and if the pressure got higher we would have to

Dear Reader-The official opinion of the American Heart Assn. and the American Medical Assn. is that a blood pressure of 140 over 90 or below is normal. I can add to this from personal experience that there are a large number of healthy, young Air Force pilots with blood pressures higher than 130 over 80 who are flying aircraft today and a few as-ist who feels that 130 over 80 is abnormal. Blood pressure varies from time to time. It can be sharply elevated during the anxiety of a medical examination, only to subside to much lower limits immediately thereafter. For this reason, most doctors will prefer to have more than one blood pressure reading in a variety of settings be fore deciding what its sig nificance really is. Now, it is true that the higher the blood pressure the greater the increased likelihood of eventually having a heart attack. Thus, individuals who have blood pressure on the low...side as a group are probably better off. It is also true that one of the most effective ways of preventing high blood pressure or its initial treatmert in individuals who have mild elevation of blood pressure is weight loss. Many individuals after a significant loss of excess tat develop relatively normal blood pressure, even though they might have had quite significant elevations before

Dear Dr. Lamb-I used to exercise 15 to 20 minutes right before going to bed each night because I fell asleep faster, felt better in the morning and seem to have had more energy and be more alert the next day. Then I read somewhere that exercise at that time is not good for you, so I quilt altogether. (Other times are not as convenient.) I have decided to get a medical opinion. Do you think exercise at night before going to bed is harmful? I am a 17-yearold girl?

Dear Reader-Of course not. Some people do not like to exercise at that-time because it energizes them and they feel awake when they would like to feel drowsy and go to sleep. That apparently was not your problem. Other individuals who eat large, heavy meals, particularly those who have pre-ceded their meals with a couple of cocktails, seldom want to exercise at that

Inside Washington

Whether East or out West Ne'er the McGoverns Meet

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON - Sen George McGovern is now busily talking out of both sides of his mouth about enacting sweeping tax reform in the interest of the "little man" -- one of his principal electioneering gimmicks.

In his frenetic stumping in California, the South Dakota leftist is loudly portraying himself as an indomitable crusader against tax finagling by corporations and the rich. With righteous indignation he avows unyielding determination to make them pay their rightful share.

But in the East, McGovern is soothingly and placatingly crooning a very different tune--as a man of reason. moderation and restraint.

In a remarkable full-page ($8,000) ad in the prestigious Wall Street Journal carrying McGovern's personal signature, he solemnly declares that, far from harboring malevolent designs against business and the well-to-do, he is thinking merely in terms of "suggestions" on how best to bring about a more fair and equitable tax system.

Perhaps most significant of all. McGovern admits it is Congress and not the President that writes the tax laws.

That is absolutely true. But he has yet to say it on the hustings. In righteously denouncing tax loopholes and exemptions in his electioneering harangues. McGovern stridently pledges prompt and sweeping crackdowns. But never once in these vote-wooing spiels does he say one word about the fact that it is not the President who makes the tax laws but Congress.

In all of McGovern's interminable stumping across the country, he has never once said that in a speech.

But he spells it out plainly and frankly in his $8,000 full-page ad in the Wall Street Journal, as follows: "I am well aware that under our system only Congress initiates tax measures. The suggestions which I have developed in this field should. therefore, be regarded always as suggestions for consideration by Congress.

That's a very different refrain from the one he fantastically proclaims on the hustings when he tells audiences what "I will do if elected President.

Slick Art The twofold purpose behind this bald demagoguery is-(1) in California to capture the state's 271 convention delegates: (2) in the East to wangle campaign contributions from well-heeled bankers, brokers, businessmen and liberals and do-gooders.

The Wall Street Journal ad was aimed squarely at the latter

The ad appeared only in the Eastern edition of the Journal: it was not published in the Midwestern and West Coast editions

While the ad, in the form of a personal letter to a rich Wall Street supporter, bore McGovern's signature, it actually was ghostwritten-by a smart tax lawyer and a deft adman. It was a shrewd and canny job; one of the smoothest and trickiest vet produced in the Presidential campaign.

Interestingly, it was a cold-eyed analysis in depth of McGovern's "tax reform and income redistribution' programs in the Wall Street Journal that triggered this two-timing ad.

The Journal's realistic appraisal of McGovern's far-reaching schemes to 'fundamentally change the entire (capitalistic) system" had cold-blanket effect on Wall Street contributors. Following his Wisconsin triumph, his partisans started getting juicy ontributions from fat-cat Wall streeters and other financial circles. But the Journal's study bluntly telling it as it really is chilled these money sources to the bone. They virtually stopped forking over. To calm and reassure them. he ingenious idea was conceived of publishing a full-page slickly-worded ad in the Journal-over McGovern's personal signature.

In effect, what the South Dakotan demagogically did in this ghostwritten razzle-dazzle is to pussyfoot, mushmouth. back-and-fill, hem-and-haw all over the place for the obvious purpose of conveying the impression that he doesn't mean what he says he means.

From start to finish all through the ad. McGovern never once said, "This is what I will do if elected"--as he so vociferously proclaims on the stump. Instead. he constantly stressed that he was merely "suggesting" this and that as a possible reform.

Example: The Journal's study stated flatly that McGovern advocates a "tough minimum income tax imposed on taxpayers with total incomes over $50.000" -- which the Journal pointed out McGovern claims would produce an additional $6 billion in Federal revenue.

But in McGovern's ad, he blandly denied that is his intention. Said McGovern. "I have not suggested the imposition of an income ceiling at $50,000 or any other level. have said that 'one possible formula' for minimum income tax would be to tax incomes in excess of $50,000 at 75 per cent of the current statutory rate. regardless of tax minimizing devices employed.

Example: Similarly, the Journal analysis stated flatly that McGovern would "phase out depletion allowances for oil and minerals. But in McGovern's ad he blandly declared. "I have not suggested that the true economic cost of physical depletion. depreciation, and obsolescence be disregarded in measuring income...And I have specifically acknowledged that special tax provision may be required in new areas of corporate responsibility. And so on and on and on--twisting and turning. dodging and fuzzing to quiet and allay the fears and alarms of Wall Street liberals and other possible fat-cat contributors.

Among McGovern insiders. the cautious word is that the ad 'did a lot of good.'

No figure is given, but it is claimed "plenty of money is coming in.

The South Dakota leftist certainly needs it-with more than $2 million budgeted for the crucial California primary next week, and another $1 million for the equally important June 20 primary in New York.

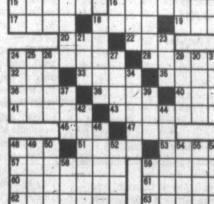

Conservative estimates are that McGovern's 18-month campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination will cost well over $7.5 million. Answer to Previous Puzzle
