U.S. Chess Star Makes Apology To Match Rival

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer made a full and penitent apology to Boris Spassky today, and organizers of the world chess championship match said the two would meet for their first game Sunday night.

The organizers said it had been agreed in principle to hold the drawing tonight to determine which player would have the white pieces and with them the first move.

The young American, in a letter delivered by hand this morning to the world chess champion from the Soviet Union, apologized for his "disrespectful behavior."

Fischer, whose delayed arrival doubled the prize money for both him and Spassky but also started an avalanche of confusion, asked the Russian to "accept my sincerest apology."

"I simply became carried away by my petty dispute over money with the Icelandic chess organizers," he wrote.

The written apology from the American challenger was one of the chief conditions posed by the Russians before Spassky would sit down at the chess board with Fischer.

Fischer told Spassky, "I have offended you and your country, the Soviet Union, where chess has a prestigious position."

The temperamental American also apologized to Dr. Max Euwe, president of the International Chess Federation, the Icelanders, "the thousands of fans around the world and especially to the millions of fans and the many friends I have in the United States."

Wallace To Attend Convention

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — George C. Wallace, partially paralyzed but still seeking the presidency, ends a 53-day hospital stay Friday and flies to the Democratic National Convention where he will disclose his plans for the future.

Aides say the Alabama governor will make an important political announcement on his arrival in Miami Beach.

But before that announcement, Wallace will stop briefly in Montgomery, Ala. Lt. Gov. Jere Beasley has been acting governor since June 4. Wallace was shot while campaigning in Laurel, Md., on May 15.

Wallace has been fitted with leg braces and a 32-inch-high walking bar so he can swing his legs along without the aid of another person.

He lifts 50-pound weights daily and is doing scores of pushups from his wheelchair with the aid of therapy bars. He has lost weight but does not appear gaunt.

However, Fischer brushed aside a demand from the Soviet Chess Federation that he forfeit the first match because of his tardy arrival. He said this "would place me at a tremendous handicap" and he didn't believe the "world's champion desires such an advantage in order to play me."

"I know you to be a sportsman and a gentleman, and I am looking forward to some exciting chess games with you," Fischer concluded.

Earlier Euwe had met other demands the Russians made on him and suggested that the start of the match be delayed further.

Euwe, president of the International Chess Federation, said he didn't penalize Fischer for his late arrival in Iceland because the American challenger is "living in another world." He said Spassky, the Russian world title holder, was "very upset" and that he would like to give him another week before the first game.

Euwe also admitted he had violated the rules in allowing two previous postponements in the start of the match. He promised strict rule enforcement in the future.

The 24-game series between Fischer and Spassky had been scheduled to start Sunday. Fischer stayed in New York holding out for more money, and Euwe postponed the start of the match until Tuesday. Fischer arrived that day, but the Russians objected to his conduct and Euwe put the start off until today.

Fischer apologized Wednesday for delaying the start of the match, but the Russians demanded apologies in writing. Then they demanded that Fischer forfeit the first game.

The American's apology, read by a spokesman at a news conference, said: "We are sorry the world championship was delayed. The problems causing the delays were not with world champion Spassky whom I respect as a man and admire as a player."

Later Yefim Geller, the Soviet grandmaster acting as Spassky's second, told another news conference the Russians wanted Euwe to condemn the American's conduct and accept blame himself for violating the federation's rules.

Euwe came forward and condemned Fischer, conceded he himself had broken the rules and added: "I apologize."

Asked if the Russians were satisfied, Geller said they wanted it all in writing. Euwe took a pen from his pocket and said, "I can write it now," and began drafting a letter.

Geller then said the Soviet Chess Federation had told Euwe he should award the first game to Spassky by forfeit, but Euwe said he did not consider the request official.

Then Euwe put forward his idea of another postponement.

High Court Asked To Settle Issue On California Delegates

Appeals Already Filed To U.S. Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposing Democratic forces today asked Chief Justice Warren E. Burger to convene a rare special session of the Supreme Court in a political-legal tangle. The decision carries with it Sen. George McGovern's renewed hopes for a first-ballot presidential nomination.

The Democratic party hierarchy and forces of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley both are fighting a U.S. appeals court ruling but for different reasons.

The party hierarchy asked Burger to suspend the effect of the appeals court ruling, which Wednesday overrode the party Credentials Committee to allow McGovern to recover 151 California convention delegates.

The Daley forces are seeking just the opposite effect, contending that federal courts should intervene in order to seat Daley and 58 other Illinois delegates ousted by the Credentials Committee.

There was no indication when the chief justice might act.

The Court of Appeals restored to McGovern the full 271-vote California reversing the committee's vote to take more than half the number from him and apportion them to other primary candidates, chiefly Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

The court suspended the effect of its rulings until 2 p.m. today to give the high court time to act if it wishes. The Supreme Court has held only three special sessions in its history.

"We feel this case is as compelling and more compelling" than those which prompted the other sessions, said Democratic National Committee counsel Joseph A. Califano in Miami Beach. "The courts should not get involved in selecting delegates."

McGovern forces announced Wednesday afternoon that the appeals-court action gave their candidate more than the 1,509 delegate votes needed for nomination.

The Associated Press delegate count, which does not list officially uncommitted delegates who are leaning toward a candidate, showed McGovern with 1,436.65 votes.

But Humphrey was in no mood to concede. He noted that the Supreme Court had not yet spoken, and argued further that the party itself would be the ultimate judge.

Humphrey conceded that it would be "quite a hassle" if the convention ignores the court, but said he felt it has the right to do so.

The appeals court based its intervention on the conclusion that the party had ignored its own rules to the point where constitutional guarantees due process were violated. California law awarded all the delegates to the winner.

The 2-1 decision overturned a U.S. District Court which ruled Monday that the judiciary has no jurisdiction in partisan processes unless a clear constitutional principle is involved. The lower court found no constitutional question in that case.

In the Illinois case, the appeals court was unanimous in finding that the party could reject Illinois delegates on grounds the selection did not conform to party rules.

The 59 uncommitted Illinois delegates, led by Daley, were challenged on grounds they were chosen in a closed slate-making process and that they underrepresented women, minorities and young people.

McGovern Proposal Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today Sen. George McGovern's proposal to slash defense spending by $30 billion "would signal to the world a drastic decline in America's will and ability to contribute to international stability."

Leading the Nixon administration attack against the Democratic presidential nomination front-runner on the eve of the Miami Beach convention, Laird again characterized McGovern's defense program as "tantamount to a white flag of surrender."

The so-called white flag budget substitutes a philosophy of give-away now, beg later, for a philosophy of strength and willingness to negotiate "as followed by the Nixon administration, Laird said at a news conference in which he released two documents containing the Pentagon's analysis of McGovern's proposals.

The Defense chief first referred to McGovern's plan as representing the white flag of surrender in a June 5 appearance before Sen. William Proxmire's foreign operations subcommittee and in response to Proxmire's request agreed to present a detailed analysis backing up his charge.

'Peaceful' Convention Predicted

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Police and demonstrators alike predicted next week's Democratic National Convention should be more peaceful as a result of the City Council's decision to let protest groups camp in a public park.

Within an hour Wednesday after the council reversed an earlier ban on campsites, more than 100 young people moved into the 36-acre Flamingo Park five blocks from where the Democrats will nominate their presidential candidate.

The young people began to set up tents and roll out sleeping bags while some took their first showers in days at park facilities.

"We believe that with a controlled site we will be better able to control law and order," Police Chief Rocky Pomerance said.

He said the park is fenced to help provide crowd control, has a hedge on one side to give an "aesthetic screen" to the residential neighborhood and has lights at night for security.

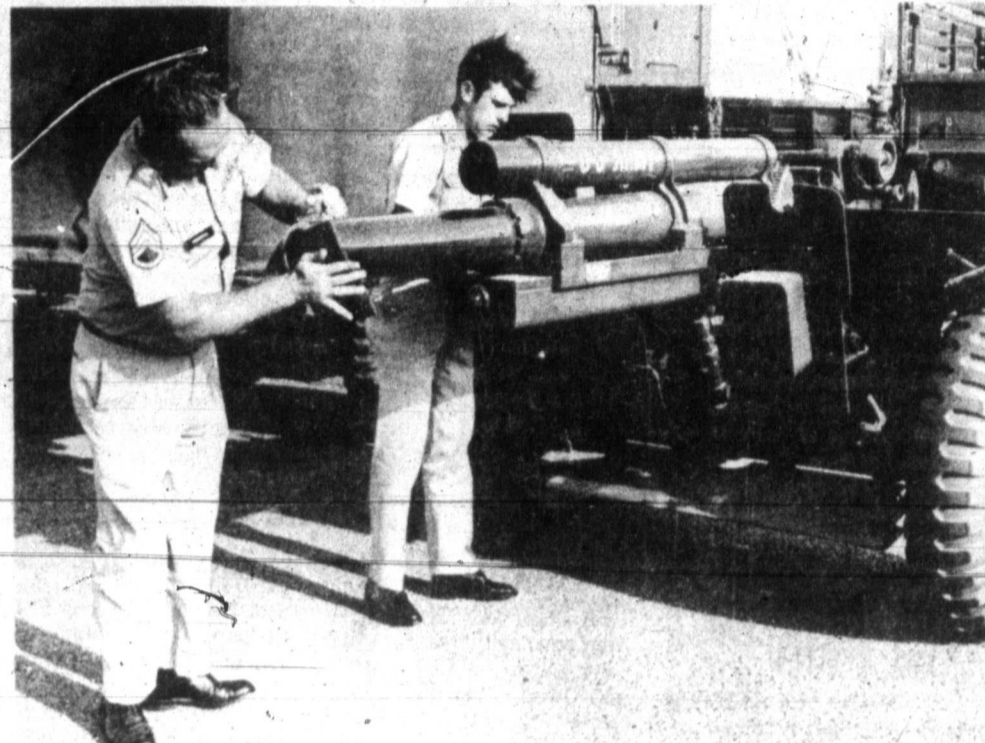

"This eases the situation considerably. Now we can concentrate on mapping our demonstration strategy," said Zippie leader Eddie Harper.

More than 200 young people — representing diverse groups from Vietnam Veterans Against the War to Gay Activists — danced, shouted and waved banners to proclaim their victory following the council's 4-2 vote to provide a campsite in Flamingo Park.

The action reversed a 5-2 vote two weeks ago in which the council refused to grant the camping area. The issue was reinstated at the insistence of Mayor Chuck Hall, who said the welfare and safety of Miami Beach's 87,000 residents and convention visitors could depend on a favorable vote.

Specifically, Flamingo Park was allotted to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference to act as an "umbrella group" for other protest groups.

Red China, Russia May Press North Vietnamese To End War

LONDON (AP) — Western diplomats have been speculating on chances that Russia and China may separately be urging North Vietnam toward a peace settlement ever since President Nikolai V. Podgorny visited Hanoi and Henry A. Kissinger visited Peking last month.

But these officials representing countries with missions in Moscow, Peking and Hanoi, reported today they have seen absolutely no evidence to suggest that the Russians or Chinese in fact are exercising any effective pressures on North Vietnam.

In the one sector where Moscow and Peking could reinforce any advice in favor of a settlement—in the supply of arms and other military aid—there has been no sign of a cutoff of aid.

And these Western authorities said they doubt very much if the competing Russians and Chinese would expose themselves to charges of betraying Hanoi by seeming to turn on them so soon before the resumption of the Paris peace talks next week.

Spokesmen for the Soviet and Chinese embassies here declined formal comment on a report that their governments have been pressing Hanoi to end the war soon.

Speaking privately, one Russian official said any authoritative statement relating to Soviet policy on Vietnam would not be made in London but in Moscow.

A source close to the Chinese embassy said: "No member of the Chinese mission could conceivably discuss Peking's dealings with Hanoi in this way."

During his mission to Moscow, President Nixon devoted hours of his time to discussing with Soviet leaders ways of ending the Vietnam war. It became everyone's secret that he sought Soviet help toward that goal.

In the wake of Nixon's visit, President Podgorny journeyed to Hanoi where, Western diplomats said, he got a lukewarm reception.

Western authorities still are unsure if this was due to Hanoi's resentment against the Russians for permitting the summit talks to take place at a time when U.S. bombing was going on and U.S. mining of North Vietnamese ports was taking place. That could have been a factor. Another factor could have been Hanoi's hostility to the advice Podgorny was offering.

Washington (AP)—The federal government reports encouraging progress in its efforts to combat heroin traffic in 33 U.S. cities.

Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst said Wednesday that 900 suspected heroin pushers have been arrested in 10-day periods ending Tuesday.

In addition, agents have seized sizeable quantities of heroin and other drugs, as well as cash and weapons. He said special grand juries have been empaneled in the 33 cities and 600 witnesses and suspects have been subpoenaed to testify.

Ambrose added that an important aspect of the program is to keep heroin out of the hands of potential addicts. "The thousands who will experiment with it if it is available."

Two Hijackers, Passenger Die In Gun Battle On Pirated Jet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "We wanted to stop the hijacking and stop it we did," said the FBI special agent in charge, describing how authorities stormed a pirated aircraft and killed two hijackers in a gun battle while passengers were still aboard.

Officials said shots fired by one of the hijackers killed a passenger and wounded two others after federal agents charged aboard an interstate Pacific Southwest Airlines Boeing 737 taken over by two hijackers for six hours Wednesday.

"Certainly we're not pleased that three passengers were wounded," said Robert Gebhardt, FBI special agent in charge. He made the comment before learning that one of the passengers had died.

"But," he said in response to a reporter's question, "somebody had to make a decision." Three FBI men who had sneaked up under the fuselage of the plane rushed aboard after the hijackers refused to release 81 passengers, Gebhardt said.

The slain hijackers had demanded two parachutes, $800,000 and passage to Siberia shortly after taking the plane over in the air, officials said.

Gebhardt said the FBI men moved in on the plane only after the hijackers refused to release the passengers until the ransom was handed over.

"I saw two FBI men enter the plane," said Dr. Manuel Alvarez, 58, of Sacramento, Calif., a passenger.

"The first came through with his hands on his head, and the second came up shooting, blasting away with a shotgun."

The hijacker "crumpled to the floor," said Alvarez. The FBI said the gunman had an automatic in each hand but did not open fire.

In the rear of the plane, the other hijacker had another automatic and fired at least three shots, the FBI said.

The second hijacker went down almost immediately from FBI gunfire, Gebhardt said, and like the other was dead on arrival at the hospital.

The hijackers also held the plane's five crew members. It was the first time the FBI had charged aboard a loaded passenger airliner to put an end to a hijacking.

Wednesday's hijacking occurred at 10:10 a.m., shortly after the plane left the airport in Sacramento on a flight to Los Angeles via San Francisco. It landed at San Francisco International Airport; then took off, circled the city and landed again.

The gunman killed Wednesday were identified from cards in their pockets as Dimitri Alexieff, 28, of Hayward, Calif., and Michael Azmanoff, 28, of San Francisco.

The passenger dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital in nearby Burlingame was E. H. Stanley Carter, 66, identified as a retired Canadian National Railway conductor from Longueuil, Que.

U.S. Navy Jets Strike Red Quang Tri Defense

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers pounded North Vietnamese bunkers south of Quang Tri City today, trying to blast open a path for a task force of South Vietnamese paratroopers advancing on the enemy-held provincial capital.

Associated Press correspondent Dennis Neel reported from the northern front that the carrier planes bombed a line of bunkers about 2½ miles from the center of Quang Tri City. The bunker was concealed in a row of homes shaded by trees and flanking Highway 1. Two companies of North Vietnamese troops, perhaps 200 or more men, were reported entrenched in the bunkers and firing on the paratroopers despite the air attacks.

Other paratroopers penetrated the city limits Tuesday but took up defensive positions on the southern edge.

Reliable sources said Lt. Gen. Ngo Quang Truong, commander of the 20,000-man counteroffensive, is moving cautiously in hopes of keeping his casualties to a minimum.

Senators Expected To Vote On State Budget Bill Today

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A set of proposed Senate rules worked out with the approval of the outgoing and incoming lieutenant governors was on the Senate agenda again today. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said the Senate might "possibly" vote on the one-year state budget—the main business of the 30-day special legislative session. The House already has prepared a resolution to wind up the session at 5 p.m. Friday. The Senate made two major changes in the 53-page package of "reform" rules Wednesday, cutting out provisions to open secret sessions to the press and public and to give the lieutenant governor unlimited authority to create new committees. After a 20-11 vote defeated an attempt to clamp a time limit—probably just over 24 hours—on filibusters, the Senate broke off

1-1/2 hours of debate until today. An 18-13 vote on a motion by Austin Sen. Charles Herring eliminated a proposed provision to make closed-door sessions on appointments by the governor public affairs unless a majority of the Senate votes to conduct them in private. Herring's amendment restored the current secret session, which cannot be opened unless two-thirds of the 31-member Senate votes to do so. Herring said if the public and press were allowed to listen to the Senate debate an appointee's qualifications, "it could destroy the man's reputation and hurt his family and friends." House members approved a resolution Wednesday which opponents claimed was an attempt to reverse the trend toward integration. Sponsors said the issue was merely whether a legislator was for or against busing. By a 107-13 vote, the House sent to the Senate the resolution asking Congress to call a convention to propose an amendment to the U.S. Constitution which would say: "No student shall be assigned to nor compelled to attend any particular school on account of race, religion, color or national origin." A June 22 ruling by Barnes prohibiting the Senate from considering concurrent resolutions on topics outside the governor's instructions for the session might stymie the "anti-busing" proposal in the Senate. Rep. Carlos Truan, Corpus Christi, said the resolution would "perpetuate segregation."

Rep. Price Discusses Spending At Area Meet

MCLEAN—"People want to know when we are going to quit spending so much money...and my answer is when liberals like my opponent quit voting for it." Congressman Bob Price told a Town Hall Meeting at the American National Bank here Wednesday.

Officers Check New Lead In Motel Holdup

The Gray County Sheriff's Department is checking out two possible suspects in the holiday robbery of a local motel. An employee of a local store reported seeing two men answering the general description of the men outside the place where he works. They were driving an older model dark car.

One of them entered his store and made every aisle then bought two cents worth of matches. According to the official report of the incident the man was so suspicious of the customer that he put a gun in his pocket.

The stranger was described as about 19 years old, ruddy complexioned and dressed in dark pants and light shirt. He left the store and when the employee left at closing time the men and their car were gone.

Just a few days ago, the Congress voted to increase the limit of the national debt from $400 billion dollars to $450 billion dollars. I opposed this increase and my opponent voted for it. "Of every dollar spent about 40 cents goes for red tape. We have created this waste ourselves. The interest alone on the national debt is $22 billion each year. When I went to the Congress five years ago, it stood at $13 billion. In another five years it will reach $30."

Price predicted the trend will continue. "Welfare recipients have become a voting bloc just as labor has," he said. "In many cases they will vote for the man who will support their legislation. If effect they have bought themselves a candidate."

This is what a handful of men in Amarillo are trying to do again...buy themselves a candidate so they can tell him how to vote.

"One of the things we have discussed is a home for elderly citizens in McLean. We are working with you on this project and you have demonstrated your interest in providing matching funds to make this dream a reality."

Soviets In Houston To Work Out Steps For U.S.-Russ Space Flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A 25-member team of Soviet Space experts arrives here today to start ironing out final details with an American team on plans for a joint U.S.-Russian space flight.

The delegation was to arrive early this morning and then formally meet with the American team at 4 p.m. EDT to exchange proposals regarding the planned joint space mission. The first formal working session will be Friday.

Glynn S. Lunney, head of the American delegation planning the mission, called the Apollo-Soyuz Test Project, said the discussions will last about two weeks and will include final, precise details on the mission.

The discussions, he said, could result in decisions on "precisely how we are going to do the mission, when we are going to do things and who is going to be doing things."

"We have had a variety of possible test missions described," he said. "We hope that by the end of this meeting we can conclude what the model (plan) will be."

Preliminary plans call for an American-Apollo spacecraft with three astronauts aboard to be launched first, followed a day or so later by a launch from the Soviet Union of the Russians' Soyuz spacecraft with two cosmonauts on board.

The two craft will rendezvous and dock, using a new compatible docking system. There would then be an exchange of visits by crewmen. They will use a docking module, to be built in the U.S., for the transfer. The module will form a link between the craft and act as a pre-breathing chamber to permit the crewmen to acclimate themselves to differences in the atmospheres of the two spacecraft.

Tentative date of the mission is June, 1975, and Lunney said North American Rockwell, builder of the Apollo, will start building the docking module next year.

Church Calls For Harmony And Unity HOUSTON (AP) — The 21st Biennial Clergy-Laity Congress of the Greek Orthodox Church in North and South America approved a report Wednesday night calling for unity and harmony in the church.

The report cited a strain in the "household of orthodoxy" and acknowledged that improved relations within orthodoxy should receive the utmost priority.

"We often anguish when some of the ecumenical bodies to which we belong reduce the Christian witness to mere secular and political actions," a report said.

In other action Wednesday, the group received a report from a committee on youth that urged more involvement of young people in the church. It called for more youth participation in the church liturgical life.

Mineral Wells Youth Takes Own Life To Escape Arrest

BRIDGEPORT, Tex. (AP) — After running for two days, and staying awake on fear of arrest and Cokes, Allen Pruitt shot himself to death Wednesday night as police officers vainly tried to persuade him to surrender.

Already, he had told a family he terrorized for five hours that he killed his father and uncle. He told officers he would never be taken alive as they sought his surrender. Then he shot himself and died a short time later in a Bridgeport hospital.

Pruitt earlier was charged with the murder of his father, Elmer Pruitt, 62, of Mineral Wells, and his uncle, Delma Pruitt, 60, of Hobbs, New Mexico.

Both men were found dead Monday in the Pruitt residence on a farm southwest of Mineral Wells. Each had been shot at close range with a shotgun, according to officers. Wise county sheriff's deputy

Burglaries Increase Within City

Two more in a series of burglaries in the same part of the city were reported to police yesterday.

A resident of the 1800 block of Grape who had been out of the city, reported the theft of his watch from a bedside stand while he slept.

Looking for the watch when he returned, thinking he might be mistaken where he left it, he discovered some clocks and coin banks missing, too.

In the 1700 block of Evergreen a resident was absent about 36 hours during the holiday and returned to find her house burglarized. A social security check, some change and an heirloom watch were missing.

According to the official report, police theorize that someone living in the general area or in a position to be familiar with houses and families in the area is responsible for the crimes.

In the case of the Evergreen burglary, a dog had been taken on the holiday trip. Police feel no one would try to enter the yard when the 500 pound animal was at home.

No-Fault Automobile Insurance May Raise Liability Premium

HOUSTON (AP) — The president-elect of the State Bar of Texas says a federal no-fault insurance bill pending in the Senate would raise automobile liability insurance rates more than 40 percent in Texas.

Leroy Jeffers, here for the bar's 90th annual convention, said the State Bar is on record against the so-called Hart-Magnuson Bill, which would impose a federal system of no fault legislation.

Jeffers said a delegation representing the State Bar of Texas recently appeared before Texas congressmen in Washington opposing the bill.

"The delegation strongly asserted that the State Bar deemed this bill to be contrary to the public interest and a gross federal encroachment on a matter which should be within the exclusive jurisdiction of the individual states," Jeffers said.

"It has been actuarially determined that the federal bill, if imposed in Texas, would increase automobile liability insurance rates by more than 40 percent.

"The propaganda that no-fault legislation will reduce insurance rates is a cruel myth.

Alaskans Work for Their Right to Work

JOB TRAINING BEGINS with the basics for undereducated, underskilled Alaskan natives—with school.

By ERNIE HOOD

JUNEAU — (NEA) — Tom Ambrose is an Athapascan Indian. He lives with his wife, Linda, and their two children in a one-room wood house in the wilderness of west-central Alaska, 200 miles east of Nome.

His neighbors are few and far apart. Besides his family there are only about 200 people in his little village of Kaltag and the nearest other village is 50 miles away.

Linda and the children go to bed early, but Tom often sits alone at the table and cleans and oils his 30-30 rifle by lamplight for want of anything else to do. The stillness of the Arctic night often is broken by the howls of nearby wolves, and the sled dogs of Tom's neighbors howl their answer.

During the day, Tom hunts, fishes and checks his trapline. He stalks caribou, moose and bear with varying success, and probes for whitefish through holes in the ice of the Yukon River.

By modern standards, Tom Ambrose leads an isolated, almost primitive life. Despite this isolation, however, his is one of about 8,500 names in the new, computerized Applicant Characteristic Bank in the Alaska State Department of Labor's Employment Security Division at Juneau.

The applicant bank may help Ambrose and thousands like him achieve a better way of life.

All of the 8,500 people listed in the bank are Eskimos, Aleuts and Indians who make their homes in some 175 tiny villages scattered across the nation's largest state. Many more names will be added as members of a division mobile survey team extend their efforts to additional villages.

Work on the applicant bank began in the summer of 1969. The project is being funded by the Manpower Administration through its Smaller Communities Program, designed to improve employment opportunities in rural areas and small towns.

Each of the natives already in the Alaska bank has been interviewed personally. The information gathered in the interviews in the remote villages is stored on computerized cards.

Ambrose's card, for example, shows that he aspires to be a government construction worker, but has had little experience. It also shows that he has only a sixth-grade education, but possesses considerable potential in the type of work he seeks. It indicates his willingness to move elsewhere for either training or employment.

Most of the other cards in the bank reflect characteristics and existence much like Ambrose's. Alaska's native population constitutes a potential work force of considerable size and diversity. The natives can be trained individually for jobs developed through the state employment service with various private employers or in big classes for mass placement in major industrial endeavors or in large public projects like the proposed Alaska oil pipeline, which should provide at least 7,000 jobs.

It would be difficult to exaggerate the need for job opportunities and manpower services among Alaska's natives.

Not only are they undereducated for competition in the modern world, they often live in isolated, inaccessible areas where training is at best limited and economic growth nonexistent. Their villages differ in many ways—size, climate, landscape and cultural heritages and patterns of life. But most of them are alike in that the inhabitants must rely upon nature and not upon income from jobs as a basis for their existence.

No longer content with their subsistence existence, native families like the Ambroses find life becoming increasingly complex and frustrating.

Largest Antique Show & Sale Will Open In Amarillo Friday

The largest antique show and sale ever held in the Tri-State area will be at the Amarillo Civic Center Friday through Sunday.

Exhibitors from all parts of the nation will assemble an approximate $3 million display of antiques and fine arts.

Continental Shows, Ltd., of Amarillo, under the direction of George A. Kuehler and Lee Kirkendall, will promote the show.

Among items that will be on display will be primitives, art glass, art pottery, furniture, paper goods, jewelry, Oriental items, press glass, books, Indian items, cut glass, wedgewood, bronzes and a host of other collectables.

Kuehler reports the interest in collecting of fine arts and antiques has increased by ten-fold recently. The reason, he said, is the world financial experts classified the collecting of these items as being among the top three best financial investment categories.

The show will open at 1 p.m. Friday and remain open through Sunday. Show hours are 1-10 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 1-6 p.m. Sunday.

Ambrose says all the talk about oil in Alaska has even gotten Linda thinking about such things as hot water and an oil heater. The Ambrose home is heated by a wood stove and water for cooking and bathing is melted from ice and brought to a boil in pans and kettles. Tom, who doesn't even have a dog team, would like a snowmobile and his wife talks longingly of a washing machine like those she has heard people have in Nome.

So it is with most of the others now listed in the Applicant Characteristic Bank, as well as with the estimated 54,000 Alaska natives still to be reached by interviewers. Communication with most villages is limited to letter or radio; only 23 native settlements have telephone service linking them to other places.

Fewer than a dozen of the villages are on Alaska's limited road network. Access to others is only by air or, depending on the season, by boat, snowmobile or dog team.

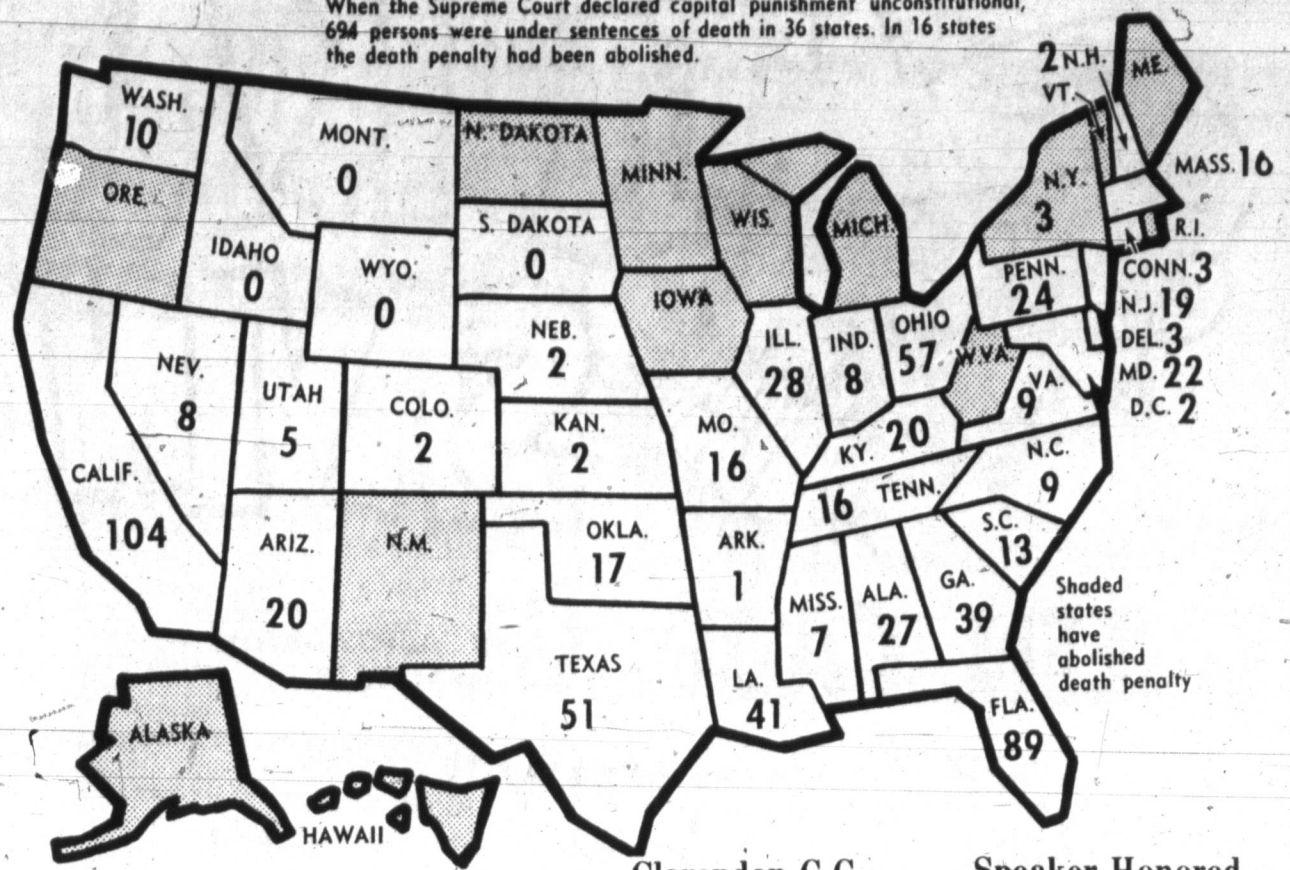

Like the Ambroses, many of the natives have annual incomes of less than $2,000, a figure that understates their poverty because basic commodities in Alaska cost about 25 per cent more than in the "lower 48." In many areas more people are unemployed or have seasonal jobs than have permanent employment, and more than half of the potential work force is jobless most of the year.

But right now, "sitting on top of the world" isn't all it's cracked up to be.

Boeing Allowed To Sell Jetliners To Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department has granted an export license clearing the way for the Mainland Chinese government to buy $150 million worth of Boeing 707 jets and parts, a company spokesman said today.

Negotiations on the proposed sale between representatives of the People's Republic and the Boeing Company continue in Peking, but release of the export license clears any barrier within the U.S. government.

A company spokesman said from Boeing headquarters in Seattle he was optimistic the deal would go through.

If it does, he said it would be a significant order for Boeing.

Clarendon C-C To Conduct Survey

CLARENDON — The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the Texas Employment Commission, is going to conduct an area labor survey for Clarendon and the surrounding area.

TEC will have a representative at Clarendon's City Hall on July 10 and July 12 from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. to take survey applications of all persons interested in working in the Clarendon area.

Speaker Honored

AUSTIN (AP) — Rayford Price, whose term as speaker will be one of the shortest in Texas history, was honored by his colleagues Tuesday in the traditional "Speaker's Day" observance.

Conspicuously absent was former speaker Gus Mutscher, whom Price replaced in a special March 28 House election after Mutscher resigned the post.

Mutscher was convicted March 15 on charges of conspiracy to accept a bribe.

This Lemon Chiffon Pie Has Tang

TANGY LEMON CHIFFON PIE — The lemon mixture is chilled over ice cubes and water before the beaten egg whites are added.

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

If you like your lemon chiffon pie to have real tang, the following recipe should suit you. It uses a little more fresh lemon juice than usual.

One tip about grated lemon rind, used also in the pie. After washing and drying the lemon, use a grater with medium-size slots. Place it over wax paper and with light downward movements (instead of rubbing back and forth) remove only the outer yellow peel in tiny flakes.

TANGY LEMON CHIFFON PIE

Graham Cracker Crust, see below

1 envelope unflavored gelatin

1-1/4 cups sugar

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup water

1/2 cup plus 1 tablespoon freshly squeezed lemon juice 4 eggs, separated

1 teaspoon freshly grated lemon rind

Prepare and bake Graham Cracker Crust, chill.

In a 1 or 1 1/2-quart saucepan thoroughly stir together the gelatin, 1 cup sugar and the salt; gradually stir in water and lemon juice.

In a small mixing bowl, with a fork, beat egg yolks well; blend into gelatin mixture. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved and mixture is slightly thickened — 8 to 10 minutes; do not boil. Stir in grated lemon rind and immediately transfer to a medium or large mixing bowl (preferably metal). Chill over ice cubes and water, stirring often, until mixture mounds just slightly when dropped from a spoon.

In small electric mixer bowl beat egg whites until they hold very soft peaks; gradually add remaining 1/4 cup sugar, beating at high speed until whites barely hold stiff peaks. Fold chilled mixture into whites; spoon into crust. Chill until set.

If desired, top pie with sweetened whipped cream — a great addition.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST

1 1/4 cups finely crushed graham crackers

3 tablespoons sugar

1/4 cup butter, melted

Stir together crumbs and sugar; gradually stir in melted butter, blend well. Press onto bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until brown — about 8 minutes. Cool, then chill before filling.

Halibut Makes a Hearty Main Dish

HALIBUT STEW — Serve with hot cooked rice and a tossed green salad.

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

If you are interested in preparing a fish dish that is bland enough for even the young members of the family to enjoy, consider Halibut stew. This is a top-of-the-range dish and the fish is cooked in a sauce of onion, green pepper, mushrooms, celery and tomatoes plus seasonings. The sauce is on the thin side so an accompaniment of cooked rice is in order.

HALIBUT STEW

2 pounds of halibut, fresh or frozen

3 tablespoons olive oil

1 cup thin strips onion

1/2 cup chopped green pepper

1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced

1/2 cup chopped celery

1 clove garlic, minced

2 tablespoons flour

1 can (1 pound and 12 ounces) tomatoes

1 tablespoon minced parsley

1 bay leaf

1 teaspoon sugar

2 teaspoons salt

1/8 teaspoon pepper

Pinch of thyme

1/8 teaspoon tabasco sauce

Thaw halibut if frozen. Cut into 1 or 2 inch pieces.

In a 12-inch skillet or large saucepot heat the oil; add onion, green pepper, mushrooms, celery and garlic; cook gently, stirring often, until onion is softened — about 10 minutes. Stir in flour.

Add tomatoes (including liquid in can), parsley, bay leaf, sugar, salt, pepper, thyme and tabasco. Cover and simmer, stirring occasionally and breaking up tomatoes, for 20 minutes.

Add halibut and simmer until fish is tender — 10 to 12 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Serve over steamed rice. Makes 6 servings.

Heat together all the ingredients. Serve in mugs. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Advice to the misunderstood, from America's most misunderstood soft drink.

Dear Dr Pepper,
I am the victim of overly strict parents. Although I am almost nine, they insist that I be in by midnight during the week! They won't even let me race my motorcycle for money. All that wouldn't be so bad, but yesterday was the last straw. I was having some Dr Pepper with my after-dinner cigar when my father said, "Young lady, I've had enough. I won't have you drinking patent medicine in my house." I feel like I'm being brought up in a convent or something. What shall I do?
I Want To Be Free
Dear ?
Your parents are obviously of the "spare-the-rod-and-spoil-the-child" school. Despite their old-fashioned ways, you may be able to help them see the light. Pour them a couple of glasses of Dr Pepper and tell them your little secret. Once they understand me a little better, they may be more understanding of you, too.

Rep. Price Favors Budget For F-111

By BOB PRICE

There was an effort last week on the part of Eastern doves in Congress to reduce military appropriations generally and especially those for the F-111 aircraft. I sometimes think they would be happy to see the United States disarmed. Fortunately, they were unsuccessful.

I spoke out again on the floor of the House for a strong military posture, which I believe is essential to the defensive capability of our country.

In so doing, I urged the passage of legislation which would include appropriations to support the continuation of the F-111 in our fighter fleet, and also provide for continuing research for the development of the B-1 bomber.

I reiterated to the House that the F-111 possesses the greatest fighter capability and the best safety record of all other century series aircraft designed and produced to date and is the only aircraft we have in our aircraft inventory today which can penetrate deeply into the Soviet interior.

The B-1 bomber is essential for replacement of the B-52 which is 20 years old and continually losing its future capability as an offensive airborne weapon. I firmly believe that these measures are essential to a secure national military posture.

The Agriculture Appropriations bill for fiscal year 1973 passed the House of Representatives last week by a vote of 345-33. I voted for it.

There was an attempt to add an amendment to this bill that, had it been adopted, would have limited payments to $20,000 per farmer per crop during fiscal year 1973. It was defeated by a narrow three-vote margin of 189 in favor and 192 opposed. I spoke in opposition to the limitation and voted in opposition to it.

As a member of the House Agriculture Committee and an active farmer and rancher myself, I intend to see that Congress lives up to its obligations.

A bill providing for a four-month extension of the present temporary level in the public debt limitation was passed by 211-168. I opposed this bill.

The necessity of this bill to come before the House at all, in my opinion, related directly to the tendency of the opposition-controlled House to spend more money than we take in each year and to add more federal bureaucracy in order to implement grandiose federal programs of questionable worth.

Romney: Housing Plans Prove To Be Successful

Editor's Note: For 3 1/2 years, Housing Secretary George W. Romney has grappled with the nation's urban crisis. The following report by G. C. Thelen Jr. of The AP Special Assignment Team, discusses Romney's efforts.

By G. C. THELEN Jr., Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — To George W. Romney, struggling to be President Nixon's fix-it man for the cities, the problems he faces are not just tough, they "are the most complex on the face of the globe."

Testifying to their intractability, the secretary of Housing and Urban Development has seen remedies become problems and well-intentioned strategies backfire in controversy.

Romney admits to little success in his match with the crisis of urban America. "The cities are still going downhill," he said.

Among the problems, complexities and ironies of his 3 1/2 years at HUD:

—Romney, the production man of Rambler auto fame, succeeded in driving government-subsidized housing starts to record levels. But along the road to landmark production of nearly 500,000 assisted units last year, he harvested a crop of speculation scandals that have left thousands of the inner-city poor with shoddy, government-insured houses sold at large profit by real-estate operators.

—Romney, long-time civil rights leader of liberal Republicans, assumed office determined to open additional suburban housing to low-income city dwellers. But, following a stormy trial run of his plans at Warren, Mich., the President stripped Romney of any power to make economic integration a condition of receiving federal aid.

—Romney, an enthusiast for solving urban problems at local governmental levels, saw the White House pull the teeth from another plan that seeks to induce the suburbs as well as the cities to join in attacking inner-city ills. "Succeed? Not in 100 years," said one housing specialist of what's now left of the plan.

—Romney, the foe of centralized government, faulted Democrats from the outset for allegedly overpromising help for the cities and tying the hands of mayors. Yet he has protected his cupboard of inherited Great Society programs from White House budget-cutters, hoarding the dollars for the day Congress might enact federal revenue sharing for the cities.

How does his performance add up?

"A good job with some of the most difficult problems in the country," said Rep. Edward P. Boland, D-Mass., chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee that controls HUD dollars.

"A decent man, extraordinarily righteous in his commitment to racial justice, who's been hamstrung by the administration," said Herbert M. Franklin, vice president of the National Urban Coalition.

"His intentions and efforts are better than his performance," said Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., a senior member of the House subcommittee on housing. "This is not due to any lack of ability but to political restraints from the White House."

The nation's mayors are particularly pleased with Romney's attempts to untie the strings of federal aid, to turn narrow-purpose grants into broad-based support of strapped municipal budgets.

"The housing program has been a great success, but within the central city and within these blighted, abandoned areas of the central city, we have not worked out solutions," Romney said.

Business Executive Needs 'Think Tank'?

DALLAS (AP) — Modern business executives need a "think tank" to get away from the pressure and worries of the daily round, according to interior architect William L. Pulgram of Atlanta, who designs them.

"It's a typical trend for corporations that are showing more concern for their employees' mental health," he said in an interview. "A separate getaway space is needed by the executive as a kind of health spa for the mind."

Pulgram, president of Associated Space Design Inc., was in Dallas for a three-day conference of the National Society of Interior Designers which ended recently.

He is best known for his use of space at the McDonald Hamburger headquarters in Oakbrook, Ill., where he created a circular "think tank" for executives with a domed roof, sloping padded walls, and a floor composed entirely of a waterbed platform.

"Corporations have to cater for individuals and give them the facility for concentration," Pulgram said. "It needs some careful planning. The interior architect has to avoid the end result becoming just burlap with bushes on a great open floor."

Pulgram said modern concepts in office design mean the creation of a total environment and not just the decoration of a space.

Even when his office itself forms part of the open space floor plan and he works with his employees, the executive needs somehow to get away and think, he said.

"That used to be done by simply closing the office door. But in the office the executive still sees his telephones and papers and the unfinished work at his desk — his worries are still there. He's not sufficiently separated. He needs some places where he can go and concentrate, or even rest and relax."

Pulgram thinks the right environment helps develop efficiency and increased productivity through making the employee happier.

"Corporations used to be concerned with functional space, but they talked of it in terms of physical efficiencies; now they're talking of it in terms of behavioral efficiencies," Pulgram said.

The NSID conference attracted the largest attendance since its formation 15 years ago with 740 delegates being registered.

Warren G. Arnett, Orlando, Fla., national president, suggested that the time would come when NSID would want to move its headquarters out of New York City.

"Associations and professional societies by the dozen are moving their main offices to suburban communities and, in many instances, they are using the savings in rent to buy or construct their own office can visualize a building of their own — either in suburban New York or somewhere in the Midwest, where we all have the space to create rooms of all types designed and decorated by our members, that will become a showplace to which thousands of visitors might be attracted every year."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, July 6, the 188th day of 1972. There are 178 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1923, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics was formed.
On this date:
In 1699, Capt. William Kidd, the pirate, was taken into custody in Boston. He later was hanged in England.
In 1777, during the American Revolution, a British force under Gen. John Burgoyne captured Ft. Mifflin, Pa., and then moved on to Philadelphia.
In 1837, the Republic of Texas sent an ambassador to Washington.
In 1919, the first crossing of the Atlantic by an airship took place as a British dirigible landed at New York's Roosevelt Field.

Worry Clinic

By-George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.
Diane sits too close to the TV screen, as children often do. It may mean she is nearsighted (myopic). TV makes your kiddies ear-minded. So teach them to enjoy reading! They don't get to college on TV training! TV causes school dropouts!
CASE U-528: Diane, aged 5, is a TV addict.
"But Dr. Crane," her worried mother began, "Diane wants to sit almost on top of the TV screen."
"In fact, her eyes aren't 2 feet away from the glass."
"Is this bad for her?"
TVEYE HYGIENE
Children who are nearsighted, will want to be unduly close to the TV screen. So heed the sound advice of ophthalmologists and the American Optometric Association. Check the vision of kiddies like Diane.
Here are 7 standard rules for TV viewers of all ages:
(1) Place the TV set on the level of the eyes so you don't keep our head bowed down to view the screen.
Older (bifocal) people especially need TV to be at the height of a table for they can't see TV through their lower bifocal lens!
And the excessive forward tilting of the head causes bad posture and even pain in the neck.
(2) Don't watch TV in a dark room so try to have soft over-all lighting.
But don't turn on bridge lamps or other lights that are in your field of vision, for then your eyes will fatigue much faster.
(3) Adjust the TV brightness and contrast AFTER your room lights are on.
And stay at a distance of at least 5 times the width of your TV screen!
(4) Occasionally, change the focus of your eyes to break the strain on the muscles that have maintained your fixed focus on the TV screen.
At each "commercial," look around the room or glance at your newspaper.
(5) If your eyes feel scratchy or they water, you may be short on sleep (Sandman's symptoms).
Or you may need eye glasses, due to astigmatism, or your present eye glasses may need changing.
Incidentally, a simple physiological tonic for tired eyes, as at bedtime, is to slap hot water on them repeatedly for maybe a dozen times; then do the same with very cold water.
Repeat this alternation of hot versus cold, since it helps stimulate better circulation and thus flushes out the fatigue products from overworked eye muscles.
(6) Don't fret about dangers of eyestrain, for watching TV is no worse than sewing, reading or doing other close work.
If your eyes are normal (or properly fitted with eye glasses) and the soft, over-all illumination of the room prevents the otherwise severe contrast of a bright TV screen in a black room, then TV viewing is O.K.
But beware of reflections on the TV screen from beams of sunlight or light bulbs in adjacent rooms.
(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg. Mellot Indiana 47858, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

This problem is hard to get off your chest

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: That woman who signed herself "CHEATED" because she had small bosoms doesn't know when she's well off.

I was a size 42 "D" at the age of 13, and it was agony. The boys stared at me and some of them even made indecent remarks.

I had a hard time getting clothes to fit me. I could never wear sweaters or knits. And bathing suits were out of the question! [I always pretended I hated the water.]

To make matters worse, I was barely five feet tall so you can imagine how conspicuous I was. My bra straps used to cut into my shoulders until I could hardly stand it, and I even became stoop-shouldered from all the weight I was carrying up there. I cried myself to sleep many a night.

At age 33 I solved my problem with surgery, and now I feel like a woman instead of a freak. My only regret is that I didn't do it sooner. CHEATED WITH TOO MUCH

DEAR ABBY: Some lady wrote that her problem was the feeling of insecurity and inferiority because she was flat-chested and her husband couldn't keep his eyes off women with big breasts. You suggested she see a doctor about having hers enlarged. You should have told her to send her husband to a doctor to have his head shrunk!

Men who go overboard for big bosoms are just little boys who are still looking for Mamma.

WASHINGTON STAR READER

DEAR ABBY: I thought maybe you would like to hear from one man who doesn't measure a woman's worth by the size of her brassiere. And I am sure there are plenty of other men who share my view.

A man with whom I work told me that his wife had just had one of her breasts removed. He said, "I feel that now I have only half a woman."

I told him with that kind of thinking he was only half a man. ONE MAN'S OPINION

DEAR ABBY: I have had silicone implants to make me "feel" more like a woman. [One can LOOK more like a woman with a padded bra, which I wore for years.]

I am glad you advised that woman who was considering such an operation to talk it over with her husband instead of "surprising" him after the surgery. Some husbands are opposed to it.

I don't know if it's a universal policy, but my plastic surgeon positively refused to give me silicone implants without my husband's written consent.

At first he refused to let me do it, but after he spoke with my doctor and learned more about what was involved, he agreed to let me do it.

It's no picnic. And it's expensive. (Mine cost $1,400.) But it was worth it. 36-24-35

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

FRIDAY, JULY 7
YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY:

Regular schedules tend to take over with both competence and the power to express yourself. Outwardly viewed, relationships stand still, while actually becoming subtly intense, something else. Today's natives usually have a strong knack for accurate calculations.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: With no special challenge or problem, take the time to clear up your week, get everything back to normal for near future.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Among the many things to spend money on, your home and personal needs should come first. Add something to your savings with any surplus.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Give others a little space and rest while you listen and think about what's happening. Then present your plans. Celebrate this evening.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Select activities which require little or no close cooperation, double check facts. It pays to remember that machines do not care.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Friends may be abrasive, harsh-spoken, but they help nonetheless. Consultation with technical experts is favored—seek the best.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: You may have to work around group activities to get your work done. Little of what you are doing would be understood.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Early decisions tend to be premature—new information, more people have to be taken into account. You can learn much by being alert.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: If you are wide-awake you may have a brief insight that puts everything into a larger context. You need extra care in money matters.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: In effect you wind up the week in competition and general resistance—gross or subtle, according to what you are trying to do.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: You'll be proud of restraining your temper. Gather your wits and go on with essential activities. Let the later hours be for prayer.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Remember that not all minds follow similar logic patterns; avoid misunderstandings by keeping discussion simple and basic.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Assign priorities early in the day, decide where your main energy is to be directed, stick to them. There's much to do and many distractions.

Smith Meets Kodes

Evonne's Rally Prevails Over 17-Year Old Chris

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Stan Smith, U.S. Army Corporal, and Ilie Nastase, Romanian Army lieutenant, went into separate battles today for places in the men's singles final of the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament.

Smith, seeded No. 1 was counting his powerful serve in his semifinal match against Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia.

Nastase, with his rapier-like volleys and lightning maneuvers, opposed Spain's Manuel Orantes in the other semifinal.

The 26-year-old Smith from Pasadena, Calif., seems to have reached his peak at the right moment.

After struggling early in the tourney on Wimbledon's lush grass, he had a convincing 6-3, 6-1, 6-3 victory over Alex Metreveli of the Soviet Union in the quarter-finals.

Nastase, the No. 2 seed, Kodes and Orantes all are clay court performers. But they

Lee Trevino Defends Canadian Open Title

FORT ERIE, Ont. (AP) — "Look out for me this week."

Dave Eichelberger admitted he was only half-kidding when he served the warning prior to teeing off today in the first round of the $150,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship.

Eichelberger bolted out of obscurity with his first tour victory and more than $100,000 in winnings last season, but has had his problems this year.

But, in characteristic fashion, he shuns the esoteric, deeply technical explanations favored by many of his fellow pros when talking of his troubles.

"I'd just been hitting it crooked. That's the trouble," said the 29-year-old Eichelberger, a tee tucked into its usual place behind his ear.

"That's all that's been wrong. I didn't know where it was going to go. I wasn't hitting but maybe 10 greens a round. And that just don't get it done."

"But I'm playing a little better now. A lot better. Why, in the last couple of weeks I've got it to where I'm hitting, oh, 12 or 13 greens almost every round."

"No, really, I'm playing better now. Ready to make my move. Gettin' ready to defend."

That would be in the Milwaukee open, next week. He won the event opposite the British Open last year for his first triumph in five years on the tour and used it as a springboard to a $107,000 season.

Though he played well early in the year, Eichelberger has had his troubles this season with only $30,000 in winnings. He's missed the cut for the final two rounds as often as he's made it in the last couple of months.

"But I'm ready now," grinned the chain-smoking Eichelberger, of Waco, Texas.

He was less than an odds-on favorite in this national championship, however. Defending titleholder Lee Trevino and South African Gary Player sharing the role of favorite. Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead were among the gallery favorites.

Philadelphia Responds Picks All-Star President

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies were knocking around the locker room on Independence Day, waiting to engage the San Francisco Giants, when a reporter walked in and asked them what they thought of President Nixon's all-star baseball team.

The Phillies, like everyone else, had read Nixon's personal album of stars, which was obtained by the Associated Press and published in many Sunday newspapers. The president had prepared the list in response to a newsmen who had asked him to name his favorite baseball players.

Sports writer Stan Hochman of the Philadelphia Daily News got the idea that if presidents can choose the greatest baseball players, baseball players can name the all-star presidents. So Hochman raised the issue with the Phillies.

Once they were asked—on the Fourth of July—to compile an on-the-spot pantheon of presidential standouts, the Phillies replied with the spirit of the day.

Some other top contenders in the 72-hole test that ends Sunday are Australian Bruce Crampton, Bob Murphy, Dave Hill and Tommy Aaron. Jack Nicklaus, winner of the U.S. Open and the Masters and gunning for a one-year sweep of all the world's major titles, is among the missing. He's in Scotland preparing for next week's British Open.

and the enthusiasm of athletes.

"Who's on the $1,000 bill?" asked Dick Selma, a pitcher.

"George Washington," was Jim Nash's choice. "He's the only guy whose picture my wife allows in my billfold."

"Zachary Taylor," snickered second baseman Denny Doyle.

"Why? Because nobody else probably thought of him."

"I've been in the game 15 years and nobody's ever asked me that question," mused Deron Johnson. "I've got to go with Nixon. He's getting us out of Vietnam."

Catcher Mike Ryan also chose the current starter. Ryan explained: "I just pick him because he's always being second-guessed, just like a catcher."

"Harry Truman," said Tommy Hutton, utility infielder. "He'd be a scrapper. He'd do anything to win. Besides, anybody who can live as long as he had, has got to be tough."

Bill Robinson and Barry Lersch both chose Abraham Lincoln, Robinson, who is black, associated Lincoln with John F. Kennedy; he said both had helped blacks make strides toward equality. Lersch admired Lincoln "because he had long hair and a beard."

"JFK," said reflective short-stop Larry Bowa. "Because while you hear a lot of people saying bad things about Nixon I've never heard anyone say bad things about JFK. I think he had the respect of all the people."

At this point in the selection, Hutton changed his choice of all-star.

Saturday, since then, they've started five different pitchers and gotten five straight complete game victories which is about as good as a pitching staff can do.

Pattin's victory was the second consecutive shutout in the string, following Lynn McGlothen's three-hitter against the Twins Tuesday. The other route-going efforts in the string belong to Ray Culp, John Curtis and Luis Tiant.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, Baltimore blanked Chicago 1-0. Kansas City trimmed Detroit 8-2. New York downed Oakland 4-1 and California nipped Milwaukee 1-0. Texas at Cleveland was postponed by rain.

With the pitching staff coming through so well, the Red Sox have won six straight games and eight of the last nine. The streak has moved Boston into third place in the American League East, five games back of division-leading Baltimore.

The Sox nicked Jim Perry, 6-8, for a second inning run on Carlton Fisk's double, a wild pitch and Bob Buford's sacrifice fly. They got their other run in the eighth when Tommy Harper was hit by a pitch, stole second and rode home on Carl Yastrzemski's third hit of the game.

Lee Stange, who spent four American League seasons pitching for the Boston Red Sox in cozy Fenway Park with the friendliest left field wall in all of baseball, laughed out loud.

Stange, now the Red Sox pitching coach, was watching newsmen and club officials scurry through record books after Marty Pattin's five-hitter beat Minnesota 2-0 Wednesday night and gave Boston hurlers five straight complete games.

"Forget about looking it up," advised Stange, who has seen his share of pitchers eaten alive by the close-in left field wall they call the Green Monster at Fenway. "It probably never happened before. Not in this ball park anyway."

Laver Leads Field Into Second Day's Play

BRETTON WOODS, N.H. (AP) — Top-seeded Rod Laver, the host pro, led the advance into the second day of the $25,000 Mount Washington International Tennis Tournament today as a couple of ranked players moved to the sidelines.

Laver, the biggest money winner in pro tennis history, since moving from Australia's amateur ranks, defeated newcomer Gerald Battrock of Great Britain 6-4, 6-4 Wednesday in a first round match.

Aussie Bob Carmichael and former UCLA star Jeff Borowiak turned in opening day blow-outs.

Carmichael pulled a big surprise in defeating third-seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., 6-3, 4-6, 7-6 on a controversial tie-breaking point in a second round match, and Borowiak eliminated seventh-seeded Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico 6-3, 6-2 in a first round meeting.

Jim Ryun's Career—Will It End Or Go On?

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The Saga of Jim Ryun may reach "The End," or it may provide America with another Cinderella story today.

The world record holder in the 1,500-meter run takes on six other metric milers this evening in a quarter-final heat at the U.S. Men's Olympic Trials.

Ryun recently told friends he would quit track for good if he did not qualify for the U.S. team in the 1,500. He previously ran fourth in the 800 here, failing to make the team despite an excellent time of 1:45.2.

Four men in each heat of the 1,500 this evening will qualify for Friday's semifinals. Ryun is the only contestant in the third heat who has cracked 3:40 this season and is heavily favored to advance.

Also this evening, Rod Milburn is hoping to break the world record in the 110-meter high hurdles.

"That record will go the first time I step on that track," said Milburn. "That's the fastest track in the world and I want to set the record as soon as possible and get it out of the way."

The world mark of 13.2 seconds, set by Willie Davenport, has never officially been broken, although Milburn has run 13.0 seconds for 120 yards—virtually the same distance.

Competitors in the 400-meter event, the first round of which begins this evening, have said the world record is in jeopardy.

"This race will be more competitive than the finals at Munich," said Wayne Collett, "because here four guys will be fighting for three spots on the team."

Collett includes himself with John Smith, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews, the same four sports experts say will be in the finals.

Six heats containing four men each will run this evening. Three men from each heat qualify for Friday's quarter-finals.

"I think it will take 43.7 to win and 44.0 to make the team," said Jim Bush, who coached Collett and Smith at UCLA. The world record was set at the Mexico City olympics by Evans at 43.8.

Only one other running event is scheduled, the 5,000-meter run heats.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

A Question Of Sanity

Edward McNeil was accused of committing two assaults in 1966. He denied the charges, but was jailed, tried, convicted, and sentenced.

from evaluating him and going ahead with a hearing. They said he was really in a sort of "contempt of court."

When McNeil arrived at the institution, he refused to talk to psychiatrists. Because of this, the doctors said they couldn't tell whether he was a defective delinquent or not.

As to the state's claim that McNeil's uncooperative behavior indicated he was a defective delinquent, the high court said that, if the psychiatrists had been willing to conclude that, then it was not true that McNeil had prevented them from making such an evaluation.

At the end of the sixth year, McNeil got up to the U.S. Supreme Court with a claim that, when his sentence expired one year earlier, the State of Maryland lost its power to hold him.

If you accept the Supreme Court's ruling—here we have an instance in which an allegedly emotionally disturbed man was thinking straighter than his keepers. So who's crazy?

If you are a girl, diligent, reasonable, affable, and a good typist, you can make $450 a month as a receptionist.

Of course, there are offsetting disadvantages for workers in the nation's capital. Congress and the President have been so busy governing the rest of the country that they haven't had time to govern the 67 square miles that comprise the district.

The same qualities and skill will get you $30,800 a year in Washington, D.C., provided you know the right Congressman and get on his payroll.

Nevertheless, on balance, adventurous types ever have proved willing to put up with a degree of violence when the rewards were great enough.

The Wall Street Journal reported on the case of Helen Dubino, receptionist for Rep. William L. Springer, R-Ill. The Journal cited Miss Dubino's pay not as a spectacular exception, but rather as illustrative of the wonderful world of magic performed with tax payers' money within the District of Columbia.

"It is a system," reported the Journal, "that pays boys and girls, some no older than 14, at the annual rate of $7,660 for running errands. Roughly one-third of all American families must live on less than Congress pays its adolescent pages."

The sages and heroes of history are receding from us, and history contracts the record of their deeds into a narrower and narrower page. But time has no power over the name and deeds and words of Jesus Christ.—W. E. Channing, American clergyman.

"In view of everything, how can you go on thinking Senator McGovern is a stalking horse for Gloria Steinem?"

Russia Is Safer Than The U.S.?

By PAUL HARVEY Of all the impressions revised or re-established by the Nixons' visit to Moscow, the one which must haunt us is the irrefutable and obvious fact that Russians behave themselves better than we do.

But there is some evidence the United States has begun the long road back to enforcement of the law.

The mayor of Moscow told our visitors, "You're safe anywhere here."

Isn't that something! Chicagoans, scared to death of being raped or knifed on a city bus in broad daylight, hear from Moscow in presumably backward Russia that anybody can walk any street day or night in safety.

Guns are for sale in Moscow stores. You need a permit to purchase one, but they're available.

Yet Vladimir Promyslov, mayor of one of the four biggest cities in the world, said, "Nobody shoots anybody."

And Mrs. Nixon, visiting a Moscow secondary school, noted that the students were "better disciplined" than those she sees in the United States.

But there is now apparent the first pale glow of a brighter day in the U.S.A. The United States Supreme Court, in a decision of no small significance, has decreed that state criminals may be found guilty without the unanimous agreement of the jury.

None of us knows how many criminals have been getting off because one member of the jury held off—perhaps was bought off.

But hereafter, at least in state courts, no one juror can veto the other 11.

It may be significant that the 5-4 Supreme Court decision reflected all Nixon appointees to the court.

You've heard dissent. You've heard some decri the decision as opening the door to future convictions on inadequate evidence.

But those same protesters were protesting when the Supreme Court gave lawmen permission to stop and frisk suspects.

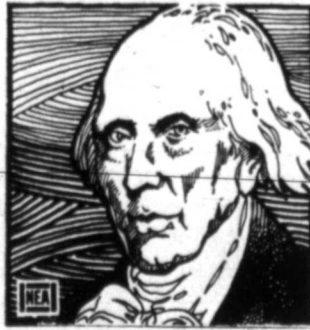

Former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell says the proper function of the court is the discovery of guilt or innocence; that function has been drowning in a sea of legalisms.

He said—and hear this—"The right of an individual to a fair trial does not outweigh the right of society to prompt justice."

Ideally, we don't want tougher police, tougher courts. But practically, whenever individuals refuse to discipline themselves, government must.

Also, ideally, it is better to correct the cause of a social sickness than to treat the symptoms. But that's for the religionists. And until they are more successful cleaning us up from the inside out—it's going to have to be done from the outside.

Man vs. Machine The Labor Savers Pave Profit Path

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Studies indicate it is now becoming considerably more profitable than in the past to replace men with machines and equipment.

But the prospects here are discouraging. Conferences on the application of labor saving devices to government and the major service industries, which this reporter has attended, more often than not end up in generalities or in strong statements that major advances are next to impossible because of the very necessary human relationships and judgments required in these fields.

The figures in fact indicate it is now approximately two times as profitable to replace men with equipment on the average as it was 25 years ago.

In part, this is due to major technological advances in equipment. In part it is because (with the higher standard of living Americans have come to expect) hourly labor costs have gone up much more rapidly than prices of labor-saving devices. Charts presented by the Morgan Guaranty Survey seem to indicate in fact that hourly labor costs in recent years may have risen at more than twice the rate of equipment prices.

More rapid modernization of plant, of course, is long overdue. Some of our major competitors had their industries bombed out in World War II and have been modernizing with vigor ever since, aided by advanced U.S. technology, dollar aid, considerable American investment and their own intensified industrial research.

Economically, in the past several years American researchers have grown far less worried about the industrial application of science and technology in Soviet industry, and a great deal more worried competitively about the marked advances in friendly nations such as West Germany and Japan.

The expectation among some knowledgeable economic analysts is that U.S. industry in the years just ahead may step up considerably its investment in efficiency-increasing equipment—perhaps concentrating more on efficient production rather than greater output.

Some economists fear a marked trend in this direction will add heavily to the inflation pressure when combined with increased consumer spending and government deficit financing.

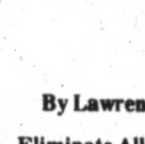

But past records indicate that over the long pull those industries which have modernized have, on the whole, raised prices more slowly than those which have not.

The inflation problem is rather that those industries which have been the slowest to adopt labor-saving devices have found their costs spiraling.

Economists this reporter has talked to are especially concerned in this regard about schools, hospitals, banks and other financial institutions, trading companies, real estate firms and local state and federal governments.

If the same revolutionary changes could take place in these areas as have come about in farming and manufacturing, it would be possible to effect great savings or increase enormously the amount or quality of services provided.

Your Health

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Eliminate All Excess Body Fat

Dear Dr. Lamb—Would you please tell me what one should eat if he has high blood pressure? I read your column every day and would appreciate this information.

Dear Reader—The goal of diet in high blood pressure is to help people lose excess fat if there is any or to prevent the accumulation of fat if they don't have any. So the first goal is to restrict the calories sufficiently until an excess fat around the trunk, including about the navel or in the small of the back, has disappeared.

Another dietary goal is to decrease the likelihood of fat deposits in the arteries. The total amount of fat in the diet should be less than 35 per cent of the total calories eaten.

To achieve this, you ought to eat lean meats, lean fish, fortified skim milk or at least fortified low-fat milk and stop adding fat for seasoning to vegetables or using fat in cooking preparations such as deep-fat frying.

De-emphasize the saturated or animal fats by including in the diet more vegetables, fruits and cereals and less fatty meat and dairy fats, for example, cheese (uncreamed cottage cheese and fortified skim milk, however, are excellent sources of protein and calcium and can be used without any difficulty). Most people will need to adjust their diet to include more chicken and fish and less beef and pork.

Some authorities would also tell you to restrict your cholesterol and, since there is some cholesterol in most animal products, this again means a greater emphasis on vegetables, fruits and cereals. The most common high-cholesterol food is the egg yolk, so if your doctor wants you to restrict your cholesterol, you may have to limit eggs.

Individuals who have high blood pressure should limit their salt intake by not adding salt in cooking or at the table. Salt substitutes are satisfactory as long as they don't contain sodium, as are other seasonings, including garlic or curry. Be careful, though, about using commercial sauces that include a lot of salt in their preparation.

Some doctors recommend even more severe dietary limitations. The once-popular rice diet was limited to unsweetened rice along with fruit and fruit juices. Nothing else was permitted on the diet. This, of course, was an extremely low-fat, low-salt, low-calorie diet. It was reported to be highly successful in some patients.

This is to be expected, since it induced weight loss, eliminated excess fat from the body and eliminated the sodium commonly found in salt and animal products. Severe diets of this nature, though, must be carried out under a doctor's supervision because additional dietary supplements are needed, including important vitamins.

NO COMPROMISE WITH THE DEVIL

If you lived in a city and you were concerned about crime, you would likely get the best possible police force that you could find. You would probably get an outstanding man to be police chief and you would alert the citizenry as to the dangers of crime.

You might also set up a city crime commission. The people whom you selected for this commission would be the leading citizens of the community, upstanding men of outstanding character. In no case would you select the most notorious criminals in your community.

But the largest crime commission in the world has done just that. The United Nations, the international peace-keeping force, has selected the most notorious criminals in the world to serve on its board of directors.

The Soviet Union has murdered more millions of people than any other country in the history of the world. From the murdering of the Czar and his family, to the purges of the thirties, to the atrocities of Siberia, Russia has run red with blood.

The Soviets have been members of the board all along. And recently, the second most notorious international criminal was added to the board.

Mao Tse-tung and his "agrarian reformers" have joined the United Nations, while the Nationalist Chinese have been ousted. Chiang Kai-shek has been our loyal friend for years, but in the twinkling of an eye, he was gone. America must decide. We must oust the criminals from the international crime commission or we must get out ourselves. You can't compromise with the devil.

McGovern Backers Divide Over 'Gay' Rights Plank

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—Militant gays are insistently claiming the right to wage a floor fight at the Democratic convention for a plank advocating the legalization of marriage between homosexuals—much to the pained annoyance of McGovern managers.

The McGovernites are unhappy fearful of adverse public reaction to a nationally televised wrangle over such an unprecedented platform declaration.

Whether the crusading gays can be dissuaded or deterred is conjectural.

Strong pressures are being applied to them, but so far they are standing pat.

The gays base their demand to submit their plank for consideration by the full convention on the reform rules drafted by the commission headed by Sen. McGovern himself.

Under these provisions, if 10 per cent of the 150-member Platform Committee endorse a rejected plank, it can be submitted as a minority report to the full convention of 3,016 delegates when the party platform is considered—scheduled for next Tuesday night.

Thirty-four members of the Platform Committee have signed the gays' minority report calling for adoption of their "Sexual Orientation" plank.

Foremost among the signers is Shirley MacLaine, well-known movie actress and a leading show-biz supporter of McGovern. Others are J. Wesley Watkins, Mississippi delegate, and Anna Chavez, Arizona, Chicano member on the platform drafting subcommittee.

Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., clamorous women's lib leader and vigorous McGovern backer, voted for the gay plank—but would not sign the minority report to bring the issue before the full convention despite repeated urging.

The Platform Committee did not wholly ignore the gays—who were in the front-rank of McGovern supporters in the crucial California and New York primaries. In both states, they worked vigorously for him and contributed financially to his campaign.

What the committee did was to substitute for the gays' "Sexual Orientation" plank a watered-down generalization declaring: "Americans should be free to make their own choice of life-styles and private habits without being subject to discrimination or prosecution."

The gays turned that down as "meaningless and unacceptable."

What They Want In rejecting this innocuous palliative, gay spokesmen indignantly cited an "understanding and sympathetic" statement by McGovern that was read to the New York City (gay) Council by Eleanor Clark French, as follows:

"Sen. McGovern recognizes that in American society today—no less than in other cultures and as throughout recorded history—a substantial minority of women and men of all ages are identified with a homosexual life-style. He further recognizes that certain assumptions of the majority concerning homosexuals have been used as a rationale for harassment and denial of elemental civil-liberties for millions of individuals. As for other oppressed stigmatized minorities, Sen. McGovern pledges the full moral and legal authority of his Presidency towards restoring and guaranteeing first-class-citizen rights for homosexually-oriented individuals."

Declared Ernest Reugh, Albany, N.Y., leading the fight for the "Sexual Orientation" plank, "That's far different rhetoric than the Platform Committee's banal plank. (The latter) is wholly unacceptable to us, and we are determined to fight for a clearcut and explicit plank."

The seven-point "Sexual Orientation" plank calls for the following:

- (1) Repeal of all Federal and state laws that make a crime of voluntary sexual acts in private.
- (2) Legislation prohibiting discrimination based on sexual orientation in employment, housing, public accommodations and public services.
- (3) Elimination of sexual orientation as a basis for employment in public and government hiring and in businesses with Federal contracts, the armed services and occupations which receive Federal licensing.
- (4) Elimination of sexual discrimination in loans, insurance and bonding.
- (5) Elimination of sexual orientation as a basis for discrimination in immigration to the U.S.
- (6) Raising of all dishonorable discharges to the status of honorable discharges to those people consenting to sexual acts in private, or raising from dishonorable to honorable discharges all those who received dishonorable discharges because of allegations of homosexuality.
- (7) Freeing from prisons and mental institutions individuals convicted of sex crimes where there was no victim of a sex act.

Rally to the "S.O."

Dr. Franklin Kameny, Washington, D.C., of the National Coalition of Gay Organizations, says a meeting of leaders will be held to formulate plans and strategy for the Miami Beach convention showdown.

Under the reform rules, the gays will have 20 minutes to present their "Sexual Orientation" plank to the full convention.

To be decided is who will represent them. It's possible the allotted time will be divided between Reugh, Kameny and Ronald Alheim, Albany, N.Y., who waged the fight before the Platform Committee and its drafting subcommittee.

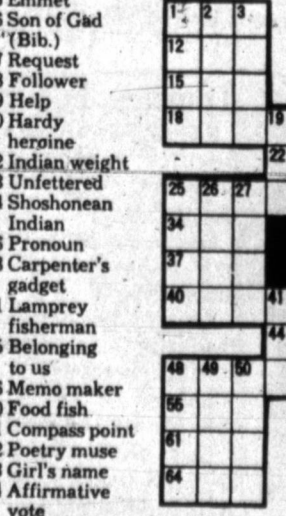

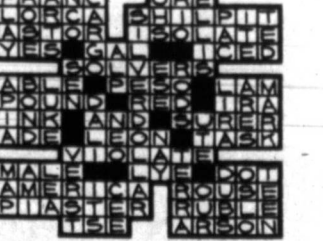

"We intend to make the most of this unique opportunity," says Kameny. "It will be the first time we will have the chance to present our case clearly and frankly to the American people. We have nothing to be ashamed of and nothing to hide. We are honorable and patriotic citizens, and it's time that is recognized and centuries-old barbarous discriminations are abolished."

While the gay leaders would not mention names, they said flatly there are gays among the 3,016 delegates. They particularly singled out the big California and New York delegations.

SEEKS A NEW IMAGE

NEW YORK (AP) — George C. Scott says he would like to change his image. His role as a policeman in the Hallmark Hall of Fame production, "The Price," set for a May 3 television showing, is no exception. "It's a matter of personality," says Scott. "If you're forceful it comes through whether you want it or not. It's hard to change your image once you're type-cast. Early in my career I always played villains. At the moment, I'm looking for a weak character to play."

PLAYS BARBRA'S MA

NEW YORK (AP) — Jane Hoffman, a regular in the television soap opera series, "Love of Life," has been signed to play Barbra Streisand's mother in "Up the Sandbox," now filming in Hollywood, Calif.

TRUMBO ON WEEKEND

NEW YORK (AP) — Dalton Trumbo, whose Hollywood career spans 30 years, has been signed to write the screenplay for "The Osterman Weekend." The story will be a film version of a suspense novel by Robert Ludlum.
