17 missing in tanker explosions

By ROB WOOD

Associated Press Writer BAYTOWN, Tex. (AP) - Aseries of explosions rocked an Exxon tanker, sank a tugboat and left at least 17 persons injured and four missing early this morning in the Houston Ship Channel just outside this coastal city.

A Coast Guard spokesman said three of the persons missing were crew members of the tugboat. He said the explosions aboard the Exxon San Francisco apparently were caused by sparks from the engine of the tugboat that ignited fumes from fuels being loaded aboard the tanker at the Exxon refine-

According to reports, the commercial tugboat Nathan B. which was docked on the other side of the pier from the San Francisco, started her engines and it was shortly after that that the explosions occurred.

Coast Guard officials and Civil Defense spokesmen said earlier that about 15 to 20 crewmen were unaccounted for. But Lt Sande said at midmorning that all the San Francisco crewmen were accounted for and those missing were three tugboat crewmen and a crewman from the CYS Brilliance, a Liberian tanker tied at the same dock.

The Coast Guard spokesman said at least three persons were when "it went down." Eyewitnesses said the bottom of the tugboat could be seen just above the water. The dock area was sealed by the Coast Guard, and at least 45 persons in nearby homes were evacuated and taken to the Baytown Civic Center. Although the fires were contained, flames could still be seen early in the morning from about 300 yards away.

Baytown Civil Defense spokesman Glenn Walker said 17 persons were injured. The Coast Guard said at least three required hospitalization.

The Winter of '77 hit the East, Midwest and parts of the South with a new arctic cold blast today as already critical natural gas shortages forced more closings of schools and factories.

The entire school system of Pennsylvania was shut down by Gov. Milton Shapp so that natural gas could be shifted to industries. State officials said the state's 2.6 million public and parochial students may be out for longer than the three days already scheduled.

Pennsylvania and Ohio got a taste of the renewed cold front as the new arctic storm moved down from Canada Wednesday night and dropped temperatures by as much as 20 degrees in three Snow squalls hit sections of Ohio and Indiana Wednesday night, blocking roads and causing scores of traffic accidents, officials said. Major north-south roads were blocked in Indiana, with hundreds of motorists stranded. Some 150 school districts in 20 northeastern Indiana counties, including the 40,000 pupil Fort Wayne system, the state's second largest.

The area south of Toledo, Ohio, was hit heavily by the storm, with most roads, including some main highways, closed.

Power failures blamed indirectly on the winter weather left about 26,000 Greater Cleveland residents without electricity for several hours Wednesday night and knocked out power to Cleveland Hopkins International Airport and Southwest General Hospital. Both reported that operations continued on auxiliary power

Temperatures plunged elsewhere in the Midwest and East Coast freeze belt as winds gusting up to 60 miles per hour pushed the frigid air mass into the nation.

And the National Weather Service reported Wednesday that there appears to be no longterm warming trend in sight. The service forecast lower than normal temperatures over much of the East for at least the next two weeks. Earlier Wednesday. President Carter asked

Congress for emergency authority to transfer natural gas to areas with the worst shortages. Carter told a news conference that natural gas shortages due to the cold have closed some 4.- 000 plants and forced layoffs of an estimated 400,000 people and are now threatening those who use natural gas to heat their homes

Carter also renewed his appeal for Americans to lower their thermostats to 65 degrees by day and lower at night, although an aide said later that the President did not want people to break any local or state laws that mandate higher temperatures.

And, there were indications last week's freeze in Florida was forcing up prices of groceries in many areas of the nation.

Parts of Maryland and Virginia around the Chesapeake Bay were declared federal disaster areas because the frozen bay has put many boatmen and fishermen out of work. The ice has blocked shipments of fuel oil and grain. Outside Pennsylvania, school closures were scattered. Six small districts in five Ohio counties were closed for a lack of natural gas. State Supt Martin W. Essex said the worst was yet to come. A spokesman for his office said at least 80 districts have given notice of definite closing dates, with a few saying they hope to reopen toward the end of next month

Columbia Gas Co. said it will send notices next week to many Ohio schools and other large commercial users telling them they have exceeded their winter allotments of gas and will get no more of the fuel until April.

Equitable Gas Co., a Pittsburgh-based company, asked schools in eight West Virginia counties to close until further notice. It extended that request to taverns, night clubs and theaters.

In Georgia, most schools were open but with orders to keep thermostats at 65 degrees. Temperatures there had moderated somewhat by midweek but were predicted to plunge back into the teens by this weekend. Police in LaGrange, Ga., which had many factories closed due to gas shortages, patrolled the empty plants.

The Pacific Gas & Electric Co. offered to share its supplies. Under an arrangement approved by the California Public Utilities Commission, PG&E will loan gas to Southern Natural Gas Co. of Birmingham, Ala., for residential and other high priority customers in six states: Georgia. South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee

But, due to the concerted efforts of engineers, scientists and many other concerned people, he said, the fear tactics of the antinuclear power forces "failed" as the result of "information campaigns designed to demonstrate both the safety of nuclear energy and the benefits that technology can provide.

As evidence of the success of the information campaign, the Rockwell chairman pointed to the defeat of anti - nuclear legislation in seven states this past November But, lest we

Zoning's High Costs: Houston Vs. Chicago

By now many people are familiar with last June's Supreme Court decision upholding Detroit's anti - skid row zoning ordinance that forbids operation of any adult movie theater, bookstore, "topless" cabaret, or other such establishment within 1,000 feet of a similar facilty or 500 feet of a residentail area. The commentators seem to concur that the decision shows a majority of the court is reluctant to interfere with local prerogatives in the area of pornography. That may well be true. There is also an important lesson provided by this case for those concerned with the regulation of land use. This 5-to-4 decison of the court, illustrates clearly the impossibility of ever attaining any objective standards for public control of land use. The case shows once again that the wisest and best motivated people will differ greatly on the validity or desirability of various public controls, and those given this authority are predilections. Four of the nine justices wrote opinions in the Detroit case, two for and two against. Each approached and analyzed the case differently. The sharpest likely to apply it in accordance with their individual values and concurring opinion of Justice Powell and the dissent of Justice Stewart. The former considered the controversy as almost a garden variety zoning case. entitling the municipality to prevail because the ordinance did little more than control the location of certain business uses, and the effect on speech was at most minimal and incidental. He asserted that:

Detroit has silenced no message, has invoked no censorship, and has imposed no limitation upon those who wish to view them. The ordinance is addressed only to places at which this type of expression may be presented, a restriction that has not interfered with

On the other hand, Stewart saw it as a free speech case. with the municipality trying to control an unpopular form of speech. He wrote that "it is those instances where protective speech grates more unpleasantly against the sensibilities that judicial vigilance must be at its height."

Justice Blackmun in another issenting opinion agreed and in addition, found that the provisions of the ordinance were so vague as to render it unconstitutional. The ordinance applied only to theaters distinguished or characterized by an emphasis on certains pecified adult activities. A theater owner might not only be in doubt about his own status under this language, but also that of other proprietors from whom he had to stay at least 1.000 feet. One wonders how others would fare when four justices of the Supreme Court are not sure about the meaning of a criminal law. Blackmun further protested that:

Persons seeking to exhibit adult.' but protective films, must secure in many cases, the prior approval of the mayor and City Planning Commission; the latter inevitably will make their decisions by reference to the content of the proposed exhibitions ... This may be a permissable way to control pawn shops, pool halls, and other regulated uses for which the ordinance was originally designed. It is not an acceptable way, in the light of the First Amendment's presence, to decide who will be permitted to exhibit what films in what places.

The majority opinion of Justice Stevens denied that the ordinance was a significant infringement of speech or that it was unconstitutionally vague He said different forms of speech are entitled to different standards of protection, and made a statement that may well haunt the court in future speech cases, which often involve unpopular issues: "Few of us would march our sons and daughters off to war to preserve the citizens' right to see 'specified sexual activities' in the theaters of our choice."

Most zoning restrictions can bring forth equally strong exchanges. This is evident from the great disagreement in the courts of the country on various issues of land use regulation. What might be legal in one state may be invalid in another. The two lower federal courts that reviewed the Detroit ordinance split on its validity

Zoning is a highly litigous subject and much time and effort are devoted by the judicial processes to deciding zoning controversies. This adds considerably to court calendars that are generally far too overcrowded already and diverts from the time and attention that can be given other matters. To obtain some perspective as to the cost in judicial time of zoning. I once made a comparison between the amount of land use litigation in non zoned Houston and in zoned Chicago. Land use law suits filed in the City of Houston largely concern the enforcement of restrictive convenants (deed restrictions) which control use in most subdivisions.

For the period from late 1965 through 1971, only 76 lawsuits were instituted by the city to enforce restrictive covenants. By contrast, Chicago which then had about 2.6 times the population of Houston, filed, in the year 1971 alone, 481 law suits to compel zoning compliance. The difference represents a significant but usually unrecognized cost of zoning.

Need for welfare reform

EDITOR'S NOTE — Miss Harrigan is columnist Anthony Harrigan's 22 - year old daughter who works in Washington, D.C.)

With each new year the cost of welfare programs and unemployment continues to rise, increasing the already oppressive burdens on the taxpayers and on productive businesses. Those who financially support this parasitic load with their tax dollars are working harder and longer to bear the strain imposed upon them. The industrious sector of society is showing many signs of stress under this overwhelming deadweight Heavy taxes, which must be levied in order to sustain the welfare policies, are causing many hard - working individuals to question the system and their support of it and are preventing corporations, as well as many small private businesses from expanding. Without the necessary funds for business development. growth will come to a standstill. and the market for new jobs will be stifled.

However, the original problem remains for the unemployed and for those handicapped in some fashion and who, therefore, find it difficult to support themselves and their families. Unfortunately, in almost all circumstances, the welfare system is abused. And it is this treatment of a charitable program that must be eliminated. The following proposal offers a reasonable approach to the elimination of welfare abuses: A trial period of perhaps three months should be allowed the unemployed individual. In this period, he would be charged with seeking some means of self support, while receiving public assistance. During the three month period, the recipient of and would receive a sum adequate to support his family. with an extra amount apportioned specifically for help in searching for a job. The recipient of aid would have to account for his expenditure of funds received under this assistance program. It is possible that an additional limited period of aid would be authorized if the individual didn't find suitable work. During this period, however, the aid recipient would have to spend a certain amount of time on municipal clean-up or civic beautification projects. But only one extension of aid should be authorized as public funds for welfare must be restricted. If the individual fails to find a job after a personal search, he must accept a job designated by the state employment agency. If this job is refused, no further public assistance would be granted. Many jobs in a community go beggin because welfare recipeints today refuse to take what they term "dead end jobs. Many municipal clean-up tasks aren't acomplished because communities can't locate labor at affordable wage rates. This plan would help solve that problem.

In general, the entire welfare situation is in need of a complete revamping. Women who have children in order to increase their welfare payments should be separated from the welfare rolls. They should not be allowed to use this mercenary reason to bring life into this world. In applying restrictions on welfare. the overall aid limitations should apply to women recipients as well as men. However, attention should be given to revising welfare rules which have the effect of breaking up families or discouraging the formation of them. Very often, the welfare system has promoted the unit, the family. Beyond these proposed changes and reforms, there is the major problem that there are too many people in a few. concentrated areas of the country. Many of our cities, especially in the Northeast, are overcrowded and unable to operate effectively for their enormous populations. A given space can contain only a limited number of people and offer a good life to that number. When disintegration of the basic social the numbers increase beyond a certain level, the quality of life deteriorates. Space, jobs, and financial resources are related factors. Serious unemployment and social problems are inevitable when population problems get out of hand. Therefore, in the long run, it would be wise for the country to encourage a dispersal of population from heavily populated areas into the vast. almost empty regions of America. This would promote a social equilibrium. The need to encourage a dispersal of population suggests that an alternative welfare reform would involve providing the recipient with a relocation option in an area where greater job opportunities exist.

While these may not be the most perfect proposals for welfare reform, it is clear that alternatives to the present situation are desperately needed. The welfare system currently in force has proved to be wrong here as well as elsewhere in the world. Changes must come, which reduce dependency, before the strength of our economy and society is dangerously eroded.

Associated Press Writer AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The author of 'Roots' feels his book "touched a public pulse. It shows what we all are." All of us are immigrants, Alex Haley told a crowded House chamber

"We tend to fear the unknown," he said. And when we don't know the history of a people, "whole groups are labeled-spics, wops, niggers. That's patently a lie. Human beings are not like that

Haley said he got his start as a writer by penning love letters for fellow sailors in World War II.

He struggled for eight years after that before he sold a short article to a magazine. Later, he originated the Playboy interview.

Now, his book publisher tells him 'Roots' has sold 900,000 hard cover copies in four months, ranking it second only to "Gone With the Wind," which sold 1 million copies in five months. Black caucus members presented Haley with a certificate from Gov. Dolph Briscoe naming him an honorary Texan, with a Texas flag that has flown from the roof of the Capitol, and with a House congratulatory resolution signed by Speaker Billy Clayton. Briscoe attended a brief reception for Haley in a lounge off the House floor.

The author was here to speak at the University of Texas.

Haley said he worked as a cook on an ammunition ship in the southwest Pacific in World War II. To fight boredom, he wrote "lots and lots of

Years later, he worked on assignment for Reader's Digest for a time before Playboy asked him to do a piece on trumpeter Miles Davis, who 'hated interviewers.' Haley had to get in the ring with Davis, an accomplished boxer as well as musician, before Davis opened up. They became friends, and Davis would sometimes telephone, say one word, "Chili," and hang up. That meant Haley was to get over to Davis' house

Haley used a question-and-answer format for his article on Davis for Playboy. "That was how the Playboy. interview was born," he said. For the next three years, he wrote nearly all of the Playboy interviews, he said.

Then he wrote "The Autobiography of Malcolm X. Remembering stories his grandmother and her sisters told when he was young got him interested in tracing his family, he said. He checked census rolls in North Carolina for the 1870s and began to think of the human stories behind the names.

"If you turn the rolls slowly, they seemed to walk in slow, stately tread. If you turned fast, they seemed to walk briskly," he said.

It took him nine years of researching and three years of writing to piece together the family story going back to"The African"-Kunta Kinte, the man whose story was preserved in the family oral history. A slave ship brought Kinte to this country in 1767. He was Haley's great-great-great-great

The reaction to his book, Haley said, left him bewildered and it exceeded anything he could have imagined, he said. "It would have been insane to fantasize about things going on now." His mail the past two weeks has begun to come in canvas bags, and nine out of 10 letters are from whites.

Like blacks, they had little idea of the cultures blacks came from, he said. Americans, himself included, derived their image of Africa from Tarzan and Jungle Jim movies, he said.

He has read much on the histories of each immigrant group, he said, and discovered "every one of these groups had a fantastic saga.

He feels "immensely enriched" by these stories, he said, and feels enthusiastic about "the potential of us as a people . . . if we can come together with our collective talents."

Running behind schedule because listeners thrust dozens of copies of his book at him to autograph, Haley, a small man, spoke for nearly 15 minutes from the speaker's podium. The crowd applauded several times and gave him a standing ovation at the end.

Congress rushes gas program

WASHINGTON AP - Congressional leaders are rushing to approve President Carter's natural gas program and may have the emergency legislation on his desk by early next week.

The program Carter sent to Capitol Hill on Wednesday as his first legislative initiative seemed assured of quick passage. Members of Congress who once fought bitterly over the natural gas issue were joining forces to help push the measure through Congress.

The emergency legislation would give the President power to divert natural gas to coldstricken parts of the country.

It would also allow emergency sales at unregulated prices by intrastate pipelines - located within gas-producing Gulf Coast states — to interstate pipelines until July 31.

This bill will not not end the shortages, will not improve the weather and will not solve the unemployment problems," Carter warned. But he said it would bring temporary relief to hard-pressed states by shifting gas from areas without acute

The move could raise the monthly gas bills of natural gas consumers, but administration officials said the increases probably would be small.

Carter also renewed his appeal for Americans to lower their thermostats to 65 degrees by day and lower at night, although an aide said later that the President did not want people to break any local or state laws that mandate higher

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration said today it plans to send $50 to nearly every American, beginning in April, if Congress approves the President's $31 billion economic stimulus program.

Administration officials said 96 per cent of all Americans would receive the payments, which would be in the form of a tax rebate for taxpayers and special payments for Social Security recipients and the nontaxpaying poor.

In addition to the $50 rebates and payments to most Americans, the administration also proposed permanent tax reductions for low-and middle-income families totaling $1.5 billion this

Bill would repeal tax on utilities

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A bill repealing the sales tax on household utilities should be ready for floor action shortly after Valentine's Day, says the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. The tax package he has in mind also would bring inheritance tax relief.

Rep. Joe Wyatt, D-Bloomington, said Wednesday he wants to "handle right away" House Bill 1, a package containing both utility and inheritance tax

Quick House passage, however, would not necessarily bring similarly rapid action in the Senate, which might decide to wait until the general appropriation bill has been passed before cutting taxes that might be needed to balance it.

Repeal of the state sales tax on residential gas and electricity would cut state revenue by $344.1 million over the next two years, according to the comptroller's department.

Wyatt announced at the committee's first meeting that it will hold a hearing Feb. 3 on repealing the utility sales tax, which adds 5 per cent to most Texans' bills.

On Feb. 7, the committee will hear inheritance tax proposals. most likely an increase in the $25,000 exemption that has been in force since the 1920s with no increase to reflect changes in the buying power of the dollar.

Other proposals to cut taxes, such as general sales rate reductions, will be heard Feb. 9, Wyatt said. Then on Feb. 14, "I hope we can kick out a bill," he said. Wyatt said this is a good time to cut taxes because of the anticipated $950 million surplus at the end of this fiscal year and an extraordinary $2 billion projected growth in revenue over the next two years.

The best way to hold down spending is to reduce the temptation by eliminating some taxes." Wyatt said. Walt Lilie, the comptroller's

Bill Allaway predicted a leveling off of the rise in state revenues resulting from inflation and rising oil and gas prices.

National weather

By the Associated Press There's no let-up in sight from the severe winter weather plaguing the Midwest and East. Cold and snow was typical overnight as a flow of cold air from the northwest continued to send strong frontal systems through the area.

Colder air swept through the Ohio valley, the Great Lakes and the Appalachians, accompanied by strong winds and snow. Snow and blowing snow reduced visibilities to near zero over several parts of northern Michigan. Gusts of over 60 miles per hour were recorded in eastern Ohio, and snow and blowing snow reached into New York and Pennsylvania.

Still another very cold air mass over central Canada was headed for the northern plains and was expected to reinforce the frigid temperatures in the Midwest by Friday. The overnight temperature in Toronto was 10 degrees.

DEAR ABBY: We hear so much these days about women's liberation and the joys of the career woman versus the "slavery" of housework. This is puzzling.

Part of what attracted me to my husband was what I thought was his belief about the basic old-fashioned attitude that "a woman's place is in the home." Now that we're married, I find that he is just as "modern" as the next fellow. He says, "Any woman who stays at home all

He has no idea of what is involved in housework; he thinks I watch TV all day. When I suggest that we take turns doing cooking and cleaning, he says, "No way-that's woman's work!'

The point of my letter is: Just who is "liberated"? What kind of garbage have women been programmed to believe when they make statements like: "I work because I enjoy getting out of the house; housework's a drag!" So who does their housework for them while they're at the office?

Every employed woman I know does her housework when she gets home at night after eight hours of "office" work. And while she's doing housework, her husband is drinking a beer, watching TV, reading or sleeping.

When advocates of Women's Lib interview working wives and mothers, they often paint a rosy picture. These women should be interviewed when they've dragged themselves to work after a night of staying up with a sick child, then they'd hear such statements as, "I wish I didn't have to work-but Charlie wants a boat just as big as Mr. Jones' boat.

DEAR PUZZLED: I don't have any statistics on how many women work in order to provide their husbands with bigger boats, but those who do are already sunk.

DEAR ABBY: I have a distressing problem that needs an early answer. My niece's husband gets his "fun" from tickling his 4-year-old daughter until the child is exhausted. The mother says she is helpless and can't stop it. My husband has talked seriously with the father, describing his action as torture. But our nephew says it is just "fun," and he does this continually.

Please hurry with your advice -our nephew reads your KENTUCKY MOTHER

This combination taken at once worked beautifully, stopping the attack in 30 seconds. I am now taking four Dilantin a day to prevent an attack. The side effect of the Dilantin is an occasional loss of balance,

DEAR READER - You may be more fortunate than some with tic douloureux (trigeminal neuralgia). Some have repeated sharp lightninglike pains to the side of the face or jaw and the severe pains may last for hours.

The medicines you are taking are commonly used in the treatment of this difficult and painful disease. The combination of medicines has to be worked out for each patient. Dilantin is not as effective as Tegretol but it has less side effects. Your doctor wants you to take the Tegretol in an effort to prevent your attacks. In severe cases that cannot be adequately controlled by feeling on the affected side. In recent years a technique of electrocoagulation has been developed. A needle is inserted into the nerve fibers. By introducing an electric current the pain fibers can be destroyed. Because the pain fibers are not covered with a sheath they are more sensitive and can be destroyed without seriously damaging the rest of the nerve that affects the side of the face. The selective destruction of the pain fibers cures the problem. It is a delicate operation but many

Avocados on the half-shell

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor At this time of year some of the most delicious avocados are in season. They have smooth skin that's forest-green in color

Man files $10 million suit

By MILLER H. BONNER JR. Associated Press Writer

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) - A "little fish" is making $10 million waves at the Port of Brownsville.

Robert D. Manning, who filed a $10 million civil suit against the port, claims he is being drowned in bankruptcy by angry port officials who "want to use me as an example to keep everybody in line.

"I would rather swim in shark-infested water than put up with this mess," declares Manning, 42, a slim, almost frail man, who wears a black patch over his left eye.

been visited by the FBI, the Texas Rangers, the county sheriff's deputies - even (state comptroller) Bob Bullock's raiders," he adds.

In his suit, Manning alleges that two port officials "governed and controlled the activities of the Port of Brownsville by threat and intimidation and by creating fears and destroying business opportunities."

"I'm just a little fish. Whyall of a sudden—do I deserve this kind of attention from the big fish?" asks Manning.

He says his problems can be traced to Sept. 30, 1976, when court against the three navigation district commissioners, Port Director Al Cisneros and the port's director of engineering and planning. Ersel G.

The suit, filed by Houston lawyer Robert M. Julian on behalf of Manning and his ship salvage and repair firm. Fire Bird, Inc., listed the following allegations:

-- Lantz "took possession and control" over a Fire Bird Inc. hose being used to pump oil into a tanker and "ordered that the lock and chain be cut and the valve be opened." The suit closed and locked by Fire Bird Inc. because of an unpaid $10,549.17 bill;

-Lantz made "false statements and snide remarks" concerning Fire Bird, Inc., which "a reasonably prudent business man would interpret in a derogatory manner and which would and did have an adverse effect" on Fire Bird. Inc.:

-The "defendants, or those acting on behalf of defendants." threatened a prospective Fire Bird, Inc., customer that it "would be blacklisted and unable to obtain anything in the Port of Brownsville" if it did causing financial loss to the plaintiffs:

The suit asks $5 million in actual and $5 million in punitive damages.

'We deny everything," says Lantz who adds:

"In my 21 years at the port, I've never seen anything like this suit where a man claims his civil rights have been violated. We don't think there's anything to it ... It's hard to say much because it's still in litigation.

Manning contends his lawsuit is a last-gasp effort to keep his firm afloat.

Dogs can be 'hearing ears'

LEWISVILLE, Tex. (AP) - A child cries. But its deaf mother doesn't hear. The crying could be because of a wet diaper or a bedroom fire.

If not for an 18-month-old Australian Sheperd dog named Banjo, Linda Davis would face such a dilemma next month when her second child is Banjo is one of a new breed, called "hearing ear" dogs, trained through the use of a tape recorder to respond to three specific sounds. And Mrs. Davis, who lost her hearing last July, is one of the first to receive one of the animals.

The dog has been trained to dash back and forth between the source of a specific sound and its owner. In Mrs. Davis' case, Banjo will be alerted by a baby's cries and "tell" his deaf master.

Banjo's trainer, Agnes McGrath of Denver, flew to Dallas Tuesday to present the dog to Mrs. Davis and her husband, Bill. Mrs. McGrath said it takes four to six months to train a dog to respond to the recorded sounds.

Robert White, administrator of special programs for the American Humane Society, said the remarkable canine is the eighth trained "hearing ear"dog to be placed and only the second since the American Humane Society headquarters in Denver took over the program from a Minnesota pilot project that trained the first six dogs.

White said he believes "hearing ear" dogs will someday outnumber the estimated 25,000 "seeing eye" dogs now in use by the blind. He said Colorado, Connecticut and California have already passed laws extending to "hearing ear" dogs the same protection extended to "seeing eye" guide dogs such as allowing them access to public transportation and public places where dogs are not usually allowed.

Ten more dogs are trained and ready for placement. White said, but the list of 50 persons waiting for the dogs conttinues to grow.

"The only way we can keep the supply up to the demand is to start training trainers and expand on a regional basis," he said.

The Pampa Board of Realtors was recently recognized by the National Association of Realtors for their beautification of Red Deer Park.

Mrs. Marilyn Keagy, president, reported that as a result of inflation in recent years, the percentage of existing homes selling for $50,000 or more has risen markedly.

More than one in five local homes sold in 1975 cost $50,000 or more, compared to one in 20 sold in 1970.

According to Mrs. Keagy the three - bedroom home continues to be the most popular purchase in the United States. In 1976, sales of existing three - bedroom homes accounted for more than 55 per cent of all single family homes sold.

Mrs. Keagy announced that Quentin Williams is chairman of the 1977 professional standards committee: Ms. Norma Ward, chairman, educational committee; Ms. Marcia Wise, chairman, finance committee; Verl Hagaman, chairman, membership committee; Ms. Norma Shackelford, chairman, program committee; Ms. Jo Davis, chairman, make America beautiful committee; Ms. Bobbie Nisbet, chairman, WASHINGTON - Rep. Jack the spectrum of agriculture in Hightower has been named to subcommittee posts on agriculture and government operation committees in House.

Clearly pleased with the assignments, Rep. Hightower commented, "With these subcommittees, the 13th District will be able to cut to the heart of more issues that we are concerned with than ever before."

Hightower was named to a subcommittee on department operations, investigations and oversights. He will again serve on a cotton subcommittee, and another on livestock and grain. He said the farm posts cover subcommittees. "I hope with these, and the subcommittee on department operations. investigations and oversights, we can give some needed directions to the USDA. Federal agencies must respond to the needs of the people and to the direction of the Congress, instead of in spite of the needs and directions," he said.

In the government operations post, the Northwest Texas congressman will serve on subcommittees for transportation and environment, energy and Another annual event for area vehicle owners is the Department of Public Safety's vehicle inspection. Donnie Shorter, an inspection mechanic at Marcum Pontiac, Buick and G.M.C. Inc., explained that one of the most common problems arising during the inspection is improper lighting. "Lights ... that's what I find wrong most of the time ... signal, tail and brake lights out," he said. The new stickers are yellow and the inspector, must complete 20 point checklist for passenger cars before the vehicle is approved. At Leisure Lodge, we believe a nursing home should be a place to LIVE:

Attractive Pampa Leisure Lodge, opened in 1975, is built in "wagon wheel" design and has 120 patient beds

That's why we have bright colors, large, comfortable rooms, plenty of good food, 24-hour nursing care, friendly people, and more activities than you can shake a stick at!

We think a nursing home should be a place where people want to come, and that's the way it is with most folks who live at Leisure Lodge. (Which is one reason why we call the people who live here guests, instead of patients.) Leisure Lodge is approved by the Texas State Welfare Department, licensed by the Texas State Department of Health, and is a member of the Texas Nursing Home Association. And in spite of the way our home may appear to you, it doesn't cost a penny more to live here than at any other nursing home.

Prince Charles, speaking Tuesday to a group of farmers at a banquet, said a "fish and game merchant from King's Lynn came round and said. 'Master. you make sure you look at their mothers first." The prince, 28, also joked about how his knees knocked when he was commander of a British minesweeper. Of his Navy career, which ended last month, Prince Charles said, "I enjoyed it enormously but I was petrified most of the time, particularly going alongside (when he was responsible for maneuvering his ship into dock).

Weather emphasizes gas problen

HOUSTON (AP) - Suppliers say the only thing new about the current natural gas problem is the weather.

Fred Ebdon of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. said the natural gas industry has been complaining for more than 20 years since the Federal Power Commission, through a U.S. Supreme Court ruling, took control of the prices gas producers can be paid by firms dealing in the interstate sale of natural

'We've been talking about it for years, but nobody listened," Ebdon said. He added that some gas companies have been forced to curtail out-of-state gas shipments since 1970 and 1971, but he added that the weather, prior to this winter, has not been a critical factor.

The gas companies operate on two systems-interstate and intrastate. Interstate gas prices are those charged by the supplier for gas shipped across state lines. The prices are regulated by the federal government and kept at a level below the intrastate gas price that is regulated by the home state. Although many Texas industries have been faced with 100 per cent gas curtailments and forced to switch to fuel oil, it's the interstate customer who is being frozen out-literally. Natural gas industry spokesmen in Texas say they are not going to drill for gas and sell it to out-of-state customers at prices kept at a lower level than gas sold in the intrastate

Gas-rich Texans got a taste of what can happen a few weeks ago when the city of Wichita Falls had its schools and plants shut down by a gas curtailment. The city is supplied by the interstate system of Lone Star Gas Co. of Dallas. Suppliers claim interstate gas reserves are much lower than the intrastate reserves. As a result, out-of-state customers, mostly states in the East, North and Midwest, have had their shipments curtailed by Texas gas producers.

In emergency cases, suppliers have received approval by the Federal Power Commission to buy new supplies at the intrastate rate and sell it in the interstate market.

Ebdon said his company, which serves primarily customers in Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, has been forced to curtail supplies. He said the company, which supplies 2.6 billion cubic feet a day, has reduced shipments overall this season by nearly 1.4 billion.

Ebdon estimates Panhandle has 7.4 trillion cubic feet of natural gas in reserve, or nine years, but he said reserves are steadily declining.

A spokesman at Lone Star Gas Co. in Dallas estimated that his firm, which deals mainly in intrastate natural gas business, has 12 to 12 and a half years supply in reserveuntil they will run out. The spokesman said 16 years is considered a good average.

Foreign Minister Aquilino Boyd and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance will begin talks on a new canal treaty next week. Boyd, who arrives in New York on Friday, also has or-ders from his leader. Gen. Omar Torrijos, to tell Vance that the 600-square-mile Canal Zone will become the 10th province of the Panamanian state.

Panamanian embassy officials in Washington said any new pact between the Torrijos regime and the Carter administration will be submitted for popular acceptance or rejection in a national plebiscite.

The Panamanian officials say Boyd has firm instructions and will insist that the U.S. presence in and around the canal be ended by the year 2000.

These developments coincided with reports that President Carter plans to name Washington lawyer Sol M. Linowitz as co-negotiator with Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

Bill would force hospital pay for indigents

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)-Rep. Anthony Hall, D-Houston, wants public hospitals paid back for care given out-of-county indigents. He wants it so badly that he's introduced two different proposals to do it.

One part of the package is designed to appeal to small rural counties-the ones whose needy residents often go to the cities for treatment.

The other would appeal to localities with the resources to go to court and enough money at stake to make it worth while.

Hall has introduced a proposed constitutional amendment and two bills.

The constitutional change. coupled with one of the bills. would allow the state to reimburse publicly owned hospitals for the cost of treating out-ofcounty indigents.

The other measure would enable one county to sue another for such expenses

It's a big problem in Houston. It runs to about $2 million a year," Hall said.

Dallas, Fort Worth and Austin are among other localities with large quantities of uncollected hospital bills for out-ofcounty indigents.

Ladies' car clinic set

Ladies Day in the workshop is coming to Pampa.

Spike Harris, manager of the local Firestone store, has announced two upcoming car care clinics for women. Scheduled for 7-9 p.m. Feb. 1 and Feb. 15 at the Firestone Store, 120 N. Gray, the clinics will teach proper auto maintenance techniques.

"A great number of women now maintain their own cars," Harris explained, and the clinic will help them with auto upkeep at minimum expense.

Included in the demonstrations will be functions of brakes. suspension and electrical systems, engine and tires. Each person enrolled in the clinics will receive a complimentary car maintenance booklet. There is no charge for the clinics. For reservations, interested persons are asked to call the Firestone Store at 665-8419.

Palmer among Williams field

SAN DIEGO (AP) - The leg-

He has not won in years. Last season was the worst of his career. But Arnold Palmer still exerts his magic, ummatched influence at the gate.

Many of the younger players on the pro golf tour no longer hold him in awe. But the tournament sponsors do. He is the one man who can make or break a tournament.

Last week, as the partner of former President Gerald Ford. he played before what may have been the largest gallery golf ever has seen. It was a wildly enthusiastic, shouting. camera-clicking. stampeding horde. And Palmer loved every minute of it. It was home country to the man who is credited with building the modern game to its present popularity, the pants-hitching Pied Piper to the legions of his still-loyal follow-

"It was so much fun I just decided to keep on playing for a while." Palmer said before teeing off today in the first round of the $180,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open. His presence, unusual for this tournament, brought the event its biggest gallery ever in Wednesday's Pro-Am. Hourlong traffic jams built up on the entrances to the Torrey Pines Golf Club. And they all were looking for Palmer.

He has not won in this country in four years. Last season, he won money in only 13 of 19 events. His winnings were only $17,000 - by far the worst of his career. Many thought he might not play again - or would play a greatly restricted schedule.

He is scheduled for four consecutive events.

"Then we'll see," he said. "A lot will depend on how I'm playing.

And although he missed the cut last week. Palmer feels he still is very competitive, still capable of the victory that has eluded him so long.

"Golf is my life," said the 47year-old Palmer, who has won 61 tour titles and a financial fortune. "I play because I want to, because I like to. I'll play as long as I think I can win."

While he did not rank among the favorites for the $36,000 first prize in this 72-hole test. he held the role of sentimental choice among the field of 156 and was certain to draw the tournament's biggest crowds.

Pampa joins others in supporting telethon

Pampa will join with other Panhandle area towns Friday and Saturday for the 18-hour television marathon in support of West Texas State University's campaign to raise additional funds to keep WTSU's athletic program in the N.C.A.A.

The telecast is scheduled to begin at 11 p.m. Friday and run until 5 p.m. Saturday over KFDA-TV in Amarillo. Glen Courtney of the Chamber of Commerce Sports Committee has been named to organize and recruit Pampans to help in the local telethon details. WTSU ex-students and others willing to assist by taking telephone calls are asked to contact Courtney at his office, 665-8611, or at home, 665-3042.

Courtney said three rotary telephone lines will be set up in the offices of Radio Station KPDN where local calls will be taken. The telethon phone number will be 669-7461. "All persons in the Pampa area are urged to participate in this Panhandle - wide program to assure a fine athletic program at West Texas State," Courtney said today.

Don Meredith, a sportscaster for NBC and former Dallas Cowboy quarterback, and Cowboys Cliff Harris and Scott Laidlaw will be among those in Amarillo Friday for the telethon

Barbara Hunter, a sportscaster for NBC in New York, and television stars Morgan Fairchild and Jennifer Page Phillips also will be on hand.

Amarillo Tascosa Coach David Camfield thinks about the way it could have been during a Pampa timeout in the waning stages of the District 3-AAAA contest Tuesday night in Amarillo. Camfield's Rebels dropped a 74-64 decision to Pampa, which took over sole possession of first place in the initial half of district play. Tascosa fell to 1-1 with the loss. The Harvesters are in good shape to win the first - half title with home games against Amarillo Palo Duro (Friday) and Amarillo High (Tuesday) left.

Haller captures 1st SWC victory

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

New Baylor Coach Jim Haller's brand of discipline paid off for his first collegiate basketball victory Wednesday

Haller, who replaced resigned Carroll Dawson, decided to bench high-scoring Larry Spicer for a poor effort Monday night against Houston.

What it did was turn the talented Spicer, a 6-foot-8 sophomore from Memphis, Tenn. into a scoring-rebouding machine against Rice. Spicer was benched for the first 12 minutes of the game against Rice then came on like a fireworks dis-

Spicer scored 31 points and corralled 13 rebounds in an 89-76 victory over the Owls. In the only other Southwest Conference game of the night, the Texas Aggies whipped winless Texas Christian 79-60.

SWC action swings into highgear tonight with Arkansas (7-0) trying to protect its unblemished record against Southern Methodist in Dallas while Houston (5-1) tries to keep pace in Lubbock against tough Texas

"Ever since I took this job I wanted to inspire concentration, intensity, and aggressiveness, " said Haller. "I told the players that the ones who demonstrated these qualities would be the ones on the court. Spicer didn't do that against Hous-

The Texas Aggies found some unexpected scoring punch from Willie Foreman, cousing of heavyweight boxer George Foreman, to floor. The younger Foreman and senior guard Steve Jones each scored 23 points against TCU, now 0-8 in

The win was a just reward for a lot of hard work...our players deserve some success, said Aggie Coach Shelby Metcalf. "Willie Foreman is going to be a good player. He's got a lot of tools, he just needs to get more consistent."

Shellenberg was fouled on a driving attempt as the Tar Heels tried to protect a onepoint lead. Phil Ford fouled out on the play after pacing the losers with 19 points. Wake Forest's Rod Griffin led all scorers with 21 points while Shellenberg added 12. Frank Johnson and Larry Harrison had 11 and Skip Brown scored 10.

Meanwhile, Syracuse, No. 17. boosted its road record to 10-2 and won its eighth in a row over-all, holding off Temple 76-67 after piling up a 24-point bulge. No. 19 Clemson turned back Furman 94-86 while No. 20 Memphis State nipped New Orleans 88-86.

The restless Chicago fans came down hard on the hometown Bulls at halftime Wednesday night ... but not nearly as hard as the embarrassed Bulls came down on the Cleveland Cavaliers in the second half.

Down by 18 points in the second period and trailing by 16 at halftime, the Bulls came alive following a chewing-out by coach Ed Badger and rallied for a 106-93 triumph that dropped the Cavaliers from

"I told the guy that baseball is just like a kid with a train. You have to outgrow it sometime. I didn't mean it to be a reflection. I don't hold any animosity. It's just that a man has to turn to other things. That's

Maris cannot erase, however, memories of the resentment Virtually unnoticed were the shown by old diamond traditionalists when he struck his 61st home run on Oct. k, 1961, and wiped out - with an asterisk noting he played in eight more games — the proud Ruth record that had endured more than three decades.

"Every day I went to the ball park — in Yankee Stadium as well as on the road - people were on my back," he recalled. "The last six years in the American League were mental hell for me. I was drained of all of my desire to play base-

Maris carried on a feud with some influential members of the press. He became sullen. Anti-Maris groups surfaced throughout the league. He was booed. He became an outfield target for beer bottles. They called him a "Red Neck."

On top of these personal problems fell an avalanche of physical ailments — a pulled eg muscle, sore back, a bone fragment in his right hand, finally a mild form of palsy. During the tension of his assault on Ruth's record, his hair began falling out.

He was benched for the first time in his career. Then in 1964 he had his salary cut $10,000 by the Yankees. In 1966 he was traded to the St. Louis Cardi-

He quit at the end of the 1968 season, at age 34.

LUBBOCK - All fishermen want to catch big fish and when they do, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department needs to know about them. Management information is still being gathered across the state and valuable data can be recorded if anglers catching big fish will fill out a "certificate of fishing merit" application and return it to the P&WD. Information that you put on this application will help answer questions such as: why do some lakes provide good fishing for a long time and other lakes do not; why do some lakes grow big fish and other lakes yield only small fish; does fishing pressure or lake location in Texas influence fishing success.

Various techniques are used by fishery biologists in obtaining the above information such as creel census and chemical or net samplings in selected coves of numerous lakes. Texas has so many lakes to study that assistance from fishermen is necessary to complete the study and the "big fish" award will give this required data. Eligible species and minimum weights include: spotted seatrout, 7 lbs; redfish (from Gulf), 25 lbs; redfish (from Bay), 10 lbs; black drum, 35 lbs; southern flounder, 6 lbs; largemouth bass, 7 lbs; crappie, 3 lbs; white bass, 3 lbs; striped bass, 15 lbs; striped - white bass hybrid, 6 lbs; channel catfish, 12 lbs; blue cat, 35 lbs; flathead cat, 50 lbs; walleye, 6 lbs; rainbow and brown trout, 2 lbs.

Minimum weights now being accepted may change in the future as populations are established in additional lakes and streams.

The award rules require all fish entered to be caught by hook and line in Texas waters since Jan. 1, 1974. The person applying for the certificate must have hooked, fought, and landed the fish. All fish entered must be measured for total length, and must be weighed on an inspected scale certified for trade by the Texas Department of Agriculture and a statement of weight must be signed by a

Additional information and applications forms are available at all license vendors and P&WD offices across the state.

A RICH TREAT MT MORRIS. III. (AP) Ice cream began as a treat for the rich. From the Romans to King Charles 1 of England to fashionable restaurants in 17thcentury Paris, ice cream was for the wealthy and powerful. says Bob Krebs, editor of American Dairy Review.

'It wasn't until 1851 that the commercial ice cream industry was born in the United States. Krebs notes. "Abolitionist Jacob Fussell converted surplus cream from his Baltimore dairy into ice cream and was awarded the contract to supply Union troops with ice cream during the Civil War.
