Purcell Visits City, Discusses Solution To Water Problem

"Water for this part of the country is going to have to be secured," U.S. Rep. Graham Purcell told members of the Pampa Noon Lions Club yesterday. /

Stating the area would be "in dire need" if the scarcity of water continues. Purcell said all parts of the state need to work together to develop the various water programs.

"We're going to have to be a part of some water program." he told the assembled Lions at their meeting in the First Methodist Church, no matter how the situation is finally

Pampans To Leave For Areas Promoting August ToT Rodeo

Four automobile loads of Pampans will leave Monday morning for a tour of the Panhandle area to promote the Top O' Texas Rodeo scheduled at Recreation Park Aug. 2-5.

Plans for distribution of promotional material were outlined at a meeting of TOT Rodeo Association directors last night in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Members of the Leather & Lace Riding Club will assist board members in the whirlwind advertising trip for distribution of posters and other promotional material.

Next Monday board members will distribute posters in

A breakfast is scheduled Thursday, July 17, at the Black Gold Restaurant to-outline plans for distribution of merchants' complimentary tickets for the rodeo.

At 7 a.m. Saturday, July 15, rodeo associationd directors, friends, neighbors and anyone willing to help, will meet at the rodeo grounds for a clean-up, paint-up and general refurbishing session.

Association officials point out there has been no rodeo for two years, but expenses have gone on the same as usual.

As a result, they say, the work of getting the rodeo grounds in shape for this year's show will be done without the expense of hiring men to do the work.

"We need all the help we can get," Holly Gray, association president, said today. "We hope to see a big turnout on the morning of July 15."

Those who come to assist are urged to bring along rakes, hoes, paint brushes and other implements needed for a clean-up job.

Department is trying to locate a 17-year-old woman and a number of worthless checks still outstanding that she and two companions issued in a swindling scheme over the past

A break came in the string of purchases with the bad checks when a local merchant furnished Pampa police with a description of the three women the car they were driving and the license number.

The trio had shopped his store Thursday for clothing and had paid for it with a check signed 'Mrs. S. Green." A bank check disclosed no such account and police were alerted.

The WTCC executive board is made up of 35 prominent West Texans who will come to Pampa for their annual summer board

The two-day session will get underway at a dinner in Coronado Inn Thursday evening, July 20.

All District 1 members of the WTCC are invited to attend the meeting.

The summer session of the executive board is set for Friday morning, July 21. Reports on the WTCC work program and aims and objectives for the coming year will comprise the principal topics of business

Texas Bank Deposits Climb To All-Time High

Deposits have climbed to the highest levels in the history of many Texas banks-a widely accepted index of healthy business conditions

Reports were made Thursday in response to a quarterly call from the U.S. comptroller of the currency and other agencies for conditions as of June 30.

Banks in Houston and elsewhere in Harris County hit a collective alltime high topping $7 billion, and Dallas lacked only about $200 million of matching that figure.

Other cities and counties with record totals included Tarrant County (Fort Worth), El Paso, Kerrville, Anderson County (Palestine), San Angelo, Taylor County (Abilene), Texarkana, Tyler, Brown County (Brownwood), Hunt County (Greenville) and Bryan.

The over-all showing was considered unusual for this time of year, since bank deposits ordinarily reach their peak at year's end.

In most cases, bankers simply credited good business without singling out any one factor. . One of those commenting was A. W. Riter, incoming president of the Tyler Clearing House Association.

Improvements in the economy are being reflected in an increased loan demand, which is beginning to place some upward pressure on short-term rates around the country. This should be good for Tyler and East Texas." Riter said.

Greenville and Hunt County reported their sixth consecutive alltime high.

Total Rainfall In City Soars To 8.51 Inches

The rains which began in May for Pampa still continue, as a thunderstorm which hit the city about 4 a.m. today dropped another .12 inch of rain.

The year's total moisture is now 8.51 inches, with the total for the first week of July being .16 inch

Showers and occasionally heavy thunderstorms revisited other parts of the Panhandle-Plains sector and West Texas during the night while cool weather-for July-still held sway in most sections of the state, according to Associated Press reports.

Increasing thunderstorms were moving toward the north from outside Corpus Christi eastward in the Gulf of Mexico. Outside the shower belts. skies were clear to partly cloudy

Forecasts held out prospects for a little warming trend over most of the state with a few scattered showers or thunderstorms recurring in West and extreme South Texas

Museum had its 5000th registered visitor Monday since its formal opening 18 months, ago, according to Mrs. Fred Thompson, curator.

Mrs. Edna Day, 1208 W. Bond, became the 5000th visitor when she signed the guest register Monday afternoon. The museum houses some 20,000 artifacts, including the records of the White Deer Land Company and its predecessor, Francklyn Land and Cattle Company, and the Rolla J. Sailor arrowhead collection.

The latest accession is an antique piano, the old box-shaped type. The piano, which still can be played, is a gift from Mrs. George Cooper of Perryton in honor of her family, the G. W. Osborne family, who were pioneers of the Gray County area.

Another new acquisition is a three-seater love seat, with the seats arranged in a circle facing outward. The unusual sofa is

THE BRONCO BUSTER-The first and most popular of Frederic Remington's bronzes was The Bronco Buster, conceived and executed during the summer of 1895. Sculpture was new to Remington when he produced this work, but his success with the medium was immediate. Other work by Remington, as well as paintings by Charles Marion Russell and a hand-colored collection of Currier & Ives prints, are being shown at the Amarillo Art Center. The exhibit will close Aug. 13.

Wedding Vows Are Exchanged By Nancy Weyel, Michael Ruff

8:30 p.m. Saturday, June 24, in the First Presbyterian Church of Snyder by Nancy Lee Weyel of Snyder and Michael Rodney Ruff of Pampa

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Elmo G. Weyel of Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. Shelby J. Ruff of Pampa are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Ceremony The Rev. John Gordon, church pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony

Miss Vena Genuchi sang "It's Impossible" and "The Lord's Prayer." Organists were Miss Genuchi and Miss Bennie

Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with a brass candelabra and matching spiral candelabra holding tall tapers. Emerald foliage and arrangsments of white flowers in floor standards completed the setting. Family pews were marked by ribbon bows. The Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of ivory organza and Venice lace over peau de soie. The bodice, enhanced with lace appliques, featured a lace Victorian neckline and long sleeves, accented with lace appliques, that ended in a wide lace ruffle. The empire waistline was encircled by pink ribbon, ending at the back with a bow and long streamers. The floor-length skirt, bordered with lace appliques, fell in unpressed pleats from the waistline and extended to a chapel train, also edged with lace.

Her chapel-length veil of illusion fell from a calot of Venice lace, embroidered with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white cymbidium orchids, pale pink feathered carnations and gysophila.

Attendants Miss Melissa Baldwin of Odessa was maid of honor, and Mrs. George Zochowski of Boise, Idaho, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Charlotte Logan and Miss Jan Pitcock, cousin of the bride. both are from Houston. All wore floor-length gowns styled with empire waistlines, pink bodices and organza skirts featuring a floral print. Their headpieces were circlets of flowers that matched the nosegays they carried of white daisies, orchid pompons, carnations, purple statice and gysophila.

Wilks of Canyon, formerly of Pampa, served as best man. Groomsmen were Rusty Reeves of Pampa, Mark Piercy of Lubbock and Steve Weyel of Snyder, brother of the bride. Serving as ushers were Steve Barham and Mike Domino, both of Lubbock.

Reception For the reception at the

of Dr. and Mrs. Carl A. Dillaha, the bride's table was centered with a pink and white floral arrangement and a silver candelabra.

The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with a miniature nosegay of fresh flowers and smilax. Presiding at the serving table were Mrs. Robert Ping, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Steve Barham and Miss DeLynn Zochowski

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a luggage tan costume dress, styled with a bodice of ecru lace, with brown accessories.

The couple will be at home at 2404-28th Street, Lubbock.

Affiliations The bride is a senior student of Pampa High School, received at Texas Tech University, Lubbock The bridegroom, a graduate his degree in finance in 1972. He is associated with Equitable Life Insurance Company in Lubbock.

Out-of-town guests attended from Dallas, Houston, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Pampa; San Antonio and Boise, Idaho:

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Ruff, the bridegroom's parents, hosted the rehearsal dinner at the American Motor Inn.

East was one of those really dangerous players who think they are experts while they do everything wrong.

His choice of a spade instead of club bid is a case in point. This time it should have worked out for him, because it got his opponents to three no-trump and, when West placed the queen of clubs on the table, South could count to just eight tricks and no further.

South took the first club and rattled off six diamond tricks and East had to make five discards. The first four were rather easy. He chucked two spades, a hear and a club

The fifth caused him problem and he solved it in correctly. He jettisoned the queen of spades.

Now South knocked out the spade ace. The defense cashed three clubs and South made the last two tricks and his contract.

There's nothing funny about TV's sick humor

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please write something in your column about the sick humor that has become so popular on television. I refer to the skits in which they make fun of old

This type of comedy mocks and ridicules the feeble walk, faltering speech and the failing sight and hearing of the aged, many of whom have no other entertainment than watching television.

The elderly have earned a place of dignity in this land which they have built with their labor and supported with their money during their productive years. Sign me . . FORTY-EIGHT AND GETTING THERE

DEAR FORTY-EIGHT: Nothing can become popular unless the majority of the people want it, which is a pretty sad commentary on our times. However, our humor has improved since comedians ridiculed foreigners and minority groups. We've come a long way, but we still have a long way to go. For immediate action, complain to the sponsors or the network.

DEAR ABBY: I am 32 years old, have been married for seven years, and have three children. My problem arises from my night out.

I bowl with the boys on Monday nights. On Fridays I bowl with my wife. I belong to one civic organization which meets every other Wednesday night. I have a sale's job, which means I sometimes have to make a call in the evening, maybe once a week, but when this happens, I am always home by midnight.

Abby, when I come home from any of these evenings my wife throws the book at me like I came home at 4 a. m. smelling of booze and women. My wife always knows where I am and who I'm with.

She treats me like a mother would treat a son. I am a good husband, and I don't appreciate being bawled out and yelled at.

What do you think?

DEAR BOY: If you refer to yourself as a good boy-that could be part of your problem. Start thinking of yourself as a good MAN. Let your wife know that you will not be intimidated. Stand up to her, MAN-style, and she may treat you like one.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me how to solve an embarrassing situation without losing some friends we have known for years. They are a couple in their mid-sixties who visit in our home for a week at a time.

We are happy to have our friends visit us, but I am so embarrassed by the actions of the husband I fear I will lose my temper and tell him off.

He comes to the breakfast table in his undershorts for one thing. And for another, if the bathroom is occupied, he knecks loudly on the door until he gets the other party out.

I have asked my husband to speak to this man, but he says he doesn't want to insult a guest in our home. The wife is a lovely patient person, but she will not criticize her husband either. Have you any suggestions?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Today is Friday, July 7, the 189th day of 1972. There are 177 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1865, four persons were hanged after being named as accomplices of John Wilkes Booth in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

On this date: In 1801, the Negro general. Toussaint l'Ouverture, proclaimed Haiti's independence from France.

In 1918, British naval forces bombarded Constantinople during World War I.

In 1898, the United States annexed the island of Hawaii. In 1937, the Sino-Japanese War began with a clash between Japanese and Chinese soldiers at the Marco Polo Bridge near Peking. In 1958, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the Alaska statehood bill.

Ten years ago: ninety-four persons were killed when an Italian airliner crashed in a storm near Bombay, India.

Five years ago: The commander of American forces in Vietnam, Gen. William Westmoreland, said of the war: "We are winning, slowly but stead-

A trial lasted seven months. One hundred and twenty-five expert witnesses testified and were cross-examined.

The record filled 8,900 pages. At the end of the hearing, the government-appointed judge or hearing officer for the Environmental Protection Agency found DDT not guilty on all counts. EPA examiner Edmund Sweeney stated in his official findings that DDT does NOT kill fish, does NOT kill birds, and is not deleterious to organisms in estuaries and ocean. He recommended that a temporary restriction on the use of DDT be lifted. His exact words were

"There is a present need for the continued use of DDT for the essential uses defined in this

He was referring to uses that were specified by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Aft the hearing and after the findings of fact and conclusion had been drawn by the hearing examiner, the case went to the top administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, William D Ruckelshaus. There a strange thing happened.

Ruckelshaus decided that DDT may cause cancer, does kill fish and may hasten extinction of some wild birds by making their egg shells then. That was a direct contradiction of examiner Sweeney's finding.

Both Sweeney and Ruckelshaus are lawyers, Sweeney with the Department of Interior and Ruckelshaus with the Department of Justice. We do not know which of them is better posted on science, but it is reasonable to suppose that a lawyer would be able to pick up a smattering of ecological information in a 7-month-long hearing of 125 top witnesses in the country.

So here we have a case in which two men looked at the same evidence and came up with different answers. One man said DDT is innocent. The other said DDT is guilty. The second man ranks higher politically than the first man. So the result is that a pesticide once deemed highly beneficial to the human race, is now banned to the use of millions The point is that the decision was made on the basis of political rank, not on the basis

deduction"-according to

With yet another election facing us this fall, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce comments that candidates will be laboring the "tax reform" theme as a means of closing the loopholes. The chamber says it's time to tell tax payers why they have to bear such a large burden in the first place. The reason is not the loopholes, but rather government spending. Now, the fact is, were it not for loopholes, nobody we know could survive financially under the present high income tax rates.

Yet, led by Ralph Nader, a major effort is under way to pinch off what are now perfectly legal deductions. Nader points out that 112 persons in the upper income brackets paid no federal income taxes in 1970. They escaped payment, he charges, because of "loopholes unavailabe to the ordinary the loopholes he was talking about. It turned out that interest payments were the primary deduction used by 54 of the 112 persons that he targets. In fact, the chamber reported, 79 of the 112 used either the interes provision, state income taxes or contributions to religious and charitable institutions as primary deductions. These are not loopholes for the wealthy only, but are available to every homeowner: When you hear a tax reformer talk about loopholes, it is well to remember that he is really saying, among other things, that you are not entitled to subtract from taxable income the interest payment you make on your mortgage. The word 'loophole' sounds a lot different when you pay strict attention to what it refers.

McGovern's First Ballot Hope Fading

By BRUCE BIOSSAT WASHINGTON (NEA)-

Hurt by a decision cutting his delegate total in California, Sen. George McGovern has lost strength for the first time since his rise toward the Democratic presidential nomination began.

The fifth and final NEA-National Observer delegate count places his newly estimated potential at 1,3741/2 votes, or four votes fewer tha .. the 1,3781/2 given him in the fourth count early in June.

Since 1,509 votes are needed for nomination, the senator stands 1341/2 votes below the winning mark.

What checked McGovern's upward spiral and sent him downward was the ruling of the convention credentials committee, meeting in Washington, which took away 151 of the 271 delegates he had captured June 6 in California's winner-take-all primary.

He was left wit just 120 from that state, while Sen. Hubert Humphrey and other McGovern rivals were given delegates in proportion to their share of the primary day voting.

The effects of this blow go well beyond California. The momentum McGovern got from that victory and a later triumph in New York was moving additional strength his way every day. Some of that is solid and stays with him. But some is

In the revised estimates which followed the California decision, McGovern is judged in this fifth NEA-Observer survey to have lost another 581/2 votes which clearly were flowing his way from the ranks of uncommitted delegates and from a weakening Sen. Edmund Muskie.

Had nothing reversed this tide, the indications are McGovern was headed for a first ballot nomination at Miami Beach with perhaps 75 votes more than the needed 1,509

Unless the ruling is reversed by court action or by the convention itself. McGovern hereafter may find himself in severe difficulties. If the impact of the California case is widespread it might translate into still further delegate losses. But there is also a chance of the opposite happening. If he can portray the ruling as unfair and improper and mount counterattack on moral grounds, he might win sympathy among the delegates and get back on a winning track

The net consequences of the changes is to boost the delegate count for second-place Humphrey to 566, the highest level he has ever reached in these surveys. Gov. George Wallace, paralyzed, but still planning to attend the convention, moves up a bit to hold a strong third place with an even 400 delegates. Muskie rebounds slightly to 210.

These and others join in the action which hurt McGovern. At the delegate level in the field, they and many party regulars who have challenged or disliked his candidacy failed to muster the votes to stop him. They obviously saw the California challenge in the credentials committee as their big opportunity

This final survey turned up some very stubborn resistance to the South Dakotan. Some of it. is based on wide convictions that he would lose to President Nixon and drag many other Democrats down with him. Some exist because he is judged "too radical" in his proposals for tax and welfare reform and defense cuts

But many regulars simply are bitter at what they consider arrogant strong-arm tactics which they say McGovern's forces often used to get delegates. Such hostility has to be heard to be believed.

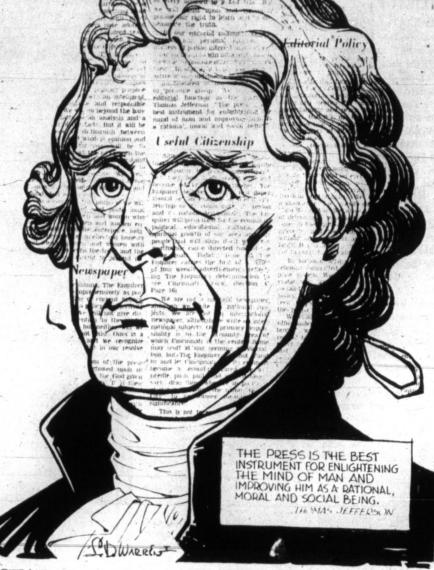

Yet few of these resisters seem to think Humphrey or Muskie can make it. They appear to have no ready substitute for McGovern.

Land Of The Free. Home Of Brave

Americans are so afraid of crime that 30 percent keep a gun at home for protection, according to a Life magazine survey. A poll of nearly 50,000 readers showed that 80 percent of those in big cities were afraid to walk out at night and 43 percent reported that their families had been victims of crime last year. Americans in small towns were nearly as scared as big city dwellers." Only those who live in the smallest towns and rural areas feel safe on the streets.-South African Observer

The current cries for "Peace" and demands for total "nonintervention" by the United States have a curious thing in common: They always seem to benefit the Communist plan for world domination. "Don't intervene in Cuba," warned the New York Times. We didn't, and now we have a Soviet outpost on our Southeastern border, one which threatens to eventually gobble up Central and South America before tending to us.

But something quite different happened in the case of the Dominican Republic. We did "intervene." And the story has a happy ending. Father Daniel Lyons, who has made a recent visit to the Dominican Republic, recounted that story for the Manion Forum-radio audience. Here it is:

"My visit to the Dominican Republic was to try and catch up on the present situation down there. You know the United States went in - they feared another Cuba. People say we intervened. Actually, what we did in 1965 was to go in at the request of the legitimate government, which had held an election and the Leftists and Communists would not accept the results of the election. Therefore, they started a civil war. Well, we went in on behalf of the legitimate government, and at its request, to help stem this civil war, which was, in effect, Communist revolution. Balaguer, the man that we went to help in 1965, was re-elected in 1970.

"The result of our aid to the legitimate government in the Dominican Republic is that you have a free society down there; we avoided another Cuba with all of the problems that would have caused. It's a prosperous country and quite a contrast, incidentally, to the other half of the island where Haiti still suffers from, not a Communist dictator, but. nevertheless, a dictator.

"Had we not gone into the Dominican Republic, the Communists, I'm convinced, would have taken over. Bosch, who was a doctrinaire Liberal, seemed uninterested in opposing Communisme In fact, he deals with Castro very openly today, indicating what type of man he is and has been all along.

"We would have had another Cuba and that would have been another nine million people, because to the five million - people in the Dominican Republic would have been added Haiti. It's very far better than adults do. For the benefit of our other readers, a tetratology of Fallot is a birth defect of the heart which is associated with a hole between the lower pumping chambers of the heart (the right and left ventricle) and a displacement of the artery that carries blood to the body and the artery to the lungs. The combination of defects often causes a child to be cyanotic or blue. Many of these, as with other birth defects of the heart, can be corrected with modern heart surgery

Dear Reader - If you are able to be active in sports, without difficulties, you shoulan't have any trouble having a baby. Many women who have rheumatic heart disease have had several pregnancies. happened to the fifty-six men who signed the Declaration of Independence pledging their lives, their fortunes, their sacred honor that this nation under God, would not perish from the earth? Five were captured and tortured by the British. Nine fought and died from wounds and hardships of war. Twelve had their homes pillaged and burned. Two lost their sons in battle. Another had two sons captured. John Hart was driven from his wife's bedside as she lay dying. Their thirteen children fled for their lives. His mill and fields were laid waste. For more than a year he lived in forests and caves, and he returned home to find his wife dead and his children vanished. A few weeks later he died from exhaustion and heart break Morris and Livingston suffered similar fates. Carter Braxton of Virginia, wealthy planter and trader, saw his ships swept from the seas by the British navy. He sold his home and property to pay his debts and died destitute. Vandals and soldiers looted the properties of Ellery, Clymer, Hall, Walton, McKean, Hayward, Rutledge and Middleton. At the battle of Yorktown, Thomas Nelson, Jr. urged General Washington to fire on his (Nelson's) home which British General Cornwallis had taken over for his headquarters. Washington did, and Nelson, too, died broke.

Who were these super patriots? Twenty-four were lawyers and justices, eleven were merchants. Nine were farmers. These men whom we patriots today were regarded as radicals by the moderates of their time who counseled, "Come and let us reason together with the King." They all signed the Declaration of Independence knowing full well that the penalty would be death if they were captured. They knew that King George would brand them as traitors, which he did: They knew they would be tracked down, persecuted and killed which they were. They could have gone along like some of our "fatcats" are doing today. Gone along with what they thought was "the wave of the future" and stayed on top for a while at least.

Life Is Sacred Recently, leftist Life Magazine ran an article which was highly critical of the Post Office Department. Life called for postal reform. I agree. And one of the first reforms instituted should be to take away the "Red Tag" service Life gets from the Post Office. In testimony before a House Committee, James H. Radsmacher, President, National Association of Letter Carriers, said: "Life is delivered every week on the exact day of the week." He said preference is given to Life "despite the fact that there might be other mail waiting.

"Life, the Wall Street Journal and the New York Times have absolute preference over all other ail matter," the union chief testified. "And your Life magazine will be in the mailbox on schedule, irrespective of problems that Life reports in the current Unanswered, as far as I know, is the 64-dollar question: "Who and where is the pay-off which gets preferred treatment for a handful of publications?

The Post Office operates at a huge deficit. I think the Post Office should break even. As a publisher, I have for many years editorialized in favor of higher postal rates, if necessary, and for paying whatever our fair share should be. As far as I know no other publisher who depends entirely on the mails has so done. And Life, which reportedly costs the taxpayers $9 million a year to get mailed, never mentions its own huge subsidy, or its preferential treatment, as it campaigns for lower rates and better service. The hypocrites.

But, of course, practically all "liberals" are hypocrites.

I Can't Believe They Ate The Whole Thing...

A federal program designed to feed needy school children during the summer isn't exactly doing the job according to a recent Agriculture Department survey. More than half the meals, it turns out, are being eaten by adults. Edward Heckman, administrator of the department's Food and Nutrition Service, has acknowledged "there were serious questions of eligibility for reimbursement of more than half of the meals served." The Rev. Ted J. Dotts. Pampa, who is in charge of the Pampa district of the United Methodist Church, will be among some 360 delegates from eight South-Central states meeting in Houston July 11-14.

Purpose of the meeting will be to elect four new bishops, assign, 10 bishops to episcopal areas for four-year terms and transact other business.

Held every four years, the South Central Jurisdiction Conference will be one of five United Methodist Jurisdictional Conferences meeting simultaneously this summer.

Equally divided between clergy and laity, the 366 delegates at the South Central meeting will represent 2,086,683 United Methodists from 7,057 congregations in Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Texas, Louisiana, and Arkansas.

Scheduled on the eve of the Conference Monday is an evangelistic service in the Shamrock Hilton Grand Ballroom with Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland, host bishop, presiding and Dr. S. Jameson Jones, president of Iliff School of Theology, Denver, Colo., preaching.

Some committees will meet Monday but the first official session is Tuesday morning. Adjournment is expected mid-day Friday with a closing episcopal consecration service at First United Methodist Church. All other sessions will be at the Shamrock Hilton.

With four bishops of the South Central Jurisdication scheduled to retire, the election of persons to succeed them is considered a highlight of the meeting. A total of nineteen new bishops are to conferences, an unusually high number Another highlight of the Houston meeting will be the assignment of 10 active bishops of the Jurisdiction to their respective areas for the 1972-76 quadrennium. In addition to the areas where bishops are retiring, at least one bishop. Eugene M. Frank of St. Louis, Mo., must be assigned to a new area because of church law which limits to 12 the number of years a bishop can serve in one Half of the jurisdiction's 10 bishops could remain in their present area, though any of them can be moved by action of the Conference. They are:

Paul W. Milhouse, Oklahoma; Alsie H. Carleton, Northwest Texas-New Mexico; Kenneth W. Copeland, Houston; O. Eugene Slater, San Antonio; and W. McFerrin Stowe, Kansas.

The new bishops will not necessarily be assigned to areas vacated by those retiring, as the Conference may make any assignments it desires of its active bishops. Assignments to areas are made by the Conference on recommendation of its Committee on Episcopacy. No bishop may be assigned for episcopal supervision to the area from which he was elected. The four bishops retiring in the South Central Jurisdiction are: Noah W. Moore, Jr., Nebraska; Paul V. Galloway, Arkansas; W. Kenneth Pope, Dallas-FortWorth; and Aubrey G. Walton, Louisiana.

Though much of the interest and work of the Conference will center around the episcopacy, other important matters are on the agenda. The conference will be electing clerical and lay members to several national boards and agencies of the Church. Under a major overhaul of church structure approved by the denomination's law-making body, General Conference, last April, several new national

An episcopal messsage cepresenting all members of the College of Bishops will be given during opening morning sessions by retiring Bishop Aubrey G. Walton, Louisiana. The first ballot for election of bishops will be taken Tuesday morning.

Of all five United Methodist Jurisdictions, the South Central Jurisdiction has the broadest racial composition. Speaking to ethnic concerns during the conference will be; Dr. Noe Gonzales, president of Lydia Patterson Institute, El Paso, Tex.; Dale E. Robinson, superintendent of McCurdy School, Espanola, New Mex.; the Rev. Rodney E. Roberts, superintendent of the Navajo Indian Mission School, Farmington, New Mex.; the Rev. Thomas Roughface, a district superintendent in the Oklahoma Indian Mission Conference; the Rev. Roy D. Barton, program director for the Rio Grande (Spanish-speaking) Conference; and the Rev. Zan W. The engineer replied, "But certainly you must remember that I specifically advised you not to do that." The president replied, "Yes, I remember that you advised us not to do it, but you didn't pound the table when you advised us." Recently a prominent speaker on the radio said that he never talked about the Ten Commandments anymore, because they were too far out of date. He also said that their language was too harsh for the weak sensibilities of our day. This speaker felt that instead of using such strong terms as "command" and "Thou shalt not" the Lord should have employed some softer words such as "I recommend" or "I suggest" or "I advise." But soft words frequently produce soft attitudes with weak meanings bout as important as the idea and built-in violations. (Exodus 20: 3-4, 7-8, 12-17) These sixty-seven words can be read in less than thirty seconds, and yet if they were followed, they would quickly transform our world. We not only disobey these important laws, many people don't even know what they are, or where to find them. One man once said to his friend, "I'll give you five dollars if you can repeat any one of the Ten Commandments." His friend accepted the challenge and proceeded to demonstrate his knowledge by saying, "Now I lay me down to sleep. I pray the Lord my soul to keep. If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take." His friend said, "Here's the money.

I didn't think you could do it." By breaking the Ten Commandments, the Ten Commandments are breaking us. A banker may be able to cancel off one liability with an asset of equal value, but you can't do that in the more important accounting of life, as several great virtues can all be made unusuable by one vice. You can't cancel off a little immorality with a little industry or a little dishonesty with a little ability, or a little a: heism with a few good

American League

"If you can't win 20 games with this club, you don't deserve to win," said Detroit's Joe Coleman, who then predicted he'll do just that-with a little help from his friends.

Coleman, the Tigers' ace right-hander who won 20 games a year ago, reached the halfway point toward that magic number Thursday night with a six-hit, six-strikeout performance, a 7-0 shutout over Kansas City that halted Detroit's fourgame skid.

In other American League games, Baltimore nosed out the Chicago White Sox 2-1, the New York Yankees beat Oakland 6-2. Milwaukee clipped California 6-5 and, in a twi-night doubleheader, Cleveland swept Texas 4-3 and 6-5 in 12 innings. Boston and Minnesota were not sched-

In the National League, Los Angeles bombed Montreal 11-3, Atlanta edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3, San Francisco topped Philadelphia 6-4 in 10 innings, San Diego slipped past the New York Mets 1-0 in 14, and Pittsburgh belted Houston 7-3 in a 17inning affair. Cincinnati and St. Louis were idle

The Tigers battered five Royals pitchers for 13 hits en route to the triumph that kept them within two games of the frontrunning Orioles in the East Di-

Aurelio Rodriguez, with two singles and a double, and Tony Taylor, with two singles and a triple, led the assault while Bill Freehan drove in three runs with a single and a double.

The Orioles won three of three from the White Sox in their midweek series, thanks to superlative pitching that held Chicago to a measly 13 hits in the 27 innings. The only runs scored by the Sox in that stretch came on a pair of solo homers by Dick Allen.

Thursday's victory extended Baltimore's winning string to five games-all of them complete games by Orioles' moundsmen. The latest was the five-hitter by Mike Cuellar, who also singled home the deciding run in the eighth inning Thursday night

Cuellar, who has rebounded from a dismal early season to raise his record to 7-6 with victories in five of his last six decisions, outdueled Tom Bradley, who also had a five-hitter.

Cuellar was great and so was Bradley," Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner said, stating the obvious. "The pitching on both sides was the best in any series I've seen this year.'

Yankees Manager Ralph Houk did a little stating-ofthe obvious himself as he spoke of relief ace Sparky Lyle.

"Maybe I use him too much." Houk said, "but when you have someone like him in the bullpen, you bring him in. He's a good relief pitcher 'cause he has good stuff and gets the ball over the

Lyle did it well enough to pick up his 17th save of the season after the A's had knocked out starter Mike Kekich with four straight hits and two runs in the sixth inning

Sparky squelched Oakland on just one hit in his 3 1-3 inning stint New York, meanwhile, got all the scoring it needed with a four-run fifth inning, two of them coming on Felipe Alou's double, to keep the A's from widening their five-game West Division lead over the White Sox.

Johnny Briggs clubbed his 10th home run of the year in the fifth inning to pull Milwaukee into a 5-5 tie with the Angels, then unloaded his 11th two innings later to catapult the Brewers to victory.

Gaylord Perry chalked up his 13th victory of the season to match Detroit's Mickey Lolich as the winningest pitcher in the majors in the Indians' twinbill opening-game victory. Then Alex Johnson singled and Graig Nettles sent him around the bases with a double for their 12inning nightcap triumph that made it a sweep over the Rangers.

National League

Steve Arlin, San Diego's pitching dentist, must have given the New York Mets a dose of sleeping gas Thursday night. And when the Padres finally got around to operating on Arlin's baseball patients, it was anything but painless.

Arlin pitched 10 brilliant innings, allowing only one hit before turning the Mets over to reliever Gary Ross, who permitted just one more hit in four innings. Finally, the Padres pushed across a run on a basesloaded walk in the 14th inning for a 1-0 victory.

Arlin, who holds a degree in dentistry from Ohio State University, matched zeroes with the Mets' Jerry Koosman for 10 innings before Ross and New York reliever Tug McGraw took over. By then, the Mets were mesmerized and they never did wake up.

In other National League games Thursday night, San Francisco topped Philadelphia 6-4 in 10 innings, Los Angeles walloped Montreal 11-3, Atlanta edged Chicago 4-3 and Pittsburgh beat Houston 7-3 in 17 innings. Cincinnati and St. Louis were not scheduled.

In the American League, it was New York 6. Oakland 2; Kansas City 7-0 over Detroit; Baltimore 2, Chicago 1; Cleveland sweeping a doubleheader from Texas 4-3 and 6-5 in 12 innings; and Milwaukee edging California 6-5. Minnesota and Boston had the night off.

Despite the outstanding pitching of Arlin and Ross, the Mets were still tied in the 14th because the Padres had been unable to cash in on any earlier scoring opportunities. When they loaded the bases with none out on two singles and a fielder's choice at the start of the 14th, it looked like there was no way they couldn't score. But they almost didn't.

McGraw got Nate Colbert on a force play at the plate and then struck out Clarence Gaston. But Jerry Morales waited out a walk to force home the run San Diego needed

The Mets almost got it back in the bottom of the 14th when Bud Harrelson walked, moved up on a wild pitch and a sacrifice and then, with two out, tried to score on a short passed ball. But catcher Pat Corrales recovered in time and threw to Ross. covering the plate, to catch

The Giants beat the Phillies in the 10th inning when Tito Fuentes unloaded a two-run triple. The winnir rally started with a two-u- alk to Dave Kingman and arter Domaso Blanco singled, Fuentes delivered his big hit.

San Francisco, which has won six of its last seven games, tied it in the eighth inning when Garry Maddox singled, moved to third on two grounders and scored on Mike Ryan's wild pickoff throw.

Don Money and Deron Johnson homered for the Phillies.

Dusty Baker's two-run homer keyed a four-run Atlanta rally in the third inning and the Braves hung on to nip Chicago. George Stone, 2-6, earned the victory with ninth inning help from his cousin, Cecil Upshaw. Ron Santo's two-run homer knocked out Stone but Upshaw came on to get the last three outs, recording his seventh

It was Stone's first victory as a starter this season

The Dodgers blasted the Expos, snapping a 3-3 tie with a pair of runs in the eighth inning and then wrapping up the victory with six runs in the ninth.

Bill Russell drove in four runs with two singles and a triple and Jim Lefebvre laced a threerun homer for the Dodgers.

Pittsburgh tied the score on Willie Stargell's two-run homer in the ninth inning and then struggled into the 17th before oushing across four runs to beat Reliever Ramon Hernandez started the Pirates' winning rally with a leadoff double and scored the tie-breaking run on a double by Vic Davalillo. Then a wild pitch, a fielder's choice and hits by Al Oliver and Manny Sanguillen produced three more runs to clinch it.

The victory moved the Pirates 21/2 games ahead of New York in the NL East while the Astros slipped 11/2 games back of idle Cincinnati in the NL

Billie Jean Meets Evonne In Center Court

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) - "It's nice to be back," said Billie Jean King as she played in her seventh women's singles final on Wimbledon's imposing center court today.

The effervescent tennis star from Long Beach, Calif., met defending champion Evonne Goolagong of Australia. Mrs. King seemed completely unworried by the encounter with her younger rival.

"Of course Evonne has wonderful talent and has all the determination of a defending champion," said Mrs. King. But I'm so pleased to have reached the Wimbledon final again because I haven't been playing too well for three or four years.

Mrs. King, now 28, first hit the Wimbledon headlines 11 years ago when she beat the then No. 1 seed Margaret Court of Australia in her opening game. Since then Mrs. King has tak-

Should Wife Be Paid As Part-Time Help?

L. R. of Springfield, Ill., writes: My employer oper-ates a funeral home. Since 1969, my wife has worked there as receptionist for several hours a day or even for a full day. My employer has never paid her any compensation. While I am a fulltime employe, I don't think this is fair. What can I do?

Dear L. R.: The Fair Labor Standards Act provides that if a funeral home has an annual dollar volume sales of less than $250,000, all employes are exempt from the act's minimum wage and overtime requirements. If the dollar volume is not less than $250,000 and your wife is subject to individual or enterprise coverage, she should be paid in accordance with the minimum wage and overtime provisions. I suggest you contact the Federal Wage

B. D. of Springfield, Ill., asks: How can government contractors avoid discriminating against women?

Dear B. D.: As part of their equal employment opportunity commitment, government contractors must ensure that both men and women are recruited for management, apprenticeship and all other-types of training programs. In addition, they are prohibited from placing job ads under male and female classifications; basing seniority lists on sex; denying women jobs because of "protective" state laws.

K. R. of Asheville, N.C., says: I run a trucking firm and employ several men to load and unload trucks. After they unload one truck, do I have to pay them for time they spend idly waiting for the next shipment to arrive?

Dear K. R.: Yes. The federal minimum wage law requires truckers and all other covered employers to pay employes at least the minimum wage for all hours worked. This includes time employes are required to be on duty.

M. K. of Barry, Ill., writes: I am a cook in a nursing home and wonder if I'm supposed to get a raise in wages this year. Some hospitals have given their help more pay. Also, am I entitled to vacation pay?

Dear M. K.: The present minimum wage for employment in residential care enterprises is $1.60 an hour. Regarding the payment of wage rates higher than those

By WALTER CRONKITE During Cynthia Lowry's vacation the column is being written by invited guests, each of whom was asked to respond to specific questions about some area of his work in television. Here is the report of CBS's veteran newscaster as he completed a refresher course in preparation for a gruelling job that comes up every four years. Q. Has television turned national political conventions from an instrument for the nomination presidential candidates into a combination dramatic show and ritual?

A. National party conventions are among the most-watched events on American television. We've gone a long way since 1948 when perhaps as few as 10 million viewers—that seemed a lot in those days-watched the conventions which were held in act. The delegates acted a little differently. And no longer did some of them appear as though they had been mugged on the way to the hall-cosmetics had caught up with politics.

But the appearance of the politicians wasn't the only thing that changed. Everything did, and some of the floor demonstrations resembled half-time at the Rose Bowl

John F. Kennedy became a national figure in 1956-many date the beginning of his 1960 candidacy to the Democratic convention in 1956-when, through television, millions of Americans witnessed his run for the vice presidency after presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson had opened the nomination to the delegates. His bid failed but the exposure pushed his career ahead at least 10 years. The day he left Chicago, John F. Kennedy was the frontrunner for the next Democratic

Education View Uneven, Competition to Increase

(Fifth in a Series.) By ERNIE HOOD

Many have inquired about future opportunities in the teaching field.

Colleges and universities expect an average 10,800 openings each year between now and 1980. Prospects in four-year colleges are good for Ph.D. degrees and in two-year colleges for master's degrees. New Ph.D.s will face stronger competition for openings, however, as numbers grow each year. There are an estimated 335,000 college and university teachers at this writing.

Kindergarten and elementary teachers now number something like 1,260,000 and there will be an estimated 52,000 openings each year between now and 1980.

New graduates may face keen competition for jobs during the 1970s, however. Young people seeking their first teaching assignment will find schools placing greater emphasis on academic work and the quality of training. Nevertheless, employment opportunities may be very favorable in urban ghettos, rural districts and in areas where teaching salaries are low and betterpaying opportunities are available in other fields.

The outlook will also be favorable for teachers who are trained to work with handicapped children. Unfortunately, however, it appears that many students who are preparing for ele-mentary teaching as a ca-reer will have to direct their studies toward other careers.

In the secondary educa-tion field, there are an estimated 1,015,000 teachers at this time and projections indicate openings of 38,000 annually between now and 1980. Opportunities will be very favorable in some geo-graphic areas and in subject fields like the physical sciences. Increased demand for teachers trained in the education of mentally retarded or physically handicapped is expected, but if past trends of entry and reentry continue, the supply of secondary teachers will significantly exceed requirements.

SHOWBEAT Strauss Era Comes

To Life in a Palace

By DICK KLEINER

VIENNA, Austria-(NEA)-In case you're ever in the market you might be interested in knowing that it costs $10,000 to rent a palace here for a week.

At least that's what Andrew L. Stone had to pay to rent the Hofburg, one of Vienna's many exquisite palaces. (Vienna has palaces like Los Angeles has hamburger stands.) He thought the price was a little steep. After all, he was only using one room.

"But they told me," he said, "that I'd have to pay rent on each room the cables went through.

The call sheet for the day's activities read as follows: "Hofburg 2 remoniensaal and Schweizerhof: 16 English ballet, 30 Austrian ballet, 34 Austrian extra dancers, full And there they were, the 80 dancers under the watchful eye of choreographer Onna White swirling through the Strauss waltzes in their gorgeous gowns and swash buckling uniforms, as the orchestra played—really played —the lovely melodies.

Stone is shooting "The Great Waltz," the story of the life of Johann Strauss Jr. He is very careful to point out that this isn't a remake of the first "Great Waltz." This one, he says, is based on the real story of Strauss' life, not a whipped cream-topped version. It's full of mistresses and illegitimate children and other juicy insights into the composer's romantic accomplishments.

The palace was a thing of beauty, especially with the dancers in place. It is full of marble columns, crystal chandeliers, inlaid floors, carved ceilings. And Stone says almost the whole picture is being shot in Vienna's palaces, castles and assorted shanties.

Stone is the pioneer location-film-shooter among major directors. He says he hasn't shot a scene in a studio in

"This film would cost $25 million in Hollywood," he says. "And even if you had $25 million you couldn't duplicate this set-where in the world could you find all these

Stone has an international cast—Mary Costa, Horst Buchholz, Rossano Brazzi, Nigel Patrick, Yvonne Mitchell-and an international crew. Most of the team comes from England, but choreographer Onna White is American and the dancers, as noted in the call sheet, are English and Austrian. The room, which had once been the Austrian emperors' throne room, looked as though built to be part of a movie about Strauss. As the dancers waltzed counter-clockwise in a circle, the camera moved around the circle clock-wise, catching flashes of smiles and winks as it whizzed

Miss White trained her English dancers in London first, then augmented the troupe with Austrian dancers here. They all had to tape the bottoms of their shoes so as not to mar the magnificent floor. That made it a little tough

The men looked uncomfortable. They were recreating an era when men wrapped so much silk around their necks they all looked like they had serious throat wounds. But the girls, in their colorful gowns, floated effortlessly through the graceful dance and an elegant age was re-

OFF TO TILT with some windmills of life and resolve his "Impossible Dream" is Don Quixote portrayed by Peter O'Toole (on white steed). Accompanying him in his wandering search in "The Man of La Mancha" film musical is James Coco as Sancho Panza (astride donkey). Setting is in Etruscan region of Italy, not the original Spain. Sophia Loren stars as Dulcinea/Aldonza in this United Artists release.

Dr. Tom's clever plan can be adopted by every dental surgeon and physician. For kiddles now are being denied proper reading drill because of spoken TV dialogue. The TV is making America too ear-minded! Readers make more independent voters! CASE U-529: Dr. Tom is a young dental surgeon. He was at the all-day dental seminar I recently conducted in St. Louis. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I am interested in children and have been in private practice only a few years. "But what you told us about those 25-cents Classics, Illustrated' has zoomed my office practice surprisingly. "For I order 100 of those superb comic book formats of the great stories in world literature.

"But I don't specify 100 copies of the same book

"No; I order 100 different novels. Then I scribble across the front cover: 'Happy birthday to Mary' and sign my name. When Mary compares her book with those of her friends who are also my patients, she finds that they have different books. "So the children begin to exchange their 'Classics, Illustrated

'And other youngsters, not my patients, borrow Mary's book and those of my other patients, till they also begin coming to me for dental care: 'So I have almost doubled my number of child patients.

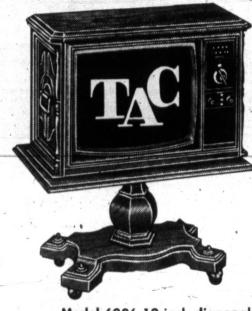

"And the parents are praising me for helping change their

In Vietnam War To Be Built WASHINGTON (AP) - A

Tomb Honoring Unknown Dead

$15,000 tomb honoring America's unknown dead of the Vietnam war will be built this fall at Arlington National Cemetery even though there are no unidentified U.S. dead in this war. Cemetery planners say they have decided to go ahead anyhow, in the event one is found.

"We hope there won't be one," said Bobbie R. Beller, Arlington's project engineer. But with the number of fatalities and the number of missing in action ... it's possible one will be found in a final sweep of the

"If not," Beller said, "the tomb will not be used. The tomb a sunken crypt marked by a pink marble slab. will be placed between similar tombs honoring unknown dead from World War II and the Korean war and near the first tomb housing an unknown soldier from World War I
