

Bureau of Reclamation to test Canadian River

Plans are being made by the Bureau of Reclamation to perform drawdown tests along the Canadian River near Logan, N.M., in continuation of the Lake Meredith Salinity Study, according to Dale B. Raitt, acting regional director of the Southwest Region.

A brine aquifer capable of artesian flow was detected in this area during drilling and geophysical surveys, and it is believed to be the principal source of saline water entering the Canadian River.

The water from the aquifer is being forced through overlying materials into the streambed of the Canadian River. If the pressure of the water can be significantly reduced, it will be isolated from the surface and subsequently lower the saline inflow to the river.

The Bureau of Reclamation has requested a permit from the Environmental Protection Agency to discharge brine into the Canadian River during an initial drawdown period this spring, Raitt said. Water sampling and analyses will be a part of the test. If the 10-day test proves successful, a permanent brine disposal system could be designed and constructed to provide future relief from the salinity problem.

Raitt emphasized the words "future relief" because it would take a number of years for the decrease of saline in the water to be noticeable.

The Lake Meredith Salinity Study was initiated by the Bureau of Reclamation with congressional funding in January 1972. The study is aimed at determining the source and cause of increasing salinity in Lake Meredith and determining a feasible method of alleviating the saline pollution.

As early as 1969, the Texas Water Quality Board conducted a streamflow-water quality study which showed that most salts were entering the river between Ute Dam and the New Mexico-Texas state line.

A study by the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority in 1971 revealed that the primary contribution of chlorides, sulfates, and total dissolved solids to the Canadian River base flow is of natural origin.

Initial investigations by the Bureau of Reclamation included sampling and testing of riverbed sands. During 1974 and 1975, test holes were drilled and chemical analyses made on samples from numerous sites in the Canadian River channel.

Manges auction gets canceled

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — Clinton Manges emerged victorious from a battle with one of his creditors after a scheduled public auction of 118,000 acres of Manges ranchland was canceled.

The South Texas rancher-banker came to terms with the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. of Bloomington, Conn., less than 24 hours before a sizeable portion of his vast real estate holdings was set to be auction on the steps of the Duval County Court House to the highest cash bidder.

"The only thing I'm authorizing to say is that the sale is off for good and sufficient reason," noted Glenn Beadles, a Connecticut General second vice president in Dallas.

The insurance company posted a notice on the Duval County Court House bulletin board on March 14 announcing a public auction scheduled to day. The notice claimed Manges' Duval County Ranch Co. had defaulted on an $8.6 million loan.

The 100,000-acre ranch and 18,000 additional Manges-owned acres valued at "roughly $29.5 million" were to go on the auction block.

The day after the notice was posted, Manges declared "I'm not about to lose any land," and alluded to a possible chapter XI bankruptcy.

"We worked out a deal," said a Manges associate who added, "and it doesn't involve chapter XI."

Manges declined discussion of his solution to this financial problem.

Oil industry spends $100 million on studies

HOUSTON (AP) — The petroleum industry was reported today to have spent more than $100 million on preliminary oil and gas studies of Atlantic offshore areas where a federal court order has blocked the first lease sale.

The court ruling is being appealed by the National Ocean Industries Association and the Department of Interior.

John E. Walters, vice president of Houston Oil & Minerals Corp., told the annual meeting of the Production Department of the American Petroleum Institute the Atlantic offshore areas represent the last frontier for explorations in the lower 48 states.

The estimate is in addition to the $1.1 billion the industry paid for 93 blocks in last year's Baltimore Canyon lease sale that was voided Feb. 17 because of technical deficiencies

Mrs. Sadat attends Carter tea party

By JURATE KAZICKAS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter dropped in on Rosalynn Carter's tea party for Jihan Sadat, wife of the Egyptian president. Carter pulled up a chair and held hands with his wife as he listened to a recital by an 11-year-old pianist.

Carter lugged over his own gilded chair before aides could beat him to it and sat between the First Lady and Mrs. Sadat for the 15-minute performance Monday in the Blue Room. The President then lingered to talk with the pianist, Ana-Maria Vera, daughter of the cultural attache with the Bolivian embassy.

Carter told the pig-tailed girl that he had a new Haydn recording, that he'd been listening to Shostakovich concerts during the day and that he changes his choice of a favorite pianist every day.

"And today it's you," he said to the solemn little girl, who has been playing the piano since she was 5. She performed at the Kennedy Center in January.

Mrs. Carter said she regretted that daughter Amy was not able to attend the brief concert because of a school photography class. She said "this is the kind of thing I like," referring not only to the entertainment, but the gathering of guests. The guests had earlier discussed over tea and cakes a variety of topics, ranging from wife-beating to the King Tutankhamen exhibit.

"I like to be able to talk to people and learn from them," said Mrs. Carter.

As if leading an informal seminar, Mrs. Carter called on guests, seated in front of small tables with name cards, asking them to talk about their work and interests while Mrs. Sadat listened intently.

Dr. Estelle Ramey, a professor of physiology and biochemistry at Georgetown University, said she hoped to see more women entering the medical profession, then mentioned her interest in problems of women whose husbands beat them.

Dr. Ramey discussed the work of "halfway houses" for women "who have no place to go and have a terrible self-image. These houses establish a sense of security for these women who might have skills but are afraid to go out into the job market."

Mrs. Sadat said resulting emotional problems can be "worse than the beatings" and said she thought husbands should be taught to treat their families better "to solve the problem from the beginning."

Mrs. Carter listened and nodded from time to time but made little comment before turning the discussion to the King Tutankhamen exhibit, which was seen by 835,000 people. "Our people feel very close to you people," Mrs. Carter told Mrs. Sadat.

Mrs. Sadat was praised by Dr. Henry Viscardi, head of the Human Resource Center of New York, for her work with the disabled. Viscardi is the chairman of the White House Conference on Handicapped Individuals, to be held in May.

Ex-Cuban president may have shot himself

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Former Cuban President Carlos Prio was found shot and critically wounded at his Miami Beach home today, police said. He was apparently shot himself.

Prio, 74, was found in his garage, by police responding to a call from neighbors shortly after 8 a.m.

"I would say his condition is poor," a spokesman said at Mount Sinai Hospital, where he was taken for surgery.

"He apparently suffered a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the chest," said police spokesman John Anderson.

Prio was Cuba's last constitutional president. He was ousted from office in March 1952 by Fulgencio Batista, who in turn was ousted by Fidel Castro in 1959.

He has lived in Miami Beach for several years.

He had been an active leader of the Cuban-American community.

Prio was a leading member of a delegation of Cuban-Americans who met with Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance in Washington in late February. He said the group told Vance that it would be a mistake for the United States to lift its trade embargo against Cuba or to make any other conciliatory gesture.

He maintained that lower sugar prices and other factors have left Cuba "economically destroyed."

His eldest daughter, Maria Elena, is the wife of Alfredo Duran, chairman of the Democratic party of Florida.

Red Cross to conduct summer swim classes

Preparations for the Red Cross summer swimming program are underway in Pampa.

A Water Safety Instructors Course is slated to begin at 6 p.m. today at the Pampa Youth and Community Center, 1005 W. Harvester. Instructor is Jack Chisum of Pampa. Mrs. Joyce Roberts, executive secretary of Gray County Red Cross, said those who plan to take the course but are not yet enrolled may do so at tonight's session.

Mrs. Roberts also announced an upcoming class for swimming aides. Students age 12 or over with beginners certificates are eligible to train as water safety instructor aides for the summer program. Dates have not yet been set for those classes.

An advanced lifesaving course recently was taught by Mrs. Lee Baggerman, assisted by Mrs. Nell Carter. J.D. Ray gave Red Cross first aid instructions including cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

More than 1,000 youngsters each year learn swimming in the Gray County program, with more than 40 instructors working in water safety. Mrs. Roberts said managers of all four pools in Pampa are encouraged to use Red Cross-trained lifeguards.

Kelly Goodwin of Perryton (above, left) upset favored Sue Smith of Pampa in the 880-yard run in Saturday's Amarillo Relays. Goodwin, who had never run the 880 prior to the Amarillo meet, stunned the field with a 2:22.7 clocking, a meet record. Smith finished second in 2:23.1, which would have been a new record in the three-year-old meet. Other winners Saturday included sisters Falecia (left) and Stephanie Freeman of Amarillo Palo Duro. Falecia won the 220 in 25.0 seconds, Stephanie was first in the 100 in 11.2 and both were part of PD's winning 880-yard relay team, which ran 1:42.9, a record.

Cubs overcome Indians 8-7

Sports

PAMPA NEWS Tuesday, April 5, 1977 9

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer
The Cleveland Indians acquired one-time American League home run king Bill Melton from the California Angels during the winter, but nobody really knew why.

Buddy Bell had a lock on third base. Boog Powell and Andre Thornton were going to platoon at first and Johnny Grubb, an expensive trade acquisition from the San Diego Padres, was joining forces with Rick Manning and Charlie Spikes in the outfield.

That left a little designated hitting perhaps for Melton. Very little, it seemed, when the Indians re-acquired Rico Carty, whom they originally lost in the expansion draft.

"I just couldn't see where he would fit in," Manager Frank Robinson admitted. "He certainly proved me wrong." With a .300 batting average that includes seven homers and 20 runs batted in, Melton not only made the club but was selected the Indians' outstanding player during the exhibition campaign.

Melton, who led the AL with 33 homers for the Chicago White Sox in 1971 but batted only .208 with six homers for the Angels last season, said he came to camp "with a do-or-die attitude."

"I thought I could help the team and knew I would have to prove myself quickly," said the 31-year-old veteran. "They gave me the opportunity to show what I could do. That's all I wanted."

Refs decide to strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The dispute between the National Basketball Association and its referees is heating up as playoff time approaches.

A group of 24 referees met with their attorney, Richie Phillips, in Chicago Monday and voted unanimously to strike the NBA playoffs, which are slated to begin next week. They also authorized, by a 24-0 vote, a strike call by the group's executive committee during the remaining week of the regular season.

That brought a sharp reaction from league officials. Simon Gourdine, the NBA's deputy commissioner and chief negotiator with the referees, lashed out at the strike threat in a four-page statement issued Monday night.

Students sign petition for Bailey

A petition containing the names of 54 Pampa High students wanting the appointment of George Bailey as basketball coach will be presented to Bob Phillips, superintendent, according to an adult spokesman for the players.

"We just want people to know that George is the best man for the job," said Buddy Newton, the spokesman.

The coaching position opened when Robert McPherson resigned March 29 to accept the athletic directorship at Western Oklahoma State Junior College in Altus, Okla.

Bailey resigned last year as Pampa High's junior varsity coach.

About 15 applications have been received for the Pampa job from coaches throughout the state.

"I haven't talked to anybody yet," Ed Lehnick, Pampa athletic director said. "I'm just accepting applications through the mail."

"I haven't seen the petition."

Youth Center to have karate lessons

Don Carter, a second-degree black belt holder, will conduct karate classes beginning April 20 at the Pampa Youth and Community Center.

The lessons will last for six weeks from 8-10 p.m. Cost of the course is $20 for Pampa Youth and Community Center members and $28 for non-members which will include a free six months individual membership.

Carter received his training in Shotokan Karate under Shihan Baize, who at that time was a fourth-degree black belt holder.

A demonstration will be held at the PYCC at 8 p.m. Monday, April 11.

Enrollment is open to everyone.

Baseball season opens Wednesday

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

For the Cincinnati Reds, this has been their worst spring in a decade. The Seattle Mariners, on the other hand, don't have any previous springs to compare it with.

Baseball's oldest team and one of its two newest have the honor of being the hosts when the 1977 baseball season gets under way Wednesday. And both will have rather ancient hurlers ready to fire the respective first pitches.

Neither Woodie Fryman nor

Diego Segui was around when the Reds were born in 1969 — they were known as the Red Stockings then — but both have knocked around the major leagues for quite a while.

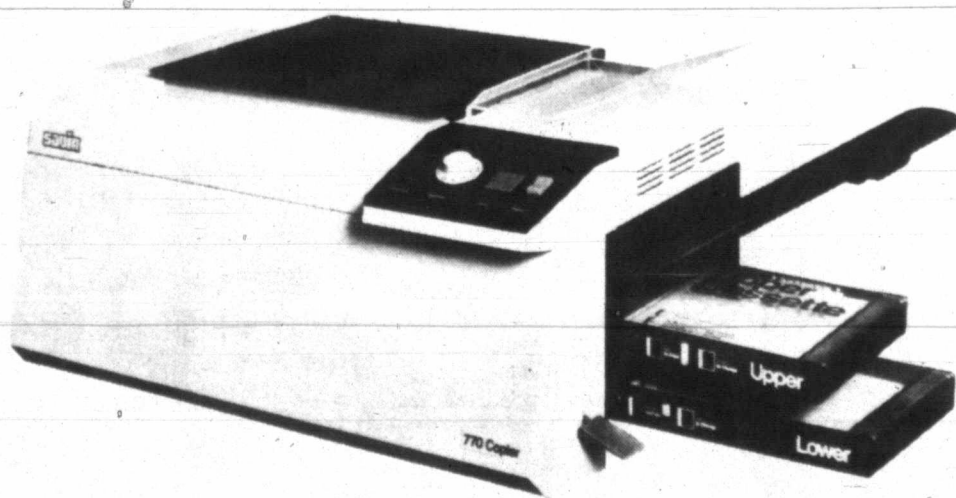

Fryman, who will turn 37 next week, was 13-13 with the Montreal Expos last season. He'll be opposed by San Diego's Randy Jones, 22-14 and the National League's Cy Young Award winner, when the Padres invade Riverfront Stadium for the traditional early Cincinnati opener Wednesday afternoon. A capacity crowd of 52,000 is expected to see the Reds raise the world championship banner for the second year in a row.

It will be a while before the Mariners worry about things like pennants. For the time being, just being in existence is enough after the Seattle Pilots fled to Milwaukee following an ill-fated one-year existence in 1969.

The 38-year-old Segui, who spent last season in the Pacific Coast League where he was 11-5, earned Manager Darrell Johnson's opening day nod. The Mariners' opposition will be 19-game winner Frank Tanana and the California Angels, the most improved team in the American League West thanks to the signing of free agents Joe Rudi, Bobby Grich and Don Baylor. Upwards of 50,000 are expected for the night game in Seattle's spanking new Kingdome.

Now, 1 out of every 2 copiers we place-replace a Xerox.

Not surprising. The Savin 770 plain paper copier is the most reliable machine on the market. It's practically jam proof. That's because of our simple paper path. The shorter the distance travelled, the less chance for jam ups. Our copies move a mere twelve inches from beginning to end. In some Xerox machines a copy is forced to twist and turn over four feet, very often ending up in the middle.

Ours are always clear, clean and needle sharp, regardless of the original, whether you copy on one side or two. That's because the Savin 770 has a mind. An electronic brain reads every original first and makes whatever adjustments are necessary to give perfect copies every time.

Another reason so many people switch off Xerox and on to Savin is the copy itself.

Uganda executes coffee smugglers

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Ugandan troops have executed a gang of coffee smugglers by burning them alive on an island in Lake Victoria, the daily Nation newspaper said today.

The Kenyan paper, quoting what it called reliable sources, said the smugglers were captured as they were running coffee across the lake from Uganda into Kenya for shipment abroad.

The men were taken to Kigulu Island by the soldiers "and told to lie down," the Nation said. Then "they were covered with empty sacks and petrol was poured over them. They were then set alight."

The reported executions were apparently in retaliation for the killing of a soldier by smugglers in an earlier clash, the paper added.

In that incident, a Ugandan army helicopter opened fire on a smugglers' boat on Lake Victoria. The smugglers fired back, killing the soldier and forcing the helicopter to crash-land on Kigulu.

Several smugglers have been reported slain in clashes with the military and between rival gangs in recent weeks as coffee smuggling has mushroomed into a major racket in East Africa to cash in on sky-high world coffee prices.

Ag finance to be topic in Canadian

CANADIAN — A Houston banker will speak on agricultural financing during the Canadian Production Credit Association's annual stockholders meeting Saturday in the Canadian City Hall.

Jack H. Barton, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, has selected "Building for our Agricultural and Financial Future" for his topic. The Houston bank, principal source of Canadian PCA loans and a member bank of the $37 billion Fram Credit System, provided more than $1.5 billion in loan funds to Texas farmers and ranchers.

Registration for the meeting will begin at 9 a.m. and will be followed by a business session and meal.

Directors will be elected during the meeting. Nominees are Mack J. Macias and Don Powell of Canadian for Place 5; Lloyd R. Buzzard of Spearman and Cecil Leicht of Farnsworth for Place 6.

In other business, the group will hear reports from W.C. Epperson of Pampa, Larry Albin, and C.B. Henderson of Wheeler.

More than 450 farmers, ranchers and guests from Gray, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Roberts and Wheeler counties are expected to attend the meeting.

have patrolled Lake Victoria and the Kenyan border in the last few weeks in a growing campaign to smash the smuggling gangs. Kenyan authorities have also mounted a major operation.

Both governments are alarmed at the escalation of a racket that robs them of much-needed foreign currency from official coffee exports.

Authorities here are also concerned that low grade Ugandan coffee smuggled into Kenya is mixed with high grade Kenyan coffee and then sold on the international market with a Kenyan label.

Many convoys from Uganda have been hijacked in recent months, and troops from both countries now ride shotgun on convoys hauling Ugandan coffee to Mombasa, the Kenyan port through which most of land-locked Uganda's trade passes.

Coffee has become "black gold" as prices soared on the international market over the last 18 months. The beans sell at $3.12 a pound, five times the level in July 1975, when prices started to skyrocket in a spate of speculation set off by frost damage to crops in Brazil.

Gold searcher won't talk about Victorio

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE (AP) — A search for a legendary treasure on Victorio Peak ended as it began — with no gold in hand and the Army denying it ever existed.

Norman Scott, head of Expeditions Unlimited of Pompano Beach, Fla., which conducted the search, told reporters he would not say whether the tale about stacks of gold bullion, coins and artifacts deep in a cavern inside the mountain is true or not.

He only said his firm's expedition turned up no traces of gold silver or other artifacts.

"At the precise location represented to us by a group of claimants there is no gold," he said.

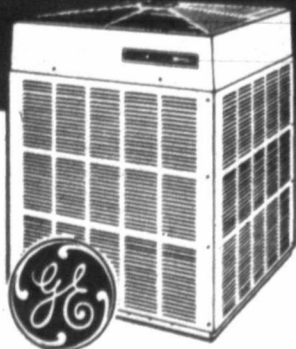

Scott also said the searchers found no evidence of recent or old mining operations within the peak on the restricted missile range. He said it would take a major mining operation to settle the legend one way or the other.
