High for a housewarming

Five-year-old Chris Hite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hite, decided to have a housewarming party since his treehouse was finished. The menu was grape drink and sandwiches above the ground in Chris' back yard. He invited his friend Curtis McDaniel, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David McDaniel, and Mrs. Maxine Milliron and Mrs. Ruthie Hall who scurried down the ladder and out of the treehouse when they saw the photographer's camera.

Vietnam finds 20 MIAs

PARIS (AP) — Vietnam, seeking normalization of relations with the United States, today handed over the names of 20 more missing Americans it said had been killed in the Indochina war.

The disclosure was made in the second day of talks between Asst. Secretary of State Richard Holbrooke and Deputy Vietnamese Foreign Minister Phan Hien on establishment of relations.

Holbrooke said the Vietnamese had informed him that the remains of the missing men had been found in Vietnam. He said the families of the men on the list are being informed by their respective military services.

The names will not be announced until the U.S. Army's central identification laboratory in Hawaii confirms the identifications supplied by the Vietnamese. Holbrooke said there was no indication when the bodies would be flown from Vietnam.

Holbrooke said he expressed his appreciation to Hien for Vietnam's "positive action" in supplying the new names.

The United States has demanded Vietnamese help in accounting for more than 700 Americans still listed as missing in action in the war as a condition for establishing diplomatic relations.

Hien told reporters Hanoi's submission of the new list "demonstrated our good will and serious attitude" in the negotiations.

Holbrooke said Hien told him the remains of the 20 men would be returned along with those of two other Americans whose return was promised the special commission President Carter sent to Hanoi in March.

The commission, headed by labor leader Leonard Woodcock, brought back the remains of 11 Americans and was told the Vietnamese would return the remains of CIA operative Tucker Guggleman and an unidentified B52 crewman shot down during the Christmas 1972 bombing of Hanoi.

Vietnamese officials also promised the commission they would seek information on other missing Americans.

Holbrooke and Hien, who met for 3½ hours Thursday at the U.S. Embassy and again for 3½ hours today, also agreed to meet again in the near future. The American representative said.

Holbrooke said each side presented its views "frankly and directly in an atmosphere which was cordial and friendly." He said the time and place for the next meeting would be determined by agreement through diplomatic channels.

The two men opened their negotiations with a two-day round of talks at the Vietnamese Embassy May 3 and 4.

Hien said he explained to Holbrooke in detail his country's attitude to the three major points of the talks: the continuing search for Americans missing in action, normalizing of relations between the two governments and the contribution Hanoi expects the United States to make toward "healing the wounds of war" in Vietnam.

In Washington, Rep. G.V. Montgomery, D-Miss., a member of the commission, said none of the remains will be returned to the United States until August at the latest.

He said he was told about half the remains were still in graves in various parts of Vietnam and will have to be recovered.

"The additional two are ones we already knew about and include one civilian and one military personnel," he said.

"The release of these additional 22 remains is in keeping with a commitment made by the Vietnamese government this past March when they told us in Hanoi that the efforts of the Vietnamese MIA commission would be intensified in order to locate additional information and remains of Americans missing in action in Southeast Asia as a result of the Vietnam war," Montgomery said.

Iceberg sinks ferry

HALIFAX, Canada (AP) — All 110 passengers and crew members of the ferry William Carson were reported rescued early today from ice floes and lifeboats after the 8,300-ton ship hit an iceberg and sank off the Labrador coast of northeast Canada.

The 88 passengers and 22 crew members of the Canadian National ferry were reported in good condition. Helicopters took 42 of them to Mary's Harbor, Labrador, and St. Anthony, Newfoundland, and the government icebreaker Sir Humphrey Gilbert rescued the rest. A Canadian National spokesman announced.

The Carson left St. John's at the southeast corner of Newfoundland island, Tuesday night on its first scheduled run of the season along the Atlantic coasts of the island and Labrador.

The car-and-passenger ferry was bound for Goose Bay, in Labrador more than 500 miles northwest of St. John's.

The ship sent out an SOS at 9:43 p.m. Thursday reporting ice had ruptured its hull near the Square Islands, 18 miles off the Labrador coast. Thirty minutes later another message said the passengers and crew were abandoning ship.

The ferry sank about three hours later. With it went 1,000 tons of general cargo, including 4,432 cases of beer.

George Pike, a crewman among those taken to the nursing station at Mary's Harbor, said there was time for everyone who had gone to bed to dress and there was no panic.

Pike said despite heavy ice in the area, the air temperature was moderate and there was a full moon.

The first helicopter arrived after midnight, he said. Some of the stranded crew members lit flares, and two Canadian Air Force planes from Prince Edward Island arrived to illuminate the area with searchlights and flares for the rescue.

The icebreaker arrived about 3 a.m.

The village of Goose Bay, 130 miles inland at the head of Lake Melville, exists because of its radio station, used by transatlantic commercial flights, and the lumber industry. It has no road or rail connection with the rest of Canada and most supplies reach the village by coastal ship.

Hostility greets Rosalynn

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — In the first hostile demonstration of Rosalynn Carter's Latin American tour, about 150 students a block away nearly drowned out the U.S. First Lady as she conferred with Ecuadorian officials.

"I heard some noise, but I don't know anything about it," Mrs. Carter said Thursday afternoon as she left the Legislative Palace after a discussion of the ruling military junta's plans to return the Ecuadorian government to civilian control next year. She said she thought it was "a local problem."

The students threw stones and bricks, set fire to police barricades with gasoline bombs, and shouted "Go home bloody Rosalynn!" and "Yanks just want to reinforce imperialism!" into an amplifier.

About 25 riot police silenced the loudspeakers and dispersed the demonstrators with tear gas. Two American reporters traveling with Mrs. Carter said they were hit but not hurt by rocks when they left the palace to investigate.

Mrs. Carter received an enthusiastic welcome at the Working Boys Center of Quito where 500 persons waved paper Ecuadorian and U.S. flags and cheered her.

Doughten to be dunked

A special attraction has been added to the annual Pride of Pampa carnival this year — a celebrity dunk.

Pampa News publisher Tim Hoiles offered to donate $20 per toss to the band if Jeff Doughten, director of the Pride, would sit on the dunking board.

The device is so designed so that when an accurately thrown baseball strikes the target the board upon which the dunker sits collapses downward, depositing the dunkee into a tank of water.

"For 20 bucks a throw, I'd have my grandmother sit up there," Doughten commented Wednesday evening in an informal speech accepting the challenge.

The director will take his place on the board at 9 p.m. Friday, approximately 30 minutes after 50 pounds of crushed ice is dumped into the water tank, according to plans announced by Hoiles.

Economy showing gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inflationary pressures on wholesale prices eased in May and the rate of unemployment dropped, two strong indicators that the economy is improving, the government reported today.

A big drop in farm prices helped hold the increase in wholesale prices in May to four-tenths of 1 per cent, the lowest increase at the wholesale level in 10 months, the government said.

At the same time, unemployment declined to 6.9 per cent, the first time the nation's jobless rate has been below 7 per cent since November 1974.

The economic news was certain to cheer the Carter administration, which has been deeply worried over price reports in previous months that showed inflation increasing at a worrisome 10 per cent annual rate since Jan. 1.

The Labor Department said total employment increased 400,000 in May to 90.4 million, while the number of unemployed remained unchanged at about 6.8 million.

The increase of four-tenths of one per cent in wholesale prices was sharply lower than the 1.1 per cent increase in March and April. For the 12 months ending in May, overall wholesale prices were up 7.3 per cent.

The Labor Department attributed the improved figures to a 2.3 per cent decline in prices of farm products, compared to a 3.4 per cent increase in April. It was the first decline in wholesale prices of farm products in six months.

Prices were reported sharply lower for grains, eggs, green coffee, cocoa, tea, soy beans and live poultry. But the decreases were partially offset by higher prices for livestock.

There also was a slowdown in the increases of prices for industrial commodities, which were up four-tenths of 1 per cent in May following an increase of six-tenths of 1 per cent in April and eight-tenths of 1 per cent in March.

The Labor Department said its wholesale price index for May, adjusted for seasonal variations, stood at 195.2 per cent of the 1967 average of 100, meaning that goods priced at $100 ten years ago cost $195.20 last month.

In its report on May unemployment, the Labor Department said almost 27 million persons have found jobs since last October, an average increase of 300,000 persons a month. The Carter administration has set goal of reducing unemployment to below 7 per cent unemployment for the year.

Some economists say unemployment might edge upward in future months if the economy fails to continue expanding at the present rate.

The agency said the unemployment rate for adult men rose to 5.3 per cent, up from 5 per cent in April, largely the result of an increase in joblessness among black men.

But the jobless rate for adult women declined to 6.6 per cent, down from 7 per cent in April.

Inflation has loomed suddenly as an increasingly important administration concern in recent months because rapidly rising prices could undermine President Carter's economic program.

During the first four months of the year, both wholesale and consumer prices increased at a 10 per cent annual rate, much worse than the administration had projected. Wholesale prices increased 1.1 per cent in both March and April.

Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal said Thursday the administration hopes to keep inflation below 7 per cent for the year, but he is counting on a slowdown in inflation after mid-year.

Initially, the Carter administration projected only a 5.2 per cent increase in consumer prices, which rose only 4.8 per cent last year.

But Blumenthal and other administration officials blame the 1977 price surge on the impact of the severe winter on food and fuel prices.

Prices of farm products rose 9.2 per cent in the first four months.

Industrial commodity prices also have increased substantially, by 2.5 per cent, which is a bit more worrisome.

"I still hope these numbers are an aberration," Budget Director Bert Lance said this week, indicating there could be some wavering in the administration's assessment of inflation.

"We've got to wait through the June numbers to see where we are," he added.

The administration has maintained that the underlying rate of inflation is about 6 per cent a year, and is hoping to reduce this to about 4 per cent by 1979.

Your Birthday
June 4, 1977

You could be fortunate this year with situations you personally control. This does not mean you should advocate your leadership role unnecessarily.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Because things seem relatively easy today, you may be prone to let up too quickly. For this reason you may not capitalize on opportunities.

TAURUS (April 20-May 19) Your material prospects are good today, but unless you follow through your piggybank won't have the bulge you hoped for.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Even though you may be involved in a commercial venture with a friend today, keep things businesslike. Slipshod practices won't work out too well.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You treat others kindly today, but not in a way they truly appreciate. For some reason you fail to comprehend what they really want from you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The approval of others is not a prime requisite for your doing a good job today. Pride in what you do should be ample motivation.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Good fortune attends most of the things you put your hand to today, with the exception of business situations that entail an element of risk.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Doing unselfish things shows your heart is in the right place today. Sadly, others may not wholly approve of your gestures at this moment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Success will favor your actions today provided you deal with persons who can give you a definite answer. Going through underlings is another story.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There's a probability you'll gain financially through hard work today. Just don't try to set a record by seeing how fast you can spend it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Appeal to the reason and logic of those you're trying to manage today. Playing on their emotions will bring unacceptable results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Today you get by giving. The moment you try to attach conditions to your generosity, you stand to lose what you could have gained.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Enjoy yourself today, but strive to do it economically. Should you spend too much for pleasure tonight, you'll cry tomorrow.

Inside Washington

Nixon's taxes tax patience

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
WASHINGTON, May 31 — Former President Nixon's lucrative series of television interviews may wind up costing him money.

It definitely will if certain Congressmen have their way. Foremost among them is Rep. Edward Koch, D-N.Y., member of the powerful Appropriations Committee and one of the numerous aspirants for mayor of the "Big Apple."

Unquestionably that's a major factor behind his spearheading the move to crack down on Nixon.

This would be attempted by using the $600,000 plus Nixon reputedly is getting for the TV interviews as the basis for "indirectly collecting" $148,000 in federal taxes he admittedly owed but on which the statute of limitations expired.

The former President stated he would pay the amount, but hasn't done so.

Koch proposes to collect it by withholding the sum from the money paid Nixon under the former President's Act.

That amounts to $169,000 a year for office, clerical and other expenses. It's in addition to his $75,000 annual pension. That would be untouched. But the expense allowance would be slashed to $21,000.

Justifying this forceful assessment, Koch declares:

"The former President owes the country more than the apology he voiced in the first interview. He should at least pay what he owes in back taxes."

How He'd Do It
Koch makes no bones about directly connecting the large payments Nixon is getting from the interview series and the $148,000 in unpaid taxes.

He proposes to be the two together in an amendment to the Treasury and general government appropriations bill when it's taken up in the House.

As an Appropriations committee member he is in an advantageous position to press this move.

Explaining the plan the World War II combat infantryman points out:

In April 1974 the Internal Revenue Service held that former President Nixon owed $432,000 in back taxes of which $148,000 was for taxes owed on his 1969 income. Although the statute of limitations had run out on that amount, he stated publicly that he would pay all he owed in spite of that promise. The 1969 obligation remains outstanding.

The Treasury and general government appropriations bill would allot $169,000 to Mr. Nixon for personal and office expenses under the authority of the former President's Act. The amendment I will offer will set off the $148,000 which he hasn't paid in back taxes but which he publicly promised to pay.

My amendment would simply reduce the appropriation for personal and office expenses from $169,000 to $21,000. The rationale for this set-off is that while the funds used for Mr. Nixon's support are provided from the income taxes of U.S. citizens, the former President himself should pay the government what he owes in back taxes.

The set-off I am proposing is an effective way to hold Mr. Nixon to his pledge to pay the $148,000 he admittedly owed in unpaid taxes. It's just as straightforward as that.

Republicans are set to challenge Koch's maneuver on the ground it violates the House's germane rule. Whether they can make that stick remains to be seen.

One hurdle facing them is the possibility of a rollcall vote on the issue.

The GOP wants to avoid that. The Democrats don't — particularly Koch, eager to make the most of the matter to promote his mayoralty ambitions.

Running Dry
The 1972 Committee for the Re-election of the President (Nixon), once flush with millions, is just about out of funds.

All that's still left in the kitty is some $450,000 — with outstanding claims of well over $1 million.

The low state of the committee's finances is due to two hefty pay-outs.

In February, the committee had $1.3 million remaining from the millions collected for Nixon's reelection campaign. But shortly thereafter, the Internal Revenue Service seized $550,500 to insure payment of back taxes on funds used to pay for the Watergate break-in and legal and other charges growing out of that.

One of them was the second big inroad on the committee's vanishing surplus.

This was $200,000 to settle the claim of the four Cuban-Americans convicted in the Watergate break-in. They sued on the ground they had been tricked into committing the burglary, and won a judgment — which the committee forked over a few weeks after the IRS's big grab.

Former Sen. Charles Potter, R-Mich., chairman of the 1972 Nixon Liquidation Trust, says the only claims paid in the past were for legal expenses of Watergate defendants acquitted after trials.

On that basis, $220,000 was paid to former campaign chairman John Mitchell on his $471,000 legal bill for a 1974 case tried in New York in which he and former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans were found not guilty. Part of the latter's legal costs were paid, but $105,000 is still outstanding.

Other pending claims on the committee's depleted funds include $481,000 by Robert Mardian, former Assistant Attorney General, indicted and tried in the Watergate case but whose conviction was overturned on appeal in 1976.

$73,000 for legal expenses by Kenneth Parkinson, lawyer for the campaign committee, acquitted on charges growing out of the Watergate affair.

$150,000 for damages and back pay by Alfred Baldwin, former FBI agent who recorded conversations from the wiretap planted in the Democratic headquarters.

Air Force cover-up costing unauthorized millions

By CLARK R. MOLLENHOFF
WASHINGTON, D.C. — While President Carter and others are appropriately shocked at Richard Nixon's declaration that a president is above the law, there are comparable cases of disregard of federal laws by high officials in the Carter administration.

One case involves Air Force directing of a federal law directing termination of an $800-million computer program and present efforts of most people in the top echelon of the Air Force to cover up evidence of the law violation. The program, "terminated," known as the Advanced Logistic Systems (ALS), is continuing as more than a dozen projects under a variety of names.

Those in the Air Force currently engaged in a continuing effort to change, distort or hide evidence of willful illegal actions are a part of a criminal obstruction of justice.

Close examination of the record discloses that the situation is no better than when Richard Nixon and others in the White House took part in a willful effort to fabricate documents, edit tapes, and buy off witnesses in the Watergate cover-up.

It is distressing that such actions are taking place in the administration of a president who said he, and presumably his administration spokesmen, always would tell the truth to Congress and to the American people.

It is laudable that President Carter should speak out in disagreement with Nixon on questions that go to the heart of integrity and decency in government, but it is hypocritical if he does it with knowledge that his administration is involved in comparable law violations and cover-ups.

For the moment we must assume that President Carter is unaware that high officials of his administration are engaged in law violations and obstructions of justice.

If the President does not know the facts, it is not because there have not been clear warnings from responsible members of the Democratic party in Congress.

Senator Thomas Eagleton (Dem. Mo.), Representative John E. Moss (Dem. Cal.) and Representative Charles E. Rose (Dem. N. Car.) have registered the sharpest protest in letters to Defense Secretary Harold Brown and to the White House.

Senator John L. McClellan (Dem. Ark.) and Representative George H. Mahon (Dem. Tex.), chairmen of the Senate and House appropriations committees, have expressed deep concern for what they regard as an arrogant disregard of the will of Congress.

Following is a chronological record of Air Force actions on the revival of the controversial computer program:

1. On December 10, 1975, a joint congressional committee report directed termination of the Air Force computerized logistics program that carried

Answer to Previous Puzzle

McGinnis seeks to regain elusive jump shot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It has all the elements of classic theater: the magnetism of a superstar at center stage, the dramatic background of a high-stakes confrontation, the mystery of a man's search for a lost valuable — in this case a jump shot.

The George McGinnis saga continues. McGinnis, the 6-foot-8 All-Star forward of the Philadelphia 76ers, has been absolutely awful in the current National Basketball Association playoff series against the Portland Trail Blazers.

On offense he has shot just 33 per cent from the field and scored a meager 9.8 points per game. On defense, he has been unable to contain Portland's Maurice Lucas, the only forward in the game who ranks on a par with McGinnis and is solidifying his position with this series.

It has reached the point where Sixers' Coach Gene Shue conceded he was considering yanking McGinnis from the starting lineup for tonight's crucial fifth game (CBS, 9 p.m., EDT) of the best-of-seven series, which is tied 2-2.

It would indeed be a drastic move, benching an All-Star, a former Most Valuable Player, the team captain. But Steve Mix is a better defensive player.

Shue reasoned, an if McGinnis isn't going to contribute on offense and under the boards, the Sixers might be better off with Mix trying to stop Lucas.

All this must have been going through Shue's mind Thursday as he ran the Sixers through a 90-minute closed-door session which he called "a real good workout," then held a 30-minute team meeting. Shue scheduled another brief practice for noon today.

"As of now I haven't made any lineup changes, although I'll leave that option open until game time," Shue said after the workout. "I'll make my judgment based on what I think, what I feel, from my experience."

"I like to go with our best. I certainly don't over-react. We're in the final three games, and I have to think of what got us here."

That would mean McGinnis, despite all his problems.

Kansas surprises in NCAA track

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — While no clear-cut favorite has emerged in the battle for the 56th NCAA Track and Field Championship, several teams sparked by outstanding individual efforts have shown that their interest in the crown may be more than just a dream.

"I've got nine races this weekend," Olympian Herman Frazier of Arizona State said Thursday. "We're here to win all we can."

Frazier, part of the 1,600-meter relay team that won the gold medal at the 1976 Olympics, and his teammates fared well during the first day of qualifying Thursday as the Sun Devils advanced 10 qualifiers to lead the field.

Defending champion Southern California, riding the performance of sprinter Clancy Edwards, who qualified for the semifinals in the 100- and 200-meter dashes and the 400-meter relay, remained in contention for its 27th title with nine qual-fiers. Kansas, UCLA and Auburn had nine, eight and seven qualifiers, respectively, and were considered dark horses.

Arizona State, defending champion in the 400-meter relay, qualified in that event again with Frazier running anchor. Its time of 39.82 seconds, however, was a shade slower than the 39.81 posted by Texas.

Frazier also anchored Arizona State's 1,600-meter relay squad and qualified for the semifinals in the 400-meter run. Kansas, meanwhile, was a bit of a surprise during the first day of competition. The Jayhawks advanced two runners each in the steeplechase and 110-meter hurdles, its 400- and 1,600-meter relay teams, and Cliff Wiley in the 100- and 200-meter dashes.

Finals were scheduled today in the 100-meter dash, 110-meter high hurdles, 10,000 meters, hammer throw, shot put and long jump.

Wilt, O.J. enshrined into Black Hall of Fame

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

Wilt Chamberlain and O.J. Simpson top a list of eight personalities who will be enshrined two weeks hence in the Black Athletes Hall of Fame.

It's developed into quite a show. The grand ballroom of one of New York's swankiest hotels has been booked for the occasion June 16. The Philadelphia International Orchestra will provide the music. TV star Bill Cosby will serve as honorary chairman. It's strictly black tie, ruffles and bows.

The entertainment will be gold-studded. Las Vegas couldn't afford it. There will be Alan King, Natalie Cole, Chuck Mangione, Howard Cosell, Miss Universe, the Jackson Five, all on the same bill.

Charles Mays, former U.S. Olympic long jumper and now a successful sporting goods dealer living in Jersey City, N.J., was in New York the other day to announce the latest inductees and to talk about his brainchild.

The question was put to him: "If the blacks want equality of treatment, isn't the purpose defeated by promoting such projects based on the color of the skin? Shouldn't the black athlete, now having broken most barriers, be content to strive for a place in existing places of honor?"

Mays, a dapper, slightly-built man obviously with a touch of promotion genius, had a ready answer.

"Not at all," he said. "We are not attempting to further polarize the races. It's true that athletes such as Chamberlain and O.J. — the real superstars — will ultimately wind up in the halls of fame of their respective sports."

"But what about the other guys — the black men who took the heat and the fire before Jackie Robinson? Who will remember them? Our purpose is to try to give them the recognition they deserve."

Besides Chamberlain and Simpson, the 1977 honorees include Dick "Night Train" Lane, all-pro in football; Wendell Scott, auto race driver; Larry Doby, first black to play in baseball's American League; former lightweight boxing champion Ike Williams; Olympic track and field coaches Neil Jackson and Ed Tampe.

Mays said the idea of a Black Hall of Fame came to him that turbulent day in Mexico City during the 1968 Olympic Games when sprint champions John Carlos and Tommie Smith raised clenched fist salutes from the victory stand as a protest of racial inequality in America.

Jenkins discovered that brutal fact Thursday night in a 3-1 loss to the Texas Rangers.

Jenkins struck out the Ranger designated hitter three straight times with sliders and Horton knew exactly what he was going to be served in the bottom of the eighth inning.

The score was tied 1-1 with two outs and runners on first and second.

"He just had his mind made up to throw me another slider," said Horton, who immediately popped it up down the left field line.

Red Sox shortstop Rick Burleson tried to make the catch, but stumbled on the bullpen pitching mound and muffed the fly for an error.

Carp that are cleaned quickly in the field and cooked properly at home can furnish a nice meal for the family. Experienced carp cooks recommend cutting or removing the dark meat along the side of the fish and allow the fish to bleed before cooking. Regardless of whether the fish is to be baked or fried, the meat should be scored or sliced every one-fourth inch with a knife to allow heat and cooking oils to penetrate and soften the fish's many bones.

Carp can be baked, smoked, fried, pressure cooked, pickled, or chowdered and all furnish some excellent eating if done properly.

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — With an old fox like Willie Horton, you can use the same bait just so often.

Boston pitcher Fergie Jenkins discovered that brutal fact Thursday night in a 3-1 loss to the Texas Rangers.

Higgins leads tourney

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Brad Higgins, first round leader in the Texas Amateur Golf Championship in Kerrville, thinks his early tee-off time in today's second round should help his chances of holding the lead.

The Texas Wesleyan College student said he had to fight bumpy greens during Thursday's two under par 70 round. After Thursday's round, Higgins, 21, said he was looking forward to his early start time today.

"It will be cool and the greens won't be so bumpy," he said.

The 6,900-yard Riverhill Country Club Course played havoc with many of the contestant's games in the first round, as only four players broke par.

Kirk Branum of Midland, Tommy Arredondo of Kerrville and Jimmy Chapman were bunched in second at 71.

Carp underrated

By J.D. PEER,
I&E Field Officer

LUBBOCK — Mention carp to most fishermen and immediately they tell you that carp are not good fighters nor are they good to eat.

It would be apparent to the experienced carp fisherman that these anglers have not hooked a large "bull" carp in the ten- to twenty pound class on light fishing line or fly rod. Once the hook is set in a big carp, there's plenty of action, and even then, the fish might be lost right on shore as he turns and heads for deep water.

Most anglers see plenty of carp at their favorite fishing hole but attempts at catching these fish have failed or have not been considered. Areas near brush, along shallow banks, or protected coves are excellent spots to find feeding carp.

Bait for these fighters can be bought commercially or you can make your own. A variety of materials such as fermented maize, corn, cottonseed cakes, range cubes and rotten potatoes seem to work best for baited areas. Dough balls, cheese, or catfish bait is also popular carp food.

Light tackle with six- to eight-pound line will test any angler's fishing ability however, most carp fishermen use at least a 15-pound test line.

Texas weather

By The Associated Press
Texas was warm and dry for the first time this week early today as a weak high pressure system accompanied by light winds blanketed most of the state.

The only thunderstorm activity after midnight Thursday came in the Upper Panhandle, where Amarillo reported 0.1 inches of rain. Skies were generally clear to partly cloudy over the remainder of the state, although some early morning fog was reported in East and Southeast Texas.

Pre dawn temperatures ranged from th mid 50s in the western mountains to the upper 70s in the north-eastern part of the state.

Thursday's highs ranged up to 100 degrees at Dallas and Midland to 101 at Wink.

National weather

By The Associated Press
Skies were clear over much of the upper Great Lakes this morning but temperatures were lower than is usually expected in early June. There was scattered frost over Wisconsin and Michigan.

Showers and occasional thunderstorms persisted along the eastern coastal states. More showers and thunderstorms were scattered from western portions of the Plains to the upper Mississippi Valley. A few widely scattered showers continued from the southern Rockies to the southern Plateaus.

Skies were clear or partly cloudy from the Ohio Valley and the Southeast to the central and lower Mississippi Valley and most of Texas.

Overnight temperatures ranged from 34 in Houghton Lake, Pellston and Traverse City, Mich., to 99 at Needles, Calif.

Unemployment rate drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate in May fell below 7 per cent for the first time in 2 1/2 years, edging down to 6.9 per cent, the Labor Department reported today.

The department said the decline in the jobless rate, down from 7 per cent in April, coupled with continued growth in employment last month signaled further improvement in the economy.

Total employment rose by 385,000 in May to 90.4 million.

Since October, the government noted that nearly 2.7 million more Americans have found jobs, an average of 380,000 a month.

The unemployment rate has fallen from its postrecession high of 8 per cent last November and at 6.9 per cent stands at its lowest level since November 1974, when it stood at 6.7 per cent.

The number of unemployed totaled 6,750,000 last month, a decline of about 13,000 from April.

The jobless rate for adult women fell from 7 per cent to 6.6 per cent, but the rate for adult men rose to 5.3 per cent from 5 per cent, as joblessness among adult black males increased.

Labor Department analysts said the increase in the male jobless rate following a decline of nearly a full percentage point between February and April could be a disturbing sign or merely a quirk in the statistics. However, the analysts said no conclusion could be made on the basis of only one month's figures.

Jobless rates for most other worker categories were little changed last month.

Joblessness among teen-agers increased slightly from 17.8 to 17.9 per cent.

Among whites, unemployment edged down to 6.2 per cent from 6.3 per cent, while the rate for blacks increased from 12.3 to 12.9 per cent.

The gain in employment last month included a rise of 125,000 new jobs in agriculture, the government said. Industry payrolls also increased for the seventh consecutive month, advancing by 185,000 in May with most of the gain in the durable goods industries, including fabricated metal products, machinery and electrical equipment.

Employment in the construction industry, which had grown substantially earlier this year rose by 15,000 in May.

The size of the civilian labor force increased by 400,000 last month to a total of 97.2 million, a figure 2.6 million above its level a year ago. The government said adult women accounted for more than a half of the growth.

The labor force includes those with jobs and those without jobs but looking for work. The unemployment rate is based on a nationwide survey of 47,000 households.

Iranians destroy jail

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP) — The chief jailer in Navarro County says a group of Iranian protesters who were arrested at Navarro Junior College have torn up the jail and have been charged with destruction of property.

Roy McNeel said Thursday the Iranians broke windows, tore plaster and mortar from walls and ripped out plumbing fixtures at the Navarro County Jail.

"They have torn my jail apart," McNeel said. "The jail had a good coat of paint and was in fairly good condition, but now it's a complete mess."

According to police, approximately 57 Iranians protested at Navarro Junior College Tuesday, calling the Shah of Iran a fascist and a puppet of the United States. Most were arrested on disorderly conduct charges although seven women in the group were charged with destruction of property.

More than 30 Iranians were arrested last Friday after a similar protest that college officials said disrupted summer school registration. College officials said that protest was over an English proficiency test at the school and other complaints.

After Thursday's incident at the jail, 41 men were charged with felony destruction of property. McNeel said.

Seven student rodeoers quality for tri-state

Seven Pampa High School Rodeo Club members are expected to qualify for the seventh annual Tri-State High School Rodeo Association Finals in Amarillo next week.

Betty Tipps of Tulsa, TSHSRA secretary, released standings Thursday which showed the Pampa girls team in fifth place with 155 1/2 points and the Pampa boys team in 10th place with 124 1/2 points.

Ronnie Hill is holding on to his third place slot in the bull riding statistics with 32 points. Trailing in that event are Greg Terrell, tied for fifth and sixth with 21 1/2 points, and Jim Morrison in 11th place with 14 1/2 points.

Pampa cowgirl Lesa Stewart is in 13th place in the all-around cowgirl competition with a total of 56 points. She has 53 points to put her in third place in the breakaway roping standings and is in a three-way tie for 13th, 14th and 15th in goat tying with five points.

Regina Benyshek at 35 points is fifth in the barrel racing standings and has 9 1/2 points in pole bending for 13th place in that event's standings. Riding in ninth place in the steer riding is Donna Baggett with 18 points. Lisa Burrell is 14th in the barrel racing statistics with 11 points.

The Pampa finalists have earned their places in the standings at 24 approved rodeos in the past year. Ms. Tipps said.

"There are 640 members in the TSHSRA this year," she said, "from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas and there are 62 participating high school rodeo clubs."

She explained the high schoolers compete for points and trophy buckles and saddles, not cash. A competitor receives six points for each first place win, five points for placing second, four points for a third, three points for a fourth, two points for fifth and one point for sixth.

Finals performances will be 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the Fairpark Coliseum in Amarillo.

James Martin of Spearman will furnish the stock and Dr. Charles Townsend, dean of agriculture at West Texas State University in Canyon, will announce the rodeo.

Judging the riding events will be Peeler Haney and Jon Jarvis. In the timed events competition, Dash Danner will be barrier judge and field judge will be Jerry Light. Jim Huff will clown at both performances.

Events will be bareback riding, bull riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, ribbon roping, team roping, barrel racing, pole bending, breakaway roping, goat tying and steer riding. Admission will be $3 for adults and $1 for children aged 12 and younger.

Ms. Tipps said rodeo headquarters will be the Hilton Inn and the year-end awards banquet will be June 11 with

Stephen Boyd, 49, dies playing golf

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Stephen Boyd, who rode a spike-wheeled chariot to fame in "Ben Hur," is dead after suffering a heart attack while playing golf. He was 49.

Boyd collapsed Thursday while riding in a golf cart with his wife on a course in suburban Northridge. He died shortly afterward in a local hospital.

The tall, wavy-haired actor gave a memorable performance as the Roman commander Messala, losing the heated chariot race in "Ben Hur" to Charlton Heston, who won an Academy Award for his part in the film.

Boyd had plenty of parts and a list of leading ladies that read like a Hollywood glamor magazine — Gina Lollobrigida, Brigitte Bardot, Elizabeth Taylor, Sophia Loren and Doris Day. But Boyd never quite made it to the superstar status others had predicted for him.

The Irish-born actor was acclaimed for his ability to slip completely into a role, to allow his audience to see the character rather than the performer.

"He seemed to be an actor playing a star, rather than a star playing a star," one critic wrote of Boyd. "It is probably an ironic tribute to Boyd's craft that he should be remembered for his roles rather more than for himself."

Boyd began acting on BBC radio at age 8. After graduating from school, he joined a repertory company in his hometown of Belfast.

He tried to tackle big-time theater in London but succeeded in landing only a few minor parts. An attack of pneumonia forced him to postpone his acting career and take a job as a doorman in a London theater. Sir Michael Redgrave discovered him there, arranged an audition in a theater company, and Boyd was on his way.

For awhile, Boyd was something of a costume epic specialist, appearing in such films as "Ben-Hur," "Genghis Khan," "The Fall of the Roman Empire" and "The Bible."

He was the original Marc Antony in the 1962 version of "Cleopatra," but lost the part to Richard Burton when Elizabeth Taylor became ill and shooting had to be postponed.

"'Tis the luck of the Irish," Boyd said when shooting resumed and he was replaced by Burton.

Hood harvests grass

FT HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Military investigators at Ft. Hood spent much of Thursday gathering up weeds for evidence after two soldiers were apprehended on suspicion of growing and selling marijuana on the post.

Criminal Investigation Division officers found some 1,500 marijuana plants growing in a wildlife area six miles south of Killeen, Tex. The plants were mixed with sunflowers and Johnson grass being raised in the field.

A 42-year-old staff sergeant and a 22-year-old Spec. 4 were released to their units pending further investigation.

Officials said the low grade marijuana is valued at $150,000. The plants ranged from sprouts to four feet high. Marijuana seeds were apparently spread across the field, making it difficult to locate all the plants, investigators said.

Other soldiers may be taken into custody as the investigation continues, the officials said.

Roundup Week ends Saturday

Roundup Week in Hansford County concludes today and Saturday in Spearman.

A teen disco dance is scheduled at 8 tonight in the community building. Tickets are $2.

Activities Saturday begin with a sidewalk sale at 8:30 a.m. downtown, and a flea market beginning at 8:30 on the parking lot of the First State Bank.

Hansford County Commissioners will be the judging panel in an old-fashioned Bake-Off sponsored by the Home Demonstration Council. The contest will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Old Lyric Theater.

Old Timers will register at Joe Traylor Ford on Main Street beginning at 9:30 a.m. Coffee and cookies will be provided for the public.

The parade, featuring the color guard from the Pampa and Berger Reserves, will begin at 11 a.m. and continue through the streets of the city.

Methodists to host Wesley bell ringers

The First United Methodist Church in Pampa will be presented a bell choir concert at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Church Sanctuary as part of its covered dish Family Night activities. The covered dish dinner will be at 7 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

"Artistry and Rythm XII" will be presented by The Wesley Bell Ringers of Christ United Methodist Church, Salt Lake City, Utah. Starting with nine high school students and 25 handbells, this organization was begun in 1963 by Edwin J. Duncan.

Since that time, Duncan has increased the membership to 20 and has encouraged the group to purchase a total of 104 precision tuned bells — a total of 5 octaves. An extra octave is added by the Boom-A-Gong, an instrument unique in its sound and percussive effect.

The ringers raise most of the money used to buy and repair their equipment and to finance their concert tours. The sale of "Hoagies," a kind of giant sandwich, has become synonymous with the name Wesley Bell Ringers. A free-will offering will be taken to help with tour expenses.

The handbell choir has played on radio and television and has

An investment in Your Future
...ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

I need the Answers to some SERIOUS QUESTIONS

Why am I here? What shall I do with my life? Where am I going? This young man is at the threshold of his adult life and needs the answer to some serious questions. Perhaps you find yourself pausing to take stock of your life and groping for direction.

The Church of the Living God tells the truth about man's life, death, and destiny. The truths learned there will set you free to live a more abundant, meaningful, and creative life. "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." John 8:32.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

THE MEANING OF CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

To be a member of the church (body of Christ) simply means to be possessed of, and controlled by Christ. He owns the church by reason of having given himself for it. He controls the church as his spiritual body by reason of having been made the head of it (Eph. 5:23-25; Acts 20:28). One cannot belong to Christ without being a part of his possession, the church. One cannot be controlled by Christ without being a member of the body, the church, over which he exercises control. The hand belongs to the head of the physical body by reason of being a member of that body. A hand or a foot cannot exist independent of membership in the physical body. Nor is there any possibility of a member of Christ existing independent of membership in his spiritual body which is the church.

God created water as a state or place for life for a fish. He put the fish in the water. The life of a fish depends upon its remaining in the place for which it was created. God created the church or body, as the state or place of spiritual life for man. It is in the church that man is restored to spiritual fellowship with God. Every spiritual blessing God bestows upon man in Christ or the church. (Eph. 1:3)

You cannot possess natural life without a natural birth, (or birth of flesh), which introduces one into a natural family. Nor can one possess "spiritual life" without being "born again." This new birth introduces one into the church or kingdom. (John 3:3-5). This church or kingdom is also referred to as the family of God, (Eph. 3:15); or the house of God (1 Tim. 3:15). As it is impossible for one to be born naturally without becoming part of a natural family, so it is impossible for one to be born again without becoming a member of the spiritual family of God, the church.

The idea of being born again and at some later date "joining a church" is not to be found in the Bible. God's children are those who have been born again and by that new birth introduced into his family, the church.

Real issue — oil prices

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The debate in Congress over President Carter's energy program again raises the question of how much Americans should pay for the oil they so use so wastefully.

"Currently, federal pricing policy encourages overconsumption of the scarcest fuels by artificially holding down prices," the proposed National Energy Plan states in an overview of the problem.

Put most simply, the aim of the plan is to induce conservation by making energy cost more while at the same time making the transition gradual enough so that the increases do not work undue hardship.

While there is growing agreement that energy should cost more, opinion is sharply split on whether to achieve higher oil prices through taxation or through removal of price controls.

What has happened is that world oil prices soared above the domestic level right at a time when U.S. prices were basically controlled. For years following World War II the world price of oil stayed at about $2 a barrel. The United States imposed import quotas in 1959 to protect domestic producers from a flood of cheap foreign crude.

The creation of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries — OPEC — in 1960 was a reaction to this situation and reflected a nationalist Glen Walton and Kermit Rasco of the Mary Ellen and Harvester Church of Christ will leave Saturday to visit Tanzania Bible School in Dar-es-Salaam, Tanzania.

The two will be gone about two weeks.

AP energy report trend in which less developed countries sought control over their own natural resources.

OPEC was still a relatively powerless group when the price of domestic oil and nearly everything else was fixed under the 1971 economic stabilization program.

During that year, foreign producers began demanding and getting higher prices. Within two years, OPEC proved that it had the unity to set prices for its own members and to regulate its production.

The price situation was then reversed, and it was only the retention of controls that kept domestic prices from soaring.

Controls were gradually eliminated elsewhere in the economy but changes in the international oil picture, especially the fourfold price increase of the OPEC cartel in 1973, created pressures that have kept a ceiling on domestically produced oil.

With world oil prices going up in 1973, the Cost of Living Council devised a two-tier price system that limited the price of so-called "old" oil to $4.25 a barrel and allowed what was defined as "new" oil to sell at the market price.

Following the OPEC oil embargo in October that year, the average ceiling price of old oil was allowed to increase to $5.25 a barrel.

President Ford sought to phase out price controls on domestic crude oil but in late 1975 he finally gave in to an adamant Democratic Congress that would not approve sharply higher prices to control consumption and encourage production.

The compromise they agreed to set a ceiling of $11.28 a barrel for new oil that had been selling at $12.50 to $13 and it forced a reduction in the average price of crude oil produced in the United States — both old and new oil — from about $9.75 to $7.66 a barrel.

All this has left the United States with a complicated oil pricing system that bought moderation in price increases for the present at the cost of widening disparity with world prices.

According to Robert E. Hall and Robert S. Pindyck, economists at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, present policies have depressed the domestic price of energy an average of about 30 per cent below the world price with the consequence that consumption is about 8 per cent higher and production about 6 per cent lower than it would be otherwise.

They calculate this amounts to about three million barrels a day of consumption and two million barrels a day of production and conclude, "the policy of depressing prices has the net effect" of accounting for five million of the seven million barrels of oil the nation imports daily.

"Imports might well be much lower had our energy policy not been based on maintaining low prices," they say in an article arguing for complete decontrol of oil prices in the current issue of the Public Interest, a quarterly journal.

Price controls on domestic oil are now scheduled to expire in May 1979 but they would be extended indefinitely under the Carter plan, which is expected to spark spirited debate in Congress.

Christian Church to offer two services

Beginning Sunday and continuing through the summer the First Christian Church, 1633 N. Nelson, will offer two morning worship services, according to Dr. Ralph T. Palmer, minister.

The early worship service will begin at 8:30 a.m. and will conclude by 9:15 a.m. in the Little Chapel off the main sanctuary.

"If sufficient numbers attend this service, it will be moved to the sanctuary," Dr. Palmer said. "The service will be informal and communion will be served weekly."

The minister said the service is being implemented "to provide worship for those persons who wish to leave early for recreation or other reasons, but who also wish to be in worship on Sunday."

"We hope many of our fellow Pampans will think twice before missing church this summer," he said. "Instead of dashing off to the lake with no time taken for God, we hope they will want to avail themselves of this early service."

Youth in the church will serve a "reasonably priced" Continental breakfast from 9:15-9:40 a.m. Proceeds will go to youth causes.

McGee speaker for businessmen

The Full Gospel Business Mens Fellowship will meet at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Senior Citizens Center, 500 W. Francis St. The speaker will be Tom McGee, Amarillo Chapter president. The public is invited.

John Meade now director of commission

A former Pampans is now national director of the Armed Forces Commission of the Greater Love Church of God in Christ.

The Rev. John A. Meade this spring opened a new parish in Washington, D.C., and will conduct the business of the commission from there.

Meade said the commission serves as a liaison between the church and enlisted men on bases where the Church of God in Christ does not have chaplains.

His new parish operates in the chapel of another church in the city, the First Congregational United.

Meade helped begin several new servicemen's churches while he was in the army, and in 1971 he was appointed overseer of the servicemen's work for the church in Europe.

He moved to the nation's capital from Kansas City, Mo., where he served as a special assistant to the bishop of the Western Missouri Diocese of the Church of God in Christ.

He has also conducted evangelist campaigns throughout the West and Midwest.

Sirhan wants to return to scene

SOLEDAD, Calif. (AP) — Sirhan Sirhan says a return visit to the kitchen of the Ambassador Hotel might help him remember the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"He keeps trying to visualize it, and he can't," said Sirhan's lawyer, Godfrey Isaac. "He wants to know himself, did he, or did he not kill Senator Kennedy?"

Sirhan's request to visit the Los Angeles hotel came during a three-hour meeting with two Los Angeles County Supervisors.

Kenneth Hahn and Baxter Ward traveled to Soledad Prison in Central California Thursday at Sirhan's invitation. They were the first officials to question him since he was convicted of the Kennedy killing in 1969.

Sirhan, gun in hand, was grabbed as Kennedy fell in the Ambassador kitchen on June 5, 1968. The senator had just claimed victory in California's primary for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Sirhan has insisted ever since that he remembers nothing between the time he entered the hotel to the time he was pinned to a steam table by his captors. He held to that position on Thursday.

"I tried to ask him several times about his motive," Hahn said as he left the prison. "I asked if anyone else was involved — that's the big question. He said 'I can't remember. I can't remember.'"

The county board of supervisors has been investigating the Sirhan case for some time, trying to determine whether anyone else might have motivated or helped the Palestinian refugee.

"There is a blank in Sirhan's mind," Hahn said. "If we could uncover that, we might have the clue to many of these mysteries."

Hahn and Ward said they believe it might be worthwhile to have Sirhan hypnotized.

Isaac said he would visit Sirhan again in a week to discuss the possibility of further psychiatric treatment and hypnosis. But he said it would take a court order to bring Sirhan back to the murder scene.

"There is still more to be known," said Hahn. "The investigation is not through. I hope we can have the medical authorities pull back the curtain in his mind."

Sirhan is eligible for parole in 1985, and his lawyer said he wants to "make peace with society."

Charged in counterfeiting

DENVER (AP) — The cases of three men arrested at a Denver print shop for allegedly conspiring to manufacture counterfeit money will be presented to a federal grand jury, the U.S. attorney's office said today.

A fourth man was arrested in Amity, Ark., in connection with the alleged conspiracy, a spokesman for the U.S. attorney said. Two of the men arrested here are from Arkansas, the third from Texas.

The men were arrested last month on warrants issued by a U.S. magistrate in Denver on a complaint filed by the Secret Service. No counterfeit money was distributed as a result of the alleged conspiracy, a Secret Service spokesman said.

Arrested at a west Denver printing shop were John Richard Lucas, 30, Lonsdale, Ark.; Richard J. Owens, 47, Amity, Ark., and Thomas Danny Bruce, 34, El Paso, Tex.

The warrant on which Bruce was arrested alleged that he distributed counterfeit currency as well as conspiring to manufacture it.

All three men appeared before U.S. Magistrate Royce Sickler and were released after posting bonds of $10,000. Owens and Lucas waived preliminary hearings. A preliminary hearing for Bruce was held Tuesday, and Sickler ruled there was sufficient probable cause to present the case to a federal grand jury.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Don Hoerl said the three cases would be presented to a federal grand jury which meets here for one week each month.

Arrested in Amity was Joseph Carrol Bean, 47, a resident of Amity, the Secret Service and Hoerl said.

PUC okays power grid

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas electric power grid that allows utilities to borrow or buy power from each other in emergencies has been restored.

The Public Utility Commission issued a final order Thursday restoring the power backup grid, exercising authority that already is under court attack.

Only the Panhandle and South Plains northwest of Vernon are outside the grid.

The grid — called the Texas Interconnected System — is Texas' safeguard against blackouts and brownouts.

Commissioners made final their May 2 order forcing secessionist companies to rejoin the grid and instructing West Texas Utilities to cut the Oklahoma link that caused the breakup.

Houston Lighting & Power and Texas Utilities pulled out of the grid on May 4, 1976, fearing a new WTU link into Oklahoma would put them under federal regulation if they stayed in.

Commissioner Al Erwin, said restoring the grid would benefit consumers by assuring them a reliable power supply, in some cases at a lower price.

West Texas Utilities and its sister company, Central Power & Light, have filed suit in both state and federal courts contending the commissioners were exceeding their authority.

Both firms are owned by Central & South West Corp., a holding company that also owns power companies in Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Texas Utilities — parent of Texas Electric Service Co., Dallas Power & Light and Texas Power and Light — and Houston Lighting & Power pulled out of the grid the next day.

Austin, San Antonio and the Lower Colorado River Authority remained tied to WTU and CP&L, against their wishes.

Jefferson Giller of Houston, representing Central & South West, said the issue was state meddling with interstate commerce.

Charles Thrash, representing Houston Lighting & Power, said the real question was whether Central & Southwest had the right to make a choice that would hurt Texas utility customers.

The commission determined that when the grid was divided, there was "reduced reliability, increased spinning reserves, higher costs and greater consumption of natural gas" than before.

Advocates of a fully restored grid told the commission that its breakup put Austin, San Antonio and the LCRA at a distinct disadvantage.

They contended CP&L often lacked the capacity to provide backup power when needed. And WTU, was no better, they said, because Central Power & Light already was drawing off all its excess power.

Besides that, CP&L was producing high cost power because — like San Antonio, Austin and LCRA — it relied on expensive gas from Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. to fire its boilers.

Opponents of the Central & South West move said it was done to buttress the firm's case in a U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission case challenging its standing as a holding company.

O'Conner to join Methodists

New associate minister at the First United Methodist Church in Pampa is Michael O'Conner.

O'Conner was appointed Tuesday at the Northwest Texas Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church in Abilene.

He is a former student at Asbury Theological Seminary. Pastor of the Pampa church is the Rev. Lloyd Hamilton.

Electric camp open to 4-Hers

Gray County 4-H Club members 14 years or older are eligible to attend the 4-H Electric Camp, July 11-15 at Camp Scott Able near Cloudercroft, N.M.

Gray County may send three boys, three girls and two adults to the camp.

Interested persons should contact the Extension office by June 10.

At wit's end

By ERMA BOMBECK
Remember when eating out was a big thrill?

Boy, I remember the first time I ate in a fancy restaurant. You just knew it was class. They didn't have toothpicks by the cash register or a sign that said, "WATCH YOUR HAT AND COAT."

The novelty has worn off now and it's a way of life. Children coming and going, husband working odd hours, the convenience of yelling into a clown's mouth and two minutes later driving off with your order, has made eating out a ritual.

The family, as it used to be where Daddy went to work and Mama stayed at home all day, describes only seven out of every 100 households in the United States.

It's probably only a matter of time before eating at home will become the treat eating out used to be. Just imagine.

"Robbie, where do you want to go for your birthday Tuesday?" Robbie's eyes light up and he grins. "Could we eat at home?"

Mother's eyes meet her husband's. "We can afford it, can't we, Jim? After all, it's his birthday."

"Sure," says Daddy. "What the heck. We can splurge one day of the year."

"How nice you all look," says Mother on the night of the dinner. "I'm so used to seeing all of you stopping around in grub clothes when we eat out. Everyone come to dinner."

"Isn't it great?" say the kids excitedly. "Not having to look at menus and make all those decisions? Do we want the secret sauce? The sesame seed bun? The extra crispy? The two-pounder? The melted cheese? This is really neat."

"Hey, look at this," says one of the kids. "What do you call 'em'?"

"Silverware," says Mother.

"I thought you'd get a kick out of it."

"I'd like a malt with two scoops," says Robbie.

"There's no need to prop my mouth open with a fork and shout into it," says Mother, smiling. "I'll get it for you."

"What's for dessert?"

"It's hot apple pie."

"How did you do that without a little red light?"

"I took it out of the oven."

"What will they think of next?"

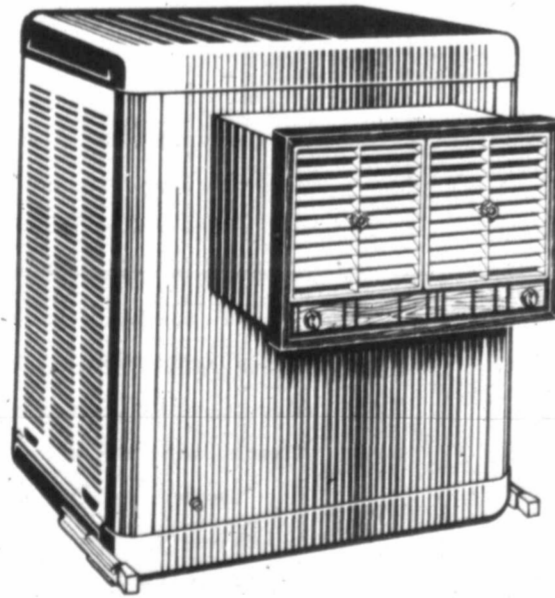

As the family sings "Happy Birthday," Robbie says, "It's nice not having a bunch of strangers in headbands around the table singing. We'll have to do this again — maybe next year."

As Mother tosses the china noisily into the trash barrel, she smiles and says, "This WAS fun. I'd almost forgotten how nice it is to eat at home."

She crawls up between the Golden Arches around the stove and advances the number of hamburgers served to ONE MILLION, TWO HUNDRED SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND.
