DID HER FRIENDS BEAT GOEBBELS?

Because they resented his alleged attentions to Czech film star Lida Baarova, above, friends of her husband are rumored to have beaten Dr. Paul Goebbels, second ranking Nazi, so severely he is confined in seclusion in a Berlin clinic. Her husband, actor Gustav Froelich, was in a concentration camp at the time.

Goebbels Put Husband Of Actress In Camp

By NEA Service
GUSTAV FROELICH, the German movie star whose pals lashed Propaganda Minister Goebbels within an inch of his life as he left the apartment of Froelich's wife, the lovely Lida Baarova, has lived as exciting a life off the screen as on. Today he lives in the fifth of a concentration camp.

Six years ago he was Germany's greatest film actor, happily and newly married to Gitta Alpar, a Jewish of Budapest. Goebbels ordered Froelich to divorce Gitta. Froelich refused. Then Gitta went to Budapest. Gustav followed and for a time was in exile.

In 1935 another woman did what Goebbels failed to do—she separated the couple. Gustav returned to Germany and the screen with a new love, Brigitte Helm, and from Vienna Gitta announced she would divorce Gustav rather than stand in the way of his career.

The blond Nordic favorite seemed to be coming back in favor. His triumph was short. Goebbels sought revenge and Gustav's pleasant days were over.

Shortly after he married Lida Baarova, the Czech actress, he was jailed. Gustav's friends who hid the whip on the minister who was spreading a little propaganda of his own, put Goebbels in the hospital swathed in bandages and minus one of his prominent teeth.

Marvin Jones May Be Appointed Judge

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—A report gained currency here that Rep. Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the House agriculture committee, might leave Congress to become a member of the circuit court of appeals for the District of Columbia. The Washington Herald today said that President Roosevelt is considering Rep. Jones, Congressman Allan Goldborough of Maryland and Jerome Frank of the securities exchange for the vacant circuit judgeship and would soon reach a decision as between the three men.

Leader Of Chinese Peace Party Ousted

HONGKONG, Jan. 2 (AP)—Expulsion of former Premier Wang Ching-wei from the Kuomintang (Chinese government) party raised speculation today as to how far his efforts for peace with Japan might have been aimed at splitting China's military unity. A special session of a Kuomintang committee read Wang out of the party yesterday at Chungking. Temporary Chinese capital, for "deserting" his post and suing for peace in contradiction to national policy.

Unofficial sources in Chungking reported Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had arrested 200 government party and military leaders in a swing "purge" of Wang's "peace party" followers and others lukewarm toward prosecuting the war with Japan.

Flaherty Named Traffic Officer

Lawrence Flaherty today took over the duties of city traffic officer, succeeding George Pope, resigned. Who this morning became chief Gray county deputy under Sheriff Cal Rose. The new traffic officer has been with the police force since June 17, one day after Police Chief J. I. Downs took charge of the office. He served as traffic officer for a month, being succeeded by Pope. Chief Downs this morning instructed Flaherty to enforce the traffic laws of the city, with special emphasis on making the streets safe for same drivers and pedestrians. "Stop speeding and reckless driving," was the terse order given by the chief. No one has been named to succeed Flaherty on the night beat.

Famous Painter Passes
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2 (AP)—Art has lost a noted portrayer of the frontier west today in the passing of Frank Tenney Johnson, 64. Stricken with spinal meningitis, a week ago, Johnson died yesterday at a hospital.

John Garner's Power Shoves Him On Spot

Vice-President Can't Let Demos' Program Fail

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—The general recognition of the power which John Nance Garner will wield in the new congress puts the vice president in a spot where he may become an easy target.

The situation has developed in such a way that the Democrats might be said to have three leaders in congress—Barkley in the Senate; Rayburn in the House, and Garner in a strategic position in both chambers. In a sense, this has been true for six years, but it is becoming widely accepted here that Garner's position has been vastly strengthened by the last election. Anything approaching official recognition of this power easily may link Garner in the public mind with the success or failure of the Administration program in Congress. It ties to him a certain responsibility for what Congress does, a situation in which no vice president has been put in the past.

Wallace, Hopkins Visit Him
The visit paid the Texan by Secretaries Wallace and Hopkins on one day was a sure token of the official understanding of the State of affairs. Nor was there any great effort to keep their visits secret.

Wallace and Hopkins, like Garner, do not shut their eyes to situations. If they wanted to find out what they might expect from Congress in the way of Farm Legislation, relief, or the confirmation of Hopkins as Secretary of Commerce, they would go to a man who knows. And Garner might be assumed to know.

His office has been through with the sharpest political minds in Congress. Nor was there any great effort to keep their visits secret.

New Officers Take Oaths In Ceremonies

Bond Approved By Commissioners In Meeting Today

A new chapter in the history of Gray county opened today when the commissioners met this morning and approved the bonds of Gray county's official family, which includes five new members.

The five new officers are W. E. James, county treasurer; Cal Rose, sheriff; Mark Denson, county surveyor; C. M. Carpenter, commissioner of precinct 4; and J. H. Bodine, justice of the peace of precinct 5. The meeting was held in the county courtroom.

County Judge Sherman White presided at the meeting, at which officers were qualified. Immediately after he had qualified, Sheriff Cal Rose's duties, George A. Pope, chief deputy, Glen Carruth, desk man, jailer and bookkeeper; John Hudson, Pampa deputy; and M. M. Newman, McLean deputy, and former county commissioner of precinct 4, went on duty.

At the courthouse this morning, business was going on as usual with Chief Deputy O. T. Lindsey, H. C. McGee, bookkeeper, at work in the sheriff's office. D. R. Henry, county treasurer, was also at work in his office on the second floor.

Although January 2, coming on the Monday following New Year's day, might have been considered a holiday, the courthouse offices were open all day today.

Only in the district court was there any observance of the dual holiday, January 2 was designated as the convening date of the 10-See OFFICIALS, Page 6

McLean Band Marches In Tech Parade

DALLAS, Jan. 2 (AP)—With a Cotton Bowl jubilee headlined by a football battle between Texas Tech's Red Raiders and the St. Mary's Gaels of Moraga, Calif., as top billing of the day, West Texas was in Dallas to celebrate.

Metropolitan Dallas was fast learning the ways of West Texas, and whoops which ordinarily are heard in the wide open spaces west of the 90th meridian were echoing up and down the "canyons" of commerce, Elm and Main.

The whoops hadn't been so numerous until this morning when approximately 500 Lubbock fans arrived aboard a Santa Fe special and a parade wound its way through downtown Dallas.

The "Texas Tech" musicians in the march and several hundred more fans already here augmented the delegation so that it extended for several blocks.

Perched on the hood of the lead car was Eric Davis, Hollywood's famous "sound effects" man who is a confirmed Tech roofer, having visited a brother on the Tech campus several times. Bands from Happy, Hamlin, Floydada, McLean, See McLEAN, Page 6

Two Slain In Outhouse Feud

GRASS VALLEY, Calif., Jan. 2 (AP)—A mountain feud over the use of an old-fashioned outhouse flared into fatal gunfire here New Year's day.

In the morgue today lay James Root, 34, a laborer, and Arthur Lavalley, 36, a WPA timekeeper, both dead of gunshot wounds.

In jail were Iri R. Blackwood, 46, WPA worker, and his wife, Irene, arrested by Sheriff Carl Tobiasen who said witnesses had connected them with the burst of gunfire which killed Root and Lavalley before the outhouse. Mrs. Root, Mrs. Lavalley, Arthur Maulde, a miner, George Martin, and Arthur Shepard were held as material witnesses.

Sheriff Tobiasen said the outhouse was located on property owned by Blackwood. He said he was told Lavalley had ripped a lock from the door of the small structure. Blackwood, carrying a gun "to avoid trouble," went to investigate.

Perkins Optimistic For 1939 Industry

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Perkins took the nation in a New Year's message today that industry was "well on its way toward higher levels of activity."

Factory and mine production increased 30 per cent during 1938, her statement said, and was accompanied by gains in payrolls and employment. The housing industry, she predicted, would prove the "brightest spot" in 1939.

More than 400,000 dwellings will be built this year with private capital, Miss Perkins estimated, in addition to 50,000 low-cost units scheduled for construction under direction of the United States Federal Housing Authority.

Gambling To Go, Declares New Sheriff

Beer 'Joints' That Permit Improper Practices Doomed

A decree issued by State Liquor Administrator Bert Ford on September 8 was endorsed today by Sheriff Cal Rose as expressing his opinion toward the enforcement of law in Gray county.

Shortly before he was sworn in at 11:14 o'clock this morning, Sheriff Rose said: "I ran my campaign against open gambling and drunken driving and I'm still after them."

In the decree issued by Administrator Ford on September 8, to which Sheriff Rose referred, it was indicated that "honky tonks" and beer joints of Texas and other establishments that permit improper practices were marked for limitation.

Asked how this related to his own, Sheriff Rose said he has strongly endorsed the liquor administrator's stand.

Last September letters were in the mails to 18,000 holders of permits and licenses warning them that liquor boards intend to put out of business all dealers who permit improper practices.

Improper practices for which Ford said the board has recently cancelled and suspended licenses included: selling to minors, selling to persons showing evidence of intoxication, permitting indecent shows, permitting conduct that is lewd, immoral and offensive to public decency.

AT 80, CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT CAN'T FRET OVER DEPRESSION

"Only four times in my eighty years have I seen... 'Good times,'" says Carrie Chapman Catt.

By MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Jan. 2.—On her 80th birthday, Carrie Chapman Catt is philosophical about most of the so-called ills of the world. Especially the depression which appears to have dragged on for more than nine years.

"Only four times in my eighty years have I seen what we are pleased to call 'good times,'" says the former Iowa schoolteacher who helped organize militant suffrage societies in 26 countries and whose crusade for women's rights reached its climax in 1920 when the suffrage amendment was passed.

"And those four 'good times' sessions were short-lived, indeed," Mrs. Catt continued. "There have been depressions of one sort and another through all the remaining years. In fact, I have decided that a depressive state of affairs is normal and that a boom is not."

The protests of youth organizations against a world which offers no jobs to those who are equipped, ready and willing for jobs, arguments between capital and labor, breadlines, bitter controversies among political factions over questions of unemployment relief—these and similar depression subjects now claiming our attention are all old stuff to Carrie Chapman Catt.

The famous suffragist sees nothing to get excited about in the recent news that the number of women in state legislatures has decreased from 149 to 130 in the past ten years. She's satisfied with the progression of the crusade which she and such women as Susan B. Anthony and Julia Ward Howe started. She thinks women can and will take up with greater authority better educational, religious and economic programs.

Mrs. Catt does not believe that women's comparatively new economic freedom can possibly be the only or even the most important contributing factor to the higher divorce rates in this country.

"It is all very well to say that because a woman knows she can get a job and support herself, she's more prone to get a divorce than she used to be. But certainly the subject goes much deeper than that. Possibly the fact that her economic position in the home is no longer so vital has a great deal to do with the present situation. One by one women's duties have decreased.

"Any husband knows that he can buy bread and clothing and other necessities instead of having to depend on his wife to make them. So if a husband isn't an economic necessity any more, then neither is a wife. If blame must be laid, then let's lay it on the natural progression of things mechanical instead of simply on the emancipation of women."

It was at the age of six that Mrs. Catt's interest in women's rights first evidenced itself. For a year, she and the other little girls had been spending half their time running screamingly away from small snakes their boy classmates carried. One day, however, the woman who was later to become one of the greatest suffragists of all time grabbed a snake and chased the boys.

Born in Wisconsin, she moved with her family to Iowa when she was seven. At 14, she was teaching school to earn money enough to go to college. At 16, she entered Iowa State College, was graduated three years later. At 22, she was elected superintendent of schools in Mason City, Iowa.

A year later, the young teacher met and married Lee Chapman, a newspaper editor. They moved to San Francisco, bought a daily paper, and together they ran it. In less than two years Mr. Chapman died.

It was during her newspaper career that the young widow met Lucy Stone, Susan B. Anthony and Julia Ward Howe. They interested her further in suffrage. And in 1890, when she married the late George William Catt, she had become a national leader of what turned out to be a winning fight for women's rights. Now, at 80, she keeps busy with letters that come to her from all over the world, holds honorary offices in a number of important women's organizations, and has recently collected a library on women and their crusade for suffrage for the Library of Congress in Washington. Carrie Chapman Catt isn't ready to rest on her laurels—even at 80.

New Year Dance Entertains Large Group Saturday

A gala New Year dance entertained a capacity crowd at the attractively decorated Country club ballroom Saturday evening.

Observing the holiday theme, a lighted Christmas tree, with colored lights, fir boughs, red and white bells, and a Happy New Year greeting were used in the hall.

Approximately 100 couples attended the holiday event.

WHITE DEER, Jan. 2.—Miss Dorothy Lou Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Martin, and Logan Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Fleming, were married Saturday morning at the Baptist parsonage with the Rev. Herman Coe officiating.

Mr. Fleming is employed by the Empire Oil Company of Pampa, but the young couple will make their home in White Deer.

Young Women's Circle At Phillips To Meet Wednesday

PHILLIPS, Jan. 2.—Young women's circle of the Phillips Methodist Missionary society met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Hoyt Shepherd. The program was conducted by Mrs. E. J. Reeves.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. N. L. Chivers, David Wilson, E. J. Reeves, and the hostess.

Phillips Baptist WMS Has Combined Meeting Last Week

PHILLIPS, Jan. 2.—A general meeting of the combined circles of the Phillips Baptist Missionary society met recently at the church.

The Why and How circle was in charge of the program with Mrs. W. R. Hayhurst, Bill Paxton, H. A. Haren, C. H. Barnes, G. A. Glover, Earl Brakebill, and S. Hudson having part on the program.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. S. Hudson, Bill Paxton, H. A. Haren, A. F. Baker, T. M. Brooks, J. T. Teague, Harve Reddick, C. H. Barnes, Earl Brakebill, G. A. Glover, W. A. Riley, E. A. Stiles, and W. R. Hayhurst.

Handkerchiefs, as we know them today, are a comparatively recent addition to the man's wardrobe. At one time, before the days of dentistry, ladies carried dainty lace handkerchiefs to hide their decayed teeth when they smiled. Long before that, however, fox tails were carried, as combination handkerchiefs and fans.

Marriage Of Miss Hoff And D. B. McNamee Revealed

HIGGINS, Jan. 2.—The recent announcement here of the marriage of D. B. McNamee of Higgins to Miss Blanche Von Hoff of Bishop, Okla., came as a surprise to their many friends in this vicinity. The ceremony took place Oct. 29 at Bow, Okla.

Mr. McNamee, a graduate of the Bishop schools, was reared in that locality. Mr. McNamee, who served as Santa Fe station agent at Pollett for a number of years and more recently in Higgins in the same capacity, is a rural mail carrier out of Higgins.

After a brief wedding trip to East Texas, the couple will make their home in Higgins.

Miles Inaugurated As N. M. Governor

SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 2 (AP)—New Mexicans crowded into this state capitol today for the inauguration of their twelfth governor since statehood, Democratic John E. Miles, one-time rancher, merchant, and county official.

Hotels and camp grounds were crowded. Reservations for the formal inaugural at noon long since were exhausted. The largest attendance in history was expected for the inaugural ball tonight.

The activities opened at 10 o'clock with the inaugural parade, followed at 11:30 by the inaugural ceremony in the state house of representatives chamber.

In the afternoon, the new governor and first lady greeted the public at the inaugural reception.

Before this ceremony, the state's new elective official family were to take their oaths of office in a number of semi-private ceremonies.

Retiring Governor Clyde Tingley, ending four years as the state's chief executive, was scheduled to speak briefly at the inaugural ceremonies before leaving for Albuquerque, his home.

Aged Woman Beaten To Death In Alley

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2 (AP)—Seventy-year-old Mrs. Julia Juhasz was beaten to death today in an alley she passed walking home alone from a New Year party.

Detectives said her assailant apparently was frightened away before he could strip rings from her fingers or take from her purse $7 that had been collected at the party as a gift for her.

Her screams went disregarded. Residents near the alley thought the outcries came from New Year celebrants.

The Japanese earthquake of 1923 caused the death of nearly 100,000 persons.

Bell Company Cuts Oil Price

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 2 (AP)—The Bell Oil & Gas Company announced today a reduction in the Burk Burnett and Red river bed areas of North Texas.

Starting at 67 cents for crude of 28 or 28.9 gravity, the new postings range upward at a two-cent differential to 91 cents for 40 gravity and above.

The company purchases about 2,400 barrels daily from about 1,200 stripper wells in the area.

In a statement accompanying the announcement, J. P. Dyer, manager of the crude oil department of the company, said the reduction was caused by "large refining losses caused by constantly decreasing prices for refined products and gasoline price wars."

The company announced to its producers it would store crude on a prorata basis with no charge for 60 days and at a charge of one cent a barrel after 60 days. It reserved the right to purchase the crude after a 60-day period at the average price of other buyers in the area.

"This adjustment in price we hope is but temporary," the company said, adding, "in providing a continued market for this area this company intends to cooperate 100 per cent with producers in the future as it has in the past, and with any advance in refined oil markets, it intends to raise its prices at the earliest opportunity."

Winter Fresh-Air Fiends Belong Out In Cold Weather

By JOAN DURHAM.

You're likely to get a very cold shoulder if you don't watch your cold weather manners.

The easiest way to nominate yourself for most-disked member of a group is to go for fresh air in a great big way when nobody else in the house—or office—backs you up in your idiosyncrasies. And the quickest means of putting yourself in the worst graces of your favorite hostess is to trap over her best rug in your galoshes or throw a snow-laden coat over her favorite chair.

Let us forget, when the mercury takes a sudden drop, here are a few cold-weather reminders: Be careful to close doors behind you. One door left ajar carelessly can send room temperature to a low level in a few minutes. That goes for outside doors, storm doors and doors between rooms.

Don't insist on maintaining unusual temperatures in rooms you share with others. Remember that 68 to 72 degrees is considered a comfortable temperature for most living quarters. If you go in for ice-weather take it where you can find it—out of doors. If you are susceptible to chills wear warmer clothing; don't try to keep a room so warm that everyone else sweats. Keep sneezes to yourself. If you develop a bad cold stay away from others as much as possible. When you feel a sneeze coming on, prepare to catch it in your handkerchief.

Don't count on borrowing galoshes, raincoats, or other wet weather accessories. Lay in your own supply—and distribute it between your office and your home so you won't be caught in an emergency. If you do have to borrow when a sudden storm comes up, return the borrowed property as soon as possible.

Hints to the weather-bound hostess: Leave a broom outside the front door—so visitors can brush the snow off their feet.

Try serving hot tea, coffee, chocolate—or even bouillon—to your refugees from the storm.

Labor Service For Girls Compulsory For German Lassies

BERLIN, Jan. 2 (AP)—One year of "labor service" on farms or in households became compulsory yesterday for 400,000 German girls, as part of Germany's four-year plan for self-sufficiency.

Labor service previously had been partly voluntary. It lasted only six months and attracted about 200,000 frauleins a year.

Now, compulsory labor applies to all unmarried girls between the ages of 18 and 25 years except for those physically disabled. It was said to have two purposes: to relieve overworked farm wives and housewives and to arouse interest among girls in farming and domestic economy.

Organizing For Safety

Organization is the vital element in any accident prevention drive that is to produce results. The history of the industrial safety movement is an inspiring example of what intelligent, consistent organization work can achieve. In 25 years, deaths due to accidents in the factories and plants of America have decreased 44 per cent. in spite of the obvious fact that in this period manufacturing methods have become immensely more complicated from a mechanical standpoint. Industry's safety engineers don't guess. They know what hazards exist and how they may eliminate them. They have done an epic work in making the American workman safety conscious.

And organization is precisely as vital to highway safety—our No. 1 unsolved safety problem of today. Organizations means unceasing, fully-planned work in a dozen different directions. It means an unremitting "gospel of safety" campaign directed straight at every motorist and pedestrian. It means careful revision of traffic laws, with a view to standardization and elimination of obsolete structures. It means better law enforcement by police and courts. It means education for school students by special, carefully-taught experts. It means stringent drivers' licensing requirements.

A good start has been made, and the safety movement seems now to be pressing ahead fast. Its ultimate success is assured if the people, whose lives are literally in the balance, give the little effort that is needed to co-operate.

The Nation's Press

THE CLEVELAND TRUST COMPANY BUSINESS BULLETIN The Second Attempt

This is our second attempt at recovery from the long depression. If one were searching for a single indicator to show whether or not we were making a real recovery back to normal conditions, he might perhaps find the most reliable one in the figures showing what proportion of our entire output of finished steel consists of heavy products. In normal times half of all the steel produced in this country goes into heavy products such as plates, beams, rails, and castings. They are used for construction, railroads, power plants, machinery, and production equipment.

In the past seven years only about one-third of the steel output has consisted of heavy products. The other two-thirds has been made up of the light products that go into such things as automobiles, refrigerators, household equipment, and containers for canned goods. In large measure the heavy products are bought by producers and paid for by security issues, while the light products are bought by consumers and paid for out of wages.

These steel figures hold the key to our recovery problem. If we could once more turn a normal proportion of our national energies back to production financed by expanding enterprise our recovery problem would be solved. It will be done when business men have enough faith in the future, and sufficient confidence in the prospects for profits, to lead them to shape their plans by long-term expectations. It cannot happen while we guide our national policies by the theory that recovery depends on consumer purchasing power supplied by pump-priming expenditures.

This second recovery attempt of ours is based on the same economic theory that followed last time. We have profited somewhat by experience, and the federal spending is being better administered than it was before. Nevertheless we are still failing to deal with the controlling factors. These include the problems of the railroads and the utilities, the meagerness of business profits, the difficulties of labor relations, and the competition of government with business.

We are justified in feeling pretty confident about business improvement next year, and especially in the first half of next year, but this country needs a longer-term confidence than that. The year 1939 will test our national capacity to generate a self-supporting recovery. If we can do that, and if the international situation does not become too unfavorable, our recovery can last a long time. The outcome depends on government and business, and on the ability to overcome obstacles in order to seize opportunities.

Prospects for 1939 Business men expect commentators to make forecasts as the old year draws toward its close. In compliance with the advance forecast the writer of the Business Bulletin hazards the following personal estimates about probable developments in 1939. The monthly average of industrial production was 110 in 1937, and it will probably be 85 or 86 in 1938. It now seems likely that its average in 1939 will be about 104, and that it will not be higher or lower than that by more than four percent.

National income seems likely to make a new high record for the recovery period, and to be a little above the level of 1937. Wholesale prices will probably advance slowly in 1939, with their average level (3) the year above that of 1938, but lower than that of 1937.

Average freight loadings may advance about 15 percent, with the increase probably no less than 10 percent or more than 20 percent. Automobile output in 1938 should be between 20 and 50 percent larger than that of 1937.

Contracts for new construction will probably be larger than those of any previous recovery year. They will probably be the largest since 1930, but not as large as those of that year.

The value of department store sales will probably increase so that they will be nearer to the levels of 1937 than to those of 1938.

The output of iron and steel is likely to be greater than that of 1938 but not as large as the outputs of 1936 and 1937. The advance from this year level may well be between 20 and 50 percent.

Among series likely to make a new all-time high records are petroleum refining, output of electric power, tobacco products, and the average hourly earnings of factory workers.

Merchandise exports will probably be smaller and imports higher in value than in 1938, with imports probably greater than exports.

IS THE TOWNSEND RECOVERY PLAN A RACKET?

"A parrot from the pension roost" defies me to prove that the Townsend Plan is just a legalized form of stealing. To get something for nothing, or to try to get something, under false pretenses and give nothing in return is equivalent to stealing. To contend that the Townsend plan will increase production and not to be able to explain why it will not increase production when reduced to small scale operation, is certainly an attempt to fool the people and get something for nothing.

The "Townsend parrots" cannot explain the Townsend claim—that it will increase production—when brought down to a small scale. Any theory that cannot be tested and proved by increasing or decreasing the scale of its operation and stand the test is not a theory or a principle, it is a fake and a delusion. To illustrate: As one commentator on the Townsend plan did by inquiring whether it would make it easier if 20 men were carrying a log and four got out from under the log and got on top of the log, whether it would make it easier for the six men left carrying the log. And when the "Townsend parrots" cannot answer this question, cannot explain their theory when reduced to small scale operation, then they are simply parrots by repeating that it will work when on a big scale.

Or, if the "parrots" cannot explain how A's taking a bottle of milk from B and drinking part of it himself and giving the rest to C would increase the total amount of milk, then they cannot demonstrate that the Townsend plan will increase the total national income.

Of course, it is not up to anyone who challenges the practicability of the Townsend plan to prove that it will not work. A negative cannot be proved, only by proving a positive. But, it is up to the advocates of the Townsend Recovery Plan to demonstrate by small numbers so that the ordinary mind can understand it, how taking one group and transferring the tax to another increases the national wealth. It is up to the "Townsend parrots" to answer Congressman Samuel B. Pettengill who said, "If government could CREATE purchasing power taxation and debt would all have been abolished centuries ago. No party would ever lose an election if it could 'create' purchasing power." And this is exactly what the Townsend Recovery Plan contends—that they can increase purchasing power by taxation, which has never been done in all history.

And it is not being a parrot when axioms are quoted and can be explained and illustrated. A "parrot" is a man who keeps on making statements that he does not understand and cannot explain or illustrate. For example, saying taking from one group, as by The Townsend Plan, will increase the amount that is left for those who have had some part of what they possessed taken from them; that a part is greater than the whole.

Understand I am not contending that taxing one group to support another group is stealing but I am contending that to misrepresent and claim that it would improve the lot of those who produced and who are obliged to turn over to the pension recipients a part of the fruits of production is attempting to get the comforts of life under misrepresentation and that this is equivalent to legalized stealing. It is axiomatic and does not need a proof to state that any of the comforts of life taken from the producers reduces their living standards, their real income, and does not increase it.

"The parrot from the pension roost" tries to insinuate that a man who sacrifices from using the comforts of life and invests in stocks and bonds is not serving the prosperity and happiness of the majority by so doing; that it is not necessary that there be enough prospects of profits for a man to sacrifice for the present from using the comforts of life to invest in tools and equipment by way of stocks and bonds so that all workers can receive higher real wages. This pension dreamer who believes that wealth is created by taking from one and giving to another seems to believe that buying stocks, in which there is a risk, is detrimental to the great majority of people. The trouble with our country now is that there are not enough people willing to take risks with the hope of adding to their wealth. Risks have made this a great country and anything that discourages a man from taking risks by the way of taxation whether it be a transaction tax or any other kind of a tax hurts the prosperity and happiness of the majority of the people. Where would the working man be, who had no capital, if no one had been willing to invest in tools and equipment? The prosperity and happiness of the majority of the people would have been infinitely less than it is at present. It is men who have not been able to manage their own affairs that invariably have been offering magical plans to make it possible to live without work as the Townsend men are now advocating that is causing our trouble. It is not the men who are willing to take the risks of buying stocks, tools that is wrecking our character and making us lose our liberty. And these men are doing a great harm to humanity by their misinforming and misguiding the voters.

Behind The News Of The Day

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt never has attempted to pacify business by backing away, and the appointment of Harry Hopkins as Secretary of Commerce indicates he isn't going to begin now. More to the point, Hopkins was appointed to the commerce cabinet post so business could pacify itself about Hopkins. That is perhaps reason number one. Reason number two is that the President now will have as his principal business contact agent a man whose ideas parallel his own and in whom he places far more confidence than ever he did in the retiring secretary, Daniel Roper. Reason number three may be that if Hopkins ever is to become presidential timber, he must be severed from WPA, which is likely to be a withering branch from now on and certainly will be subject to a withering fire from inquisitorial congressional independents.

It is doubtful if Roper, though personally loyal to the President to the nth degree, ever understood the New Deal. For that reason he couldn't bring about even a semblance of rapprochement. Outsiders as well as insiders knew he didn't speak the New Deal dialect and didn't have the ear of the President.

CONTACTS CAME BACK WAY The net result was that government contacts with business came not through Commerce, as should be expected, but through the Federal Reserve and various

FOR THE FIRST COUPLE OF WEEKS, ANYHOW

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

"The Dawn Patrol" Original story by John Monk Saunders. Directed by Edmund Goulding. Errol Flynn (Courtney), Basil Rathbone (Major Brand), David Niven (Scott), Donald Crisp (Phipps).

HOLLYWOOD—This fine film of aerial warfare over France in 1915 is at once a salute to courage and a powerful plea for peace. Originally filmed in 1930 with Richard Barthelmess and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. in the present Flynn and Niven roles, "The Dawn Patrol" was one of Warner Bros' most profitable ventures. The current version thanks to splendid performance, cogent writing and pointed direction, should do as well—aided perhaps by its new timeliness in this war-torn world.

The Royal Flying Corps, ill-equipped with planes and its manpower down to the rawest of youthful recruits, is seen waging a gallant daily struggle against German aces. Rathbone, commanding officer, is cracking under the strain. Grounded by duty, he must send up his fledgling fliers to almost certain death. He is sure he has only the scorn of his two aces, Flynn and Niven, darling comrades.

When circumstances retire Rathbone and leave Flynn in command, the latter soon understands. Realization of Rathbone's emotional torment becomes acute when it is his duty to send up to death—Niven's kid brother. In the end, Flynn contrives gallantly to give up his own life for his friend. Spectacular aerial flights, bombings, narrow escapes point up the horrors of warfare, suggest greater horrors that may lie in new conflict. The quiet philosophy of Crisp, the horseplay and comedy of brave men always facing doom, the drama of scraped and rasping nerves make "The Dawn Patrol" poignantly memorable.

"Kentucky" Original story by John Taintor Foote. Directed by David Butler. Loretta Young, Richard Greene, Walter Brennan. This saga of horse-racing has three superb performances—by Brennan, by the horse-flesh beauties, and by the color camera.

The story of a feud between two old Kentucky families, both stable owners, has the anticipated finale in the Kentucky Derby. Miss Young (never more beautiful) and Greene (ditto) as a Romeo and Juliet of the turf, and convincing enough in their roles, but it is Brennan as a supreme judge of horseflesh who steals the acting honors with the first legitimate interpretation of his kind the screen has seen. The romance, the background, the comedy, the thrill finish combine to make "Kentucky" outstanding.

"Sweethearts" Story by Dorothy Parker and Alan Campbell. Directed by W. S. Van Dyke. Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Frank Morgan, Ray Bolger, Florence Rice, Misha Auer, Herman Bing, Reginald Gardner, etc. Using Victor Herbert and other music, "Sweethearts" is the amusing tale of two stage stars, happily married, who can't get away from their fame. Their families and the coterie of sycophants to their long-run production nearly drive them to the "peace" of Hollywood—and practically to divorce. It's lightweight stuff, with song, comedy, romance, fashion display and brilliant spectacle individuals in the Treasury and the Securities and Exchange commission. At best it was contact by remote control. With Hopkins as commerce secretary, business will meet the New Deal through him.

It will meet an administrator who in 30 days puts 4,000,000 men to work in 48 states with a Washington staff that could hide in a corner segment of the huge Commerce Building. He can speak in bigger figures than Morgan or Rockefeller. On the other hand, hard-crusted business executives who fought their way to the top through grime and poverty might well remember that at one time Hopkins said: "Poverty has not one redeeming quality. I simply do not believe people grow by suffering. I have seen courage among the poor, yes, but I have seen no one thriving on poverty."

MIND LIKE PRESIDENT'S He has a mind as supple as the President's, and as mobile. That is why the President likes him. He once said the Federal government would be out of the relief business in a few years, now predicts it never will be. He hates the dole, and brought a

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

The day was like a pool of clear water, still, translucent with the stark blue sky lying at the bottom of the pool—that was January 1, 1939... D. C. Houk was reminded of the old legend that the 12 months of the year would be like the first 12 days in January... Norman Cox, freshman at Texas Tech, is on crutches again. He played all fall on the freshman football team without injury. Last week he was playing basketball with the exes and his trick knee turned on him again. Bobby Karr had the same kind of trouble with his knee... Louvena Wilkins, grand-daughter of B. S. Via, is no slouch in kicking off a football. (She is the vivacious little girl who reminds one of Judy Garland.) Yesterday afternoon in a game of touch football Lou kicked off first with her right and then her left foot. Incidentally, the pretty blue velvet dress she was wearing and the blue ribbon she wore in her hair did not bother her in the slightest... Most Pampans celebrated New Year's eve at their homes or in the homes of friends... A local eating place called up to announce that the five most popular songs on the nickelodeon the last two weeks were: 1. It Makes No Difference Now. 2. The Girl Friend of the Whirling Dervish. 3. Two Sleepy People. 4. My Revery. 5. You Must Have Been Beautiful.

Under these circumstances physicians must be prepared to handle the emergencies of infections. Such emergencies are quite a trial to the physician for on the one hand he must not delay administering diphtheria antitoxin if the child is sick with the disease, while on the other hand, he does not want to inject the serum if the child is sick with something other than diphtheria.

The antitoxin contains a foreign protein, horse serum, to which the child may be allergic or is likely to become sensitized. The diagnosis of diphtheria is not always easy to make. Heretofore, when in doubt, the physician usually injected the child with antitoxin. Now comes the report of a discovery which promises to free the physician from the above described dilemma. In substance the discovery amounts to the following: It was observed that the serum of diphtheria have the power to act upon a chemical substance known as potassium tellurite so as to produce a black discoloration. Dr. Alfred Manzullo of the National Department of Hygiene at Buenos Aires, had the happy inspiration of applying this chemical (in proper dilutions) directly to the throat areas suspected of harboring diphtheria germs. He found that in all cases of true diphtheria ten minutes after he had applied the chemical, a black discoloration appeared, while no such color change occurred in the absence of diphtheria.

It promised to give every type of customer a run for his money. And it's photographed—radiantly—in this constantly improving color.

storm of ridicule upon his head by advocating even "leaf raking" projects to provide work. "They had men in the streets of New Orleans raking leaves back and forth until they wore them out," jibed the late Senator Huey Long.

PUSHED FEDERAL INTERVENTION But the same man who kept his own administration decentralized was always identified with those presidential advisors forever whooping up the idea of extended Federal intervention in industrial relations. One thing is likely to prove a healthy certainty, Business and industrial leaders who could bombard him as WPA administrator, now will have to treat him as the government's mouthpiece on business relations. And when they tackle Hopkins they will know they are in contact with the New Deal itself, for next to the President himself, he is the most complete embodiment of it.

His job now will not be to put 4,000,000 men to work in 30 days. It will be to implore, to stimulate and to cooperate with business to put that many to work in industry as soon as possible. And a lot of smoke will have to be blown out of the eyes both of business and Mr. Hopkins before that can be undertaken.

Tex's Topics By Tex DeWesse

We have a nice task coming up this week, and unless plans go haywire we expect to make the most of it... They have made the mistake of making us master of the foists of the annual installation night banquet of the Pampa Kiwanis Club over in the blue room of the Hotel Schneider, come Thursday... It should be a gala evening—what with the banquet and ball and the strapless gowns and things to the tune of Ken Bennett's Radio Ambassadors of Swing.

First of all we have nominated me as the All-High Ambassador of Swing for the night and if they give us the floor with no chances of any comebacks, as has been promised, we're planning to swing high, wide and handsome on a few of the boys... It's going to be a perfect set-up (unless we have been framed—and that's not impossible) for us to get even with some of the funsters who have heaped insult and injury upon this old gray head these past twelve months.

We don't mind throwing a little hint to some folk that they'd better be prepared to let their hair down, or it will be let down for them. No punches will be pulled, and it looks from this distance like things will roll down to a give and take proposition all in the spirit of good, clean fun, of course... Anyhow, the outgoing administration of the Kiwanis Club is all set to turn the business over to the new regime with banners flying in a bit of serpentine and whoopee... The men folk, too, can rest assured there will be no chorus gals to sit on their knees this year.

Marquis, the Magician, who will be in Pampa for a one-night show under sponsorship of the Lions Club next Friday night, comes from our old home town 1,300 miles away... Last time we remember seeing him was about 1935 when we were kept dizzy for a week at the convention of the International Brotherhood of Magicians... The town was over-run with magicians... Everything was all right until a bunch of Marquis' friends dropped into the office and made the fellow sitting at the desk next to us disappear... Nobody has seen him since, to our knowledge... This fellow Marquis is plenty clever and you can't go wrong taking in his performance... If he doesn't leave you mystified and thrilled, look us up, and we'll report him to Brotherhood Headquarters... They don't send 'em out on the road unless they're plenty good... Bill Bratton is building a big house over at his lumber yard and it's going to be so sturdy that Bratton says Marquis nor anybody else will be able to break out of it... I'll lay you dimes to donuts, Marquis gets out of it quicker than you can say two jack-rabbits... He has a mistake just like ours, and that helps to keep his audience befuddled, too.

Rescuers Save 19 From Burning Mine CLINTON, Ind., Jan. 2 (AP)—Smoke curling lazily skyward today from the shaft of the Clinton Coal Company's Crown Hill mine No. 6, near here, a grim reminder of a fire which brought death to one miner and forced 19 others to spend New Year's eve huddled together for 14 nerve-shattering hours 168 feet underground. The eleven survivors, gaunt but thankful, were recuperating in their homes from the effects of at least one day of drenching rain, which entered their lungs as they waited in a remote corner of the mine for more than a 100 frantic rescuers, working relays, to bring freedom.

Student Suspected Doctor Slew Wife COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 2 (AP)—Officers today quoted William E. Hoffman, 20-year-old student who lived at the home of Dr. Raymond L. Atterberry, Canon City osteopath charged with the murder of his wife, as saying he once suspected the osteopath strangling his wife, but that Atterberry denied he did so. Chief Hugh R. Harper and Detective Inspector I. B. Bruce said Hoffman told them his suspicion was aroused after Mrs. Nona Atterberry's body was found Dec. 21 at the foot of basement steps in her Canon City home. Rice Runners Win In Sugar Bowl Relay

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2 (AP)—Bryan "Bitty" Grant of Atlanta, surprise victor over Gene Mako, held the Sugar Bowl tennis trophy today, while track honors lay with Glenn Cunningham, Tommy Deckard, Fred Wolcott, Harold Gagle, Don Lash, and Rice Institute.

The Atlanta administered a decisive defeat yesterday to Mako, 6-0, 6-1, 6-2, in the fifth annual Sugar Bowl tennis tournament on the courts of the New Orleans Country club.

Then Mako, Davis Cup doubles partner of Donald Budge, teams with young Jack Tidball of Los Angeles to turn back Grant and Wayne Sabita of Hollywood, Calif., in the doubles finals 6-8, 7-5, 6-4.

The peerless Cunningham clicked off the fastest ever run in the South in the fifth annual Sugar Bowl track carnival. Beating off a stretch challenge by Blaine Rideout of North Texas Teachers college, the Kansas veteran turned in a time of four minutes 10.7 seconds to break his 4:13.1 record of last year.

The Sugar Bowl mark of 13.3 seconds for the 120-yard high hurdles was equaled by Fred Wolcott, Rice Institute ace. Boyce Gatewood of the University of Texas was half a stride behind.

The Rice Institute quartet of Sanders, Steakley, Flagg, and Bell took the sprint medley relay of 440, 200 and 880 yards in 3:20.3. The North Texas Teachers team of Jackson, Rodenkirchen, Rogers, and Wayne Rideout finished second after spilling their chances when they dropped in the first exchange between Jackson and Rodenkirchen.

Fitzgerald Again Inaugurated As Michigan Governor

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 2 (AP)—Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican, Michigan's old chief executive ever to regain the office after once being defeated for reelection, was inaugurated governor at noon today.

Persons from all sections of the state thronged the capital to witness his return to the governor's office, wrested from him two years ago by Frank Murphy, who was defeated in turn by Fitzgerald last November.

Murphy, the retiring governor, was not present. He was called to Washington yesterday by President Roosevelt to become United States attorney general.

Governor Fitzgerald pledged himself in his inaugural address to "lead the people of Michigan back to the solid ground of safe, sound government." Specifically, he proposed the establishment of a labor code to "preserve industrial peace," and a resumption of the state's "former practice of balancing expenditures with revenues."

Assuming office with Governor Fitzgerald were: Lieutenant Governor Luren Dickinson, Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly, State Treasurer Miller Dunkel, Attorney General Thomas Read, and Auditor General Vernon J. Brown. All are Republicans, and all succeed Democrats.

Friends Present Newman With Gift

Friends of M. M. Newman, Gray County commissioner for 20 years, surprised that official with a gift of a desk fountain set, presented by Ivy Duncan, former county judge.

The presentation was made in the county courtroom this morning as officers were qualified before the commissioners court. Mr. Newman was succeeded by J. M. Carpenter as commissioner from precinct 4. The former commissioner, who was not a candidate for re-election, has been named as deputy sheriff at McLean.

In his talk, Mr. Duncan commended Mr. Newman as a pleasant and energetic officer, whose devotion to duty was unexcelled. Mr. Newman said he had never heard the slightest criticism of Mr. Newman's honesty or integrity and cited his work in obtaining bridges and roads for the precinct he represented.

A crowd of 75 persons were in the courtroom during the qualifying of the officials. All of the county commissioners, except John Haggard, who is ill with an attack of influenza, were present for the meeting.

Youth Scales Long's Peak On New Year's

DENVER, Jan. 2 (AP)—Muscle sore but elated, 23-year-old Edwin Watson said today he "guessed he was a little lucky" in being the first person to scale in winter the sheer east face of 14,225-foot Long's Peak—described as "the most remarkable feat of solo climbing in the country's history."

Watson battled his way cannily through deep snowdrifts shrouding glaciers and precipitous, craggy overhangs and clung desperately to infrequent rocky fingers in his ascent yesterday to the wind-whipped summit of the peak in Rocky Mountain National park, approximately 80 miles northwest of Denver.

Search Widened For Dangerous Fugitives

LIMA, O., Jan. 2 (AP)—Authorities widened their search today for five desperate inmates of the state hospital for the criminally insane who overpowered four attendants and escaped in a stolen automobile.

Dr. E. H. Crawfis, assistant hospital superintendent, described the quintet as "very dangerous and very violent," and warned that they were armed with two straight razors and a hatchet, which they used to chop their way through a door yesterday.

The fugitives, Dr. Crawfis said, were: Frank Haines of Chicago; Marion Pierce, Indianapolis negro; William Bigle, a native of Maine; William Brooks, Highland county, O., slayer, and Russell Nuckles of Cleveland.

Bandits Get $100,000 Antique Shop Loot

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—Police today hunted five bandits who robbed a Manhattan antique shop of jewelry and historical relics valued by the owner at $100,000.

Surprised while looting the safe, the men imprisoned William Semel, nephew of the proprietor, in a back room yesterday afternoon after threatening to brain him with a hammer. After they left he summoned help by rapping a bottle against a radiator pipe.

GARNER

Garner Party Man Garner, of course, is not unmindful of the fact that the whirl of events which has brought him into the publicized center of the Congressional proof carries responsibilities which easily might sink the presidential boom his friends are trying to float.

But Garner is a practical man, a party man, and he thinks of patriotism as a reality. A public official came to him once wanting an appropriation for higher salaries in his division.

"We can't get capable men for what we pay them," the official said. "Go out and look for some men who think a little more about the welfare of their country than they do about money," Garner told him.

Thus, he will deal with the realities of the situation, will do the job that he has to do, nor is that job small one. On the shoulders of Garner and Postmaster General Farley, both of whom sided with the President's primary campaign against four Democratic legislators, rest Democratic hopes of welding the party together again.

New Congress Will Have Busy Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Here are the principal issues likely to come before the new Congress:

1. Relief. Besides an emergency appropriation to operate WPA until July 1, revision of the entire relief system will be proposed by administration critics.

2. Defense. President Roosevelt is expected to recommend a vast expansion program for the air forces, along with increases in the army and navy.

3. Government reorganization. A bill similar to that shelved by the House last year will be revived by the administration.

4. Railroads. Measures to help relieve the financial burden of the carriers will be submitted by a presidential committee.

5. Social security extension of the present system has been recommended by an advisory board.

6. Labor. AFL, many Republicans and Democrats want to revise Wagner labor relations act and curtail authority of Labor Board.

7. Farm. Administration may suggest minor changes in crop control law; opponents will advocate cost of production system.

8. Neutrality. The question at issue is whether the President should have greater discretion in applying embargoes.

9. Taxes. This problem will depend on treasury's condition and business improvement. Some "nuisance taxes" will expire.

Awards Will Be Given Journalists

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2 (AP)—Achievements of the press of the western hemisphere, which laid the groundwork for the declaration of solidarity at Lima, will be recognized this year with the first awards by Columbia University, Dean Carl W. Ackerman announced today.

The head of Columbia's Graduate School of Journalism said five journalists would be presented with a gold medal and $1,000 each for their leadership in "advocating and advancing sympathetic understanding among the peoples" of the Americas.

Ackerman praised "the resourcefulness and the high professional standards of the press that have kept the world news routes leading to this hemisphere open to all nations, open to all ideologies, open for the future of humanity."

Churches Advocate Immorality Probe In FHA Offices

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2 (AP)—The San Francisco Federation of Churches today opened a campaign through 1,356 churches in northern California to force the United States Senate to investigate charges of immorality and heavy drinking in the San Francisco offices of the Federal Housing Administration.

The charges were similar to those voiced by J. O. Davis after he was ousted as FHA regional director. W. J. Lockwood, deputy FHA administrator for the Far West, investigated and reported Davis' charges were unfounded.

Rich Physician Dies As Pauper On New York Island

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—Why a wealthy Massachusetts physician, slowly dying of head cancer, chose to hide his identity and meet death as a pauper patient on Welfare Island puzzled police today.

A four-year investigation into the disappearance of Dr. Eben True Aldrich, 85, prominent New England mental specialist, ended yesterday at the grave of "James Harrigan" in the city cemetery on Hart's Island.

Detective John Alevoli said photographs taken of "Harrigan" as a penniless hospital patient established beyond question that he was Dr. Aldrich, who left a $65,000 estate.

New Proposals To End Strike Studied

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 2 (AP)—New proposals for mediating the 11 day strike at the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation were submitted today at the fourth day of conferences between representatives of the company and the Oil Workers International Union. Hope for a settlement of the difficulty hinged on the possibility that each side had modified demands made Saturday when Dr. Edwin A. Allott, regional director of the NLRB, persuaded them to withdraw their statements and re-submit them.

"As far as I know," said Dr. Allott at the conference, was resumed, "there have been no developments over the week-end. We are prepared to do all we can to bring about a settlement. The conferences today will start from scratch."

Town Pupils To Go To Country School

LITTLEFIELD, Jan. 2 (AP)—Spring Lake, in the northwest part of Lamb county and said to be the only school in Texas where pupils from town attend school in the country, is to have a new building.

N. F. Cleaver, secretary, was advised a $25,560 PWA grant to the board had been approved. Recently the district voted bonds for $30,240. Cost will be $56,800.

Earth, a small town on highway 28, boasting a population of 500 or more, sends 90 of its children to Spring Lake. The school is located five miles from Earth and the same distance from the Spring Lake community.

The school boasts an enrollment of 450. Buses are operated to haul pupils to and from their homes to school.

Navy Fighting Ships Leave For War Games

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Jan. 2 (AP)—A mass flight of 48 twin-motored patrol bombing planes will mark the movement, beginning today, of 95 of the United States fleet's fighting ships from the San Pedro-San Diego area to the Caribbean-North Atlantic war games.

The aircraft carriers, Saratoga and Lexington, leave here late today for San Diego to take aboard 70 airplanes and their personnel. Simultaneously Rear Admiral Charles A. Blakely, commander of the aircraft scouting force, sails from San Diego aboard the flagship Memphis for Panama, there to await the 48 patrol bombers, which will take off next Monday.

GOP And Democrats File Party Reports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—The Republican National committee reported today it had received $1,572,985 and paid out $1,578,295 in 1938—a year which brought the party sizeable gains in congress and in the states.

The Democratic National committee reported receipts of $1,041,668.16 and expenditures of $1,039,834.13 for the year.

The statements were filed with the house clerk, in accordance with the corrupt practices act. After adding to its receipts a balance of $8,495 carried over from 1937, the Democratic committee figured it had a balance of $10,390 at the end of the year. But it also had unpaid obligations of $23,443.77.

The Democratic committee reported payment of a $75,000 loan to the bank of the Manhattan, New York, on Nov. 4. On the same day $100,000 was borrowed from the Manufacturers Trust company of New York.

The latter amount was listed among the debts along with $40,000 owed Sol Rosenblatt of New York and $9,280.79 for telephone services due the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company of Washington.

Team Match Tonight Will Feature Rough Wrestling

The New Year will be ushered in again, uproariously it is predicted, tonight at 8 o'clock at the Pampa Athletic arena where Promoter Cliff Chambers will stage another team wrestling match, featuring four of the roughest, toughest, wildest maulers in this section of the country.

Two of the opponents in the other team match ever presented here will be on the mat, and in different corners again. They are Ray "Big Train" Clements, former referee, and Joe Banaski, former Oklahoma cowboy. Assisting Clements this time will be Indian Ike Cazzell, the Arillo wildman, while Banaski will be backed by Frankie Hill, the wild Kansan from Wichita.

The four, according to the rules, will park themselves in opposite corners of the ring until the gong, when they will come out wrestling. Two may jump one, if his partner can keep one of the opponents busy. They can use tricks or any other procedure, within the limit of the rules, to get rid of one opponent so that the two can concentrate on the lone survivor.

Both men on one team must be counted out or give up before the other team is declared a winner. It takes two falls to win.

Third man in the ring has not been named by Promoter Chambers this morning. He is still trying to import an official for the battle, he said.

The semi-final battle between Tiger Billy McEwing, newcomer to the local mat, and Russ Riley of Muleshoe is a headline attraction. In it, McEwing is rated near the top in the middleweight class while Riley had proved himself a real trooper.

The promoter had not named a preliminary bout this morning because most of his grapplers were away on vacations.

Tennessee Still Favored At Miami

MIAMI, Jan. 2 (AP)—It's a great little team against a good big team today as Tennessee and Oklahoma settle their post-season argument in an Orange Bowl packed by 30,578 spectators, the largest Florida football crowd in history.

Even horse racing was pushed into the background as every fan who could buy, beg or borrow a ticket made plans to be in the stadium for the kickoff at 1:30 p. m., Central Standard Time) between two of the nation's few major unbeaten and untied teams.

The Tennessee Volunteers, South-eastern conference champions, remained steady 2-1 favorites although they were outweighted 12 pounds to the man in the line and, despite Coach Bob Neyland's apparent inability to key up the players.

Magician Will Read Minds Of Pampans Friday

Psychologists at Duke university are expounding a theory of telepathy (mind rea'ing) in which it is claimed "amateur telephists" can broadcast thought from one mind to another. The book which explains the theory is entitled "New Frontiers of the Mind" and was written by Dr. Rhine of the Duke university faculty. The theory is called "extra sensory perception."

Marquis, the famous magician, coming to the Pampa high school auditorium Friday night, at 8 p. m. under auspices of the Pampa Lions club, declares he will not only read the minds of prominent Pampa people, but will prove he can broadcast his thought to the minds of others.

Many unusual things are promised during the Marquis program. He challenge any Pampa physician to seal his eyes with heavy surgical dressings after which he will tell his spectators in detail about the objects they have in their pockets.

Marquis will impersonate a famous spirit medium and present a seance both in the open light and in the dark.

Weather Clear For Five 'Bowl' Football Battles

(By The Associated Press)

Weather clear, backs fast! That's the prospect for the five "bowl" football games and the two all-star intersectional contests that begin the 1939 football season—or end the 1938 campaign—today.

The last doubt as to the success of these seven games was just about removed by the weather forecasts, which virtually all read "fair and warm" for the cities from San Francisco to Miami where today's games will be played.

As for the "backs fast" part of it, they had to be or their teams never would have been selected to play in the "New Year" contests—fast, shifty and hard to bring down, and able to pass and kick, too. The all-star outfits, the squads from East and West of the Mississippi which clash before a sellout crowd of 60,000 at San Francisco today in the fourteenth annual East-West title and the Northern and Southern boys who met in the Blue-Gray contest at Montgomery, Ala., probably have the best collections of ball-carriers. But there are plenty of outstanding stars for the "bowl" games.

At Pasadena, Calif., some 90,000 fans are expected to watch closely the performances of Eric (The Red) Tipton of Duke and Grenville Lanes and West of the Mississippi in the twenty-fourth Rose Bowl classic. Tipton is noted principally as a kicker and Duke for its defense rather than offense, but the Blue Devils' coach, Wallace Wade, is famous for ability to have his team "right" for one big game, so the Southerners may show something more than good tackling.

At New Orleans the Sugar Bowl game features Davey O'Brien and Connie Sparks of Texas Christian against Carnegie Tech's well-balanced team and some 50,000 customers are expected to see them perform. George Carego of Tennessee is the most highly rated back listed for the Orange Bowl battle at Miami between the unbeaten Vols and the Oklahoma Sooners, who also sport a perfect record.

At the Cotton Bowl in Dallas it's Elmer (The Great) Tarbox of Texas Tech against Sophomores Mike Klotz of St. Mary's. With Bill Dwyer, New Mexico's "desert werewolf," not expected to show much because of a leg injury, the Utah-New Mexico Sun Bowl game at El Paso may be shy on star ball carriers, but like all the rest, these teams are counting upon fast and fancy attacks.

In strange contrast to the "bear" stories of last week, the final word from the camps were the 14 teams tried to remain calm and quiet over the week-end was that there weren't enough injuries to affect any of the games.

BACK OF BASKETBALL

By HOWARD HOBSON

University of Oregon Coach EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 1—Out-of-bounds plays aren't of prime importance to a basketball team, but every good club has one, or several variations of one which, serves as a valuable adjunct to its offense.

It is wise for a team to concentrate on a good out-of-bounds play—especially under the offensive basket—but only after fundamental parts of the coach's system are fully mastered.

A good out-of-bounds play comes in handy for that extra basket in a tight game when one goal may make the difference between victory and defeat. Usually this setup is worked with a fast break and a well-established block of screen, to shake one man loose for a good shot at the basket.

All five players should be ready to swing into instant action just as soon as they get the ball out under their opponents' basket.

One member of the offense should remain slightly beyond the foul circle to take a long pass in case the defense switches in time to overcome the block play the other three men have set up.

Very often the defense is so intent upon bottling up the three-man maneuver that it forgets about the man in backcourt, who is able to sneak up close to the foul line for a clear shot.

Butts Replaces Hunt At Georgia

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 2 (AP)—Appointment of Wallace Butts as head coach of the University of Georgia, succeeding Joel Hunt, was announced today by professor W. O. Payne, faculty director of athletics.

Dr. Payne's announcement of the 1938 end coach's promotion was the first official confirmation of rumors Hunt was being ousted after a single year as head coach.

The director would not discuss reasons for Hunt's dismissal after a single season, in which the Bulldogs won five, lost four and tied one.

In Baton Rouge, La., Hunt said late today he had had no official notice of Butts' appointment and said he did not care to discuss the case "until I get back from Atlanta."

Dr. Payne stressed Butts' Georgia birth and rearing and said "he appreciates the athletic traditions and problems of the University of Georgia. He knows how to handle boys in the classroom and on the football field."

Hunt is a graduate of Texas A. & M., and served as backfield coach at that school and as head coach of College of Marshall (Tex.) before going to L. S. U. as backfield coach in 1933.

The Atlanta constitution said it had learned "reliably" the deposed head coach would go to the University of Texas as backfield coach.

Tipton is noted principally as a kicker and Duke for its defense rather than offense, but the Blue Devils' coach, Wallace Wade, is famous for ability to have his team "right" for one big game, so the Southerners may show something more than good tackling.

At New Orleans the Sugar Bowl game features Davey O'Brien and Connie Sparks of Texas Christian against Carnegie Tech's well-balanced team and some 50,000 customers are expected to see them perform. George Carego of Tennessee is the most highly rated back listed for the Orange Bowl battle at Miami between the unbeaten Vols and the Oklahoma Sooners, who also sport a perfect record.

At the Cotton Bowl in Dallas it's Elmer (The Great) Tarbox of Texas Tech against Sophomores Mike Klotz of St. Mary's. With Bill Dwyer, New Mexico's "desert werewolf," not expected to show much because of a leg injury, the Utah-New Mexico Sun Bowl game at El Paso may be shy on star ball carriers, but like all the rest, these teams are counting upon fast and fancy attacks.

In strange contrast to the "bear" stories of last week, the final word from the camps were the 14 teams tried to remain calm and quiet over the week-end was that there weren't enough injuries to affect any of the games.

Yankees, Rebels Fighting It Out On Football Field

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 2 (AP)—Appomattox was recalled today as a major conflict, an intersectional gridiron battle between selected talent of the north and south.

Among them were 14 team captains, and each of the 44—chosen from 25 colleges on both sides of the Mason-Dixon line for this first annual charity event—had been named on one all-star team or another.

John Chickernoe of Pittsburgh captured the "Yankees" and Bo Russell, Auburn, the "Rebels."

Introducing America's Number One Trailer Family

The entire car-and-trailer unit in which the Vale family has traveled since 1929 is shown in the top photo. The trailer itself is 25 feet long and 7 1/2 feet wide. In the lower photo, Mr. and Mrs. Vale demonstrate that the compact kitchen, furnished with a gas-line stove and a washing machine, makes just as good a laundry as it does a cookery.

Somewhere in the United States today—perhaps along a dusty rural trail in the corn belt, perhaps by a shaded mountain brook—the Richard F. Vale family is camping. They've pulled off the highway and set up a temporary home in their 40-foot trailer unit. The view out of the living room window is a different one, probably than it was yesterday. And, wherever the site, the Vales won't be there long. If they follow their custom, they'll be off in a week. You can lay the great mass of trailer traffic which now clogs our concrete roads right on the Vale doorstep—if you can catch up with it. For the Vales are America's first trailer family. Two of the children were born in the trailer, the other two during brief stops at hospitals. In 1929, the family, struck by "nomaditis," tired of waiting for the world to come to them. Equipping themselves with a modern prototype covered wagon, they hitched it to their car, bid the home town of Springfield, Mo., a farewell and went out to have a look at the world. Since that day they have lived in the trailer constantly traveling 120,000 miles. They have been in every state except Connecticut. And, who knows maybe they're Connecticut-bound now. It's a comfortable life. A regular income precludes the necessity of having to work their way across the country. Modern conveniences, including a radio and electric lighting generated by domestic motors, take away any "tent life" stigma. "Why, we wouldn't trade places with anybody," says Vale.

For an endorsement of gypsy life in a trailer take a look at the happy faces of the Vale kids, pictured above as they peer from the shower in the home-on-wheels. At the top are 5-year-old Richard, left, and 6-year-old Dixie Jean, born at hospitals along the route. The lower two are 18-month-old Bill, left, and 2-year-old Betty Lou, both born in the trailer.

Southern Accent Gets Girl Part In Satire On Scarlet O'Hara

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—The Cinderella story of a southern accent found a Wetumpka, Ala., girl wearing the silver slippers today—with 10 years of a ruid awakening at the New Year's stroke of midnight. Far from it! For six years, pretty Lucia Lull struggled to shake her chatterbox "honey-chile" accent during her theatrical venture "up No. 10." She got so she could talk "Yankee" well enough to fool Broadway producers. But the seasons grew lean, and so did Lucia. Dispirited, she went home in quest of rest and weight. She regained the weight—and regained the accent. "Seems like whenever Ah go South," she said today, "mah S-uth'n' accent just comes back." When she returned to New York she interviewed Brock Pemberton, the producer, about a job in the hit "Kiss the Boys Goodbye"—breezy stage satire on the movie search for a Scarlet O'Hara for "Gone With the Wind." She began to talk about that job. Talk fast. "Go on," said Mr. Pemberton, when she paused for air. He seemed fascinated. She talked. He forgot about trying to hide that accent. Pemberton called in Antoinette Perry, the director,

NEW PREXY

Eighteen months of searching for a permanent president for the University of Texas were ended Thursday when the University's board of regents announced the election of Dr. Homer Price Rainey, above, 42-year-old director of the American Youth Commission, American Council on Education, in Washington, D. C. Dr. Rainey, a native Texan and one-time member of the university faculty, is a former president of Bucknell university and Franklin college (Indiana), and is author of two books on youth and education. Twelfth university president in the 55 years of its history, he will replace in June John W. Calhoun, acting president since the death of Dr. Harry Yandell Benedict in 1937. He will head the South's largest

'Lord' To Sub For 'Jehovah' In Bible

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 2 (AP)—The word "Lord" will be substituted for "Jehovah" in future editions of the American Standard Bible wherever the Hebrew name for the deity appears, Dean Luther A. Weigle of the Yale Divinity School announced tonight. Dr. Weigle, chairman of a committee of eight scholars and bible experts who have been working on a revision of the bible, said the change was being made "because Jehovah is not a functioning religious term." "People don't use it; they don't think of praying to Jehovah," he said. "Furthermore, Jehovah is an artificial construction; the revision committee decided, Jehovah is made up of the four letters JHWH which was the Hebrew name for God, and using the vowels that was the Hebrew for Lord." Dr. Weigle said that in deciding to substitute the word "Lord" the revision committee was returning to ancient tradition. That word was used in bibles for three centuries, he said. The oldest known cookbook was written by Athenaeus, a Greek, in 228 A. D. university, embracing a student body which has grown from less than two thousand to more than ten thousand in twenty years.

Candidates for admission to West Point must be at least 5 feet 4 inches tall. About 240,000 impoverished persons migrated to California during the first of the drought-dust bowl conditions.

Technicality Tangle Texas Medical Group In Anti-Trust Action

Dr. Raymond Selders operating in the Group Health Association clinic in Washington, D. C.

HOUSTON, Jan. 2.—By the oddness of technicalities the Harris County Medical Society finds itself tangled with the law in the unprecedented "trust busting" case of the American Medical Association and a government co-operative health group in Washington. The Houston body stands under indictment on charges of obstructing co-operative health programs along with the A. M. A. because a Houston doctor who went to the capital three years ago became associated with Group Health Association, Inc., the government group. The doctor is Raymond Selders. Dr. Selders began work for the government co-operative soon after its inception in January, 1937. He had been started when the battle lines were drawn between the group and the A. M. A. and Washington medical groups. Doctors working for Group Health were charged shortly with violating the principles of medical ethics. But Dr. Selders had never transferred his membership from the Houston Society to that in Washington and could not be tried. So the Harris County Medical Society, active since its officers maintained, in full agreement with Dr. Selders-ter A. Coole, secretary of the Harris County Society, said: "We had no knowledge of the Group Health Association at all, and our bringing the charge and its dismissal without prejudice to Dr. Selders, was in the nature of a purposeful vindication of him." But by so doing the Houston Society apparently has not cleared its skirts and the society must stand trial with the parent A. M. A. Dr. Coole considers the indictment either "a formality" or an "error" as far as the Houston body is concerned. "But already the State Medical Association of Texas, through Dr. E. W. Bertner, Houston, has pledged full support to the Harris County group in the fight. Farmers' wives buy more canned foods and other manufactured food products than do town housewives, it is reported. Wyoming laws provide that when two candidates tie for an office during an election their names shall be placed in a hat and the first name drawn becomes the winner.

JITTERBUGS HELP JUDGE DEAL JUSTICE

Judge Joseph Cordes, right, looks on in a Milwaukee courtroom as jitterbugs Kay Darling and Joy Hamilton demonstrate how physically fit one must be to perform gyrations of the Big Apple. Reason for all this was that a man who claimed injuries in an auto accident won a $5 Big Apple prize a week later. Defendant claimed he couldn't have been hurt much. The judge took matter under advisement.

O'Daniel Was Texas News in Last Year

(By The Associated Press)
When you said news in Texas last year, you meant O'Daniel.

Seventeen Associated Press editors, balloting on the ten best state stories of 1938, unanimously put him at the head of the class and it isn't necessary to say why to those who have read their front pages since about June 1 to date.

Not in such complete agreement were the editors in choosing the second best story of the year, but the nod must go to the unsolved Bremer murders, with ten votes. After that it was a horse race, with all agreeing only that Davey O'Brien and the Texas Christian Horned Frogs were the best sports story, and high up among the ten best general stories. With O'Daniel and Bremer as Nos. 1 and 2, here are the other eight:

3. Davey O'Brien and T. C. U.'s football triumphs.
4. Death on the Texas highway.
5. Oil shutdowns and price cut.
6. San Saba-Beady-Colorado floods and investigation.
7. Roosevelt visit to Texas and Allred judgeship.
8. Garner presidential boom.
9. Lufkin paper mill and building expansion throughout state.
10. Cedula indictment and border unrest.

Death on the highways, while materially reduced last year, drew a large share of 1938's headlines, both from the standpoint of spot news and from the standpoint of widespread educational campaigns carried on by papers in an effort to curb it. The oil shutdown and price cut, linked with the shift in balance of power on the railroad commission, was high on the list because of its tremendous economic significance to the state and the nation.

The West Central Texas floods, spawned of cloudbursts in the Hill Country, did tremendous damage and continued to get the play on news pages long after the last water had drained into the Gulf because of the investigation into the management of giant Buchanan dam and the role it was to play in future floods. Closely related was the matter of private or public power production, and voting by cities in the area generally for municipal power distribution systems.

The Roosevelt visit to Texas was catapulted into the upper news bracket when he sensationally announced the appointment of retiring Governor James V. Allred to a federal judgeship. The latest Garner presidential boom, while still in its infancy, took on national significance when Washington political writers labelled it as indicative chiefly of a general anti-third term movement.

Paper Mill.
The Lufkin paper mill story takes its place in the list because it was news of great significance. The late Dr. Charles Herty, famous Savannah chemist, said the development of this industry in the South would mean the elimination of one-room houses for families, better food for those living on combined land and water, better clothes for those and in bags today. Predictions have been made that $500,000,000 will be invested in southern newspaper plants and that the East Texas pine belt eventually will be dotted with mills such as the one started at Lufkin.

Indictment against General Sarmiento Cedillo and others under provisions of the neutrality act was sensational, and significant because it was the first such action taken by the United States government.

Many a top-notch yarn was squeezed out of the trial and there was room for argument as to the superior merits of these outstanding stories:

The Alpine precipice slaying, easily child story No. 1; the shooting of several children by an East Texas mother; the manhunt and capture of the notorious Walker; the Kennedy family killings near Miles and the quick capture of Salazar. In the field of crime news, those represented many a ton of black ink.

While O'Daniel and his hillbilly boys, Pat, and Molly, and O'Daniel could not be denied their spot at the top of the list, it was a fine year for political news. The defeat of Maury Maverick and Morgan Sanders were upsets that rang a loud gong on page one, then there was ten hand offices investigating; the surprising corollary to the O'Daniel victory; Thompson and McCraw in second and third places, respectively, in the governor's race; election of the two Jerrys—Mann and Sadler—as attorney general and railroad commissioner and the explosive political personalities in their futures. Both are young and energetic.

Schools Get Prexies.
Nature on a rampage produced spectacles at Kilgore, where on oil well roared into flame in the midst of a city; at Clyde, Mertzon, and Crosson, La., where tornadoes followed their habitual destructive courses; at neighboring Monterrey, Mexico, where the blacklash of a tropical hurricane wrought tremendous damage and poured floodwaters into the Rio Grande.

In the field of agriculture, there was the AAA farm vote with some loss of strength for the particular form of cotton control proposed; development of farm chemistry—starch from sweet potatoes and alcohol from plant fibres; the first conservation congress at North Texas State Teachers college, Denton. Educationally speaking, three large institutions provided themselves with new presidents; Dr. Homer P. Rainey at the University of Texas; Clifford B. Jones at Texas Technological college; Dr. Humphrey Lee at Southern Methodist.

One Strong Fleet And Two Canals Seen As Best Defense For U. S.

When Uncle Sam chooses his weapons—for self defense in an increasingly militaristic world—what weapons would they be? Six informative articles have been written for The Pampa News by George Fielding Eliot, former major in the U. S. Army and author of "The Ramparts We Watch," a book which is regarded as the best current work on the subject of national defense.

By GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT
There has lately been some mention of a supposed need for two fleets for this country—one in the Atlantic superior to the combined fleets of Germany and Italy, and one in the Pacific superior to the Japanese fleet.

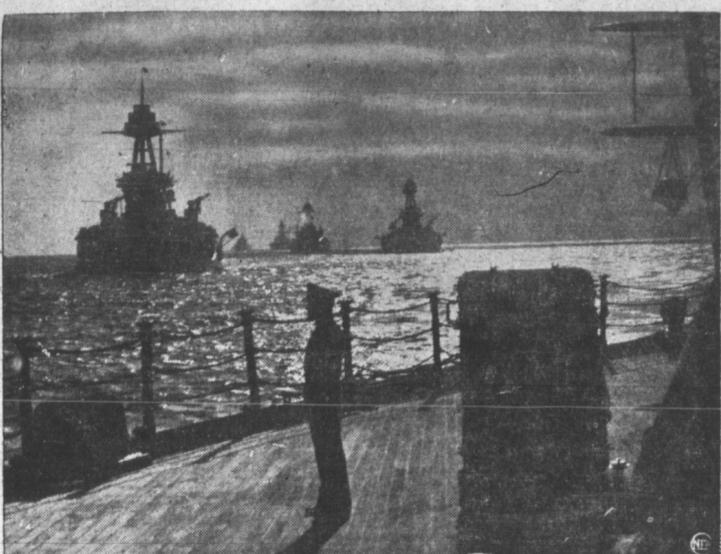

Like an abnormal air increase, this is a dangerous doctrine. When our present naval expansion program is completed, we shall have 18 under-age battleships with several older ships in reserve.

At that time Germany will have 5 (possibly 6) under-age battleships, Italy 8, and Japan probably 14 (including 4 which will be getting on in years but have been extensively reconstructed.) The combined total for the three so-called aggressor powers will therefore be 27 or 28.

While it is possible for us to build up to this total eventually, it would entail a very large increase in our ship-building facilities, at enormous expense. This expense hardly can be justified if there is any other way of assuring our safety.

It would be largely waste building, useful only for quickly increasing our strength within a short period of time, but having no permanent utility. Our present facilities are adequate for an orderly annual replacement program even to maintain a level of 28 battleships.

Moreover, it must be considered that all this—not only the building of the ships, but the increase in building facilities—will take a considerable number of years, during which, at any session of Congress, retrenchment or some new naval re-

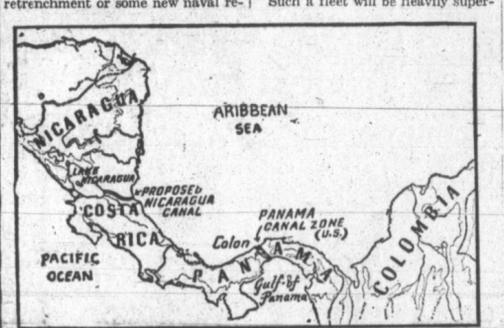

The battleship... remains the backbone of naval power.

Such a fleet will be heavily superior either to the Japanese fleet or the German-Italian, under present construction programs. Even a combined attack by all three would not be beyond its competence to deal with, having in mind our interior line of transit at Panama, and the tremendous difficulty of coordinating the combined efforts of three different navies in two oceans thousands of miles apart.

But Panama is the keystone of our defense, and must be made as secure as a lance and foresight can make it.

Even so, no military position is impregnable. Daring and determined men have proven the contrary too often for complacency as to that. It will, therefore, be the part of wisdom to build, not another navy, but another canal—that at Nicaragua—for which surveys have long been completed.

This country should build, not another navy, but another canal—that at Nicaragua.

reduction scheme may come along and stop the whole program, as happened in 1922.

But in the meanwhile, we shall—by commencing such a program—have adopted and fixed in the public mind the idea of maintaining separate fleets, one in each ocean. And we shall have again built up the "vested interests" among the inhabitants of each seaboard, which were so difficult to overcome when the sound plan of keeping the fleet concentrated in one ocean was first made.

Therefore, beginning now to talk about a "two-ocean navy," may well result in a permanent division of whatever navy we have, without regard to whether it is or is not big enough safely to be so divided.

Fortunately, we hold a short line of communications between our two oceans which is securely in our possession for our own use, and which we can deny to any power with which we may be at war. This route is the Panama Canal. Therefore, if we keep our fleet at a level of battle strength superior to that of Japan or of Germany-Italy, we can very quickly confront either with superior forces, regardless of the ocean in which our fleet happens to be when the war starts.

We can only do this if our fleet, at least as to its main fighting elements, is kept concentrated in time of peace. If we divide it, and an enemy superior to one fraction gets between that fraction and Panama, we shall have little chance of concentrating our forces without exposing one fraction or the other to a contest with a superior fleet. This is the danger we run when we allow the idea of a "two-ocean navy" to capture the public imagination.

The battleship—the heavy-armed ship, capable of delivering and receiving the tremendous blows of modern naval armament—remains the backbone of naval power. It is the one type of fighting ship which can take the punishment and still remain on the field and go on fighting. The airplane, can, of course, bomb battleships under favorable conditions, and a sufficient number of bomb hits may inflict serious and even fatal injury. But so will a sufficient number of hits from torpedoes or from heavy shells. The limitations of the airplane as to range, carrying power and continuity of effort impair its effectiveness very seriously. To say nothing of its vulnerability and its dependence on good weather and high visibility.

The battleship is the foundation of the fleet, as the infantry is of the army. It is the one sea weapon which, under all conditions of war, war maneuvers at Camp Bullis; return of Howard Hughes and Doug Corrigan to their native Texas; collapse of the Rice Institute football team.

But none of them was in class with W. Lee, the flour man who made himself governor with the help of a hillbilly band.

Fireworks Set Off Peak Hail New Year

PIKES PEAK, Colo., Jan. 2 (AP)—Indians believed spirits of mountains could talk. If they could, Pikes Peak's vaporous being might relate: "Those men are here again—for the 17th year. They call themselves the AdAmAn club, and each New Year's Eve disturb my winter slumber by setting off hundreds of fireworks on my 14,110 foot summit.

The bursting rockets and leaping flares are a dazzling salute to the new year. The pyrotechnic brilliance reminds me of the countless meteors and falling stars I've seen.

They add a man to the club each year. This year it's Earl Ewing. He is manager of the cog road that crawls up my spine who don't want to climb afoot or ride in automobiles to an elevation of nearly three miles. Twelve men are participating in tonight's festivities.

It has been peaceful since September, when my white blankets started forming. Time has left deep wrinkles in my expanses and if it weren't for the pretty, snow covering, I'd be a bit embarrassed to-night under all the bright spectacular lights.

Aged as I am, I enjoy tonight's fleeting hilarity.

The heron's diet consists mainly of frogs and fish, which he catches by standing absolutely motionless in the water.

The word climate literally means slope, and in ancient Greece climate merely were zones of latitude on the surface of the earth.

Frogs deposit eggs in great, gelatinous masses of several hundred each and, barring misfortune, each egg produces a tiny tadpole.

All fires, no matter how small, discharge quantities of dust into the atmosphere.

The chart above shows the naval strength "on paper" of six big powers. The figures, compiled by the U. S. Navy, indicate total ships of all classes, built, building or appropriated for as of November 15, 1938.

American exports of chewing gum in 1937 totaled 3,182,000 pounds valued at $1,177,000, of more than double the 1933 figure.

According to a survey, 87.5 percent of U. S. homes serve tea regularly.

Death Toll Of Accidents In U. S. Decreases By 11,000 During 1938

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—Despite a hurricane, floods, tornadoes and the most serious railroad accident in recent years, the general picture of accident mortality in the United States during 1938 showed a decided improvement. According to the statisticians the year's toll of death from all forms of accidents was 11,000 less than in 1937.

A total of 95,000 persons died in 1938 as the result of some form of accidental injury, as compared with 106,000 in 1937, and 110,000 in 1936, the largest number on record. The total was less than that of any year since the deep depression years of 1932 and 1933, when the accidental deaths were respectively 89,000 and 91,000.

Motor vehicle accidents caused the death of 8,000 fewer persons in 1938 than in 1937 and as a result were probably less frequent than injuries received in the home. This drop of 8,000 in the number of automobile victims represents a decline from 40,000 in 1937 to between 31,000 and 32,000 in 1938. This improvement has been consistent throughout the year, for month after month the motor vehicle accident record was better than the corresponding month of the preceding year and the record was made without any perceptible drop in motor vehicle traffic.

Amarillo Runs Out Of Black-Eyed Peas

AMARILLO, Jan. 2 (AP)—Note to the farmers in the sandy region around Centerville in East Texas: A new dish for New Year's Day dinner started up from thousands of tables in Potter county yesterday, which means big business for the pea growers around Centerville, the black-eyed pea capital of the world.

Amarillo grocers, who usually sell lots of beef in this plains cow country, sold completely out of black-eyed peas Saturday. They tried to restock, but wholesalers were also out of black-eyed peas. Customers who did their shopping late in the day begged for black-eyed peas, but there were none.

The reason for the rush is six years old. At that time a negro maid told Bill Adams, a candidate for sheriff that she had worked for several successful families that always had black-eyed peas for New Year's Day dinner. Adams tried it out. He was elected, re-elected, and still is sheriff.

U.S. Developing Policy Toward 'Bad Neighbors'

By CHARLES F. NUTTER. WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—The state department rapidly is developing a policy toward "bad neighbors" to supplement the "good neighbor policy of American diplomacy.

The new doctrine has not yet been fully perfected but its broad outlines were charted in recent weeks by uncompromising United States action against Germany and Japan.

President Roosevelt's message to Congress Wednesday, in the opinion of many students of international affairs, will give further body to the new policy. So far it has been manifest by these nine developments:

1. Return of Ambassador Hugh Wilson from Germany following an outbreak of anti-Semitic measures which President Roosevelt called "most unbelievable."

2. Demand that Germany provide assurances Americans there would not be bothered because of their race or creed, and further assurances American holders of Austrian obligations would get their money from Germany.

3. The rebuke of Germany's protest against Secretary Ickes' denunciation of dictators, including a flat refusal to apologize for Ickes' remarks.

4. Initiating of a new trade agreement with Turkey (which lies in the path of Germany's trade expansion into the Balkans), and study of new credit to Latin American in challenge to German and Italian commercial inroads.

5. A long series of protests to Japan over damage to American rights in China, property losses there, discrimination of various kinds, and finally a demand that Japan keep open the treaty door of equal opportunity in China.

6. This was accompanied by an extension of $25,000,000 commercial credits to China, and the summoning home of Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson. He will reach here soon to let Mr. Roosevelt whether China can continue to resist Japan's invasion.

7. Assistance that Italy keep hands off American rights and interest which might be discriminated against because of their race or creed.

8. Prolonged presidential conferences with the principal ambassadors in Europe, out of which already has grown a stronger tone toward treaty-breaking nations and a decision to strengthen American defenses swiftly.

9. Government donation of more than 3,000,000 bushels of wheat for starving civilians in Spain, accompanied by an appeal to other nations to contribute likewise. Most of the suffering is in Barcelona government territory.

These developments were climaxed near the end of 1938 by adoption of a resolution at the Pan-American conference warning aggressors that the Americas stand together against invasion.

Jobless Benefits Show Biggest Drop

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—The Social Security Board reported today that benefits paid by State Unemployment Compensation agencies in November showed the greatest drop since they began declining in August.

The November payments were $28,000,000, a decline of 21 per cent from October.

Twenty of the 29 states paying benefits reported reductions ranging from 21 per cent in Maryland to nearly 36 per cent in Michigan.

Idaho had the largest gain and the board said this was temporary employment by telling them their payments. The state started its payments in September.

The payments in November, October and the total during January-October (in $7,867,866, $8,396,033.

France Promises To Protect Corsica

AJACCIO, Corsica, Jan. 2 (AP)—French Premier Daladier today answered Italian clamor for Corsica, France's Mediterranean island department, by telling them the islanders France was strong and would protect them.

"France does not need to be aggressive or menacing," the Premier said. "She has no need to raise her voice. She must be strong; she is, and it is that that I have come to tell you while this squadron circles your island."

He referred to a fleet of warships in the Ajaccio harbor which had conveyed him from France and which he pictured as an "image" of France's strength.

193 Killed In First 2 Days Of New Year

(By The Associated Press) Accidents claimed at least 193 deaths in the first two days of the nation's 1939 new year celebration.

The generally saner-than-usual observance indicated that the total toll would be substantially less than that of the three-day Christmas celebration a week ago, when more than 500 persons died violently.

Automobile crashes resulted in more than 150 fatalities. Fires, drownings, homicides, asphyxiations and plane crashes accounted for the rest.

The number of suicides was large—as usual. Depressed instead of exhilarated by the seasonal festivities, 14 persons—nine men and five women—killed themselves in the New York metropolitan area alone.

Among them was Dr. Henry Stettl, 67-year-old dentist from Livingston Manor, N. Y., who shot himself to death in a Times Square hotel as 1,000,000 revelers in the streets below hailed the advent of 1939.

Most tragic single accident was the plunge of a heavily loaded automobile into a creek near Greenville, Ala. Seven of eight persons on a family outing were drowned.

More than a score lost their lives in fires. Five were fatally burned in a Rumford, Me., hotel and five in Pennsylvania. Ten or more were shot accidentally. Falls killed several.

Deaths by states:

Alabama 12, Arizona 3, California 20, Colorado 1, Connecticut 4, Florida 5, Georgia 1, Illinois 15, Indiana 4, Iowa 2, Kansas 3, Kentucky 5, Louisiana 3, Maine 8, Maryland 4, Massachusetts 5, Michigan 5, Minnesota 4, Missouri 4, Montana 2, Nebraska 1, New Jersey 15, New Mexico 1, New York 14, Ohio 5, Oklahoma 3, Oregon 2, Pennsylvania 11, South Carolina 4, South Dakota 2, Tennessee 3, Texas 9, Utah 1, Virginia 2, Washington 5, West Virginia 2, Wisconsin 4, Wyoming 1.

Immediate Clashes Over Relief Seen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Immediate clashes over relief and defense policies were in prospect today as members of Congress began assembling for a crucial session, which will put President Roosevelt's leadership to new tests.

Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead will call the session to order at noon tomorrow. The President will deliver his annual message Wednesday, and the battle will be on.

Even before the formal opening, however, members of the strengthened Republican minority were demanding a reorganization of WPA activities and were urging caution in developing an armament program.

Democratic leaders, on the other hand, expressed confidence their reduced majority would carry out the administration's wishes on these and other major issues.

Rep. Rayburn (D-Texas), opposed for re-election as Democratic floor leader, commented:

"I think our party is going to work together this session and be very harmonious."

Toasting a Winner on Either Side

Charles Harrison, Kankakee, Ill., high school coach, finds himself in the middle in more ways than one as he drinks a holiday toast to the success of Army and Navy football in 1939. Left is Allen Berger, Navy captain-elect, and right is Harry Stella, Cadet leader, shown at civic banquet in their honor at Kankakee. The two boys were teammates on one of Harrison's teams.
