Ex-Convict Held In Slums Blaze

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Police held a 27-year-old convict on a charge of homicidal arson today as they pressed their investigation into a "Christmas-tree torch" tenement fire which took four lives early yesterday.

Two residents of the five-story "old law" tenement—a type condemned by Mayor LaGuardia as

"firetraps"—were held as material witnesses.

They were Elizabeth Gelula, 23, a third floor roomer, who told police a discarded Christmas tree apparently had been used as a "torch" to set off the blaze, and William Le Clair, 55, whose wife perished in the flames.

Police Capt. Edward Mullins said Malone asserted he had gone to the tenement to visit a girl named Ann, and insisted that, although "partly drunk," he had discovered the fire and hastened to turn in an alarm.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—A selective rally brightened the stock market scene today and leading issues retraced a portion of their Saturday's set-back.

Favorites retained fractions to a point or so of their best marks at the close and a few posted even wider advances. Many stocks, though, were unable to join the comeback and minus signs were plentiful.

Airerats regained some of their lost ground and trade were slightly ahead throughout.

The upward reversal was of a slow-motion character, transfers of around 1,000,000 shares being the smallest of the week.

U. S. government securities developed strength in the bond division despite the "inflationary" aspects of the budget. Corporation loans moved upward in spots.

Sterling rallied sharply in terms of the dollar.

Commodities were uneven.

When Bills Come Due

It is about this time of year that the head of the family sits down and ponders over how much he owes. He collects all his bills and budgets his income accordingly. It is just a natural aftermath of Christmas giving.

It is not likely, though, that he will include in his debts a little item of several hundred dollars which he probably isn't conscious that he owes. Yet that debt does actually exist. It represents his share, and his family's share of the I.O.U.'s that repose in the Federal Treasury. There is nearly forty billion dollars in I.O.U.'s there. They represent the Federal Government's deficit (the public debt).

Right now the per capita share of that debt is about $303, so if the head of a family of five is figuring up his debts, he must add $1,515.

That would be quite an item to have to include in the family budget. Yet, it is going to have to come out of every family budget in the form of taxes for many years to come.

No More Mori Jio

Incidental intelligence by way of Tokio informs that the Japanese government has banned the ancient custom of placing tiny piles of salt in front of business places to ward off bad luck and wo customers.

The salt charm was known as "mori jio" or "devil chaser" and its abolition is reported to have wrought consternation among Tokio shopkeepers.

The "no more mori jio" decree is a war-time measure, the idea being, it is said, to place the salt thus saved on Chiang Kai-shek's tall feathers and capture him.

Back To School

Assistant Superintendent Earl J. Bryan's one-man back to school movement in Cleveland, O., gets a good start for heads-up pedagogy.

Bryan, who is in charge of Cleveland's senior high schools, has been attending tenth-grade classes regularly from the 8 a. m. bell to 4 p. m. He will enroll in the eleventh grade subsequently and then go on to the senior classes.

What he learns from this first-hand contact he will use in his job as superintendent.

Mr. Bryan's idea is a sound one. An idea that other superintendents might well try.

IS THE WORLD RETURNING TO SAVAGERY? (By Bernard MacFadden in Liberty)

The vicious attacks on the Jews in Germany have no parallel... at least in this modern age.

We in this country have been appalled at the wanton cruelties which have been recorded in Hitler's domain. It seems like a return to savagery that is hardly credible.

We have always preferred to believe that the world is growing better... that modern inventions that enable people to contact each other more closely would develop a better understanding throughout the nations of the world... that this closer association would make them more humane...

But from recent developments it appears as though it has made a more convenient avenue for the manifestation of greed and selfishness. And an outlet for the murderous instincts that seem to be a part of the elemental viciousness of humankind.

The brutality, apparently condoned by German officials, would indicate that the Dark Ages are with us again... at least, it would seem so in this country. It is indeed difficult to believe that the wholesome, plodding, home-loving Germans...

And yet, following the ruthlessness of the Japanese in their attacks on defenseless women and children in the cities of China, and similar recklessness manifested during the war in Spain, we may well stop and ask, What is the world coming to?

And while we are confused and bewildered when considering this infamous record, it might be well to look within our own national environments. It is not so long ago that John L. Lewis went on a rampage against industrialists and non-union workers. Every workman should belong to his union, was his slogan.

He is reported to have given half a million dollars to the Democratic campaign fund. Madam Perkins, the Secretary of Labor, is said to be one of his best friends. And the violence and violence, the lawlessness associated with his sit-down strikes will be remembered for many years to come.

To hell with the interest of business, and the same place should be kept open for nonunion men, as far as he was concerned. If he failed to pay dues to his union, they would have to take the consequences. The sit-down strikes brought losses totaling millions and hundreds of millions to the various industries of this country. It put millions of capable workmen on the dole and WPA jobs. And right in the midst of this hectic swirl of this hideous attack upon industry came the statement by Madam Perkins that "the legality of the sit-down strikes has not yet been decided."

Could the violent agitators, many of whom were pro-Communists, be doing anything better to encourage them in their infamous raid upon our industrial system?

Hundreds of businesses, innumerable towns had to endure losses that brought huge indebtedness to this sit-down lawlessness. Akron was the one outstanding example, which we have previously stated became a shambles as a result of the disorder that accompanied the efforts of Lewis and his Communist agitators.

And as we wonder at the wanton recklessness of the German dictator in allowing the vicious attacks on the Jews in his country, it is not entirely out of place to make a comparison which will be unwelcome to the average citizen, and especially to the Jew in the wool New Dealer.

The inhuman and reckless conduct of many of the leaders of the sit-down strikes was not far different from that which we find recorded in Germany against the Jews; and when Lewis sent his legions on the rampage, there were viciousness, brutalities, and even murders which alarmed the law-abiding citizens of this country.

A TOWNSEND "PARROT" REPEATS

A contributor challenges me to "get out from behind his paper and come out in the open and discuss this like a man." The contributor is referring to my former statement that the Townsend Recovery Plan is just a legalized form of stealing.

I think this is a very good idea. I believe the readers are getting tired of hearing repetition. I will be pleased to discuss this subject with the challenger on any neutral ground with an impartial chairman.

The contributor seems to think that a negative can be proved. I defy him to prove that he has not killed a man. If I said he killed a certain individual, it would be easy for him to prove that he has not killed that man. He, thus, by proving that the man still lived and by the fact that a man could not be both alive and dead at the same time, he would prove that he had not killed the man. But he cannot prove that he has not killed a man if the man is not specified. Just so, no one can prove any negative—that the so-called Townsend Recovery Plan will not work.

I defy the challenger to disprove the statement that I can eat a cake and still have it; that I can rob a bank and the bank will still have more money than it had before I robbed it.

I could keep on parrot-like repeating this statement and the challenger could not prove that the statement was not true. Yet every rational person would know that it was not true. He could challenge me to prove the truth of the statement and if I refused to demonstrate by example or by illustration, every rational person would have a perfect right to conclude and would say that I was only bluffing and talking. Just so, when the Townsend people refuse to demonstrate how taking from one group and giving to another group will improve the standard of living of those from whom the wealth is taken, they are making dogmatic assertions without any evidence.

The challenger contends that the Townsend Plan would tax everybody equally. But any man who has what he turns over to the government as taxes furnished by the government is in reality paying no tax at all. He is the special group that is being benefited by legally robbing or stealing from those who have produced the wealth. The only man who pays a tax is the man who earns the wealth, or the orders for wealth, which he turns over directly or indirectly to the government. This is the class that is robbed. The group that would get the pensions, would not themselves be paying any tax. They would be the recipients of the robbery. This is axiomatic.

As stated above I would be glad to share equal time with the challenger discussing any statement I have made in my column regarding the Townsend Recovery Plan any date that suits both of our convenience. The challenger is invited to suggest a time and meeting place to arrange place, time, wording of discussion and presiding chairman.

To our statement that the Townsend advocates usually say that the man who does not believe the plan is practical does not understand it, one quick-witted person remarked, "no one could understand how the Townsend Plan could work." I think this is true that no advocate of the Townsend Plan understands how it could work.

The sit-down-strike party

Frank Kent has named the party of the present administration as well as any description we have seen. Kent comments on John Lewis' legislative program for the next Congress and points out that Lewis has a strong influence over the administration.

He says that the Democratic party will have a lot of explaining to do when the people begin to call them the Sit-Down-Strike Party.

And this name certainly seems to be appropriate because they have refused to give any protection to those people who have their property taken possession of by sit-downers. One of the members of the Cabinet, Frances Perkins, remarked that they did not care whether the sit-down strike was illegal. They again they have paid the farmers for not producing so that they can sit down.

It seems that there could be no better name for the Democratic Party at present than that it is the Sit-Down-Strike Party.

Progress is the increasing control over environment.—Robert Millikan.

Behind The News Of The Day

By JOHN T. FLYNN

There is a violent argument in progress, of which Mr. Mariner Eccles is the center, on the effect which the government's spending program has had upon the course of business.

Mr. Eccles says such recovery as we have had was the result of government spending and that without it the country would have been ruined.

His critics say had it not been for the government's spending policy private investment would have gotten into action and that real recovery has been prevented by government spending.

Both sides ignore some important factors. There is no doubt that Mr. Eccles is right when he says the recovery we have had has been due to government spending. He is also right when he says that without government spending the country would have been ruined. His critics weaken themselves when they attempt to deny these facts.

GOVERNMENT'S CASE EXTREMELY WEAK

But whether the government spending has produced any "real" recovery is another matter. Whether the spending has been wise is also another story. And even more important is the question whether the policies accompanying government spending have been calculated to air recovery. On these points the verdict must be against the government.

Private investment is essential to the functioning of the capitalist system. The government spending program was designed to take the place of private investment. Now private investment had completely collapsed by 1931. This was not the fault of the government, but of the folly of private business preceding that collapse. Two great problems faced the nation as a result. One was to reform the abuses which had fouled the system. The other was to stimulate recovery.

Many, like the writer, urged that reform should be our paramount objective. But labor will never come into its own... will never be able to settle its quarrels... until employers and employees realize they are really partners, and work together on that basis... with a friendly understanding of their mutual responsibilities.

LISTENING WITH BOTH EARS

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It would be false as well as trite to remark that a movie army travels on its stomach. Everyone knows—or should know—that a movie man, however humble his status in the profession, travels only on his artistic aspirations. The stars especially think only of their Art—just like Sam Goldwyn.

I use Mr. Goldwyn in this connection not only because he—as every one knows—is Hollywood's last word in Art. Last word and first and coin-your-own if he doesn't beat you to it. I use Mr. G. also because through him, in the very Temple of Art, I have come face to face with the astounding realization that even on Olympus the gods must eat.

It was out at Mr. Goldwyn's Yorkshire, England (in the Coast Hills, 50 miles from Hollywood) that I saw Kenny Leighton facing the same realization, although I daresay it was not new to him. Unlike me, Mr. Leighton had to do something about it, that being his business.

Mr. Leighton is a steward in the employ of a large firm which undertakes to house and feed movie location companies. He was up at Yorkshire (which is really a section of Mr. Richard Olsen's Ventura county ranch) to supervise the feeding and housing of some 470 souls and stomachs attracted there because Mr. Goldwyn, some months ago, decided to make a movie of Emily Bronte's "Wuthering Heights."

Mr. Leighton will be there until the last yes-man has departed and Mr. Olsen's peaceful hills no longer echo to cry British accents from the lips of Merle Oberon, Laurence Olivier, Flora Robson, and David Niven.

Mr. Leighton learned about wholesale feeding when his company operated the commissary at the Boulder Dam site. Film feeding is little different. Movie camps in general allow $3 per man per day for feeding.

The stars, in Mr. Leighton's wife experiences on movie Bahamas, India, China, and Yorkshires, require to special attention (and it's not of you to say that, Mr. L.). However, a man in his business must be alert, and it's good for him to know that Miss Oberon takes only warm milk for lunch, that Mr. Niven is loyally British in his devotion to an abundance of meat and potatoes, that Mr. Olivier dotes especially on preserved fruits and other specialties.

Such items cannot be listed as necessary information for a caterer, but they do help to make location life smoother.

Like a movie star, Mr. Leighton has his dark professional moments. One of these came up at Lone Pine (for "Gunga Din") when late one afternoon 700 hungry extras were disgorged upon him by buses—with the day's food supply held up below by a truck breakdown. Salads and sandwiches staved off a crisis until by mobilizing everything on wheels (including the camera truck) he moved up the delayed meal.

It was on the same trip—file this for reference when Cary Grant dines come first, that it should be directed at essentials and should be carried through swiftly. Then recovery should be in order.

The necessity for carrying through essential reforms swiftly is obvious since a commercial system cannot possibly flourish in the midst of continuous reform.

This, however, was not done. An example is the fact that only now is the administration getting around to Wall Street and the Exchange.

With the system reformed and the public apprised that reform was at an end and that government would then devote its energies to consolidating and stabilizing the system, private investment might have been resumed.

Instead almost everything in the world was done to RENO Stinson, patriotic Texan, ardent Democrat and loyal alumnus of the University of Texas, grew up with Dr. Henry P. Rainey, now president of the University of Texas. Both men were born in Ellaville, Young county, and they grew up together there. Reno was mayor of Ellaville at the age of 21, the youngest mayor in the nation, when Dr. Rainey was the youngest university president in the country at Bucknell...

When the University regents started looking around for a president after Dr. Benedict's death, Reno said they ought to get Dr. Rainey. That was before the regents were even considering his former fellowtownsman. Reno is high in his praise of Dr. Rainey. He says his father believes that the university president is the greatest man in Texas. He not only also significant that Dr. Benedict, who was president of the University of Texas until his death, was born and raised at Ellaville... Reno believes that Dr. Rainey will make Texas one of the best presidents she ever had... Persons who wondered why the newspapers devoted so much space to Dr. Rainey's appointment, might bear in mind that the president of the University of Texas is the most powerful man in the state...

Dr. Rainey, it was said at the time of his appointment, believes in a practical education which emphasizes shops and laboratories.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

APPLIES AS MEDICINE

The slogan "An apple a day keeps the doctor away" was not coined by the apple growers' association. It is older than all trade associations and it is in fact something that has come down to us from ancient folk medicine. Like all such sayings it overstates the case.

In recent years however it has been found that raw apples are valuable in treating diarrhea in infants and in adults.

It is told that during the World War an epidemic of dysentery developed among the half-starved prisoners of a prison camp. Several of the ill prisoners secretly ate some apples which they procured from nearby apple trees, and promptly showed a marked improvement in their symptoms.

This "escapee" came to the attention of the camp physician, who was so impressed by the results that he promptly set about investigating the merits of the apple diet in the treatment of diarrhea. During his investigation he discovered that the use of apples to treat diarrhea was an age-old practice among German housewives.

The matter was reported in medical literature and a number of scientists and clinicians followed up the clue. Careful study corroborated the original findings, and the apple diet treatment for diarrhea is now widely employed.

In this treatment use is made of the pulp of ripe raw apples, the cores and skins being discarded. The child sick with diarrhea is given as much of the fruit as it will take, an effort being made to feed it no less than two to four tablespoons every two hours for two days.

Apples then are good medicine for diarrhea, and to this extent the old saying has some justification. But it is imperatively necessary to bear in mind that diarrhea is not always a distinctive disease. It is more commonly the symptoms of some other malady, for which the raw apple diet is likely to be of no worth whatsoever.

The Capital Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—Should Dr. Homer Price Rainey, newly chosen president of the University of Texas, following the inclinations of his two immediate predecessors he will find time for "a little teaching."

The late president H. L. Benedict, regretfully gave up instructing a class in applied mathematics when the demands of his office made continuance impossible. Acting president J. W. Calhoun, however, never permitted his work as comptroller or president to take him completely out of the classroom.

Because he "enjoys it," he has taught girls' home economic mathematics course for years.

The new president will get acquainted with the school's 10,000 students gradually, if ever. There is no way for him to speak to them face to face. Even Gregory symposium, with floor and stage crowded to capacity, would not hold more than 7,000 persons. The buildings have no public address system whereby a speaker can be heard in every class room and even if available there is no time of the day when the full student body is attending classes.

Professors and instructors could read a personal message from the president to their classes, or he could have it printed in the Daily Texan, student newspaper. Again, he might mail a personal note to each.

The late President Benedict and acting President Calhoun always had time for students who came to their office. It was part of the tradition that the door of the president's office always was open to students.

What new methods of handling his business will be adopted by Dr. Rainey are unknown, but secretaries to his predecessors say they had no "routine."

Early daily arrival at the office was essential and if the president got to his mail immediately it was well-nigh an accident. Appointments, matters of emergency and myriad other activities made a definite routine impossible.

"Sometimes," said one secretary, "the president did not get to his 'urgent' mail until late in the afternoon."

Some officials believe the presidential position is burdened with too many duties and too great a responsibility as yet conceived.

An idea of the time-consuming activities which occupy him may be gained from the following. Besides being the chief executive of the university—vast enterprise—he must:

Be expert advisor to the board of regents; be an official, dean, professor, instructor and employee of the university and report their suggestions for betterment of the school to the regents;

Recommend to the board suitable persons to fill vacancies; Be prepared to give at any time a report of the competence and diligence of all persons employed by the school;

Be a member of all faculties of various schools; See to the execution of all regulations;

The president's office, about 25 by 40 feet, is in the southeast wing on the second floor of the towering main building and looks out on the state capitol. The new executive will work at a broad, flat-topped mahogany desk seated on a plain leather-upholstered chair and surrounded by photographs of past presidents from the departed Dr. Leslie Wagener, smiling H. V. Benedict, Dr. Wagener was first to fill the position, 1895-96.

The room is paneled with walnut and five windows and a wide door assure ample light. Two many-globed chandeliers provide light for night work. Twenty-one chairs line the walls and surround a long glass-topped "council table" at the east end where the regents do their work at intervals.

Some historians believe the University of Texas would have been established 25 years earlier had it not been for the War Between the States. In 1856, several million acres and $100,000 cash were provided for the university in a bill by Senator Lewis T. Wigfall, specifying among other things, a curriculum to include:

"Ancient and modern languages; the different branches of mathematics pure and physical; natural philosophy, chemistry, mineralogy, geology; the principles of agriculture, botany, anatomy, surgery and medicine, zoology, history, ethics, rhetoric, and belles-lettres, civil government, political economy, the law of nature, of nations and municipal law."

Although he died long before the university came into being, Mirabeau B. Lamar, second president of the Republic of Texas, can be considered one of its founders. In his message to Congress in 1839, Lamar said:

"A liberal endowment, which will be adequate to the general diffusion of a good rudimentary education in every district of the republic and to the establishment of a university for instruction in the highest branches of science, can now be effected without the expenditure of a dollar."

Without expenditure of money the Congress set aside 50 leagues (221,400 acres) as the initial endowment of the school, which now values its assets at more than $60,000,000.

Frankfurter May Be Questioned On Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The court reorganization issue may be revived in Senate hearings on Felix Frankfurter's nomination to the Supreme Court.

Although most Senators expressed hearty support of the liberal Harvard law professor, several predicted today he would be asked for his views on the Roosevelt Court bill, rejected by the Senate in 1937.

Frankfurter, a White House adviser since the inception of the New Deal, was appointed yesterday by Mr. Roosevelt to succeed the late Justice Cardozo. He is not expected to join the court until the Senate confirms his nomination.

Some western Senators expressed regret that a man from their section had not been chosen, since the west is not now represented on the court. Senator Thomas, Democrat, Utah, said after a visit to the White House, however, he was sure a westerner would be appointed ultimately.

There was speculation over whether some of the older justices soon might retire. Talk continued around Justice Louis D. Brandeis, 82, and Justice James C. McReynolds, 76, but there was no public indication of their plans.

Hearings also were scheduled on three other nominations Mr. Roosevelt sent to the Senate yesterday—those of former Senator Pope, Democrat, Idaho, to be a TVA director, Harry Hopkins to be secretary of commerce, and Frank Murphy to be attorney general.

Robot Has Trouble Learning To Talk

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6 (AP)—The baby robot of science, a machine that talks, the first ever made, is having the same troubles in learning as a human baby.

It can't say "L." Its mechanical throat is capable of this liquid sound but it usually slips and says: "R." "RW." or "WR."

The machine is the Voder (short for voice operation demonstration) invented by the Bell telephone laboratories for this year's world fair in New York, 23 San Francisco, and "unveiled" here yesterday before some well-awed scientists.

It can talk, sing, laugh, scream, imitate any animal you can name, or any machine or noise of nature. It is an electrical imitation of the human throat, and it makes words as you choose, by pressing the right keys.

The Voder, looking like an oversize typewriter, or a tiny organ, stood on four spindly, wooden legs in front of an audience in the auditorium of the Franklin Institute. It had keys like an organ, and a foot pedal. Voder makes just three kinds of sound, electrically produced from "tubes" that look like elongated light bulbs. But when all the keys are called on, the foot pedal used, the Voder makes 23 separate tones, and a thousand modulations of each.

Proposed Interest

Law Draws Attack

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 6 (AP)—Two San Antonio labor leaders said today they would seek a legislative investigation of a purported movement in Texas by several small eastern loan companies to sponsor changes in the state laws so usurious interest rates might be charged.

W. R. Williams, representative of Williams Loan, said the companies were writing State Senator J. Franklin Spears from this district asking for the investigation.

They said they had reason to believe a movement is on foot to work out a law that will permit service fees and other charges that will equal 42 per cent interest on all small loans.

Under the present laws only 10 per cent would be allowed, Williams pointed out.

Prisoners Like Books That Take Them Places

PIERRE, S. D. (AP)—Prisoners in the state penitentiary are interested in traveling and the further a library book takes their minds away the better they like it.

Lan Thrasher, librarian, who is serving a 25-year term for manslaughter, said that "Lost Horizon" and "Leaf the Lucky" were most popular, with "Arm of Gold" and "Wild Cargo" running second.

Germany Will Regretfully Receive Committee For Refugees Next Week

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER.
BERLIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—An informant in daily touch with the highest German officials said today that Nazi hopes of bridging the gap between the United States and the Reich center on next week's visit to Berlin of George Rublee, the American director, and other members of the international committee on refugees.

In Nazi eyes the decision of the Berlin government to receive Rublee and his associates is a gesture of appeasement involving considerable German sacrifice.

(Rublee, Robert T. Pell of the Washington state department and Joseph C. Brown of New York are expected to make up the delegation going from London to discuss plans for Jewish emigration from Germany with Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, head of the four-year plan, and other German leaders.)

Last week in London it was indicated a plan for removing 150,000 younger Jews from Germany would be discussed.)

German authorities hitherto have declined to receive representatives of the Evian conference last July, which set up the inter-governmental committee to cope with Europe's tangled refugee problems, Jewish and other.

But as relations between Germany and the United States grew worse, with each country recalling its ambassador to the other, moderates in the government prevailed on Goering to invite Rublee as a gesture showing Germany's desire not to let the two countries drift apart still further.

This is regarded as indication that Germany is willing for the sake of improving relations with the United States and western democracies generally to make certain concessions on the Jewish question, perhaps some arrangements with Rublee concerning transfer of Jewish emigrants' property.

Nazi informants were emphatic in predicting that Reichsfuehrer Hitler, as a further gesture of appeasement, would refrain from attacking President Roosevelt by name in his speech to the reichstag Jan. 30, sixtieth anniversary of his rise to power.

Meanwhile, foreign correspondents received invitations to attend the most ambitious series of lectures on the Jewish problem yet attempted in Germany.

Sons Of Legion To Take Test Tonight

A written and oral test on the first point of the five-point program, patriotism, will be given tonight when members of the Kerley-Crossman squadron, 324 Sons of the American Legion hold their regular meeting at 7:30 o'clock at the American Legion hall.

Each boy successfully passing the test will be awarded a gold plated button, enameled in colors.

For meetings in the future, tests will be given in these subjects, in order: citizenship, discipline, leadership, and Legionism.

Each member is asked to bring a prospective member, as the squadron is now organizing a rifle club and desires to have as many enrolled in the club as possible. Dick Kennedy, adjutant of the local squadron, said today.

Coaching Shake-Up Denied By Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 6 (AP)—No shake-up of the coaching staff of Texas A. & M. college is contemplated, the college athletic council said today.

Putting at rest rumors of impending changes in council voted unanimously that it did not "contemplate any change in the coaching staff" although mentioning it had made "an earnest and thorough study" of the situation.

The council met yesterday amid rumors there was a distinct possibility that Homer Norton, head football coach whose contract has another year to run, would be replaced.

Two States Honor Man Who Saved 5

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—Texas and Louisiana today jointly honored Alvin Granger of Orange, Texas.

This state's traffic safety hero number one for 1938.

Officials of each commonwealth planned to decorate the 32-year-old shipping clerk who on Dec. 29 plunged into 10 feet of icy water and rescued five persons from an automobile submerged in the Sabine river.

Governor James V. Alfred of Texas will decorate Granger with a medal at public ceremonies on the capitol steps.

Because the persons Granger saved were Louisianians, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Storum, their two children, and O. W. Loving of Baton Rouge, that state also will recognize his bravery.

Major Murphy Rod'n, assistant superintendent of the Louisiana state police, Lieut. John W. Jones and Patrolman J. F. Bridges will represent Louisiana at the ceremony.

McGraw To Be Arraigned In Murder Case

Arraignment of both Clyde McGraw and Irvin Maxey, charged in two indictments by a 31st district court grand jury Thursday with murder, will be made Monday before District Judge W. R. Ewing, and their trials set for the fifth week of the January term, which starts January 30, Judge Ewing said Thursday. Jurors for both cases will be selected from one special venire of 125.

Maxey, Pampa negro, was indicted on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Odessa Lintzy. The indictment, made at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, charges that Maxey on or about December 11, voluntarily and with malice aforethought killed and murdered Odessa Lintzy by cutting her with a knife.

No bond has been set for Maxey. Both he and McGraw are in the county jail.

McGraw was indicted on a charge of murder in connection with the shooting of Oscar Williams. The shooting of Williams, Pampa apartment house operator, and the stabbing of Odessa Lintzy, occurred on the same date. Williams was shot about 7:30 o'clock December 11, while the affray that resulted in the death of Odessa Lintzy, occurred about midnight at a negro dance at the Southern club.

Maxey came into the sheriff's office and surrendered to county officers on the morning following the stabbing. He has been in county jail since that time, as has McGraw, whom county officers arrested on the night of December 11. McGraw is being held without bond.

The grand jury reconvened this morning but had not made any further indictments up to noon today.

COMMITTEE

House does not cut the proposed fund, there would be a determined effort in the Senate appropriations committee to do so.

"The $875,000,000 looks to me like a higher rate of expenditure than we have at present, in the face of many indications of improving business conditions," said Adams.

The President declared in a special message yesterday that the money would be required to keep 3,000,000 on WPA rolls in February and March, with the number diminishing gradually to 2,700,000 in June. Present WPA funds, he said, will be exhausted at the end of this month.

The Senate and the House are developing over authorizing the Dies committee to renew its investigations into unamerican activities.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders expected the 169 Republicans to vote solidly for continuation of the inquiry.

Democratic ranks were split, informed persons said, between criticism of frequent anti-administration testimony at committee hearings and pressure from "folks back home" who believe the investigation has developed important proof of subversive activities.

West Gets Seat

Rep. Dies (D., Texas), the committee chairman, conferred yesterday with Rep. Rayburn of Texas, the Democratic leader, but neither developed their conversation.

Organized labor and House committees began late yesterday when Democratic members elected four of their number to vacancies on the Ways and Means committee. That group chooses party members to fill vacancies on all other committees.

One of the quartet elected—Rep. West (D., Texas)—is regarded as somewhat conservative, and there were reports that the White House had opposed his selection. Vice President Garner, a fellow Texan, was described by insiders as having favored his appointment. All but 37 of the 235 Democrats who balloted supported West.

Wallace Hurls Challenge

The other three new members are considered administration supporters—Representatives Boland (D., Pa.) the party "whip," McKeough (D., Ill.) and Maloney (D., La.).

Democrats from farm states were interested in Secretary Wallace's challenge to Republican critics of the crop control program to present a substitute bill.

"We Democrats have a plan," Wallace told reporters. "It is in operation now. In view of the fact Republicans made gains in the Midwest at the last election, I believe it is their duty to present a program."

Parents Of Pampans Suffer Fire Loss

Mr. and Mrs. Edear Little received word today that fire had destroyed a food store house, garage and repair shop belonging to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Bateman, at Kemp. The loss amounted to several thousand dollars and no insurance was carried. Mr. Little is with the Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company here.

The fire was discovered by members of the family but it had gained such headway that difficulty was encountered in saving the new home.

Contents of the building, including large quantities of fruit, vegetables, seed, implements, harness, etc., was a total loss.

Mrs. Bateman left Pampa a few days ago after spending the Christmas holidays with her daughter and son-in-law.

SPAIN

two weeks before the Insurgent general offensive began Dec. 23.

The town of Borjas Blancas, at the southern end of the string of forts making up the 20-mile line, was in the hands of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops. About five miles to the north the village of Torrejuna was reported occupied by the Insurgents.

The Barcelona defense ministry admitted the fall of Borjas Blancas. But it also asserted government forces won a victory in Southwest Spain, where militiamen were said to have broken through insurgent lines between Cabeza Del Bayo and Belmez in the sector directly west of Pozoblanco. The Insurgent command said government attacks in the area around Valsequillo, on the Southwest front, were repulsed.

Border military observers predicted a temporary slowing down of the swift Insurgent advance of the past three years, pointing out that field commanders must now consolidate positions.

Americanism To Be Stressed In Coming Month

Americanism will be stressed in the coming month by the local post of the American Legion and the American Legion and the American Legion auxiliary. At the regular meeting of the post at 8 o'clock Thursday night, it was decided that the post and auxiliary committees would cooperate in their work during February, designated as Americanism and National defense month in the auxiliary.

A public meeting here is contemplated to further the work of the two organizations in Americanism activities. At the monthly meeting to be held in Amarillo the latter part of this month, Jim Cade, district membership chairman, will present a nationally-known speaker to make an address on the topic.

Other business transacted at the post's meeting Thursday night included the appointment of Sherman White as chairman of a committee to draft resolutions of respect for Howard Neath, deceased member. Other members of the committee are C. E. Cary and W. C. deCordova.

Commemorative 20-year-coins and service cards were issued at the meeting last night.

Announcement was made of a covered dish luncheon to be given jointly by the post and auxiliary on January 16 at the Legion building, and A. O. Montieth, grand cher de train of the 40 & 8, announced a trip to Childress Sunday where a reorganization of the Childress vulture is to be made at 2 p. m.

Stockand Funeral Held On Thursday

Funeral services for Shirley Lane Stockand, about 39, were conducted yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Robert Boshen, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial was in Fairview cemetery under direction of the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

The woman, known here as Shirley Richards, was found dead in a farm house northwest of White Deer on the morning of Dec. 23. Cause of death has not yet been established.

Closest relatives located was a cousin residing in Burns, Ore.

Birmingham 'Sword' Tree To Be Saved

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 6 (AP)—Federal housing authorities promised historically-minded citizens today that Birmingham's "sword-tree" would not be cut down.

The tree, which through the years has grown around a rusty cavalry saber, was a sapling, according to local legend, when a Confederate soldier thrust the sword into it and vowed he would not remove it until he returned from the army.

He never returned.

Frank E. Spain, of the Birmingham housing authority, said the tree would be preserved through a housing project to be erected on the site.

Hawkins Infant's Funeral Held Today

Funeral services for Glennis Hawkins, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hawkins, 411 East Reed street, were set for 3 o'clock this afternoon with the Rev. E. M. Dunsworth, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, officiating. Burial was to be in Fairview cemetery under direction of Pampa Mortuary.

The child died in a local hospital yesterday afternoon. Besides the parents the child is survived by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rogers of Shamrock, grandparents. Mr. Hawkins is an oilfield worker.

Night Watchman Of Throckmorton Missing

THROCKMORTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The disappearance of W. A. Walker, strapping, middle-aged Throckmorton night watchman, early yesterday, had authorities of several adjoining counties puzzled today.

Walker, 45, who weighs 215 pounds and is six feet, two inches tall, has not been seen since 6:45 a. m. yesterday. He was carrying a gun and flashlight when last seen.

Young Jews Ask Boycott

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—The youth division of the American Jewish Congress began a campaign today to plead individuals throughout the country to boycott German goods.

In a preliminary drive in the past few days, leaders said 150,000 blue and white label buttons bearing the inscription "boycott Nazi Germany" have been distributed in New York.

Harvester Fans Urged To See Game Tonight

Pampa Noses Out Canyon In 33-31 Battle

Advice to Abernathy's Antelopes: You'd better be on your toes and hitting the basket from every angle tonight when you play the Harvesters at 8 o'clock or the Pampa lads will now you down as they did the Canyon Eagles last night on the floor of Buffalo gym at Canyon.

In fact, you haven't got a chance unless you have improved more than the Eagles have since the Harvesters were annihilated by them 40 to 17. You (still addressing the Antelopes) will remember that you nosed out the Harvesters by two or three points down at Abernathy about a month ago. Well, you'd better be good tonight.

The Harvesters played a hair-trigger defense against the Eagles to win in the closing minutes by a 33 to 31 score. The Eagles were upset about it, but they had to take it. The game was rough, and the officials called only a few of the fouls. Foster Watkins, the Buffalo backfield star who excelled at passing during the last season, was the referee, but his officiating was both inadequate and inefficient.

Pampa Favored Tonight
The Harvesters are favored to trim the Antelopes tonight, and Coach Mitchell wants the fans to see the game. It should be one of the best of the season—or the best until Pampa entertains Amarillo's tough Sandies who also beat the Eagles but later lost a game to Canyon after four extra periods. The Berger Bulldogs will also be over later this month, but the game tonight should give the fans their money's worth.

Lead Changes Frequently
The Harvesters were assessed 9 fouls last night to 15 for the Eagles, but as many more were not called. The Pampa team lead 12 to 9 at the end of the first quarter, and the Eagles were ahead 21 to 16 at the half. Pampa was back in the lead 27 to 24 at the three-quarter mark, and they took the lead again in the fourth quarter and two charity shots by Grover Lee Heiskell and a field goal by Doyle Auids led the game in the last minute.

Andis and Heiskell scored 11 points each, Kyle 7, Dunaway 1, and Auids 2. The Harvesters missed 7 free shots.
Ford, Eagle guard, was the Canyon hot-shot. He scored 10 points. Tomlinson, forward, scored 8; Briting, forward, 6; Butler, guard, 6; and Barnard, guard, 1.

Game Too Rough
The Pampans looked good in winning the game, but compared with other recent performances, they looked bad, it was reported. The frequent fouling and rough nature of the game prevented the plays from working.

Andis, Heiskell, Dunaway played their usual good games, however there were no outstanding stars, except that Captain Andis played his usual brilliant game on both offense and defense. Heiskell has been improving with every game recently, especially in the scoring department, and this is good since it takes the pressure off Andis who at the first of the season was relied upon to make most of the baskets. Coach Mitchell hopes to develop Heiskell and the center to the point where the scoring will be equalized among the three positions.

Wrestling Card Monday To Feature New-Comers

Not even Promoter Cliff B. Chambers will predict what is going to happen Monday night at the Pampa Athletic arena when he presents his first group of light heavyweight maulers. Although only two of the six will be newcomers to the local mat, two others have been seen only once or twice.

The going might be rough or it might be scientific. In the main event Tiger Billy McEwin of Billings, Mont., and Frankie Hill of Wichita, Kas., will meet. McEwin made his first appearance here last Monday night and he looked like a mighty potent gent either at wrestling or roughing. Hill, seen here twice, started out scientific but the opposition got rough and so did he—to the sorrow of the opposition.

That makes the dope a clean match until one or the other gets rough and then fireworks will probably be the order of service.
A new light heavy, Ernie Peterson of San Francisco, will tangle with Oklahoma's Joe Banaaki in the semi-final. Nothing is known about the Peterson style of grappling. Advance dope states that he is an outstanding Pacific coast contender and that he should have had a crack at the Schneider hotel. All Class B captains will gather at 7 o'clock with the Class C captains meeting one hour later.

Another new light heavy will be in the preliminary at 8 o'clock in the person of Steve Netry of Miami, Fla. Like Peterson, nothing is known about the Netry method of grappling. He is another mauler who would like to take a crack at McShane. Opposing Netry will be Russ Riley, the Muleshoe favorite.

Fred Apostoli To Fight Billy Conn Tonight

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Fred Apostoli expects to strengthen his claim to the world middleweight title tonight when he meets Billy Conn, the lanky Pittsburgh Irishman, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Not that Conn, who will be making his debut in Manhattan, is a mid-chewer. He comes closer to being a light-heavy. But he recently scored a decisive victory over Solly Krieger, recognized by the National Boxing Association as middleweight king.

Apostoli is recognized by the New York and California state commissions as the 160-pound champ on the strength of his knockout of Young Corbett 3rd here last November. His admirers have established him a 1 to 3 favorite over Conn. The odds scarcely seem justified, no matter how good Apostoli is.
Conn looks like a real comer, and chances are that he will be a genuine contender in the light-heavyweight division within another year. Several hundred of his Pittsburgh supporters will watch him go tonight.

Six feet in height, Conn is finding it increasingly difficult to come in under 170 pounds. He made a "gentleman's agreement" not to scale over 168 for Apostoli, who is a legitimate middleweight.

Where Apostoli is a rough-and-tumble fighter who loves to swap punches and who has a good kick in either hand, Conn is a beautiful boxer. Old-timers around here consider him a dead ringer for Jimmy Slattery when the latter was in his prime.

Yankees To Start Training Feb. 26

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees start their quest for a fourth straight world championship on Feb. 26 when the pitchers and catchers are due to report at St. Petersburg, Fla., training base.

The rest of the high-salaried troupe that has spread-eagled all opposition since 1936 is due March 5. Six days later the club plays the first of 34 exhibition games with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The schedule includes:
April 1, New Orleans (S. A.) at New Orleans; 2, Houston (T. L.) at Houston; 3, San Antonio (T. L.) at San Antonio; 4, Fort Worth (T. L.) at Fort Worth; 5, Dallas (T. L.) at Dallas; 6, Oklahoma City (T. L.) at Oklahoma City; 7, Tulsa (T. L.) at Tulsa.

In the four-month period June to September, 1,093,000 pounds of swordfish, valued at about $100,000, were caught in Nova Scotia waters.

Venezuela, meaning "little Venice," was originally applied to an Indian village built on piles on the coast of that country.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Final organization of two Pampa bowling leagues will be completed tonight when captains of teams meet at the Schneider hotel. All Class B captains will gather at 7 o'clock with the Class C captains meeting one hour later.

Captains of Class B teams will decide on what nights they desire to play, how the prize money will be divided and other important questions. Teams not represented at the meeting will be dropped from the league.

The Class C league will be a handicap affair.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Those promoters who are so glibly talking about matching Patrick Edward Comiskey, the Jersey lightweight hope, with Baer or Nova, forget the kid is only 18 and therefore not eligible to fight main bouts in this state... There is a big alumni move on the coast to get Howard Jones a long term contract at Southern California... Van Mungo was the only Dodger to have his salary slashed.

Well, anyway, Jimmy Foxx (don't forget to add that extra X) who wants $40,000 per, ain't bashful, is he?

That Dixie Dean pop-off had the old familiar ring—arm D. K. can't wait for bell to ring, etc. Cub officials hope it's so... Kay Stammers, the British tennis star, begins her third consecutive year in this book as the No. 1 glamour girl of sports... Dick Bartell and old Ty Cobb are neighbors in California and go golfing almost daily.

Not even the Greeks had a word for that exhibition vines and Budge put on at the Garden the other night. Nearest to perfectly describing it was that old Roman Dan Parker who called it "ten-cent tennis" in the New York Mirror... Ouch!... Frankie Stracai, former public links champion, could stand it no longer. He has quit selling autos for the time being, packed his golf clubs and headed for the Florida tournaments... Herr Max Schmeling is getting ardent to say "some things" about 1939 fight plans.

Hereford Man Has Fight With Wildcat

HEREFORD, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Bible story of Daniel and the lions has a new meaning for Artis Daniel of Hereford, who recently had a bare-hand combat with a bobcat and emerged victorious.

Daniel, hunting quail near the New Mexico line, became separated from his friends and noticed a large bobcat beneath a bluff. He discharged a load of birdshot and the cat fell.

Laying his gun on a rock, Daniel ran to the cat and grasped its rear leg. The cat then started taking the incident seriously, clashing on the Daniel, who jammed his right foot on the animal's throat. While the cat snarled, scratched and struggled, Daniel called loudly to his friends. The first to arrive was his son, R. A. Daniel, who was greeted by his father: "Why didn't you hurry, I wanted you to get some wire so I could take this critter back alive, now I've choked him to death."

The cat measured 53 inches and weighed 29 1/2 pounds, eleven pounds more than any other ever killed in this area.

Daniel will have the pelt tanned into a rug, doubtless upon which to rest his feet while he retells the story to his grandchildren.

Incidentally, Mr. Daniel wears No. 10 shoes.

England taxed soap until 1853, when Gladstone removed the impost.

NEW MAULER

The capable looking fellow pictured above is Ernie Peterson of San Francisco who will make his first appearance before Pampa wrestling fans Monday night at the Pampa Athletic arena when he meets Joe Banaaki of Oklahoma City in the semi-final. Peterson is ranked one of the outstanding light heavyweights in the nation. Tiger Billy McEwin and Frankie Hill will headline the card with Steve Netry, a new-comer, and Russ Riley the preliminary pair at 8 o'clock.

That Dixie Dean pop-off had the old familiar ring—arm D. K. can't wait for bell to ring, etc. Cub officials hope it's so... Kay Stammers, the British tennis star, begins her third consecutive year in this book as the No. 1 glamour girl of sports... Dick Bartell and old Ty Cobb are neighbors in California and go golfing almost daily.

Students Pick Out Professors' Faults

DALLAS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Overestimating or underestimating the intelligence of the main fault of college professors, a survey made at Southern Methodist University suggests. Twenty-five per cent of the teachers suffer this defeat, the students said in a survey underpinned by the campus problems group of the Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A.

Other faults listed was failure to dismiss classes on time or start them promptly, giving unfair quizzes, failing to keep lecture material up to date, failure of personal experiences, and refusal to permit students to bring their own points of view on controversial subjects.

Asked how much time a professor should expect a student to study a subject outside of class, forty per cent of the group listed one hour, forty per cent favored more than an hour, and twenty per cent favored less than an hour.

Sale Of Dinner Coats Reported Good In Amarillo

AMARILLO, Jan. 6 (AP)—A westerner complained he had seen as many as two pair of shop-made cowboy boots under one bridge table.

The suggestion led to a survey in Amarillo, the cow capital of the Texas plains, and the results were startling, especially to bootmakers whose number is many in the city.

The survey showed the sale of dinner coats in Amarillo doubled in 1938 and the number of formal jackets sold in the city during the year was three times greater than the number sold in 1937. One concern sold nearly 40 dinner coats during the past holiday season. They call them tuxedos in Amarillo.

Rice Defeats Aggies 51-39

(By The Associated Press)

Favorites in the Southwest conference basketball race test each other the first crack out of the box tonight as the defending champion Arkansas Razorbacks barge into Dallas for a series with the redoubtable Southern Methodist university Mustangs.

Meanwhile, the Rice Owls, who blasted off the lid in the conference campaign with a 51-39 victory over the Texas Aggies at College Station last night, returned to Houston to await the coming of the potent Texas Longhorns. The Owls and Steers clash tonight, meeting the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs at Waco.

The Aggies took an early lead over the Owls last night but the Rice defense tightened up while Frank Carswell, Placido Gomez and Bert Selman hit the basket with regularity. The Owls took a 20-13 lead at half-time and were never headed. Carswell led the scoring with 12 points, Gomez had 11 and Selman 10. Dwyer led the Aggies with nine.

Ferrell Says He'll Win For The Yanks

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 6 (AP)—Wes Ferrell, temperamental right-hander, still a little peeved because of his unconditional release from the Washington Senators last mid-season, let it be known today that 1939 will see him out in front for the New York Yankees, who took him on.

Ferrell joined this baseball players' winter colony last night. He said a recent decision to an ailing elbow was entirely successful, and predicted that he will be a regular starting moundman with the world champions this summer.

"There's no pain at all," he said, "I can move my arm in any position and it doesn't bother me. For the first time in six years I can use my normal windup, swinging my arms over my head. For the past couple of years I've been obliged to wind up by pulling my arm in front of my chest. Naturally that cramped up my arm."

Although he admitted he didn't do so bad financially last year, he is still bitter at Clark Griffith for releasing him from the Senators. Wes got a cut of the world series cash when he joined the Yanks.

250 Golfers Compete In Los Angeles Open

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—Over 250 golfers, Griffith Park courses but with promised fair weather ahead, nearly 250 top flight golfers began the battle today for glory and $5,000 in the Los Angeles Open tournament.

Dark skies which brought torrents of rain yesterday cleared during the night and fair weather was forecast for the four days of play.

Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee, Pa., who put together four blazing rounds to win a year ago, is back to defend his title.

Sam Snead is out to try to better his feat of winning nearly $20,000 in a single year of competitive play. The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro has been in a slump for the past few weeks and was one of a handful who braved yesterday's rain to get in a practice round.

Ranchers Ride Over Range In Pickups

BIG LAKE, Jan. 6 (AP)—So modern have become ranching methods on the prairie country in this section that the glare of an automobile horn is replacing the leather lung yell of a cowboy and rubber tires track the turf when once the iron shod hoofs of the cow pony pounded across it.

The ranchers, virtually all sheep-growers, find that it is more speedy and convenient to ride the range in an automobile pickup than astride a horse. Many do not even own a saddle horse.

Carey Cardinals More Experienced This Year

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Staff

The Woodrow Wilson Wildcats of Dallas, who start the schoolboy basketball campaign with a team practically as strong as last season's state champions, face the prospects of coming down the home stretch with a club that doesn't rate tops even in the district race.

As the annual drive opens for 1,500 Texas teams Woodrow Wilson has a squad that boasts five lettermen, including all-state Kelly Simpson at forward, but mid-term will see three of them finish their eligibility. That leaves half the city race to be made with two lettermen who were not regular starters on last season's championship outfit.

Sunset, therefore, will be favored to win the Dallas race, representing that city in the district 11 tournament.

Of the other seven teams that went to the state tournament, state runner-up Abilene, Bowie (El Paso), Kingsville, Carey and Bailey are back with good prospects. Belton lost all its regulars and John Reagan of Houston has but three lettermen, only one of whom was a starter last season.

Abilene looked for its strongest competition from Hamlin in the district 5 race. The starting Abilene team averages 6 feet 1 1/2 inches in height and has four veterans. It recently broke even in a series with Woodrow Wilson.

The six lettermen return at Bowie which expects to make a better showing than last season.

Carey's Cardinals, 1937 champions, has a more experienced team than last season but faces a strong contender in the district drive in Tell. The Cardinals have won 12 of 13 games, the only loss being to Tell by three points.

Bailey indicated it would be back with another outstanding team in the North Texas drive, numbering among its victims such teams as Paris Junior college.

Kingsville is in something of the same predicament as Woodrow Wilson but has more veterans to start with, therefore will still retain a strong team even though three lettermen finish at mid-term. Six numerical wearers remain but Kingsville expects trouble from Corpus Christi in the district race.

City and county championships will be decided by Feb. 11 and district tournaments will be held by Feb. 18. There are 32 districts in the state set-up, four districts to a region. Regional titles will be determined by Feb. 25.

Regional centers are at Canyon, Abilene, Denton, Longview, Huntsville, Breckenridge, San Angelo, Fort Worth, Brownwood, Dallas, Waco, Commerce, Texarkana, Tyler, Nacogdoches, Bryan, Houston, Beau-

Tennis Material Promising Claims President Of USLTA

By HOLCOMBE WARD President, United States Lawn Tennis Association

It is to hold an equally important place in the months ahead. In making this statement I have not overlooked our successful defense of the Davis Cup, emblematic of world's tennis supremacy.

The two fields are linked like cause and effect. You cannot have a winning Davis Cup team without the proper foundation, and that means development among juniors of playing ability, tournament temperament and amateur sportsmanship, all of which are requisites for a successful Davis Cup player.

It is along these lines that our association is building. The development of our program is neither hasty nor sensational. Each year seems a steady and satisfactory progress, which can be illustrated best by a few statistics:

During the past three years, tennis centers which provide qualifying tournaments for national junior, boys and girls championships have increased from 95 to 190, tournaments played at these centers have more than doubled, and the number of registered juniors eligible for such events has grown from approximately 2,900 to 6,400. A slight step beyond the tennis centers are the junior Davis cup, junior Wightman Cup and junior development squads. More than $1,000,000 was disbursed for these projects in 1938, and equally liberal allotments will be assigned for 1939.

Joseph Hunt, No. 9 in 1936, now is ranked fifth. Gilbert Hunt r., nineteenth in 1937, has moved up ten places; Elwood T. Cooke from 28th to seventh, Gardnar Mulloy from 20th to 11th, and Frank Guernsey from 21st to 12th. All of these players, scarcely out of their teens, are being pressed by a growing number of still younger

Although the changed status of Donald Budge probably has brought about a greater balance in the Davis Cup prospects of several of the world's leading tennis-playing nations, the United States still has a most promising field of material from which to select a team for 1939—defense of the trophy. It has that material in such outstanding young and veteran players as Robert Riggs, Gene Mako, Sidney Wood, Elwood Cooke, Joseph and Gilbert Hunt, Frank Guernsey, Don McNeill, Francis Kovacs, Frank Shields, Frank Parker, Bryan Grant, Gardnar Mulloy, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, to mention only a few.

Dodgers Will Play 31 Training Games

BROOKLYN, Jan. 6 (AP)—An all-major league schedule of 31 games was announced today by the Brooklyn Dodgers for their spring training exhibition series.

Twenty-three games are with American League clubs, including ten with the New York Yankees and nine with the Detroit Tigers. The final three tilts, as usual, will be against the Yanks in Ebbets field the week-end before the season opens.

H Hitler Takes Steps To Seize Ukraine Area

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER. BERLIN, Jan. 6 (AP)-Chancellor Hitler was regarded by competent observers today as having taken another major step toward realization of Nazi determination to dominate Europe east of the Rhine.

This was believed to have been the meaning of Hitler's three and a quarter hour meeting with Col. Joseph Beck, Polish foreign minister, at the Chancellor's Obersalzberg home yesterday.

Information in reliable quarters indicated that Hitler sounded out Beck on whether Poland was ready to cooperate in realizing Nazi dreams.

The Nazis consider France and Britain withdrew from Continental affairs through the Munich Czecho-Slovak agreement and that all of north, central and southern Europe is their sphere of influence. Poland is perhaps the most likely object.

Nazis base their claims to this vast section of the continent on the contention that German minorities live in all its sections, and that these Germans must be given the right to recognize Hitler as their leader and live as do Germans within the Reich.

Behind this stands the frequently repeated Nazi desire to have access to raw materials of the rich Soviet Russian Ukraine.

Different plans for consummation of these desires are discussed here often. One, in which Poland would share and Hitler was believed to have left his way on the matter yesterday-would seek to give Poland direct and Germany indirect rule over an autonomous Ukraine, including that part of the Ukraine now in Poland and also the Russian Ukraine.

The theoretically autonomous Ukraine would be included in a federal Polish-Ukrainian state under Nazi tutelage, much as Czechoslovakia today is linked economically and politically with Germany.

Inclusion of the autonomous Ukraine within Poland would be the latter's reward for helping the Nazis even if it involved force to get the Russian Ukraine.

Along the Baltic-and this also was reported to have been discussed yesterday-the Nazis want Danzig and Memel returned immediately and their influence in Lithuania, Estonia, and Latvia firmly recognized.

The possibility of tri-partite German, Polish and Lithuanian conversations in the near future possibly was discussed by Hitler and Beck.

Nazi quarters have expressed impatience that Lithuania has not already handed back Memel, and that Lithuania government recently made several concessions to German residents of Memel.

'Torso Slayer' Pens Letter To Cleveland Chief

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)-A letter mailed in Los Angeles and addressed to Police Chief George J. Mitchell of Cleveland, Ohio, identifying the sender as Ohio's notorious "torso slayer," spurred police today to search for a possible victim of the mad killer.

The message, telling Cleveland police they "can rest easy now as I have come out to Southern California," scribbled "I am the head of the writer's 'latest victim' was buried in a gully beside a boulevard in South Los Angeles.

Heretofore, as far as is known, the "mad butcher of Kingsbury Run," has confined his activities to a shabby, scrubby area, criss-crossed by railroad tracks and a straggling little stream, at the backdoor of Cleveland's downtown district. The victims in Ohio number 12, seven males and five females, and all had been skillfully dissected.

"I felt bad operating on these people, but science must advance," read the letter. "I shall atone the medical profession, a man with only a D. C."

"What did their lives mean in comparison to hundreds of sick and diseased, twisted bodies? Just laboratory guinea pigs found on any public street. No one missed them when I failed. My last case was successful. I know now the feeling of Pasteur, Thoreau, and other pioneers. Right now I have a volunteer who will prove my theories. Boy Slain In Trap Set For Extortionist

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Jan. 6 (AP)-A 13-year-old boy slain here in a trap set for an extortionist apparently was the unwitting dupe of the man sought, police declared today.

The boy was identified by a neighbor as David Kaempf, son of Mrs. Philano Kaempf, a widowed housekeeper.

Detective Sergeant Clifford Flood reported firing the fatal blast from his riot gun as the boy fled from the porch of Miss Kathryn Walsh last night.

Miss Walsh, 25, earlier in the evening reported receiving a note threatening death unless $50 were placed in a milk bottle on her porch.

Flood and two policemen hid in the Walsh home after placing a dummy package in a milk bottle on the porch.

The detective said the boy walked up to the porch and bent over the bottles.

"Stop where you are," Flood said he shouted. The boy ran. The detective asserted he fired a warning shot over David's head, and another at his feet, the second charge striking the boy in the back.

Tax Increases To Be Delayed Says Doughton

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)-Congress is going to wait a while before considering President Roosevelt's request for "moderate tax increases" to meet greater farm aid and defense costs.

Chairman Doughton, Democrat, N. C., said today the House ways and means committee, which originates revenue bills, would wait to look over the March income tax receipts before tackling any general tax legislation.

Some committee members said they might not feel much like starting on a hunt for more taxes unless the President sent a special request, perhaps suggesting some sources of revenue. But Mr. Roosevelt does not expect to make taxes the subject of a message.

Various committee members also said it might not be a bad idea to pare down by 4 per cent the $10,000,000,000 of appropriations contemplated for the year starting July 1.

That would take up the tax increase which the President proposed.

Mr. Roosevelt said in his budget message that "drastic new taxes" would be unwise. He added that new levies should be selected carefully to avoid "repressive effects upon purchasing power."

There probably will be plenty of argument but little concerted opposition to the President's proposal that so-called "nuisance" taxes be continued. They impose excise levies on cosmetics, admissions and many other items and will expire next June and July unless re-extended. Congress has been renewing some of them for years.

Secretary Wallace and several members of the House agriculture committee have advocated the use of processing taxes to help finance additional help for farmers.

Three Captured In Seizure Of Drug Fortune

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)-A blazing waterfront gun battle in which a policeman was wounded early today climaxed a three-and-a-half month undercover investigation and resulted in the capture of three men and a $50,000 fortune.

More than 50 shots were fired in an exchange between two dozen police and the trio who opened fire when they were surprised on a Brooklyn pier.

Patrolman James Bute of the harbor squad was wounded in the hand, and a police-laden automobile formed the trap spring when the narcotics were landed from the Italian freighter Ida.

Three others were taken from the freighter when it docked at Hoboken, N. J., and were brought here for questioning by Assistant District Attorney Paul Seiderman, head of the Brooklyn district attorney's racketeers bureau.

The three captured after the pier fight were booked as Salvatore Luisi, 22, a waiter; Luigi Esposito, 42, bar and grill operator; and Frank Viscolino, 49, longshoreman, all of Brooklyn. They were charged with smuggling and possession of opium.

SERIAL STORY SKI'S THE LIMIT BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

CAST OF CHARACTERS SALLY BLAIR—heroine. She had everything that popularity could wish for, except...

CHAPTER XXIII There had been nothing for Corey to do but to follow Sally. Corey never refused a dare, which was practically what Sally's remark, "You're not afraid to go, are you?" had meant.

He was surprised when they approached him, he did not betray it. His color, underneath the smooth deep tan, might have deepened a bit, but his gray eyes were grave and steady.

"We came to congratulate you on winning," Sally said, holding out her hand. "How are you, Dan?" There was no need to ask that, either. Sally's dark eyes had never been brighter, she had never looked more lovely.

Which world do you mean? Sally wanted to ask. Mine, or yours, Dan? But she knew the answer to that question. She knew now that Dan would never come back. He had not belonged in her world. He had been right in going away.

other questions too. This meeting, instead of convincing her that she could put Dan out of her heart, had shown her that she still believed in him, whether he ever believed in her again or not, that she could never forget him.

How could she go on pretending now? How could she be the glamour girl, always laughing and gay? How could she live through these next days knowing Dan was so near, yet lost to her forever, knowing she must go on being the Sally Blair who wore Corey's ring on her engagement finger?

That next day Corey and Sally had planned to climb to the top of one of the highest trails. The sky was as serene, as azure as the day before. But far to the north was one slate-colored patch. The air hung too heavy and charged.

"Do you think there's any chance of a storm?" Corey asked, a bit dubiously. "Maybe we'd better not try it today, Sally."

"Why not?" Sally's dark eyes challenged the sky. She wasn't afraid of danger. She wanted, if anything, to force it, to lose herself in a new fight.

"Check," Corey said, using their old phrase for agreement. He wouldn't refuse to go just because of one gray cloud.

"Blizzard!" Sally laughed. "Why, the sky's as clear as a bell. We don't mind a little snow, Dan! Even though we don't belong in this world." There was bitterness as well as irony in her tone.

"You don't know what you're talking about!" Dan returned roughly. He turned on Corey, "You're not going to let her go, are you?" he asked.

"Why not?" Corey said, as Sally had to him. "We're going up into the divide, above timber..."

Sally shrugged her shoulders beneath her plaid jacket. Why should Dan ask her not to go? It did not matter to him what she did. She would show him that she would not run away from his world. "We'll be all right," she said briefly. "I can't really see what concern it is of yours, Dan."

progress of Texas as a republic and dedicated to the study of the natural sciences and civic history.

To perform this mission effort is being made to obtain authentic exhibits and at the same time present their subjects attractively. Most of the exhibits were prepared from material gathered wherever obtainable by specialists at the University of Texas and these are being added to constantly.

In the division devoted to civic and patriotic history emphasis is being placed on exhibits of and about Texas and the southwest in an attempt to preserve the stirring history of the Lone Star State.

The building is 100 feet high, 125 long and 75 deep. It was designed for addition to wings on the north and south. Entrance for the east or west leads into Memorial Hall, which occupies a large part of the second floor.

The 17-year locusts, more correctly known as cicadas, since they are neither locusts, nor strictly 17-year insects, are so regular in their periodical appearance that they are known under specific brood numbers.

She knew that was a cruel thing to say. But she wanted to hurt him. If only she could make him suffer, as he had made her, make his heart ache.

"Perhaps you're right," Dan said. He flinched, a tiny white line drawn around the stern set of his nice mouth. He knew Sally again thought him a coward. He knew she meant he had forfeited the right to make what she did any concern of his.

Corey never had known Sally to be gayer than she was that day, full of fun and laughter, the way he liked her to be.

When they had had their fill gloriously tired with the good weariness of clean physical effort they stopped for time to rest. Corey built a fire beneath an icy waterfall; they had brought along steaks to broil, buns, a thermos of hot coffee.

"I guess our friend Reynolds is the one who is slightly crazy," Corey chuckled. "It's been a perfect day. I wouldn't have missed it for anything, would you, my sweet?"

"No," Sally returned. But somewhat absently. She had been watching that leaden patch in the north. While they picnicked it had spread to alarming proportion like thick gray felt.

"They're just night clouds beginning to gather," Corey refused to be alarmed. But even as he spoke a snowflake drifted down. Another followed, and then another. They scrambled to their feet. "I guess we had better get going," Corey agreed.

Now the snow fell with a smothering, soft persistence. The world was being blotted out before their eyes.

"We'd better not use our skis," Sally said. They would carry them over a cliff too swiftly! It would be safer to walk. She thought of the divide, if they missed the trail, that sheer drop of more than 5000 feet. No one could manage that jump and stop himself with a Christie, not even Dan.

They plowed ahead, heads bent, shoulders touching, not wasting breath in speech. The wind had come up. It flung itself against them, lashing their eyes, tearing the breath from their nostrils. The snow struck in sharp pellets with terrific force.

It seemed to Sally they had endured this torture for hours. The sky was almost black, the tangled underbrush weighted with deep snow, the tall pines bent in the wind's fury.

Suddenly Corey stopped; he sank down on a log. "Sally," he said. "I think we're lost. We've missed the trail."

Museum Will Be Opened On January 15

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—The first gift to the Texas Memorial Museum, which will be opened officially Jan. 15, was made by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933, when he tendered the pen used in signing the Texas Centennial bill, and will be known as exhibit No. 1.

Opening of the four-story central unit crowning a hill on University of Texas land and commanding a view of the nearby 40 acres, occurs 100 years after Austin's selection by a commission as the capital of Texas. The total cost of the first unit, including equipment, furniture, display cases and exhibits was approximately $600,000.

Senator Tom Connally, chairman of the United States-Texas Centennial legislative committee, says the Texas Memorial Museum is the first state museum to have been actually constructed out of federal funds.

This resulted from an allocation of $300,000 of the federal appropriation of $3,000,000 to the Texas Centennial for actual construction of the building. The 44th Texas legislature, allocated $225,000 of a corresponding appropriation, for collecting exhibits, preparing material and furnishing and equipping the museum. Other funds were raised through sale of Texas Centennial 50-cent pieces.

The cornerstone, laid Dec. 19, 1937, bears this inscription: "Texas Memorial Museum, sponsored by the American Legion of Texas. First unit erected by the regents of the University of Texas, directors of the museum, with appropriations made by the Congress of the United States and the legislature of the State of Texas, and funds raised by the American Legion Texas Centennial Committee, Inc., 1934-1938. Near the top on the west front will appear these words: 'Erected to commemorate the heroic period of early Texas history and to celebrate a century of independence and

Sacrament To Be Sermon Subject

"Sacrament" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Jan. 9.

The Golden Text is: "The bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life into the world" (John 6:33).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Feed the flock of God which is among you. . . . And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away" (1 Peter 5:2,4).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Whatever inspires with wisdom, Truth, or Love—be it song, sermon, or Science—blesses the human family with

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PETER COMMENDED AND REBUKED.

Text: Matthew 16:13-25.
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance.

"Peter commended and rebuked." How well that seems to sum up a great deal in the life of Peter, both during the days of his earthly association with our Lord as a disciple and as an apostle and founder of the Christian church.

Later on we shall find Peter, after his Master who commended and rebuked him in love had been crucified, commended by the greatness of the occasion when he preached at Pentecost but rebuked ignominiously in the vision on the housetop, as he was still in his pride and narrowness disposed to be a re-specter of men and to call unclean the things that God had cleansed. How much these words concerning Peter—"commended and rebuked"—might apply to us all for which one of us has not something to be commended and a great deal to be rebuked?

It is this nearness of Peter to ourselves that makes him so vital a study for Christians today, and that crumb of comfort from Christ's table, feeding the hungry and giving living waters to the thirsty" (page 234).

makes these lessons so incisive and helpful in establishing our own faith and vision. Here in our lesson we find Peter making the great confession of his belief in Jesus as the Christ, or the Messiah, the son of the living God.

The words in which Jesus replied to Peter have been the occasion of a great controversy in history and in some measure a division of the Christian church. The Roman Catholic church interprets these words with considerable literalness and establishes its authority upon the succession to Peter as the first bishop of the Christian church, the man to whom Jesus committed the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven. Protestants interpret the words in a more spiritual and mystical sense.

They point to the fact that almost immediately afterwards Jesus rebuked Peter with the startling words, "Get thee behind me, Satan." They take the whole passage as one, and they regard as the rock upon which the church is built not the weak and impulsive Peter but the Peter of the moment of that great confession and the faith that Peter expressed. "They point to the fact that it is by the words and acts of the disciples of Jesus that the Kingdom of Heaven is advanced or retarded, and that, much as Christians might wish to be relieved of the responsibility, they do by their own words and actions bind or loosen it. Into these controversies the teacher cannot very well go, but they cannot be altogether ignored for they have had historical reality.

Perhaps we could give altogether too much importance to questionable interpretations. The one thing that is sure is that no church on earth—no matter what its name or its profession—will, in truth and reality, represent the Kingdom of Heaven on earth except as the Kingdom of Heaven is embodied in its life and its teachings. The great truth concerning Christians and Christianity is that "if any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of this." In all church and in all creeds wherever men have found the manifestation of God and have yielded themselves in devotion and consecration, the Kingdom of Heaven has become established in their hearts and in their relationships.

Why did Jesus rebuke Peter so keenly when Peter urged Him that He should not go to Jerusalem, where Jesus intimated that He was about to suffer many things?

We must remember that Jesus took on Him our human nature and that, as a man subject to temptation, Peter probably voiced the temptation that was in His own soul—to avoid this way of peril and duty. But Jesus did not hesitate. For Himself and for His disciples there was only the way of truth and duty. The test of discipleship was self-denial and willingness to bear the Cross.

Embargo To Affect Cattle Importation

McALLEN, Jan. 6 (AP)—Importation of Mexican cattle will be seriously affected by the embargo announced by the Mexican government, said Joe E. Pate, Hidalgo and McAllen ranchman, who imported several thousand head this year.

Pate has many thousand acres of ranching land leased in Tamaulipas state.

He has about 1,700 head of cattle being fattened in feeding pens at Hidalgo, the last being brought across the Reynoso-Hidalgo bridge about two weeks ago. The cattle are usually lean from their long stay in Mexico and the drive from the Pate ranch to the river. They finish out rapidly, however, on the diet of dehydrated citrus peel and grain silage fed them at the pens. Most of the cattle will go to the Kansas City livestock market.

Pate explained that a favorable exchange rate, now 4.80 pesos to $1, and low import duties had served to make cattle-raising in Mexico and finishing in the United States a thriving business. He said he had several thousand cattle on his Mexican ranch awaiting movement to the border.

A Washington scientist has reported that removal of portion of the top of the brain will eliminate annoying variations of the little toe without harmful reaction.

Clovis Camera Fans To Enter Photo Salon

CANYON, Jan. 6.—Several amateur photographers of Clovis, N. M., will send pictures to the first annual Panhandle-Plains Salon of Photography here January 18-31, for exhibit in the art room of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum.

"Pictures for this salon already are arriving at the office of Olin E. Hinkle, salon director.

First to submit prints were Duffy Sasser of Clovis, whose subjects are a dilapidated old windmill and a cowboy smoking a cigaret. These prints were submitted in standard form, mounted on 16-20 cardboard of a light shade. The deadline for submitting prints is January 15. The salon jury will begin its work on that date, picking the prints adjudged worthy of display. A special salon seal has been made up, and each print exhibited will bear this coveted seal.

The salon is being sponsored by the department of art at West Texas State College. All amateur photographers of the plains are being invited to write to the salon director for an entry blank and other information. There is no entry fee.

Here Are a Few Precautions Everyone Should Take

- When switches or lighting fixtures become worn and fail to operate properly one should not attempt to replace or repair them. It is best to call a licensed electrician who is equipped to do this type of work correctly.
- For safety sake see that all extension cords used on irons, toasters, percolators and other appliances are in good condition. It is dangerous to run extension cords under rugs or across the room to connect with lamps, radios, or other devices. Additional outlets cost little.
- A fuse is a protective device. They should not be too large. When one burns out it should be replaced. It is convenient to keep a supply of proper size fuse plugs on hand. . . . Electrical makeshifts are dangerous.
