5,000 Loyalist Women Enlist For Tough War Jobs

BARCELONA, Jan. 20 (AP)—Women are volunteering at Barcelona recruiting stations at a rate of 600 a day to enlist for tough jobs behind the lines as the warfront closes steadily in on Barcelona.

Chattering, smiling, and eager, they go noisily through the formalities of signing up for work as bicycle messengers, chauffeurs, cooks, teachers and nurses.

Some will clean the soldiers' barracks and wash their laundry. Others will enter uniformed units such as the carabinieri, customs guards or assault government police.

About 5,000 women between the ages of 18 and 50 already have enrolled for soldiers' pay 10 pesetas (45 cents) a day and rations. They are under orders of the defense ministry.

Enlistment is voluntary. As newly mobilized men were reporting at recruiting stations today, insurgent bombers circled over Barcelona but flew off without attacking.

The new male recruits were equipped for immediate service at the fronts or in fortifications brigades. Their uniforms were the clothes they reported in—business suits and overalls—but they shouldered rifles, donned knapsacks and were assigned to their corps.

The city preserved its outward calm although well aware that insurgent forces steadily were drawing their steel web tighter within a 40-mile circle.

Prison Chaplain Locked In Death Row In Arizona

FLORENCE, Ariz., Jan. 20 (AP)—The Rev. Lambrecht E. Hancock, Protestant chaplain of the Arizona penitentiary, got locked in a death row cell five hours last because a new set of guards did not know his identity.

"You can't," screamed the Rev. Mr. Hancock, rattling the cell bars. "Keep me in here."

"Take it easy, fellow," a guard said.

"Let me out of here," demanded the inmate of "death row." "I'm the prison chaplain."

He was.

I Heard ---

That Chinch Barrett was eating of the top of the refrigerator today. It all happened when Chinch rode his pet three-year-old to the Mel Davis ranch the other side of LeFors yesterday afternoon. The 20-mile trip, made in four hours, was hard on both man and beast.—"The soflies," declared Mel.

Officials To Attend Austin Bond Hearing

A state-wide bond plan that is claimed will give additional relief to the ad valorem taxpayers of Texas will be considered at a special call meeting of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas, to be held in Austin on Wednesday.

Attending from Gray county will be County Judge Sherman White of Pampa, Commissioner Arlie Carpenter of LeFors, and Commissioner C. M. Carpenter of McLean. The three officials will leave here either Monday or Tuesday.

Under the plan it is proposed that the one-cent gasoline tax now going to the road board for the payment of county obligations should be fixed for a 25-year period.

If the one-cent gasoline tax is made permanent for a 25-year period, advocates of the plan claim that the state will have sufficient funds to pay all the principal and interest that the state is now eligible to pay and in addition will have sufficient funds to pay two per cent of the interest on ineligible bonds and all the principal of ineligible bonds, provided that the principal is made to mature in such years as will conform to the maturity schedule of existing indebtedness.

Revenues provided at first by the one-cent gasoline tax were not sufficient to pay all of the bonds eligible for the payment. Because of increased revenues and decreased requirement, the state was able to pay for the first time all that the present law permits it to pay in the year 1938.

For 1939, the year will end with a cash balance in the fund of $9,500,000.

Several months ago the attorney general handed down an opinion that stated that the law permitted the state to reimburse the counties for that portion of state air which the state was unable to meet in the years 1933-1937.

Bonds Posted In Y Tavern Cases

Bonds of $250 each for Johnnie Hart, Fern Durham, and Beatrice Albertson, and $1,250 for Bryan Camps, charged with illegal sale of liquor, were posted Thursday afternoon and the four released from county jail.

Those charged had been arrested in a raid by Sheriff Cal Rose and Deputies George A. Pope and John Hudson on the Y-Tavern, one and one-half miles south of Pampa on the Pampa-Lake, road, at 2:15 o'clock Thursday morning.

In the complaint filed in county court it was charged that liquor was sold and offered for sale for beverage purposes for human consumption on the premises known as the Y-Tavern.

Confirmation Of Hopkins Predicted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, predicted today that more than 20 votes would be cast against Senate confirmation and appointment of Harry Hopkins as secretary of commerce.

Barkley's forecast came as opponents of Hopkins continued their attacks on the former WPA administrator in an admittedly futile effort to prevent the confirmation, expected late in the afternoon.

Senator Holt (D-W. Va.), who yesterday assailed Hopkins' bonding of relief and frequently clashed with Barkley over charges of WPA political inactivity in Kentucky, turned today to an account of the Senate campaign expenditures committee's investigations in Pennsylvania.

The committee found evidence that it said substantiated some charges made by Senator Davis (R-Pa.) of political concern of relief workers in that state.

Babson Says Democracy Doomed Unless Spending Is Stopped

Taxes Going Up, Up

By ROGER W. BABSON
BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 20.—"I am convinced that public spending can never be stopped! This is the worst case of an economic, far-sighted—but defeated—public administration and our debt is a national disaster."

The "soak-the-rich" slogan of the politician has gone over with a bang. Only a small percentage of the voters realize that ultimately all taxes (except possibly inheritance taxes) are paid by the consumers of goods. Voters do not understand that all corporation taxes are handed along to them on retail price-tags. They do not stop to think that real estate taxes are concealed in their monthly rent.

Vested interests are built up in public spending just as in power companies, railroads, and chain stores. Some pressure groups will fight just as hard to keep on spending as other pressure groups will battle to retain water rights, electric franchises, and mail contracts. In a Fascist state, public spending can be controlled and even halted. In a Democracy, it constantly increases unless voters are people of high character. I believe that current public extravagance is today the most immediate of all threats to our personal liberty. It is surely

Housekeeping Project Aids 59 Families In Pampa In Two Weeks

They call it "rehabilitation." It's a long, awkward looking word but it means a lot.

Here's two examples of rehabilitation as effected by Pampa's WPA housekeeping aide project for the two-week period ending January 17.

These little boys have been changed from being considered the worst children in town. When workers on the housekeeping aide project began to care for them the boys swore like sailors, and used abusive language toward the women, at the food and any other thing that did not suit their feelings.

It took plenty of discipline to cope with the situation, a situation so bad that the neighbors had been telephoning the police every time the trio went on a rampage. One woman came to see the project superintendent about putting the boys in an orphan's home.

Woman Appreciative
The mother of the boys was unhappy at her work from which she would be called out at all hours of the day to come home and take care of her children. She could not pay enough to get a dependable person for this job. Now she is contented and appreciative of the work done by the women.

Story-telling, locking up in separate rooms, and some spanking were the methods used to correct the boys, who now show interest in having the women tell them stories, help mend a toy, or help them to make something. The discipline of the past is no longer needed.

Inspire Courage
A woman so discouraged that she would not eat, care for her children, nor take any interest in life has become a woman who is looking for a job, has her children in school and is planning to build a house.

All this was not accomplished in a day, but by visits of workers on the housekeeping aide project. One of the "spunkiest" workers made the first call. She told the discouraged woman to pull herself together, that the world owed her

Two Women In Cast Of WPA Play Tonight

A second presentation of the Pampa WPA's Progress Players productions will be given at 7:45 o'clock tonight when the play "A Midnight Fantasy" is presented on the stage of the city hall auditorium.

Two one-act plays were given by the players in the initial program, given on the night of December 15 at the same location.

Theme of the play tonight which is also an one-act drama is a contrast between the life of 1750 and 1939, with two persons Betty Woolridge and Helen Harris composing the cast.

Woody Woolridge is stage manager of the production and Roy Goodwin is electrician. Costumes are by Mrs. Ralph Rittenhouse.

A chink talk by Marvin W. Waldron and two songs by Edith Beckham will precede the presentation of the play tonight.

Two Arrested In Duncans Car Theft

DUNCAN, Okla., Jan. 20 (AP)—Two young men arrested here last night in a car loaded with guns and ammunition were held for further investigation today after Police Chief Jim Skilton said one of them declared he was a member of a gang of car thieves.

Skilton said the man who gave his name as Monroe Mason, 25, of Central City, Ky., told him the car they were driving was stolen from the Gattie Sanitary Board of Socorro, N. M.

The other man, who said he was Arthur Wilks, 24, of Indianapolis, maintained a stubborn silence, the police chief said.

Neither resisted, although their car contained a seven high-powered rifle, a sawed-off shotgun, and five pistols. All were loaded.

"You fellows got me with the goods," Skilton quoted Mason. "I want to take the rap for stealing that car in a federal pen, not Oklahoma. I've heard too much about your pen."

Inspector Lives To Face Wry Drivers

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20—Police Inspector H. W. Johnson turned professional pedestrian last night and lived to recount his experience to the dismay of several motorists.

Police engaged in a safety campaign tonight to discourage traffic violations requiring motorists to yield the right-of-way to pedestrians at marked intersections.

Inspector Johnson asked for volunteer pedestrians. His subordinates explained their uniforms would give them away and accused Johnson was a "wry" driver.

Sixty times he almost was, which is why 28 motorists had a better understanding of the ordinance and were willing to pay for the lesson with a $3.50 traffic fine.

'It's Me Again,' Writes Burglar

YORK, Pa., Jan. 20 (AP)—A robber making his second visit to a service station within a week took $9.94 from the cash register, then scribbled a note which he left behind for attendants. The note said "It's me again."

Next Tuesday Deadline In $100 'What's Fair Profit?' Contest

Army Proposes To Double Force In Canal Zone

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The army proposes to double its present force of about 13,000 in the Panama Canal zone to provide the adequate "peace garrison" which President Roosevelt urged in his $32,000,000 defense recommendations.

This authoritative disclosure was made today after army officers privately outlined to the House military committee the war department's plan to reinforce the vital waterway.

The present garrison is insufficient to man existing anti-aircraft and coast defense guns, the committee was told by Brigadier General George C. Marshall, deputy chief of staff, and George V. Strong, head of the general staff's war plans division.

Officials contended new weapons of this kind, more war planes, a highway that would extend the scope of the canal's defense far into the adjoining Republic of Panama—all provided for in the administration's arms program call for a force of at least 25,000 officers and men.

Mr. Roosevelt asked a special $27,000 appropriation for a reinforced garrison with $5,000,000 of the sum to be made available immediately to start work on new quarters.

In addition, he proposed that a portion of an 8,000,000 item for building seacoast defenses be allotted to Panama, along with funds for the strategic highway.

Congressmen were told yesterday that the United States share of the road would be about $1,500,000. Panama will pay about $3,000,000, as the road is to be a link in the inter-American highway extending through Mexico and Central America.

3 Women To Inherit Ruppert's Millions

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—Two nieces, Helen Ruppert Silbeck and Ruth Rita Silbeck, and Helen Winthrop Wevant were named chief beneficiaries of Col. Jacob Ruppert, millionaire brewer and owner of the New York Yankees baseball club, in his will filed for probate in county Surrogate's court today.

Col. Ruppert died last Friday after a protracted illness. He was 72. The estate has been variously estimated at between $30,000,000 and $70,000,000.

Under the terms of the will all the capital stock of the Ruppert Holding Corporation, which holds the stock of the Yankees club, is divided into three parts, one going to Helen Ruppert Silbeck, a second share to Ruth Silbeck and the third to Helen Winthrop Wevant, in trust, Helen Winthrop Wevant, the will said, is "sometimes known as Winthrop Wayne."

I Saw ---

A bunch of "old men" from the Rotary club pouring it on some "exes" in a practice game in the gym last night. On "exes" team were Claude Heiskell, Junior Foster, Omer Harrell, Glenn Dull and others. The Rotarians had Dingwall, Pumphrey, Hol Wagner, Key and Tom Herod. The Rotarians are practicing to play other civic club teams.

DO YOU WANT TO BE ALONE?

Some people are never satisfied unless they are surrounded by crowds and make their lives a constant series of social activities. While others are content to spend most of their time alone—with a good book or music for companionship. But it takes all kinds. On "exes" team were Claude Heiskell, Junior Foster, Omer Harrell, Glenn Dull and others. The Rotarians had Dingwall, Pumphrey, Hol Wagner, Key and Tom Herod. The Rotarians are practicing to play other civic club teams.

AUSTIN, Jan. 20 (AP)—Homer J. Leonard of McAllen today was named chairman of the important House of Representatives revenue and taxation committee by speaker R. Emmett Morse of Houston. B. T. Johnson of Fort Worth was appointed vice chairman.

Rep. E. H. Thornton, Jr. of Galveston will head the potent House Appropriations committee with Paris Smith of Bay City as his assistant, while the influential state affairs committee will be directed by Howard G. Harizing of Port Lavaca as chairman and B. J. Leyendecker of Laredo as vice chairman.

Jewish Hopes Threatened In Sudden Move

Loss Of Germany's Trade Held Up As Nazi Warning

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER.
BERLIN, Jan. 20 (AP)—Chancellor Hitler today shelved Dr. Djalmar Schacht, Nazi Germany's high-reclined money wizard, in a lightning move which thrust the great Reichsbank under control of the Nazi party.

The bank, which under the able hand of Schacht had retained comparative independence, was put under the presidency of rotund Walter Funk, minister of economics and number one barter salesman.

Only today Funk published a blast at the United States, asserting Germany would buy from the Balkans and Turkey the goods she used to get from America.

Just at breakfast time Funk received a letter from Hitler's new chancellor giving him three specific tasks.

The most important of these was Hitler's request that he transform the Schacht-controlled institution into a German bank of issue unconditionally subjected to the sovereignty of the state in conformity with national socialist principles.

The other two tasks given Funk—now Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goerring's right-hand man as director of the four-year plan—were:

To safeguard the "absolute stability of wages and prices and thereby continue to maintain the value of the mark."

To "enlarge the capital market for private needs."

The Reichsbank under the Daves plan was made into a semi-independent organization with foreign shareholders. Although foreign influence was eliminated by the decree of Feb. 10, 1937, the 62-year-old Schacht ran the bank on his own fashion and bit-n-gon into hot water with the Nazis over their huge expenditures and purposes for which the money went.

Schacht, who had been in the cabinet as minister without portfolio, was retained in the cabinet with unnamed "special duties."

Funk's appointment made viewpoint direct effect because Schacht has

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—Stocks moved in varying directions today as efforts to extend Thursday's late rally in the utilities met with considerable opposition.

There were a few favorites among motors, rails and specialties, but steel, aircrafts, coppers, oils and a number of other groups were a shade behind during the greater part of the proceeding.

Prices tilted a bit upward at the opening, but the list soon experienced a change of heart and ranged trends ruled thereafter.

Dealings never were especially lively even at the start. Transfers were around 500,000 shares.

Smoke Poisoning

Kills 3 Persons

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—Three persons including a 90-year-old woman died of smoke poisoning early today in a mysterious fire which badly damaged a four-story house in the aristocratic hill section of Brooklyn.

Police sought a prowler whose footsteps awakened a fourth member of the family, thus saving his life. The victims, all socially prominent, were Mrs. Amelia Clement, 90, widow of State Supreme Court Justice Nathaniel H. Clement; her son, George, 54, a graduate of Yale university in 1905, and the son's wife, Grace, 51.

Well, Maybe Life Really Does Begin At 40

"It's a young man's country," we carelessly say. "Youth will be served."

Not if the National Association of Manufacturers is right. There has been no decline in the percentage of industrial employment at the age of 40 since 1923, a survey by the N. A. M. indicated.

Not only that, but the association found that industry rates its older workers "very highly."

In 1938, the percentage of workers between 40 and 49 actually showed a gain. Of total employees reported, 20.43 per cent were in that age group. Even between 50 and 59, the older workers were still accounting for 10.43 per cent of total employment.

Is it possible to get a new job after 40? The same survey had returns from 750 companies indicating that workers of 40 and over added to the payrolls in 1937 accounted for 8.4 per cent of their total employment.

"Steadier," "more regular in attendance," "more pride and greater interest in their work," were some of the bouquets tossed at older workers by the companies reporting.

Any insurance company will verify that people live longer, on the average, than they used to live. Any social statistics will show that a greater proportion of the population each year is made up of older people.

Nothing could be more natural than to find great numbers of these people between 40 and 60 still engaged at productive work. But in the meantime what is happening to the multitudes of young people who leave school every year.

Many of them are finding it hard to get their first job. Some young men reach the age of 23 or 24 without ever having had a regular job or learned any trade.

The end of school, a couple of years of loafing, a year at a CCC camp, two or three or half dozen fiddling little jobs at which they learned no skill, nothing of value, and a young man is in his mid-twenties before he has a start. His grandfather was often a solid business man or a well-grounded workman at his trade by that time.

Life begins later today than it did for grandfather, but it also ends later. It is just another of the readjustments which apparently must be made in a changing world.

OUR BILL OF RIGHTS (Daily Oklahoman)

When the informed citizen speaks of Americanism he is referring to those phrases of our governmental principles of most other nations.

Our government's essential difference from the average old world government lies in the extraordinary safeguards it has provided for the rights of the individual citizen and the extraordinary efforts it has put forth to protect the rights of minorities.

And, as every citizen ought to know, it is the American bill of rights which provides protection for the citizen as an individual and protection for minorities of citizens. Of course, the first ten amendments to the federal constitution constitute what has come to be known as the bill of rights.

Strike those amendments from the constitution, nullify them, or ignore them generally, and little would be left of our boasted Americanism. Without that character of liberties the American would possess as little of the boon of freedom as the citizen of the most absolute autocracy on earth.

Hence the complete preservation of the bill of rights and the maintenance of its integrity is the first duty of the citizen and of the minority that yearns to remain free.

After 150 years of constitutional life it seems strange to us that the original constitution contained no bill of rights and it was nearly silent concerning the principles of individual and minority freedom.

But the omission of the bill of rights from the original constitution was not considered strange by the average American of 1787. It was not strange at all to the splendid patriots who wrote the constitution.

For the fathers of 1787 assumed that all people, all courts, and all agents of government would take the principles of the bill of rights for granted. It never occurred to them that any force whatsoever would attempt to ignore or nullify rights so recently vindicated on revolutionary battlefields and which in the main had been enjoyed by English freemen from the days of the barons and Runnymede.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life ---

By R. C. Hoiles

A COTTON RAISER DEFENDS QUOTAS. A farmer and reader from Higgins, Texas, says he feels that my remarks about marketing quotas are misleading or that I have not studied the farm problem.

He inquires, "Does Mr. Ford or Chrysler or General Motors keep their factories producing cars and trucks unless there is a ready demand for their products?" He further says, "The farmers are trying to set their quota on cotton and wheat so we can keep production where we will have a ready market for our crop."

Now, that is a very fair question. I have often heard the statement made that proring farm products was not different than stopping the manufacturing of automobiles when there was no demand for them.

I think the difference lies in the fact that anyone of the automobile manufacturers has a perfect right and freedom to continue to make automobiles if that individual believes that he can use his time and energy better in continuing to make automobiles than any other way. No one, of course, would contend that a man should be obliged to continue production when he thought society did not want what he was producing sufficiently to give him in exchange enough to reimburse him for his outlay.

I do not believe the advocates of prorate would contend for a minute that there should be a law, or that force should be used to prevent anybody from continuing to manufacture automobiles if he wanted to. And there is, of course, no one who would advocate that any producer of wheat or cotton does not have the right to discontinue if he feels his energies can be better used.

I tried to produce wheat in Alberta, Canada and decided to quit because I felt I could use my energies better otherwise. Of course, no one should have the right to compel me to continue; if they did, it would only be a form of slavery.

But when the advocates of prorate want a law passed that will prohibit any individual, whether he be at present a producer in the line or a newcomer, from producing anything that he desires to produce, that is an entirely different parallel from the automobile manufacturers, or anybody else voluntarily quitting, or retarding, production. One is liberty and the other is coercion and the exact opposite of liberty and the right of free initiative.

"BIRDS OF A FEATHER"

Roosevelt's selection of Murphy who sanctioned sit down strikes, for Attorney General, Hopkins for Department of Commerce and Frankfurter and Black for Supreme Court and Frances Perkins for Labor Director, certainly is evidence that "Birds of feather flock together."

No one has any belief that Hopkins has any qualifications at all for the Department of Commerce. He never had any experience in training labor how to be self-supporting.

As to the qualifications of Frankfurter, George Edward Sullivan a Washington attorney and writer on subversive activities for Catholic publications, points out some very unfavorable activities of Frankfurter. He says, "The Civil Liberties Union, under Frankfurter's name issued a leaflet containing the following statement:

"Laws purporting to prevent the advocacy of the overthrow of the government by force or violence are all violations of the right of free speech."

A statement like this issued by a man who was to be appointed on the Supreme Court, bench certainly shows that he has little respect for one of the corner-stones of the philosophy of democracy and of Christianity.

The selections that Roosevelt has made, prove the old statement that, "Birds of a feather flock together."

WINNING THE PEOPLE, NOT CONQUERING THE COUNTRY

Benjamin Caruthers quotes a newspaper dispatch as saying, "Japan learns that a conqueror must win more than the land, for the people make a country."

Caruthers further remarks that, "England had to learn this fact in Ireland, India and in her American colonies. That is what Soviet Russia is going to learn some day, for she has in the land millions of people who are not Russians."

A country must conquer the people as well as possession of the land before it can prosper. Even in the United States we are having difficulty with the control of our own internal affairs—witness the sitdown strikes, the inability of people to work without paying tribute to self-appointed dictators and the millions out of work.

Behind The News Of The Day

By JOHN T. FLYNN

That the farm program of the administration is marked for the scrap heap has been known by observers who have surveyed the nation during the past year. It has also been apparent that it would be succeeded by an adventure in price maintenance for farm products through the application of the two-price system.

Now a group of senators representing both parties and, indeed, both wings of both parties, comes forward with a new farm bill which will be pressed upon Congress. This bill embodies the two-price idea.

Last fall, during the political campaign, when discontent raged high in several states, Senator Vandenberg went to Kansas and preached the doctrine of "An American Price on the Homestead of the Free."

ELIMINATION OF DETAIL. The new plan proposes to get rid of the immense amount of red tape and hard conditions which the A. A. imposes on its beneficiaries. This is a plan to pass out the money without forcing the farmer to do very much.

The program is to divide the crop into two parts. One part represents the part of the crop which the farmer sells on the domestic market. The other is the part which will be sold abroad.

On the domestic crop the farmer will be guaranteed a price covering cost of production and this price will be insured to him by compelling dealers who buy it from him to pay the cost of production. The cost of such a boast is due to the bill of rights and to its complete preservation.

Liberty for the individual citizen received its constitutional sanction when the bill of rights was born and the liberty of the citizen will perish when the bill of rights has died.

History repeats itself: 1932—Frank Melton of Pineapple, Ala., leaves gas station for movie career; 1939—Dana Andrews of Houston, Texas, embarks on movie career after apprenticeship at a Valley gas station.

"Our mother, the stage"—as Helen Hayes called it few years ago in her clarion call to movie actors to come back to the stage—is still getting along without most of the movie actors who keep talking about going back.

As to the qualifications of Frankfurter, George Edward Sullivan a Washington attorney and writer on subversive activities for Catholic publications, points out some very unfavorable activities of Frankfurter. He says, "The Civil Liberties Union, under Frankfurter's name issued a leaflet containing the following statement:

"Laws purporting to prevent the advocacy of the overthrow of the government by force or violence are all violations of the right of free speech."

A statement like this issued by a man who was to be appointed on the Supreme Court, bench certainly shows that he has little respect for one of the corner-stones of the philosophy of democracy and of Christianity.

The selections that Roosevelt has made, prove the old statement that, "Birds of a feather flock together."

A NEW ATTACK ON INFANTILE PARALYSIS. An entirely new and ingenious attack on the problem of infantile paralysis offers promise for the future.

Stanley, of the Rockefeller Institute, and his co-workers have demonstrated that certain viruses lose their disease-producing powers when subjected to the effects of X-rays but retain their powers to induce resistance or immunity. This technique applied to the virus-cause of infantile paralysis may give us an effective vaccine against the disease.

Up to the present time we have labored under the dilemma of either employing a modified but living vaccine, which is ever likely to cause the disease (paralysis) in those vaccinated, or dead vaccines which have proven to be of very questionable value.

Stanley's findings, however, promise to open up the seemingly blocked avenues leading to the production of a safe and effective immunizing agent.

The idea of bombarding viruses with X-rays, and thus altering their disease-producing powers, is in itself quite enchanting. And yet the practice is in keeping with established techniques. The living virus vaccines now in use, those for example of small pox and of hydrophobia, are also composed of modified viruses.

In the case of small pox the modification of the virus is effected by its implantation and growth in the body of the cell (hence the old name cow pox). The virus of hydrophobia or rabies is modified by exposure to chemicals.

The altered virus is incapable of inducing disease, but is still capable of causing the individual vaccinated to develop resistance or immunity. Up to the present time (Stanley's work has gone beyond the promise stage) we know of no method for modifying the virus of infantile paralysis so as to render it both safe and effective.

Beyond this there is nothing to report as representing progress. On the contrary, the hard test of experience has exploded some of our hopes. There seems to be little value in the zinc sulphate nasal spray which—it was thought—would prove an effective chemical bar to the entrance of the virus of infantile paralysis into the human body.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

There has been a bit of a flurry in certain circles the past few days about a picture or two which appeared on Page One last Tuesday in which the jitterbugs, about which you have been hearing lately, were shown in action. At the time, we didn't think much about the propriety of running the picture. . . . Rather we looked at it from the point of view that probably what somebody once said about one-half not knowing what the other half was doing was true in this case, and that maybe it would be a good idea to let the half that didn't know what was going on, take a peep at these jitterbugs.

Now, it appears—our judgment on the thing was a bit warped. . . . However, we still hold to the opinion that one of the best methods by which to kill something off—if it isn't right—is to give it a dandy public airing. . . . So, it is just possible that the young folk around these parts may come to the conclusion, after looking at the silly jitterbugs in these pictures, that the idea is a bit loco and make up their minds that they would not want to appear in such poses if that is the way the dizzy dance really sizes up in a photographer's lens.

On top of that argument, there are many persons who would not believe that goes on of that sort actually existed if they didn't have photographic proof.

College news is often of a sensational or ridiculous nature, and one must be a publicist to get the news to uncover the reasons for all the horseplay. . . . Outside of the fact that youth is youth, there is generally an underlying motive for its seeming insanity. . . . Example: the election of branny John Brennan, 200-pound football player, as queen of the University of Michigan ice carnival.

Why should the students vote on a griddle with hundreds of nice co-eds walking the campus? It looks like a publicity stunt. . . . But, no, Mr. Brennan just now out Miss Marian Phillips, a cute freshman dish. And it seems Miss Phillips once wrote an article entitled, "Why I Hate Men," listing 80 reasons for her attitude. . . . Pretty girl. . . . Does not like men. . . . Ah, there it is!

The Capital Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Jan. 20 (AP)—In the opinion of former Gov. James V. Allred, the state never should have gotten so far behind with building at institutions for the insane that many insane persons for years have been kept in jails.

Discussing the housing situation at the institutions for the insane, he said the state should "always keep abreast of the growing number of patients."

The state board of control believes that with completion of the current building program by next Aug. 31, end of the present fiscal year, the jails can be emptied of their mentally-afflicted inmates.

Can he take it? More than one member of the Legislature asked the question as the general session began and the outcome of the administration of W. Lee O'Daniel was discussed.

They were referring to criticism which the new governor is bound to receive. Some time ago, O'Daniel said in Fort Worth he had heard the Legislature was preparing to roast him but he thrived on criticism.

The consensus among some members and observers at the session's close was that O'Daniel would have ample opportunity to demonstrate his ability to absorb criticism. They recalled his appearance before the state Democratic convention in Beaumont last September when he was booed from the rostrum, an unprecedented thing in Texas political annals.

Many members apparently were sincere in their professed intentions of giving O'Daniel the fairest sort of chance to make good. It was plain from off the record remarks that others would not miss any chance to strike at weaknesses O'Daniel displays.

Allred admitted, while chatting about his four years as governor, that criticism rank

My guess is that 75 per cent of the voters have no knowledge of the multitude of hidden taxes they pay.

The Washington government has spent $22,000,000,000 in the last ten years. Being only the World War...

Just for illustration, let us take a family which earns $37 a week, $150 a month, or $1,800 a year.

The average family probably spends $80 per month for rent. Of this amount, $7.50 per month, or $90 per year, is for local taxes.

All told, this average family—which owns no real property and thinks it pays no taxes—forks over $230-$240 of its annual income of $1,800 for hidden taxes.

Yet, the members of this family kid themselves into thinking that they pay no taxes. They dismiss a flagrant misuse of public funds by some comment such as this: "Well, let 'em spend, Rockefeller can afford it!"

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 20 (AP)—Charges of federal usurpation of state sovereignty rang through the Oklahoma State Senate as administration forces pushed through a resolution asking Congress to delay work on the $56,000,000 Denison, Tex., dam project.

The senators approved the resolution, 28 to 10, after hearing assertions that waters backed by the dam would inundate whole towns in Oklahoma, flood thousands of acres of fertile farm lands, and destroy communications.

Senator John Macdonald, of Durant, who represents a county in the vicinity of the project, declared the federal government was ready to compensate the state for all damages.

Pampa Noses Out Bucks And Enters Meet

Wrestling Semi-Final To Feature Tough German

Another of the rough, tough types of grappler will make his first appearance on a Pampa mat Monday night at the Pampa athletic arena where Cliff Chambers is staging a light heavyweight elimination tournament. The newcomer is Dutch Aultman of Berlin, Germany, one of Herr Hitler's toughies.

Whether by accident, or intentionally, Chambers has matched Aultman with Abie Freeman, Bronx Jew, in the semi-final, 30-minute time limit or one fall to win. While Aultman admits he is rough and tough and is out to win anyway possible, Freeman would rather wrestle. Freeman has been known to get mighty rough, however, and does point to him getting that way against Aultman.

Headline attraction will be a scientific master-piece between Frankie Hill and Jus Banaski. That is unless one or both turn from their favorite style of grappling. Hill and Banaski gave top exhibitions of wrestling in sending wild Tiger Billy McEwin back to the bushes. They showed streaks of breaking from the straight and narrow when the opposition got a little too rough, but against scientific grapplers both stayed within the rules.

Opening the card at 8 o'clock will be Steve Netry, the Miami flash, and wild Tiger Billy McEwin. Netry to date has been clean and scientific while McEwin has been anything but a gentleman in his tactics. Whether or not Netry will meet the tiger, at his own game will be known Monday night and not before because Netry has made no statement.

Finland Votes Five Millions For Olympics

HELSINKI, Jan. 20 (AP)—Most of the people around the world may not be thinking very much about the 1940 Olympic games right now, but a great many in this picturesque Finnish capital are.

Parliament was voted a budget of 200,000,000 Finnish marks (approximately $5,000,000) for support of the games and the city has subscribed another 100,000,000 Finnish marks.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate 160,000 guests daily during the spectacle, which is scheduled from July 20 to August 4, 1940. Fully half of the spectators are expected to come from foreign countries and committees already are busy considering housing problems. Hotel facilities will be hopelessly over-taxed. Private houses, apartments, schools and even tents will be used.

Most of the athletes will be quartered in an "Olympic village" in a wooded area of the suburb of Kapyla. Contracts for 29 three-story houses providing some 2,500 rooms have been let to a building society which after the games will lease the houses as private dwellings.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Weir Barbers, led by Clyde Ives, a new team member, won three straight games from the Humble Oilers in Class B games Wednesday night at the Berry alleys. Gunn-Hinerman took two out of three other games.

Borger led 10 to 7 at the half but Panhandle pulled in front 17 to 15 late in the third quarter. It was a see-saw affair until near the close Sterling made a pretty basket to put the Panthers in front. Not to be outdone, Davis of Borger shot from 'way out and made the winning two points.

Borger's second string won an 18 to 10 game from the Panther seconds.

Lineups:
Panhandle: Slagle and Adams, forwards; Sterling, center; Cox and Walters, guards; Dennison, sub.
Borger: Davis and Watkins, forwards; Raber, center; Duke and Williams, guards.

Borger Noses Out Panthers In 20-19 Tilt

PANHANDLE, Jan. 20—A field goal in the last 50 seconds of play gave the Borger Bulldogs a 20 to 19 win over the Panhandle Panthers here Tuesday night. With five seconds to play Adams of Panhandle missed a free shot that could have tied the score.

Galento Kayos Brescia In 1:41 Of First Round

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 20 (AP)—Round Tony Galento is back in the good graces of practically everybody to 'ay, his recent lapses forgiven by the fans and his services eagerly sought by Promoter Mike Jacobs, the man who makes or breaks fighters.

Mike was among the 10,000 awed spectators at the Newark armory last night when Tony knocked out Jorge Brescia, the angular Argentine, in 1:41 of the opening heat, and he broke all existing records in reaching Tony's side and asking him how he would like to meet Lou Nova next March 10 in Madison Square Garden.

The exultant Tony, between proud proclamations that he hadn't had a single beer all day, told Mike nothing would please him more.

"I'll knock Nova out for you, and then get me that Joe Louis," he crowed.

Only one thing stands in the way of a Galento-Nova scrap—the little fact that Nova has signed to fight Max Baer on May 25. Jacobs is willing to take a chance on Nova getting licked by Galento if Nova is. The next move is up to the promising young Californian.

Jacobs had planned on a Galento-Tommy Farr match, but Tommy's manager, Joe Jacobs, flatly turned him down after the gallant Galento's mighty licks to the body made Brescia fold up.

"Look at the way we nearly murdered that guy," yelled Joe. "Why should we fool with a second rater like Farr? Give us a chance and we'll stop Joe Louis for you before the summer's over."

Whether Tony's that good still is a question. The feeling persists that a man as devoid of a defense as a beer merchant has no business in the ring with a sharpshooter like the champion.

So far as the naked eye could detect, Brescia did his best to stave off Tony's rushes and to stand up under the blows that smacked into his middle. The finish was a terrific lull under the heart that sent the big Argentine to his knees, where he rested and grimaced like a wrestler as he was counted out. Galento's admirers nearly tore the house down.

Harvesters And Briscoe Play Today

Unexpected, stiff opposition was encountered at White Deer last night, but the Harvesters finally came through for a 39 to 24 victory. Pampa trounced the Bucks 27 to 18 on the local court several weeks ago. The Harvesters reserves lost last night to the Buck subs.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Harvesters will meet Briscoe in their opening game in the Shamrock tournament, and it looks as if the Pampa cagers are headed for another show-down with Quail whose quiet Coach Odus Mitchell described as the best team he has played this season. The Harvesters noed out Quail in the Mobeetie tournament finals last Saturday night.

The Bucks proved last night that they figure strongly in the final reckoning when the district title is at stake here in February. Last night, they had the stuff to illustrate why they whipped LeFors and other good teams.

The Bucks led 14 to 12 at the half, and Pampa had a bare 22 to 19 lead at the three quarter mark. A fourth period rally refrigerated the tilt for the mower-downers. Grover Lee Heiskell was favored by the gods of the hardwood. He was the Pampa hot-shot, and couldn't miss the basket. The ball sizzled from his fingers as he bucked from every angle. In all he made 19 points. Andis chalked up 6, Miller 1 and Dunaway 4.

A point in Pampa's favor last night was the fact that Seitz, forward, and Moor, guard fouled out. But before he went Seitz dumped 15 points to the Bucks. He scored twice. Hawkins five points, Crum-packer one and Dacus one.

Senators Depending On Left Handers

BELLEAIR, Fla., Jan. 20 (AP)—Left-handed batters will decide the fate of the Washington baseball club this coming season. Owner Clark Griffith said here today.

Taking time out from a golfing vacation, the veteran baseball manager a probable starting lineup shot through with youth. Only Buddy Myer, the second baseman; Rick Ferrell, the catcher, and two or three of the pitchers have been in the big time very long.

"I'll have young Jimmy Wasdell at first," Griffith said. "Jimmy's up from Minneapolis. Only a kid of 20 or so but he's got the makings."

"At short we'll have Cecil Travis, who's only 24. Buddy Lewis at third is about 21. George Case in center field is just a kid."

"These are all great young ball players with their future ahead of them, but of course just what they will do as a team won't be shown until the season gets under way. We think our prospects are bright."

'Pepper' Martin Drives Tractor On His Farm

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 20 (AP)—A shiny new tractor wheezed to a halt in the corner of a field still spotted with snow.

John L. "Pepper" Martin, the Wild Horse of the Osage, slid out of the driver's seat. He surveyed his latest love, a rich bottomland farm just a hop, skip and jump from Oklahoma City.

"Yeh, we bought this farm last fall," said Pepper. "It's going to be my insurance for tomorrow."

But the stubby St. Louis Cardinal veteran declined to estimate how soon he thought "tomorrow" the day his stout legs and sharp eyes will be at work.

"I'm 34 years old and next season will be my tenth year in the majors," he offered. "But I can still run like hell."

"I've got a good foundation," and he patted one of his thick, muscled legs. "That's what comes from eating plenty of corn bread and beans when you're young."

Pepper headed the tractor and plow into a shed.

"Boy, this is the life. I didn't know plowing with a tractor could be so easy. Sure is fun. Shucks, there's nothing like watching things grow."

Senior League Another Minor Says Grayson

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

At Simmons announces with the utmost confidence that he expects to play five more years in the National League.

And the old American League batting champion probably will provide the creaking underpinning can stand the chill of the Boston Beehive's blustery left field.

A score or so of unwanted American Leaguers now are making the National the elder wheel in more ways than one.

The Bees required hitting and the Giants needed a first baseman with a punch and both probably fortified themselves with Simmons, who was peddled for $3,000, and Zeke Bonura, who came considerably higher, at the guess is $20,000. Bonura being waived out of the younger circuit.

Simmons appears to have a number of long hits left in his aged system, for in compiling an average of .302 with Washington, he manufactured 21 home runs, playing half his campaign probably while they are hard to get, and hit in 95 runs. Between them, Simmons and Bonura, who batted .289, clouted 43 homers and accounted for half of the Senators' runs batted in.

LUKE SEWELL JOINS OLD GENTLEMEN OF BROOKLYN

Catcher Luke Sewell's switch from the White Sox to Brooklyn is something in the way of additional evidence that the eminent author, Thomas Meany, was right in that the National really is another minor.

American Leaguers who lose that step don't go to the minors any more. They go to the National League.

After a profitable campaign with the Cubs, Tony Lazzeri, who helped the Yankees to so much world series money, moves into Brooklyn, which also has Catchers Swell and Detroit Ray Hayworth, American League castoffs, and is bringing up two more, Pitcher Whit Wyatt and Fly-chaser Fred Slingo. As a matter of fact, the Dodgers' shortstop and new manager, Leo Durocher, broke in with the Yankees.

With the Cubs last season, outfielder Carl Reynolds and Pitcher Jack Russell further demonstrated that the senior circuit was a fountain of youth for American League discards.

War Admiral Without Kurtsinger Only New Thing At Hialeah Track

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Writer

HIALEAH Park, Jan. 20—Another winter racing season is in full blast as gorgeous Hialeah Park swings into full stride to remain until March 4.

It's the same Hialeah amid the beauty of blooming bougainvillea and waving palms, and with the flaming fireballs, graceful black and white swans, and his floating lazily about the sparkling waters of the infield lake.

Five terraces have been constructed fronting the grandstand with a capacity of 300 persons each, and a new field stand accommodates 500.

Otherwise the only thing new about the place is War Admiral without Charley Kurtsinger. It is reported that Samuel D. Riddle and his veteran trainer, George Conway, were dissatisfied with the ride Kurtsinger gave the Admiral in his celebrated match race with Seabiscuit at Pimlico.

To some, Kurtsinger appeared nervous at the start of the special, and some suspect that as a result the Admiral did not get the encouragement and ride needed to win.

War Admiral's defeat by Seabiscuit still rankles Riddle and Conway, who are far from convinced that they have not the best runner.

Baer Not As Eager To Catch Louis As Nova Is To Corral Ex-Champ

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 20—Some may give Maxie Adiebert Baer the benefit of the doubt, but the erstwhile Butterfly Butcher Baer is as wrong as ever when he says that a good share of the ringworms are not convinced that he quit to Joe Louis.

Baer is east again . . . as gib as ever.

Although he has had little to do with anybody other than No Hit Tommy Farr since his miserable performance against Louis more than three years ago, Baer still has an exaggerated opinion of his bucks office appeal.

He gives a strange reason for this supposed magnetism.

"Nobody knows for sure what I'll do in the ring," he says.

"Louis and Mike Jacobs know that nobody'll draw in a championship fight like Max Baer."

The ex-champion goes on to say how he'll manhandle Louis in another trip, but despite his talk and professed nonchalance he isn't half as eager to catch the Brown Bomb as Lou Nova is to corral him.

Baer is going to tackle Nova in May, when the orchestra leader's bright boy can do the trade a good turn by relieving it of the danger of another Louis-Baer affair.

FOOTBALL HERE TO STAY AND NOT TO BE EXPORTED

American football is here to stay and not to be exported.

So say former college athletes who played between themselves in Paris, Lyons, Marseille, Bordeaux, Norbonne, and Toulouse.

The French had no idea of what was going on.

They had no one to root for, yet jammed the stadiums.

"If we hadn't given them a lot of hipper-dipper stuff I don't believe they would have stayed in the parks," asserts little Warren King, the Dartmouth man. "They loved the Statue of Liberty, reverses, end runs, and spinners. . . had no use for straight plays. The Statue of Liberty was their favorite."

But all hands are certain that American football will not be begun in earnest overseas.

Harvesters To Shamrock Meet

SHAMROCK, Jan. 20—Widespread attention of coaches, players and fans is being attracted to the Shamrock annual basketball tournament which will be held here Saturday. The best teams of the area, both boys and girls, have entered and the prize list includes over $100 in trophies and individual awards.

Trophies will be awarded to both winners and runner-ups in four divisions, as both boys and girls championship divisions will have impressive awards. The all-tournament quietest and sexiest will each receive an individual award. The boy showing the best sportsmanship will be given a special award as well as the most attractive girl taking part in the tournament.

A special added attraction, according to Coach G. B. Rush, manager of the tournament, will be the free throw contest with trophies for the winners both in boys and girls divisions.

Some of the best teams in the Panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma have entered. Among the boys teams that have attracted attention this season are the fast Pampa Harvesters, who last week defeated the great Quail team in the finals of the Mobeetie tournament, the Hollis Okla. Bears, winners of last year's tournament, and a strong aggregation from Turkey.

Girls teams from Mobeetie, Sam-norwood, McLean, Canadian, Briscoe, Shamrock, Kelton and Alareed will participate in the tourney. The Mobeetie sextet has already won three tournaments this season and was runner-up in their own tourney last week, being defeated by the strong Happy girls in the final game of the event.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—Ed Barrow's first official act as president of the Yankees was to receive the press in his shirt sleeves. . . Storm warning: The old Johnny Evers-Rabbit Maranville combination is back together at Albany and the other Eastern league clubs had better look out. . . Joe DiMaggio is having his picture taken these days with Dorothy Arnold, the actress, to whom he once was reported engaged.

Umpire George Barr conducts the original school for what some meanies call robbers and blind men. . . He claims no other school has approached the percentage of success attained by his products and we don't doubt it. . . Last year he graduated a guy named William H. Tuff of Rugby, S. D., and another guy named George Ruff of East St. Louis, Ill. . . Both found jobs in the Northeast Arkansas league where they were paired as a team. . . So, ladies and gents, we give you as today's umpires—Ruff and Tuff.

Earl Averill is reported headed from Cleveland to Detroit in exchange for a stack of greenbacks that would make even Tom Yawkey look twice. . . Davis Cup entries are lagging badly. . . What touched a lot of people at the Ruppert funeral was the presence of Catcher Joe Glenn when the Yanks traded down the river to St. Louis last fall. . . Although no longer a Yank, Joe came up from Dickson City, Pa., for a final tribute. . . It cost $60,000 per day to operate the Santa Anita race track and a cool five grand just to open the gates of the Yankee stadium.

Baylor Will Play Nebraska Oct. 21

WACO, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Baylor Bears will play Nebraska, Oklahoma Aggies and Centenary in addition to their six Southwest Conference opponents next football season.

The game with Nebraska will be played at Lincoln Oct. 21. The Oklahoma Aggies will be played at Stillwater Oct. 7 and Centenary at Shreveport, Nov. 18.

The Bears open with Southwest-ern at Waco Sept. 30, play Arkansas in their first conference game at Waco Oct. 14, engage the Texas Aggies at College Station Oct. 28, T. C. U. at Waco Nov. 4, Texas at Waco, Nov. 11, S. M. U. at Dallas Nov. 25 and Rice at Houston Dec. 2.

Dutch Meyer Will Talk At Panhandle

PANHANDLE, Jan. 20—Dutch Meyer, football coach, will be the principle speaker at a banquet honoring the Panther football squad Saturday night in the high school cafeteria. Connie Sparks, T. C. U. fullback and former fullback on the Panhandle team, will probably accompany the T. C. U. coach here for the banquet.

Moving pictures of games of the past season will be shown.

The home economics girls, under direction of Miss Mildred Aldredge, will prepare and serve the banquet.

Each person who purchases a ticket is entitled to take a football player as his guest.

Tigers And Irish Divide Cage Games

McLEAN, Jan. 20—The Tigers defeated the Shamrock Irishmen Tuesday night in the McLean ward school gymnasium, 21 to 17.

The score stood 8-8 at the half. Capt. Trimble was high point man for the Tigers, and Buice high point player for the Irishmen.

Tiger lineup: Capt. Trimble and Bond; Humphreys, Carpenter, Doolen, J. Cooke, Lee, B. Cooke; Irishmen lineup: Puetz, Howell, Buice, Sutterfield, Allen, Wilson, Griswold, Hanes.

The Tigerettes held the Shamrock girls in a close game until the final whistle. The game ended with Shamrock leading 13-10. J. Pennington was high point girl for Shamrock.

Tigerette lineup: Sitter, Batson, Young, Kramer, Gunn, Mann, Ted-dar, Colebank, Wade, Greer, Doane, Bailey, and Shelburne; Shamrock: Pennington, Besley, Ratchford, Purcell, J. Pennington, Purcell.

Chain Postal Card Drive To Support President

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 20 (AP)—A chain card campaign in support of a third term for President Roosevelt has been started in competition with a similar plan to oppose a third term.

Frank J. Maher, writer of a trade publication, said he had mailed cards to 15 or 20 friends urging that they send postal cards to the White House saying they were for a third term.

Boy Hunter Bags Two Deer in Succession

LLANO, Jan. 20. (AP)—The last day of the deer season ended luckily for Behrens Willbern, 12-year-old hunter of Llano, who, having gone through the entire season scoreless, managed to bag two bucks in succession while hunting on the ranch of his uncle, Mark A. Moss.

Young Willbern, rated as an expert shot, had several chances at deer during the season, but complained that his right foot began shaking just as he took aim. Having been chided by his family for his inconsistent marksmanship,

Rancher Uses Whole Log-Won't Cut Wood

MASON, Jan. 20. (AP)—Uncle Alf Reeves, pioneer Texan who ranches near Hext, is a mighty thrifty man. He won't even waste a chip.

Uncle Alf doesn't believe in cutting wood for his fireplace. He just brings in the whole log, be it 6 feet or 15 long. He sticks one end in the fireplace and builds the fire around it. The rest of the log extends out into the room. As the end of the log burns off, Uncle Alf shoves the rest up into the fire.

"How I've ever lived a lifetime with a man too lazy to cut wood is more than I can understand," grumbles Uncle Alf's wife of some 30 years.

"Why anybody would cut up a log and waste half the wood in chips, I don't know," Uncle Alf says with a knowing grin.

The two old folks spend many enjoyable hours sitting by the fire and arguing over the matter. So far, Uncle Alf's ahead. He's cut no wood.

West Gives O'Daniel Plan Cold Reception

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—Texas' sole representative on the tax-raising Ways and Means committee, while making a cold reception today to the transaction tax proposal of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.

Explaining his comments were based solely on brief reports received here of a proposal that might be altered considerably before and if submitted to the people for a vote. Rep. Milton West of Brownsville said:

"It looks like a lot of taxes.

"It appears on the face of it to be discriminatory against the Texas manufacturer.

"Texas manufacturers would have to collect 1 1/2 per cent tax from jobbers, while manufacturers outside the state would be exempt because a tax can not be placed on interstate commerce."

"A great percent of the tax would fall on the laboring class, as they account for the greatest proportion of all transactions."

Neither of the Texas Senators would comment on the governor's proposal.

Ropesville Adds Nineteen Families

ROPEVILLE, Hockley County, Jan. 20. (AP)—Nineteen families augmented the population of the Ropesville community projects here in the closing weeks of 1938. The project, embracing 16,000 acres and supervised by the Farm Security Administration, had absorbed 79 families before the arrival of the new families that occupied the 48 new farm units placed in cultivation last year.

The total population numbers 307, including four families of seven persons each and six families with six members each. The remainder range from two to five persons.

The first purchase on the project was 4,100 acres from the Ellwood estate in 1935. The acreage was divided into 33 tracts, or units, and equipped with houses, wells, windmills, barns, corrals and fences. In 1937 an additional 12,000 acres was bought. The farms range from 175 to 250 acres, including pasture.

Willbern started off on horseback the final day, and succeeded in reidentifying himself, just as he shot the first deer the second stick its head from the brush and he promptly made it a double. Each had six points.

How 14-Year Old Idaho Boy Invented Television Related

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—The stranger-than-fiction story of how a 14-year-old high school boy invented the basis for modern television went into the records of the monopoly investigating committee today.

The narrator was Philo T. Farnsworth of Philadelphia, who conceived and patented the first means of television broadcasting without use of moving parts.

New in his early 30's, the farm boy who had his idea "fairly well developed" when he was 13 told the committee that television service would be available "to the American home before very long" and would be superior to that now provided in England and Germany.

Farnsworth told how he obtained his first technical training at 12, when he was placed in charge of a farm lighting system in Idaho.

Within a year, he said, the rough idea for "electronic" television had taken shape in his mind.

In 1922, with only a "modest high school library" and a static machine in the high school physics laboratory to work with, Farnsworth continued, his "day dream" first took shape as an actual invention.

A year later, the slight mild-mannered youth said, the Farnsworth family moved to Provo, Utah, where additional laboratory facilities enabled the inventor to complete what has become the present system of television.

Within 18 months he had spent $9,000 advanced by other backers. Total development cost today, Farnsworth testified, has been in excess of $1,000,000, and investors have not yet received any returns.

SERIAL STORY

NO TIME TO MARRY

BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

Yesterday When Lance told Janet he had invented all of his savings in the lot and can hardly see his way out, Janet offers to postpone the wedding...

CHAPTER XII
NEVERTHELESS, because the old lady's cheeks were pink with excitement, Janet asked, "Why, what is it, Aunt Mary?"

"I'm not going to leave the Breckenridge, after all."
"I have been waited on by a special deputation, consisting of Mr. Sartorius, the owner of the building, and the house manager, and begged to remain. I gather, Aunt Mary interpolated dryly, "that the financial state of the nation has started what threatens to be a general exodus from the Breckenridge to cheaper dwellings. It seems that our residence has actual advertising value to the management."

"I don't believe it," Janet exclaimed. "But go on."
"and so," Aunt Mary continued, her black eyes dancing wickedly, "after a suitable period of coyness, I graciously allowed myself to be persuaded. Since Cynthia will not be here, I am to have a smaller apartment, with all my cleaning free of charge, at a rent somewhat less than I should have paid at the Avalon. It will be somewhat restricted, but there will be ample space for my best things."

"Well," Janet said. "So there is a Santa Claus, after all."
"You should have seen fat little Mr. Sartorius in the role. He fairly perspired with anxiety until I consented to stay. Well, if we're going to get all those notes of tomorrow we'd better be getting to bed."

JANET found sleep long in coming that night. She kept remembering things she was angry with herself for remembering—creeping, insinuating, hateful things: Lance's white, set face as he read the letter; Cynthia's marriage to Timothy Benton. His angry, "She doesn't really care for that roughneck." Snatches of conversation from Sylvia Grant's luncheon party, "You don't mean you'd never heard the Cynthia and Lance were as thick as thieves before you came home and grabbed him?" Cynthia's eyes as she cried, "Why, you little fool, you don't imagine it was Barney we wanted, do you?" But more hateful than all, those unguarded words Lance had tried too late to catch back over the dinner table this evening: "But I always thought your money was in—"

And only the day before Lance had professed surprise at learning that she had any money at all. Stubbornly she refused to allow her mind to weave the various threads into the pattern they seemed to want to form. Yet the odious memories would keep recurring in a vicious circle.

Recalling wedding invitations is not a cheerful business—nor returning wedding gifts. Janet went about it next morning with stony composure.

"But surely, Miss Janet, you ain't going to return all them lovely presents," Margy protested, aghast. "Anyhow, the wedding's only postponed, ain't it?"

"Rather indefinitely, Margy," Janet said.
Fortunately only a small fraction of the numbers of gifts she knew she would have received had yet appeared. One or two of them Janet hardly dared to look at—the Ming vase, and the two Meyers' etchings which she had already visioned hanging on either side of the stairway, a set of handmade tools for the fireplace.

And of course she mustn't forget to notify the friends who were still to entertain for her. She dreaded that most of all. So difficult to achieve just the shading of disappointment and happy confidence in the future that was the correct note for the circumstances! . . . Or was there a correct note? . . . Leslie Pugh would be the hardest to fool. Leslie was giving a dinner dance for her and Lance at the end of the week.

LANCE had suggested, and it had been decided—with some misgivings on Janet's part—to explain to those intimate friends who were entitled to some explanation that because of the uncertainty of business conditions, it seemed better to wait until the house was nearer completion. . . . "Because of course we can't go on living in a hotel forever, you know, Leslie," Janet finished.
Leslie wasn't exactly an intimate friend; but she had gone to the trouble of planning the dinner. "Well, I'm glad it isn't because the fair-haired boy was stuck in the stock market," Leslie said with her usual blurt impertinence. "There seems to be an unpleasant epidemic of that sort of thing. But anyhow, why give up the dinner? By the time your house is finished I may be in the poorhouse, myself; and I hear they don't throw very lively parties there. I'll tell you—we'll call it a postponement party. I'll bet it won't be the last one."
"I don't know what to say,"

Janet hesitated. "Perhaps Lance—"
"Anything is all right with Lance so long as it's a party," Leslie insisted. "And Cynthia will be back by that time. I had a card from her this morning. I'd meant to have Barney for her, but I'll take him and cut out some one else."

While Janet was still hesitating at the telephone, Lance dropped in on his way back to the office from a business call uptown. "Why not?" he asked with a shrug when Janet relayed Leslie's message. "The more we're seen out together right now the better. It's the best way to keep people from thinking we've actually had a row."

WHEN Janet had finished her conversation and hung up, Lance went on, "If I can land the prospect I've just been talking to, it may not be so much of a postponement after all."

"Who is it?" Janet asked.
"An old codger named Justin, who lives in one of those huge Mid-Victorian houses in the East End. He seems to have retired from active life some time ago—been traveling abroad—but there isn't any question that he's fairly dripping money. He's talking about building a house as a surprise for his wife."

"I've no doubt it will surprise the poor woman," Aunt Mary said tartly. "If there is any inalienable right, it's the right of a woman to choose the place she's going to have to keep house in."
"Oh, but please don't tell him that!" Lance smiled his most engagingly deferential smile.
Janet wished Lance could understand that being deferential to Aunt Mary only infuriated her.

"Anyhow," Lance went on, "she doesn't keep house. She's a confirmed invalid; and he thinks that when she comes home from the hospital, she ought to have more cheerful surroundings. What he needs is something with plenty of space and trees around it. . . . Gosh! I wish—"

He broke off, frowned intently at the opposite wall, and changed the subject.

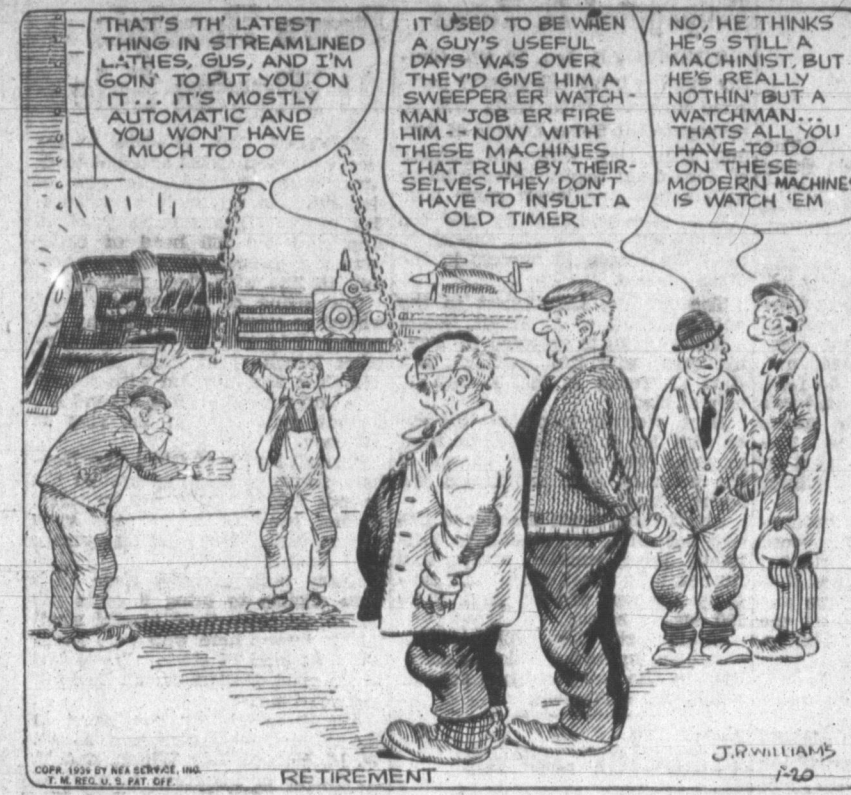

"By the way, Jan," he said when she left. "I'm afraid I can't get out tonight. I have some changes to make in the plans I drew for Mr. Justin. I'll call you before I go to bed, and let you know how things turn out. If I can knock the old boy's eyes out with my plan, it may mean something pretty good for me."

Every time the telephone rang that evening, Janet sat up expectantly. But although she read in her room until long after midnight, Lance did not call.

Ohio Pigs Offend Country Gentleman

MEDINA, O., Jan. 20 (AP)—Farmer Frank Harper's pigs offend country estate owners hereabout, and one of the country gentlemen was seeking to do something about it today. He erected a 35-foot-long, illuminated sign near a highway to advise motorists they were "entering Medina county, the home of the garbage-fed hog."

The estate owner, Elmer L. Eysen, then posted an overrated man with a shotgun to guard the sign.

Body of Writer Recovered From Bay in Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 20 (AP)—The body of Paul Shannon, 64, veteran Boston sports writer, was recovered early today from Pass-a-Grille Bay near here. Magistrate John T. Fisher said he believed Shannon fell into the water from a seawall on the bayfront and that it appeared to be a case of accidental drowning. Fisher said Shannon left his home last night to take a walk. Police man Joe Benefield saw him sitting on the seawall near his home. When he failed to return at midnight, Mrs. Shannon summoned police. Shannon for 35 years was baseball and sports writer for the Boston Post and had been coming here 15 winters to cover spring training activities of the Major league teams. The veteran writer was president of the Baseball Writers association.

Japs Study How To Be Happy In Cellar

TOKYO—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Japanese army men have been studying how to be happy though buried. As part of air-raid research they learned: If you go to a bomb-proof cellar during a raid, take a lemon, some light reading and don't move. The bomb-proof cellar is Japan's ace-in-the-hole in case her big cities, highly vulnerable to air attack, should be raided by bombers.

Vitamen A In Eyes Forecasts Colds

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Vitamen A in the eyes, which helps seeing at night, also forecasts colds and dry skin. The discovery of this link is reported by L. B. Pett, of the University of Alberta, Edmonton, Canada, in Nature, the official British science journal. Dr. Pett has a new, quicker way of testing eyes for Vitamen A and night blindness, or difficulty in seeing in dim light. He found that persons with deficient eye Vitamen A had 20 percent more colds within a month after the tests than those with adequate Vitamen.

Bride Of Groom, 65, Claimed By Another

SAN JOSE, Calif., Jan. 20 (AP)—The man who gave away five brand new automobiles to San Jose women because it "made them happy" and then took a taxicab to Reno to get married, returned here with his bride to run into a bit of confusion. Another man claimed the bride as his wife. Leslie W. Veitch, 65, wealthy retired San Jose resident was the groom in the Reno elopement. He said he and the former Ethyl M. Knight, 46, were married in Reno Monday after a $147.70 taxicab ride from San Jose. When the couple returned here, James Shifflett, a railroad conductor, appeared and asserted the bride was his wife.
