Mussolini Refuses To Give Inch Says French Statement

(By The Associated Press)

The German government disclosed today it had rejected a request by the United States for "special rights" regarding race or creed for American citizens in Germany.

At the same time, Reichsfuehrer Hitler was reported reliably in Rome to have stepped into British Prime Minister Chamberlain's appeasement visit by urging Italian Premier Mussolini to help keep Europe's peace for one year before demanding fulfillment of Italy's "natural aspiration."

DNB, the official news agency, declared that the United States, replying Jan. 11 to a German note of Dec. 30, held to its viewpoint but declared itself willing "to clarify through consultation individual cases at issue."

Reports of Hitler's message to Mussolini came from informed German sources as Chamberlain turned from his talks with Il Duce to pay respects to Pope Pius XI, and as results of the premier's conversations were being relayed to the United States and French ambassadors to Rome.

The Fuehrer's reported request was interpreted as indicating that he was not yet ready to make payment to Mussolini—his axis partner—for Italian support at Munich, where Germany acquired Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland.

In Spain, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's armies marched steadily closer to the government seaboard, threatening early conquest of Lower California and intensifying the danger to Barcelona, the government capital.

The insurgent command at Lerida said Franco's Moroccan troops had captured Tortosa, 100 miles southwest of Barcelona, stronghold of

Newspapers To Be Discussed By Wells Tuesday

The relation of a chamber of commerce to its home town newspaper will be the title of an address by Deskins Wells, president of Texas Press Association at the January membership luncheon meeting of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. The address will be broadcast by radio station KPND.

Wells, Wellington newspaper publisher, has been one of the leaders in Texas Press circles for a number of years. He is an interesting speaker.

Newspaper editors of the Top O' Texas territory will be special guests at the luncheon.

Members of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet jointly with the senior organization.

Entertainment for the members will be furnished by the club in the cast of "The Singing Freshman," a musical comedy produced and directed by Ken Bennett which will be staged at the High School auditorium Jan. 24 under the sponsorship of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by telephoning 384.

Anti-Superstition Club Holds Meeting

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 13 (AP)—Members of the Anti-Superstition club today looked for ladders to walk under, black cats to cross their paths and salt to spill after a post-midnight meeting at which Paul Williams, born on January 13, was elected "grand smasher."

The meeting opened with the breaking of a mirror by retiring "Grand Smasher" Karl G. Sailor, Ohio county assessor.

Henry L. Pugh was elected "keeper of the kitty" and Bob Upton, "keeper of the ghost."

Attorney Edward F. McKee, organizer and first "Friday smasher," Tom Bliss and Lefty Huff being called "moon-eyed" bowlers. It seems the pair can roll in the 200 class in the afternoons but when they start rolling in league competition at night 160 is a good score.

Mack Graham Named Head Of Scout Council

M. A. Graham of Pampa was elected president of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council at the annual meeting here yesterday afternoon. He succeeds C. R. Stahl of Borger who was inactive during recent months because of a critical illness. Mr. Graham acted as president during that time and his elevation to the presidency was unanimous.

Other officers elected were: Raymond Harrah, Pampa, first vice-president; Cliff Brenner, Borger, second vice-president; E. K. Caperton, Shamrock, fourth vice-president; Zane Smith, Panhandle, commissioner; Roy McMillen, Pampa, treasurer.

The new officers will meet within the next two weeks to appoint an executive board whose first duty will be the selection of a field executive. The board will also outline plans for the 1939 scouting program. Objectives in 1939 will be more troops of Boy Scouts, cubs and senior Scouts; greater summer camp; adequate finances; more adult leaders; better advancement and more boys in uniform.

Reports by district and council committees revealed that the Boy Scout movement is gaining momentum and that 1938 was the most active in the council's history.

The organization and extension committee, of which the Rev. A. A. Boeding of Groom was chairman, announced that at the close of 1938 there were 44 Boy Scout troops with 837 members, three cub packs with 91 members, 20 cubbers and 342 scouters in the

Harvesters Beat Kelton 34 to 21

The Pampa Harvesters won their first game in the Mobeite Invitation Basketball tournament this morning defeating Kelton 34 to 21.

The Harvesters first string, minus Pete Dunaway, played three quarters.

Bob Adair led the Harvesters scoring attack with 16 points. The team showed flashes of unanny passing and shooting ability in running up the big score.

Next Harvesters foe will be the winner of the LeFors-Wheeler game, which will be played at 9 o'clock tonight. The Harvesters and their next opponent will clash at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

In the opening game of the tournament this morning, Mobeite knocked out Briscoe 27 to 24.

American Engineer Kidnaped In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 13 (AP)—Federal troops and state police today hunted the kidnapers of a United States mining engineer, Milo M. Webb, who was carried away from the silver mining region of Guanajuato late Wednesday afternoon. Webb formerly was a resident of Phoenix, Ariz.

A village watchman near Guanajuato reported Webb and a Mexican employe, Alfonso Aldama, were snatched from Webb's car outside Guanajuato and taken off into territory which abounds in mountain trails.

James H. Howard, general manager of the Amparo Mining Company, which employs Webb as superintendent of its El Monte plant, said no contact had been established with the kidnapers and that a note had been found in Webb's car warning that any pursuit would cost the American his life.

If You Break Leg Or Your Neck Today Blame It On Friday 13th

Business went ahead as usual in Pampa today, even though this was Friday, the 13th—a double jinx of the worst order, if one is to believe those who indulge in superstition or have an irrational abject attitude of mind toward the supernatural.

There are some persons who will not even venture out on a day when Friday falls on the 13th of the month. That, they say, would be like asking the sheriff for a permit to run a gambling joint, or slapping a policeman's face.

In other words, these folk are of the opinion that to stay in bed at home Friday, the 13th is playing the safe bet.

Prisoners in the county jail expressed the joint opinion that this was an unlucky day for them. It was unlucky, too, for persons who stepped in front of approaching trains and automobiles.

Watch Your Sign. This was a particularly poor day on which to look for a gas leak with a match. Your chance of finding it were much greater today if you were born under the signs of Leo or Gemini.

This was definitely not the day on which to peep into the left-hand barrel of a double-barreled shotgun, particularly if there was any chance that you might get itchy fingers and pull the trigger while peeping. Many persons who have done this on Friday, the 13th, are not here to tell what they saw when they peeped. Some of them never were put back together.

No. 13 On Board. Just to show you how people shy off from that No. 13 which decorated the calendar today—"13" is not among the working numbers on the board at the Pampa exchange of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

That's easy to understand. You can imagine what terror a family with that telephone number would go through on a day like this when all the jinx combinations join forces. Why, they might jump right into the middle of the living room and commit mass murder every time you answer the phone. The theory is generally accepted that the original jitterbug was a fellow who had "13"

Defendant In Assault Case Takes Stand

Marijuana Cigaretts And Liquor Blamed For Any Actions

Closing arguments in the case of State of Texas vs. Robert W. White, charged with assault with intent to commit rape, were to be heard this afternoon in 31st district court and the case was expected to be finished today. District Judge W. R. Ewing said at noon today.

Defense witnesses were being put on the stand in rapid succession today. Seven had testified before 11:15 o'clock this morning. Four state witnesses testified Thursday.

Clyde Price, Mrs. Beulah Benton, A. A. Stewart, C. K. Danielson, were called by the defense this morning to testify concerning the defendant's reputation as a law-abiding citizen and his morals, and their acquaintance with the defendant. Each testified that White was law-abiding and of good morals.

The defendant, Robert W. White, who is charged in connection with an alleged assault upon a 12-year-old Pampa girl on the night of Dec. 8, testified that he was born in Gage, Okla., lived near Gage, on a farm, came to Higgins, and from there to Pampa in December, 1928, where he has since resided. He said he owned a shop at 815 South Cuyler street.

He testified that on the night of Dec. 8, he had finished work at 7 o'clock. He had a bad cold at the time, he said, and had drunk a sufficient quantity of whisky to feel the effect. He then ate supper at the B & C cafe about 8 o'clock, he stated.

'Killed' Half Pint. White said he did not remember going to Tom's Place in East Pampa, but did remember walking near the place when two men in a car drove up and asked if he wanted a ride. The men were strangers, and he and the two men "killed" a half-pint of whisky White had in his possession.

He got a cigarette from the men in the car. At this point in his testimony he was asked if he had ever

Father Kills Imbecile Son

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—The sob of a 17-year-old imbecile boy, "like some tormented soul," were still today, as police guarded the father, who they said, calmly admitted administering chloroform to his son because "he's better off dead."

Years of indecision were ended, Louis Greenfield, 42, a prosperous milliner, told Detective Captain F. J. McVeigh, as the boy, Jerome, inhaled the fatal fumes from saturated handkerchiefs yesterday.

Two months ago, the father told McVeigh, he purchased the chloroform and hid it in a coat pocket.

Brooklyn County District Attorney Samuel Foley said Greenfield told him the boy, with the mental age of a two-year-old, had frequent spells, turning his hands in his face and sobbing "like some tormented soul," then collapsing.

Yesterday the boy suffered another spell. "I got two of my handkerchiefs and saturated them with chloroform," Greenfield was quoted by McVeigh. "Then I held them to his nose for about 15 minutes. He didn't put up any struggle. He just went to sleep."

"I'd been thinking about it for many years. . . . We loved him so much. . . . Many doctors told us he was incurable."

"It's a very sad case," Foley commented, as Greenfield was charged with homicide.

55-Year Resident Of Panhandle Area Dies

Mrs. Eliza Ann Gragg, who rode on the first train between Wichita Falls and Port Worth and who had been a resident of Pampa and this section of the Panhandle since 1883, died early this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Lee Bullock. She was 76 years of age.

Mrs. Gragg was born in Live Oak County in 1862. She married Leander Smith Gragg who died here in 1924, and moved near where the city of Vernon now stands in 1882. That year Mr. Gragg brought a herd of 2,000 cattle to Gray County, near LeFors, and was so impressed with the country that he purchased land on Cantonment Creek and the following year Mrs. Gragg joined him. Famed Owner Of Yankee Baseball Club Dies At 71

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Col. Jacob Ruppert, the amiable little millionaire sportsman and owner of the New York Yankees baseball club, died in his Fifth Avenue home today after an illness which cut short his activities last April.

The 71-year-old bachelor, regarded by Babe Ruth as baseball's best friend, had suffered from an attack of phlebitis (inflammation of the veins), a painful affliction which he endured with his customary good nature and cheerfulness.

Early this week his condition became so desperate that the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered to him; but in spite of the gravity of those around him he smilingly forecast his speedy recovery.

Owner of extensive real estate in New York, Ruppert had a fortune estimated by associates at between $700,000 and $1,000,000.

At his bedside when he died were his brother, George E. Ruppert, vice president and secretary of the Ruppert Brewery and vice president of the Yankees; a sister, Mrs. Harry Garrison Silbeck Jr., of New York and Greenwich, Conn., the former Amanda Ruppert, and her son, H. Garrison Silbeck, the third, of Northport, N. Y., assistant treasurer of the brewery; a niece, Miss Anna Schalk of New York and Brennan.

Other survivors are two nieces, Mrs. Joseph Halloran of Greenwich, Conn., and Mrs. J. Basil McGuire of Greenwich; a nephew, J. Ruppert Schalk of Rhinebeck, N. Y., assistant secretary of the brewery; and son of the colonel's late sister, Mrs. Herman Schalk.

Logger Can Tell Boss To Go To Hell But Banker Cannot

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 14 (AP)—A logger fired for telling his employer to "go to hell" may be eligible for unemployment compensation while a bank teller discharged for the same reason may be disqualified for benefits.

Explaining the law to contractors, William A. Murphy, Kansas unemployment compensation director, cited an Iowa case involving a bank teller and a Wisconsin case involving a logger and a banker.

"That's not grounds for firing a logger."

All Captured By Guards At Water's Edge

Two Convicts Shot; Saw Used To Get Out Of Cell Block

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13 (AP)—Five desperate prisoners attempted to escape from fog-shrouded Alcatraz Island prison early today and two were shot and wounded before guards captured the quintet.

The prisoners, all serving long terms, got out of the cell in some mysterious manner at 4 a. m. The thickest fog in years obscured the island prison in San Francisco Bay.

Making a mad dash for the water, the convicts refused to halt at command of guards, who opened fire. Arthur Barker, serving life for kidnaping, was drilled through the head and leg and critically wounded.

Dale Staphill, also under life sentence for kidnaping, was shot through both legs. The other prisoners, finally thwarted in their daring attempt to get off the island, were Rufus McCain, serving 99 years for national bank robbery and kidnaping, Henry Young serving 20 years for robbing a bank, and William Martin, a negro, under sentence for 25 years for armed robbery of a postoffice.

The 12-acre rocky island is more than a mile from the mainland. Swift currents flow past the island and whether the convicts had a boat waiting or hoped to attempt the feat of swimming the strong tide was not known.

Warden Johnston immediately called for aid from the coast guard and San Francisco police.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—More than 300 "hard boiled" convicts were locked in their cells on Alcatraz Island today for careful inspection as a result of an attempted jailbreak by five prisoners.

Director James V. Bennett of the Federal Prison Bureau said all normal activity would be suspended at Alcatraz pending a thorough search of every inmate.

He said prison officials had "no idea" where Arthur (Doc) Barker, convicted in the Bremer kidnaping, and his fellow convicts obtained the saw which they used to escape today from their cells and gained the water's edge.

Every prisoner's clothing, shoes, bedding and cell will be subjected, he said, to closest examination. First word of the break reached Bennett at 4 a. m. CST, when Warden James A. Johnston telephoned from the prison. The men

The knight errant rode up with dignity on a white steed, fought his way through the barriers and saved his lady fair. ### Dinner And Dance Given At Country Club Thursday

The first entertainment under a new plan adopted by the Pampa Country Club was a Thursday evening when members were entertained at the regular monthly old-fashioned dinner-dance in the ballroom.

Sixty-two persons enjoyed the evening of dancing to the music of Jessie's orchestra.

In the future all of these dinner-dances will be sponsored by the club rather than by a group of hostesses from the organization.

Profits derived from this new plan will be used for kitchen equipment.

PANI ANDLE, Jan. 13.—Miss Hope Bussey was elected sponsor of Mozart Music Club for the coming year at a recent meeting with Miss Laura Lee Russ as hostess at the home of Miss Mary Ewing.

The following officers were elected: President, Mary Ruth Evans; vice-president, Norma Jean Franklin; secretary, Laura Lee Russ; and treasurer, Virginia Biggs.

Refreshments of ice cream and coffee were served to the following guests: Alice Witt Lucia Faye Held; and members, Misses Mary Ewing, Hope Bussey, Juanna Joe Wigham, Norma Jean Franklin, Ruth Horigel, Frances Adams, Virginia Biggs, Elizabeth Armstrong, Dorothy and Mary Ruth Evans, and the hostess.

HIGGINS, Jan. 13.—"International Facts" were given in answer to roll call at the home of Mrs. E. T. Word when she was hostess to the Higgins Magazine Club this week.

"Fostering the American Ideal Among College Students" was discussed by Mrs. C. G. Newcomer and "Hold High the Torch" was read by Mrs. C. H. Hyde.

Misses Ora Sue Wood and Jessie Lee Barnett served refreshment plates to Mesdames John Lloyd Jones, Anna Jensen, M. L. Sebbins, Evie Dearing, A. Bissanz, E. M. Condon, Frank Ewing, E. C. Gray, F. M. Henwood, B. C. Hurr, C. H. Hyde, Roy Landers, C. R. Patton, Newcomer, E. B. Roberts, L. D. Shaw, J. B. Wets, A. M. and A. L. Winslet.

DENTON, Jan. 13.—Any 25-year-old young doctor about six feet tall and weighing around 180 pounds who would like a wave of immediate popularity should go immediately to the campus at Texas State College for Women, since the majority of girls there have judged such a person their ideal man for marriage.

Other specifications are that he must be a college graduate, that he should have saved $1,000 before the fatal step, and that he should be making $45 a week at the very least. Lawyers, business men and engineers are runners-up in the collective ESCW preference, and 24, 26 and 23 are also considered acceptable ages. The girls themselves prefer to marry at the ages of 21, 23 or 20.

One out of three of the students plan to continue their professional work after marriage. All the girls want children, and the greatest number want four, with many voting for three and two.

Can She Sue for Non-Support?

MIAMI, Jan. 13.—Complimenting Mrs. Lloyd Harvey of Lubbock, who before her recent marriage was Miss Virginia Nelson, Mesdames C. W. Bowers, Eunice Holland, and W. D. Eenton were hostesses at a lovely miscellaneous shower in the C. W. Bowers home.

The program consisted of a tree contest in which Mrs. Harvey won the highest prize and Mrs. J. E. Kinney the first prize; Mrs. Harry Nelson rendered several piano selections, and Miss Mary Holland gave an appropriate reading dedicated to Mrs. Harvey.

Those present were Mesdames J. L. Stroupe, Harry Nelson, C. C. Stockstill and Margaret, Sam Arnet, Jay Evans, W. R. Holland, Carl Cantrell, Harry Craig, Bob Campbell, J. E. Kinney, M. W. O'Loughlin, S. E. Baird, C. C. Shields, C. C. Carr, Mary Potter Nelson, and Mary Holland, and the co-hostesses.

Those sending gifts were Mesdames Pety Buzzard, Guy Farrington, Floyd McLaughlin, J. C. Farrington, Sam Bowers, Claude Edwards, Kirt Philpot, M. M. Craig, D. I. Barnett, and Misses Edna Turcotte, Francis Ruth Bowers, and Donna Lee Stroupe.

Here's the last word from beach stylists. Last year's suit, which had straps, is held in Marjorie Moore's hand, while this year's number is held in place by the moon's pull on the tides or—something.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF Now is the time to decide that you will begin immediately to lose the extra two or three pounds you gained during the holiday season.

And, as you well know, once you have gained a little weight, you are likely to put on a bit more without even realizing it until a saleswoman tells you that you now need a larger dress size than the one you've been wearing for years.

First of all, stop thinking in terms of holiday menus and tidbits. Get back to your low calorie meals, remembering that if you eat light breakfasts and luncheons you can have one portion of everything on the dinner menu, including dessert.

An ideal breakfast might include a large glass of unsweetened fruit juice, a thin slice of toast, sparingly buttered and a hot beverage. For luncheon, have soup, a large salad and fresh or stewed fruit. Then, for dinner, a helping of everything served. No second portions, however, and make it a rule always to eat every last bit of your salad and vegetables before considering dessert.

Exercise is important, too. It's a mistake to try to lose weight by diet alone. The ideal system is to walk at least a mile four or five times a week, striding briskly along with head up, chest high, stomach in, arms relaxed and swinging. And, in addition, do two of three special exercise routines twenty or thirty times each every single day.

One of Hollywood stars Joan Blondell's favorite routines for keeping hips and thighs slender is done this way. Stand barefoot or in flat-heeled shoes about two feet away from a straight chair with hands placed lightly on the back of it. Now lift heels from floor, placing all weight on toes. Keeping back straight and head erect, bend knees and sink downward to a squatting position. Without lowering heels to the floor, remain flat way a second, then rise to original position. Repeat rapidly ten times the first day, fifteen the second, twenty the third.

Also to keep her thighs and hips slim, Miss Blondell likes this exercise: Stand erect with ankles together. Now bend right knee, grasp it with both hands and pull it upward toward chest. Reverse and repeat, lifting left knee, grasping it with both hands and pulling it upward toward chest as far as possible. Repeat twenty times a day.

LOVELY Irene Pillot, who now prefers modeling to the movies, wears a striking dinner hat which is nothing more or less than a full blown rose of silk velvet. The alluring veil is dark burgundy—a shade which harmonizes arrestingly with the rose tones of the hat.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX One snowstorm does not make a winter. Nor is a sirloin steak all there is to beef. Flank steak, corned beef, beef heart—there are many other pleasant ways of looking at the beef question. Pleasant on the budget, too.

Roiled Flank Steak (Serves 4 to 6). One flank steak about 2 pounds, 2 cups bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 tablespoon parsley, 1-2 green pepper chopped, 1-2 strip bacon chopped, 1 ripe tomato or 1-4 cup whole pack, canned tomatoes, seasoning, fat, flour, salt, pepper, 1 can condensed mushroom soup.

Combine bread crumbs, onion, parsley, green pepper, bacon, tomato, and seasoning to make stuffing. Moisten with water if necessary. Wipe steak with clean damp cloth. Using a sharp knife, score the meat to make criss-cross cuts. Season with salt and pepper. Spread generously with stuffing. Roll, tie at ends and middle with heavy white twine. Roll in mixture of flour and seasoning.

At fat in heavy iron frying pan. Seal roll well on all sides. Add mushroom soup to pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about one hour, basting occasionally and adding wine to pan if needed. Crisped Beef Hash With Eggs (Serves 4 to 6)

Three cups cooked or canned corned beef chopped, 2 cups boiled potatoes chopped, 1-2 cup clear vegetable stock, 2 tablespoons butter, pepper to taste, 6 eggs beaten, parsley, salt, pepper.

Combine a chopped corned beef, chopped potatoes, and minced onion. Add vegetable stock and mix lightly, add more stock if needed for light consistency. Add 2 tablespoons butter, melted, and pepper. The corned beef being salty, extra salt is not necessary.

Use a 1-2 quart casserole, well greased. Put in the corned beef mixture. Do not pack it in, pile it in lightly. Using a large spoon make 6 depressions in top for the eggs. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes.

Break a raw egg into each depression. Dot each egg liberally with butter. Cover casserole and bake another 20 minutes. Just before serving, season eggs and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

TRICKY PLAIDS PARIS (P)—Plain jackets are not having it all their own way. Skirts of plain wool with plaid jackets are being box pleated, and the plaid run in on the under side of the pleats. Bagpipe players and others used to quick turns can strut with plaids with every swing of a pleat.

Pick Your Hand Cream Before Your Card-Playing Hand

There'll be lots of bridge-playing these cold evenings—bridge-playing during which you may wish your hands were in better condition.

For the great outdoors that puts roses in your cheeks also paints lobsters on your hands if you don't take pains to prevent them. And those hours of ice-skating, sleigh-riding and skiing that leave a sparkle in each eye may also bring a toll of dry cuticles and sore knuckles.

Two things long to remember if you want to have your fun and keep your lily-white hands, too: Never, never wash your hands, shove on your gloves and rush out into the cold. Few gloves—not even thickly fur-lined ones—can keep your hands from chapping after that kind of treatment.

The minute you peel off your gloves when you come in from a long slide in the cold, wash your hands in soap and water, dry them thoroughly and massage them with hand lotion or hand cream. (The latter is usually cheaper than cold cream. So it might be a good idea to keep a little jar around.)

Other tips for the well-kept manicure: Even if you like your nails to appear long don't bring the polish quite to the tips. Leave a hair line around them. Then the polish won't be so apt to knock. If your skin is especially rough or discolored around the nail, gently rub away the spot with a little pumice or cuticle remover.

The newest trend in polish shades is toward the orchid and fuchsia tones—more likely to flatter than the yellow-reds when you're under artificial light.

Babson Says We Are On Threshold Of Construction Boom Building-Industry Of The Year

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 13.—Building is my candidate for the 1939 "Industry of the Year." Each January, for the past three years, I have selected the industry that I felt had the most promising outlook for the coming twelve months. For 1938, I first chose building. Two years ago, I picked aviation. Last January, chemicals won my vote. Now, this year, building again gets my nomination.

America has a huge shortage of small homes. Experts estimate that our normal yearly demand is nearly 400,000 units. Since 1929, a deficit of 1,300,000 desirable homes has piled up. So we have this huge accumulated shortage, plus our annual replacement total of 400,000 units to build in 1939. At an average cost of $4,000 per house, this means a home-building potential of $6,800,000,000.

F. H. A. Big Help.

High costs and financing difficulties have been the bugaboo of building for the past few years. Building costs have dropped about five per cent from the 1937 peaks. The trend in modern small home building, however, is toward standardization. As a result, contractors are able to make good savings on mill-cut kitchen cabinets, staircases, doors, windows, and the like. Moreover, the F. H. A., through its advisory and supervisory functions, is helping home-builders to keep construction costs as low as possible.

While costs are still high, financing handicaps have been hurried. The new F. H. A. "installment-mortgage" plans are a real incentive to new building. In those territories where the banks have pushed the F. H. A. plans aggressively, building is already active. Banks are noticeably slow in trying something new. However, they are now getting interested in the F. H. A. everywhere. It is not only a good deal for the home-builder, but it is a good deal for the banker, especially right now when he cannot find any volume of sound loans which will yield more than 4 per cent.

People Want Homes.

The rising income of the nation is another sign pointing to an active building year in 1939. People have more money to spend than a year ago and they have more confidence in the future. The current marriage rate is much higher than in the depression. Our population is steadily growing—even though at a slower rate. A modern home in the suburbs has a tremendous attraction. As soon as people get out of the big cities with their high taxes and huge relief burdens. Now, with better business and the F. H. A. easy-payment plan, here is their chance.

Rents on choice and desirable homes are relatively high, although rents on unattractive property are still low. What is more logical, therefore, than to expect people to build when the monthly payment (including interest and principal) on a $4,000 to $8,000 new home, with a stream-lined kitchen and all the latest gadgets, is no more than the monthly rental or a shabby, out-of-date home?

450,000 New Homes.

From present indications, 450,000 homes may be built in 1939. This will compare with previous years as follows:

1938	325,000
1937	275,000
1934	59,000
1929	430,000
1928	410,000 (all-time peak)

How many of this year's 450,000 houses will be built on a 10 per cent margin and later foreclosed is not for me to discuss today. The ultimate future, however, does not look good to me.

In addition to a busy year in home construction, I expect factory, commercial, and public building to boost the volume. Many plans which were postponed when the "recession" struck in 1937 should be brought back to life in 1939. Public utilities will spend more money on their systems. Railroads should do more maintenance this year. Merchants, manufacturers, warehousemen, and other commercial property-owners will do more repair work. The sharp activity, however, should be in home-building with houses from $4,000 to $10,000 creating the bulk of activity.

Labor Gets Lion's Share.

We may have a total new construction volume of about $4,000,000,000 in 1939. This would compare with $3,050,000,000 in 1938, and $2,900,000,000 in 1937. It would make 1939 the best building year since 1930! Of the above sum, nearly 90 per cent will go to labor—"on the site" and the remainder to materials. Moreover, much of the money spent on materials eventually will go into payrolls. "No other industry helps workers in so many separate businesses as building.

Ordinarily, we think of construction as aiding only contractors, carpenters, painters, plumbers, plasterers, masons, and paper hangers. Yet, building creates jobs in 26 separate businesses, and indirectly it makes work in hundreds of others. Here are just a few of the people who prosper when building prospers: Gardeners, lumberjacks, hardware dealers, lawyers, cabinet makers, interior decorators, and awning makers. A heavy volume of building is the keystone of general prosperity.

Business and Building in Step.

However, the building cycle and the business cycle seldom move together. One is usually on the way up, or vice versa. For example, from 1926 to 1929 building was dropping, but business was rising. Today, for the first time in 20 years, the building cycle and the business cycle are moving ahead together. This is why I am bullish on 1939 building and why I am picking building as the "Industry of the Year!"

Eight Good Reasons For Home-Building Boom.

1. Public confidence is better.
2. National income is rising.
3. People want suburban homes.
4. Choice rentals are high.
5. F. H. A. plans are attractive.
6. Building costs are steady.
7. Marriage rate is higher.
8. Shortage of million homes.

Physicians know the value of accuracy and skill; the importance of pure, fresh ingredients. They realize, too, a large volume of business results in lower overhead and that, in the well-managed pharmacy, this insures a fair price for every prescription.

Through observations and experience, physicians have come increasingly to place their confidence in this establishment, to send us their orders for office supplies, and to direct their prescription business to us. We are proud of our reputation as "Physicians' drug store" and are glad that it might be possible to follow your physician's example and make this your prescription headquarters.

A CONTRIBUTOR INQUIRES AS TO OUR BANKING THEORIES

A contributor remarks that I seem to be quite definitely against the banking system, yet I have been unable to comprehend your position thereon or what you would substitute or change for improvement.

Inasmuch as our trouble invariably comes from the misuse of bank credit, that is, the bankers making capital loans or long-time loans, when they were originally intended to make short-time self liquidating commercial loans, it seems that there should be some protection to the public against bankers creating long time credit, used as check-book money.

If we would separate commercial banking from investment banking and have the investment bankers agents for assembling capital, we would not have the price fluctuation we have had in the past, where the banks have been allowed to so grossly misuse bank credit.

When banking was first started, it was regarded a gross betrayal of confidence to loan the gold left with the goldsmith, with the idea of being paid for loaning other people's money.

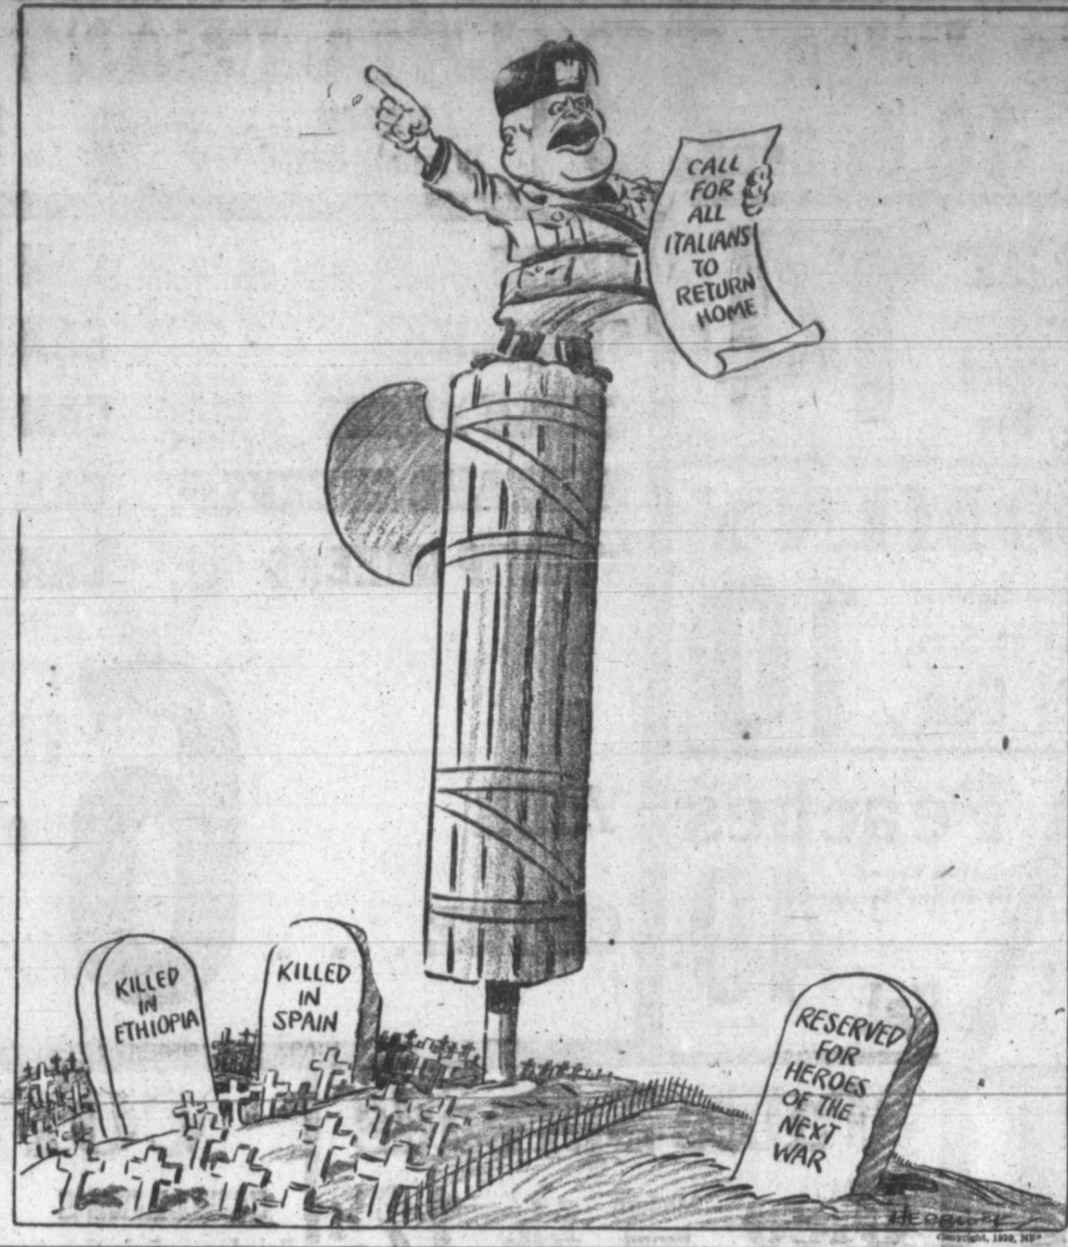

I do not believe the banking system can ever be sound so long as the government does not tax its people enough to pay its expenses as it proceeds, and borrows money in such a way that it manufactures bank credit and, by so doing, throws the natural balance of business out of line to what it normally would be without this artificial bank credit, due to large government borrowing.

The above is a brief outline of some of the things which I think essential, if we eventually are to have a better banking system. Probably the real solution for banking is honest, intelligent bankers who will not promise depositors something they cannot deliver in order to get the use of their money.

This is no reflection on any particular banker but the bankers are the victims of the gullible public and the demagogic politicians.

"LONGER HOURS AND LESS PAY" A contributor contends that one of my pet hobbies is longer hours and less pay for the worker. I confess I do not know how he could arrive at such a conclusion from anything I have written.

A LITTLE EXTRA SPACE IN OVERCROWDED ITALY

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The screen owes much of its early prosperity to slapstick comedy, and yet no form of acting has treated its stars so shabbily, taken together, as has slapstick.

Of a score or so of the town's famous funny men, who made another generation roar and roll in the aisles, only Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd can be considered stars today.

Early in the Chaplin career a potent rival was the French comic, Max Linder. Brought to America, Linder was given a production far exceeding in cost anything that had been done for Chaplin, but his expensive movie failed to impress—Chaplin's baggy pants and big shoes went on to fame, Linder to suicide.

Harry Langdon is another—but he's an exception, too. Resigned to obscurity of a minor writer's job, Harry has made a comeback. And if ever a comedian was "washed up" in the minds of producers, it was Langdon.

While its devotees have fared variously, but mostly badly, at its hands slapstick itself has undergone a major change on the screen. Except for last year, when the town's biggest draw stars went on an orgy of slapstick in the "zany" cycle, the old screen standby has lost its potency.

And the King of Slapstick—the same Mack Sennett who once part-owned company with D. W. Griffith because he thought he'd like to make funny pictures about funny cops—is around town. The originator of Keystone Kops, dandy of the movie bathing beauty and hence of all present-day "leg-art" in the rotogravure sections, is around town looking for a producing connection.

An outline of procedure to effect and economical administration was prepared for submission to the county commissioners by County Judge Ivey E. Dimmock.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

OUR DECLINING POPULATION. Since 1933 the reproduction rate of the population in the United States has fallen below the maintenance level. Not enough children are being born to replace the population that dies.

In an attempt to discover why these conditions prevail, several intensive studies have been made. One of the studies showed that most of the childless women preferred to be so.

A more recent study made by the Committee on Maternal Health revealed that in 78 per cent of the childless couples the state of childlessness was involuntary.

In pursuing the subject further we find that the size of the family varies inversely with its economic status. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reveals that in agricultural areas where farms yield their owners food for their needs, and a monetary return, the fertility of the population is low.

On the other hand, in those areas where the owners secure little more than sustenance, the birth rate is high.

Dr. Louis I. Dublin in studying the reproduction rate of the American population finds that 100 newborn girls in the year 1800, if conditions had remained unchanged, would have had 223 daughters and 497 grand-daughters.

Conditions however have changed and by 1933 we find that the 100 original newborn girls can be counted on to just reproduce their own number of daughters and also grand-daughters.

The biological phase of population reproduction is the one least appreciated. The basic biologic purpose of life is the reproduction of the human race.

What is happening and what may happen to the temper and the mood of a people when the birth rate declines acutely is a matter for earnest thought. Historically it is a fact that decline in the birth rate has never been associated with periods of decadence and degeneration.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

The fellow who writes Cranium Crackers, which appears on this page every day, got himself in the doghouse with a Pampa reader the other day. He made the statement in his answers on The News Classified Page that Buffalo Bill is buried on Pike's Peak in Colorado.

So you see, even the smartest of us get bewitched and throw a tire now and then. And when we're talking about the "smartest of us," present company always is excluded.

We have never for a minute had the slightest reason to believe that we were inoculated with the germ of smartness. Intellectual adroitness is something with which we never have had a speaking acquaintance at 40 a couple of months ago, we have come to the conclusion more than ever that, compared with us, Dumb Dora is a mountain of intellectuality.

Attention, men! A survey conducted at Stephens College for Women at Columbia, Mo., reveals that most college girls are backward when it comes to talking.

Now Stephens comes along and upsets the applecart. Why, they say the co-eds are such poor conversationalists that "gab fests" have been organized in the dormitories to accustom the young ladies to chatter.

If there is any truth in that torture story told by a witness on the stand in district court at Pampa the other day, it smells to the clouds and the proper state authorities should shake it down to the very bottom.

The information is out in very exclusive channels that something big, something startling soon will strike like lightning.

It seems Smith had been saving this bit of information to reveal himself. He complained in good nature, that the retiring chairman has "stolen part of my speech."

Smith, Sadler and Thompson, it is well known, are in the race to be getting along beautifully. They have all signed the orders displacing a number of commission employees as a result of the coming of Sadler.

Fixing Of Farm Prices Urged By Senator Frazier

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Senator Frazier, Republican, N. D., said today there was a good chance of enacting a program for government fixing of farm prices as a substitute for the present crop control law.

Ignoring party lines, 18 senators joined yesterday in introducing the "cost of production" legislation which some farm leaders have advocated for a long time.

"Both the old parties," said Frazier, "have been promising for many years to put the farmer on a parity with industry. This bill would give all farmers the cost of production and a profit on foodstuffs consumed within this country."

The bill was sponsored by 10 Democrats, five Republicans, two Farmer-Laborites, and one Progressive.

Pro Manager Gives Up Hope For O'Brien

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13 (AP)—Best Bill, pilot of the Philadelphia Eagles professional football team, said today he would make no further effort to persuade Davey O'Brien, little All-American, to consider football along with geology in his plans for the future.

The Capital Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Pity the poor legislator! It looks more and more as though he is going to be on the spot in the general session of the legislature about to burst over the horizon.

First, W. Lee O'Daniel, governor-elect, says he contemplates reporting to the people via the radio, from time to time, how his program is faring among the legislators.

Now comes the Hardin twins, Senator Doss and Rep. Ross, the one from Waco and the other from Prairie Hill, with the announcement they will mail "to the folks back home" records of how the members vote on important issues.

They are concerned chiefly with the old age pension issue, which, of course, is the one loaded with the most dynamite for the legislator.

The Hardin delegation in the legislature and an older brother, Sid Hardin of Edinburg, were in Austin recently.

A press correspondent observed that Sid Hardin was much larger than the twins, although the latter are not small men. He remarked on the disparity in stature.

There has been some speculation that, with the defeat of C. V. Terrell by G. H. Jerry Sadler, and an alignment for some purpose of Sadler and the Smiths, the third might be clipped.

At a recent meeting of the commission in the Senate chamber, a huge meeting of many commission employees and friends, Thompson interrupted Smith's initial speech to move to the platform and address the audience come to the platform and have her picture made with the new chairman. Smith became chairman of the commission Jan. 1, succeeding Thompson.

Thompson's suggestion made a big hit with the crowd.

Again Thompson explained that the gavel used by Smith was made from oak wood taken from the field of the battle of Shiloh where Smith's father had fought for the Confederacy.

It seems Smith had been saving this bit of information to reveal himself. He complained in good nature, that the retiring chairman has "stolen part of my speech."

Talk of economy in government is heard frequently at the capital, among state officials, department employees and members of the legislature. It is the popular theme just now.

A department head passed through the rotunda the other day and halted for a moment for passing a sign. "I see you're still holding a job," said the friend.

"Yes," replied the department chief. "I take it you are against any superfluous jobs and for economy in general."

"Don't," said shrilly shrilly shrilly. "Yes," said the official, "Don't I say regularly, turn-off them lights?"

U. S. Has Sufficient Airplane Factories Believes President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt expressed the belief today that sufficient plants existed to build new planes for the nation's defense. Some plants, he added, may have to work two or three shifts.

The President told a press conference that the only lag or bottleneck may lie in obtaining a sufficient number of skilled plane factory workmen.

Mr. Roosevelt estimated 15 per cent of the labor needed for the plane building job would have to be skilled in the aircraft arts. He said the other 85 per cent could be developed rapidly by utilizing labor from automobile and other industries.

Some plants, the President asserted, probably would have to be expanded. All the new planes, except certain experimental craft, would be constructed in private factories, he added.

Pampa Lions had some unexpected guests at their regular luncheon Thursday, when the wives of 26 members of the club made a surprise visit, bringing the total attendance at the meeting up to 100.

On the program, which was in charge of Art Teed, were John Mead, president of Amarillo college, and Mayor Ed S. Carr of Pampa. President Mead gave these points as the basis of his address: "The right of free speech and free press, social security, and the continuation and expansion of our free public education."

council and that requests for charters had been received from seven cities. During 1938 there were 40 Courts of Honor held in the area, in which 275 advancements in rank were made, 518 first class and 76 second class merit badges awarded. A plan for more merit badge counselors was contained in the committee report. E. L. McColm was chairman of the advancement committee. Health and safety were stressed, the report of the health and safety committee of which Dr. R. M. Bellamy was chairman, revealed. During the year 194 merit badges pertaining to health and safety were passed. All boys attending camp were examined and water and food used at camp were carefully checked.

Training of adult leaders was a major activity. H. H. Beavers of the training committee reported. Six courses were conducted, attended by 148 men of which 30 were given certificates. More leaders, especially for cub packs, boys in the 12 years, was urged by the committee. Reading, a major part of the Boy Scout movement, was stressed last year through bulletins, books and magazines. R. A. Selby of that committee revealed. The committee recommended that boys subscribe to the magazine, Boy's Life, and that adults urge boys to read more.

Nation-Wide Sale Pushes Texas Fruit

In eleven thousand stores that, 49 weeks out of the year do not handle groceries at all, a quarter of a million clerks will start this week-end on a country-wide sale to market the biggest crop of citrus fruits in history. The drive will continue three weeks, tying in during its last two weeks with a sales campaign in food stores, all aimed to let the consuming public get the full, healthful benefits of a fruit crop in which the Rio Grande Valley alone is harvesting more than fifteen million boxes of grapefruit, in addition to the Texas orange and lemon crop.

Summer camping was a highlight of 1938—with 80 boys attending the council camp at Wolf Creek and others making trips to New Mexico and Colorado. Weekly camping also reached a new peak during the year. An even greater camping program was predicted for this year by Vaughn Darnell, chairman of the camping committee.

White testified he could not be certain exactly what took place after he had left the men a second time. He said he could not remember how he came to be in jail, nor did he recall an altercation with Constable Otis Hendrix. Did Not Remember. White stated he remembered signing a statement before the county attorney that he claimed he did not read before signing, remembered Hendrix asked if he knew what he was in jail for, but did not remember anyone telling him the statement he is said to have signed might be used against him.

PRISONERS

Two of them had gotten into the water. The coast guard and San Francisco police detailed boats to aid in the recapture. "In some manner, we do not yet understand, the prisoners apparently managed to obtain a saw and with it got out of their cell and through the interior window of the cell block," Bennett declared in a statement released to the press.

ICKES ATTACKS Gannet Papers In Joint Debate

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—In a sharp debate, Secretary Ickes asserted last night the American press had been put in "shackles" by the publishers themselves and private financial interests, while Frank Gannett contended no other form of control of the press save "governmental domination or censorship" need be feared. They discussed the general subject whether the press was free in "America's Town Meeting of the Air," a national radio forum. Gannett, owner of 19 newspapers and three radio stations, who spoke last, was not able to finish his prepared address and protested as "unfair" the limitation placed upon him. Ickes attacked Gannett's newspapers directly, asserting that in 1933 the Federal Trade Commission had found that the International Paper and Power Company had owned "all of the preferred stock and 30 per cent of the common stock of the Knickerbocker Press and the Albany Evening News, as well as a sizable share of the Ithaca, New York, Journal News."

Bov Scat Coach Dolls Up Oklahoma University Gym

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 13.—Ideas buzz in the brain of Bruce Drake, kid coach of the University of Oklahoma's Bov Scat basketball team, like bees in a hive.

Spectators at the Oklahoma-Kansas game here Saturday night gasped when they walked into the Sooner fieldhouse. The place was all dressed up like it is on commencement or on the evenings when the governor comes to town.

Red and white bunting was stretched clear around the boxes and reserved seats, two sets of large colored flags of all the Big Six conference schools hung from the rafters, a flag raising ceremony preceded the game, the Sooner band played swing music from a new platform in the northwest corner of the building and a public address system aided the giant electric scoreboard by calling out names of players making the field goals, free throws and fouls.

It was all part of the new basketball plan the youthful Drakes is starting here.

Ordinary obstacles don't stop this newest addition to the Oklahoma coaching staff.

Take these 15-foot colored flags of all the Big Six schools, for instance. Drake planned to buy new ones until he learned that a public address system aided the giant electric scoreboard by calling out names of players making the field goals, free throws and fouls.

It was all part of the new basketball plan the youthful Drakes is starting here.

Ordinary obstacles don't stop this newest addition to the Oklahoma coaching staff.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Philly Gazette's report that the Maxwell trophy dinner down there the other night, the boys were afraid to ask Davey O'Brien to pass the milk (or anything else that spills) lest the guy forget himself and really pass it.

Max Baer stopped traffic in the new Associated Press building yesterday when he called to visit the film concern with which he has signed a five-year contract. Max says his baby boy already is under contract to Anell Hoffman and that the kid's fingerprints have been registered with the California Athletic Commission.

You've been hearing of a split between Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey annually since 1923, so just forget the current revival. The combined ages of Len Harvey and Larry Gains, who are to fight for the British heavyweight championship March 16, must total 80 years, at least. Eimer Layden visited Lou Little at Columbia this week and was introduced to the mysteries of handball, as played by Little and his assistants. Pie Traynor is going to string along with the same players who supplied the electric collapse of the Los Angeles Times, waged a one-man campaign to have Coach Howard Jones play Doyle Nave regularly. Dyer wrote until he was hoarse, you might say, but Jones would pay him no mind a-tail and Nave continued to collect splinters from the Southern California benches. Then came the big touch. On the day of the Rose Bowl game, Dyer left the park three minutes before the final whistle to escape the dense traffic back to Los Angeles. And therefore wasn't on hand to see Nave dash out from obscurity and hurt them passes that did for the Duke. P. S.: He heard them on the radio in his car.

Willie Turnesa To Seek British Title

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 13 (AP)—Come what may, Willie Turnesa, United States amateur golf champion plans to retain his amateur standing, but he may go after the British title this spring.

The youngest of the seven golfing brothers sailed for England late in March in order to have a couple of weeks practice and become "acclimated."

"The course, the winds, the greens—everything is different over there," he explained.

"That's why I plan to leave in plenty of time. If I'm going over I might just as well do it right. There's no use hurrying and merely taking a pot shot at the thing."

Here on a business trip—he represents a Detroit automobile ex-manufacturer—Turnesa had time for his first golf in months.

Kansas City Plans Wheat Bowl Game

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 13 (AP)—It's a long way off, but Kansas City may stage an annual Wheat Bowl game with the Big Six football champion as host team.

James F. McPherson, a bank cashier, disclosed the plan was seriously discussed in Topeka this week by alumni of Missouri and Kansas universities who recalled Kansas City had had no major football attraction since annual games between those two schools were shifted back to the campuses some 20 years ago.

White Deer Beats LeFors 32 to 28

WHITE DEER, Jan. 13.—The White Deer Bucks out-shot the LeFors Pirates to win a fast game 32 to 28 at LeFors Tuesday night.

High score man of the game was Ellington of LeFors with 14 points. Seitz and Moore of White Deer tied for second honors with 10 points each.

The Pirates tried hard but were unable to avenge an early season 25-22 defeat.

Denver's Just A Dog But He Liked Privy

VAN ALSTYNE, Jan. 13 (AP)—"Denver" was a dog of mixed strains but as often happens in canine breeds, the blended bloods gave him intelligence.

In the mature doghood he went daily to the meat market at Celina and remained quietly at the door until his daily ration was handed out. He carried the package home before he met the figure of his mistress, Mrs. Hubbard O'Dell, often sent him for meat for the family table, which he delivered as safely as the grocer's boy would.

As the year was closing, "Denver" died after a wasting illness. He was 15, but his mistress is distressed. Folks not otherwise emotional have been known to cry when their dogs die. A dog loves his master and a good master loves his dog.

Here Are Ozark Mountain Hill Billies In Warm-Up Uniforms

IZZ HET LIZ MAG EM SADIE HINKY

The Hill Billies are coming to town. They'll be here Monday night and will open their appearance with a slam-bang 30 minutes of entertainment in the high school gymnasium. Then they will forget their native state and turn into a girls' basketball team, one of the best in the nation. The girls will be assisted in their stunts by Jumping Joe Satovich. Opponents for the team will be the Pampa Harvesters of Coach Odus Mitchell, who are said to be a bit jittery over the prospects of meeting the great team. The game itself will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Above is pictured the visiting lassies in their warm-up uniforms. Em is a girl of the gay nineties, or sometime. Sadie is a home body who likes to do farm work. Hinky prefers grass skirts and swing music while Izz sits and smokes and indulges in her favorite pastime. Het is modest, Liz is coy and Mag takes care of the house.

But underneath the strange costumes are beautiful silk basketball uniforms and anyone who thinks the girls don't know how to play basketball will learn differently Monday night.

Jack Dempsey Relates Full Story Of Famed Long Count

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The full story of the famous "long count" in the second Dempsey-Tunney fight, the most controversial point in the whole history of modern heavyweight boxing, is now finally completed with detailed statements by both fighters. Gene Tunney gave his version in an article in Collier's in 1932, and now Jack Dempsey, writing in the same magazine, presents his side. After describing the knock-down of Tunney in the seventh round, and the delay in the count, because he failed to go to a neutral corner, Dempsey says:

"When you have given your all in a sports competition you have only one thought and it's usually of rest. I did the human thing and thought only of rest. More than anything else in the world I wanted to stand still for an instant and relax long enough to take a deep breath in safety. The motion pictures show that I did just that. I leaned back against a convenient spot on the ropes and draped my arms over the top strand to enjoy the most welcome moment of relaxation a fighter ever knew."

"Tunney has said that he kept his wits during those fleeting seconds. If he actually did, he is more of a ring fighter than his record shows, because few people can be staggered against the ropes with a heavy right hand for five seconds later spilled to the deck with five more rights and lefts, and still be cagy enough to remember that the other guy must go to a neutral corner before the counting begins."

"It was a sickening sight to me to see Tunney grab that rope and pull himself to an upright position. I felt like the unluckiest guy on earth at that moment."

"Today, 11 years later, I feel that I was most fortunate of all the third time he landed. For, if Gene Tunney had remained on the canvas, the whole course of my life would have been changed, and for the worse. I am certain. Had Tunney remained on the floor in Chicago, I would have been hailed as a 'superman' of the ring. Money would have been showered upon me by the bucketful. Clamor of the public and press would have guaranteed $3,000,000 for another Tunney-Dempsey battle."

"And nine months later I would have been in the ring taking a beating from the greatest fighter of the time, Gene Tunney. He describes the Tunney fight as the only real 'shellacking' he ever took—a million dollar beating win or lose; for, being the most studious and determined of all fighters, Tunney had perfected a defense and a counter-attack for the only fighting style I knew."

"Defeated, I believed it wise to stop fighting. The reasoning behind this decision was simple. I was firmly convinced that a body, after giving it and taking it for more than 20 years of its 22 years, could not be subjected to further punishment without risking and suffering permanent damage. Too many fighters refuse to realize this cruel fact."

"In Tunney's story of the long count he stated that after he was knocked out, he picked up the referee's count and the figure of the campaign of defense and attack while waiting for the count of nine."

"Whether twenty-nine seconds or nine seconds had elapsed when the referee said 'nine,' he wrote, 'would have made no difference to me. My signal to get off the ground was the count—nine. No boxer that I have ever known has carried a stopwatch on his wrist going into the ring.'"

Comiskey To Make History In 4-Rounder

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Patrick Edward Comiskey, an 18-year-old prodigy from Paterson, N. J., will make big-town boxing history tonight when he fights one Marty Lieberman of Newark in a four-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

What's history making about it is the fact that Patrick Edward's four-rounder has been spotted in the semi-final position, right next to the feature 10-rounder between Tommy Farr, the ever-losing Welshman, and Red Burman of Baltimore. It is, furthermore, by popular demand.

Preceding Comiskey's duello will occur no fewer than two other 10-round heavyweight battles, Gus Dorazio of Philadelphia meeting Roscoe Toles of Detroit in one, and Budd Knox of Dayton, Ohio, facing Nick Fiorentino of Philadelphia in the other. All this beef on the hoof has been forced to give way to the glamor boy from Paterson.

The oldest inhabitants say nothing like it has ever happened before, and chances are they are correct. As last official round of the boxing commission was necessary before the bout could be sandwiched between the three "main events."

Comiskey happens to be the hottest thing in the way of novice heavyweights in the country right now. As last official round he had scored seven straight one-round knockouts. His right-hand punch that stiffens every man it hits is becoming a legend.

Due to his tender years, Pat probably will not be permitted to fight another 10-round bout. Promoter Mike Jacobs is predicting that the sensational youngster will, before that, draw as high as $2,500 for a four-round engagement. The basic pay for a four-rounder at the Garden is $100, and $2,500 doubtless would set a record.

Women's College Names O'Brien Favorite Star

DENTON, Jan. 13.—Short, stocky, Davy O'Brien scored again this week as 270 Texas girls deserted the traditional feminine interest in tall, dark and handsome men to name him their favorite football star in the Southwest conference.

Third annual vote taken by students at Texas State College for Women gave Davy a strong lead over his closest runner-up, Dick Todd of A. & M.

Along with the rest of the highest paid professional players, the girls seem to have a weakness for passing quarterbacks, since their first football hero was Silging Sammy Baugh, now one of the highest paid professional players. Last year Joe Routh, All-American left guard from A. & M., was selected, but this year they came back to T. C. U.

Davy and his coach, Dutch Meyer, will be invited to visit the campus for presentation of awards by the Lass-O, student weekly newspaper.

Irish Minstrel Show Planned At Shamrock

SHAMROCK, Jan. 13.—Plans for the presentation of an Irish minstrel show by members of the Shamrock Boosters club were announced Wednesday. The minstrel will be composed of 40 male characters and will present the latest in Irish jokes, wit and fun. It has been announced for the night of Feb. 17 at Clark auditorium.

Glen Truax has accepted the responsibility of trying to make song birds and clowns out of the 40 staid business and professional men who comprise the club. Tryouts for parts will begin immediately and it has already been decided that the jovial and genial St. Patrick will be portrayed by Boss Booster and Postmaster Flake George. Other characters will be announced soon.

Three Quintets Tied For Cage Lead In Southwest

(By The Associated Press)

Baylor's fast-moving Bears rested amidst triple tie for the Southwest conference basketball lead today when the Texas Longhorns and Arkansas Razorbacks got set for a "do or die" series at Austin.

The Bruins, an outfit liberally sprinkled with sophomore stars, tumbled the Texas Aggies into the cellar last night with a 39-34 victory at College Station. Baylor tied for the lead with unbeaten Southern Methodist and Rice.

Texas must win both games from Arkansas to climb into the thick of the race and Arkansas must take both battles or virtually fade from consideration for the title.

The tall boys from the Ozarks can still get the ball down to the basket like they did last season in winning the championship but after that the Razorbacks have too much trouble finding the hoop. Texas, a pre-season favorite, was surprised—as were the fans—by taking a licking from Rice the first time out.

One other game is on this week's schedule, S. M. U. playing the once-beaten T. C. U. Horned Frogs at Fort Worth tomorrow night.

The Bears rallied in the closing minutes to nose out the stubborn Aggies who led from the opening whistle until 15 minutes of the second half were gone.

Rice played a practice game last night, trimming the St. Mary's Rattlers at San Antonio, 43-31.

Netry And Freeman Will Wrestle In Preliminary

Wrestling fans of Pampa are excited to see a couple of great wrestling matches and one rough and tumble battle Monday night at the Pampa Athletic arena when Promoter Cliff Chambers stages his second light-heavyweight battle. Hostilities will begin at 8 o'clock sharp.

Opening the card will be a 20-minute affair between Steve Netry, the Florida boy who made such a hit last Monday night, and Able Freeman, the Bronx speedster.

Following in a 30-minute tussle, will be Frankie Hill of Wichita, Kansas, conqueror of Tiger Billy McEwin last week, and Russell Riley, the favorite from Muleshoe.

The main event pair will be Joe Banaski, Oklahoma cowboy, and Tiger Billy McEwin, the Montana Bulldozer. McEwin defeated Monday night, will be out to stay in the elimination tournament. That means the rougher will shoot the works and when he does the fur usually flies. Banaski is primarily a wrestler but when necessary he can become as rough as the next fellow.

"I've fouled around long enough in this tournament and from now on there's goin' to be no quarter given," announced McEwin. "I let the young upstart of a Hill beat me because I felt sorry for him and let him get away and then the referee helped him."

Easy-going Banaski has nothing to say about the battle.

Harvesters Favored To Win Mobeetie Cage Tournament

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—At the age of 22, 19 years after he quit the turf with the most notable record in American racing history, Man O' War continues to make news. Last week his owner, Samuel D. Riddle, turned down an offer of $1,000,000 cash for him. It was by far the largest offer ever made for a race horse.

The offer came, appropriately enough, from Louis B. Mayer, Hollywood film producer. Riddle revealed yesterday. It was flatly refused, for Riddle had vowed never to part with his famous runner and sire and had just completed arrangements setting up a trust fund for the son of Fair Play-Mahubah.

The trust fund will continue Man O' War in his pleasant regal state if Riddle and Mrs. Riddle die before he does, and makes provision for his burial in the same plot with his sire and dam.

—At 22 Man O' War's value as a sire has declined—but there seems little doubt it was sincere, since entering the racing game, Mayer has bought heavily, purchasing among others William Woodward's Perfox, Opden Philly Magic Hour (for $25,000) and Thomas Hitchcock's Osobaw. He has entered them in the big California stakes this winter and is training the $79,000 worth of yearlings purchased at the Saratoga sales last summer.

It was at those same sales that Riddle bought Man O' War in 1918 from the late Augustus Belmont for $5,000. "Big Red" won 21 races before being retired at the end of his three-year season, losing only to Upset, and won $249,405 in purses.

Pampa Boy Breaks Leg In Grid Game

Clifford Howard Jr., 12, a student at Sam Houston school, broke his leg in a football game today, as he recalled that the block he threw into a Baker school football player allowed his teammate to score a touchdown for his school in a six-man game yesterday afternoon. Clifford suffered a broken leg above the ankle in the play.

The youngster showed true football spirit when he gritted his teeth and endured intense pain until the leg was set. He is the son of Mrs. Foy Howard Hood and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hollman.

Mrs. Hollman is convalescing from a broken elbow suffered a few weeks ago.

Competent judges believed his winnings would have been doubled had he run five or six years later when purses were uniformly higher.

Allison Girls Will Play Ada

SHAMROCK, Jan. 13.—In a battle of champions the Allison Ramblettes, Texas high school girls' basketball champions for 1938, will meet the Ada, Okla., 1938 Oklahoma state champions, here Friday night.

The Ramblettes are Texas high school champions while the Ada team has held the Oklahoma championship for the past three years.

During three seasons the Ada girls have won 96 games and lost only one. They have not lost a conference game in 10 years, although seven years of that time were played in class B circles.

The Ramblettes are undefeated on their home court for the past eight years and have been beaten by high school teams only three times for the past three seasons. They lost the Texas state championship in 1937 to Emory by one point and were defeated later by Mobeetie. In 1938 they lost a practice game to Celeste and then beat the same team for the state championship later in the season.

Texas-Born Golfer Leads Tournament

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 3 (AP)—B. M. Hogan, 138-pound Texas-born golfer ball wallop, headed a field of professionals and amateurs today in the second round of the 72-hole $5,000 Oakland open tournament.

A par-busting 66, four shots under the standard number of strokes set for the Sequoyah course, put the present White Plains, N. Y., entrant in the forefront of some 150 players, survivors of yesterday's opening round.

Hogan, posting a 32-34 for the par 35-35 layout, set the pace for a starting field of 200. Fifty who failed to better 90 were sidetracked. A pair of unknowns, Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del., and Clayton Haefner, Greensboro, N. C., and the top money winner of 1938, Sam Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., trailed the leader by a stroke—at 67. Horton Smith, Chicago veteran, followed with a 68.

Jim D-mare, Houston, Texas, boy who won the Los Angeles open, had a 69.

Pampa Comes From Behind To Win Game

A baffling zone defense set up by the Plainview Bulldogs held the Harvesters at bay throughout the first half last night, but after a conference with Coach Odus Mitchell they came from behind to win 24 to 16.

The Bulldogs were leading 10 to 7 at the half. During the first two quarters the Harvesters couldn't penetrate the visitors' zone defense. It was the first time this season they have come up against the type of defense. They were utterly unable to work the ball through for pivot or set-up shots. They lost the ball time and again through interceptions as they tried to pass the ball into the scoring zone.

After the half intermission they came back and immediately began to get the ball into position for scoring. They rang up five points in the first two minutes, but Plainview came right back with sensational long-distance sharpshooting and tied the score which was 17 to 12 at the end of the third period. The Harvesters pulled away definitely in the latter part of the third period.

Centers Are Stopped

The Harvesters and most of the teams in this district use a man-to-man defense. In a zone defense, each player on the team defends an allotted zone. The zone defense has been the easiest for Coach Mitchell's teams to penetrate when they get on to the knack of it. The Pampa boys were going around in a devastating manner in the fourth quarter last night.

Dunaway, stellar guard, continued to pass brilliantly, impartially and fooling the opposition with fake motions. He used this deception best in passing the ball to either Andis, Heiskell or the center while trying to set up a play for a scoring position.

The Pampa forwards had trouble hitting the basket in the set-ups. Both of Heiskell's field goals came as the result of running off and leaving the other team. Credit for these scores should be shared with his team-mates who passed long and accurately to him. Captain Andis led the scoring. Neither Miller nor Kyle, centers, could get going offensively, but they played well enough on the defense. Everybody on the team scored except Kyle.

If the Bulldogs had not committed so many fouls the Harvesters might not have had such an easy time. The Pampanos looped only two more field goals than the Bulldogs, but they made six charity shots to 2 for Plainview. Referee Lay assessed 7 fouls against the Harvesters and 11 against Plainview. He called a good game as usual, his decisions being just and impartial.

Catfish Present

One of the interested spectators in the audience was Catfish Smith, coach of the Borger Bulldogs who will play the Plainview quintet tonight at Borger. The Catfish said his team was coming along slow but that it was coming along. He praised Pampa's team, and Coach Mitchell and the fact that receipts will be counted, based on the number of spectators present, all passes to the gym will be cancelled Monday night, and admission will be collected from every person, 25 cents for children and 40 cents for adults. No exceptions will be made. Clowning by Jo Satovich will precede the game and fans should arrive by 7:30 o'clock.

Fifty Counties Mobilized For Paralysis Fight

DALLAS, Jan. 13.—More than fifty Texas counties have mobilized in the national drive against infantile paralysis.

Headquarters operations are confident that in the present week there will be at least one-half of the 254 counties signed up through the acceptance of county chairman appointments.

Organization of counties will continue under the direction of George Waverly Briggs, vice chairman, Dallas, who aims his drive to set up an organization in every county of the state. It is the intention of W. L. Clayton, chairman, Houston, and his associates to make all county organizations permanent.

"Progressively, this fight against the crippling disease is becoming effectively and permanently organized," said Mr. Briggs. "Each year a wider area is being brought into active participation. To this complement, Texas, we feel, must contribute effective organization embracing all of its 254 counties."

Clarifying the program under which Texas participants, Mr. Briggs said: "All net funds raised in this year's campaign will be divided; that is to say, one-half of the net proceeds will go to the National Foundation and one-half will be held in trust by the state committee, for delivery to the chairman and chapters of the National Foundation, which, immediately upon the conclusion of this campaign for the Celebration of the President's Birthday, will be constituted to include each county in Texas. All successful birthday committee chairmen will be invited by the National Foundation to cooperate in the organization of these chapters. Thus, until the disease is conquered, the fight on infantile paralysis will go on persistently and aggressively, under the general direction and with the continuing aid of the National Foundation, working steadily in the national field, and likewise through permanent chapters in each state. Texas hopes to take, and maintain, the lead in this great humanitarian effort."

SERIAL STORY

NO TIME TO MARRY BY ELINORE-COWAN STONE

Yesterday, Mr. Bryant, Janet's attorney, calls her asking that she come to see him since there are some very important matters to discuss.

CHAPTER VI

WHEN Janet carried her bills up to her own room, she was shocked and incredulous to find out how much she had spent during the past month.

There were several considerable items that Cynthia had charged to her account. On previous occasions Cynthia had charged things to her, and Aunt Mary had paid for them as a matter of course.

But I can't give the bills to Aunt Mary this time, Janet thought. Not at this afternoon.

The whole thing came to considerably more than her balance at the bank. Her dressmaker's bills were still to come; and aside from the fact that she would need a great deal of ready money during the next few days, there was, Lance had told her, an immediate payment due upon the house.

She must make sure, when she talked to Mr. Bryant tomorrow, to arrange for those payments. And perhaps, after all, there might be enough margin to take care of the difference between the rent on this apartment and that of the smaller one Aunt Mary talked of taking at the Avalon.

Janet had just thrown the last envelope into the wastebasket when Aunt Mary opened the door.

"Janet, Dawn!" she cried, sweeping down upon her niece with all the indignant authority of her five feet two. "Do you mean to tell me that you haven't taken off those wet things yet? Get them off this minute, and yourself into a hot tub of water. After that, you're going to bed."

"But, Aunt Mary," Janet protested, "I'm not ready to go to bed. Besides, I want my dinner. This business of rushing around getting ready to be married burns up the calories."

"I did not ask you whether or not you were ready," Aunt Mary placidly folded her hands, which, not so many years ago had so capably wielded a switch. When Aunt Mary spoke in that tone, Janet almost forgot for the moment that the switch was not still at hand.

"Marry will bring you a tray in due time."

SO Janet soaked in fragrant warm suds for a luxurious half hour; then she slipped into a soft green negligee, and after the hot soup, omelet, and salad which Mary brought her, snapped on her bed lamp and stretched out with a new book.

It really was blissful to have an idle evening alone after the last few weeks' mad round of fittings and showers and late parties.

She had read a chapter or two when a knock sounded at her door, and Cynthia slipped into the room. It was worthy of note that Cynthia had bothered to knock at all; but it was not that which made Janet put down her book and give her undivided attention to her cousin.

There was in Cynthia's manner as she poised there, a slim, black-gowned silhouette leaning against the creamy panel of the door, a strange, almost breathless excitement. It dilated the pupils of her violet eyes, and lent a new transparency to the pallor of her skin against the dark cloud of hair that hung to her shoulders.

She was wearing a black dinner frock with a long full skirt that rippled about her silver sandals in lustrous folds. The slim tight blouse had silver buttons up the front and slashes of silver at the wrists. It was a dress which Janet did not recognize.

Cynthia's eyes followed her own as she swept over it.

"NO, you've never seen it before," Cynthia said. "I'm sorry about it, Jan. I should have asked you first; but after I'd seen it, I just couldn't risk having somebody beat me to it."

"It does suit you marvelously," Jan said.

"Of course you know I shouldn't have bought it if I'd known—about Aunt Mary's money. I tried to return it today, but the store had made a lot of alterations on it."

"It would have been a pity to send it back. It does things for you, Cyn. It makes you look like a princess out of a story book."

"I know it's a knock-out. That's why I'm wearing it tonight. I have an idea"—Cynthia went even paler and broke off on a caught breath—"I have an idea I'm going to make it pay for itself."

Janet exclaimed, "Cynthia—but you can't mean that you're going to sell it?" Cynthia's smile twisted a little. "Perhaps that's not such a bad way to put it. . . . But not in the way you mean, Jan."

Jan opened her lips to ask, "Cynthia, what on earth are you talking about?" Then her memory echoed Aunt Mary's words of the afternoon, "Just as much as Cynthia usually means when she's feeling dramatic," and she laughed softly.

"Well, have yourself a good time," she said. "And, Cyn, don't worry about the dress. We just won't tell Aunt Mary."

SHE took up her book again. But Cynthia lingered, her glance bent as if in complete concentration upon her expertly manicured left hand. In a moment she said in a low tone, without lifting her eyes, "You're a swell kid, Jan. You've got something not many people have. . . . Aunt Mary has it, too. Something—oh, I don't know how to say it—like a clear, steady light that never goes out. . . . I—Jan, if ever I—"

When she broke off again, Janet laughed in quick embarrassment. All this was so utterly unlike the cool, amused Cynthia she knew.

"Good Lord, Cyn!" she said. "If you need taxi fare or something, why don't you say so without all the floral offerings? You know you're—"

"Don't!" Cynthia cried sharply, lifting her head. "I was—trying to tell you something, Jan. Now I can't. . . . I—well, good night, Jan."

Abruptly she turned and whirled out of the room. Janet, touched and contrite, tried to call her back; but Cynthia had flashed down the hall and out of the door before she could find her bedroom slippers.

She wished she had thought to ask where Cyn was going for dinner. From her cousin's words at the telephone that afternoon, she had guessed it was somewhere with Barney McKnight. . . . Well, when Cyn came home, she would slip into her room and have a long talk with her—only by that time, no doubt, Cynthia would have put on another of her chameleon phases, and would resent any reference to this evening's strange mood.

Janet took up her book again. Later, she was drowsily conscious that some one was turning off her bed lamp, shutting off the steam, raising a window, and shaking out the warm coverlet that lay on the foot of the bed—just conscious enough to murmur, "Thanks a lot," without opening her eyes, before she snuggled more comfortably into her pillow and dropped off again.

She started awake to the clang of the telephone on her bed table.

"Sell it!" Cynthia's smile twisted a little. "Perhaps that's not such a bad way to put it. . . . But not in the way you mean, Jan."

Jan opened her lips to ask, "Cynthia, what on earth are you talking about?" Then her memory echoed Aunt Mary's words of the afternoon, "Just as much as Cynthia usually means when she's feeling dramatic," and she laughed softly.

Labor Cases Argued Before Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Litigation expected to clarify the rights of striking employes under the Wagner Act came before the Supreme Court today for argument.

Three cases were involved, and the labor board had lost all of them in circuit courts.

The first case grew out of a labor board order directing re-employment of 250 workmen by the Columbian Enameling and Stamping Company, Inc., of Terre Haute, Ind. The Federal Circuit Court held that the men had gone on strike in 1935 while under contract not to do so and thereby had severed their employment relations.

This, the circuit court added, ended all obligation of the company to bargain collectively with union representatives. The labor board, however, contended the men retained the status of employes.

In the second case, the circuit court at Chicago upheld the contention of the Funsteel Metallurgical Corporation of North Chicago that it had a right to discharge employes who seized two key buildings in 1937 and held them for nine days.

The labor board contended the sit-down resulted from the company's refusal to bargain collectively with the men and that it was barred from dismissing them.

The third case involved a labor board order directing the Sands Manufacturing company of Cleveland to reinstate 46 employes. The circuit court said the company "sincerely attempted over a long period" to negotiate differences with a labor union and had suspended negotiations only after the union had taken action "which in effect was equivalent to a strike."

In 1911, Colonel "Buffalo" Jones visited Africa and captured a rhinoceros, a giraffe, a lion, a zebra, a cheetah, a wart hog, and many other animals, using only common lass ropes and cow ponies.

Brass Rail For House Members Desks Advocated

AUSTIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—The House of Representatives decided today to build a brass rail around members' desks in the hope of making procedure almost as orderly as that of the Senate.

Proponents of the resolution said the need was urgent because the general public "with some reason" was calling the House a "three-ring circus" and "the biggest show on earth." They added that one cause of the Senate decorum was that the upper chamber had a railing and amnitude within it was strictly limited.

"We never can have as much order as the Senate," said Rep. Morris of Greenville, the resolution's author, "because we have a larger body. However, we can improve conditions considerably by keeping wives and non-working employes outside the rail."

Eduardo Hay, minister of foreign relations in the Mexican cabinet, and Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexican ambassador to Washington, have been appointed and confirmed as generals of division in the Mexican army.

They held ranks as brigadier generals before their reported elevation by President Lazaro Cardenas.

Shamrock To Hold Livestock Exhibit

SHAMROCK, Jan. 13.—At the invitation of Bill Cantrell, president of the local F. F. A. boys chapter, the Boosters club decided Wednesday to sponsor a project show early in February. The members of the F. F. A. chapter will arrange the display of livestock now being raised by the 40 boys in the chapter.

The Boosters club will provide prizes for three places in each division entered and also will provide a site for holding the show.

Howard Weatherly, vocational agriculture teacher, introduced young Cantrell who told the club the aims of the F. F. A. organization and mentioned the benefits to the boys and to the community of the show. He said that such a show, although with a small beginning, would tend to encourage the boys in the vocational agriculture department not only in their projects but in their class room work as well.

The event will be just preceding the Amarillo Fat Stock Show and many of the entries here will be sent to Amarillo for competition there.

The show this year will be the first held here and will acquaint the public in a measure with the work being done by the vocational agriculture students of the high school.

Life To Be Lesson Sermon Subject

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 15.

The Golden Text is: "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death" (Proverbs 12:20).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. . . For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night" (Psalm 90:1, 4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The days of our pilgrimage will multiply instead of diminish, when God's kingdom comes on earth; for the true way leads to Life instead of to death, and earthly experience discloses the finity of error and infinite capacities of Truth, in which God gives man dominion over all the earth" (page 202).

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PETER SEES CHRIST'S GLORY.
Text: Matthew 17:1-9, 14-18.
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance.

The story of the transfiguration lifts us somewhat out of and above the normal experience of life and the daily relationship of Jesus with His disciples.

Taken such an incident should have taken place in its itself very significant, and it seems to suggest that something more is necessary in religious faith and experience than just the normal and usual day-by-day devotion, in spirit and to one's tasks. Why should unusual experiences be necessary?

I suppose it is because if there were no such experiences one would tend to become discouraged through not seeing things in their right perspective, and getting the sort of vision that is only possible where one ascends to some place that is above the ordinary level.

In our physical life we realize quite clearly the meaning of ascent into a high hill or a mountain top. That man is dull indeed whose mind and soul do not thrill to the vision from a mountain top.

Why did Jesus take with Him only James, Peter and John? Why did He not take with Him all the disciples? The answer is that if He had taken them all, it would have lacked the quality of unusual experience.

He took these three because they were the three who either most needed this vision from the heights and from the heights of experience, or because they were the three most forceful disciples who, if their own faith was strengthened and inspired, would be most calculated to strengthen and inspire others.

Ancient 'Jumbo' On Exhibit At Canyon Museum

CANYON, Jan. 13. (AP)—Little Johnny, visiting the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum here for the first time, will probably call it—with exclamations—an elephant, but to scientists it is Amelobdon Hicks!

The long extinct, mastodon, which inhabited the plains 5,000,000 years ago, has been restored to life size and appearance and placed in the basement annex of the museum.

It gives a surprising reception to persons who turn a corner of the stairway and see the huge specimen for the first time. The model was made under the direction of Prof. C. Stuart Johnston, head of the department of geology and anthropology, by G. T. Sundstrom.

The restoration is the only one ever made of this species of mastodon, a 4-ton, shovel-tusked vegetarian which frequented the water courses, and the model resembles an elephant, but has small ears and a longish body. It was modeled after bones found near Higgins.

The museum staff laid out the bones—a rare find—and traced the shape and bulk before making a small model. Then work was begun with timbers, papier-mache, plaster of paris, hair screen, burlap, and other materials. The complete model weighs about 400 pounds.

The restoration was made possible through a WPA scientific project providing the museum with excavation crews and specialized workers who preserve the specimens. The museum has the most complete fossil collection of record in many phases of paleontology.

Contemporaries of this species of mastodon were the camel, three-toed horse, saber-toothed tiger, rhinoceros and bear-like dog. However, the tiger was much smaller and weaker than the one represented by a complete, and rare, skeleton at the museum, obtained from the asphalt pits of California.

A complete skull of the Amelobdon Hicks, the only one in existence, is on display at the museum. Much skill was required in the modeling, but Mr. Sundstrom is a sculptor, taxidermist, photographer, amateur paleontologist, and preparator of unusual versatility. He is now working on cases which will show the bob white and the bob wolf in their native habitats.

PANHANDLE, Jan. 13.—The annual report made to the State Board of Vocational Agriculture by the local F. F. A. boys showed that 16 boys had completed 76 jobs pertaining to agriculture in the past year.

These jobs other than the projects served as a basis for the course of study, and they reveal the efforts on the students part in mastering the elementary course of study.

Four of the major jobs were culling chickens, vaccination and castrating livestock, and fencing. The work was carried on at the homes of the boys at a time when they were out of class. The other 72 jobs were of less importance, but in the long run they played a large part in the course of study.

Shamrock Legion Hears Speech By Charlie Maisel

SHAMROCK, Jan. 13.—At the regular meeting of the Chas. De Shazo post of the American Legion here Tuesday night, Charlie Maisel of Pampa, 18th district commander, cited the urgent need for militant education in patriotism in order to combat the isms in the United States. He spoke on "Americanism" before a large group of Legionnaires and Auxiliary members.

M. S. Kavanaugh, post commander, introduced Mr. Maisel, who based his talk on the preamble of the constitution of the American Legion, which he characterized as truly American and patriotic doctrine. He pointed out that the Legion dedicated itself first to God and country and pledged itself to support the constitution of the United States. Another point in his discussion of the evening was the pledge to foster and perpetuate 100 per cent Americanism.

Short talks were made by M. S. Kavanaugh, post commander, and Fluke George, zone commander. Out-of-town guests besides the speaker included Paul Hill and Earl Perkins of Pampa, E. F. Lewis, Dodson James, and W. C. Saberry, officers of the Wellington post.

Jefferson Barber Served Three Generations Of Texas Families

JEFFERSON, Jan. 13. (AP)—Charley Young, who died recently at 80, was one of Texas' oldest barbers, beginning practice at his trade at 14. When Charley was assigned a chair in Jo LaPara's shop where he had shined boots for eight years—there were no "shoes" in Texas then—no white barbers were servicing hair and whiskers in this part of Texas. In the negro shop, however, each customer, including some of Texas' nobles, had his private mug with his name lettered in gold, on the shop shelf.

Charley's first customer was Dave Culbertson, later United States Senator. Other notables including Charles A. Culbertson, governor and senator from the Lone Star State, and three generations of the Wise, DeWare and Neidermeyer families were shaved by Charley over half a century.

After a few years at the LaPara shop, Charley opened his own place at Hughes Springs, supplementing his professional income by waiting on tables and playing in a five-piece orchestra. Subsequently he played clarinet in Hamilton Walker's negro band at formal occasions throughout East Texas. Wright's band played at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wise more than 60 years ago and many years later at the wedding of their daughter, Mabel, to Martin Ragley.

Charley was born near Clarksville when his parents were slaves on the San Smith plantation. Charley opened a four-chair barber shop in Jefferson in 1890 and operated it until a few years ago when ill health forced him to retire.

Brady Ex-Publisher Leases Albany News

ALBANY, Jan. 13. (AP)—The Albany News, established here in 1883, and the oldest business institution in Shackelford county, has been leased by Col. Richard H. (Dick) McCarthy to R. B. Boyle, former publisher of the Heart O' Texas News-of-Brady.

Col. McCarthy, 80, has not been active in the operation of the weekly the past five years, but continued to contribute the pungent editorials long associated with him.

Official orator of the East Texas Press Association for many years, Col. McCarthy is best known in West Texas as among the first advocates of good roads and diversification of crops and products, which he promoted with the slogan: "Hens, sow and cow." He also was a booster for Hereford cattle on Shackelford county ranches.

The Albany News is a direct descendant of the Frontier Echo of Jacksboro, which also had a period of existence as the Fort Griffin Echo, when that historic settlement marked the western frontier.
