FDR CHARGES REPORT 'A LIE'

CINDERELLA

Those 12 New York bachelors, who recently "brought out" an obscure dress model in a mock "debut," apparently still enjoy burlesquing over-emphasized social debutantes. Now they have chosen an airline stewardess, comely Mae Leslie, of Antler, N. D., as "Cinderella of the Month" and will present her at a night club "coming out" party.

London Subway Stations Bombed—Irish Blamed

LONDON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Bomb explosions in two subway stations in London today signaled the renewal of a series of anti-English outrages attributed by Scotland Yard to Irish Republican agitators. The blasts occurred almost simultaneously about 6 a. m. in the Leicester Square and Tottenham Court Road subway stations, about a quarter of a mile apart. Apparently the bombs were timed to go off before the rush hour began. Squads of Scotland Yard detectives and police hastily blocked the entrances to both stations, turning away thousands of puzzled office workers. London's complex transportation system was thrown into a snarl. Two persons at the Tottenham station were seriously injured, and five persons were hurt at Leicester Square. So strong was the blast in Tottenham station that telephone receivers in a long row of booths were blown from their hooks. Dynamite had been placed in the baggage room, the glazed windows of which were shattered. Woodwork was sent hurtling. Windows were broken and water from burst pipes flooded the station. The explosion at Leicester Square, London's "Times Square," also occurred in the baggage room. Explosives experts searched debris in both baggage rooms for traces of bomb containers. Scotland Yard men waited at the hospital bedside of an injured Tottenham Court Road ticket collector to hear his story. See LONDON, Page 7.

County Teachers To Convene Saturday

A meeting of the Gray county unit of the Texas State Teachers' association will be held in the high school auditorium here at 9 o'clock Saturday, preceding a meeting of high school and grade school mathematics teachers of the 26 Panhandle counties. Election of officers will be the principal business at the meeting of the Gray county unit, at which W. B. Weathered, retiring president, will preside. The mass meeting of teachers, in the auditorium, will be at 10 o'clock and will be followed by a luncheon in the high school cafeteria. A special invitation is being extended to members of Parent-Teacher associations to attend the meetings. The luncheon will be open to the public at 50 cents a plate. Reservations must be made with B. G. Gordon. Many county superintendents will attend the Pampa session before going to Amarillo to a meeting of the County Superintendents' association. Addresses will be made by Dr. J. C. Hassler, professor of mathematics at the University of Oklahoma, Professor A. C. Murray, West Texas State College, Canyon, Mrs. Esther Schirber, junior high school teacher, Amarillo, and others.

I Heard - - -

A couple of men about town discussing a story which appeared in The Pampa News yesterday. It was about a Chicago judge who refused a woman a divorce because her husband slapped her. Said one of the men, "I agree with the judge." The other also agreed but said, "the judge didn't tell a fellow how to get out of the house after he slapped his wife though."

Price Of Gas Cut 4 Cents Gallon Here

Pampa motorists "got a break" yesterday afternoon when the retail price of gasoline dropped four cents a gallon, one of the biggest drops in years. Third grade gasoline was selling at 14 cents a gallon, regular gasoline at 16 cents a gallon and Ethyl gasoline at 17 cents, after the price change. The new price is in line with the retail cost in other cities of the Panhandle. First drop in this section of the Panhandle, by major company stations, was in Amarillo where a month ago a cut was announced. Two weeks ago Borger stations reduced the price. Independent operators in Pampa have been selling gasoline at 15 and 17 cents a gallon for several months. They met the cut announced by the majors. One independent representative said today that the independents were responsible for giving motorists gasoline at the reduced price. Representatives of major companies said the cut had been contemplated for some time and that it was made to meet the independent prices and also to bring the local price in line with other towns and cities. Even as close as McLean the retail price of gasoline has been two cents lower than here, while farther to the south the price has been as low as 10 and 14 cents. One company representative said this morning, "the price may go lower." Asked how long the reduced price could be expected, he stated, "from now on. I hope."

Church Census To Be Taken Sunday

Fourteen of the local churches will co-operate, in taking a city-wide church census next Sunday afternoon from 1 to 4 o'clock. The aim is to contact every home in Pampa, learn the church affiliation or preference and extend a welcome to attend services. The plan is similar to the census taken last year. Each church is responsible for a certain district, divided into blocks for individual canvassers. Workers will return the cards to their respective churches, and churches will return all cards to the First Methodist church to be assembled Friday, Feb. 10. It is hoped that the homes will co-operate with the workers in giving information requested. The Ministerial Alliance is sponsoring the movement. It will return to quicken the spiritual life of the community.

Cordell Hull May Attend Texas Cotton Convention

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull will "exert every effort to visit Texas," Burriss C. Jackson, president of the Texas Cotton Association, said here yesterday. The Texan invited Hull to the association's convention in Houston March 31 and April 1. Hull was urged to discuss his trade agreements program before the cotton men.

Paddle 'Em!

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 3 (AP)—"Old fashioned wood shed paddling," thinks Judge Henry O. Goett, might result in fewer divorces—especially among "teen age couples." Reports also returned that the appointment of Donald Wakefield Smith to the Labor Relations Board would be cancelled in view of active opposition by the American Federation of Labor. The President has not submitted Smith's nomination to the Senate.

Otis Hendrix Martyr To Law Enforcement, Says Bayless

Hundreds gathered at the First Baptist Church at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon when funeral services were held for Otis Hendrix, 44-year-old constable of precinct 2, who was killed in a gun battle Monday night when, with other officers, he was on a tour of inspection at the Southern Club, where a President's Birthday ball was in progress. Services were conducted by Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and by Rev. E. E. Robinson, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. In the funeral sermon, Rev. Bayless paid tribute to the memory of Otis Hendrix as a "martyr to law enforcement, a man who gave his life that something that was catching the vitals of our city should stop." "Every day I come to appreciate more and more the men who defend my home. I think we often fail to appreciate this type of men, and that we should teach our children that the policeman is their friend." "He was a good man, quiet, unpretentious, who went his way, doing his duty. He was brave and faithful and expected the best out of himself."

Franco Will Execute Scores Of 'Enemies' In Next Few Weeks

Carl Benefiel

Directors of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce in session last night named Carl Benefiel as chairman of the 1939 Top O' Texas Fiesta. Date of the Fiesta was not set at last night's meeting, it being decided that an outline of plans be submitted before the date is announced. Mr. Benefiel returned to Pampa a few months ago after an absence of about two years. While a previous resident of Pampa he was a major figure in Jaycee celebrations. President Alton Hail and Chairman Benefiel will select committee chairmen soon and then will make plans so that dates can be announced soon. "The directors are delighted that Mr. Benefiel has accepted the chairmanship," President Hail said today. He is experienced in that line of work and is a faithful worker in the organization. Directors last night voted to send three delegates to the state Jaycee convention in Fort Worth Feb. 27-29 and to send three delegates to the national Jaycee convention in Tulsa, Okla. July 21-24. The Americanization committee under direction of Dr. A. J. Back is preparing a program.

FDR Will Stick To Floyd Nomination

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt told his press conference today he would not withdraw the nomination of Floyd H. Roberts to be a federal judge in Virginia. He added that if the Senate rejects the nominee, already rejected by the judiciary committee, he would write a letter to Roberts which would be right interesting. Roberts got about Capitol Hill yesterday that the President probably would withdraw the nomination, which drew opposition from Virginia Senators and a 15 to 3 rejection by the judiciary committee. Mr. Roosevelt did not intimate what would be contained in his letter to the nominee. Reports also returned that the re-appointment of Donald Wakefield Smith to the Labor Relations Board would be cancelled in view of active opposition by the American Federation of Labor. The President has not submitted Smith's nomination to the Senate.

Osborne To Sell Two Herd Sires

Sunshine today and forecasts for clear, warmer weather here indicate that J. P. Osborne and his son Jake will not have to use stoves in the big barn on their ranch 16 miles northeast of Pampa tomorrow when their auction sale of fine-bred Prince Domino Herefords will be held. But they were ready and will be used to heat up the building. "It makes no difference how bad the weather is, everything in the big barn will be comfortable for those who attend the sale," said Mr. Osborne. "We are trying to furnish nothing to provide comfort for our guests." The sales pavilion has been erected in one of the three big barns on the Osborne ranch. Through the ring Saturday afternoon will go 14 bulls and 25 females to be sold under Auctioneer Earl Gartin's hammer. Mr. Osborne's place is 10 miles west and two miles south of Miami, and seven miles and nine miles east of Pampa on old Highway 33, an all-weather road. Other hard sires, Jr. Prince Domino C, by Jr. Prince Domino B, and out of Myria, by Mischief Domino 6th, and Prince Domino C, 129th, by Prince Domino Return and out of Princess Domino 38th, by The Prince Domino, head the bull offering. The first is a coming four-year-old and the second is 27 months old. Other bulls range in age from 10 to 12 months. Mr. Osborne has called particular attention to Prince Domino B, 30th, by Jr. Prince Domino B, and out of Bright Duchess 82nd, by The New Type—a March calf. Five daughters of Junior Prince Domino are included in the female offering for the sale. The auction will open promptly at 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Lunches will be served at the ranch.

Late News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The House voted overwhelmingly today to continue for another year an investigation of un-American activities and propaganda. The action also brought to an end, at least for the time being, one of the bitterest controversies of the new Congress. THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Feb. 3 (AP)—Crown Prince Juliana expects another baby "about the middle of August," an official statement said today.

House Passes Bill To Borrow Pension Fund

AUSTIN, Feb. 3 (AP)—A bill authorizing the old age pension administration to borrow an additional $900,000 to meet a financial emergency sailed through the House today on a vote of 118 to 5. Advocates expressed confidence they could obtain Senate approval next week. R. H. Brown of Jacksonville and Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, co-authors of the proposal, warned that pension grants would have to be reduced 28 per cent, effective next month, unless something was done. The present average grant is $130 monthly. The $900,000 would be added to the $1,300,000 the pension organization already owes. Under terms of the bill, the $1,300,000 would have to be paid back next January 1 and the other on June 1, 1940. Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's attitude on the bill was not known. He had said he was against borrowing money as a governmental principle but many legislators believed he would approve the proposal because of the emergency. Several advocates of the bill said they would support new taxes to finance pensions but it would be impossible to pass the taxes and start getting the money from them until late next summer.

Commissioners Will Pick New Constable

Appointment of a successor to Otis Hendrix as constable of precinct 2 is to be made by the Gray county commissioners, County Judge Sherman White said today. He said that there was no set time for the appointment. The next regular meeting of the commissioners will be on Feb. 13. Several applications for the position have been received, Judge White said, but he did not know the exact number. The successor to Mr. Hendrix, who was killed in a gun battle Monday night at the Southern Club, will have practically a full term to serve. Constable Hendrix was re-elected to office last year without opposition and began serving a new term on Jan. 2.

Prisoner's Song

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 3 (AP)—Jack Sitzer, 40, was charged with selling mute canaries he represented as singers. One of the "songless" birds interrupted his trial with a warble and trill that filled the courtroom. The judge reduced the charge to peddling without a license.

Policeman Slain At Tourist Camp

STEPHENVILLE, Feb. 3 (AP)—A badly wounded gunman sought as the slayer of Policeman Jack Fuston in a Brownwood tourist cabin early today was captured by a posse between Dublin and Stephenville at noon, when he leaped from a car and attempted to flee to thick brush. Deputy Sheriff Ed Hassler said the man believed to be William Thomas Haley, Jr., 24, fugitive from the Palo Pinto jail, was wounded in the arms and legs. Hassler said the man had commandeered an automobile at Dublin several minutes earlier and forced a youth to drive him toward Stephenville. Haley headed a posse which flushed the man on the highway and captured him as he fled into C. E. Jordan's house near the Green's Creek community. BROWNWOOD, Feb. 3 (AP)—Scores of officers seeking the slayer of Jack Fuston, rocket Brownwood policeman, were baffled today when blood hounds brought from Gatesville lost the trail of the man identified by police as a fugitive from the Palo Pinto county jail. Fuston was slain early today at a tourist camp on the outskirts of Brownwood as he questioned the suspect, named by police as William Thomas Haley, Jr., 25, who escaped from the Palo Pinto jail Dec. 29 with a soap pistol. City Alderman A. P. Sprinkle tipped that Haley was at the tourist camp, went to the place with Fuston and Policeman Fred White. See POLICEMAN, Page 7.

Jurors Expected To Finish Probe Today

An exhaustive investigation by the grand jury of the gun battle at the Southern Club Monday night in which Constable Otis Hendrix and J. D. White, club operator, were killed, and four other persons wounded was expected to be completed today. Meeting at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the grand jury was in session until 10 o'clock that night, returning to its work at 9 o'clock this morning. Two bailiffs maintained a strict vigil at the grand jury and witnesses waiting room Thursday. Persons were not allowed to congregate in the halls, and orders were given to arrest any person talking to witnesses or moving from one witness to another. Questioning of witnesses in the grand jury room has been done largely by two Texas Rangers and an agent of the Texas Liquor Control Commission, according to a reliable source. Efforts to contact the district attorney were blocked as newspaper reporters were not permitted to wait for him in his office. Instructions have been issued to officers not to discuss the case. A diagram of the Southern Club was prepared by the Rangers Thursday to be used in the investigation. District Judge W. R. Ewing this morning said there were no cases being heard in district court, and that he had been waiting to see what the grand jury would do. Asked if the jury would make a report he said he did not know. Among witnesses called by the grand jury were Mrs. I. J. Huvall, wife of the commander of the American Legion, who was wounded in the left foot by a bullet fired during the affray Monday night at the Southern Club, Mike Mitchell, who received a slight flesh wound in the arm, and E. J. Kenney. Sheriff Cal Rose, and Deputies George A. Pope and John Hudson, who with Otis Hendrix were officers who called at the Southern Club Monday night, were among those testifying before the jury last night. In answer to a question as to the activities of the sheriff's department over the night, the sheriff this morning said everything was quiet with the exception of the grand jury investigation, which he could not reveal.

President Denies He Declared U. S. Frontier On Rhine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt termed a "deliberate lie" today a statement that he had said the American frontier is on the Rhine. The President, at a press conference at which he restated America's foreign policy informally, also described as a lie the report he had said the American frontier was in France. The Chief Executive declared some reports of his conference with the Senate Military committee last Tuesday had given an erroneous impression of the nation's policy. He added most of them had been manufactured by some legislative and newspaper-owner agitators and were a deliberate misrepresentation of existing facts. This nation's foreign policy, the President said, has not changed and would not be changed. He reiterated it to be: 1. Opposition to any entangling alliances. 2. Maintenance of world trade for all nations including ourselves. 3. We are in sympathy with each and every effort to reduce or limit armaments. As a nation we are sympathetic with the peaceful maintenance of political, economic and social independence of all nations in the world, he said. That, the President emphasized, was very simple and there was absolutely nothing new in it. Mr. Roosevelt said the people were beginning to realize that the things they have read from agitators of the legislative and newspaper owners variety in connection with the defense and foreign policy program were pure bunk. These agitators, he said, were appealing to the prejudices and fears of the people and were acting in an un-American way. Questions Asked FDR. The President's lengthy discussion of foreign policy followed a question which suggested some people were confused about what actually took place at his conference with the Senate Military committee and also his meeting yesterday with a House Appropriations subcommittee on the army bill. Mr. Roosevelt said his foreign policy had been completely covered in his message to Congress. He added the people were confronted by the simple fact that many people, some members of the House and Senate and some newspaper owners, were deliberately putting before the public a deliberate misrepresentation of facts. Mr. Roosevelt said he always had believed foreign policy should not involve the people so as to clarify the situation, the President said he already had given the press that in his restatement of foreign policy. Secrecy The Bunk. He said the question of secrecy was 100 per cent bunk. To illustrate Mr. Roosevelt said some reports reached the government which were believed to be reasonably true.

U. S. Demands Italy Explain FDR Attacks

ROME, Feb. 3 (AP)—The United States embassy today asked the Italian government for an explanation of bitter personal attacks on President Roosevelt published in the fascist press. The attacks were part of an intensely hostile press campaign provoked by versions of the President's meeting Tuesday with a Senate committee which quoted him as saying that the frontiers of the United States were in France. "The President today said reports which quoted him as saying either that America's frontiers were in France or were on the Rhine were lies." The campaign was continued today for the third day with Virginia Gayda, fascism's chief newspaper spokesman, leading the attack. "Since Roosevelt wants to push his offensive into the heart of Europe up to the Rhine and Alps," Gayda wrote in Il Giornale D'Italia, "it is natural that the defense of countries balance it by extending up to the Rio Grande as well as to the line of the Panama Canal, which has been developed by the United States as one of its bases for maneuvers between the Atlantic and Pacific."

Sunshine Melts Snow Over Plains

(By The Associated Press) Snow threw a feeble punch at North for the third day with Virginia and then took a quick knockdown from brilliant sunshine that promised to reign for a day or two, at least. The white mantle, light in most regions, stretched from the Plains as far south as the Palestine sector. Eight degrees at Lubbock, where the sun melted snow in mid-morning, was the state's low reading, but Borger, with its 10 degrees and snow, was a good second. The weatherman forecast fair weather with cold temperatures of tonight melting into more pleasant readings tomorrow.

Reserve Pilots To Be Trained

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The army air corps in studying means to intensify training of reserve fliers, officials indicated today, while it schools new pilots for the additional warplanes asked by President Roosevelt.

A large proportion of the reserve fliers are commercial pilots. Of the approximately 2,400 members of the inactive corps, about 1,500 are listed as qualified pilots, available for emergency service.

On active duty with the air corps are 721 reservists, including 158 who were graduated Feb. 1 from the army's "West Point of the Air," Randolph Field, Texas.

Back Up The Law

While the grand jury is investigating the Monday night shooting at the Southern club, a lot of stories are going the rounds—most of them untrue.

Why not stand on the side of the law? You hear that the officers had no business going into the night club on an occasion of that kind.

Most fair-minded persons agree that the sheriff and his men had every right to visit the dance hall. If some trouble had arisen there that night and officers had not put in their appearance, there would have been much criticism. You would have heard the story that they were not on the job, or that they were afraid to go.

It was explained today that perhaps the officers were not telling the public what happened because it might make it difficult for grand jurors to sift the facts. They were advised not to talk.

They have the right to do that. It has seemed to us all along that a statement from the participants, because they are public officers, would have set at rest the many gossip and rumor stories and would have been of benefit to the side of the law.

This statement seems to be superfluous, but—

For the benefit of some, who may have received the wrong impression—we are not trying to embarrass anybody, and this newspaper definitely is on the side of law enforcement—first, last and always!

The Nation's Press

LET THE NATION KNOW (Chicago Tribune)

Maj. C. n. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, told the house military affairs committee the other day all the details of the army plans for aviation expansion. He told the committee what the army air authorities want but not why they want it. This is true likewise of the Hepburn report. The nation is asked for the expenditure of large sums of money but it is left in the dark on why they must be spent.

Congress and the nation are entitled to know why. They are entitled to know the power of foreign air armaments, not merely in generalities but in the facts which are supposed to justify the American program. There is no reason to keep these facts a secret from the American congress or people. They are not secrets to the foreign governments we are supposed to be preparing to resist.

Military secrecy is 90 per cent bunk. The plea sometimes covers up the lack of knowledge of the witness or the lack of adequate support for the proposed program. It is an old story. For generations it was customary for officers in the artillery to take an oath not to betray the secrets of the profession. Finally Prince von Bulow gave this secret away. The secret, he said, was that there were no secrets.

Instead of merely presenting what we are supposed to need for our defense, we should be told, for example, how fast foreign planes are flying and how effective they are. We should be told how many hostile planes we are practically threatened, how great are the fuel and other supplies in probably unfriendly countries, how much preparedness is required by aggressors located at long distance from us. What is the actual proof of the destructive power of aviation bombing and the value of the defensive? Demonstrations of the accuracy and effect of aerial bombing will not betray the machinery used.

In short, congress and the nation should not be asked to accept blindly the conclusion of flying Brahmins or the devices of ambitious politicians with ulterior purposes.

How far the planning for increased armament is subjected to diplomatic and political purpose is well illustrated by the proposal to build a major naval base in the island of Guam, a project which has no justification if the nation's desire for a defensive foreign policy is to be respected. Guam is merely 5,000 miles from Hawaii. It is only 1,300 from Japan and in the midst of Japanese islands. To protect and utilize it we must have a fleet capable of covering communications, passing through a network of Japanese islands, and we must maintain a major naval and air force nearly 5,000 miles away from Hawaii. The cost of this would be tremendous. What is there to justify it if we are leaving the Philippines and are to follow a policy of nonaggression in the Pacific?

Congress should insist upon knowing all the relevant facts which should regulate our expenditures and shape the development of our naval, air, and army establishments. And this knowledge should be given to the nation fully and frankly.

MEN - WOMEN - SMOKES

United American Heavy Stuff

Bad men want their women To be like cigarettes. Just so many, All slender and trim In a case, Waiting in a row To be selected, Set aflame—and— When their flame has died— Discarded.

More fastidious Men Prefer women like cigars. These are more exclusive. Look better And last longer; If the brand is good, They are not given away.

Good Men treat women Like pipes And become more attached to them The silder they become! When the flame is burned out They still look after them, Knock them gently (But lovingly) And care for them always— No Man shares his pipe.

TAXING PUBLIC OFFICIALS AND INCOME FROM GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

If there is any tax on income in the world that is justified, it is a tax on income from interest on government securities and income from holding government jobs.

While the readers know the writer of this column does not believe in any kind of an income tax, if there be any justice at all in an income tax, it is taxing the man who has an income as a result of refusing to take hazardous risks and loaning his money to the government.

And the more the government has to pay for the use of borrowed wealth, the better off the people will be because it will tend to keep the government from doing business that the private citizens can do so much more economically than the politicians can do it. Under the present system of exempting the man who seeks security and takes no risks, and taxes the man who is venturesome and experiments with new methods of adding to the wealth of the world, is just sheer nonsense.

That method of taxing the fruits of wise enterprise and exempting the tax on government securities can only lead eventually to complete state socialism or communism. It is the accepted method nowadays of all painters of pleasant illusions of destroying private enterprise.

The least that can be done is to tax a man who gets his money from the government on the same basis as the man who gets it by giving customers more for the money than others give and pays his men as much or more than others will pay him, and still has an income left after he has satisfied his customers and workers that they are benefited.

DROP IN MARKET

I remarked to a worker the other day that the market had dropped some $5 in one day. The worker thoughtlessly remarked that was something the working man did not need to worry about.

Beliefs like this are the reason 10 million people are out of work. When the workers believe that they can prosper when there is little sight of profit for the enterpriser, they vote to make laws that prevent enterprisers from being willing to take risks because the risks are so much greater than the chance of reward.

And this, of course, most seriously affects the workers. It makes his job unsafe and it lowers his wages and keeps them from increasing. The prospects of profits are, in reality, more important to the working man than they are to the man of means. The man of means can live for awhile on his savings and probably will live even better than he otherwise would, if he feels that his savings are going to be taken from him eventually; while the worker loses his hope and his self respect by being taken care of for the time being by confiscating wealth that has been formerly produced instead of producing the new wealth that he consumes.

It is truly public opinion, such as this worker had, that makes jobs scarce.

POLITICAL INTOLERANCE

Samuel D. Carothers, in his column wisely says, "The curse of the world today and the breeder of wars is POLITICAL INTOLERANCE."

This certainly is true and it makes no difference whether it be Communism, Fascism or Nazism, or majority rule intolerance. They all will eventually lead to the belief that those in control are better than other people; that they have rights that other people do not have. And as Mr. Carothers says, all intolerance is of Messianic origin—the beliefs that in one man or one system lives all truth and that all other beliefs should be exterminated.

A man who believes in real liberty does not believe that he has a monopoly on all truth. He believes that other people have equal rights.

And the failure to recognize this right and try to coerce and force by law one's opinion or others, is the real cause of why people are living in the United States in such fear and trembling as to the future.

If no one demanded more for the service he rendered than other people were willing to do the identical service, there would be no unemployment.

Behind The News Of The Day

By BRUCE CATTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Being a regular army man, Col. F. C. Harrington believes in standing by his guns. Colonel Harrington, who took Harry Hopkins' place as head of the WPA when Hopkins went to the Commerce Department, stepped into one of the hottest spots in Washington.

He hardly got his hat hung up before an economy-minded Congress began putting the whole WPA system and philosophy under the microscope. It criticized WPA as an instrument of politics and pared the WPA budget as excessive. Colonel Harrington appeared before committees and subcommittees for questioning.

And when the smoke had cleared away, there was the colonel standing just about where Harry Hopkins had been standing before him.

TUESDAY ON WPA

Colonel Harrington believes that a work relief program is going to be a permanent part of the federal government's job. He can't see how the WPA rolls can be reduced before April; indeed, he thinks that they might well go up a little. And he doesn't think there has been nearly as much political misuse of WPA as some people have alleged.

The colonel may not make his ideas stick. Those three letters—WPA—don't exactly produce loud cheers in Congress these days. In both houses there have been fiery denunciations of WPA's record, to say nothing of scoffing at Colonel Harrington's assertion that the $875,000,000 supplemental appropriation suggested by President Roosevelt was the least on which WPA could get through the winter. But the colonel is unmoved.

"Do you feel," I asked him, "that it should be the aim of the country to wind up WPA as soon as possible and care for those who need care by means of direct relief, or does the WPA idea appeal to you as preferable?"

"Direct relief, in the long run, is unsatisfactory to the majority of Americans," he replied. "I am confident that we will never go back to the role. I cannot see at this time how WPA or some form of federal

STILL NO SOLUTION

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3.—Within a year or two a young man named Leo C. Rosten is going to know more about Hollywood than anybody else in the world.

That's a fact, and even the oldest-timers here admit it. They add, too, that it's about time that somebody like Dr. (of Philosophy) Rosten and a crew of scientists came out here and conducted a painstaking survey of all phases of movie making. Besides being the fourth largest industry, it probably is the most complex and sociologically important.

FILMLAND UNDER MICROSCOPE

In spite of his imposing academic background and the serious nature of the Motion Picture Research Project, which is under a foundation grant from the Carnegie Corporation, Rosten's book will contain some pretty funny stuff. There's no doubt about his sense of humor because he's the author of the "Hyman Kaplan" stories under the name of Leonard Q. Ross. And only a man with a well-developed funnybone could face the prospect of two solid years of systematic study of Hollywood and its people.

NEEDING MONEY MADE HIM FUNNY

A couple of years ago, working under a fellowship from the Social Science Research Council, Dr. Rosten made a study and wrote a book about Washington correspondents. While engaged in that, he wrote his first articles on "The Education of H-Y-M-A-N K-A-A-P-L-A-N," at tempting humor because he had to make some extra money to pay for his wife's appendicitis operation. So it was a fortunate illness, after all. Another was Mr. Rosten's attack of pneumonia. That brought them to Hollywood.

They had intended going to Arizona but Rosten switched plans when he went to buy the railroad tickets and found that excursion rates to California were cheaper. For seven months Rosten labored at a kitchen table piled with manuscripts of the Washington book and the Kaplan book. Once he hired a secretary, a brisk British girl, with horrifying results. He discovered that in transcribing the Kaplan book she had been meticulously correcting the phonetic misspelling of work relief program can be discontinued. It should, as in the past, adjust itself as closely as possible to the trend of relief needs among the unemployed. With a net increase of approximately 500,000 employable persons each year, I believe such a program has a definite part in our national economy.

THINKS SPENDING JUSTIFIED

How about the money WPA spends? Is it going right to those who need it, or is too much of it eaten up in "overhead" or otherwise diverted? The colonel had his answers ready:

"Of all WPA project workers, between 97 and 98 per cent are certified from relief rolls as actually in need. The others are persons necessary to the operation of projects which can usefully employ certified relief workers. Our administrative expense is less than 5 per cent, which I think is a good record."

The colonel feels, incidentally, that the kind of value which a community gets out of its WPA work is pretty much up to the community itself. Practically all WPA projects, he says, are initiated and sponsored

The boy was playing solitaire. He was always either playing solitaire or sleeping. He was the kind of boy who would play solitaire at a prize fight—and he liked prize fights better than anything. He played a particular kind of solitaire. He would bet Old Sol fifty bucks that he would have ten cards at the top (at five dollars a card) at the end of the game. He often won, but he didn't cheat. He said if you cheated it would ruin your luck. He was scrupulously honest in playing solitaire. The last time he figured up he owed Old Sol was $6,742 and he was elated because the time before when he audited his "books" (scores of small slips of paper on which he wrote his winnings and losses), he owed him over $13,000. He was honest, too, in figuring up his debts to Old Sol. He kept those small slips of paper in his pockets for months at a time. They were mixed with other slips of paper on which were written his school assignments. Anything he couldn't keep in his pockets was of no use to him and wasn't worth having, he often said, and besides he'd forget where he laid it. It was his ambition to cut down the debt to Old Sol to $55 and then play him double or nothing, and then win. He wanted to still keep on owing him $5 because he said if he ever got out of debt to Old Sol he would lose interest in the game and quit playing. . . . But his mind was not wholly on solitaire while he was playing. He was thinking of things—about which he said very little but you knew he was thinking more about things than the solitaire. . . .

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M. D.

ABOUT PAIN.

A significant symposium on the treating of pain was held recently at the New York Hospital. It brought forth in the discussion should prove of value to all laymen. It was there emphasized that—the treatment of pain is a most difficult and hazardous affair.

With so many "pain killers" heralded to the public it would seem an easy matter for the medical man to select some drugs that would stop the pain that troubles a patient.

Unfortunately that is not always the case. This is not because there are not drugs enough, or because they are not potent enough, but because the physician must consider the patient's ultimate welfare as well as the immediate pain.

In many cases the drugs used to abolish pain may produce serious and even disastrous results. Listed among such untoward effects are the following: Nausea, vomiting, constipation, distention, urinary retention, temporary blindness, deafness, skin eruptions, profuse perspiration, stupor, serious disturbances of the blood and the blood making organs, and narcotic addiction.

Besides all this—as Dr. Harry Gold who led the discussion pointed out—there are the following factors to be considered. Pain is a symptom and not a disease. The average patient wants relief from pain, and is little interested in how he is relieved.

But on the other hand, the patient wants permanent relief, and a correction of the underlying abnormality. Frequently, in order to determine the cause of a pain, the physician must delay killing the patient's pain. Diagnose first and then treat is a principle which the physician usually follows.

The layman, however, is inclined to treat the symptom. As a result many a tuberculous infection has made great progress while the sufferer was treating a "bad cold," and many a poor mortal has found himself laid low by a peritonitis following a ruptured appendix because he had treated himself for what he thought was only an old-fashioned stomach ache.

Finally there is the ever present psychological factor to be borne in mind. Some pains are strictly emotional or psychological in origin. In such cases drug addiction is an ever present danger.

Job writing movies for Emanuel Cohen. He wrote a couple, too, although nothing was ever done with them.

But by this time he had observed enough of Hollywood to be convinced that it deserved a real job of sociological study to bring out the true, connected picture of the complicated web of social, economic and artistic forces at work here.

That's the trouble with Congress, now—it has too many birds who can't run their own business, let alone the business of the nation.

Perhaps you already have felt the effect of that 4-cent per gallon drop in the gasoline price yesterday. . . . Some say it is a war. . . . Others say that it's the natural thing to do because the price long has been too high. . . . Whatever it is, it makes things mighty nice for the fellow who has to buy gasoline. . . . You can now buy six gallons, hand the man a dollar and get back four cents change. . . . Two days ago you would have received only five gallons for the dollar and no change at all.

American movies, increasingly influential in modes and manners of living, are said to be raising havoc in Australia. . . . The report is that Australian women have been attracted to the handsome heroes. And the men are trying to recapture favor by having their hair frizzed, lending their hands to manicurists, and, of all things, plucking eyebrows.

Reputedly the men of that continent have been famous for their complete masculinity. If the male parade to the beauty parlors is becoming a mass movement, Australia has cause for alarm. But on whom can their ladies be concentrating?

Certainly not Clark Gable! In the United States Clark sends the young fellows to developing a deep bass voice or donning breeches and boots for an exploration trip. . . . Nor Errol Flynn! American schoolboys attempt to be Flynn-like by fashioning sword-frenzy bathos and staging an impromptu battle on the easy chairs and davenport.

News Clearing House

"It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add his unit of influence to all other units of influence, and let the results work themselves out."—Spencer. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.

The following is a copy of a letter I sent to the state legislature in Austin. Would appreciate if you will publish it.

I am approaching you on a subject that should be of vital importance to every man, woman and child in Texas, and more especially to the humble or poorer classes.

I am not going to ask you to lower taxes or to pass new laws (God knows we have enough as it is), but to slip it to us in a milder form.

The first of April it will be hard for better than half of the motor owning public to raise from $5 to $300 to license his motor equipment, depending on the make, type, kind and tonnage. Under this proposition everyone pays according to use that they make of the highways, not only that it will pour a million or two more dollars into the highway fund than you are getting now. We will be slipping it to out-of-state traffic.

I am not going to bother about whether they are here for a day or a year, except to see that they are carrying a proper license tag of some state for identification and public protection and safety.

From the data I received from the comptroller of public accounts, the Hon. George H. Sheppard, the gross receipts from motor fuel tax for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1938, amounted to $49,201,235.39, per cents gas tax. The next state tax is $9,424,988.31, less federal tax. The amount received from automobile license fees for the same period was $7,152,277. The gas tax indicates the sale of 985,624,708 gallons of gasoline. Trusting that this data is correct, add three-fourths of a cent more to the state gas tax and you have $7,392,125.21 to pay the license fees, or something over $200,000 more than the license fees for the 1938 fiscal year and the public would not object to this.

In addition to this, tax every motor vehicle owner $1 for the same kind and type of license tag as is required today for a period of one year irrespective of kind, type or tonnage for identification and public safety.

I think you can see with the $1 license fee, the out-of-state traffic and the additional sale of gasoline to the man or woman that will find themselves able to drive their motor

Former Chief Of Police At Berger Killed In Crash

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 3 (AP)—Chief of Police Joe Welch of Sayre, Okla., was dead today following an automobile accident on U. S. Highway 86 seven miles east of here late last night.

Welch, who was 50, had been police chief at Sayre six years. He was chief of police at Berger, Tex., in oil boom days there.

Highway Patrolman R. E. Poole and C. T. Raley said a hitch-hiker, Ray Ward, 25, of Urbana, Okla., told them he was driving Welch's car at the officer's request when the mishap occurred. Ward was unhurt. He said another car, which did not stop, struck the rear of the machine he was driving and it careened into a ditch.

Welch struck the windshield. Head injuries and loss of blood from a slashed throat caused his death.

Survivors are a widow and a 17-year-old son.

Former Senator From Oregon Dies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Fredrick Steiwer, who served 11 years as a Republican Senator from Oregon, died early today at the age of 65.

Near the end of his second term he resigned from the Senate Jan. 31, 1938, to practice law here. He had not been in the best of health for the last three years.

Steiwer delivered the keynote address at the Republican national convention in Cleveland in 1936, and had been mentioned that year as a possible presidential nominee.

vehicle, by raising the amount of $1 and the price of a few gallons of gasoline and that will mean the addition of several millions of dollars to the state highway fund that we are not getting now.

It would relieve the state patrol of the scrutiny of time of out-of-state visitors.

But some say that the trucks should pay more. Well, they do pay more and would pay more under the three-fourths tax. I know trucks that run night and day that would pay a bigger license fee under the three-fourths tax fee than they are paying under the old license system and why shouldn't they? They are using the highways night and day.

If you feel like it and think it should be done, raise the tonnage of trucks a few tons and he will pay a bigger license fee under the three-fourths tax fee than they are paying under the old license system and why shouldn't they? They are using the highways night and day.

The only how you will get well from the man that is using the highways night and day and wants some one that is not using the highways to pay for it. Would insist that you earmark this three-fourths tax and $1 license fee so that it will flow into the same channels as in the past.

Let's be soeable and not raise barriers along our borders of patrol and ports of entry such as we find along the borders of our sister states. Let's be modern in this modern age and streamline our tax system so it will be attractive to the tax investing public and let everyone pay according to the use he makes of the highways.

Believe me, I am just a poor junk man, not looking for any honors or remuneration, just pleading with you to make it easy for the maintain fellow to help build and maintain our highways.

Have talked with thousands and have yet to find a single objection to this system. In fact all are in full accord with the idea and trust that you will not put us to the expense of time and money to have this matter adjusted to the best interests of all concerned.

If you can devise a better system, don't hesitate to do it. Yours truly, WAYNE S. CAMBERN, P. O. Box 1801, Pampa, Texas. And don't forget—you can't tax the taxes and that eventually and indirectly the farmer pays it all.

Babson Says Activity 20 Per Cent Above Last Year

Business Holding Steady

BABSON PARK, Pa., Feb. 3.—Despite the latest war scare, business is running along at the same level as a month ago. Because the sharp gains of the Fall have not continued, however, many people are disappointed. They have asked me if I am just as optimistic as I was on New Year's Day. My answer is "Yes." The domestic picture is the same as it was a month ago. Recent foreign developments are unsettling, but the basic European situation has not changed.

The current comparison with a year ago, however, is much more cheerful. The December gain was 15 per cent, while January showed a 20 per cent jump over the level of twelve months ago. Last year at this time we were still going downhill. Hence, if business holds steady for a few weeks more, and then begins a substantial pick-up, my forecast of a 25 per cent gain for the first quarter will have been fully justified.

Steel And Autos Down
Currently, most industries are moving along in fairly good shape. Steel operations, around 50 per cent of capacity, are 13 points lower than their December high of 63 per cent. Automobile assemblies of 90,000 per week are also down from their peak, but are 50 per cent ahead of the 1938 level. Textile mill activity is substantially higher. So are freight car loadings, after making allowance for the usual drop at this season. Coal mining and crude oil output are approximately the same. Electric power consumption is breaking all records this winter. Many people cannot understand why this is so in view of the fact that business is not breaking any records. The reason is that there are more household appliances in use today than ever. Rates are steadily dropping, thus encouraging the purchase of more and more refrigerators, ranges, etc. Yet only a small number of homes are completely "applianced." Here are the figures: refrigerators, 52 per cent, ranges, 9 per cent; and water-heaters, 2 per cent. With a firm control over all costs, except taxes and labor, the utility companies have an interesting year ahead!

Building Still Increasing
Building, however, is the real work horse in the present business situation. New contract awards are way ahead of the year-ago levels and are at the highest point in many years. As a result, the lumber "cut" is very heavy; cement and brick sales are good; and orders for structural steel are propping operations in the whole steel industry. Moreover, I expect building to hold these big gains this year, thus stimulating activity in the twenty-six allied industries. January retail trade was, of course, off from the Christmas peak, but it held close to the relatively high volume of January, 1938. Much of my hope for a good year is pinned on retail sales. Naturally, we cannot have higher factory activity, more jobs, and bigger payrolls if goods do not move briskly across store counters. In this connection, I want to warn merchants and other business men: You cannot expect to get your full share of the 1939 pick-up if you do not push your advertising. The time to spend money on your promotions is NOW rather than when business is booming!

Railroads Out of "Dog House"
The railroad situation is better. Expenses have been slashed drastically. There has been an encouraging pick-up in freight car loadings since last Summer. The combination of these two factors has allowed many roads to pay all bills including interest on their bonds and still have a little money left over. Consequently, such carriers are beginning to buy new locomotives, freight cars, rails, and the like. A real burst of railroad buying might boost business into a prosperous period quicker than any other development.

The mining business looks a little uncertain to me. Last week I spoke about the failure of raw material prices to rise. This should help business, but temporarily it is tough on the mining regions. I cannot foresee any sharp gains in metal prices in the near future. They await more monetary inflation. Actually, the wind seems to be blowing toward a reduction in the 65-cent government price for domestically-mined silver. I am not a mining expert, but this might benefit, rather than hurt, the copper and lead business. Summarizing: The recent developments on the domestic business front have been satisfactory. The first month of 1939 was the best January in nine years, excepting only 1927. Not one of the favorable factors which led me to predict a good year has changed. The European situation is no worse than a month ago; it simply is coming to a head. If business men keep their perspective and do not suddenly get a new "fear" complex, I see no reason why business should not continue to improve.

POLICEMAN

Fuston knocked at the door, and entered when a light flashed on the suspect denied he was Haley, and offered to produce papers to prove it. Just as he did so, officers said, Fuston was felled under the impact of four pistol shots. The policeman, who had been on the force only six months, died an hour later. The suspect darted into the bathroom and White and Sprinkle emptied their revolvers through the door. The suspect dashed outside to an automobile (Ford two-door sedan, with

Small Drop Shown In Gray Pensions

January pension payments to Gray county citizens showed a drop in number and $3 in total amount, as compared with the Texas Old Age Resistance commission checks received in this county in December. The report for January, filed today in the office of the county clerk, shows that pension payments to Gray county citizens totaled $4,736 to 281 persons. For December the total number of checks issued to Gray county citizens was 283 and the total amount was $4,739.

but which probably could not be proved in a court. He did not believe it advisable to give out such information at his press conferences, he continued, because first, it may not be absolutely correct, and second, making it public would terminate getting further information from the same sources. The only information withheld was of this character, the President asserted. He said he had told the Senators some of this kind of information, but believed it should not be made public because further information may put a different light on it.

Newspapers Mistaken
The President said he had 14 or 15 newspapers before him which gave erroneous reports of what took place at the conference with the Senate committee. He added the original reports were qualified by such phrases as "it is learned" and "it is understood" but that future editorials and news stories treated the original reports as facts by not repeating the qualifications as to authenticity and failing to mention contradictions.

The public, Mr. Roosevelt said, knows pretty well that when they read such reports they are not news but merely rumors.

Blames 'Boob'
Asked about the "American frontier is on the Rhine" statement, the President, with a smile, declared some boob got that off.

He noted this report had been attacked in Germany and Italy and applauded in France and Great Britain but that both the attack and the applause had been based on misstatement of fact.

The President added he would like to trace the person who gave out that report.

He replied emphatically in the negative when a reporter asked whether the "frontier catch-phrase" summed up the actual situation.

He also replied negatively when asked whether someone in the committee conference with him had made such a remark to him.

Before the press conference, Mr. Roosevelt's repeated determination to aid European Democracies revived talk on Capitol Hill that the administration soon might try to modify or repeal the neutrality act.

Clark Supported
The subject was discussed informally by industrial Congressmen as the Senate Military committee meeting in a closed session, debated whether to make public the record of its inquiry into the projected sale of American-made warplanes to France.

Senator Clark (D-Mo) appeared to have the support of a majority of the committeemen in his demand for disclosing all testimony which involved no military secrets.

Because the neutrality act prohibits shipping war materials to belligerents, Senator Logan (D-Ky) said it seemed reasonable to assume that if the administration were committed to helping the Democracies, it would want to change the law before any conflict broke out.

Despite the continuing Senate furor over Mr. Roosevelt's endorsement of the French plan, transaction, House members dealing with the defense program remained unruffled.

Several members of the House Military committee said they had known for some time of the proposed sale to private manufacturers but considered it the logical thing to do.

Members of the "Fifth Column" left their secret retreats in Barcelona after the entry of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops last week. Since then they have been formally recognized for their services and their organization legalized in a ceremony at the Palace of Justice.

PERPIGAN, France, Feb. 3 (AP)—Government Spain's military police are rebuilding their shattered counter-espionage system in an attempt to rid northern Catalonia of spies and "fifth column" operatives.

S. I. M. (Servicio Informacion Militar) agents suddenly appeared at border stations today after a week during which the usually strict frontier control was virtually non-existent.

Foreign volunteers who came out of northern Catalonia yesterday reported several abortive attempts by insurgent sympathizers to seize power in Catalonia villages immediately after Barcelona fell.

Some foreigners said they were fired on at night as they moved northward under protection of government officers. The night sniping soon subsided, however, as the government at Figueras began to reestablish order.

A number of suspected "fifth column" members—Franco sympathizers working for the Insurgents behind government lines—and several men reported to be Insurgent agents were arrested in northern Catalonia, government officials said. Government sources asserted the agents took advantage of the confusion behind government lines—and see jam to enter government territory unnoticed, trying apparently both to obtain military information and to organize "fifth column" units. -News Want Ads Get Results-

Gloves Tournney Entries To Date Announced

Average Of 15 Fights Each Night Planned

Golden Gloves officials are burning midnight oil already and the tournament isn't until next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights at the Pampa Athletic arena. Their worries include how to match the large number of boys entered without making too many bouts on one night, how to keep a boy from boxing more than three times in one night, which is not allowed under Golden Gloves rules, and how to accommodate the anticipated crowds.

Only 200 ringside reserve seats are available and the tickets are going fast at the Pampa News and at Cretney Drug where season tickets, including general admission, are selling for $2.50. Nightly reserve seat tickets, if there are any left, will sell at $1 each. At least 15 fights will be held each night.

Because of the heavy out-of-town entry list, it is absolutely impossible to name favorites in any of the brackets. Last year's champions, four of them back again, will be pressed to the limit, according to the looks of the entries.

Word came from Shamrock yesterday that Defending Champion Benny Moore had gotten down to 112 pounds and that Frankie Bills, who represented the district in the 118 pound class at the state meet, will again be entered in that weight division. Both classes, however, are studded with stars which means a rocky road ahead for the champs.

The featherweight bracket is packed with dynamite. Entered are Ray Reeves of Alameda, a champion from the Austin district last year, Frank Brown of Pampa, R. Robertson of LeFors, fresh from service in the army, and other unknowns.

Jack Bible is a lightweight this year and in his bracket are such well known battlers as Denver Hubert and Revista Harvey of Pampa and Perry Young of Canadian, Oden Martin of Borger and others.

The welterweight division has a record number of entries with the battle apparently wide open. Neil Hill of Alameda has entered, along with Joe Hornback of Canadian, Sherman Morgan of Kingsmill, Dood Massey of Borger and eight others.

The middleweight bracket will be faced in the middleweight bracket of Bob Gaiser, Horace Simmons of Borger and Mage Keyser of Pampa who has been looking good in training, and other top hands.

The light heavyweight bracket is doped to steal the show with Carl Nolan of Pampa, Ted Bigham of LeFors, Clete Henke of Higgins and Lewis Brickell of Borger entered.

Only two heavyweights are on the list but others are expected at the last minute.

Entered to date are: Flyweights—Benny Moore, Shamrock; Bud Yaunt, Stinnett; Floyd Howe, Borger; Charles Evans, Stinnett; John Henry Johnson, Pampa; Jack Sergeant, Stinnett; Arnold McGuire, Borger.

Bantamweights—Taylor Miller, Pollett; Lester Ayler, Stinnett; Douglas Keyser, Pampa; Frankie Bills, Shamrock.

Featherweights—Wayne Neal, Borger; Earl Sward, Stinnett; Ray Reeves, Alameda; Booth Hansen, Borger; R. Roberts, LeFors; Baer Ferguson, Stinnett; Frank Brown, Pampa.

Welterweights—Neil Hill, Alameda; Dobby Baugh, Borger; Joe Hornback, Canadian; T. J. Hilburn, Borger; Sherman Morgan, Kingsmill; Aubrey Dekle, Pampa; Lewis Ford, Stinnett; Robert Lee, Pampa; Ray Garrett, Pampa; Dood Massey, Borger; Roy L. Speck, Pampa.

Middleweights—Carl Carey, LeFors; Horace Simmons, Borger; Mage Keyser, Pampa; Louis Moore, Borger; Millard Puckett, Canadian; Roy Wolby, Borger; Maurice Hutchinson, Pampa; Harry Pettit, Stinnett; Bob Gaiser, Borger.

Light Heavyweights—Carl Nolan, Pampa; Lewis Brickell, Borger.

HOUSE OF DAVID'S CLOWN AND LONG-SHOT ARTIST

Above is pictured Bill Steinecke, clown and long-shot artist. This said that he can stand at center and loop seven out of ten baskets. He has been with the House of David basketballers who will play the Harvesters Monday night, for ten years, starting with them immediately on his graduation from DePaul University where he was captain and hailed as one of the greatest players of his generation.

Bill usually keeps the fans in an uproar with his antics, such as dancing and dribbling both at the same time. His comical shooting and his flowing whiskers. Steinecke is a former catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League and the Detroit Tigers of the American League. The House of David team is not the type of team as the Ozark Mountain Hillbillies who played here recently. The Davids have a national reputation, and they protect it. The Hillbillies, girls team featuring a clown jumping Joe Satovich, was over-advertised, and was somewhat of a disappointment. The bearded boys last year won 201 games and lost 7, and they expect to win Monday night—and probably will by a large score. Coach Mitchell is expecting the bearded giants to win. But he expects his boys to make it interesting.

Freeman, the Hebrew boy from the Bronx, and Wildcat Billy McEwin, the Montana broncho buster, will be the two participants in Cliff Chambers' wrestling main event Monday night at the Pampa Athletic arena.

Freeman To Be McEwin's Foe In Main Mat Event

Freeman, who turned referee last week, has decided that he is a wrestler and not an official. In a semi-final a couple of weeks ago Freeman showed that he is of main event caliber. Freeman is the type of grappler who prefers to wrestle but can get about as tough as the next one.

Standing in the opposite corner will be McEwin, the smooth-headed individual who downed Russ Riley in a wild main event last Monday night. If Freeman doesn't get down to a few mean tricks he might find his head twisted round and round. But Freeman has already announced that he plans to meet McEwin at his own game.

Powerful Vernon Quint Crushed By Carey 32-21

'Yah, I Can Beat Choe Louis,' Says Max As Reporters Smile

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—'Yah, I can beat Choe Louis; I know I can,' said Max Schmeling. The reporters looked at each other and smiled but not so Schmeling could see them. He still has the immense pride of a fighting man and he does not joke about the ring.

He is back in the big town with the war drums throbbing in his brain and his ears attuned to the crackle of crisp American bills. He would like a fight, two fights. He wants to close his record with a victory.

If he had evaded Joe Louis' punches as well as he slipped past inquiries about his relations with the Nazi government he might be champion today. He would speak freely of his trade.

"I do not come seeking fights. Perhaps I can get some. I think I can beat these heavyweights. You ger; Clete Henke, Higgins; Ted Bigham, LeFors.

do not laugh when I say I can beat Louis. But I think you do inside. I wanted another fight after he beat me last June. I would like it very much now."

The Black Uhlan hasn't changed much. There is a little grey in his coarse black hair. His face is more heavily lined than before. But he carries himself erect, 198 pounds, a fine figure of a man.

"One reason I have come back is to see my friends here. My plans now are for only 14 days in this country."

"The rumors about my being in a concentration camp are silly, ridiculous. I am not what you say in bad with the government."

Patty's Father Likes Baseball

By GAYLE TALBOT.
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP)—I was wandering along out at the Miami Biltmore course, watching Patty Berg mow another opponent down, when I ran into Patty's father, Herman, who also was observing his daughter's play in an abstracted way.

He is a little fellow, but his grip nearly took my fingers out of the roots. He is in the grain business up in Minneapolis and he vastly prefers big league baseball to golf.

Patty had played three holes when I caught up, but Herman didn't know how she stood with her rival. He said he thought maybe she was all even.

He recalled I had been covering golf in Enid and three summers ago when Patty, then 18, went over to play on the United States Curtis Cup team.

"I came mighty near making Patty stop playing golf for good that summer," he revealed. "I didn't mind her getting beat, but some of the dispatches said she was so jittery she had to be 'carried' around by her partner. I thought if she was that serious about the game she ought to quit it right now."

"I told her so when she got back, but Patty finally convinced me there was nothing to it, so I let her go on playing. Since then she hasn't shown any sign of being too serious."

That's how close this country came to losing its favorite girl golfer. There's nothing glamorous about Patty—of the rolling-gait to her father, Herman. She's just a daughter who by some miracle happens to play golf supremely well. Herman didn't even see her win the national championship last summer.

At the Cards invaded Vernon for a paralysis fund benefit game and walked away with a 31-21 triumph. Bill Murray, Cardinal guard who receives less praise than he deserves, covered Homer Matney, the Lion scoring ace, completely, permitting him to score only seven points and causing him to go out on personal fouls in the third session.

Little Seth McFather and Capt. Jim Middleton poured the leather through the basket for nine points each to take honors.

The Lions had previously swept through their schedule, bowling over all Big Six conference opposition, and taking first honors in the invitation tournament at Matador. The victory further established the Cards as dangerous threats to again go far in the interscholastic league game race.

At the half, Canyon changed to a zone defense, and the Harvesters were baffled, just as they were in the first half of the game with Plainview here. They didn't know what to do, and if they did they couldn't do it. It may have been lucky for those lads that the game ended when it did.

Miller started the game at center, but at the second period was relieved by Kyle. The Canyon defense was better than the average and it smothered Grover Lee Heiskell, except for one field goal.

Auld's Defense Shines. Doyle Auld whose improvement has been more marked than any of the regulars except Andis, did a praise-worthy job of salvaging rebounds and in holding Canyon's hot shot, Tomlinson, to one basket. Doyle has developed into a dependable, consistent basketball player.

It is likely that Coach Mitchell will drill the Harvesters pub-lently on a zone defense next week—just in case he comes up against one in the district, and perhaps in the region if the Harvesters get that far. Canyon may be one of the teams Pampa will meet in the region if they get that far.

Play Lubbock Tonight. This morning the Pampa team, accompanied by Coach Mitchell and Bill Anderson, athletic manager, left on a road trip to Lubbock and Plainview. Tonight they will play Lubbock. Tomorrow night they'll drive over to Plainview.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 3 (AP)—Lonesome John Muck gets his first crack at his boyhood hero, Glenn Cunningham, in the Wana-maker mile Saturday, developed his speed by beating his 12 sisters and brothers to the dinner table.

Although he won, it has taken this son of Polish immigrants 21 years to pack 140 pounds on his 5-foot, 11-inch frame. But it took him only 13 months as a University of Missouri student to erase four of the five records the mobile Kansan left him as targets in the Big Six conference.

LAKELAND, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP)—Paul Waner, who swings a mean bat for the Pittsburgh Pirates during the summer, set out today to show he is still baseball's best golfer.

The hard-hitting outfielder took medal honors yesterday in the annual baseball players golf tournament and was paired for a first round match against Garland Braxton, Little Rock mountaineer.

Waner, who won the title last year, put together qualifying rounds of 72-77 for a 149 total, five strokes in front of the field.

That ol' debil, the zone defense, almost put that thing on the Harvesters in the last half of a torrid game with Canyon last night.

Slowly, slowly, the Eagles crept up on the Harvesters who had a 12-point lead at the half. Slow, oh so slow, the Eagles made the Harvesters eat the same bitter stuff the Randall county lads had to swallow in the first half.

In the third quarter Andis made two free shots and one field goal, while Canyon chalked up eight tallies. In the fourth period the Harvesters roared in one more field goal and two more free shots, and that's all the scoring they did in the last half. The Eagles, though, steering around as if their own schoolhouse were burning down and the fire department was out of order, looped 10 more points in the last period.

If the game had lasted another minute, the story might have been different, and again, the Harvesters might have snapped out of it.

Andis Scores 21. The set-to looked like a runaway for the Pampa lads in the first half. They did everything right, especially Andis—and by the way Andis accounted for 21 of the 30 points made by the Harvesters. But in the first half, Andis couldn't miss. He pushed the ball in with one hand in miracle shots. He intercepted the ball, took it away from them, and in general so confused the Eagles that they were running around in circles. That was while Canyon used a man-to-man defense.

They are expecting battles at the West-erners played here, and the Harvesters are likely to catch it tonight, but they are still favored to win. They should win tomorrow night at Plainview over the Bulldogs. The Pampans looked the Plainview quintet here in January, but for no reason why they shouldn't repeat.

If the Harvesters win tonight and tomorrow night, they will need only one more victory to win the Big Five championship. They will need to whip Amarillo at Amarillo and that should not be an onerous task, especially since they mowed down the Sandies here by a margin of 15 points. If they lose either of the games tonight or tomorrow night, they will be tied with Amarillo for the lead. The Sandies have lost only one game and that was to Pampa.

Arkansas And Baylor Will Play Tonight

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 3 (AP)—Two leading hoopmen of the Southwest conference will be pitted against each other tonight when the Arkansas Razorbacks battle the Baylor Bears for a mathematical chance to stay in the race.

Tonight's tilt will be followed by another between the same quintets tomorrow night. Other teams will be occupied with mid-term examinations.

If the games develop into scoring duels, the principals may be John Adams, Arkansas sophomore, and Pete Cressay, Baylor sharpshooter, both of whom are near the conference top in individual scoring.

Coach Ralph Wolfe warned his Baylor squad it was going up against "one of the toughest clubs in the loop."

His charges, who knocked Rice out of second place, have not looked impressive in workouts this week.

The Razorbacks, mostly sophomores, have won only one game out of four tries, but have tightened up in practice.

SERIAL STORY

NO TIME TO MARRY

BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

Yesterday, Cynthia accused Janet of not loving Barney. What a surprise! Barney comes home appearing more tired and haggard than Janet has ever seen him. It was alarming.

CHAPTER XXIV
JANET choked down an impulse to cry out, "What is it, Barney? What has happened?"

Instead, she said with an artificial brightness for which she hated herself, "Dinner's practically on the table, Barney."

"Could it wait?" Barney asked. "There's something I'd like to get off my chest before we eat."

"Why—? I'll see." She tried to speak quietly.

In the kitchen she said to herself angrily, "Don't be such a fool! There's nothing to be worried about."

"Will five minutes do?" she asked when she went back. "I guess the peas will take it."

"It will do to cover the high spots."

He had dropped wearily upon the davenport, his long legs spread before him. Janet sat down not far away, a little stiffly, her hands folded in her lap to keep them from shaking too much.

"Well, Jan," Barney said, his grin twisting as he spoke, "you see before you a gentleman of leisure. In other words, your husband has joined the ranks of the unemployed."

"Oh?" Janet said, her voice thin and wooden in her own ears.

"It's almost funny," Barney went on. "Here I was, the wise guy who knew the inside story of city graft, national corruption, and international trickery, and I didn't even know what was going on behind the scenes of my own sheet."

"It seems, Janet, that the News has been on the skirts for several months. The owner was counting on private loans to see it through the woods. Well, the loans were coming from someone who had good reasons for keeping that story of mine out of print."

"But I don't understand," Janet said faintly in a moment. "Then why did they publish any of it?"

"Well, the owner's been hunting somewhere in the wilds where the interested parties couldn't get to him at once; and it wasn't till a day or so ago that old Owl-face, himself, really knew any more about the financial angle than I did. . . . Now he's out on his neck, poor devil, with me at his heels for good measure. . . . I could have stayed if I'd sold them the rights to the story and let them print it with the hot parts killed to save their yellow faces. . . . But, Janet, I couldn't."

"Of course you couldn't," Janet cried hotly. "Anyhow, you'll get another job in no time."

"Oh, sure!" He said it a little too carelessly as he lit a cigarette. "It isn't a job I'm worried about. It's—what a flop I have turned out to be, Jan—after all the tall talking I've been doing."

SUDDENLY Janet knew she couldn't bear the look in his eyes any longer—angry, yet ashamed and beaten, above his careful smile—as if apologizing to her, begging her to understand.

With a soft rush she was beside him, and taking his head in her arms, she pulled it on her breast, her cheek against his forehead.

"Oh, Barney, darling!" she murmured. "They can't do this to you! I love you too much."

"When you really love a man," Cynthia had said, "you feel like his mother sometimes. That's one way you know."

For a moment Barney sat motionless. Then he lifted his head and looked at her, and as if completely satisfied, drew a deep breath, dropped his head again, and put his arms around her.

"This is the way it ought to be, Jan," he said. "The rest of it doesn't matter now."

But it would matter again, Jan knew, terribly. And so she held him all the tighter.

So they sat, without knowing how long, while the peas dried up on the top of the stove, and the soufflé burned to a crisp. Finally they went out and dined on steak and mushrooms at the Auberge, because, Barney said, there was nothing so good for the morale as spending money when you hadn't any.

Not that it was quite as bad as that. The rent, at least, was paid for a month. Janet had her monthly stipend. . . . Barney winced a little when she mentioned that, but said, "Swell! We may need it." And Barney still had a little money in the bank. It would have been plenty, he said, if he hadn't had to make that chase across the continent on his own time because the boss had decided the story wasn't worth following up after all.

BUT it developed that jobs were not growing on every tree. The other papers had already reduced their staffs. Barney made one or two trips to neighboring towns where he knew editors, only to come back with his grin a bit more strained each time.

In the next few weeks Janet learned a great many things she had never guessed, even during those comparatively pinched last months with Aunt Mary.

She learned that one laundry bill may completely wreck a week's budget, and spent several back-breaking days over the tubs in the basement. She learned that, if windows are to serve their purpose, they must be washed from time to time; and that it is entirely possible to do it yourself, clinging with one hand and working with the other while you hang suspended over a dizzy abyss.

She learned to elbow her way about crowded, untidy markets, because they are the ones where food is cheapest. She learned that 50 cents for the electric meter may seem an enormous item, and that some people can't afford roses, even at 25 cents a dozen.

The first time Barney found her on her hands and knees, scrubbing the kitchen floor, he turned white, lifted her bodily out of the way, and finished the job—somehow splashily—himself. Janet laughed at him.

"How did you think these things usually got done, you crazy Irishman?" she asked. "I suppose you imagined the Little Folk came out and did the day's chores for poor but deserving housewives. We're lucky to have plenty of water to wash the floor with. Where Cyn is, they buy it in barrels."

NEVERTHELESS, they got on famously till the day Barney skidded on an icy road. The bill for his own car was $17, besides $87 for the car he hit; and the liability insurance had lapsed the day before because, Barney reasoned, there was no use spending money for insurance if you drove with reasonable care.

The morning after, Barney told her that, Janet said, trying to sound very matter of fact, "I think we'd better plan to move the first of the month. While I was marketing yesterday, I saw some places advertised on 32nd Street for half what we're paying here, and—"

"You're not going to live on 32nd Street?"

"And why not?" Janet tried for a note of cheerful practicality. "It's convenient to all sorts of things. . . . More so than this. . . . We can take something unfurnished and get some of Aunt Mary's things out of storage."

"When we move from here," Barney said through tight lips, "it will be because we're moving to something better."

Nevertheless, Janet did go house-hunting next day. She did not wear her fur coat this time; but a shabby tweed suit and an old hat.

A. & M. Extension Service Develops Heel Fly Remedy

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 3.—Stockmen may look forward soon to a practical means of eradicating the heel fly, the little insect that costs them millions of dollars annually.

Heel flies are the adults of grubs variously called saddle grubs, ox warblers, and "wolves" that are a serious pest of dairy and beef animals during the winter months. The flies attack cattle in early spring for the purpose of depositing their eggs.

Heel fly work initiated on the King county Martin ranch in cooperation with the county agricultural agent, R. L. White, now of Cass county, and his successor, G. T. Hackney, in the winter of 1937-38, demonstrated that large scale control of the insect was practical.

Reppert Makes Check Although some grub had already emerged when treatment began there, a check made during the grub season a year later by R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, and Dr. E. W. Laake of the USDA Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, showed a 1.06 grubs in the backs of treated animals as compared with 7.08 per untreated animals in a pasture four miles away. Heel flies do not fly very far, Reppert said.

Subsequent tests showed reductions of grubs ranging from 64 to 95 per cent. Careful observations on the part of Hackney and the ranch management throughout 1938 showed much less annoyance of animals in the treated pasture and the management was greatly pleased with the excellent condition and vigor of the animals in the test.

Cattle attacked by heel flies are restless, lose flesh because they leave the grazing grounds to stand in water or mud holes, and have been known to rush to their death over cliffs. Eggs laid by the flies hatch into grubs, enter animal tissue, gradually work up to the back and finally emerge as fully grown grubs about a year later. The various losses due to the grub will probably exceed that of the fly.

There is no direct control of the heel fly in the adult stage, neither are there practical methods of preventing the eggs from hatching or the small grubs from entering animal tissue.

Destruction of the grub in the back of the animal is possible however, and if systematically done, eliminates the next crop of flies, Reppert pointed out.

Hand Removal Ineffective Hand removal of the grub, practiced for years, is not practical on large herds. USDA entomologists found that a rotenone-bearing material such as derris or cube root, ground to a fineness of 250 screen mesh, would kill the grubs. Control may be effected by making an ointment of one part of the powder to 10 parts of petroleum and forcing the insecticide with the fingers into the breathing pore provided by the grub itself. This also requires individual treatment of the grubs and is not practical except on a small scale.

A more rapid method is to apply at least two ounces of finely ground dust of at least one per cent rotenone content to the backs of infested animals.

Method Described The method used by the Extension Service workers at the Martin ranch was to make a wash of one gallon of water, two ounces of neutral soap, and one pound of finely ground powder of five per cent rotenone content—enough to treat 20 animals. Application has been with coarse, short bristled stable brushes to thoroughly work in the wash. It has been found that four men, working in a chute, can treat animals at the rate of one per minute.

Three or four, possibly five, monthly treatments are necessary to prevent emergence of any grubs and the consequent later appearance of the flies.

Mother's Standby in Treating CHILDREN'S COLDS
FOR RELIEVING discomforts of chest colds and night coughs, rub Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Its potent vapor action relieves local congestion and helps the youngster relax into restful sleep.

FOR COUGHING and irritated throat due to colds, put VapoRub on the child's tongue. It melts, soothes the throat with comforting medication. Also massage on throat and chest.

FOR HEAD-COLDS "sniffles" and misery, melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water; have the child breathe in the steaming vapors. This loosens phlegm, clears air-passages.

merce. A post-convention courtesy will be an informal reception-dance sponsored by Type High, the college press club, at Cousins Hall. This will begin very early, or shortly after 6:30 o'clock. Music will be furnished by Raymond Raillard and his Majors in Swing.

Any Panhandle high school regularly publishing a school yearbook or newspaper is eligible for membership in the association. Application for membership must be made to the membership committee at an annual meeting.

Farm Women Dress Well On $25 A Year

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 3.—Hint to bill-harassed husbands: Sign up the women-folk in a home demonstration or 4-H girls' club.

Records assembled here show that home demonstration club women and 4-H club girls spent, on the average, less than $25 a year for clothes and that most of them dressed nicely at a saving of $50 a year.

In an effort to get an index of the value of clothing work as offered by the Texas A. and M. college extension service through home demonstration agents, Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist, asked 1,089 home demonstration club women and 8,294 4-H club girls to keep accurate records of their individual clothing expenditures. Records were also kept on the clothing cost of 1,217 families.

The figures assembled by Mrs. Barnes show that the women spent an average of $25.88 for clothes during 1938 and the club girls $23.22, while the cost per family averaged $65.55 and the per person family average was $32.54.

A total of 10,407 4-H club girls took part in the "Building For Living" program sponsored by the extension service, Mrs. Barnes said. The program includes improvement in personal appearance through observance of grooming, posture and health recommendations.

A by-product of the clothing work was the construction of 4,324 clothes and 8,294 4-H club girls to keep accurate records of their individual clothing expenditures. Records were also kept on the clothing cost of 1,217 families.

CHAMBERLAIN UMBRELLA CAN'T HIDE ROME FIASCO

Prime Minister Chamberlain returned empty-handed from Rome after a round of such diplomatically futile activities as pictured here — examining coal at an Italian minerals exhibit.

By MILTON BRONNER
LONDON, Feb. 3.—Affectionate efforts of the British Tory press to make a hero of Neville Chamberlain are meeting with scant success since the British Premier's sadly unproductive trip to Rome.

The British public is unimpressed by attempts to make Chamberlain's ever-present umbrella a symbol of nationalism much as the newspapers used to play up Premier Baldwin's pipe.

At a large motion picture house the other day, when Chamberlain was shown smiling with Mussolini, there was not a handclap. A moment later there was generous applause when President Roosevelt was pictured reading to Congress his now famous message on the need of world peace.

The Englishman-in-the-street has not been fooled. He knows Chamberlain's visit in the Italian capital was a failure.

His mission was foredoomed from the start. In the first place, his friend and ally, Premier Daladier of France, had gone tough on him. Daladier was no longer in the amenable mood he displayed in the Munich meeting with the dictators. He had to be tough. He was on the spot with a suspicious French Parliament watching him.

Daladier told Chamberlain plainly that he did not want the Englishman to go to Rome and "mediate," as Lord Runciman did in the Czech affair, said mediation ending by Hitler gobbling up the Sudetenland.

In the next place, Chamberlain himself had gone a bit tough. Young Tories in the House of Commons have lately become very restless. They are not so sure that Chamberlain is the Heaven-sent leader England needs in this emergency. They feel that England's defense forces have not been vastly improved in the breathing space since last September's crisis. They feel England has lost world prestige by its continual surrender to the dictators. So Chamberlain was in no position to make any serious commitments.

The question of Italy's claims upon France came up. Chamberlain said he could not mediate. That was an affair France would handle itself.

Mussolini brought up the subject of England and France granting belligerent rights to France in Spain. Chamberlain replied this could not be done until all foreign troops had been withdrawn from Spain. Mussolini, in return, replied the Italians would only be withdrawn when Franco got belligerent rights or when he won a victory and was master of all Spain.

So, having dined a couple of times, heard an opera, visited a museum an cseen Italian babies parade with toy guns, Chamberlain grasped his umbrella and returned—otherwise empty-handed—to London.

Tree-Dweller Evicted by Columbus Police
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 3 (AP)—"Twas up to John W. Taylor today to find himself a new abode.

Sheriff's deputies evicted him from his "home" in the roots of a fallen tree.

"You might freeze to death sleeping on the ground," a deputy warned.

"What do you think I am, a panti-waist?" demanded Taylor.

Officials Criticize O'Daniel Statement

HOUSTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Three district judges, a county court at law and the district clerk today expressed resentment of Governor O'Daniel's action in granting Winzell Williams, condemned negro, a 30-day reprieve from death so the negro might further suffer "the dreadful punishment" of impending death.

District Judge Norman Atkinson said: "I cannot credit by ears or eyes."

District Judge Langston G. King said: "He (O'Daniel) says he believes literally in the Bible, but I have missed that sentiment from my Bible."

District Clerk J. W. Mills, a member of the Texas Welfare Advisory Committee, said: "Man's inhumanity to man has made countless thousands mourn. I hope this primitive pronouncement by Gov. O'Daniel will be the forerunner of a movement to abolish the death penalty in Texas."

County Court at Law Judge Frank Williford read the governor's statement, and used one of the governor's oft-repeated campaign expressions: "Play Beautiful Texas, Leon."

W. E. Robertson, chief county probation officer, said: "This amounts to the death penalty plus."

District Judge Allen B. Hannay said: "I cannot understand Governor O'Daniel's philosophy or psychology."

Impeachment Of Perkins Frowned On By Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—Some members of the House Judiciary committee said privately today they had found little justification so far for impeachment charges which Rep. Thomas (R., N. J.) filed against Secretary Perkins.

But, they asserted the committee had not yet decided whether to take any action.

Thomas accused Miss Perkins, Gerard D. Reilly, labor department solicitor, and James L. Houghteling, immigration commissioner, of "high crimes and misdemeanors" for suspending deportation proceedings against Harry Bridges, San Francisco CIO leader.

Thomas contended Bridges was a Communist alien. The labor department explained it delayed action until the Supreme Court decided in another case whether membership in the Communist party was sufficient grounds for deportation.

Rep. Celler (D., N. Y.), said Reilly made a statement which "completely demolished" Thomas' charges.

ECF Loans Now Available For Wheeler Farmers

SHAMROCK, Feb. 3.—Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1939 are now being received at Wheeler by John L. Jones, field supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan section of the Farm Credit Administration.

The loans will be made as in the past to farmers whose cash requirements are small and who cannot obtain credit from any other source. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual cash needs for growing the 1939 crop and for purchase of feed for livestock.

Farmers who can obtain loans from individuals, banks or other sources are not eligible for crop and feed loans under the Emergency Crop and Feed section of the Farm Credit Administration. The loans will not be made to standard rehabilitation clients whose current needs are provided for by the Farm Security Administration, formerly known as the Resettlement Administration.

As in the past, farmers who obtain emergency loans will give a security first lien on the crop financed or a first lien on the livestock to be fed if the money is to be used to feed livestock.

When loans are made to tenants, the landlords or others having an interest in the crops financed or the livestock to be fed, are required to waive all claims in favor of the lien to the governor of the Farm Credit Administration until the loan is repaid.
