Police Investigate Slaying Of Couple

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Firemen and police answering a call to a blazing car found the badly burned bodies of a young man and woman, both shot several times, Sunday near Austin's City Park.

Police Lt. Robert Scott identified the two as Thomas Matzilevich, 21, and his wife, Katharine, 18, of Massachusetts.

Police said Matzilevich was a student at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth and his wife was a former student.

Matzilevich was identified as the son of a prominent neurologist from Natick, Mass., near Boston. Investigators said Mrs. Matzilevich was the daughter of the superintendent of schools at Worcester, Mass.

Also in the charred debris were the remains of what investigators said they believed were scales like those used by pharmacists and chemists for weighing small items.

Texas Ranger Wallace Spiller who helped city detective Sgt. Jack Moody and Sgt. Bobby Simpson in the case, came across a small pill box near the car, police said.

About 50 feet west of the burned car were fresh auto tire tracks which left the mud dug up as if a vehicle spun its tires while departing, officers said.

Scott said investigators were trying to determine why the two were in the Austin area and the significance of the scales and pill box.

"Frankly," Scott said, "we have no leads."

A municipal judge, Allen Hill, ruled it was a case of double homicide. He said an autopsy disclosed the woman was shot three times and the man twice, each with a different caliber weapon.

Officials asked Boston police for help in their efforts to identify the slain couple.

The bodies were discovered after a parks employee noticed smoke and radioed for assistance about 8:45 a.m. Sunday. County fire patrol and sheriff's units, Austin firemen and city police responded.

Firemen found the burning car about 25 feet south of a City Park road under a large grove of juniper trees and about one-fourth mile from the Lake Austin park, which is west of town.

"When I arrived, the car was pretty well gutted," said the county fire patrol chief, Lee Basore.

He said the automobile was enveloped in flames and a fiery stream of gasoline fumes was blasting from the vehicle's uncapped tank.

Basore said the bodies were lying next to the car, the man slightly under the driver's side and the woman about three feet outside the passenger side door.

Both were burned beyond recognition. Several apparent gunshot wounds were visible near their chests.

An empty two-gallon gasoline can was close to the dead man. A spout from this can lay underneath the body of the woman.

Both were wearing tennis shoes. Two tennis balls were on the ground beside the woman.

"Here's where the fire was started off," Basore said, pointing to a charred patch of grass about 15 feet from the back of the late model sedan.

Officers found shell case fragments 20 feet from the car.

Fischer Holds Game Initiative

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer goes into the playoff of the third game of the world chess championship today holding the initiative over titleholder Boris Spassky of the Soviet Union.

The American challenger, after keeping the match in suspense with protests against TV and movie cameras, forced the start of the third game Sunday to a private room offstage.

Spassky threw the competition into doubt early today by saying he would refuse to play again in the private room. Chief Referee Lothar Schmid announced shortly after noon, however, that the adjourned game would go on in the main hall where the 24-game match began last Tuesday.

Fischer had said that the cameras in the main exhibition hall of the Sports Palace disturbed him.

The opening of Fischer's 41st move was the signal for the resumption of play.

The 29-year-old Brooklynite backed down on a threat to fly home Sunday and appeared for the third game in a small upstairs room of the Reykjavik sports hall. Spassky, 35, playing the white pieces, had already made his first move.

Fighting to overcome the Russian's 2-0 lead, Fischer forced Spassky to the defensive midway in the 5-hour, 18-minute session. At adjournment he was in a position to threaten the Russian's king. At the pause, each player had his king, queen and one bishop remaining while Fischer had six pawns to Spassky's five.

Isaac Kashdan, the international grandmaster analyzing the match for The Associated Press, said Fischer had excellent winning chances. He said in a clash of grandmasters, the one pawn advantage could be decisive.

Spassky won their opening game at Reykjavik last week and was declared winner of the second by forfeit when Fischer failed to appear because he objected to hidden television cameras filming the match.

Officials overruled the American's appeal against the forfeit, and until the last minute it was uncertain if Fischer would continue. He and two lawyers assisting him in Iceland had seats booked on a Sunday afternoon flight to New York, but they did not leave.

Instead, at Fischer's insistence, the match was moved to the small room and the audience of paying fans in the big sports hall downstairs watched on closed circuit television. Apparently Fischer had no objection to that TV equipment.

But Referee Lothar Schmid announced he had moved the third game into the private room "just for today... just to save the match."

Schmid said the rest of the games would be played in the hall.

Spassky's aides described the offstage room as a "chess cupboard" and warned that the Russian would not play any more games in it.

Bombers, Naval Forces Blast North Vietnamese

Fighter Plane Has 43 Flaws

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy found 43 major flaws in test models of its new F14 fighter plane during a preliminary evaluation late last year, according to congressional testimony made public today.

Sixteen of those deficiencies related to safety.

The Navy told a House Appropriations subcommittee that "corrective action is under way" and that a majority of the repaired aircraft would be ready for testing this summer.

This testimony, which also reported 75 minor problems with the F14, came during closed-door budget hearings last April.

An F14 crashed into Chesapeake Bay June 30, killing its civilian test pilot. Navy sources said divers still are recovering pieces of the plane and that cause of the crash has not yet been determined.

The specific problems detected during evaluation flights by Navy pilots last November and December were referred to only sketchily in the April report to the House subcommittee.

But testimony by senior admirals under questioning indicated deficiencies involved engines stalling, difficulty in recovering from spins, and flight range, among other things.

In addition, the congressmen were told that 10 deficiencies were found in the system controlling the Phoenix missile, the F14's principal weapon. Most of these problems, too, will be straightened out, the Navy assured the subcommittee.

The F14 is designed to serve the Navy in fleet air defense and air superiority missions in the late 1970s and the 1980s.

Despite Pentagon claims that the F14 is indispensable for the Navy in future years, the project has come under intense fire for congressional critics because of its escalating costs.

The Pentagon lists the price of an F14 at $16.8 million, up from $11.5 million last year.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., claimed Saturday that the cost will be $20.8 million.

Present plans call for an eventual purchase of 313 F14s.

The Grumman Corp., builder of the F14, has notified the Navy that it is financially unable to build the next batch of 48 F14s unless its contract terms are improved.

San Antonio Fire Kills 4

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Four persons died and an elderly man was critically burned in a fire that swept a two-story frame hotel shortly before midnight Sunday. Fire officials said it was the worst fatal blaze here since 1957.

Two of the dead, both occupants of the Holiday Hotel on the city's poor West Side, were identified as Carl Vann, 42, and Anita Simpson, 20.

The two other dead were not at once identified. One was burned beyond recognition, firemen said.

QUEEN CONTESTANT — Miss Rhonda Dennis, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Dennis, 2119 Beech, is a contestant in the Miss Western Beauty Pageant to be held in Quanah. Girls in the 13 and over category will be judged in Western wear and evening dress, with the winner to ride in the rodeo parade and to be presented at the rodeo's opening night ceremonies Aug. 10. She is being sponsored by Pampa's chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha and Anderson's Western Wear.

Violent Deaths Take 38 Lives In Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A highway crash which took the lives of five motorists helped to swell the weekend toll from violence in Texas.

There were reports of 38 deaths, including 23 in traffic, between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

At last 10 persons died of gunshot wounds among them an unidentified young man and woman in a double slaying which puzzled Austin authorities. Bodies of the two, burned beyond recognition, were found beside a blazing car Sunday in the state capital's City Park, and police determined that both had been shot several times.

The collision which killed five occurred about a mile east of Waxahachie on U.S. 287 shortly before midnight Saturday. It claimed the lives of Charles V. Ingram, 34, and Carlos Ingram, 8, of Fort Worth; Ewell S. Hill, 19, and Nancy Gale Ford, 19, of Waxahachie, and Clyde W. Harris, 47, of Sanger.

These were among the other victims:

Robert C. Martin, 22, of Denison died in the flaming wreckage of his sports car Sunday after a head-on collision near the village of Southmayd in Grayson County.

Linda Kay Ekdahl, 26, a Corpus Christi school teacher, was killed Sunday in a two-car crash a mile north of Kandy in South Texas on U.S. 181. Garland W. Dorries, 51, of San Antonio suffered minor injuries.

Pedro Sanchez Milina, 52, of Jourdan, a father of seven, was burned to death Saturday night when a car hit a bridge railing, overturned and caught fire near Jourdan.

At Navasota in Southeast Texas a chain-reaction crash killed Michael A. Gernez of Donna and George C. Thomas of Houston.

A two-car collision in Houston Saturday cost the lives of three members of an Arlington family. They were William Harbes, 52, his wife Jean, 49, and their daughter Carolyn, 15.

A Virginia youth met death and his brother was injured Saturday when their car and a truck collided about 10 miles north of San Antonio on Interstate 10. The dead youth was identified as Michael Clemons, 17, of Alexandria.

Temple police arrested the wife of Alvin Hughley, 35, who was shot and killed early Sunday. His widow, Gladys Marie Hughley, was charged with murder.

FOR FISCAL 1972-73 City Trying To Hold Down Budget Figures

By TEX DEWESE

City Manager Mack Wofford said today he and his City Hall staff are striving to hold down Pampa's operating budget for fiscal 1972-73 to a figure that will not require an increase in the current city tax rate of $1.72 per $100 of assessed property valuation.

The operating budget for the current year which ends Oct. 31 was $2,198,462.

The city manager said a review of all department head requests for the coming fiscal year was completed Friday.

"We're trying to cope with a 4.3 per cent increase in the cost of living index and several capital expenditures," Wofford said.

He added that it is becoming increasingly difficult to fit the operating needs to revenue.

"It looks as if our revenue for fiscal 1972-73 is going to be about the same, but the expenses continue to increase," Wofford said.

The city manager said the budget now is being typed and put into form for a review

Light Fighting At Quang Tri

SAIGON (AP) — Nearly 100 U.S. B52 bombers and a naval task force of more than a dozen cruisers and destroyers blasted North Vietnamese positions on both sides of the demilitarized zone today in some of the heaviest bombardments of the war.

The raids were in support of a 20,000-man South Vietnamese counteroffensive on the northern front. They had the two-fold objective of destroying North Vietnamese troops and supplies already on the battleground and cutting off reinforcements and war materials reportedly moving south.

The Saigon command reported light fighting on the edges of Quang Tri, the provincial capital which fell to the North Vietnamese May 1. It said South Vietnamese paratroopers driving from the East had inched their way to within 200 to 300 yards of the Citadel, the 19th century fortress in the heart of the city.

A dozen B52s struck north of the demilitarized zone on both sides of the port city of Dong Hoi against elements of two North Vietnamese divisions. U.S. military sources said the troops were on the move southward, presumably to join two badly battered divisions in Quang Tri province.

More than 80 giant Stratofortresses struck to the North, West, South and Southwest of Quang Tri city, dropping about 2,500 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese positions.

The U.S. Navy said the destroyer Shelton destroyed nearly 30 North Vietnamese emplacements and triggered 10 secondary explosions in bombardment near Quang Tri city. Other ships of the 13-vessel task force firing from offshore included the guided missile cruiser Oklahoma City, flagship of the 7th Fleet, and the destroyer escort Hepburn.

Another task force made up of the destroyers Robison, Hammer, Warrington and Hull bombarded transshipment points and storage areas above the DMZ. The 7th Fleet said the Hull and Robison also destroyed two boatloads of supplies taken off freighters—presumed to be Chinese.

Japanese Gets Life Sentence

LOD, Israel (AP) — An Israeli army court convicted Japanese radical Kojo Okamoto today for his part in the Lod airport massacre of May 30 and sentenced him to life imprisonment.

The 24-year-old defendant stood and listened impassively as the verdict of the three lieutenant-colonels was read. After it was translated into Japanese, he sighed deeply.

He was found guilty of all four charges filed against him. Death is the maximum penalty for three of them, but Israel has executed but one person, Nazi war criminal Adolf Eichmann. And the prosecution asked for a life sentence.

Okamoto had pleaded guilty in court and before the trial signed a confession admitting that he and two other Japanese attacked the crowd in Israel's international airport on May 30 with machine guns and grenades, acting on behalf of a Palestine guerrilla organization. Twenty-eight persons were killed, including the other two terrorists, and 70 were wounded.

In a statement Thursday at the end of the four-day trial, Okamoto said his organization in Japan, the United Red Army, would continue its attacks in the cause of world revolution.

The president of the court, Lt. Col. Abraham Frisch, said Okamoto's declaration was "a mixture of unrepented ideas concerning his and his friends' frustration with the modern world, its social structure and regimes."

In the early stages of his interrogation before the trial, Okamoto asked repeatedly to be executed or to be allowed to commit suicide. The military commander for the Lod area, Maj. Gen. Rehavam Zeevi, signed an agreement with Okamoto promising him the general's pistol to kill himself with if he made a full confession. Zeevi testified that he later told the young Japanese the agreement was dead because Okamoto had not provided "truthful information."

Okamoto's attorney appointed by the court, Max Kritzman, repeatedly asked the court for a sanity hearing for his client, but Okamoto said he would not agree to one.

Crash Kills Marine Pilot

WILLIAMS, Ariz. (AP) — A weekend crash of a Marine Corps jet fighter near this Northern Arizona community killed the pilot and injured another officer, officials at Luke Air Force Base reported.

Capt. Dennis W. Vickery, 27, of Victoria, Tex., who was stationed at the Marine Corps Air Station at Beaufort, S.C., died in the crash.

Captain Vickery was the husband of Ardalee Thompson, a native of Pampa and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miß Bird, 1027 S. Hobart, Pampa. Three children also survive.

First Lt. James Wilson, 23, of Tallahassee, Fla., was reported in satisfactory condition Sunday night at Flagstaff Community Hospital east of Williams.

Luke officials said the crash, witnessed by U.S. Forest Service spotters in a lookout tower Saturday, occurred about 12 miles northwest of here.

A forest service helicopter transported Wilson to Flagstaff and a Luke helicopter took Vickery's body back to the base near Phoenix.

The crash started a forest fire but it was brought under control after blackening three acres of pine forest.

Officials said Wilson and Vickery were on a training flight from Luke to the Marine Corps Air Station at Yuma, Ariz.

MAGAZINE ARTICLE CLAIMS

US Can Pinpoint Soviet Craft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Government officials have declined comment on a Ramparts magazine article which says U.S. intelligence can pinpoint the location of Soviet military and space craft and monitor every transatlantic telephone call.

The Western White House in San Clemente, Calif., the Department of Defense in Washington and a spokesman for the National Security Agency at Ft. Meade, Md., would not respond to the article entitled "U.S. Espionage: A Memoir." The article, appearing in the August issue of the magazine which went on newsstands today, is based on an interview with a man purported to be a former NSA analyst.

"The ex-analyst, identified by a spokesman for the magazine as 'Winslow Peck,'—a pseudonym—is quoted as saying flights over Russian territory are made routinely by jets which climb high enough to reach the edge of outer space."

Knowledgeable sources other than the Defense Department denied that U.S. reconnaissance planes fly over Russia.

Contacted in San Diego at a telephone number supplied by Ramparts, a man who said he was "Peck," 26, refused to give his real name but said he was employed by NSA for 3½ years after enlisting in the Air Force in 1966.

He said he quit because he was disillusioned in Vietnam.

The Ramparts article said the United States monitors every government in the world, including its allies, and listens in on all transatlantic telephone calls to or from this country, even those by private citizens.

"As far as the Soviet Union is concerned we know the whereabouts at any given time of all its aircraft, exclusive of small private planes, and its naval forces, including its missile-firing submarines," the former analyst said in the article.

Asked whether the United States makes surveillance flights over Russia, "Peck" replied:

"Routinely, as a matter of fact, over the Black Sea, down to the Baltic. Our Strategic Air Force flies the planes, and we support them. By that I mean that we watch them penetrate the Soviet air space then analyze the Soviet reaction—how everything from their air defense and tactical air force to the KGB reacts."

Rolling Stones Truck Rocked By Explosion

MONTREAL (AP) — A bomb exploded outside the Montreal Forum early today under a truck loaded with equipment for a concert in the arena tonight by the Rolling Stones, a police spokesman reported.

No one was reported hurt, but the windows on the north side of the building were broken.

Peter Rudge, manager of the British rock group, said the concert would take place as scheduled.

The Forum building covers a whole block and is the home of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

The building watchman, Gaston Lesage, 56, was sitting by the back entrance about 15 feet from the truck.

"There was a hell of a bounce," he said. "All those windows broke, a ball of fire came out from under the truck, and then there was a lot of smoke."

The motive for the bombing was not immediately apparent. A police bomb squad was investigating the possibility that another explosive device had been placed under another truck parked nearby.

Violence has occurred in other cities where the Stones have held concerts as part of their current six-week North American tour.

In San Diego, Calif., several persons were arrested June 14 when rioting broke out after holders of counterfeit tickets to a Stones' concert were turned away.

The next night, police in Tucson, Ariz., used tear gas to disperse a crowd of 200 to 300 window-breaking youths who tried to crash a concert.

When the Stones appeared at the Metropolitan Sports Center in Bloomington, Minn., June 18, several hundred gate-crashers caused $1,000 to $1,500 damage to the facility. Eight persons were arrested and several policemen were injured.

The current Stones' concert tour covers 30 cities. It marks the first time they have visited the United States in 2½ years.

A COMPLEX PATTERN

Top Figure Killed In Gangland War

NEW YORK (AP) — Sifting theories and evidence, police experts today sought to fit the slaying of top Mafia figure Thomas "Tommy Ryan" Eboli into the complex pattern of a continuing gangland war.

Eboli, 61, was found sprawled on a sidewalk early Sunday in the quiet Crown Heights section of Brooklyn, far from his usual haunts in New Jersey and Manhattan. There were five bullet holes in his face and neck.

The killing was at least the 15th gangland slaying since the June 28, 1971 wounding of Joseph A. Colombo Sr., identified by authorities as the head of the Profaci Cosa Nostra family in Brooklyn.

Included in that string of killings was the Little Italy clam bar rubout of Joseph "Crazy Joe" Gallo last April.

Investigators concluded that Eboli was shot as he sat in a car, probably his own late-model Cadillac, then struggled out and collapsed on the sidewalk. "He must have been lured over here," said one detective.

Witnesses told police they heard shots and saw flashes near a truck that went by at the time. The truck, apparently stolen, was found about a block away abandoned with its engine running.

Police also found a stolen car with an m-3 machine gun in its rear seat. The gun had not been fired and detectives theorized that it had been a backup weapon.

The car Eboli had been in was gone when police arrived and they broadcast an alarm for the vehicle. In the right hand pocket of Eboli's jacket was more than $2,000 in cash, mostly in $100 bills.

Despite the strong indications that Eboli had been "hit" by mob gunmen, detectives said there was no evidence that he had been feuding lately with fellow members of his Genovese underworld family.

"Most of the time when these fellows get in trouble with each other, it's because they're starting to get greedy—and there was no sign that Tommy was doing that," said one official.

Federal authorities have identified Eboli as an underboss in the Genovese family while the late Vito Genovese himself, known as the "Boss of Bosses," was in prison for bankrolling a narcotics smuggling operation.

After Genovese's death in prison in 1969, Eboli's poor health prevented him from gaining the top spot and reportedly much of the family's traditional territory was siphoned off by other families.

Eagleton Says George Would Limit Amnesty

WASHINGTON (AP) — As president, Sen. George McGovern would grant amnesty on a case-by-case basis and limit it to draft resisters, his Democratic running mate says.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, picked by McGovern Thursday as the Democratic party's vice presidential candidate, also predicted higher taxes by 1974. And he said there will be no mass defections of leading party figures to the Republicans.

The Missouri Democrat said there is no basic difference on amnesty between McGovern and President Nixon. Neither man would grant automatic amnesty to deserters and both would delay the question until the fighting stops, he said.

Eagleton commented Sunday on the CBS television-radio program "Face the Nation."

Eagleton said he would discuss campaign strategy with McGovern at a South Dakota resort later this week.

The 42-year-old senator also:

— Said the draft should continue as long as the shooting does because "the risk of dying should be shared equally."

— Acknowledged McGovern would leave Air Force and Naval forces in Thailand and elsewhere in the Pacific after U.S. troops were withdrawn from Indochina. These forces might be reduced gradually later, he said.

— Said he believes the Vietnam war would not be ended as long as South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu is in office.

Political Staffers Getting Set For Fall Campaign Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, flew today to the Black Hills of his native South Dakota for two weeks of rest, staff reshuffling and strategic planning for the fall campaign against President Nixon.

He left National Airport at 10:35 a.m. EDT on a chartered plane for Rapid City.

The vacation spot picked out weeks ago in anticipation of McGovern's victory in last week's Miami Beach convention is a lodge at Sylvan Lake in Custer State Park, near the gold rush town of Custer, south of famous Mount Rushmore.

The South Dakota senator will be accompanied by a small personal staff. Starting later this week, his top political advisors, financial planners, and his running mate, Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, of Missouri, will come to the lodge for conferences.

The shape of McGovern's campaign organization is largely settled.

Gary Hart, the 35-year-old Denver lawyer who managed the senator's drive for the Democratic presidential nomination, will head the organization, with George Cunningham, a McGovern aide for 17 years and now his administrative assistant, as deputy.

The three regional coordinators are expected to be Eli Segal, who managed McGovern's California campaign; Harold Himmelman, number two man in the Ohio primary; and Rick Stearns, who supervised the senator's efforts in non-primary states. Their exact roles are scheduled to be worked out later in the week when Hart and Frank Mankiewicz, the senator's national political director until now, return from a brief Virgin Islands vacation.

Mankiewicz and Frederick G. Dutton, who joined McGovern in California and has been at his side since, are scheduled to be the top traveling advisers. Other staff positions, including traveling press secretary, remain to be filled.

One major decision that will have to be made before the end of the South Dakota stay, expected to be July 29, is how to allocate the time of both McGovern and Eagleton in the five weeks between then and the traditional Labor Day start of the formal presidential campaign.

Saturday Is 'No Pay Day'

Saturday was "no pay day" in Pampa for a number of firms with customers ranging from shoppers to "skips."

At a local shoe store, the manager reported shoes missing after some woman had been shopping.

At a downtown restaurant, a customer ate a steak and left without payment.

At a local lounge, a customer got into a heated argument with the woman in charge over payment for a drink. A companion threw beer in her face and the pair fled. Police have a description of the two and their car. Investigations are underway in all instances.

While Nixon was at the Western White House in California, Chairman Clark MacGregor of the Committee for the Re-election of the President and Sen. Robert Dole, GOP national chairman, took over the politicking.

MacGregor appeared Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" and Dole on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Burglars Busy Early Sunday

Burglars were busy in Pampa early Sunday morning striking the Highway Cafe, 105 N. Hobart, and the Tee Room Bar, 543 W. Brown.

Entry was made through a rear door of both places with the door of the bar being broken in half.

At both firms, coin boxes were rifled, and at the bar, a considerable number of bottles of beer were missing.

Damage at the cafe has not been assessed as yet, but damages to the lounge were estimated at about $300.

Police are checking out a suspected vehicle noticed in the vicinity of the lounge early Sunday morning.

Pampan Suffers Gunshot Wound

Paul Allan Long, 23, 1618 Lincoln, is in good condition at Worley Hospital following an accidental gunshot wound at his home Saturday.

Long told investigating officers he was repairing a gun when it discharged. He fell to the floor of his garage and could not get up again. He was taken to Worley Hospital where the bullet was removed and the wound cleaned.

Is boss who likes tall girls, short men weird?

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband was recently hired by a man who has got to be some kind of weirdo. Listen to this: This man owns his own business, and he refuses to hire a man who is taller than he is. [He's about 5 feet 7. Fortunately my husband is 5 feet 5.]

My husband says the other employees told him that the boss doesn't want any big men around him, but he digs big women! His secretary is a head taller than he is, and his wife is even taller than his secretary.

I've never heard of such a nutty hangup, and am not crazy about my husband working for a kook like this. If you can figure it out, please let me know.

SHORTY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Obviously the boss doesn't mind being looked down upon by women, but he dislikes being dwarfed by another man. It probably has something to do with his competitive attitude toward men, and a desire to be "mothered" by women. If your husband has achieved his full growth he has nothing to worry about.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have just spent the last month painting the outside of our house, including the white picket fence on our side. Our neighbors of 20 years said they would paint their side of the fence. I gave them what was left of a gallon of the paint I used so it would match.

Yesterday they spray painted their side in the wind! I wasn't at home at the time, and came home to find white paint all over our grass, planter boxes, a whole bed of flowers, the house, the sidewalk, and a natural wood gate. Our neighbor shouted over the fence, "Isn't that a mess?—Sorry about that."

I was sick and speechless. We will have to replace all the plants, and hope the grass doesn't die. Our gate must be resanded and we will try to ignore the rest. What do you think we should say to these neighbors?

WHITEWASHED

DEAR WHITEWASHED: Say, "After we've figured out how much it will cost to repair the damage you did, we'll give you the bill. Sorry about that, too."

DEAR ABBY: Please help us settle an argument: I wrote to some good friends of ours who live out of town, asking them to take a vacation trip with us. Since these people are notoriously slow letter writers, I added, "Naturally, you are our first choice, so please let us know as soon as possible if you can make it, because if you can't, we want to ask somebody else."

They were insulted, and said we were rude. Were we?

OUT OF LINE?

DEAR OUT: No! On the contrary, they should have felt flattered.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to your recent advice to "Confused" concerning marriage between a Lutheran and Catholic, neither of whom wanted to be married in the other's church. Recent changes in the Roman Catholic Church now permit a Catholic to be married by a minister, rabbi or civil official when there is sufficient reason and permission of local bishop is obtained.

Sincerely,
 LT. R. L., CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN,
 U. S. N., MILTON, FLA.

MacDuff, the best player in Scotland, was mighty bappy with the dummy. For once MacBeth had bid his hand so that MacDuff could play it and the slam looked like a mighty good one.

He won the diamond lead with dummy's ace and played the king of hearts. Banquo, sitting East, discarded a spade and all of a sudden the slam looked as if it were doomed to defeat.

Could it be made? MacDuff saw that there was a chance if Donaldbane, sitting West, held exactly the right cards. A slim chance is far better than none and MacDuff proceeded to give the cards their chance to work.

Patricia Phillips Becomes Bride Of Don W. Nichols

Miss Patricia Louise Phillips became the bride of Don Walter Nichols at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, June 10, in the First United Presbyterian Church of Yuma, Ariz.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Phillips of Yuma, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nichols, 1133 Huff Road, Pampa.

THE CEREMONY
 Officiating at the double-ring candlelight ceremony was Rev. Ralph Edward Michels, church minister.

Daniel Burton, organist, played "March From Aida" for the processional and "Trumpet Voluntary" for the recessional. Setting for the ceremony included an altar arrangement of white gladioli, white, blue and pink carnations. Ivy and baby's breath were hung from the church banisters.

THE BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The bodice was fashioned with an empire waistline and a row of satin buttons down the front. The long lace sleeves were gathered into wide lace-over-satin cuffs, accented by satin buttons. Her detachable train of Chantilly lace, with a scalloped border, was chapel length.

Her veil of French illusion fell from a headpiece of lace petals, outlined with pearl beading, surrounding a cluster of sequined nylon flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies.

For "something old" and "something borrowed," she wore a family heirloom diamond ring belonging to the bride-groom's mother. For "something new" and "something blue," she wore a blue garter.

Her gown was made by her mother.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Teri Drysdale served as maid of honor, and her twin sister, Miss Geri Drysdale, was bridesmaid. The attendants, both of El Centro Calif., are cousins of the bride.

The maid of honor wore a floor-length gown of flopped blue rosebuds over taffeta, with a blue sash highlighting empire waistline. Her headpiece was of white daisies, and she carried a nosegay of white daisies, accented with blue ribbon.

The bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of flopped pink rosebuds, with a pink sash highlighting the empire waistline. Her headpiece was of white daisies, and she carried a nosegay of white daisies, accented with pink ribbon.

Bill Nichols served as the brother's best man, and Steve Weeks of Yuma was groomsman. Ushers were Bruce Weeks and Tim Herbst, both of Yuma.

RECEPTION
 For the reception in the

MRS. DON WALTER NICHOLS
 ...nee Patricia Louise Phillips

church's Westminister Hall, the three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue rosebuds and blue sweet peas.

Mrs. Jim Hopson of Buena Park, Calif., aunt of the bride, made and served the wedding cake. Mrs. Gretchen Garland of Yuma presided at the punch bowl, and guests were registered by Miss Marsha Weeks of Yuma.

For the wedding trip to Northern Arizona and Los Angeles, Calif., the bride wore a turquoise and white A-line knit dress. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Hunter-Gardner Vows Exchanged

Nuptial vows were exchanged at 3 p.m. Saturday, June 17, in St. John's of the Evangelist Catholic Church, Denver, Colo., by Miss Jeanie Hunter and James Gardner.

The Rev. Father Guida officiated for the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Myrie Hunter, 629 N. Sumner, and the late Floyd J. Hunter. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Pierce of Denver.

The bride wore an ivory lace street-length dress with satin lining and trim. A bow accented the short train attached at the empire waistline, and a soft lace ruffle accented the square neckline and puffy lace sleeves. The veil of eggshell illusion flowed from a beaded butterfly headpiece. She carried a white carnation and pink sweetheart roses, in a Colonial-style bouquet.

Miss Sandy Schutjer of Edgewater, Colo., was maid of honor, and Ron Williams of Lakewood, Colo., served as best man.

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Williams in Lakewood.

After the wedding trip to Vail, Colo., the couple will be at home at Natalie Apartments, Apt. 106, 525 Pennsylvania, Denver, Colo.

The bride was honored at a shower June 14, in Denver with Irene Elgart and Vicki Amberger serving as hostesses.

Betty Canary

By BETTY CANARY
 During the brief respite between spring vacation and summer vacation, a mother should make preparations.

That is to say, there is absolutely no way to avoid facing up to being surrounded by children during the months ahead.

Each year about this time I start running into items telling mothers how to cope with children during those empty summer afternoons. The ideas supposedly keep children happy and mother sane.

Last year's collection of ideas include instructions on how to make miniature flower pots out of catsup lids, how to make jigsaw puzzles out of photographs etc.

Obviously, the makers of these lists have never had children around for an entire summer. Someone who has had children around for an entire summer has learned that thinking small is a mistake. A smart mother learns to think BIG.

How about the mother who rented a vacant lot in June, handed her children shovels and hard hats and told them they could duplicate a missile site?

By Aug. 13, they were still happily digging and school had started before they were ready to call for cement.

Another mother threw away her children's miniature-paint sets, gave them each a five-gallon bucket and a three-inch brush and let them spend the summer doing murals on the garage walls.

After vainly trying to interest her children in window boxes, a woman let her sons plant sweet corn. She wasn't able to see through the windows all summer but the kids loved being the talk of the apartment building.

Instead of crocheting or knitting, one might spur the children on to making the largest braided rug in the world. Even if they got six blocks from home you could always find the.

 Some quotable quotes from women during the week:
 "There are bigger problems than that I'm black and you're white, but if we can't solve those human relations problems, how can we begin to cope with the larger ones, like taking care of the world?" Actress Vinie Burrows in an interview.

A Lovelier You KNOBBY KNEES ARE PROBLEMS

By MARY SUE MILLER
 A lovely writes: I'm really in a stew about a skinny problem. My legs are sticks and the knees are knobby. What can I do?

The Answer: When legs are thin and knees bony, the chance is that you need more weight. An increase comes from a balanced diet, totaling about 3200 calories per day.

But whether or not you are underweight, your legs require a special build-up treatment. This takes the form of spot exercises that develop muscle power and attract shapely cover for the bones. The following routines bring results, if you work daily exactly as instructed:

1. Lie back down, on floor with legs straight and together; cradle head in hands. Place sole of right foot against side of left knee. Slowly swing right leg along floor, as far as possible; hold position for 5 counts and slowly swing back to starting position. Repeat 10 times and then perform with left leg. Throughout, work to increase length of swing and play in knee joints.
2. Stand and perform above routine, holding on to chair for balance.
3. Stand with feet 1" apart and knees flexed. By rolling kneecaps outward, try to make calves touch—hold, relax and repeat.

 Always work slowly, or you'll defeat your purpose.

YOUR GAIN
 Are you too, too thin? And you never can gain an ounce? Send for my leaflet, YOUR GAIN. It shows you how to gain a pound a week by eating the right foods, working with spot increasing routines and having fun. Plus tips on your most flattering clothes. Pantsuits Are Mainstay Of Feminine Fashions

COLLEGE STATION — Pantsuits seem to be here to stay.

"Women of all ages, interests and lifestyles consider pants a mainstay in their feminine wardrobes," said Texas Agricultural Extension Service clothing specialist Beck Dunlap.

Miss Dunlap said that pants and pantsuits have been accepted as a major clothing article.

"Length, perhaps more than anything else, distinguishes the many styles and types of pants on the fashion scene," she said. "Pant lengths may strike the figure at any and all intervals—from the shortest of shorts to those which graze the floor or at any combination (layering) of lengths."

However, she said that length by no means determines the occasion for which pants are to be worn. Shorts no longer mean summer sports, just as long pants no longer are appropriate only for casual wear.

Current fashions include pants that rise high at the waistline, with self belts banding the midriff. A new emphasis is trouser pleats at the waistline in a men's wear mood. Cuffs are becoming increasingly popular and so are pant lengths rolled up to mid-calf or above. Flared lines are popular, with many reaching widths of 27 or more inches.

 "With so many styles of pants available, it becomes most important to select a style that minimizes figure faults while emphasizing good features," the Texas A&M University specialist noted. "Conduct a careful self-analysis in front of a full-length mirror. Try to see your reflection as others do. What are the good points? Which ones would be best forgotten?"

A tall, thin figure wears all kinds of pants especially well. A too-thin figure can add pounds by choosing pants and pantsuits of richly textured fabrics or by layering separates. For example, an outfit composed of a blazer, vest, blouse and pants would add several layers and pounds. Likewise, contrasting belts, waist insets, tops and pants and crosswise stripes will cut one's height.

"Short, thin figures best wear pantsuits in one lively color, light textured fabrics and medium-scaled prints and patterns," Miss Dunlap said.

"Matching hosiery and shoes when worn with short pants gives this figure an illusion of added length."
 It is especially important for a too-thin figure, since a too-tight pant reveals willy legs. And a too-loose pant may tattle on a lack of curves.

Straight-legged trousers and smooth back-seam closings make great choices for tall, full figures. For full thighs, choose a bodice detail that draws the eye upward on the figure. Rich, subdued colors and subtle contrasts flatter the full figure.

Simple, vertical lines, straight legs and an easy, unrevealing fit are ideal for the short, curvaceous woman. A lightweight, smooth surfaced fabric is most flattering.

"Every woman can enjoy the fun and excitement of wearing pants if she knows herself and chooses pants with her individual characteristics in mind from the many fashionable styles available," Miss Dunlap concluded.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

TUESDAY, JULY 18
 Your birthday today: Success in material matters comes in proportion to your efforts and efficiency. Basic resources are now subject to increase and improvement. Emotional ties are active. Today's natives have the gardener's proverbial "green thumb," and a passion for hidden knowledge.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Commerce proceeds steadily. Take your share of it in stride despite momentary distractions. Gather good friends for social activity.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Dealings with technical specialists bring results in ways you hadn't anticipated. It's about time for a show of your feelings.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Care and caution are the watchwords of the day. With several concerns on your mind, a complex and lengthy schedule is likely.

Cancer [June 21-July 21]: Think in terms of what comes next as you invest time, energy, and money. Cater to any health problem, however slight.

Leo [July 22-Aug. 22]: Abrupt resolution of some long-standing problem is indicated, according to earnest application of your patience throughout disagreements.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Today's decisions later turn out to be impractical. Cut back where you've taken on more than you can handle.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Put forth your finest skills, make a good appearance where it counts. There's just enough resistance to inspire a superlative achievement.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Common sense turns out to be your guide today. Steady, consistent effort brings unusual results, with sudden credentials gained.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Reform, personal as well as in working conditions is promised, perhaps in un-declared allowances which add up, but definitely on the way.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: For once you've expected perfection and come near finding it. Let well enough alone, realize what you have. Try for inner growth now.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Be gentle to those you love, a bit firmer toward those you don't. "Good fences make better neighbors" is a saying which serves well.

When They Were In The Swim...

The former swimming stars getting together at Fort Lauderdale's Swimming Hall of Fame, above, brought back memories—Eleanor Holm backstroking her way to a record in the 1932 Olympic trials, below; Johnny Weismuller, driving towards a victory in 1923, left; and Buster Crabbe showing a winning stroke in the 1929 National AAU Meet, below left.

Ben Downs Cain 4 And 3 To Win Trans-Miss Golf

DALLAS (AP) — Ben Crenshaw is right on schedule for his personal goal to capture the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship and if hard work means anything, the 20-year-old University of Texas ace, should make it.

Crenshaw, the NCAA co-champion, shot three-under par golf to down Houston stock broker John Paul Cain 4-and-3 Sunday to add the 69th Trans-Mississippi Golf Championship to a long list of titles.

Asked if he planned to take a rest, Crenshaw said "No sir. I keep telling myself I will but I find myself at the golf course the next day after a tournament."

Crenshaw said "I can't remember the last day when I didn't play a round of golf. I honestly can't. I guess it must have been when it rained or something."

The U.S. Amateur will be held in Charlotte, N.C., Aug. 29.

Fancher Wins

Kay Fancher of Pampa won the keel boat division of the Top of Texas Regatta at Lake Meredith Saturday. Jim Nelson and Jim Bailey, both of Amarillo, finished second and third.

Crenshaw immediately packed his bags to leave for the Southern Amateur in Columbus, Ga., this week.

Crenshaw was a methodical putting machine in downing Cain, a 36-year-old former Texas amateur champion who played college golf at Texas Tech.

"I thought I played better than at any time during the tournament," Crenshaw said. "I really hit some good iron shots and never had a three-putt. I used my legs better."

Crenshaw shot a two-under par 69 to take a two-up lead at the 18-hole lunch break. The margin soared to five-up as Cain's game sagged on the outgoing nine of the final 18-hole round.

It was ironic that Cain and Crenshaw should meet out of the original field of 300 because their families are good friends.

"I followed John Paul around in 1960 when he won the Texas amateur," Crenshaw said. "There was a party at our home that night. I was 12."

Crenshaw, who has refused to turn professional because he wants his game to mature, said "I really want to win the U.S. Amateur. The best I've ever done is to finish fifth and I think I have something to prove. Also, it qualifies me for a spot on the World Cup team in Buenos Aires in October if I finish high enough."

Football Notes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The tempo began stepping up over the weekend around the training camps of the National Football League, and from the air of the Cincinnati Bengals, Coach Paul Brown said 1972 could be a championship year for his team.

"It doesn't mean I'm assuring the public now that we'll be in the Super Bowl," said Brown. "But it does mean we have the horses and the depth to compete for it."

He recalled his pledge when the franchise was granted to Cincinnati in 1968 "that in five years we could compete for any championship."

Discussing the Bengals' division title in 1970 in the old American Football League, Brown said his team probably "overachieved, but it was an important step. It meant we were doing something right."

Baseball Roundup

By Associated Press

National League

"We hit the ball and they caught it," said Lee May of the Houston Astros. "They hit the ball and it was in the hole. That's baseball."

No, that's the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Pirates use the home field advantage as well as any team in the National League—and Sunday turned it to their advantage again.

Base hits whistled through the infield on the hard, artificial surface at Three Rivers Stadium and the Pirates literally ran off with a pair of 3-2 victories over the Astros.

"I've never seen so many ground balls shoot through like they do for the Pirates," said Houston Manager Harry Walker. "Manny Sanguillen hits that ball on the ground and—boom—it's gone."

The Pirates killed two birds with the double triumph. For one thing, the East leaders moved 4½ games up on the second-place New York Mets, who lost a 7-3 decision to the San Diego Padres. For another, they dropped the Astros five games behind Cincinnati in the West after the Reds beat the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers cut down the Montreal Expos 4-2; the San Francisco Giants defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 10-7 and the Chicago Cubs downed the Atlanta Braves 5-3.

The Pirates' first-game victory was fashioned with the help of speed, combined with that Tartan-Turf surface. The contest was tied 2-2 when Willie Stargell opened the 10th inning with a walk. Stargell raced to third when Sanguillen rifled a sharp single through the infield.

After Rennie Stennett was walked intentionally to load the bases, Bob Robertson was struck on the right wrist with a Fred Gladding pitch, forcing in the winning run.

Speedy Crown Best Trotter

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — After eight long years the United States again has the world trotting champion in Speedy Crown.

The 4-year-old colt sped the last quarter in 29.2-5 in winning the $125,000 Roosevelt International Trot Saturday night by three-quarters of a length over Fresh Yankee of Canada.

The French might be pardoned a dissent to the ascent of Speedy Crown to the title his daddy, Speedy Scot, last won for America in 1964.

U de Mai, the defending champion mare from France, was ordered scratched by the New York State Harness Racing Commission because of "questions raised as to the horse's fitness to race."

Driver Howard Beissinger took Speedy Crown to the lead in the first quarter-mile. The colt stayed there the rest of the way in 2:35 1-5 for the 1¼ miles in winning his sixth in a row.

Fresh Yankee lodged two challenges, but could not overtake Speedy Crown, although clearly the better over Flower Child, the second United States entry who finished third.

Speedy Crown went off the 6-5 favorite to 7-5 for Fresh Yankee, and earned a purse of $62,500. That increased his 1972 earnings to $176,002 and his career bankroll to $365,344 for his owners, the Antonacci brothers, Tom and Frank, of Plainview, N.Y.

American League

When you're hot, you're hot and when you're not, you're probably the Milwaukee Brewers.

The baseball Brewers were stuck in one of their cold spells Sunday—six losses in eight games including a 1-0 two-hitter at the hands of California's Rudy May in the first game of their doubleheader.

What's worse is that the second game was also 1-0 in California's favor as Milwaukee came to bat in the bottom of the eighth inning. The Brewers weren't cold—they were frozen.

Clearly, it was time for action and so Manager Del Crandall used his old pinch runner for a pinch runner move.

The double pinch runner strategy paid off—helped considerably by George Scott's two-run single—as the Brewers rallied for a 2-1 victory and a split of the doubleheader.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Oakland rapped New York 5-2, Detroit shut out Kansas City 2-0, Boston whipped Minnesota 6-1, Texas defeated Cleveland 3-2 in 12 innings and Baltimore downed Chicago 6-1 in the rain-abbreviated first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The nightcap was washed out.

Jim Colbert Holds On To Win Milwaukee Golf

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Jim Colbert said he played the best pressure golf of his life in posting his second victory in seven years on the pro tour, but the Greater Milwaukee Open nearly lasted one hole too long Sunday for the 31-year-old Kansan.

All-Stars Advance To San Antonio

Pampa's Babe Ruth all-stars beat Canyon twice Saturday night to win the District One Babe Ruth title and advance to the state tournament July 24 in San Antonio.

The first game was scoreless until the bottom of the last inning when Rick Leverich singled Mike Adair home to give Pampa the 1-0 victory. Leverich pitched extremely well on the mound to gain the win.

Pampa won the second game of the evening 5-1 with Roy Morris getting credit for the victory.

Good Week For Pampa Baseball Fans

Action begins tonight in a week filled with activity for Pampa baseball teams and fans.

Pampa's Little League all-star teams begin play this evening in two separate tournaments in their bids to advance to the district, state and perhaps even to the Little League World Series.

If both teams win the tournaments this week they will have to face each other at Dimmitt in the district tournament and only one can advance from there.

The National League stars go to Borger tonight and the American League team travels to Memphis.

The District One Babe Ruth 13 year-old tourney continues tonight and goes on through the rest of the week with the final game being played Saturday.

High Plains plays Pampa Red in the opener tonight at 6:30 in Optimist Park. In the second game, which is set to start at 8:30, Canyon meets Top-O-Texas Blue.

The 1972 city farm team tournament begins tonight at 6:00 with Pampa Wholesale playing Thompson Parts. At 8:00 U.C.T. takes on Ford's Body Shop.

Colbert was 14 under par for the meet and nursing a two-stroke lead when he bogeyed the 72nd hole. Then he watched under heart-stopping tension while charging George Johnson and steady Bud Allin, the final twosome, each barely missed birdies which would have forced a sudden-death playoff.

Colbert's final 69 on the par 71 Tripoli Golf Club course earned him $25,000 with a 13-under total of 271. Johnson, who had shared the second and third round leads with Colbert, finished a stroke behind along with Allin, Grier Jones and Chuck Courtney.

Courtney's 64 Sunday was the tournament's best single round, but it was Johnson, one of seven blacks on the tour, who electrified the crowd of 13,250 with a spectacular finishing kick.

Johnson, whose only pro victory was in the 1971 Azalea satellite meet, fell to seven-under with a double bogey on the third hole and bogeys on each of the next three.

But he started the back nine with a birdie, eagled No. 11, and birdied 12 and 13 to close to within two strokes.

Johnson missed the birdie he needed on No. 18 when his 12-foot putt hit the right of the cup and spun out. Allin, who had been two strokes down after three rounds, almost birdied 18 with a 20-foot chip shot that rolled over the hole.

Allard Wins Publinks

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Young Bob Allard is speculating on a career in professional golf. And well he might after winning a pressure-packed 18-hole playoff Sunday in the 47th annual National Public Links Golf Tournament.

Allard, a stocky 23-year-old blond, challenged the tight fairways and hard greens at Coffin Golf Course Sunday and came away with a one-over-par 71.

His opponent, Rick Schultz, a 22-year-old University of Nebraska golfer from Omaha, played well despite the muggy heat but slipped to a 74 as he parred 14 holes and bogeyed the other four.

Allard, from Portland, Ore., and a former Oregon State University player, also had four bogeys for the day. But he also carded three birdies including one on the par-four 15th hole that turned out to be the clincher.

On that hole, Allard chipped the ball dead on line with the pin from about 80 yards and holed out the putt from four feet. That put him two strokes ahead and took some steam out of Schultz.

The two players wound up the regulation 72 holes Saturday tied at 285, a 72-hole record for the Publinks.

Club To Meet

A film of 1971 Southwest Conference Football's most exciting plays and games will be the highlight of the July meeting of the Pampa Booster Club.

The club will meet tomorrow night at 8:00 in the film room of the football field house.

SHAVING STROKES

62—Getting the Breaks

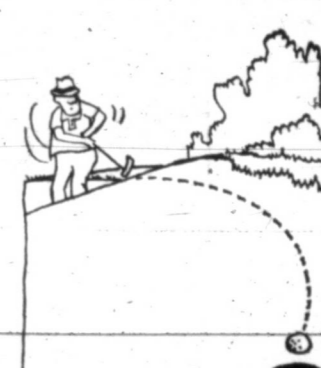

In sizing up a putt that breaks, consider that the speed of the green is going to affect the extent of the break.

A putt on a fast green breaks more quickly. A putt on a heavy green breaks more slowly.

You must aim accordingly.

Solution Might Fit In Vietnam

By RAY CROMLEY WASHINGTON (NEA)—The North-South Korea nonaggression agreement has implications for Vietnam.

First, note the similarities between Pyongyang and Hanoi. Each is dominated by a doctrinaire Communist regime.

Each has serious economic and manpower problems which could be eased only by closer cooperation with the South and with non-Communist neighbors.

It is not wise to stretch an analogy. Hanoi's rulers are their own men—and fighting a war of this intensity and bitterness this long tends to bind men into rigid patterns.

But the North-South Korean agreements bring to mind a quality for compromise in the attitude of Asian peoples I have known closely over the past years which in the long run bodes well for peace in that part of the world if the proper conditions can be set up.

The limited North-South Korea agreement itself took two decades of uneasy truce. But perhaps in this day time can be telescoped.

This reporter has found among many officials and people in Japan, Korea, Thailand, South Vietnam, both Chinas, Laos and Cambodia a depth of understanding of human qualities and an ability to accommodate with men of strongly different concepts when the time seemed propitious for working agreements.

In my last trip to Seoul, this reporter was repeatedly surprised at finding men in sensitive jobs involving national security in the South Korean government and military who had held high posts in the North Korean Communist government.

I think of one South Korean general officer with whom I talked at length who had in North Korea been one of the most influential men in thought and ideological control. He was later given the task of weeding out untrustworthy types in the higher echelons of the South Korean army.

From what this reporter could determine, this attitude toward former North Korean Communists held true among the most dedicated anti-Communists.

This human willingness to accept other Koreans may not lead to unification. But it certainly suggests the North-South nonaggression agreement can be made to hold up and can possibly lead to working arrangements in a wider number of fields.

This, even after taking into account the knowledge that one North Korean objective is certainly the withdrawal of all U.S. troops.

In personal as distinct from public talks in South Vietnam, this reporter has noted among men with responsible positions in the Thieu government a considerable empathy with the people of North Vietnam, with whom many are related by blood and marriage.

Don't expect any quick solution. And the time may not be in this decade. But this reporter believes that some time and some place the human adaptability of the Vietnamese peoples is such that, as in Korea, some working accommodation will be reached.

'DO ME A FAVOR... TRY FLAPPING YOUR WINGS THIS TIME?'

Paul Harvey News Depollution Proving To Be Good Business

By PAUL HARVEY Henry Ford says they can't do that. He says carmakers can't meet the government's rigid antipollution requirements by the deadline date.

But the Environmental Protection Agency says, "No delay." Clean up or shut down. They'll clean up. And though I don't know how, I'll wager the carmakers will discover, as other industries have, that a cleanup can be profitable.

The papermaker who has done most to reduce pollution from his pulp mill also leads all other papermakers in earnings-per-share growth.

It means a big capital investment to install the equipment necessary to recycle waste, but there are long-term profits to be harvested.

Orange juice people used to hire somebody to haul away all those peels. Now they press and dry that byproduct and the resultant protein-rich animal food is a new source of income.

Pharmaceutical companies used to flush waste into rivers.

H. L. Hunt Writes

SHYJACKING IS PIRACY Skyjacking is nothing more than modern-day air pirates, criminals endangering the lives of all air travelers.

The 747 Captain who defended his aircraft against an air pirate, and the courageous FBI agents who shot two other air pirates, all within the week, should be commended by all citizens.

Your Health

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D. Tobacco Provokes Emphysema

Dear Dr. Lamb—Recently I had pneumonia and an X ray revealed I had emphysema. I was told to quit smoking (easier said than done) and now I find if I quit smoking there isn't any guarantee it will arrest the emphysema.

To tell the truth, I'm not even sure what emphysema is or what happens to your lungs. Is this a serious disease or is it overdramatized? Could you tell me exactly what it is and what happens if it continues to get worse and how a person would know. Does it progress rapidly?

Dear Reader—Yes, emphysema is a very serious disease. To understand emphysema, you need to consider the lungs. The main windpipe, or trachea, divides into a right and left bronchus. These two main airways continue to branch into smaller airways until they terminate in numerous little blind sacs called alveoli.

This causes too much stale air to be kept in the small air sacs. Characteristically, the lungs of a person with emphysema are over-inflated, partially filled with stale air. Despite vigorous exhaling, an excess amount of old air remains in the lungs.

Cigarette smoking aggravates the obstruction at the bottle neck to the air sacs. Some individuals are essentially allergic to cigarette smoke, which makes this condition even worse for them.

How can you tell what's going on? Mostly by progressive breathlessness or increased evidence of shortness of breath with physical exertion.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual questions, but will answer questions of general interest in his column.

McGovern's Jewish Strategy By Robert S. Allen

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Sen. McGovern has a grandiose plan all ready and waiting to win over the extensively alienated Jewish vote in crucial population centers and swing states.

He will go to Israel to demonstrate his personal interest in preserving the Arab-Soviet-threatened security of the tiny country.

The scheme is a direct outgrowth of jarring experience in state primaries. Widespread disaffection among Jewish voters cost him heavily—notably in the key California and New York primaries.

Instead of carrying California by a resounding 20-point margin as was widely predicted, McGovern edged Sen. Humphrey only 44 to 39 per cent. Similarly, in New York, three ultra-left Congressional candidates strongly backed by McGovern were decisively defeated in Jewish districts.

Timing of McGovern's vote-winning junket to Israel is still undecided. In talks here with trusted supporters, the South Dakotan indicated it would "sometime before Labor Day"—when the momentous fall election battle will formally get underway.

McGovern also disclosed he proposes to ask two Senate colleagues to accompany him—both leading Israeli champions.

McGovern's obvious purpose is to enhance his reputation in Israel and gild his unfavorable image there. These contemplated Senatorial adjuncts are:

(1) Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, former governor of Connecticut, HEW Secretary in the Kennedy cabinet, early McGovern booster and vigorous supporter of arms aid for Israel. (2) Sen. Henry Jackson, Democratic National Chairman under President Kennedy, foremost Congressional sponsor of legislation in behalf of Israel, a Presidential rival of McGovern—and outspokenly critical of him.

Jackson has bluntly characterized McGovern as a "dangerous extremist," and caustically "sailed his views and voting record on Israel.

Sen. Ribicoff is ready and willing to accompany McGovern to Israel.

Sen. Jackson emphatically is not. Quite the contrary. He hasn't the slightest intention of joining McGovern in going to Israel—or anywhere else.

Some insiders credit Ribicoff with being one of the originators of the Israeli junket idea. Another is Frank Mankiewicz, long-time Kennedyite and right-hand McGovern adviser. Both are said to be "very high" on this electioneering gimmick.

Jackson has not yet been approached on it. Indirectly, he has heard about it. Privately, he is leaving no doubt of his categorical aversion.

For one thing, Jackson has no desire or intention to help McGovern gloss over his equivocal record on Israel. Jackson feels very strongly about that, and has said so forcefully and publicly.

Further, Jackson has his own plans to visit Israel—at the invitation of the Israeli government.

The Washington state Senator has been there several times in connection with his work as ranking member of the Armed Service Committee. The contemplated trip will be to study Israeli defense problems.

Why He's Hostile Sen. Jackson, replying to a McGovernite's question as to the basis of his strong disapproval of the South Dakotan, summarized it as follows:

"In my view, McGovern has failed to grasp the essence of the crisis in the Middle East which I believe to be massive Soviet involvement in the radical Arab states. Sen. McGovern has stated that, in his view, the... feeling of the Palestinians that they had unjustly lost their homes and property is perhaps the most important source of tension and conflict in the Middle East. I disagree profoundly with this view.

"Finally, I am deeply concerned at Sen. McGovern's questionable view that Israel can survive if we in America turn our back on our European allies, slash our naval forces in the Mediterranean and elsewhere, and engage in unilateral defense cuts on a massive scale. There is no doubt in my mind, as I tried to make clear in my report to the Senate in December, 1970, after discussions in Israel with top Israeli political and military leaders, that the policy of national weakness advocated by Sen. McGovern would place our friends and allies, Israel included, in grave danger.

"Sen. McGovern has recently shifted his public position on these issues. But nowhere can I find, even now, any indication that he understands the importance of a strong America if Israel is to survive the threat to her existence that emanates directly from Moscow and from the massive Soviet military involvement in the Middle East.

"As his vote against the defense procurement act indicates, at a moment when Israel was in great danger, Sen. McGovern was not there."

In the fall of 1971, McGovern made a mysterious junket abroad—a publicity stunt pure and simple to give his then-stagnant Presidential campaign a desperately needed shot in the arm.

The trip was undertaken after the publication of polls showing the ultra-dove and New Leftist trailing at the bottom of the list of Presidential hopefuls.

McGovern's unannounced aim was to go to Peking and Hanoi. He didn't make either.

The furthest he got was Saigon, where he talked to a few officials, none of them important. He also met with notoriously dovish newsmen and other Vietcong partisans.

The junket was financed by a New Left multi-millionaire and Long-time McGovern supporter—Max Palevsky, Los Angeles, head of Scientific Data Systems.

Insiders intimated Palevsky put up $10,000 for the trip. Previously he had helped McGovern pay $1000,000 in debts incurred in his last-minute Presidential campaign following the slaying of Sen. Robert Kennedy. In McGovern's 1971-72 drive for the Presidential nomination, Palevsky contributed more than $300,000.

Among insiders he is rated as the single biggest donor to the South Dakota radical.

Two Koreas Mellowing

The decision of the two Koreas to start talking with each other after two decades of shouting may have taken the world by surprise, but it did not come totally without warning.

The two regimes already had made gingerly public contact through Red Cross representatives, a very safe and politically noncommittal first step. Those in power in Seoul and Pyongyang may have known there was something more to those civil but stiff initial meetings last year on the Panmunjon neutral ground, but any outside observer who had taken this as the shape of something else to come so rapidly would likely have lost his pundit accreditation on grounds of foolish optimism.

Numerous developments, not all of a Korean nature, produced the changed atmosphere which makes rapprochement possible. President Nixon's summit diplomacy has initiated dramatic changes in the great power relationships which set the tone, and usually determine the intensity in the case of client states such as the Koreans, for the confrontations of smaller countries.

Korea has been largely on the sidelines during the years of the Vietnam conflict and assorted other flash crises around the globe, beneficiary of a benign neglect which has given the Koreans a somewhat freer hand in working out their own future than is the case with most such small states on the East-West ideological front line.

Both North and South Korea have made impressive recoveries from the war that devastated both. Both are able to talk about reunification from positions of considerable internal strength, an equality which removes an element of strain from negotiations.

Events may have created the atmosphere for contact, but in the end it was men who made it possible—men in Seoul and Pyongyang who decided the time had come to begin, at least, to talk to each other.

Something similarly has been developing, although much more hesitantly and less dramatically, in another divided legacy of World War II—Germany. And then there is Vietnam...

Not much less surprising than the decision of the Koreans to talk reunification would have been, at one time, the welcome it has received in Washington. Such do-it-themselves diplomacy, which is openly being viewed as presaging a scaling down if not phasing out of significant U.S. involvement, would have been viewed as an alarming weakening of the anti-Communist front not so very long ago.

Even today, Korean developments are likely to appear more ominous than optimistic to some who discern little basic change in the world situation during the past two decades. Despite summitry, mellowing regimes and travel and trade relaxations, the Communist enemy is as intransigent as ever.

Nevertheless, times change, even in power politics. President Park's Seoul regime, acting largely on its own, would appear to be very much in step with President Nixon's diplomacy of reconciliation in the global scale. The reunification gesture, whatever its eventual result, at least has the virtue of allied consistency.

News And Non-News

Good news, to reverse an old saying, is no news. That's not true, no matter which way you turn it. The news media are constantly under attack from those who protest that the news is always about crime and war and riots and disasters of every sort, never about "good" things. Those who believe this contention somehow overlook front page stories about moon landings, the steady progress against cancer and other diseases—human achievements of infinite variety.

The trouble with this particular breed of critic is that he doesn't know what news is. A spectacular example is the fellow who decided to publish a "newspaper" with nothing in it but "good news." The very first edition, which came out some 16 months ago, enlightened its readership thus in a front page story: "In the United States last year, 196,459,483 citizens did not commit a criminal offense, 4,896,720 college students did not participate in a riot or student demonstration and 201,489,710 citizens did not use illegal drugs."

It saddens us but doesn't surprise us to be reminded that few people want to read about what others don't do. The "Good News Paper" folded recently—Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

Quick Quiz

Q—Who was the last U.S. president to have served in the American Revolution? A—Andrew Jackson, who joined the mounted militia of South Carolina at the age of 13.

"He wants to get out of the national park. Too many people!"

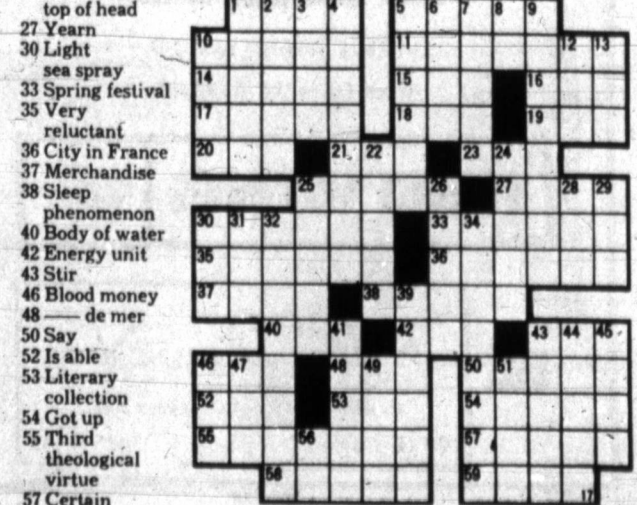

Wit And Whimsy

If you wish to be boughed-down with problems, get yourself out on a limb. There's many a slip 'twixt the lip and the cup—ask any golfer.

Crop Prospects Good...Cattle Slaughter Increases...Hog Numbers Show Decline... Tangelos and Lemons?

Statewide, crop production prospects range from good to excellent, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service concludes.

Grain sorghum harvest is just beginning with prospects for good yields, in most sections of the state. Cotton generally is making good progress with insect infestations increasing in the Blacklands and Low Plains. Corn is making good to excellent progress with an excellent outlook on the High Plains. Peanuts are showing good progress in most areas. Soybeans are making good to excellent growth.

Vegetable and fruit prospects are also good. In North Texas, watermelons and cantaloupes continue to make good growth; in East Texas, tomato harvest continues. Peach harvest continues with a wide range of yield and quality reported. Pecan trees show good crop potentials in most areas. Citrus trees are in good to excellent condition.

HOGS slaughtered in May totaled 160,000, which is 3,000 above last month but 15,000 less than in May of 1971. Sheep and lambs killed totaled 118,000, or 5,000 less than last year.

Hogs on all Texas farms as of June 1 totaled 1,132,000 head, down 24 per cent from 1971. Hogs kept for breeding purposes numbered 175,000 which is 24 per cent less than last year. Hog farmers intend to farrow 120,000 sows in Texas now through November, which is 19 per cent less than farrowings for this period last year.

Nationwide, the farrowings now through November will be down four per cent from 1971.

TANGELOS and lemons in Texas?
You bet, and there's also avocados and apricots as well as plums, pears, apples, figs, blackberries, dewberries and tangerines.

A tangelo, incidentally, is a cross between a tangerine and grapefruit. The Citrus Tree Census of the Texas Citrus Mutual estimates there are about 60,000 tangerine trees in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Jackson's Statue
The first equestrian bronze statue in this country honored Andrew Jackson. The statue stands in Lafayette Park, Washington, D.C., and replicas are in Nashville, Tenn., and New Orleans, La.

Dispute Settled
The century-old Chamizal border dispute between Mexico and the United States arose out of the shifting of the Rio Grande River in 1852. The portion of El Paso lying south of the river was returned to Mexico by formal ceremonies on Oct. 28, 1967. El Chamizal is Spanish for thicket.

Kidney Foundation Launches Campaign To Collect Stamps

An area-wide campaign to collect stamps to purchase artificial kidney machines was launched recently by the Kidney Foundation of the Texas Panhandle at a monthly meeting at St. Anthony Hospital in Amarillo.

The Foundation hopes to collect enough S&H green stamps to provide several machines to be available at no cost to area victims of kidney disease.

John Rogers, president, said approximately 1500 books of stamps will be necessary to purchase each machine. Value of each machine is about $2,965.

Stamps can be mailed to the Kidney Foundation at P.O. Box 9234 in Amarillo, according to Mrs. Roy Cutrell, campaign chairman of Amarillo.

She also said full or partly-filled books or loose stamps could be contributed.

Rogers said 2500 persons died in 1971 in Texas because of lack of funds to undergo dialysis on artificial kidney machines or for life-giving transplants.

The Foundation at the same meeting also adopted the Organ Donor Program project. A nation-wide program is being conducted to get the public interested in bequeathing vital organs such as the kidney for use after death.

Meetings of the Foundation are held at 8 p.m. on the third Tuesday of each month at the St. Anthony Hospital Auditorium and are open to the public.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M.D.

Notice how Danny served as his family's psychiatrist at the age of only 2½ years! For kiddies can "sense" the silent tension and certainly detect the verbal feuding between their parents. But children likewise quarrel every day, so they grow calloused to it!

CASE U-537—Danny Landsness, aged 2½, is the only child of Karolyn and Conrad.

His parents realized they often got irritable and might scold Danny unduly.

So they made a rule that when Daddy came home from the office, tired and short-tempered, then Mamma would play with Danny and look after him.

But if Mamma were tense and irate from her heavy day's work, then Daddy would take over.

But one night both Daddy and Mamma were unduly irritable.

So Danny picked up his little 3-legged stool, took it over to Mamma's chair and placed it at her feet.

Then he sat down and looked up at her, wondering.

"What's your problem?" he asked her.

Well, both Mamma and Daddy had to smile at his assumption of the psychiatrist's role, so the tension was instantly broken.

They both played with Danny till time to tuck him into bed.

But I mention this case to show that kiddies very early can surmise tension in their adult environment.

While I was directing our Psychology Laboratory at Northwestern University, I was a guest of one of Chicago's leading surgeons.

Since he had spent a heavy day at Wesley Hospital, performing four major operations, he was tired.

So he "barked" at his 12-year-old son a couple of times.

One of his son's school pals was visiting in the home at that moment.

"What's wrong with your Dad?" he furtively inquired.

"Oh, he's just in one of his moods," replied the son.

"Tomorrow he'll be all right again!"

A Chicago Domestic Relations Court Judge once asked me what I thought about delaying a divorce where both parents were feuding and quarreling.

"Dr. Crane," he inquired, "does it do more harm to the youngsters to let them live in such a home than to grant a divorce to the parents?"

So I agreed to make a survey of a number of children in homes where divorce was imminent.

And almost without exception the children voted against having their parents separate!

When I asked for their specific reasons, they said they didn't want their classmates to know that "Daddy doesn't live with us any more."

Besides, children, even in the best homes, will feud and quarrel and even resort to fist fights almost every day.

Youngsters thus are accustomed to such conflicts among themselves so they apparently become acclimated to such feuding between their parents.

Some of these kiddies whose parents had already obtained a divorce, then told me:

To reduce parental quarrels, send for my "Tests for Parents," enclosing a long, stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

Many PTA and PTO groups use them for a monthly discussion clinic!

(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Mott, Indiana 47958, enclosing a long, stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

PHS Student Given Award For Yearbook

Bobby Stucker, student at Pampa High School, received one of the awards given to yearbook staff members at Texas Tech University's summer high school newspaper-yearbook-photography workshop last week.

Stucker was a member of the "Sien Nominee" yearbook staff which published a yearbook for workshop participants.

Perryton High School received an award for best individual page layout in the yearbook division.

Over 300 students attended the week-long workshop which involved both students and teachers in learning to do a better job on high school publications.

Yearbook division participants developed plans for their home school annuals. Newspaper workshopers were divided into five groups which published a total of 10 newspapers during the week. Photography participants received intensive training in picture shooting and darkroom procedure.

Professor Ralph Sellmeyer directed the 15th annual workshop, sponsored by Tech's Department of Mass Communications in cooperation with the Southwestern Council of Student Publications.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, July 17, the 199th day of 1972. There are 167 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1936, the Spanish Civil War began, as Gen. Francisco Franco led army forces in a revolt against Spain's government.

On this date:

In 1821, Spain ceded Florida to the United States.

In 1898, during the Spanish-American War, Spanish forces surrendered to the Americans at Santiago, Cuba.

In 1917, during World War I, the British royal family changed its name from Hanover to Windsor.

In 1940, President Franklin Roosevelt was nominated by the Democratic convention for a third term.

In 1955, Arco, Idaho, became the first community in the world to receive all its light and power from atomic energy.

In 1965, U.S. B52 bombers from Guam made their first strikes in Vietnam in support of allied ground operations.

Editor's Note: During Cynthia Lowry's vacation, the column is being written by invited guests, each of whom was asked to respond to specific questions about some area of television. Here is the report of Rock Hudson, star of "McMillan and Wife," a third of NBC's successful "Mystery Movie" troika. Hudson, a major motion picture star for 18 years, is one of the few who has been able to make the transition from one dramatic medium to another with happy results all around.

By ROCK HUDSON

Q. In terms of public reaction and treatment, is being a television star different from being a movie star?

Television And Radio

A. I can't say that "public reaction and treatment" is any different, but in television, there's certainly a lot more of it. It is simply a case of sheer numbers. As many people may watch "McMillan and Wife" in a single evening as watch a movie I'm in during its entire run. So reaction has been bigger in television.

As for how the public treats me, I've been pretty fortunate in that some of the public has always liked some of the pictures I've been in. I really don't think of them as "fans" because that implies some kind of loyalty to me even if I do a bad picture. I don't believe the public is like that. They like a movie, they don't like a movie or they just tolerate it. They don't say it's great because Rock Hudson is in it.

Q. What does an actor, accustomed to motion pictures, find different about working in television? What are the advantages and disadvantages?

A. At first I was convinced there was no difference, with the exception of time. What takes 10 weeks for a motion picture, television does in 10 days.

As the season progressed I found there was more of a difference than that — a tremendous difference, technically and artistically.

Chicago got its name from the Indians who called the lake-side area Checagou because of its strong-smelling wild onions.
