TRUCKERS WIN WAR IN VALLEY

NO. 1 HERO OF SPAIN'S CIVIL WAR

The toughest caballero in all Barcelona was what they call Corporal Celestino Garcia, left. Just a single hand-grenade was all the Loyalist non-com needed to crush an attack by 13 Italian tanks. His missile smashed the running-gear of the tank leading the assault. Two behind fell on it, wrecked, and the other ten fled. He captured four Italian officers, two of whom pose grimly above.

Mediation Of Spanish Civil War Sought

Loyalist Soldiers And Premier Flee Across Frontier

PERPIGNAN, France, Feb. 6. (AP)—Premier Juan Negrin of the Spanish government called a conference today with British and French envoys to Spain, presumably to make up mediation of the Spanish civil war.

Negrin's foreign minister, Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, joined in arranging for the late afternoon meeting while Negrin's defeated Catalan army poured into France.

With Catalonia abandoned to the armies of Insurreccion Generalissima Franco, the Spanish government leaders were believed by diplomats to be discussing possibility of ending the civil war by surrender of their remaining one-fourth of Spain.

It was presumed Negrin and Alvarez Del Vayo would draw up terms on which surrender of the central and southeastern "island" territory might be carried out.

LONDON, Feb. 6. (AP)—Spanish insurgent authorities were reliable reported today to have informed the British government their peace terms were "unconditional surrender" of the Spanish government.

LONDON, Feb. 6. (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today "any threat to vital interests of France, from whatever quarter it came, must evoke the immediate cooperation of this country."

His declaration followed a statement yesterday by Virginia Gayda, Italian Fascist newspaper spokesman, in Rome's La Voce D'Italia, that Italian troops would stay in Spain until the Generalissimo Francisco Franco's political, as well as military victory, was assured.

The prime minister said the British government was "in complete accord" with the statement Jan. 26 by French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet that "all forces of Great Britain would be at the disposal of France just as all forces of France would be at the disposal of Great Britain" in case of a war in which the two countries were involved.

His statement was considered particularly significant in view of Fascist agitation for concessions in the Mediterranean and Africa.

The meeting coincided with a report from Madrid that General Jose Miaja, supreme commander in central and southeastern Spain, had conferred at length with all

AFL Blocks Path Of CIO Workmen

WESTWOOD, Calif., Feb. 6. (AP)—AFL unionists blocked entrance of CIO workers to their jobs in a big lumber plant here today while National Guard and police officers stood by in a blinding snow storm.

No show of violence was made and 500 National Guardsmen in six Sacramento Valley towns remained under orders for possible mobilization.

The entrance to the Red River Lumber company was blocked by about 200 members of the AFL lumber and sawmill workers, carpenters and joiners of America, local 2836.

Gathered across the street of this Sierra Nevada lumber town were about 150 CIO unionists and members of their women's auxiliary. The CIO group disbanded after entrance was denied a committee, which then protested to company officials.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—Rep. Garrett, Democrat, Texas, set out today to contact personally every member of congress and familiarize those not already informed on the situation of the "discriminatory freight rates" imposed in the Southwest, particularly in West Texas.

He procured from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce pamphlets entitled "Discriminatory Freight Rates in West Texas and the Remedy" and proposed to distribute them among his colleagues.

WEST VIRGINIA TOWN UNDER WATER

Smoke stacks of this factory in Huntington, W. Va., tower above the flood waters of the Ohio river that swept over the city.

30,000 Flee From Floods

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6. (AP)—Emergency relief agencies set up temporary shelter today for an estimated 30,000 routed from their homes by flood waters as forecasters studied possible effect of predicted rainfalls over the watershed.

The threat of serious flood disaster abated today as the Ohio river flattened out from Pittsburgh to Portsmouth, Ohio, already lapping at lowland homes from Point Pleasant, W. Va., to Carrollton, Ky., downriver residents prepared for the oncoming high tide.

On the basis of a 58 to 59-foot crest from Huntington, W. Va., to Carrollton, weather forecasters at Louisville estimated the crest there at 34 to 35 feet, as against a 28-foot flood level. Serious damage does not result, however unless the water goes beyond the 35-foot stage.

Rain was forecast for tonight in West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana. U. S. Meteorologist W. C. Devereaux of Cincinnati said it would not likely change the downward trend of the Ohio and engineers at Huntington commented a "cloudburst" would be necessary to halt the fall.

In West Virginia and Kentucky, where mountain streams covered house-tops before starting to recede, the Red Cross directed its greatest rehabilitation task. Mrs. Ella Layne Brown, executive director of the Red Cross here, said agencies would care for 30,000 homeless in Kentucky, Tennessee, W. Virginia and Ohio. Six deaths were reported as a result of the high water.

API To Meet Next On February 14

Meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will be Tuesday night, Feb. 14, instead of tomorrow night.

Principal speaker will be Walter Voghtlander of Kansas City, engineer for the Union Wire Rope Company. He will also show a picture of the manufacturing of wire rope and its many uses.

The public is invited to hear the talk and see the picture.

Congressman Begins War On Freight Rates

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—Rep. Garrett, Democrat, Texas, set out today to contact personally every member of congress and familiarize those not already informed on the situation of the "discriminatory freight rates" imposed in the Southwest, particularly in West Texas.

He procured from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce pamphlets entitled "Discriminatory Freight Rates in West Texas and the Remedy" and proposed to distribute them among his colleagues.

Garrett is a member of a bloc of Southern and Western members who adopted a resolution asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate railroad freight rate differentials.

The pamphlet he obtained proposed an amendment to the interstate commerce act which would "definitely instruct the interstate commission to revise the intra-territorial freight rate structure so as to bring the rates closer together in both level and scheme, said level not to exceed a maximum of 5 per cent as between any of the regions of the country, and to revise and blend the

Leo Hopes Reprieve Will Start War On Capital Punishment

AUSTIN, Feb. 6. (AP)—Texas had an expanded answer today to why Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel in reprieving the execution of a negro said he did so in order that the convicted would suffer the "dreadful punishment" of starving death in the face for 30 days and nights.

In his Sabbath radio program the chief executive said the statement was calculated to arouse public interest in the death penalty to which he is unalterably opposed.

The answer came while the legislature which has been both critical of and receptive to some of the governor's policies prepared for another week's activities which might see new tests of legislative-executive relationships.

Pending in the Senate were O'Daniel's appointments of Joe Kunschik of Austin as labor commissioner and Trust Smith of Tahoka as life insurance commissioner. Also headed for possible action in the Senate was a House-approved bill allowing the old age pension administration to borrow an additional $900,000 so pension grants would have to be sliced 28 per cent next month.

AUSTIN, Feb. 6. (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, defending his storm provoking action in delaying execution of a condemned negro pleaded with his constituents today to help abolish capital punishment.

He said he deliberately had sought to arouse public opinion to the horror of taking a human life by reprieving Winzell Williams, negro convicted of slaying his employer, because "few forms of punishment could be more harsh than to see certain death staring you in the face day and night for 30 days."

In a Sabbath broadcast he said: "I gave the negro boy all the life I could, 30 days to live, and not being of political mind, I did not care to resort to the usual polished di-

Best Pictures And Actors Being Selected

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 6. (AP)—Twelve thousand film folk, with the world as a kibitzer, began choosing today the best picture and best actors of 1938.

The list of nominees, compiled by Screen Guilds, was released last night. The list disclosed an unswerving in rival British movie-making that was something of a shock.

Of the ten pictures named as possibly the best last year, two—"The Citadel" and "Pygmalion"—were British products, and a third, "Grand Illusion," was French.

Two Brits—Robert Donat and Leslie Howard—and Gallic Charles Boyer shared nominations as the five best male players of 1938 with homegrown Spencer Tracy and James Cagney.

And the literary pride of the British Isles, bewhiskered George Bernard Shaw, was listed as doing one of the five best jobs of screen writing during the year.

Lawyers Pick Negro's Jury

Selection of a jury in the second murder case to be heard in this term of 31st district court was started at 11:45 o'clock this morning, when L. J. Ward was chosen as the first juror in the case of the State of Texas vs. Irvin Maxey.

Maxey, young Pampa negro, was indicted on Jan. 5 by a 31st district court grand jury for murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of Odessa Lintzy, negroess, at a negro dance at the Southern club, at midnight, Dec. 11.

Examination of jurors for the Maxey trial followed the same procedure as was used last Monday, when the McGraw case was called. Jurors listed on a special venire were called into court one by one, in the order in which their names were read when court opened at 10 o'clock this morning.

There were 90 jurors reporting out of 97 listed.

Up to noon the issue of capital punishment had not been raised in the questions asked prospective jurors.

In the case of the State of Texas vs. Clyde McGraw, heard last week, the death penalty had been asked. A score of witnesses have been called by both the defense and the state. Willis and Via represent the defendant, while the state is represented by District Attorney Clifford Braly and John F. Sturgeon, special prosecutor.

Witnesses in court this morning were excused until 3 o'clock this afternoon by District Judge W. R. Ewing. Majority of the witnesses are negroes. There were 77 negroes in the district courtroom when court opened.

Court officials present were the district judge, District Clerk Miriam Wilson, A. S. Cambern, bailiff, and George A. Pope, chief deputy sheriff.

Tear Gas Barrage Breaks Prison Riot

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 6. (AP)—A barrage of tear gas and several blasts from shotguns were reported by Warden J. E. Lindsey today to have broken a riot in Kilby prison. Approximately 150 of Kilby's 1,600 prisoners staged the riot in protest against rations. They were armed with knives taken from a vegetable kitchen.

All available state patrolmen rushed to the prison and Montgomery city police joined them, with riot and machine guns. The patrolmen put down the tear gas barrage when the prisoners failed to heed Lindsey's order to return to their cell blocks.

The warden said the men fled to their cells as the gas spread. They had taken a stand before the prison kitchen refusing to let any other prisoners, wardens or guards enter.

Agreement To Move Citrus Trucks Signed

Men To Post Bonds With J. P.'s Who Agree To Deal

FALFURRIAS, Feb. 6. (AP)—Approximately half of the 100 citrus-laden trucks delayed here by weight inspections started moving northward early this morning after truckers were notified they could proceed on a 16-hour permit and posted bonds.

A number of the truckers said they would remain here awaiting instructions from their employers. They appeared to be in a good humor, but anxious to proceed with their perishable loads.

The truckers were told inspection stations had been set up at Pampa, 10 miles north of here; at Alice, and at Kingsville on a cut-off road to Corpus Christi. For several days inspectors have been weighing trucks suspected of being operated with loads in excess of the law-set limit of 7,000 pounds.

ALICE, Feb. 6. (AP)—An agreement was reached here at 8 a. m. today between representatives of truckers and peace officers, under which officials hoped movement of citrus fruit from the lower Rio Grande valley of Texas would be expedited.

It was reported here that a hundred trucks, halted at Falfurrias, 37 miles south of Alice, would begin moving slowly northward past the state highway patrol inspection station. Truckers whose loads exceeded the legal limit of 7,000 pounds would be allowed to plead not guilty and post appearance bonds of $16, then proceed with their journey.

Officials believed this would temporarily relieve the jam under which the drivers last night threatened to run past the weighing station in defiance of inspection. At midnight a committee of valley shippers headed by O. H. Stugard of San Juan persuaded the truckers to wait until they conferred with officials here.

Each Agreement

Stugard, J. J. Biffle and T. E. Montgomery met with Justice of the Peace C. W. Strubling and Justice of the Peace J. W. Longley throughout the night, and this morning notified the truck drivers they would be allowed to proceed if they posted appearance bonds. They emphasized the agreement was for the

Confirmation Of Roberts Fails

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—The Senate rejected today President Roosevelt's nomination of Floyd H. Roberts to be a Virginia federal judge. Senators Glass and Byrd, Virginia Democrats, had objected to the appointment.

The Senate Judiciary committee had disapproved the nomination by a vote of 15 to 3.

Glass and Byrd testified before the committee that the nomination was "personally offensive" to them.

Senate Approves Alford Nomination

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today approved today the nomination of former Governor James V. Alford of Texas to be federal judge in the southern Texas district.

Alford's nomination had been changed by Representative Dies (D-Tex.) who contended the nomination was not a resident of the district. The nomination was approved without dissent. It now goes to the Senate for final action.

I Saw . . .

The high school assembly this morning getting a big bang out of a number of the A Capella choir, in which James Evans sang a bass solo about the old apple tree in the orchard. To those persons who have made inquiries, the football sweaters will be issued at the assembly March 1.

OUT OF JAIL INTO JOB

A Falls City, Nebraska "transient" was jailed after a stabbing affray and immediately began to make himself useful by caring for the Court House lawn (under guard, of course, and gratis). It wasn't long until the officials were picking up pride to the perfectly kept grounds. So when the prisoner had finished his term he was put on the County payroll and continued in the capacity of gardener. That's one way of getting yourself a job—just get arrested!

San Antonio's Mayor Wins Separate Trial

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 6. (AP)—District Judge R. D. Wright of Laredo today granted a severance in the trial of Mayor C. K. Quinn of San Antonio and L. P. Bishop and R. Neill Campbell, city employees, on charge of misapplication of public funds.

Mayor Quinn's case was called first and attorneys for the stocky, gray-haired chief executive of the city promptly filed a 26-page motion to quash the indictment.

The attorneys claimed Mayor Quinn was "not legally charged with any crime" in the indictment which alleged misapplication of $3,487 during the July Democratic primary. The indictment charged 400 political workers were paid the money from a special payroll, approved by the city.

At the time the indictment was returned, Mayor Quinn issued a statement charging the true bill was "a vile political frameup, instigated by former Congressman Maury Maverick because I fought him and defeated him." Maverick was defeated for re-election by Paul J. Kilgaly, a brother of San Antonio's chief of police Owen W. Kilgaly.

As the attorneys argued the motion to dismiss the indictment today, a special section of the courtroom was held by a group of union peacemakers, who were loyal to the plain spoken Maverick in his unsuccessful campaign last summer.

The indictment against the mayor and the two city employees, Campbell, the city timekeeper, and Bishop, personnel director of the municipal health department, specifically charged the 400 persons, described as precinct workers, received sums of money ranging from $40 down to $4.

Security Proposal Opposed By Baptists

FORT WORTH, Feb. 6. (AP)—A proposed amendment including salaried church officials and employees under benefits of the Social Security Act, was described today by Dr. L. R. Scarborough, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, as "a threat to the bill of rights and Baptist consciences."

Dr. Scarborough, expressing opposition to the amendment, said the proposal in a prepared statement released yesterday, said adoption of the amendment would violate the time-honored doctrine of separation of church and state, making churches and church officers subject to direct taxation for religious purposes.

"A very serious situation is developing in Washington," Dr. Scarborough declared. "It ought to arouse the strongest protest on the part of people everywhere."

The Baptist leader foresaw ultimate destruction of relief and annuity organizations maintained by churches if the amendment is adopted. He said these organizations now have a capitalization of about $200,000,000.

Officers Busy With 7 Week-End Arrests

City police officers had their busiest week-end in several months when they made seven arrests Saturday night and Sunday morning. Recently the officers have been concentrating on traffic violations because of the quiet spell.

Charges of intoxication, vagrancy and affray were filed against the persons arrested. Two of these arrests were women who were charged with affray following a fight in a night spot.

Charlie Thomas To Attend Texas A. & M. Meeting

C. L. Thomas of Pampa will be among Texas farmers who will meet Thursday and Friday at Texas Agricultural & Mechanical college to discuss the problems of the moment with the agricultural committee of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Two weeks ago Mr. Thomas was in Washington, attending a Department of Agriculture conference. Indications that one of the most representative groups ever to assemble for discussion of mutual problems on Texas soil will respond to the invitation of Dr. T. O. Walton, president of A. & M. college, are contained in the list of acceptances pouring in daily.

Texas manufacturers also will have a strong representation at the conference. More than a dozen already have accepted invitations.

Chairman George Slaughter of Wharton and his 12-man committee of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Association will attend to a man.

Capt. E. H. Boyd, Devers, and C. H. Matthews, Eagle Lake, will head the rice growers' representatives.

Cochs Critically Ill

AUSTIN, Feb. 6. (AP)—Condition of Clyde Littlefield, track coach and former head football coach at the University of Texas, today was reported as critical by the hospital where he is suffering double pneumonia.

I Heard . . .

The Golden Gloves editor remarking that fans had better get their reserve seat tickets right away because they are going even faster than last year when there was a sell-out all three nights. The tournament is Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights.

Little Harvester Places First At Canyon Meet Saturday

Kernels

Six man football will be the main attraction this spring when the Harvesters go into their hard work of punting, blocking and tackling.

Kenneth Carman, play director, has presented excellent plays and skits this year. Among those to come is the Junior play, "What Happened to Jones."

Since Mr. Kelly's review of etiquette in one of last semester's assembly programs, many have been noticed observing the rules more diligently.

Many students are preparing for the interscholastic meeting in the many fields of field. The debate club will choose its topics tomorrow and extemporaneous and declamation groups are working hard.

A total of 96 students made the honor roll with their semester averages. Thirty-four of these were seniors. Why not make it a three-way tie with the juniors and sophomores doing equally well?

Some people have no respect for age—unless it's bottled. When in this state, it is stronger than a person who uses it to prove to the growing boy and grown man; it is bad for health and wealth. It is no respecter of persons. There is only one way to "lick" liquor. The person who doesn't use it in any form is the victor, not the loser.

A grumpy is someone who is always complaining about something; teachers not liking them, exam not fair, or just most anything about—No one likes this kind of a person and no one wants to talk to them except another like them—Don't be a grumpy.

A student left his notebook in his locker the other evening. When he returned for it the next day to take it to class with him, he found the sheet of paper had been removed. It is hard to realize that in our student body there are individuals so unmindful of the rights of others that they watch every opportunity to help themselves to the property of others.

Typewriters are precisioned, expensive machines which cost over $100 each; the repair bills also cost a large sum. Each time a Senior High school typewriter is repaired, money is taken from the school fund. Wouldn't it be wise to take better care of typewriters and save the money for other equipment that will benefit students?

Why won't P. H. S. students use their library and study periods? There is a continuous rumble about the long assignments made by instructors. If the library and study hall were used advantageously by students, assignments wouldn't seem nearly so long.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Shewmaker on the birth of their first born child, a girl. Her name is Martha Jane and she was born Tuesday afternoon in the Pampa-Jarratt hospital. She weighed 7 pounds and 15 ounces.

Close and Edelen Champions in Ping Pong Tournament

The school champions challenge any team, and if they lose five straight games, they will relinquish their title to the better team.

Rippel Elected Junior Rotarian

To succeed Jack Hesse as Junior Rotarian the students of Pampa High school elected Karl Rippel, senior. "I was surprised when I was elected but I am well pleased," stated Karl.

He attended his first meeting last Wednesday. Afterwards he remarked, "I had a swell time and am looking forward to many more."

In order to be elected Junior Rotarian a person must be selected by the faculty or student council and nominated before the club. If the nomination is accepted by the club, the candidate is before the group for a week during which time any objections which the members might have must be given in written form to the president of the club. If he is elected he becomes a junior member of the club for one month.

Members of the school faculty who are on the roster of the club are Tom Herd, assistant principal; Odus Mitchell, coach; D. F. Osborne, principal; and Ernest W. Cobe, Junior High school principal.

Karl Rippel, president of the school, according to Mr. Herd, is an office assistant and was a Harvester football player last fall.

Savage, Martin Go To Houston Music Clinic Last Week

Winston Savage, band director, and Miss Helen Martin, music supervisor, attended a Texas Music Educators' clinic in Houston last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Miss Savage is president of this region and Miss Martin is chairman of the vocal department of the region.

At the convention two bands, an orchestra and a chorus, each containing 100 students, played, and sang. Some of the best band directors in the United States directed the Lands and orchestra and Noble Cain, director of the Chicago A Cappella choir and a composer of a number of songs, directed the choral affiliation.

Attendance in a Cappella choir for Pampa High school is being sought. In order to get affiliation the group must keep a notebook and take written exams but Miss Martin stated that she thought a scrapbook, together with the method of grading now used, would be accepted.

Members of the B. M. Baker choir last week were visitors of the choir last Monday afternoon. No program was presented, because the glee club just asked to hear practice.

A girls sextet of Helen Harris, Cissel Jones, Maribelle Hazard, Vera Sackett, Betty Jean Timman and Anra Belle Lard sang for the High School P-T A. last Thursday night.

A quartet has been invited to sing at the Women Missionary meeting at the home of Mrs. John B. Hesse, this afternoon.

Who's Who In Senior Class

The spirit of a modern, young "Miss America" may well be found in Dorothy Jane Day, senior. The age-old adage of "pretty but dumb" has met its exception. Not only does this student partake in many outside activities but has made a place for herself in the National Honor society.

She is secretary of the student council, has been on the annual staff for two years, is a member of the Homemakers club and sings in the A Cappella choir. Her favorite pastimes are singing, reading and dancing.

She recently became a member of the Sub Club and is a pledge for the Quill and Scroll club, an honorary society for high school journalists. At last year's Panhandle High School Press association she was elected president of the association and presided at the association's convention last Saturday.

Last year this student was editor of the Little Harvester. She has particular talent for writing. While a freshman she won state in the essay contest and last year won fourth in Texas for feature story writing.

She has not feared the most humiliating and the funniest incident in her life happened when she was trying out for a play and the zipper of her skirt came undone. Since then she has taken particular care that her zippers should not become undone. She was in last year's Junior play, "Maxine Cherry Quill Contest" and Ken Bennett's "Singing Freshman."

She plans to go to college but as yet has not decided which she will attend nor has she decided on her curriculum. Her favorite hobby is writing letters that are long past due.

"I prefer red heads," came from her lips as this interview ended.

In Latin, the word rex means king. Rex Shear, senior, may not be a king, but he is a prince of a fellow.

Although a profound woman hater, Rex has one of the strangest hobbies, he spends his spare time writing letters to girl friends.

Rex doesn't care much for literary events but he does take a keen interest in sports. He played one year on the Guerrilla football team and has been a member of the F. F. A. for three years. Hi-Y one year and on a judging team.

The Colorado School of Mines at Golden, Colorado, is the school Rex wishes to attend next year. He will study geology.

Classes See Films Students of the chemistry, physics and biology classes have the privilege of seeing films each week. Once a week instead of reading from their text book.

The chemistry and physics classes will see "Modern Metal Working With the Oxycetylene Flame" and "T. C. Your Sixth Sense, today."

Next week they will see "Safety Glass" and "Beyond the Microscope."

The biology classes' regular film day is Tuesday, when they will see "Frogs, Toads and Salamanders." Next week they will see "Living Stars" and "Who's Zoo."

Before placing trust in any person Lincoln always made efforts to find out their attitude toward roses and dogs.

The only reason Lincoln ever offered for this fact was the following statement: "Rose is a thing of beauty and a dog is at times man's only friend."

Thus did Lincoln use this idea in selecting his friends.

House of David To Play Harvesters Here Tonight

Plainview Noses Out Harvesters

The Pampa Harvesters were toppled from the lead in the Big Five Conference to tie with Amarillo when Plainview's Bulldogs romped over them last Thursday night to win 26 to 22. But a shellacking like that, the third time this season, only built the Harvesters up to their usual championship form to down the Lubbock Weststers the next night by a push-over 41-21 score.

Plainview's zone defense has twice baffled the Harvesters. In the first game between the two teams that type of defense held the Harvesters practically scoreless in the first half. The same defense won the game for Plainview in the second game with the Harvesters.

Amarillo's Golden Sandies will be host to the Harvesters Friday night when the victor of Big Five Conference play will be decided. At present the Sandies have lost only to Pampa in conference play and the Harvesters only to Plainview. The fact the Sandies were trodden under by a 15 point win by the Harvesters makes the Harvesters the heavy favorites to win again.

The bearded House of David basketball team will journey to the local gym for a game with the Harvesters tonight at 7:30. The Harvesters' three games in the loss column this season may be increased to four by the bearded boys. A full house is expected to see the Harvesters play the team that has been playing and beating college teams over the United States.

Tomorrow night the Carey Cardinals will take a shot at the Harvesters to close home game play for this season. The Harvesters have never beaten the Cardinals but have lost in the regional finals to them three years in a row. As a result they have never had the chance to go down-state. The final whistle of the game will be the last until the district meet begins.

Harvesters Down Bulldogs 46-23

Although the dope was that the former Bulldogs were to devastate the Harvesters, the Bulldogs were easy victims of the Harvesters last Tuesday night. The score at the end of the first quarter was 16 to 2, at the half 25 to 5, at the third quarter 38 to 12.

When the fourth quarter started Coach Odus Mitchell began substituting and the used the whole squad of players during that period. The fourth period ended with Borger dropping their second game to Pampa 46 to 23.

The Harvester second string players of the sub of the Bulldogs to a 25-18 game that was packed with fouls and spills but both teams took the referee's decisions good naturedly.

The Lions clubs of Borger and Pampa played a rip-roaring game of basketball that was filled with fouling and lucky shots. The Bulldogs were out of the game. The game ended with the Borger Lions defeating the Pampa Lions 27 to 23.

Mr. Nuckols left here with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Riding of Hobart, Oklahoma, and his wife, Mrs. Nuckols, on January 27, arriving in Los Angeles the following Sunday at 2 o'clock. The same evening they started home, arriving here last Wednesday night.

Bearded Cagers Rated Excellent

Those bewhiskered men whose pictures appear on the bulletin board will play the Harvesters here tonight at 7:30 p. m. The House of David, as they are called, is a professional team. They have let their hair and beards grow until they look like cave men or something that Frank Buck just brought back from Africa. In the beginning it was their religion and now it has grown to be their greatest attraction.

The star of this team is Bill Steinecke, noted for his long shots and graceful movements. He plays basketball in the summer to keep in shape.

Lefty Maxwell, another member, comes from Denver, Colorado, where it is claimed they eat and sleep basketball. He is six feet, four inches in height and a real forward.

Then there is Ham Hamilton, a six-footer, who promises to keep the ball moving. He is one of the best guardsmen in basketball.

Coach Lyons is another star and he is from Georgia where they grow 'em big and husky. He just weighs 235 pounds and is one inch over six feet.

A newcomer to the team is Bill Brownell who is 19 and a promising young star player. He wears size 14 shoes.

All these tall, dark and bearded men will play the Harvesters and Coach Odus Mitchell promises fans a good game for their money which is 25 cents for students and 40 cents for adults.

Guerrillas Defeat Miami Warriors

A. C. Enloe was high-point man for the Guerrillas five and seven points scored against the Miami Warriors who won 26 to 17.

Of the 26 points scored by Miami, a good number were free shots given for fouls. Pampa was assessed with ten fouls and Miami with four. Two of the Guerrillas starters, Green and Clemmons, were taken out of the game with injuries.

The starters were: Miami Warriors—Craig and Murray, forwards; Bruce, center; Osborne and Morehead, guards.

Guerrillas—Enloe and Dewey, forwards; Clemmons, center; Green and Stannis, guards.

Substitutions were made by Holt, Tuttle, Frasher, Molsworth and Mitchell.

Harvesters Clip Canyon Eagles

The Harvesters won over the Canyon Eagles last Thursday night with a two-point lead in one of the closest games played this year.

Bob Andis was high point man for the Harvesters, scoring 21 of the 30 points against the Eagles. High point for Canyon was Bretling with 12 out of the 28 points for the Eagles.

Due to a close-observing referee many fouls were called on both teams, Pampa having 13 and Canyon 12.

Only two substitutions were made the entire game. Kyle for Miller and Johnson for Enloe and Dewey, forwards.

The starting lineup for the two teams were: Pampa—Andis and Heiskell, forwards; Miller center; Dunaway and Auld, guards.

Canyon—Bretling and Tomlinson, forwards; Heabough, center; Ford and Butler, guards.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worry about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and "moody" spells.

Just get more fresh air, 6 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life.

Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

QUERY OF WOMEN HAS STARTED IN TEXAS

First word from the women's query now going on in the South and West reveals these impressive facts:

"Were you helped by CARDUI?" asked the Touring Reporters. Of the first 100 Atlanta women, 98 answered "Yes!" Our Dallas record, 100 questioned, 88 "Yeses!"

"So many women tell us CARDUI promotes appetite, aid digestion, helps build up physical resistance," marvels one Reporter. "In this way they find relief from upsetting headaches, nervousness, and other symptoms of functional dysmenstruation due to malnutrition."

Mary also tells how, when symptoms indicate the need, CARDUI in larger doses helps "at the time" to soothe the pain and nervousness.

Take Calotabs to Help Nature Throw off Colds

Millions have found in Calotabs a most reliable aid against the onset of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of any virus-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are directed to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which may be needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package.—(adv.)

A regular meeting of the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher Association will be conducted at the school Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The program theme for this session is to be "Starry Books, Margazines and Newspapers" with Mrs. Ruth Delzell, Potter county librarian of Amarillo, as guest speaker.

Miss Florence Jones will be leader of the program which will include numbers by the A Cappella choir of the high school under the direction of Miss Martin, devotional by the Rev. Robert Boshen, and National Birthday observance by Mrs. V. L. Hobbs.

A survey indicated that only 1,000 of 4,200 North Carolina high school graduates planning in 1938 to attend college had as much as $500 a year each to spend for expenses.

How To Relieve Misery Of Your CHEST GOLD

If you are suffering from a miserable chest cold, try this: Massage throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. Then spread a thick layer on chest and cover with warm cloth. VapoRub goes right to work to bring relief—two ways at once. (1) Direct through the skin like a poultice; (2) Direct to the irritated air-passages with its medicated vapors.

This poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—clears air-passages—checks tendency to cough—relieves local congestion.

Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

IDEAS OF DEMOCRACY AND EDUCATION
In Albert Nock's article in the February American Mercury, discussing "College is No Place to Get an Education," after stating that the colleges have very few men of character and imagination, as the Mark Hopkins sitting on one end of the log and the student at the other, is a method of educating, he summarizes his article by saying:

"Facing the fact of an immense ineducable majority is unpleasant and depressing, but there the fact is, and merely blinking it does not get it out of the way, or lessen its force, nor, which is most important does it decrease the penalty imposed by Nature upon the refusal to recognize any vital fact and to shape our procedure in accordance with it. Facing this fact makes havoc of our accepted ideas of democracy and of equality; it plumps us squarely against the further fact that those ideas are false and fantastic and should be revised—must be revised, indeed, if we are ever to get on."

"So there the matter stands. If the American people prefer to keep to the ideas of democracy and equality which are the foundation of our educational system, one can only point out that so long as they do so, one generation after another will be sacrificed. If, on the other hand, they choose to sacrifice those ideas and replace them by sound ones on which they can base a sound educational system, they will be doing the best thing possible for the future of their country, no matter how disagreeable and embarrassing the act of sacrifice may be."

This article is a challenge to every citizen who believes in the real philosophy of Christianity and Democracy. Mr. Nock has clearly shown that the educational system, instead of tending to help create liberty and true democracy, is hastening its downfall. It is largely because, as I have said repeatedly in this column that we are miseducating our people, in school, by the press, by the politicians and every known means of education that we are rapidly losing our liberty, our characters and our prosperity. It is time to face the facts that most of the men we have in our educational institutions are not men of high character and imagination qualified to really develop educated people.

EQUITABLE LABOR CONTRACTS
One hears a great deal nowadays about labor contracts that are fair to both sides. A contract that is not enforceable on either side is a one-way contract and certainly unfair to one side. That is the trouble with a collective bargaining contract. There never has been, so far, any way devised whereby laborers can be held responsible in carrying out their contract. So, any contention that it is possible to make a contract binding on both sides is not based on any known method. Even if a labor union has a million dollars in its treasury, if the men in union decide to want to cancel its contract, all it has to do is to have its men take less interest in their work; or, in other words, lay down on the job and the employer will be glad to cancel the contract.

And if the employer should sue the workmen for not doing their work, then it would go into court and the judges who know nothing about the different jobs would have the final say as to whether the man was performing the service he should perform. And the judges have to have votes to be elected. Thus, it is seen that the employer is responsible in a contract while the employee is not.

ANY OBJECTION TO THIS GUY BEING DROPPED?

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON.
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 4—Shirley Temple is supposed to smoke a pipe in her new picture, "Susanah of the Mounties." The script says so, anyway.
But you never can be sure about Temple scripts. During the filming of "Wee Willie Winkie" June Lang gave the Wonder Tot a sound spanking, but the sequence was cut out when the studio decided that people wouldn't like it. So there's no telling what will happen if Shirley smokes a pipe. The repercussions are likely to blast the incident right out of the story.

CAMERA TRICKS
WITH A PIPE
In the first place, though, let me convey Darryl Zanuck's assurance that even if Shirley appears to be smoking, she won't be, actually. A trick pipe with concealed tubes has been designed by Lou Witte, 20th Century-Fox's special-effects expert—and, incidentally, the man who staged the Chicago fire. A property man, crouched just out of camera range, will manipulate a couple of rubber bulbs, one of which will make the pipe draw and the other eject smoke from a tube taped to the off-side of the Marvel Mite's face.

At first, the script said that Shirley would smoke a pipe of peace with a little Indian boy, and on two occasions. The first time she'd get sick, and the second time he'd get sick. But it was realized that it would never do to permit the Wonder Child so quickly to condition herself to tobacco, so now it is determined that she shall get good and sick both times. Also, she does not smoke for the fun of it, but with a grim determination to politely observe the conventions of the Injun country.

SCOUT CAPTURES A REDSKIN
The redskin in the case is 15-year-old Martin Goodrider, a Blackfoot. He reached Hollywood by way of the Eucharistic Congress in New Orleans and an excursion to New York City. A movie talent scout read of the Indian lad in Manhattan and went to select one for a picture role. Young Mr. Goodrider was chosen because of his voice; he sang a repertoire of Irish folksongs taught him by a priest on the reservation. Incidentally, Goodrider really smokes and really enjoys it. The smoke of the untreated kind of tobacco which is more lethal than aromatic. With Miss Temple, he'll have to puff consilic or something.

By BRUCE CATTON
Washington, Feb. 6—After six years of strenuous and expensive effort, the New Deal program to help the farmer is back within shouting distance of its starting point.
The farm belt is sore again, and its soreness is reflected in Congress. It is quite possible that this Congress will go ahead and write a brand-new type of farm bill, tossing production control out of the window, having the government underwrite the farmer's cost of production, providing for the dumping of export surpluses and greatly broadening the field in which the present agricultural act operates.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M. D.
TONICS
Many persons have a deep-rooted faith in the health-giving virtues of tonics. It is not uncommon for a patient to say to his doctor, "I am not feeling up to the mark. Won't you prescribe some tonic for me?"
The patient's idea of a tonic is something that will "tone him up," something that will bring back his customary physical, mental and emotional vigor. The patient believes that a healthy state is attainable only by taking something "strong," fronted by such a patient the physician is likely to ask, "And what is it that tones you down?"

Before using a medicinal tonic, it is well to determine whether the complaining patient may not be suffering from some condition, or a disturbance of local infection; from the depleting effects of an illness, from anemia, malnutrition, vitamin deficiency, or an abnormal mental state.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese
Speaking of the prospect of war—Mars himself is rushing at the earth at a furious pace, and will approach very close on July 23. Pretty close, that is. Very close only in the astronomical sense. On July 23 he will come within 36,030,000 miles of the earth. Considering that he is now 176,000,000 miles away, you might call that near approach in July "pretty close" as those things go, out there in inter-stellar space.

That's the time for all those who tumbled out of their houses in terror during the radio "invasion of the Martians" last year to step quietly outside and take a calm look at the red planet whose name is that of the Roman god of war. Note the date. And don't forget to look under the bed for Martians!

In 1938 it was actually more dangerous to stay at home than to go out on the streets on foot or in an automobile. At least that's a fair deduction from the 1938 figures on fatal accidents compiled by the National Safety Council. They show that while 32,000 people were killed in traffic accidents, 32,500 were killed by accidents in their own homes.

For the first time in 10 years the home was more deadly than traffic, for while concentrated traffic safety drives were cutting the traffic toll by 7640, a reduction of 19 per cent, fatal home accidents increased 2 per cent. At least that's the invention work of the National Safety Council and other agencies proved them a real national asset in the year just passed. For they helped the United States to cut its accident death toll by 10,200 for the year. Further, 700,000 fewer persons were disabled by injuries in 1938 than in 1937.

Sentiment aside, there is a tremendous economic gain for the country in thus cheating death of what has come to regard as his legitimate prey. But the toll of accidental death is still a terrible one, and the encouraging results of the 1938 safety campaigns should stimulate everyone to seek even better results this year.

TVA Will Buy Power Plants In Tennessee

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP)—An eventful chapter in the long and bitter feud between the New Deal and the nation's utilities was brought to a dramatic end Saturday with announcement of an amicable arrangement under which TVA will purchase all electrical properties of Commonwealth and Southern Corporation in Tennessee.

Agreement was announced in Knoxville, Tenn., by TVA officials and in New York by Wendell L. Willkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern.
The TVA agreed to pay $78,600,000 for the electric properties of Tennessee Electric Power Company, a subsidiary of Commonwealth and Southern.

Wall Street sources said this figure was only slightly under Willkie's asking price. The TVA had first offered only $55,000,000 for the properties.
Local utility executives in other systems said the end of the six-year Willkie-TVA feud was made possible by major concessions on the part of negotiators representing the federal administration.

These include:
1. Recognition for the first time of "equity" or common stock value in utility systems.
2. Recognition of "going business" value in utility financial structures, also for the first time.
3. Recognition of investments not strictly for purchase of operating property, another precedent.
Willkie predicted that privately owned utilities in the United States would spend not less than $1,000,000 a year in new capital outlay each year for the next three or four years if the administration went a few steps further and:

1. Made a definite pledge not to "compete with private business in the utility field in any new areas.
2. Took steps to prevent further FWA loans to states or municipalities for non-federal "competition" in this nature.
3. "Clarified" policies under the public utilities holding company act of 1935.
4. Ceased "continued attacks" against the utilities.

Baptist Minister Guilty Of Murder

DALLAS, Feb. 6 (AP)—A jury in district court, deliberating less than two hours, today found Baptist preacher Mangum guilty of murder in the death of Loyd M. Smith, 46, and gave him 20 years in state penitentiary.
As the verdict was read, Mangum's mother, who had been praying since the case went to the jury about 6 p. m., screamed:
"His didn't kill him!"
Mangum apparently was unmoved by the verdict, but his mother and three others of his family were overcome. Court attaches carried them from the courtroom.
District Attorney James Patton had demanded the death penalty.
The state charged Mangum shot Smith the night of Nov. 10, last, and the defense contended Smith was killed when a pistol was accidentally discharged in a scuffle.
Mangum also contended he was exercising the right of self defense in the death of Smith, who had been keeping company with Mangum's divorced wife.

Colorful Bearded Boys Play Here Tonight

Carey To Be At Local Gym Tuesday Night

Probably the most danceous foe the Harvesters will play this season, Carey's self-confident Cardinals who will employ tactics taught them by their former coach, Catfish Smith of Borer, will take the floor tomorrow night to prove that they are still masters of Panhandle basketball.

The Cards have dominated Plains basketball for three years now, and the only hurdle that has been any barrier at all has been the Harvesters basketball team, and it hasn't been much of a stumbling-block for the Cards.

But things may be different this year. Carey has the best team in the Childress district, but Pampa has the best team it has had in several years.

Until Saturday night when the Harvesters dropped a 28 to 22 affair at Plainview to a team they beat 10 points here, fans were saying that the Harvesters were the best team in history, but they are not saying that now. They have been reminded again even the best team can stumble for one night.

The game tomorrow night will be significant in more than one respect. The Harvesters and the Cards may be foes in the finals of the Regional tournament at Canyon for the third time in the last four years. That of course depends on whether Carey can beat Williams, Tell, Lakeview, Crowell in the district meet, and whether Pampa can eliminate Spearman, Mobeetie, Panhandle, White Deer, and other teams in the district meet here. But right now both teams are favored to win their district tournaments.

The Harvesters were chastened slightly in the next night at Plainview when they were soundly thrashed by the Harvesters when they were leading 19 to 14. The Plainview Herald said modestly that "the Harvesters may have been a little overconfident after going through their Big Five schedule without a miss." Carey's B squad beat the Plainview second stringers to start the night's activities. They scored a 34 to 29 triumph over the Bulldog reserves.

The Carey-Harvester battle will start at 8 o'clock. Carey has won the regional at Canyon. They conquered them in 1936 in the finals. That was the year they won the state championship under the tutelage of Catfish Smith who will doubtless be over tomorrow night to sit on the bench with his former charges.

McEwin And Freeman To Clash In Grudge Battle

His bald head shining, his chest protruding and fumbling sounds coming from somewhere, Tiger Billy McEwin arrived in Pampa this morning for his main event wrestling match tonight with Abie Freeman. The card will not get under way until 8:30 o'clock or 30 minutes later than usual.

Opening the battle will be a 20-minute time limit affair between Steve Neiry and Russell Riley, a couple of ace wrestlers. Fans will see a real wrestling match when the two take the mat.

The semi-final will be the opposite with Alan Plummer of Borer, who has a history of wrestling match with Joe Banaski of Oklahoma City who likes to wrestle but who loses his temper and gets tough if the opposition goes that way. Plummer is a former Texas Tech football star and he likes the going rough and tough.

Getting back to the main event, fans will see a grudge battle. It all started last week when McEwin was a wrestler and Freeman a referee. The two squared off several times but it was not until after McEwin had won the recent fall that hostilities broke loose. McEwin socked the referee when he wasn't looking and then jumped back on his prostrate victim. The sheriff jumped to the ring and for a minute the situation was ticklish. When Freeman got his wits together he chased McEwin from the ring and then asked Promoter Cliff Chambers for a main event with McEwin. "I can play his game," Freeman told the promoter, and the battle was arranged.

Fate Of Mustang Five To Be Decided Tonight, Saturday

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 6 (AP)—Untarished Southern Methodist, a contented spectator while the boys shashed each other's percentage standing the last two weeks, can end a lot of conjecture this week.

Tonight, in their own Dallas fieldhouse, they encounter the University of Texas. Saturday they're in Waco for an evening with the Baylor. Success for the Methodists on both occasions would just about establish them as something a little too solid for the rest of the league to handle.

Failure at both points would throw the Southwest Conference front door wide open.

The Methodists' two games sparkle in a heavy card of six as everyone but Rice comes out of the mid-term examination period.

Texas, a terrific outfit that took a terrific beating from Arkansas and then came back swinging to flatten Baylor, could easily give the Methodists their first dunking. The Methodists lost a valuable reserve when Herb Canfield dropped out of school, but Coach Whitey Bacus said his first string, lethargic at too many times, had perked up in rough drills during their two-week layoff and improved their offensive work.

Baylor's sophomores, stunned by Arkansas, fully aroused after a dull start, haven't been able to get in one "hot" night and have been laying for the Methodists. However, the veteran offensive combination of Bill Dewell and Sniper Norton makes S. M. U. one of the most feared teams in the sector.

Arkansas kept alive a slim chance to retain its title by beating Baylor, 46-38 and 44-40 in last week's only games.

Porkers vs. T. C. U.

Revived a bit after the Baylor series, Arkansas tumbles out of the hills for a last visit to Texas to meet the amazing Texas Christians on a Friday and Saturday series at Fort Worth. The Christians, strengthened by the mid-term addition of Snodgrass, a star of last year's team, and definitely on the upgrade after four of the worst seasons in their history, are due to go to the state last year in the immediate future—and it may be Arkansas. The Christians plastered North Texas Teachers the other night for their first major college victory of the season.

Loss of Capt. Sammy Dwyer through scoliosis eligibility knocked the props from under the Texas Aggies, but Coach Hub McQuillion said he would shift a reserve forward to guard and have five men ready for the Texas game at College Station Friday night. Dwyer was the only letterman on the Aggie squad.

Texas, after its date with S. M. U., will drift on over to Fort Worth tomorrow night for a meeting with the Christians.

Frankie Carswell, Rice forward, idle, lost his scoring lead of 70 points to John Adams, the Arkansas sophomore, who went ahead with 75.

Atz Purchases Henderson Club

HENDERSON, Feb. 6 (AP)—That veteran of baseball strategy, John Atz, pilot of championships outfits in more than one league, popped up today as owner of the Henderson team of the East Texas loop.

This time, said Atz, after buying franchise from W. E. and Herman Orr yesterday for a reported price of $2,000, he may stay away from the field and attend the business office. Last year he managed the Harlingen club of the Texas Valley league to a pennant.

After the deal he arranged by telephone an agreement whereby Henderson would operate as a farm of the Detroit Tigers through the Beaumont, Texas league club.

Under Atz's direction in the early nineteen-twenties the Fort Worth Cats of the Texas league won seven straight championships. Since then he has handled managerial reins at Dallas, Shreveport, and several other clubs; was an umpire for a time, and also a scout for major league clubs.

He left for his home in New Orleans but said he would be back to begin building his club with "young players" within the week.

Carey Defeats Lakeview 45-12

CHILDRESS, Feb. 6 (AP)—A spindly-legged sophomore forward, Rayford Jones, was the sensation when the Carey Cardinals beat the Lakeview Eagles 45-12 to avenge an early season defeat.

Jones, who replaced T. C. Chewning at one of the Cardinal forward berths, swished 12 goals thru the hoop to gain high scoring honors for the evening. His play added to the Cardinal hopes for county and district championships.

The Cardinal machine functioned smoothly and there was never a doubt as to the outcome after the opening period. The Cards held a 2-0 advantage when the second session opened, then promptly stretched it to 12-3 at the half. In the third session, the Carey team forged further to the front and led 23-4 when Coach Herman Messley started sending reserves into the game.

Jim Middleton contributed 10 points to the Carey total and Seth McFarther made six.

Sirallon Plans To Be White Sox Coach

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6 (AP)—With a cigar in one hand and his golf bag in the other, Manager Jimmy Doyle, now in the American League, is supposed to have replied: "Count on it. There are 12,000,000 now."

Official entries number 58 but there are always withdrawals at the last minute and that is why tournament officials are figuring on 50 boys. There might be more because losers in the Amarillo tournament, being held tonight and tomorrow night, will be eligible to enter the Pampa tournament. That is why deadline for entering has been extended until midnight Tuesday night.

Rules of amateur boxing and other information for the benefit of Mr. and Mrs. Pan will be published in tomorrow's Pampa News.

Klein Promises To Be Batting Terror

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 6 (AP)—Chuck Klein promises to be the slugging terror of old for the Phillies this season.

Although considered through by many observers because of his poor 247 average last year, the 33-year-old Hoosier from Indianapolis is convinced he is due for one of his best years in the National League.

"In the first place," Chuck said today, "I am going to stop experimenting with all kinds of bat and go back to the model I used four or five years. You know how a fellow starts to try things when he goes into slump and begins to worry. That's what happened to me. "Another thing, I'm going to give up golf. It made me upset every pitch. No wonder I haven't been able to hit pitches I used to murder—for instance a ball chip high."

TO PLAY HOUSE OF DAVID CAGERS HERE TONIGHT

The Harvester basketball team, shown above, which hit the peak of perfection and the depths of imperfection last week-end on consecutive nights at Lubbock and Plainview respectively, are doped to lose another game tonight when the hairy burly veterans of the House of David plan to annihilate them as they do most every team they play.

The House of David team played and won at Lubbock yesterday. They will play at Plainview and many other Panhandle towns. Explanation of the Harvester defeat at Plainview Saturday night was lacking. The boys denied and wanted to forget a story that appeared in the Lubbock Avalanche about them. The Lubbock sports writer used such adjectives as "great," "finest," "mighty," "amazing," and then said that the team "looked more like a college squad than schoolboy," and that "when one starts talking of state champions the boys from the north panhandle must be considered."

The sports writer further said that "contrary to indications of the top heavy score the Westerners did not play their worst game of the season—just the opposite. . . They turned in their best game at their home court."

The Harvesters today denied that such lavish praise had any connection with their play Saturday night, but they said they wanted to forget what the sport writer said in view of the result of the Plainview game. "I'll bet he was surprised," said Captain Bob Coach Odus Mitchell concedes the bearded giants should win tonight but he's counting on his lads to play them a good game. The first six on the Harvester team are shown above. They are from left to right, Grover Lee Heskell, forward; Pete Dunaway, guard; Kenneth Kyle, center; Doyle Auld, guard; Bob Andis, forward; and A. Entire Top O' Texas To Be Represented At Meet

Boxing fans of the Panhandle will make Pampa their headquarters on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week when The Pampa News stages its second annual Golden Gloves Boxing tournament in the Pampa Athletic arena four blocks east and one south of the Postoffice.

For surrounding towns, cities and communities fans will come to see the young mat artists fling leather, each one confident that he will be a winner and represent this section of Panhandle in the state tournament in Fort Worth next week. Expenses paid. Eight winners will be eligible to compete in the state meet.

Already reservations have been made by fans from Canadian, Miami, Shamrock, Alamo, Perryton, Borger, Stinnett and probably from other towns and cities. Season reserve seat tickets at $2.50 are going fast at The Pampa News and at Cretney Drug. Single night tickets will be placed on sale at both places Wednesday morning at 81 each.

It appears definite that more than seven will compete in the tournament which will mean that 18 bouts will be staged the first night, 15 or 16 the second night, and 12 title and three exhibition the third night of the tournament.

Boys will arrive in at 1 o'clock at the Pampa Athletic arena. Each boy will be allowed one pound before it will be necessary for him to step into a higher class.

Word came from Alamoed this morning that Jake Bible, last year's featherweight champion and there nearly come down to that weight and that he may enter as a featherweight instead of a lightweight.

Official entry was received this morning from Frankie Bills of Shamrock, bantamweight, battler who won the state last year in place of Champion Rusty White of White Deer who was unable to make the trip. White is scheduled to enter if he can come down to the weight and he was near that point yesterday, according to word from White Deer.

Official entries number 58 but there are always withdrawals at the last minute and that is why tournament officials are figuring on 50 boys. There might be more because losers in the Amarillo tournament, being held tonight and tomorrow night, will be eligible to enter the Pampa tournament. That is why deadline for entering has been extended until midnight Tuesday night.

Rules of amateur boxing and other information for the benefit of Mr. and Mrs. Pan will be published in tomorrow's Pampa News.

Harry Cooper Believes He's Due For Break In U. S. Open

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Feb. 6 (AP)—Baldish little Harry Cooper peered through rain-spattered clubhouse windows at the course he played as a kneecaps kid and decided he would set out this week at a little job of "worm turning."

Lighthorse Harry, a gent who could write two books on "How to Court Ill Fortune on a Golf Course," will start building up to the national open with the historic $5,000 Texas open at S'n Antonio, starting Thursday, as his first objective.

Washed out of a practice round on Tension Park, which he once played in an incredible 60 just as a spindly youngster, Cooper sat in the golf shop and rightfully deducted that any man who finished on the average in third place in seven of the last eight national open tournaments, is just about ready for a break.

"Twice I've finished second, twice third and three times fourth," the little fireball said. "But never first. Something always happens, a bad break here and there, or golf that just isn't quite good enough."

"Outside the winners, I would say, from the records, that I have the best average in the opens of the past eight or ten years. When do I think I'll win one? One of these days there won't be a breakdown—may be the next one."

And out of all these "second best" efforts, which produced the worst break?

"Back at Oakmont in '27 I needed par on the last two holes to win. I three-putted the seventy-first hole and finished in a tie with Tommy Armour—and then lost in the playoff."

Tied Sam Snead

"Or the Canadian open last year was another bad one. I lost that one on the final hole, drove a tee shot out of bounds and finished with a seven that left me in a tie with Sam Snead. We played the first 18 holes of the playoff and were still tied with 67's. Then—the same old story—I lost on the second 18-hole playoff."

Cooper discovered something on the practice tee the morning he blazed around the qualifying round of the recent San Francisco match play tourney in 65—four under his own course record—that he believes will go a long way towards turning the worm. A slight defect in his swing that had hampered accuracy.

"The Texas open at San Antonio will be a fine spot for me to try it—narrow fairways that require hair-line accuracy. Believe I've got it."

Incidentally, the mechanical man of golf struck out against match play tourneys on the winter tour, citing it was unfair to the touring pro—to be eliminated in the early rounds and loaf around the remainder of the week without opportunity of shooting for cash awards. He favored, however, one big summer tournament, such as the National P. G. A.

Flying Lee Wins $10,000 Handicap

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6 (AP)—Flying through the mud to overhaul the setting favorite, Hal Price Headley's Flying Lee nosed out Sweet Nancy Saturday and won the $10,000 Santa Margarita Handicap at Santa Anita Park.

Headley's 4-year-old filly and 17 to one shot overtook Norman Church Sweet Nancy in the closing strides of the mile and one sixteenth. The time was one minute and 47.1 seconds.

Mrs. Emil Denmark's Genie Palatine ran third.

Flying Lee paid $37.40, $12.80 and $7.40 across the board.

Sweet Nancy paid $4.20 and $3.80 to place and Genie Palatine $8.20.

Cage Artists Favorites To Rout Pampans

The "world's most colorful" basketball squad, the "original" House of Davids bring their repertoire of cage magic to the Panhandle at 7:30 o'clock tonight when they engage Coach Odus Mitchell's Pampa Harvesters at the high school gymnasium. The Bentor Harbor whistler aggregation boasts some of the greatest court performers of all times. Two members of the team have been traveling over the nation's hardwoods for approximately 12 years.

Opposing this stellar group will be such well known acts as Bob Andis and Pete Dunaway, two of the best Harvesters cagers in the history of the school.

Halftime Show Planned

But the contest will not include all the court trickery. A half-time floor show will feature Robert Lorland juggling three official basketballs at the same time and ending the exhibition by tossing the balls through the hoop.

Leading the favored whistler artists will be Bill Steinecke, one of the players who has been with the Davids for 13 years, who has performed before audiences all over the United States, Canada, Hawaii and this year will play with the team in England. The squad plans to leave for England in April.

Is "Team Of Stars"

Along with Steinecke, the Davids feature Gene Brownell, 6 feet 5 inch center, known as the court world's greatest ball handler. Much of his training experience was received when he played with the Oskosh Stars, a professional organization. Amusing fans and running the score to alarming proportions at the same time with Brownell and Steinecke will be one Lefty Maxwell. Lefty is a former All-American forward from Denver and is the highest scorer on the "naders" team. He stands 6 feet 3 inches in his stockings.

Biggest in size if not in court accomplishments is Chop Lyons, an All-Southern ex. a guard from Georgia Tech. The Southern hot hot weighs 235 pounds and has a 5g size of the average man's body, the measurement being 32 inches.

Other unusual stars on this "team of stars" is Ham Hamilton, an ex great of Florida University and one or two more who have made themselves famous in basketball.

Coach Mickey Pool of Plainview will take his Bulldogs to Oilton "where" night where they will join three other teams in a contest against the House of David five. Each team will play one quarter against the bearded quintet and then the four teams will combine and play twenty men against the Bentor Harbor crew in a "fifth" quarter.

Tuesday night the Bulldogs will play at Canyon and Friday they will wind up their Big Five schedule here against the Lubbock Westerners.

McKechnie Signs 2-Year Contract

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP)—Satisfied with the organization he now has running his Cincinnati baseball club, President Powell Crosley Jr. is taking no chances of it being broken up.

He signed Manager Bill McKechnie last night to a new two-year contract extending through the 1941 season. The veteran pilot, who came to the Reds from the Boston Bees a year ago, already was under contract for 1939.

Ferrell Out-Argues Waner To Win Weird Golf Tourney

Waner, who now was only one down, said he never heard of such a fool idea, embellishing his opinion with words he must have learned in baseball school. They couldn't appeal to a referee because there wasn't any.

SERIAL STORY WOMEN WANT BEAUTY! BY LOUISE HOLMES

CAST OF CHARACTERS SUSIE LAMBERT—she served waffles and dreamed of being beautiful. DICK TREMAINE—He liked Susie's waffles but he couldn't see Susie. BOBMAN—His chief concern was to make Susie as beautiful as she wanted to be.

Yesterday, Heartsick, Susie prepares to say goodbye to Dick after four years. He stands in for a last waffle at her shop.

CHAPTER II

AS if he had complimented Susie, instead of her waffles, she flushed with pleasure. Dick would always remember her waffles, that was something. She brought his plate, adding another pat of butter, she drew his coffee as if it were a rite and filled a glass with ice water. Her hands trembled as she put the coffee beside his plate. The brown liquid sloshed over a little and she quickly got another saucer. Leaning against the counter she watched him spread the butter and empty the jug of syrup. He said nothing, eating.

In the back of Susie's mind ran a monotonous dirge. "This is the last time—this is the last time—this is—" She must talk. Dick would raise his eyes if she talked.

"I saw you graduate this morning," she found voice to say. "How'd I do? All right?"

"Oh, yes—"

"S'pose you'll be getting a sheepskin one of these days."

"Not for two more years," forcing out the words past the dreadful lump in her throat. "It takes so long—night classes and summer short courses—"

In a mad desire to narrow the distance between Dick and herself she had entered the music college. Her strangely sweet voice had never caused comment, it was too insignificant coming from Susie. She also studied French and literature, cultural things, blindly endeavoring to measure up.

"Two years will pass in no time," he said encouragingly.

Without you there will be no time, ran the dirge in Susie's heart. Aloud she asked, "Are you going away today?"

"Yep—how about another cup of coffee—all packed—bags in the car—"

She brought the coffee. "To Chicago?" her voice rough with the pain of holding on.

"He nodded. "For a week or so to see the family. Then I'm off to California. I've got a job there." He was happy.

IT crossed her mind to wonder why Dick Tremaine should be so pleased over a job. Were not his people in the social register? Things like that made Dick so irresistible, his total lack of nobility. But California—so far away.

"Building things?" she asked. Dick was now a full-fledged architect.

"Building a summer colony on the ocean not far from Laguna Beach. I sent some sketches to the firm and they hired me, he explained with a boyish swagger to his voice.

"That's lovely."

"Yeah, isn't it?" He had finished his waffle and second cup of coffee but made no move to rise. Tossing 50 cents on the counter he waited for his change. That was another thing Susie liked about Dick. He never tipped her. A tip would have placed her definitely beneath him. He'd done so many kind, thoughtful things since that night—he'd left so many things charitably undone. Now, in just a moment, he would leave.

Susie reached under the counter, her fingers closed on a small, neatly wrapped package. She had nothing to lose, buying something for Dick had given her pleasure—

"I—I have a little gift for you," she said in a quivering voice.

"I—I have a little graduation gift for you, Dick," she said, absurd, even to herself, in her quivering eagerness. She pushed the package across the counter.

"Susie—that's wonderful of you—wonderful—"

Slightly embarrassed, he untied the paper ribbon. The box contained a tie clip. It had cost Susie several dollars. Watching him open the box her palms were damp, her mouth dry. Dick said, "Thank you, Susie—I like it a lot."

Tears swam in her eyes. "I'm glad you like it," she said.

DICK thoughtfully dropped the case into his pocket. Suddenly he jerked up his head and looked straight into her brimming eyes. "You know I've always been sorry, Susie," he said.

"Yes."

He frowned. "Sorry—it's a small world—"

"You've shown me in a hundred ways—and I never blamed you."

It was the nearest Susie had ever come to a romantic conversation, to a display of emotion, and she trembled from the top of her bobbed head to the soles of her sensible shoes. She twisted her hands nervously.

But then Susie's little moment ended with the opening of the door. A girl came in. She was petite and smart, golden curls framed her lovely face. With a swift, graceful rush she crossed the room and slid to a stool beside Dick. Susie blindly went back to the waffle irons. She was not jealous, long since had futility and hopelessness taken the place of lesser emotions.

"Hi, handsome," she heard the girl say familiarly. "I thought we were starting for Chicago an hour ago."

"Couldn't go without one of Susie's waffles," he returned lightly. "I knew you'd wait."

"Ha—the conceited male!" The girl laughed with a side glance that Susie would have given her soul to imitate. "One of these days I won't wait and then how'll you feel?"

"Desolated," he said easily. "Want a cup of java before we go?"

"No, thanks—just came from a tea party." She rose to her feet and Dick followed suit. For a moment he stood uneasily by the counter.

Then he said, "Goodby, Susie. I'll be seeing you round."

Susie said, "Goodby, Dick." He could not possibly have heard the mumbled farewell.

He raised his hand, the girl flung, "Bye, Susie," over her shoulder, and they left the Waffle Shoppe. A waffle turned to a crisp as Susie stared after them, that is, as she stared after Dick. Lower and lower sank her heart. It was the end.

NOT quite the end. At the corner Dick stopped uncertainly in front of a flower store. "Think I'll send a few flowers to Susie," he said.

"Say—what's between you and Susie?" the girl inquired, laughing at him.

Dick did not laugh. "Something I'm ashamed of," he answered.

"Oh, that—" dismissing it with an amused hoot.

Still Dick frowned. "She gave me a graduation present."

"Well, well—your fatal charm again."

"Cut it out, Betts. She's homely and old and all that, but I suppose she has feelings like the rest of us."

"She couldn't—not with that figure. Let me see the present." And, as he opened the case, "Him-m—pretty awful if you ask me."

"Nobody asked you," he countered irritably. The tie clip was ill-chosen, a blue green turquoise held in place by two rampant lions. Susie had given hours and thrilled at the thought of it. Her first, perhaps her only, gift on the altar of love.

"Do you think she'd like an orchid?" Dick asked, piloting Betts into the flower shop.

Again Betts laughed sardonically.

A few moments later they emerged, Betts wearing the orchid. "A bunch of long-stemmed violets had been sent to Susie. After all, the Susies of this world do not rate orchids.

Amarillo Social Security Office In New Location

Removal of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board from 416 Oliver-Eagle Building to room 324 of the new postoffice building at Amarillo was announced today by Dewey Reed, manager.

Functions of the office, which are to issue social security account numbers and receive claims for lump-sum benefits under the Federal old-age insurance program, were being performed at the new location on a current basis, the move being made without interruption of service to the public, Reed said.

In addition to Amarillo and Potter county, the Amarillo office serves Gray county and the following counties:

Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscombe, Hemphill, Roberts, Hutchinson, Moore, Hartley, Oldham, Carson, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Donley, Armstrong, Randall, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Haskell, Childress, Scurry, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Stonewall, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum.

Reed requested all persons in these counties, desiring information about old-age insurance, claims or Social Security account numbers to address communications to the Social Security Board, New Postoffice Building, Amarillo.

It was pointed out, however, that the Social Security Board office has nothing to do with unemployment compensation benefits. "Our office," Reed said, "is concerned only with the payment of lump sums to workers who reach age 65 and to estates of those who die. The work has been done in an employment covered by the Federal old-age insurance program and it must have been performed after December 31, 1936, and before the person reached age 65."
