VISITOR FROM NIGERIA — County Agent J.K. Adams (left) had a visitor from the Zaria Province in Africa. He is Joseph Aba, who holds a job similar to Adams' in the African country only 600 miles north of the equator. Aba spent three days in Muleshoe this past week, studying irrigation methods here. '65 Crop Prospect Is Bright

Unseasonably cold weather, rains, winds and even a small amount of hail apparently have not dampened prospects for good crop yields, farm experts said Saturday as the folk in the Muleshoe area shivered in temperatures in the low 40's. The cool weather, however, definitely set crops back on their heels and delayed maturity. "Now all we got to worry about," said one farmer, "is an extremely early freeze. We just hope that the unusually cool weather this early in September doesn't mean we are going to have cold weather from now on."

J. K. Adams, county agent, said "we could consider ourselves hurt with an early October freeze, but probably we can consider that as beneficial — especially if the freeze holds off until early November. Certainly the rain helped all small grain."

Bumper yields for both cotton and grain sorghum were seen as a possibility and most farm experts took an optimistic view of the 1965 output. Irrigated grain sorghum will average 6000 pounds to the acre, the county agent figures, and that's a good turnout in anybody's country. He said that dryland grain should show a yield "crowding a ton an acre."

The county has 74,000 acres of dryland grain sorghum and 124,000 acres of irrigated grain. Grain sorghum, the county's leading cash crop is given a close race each year by cotton to that crop this year. Of this amount, 63,000 is irrigated land, and 41,000 dryland.

"Cotton is looking good," Adams said, "and we would have a good yield this year." Already the first bale of cotton has been reported at Needmore, and several other farmers were waiting for dryer weather before handling their first bales to the gin.

First grain sorghum rolled to market 10 days ago, and combines were back in the field by midweek after weekend rains had delayed harvest operations. Reports of yields are extremely good," Adams said.

The county agent figured that the 1965 grain sorghum harvest season is around 20 percent better than last year.

PETE & FRIENDS — Every day, scores of people drive off the highway here to admire the world's only monument to a mule, and always comes the camera because somebody wants a picture made in front of old Pete. The Gilbert H. Coxes were no exception; Thursday they were enroute from Houston to Albuquerque, and "just had to stop for a minute to admire Pete." (Journal Photo)

Irrigation Makes The Big Difference

Texas State library has announced that 70 youngsters earned Texas Reading club certificates from the High Plains Library Bookmobile by reading 12 or more books during the summer. Five Muleshoe area students who earned certificates included Leslie Arvello Haber, Tisa Haberer, Janice Canon, Kathy Pena and Jan Black.

They got lots more water in the country than we got here. But could irrigate much easier than it just runs off into the ocean, you could because we have here it's poured onto the fields in elaborate, systematic irrigation systems that turn parched land into bountiful acres. That's the opinion of Joseph Aba who hails from the Kuguro water of the Zaria Province in Nigeria. And he spent three days here this past week studying irrigation systems, especially those which supply fluid to commercial vegetable producers.

Aba was impressed — very much impressed by Bailey county's complete irrigation system. Among Sears-Roebuck officials who were here for the opening of the new store here this past week were J. E. Thompson, regional sales manager, and J. E. Barker, district sales manager, Dallas; Mrs. Ella M. Curry, Lovellland manager, Johnny Wynn, specialty salesman; Mrs. Betty Smith, Littlefield manager; Mrs. Mary Jo Weigo, credit manager; Dick Halleck, credit department, Dallas; Jack Kemp, sales assistant; and Bob Bishey, real estate department, both from Pecos.

Combine Worker Badly Burned In Flash Fire

A 28-year-old combine harvester worker who lit a match for a cigarette and set off a minor explosion at a farm house Thursday morning, remained in serious condition here Saturday with first and second degree burns over his body.

West Plains Hospital physicians said the young man, Raymond Webb, has burns on his neck, legs, arms and hands, and is a Baptist, too. Of course there are also many other denominations represented in our country now and all have done this week, physicians said.

Subscription Solicitors Pack 'N Leave

A crew of "good looking" young men and women apparently folded up their tools and left town this past week after reportedly attempting to sell magazine subscriptions in this area.

As best the sheriff's office could find out, the young people — 17 of them — were riding in six cars, and they were apparently preparing to launch a campaign here.

But when two of the saleswomen called at the city hall for an itinerant permit, City Clerk Harold Weyer told them the fee would be $50.00 surty bond, and the women left without obtaining the permit or putting up the bond.

The sheriff's office here said no known solicitations were made in Muleshoe, but there were reports that the group were attempting to sell subscriptions in the area around Muleshoe.

Meantime, two of the young women were being held in the Parmer county jail at Farwell after report d'upping a $3.80 check to $380.

The sheriff's office said the six cars were all 1965 models and license tags were issued in the name of a man living in Kentucky.

Muleshoe High School band under direction of Bill Bradley, will participate in the Panhandle South Plains Fair parade tomorrow in Lubbock. Russell L. Wilky, director of bands at the University of Kansas for 31 years, will judge the parade. Twenty-nine area bands are to participate.

Airman James M. Armstrong, son of John R. Armstrong, Farwell, has been selected for technical training at Lowry AFB, Colo., as a U. S. Air Force munitions specialist. He is a graduate of Farwell High School and attended West Texas State University.

Woodrow Nielsen, Lubbock, has assumed management of Wallace Theater here, it was announced Saturday. He comes to Muleshoe from the Wallace Theatre chain in Lubbock and will move here with his family soon. He has a married daughter.

Clara Cross is visiting her twin sister, Clarice Mitchell, and another sister, Enna Elvis, in Rochester (Texas). Mrs. Cross will return home next week.

Glenn Dunn underwent surgery in Green Memorial Hospital here Wednesday.

NEW RODEO CLUB FORMED — A Muleshoe high school rodeo club was formed here this past week, and here are officers and the queen, Karan Black, shown here admiring one of the club's jackets. Know Muleshoe's Biggest Host? Well, Sir, It's Pete The Mule!

Our busiest host plays it cool day," said the operator of a completely ignores his company, and yet he has more I clocked it, Pete has at least one carload of visitors every day in the week than any mere homo genus in these parts.

He's Pete the fiberglass symbol of mule-dom, who stands near the crossing point of the highways and stares straight ahead, completely oblivious of all the visitors he has and the dozens and dozens of folk who want their pictures made alongside Pete.

It's been like that ever since Pete was unveiled back on a hot July 3 while hundreds stood in the sun and listened to speeches. "I figured it up one day," said the operator of a nearby business, "and the way to get his picture made standing in front of Pete. Maybe it's company every day in the week than any mere homo genus in these parts."

Pete's central location makes him a "natural" for visitors, but then, "who ever heard of a statue to a mule?" said one visitor. "When I saw this mule statue standing right here almost in the middle of the road, I said to Mama, 'This we gotta see, a statue to a mule!' And we did." He said he was heading from Houston and was going to Albuquerque and he figured it would be worth while to see Pete "even if we had to drive out of the way a couple of miles to see him. Well, we didn't even have to drive a city block out of our way! Pete's in a wonderful location."

But almost everyone who stops for a view of Pete wants to get his picture made standing in front of Pete. Maybe it's company every day in the week than any mere homo genus in these parts. "And of course we need signs on all the highways leading into Muleshoe. "But," he adds with a shrug, "even without the signs and any recent publicity, Pete seems to be drawing a pretty good gate every day. I've seen as many as seven carloads of people."

Area Is Saluting 4-H Club Program

Bailey county is joining the rest of the nation in saluting National 4-H week which opened Saturday and continues through Oct. 2.

The program has a five-point purpose, according to J. K. Adams, county agent and Jean Martin, home demonstration agent.

Theme for the weeks "Learning for Living," and these five objectives have been outlined: To influence more young people to join 4-H clubs or form new ones; to acquaint more parents with 4-H and seek their cooperation; to encourage a larger number of capable men and women to become volunteer 4-H leaders; to increase public understanding of 4-H programs and activities; and to recognize and express appreciation for the contributions made to 4-H by friends and those who give support to the organization.

Area firms and business houses are backing the observance and many are offering members and leaders in advertisements in this issue of the Journal.

The county agents point out that 2,500,000 boys and girls in the 50 states and Puerto Rico are 4-H members between the ages of 10 and 19. In Texas alone there are 87,000 4-H members.

The members live in both rural and urban areas, and each conducts one or more projects involving personal responsibilities and "learning to do by doing."

With project work, the member also emphasizes the development of leadership and citizenship talents.

HAT PARTY — Mrs. Jack Lenderson can't decide which hat she wants or maybe all three. There were some 200 hats to choose from at the hat party sponsored by the ESA sorority which was held in the Muleshoe State Bank Community Room Wednesday. (Journal Photo)

Patriots Win Over Bruisers

The annual Powderpuff Football Game, sponsored by the Muleshoe Future Teachers of America, was played Tuesday night at 7:30 at Benny Douglas Field.

The Freshman and Sophomore girls, known as the Bruisers, lost the hard-fought battle to the upper classmen, the Patriots, 24 to 20.

The Patriots had chalked up a 16-0 score by halftime, but the Bruisers came back to score 20 points in the last half. The Patriots scoring only eight. However, that eight points was enough to win the ballgame.

There were several minor injuries received by the Patriots during the last half. There were about eight to ten girls that received injuries and had to stay out the rest of the game or several plays.

Despite the injuries to the players, the night was full of laughs. The halftime entertainment was provided by a root-in' tootin' band who played the songs for each team, "Green Green" and "Moom Ritter," and marched-supposedly to the music.

There were cheerleaders for each team, also. They led a few yells and a lot of laughs. The Bruiser cheerleaders were Dean Black, Clifford Black, Johnny St. Clair, John Elliott, Paul Leann, Walter Little and Larry Crawford. The Patriot cheerleaders were Ronnie Swint, Tom Jones, Bill Hart, Andy Douglass and Zane Herderson.

Coaches for the Patriots were Charles Murray, Mike Bryant, and Sam Johnson. The Bruiser Coaches were Ricky Barrett, Steve Bass and J. R. Carpenter.

Coaches for each team picked out-standing players for the game. Outstanding for the Patriots were Debbie Bryant, Karen Black, Pam Splawn and Dianne Wilson. Outstanding players for the Bruisers were Joyce Puckett, Carolyn Embry and Brenda Ellis.

The Future Teachers of America Muleshoe Chapter wishes to thank all that came to the game and helped support the F.T.A., according to Ruth Ann Duckworth.

4-H Clubs are organized groups of young people who carry on educational projects and activities. Both city and rural boys and girls from 9 to 19 can participate. National 4-H Club Week, Sept. 25 through Oct. 2 is a good time to start.

Lions Launching Aid To Victims Of Hurricane

The kick-off of the Texas Lions' "Operation Betsy" was announced Saturday by District Governor Alton Griffin and Frank Ellis, president of the local club. The operation's mission is to provide funds for the thousands of homeless and destitute Louisiana victims of Hurricane Betsy.

"There are some 25,000 families in Louisiana that Betsy left destitute," said Griffin. "The 15 districts that make up the Texas Lions' Club have taken on the project of providing these families with funds to help them rebuild their homes and to get back to a semblance of normal living as quickly as possible."

The district governor pointed out that the Lions clubs along the Texas coast have already helped to provide the clothes, medicine and food needed by these families and that these items are in good supply.

"The urgent need now is for financial aid to help these families who were victims of the hurricane," Griffin added.

Donations and checks should be mailed to Alton Griffin, 301 Courthouse, Lubbock. Monies collected in this area will be sent to the secretary-treasurer of the Texas Lions Club and from there to the Louisiana Lions for fund administration.

"The people of Texas have always come through in helping coastal hurricane victims," Griffin commented. "We know we can depend upon them to make the Texas Lions Club "Operation Betsy" a genuine success."

Pastures are in fine shape, Adams said, since they are "not overgrazed in most cases, and recent rains will add some green forage to go with the dry already present."

Adams said cattle will go in to the winter in excellent shape. Still another optimistic note was sounded in the oil seed crops, Adams reported that this year's oil seed crops "are better than average."

Pretty Clothes and Pretty 4-H Girls Go Together

PRETTY clothes on pretty girls are a common sight in 4-H circles, particularly among the more than three-quarter million girls from 9 to 19 enrolled in the national 4-H Clothing program, observes Miss Mamie Hardy, head of educational field activities for Coats & Clark Inc., sponsor for 25 years of the clothing program.

Sketched here are some of the fashions that 4-H girls are putting into their fall and winter wardrobes. In their clothing projects they learn how to sew on and care for new fabrics, and to choose color, line and design. The "learning-by-doing" is guided by local volunteer clothing leaders and extension home economists.

Miss Hardy conducts numerous workshops for extension personnel. Her newest is called "The Shape of Things" which teaches how to get different

One member admitted: "I wanted to quit several times as junior clothing leader, especially when a girl came to club with a zipper in wrong for the thousandth time. But with a little more patience and one last explanation that finally hit home, we both scored a victory."

Something "extra" is offered the young seamstresses by Coats & Clark. Awards consisting of medals, educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress and a dozen scholarships of $500 each will be claimed this fall by top-ranking 4-H Clothing program members.

shapes in garments by use of various interfacing, backings and linings. "Several generations ago," said Miss Hardy, "stiffeners used in garment construction gave exaggerated shaping and made the garment uncomfortable. Today's inner fabrics have changed to keep pace with the many new types of outer fabrics designed for contemporary living.

"The secret of good lines is knowing which type to use to achieve a softer and more comfortable effect," Miss Hardy added.

Workshop techniques will in turn teach local 4-H leaders who will pass them on to the girls.

Patience, persistence and pride in workmanship are three essential requisites for getting ahead in the clothing project, according to the 4-H'ers.

Aha is in the United States on a four-months' tour, the government of Nigeria and the United States government picking up the tab for Aha's expenses. He's an extension farm worker in his native country, his work being similar to county agent work here.

Aha says the rainfall in his country varies from 60 inches for an absolute minimum to more than 400 inches a year, and the elevation also shows considerable variation. Irrigation to catch the water that flows down the river from those areas having 400 inches a year that is badly needed in Nigeria, says Aha.

And then there was the fellow who span his car into a filling station near the sight of the statue. "Did I just see a statue of a mule down there?" he asked incredulously. The attendant said the traveler had nothing wrong with his eyes.

"Well, I'll be darned," the driver said. "I got to see that!"

Although that particular man had never heard of the mule statue, such is not usually the case, and many people who stop for a look-see at the mule, have had that in mind for a long time. They've read about Pete in newspapers and magazines from coast to coast, so when they come upon old Pete, they are not surprised.

Gilbert Cox, Houston-to-Albuquerque traveler (see picture above) who stopped for a look at Pete, said some folks just didn't know why anybody wanted to honor a mule. "They seemed to think," he told the Journal, "that a mule and a horse were just alike, but not me! I know. If folks had spent as many hours behind one of those D-n things (mules) as I have plowing corn and cotton — well, they just wouldn't be

STEPS TO THE FUTURE...

Invest TIME in... 4-H CLUBS

It pays to stay in 4-H. In fact, membership of 4 to 10 years has paid off handsomely for thousands of Head, Heart, Hands and Health youth throughout the 50 states, reports the National 4-H Service Committee.

The tangible benefits are four-fold, a Committee spokesman said. Continuous membership affords (1) learning new skills and methods (2) opportunities for fellowship and community service (3) good chance for self-improvement (4) recognition.

Through project work, boys and girls between 9 and 19 years of age learn how to grow things, make things, show, teach and sometimes even consume the results of their labors. They also gain experience in buying, selling and saving.

Concerted Planning

All of this did not just happen. The nationwide 4-H Club movement is the result of more than a half-century of planning, expanding, changing and evaluating the program to meet the needs of youth. The Extension Service, part of every land-grant university, cooperates with the U.S. Department of Agriculture in structuring 4-H activities.

Since 1921, the National 4-H Service Committee has taken leadership in securing funds from private business sources for awards, educational literature and technical aid.

Fifty-seven businesses and foundations are currently providing such funds, said Norman C. Mindrum, director of the Committee.

$1.8 Million Budget

A budget of $1.8 million will be used by the Committee this year, he added. Included are funds for 265 scholarships and fellowships; 1,300 educational trips; 195,250 honor medals; 14,300 miscellaneous rewards; and many supplementary services to 4-H.

Among the donors are:

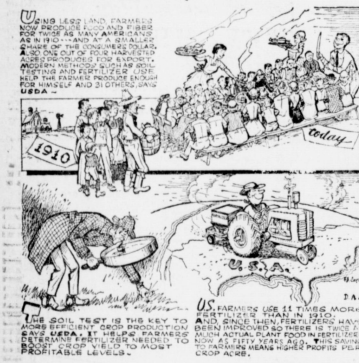

Allied Chemical Corporation-Arcadian Products Dept., American Forest Products Industries, Inc., Armour and Company, California Chemical Company, Ortho Division, Chicago Board of Trade, Coak & Clark Inc., John Deere, Eastman Kodak Company, Eli Lilly and Company, Ford Motor Company Fund, General Foods Corporation, Hendori & Nelson Farms, Inc.

Also, Homelite, A Division of Textron Inc., Ker Glass Manufacturing Corporation, Massey-Ferguson Inc., Moorman Mfg. Co., Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, The Pure Oil Company, Killion Purina Company, Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., The Singer Company, The 54th Foundation, Inc.

Five railroads have supported 4-H almost from its inception. They are Santa Fe Railway, Burlington Railroad, Milwaukee Road, Chicago and North Western Railway and Illinois Central Railroad.

Besides those listed above, 30 additional corporations annually contribute funds to the Committee to aid 4-H members and volunteer leaders.
